WHAT IS EDUCATION?

Children have been back in school only a few days. The routine of enrollment in new classes is over. New teachers and new work confront them on the opening of the new term. They have picked up the task of getting an education where they left it last June.

What is an education? The parent, looking back on his own school days and glancing at the array of new text books at the opening of the school year, is inclined to wonder. How much he learned has been of no practical use to him. How much, on the other hand, gathered out of school during those impressionable years has been of estimate benefit.

"If I had only known what I was going to do," he is inclined to say, "how much better I might have equipped myself for it."

But certain things do not depart. The ability to study, once acquired, is not quickly lost. Specific knowledge goes if it is not used more or less constantly, but the power to dig into a subject to gather its essentials and apply them practically need never go if the student will keep his brain processes in good working order by practice.

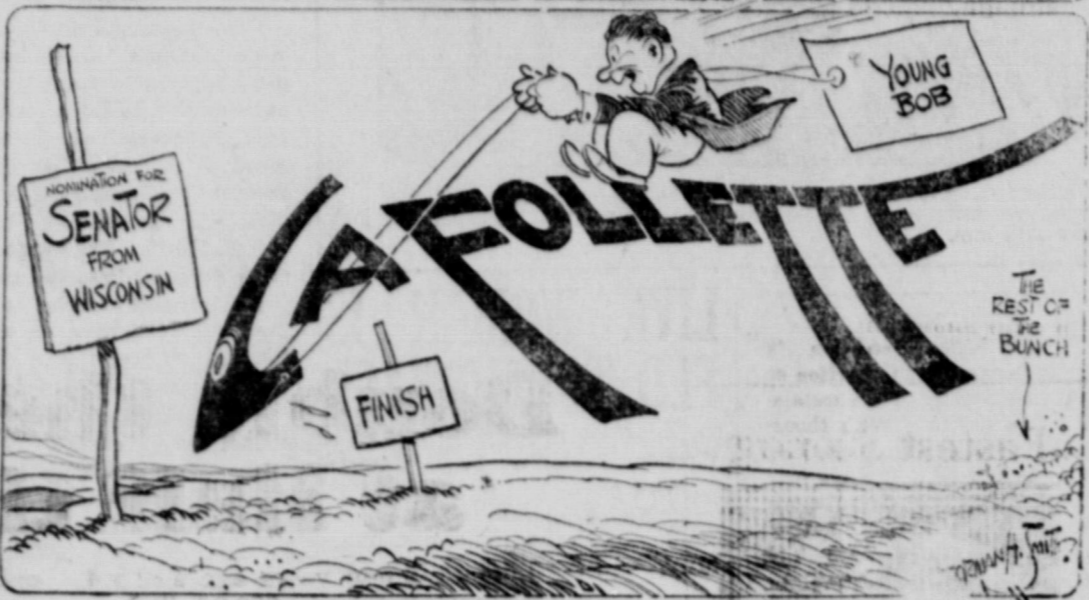

Part of what every child learns is this ability to study, to make his memory work for him, to put his brain into harness. Another part is a broad survey of the world as it is, some of its sciences, a little of its historical and literary traditions. He learns that he is a social being, that he is the heir to a vast heritage of thought, and that life is not simply a span of three score years and ten but a continuity of mental lives. Plato, Shakespeare, Goethe—these are but stepping stones by which the thought of mankind has crossed and is still crossing to what unknown heights.

Education is worthless if it is simply as a means to personal advancement. It should rest at equipping the individual for a competitive existence. It falls in anything but a narrow and selfish purpose if it does not early rouse the child's mind to a sense of the solidarity of humanity in this continuous intellectual life inherited from the ages. More than that, it should persuade him to take a part in it, to add his quota to the heaped up treasures for his children and his children's children to inherit.

The American public school is perhaps man's highest effort so far to make a reality of human solidarity. It recognizes no classes, no divisions based on economic or social prestige. The humblest and highest may meet here and be friends. How much the public school has done outside of its curriculum in fostering those sturdy standards of democracy and free opportunity on which the hope of America and the world is based on no one can say.

Education might be more direct and more efficient if each pupil knew in advance just what he was going to do, to what station of life he was to be called. But part of the adventure of our American life is that no one knows this. The boy whose pants are patched at the knee may be president of the republic a few decades from now. Vocational guidance is bound to have its limitations.

But every boy and girl knows one destiny which awaits him: He is going to be a citizen in a free land. He is going to have to learn to live and work and play with his fellows. He is going to be a part in a great social mechanism designed to carry humanity farther ahead on its path. And so perhaps, the best thing he learns at school is how to get along with his fellows, how to cooperate with them how to make the puny individual effort mighty by combining it with numberless other puny efforts. That is what America is giving the world: a lesson in its great public schools of the essential solidarity of human existence.

American Legion had a parade in New York where many had forgotten the war except for wristwatches now and then.

New York's great city. Has just about every kind of trouble in the world except forest fires.

These forest fires are growing worse. They should tack up signs in the woods reading "No forest fires permitted."

Maybe the game wardens could limit the campers to starting one small forest fire per day.

Talk about fall styles. And such scanty dresses. The less a girl wears the warmer she looks.

But marry one of these warm sisters. Then tell her your pay. You can keep her in the kitchen for a refrigerator.

Bad news from Paris. Count D'Albany seeing phantoms. But maybe the American tourists returning.

Spirit messages always seem to come collect.

We believe in people having skeletons in their closets. Much better than having them in bathing suits.

Wind, rain, hail, lightning damage Michigan. Not so bad. In New York they had an election.

Chicago's Finest

Here is Henry A. Fulmer, recently chosen as the finest policeman of all the legion of cops in Chicago. He has been in the service 12 years.

Arrested 75 Chinese at one time in New York. The warden at the jail must have a big washing.

Ford wants people to dance the way they once did. But he wouldn't try to bring back his 1910 model flivver.

Miss Jane McSkimming of St. Louis, has returned to her home following a visit with her sister, Mrs. John Humphries here.

Four in Five

To win a state golf championship is considered no little feat but to cop the honors four times in five years is, indeed, something quite out of the ordinary. That's what Miss Bernice Wall of Oshkosh, Wis., has just succeeded in doing, recently winning the Wisconsin fair sex crown for the fourth time since 1921. A bright future is predicted for her.

Lazy, Tired and Weak or Full of Malaria

The Body Depends Entirely on the Blood for Strength. If the Blood is Weak, the Body is Weak. A Poison in the Blood such as Malaria can Weaken the Body to a dangerous degree and render the muscles infirm. Malarial Germs increase and spread rapidly in the Blood.

Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic

destroys Malarial Germs in the Blood and removes the Impurities. It Purifies and Enriches the Blood. It restores Energy and Vitality by creating new, healthy blood. When you feel its Strengthening, Invigorating Effect, see how it brings Color to the Cheeks and how it Improves the Appetite, you will then appreciate its true tonic value. Very Pleasant to Take. 60c.

Liver Pills A package of Grove's Liver Pills is enclosed with every bottle of Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for those who wish to take a Laxative in connection with the Tonic.

USE MORE COTTON

World Consumption Now Greatest in History, Records Show

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The world is using more cotton than ever before in history and the largest part of the cotton used in grown and spun in America, according to the Agriculture Department.

The world mill consumption of cotton during six months ending July 31, 1925, was estimated at 12,000,000 bales and of this huge total 7,022,000 bales were produced in America. Consumption of East Indian and Egyptian cotton was slightly less than in the preceding six months.

SHOW SHENANDOAH WRECK

Palace Theater Now Showing Scenes of Fatal Wreck of Big Dirigible

Scenes taken by Pathe News camera shortly after the wreck of the giant dirigible Shenandoah are being shown at the Palace Theater here, placing Sweetwater among the first cities to see the remains of the twisted, broken craft as they lay scattered several miles apart in Ohio. Close up views of the three sections that fell, one at a time, dashing over a dozen members of the crew to death, are shown. The big ship, that less than a year ago sailed over this city is also shown in flight before the fatal accident. Harold Lloyd in "Hot Water," a scintillatingly funny comedy, rounds out the splendid bill at the Palace for this afternoon and tonight.

PEOPLE DON'T ADMIRE ROUGH, PIMPLY SKIN

Before you can impress some one of the opposite sex enough to get them to share the happy state of love with you, you certainly must keep your appearance pleasing and attractive. Pimples, blotchy, eczemic skin seems ten times worse to strangers and new acquaintances. And even husbands, wives, parents and kin feel sorry for loved ones who suffer from such diseases. The way to get rid of all these drawbacks to affection and devotion from dear ones is to use Black and White Ointment, and Soap, like thousands of people are doing. They are economically priced, in liberal packages. The 50c size packages of White Ointment contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the soap. (Adv.)

Firestone Double the Mileage at Half the Cost

Only a few years ago a 32 x 4 cord tire listed over $50.00. Today, you can buy the highest quality 32 x 4 tire—a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord—for about $26.00. Last spring crude rubber cost tire makers around 40 cents a pound. Today, it is over 90 cents a pound. It was not so long ago that 7,500 miles represented the average life of a cord tire, while today, 15,000 miles—and more—is only the usual performance for a Firestone Gum-Dipped Cord. Due to large, concentrated production, specialized machinery and simplified factory methods, together with economical distribution, Firestone is able to keep tire prices low—no matter where the price of crude rubber goes. And, because of special Firestone processes, chief among which is Gum-Dipping, motorists are today getting thousands of extra miles by using Gum-Dipped Cords. Gum-Dipping is an exclusive method used by Firestone. It is an extra process, carried out in special Gum-Dipping plants, after which the cords are put through the usual calendaring machines. Gum-Dipping insulates and impregnates every fiber of every cord with rubber, and practically eliminates internal friction and heat, and builds strength and endurance into the tire. In the day-in and day-out service of taxicabs, buses and trucks—on the cars of hundreds of thousands of motorists everywhere—Gum-Dipped Cords are giving unheard-of mileage, dependability and satisfaction. Get ready for the coming months of slippery pavements and bad roads. Assure yourself of greater safety, comfort and economy by equipping now with Firestone Full-Size Gum-Dipped Balloons.

Woman Will Run Against "Ma" Ferguson In Texas

FORT WORTH, Sept. 22.—It will be "Woman vs. Woman" in Texas next year.

For Governor "Ma" Ferguson in her campaign for re-election will be opposed by another woman—Mrs. Edith Willmans of Dallas.

Women never fight harder than when fighting each other and the Texas gubernatorial campaign promises to be a unique battle from start to finish.

Both "Ma" and Mrs. Willmans are noted throughout the state as "political amazons." Both are certain to take the stump, and the Klan is likely to figure prominently in the contest.

Attacks "Ma" and "Jim"

Mrs. Willmans has announced she will be a candidate for the democratic nomination, which, of course, is equivalent to election, and already has started to fight.

In the announcement of her candidacy she took a fling at "Ma" by saying that "Husband Jim" Ferguson is the real governor of Texas, Mrs. Ferguson only visiting the capitol or occasionally to sign documents.

"No individual will dictate affairs of the state over my shoulder, if I am elected," Mrs. Willmans says, defiantly.

"If I go into the governor's office I will form an advisory council, consisting of the president of the senate, speaker of the house, heads of important departments and three prominent Texas women.

"Ma" Ferguson and Mrs. Willmans are exactly opposite types. Klan and made it a leading issue in "Ma" is strongly opposed to the her campaign.

Mrs. Willmans is a good mixer, possibly more of the politician in the accepted sense of the word, and delights in discussing state issues. She is the only woman ever elected to the state legislature and is an attorney. Last winter she was secretary of the House of Appropriations committee.

Governor Ferguson is a quiet woman of the rugged type. She is frank and blunt in her few speeches and talks little about things strictly political.

Mrs. Willmans a Politician

Mrs. Willmans is a good mixer, possibly more of the politician in the accepted sense of the word, and delights in discussing state issues. She is the only woman ever elected to the state legislature and is an attorney. Last winter she was secretary of the House of Appropriations committee.

She can make as good an extempore political speech as any man, while "Ma" on public occasions usually reads a brief typewritten statement.

The only point of similarity in the two women seems to be that both are excellent house-keepers, for "Ma" still finds time to preserve large quantities of peaches.

Mrs. Willmans' law practice has been concerned mainly with cases involving domestic relations but occasionally she handles a criminal case. She has three daughters and her husband is dead.

While in the legislature she sponsored a measure to give financial aid to families when the father has been sentenced to an asylum; to provide more humane treatment of prisoners. She also sponsored a measure to require good health certificates for all persons desiring to marry; to give financial aid to families when the father has been sentenced to an asylum; to provide more humane treatment of prisoners.

Jazz music, sensational movies and extremes in women's dress grate on her nerves.

One of the first laws she hopes to have passed if elected governor will be one giving a married woman the right to sell her property without the consent of her husband. She can't do this now in Texas.

Hot Water

There were people in the show yesterday who have not laughed for six months or more but they certainly got it out of their systems when they saw this picture. If you can see this picture without laughing—go see a doctor for you must be either paralyzed or there is something seriously wrong with your system. You may have heard of Mothers-in-law but you never saw one like Harold drew when he fell for a pair of dreamy eyes.
