TEXAS EXPENSES RUN INTO MONEY

Maintenance of Various Departments for Fiscal Year Ending August
31, 1924, High

GOVERNMENT ISSUES REPORT

Highways Cost Over Twelve Millions
—Total Revenues for Year Is Sixty Millions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The Department of Commerce announces a summary of the financial statistics of the State of Texas for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1924.

Expenditures: The payments for maintenance and operation of the general departments of Texas for the fiscal year ending August 31, 1924, amounted to $39,561,321, or $7.92 per capita. This includes $17,896,993 apportionments for education to the minor civil divisions of the State. In 1923 the comparative per capita for maintenance and operation of general departments was $7.70, and in 1918, $4.95. The interest on debt amounted to $220,890; and outlays for permanent improvements, $11,726,434. The total payments, therefore, for expenses, interest, and outlays were $51,508,645. The totals include all payments for the year, whether made from current revenues or from the proceeds of bond issues.

Of the governmental costs reported above, $12,018,065 was for highways, $2,822,902 being for maintenance and $9,195,162 for construction.

Revenues: The total revenue receipts of Texas for 1924 were $60,531,917, or $12.19 per capita. This was $21,049,796 more than the total payments of the year, exclusive of the payments for permanent improvements, and $9,823,272 more than the total payments including those for permanent improvements. Property and special taxes represented 44 per cent of the total revenue for 1924, 53 per cent for 1923, and 55.6 per cent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property and special taxes collected was 85.5 per cent from 1917 to 1923, and 4.9 per cent from 1923 to 1924. The per capita property and special taxes were $5.37 in 1924, $5.20 in 1923, and $3.10 in 1917.

Earnings of public utilities, compensation for services rendered by state officials, represented 6.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1924, 6.1 per cent for 1923, and 16.7 per cent for 1917.

Business and non-business licenses constituted 20.1 per cent of the total revenue for 1924, 18 per cent for 1923 and 12.5 per cent for 1917.

Receipts from business licenses consist chiefly of taxes exacted from insurance and other incorporated companies and from sales tax on gasoline while those from non-business licenses comprise chiefly taxes on motor vehicles and amounts paid for hunting and fishing privileges.

Indebtedness: The net indebtedness (funded and floating debt less sinking fund assets) of Texas on August 31, 1924 was $4,478,566, or 90 cents per capita. In 1923 the per capita debt was 91 cents and in 1917, $1.07.

Assessed valuation and tax levies: For 1924 the assessed valuation of property in Texas subject to ad valorem taxation was $3,964,187; the amount of State taxes levied was $26,166,405; and the per capita levy was $5.24.

HUNT MYSTERY TOMB

One of the oldest and most fascinating figures in American folklore—the "Fair God"—had a real existence, according to evidence unearthed at Tuxtla in the Old Mexico. At any rate, explorers are preparing to descend into a Mexican pyramid where scientists believe the blinding of the last Indian empire was buried. ## COUNTER OFFER MADE TO FRENCH

American Proposal Funding French
Debt Handed Caillaux Commission
Today

MISSION IS DISAPPOINTED

Nature of Offer Is Secret, but French
Debt Committee Is Not Pleased
With Terms

By United Press.
WASHINGTON, Sept. 25.—The American counter proposal for funding the French debt was laid before the French debt commission today and from indications it was very disappointing to the French.

The American commission went into secret session at 11:15 a. m. The French commission arrived at the treasury building at 11:30. They were not admitted to the conference room, however, until 12:25, spending the time waiting in another office.

Meanwhile, the American commission discussed a counter offer. The French mission, headed by Caillaux, spent only 13 minutes with the American commission, being dismissed as soon as the counter offer was read and handed to them.

As the French delegates filed out of the room, disappointment was plainly written on their faces. They seemed downcast at what appeared a flat rejection of the first terms, and the stiff agreement proposed by the Americans.

No official version of the counter offer was made public, but experts estimated that the Americans would demand at least 125 million dollars a year, after an initial period of reduced payments, and furthermore inform the French that the period of reduced payments which the French proposed was out of harmony with the American's ideas on the subject.

GETS FOOT WATER

Lake Trammel Water Supply Increased
By Rains of Week

The big rain this week did not only increase the amount of water in the lake, but it added a foot of water to the amount stored in the big reservoir, according to Lewis Polk, who was in communication with Lake Keeper Roy Friday morning.

The obstreperous action of Sweetwater Creek, which over flowed its banks, gave rise to the belief that the spillway at the dam was underwater, but this water comes in from the west branch, off the Roscoe hills.

The watershed of the lake however was thoroughly soaked by the rain and the lake will at least maintain its present level for a considerable period.

HOSPITAL FOR $1,000

Gave Warden's Secretary Thousand
Dollars for Transfer from Dirty
Cell, Says Witness

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Frankie Lake, debonair Chicago "beer baron," took the witness stand in Federal Court today and began "spilling the beans" in Cook county's jail scandal.

"It cost me $1,000 to get transferred from a dirty cell to the jail hospital," Lake told Federal Judge James H. Wilkinson who is conducting a contempt inquiry into jail conditions, which are said to have made it possible for wealthy prisoners to serve their sentence amid all the comforts and luxuries of home.

Mesley, Lake declared, was paid to Henry Forest, secretary to former warden Wesley Westbrook, fired by Sheriff Hoffman when the jail scandal came to light.

Before accepting the thousand dollars, Forest made a trip to the Norwood Sanitarium where Westbrook was resting, to consult his chief, Lake said.

Ed Rowley of the R. & R. Theatre enterprises of Dallas was a visitor in Sweetwater Thursday going from here to San Angelo.

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon is a controlling figure in the company.

The complaint was announced two months after it was issued to give the company a chance to reply to charges that Mellon's company has a monopoly on the aluminum industry of the country. The answer denies the charges.

Attorneys for the commission and the company will get together soon to decide on a date for the hearing.

STRESS NEEDS

Moral Christian Leadership Essential in Public Schools, McLain Tells Rotarians

The greatest need of the public schools of today is training in moral Christian character, Ben McLain, superintendent of the Sweetwater schools, told members of the Rotary Club at the regular meeting Friday noon.

Other essentials include training in vocational work, so that the pupils will know, by the time they have finished school, what vocation they desire to take up, knowledge of how to take care of their bodies, and genuine patriotism.

"Students, and especially boys, are easily led than taught. The right kind of Christian leadership is essential at the critical age when the boy is approaching manhood and desires to do like a man," Superintendent McLain stated.

Buck Johnson presided as toastmaster. Albert Brann was named toastmaster to preside at the meeting two weeks from today. At the meeting next Friday, Governor Walter Cline will meet with the local Rotarians.

GUESTS AT BREAKFAST

Over 125 Nobles Eat Here as Guests of Local Shrine Club—Band and Patrol on Train

Over 125 Shriners of the Moslah Temple, Fort Worth, stopped over in Sweetwater an hour and a half Friday morning enroute to the West Texas Fair at Abilene for Shriners' Day and ate breakfast here as guests of the Sweetwater Shrine Club. Local Shriners met the delegation at the station when the special train rolled in at 5 o'clock.

Over 135 nobles were aboard the special train that came here from San Angelo over the Orient and which was switched to the Texas and Pacific line here. About 125 left the train to greet the Shrine Club at the station here and eat breakfast in Sweetwater. Local Shriners passed through the cars and distributed tickets good for breakfast at either the Texas Cafe, Robertson Cafe or Hotel Wright.

Praise, thanks and compliments were heard on all sides or the thoughtfulness of local Shriners in furnishing breakfast for the visitors here.

The Moslah Temple delegation was accompanied by the Moslah Shrine Band and Patrol. An account of the early hour, and the limited time of the stop over, no concert or program was given here. The Shriners were in Sweetwater only an hour and a half leaving about 6:30 for Abilene.

A number of local Shriners joined the delegation here to make the trip to Abilene for Shrine Day at the fair. Shriners going from here included Roy Costephen, M. C. Manroe, John Focht and G. P. Jones.

HI ELEVEN READY FOR HAMLIN TILT

Salty Pups Will Have Opportunity to Play Real Football in Game
This Afternoon

HARD FIGHT PREDICTED

Invaders Confident of Victory—Local Crew Ready for Clash—Give Line-Up

The Sweetwater Salty Pups will have a chance to show the world what they know about football when the High School eleven at Swatter Park local grid men clash with the Hamlin at 4 o'clock today. According to advance dope from the Hamlin camp, that high school sports a heavy, fast aggregation capable of putting up a stiff battle with any and every bunch of huskies that cross their path.

Fresh from their 20-0 victory over Knox City, the enemies hit town today fully confident of returning home tonight with the Salty Pup hides, according to rumors. And the local eleven realize that the affair this afternoon is not to be a Sunday School picnic, so over-confidence is entirely lacking as far as the Sweetwater team is concerned. On the other hand, fans here are hoping that the Hamlin eleven will suffer heavy from the fact that they believe the game is already won.

Coach Andersen's men are not worrying, however, as the majority are old men, who have figured in hard fought battles before and who know a thing or two about the game themselves. And in reserve, Andersen has at least four good men who also know what it's all about.

At any rate, the Salty Pups' first home game and second clash of the season this afternoon promises to be an interesting affair, and the student body is urging that Sweetwater people pack the grandstand and side lines when the whistle blows at 4 o'clock.

The following line-up will probably be started in the game:
Ends, Webb and Boyles; tackles, Heath and Schumann; guards, Smith and Hedges; center, Brown; fullback, Mitchell; halves, Herring and Shortman; full, Watson.

BAN PEP MEETINGS

There will be no more high school pep meetings on the court house lawn, the county attorney and sheriff's department announced today, following a rally by students last night that resulted in damage to the hedge along the north side of the building and other marring of the general appearance of the lawn. ## HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Pointers on Dustcloths

A duster should be soft and should shed neither lint nor ravelings; it holds the dust better if dampened or oiled, according to the United States Department of Agriculture. Silk and chambray are excellent for use of highly polished surfaces. A duster may be moistened by passing it through steam; by wetting one corner of the cloth, rolling it up, and letting it stand for a short time; or by wringing together one dry cloth and one that has been wrung out of water. A dust cloth may be oiled by applying a few drops of kerosene or light lubricating oil on one corner, rolling the cloth, and letting it stand until the oil has spread evenly. Cotton waste and paper are good substitutes for dust cloths in clearing dirty, greasy surfaces. Feather dusters should not be used, except perhaps just before sweeping, for they scatter but do not remove dust.

Dust cloths should be washed frequently, both because a little dirt comes out more easily and because dirty ones often leave as much dirt as they take up and may scratch highly polished surfaces.

The oil in "dustless" cloths may be restored as directed above or a little oil may be added to the rinsing water. 1 tablespoon of kerosene or one-half tablespoon light lubricating oil being used to a quart of water.

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

Every boy and girl wants a birthday party—and a little verse like this makes a nice informal invitation. I have a secret for you. Of course, you want to be told. I'm going to have a party. The day I'm (10) years old. So come to my house (Tuesday) (date) at four o'clock. We're going to have a jolly time. That will echo 'round the block.

There is a strange custom among children on one's birthday to "give him or her a whack" for every year. It would be funny to have a dummy rigged up in the entrance hall and invite each guest to "take his or her whacks" out on the dummy. The host (or hostess) then escapes the ordeal of a beating.

The Birthday Gift

Give crepe or tissue paper and pins to each guest to make a gift for the host or hostess. Allow ten or fifteen minutes, and you will have an array of bonnets, boats, bouquets, bows, etc., which should be suspended from chandeliers and pictures around the house, and all given a vote as to which is the best gift.

Prophecies

What will be all be when we are ten years older?

This is like the old time game of forfeits. The prophet is blindfolded and one at a time the guests stand. The host or hostess should tell the prophet in each case whether it is a boy or girl, and if you do it cleverly you can give them a cue as to who it is, so he can make the prophecy fit. For instance, if Helen plays the piano, the prophet should say she will be a great musician, and if she is always playing with dolls he should say she will be the mother of several babies. He will know Helen is standing if you begin your remarks with H, like "Has Fate told you about this girl?"

When William stands, say "Will you say what this boy is going to do?" Be sure to begin your sentence with the right letter and be sure to say if it is a boy or girl. In a case of two letters alike, use the last initial, too. If two boys are named Thomas Allen and Teddie Smith, for one you should say "Try awfully hard to see what is in store for this boy." and "Tell something about this boy." Then he will know who it is. If Tom speaks well in school, your prophet can make him a great orator, and if Teddie is always ready for a fight of course, he is going to be a prize fighter.

You Auto Know

A great many children take pride in their ability to recognize the make of an automobile at a glance. Try these questions on them and find out how familiar they are with the names.

What auto is named after a former president? (Lincoln.)

What do you do when in the path of an auto? (Dodge.)

What auto will find a person in a hotel? (Paige.)

What auto is seen in the sky? (Moon!)

What auto has the same name as a famous battle in American history? (Lexington.)

What auto has the same name as a famous river? (Hudson.)

What auto is named after a famous Revolutionary general? (LaFayette.)

Devil's Food Cake

(First Part)

1 cup dark brown sugar 1-2 cup butter, 3 egg yolks, 1-2 level teaspoon soda.

Cream sugar, butter and soda together, then add the eggs.

(Second Part)

1 cup dark brown sugar, 23 cup grated chocolate, 1 cup sweet milk.

Put sugar, chocolate and half of the milk together. Set on fire and let come to a boil. Take from fire and add the other half cup of milk; then add all of the second part to the first part.

(Third Part)

2 cups flour, 1-4 level teaspoon salt, 1 level teaspoon baking powder.

Sift flour, baking powder and salt together three times. Add this to the first and second part and mix well. Bake in a moderate oven. Bake in layers and spread with white icing.

Cheese and Pear Salad

Places halves of canned pears on a bed of lettuce, garnish with small balls of cream cheese that has been mixed with mayonnaise dressing and rolled in nuts. Top with a spoonful of whipped cream.

Don't worry if this stuff fails to amuse you. New Jersey man broke his jaw bone laughing at a friend's joke.

RECIPES

Sugar Cookies

2 cups sugar, 1 cup shortening, 3 eggs, 3 tablespoons water or milk, 3 level teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 1-2 teaspoon cloves, 3 cups flour.
Cream fat and sugar, beat in whip ped eggs, add baking powder and 1 cup flour then water and spices; add remaining flour gradually, working in more flour until the dough is stiff enough to roll. Sprinkle flour over pastry board. Make a ball of dough, and lay it on the board. Rub rolling pin with flour and roll out dough into a sheet 1-4 inch thick. Cut in round cakes, sift granulated sugar over each and bake quickly at 400 to 450 degrees F.

FISH RECIPES
Baked Fish

Wash and dry any fish weighing 4 or 5 pounds, dredge with salt and pepper and place in a buttered pan. Pour over it a quart of chopped tomatoes, a large onion, chopped fine, and a large spoonful of chopped parsley. Add a little cayenne pepper and salt. Pour over all 1/2 cup of fine oil or melted butter, and then bake slowly until well done.

Broiled Fish

The fish should be split so that the back bone will lie flat. The inside of the fish should be placed over the fire first and it should be turned frequently. If you have not a reversible broiler, use a pair of sugar tongs for lifting the fish. For broiling a clear, steady fire is required. Should there be any flame, deaden it with salt thrown upon the fire.

Boiled Fish

One hour before the fish is to be cooked cover it thickly inside and out with salt, let stand until five minutes before time to put it over the fire. Wash off the salt, pin a piece of coarse muslin and drop into the fresh boiling water. Allow about six minutes to the pound, and test by lifting the flesh from the thickest part. If it separates easily it is cooked enough and should be taken up at once and drained well before serving. Lay on a folded napkin on the plate as the juice will run. Underdone fish are dangerously unwholesome.

Trout

Clean them, rinse them quickly in cold spring water, dry with a towel and rub a little salt on the inside of the bone. Then cut into dice 1-2 pound of sweetest salt pork obtainable Fry it.

WATER FIGHT LOOMS

Detroit to be Center Activity on Chicago Drainage Trial

DETROIT, Sept. 25.—Detroit will be the center of activity next January in the fight to stop Chicago's withdrawal of water from Lake Michigan when the Great Lakes Harbors' Association holds its annual convention here.

Detroit was very active in the fight which was carried to Washington, to force Chicago to reduce its daily consumption of water from Lake Michigan for its drainage canal.

Another problem likely to come before the association is the St. Lawrence waterways. Indications here at this time are that many of the great industrial concerns, including the Ford Motor Co., General Motors and others will get into the waterway project and the convention will probably be called to take a stand on this movement.

A henpecked man may tell his trouble, but he's afraid to tell as much as he'd like.

The Art Of Cooking

Now Classed Among The Sciences

Back to the days when primitive man first cast the ruddy glow of firelight on his cavern walls through the rubbing together of sticks—on to the era of flint and steel, when venison turned over the glowing coals of a kitchen fireplace, to the present day when a world's attention is centered upon the nutritive value of various foods and the matter of their preparation—the art of Cooking has kept steadily apace with the Spirit of Progress.

All Foods Are Not Proper Foods

It all depends upon those who consume them. What is nourishing food to one may prove greatly detrimental to the well-being of another. What to one person may prove to be a building of rich, red blood and strengthening tissue, may succeed only in creating a series of woeful physical conditions in persons differently constituted.

These are subjects every housewife should be interested in.

Did You Ever Think of This?

That the human being—man, woman or child—is after all merely a natural product of a highly organic nature—a product of that which he or she absorbs? This is obviously true. And knowing this, is it not then easy to understand that a properly functioning organism must be maintained through foods in which organic substances still predominate?

In proper food preparation only can this be made possible.

Mrs. Ida Chitwood

LECTURER AND DEMONSTRATOR

Will tell you all about these important matters during the course of her five-day lecture. She prepares foods as you watch and listen to her; tells you just how to prepare them to make them the most healthful and palatable.

Tells you how to budget your household finances in order that you may derive the greatest possible amount of benefit from your income. This in itself is a subject of vast material benefit to every woman in Nolan county.

Mrs. Chitwood is a lecturer and food expert of international prominence. Her experiences during the war, on the great plains, in the wilds of India, among the Chinese and people of other nations, have given to her an education in food values and food preparation that falls to the lot of but few.

MOVIES AND EDUCATION

It is an old story that we learn much quicker from observation than by what we read. Next to actual observation, of course, is pictures. More and more students of education are finding the moving picture an invaluable aid in teaching geography, history, various branches of science and a number of other items. Through co-operation of local authorities, students of the Sweetwater schools Monday will be given an opportunity to see the Book of Exodus thrown on the screen with a realism that no study of the book itself could ever give.

LIBRARY

And speaking of education, nothing is quite so valuable as a public library. Not only is much supplementary reading required to give a student a well rounded knowledge of many courses studied in school, but there is much that is not obtainable in school text books that should be available to students. And then there is the entertainment feature for idle time. All the works of all the world any line of activity, is bound up between the covers of the books of the world. Some books are sugarcoated in the form of fiction, while others are straight-out facts more entertainingly written than in fiction. And the student who is guided to separate the wheat from the chaff and to find his way in the world of books has gained a worthwhile education indeed. Sweetwater has a public library. Its worth to the community will be in direct ratio to the measure of support it receives.

CHARITY

Sweetwater is wellnigh in a class by itself in that it has practically no local charity problem confronting it. Various organizations, notably the Elks, who work on this phase of the situation around Christmas and other special occasions have found slight need for local work, except occasional cases of misfortune.

But that doesn't mean that there is no field for charity work here. It is written "The Poor You Always Have With You." Situated as it is on the main highways of travel, not only in Texas, but transcontinental as well, there are always cases of poor and needy transients demanding attention. Some of these cases, and not a few of them, either, for that matter, are the professional type, who make their living by begging, panhandling and imposing on the sympathies of a good natured public. Many of these so-called professionals make a better living than people from whom they draw their livelihood.

Again there comes to light cases of genuine hard luck that should have attention. It takes patience and skill to separate these two classes and see that the genuine cases get attention and the "professionals" get attended to.

Both ways of providing funds for charity relief have been tried and are being tried—through taxation and through donation. The Reporter favors the taxation method. It all comes out of the same pockets, it is true, but with an equality that the donation method can never attain. And donation, by those who wish to give it, is not barred.

Storm blew a Hammon (N. J.) right out of bed. Many mothers would enjoy such a storm every morning.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON.—G. O. P. regulars are having a hard time finding a bright side to young Bob La Follette's sweeping victory at the Republican senatorial primaries in Wisconsin.

They had hardly expected him to lose but they did hope the La Follette forces in the Badger state would prove to have been weakened by the death of the present Senate candidate's father.

Instead of that they seem to be as formidable under the junior Bob as ever they were under the senior.

What the regulars didn't take fully into account was the fact that young Bob was taking over an organization with which he was familiar. During his father's later years he had more to do with managing it than the latter did.

His Wisconsin Progressive leadership is hardly referred to corrected as "inherited."

In reality he had been coming into it gradually for some time and when the elder La Follette died, there was his son in control already.

That young Bob will be elected is accepted here, even by his bitterest opponents, as a foregone conclusion.

That, however, isn't the worst of it. The outlook is now admitted to be very dubious for Senator Lenroot's re-nomination next year.

Lenroot made his last successful campaign after the war, when the late Senator La Follette's influence was at low water mark.

In 1926 he'll face an altogether different situation.

The Washington administration will do all it can to help him, but if it accomplishes no more in his behalf than it was able to do to beat young Bob this won't be sufficient.

It isn't to be disputed that Bob owes his nomination and will owe his expected election at so young an age to so high an office, to the fact that he's his father's son.

Still, this will not be altogether a handicap to him in the Senate. It may mean some slurs, but it will mean a great deal in the way of prestige also.

If the young senator makes good on his own merits the slurs will soon cease and the prestige of his father's name will remain clear velvet, to add to the credit of his own accomplishments.

Prince of Wales news. He got into a snow storm in Chile. What could he expect in a country with such a name.

YOU HATE TO LOOK AT A PIMPLY FACE

There is perhaps nothing more distressing to people who are bothered with them and surely nothing as displeasing to others who see them, as pimples, blotches, bumps, rash, scurf, eczema, "breaking out" and similar skin diseases.

But now that Black and White Ointment and Soap are proving to be so dependable in quickly getting rid of these diseases of the skin, it seems foolish for people to neglect using them and making themselves attractive to others instead of being slighted all the time.

Another evil of prohibition is it keeps the weather from being the world's most discussed subject.

Green Pecans Fatal

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 25.—L. D. Floyd, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Floyd on West 21st street, died Wednesday. The family had been gathering pecans on the farm of W. A. Reid north of the city and the child without the knowledge of its parents, ate some green pecans, thus causing acute indigestion.

Co-Ed Freshmen Must Not Appear With Rolled Hose

LIBERTY, Mo., Sept. 25.—With the issuance of the annual senior decree governing the conduct of the freshman class of William Jewell College here, women of the three upper classes are willing to admit that the men are strategists of the highest order.

The ultimatum delivered to the trembling newcomers to the school read, in part:

"The girls of the freshman class shall wear their stockings in such manner that the articulation between the femur and tibia in which the patella shares shall be protected from the vicissitudes of the weather and the inconsistency of the winds so that the male students of this campus may keep their minds on their lessons."

By this regulation the august but artful dictators have created a condition under which no coed of the sophomore, junior or senior classes dare venture out without rolled hose for fear she may be mistaken for a freshman.

A man has settled down to normal middle age when he'd rather suffer in silence than seem conspicuous.

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Wentersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship."

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength."

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden. I haven't had any more sickness."

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON.—"What is Gifford Pinchot's show in the presidential race?"

This query lands on my desk from a middle northwestern editor. It's also been coming lately from other sources—quite numerous.

"Strong Pinchot sentiment is breaking out all over the country," says a progressive Minnesota paper. "Seemingly something of a White House boom in his interest has developed from the Pennsylvania governor's candidacy to succeed George Wharton Pepper in the United States Senate at the 1926 election.

Of course it's too soon to do anything but guess on what the presidential situation will be three years hence.

If this were 1923 Gov. Pinchot wouldn't stand a ghost of a show. Nobody would stand a show but Calvin Coolidge, either for Republican nomination or for election.

One may like him or not, but a big majority are "for" him at this time of writing.

At any rate they favor the status quo in which he's included.

Times are pretty good now. That's the whole basis of the administration's recent popularity, for popular it is, everything indicates it.

If times stay good, and particularly if they improve, between now and '26, President Coolidge likely will be re-nominated and re-elected.

If they take a turn for the worse his chances will dwindle. He can do nothing at all—or make a lot of mistakes, but if times stay good he'll get another term. He can do the best job in the world, yet, if prosperity wanes, he'll be blamed for it.

Such conditions do so shape themselves as to give an outsider a look-in for the Republican presidential nomination in 1928. How about Pinchot then?

Well, he must get into the Senate first. If he loses that fight, he'll hardly have succeeded in proving up as a presidential material.

Personally, he'll be just as good a man, to be sure, but he won't have a demonstrated political control of his own state.

He can bet he won't get any help from Andrew W. Mellon.
