FORTY YEARS

If Dallas had no other claims to distinction than the Dallas News, it would nevertheless be entitled to extreme consideration. For the city on the Trinity has given to Texas one of the outstanding publications west of the Mississippi River.

The Fortieth Anniversary Edition of the News published October 1, is worthy of more than passing comment. It is given to but few newspapers to achieve this period of service under one management. And to fewer still is given the measure of success achieved by this dean of Southwestern newspapers.

This is particularly the case in Texas, one of the most youthful states forty years ago. West Texas was labeled on most maps as "The Great American Desert." Two lines of rails were being pushed feebly and hesitatingly westward across the barren expanse. The Dallas of today was beginning the dreams of these hardy pioneers in Texas journalism, to say nothing of development of the state's western confines.

And while the News was perhaps a bit slow in recognizing the possibilities of West Texas, nevertheless, it has played its part extremely well throughout the years. It is a Dallas newspaper in truth, but in a larger sense it belongs to all Texas, and all Texans can take pride in its achievement and extend sincerest congratulations on this most auspicious occasion.

A man reaches his greatest usefulness at forty, if worth anything at all, and so now can be expected that the News is just rounding into its stride for the greatest period of service in its career.

A JUDGE MAKES A DISCOVERY

Superior Judge Joseph Sabath of Chicago has returned from a European trip with some confident notions of how this nation may proceed to solve its divorce problem. It every old world country which he visited Judge Sabath inspected the divorce laws. In some of them he found conditions that were nearly ideal for assuring domestic happiness and stability. He cites the example of a nation which prescribes that no one under 25 may marry. When that stage of life has been reached the further procedure is solemn, deliberate, and wound up with much red tape. The man and woman first file notices with the mayor of the town of their intention to marry. Notice is posted in public. After three weeks the pair files histories of their families, and health certificates. They are issued a license, but must wait two weeks before it is used.

"If they still wish to marry after taking all that trouble," Judge Sabath says, "it's a hundred to one shot that their will be a happy marriage."

The European system of a conciliation in court, where husband and wife argue their differences before an arbitrator, is also commended by the judge. He believes it would cut divorces 75 per cent. The judge may be right in his conclusions of how Europe has come to harmony in its home even if it has been unable to translate the principle underlying this ideal state into its own international relations. Suppose he tries it out. Chicago is yearning for the adoption of any new system that will assure its happiness and public safety. Let the judge persuade Chicago to carry the European protocol for married bliss into its own relations. If the stop, look and listen life, he had to put up $3,500.

Probably Nathan will be more careful after this. He may never cross the presidential trail again, but he always will be afraid he will.

Some authorities say these walks President Coolidge takes around the capitol are a restraining influence on all drivers in Washington. They never know what minute he'll boom up dead ahead.

It there's anything in the theory it might be a good plan to keep him traveling from city to city, turning up each week or two, unannounced, in a new place, to put the fear of God in local drivers' heart by a series of rambles in the worst of their auto-infested streets.

But perhaps it would be better to see how Nathan D. Smith's experience works on him first.

Foods in wonderful variety, for the deep-frying kettle

Mrs. Chitwood is conducting the popular Cooking School Class being held by the Reporter this week. Below Mrs. Chitwood gives many valuable suggestions for deep frying.

Of all the ways of cooking foods, don't you really prefer them deep-fried? Vegetables, fish, chicken, fritters, etc., with that lovely, golden-brown crust!

But possibly you have not often indulged your fondness for deep-fried foods—either because you've found deep-frying expensive, in that you could use the fat only two or three times before you had to throw it away; or because you didn't like the smoke and smell of burnt fat in the house.

Then let me tell you of the advantages I have found in a wholesome vegetable shortening and frying fat—Crisco.

Crisco will not smoke at proper frying temperatures. You can even heat Crisco as high as 450 degrees without a bit of smoke or odor. So you can quickly fry foods in Crisco to a beautiful crisp crust—golden brown all over—no scorching, greasiness, too.

And when you are through with Crisco, simply push the kettle of Crisco to the back of the stove where it will cool and be ready for the next time you want it. You can use it over and over again, for frying all kinds of food. Crisco doesn't absorb food flavors and the moment you put the food in the hot Crisco, a crust forms on the outside which prevents the Crisco soaking in and keeps the true flavor inside.

Therefore the first two or three pounds of Crisco you use to start your deep fat kettle will last a long time and you can cook in it a surprising variety of foods—straining the Crisco occasionally if necessary. You can even use the same kettle of Crisco for frying doughnuts, fritters, croquettes, chicken, etc., and each is good without a trace of taste from any of the others.

As quick as broiling a steak

All you need is an ordinary steppan, a strainer and a 5-pound tin of Crisco.

Put your Crisco into a cold pan and heat slowly. When a piece of bread browns in 30 seconds your Crisco is ready for frying potatoes. Don't wait for Crisco to smoke.

Fill your strainer half full of potatoes and lower it into the Crisco. Increase the heat as the cold potatoes naturally cool the Crisco a little.

When brown lift strainer out of the fat, shake lightly, drain the potatoes on brown paper and sprinkle with salt.

When you have finished strain your Crisco back into the can and set it aside to cool. Then it is ready to use over and over again for anything you want to fry. The taste of one thing will not be carried to another.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON.—The Coolidges, you might say, must be incorrigible jay-walkers, considering all the stories the papers tell of their narrow escapes from being hit by automobiles.

Twice just before he left Washington for Swampscott, the President had to jump like a kangaroo to dodge speeding cars.

Mrs. Coolidge barely missed being run down by one during the family's stay at the summer capitol, and since their return here one of the presidential calls was so close that the driver responsible for it was actually arrested, which means there was no joke or exaggeration about it—the authorities were genuinely and thoroughly scared, and maybe the president was, too. The truth is the Coolidge are no

Besides Senator McKinley, the American group includes Senators Swanson of Virginia, Curtis of Kansas, Robinson of Arkansas, and Representatives Barton of Ohio, Britton of Illinois, Cooper of Wisconsin, Oldfield of Arkansas, Baker of California, and Connally of Texas.

Interest in the conference centers on the Saturday session when former Secretary of State Elihu Root will present a report on codification of international law.

It was said today that opposition of the League of Nations would probably prevent the American delegation from introducing a resolution inviting President Coolidge to call a world conference on law codifications.

Tomorrow's afternoon session will be devoted to discussion of Senator Swanson's report on the Pan-American union. Their subjects on the agenda include: the development of international law, the rights and duties of nations, outlawry of war, economic and financial questions, embracing European customs agreements, the problem of national minorities, control of dangerous drugs, reduction of armaments and demilitarized zones, the present crisis in the parliamentary system and its possible remedies.

The United States Government and delegation have made elaborate preparations for entertainment of the foreign visitors, including a White House reception by President Coolidge on Tuesday and a state banquet given that evening by Secretary Kellogg. The White House reception will be followed by a pilgrimage to the home and tomb of George Washington at Mount Vernon.

On Monday the visitors will be luncheon guests of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

Besides a $50,000 congressional appropriation for the Union's conference and use of the House chamber granted by this government, the American group paying all the expenses of the foreign delegates from the time of their arrival in New York to the departure at Niagara Falls on October 11. The Union will hold its last session in the Canadian House of Parliament at Ottawa on the 13th.

The draft resolution on codification of international law drawn by Elihu Root, and around which the chief conflict of the conference is expected to center, follows:

"While greeting with satisfaction the labors undertaken by the committee of experts called together by the League of Nations to indicate the questions of international law suitable for progressive codification, nevertheless considers that the best method to follow in establishing a general and constructive plan for such codification, based on the progress made during the recent years, with a view to finding the fundamental conditions of the regime of peace to be instituted between the nations, to providing for the judicial settlement of disputes which constitute a threat to that regime and to the application, if necessary, of methods of execution and sanction.

"And invites the committee for the study of juridical questions to present proposals for this purpose to a forthcoming conference of this Union.

"These proposals would eventually be submitted to an international conference of nations called for the purpose of effectuating the codification of international law."

One reason why the wild west got over it, was because there were no alienists in those days.

What a long way the world has come since good folk were horrified by "September Morn."

Why I do not WORRY

"I have used a four-burner Perfection Oil Stove for four years, and discarded my wood range entirely," writes Mrs. A. E. Austin of 800 Jefferson Street, Joplin, Mo.

"I serve nine people three meals every day. My Perfection cooks everything beautifully—biscuits, steaks, roasts—anything I want."

"Even if I go away I do not worry about the flame. For I know it won't creep up, or go out."

"I feel free to let my children light the Perfection Stove, as it burns kerosene, which is one of the safest fuels. I could not ask for a finer stove."

Mrs. A. E. Austin

Perfection Stoves have many advantages other than Mrs. Austin mentions. Cooking begins when a match touches the wick. Every drop of oil is completely burned in the long chimneys before the heat reaches the cooking utensils, so kettles stay soot-free. Any dealer will gladly give you a demonstration.

ITCHING ECZEMA GOES QUICK WITH USE OF THIS

People who have endured tortures from itching eczema will be happy to learn that a means of relief has been perfected and is already enjoying unheard of popularity on account of the quick way it gets rid of the awful disease of the skin which nobody seemed able to figure out before. It is called Black and White Ointment.

Most all dealers have Black and White Ointment and Soap, on account of the tremendous demand which has already reached the rate of more than two million packages a year in its sales, because it relieves eczema so quickly.

They are economical, too. The big 50c package of Ointment contains three times as much as the liberal 25c size. (adv)

MONEY IN HOGS

Plainview Man Makes Profit Hundred Dollars One Litter

PLAINVIEW, Oct. 1.—That there is money in hogs is attested by the experience of J. E. Rigger, Plainview farmer, and contestant in the State-wide Ton-Litter Contest who weighed his entry of ten pigs this week and found that they weighed at the age of one hundred and eighty days, 290.7 pounds per hog. The largest of the litter weighed three hundred and thirty three and the smallest, two hundred and fifty three.

Rigger's litter is the only entry in this contest from Plainview and Hale County and they are of the durable jersey breed.

He was offered twelve dollars and ten cents per hundred for the hogs the day they were weighed. The litter would have brought him at this price $351.54 and they cost him to produce according to well kept records $239.83 making his net profit $111.71.

Jewett Improvements More than Doubled Our Business

Aug. 1924 Jewett Sales Aug. 1925 Jewett Sales

"Never a Car Like This—Never Such Value!"

Actually 131% more business in August this year than last! When you see this latest Jewett at its new low price, you'll know why.

Famous for its unusual roominess and comfort, Jewett Coach is now larger—roomier—even more comfortable. Added length gives greater leg room and substantially better riding quality.

Months ago Jewett took the stand that roominess was what the public wanted in a coach.

Jewett met that need squarely by producing the country's roomiest Coach. Sales that followed eclipsed all records.

In value—in quality—in roominess—in performance—Jewett Coach has excelled all Coaches.

Even such excellence has now been improved. You relax the moment you enter this great car. Plenty of leg room. No stiffness. Never a cramped position—even when five are riding.

Never Such Performance!

A surge of able, efficient power such as you have never experienced. Silent as it is able. Because it's a Jewett with all the ability that has made a famous name for a famous car.

Respected in traffic—on toughest hills—on the open road. For Jewett is known as the car whose performance cannot be questioned. Costs but little more than ordinary cars. It offers much more in performance, comfort, quality and long life.

See this great car today! Ride in it. Drive it! You'll know why it more than doubled our sales.

RIDES GOLDEN HORSE

What would you do if you saw a beautiful girl from the Land of Romance riding an exquisite golden horse?

Well, that is what you'll see when the Al G. Barnes Big 4 Ring Circus comes to Sweetwater, Monday, October 12 with the resplendent "Equine Ballet" featuring one hundred hand-some dancing horses and one hundred fair women.

In one of the gorgeous, sensational extravaganzas which open the big program, horses of pure, natural golden color ridden by girls of extraordinary beauty will dance before you. This is the dream that Al G. Barnes has brought to a wonderful reality—a dream of gathering together the 100 most beautiful girls and horses in the world and presenting to the public an offering which would eclipse anything previously staged.

These splendid steeds, valued at $112,000 are only a part of the 550 trained horses of the show. More than 2500 educated wild animals, including Lotas, the largest and only performing blood-sweating hippopotamus on earth, will be seen when the bigtop goes up. You will also see more than a hundred "sunkist" bathing beauties of Southern California in the ballet and chorus of "Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne, the gorgeous pageant that opens the gigantic program. Many of these pretty girls have played principal parts in the latest motion picture productions this year.

NOTICE TO LIARS
To the liars of this city and county this newspaper today inaugurates a novelty in the form of its Lightnin' Liars' Contest.

There are hundreds of different lies but they may be roughly divided into three classes, namely: Good Lies, Bad Lies, Funny Lies.

In the history of the world three great liars stand out. The first great liar was Ananias of Biblical fame, the husband of Sapphira, whose temper was enough to make a liar of any man who was detained at the office or who sat up with a sick friend.

The second famous fabricator was Munchausen, a German officer in the Russian service, celebrated for his elastic conception of the verities. He choked to death in 1797 trying to swallow one of his own stories.

The most famous falsifier of them all, however, was Lightnin' Bill Jones the lovable liar of William Fox photo play "Lightnin'" who in mid-winter herded a swarm of bees across a desert without losing a single bee.

All you have to do to enter this contest is to write out your lie (not over 50 words—typewritten preferred) and mail or bring it to the Reporter office with coupon found elsewhere in this paper attached. The Reporter reserves the right to publish the winners.

For the best lie submitted each day Friday, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday the Reporter will give two tickets to "Lightnin'". Liars get busy.

Note—Dr. P. K. Hamilton is barred from entering more than one day's contest.

FORD FELL ON HIM

Cisco Man Has Narrow Escape From Death

CISCO, Oct. 1.—W. D. Elder of the Cottage hotel on West Tenth street narrowly escaped being crushed to death when his Ford touring car fell on him. Mr. Elder had taken the wheels off the car and propped it up on rocks, and was under the car making repairs, when he accidentally knocked the car off the props—the vehicle falling and pinning him to mother earth. Employees heard him and wet to his rescue. He was bruised up some, but it is believed he suffered no permanent injury.

For real old-fashioned goodness—Mrs. Tucker's

You can get the wonderful goodness that butter gives to cooking and baking by using Mrs. Tucker's Shortening. And at the same time you will be taking no chances with the greasiness and indigestibility of lard.

Your grocer has Mrs. Tucker's. Get a pail today. Use it in cakes and pastries, for frying meats and vegetables—wherever you use shortening. You will find your favorite dishes surprisingly better. And you will be delighted at its economy.

Mrs. Tucker's is a pure, wholesome shortening, made exclusively of choice cottonseed-oil. It costs no more than ordinary shortening. And it comes to you in a container that warrants absolute freshness. Air-tight and sanitary, this pail is easy to open and when empty makes a handy household bucket or dinner pail. Hotpoint

The Electric Range that Stands the Test at

The Reporter Cooking School

Afternoons this Week at the Hotel Wright

Mrs. Chitwood's Judgment Is Confirmed by Hundreds of Ladies in this Section

There are more Hotpoint Ranges in use in Sweetwater homes than any other make. There is a reason for this. If there is not an electric range in your kitchen, attend Mrs. Chitwood's School and learn why she prefers the Hotpoint. Or visit your neighbor's kitchen and learn from the experience of actual users why the Hotpoint is best. So neat, so clean, with no smoke smell or soot to dirty the kitchen or utensils and with heat always under control. There is an automatic feature on the Hotpoint Range. You can put your dinner in the oven in the morning, set the switch at any hour you wish. The heat will automatically turn on. Then if you wish, the heat will be turned off at any time you set. And another automatic feature prevents the oven from overheating, so nothing can be harmed by too high a temperature. The heat is there when you want it, and off when you want it. There is nothing to get out of order, nothing uncertain.

Hotpoint Ranges are sold on easy terms. A small down payment, and the balance as you pay your light bill. Won't you come in tomorrow, select the model you desire and have it installed? Always glad to show you the fine points about the Hotpoint—and a call at our office will place you under no obligation whatever unless you wish.

PALACE

"It would take a long time to tell all about how I came to write 'The Thundering Herd,'" says Zane Grey, "almost as long as it took to write the book. But perhaps I can give you some idea in short space.

"In the first place, some fifteen years ago, I had the great good fortune to become a friend of the old plainsman, Buffalo Jones and he took me on some wild trips to the North Rim of the Grand Canyon. He was really the savior of the buffalo—that is to say, he captured most of the buffalo calves, from which have descended all the buffalo living today. Naturally, I became wonderfully interested in these fine, big animals.

"One day I was pretty much scared by Jones' cowboys who put me on a white horse that the buffalo hated, and the whole herd took after me and chased me all over the desert. Not an hour afterwards did the cowboys tell me that the horse thought it was play, and could never have been caught by the buffalo.

"From Buffalo Jones I first heard about the millions of buffalo on the plains in the early days—the vast thundering herds—and the stories of how they were massacred for their hides and bones. Hides sold as cheap as twenty-five cents. This slaughter was one of the bloodiest carnages in the history of the world, and a terrible blunder. For the buffalo were superior to cattle and would have enriched our great west. But they were butchered in a few short years.

I determined to write the story of the vanishing herds, and set about getting material. A few years ago I visited the plains of Kansas, Oklahoma and the Panhandle of Texas, to make myself familiar with the prairie land where the vast herds used to roam. I found deep buffalo wallows and trails but no other signs of the American bison. Then from all I had gathered I wrote 'The Thundering Herd.'

Daves and Flute Were Features of Democratic Parade

PORTLAND, Ore., Oct. 1.—Vice President Charles G. Daves was at one time employed by the Democratic party, according to revelations made here by W. G. Sibley, editor of the Chicago Journal of Commerce and lifelong friend of the general.

"The cause of this seeming infidelity on the part of Daves, his old friend says, was his love for music.

"This happened just after Charlie bought his first musical instrument—a tin flute, which cost him 35 cents," Sibley related.

"That was in the days of the old torch light parades. Both parties held their parades on the same night. Charlie's father was running for congress on the republican ticket, naturally it occurred to Charlie, who was about 14 years old then, that it would be a fine thing to head the parade with his tin flute, playing campaign airs.

"But the Republican campaign committee wasn't interested. Charlie went to the Democrats and they jumped at the chance. So young Daves came right down the street at the head of the procession, tooting for dear life and I tell you it caused a lot of commotion."

Attorney for Fort Worth Chiropractor Files Brief in Injunction Suit in Medical Act Case

FORT WORTH, Oct. 1.—The scene of the legal conflict over the status of practitioners of the "science of chiropractic" as related to the state medical act of 1917 has shifted from Fort Worth to Abilene.

Edwin Bolte, attorney for H. C. Allison, Fort Worth chiropractor, has gone to Abilene to file a brief in an injunction suit he brought for his client against State Attorney General Dan Moody and district attorney Hangor in Judge Wilson's federal district court. Judge Wilson is in Abilene to hear cases. Bolte will argue against the decision of Judge Wilson in ordering the injunction suit dismissed.

The chiropractor seeks to have the federal court enjoin the state and county officers from causing his arrest and prosecution on charges of violation of the state medical act.

Judge Wilson did not pass on the merits of the case but said that inasmuch as it was a test case Allison should be brought into a court of law and not a court of equity and taken from that point to a United States supreme court for a final decision.

Allen McQuhae's "Yearning" Touches the Heart Strings

When Allen McQuhae, noted Brunswick star, sings "Yearning, Just for You, I hope you're yearning too," his wish comes true, for this melody of longing, infinite longing, so reaches its hearers with tenderness, with gentleness, they will not cease yearning for the melody until it is committed to heart.

On the reverse side of the same Brunswick Record is a companion song, "Oh, How I Miss You Tonight," expressing the same loneliness for the absent one that "Yearning" gives. Come in and hear them.

CHILDREN'S COATS DRESSES and HATS

We are showing a nice line of children's coats just in. Some are trimmed with bits of fur while others are plain. The materials are broadcloth, chinchilla and like weaves.

We are showing cunning little hats to match the coats, designed after those worn by grown-ups this fall. These hats are sure to prove popular with the youngsters.

Of course a pretty dress must be kept on hand for special occasions of "dress-up," and besides dresses for every day wear we have a nice line of the better dresses.

Best Yet Bread

Friday Afternoon, October 2nd, 4 to 8 O'clock

We will be very glad to have every person in Sweetwater inspect this model, sanitary bakery. We want you who use BEST YET BREAD every day to see how it is made and just where it comes from. We want you to be able to better appreciate the quality of the merchandise you are getting.

You who have not yet started using BEST YET BREAD, we ask that you visit us and give our plant a thorough inspection. See for yourself the sanitary conditions under which your bread is made, and then take a loaf home with you or order one from your grocer or baker for trial.

Ask Mrs. Whitford at the REPORTER COOKING SCHOOL tomorrow what she thinks of BEST YET BREAD—the selected it for use in her school, and if you've attended every day you have heard her lecture on bread.
