MADDEN COMBS ECONOMY URGED ARMY AND NAVY AS BIDS OPENED

Illinois Representative, Chairman
House Appropriations Committee Uses Hot Words

CRITICISES CRIMINAL WASTE

Says Neither Army Nor Navy Able to Spend Public Money Properly—
Funds Wasted

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—A scathing denunciation of the War and Navy Departments for maladministration and wasteful expenditure of money appropriated by Congress amounting to "criminal waste" was made by Representative Martin A. Madden of Illinois, chairman of the House Appropriations Committee before the special Aircraft Board here today.

"Millions of dollars appropriated by Congress in the past few years have been squandered in endless experimental orgies," said Madden in reply to army and navy witnesses who had claimed that the backwardness of aviation in the United States was due to the niggardly appropriations made by Congress.

"If credit is to be given to the witnesses who have appeared before this board," said Madden, "very little has been produced by the millions spent for experimenting."

"You have been told by men who should know that with a few exceptions this country has no real airships. We can conclude that the technical development of aviation cannot be safely left to the army and navy forces of this nation," Madden continued. "If the United States is to take its place with the nations of the world,"

"It is not too much to expect that the millions that have been spent should have produced more tangible results than are now in evidence. I have heard the term 'criminal negligence' used but the situation calls for even stronger language for the criminal waste that has been allowed to go on. Think of buying 262 pursuit planes that the pilots cannot even see out of!"

"Congress is not to blame in this instance," Madden declared, adding that the demands of some of the bureau heads if allowed, would bankrupt the government.

"They concern themselves little with whether or not there is enough money to go around, these army and navy heads. They always see a war on the horizon and want to be ready at the drop of the hat to go after the other fellow."

"Neither the army nor navy staff are trained nor able to direct the purchase of equipment nor can they spend the public money economically."

Use Air Lines

PARIS, Oct. 12.—Americans are the most enthusiastic aviation patrons of Europe. Statistics compiled at Le Bourget, the great aerodrome outside of Paris which all airplane passenger service use, show that during the month of August 65 per cent of air travelers were Americans.

The English come second with 20 per cent, the French and Dutch even with three per cent, and other nationalities make up the remaining 9 per cent.

State Superintendent of Schools S. M. N. Marrs Addresses Meeting
Textbook Commission

GOVERNOR FERGUSON PRESIDES

Former Governor J. E. Ferguson Sits
Beside Governor and Opens
Book Bids

By United Press.

AUSTIN, Oct. 12.—Economy was the keynote of the communication transmitted by State Superintendent of Public Instruction S. M. N. Marrs, to the new text book commission which met here today to open bids approximating $1,500,000, for text books to be used in the Texas public schools. Twenty-six companies submitted bids. Awards are to be made within a few days.

Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, chairman of the commission, presided over the meeting. Ex-governor James E. Ferguson sat to the right of his wife and opened bids.

Upon suggestion of the governor, the commission decided the bidders would not be allowed to present the merits of their books or the demerits of the competing bidders at this session of the commission. It was pointed out that the book men had long conferences with members of the commission.

Ex-governor Ferguson, explaining that he did not desire to intrude, said his wife asked him to make an explanation of the rule stipulating that in order for a book to be considered it must be nominated by a member of the commission and receive a second, caused a flurry. The rule was finally adopted.

CIRCUS HERE

Al G. Barnes Draws Large Crowds in Town for Two Performances at 2 and at 8

In spite of bad roads due to recent rains, the usual circus day crowds were in evidence in Sweetwater Monday to attend the two performances of Al G. Barnes circus which were presented here according to schedule.

The Al G. Barnes circus has always been noted for the excellence of its trained animal acts and these were much in evidence this year, with additional gorgeous spectacles of Pocahontas to climax the performances.

Sweetwater people had an unusual opportunity to watch the circus at close range as it came in and unloaded Sunday morning. There was a very sizeable crowd to watch this always interesting proceeding, from the time the big wagons were hauled off the flat cars until the final finishing touches were added to the show grounds.

Working calmly and unhurriedly, the large force of men yet had things organized, the tents set up and completed in routine time. Perhaps there was more leisure used owing to the fact that there was no afternoon performance to get ready for but things usually went on about the same. All day long a large crowd thronged the circus grounds and watched the intimate details of the daily life under the big top—the feeding of personnel and animals, etc.

"Thousands have come to see the great show. And what a sight it is! Picturesque glistening trappings; 1200 wild educated animals from every jungle under the sun; hundreds of pretty girls from 'sunkist' California; an equal number of fair equestriennes with over a hundred handsome, gold-colored dancing horses; great steel-lined calliope, and three tribes of full-blooded American Indians from Arizona, New Mexico and Nevada.

The dignified camels; the sharp, striped zebras, lions, tigers, leopards, ounce, jaguars, pumas, ocelots, rimaulins, lynx, cheetahs, hyenas, wolves, lingos, jackals, bears, sea-lions, seals, tangarook, zebus, buffalo, yaks, ox, gazelles, deer, antelope, chamols, giraffe, llamas, tapir, rhinoceros and Lotus, the 5 ton largest, and only blood sweating performing hippopotamus in the world; are only a small part of the exhibition of wild animals from many parts of the world.

Every year the Al G. Barnes circus grows larger than ever with hundreds more animals and birds including more gorgeous trappings and many more tableaux wagons not forgetting the most sensational circus of the age.

ONE IS ARRESTED

Police Seeking Others of Kidnapping
Party—Victim in Hospital Suffering Serious Burns

By United Press.

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—Four men today kidnapped Robert Monroe, 23, placed him in a trunk, stripped him of his clothing and applied a coating of paint and turpentine to his body.

Monroe is in a local hospital suffering severe burns from the turpentine.

Police are holding Dave Jones, 24, who Monroe charges was one of his abductors. Others are being sought.

Monroe says the act was committed in revenge for the aloofness of himself and his brothers from the "gang" in which he held "membership."

Some time ago the "gang" attempted to punish him with a long whip which he seized from his attackers and slashed one of them badly, he said.

FORGERY IS CHARGED

Woman Confesses to Forgery Charges
—Case to Grand Jury

Charges of forgery have been filed against a woman who gave her name as Mrs. Turner, and who was arrested Saturday in connection with attempts to cash two alleged forged checks. Her case was submitted to the grand jury here Monday.

The woman said she was collecting for an orphan's home. The checks said to have been forged carried the name of Roy W. Thompson, local real estate man. Officers said Monday that the woman confessed to having committed the offense.

ABANDON CAR LINE

Wyoming Will Soon be State Without Street Cars

By United Press.

CHEYENNE Wyo., Oct. 12.—Wyoming is about to become a state without a single street car service.

The Sheridan Electric Railway Co., operating the last street car system in the state, has made application to abandon its lines.

The Sheridan railway serves that town and a small agricultural and coal mining region adjacent to it. The owners declare the automobile has so taken away their passengers that they have been operating at a loss for several years.

SENTENCE IS READ

Crowd of 150 Hear Bishop Galbot in New Orleans Read Sentence—
Brown Not Present

By United Press.
NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12.—William Montgomery Brown, bishop, was deposed from the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal church today.

The sentence was read by Bishop Ethelbert Galbot in the presence of 150 persons and was as follows:

"Therefore, I depose you, William Montgomery Brown, from the sacred ministry and do hereby declare you so deposed."

The bishop was not present and a copy of the sentence was sent to him by registered mail.

The sentence was read in chapel of the St. Paul's church and was preceded by a short prayer.

By United Press.

DALLAS, Oct. 12.—Maury Hughes, consul for W. A. Martin, who was given 99 years in the penitentiary on his conviction for the murder of R. B. Parsons, deputy sheriff of Denton county at Denton announced that he would file a motion for a new trial today.

Jury in the case returned a verdict of guilty with a sentence of 99 years Sunday morning.

Burns' Home Burns

GLASGOW, Oct. 12.—Robert Burns' old home at Irvine, Ayrshire, visited in recent years by thousands of American tourists, has been destroyed by fire.

The poet lived here from August '781 until the following spring paying one shilling per day rent.

Burns' room had been left practically as it was during the tenancy of the poet.

The stonework over the fireplace in the room in which he lodged, bore in deeply cut letters, the inscription "R. B. 1782," supposed to have been cut by Burns himself.

RED CROSS WILL EXPAND ACTIVITY

Peace Time Program Enlargement
Discussed at Annual Convention
Held in St. Louis

MANY DELEGATES PRESENT

All Parts of Nation and Hawaii, Canal Zone and Philippines Are Represented in Meet

By United Press.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 12.—Further expansion of the peace time program of the American Red Cross was the principal matter for consideration here when the organization convened here today in its annual convention.

Immense as its activities already are the Red Cross plans to broaden each of its services. The Red Cross now employs 70,000 persons, most of them volunteers, in its many functions which extend its powerful aid into every phase of the national life, but if the convention sanctions these extension plans the number will be greatly increased.

More than 1,500 delegates from all parts of the country, Hawaii, the Philippines, Porto Rico and the Canal Zone, were present when the convention opened the three day session today in the new Scottish Rite Cathedral here with Chairman John Barton Payne presiding.

After the address of welcome by Governor Sam A. Baker of Missouri and Mayor Victor J. Miller of St. Louis, Judge Payne reviewed the progress and work of the Red Cross and outlined the expansion plans before the convention for endorsement. Officials regard this new program as so significant as to make this convention the most important in the history of the Red Cross.

Every large city in the country was represented by delegates to the convention who will discuss Red Cross service problems in a series of round table conferences during the three days of the session. Delegates representing rural chapters will likewise have special meetings to discuss the expansion of Red Cross services outside the urban centers.

COVELESKIE IS YANKED

Buck Harris Uses Four Pitchers in Vain Endeavor to Stem Pirate
Onslaught

By United Press.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12.—The Pirate wrecking crew composed of Barnhart, Wright, McInnis, et al, got behind the Washington baseball team here today, sent Coveleskie to the showers behind a barrage of hits and emerged from the fray after the smoke had cleared with a six to three victory in the fifth game of the World Series.

The Corsairs were fighting with their backs to the wall, having lost three of the four game series with the Big Train Walter Johnson adding insult to injury with a four to nothing kaisomine in the Sunday session.

With warmer weather than has been the case previously and with a crowd of 38,000 persons jamming the Washington playing field, the fifth game of the World Series got under way Monday.

President and Mrs. Coolidge again occupied their private box.

The weather was warmer but continued cloudy. Showers were in evidence during the morning but the field was not too wet.

Vic Aldridge essayed mound duty for the pirates opposed by Coveleskie for Washington.

The play by innings:
First Inning
Pittsburgh: Moore fouls out to Peck. Carey singles to left field. Cuyler gets a Texas Leaguer to left field. Barnhart flies out to Goslin. Traynor walks filling the bases. Wright, after fouling a number of times, grounds out, Harris to Judge. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Washington: Rice singles to left on the first ball pitched. Stanley Harris is out, McInnis to Moore. Goslin's screeching two bagger scores Rice. Judge fans swinging hard. Joe Harris walks. Peckinpaugh forces Goslin at third, Traynor unassisted. One run two hits, no errors.

Second Inning
Pittsburgh: McInnis flies out to Goslin. Smith singles to center. Aldridge hits into a double play, Bluege to S. Harris to Judge. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington: Ruel pops out to Moore. Bluege struck out on three pitched balls. Coveleskie walks. Rice grounds out to McInnis unassisted. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Pittsburgh: Moore grounds out, Bluege to Judge. Carey walks. Cuyler up. Carey steals second. Cuyler walks. Barnhart singles to left, scoring Carey, Cuyler taking third on the play. Traynor up. On an attempted double steal, Barnhart is safe at second and Cuyler gets back to third safely. Traynor hits a sacrifice fly to Rice, Cuyler scoring after the catch. Wright grounds out, Peck to Judge. Two runs, one hit, no errors.

Washington: S. Harris grounds out Aldridge to McInnis. Goslin pops out to McInnis. Judge flies out to Cuyler. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Pittsburgh: McInnis grounds out, Peck to Judge. Smith singles to center field. Aldridge flies out to Goslin. Moore singles to left field, Smith going to third. Carey grounds out to Judge unassisted. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Washington: J. Harris hit a home run into the left field stands on the first ball pitched. Peck fans swinging. Ruel singles over Wright's head. Bluege doubles to left field, Ruel going to third. Coveleskie fans, the third strike being called. Rice grounds out to McInnis unassisted. One run, three hits, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Pittsburgh: Cuyler flies to Rice. Barnhart pops out to Peck. Traynor lined a hot one to J. Harris in deep right. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Washington: S. Harris grounds out Moore to McInnis. Goslin flies out to Cuyler. Judge pops out to Wright. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Pittsburgh: Wright flies out to Goslin on the first ball pitched. McInnis hits a grounder to Peck who fumbles

MAKING THEM THINK

Sir Arthur Keith, one of Britain's best known surgeons, has published a paper on student habits, which ought to be encouraging to all youths who are under the intellectual stress of making the grade in college. He tells them that they may study to the limit of their endurance and may rest as sured that by the mere act of study they will do their brains no harm. By habitual study they may overtax their physical endurance, and may even damage their bodies if exercise is neglected, but they certainly will not damage their brains.

"You will never succeed in using the brain up to its full capacity," Sir Arthur says. "Our brains have moods and tempers, like horses or engines of motor cars—they have to warm up before they run smoothly and easily. When the brain starts sluggishly the healing power of a debauch of fiction is often marvelous in its results. All our organs are built for emergencies at critical junctures. The heart can rise to ten times its normal output. So in the same way can the brain. It is upon this emergency ration that the modern scholar has to depend."

Here is a message from abroad that America was waiting to hear. Opinion here was obsessed with the delusion that too much thinking would injure the brain, so in the mass of very little thinking was done, while the labor and hazard of this supposedly dangerous function was left to others. Hence the vogue of the sheer leader in the field of amusement and that of the spellbinder in the field of public service.

Now that it has been established upon high authority, that employment of the intellectual faculties will not shorten one's life, there ought to be immediate improvement in every sphere of national life. The calm level of public opinion that is supposed to direct the hand of government should be more individual thinking and less head shouting or groaning around the national score boards or along the side lines.

Yale has just made a ruling which Sir Arthur Keith might accept as a good American endorsement of his conclusion that one is never wearied by the strain of brain work. Its faculty has served notice that no athletes are to be coddled for the sake of field victories. They must attend chapel and qualify in everything that goes toward the winning of a college degree.

Addressing the class of 1925 one of the faculty said: "This is a picked class. You men have come to Yale with high scholarship marks. There were 20 per cent of the members of the class of 1924 who failed to graduate and about 10 per cent of the class of 1925 also failed. But you have the strength of a battalion with your good marks. Let the men who are coddled and pampered in a preparatory school because he made a sixty yard run in a big football game forget the fact at Yale."

A good platform for every American university. Make them either think or quit. There is good expert opinion that the brain can stand it.

UNDAUNTED

If anyone imagines that ballooning lacks thrills, the experience of those who took part in the recent flight from Detroit will produce a different conclusion. The ordeal of the army balloon S-1, when its landing rope caught on a telephone post, was the most exciting of all. It is told that balloon and basket began to swing in an arc at the end of the 200 foot rope, bouncing to the ground and up again at about 15 times a minute. The experience of the crew in the Akron balloon was hardly less thrilling. Caught in a terrific thunderstorm, with lightning flashes all around and a cloudburst filling the basket, and with a succession of rises and falls that threatened destruction, the Akron men fortunately survived a play of elements such as made a wreck of the Shenandoah. One moment later they would be in the clouds, another dangerously near the ground. Out of these incidents the usual cry will go forth that lives ought not to be subjected to such risks in an undertaking apparently so inessential as free ballooning. Those who make this point might as well save their words. The men who pilot balloons would find very little glory or attraction in his career if it was devoid of jeopardy. The best proof of this is that when the next race is called there will be plenty of willing starters.

TIME WILL TELL

A $100,000,000 bakery combine has aroused the interest of the American Federation of Labor convention. The combination was denounced as a thing likely to prove unfriendly to the welfare of labor.

There is a different opinion in Chicago, where the new organization has reduced the price of bread. A friend to the merger publishes an argument that bread baking is no longer a task for individual labor. He tells of dough mixing machines and modern ovens each of which mold, bake and wrap as many loaves of bread as 36,000 women in as many kitchens could make in a single day. He says it is mass production, working upon the same principles that Detroit produces flyovers and Akron produces tires. The test of this combine will come when the nation has had a year's opportunity to scrutinize the price of bread. If all this invention and progress mean dearer loaves the popular complaining will not be limited to the halls of labor unions.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—Crafty M. Caillaux!

He managed to give the impression that he wanted to arrange payment of France's debt to America, only America wouldn't let him.

He came over and negotiated. He couldn't get the terms he'd hoped for. He didn't like to appear to be ending the discussion so he placed the Washington government in the position of seeming to do it.

He let the story leak out that he and Secretary Mellon had reached an agreement. In reality they hadn't.

But the story was printed and the government had to deny it.

Just before the denial was issued Senator Smoot told the correspondents that a statement was coming.

"What will it be?" asked the correspondents.

Senator Smoot (grimly): "The truth!"

mentary Union convention spent here most of them left their footwear outside their doors to be polished while they slumbered, after the European fashion.

The hotel help did the polishing, all right, but not being used to that kind of thing, got the shoes mixed up in redistributing them.

They do say it was a sight to behold and an earful to listen to, when those delegates undertook to sort them out in the morning, quarreling over them in 41 different languages.

Linguistic difficulties were noticeable also at the Interparliamentary Union's more formal sessions. A speech doesn't make much impression if only 1-41 part of the audience understands it.

In translation it loses punch. Besides 40 translations take time.

As far as possible, the proceedings were in English or French. Even that didn't give fully satisfactory results.

It meant that the speakers had to express themselves, a large share of the time, in a tongue they were imperfectly acquainted with, to hearers who but partly understood them.

Which just goes to illustrate one of the worst troubles two countries encounter when they undertake to adjust a difference of opinion. Neither more than half knows what the other is talking about and presently they get to fighting as about the only way there is left to settle it.

We think most girls go without many clothes so they won't have to go without men.

Soldiers of fortune often become captains of industry.

Six were injured in Chicago when an auto driver thought a girl looked more interesting than the road.

Heaven to a small boy must be a place where throwing rocks through windows is compulsory.

In a few more years the only way you will be able to see the country is by peeping over a bill board.

Whether a friend in need is a friend indeed usually depends upon what he is in need of.

NATS LOSE MORE THAN GAME

The Washington Senators lost more than the game in the second contest of the world series. Owece Bluege, their star third baseman, was knocked unconscious when one of Vic Aldridge's fast shots struck him on the head, and his return to the series is doubtful. In the photo above Bluege is shown on the ground with Umpire Owens, Catcher Smith of the Pirates and Joe Judge of the Senators lifting him from the ground. Peck of the Senators is standing by.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1921

Of the Sweetwater Reporter published daily at Sweetwater, Texas, for October 1st, 1925.

County of Nolan.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Minor Shutt, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Publisher of the Sweetwater Reporter and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, circulation, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1921, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are: Publisher, Minor Shutt, Sweetwater, Texas. Editor John T. Thompson, Sweetwater, Texas. Business Manager, H. L. Roberts, Sweetwater, Texas.

2. That the owners are: Houston Harte, San Angelo, Texas. Isobel Caroline Harte, San Angelo, Texas. Herbert O. Taylor, San Angelo, Texas. Dean Chasoweth, San Angelo, Texas. Mrs. J. F. Murphy, San Angelo, Texas. John D. Brewer, San Angelo, Texas. Ernest Riehy, San Angelo, Texas. Willie Rowan, San Angelo, Texas. G. H. Odum, San Angelo, Texas. Minor Shutt, Sweetwater, Texas.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgages, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: Mrs. L. Johnson, San Angelo, Texas.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee of any other fiduciary relation the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication, sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is 2300.

Minor Shutt, Publisher. Sworn and subscribed to before me this 12th day of October, 1925.

R. K. McAdams, Notary Public

WEST TEXAS NOTES

FLOYDADA—A poultry association has recently been organized for Floyd County and plans are under way for a big poultry show this fall. Officers elected were H. P. Coleman, of Lockney, president; Judge L. G. Mathews, vice president, and E. S. Shoaf, secretary.

CROWELL—A white way will soon be installed in Crowell, as the iron posts have been mounted on the cement blocks and are ready for the lighting of the streets.

MARYNEAL—Within the next few weeks the first field meet of the West Texas Wolf Hunters Association, of which Dr. P. C. Coleman of Colorado is president, will be held near Maryneal, Nolan county. The hunters expect to enter more than 300 dogs in the big hunt, which will be a three-day affair. The dogs will be scored from the standpoint of trailing, speed, driving and endurance.

LAREDO—San Antonio will get gas from the wells of the Laredo district, production of which is now estimated at more than 500,000,000 cubic feet a day. The survey for the pipe line from the Cole field to the Callahan field was completed several weeks ago and the route staked out. Connections will be made from the Callahan field with the Southern Natural Gas Company that supplies San Antonio with gas.

COMANCHE—The entire plant of Higginbotham Bros. and Co. was destroyed by fire with a total property loss of more than $200,000. General Manager T. J. Williams stated the firm would soon have a new stock of merchandise and ready for business again.

FLOYDADA—Construction is now

Executed

Chang Shu Chen, who once led 2000 desperate tufis in bloody banditry in Manchuria, recently was captured in a Sing Song girl house in Changchun and executed. One of her old followers, whose advances she spurned, betrayed her to the police. She became a bandit leader when her husband, who organized a gang of guerillas after floods devastated his farm, was killed in a fight under way on the new highway connecting Floydada with Crosbyton. The highway will come up the Blanco canyon making it a beautiful scenic drive for this section. Floyd county commissioners are contemplating the connection of this highway with the road leading into Floydada, connecting with the highway here leading into Silverton.

BURKBURNETT—Travel across the bridge near Burkburnett has been impossible the past few days due to a gap washed out during high water near the middle of the stream. It has not been possible to ford the high stream as was at first anticipated and traffic has been detoured over two other bridges near Burkburnett.

Hospital Notes

ESTELLINE—The business men of Estelline organized a Chamber of Commerce here recently. More than forty business men and farmers were present at the organization. The aim of the new chamber is to do two things immediately to benefit the city and community: incorporate and build a larger and better school.

Felix Solly, Route B, Sweetwater, is recovering from an operation. L. O. Odell of Aztec, New Mexico, was admitted Sunday for treatment, and Edith Lee of Rotan has been discharged from the sanitarium convalescent.

PORTLAND CEMENT

Sign Your Name— Let the Chemist Weigh It

The above illustration shows one of the most accurate balances in use today.

Hand the chemist a small piece of paper. Let him weigh it. Then write your name and let him weigh it again. He can tell you the weight of your signature within one ten-thousandth of a gram. (Twenty-eight and three-tenths grams equal an ounce.)

It is by such precise tests that the chemists of the Texas Portland Cement Company determine the exact proportions of the raw materials used in the manufacture of LONE STAR Cement.

This exacting supervision is maintained at every step in the process—in the wet-blending—in checking and rechecking—in the burning and final grinding.

Guess-work is eliminated. In fact, the chemist and superintendent know the exact condition of the material step by step during the entire nine-hour process. They invariably come within one-tenth of one per cent of the high quality at which they aim.

Result—a super-grade cement that has established a new record for uniformity.

Yet LONE STAR Cement costs no more.

It has our unqualified endorsement.

VEILS

By HEDDA HOYT

By United Press.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—Are women going to wear veils again? Parisians say "yes." Americans say "never!" However we follow our French sisters, in almost every fashion and they are already wearing veils at the race tracks near Paris. They are little affairs which cover the eyes hiding the tell-tale wrinkles at the corners of the eyes and casting fascinating shadows over the upper part of the face.

There is something fascinating about the little veil that shields the eyes and shadows the lower half of the face with its camouflaged lips and light ocre powder. It's been at least two years since we have seen a sign of a veil in America. Women dropped them so suddenly that even the old timers, who never felt dressed for the street without a black veil trimmed in tiny dots, left off wearing them. Doctors say that the eyesight of women has improved since they quit wearing dotted veils. On the other hand, plain net veils worn over the eyes tend to diminish the glare of the sun in the same manner that colored eyeglasses do.

Even the widow does not consider a veil essential for mourning these days. They dress in black from head to foot, but their so-called veils are neatly arranged to form a drape on the hat. More often there is no veil whatever since the hat itself is made of heavy crepe which suggests mourning.

With felt and velour hats in fashion as they are, one wonders how the veil could meet with popularity in America to any great extent except for wear with the dressy hat.

"Pocahontas at the Court of Queen Anne," the great American historical extravaganza that opens the big program at each performance.

In this gorgeous pageant is enacted the adventures of Captain John Smith, the intrepid English explorer; his rescue from death by the Indian princess, Pocahontas, after he had been sentenced to die by her father; the subsequent marriage of Pocahontas to John Rolfe and her presentation later to the English queen amid surroundings of splendor.

Three tribes of Indians from the arid desert of Arizona; the cactus covered plains of Nevada and the wild, rolling hills of New Mexico, gaudily attired in barbaric costumes, their faces streaked with war paint, will have a part in the gigantic historic pageant.

and McInnis is safe of first. Smith hits into a double play, Coveleskie to S. Harris to Judge. No runs, no hits, one error.

Washington: J. Harris singles over Traynor's head. Peck sacrifices, McInnis to Moore, J. Harris going to second. Ruel walks. Bluege fans. J. Harris attempts to steal third but is out, Smith to Traynor. No runs, one hit, no errors.

SEVENTH INNING

Pittsburgh: Aldridge grounded out, Bluege to Judge. Moore walks. Carey singles to left field, Moore stopping at second. Cuyler singles off Bluege's glove, scoring Moore, Carey going to third. Barnhart singles scoring Carey. Traynor up. Ballou relieves Coveleskie in the box for Washington. Traynor fans. Wright up. In an attempted double steal, Cuyler was caught at the plate, Ruel to Bluege to Ruel. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Washington: Liebold batting for Ballou, doubles to the right field boxes. Ground rules rob him of a home run. Rice singles through the box, scoring Liebold. S. Harris sacrifices, Smith to McInnis, Rice going to second. Goslin flies out to Cuyler, Rice taking third after the catch. Judge walks. J. Harris flies out to Cuyler. No runs, two hits, no errors.

EIGHTH INNING

Pittsburgh: Zachary now pitching for Washington. Wright doubles to right field. McInnis singles to right, scoring Wright. Smith sacrifices, McInnis to second, Zachary to Judge. Aldridge forces McInnis at third, Zachary to Peck to Bluege. Moore lines a hot one to Rice. One run, two hits, no errors.

Washington: Peck grounds out, Wright to McInnis. Ruel grounds out, Wright to McInnis. Bluege fouls out to McInnis near the Senators' dugout. No runs, no hits, no errors.

NINTH INNING

Pittsburgh: Carey out, Zachary to Judge, Zachary robbing Carey of a hit on the play. Cuyler flied to Rice. Barnhart walked and went to second when Traynor singled. Zachary goes to the bench and Marberry takes the box with Wright singling on the first ball he pitched and Barnhart crossed the plate for the final count. McInnis flied to Goslin. One run, two hits, no errors.

Washington: Adams, hitting for Marberry is out, Aldridge to McInnis. Rice out, Wright to McInnis. S. Harris lifts one to Barnhart. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Senators Win Sunday
GRIFFITH STADIUM, Washington

Oct 12.—Walter Johnson pitched his second victory of the world series over the Pittsburgh Pirates Sunday, blanking them, 4 to 0, and giving the Senators a lead of three games to one in the championship battle.

Goose Goslin's home run with Rice and Stanley Harris on base in the third inning gave Washington the winning margin and ended the south-paw hopes of Emil Yde who was with drawn after Joe Harris had followed with another circuit blow and Joe Judge had walked.

It was the second homer of the series for both Goslin and Joe Harris and gave Goslin the record for most circuit blows in the championship games.

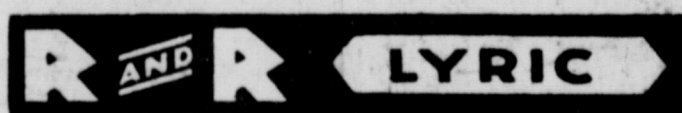

The Pirates got six hits off Johnson one more than in the first game, and had several chances to score, but found the big veteran's "smoke" and the Senator defense invincible in every emergency.

Stanley Harris was particularly brilliant on the defense, spearing Wright's smash with a jumping, one hand catch in the seventh and doubling Traynor off first, while in the ninth the Senator leader picked up Traynor's grounder, tagged out Barnhart on the base line and got the batter at first for another double play.

Barnhart's catch in the seventh up against the left field bleachers rail cut off another prospective home run from the bat of Joe Harris, and was the big defensive play of the Pittsburghers.

Johnny Morrison and Babe Adams, playing in his first world series since 1909, shared the hurling burden for the Pirates after Yde went out and held the Senators scoreless.

Lady Says She Took Cardui and Never Saw Such Improvement—Was So Weak Couldn't Stand.

Weathersby, Miss.—Mrs. James M. Hall, of this place, writes that she was "getting weaker all the time" when Cardui, the woman's tonic, was first brought to her attention. After she had taken Cardui a while, she writes that she "never did see such an improvement."

"I suffered all the time and had pains all over," says Mrs. Hall. "I was so weak I could not stand. My skin was cold and flabby. I did not have any color. I had always been a very active woman—used to outdoor exercise, walking and going where I pleased, and to get down, not able to get myself a drink, was indeed a hardship.

"Nothing seemed to help me, till I began on Cardui. The first bottle seemed to strengthen me, and I sent for five more. By the time I had taken these, I was on my feet, going around, doing my work, gained in health and strength.

"I took two more bottles, and I am well and strong. Can work my garden." I haven't had any more sickness." I haven't had any more sickness."
