FROM GOVERNMENT PROGRAM Emergency Feed Sought Here

Application has been made for the farmers and ranchers of Terry County to participate in the government's emergency feed program. Should the government place the county in its drought disaster area, those farmers and ranchers who own livestock will be able to buy hay and other feed at reduced rates. Petition was contained in a Nov. 30 letter signed by R. J. Purcell and J. S. Smith of the Farmer Administration committee, Paul Blackstock of Terry County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee, County Agent Jim Foy and County Herbert Chesshir. The letter read in part: "We estimate that there are 200 basic livestock herds in this county... 50 per cent (of the owners) will not be able to maintain their foundation herds... The above is caused by the lack of moisture... Normal rainfall is 18 inches. To date we have received 7.96 inches for this year. See EMERGENCY, Page 2

County Gets 2,000-Acre Increase; Some Cuts Are Taken; Referendum Is Tuesday

Operators of 1,319 cotton farms in Terry County now know their 1957 allotments. The allotments total 1,960 acres more than were allowed this year. The picture: 152,061 acres for 1957, and 150,101 acres for 1956. Looe Miller and his ASC staff worked feverishly Monday and Tuesday mailing the official allotment notices to Terry farmers. The producers will receive the notices in time to vote Tuesday in the nationwide cotton marketing quota referendum. "Although Terry County received a 2,000-acre increase in her 1957 allotment," Miller explained this morning, "not all of our growers did likewise. "Instead of the 2,000 acres, we would have had to receive a 3,167-acre increase to take care of our huge jump in new cropland which was developed this year—9,000 acres." The ASC manager said the additional cropland was based on two factors: Several thousand acres of sod were broken this year in the county, and many farmers ceased to plant wheat and turned to cotton. "There are no big individual cuts anywhere along the line," said Miller. "As a matter of fact, we of ASC are proud to say that our allotments this year have been distributed more evenly than at any time during the past three years."

Miller explained that "Some of our farmers are getting small increases. Some are taking small cuts. The decreases are averaging an acre for approximately every quarter-section."

What Terry farmers are eligible to vote in Tuesday's referendum? All of those engaged in the production of upland cotton in 1956. Voting boxes will be open from 8 a.m. until 7 p.m. at the following places:

Meadow, Meadow Co Op Gin; Challis-Pleasant Valley, ASC office; Union, Union Gin; Tokio, Lee O. Allen Gin; Wellman, high school; Johnson Community, Newsom Gin, and Pool Community, community building. How Terry farmers, along with those from throughout the 21-state cotton belt, vote Tuesday will determine whether quota penalties will apply and the level of price support for the 1957 crop.

Miller explained this morning that, even though quotas are disapproved, acreage allotments will remain in effect as a means of determining eligibility for price support.

If more than one-third of the voters are against quotas, there would be no penalties but the price support level to eligible growers would drop to 50 per cent of parity. If two-thirds of the voters approve, price support will be available for the 1957 crop of upland cotton at a level between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, and quota penalties will apply to any "excess" cotton.

Devonian Discovery Completed In Terry

Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation has completed its No. 1 Waters as a Devonian discovery in central Terry County. Producing from casing perforations between 12,745-12,751, and 12,751-12,763 feet, well flowed 286.34 barrels of oil a day on 11/64-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio figured 333-1. Treatment was with 500 gallons mud acid. Strike, which also indicated production possibilities in the Straberry, Strawn and Siluro-Devonian, spots 1,750 feet from north and 900 feet from west line of Section 118, Block D-11, C&MMR Survey. It is 3 miles west of the Southeast Coroco-Siluro-Devonian Field and 8 1/2 miles southwest of Gomez townsite. Tool was open four hours to evaluate the interval between 11,139-11,308 feet. A 2,000-foot water blanket was used. Formation pressures were between 1,010-1,125 pounds, flowing, and 3,060 pounds, shut-in for 15 minutes. The proposed 12,000-foot Devonian tester spots 600 feet from south and east lines of Section 60, Block 4-X, C&MMR Survey. No production shows have been uncovered to date.

As a member of the Chamber of Commerce, we want to express our sincere appreciation to the City government for its cooperation with work on the giant Santa Claus. Eunice Jones, Jim Cousineau and a number of other city employees have been more than helpful

Dewitt Stafford has agreed to repair toys again this year for the Goodfellows. Dewitt has been the mainstay in the repair department for the Goodfellow group for a number of years. So, at the least, we feel that we can do is to take some toys to Dewitt at his business place immediately west of Mid-Continent Supply on Seagraves Road.

Dewitt's insistent, however, that we carry the toys to him as soon as possible, regardless of their condition. Many times he can use parts of one toy to repair another. Don't forget, some boy or girl will be thrilled to get a Christmas toy—a toy which our children have grown tired of.

Mrs. Harold Crites of 516 East Buckley said this morning that her nephew, Pete Murry of Arlington, has been named center on the All-Border Conference team this year. Murry is a Hardin-Simmons senior. He quit football for two years to play basketball.

"We have approximately 400,000 acres in cultivation, 85,000 acres under irrigation, of which about 65,000 is in cotton and 20,000 in grain sorghum.

"A survey reveals that pastures are far below normal for this area. The counties to the east, south and west already have been designated in the drought area. Our producers are paying the higher prices for feed without any assistance when their ranges are just as bad."

The letter was sent to Robert G. Shrauner, chairman of the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

The government's emergency feed program expired Monday. However, it is felt by responsible observers here that the program will be extended.

Cubs Drop Opener To Hereford, 54-44; Home Season To Be Opened Friday Night

The Brownfield basketball Cubs journeyed to Hereford Tuesday night for their season basketball opener and lost the game, 54-44.

The Cubs were never ahead at the close of any of the four periods but did manage to out-score Hereford in the final quarter, 18-13. At the end of one it was 11-9, Hereford. The half-time intermission found the Cubs on the short end of a 24-19 score.

A disastrous third period in which the Cubs picked up only 7 points and inaccuracy at the foul stripe kept the Cubs on the short end of the score.

Kenneth Cary, Cub forward, led the way with 17 points while his running mate in the front court, Mike Hamilton, dropped 10 points through the nets for his evening's work. At the free throw stripe the Cubs hit only 10 times in 24 attempts for a meager percentage of .411 for the night.

Hereford, meanwhile, hit 25 for 37 at the stripe for a .671 average and the accuracy accounted for the major difference in the score. Hereford's Curtsinger dropped 18 points through the nets and walked off with high point honors for the night.

The Cubs open their home season Friday night when they meet the same Hereford team in the high school gymnasium. Prior to the varsity game the reserves will play a preliminary with the Hereford reserves. The second string Cubs defeated the second strings cows Tuesday night, 48-34.

Game time for the opener is set at 8 p.m. with the preliminary set for 6:30.

Ropes Takes Tight Game From Meadow

Meadow's key man, Gilbert Bell, was fouled out of Tuesday night's basketball game against Ropesville in the second quarter, and Ropes went on to win a close one, 54-52.

Bell had picked up 12 points before going to the showers and had played a tight defensive game. Bobby Horton was top scorer for Meadow, dropping 13 points through the nets.

J. Bevers and J. Valentine, forwards for Ropesville, picked up 16 points each in the close victory.

The game marked the fifth for Meadow and their second loss of the season. Monterey of Lubbock was the other team to defeat them.

Meadow has defeated Slaton, Cooper and New Deal thus far in the 1956-57 basketball season.

The Ropesville girls downed the Meadow girls in a preliminary game to give Ropes a clean sweep of the evening.

Precautions To Speed Mailing

Pointing up the need for your cooperation on his 1956 "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign, Postmaster Joe Shelton urged this morning that you follow these three simple rules: Wrap securely, address correctly, and mail early.

Amplifying these rules, the postmaster said, "Avoid the risk of mailing poorly wrapped packages."

Cartons containing several gift packages should be stuffed with paper to cushion the shocks. Size and weight limitations for parcel post vary, Shelton said, and pamphlets giving details can be obtained at the post office.

Speaking about correct addressing of cards and gifts, Shelton said, "Be sure your Christmas mailing list is up to date and that you have the complete name, address, zone number, city and state. Send all cards by first-class mail, because they will be processed and delivered quicker and will be forwarded or returned if necessary."

Shelton urged everyone to secure free labels at the post office marked "all for local delivery" and "all for out of town delivery".

Early mailing of all Christmas gifts and cards is the biggest factor in getting everything delivered before Christmas.

Christmas packages for local delivery should be mailed by Dec. 15 and all Christmas cards for nearby destinations by at least a week before Christmas.

Rev. J. N. Hester To Be Honored At Special Program Next Friday

A "night of gratitude" will be held Friday, Dec. 14 at 8 p.m. honoring Rev. J. N. Hester, founder of the Hester Memorial A. M. E. Church. Sponsoring the event are pastor of the church, Mrs. C. E. Smith, and members. Also participating will be Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and Rev. Elmo, pastor of the Second Methodist Church.

In announcing the service Mrs. Smith said, "Hester Memorial Church will long stand as a monument to this great man and his wife who has worked by his side. And we must mention the names of some of the men who have helped Rev. Hester reach his aim: J. O. Gillham, Leo Holmes, R. J. Purcell, and so many others too numerous to mention. May the Lord help all the members now and in the future of the church to keep the faith and confidence which has been entrusted to us by these good people and to return it in kindness for their endeavors. We will always cherish the names and memories of those who at one time or another have helped maintain this church for which Rev. Hester is responsible."

The Rev. Smith, Tidwell, and Elmo will pay tribute to Rev. Hester during the program, as will members of the church.

All interested persons are invited to attend the service.

Nine chances out often, if you're a woman, you wear clothes. And if you wear clothes, you want them pretty; there's no age limit involved.

Knowing this to be a fact, Ida Mae has stocked up on beautiful robes to suit every female from 3 to 103. For the small smart set from 3 to 6 and from 7 to 12, SHELTON's has just received some of the sweetest confections in nylon and polished cottons, in fitted and flowing styles, that look good enough to eat. Dainty materials are spiced with whimsies of lace to delight any little heart. And they're so practical, Santa!

For those older little girls, luscious, luxurious nylon in yellow, red, black, white, pink, blue is made up into such charming gowns and robe sets that even a grandmother will feel younger than springtime in one.

Speaking of spring, a brand new shipment of gorgeous hats in wonderfully chic styles and materials has arrived at SHELTON's. Wonderful to wear with your dressy things now and later for Spring.

Of all the glittery, glamorous holiday party things arriving daily, Ida Mae pointed up some sub-teen sweeties. One, a polished cotton with push-up sleeves and quilted swing skirt, all sprinkled with rhinestones, in pink or blue, is a dressy dream that can be worn the year-round. And for the 7 to 12 set, they'll be in heaven in a pink corduroy skirt and orlon top, touched lightly on pockets and neckline with soft, cloudy fur. And these are just two!

Don't forget, you're welcome to use the lay-away plan at SHELTON's . . . and you'll love their pretty free gift-wraps. (Adv.)

Believe me, there's nothing colder than old cold notes. Every week when I think of something I want to say in my column, I jot it down. Then comes time to compile it and I start trying to decipher something that looks like this: muae eaeig uizz. (Beats me... I don't know what it is.) Mostly the notes are on little bits of paper here and there, too, and it looks like a packrat has taken up residence on my typewriter table when I get ready to grind out the chit chat.

Mary Dee got such a kick out of me absent-mindedly spraying my hair with the air-wick one morning that I can't resist passing this one on her: She took a carload of kids to Hereford Tuesday night to the basketball game. They went and came in record time... but not the same kind of record. They came home by way of Bovina, which is only 110 miles out of the way, and thus established some sort of record. You name it.

Frances Gillham and I would like to thank all of you gals who have helped us out and are helping us in making the employees fund drive for the community chest. We know that it's sort of inconvenient, right here at the holiday season, but very few we contacted turned us down as helpers, and we certainly appreciate your efforts. The drive, incidentally, continues, and if you haven't made your contribution as yet, you can turn it in to Mary Salmon down at the Plains Liquefied Gas office on Main street, or to Earl Jones, or to me.

You may have read this yourself in a column in our area daily paper this week. The columnist said, in part, that a well-known restaurateur made the statement that the quality of food passed out in a restaurant can be judged by the way they prepare eggs. In short, if they prepare an egg exactly to the customer's specifications, then chances are real good that the rest of the food they dish up will be "fitten" to eat. Stands to reason, because of all the foods there are, an egg can be boogered up more ways than you can shake a stick at.

I see no reason to believe that my child is any different from any other almost-five-year-old, so I suppose you, too, are fighting a losing battle about "the Christmas tree". I don't know about you, but my strength is fading fast, and I just imagine I'll have to go around on the south-side of the square, where Boy Scout Troop 49 has their tree business in operation and pick out a little jewel. And if you haven't gotten your tree yet, why not buy one See CHIT CHAT Page 6

One of the newest things I've seen this season is the foxy gift wrap deal at Field's. No long waiting to get your presents wrapped there! They just pop them into specially made up boxes, seal lightly with cellophane tape, and there you are. And they're very attractive, too... come in a variety of patterns that will enhance any Christmas tree. Incidentally, it was in Field's that I saw a shirt that would knock your eye out. And since I would only mess it up by describing it, go around and ask Jake to show you the cotton and silk number that I admired.

You'd better get busy and get those Christmas cards and packages into the post office as soon as you can. Not only does it lighten the load on your mailmen to do so, but it also insures delivery in plenty of time for Christmas. Curtis and Morgan Copeland got quite a bang out of my saying that was going to pass on this advice to you but that I would probably fail to take it myself. However, I want Joe Shelton and all the rest of the gang over at the post office to know that I'm going to make a valiant effort to transact all my business with them no later than the 15th.

None of us will soon forget that tomorrow is Pearl Harbor Day. Let's you do forget, get an issue of last week's Life magazine and read the first of three parts of "Day of Infamy" by Walter Lord. It will curl your hair at times.

Maids, Matrons Hear Facts About American Cancer Society Tuesday

Maids and Matrons Study Club met Dec. 4 at 4 p.m. in the Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse. Hostesses were Mrs. Bill Wilson and Mrs. Leo Holmes. Mrs. J. M. Teague was chairman of the program. She introduced Mrs. R. D. Shewmake who spoke on the American Cancer Society, and William Conlee, who showed a film on "Your Community". Mrs. Shewmake told the group that the American Cancer Society came into being in New York and is now divided into seven geographic regions. The basic aim of the Society is to bring to every person in the country sufficient knowledge about cancer so that he will not lose his life needlessly as approximately half of the present cancer patients do. Much of the money raised by the American Cancer Society goes for research, the speaker continued. The society now supports about 1,000 scientists in 36 states and the District of Columbia. The film "Your Community", shown by Mr. Conlee, described how women's club helped in securing dire needs of neglected communities. Members and associate members attending were: Mesdames Otis Lerner, A. A. Sawyer, Leo Holmes, Bill Tilson, Jess Smith, W. B. Downing, George Hunt, Terrell Isbell, John Cadenhead, E. C. Davis, E. O. Mahon Seeking Loan for Light Spotted Cotton

LUBBOCK (Special)—U. S. Rep. George Mahon has wired Agriculture Secretary Benson, urging him immediately to set in motion plans which will guarantee a loan basis on light spot cotton for the 1957 crop year.

This action followed a Nov. 28 meeting here of farmers from some 30 West Texas counties. At the session, unanimous approval was given a resolution calling upon the Department of Agriculture to include a specific loan on light spot cotton in the government loan program.

In his message to the secretary, Mahon pointed out acre yield of lint cotton on Terry County farms by improving the fertility and texture of the soil and by better cultural practices.

Awards in the current contest, for irrigated and dryland, will be $100, $75, $50 and $25.

Contestants who have entered as 4-H representatives are Jerry Holder, Lynn Joplin, Jimmy Sargent, Fred Sedgwick, Geoffrey Hulse, Herman Wheatley Jr., Alton Carmichael, Danny Carmichael, Mark Hulse, J. C. Chambliss, Jackie Dill, and James Bandy, Clayton Newsom, Ray Brown, Vaughn Tatum, Lynn Womack and Donald Duggan.

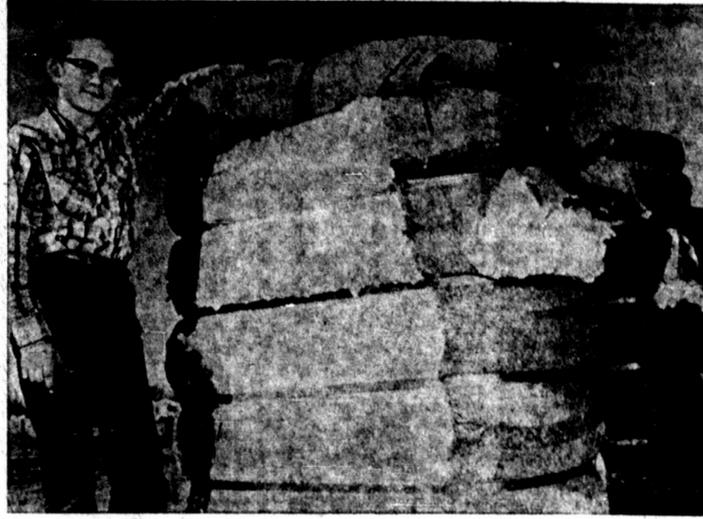

Last year's winner of the top awards was Donald Puryear of the Union club, with 737 pounds an acre of lint cotton on irrigated land, using Half & Half, and Roger Henry, of Meadow FFA, with 359 pounds of lint cotton per acre on dryland, using Paymaster.

The current contest will end Jan. 1.

that the nation's cotton growers were losing millions of dollars by reason of the department's refusal to grant the special loan.

Mahon explained that during a period of years he had joined with other West Texans in seeking a special loan on light spot.

This year, such a loan was endorsed by the House Committee on Agriculture in a report made to Congress. A congressional hearing also was held at Greenville in Oct-

Post Office To Help In Livestock Survey Throughout Nation

Nearly 40,000 cards will be left at random in rural mail boxes throughout the state this week.

When filled out by farmers and ranchers and returned, these cards will help V. C. Childs, Texas Statistician, Agricultural Marketing Service, determine how many livestock are on Texas farms and ranchers.

Childs lauded the U. C. Post Office and rural mail carriers for their cooperation in making this annual survey.

"With this help, we're able to get an accurate picture of our state livestock holding," Childs said.

Every farmer or rancher who gets a card is urged to fill it out as accurately as possible and return it promptly.

"The more reports we get, the more reliable our estimates will be," Childs pointed out.

The survey is the basis for the state and national inventories of livestock and poultry on farms as of the first of the year. It includes cattle, calves, milk cows, hogs, sheep, goats, horses, mules, chickens and turkeys.

The survey also provides the basic data for the estimates of pigs and sows farrowed during the June-December period and intentions to breed for January, June farrowings in 1957.

Profits Can Be Cut Drastically by Cattle Grubs

Texas livestock producers can increase their income by several millions of dollars each year by controlling heel flies and their larva, the cattle grub. The real profit grabber is the larva, which now is appearing as a lump under the hide in the backs of dairy and beef cattle.

Garner, assistant extension entomologist, comes from damaged hides, lowered meat quality and reduced milk production. The grubs are killed readily in the fall when they are emerging from the backs of cattle, and the recommended insecticide is rotenone.

The yearly loss, says C. F.

Garner recommends 7 1/2 pounds of derris or cube powder containing 5 per cent rotenone in 100 gallons of water for sprayer-use. A spray machine capable of producing a 200-pound pressure should be used.

For a dip, Garner says, add 10 pounds of wettable sulphur to the above formula. As the cattle go through the dipping vat, scrubbing their backs with a stiff, long-handled brush will insure a better kill of the grubs by knocking off scabs and permitting the insecticide to penetrate into the animal's skin.

A dust can be compounded from one pound of derris or cube powder containing five per cent rotenone and two pounds of a heavy non-alkaline dust such as talc, tripolite earth or prophyllite. Ready-prepared dusts should contain at least 1.67 per cent rotenone. Work about three ounces of the dust into the back of each animal.

The treatment, whether in the form of dust, spray or dip, should continue at 30-day intervals as long as the grubs continue to appear in the animal's back.

Incidentally, says Garner, rotenone also is effective against lice and these troublesome parasites may also be controlled, especially if application is made by spraying or dipping. Make the first application as soon as grubs begin to appear in numbers, says Garner.

Brucellosis Remains Livestock Threat

Livestock raising, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian, is a gamble at best and herds infected with brucellosis make poor profit risks.

Infected cattle suffer an average of 20 per cent reduction in milk flow. They also calve only once on the average of every 18 months instead of annually and replacement needs are increased by 30 per cent. These losses, says Patterson, apply to both beef and dairy cattle.

Swine producers fare little better with this disease. Infected sows abort or give birth to weak litters and often become sterile after an abortion. Brucellosis is also the most common cause of fistula of the withers in horses and frequently is responsible for waterbags forming on the knees of both horses and cattle.

During the past summer, livestock sanitary officials of the state made a survey of dairy herds using the milk ring test. Out of 2,551 herds checked, 79.1 per cent showed evidence of infected animals.

Patterson says 500,000 doses of Strain 19 Brucella abortus vaccine now are available to Texas cattlemen. Producers who are participating under control plans A, B or C are eligible to get their free material.

The only cost to be borne by the producer is for the services of an accredited veterinarian in administering the vaccine. Patterson urges livestock producers to contact their veterinarian for full details because the vaccine will be distributed on a first-come basis.

Local county agents also can supply information on brucellosis control and Patterson suggests a visit with the local agent or an official of the Texas Livestock Sanitary Commission for details on a control plan.

AMONG SOME INSECTS

Resistance Said Developing

Succeeding generations of many insects that prey on plants and animals appear to be developing resistance to insecticides which formerly gave promise of their effective control.

Chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides—such as dieldrin, endrin and toxaphene—are used widely by farmers to control boll weevils and other insect pests.

Research by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station indicates that the boll weevil may have developed resistance to these compounds in a few small parts of Texas.

Chlorinated hydrocarbons failed to give commercial controls of the weevils during 1956 in several cotton fields in the Brazos River Valley near Hearne. Laboratory experiments at College Station confirmed this possible resistance.

Calcium arsenate and several phosphorus compounds controlled the boll weevils in fields where the chlorinated hydrocarbons failed, but troublesome safety precautions are necessary in their use.

A & M System entomologists recommend that farmers continue to use chlorinated hydrocarbon insecticides unless future research offers proof of boll weevil resistance to them.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — Texas' new leaders, who take over state government in January, face the holiday season with visions of a x dollars dancing through their heads.

Gov. —Elect Price Daniel of Liberty already has set up unofficial headquarters in Austin. So has Rep. Waggoner Carr of Lubbock, unopposed candidate for Speaker of the House.

They will be in almost continuous conference with incoming legislators the next few weeks, hoping to smooth the way for a fast start in January.

Their problem parallels the December dilemma of most parents—how to buy everything Santa promised without upsetting the budget. Campaign amendments voted by the people and increased money requests from state departments threaten to do just that.

Earlier Gov. Allan Shivers had predicted a $50,000,000 surplus for the next biennium with no need for new taxes. State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert said he could foresee only a $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 surplus.

But outgoing House Speaker Jim Lindsey took a flat "there ain't no Santa Claus" attitude. Texas' growing population means spiraling expenditures, said Lindsey.

Amendments giving increased teacher retirement and aid to the disabled will add some $12,000,000 to the state budget, he noted. Lindsey pegged estimated revenue for the next two years at $274,000,000, appropriation requests at $336,000,000. Result: some 25 per cent would have to be financed with new taxes.

"Beware Lest You Lose the Substance by Grasping at the Shadow." — Aesop

Auto Insurance —Texas may enjoy lower automobile insurance rates and lower costs in other lines of casualty insurance if the Texas 1957 Legislature adopts a proposed flexible rate system. The state currently has a single rate plan — all companies charge the same on casualty insurance.

A Texas Casualty and Surety Legislative Study Committee, named by 40 Texas insurance companies, has recommended that the single rate plan be abolished and a flexible plan, such as used in other states, be adopted.

Says Bob Hilton, study committee chairman: "Many companies are willing and able to charge lower rates and would be permitted to do so under a flexible rating plan which throws insurance charges open to competition and allows a company to set its rates at the lowest level consistent with sound operations."

Inauguration Work Begun —James P. Nash heads the group of Austinites already at work on 1957 inauguration festivities. Other leaders are E. R. Wroe Jr. vice chairman; E. C. Bartholomew, secretary; Robert M. Kinnan, treasurer; Ed Clark, acting treasurer.

With $1,241 left over from last inauguration, the committee needs to raise some $14,000 more if Austin is to carry out in style its traditional role.

THE AMERICAN WAY

OUR ECONOMY DEMANDS BOTH BIG AND SMALL BUSINESS

By George Peck

(EDITOR'S NOTE: George Peck is Chairman of the Board of the National Labor-Management Foundation and Executive Editor of its official publication, PARTNERS.)

The DuPont Company has just compiled and published a booklet, "The Story of Business: Large and Small," that is most informative and enlightening. It carries evidence in pictures and words that completely explodes the fallacy that big business is stifling small business.

The booklet predicts that one and a half million new businesses of all sizes will be created in America by 1976, if an expanding population's demand for high living standards is to be met. And tracing the growth to the business community, the booklet points out that the composition of the U. S. business establishment today parallels that of other elements of our society in the varying size of its units. It likens the business structure to the educational, military, and church establishments, where sizes of facilities vary widely and are shaped by the need to be filled.

"What we have in this country is not big business and little business," the booklet says. "but a business establishment in the same sense that we have a military establishment and an educational establishment. Each is composed of units of various and varying sizes shaped and adapted to the need. It would be difficult to conceive of a military force in which all elements were limited to some predetermined strength or a naval maneuver in which all vessels, of whatever mission, were of comparable tonnage."

The booklet points out that while in early America all firms were small, the nation's economic progress developed new needs that could be met only by a business structure including small, medium-sized and large firms. Today there are 4.2 million small firms, but by 1976 there will have to be 5.7 million to keep pace with present trends; and instead of the 3,500 large concerns of today, ten years hence there will have to be 7,000, and they will have to be larger than they are today to provide the resources of money and men that new technological developments will require.

The American family's living standard will almost double during the next decade, and there will be at least 19 million more jobs, the PuPont booklet predicts. These predictions merely predict present trends, assuming there will be no catastrophe, and that business growth is permitted and encouraged.

"Growth and progress are shared by all members of the community. . . . The size of the largest firms has increased steadily, but the need for the smallest remains, and the economic principles which govern success operate unchanged for both," the booklet says. "Business size is determined not by fiat but by function. How large a firm may grow is controlled not by a pre-conceived theory, but by the size and nature of the needs a business seeks to fill, and the skill its management displays in filling them."

The automobile industry is a perfect example of the foregoing statement. Says the booklet, "Without large firms, the demands of the American motorists never could be met. In recent years, the public has bought an average of more than six million cars and 52 billion gallons of gasoline per year. Small firms alone could not have provided either. ODD-BALL NEHRU CARRIES ODD GREETINGS

Chou Rates Only A Resounding 'No'

It has now been openly admitted by India's odd-ball Prime Minister Nehru that he comes to Washington on December 16th as a "link between peoples who do not have such links." Less obliquely, this means he will be an emissary of Red China's Chou En-lai, who is now visiting in New Delhi where he is being decked with flowers, honored by India's Parliament, Tibet's Dalai Lama — who is a living diety in his own country — and the organized demonstrations of school children.

While Jawarhal Nehru comes over here to visit President Eisenhower, Chou will be selling his "five principles" in Burma, Pakistan, Nepal and Afghanistan. This bill of goods, which India bought two years ago, pledges the signers to mutual respect for territory and sovereignty, non-aggression, non-interference in internal affairs, equality and mutual benefit, and, of course, peaceful coexistence. Communist China, Chou is assuring all and sundry, will try not to commit the "error" of pushing the small nations around.

He also has said he might give Chiang Kai-Shek a reel good job if he'd just turn over Formosa to the mother country and come back home, and he would even consider turning loose the 11 American prisoners that his ambassador and ours have been talking about in Geneva for more than a year. He did not mention the hundreds of American G's captured in Korea, and who, if they have survived Red Chinese torture, abuse and privations, are still his prisoners.

On completion of this tour, Chou will dash back to New Delhi, where, again, he will doubtless be showered with rose petals on December 29. Mr. Nehru will then be back to report on how President Eisenhower is feeling and the chances of Chou's threatening or horse-trading his way into the UN.

Today, the thought of Nehru visiting the White House is even less appetizing than when the expedition was first announced. But it should be possible for the President, without transgressing the rules of hospitality, to give the Indian runner an emphatic and unequivocal message for his murderous Red friend — in the form of a two-letter Anglo-Saxon word meaning "No!"

financial condition of the now-defunct Texas Fire Insurance Company. But a defense witness, a former notary, testified he did not administer an oath to Lowry when the affidavit was signed.

Reversal of the Lowry conviction threw a cloud over perjury indictments pending against three other officials of the same company. Travis County's District Attorney Les Proctor said he will file a motion for re-hearing.

Women Juors Applauded — Use of women jurors may have a wholesome effect on our court procedures, says a Supreme Court Justice.

Judge W. St. John Garwood thinks presence of women "will probably result in more cleanliness, order, restraint and dignity."

Judge Garwood also noted "increasing criticism" of jury trials in civil cases. Mounting volume and complexity of civil litigation makes the system more and more cumbersome he said. This, he suggested plus "declining popular fear of judges as arbitrary or corruptible" may pave the way for reform.

Health Outlook Brighter — An infant's chance of survival has increased may fold in Texas in the past two decades.

Infant death rates have dropped from 71 to 30 per thousand since 1936, according to the State Department of Health. In the period maternal deaths and stillbirths have plummeted from 6.9 to 0.5 per thousand so far this year.

Even greater improvements are predicted by the department as higher health standards become commonplace.

Short Snorts — Dry northerners are offsetting the effects of early fall rains in most of Texas, says the Texas Agricultural Service. Low temperatures and heavy frosts were also cited as lamaging winter crops. Texas will have nearly three million jobholders during December, predicts the Texas Employment Commission. Extra holiday help in stores and post offices already has brought the seasonal upswing to 2,930,000, a new record. Texas will be entitled to two more congressmen after the 1963 census, according to unofficial population estimates. This would give the state 24 representatives.

Texas School for the Deaf, delayed in its fall opening by a $2,500,000 construction program, was scheduled to begin classes Monday. A six-day week and one-day Christmas holiday faces the 461 students; payment for their extra vacation. Texas Supreme Court has set for Jan. 2 hearing on the state's case against Upshur Rural Electric Cooperative. Decision is expected to define cooperatives' right to sell power in an area annexed by a city.

"Where's the undertaker's office?" asked a Nebraska farmer, as he halted his flivver at the curb.

"What's the matter, Bill? Somebody dead?" asked a bystander.

"No, but my wife's awful sick," replied the farmer.

"Man, you want a doctor, not an undertaker."

"I know what I want," said the farmer. "I belong to the Nebraska Farmers' Union, and we're cutting out the middle man."

Terry County cotton producers will take part Tuesday in a nationwide cotton marketing referendum.

The Terry voters will join with thousands of others to determine whether quota penalties will apply and the level of price support for the 1957 crop.

"The referendum is of vital concern to every cotton grower in the county," says Looe Miller, manager here of County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office.

As Caesar was at supper the discourse was of death—which sort was the best. "That," said he, "which is unexpected." — Plutarch.

The cotton marketing referendum of next Tuesday will be but one of several referenda throughout the nation. Others will determine the type of government controls on the 1957 crops of peanuts, rice, corn.

Agriculture Department officials say that upward of 2.75 million farmers are eligible for the vote. The bulk of the ballots is expected to come from the million-plus commercial corn belt farmers.

Farmers in 34 states will go to the polls.

Farmers in the 21-state cotton belt, the 13-rice-producing states and the 16-state peanut area will vote whether to accept marketing quotas. At least two-thirds of those balloting must approve quotas as they are to continue in effect for the various crops.

DIG DEEP

This is hard work! By sweat of the brow man prepares and cultivates the soil. This man is well equal to the task... plenty of physical energy. But what about the fiber of his soul? Are you counting on brute force to get the job of living done?

"It is not by might nor by power, but by my spirit," sayeth the Lord. Your brain power may be par excellent... your physical make-up the best, but what about that starved, shriveled soul of yours? Go to church Sunday and let the Master Tiller work on the barren garden of your life. Let Him dig deep—stir up the sub-soil—penetrate the very depth of your being.

the same time, the motorists' needs were in large part filled by more than 190,000 service stations and 85,000 auto repair firms (three-quarters of which have three employees or less) and some 50,000 auto dealers.

The booklet goes on to show that the same pattern prevails in other industries. In its own field, chemical materials consumed in great bulk come from large companies like DuPont.

The cost of equipment and research call for bigness, but here again DuPont and other large producers of chemicals could not supply the demand without thousands of other and smaller concerns to fabricate, process and distribute materials to consumers.

The most telling point made in the booklet is that many small businesses owe their very birth and existence to the technical development of a large firm. From the laboratories of large companies has come a stream of discoveries that opens new opportunities to small businesses.

As an example of this, the booklet points to the pigments plant built by DuPont at Newport, Delaware, where a highly skilled work force of 1,200 men is employed. This plant depends upon more than three dozen small local businesses to supply special products or services, all of which make a useful contribution to the smooth operation of the plant, and profit by the presence of their large industrial neighbor.

Sorry that space doesn't permit giving you more of the highlights of this booklet, "The Story of Business: Large and Small." I hope, however, that I've given you enough to allay any prejudice you may be entertaining about "Big Business."

Sub Soil Moisture Is Important To Next Years Crop

OUR SOILS WILL HOLD APPROXIMATELY
2 INCHES OF MOISTURE PER 1 FOOT OF SOIL

In October and November of 1955 this area received from 6 to 11 inches of rain. It was this moisture that contributed a great deal to our excellent crops this year.

IN 1956 WE RECEIVED VERY LITTLE FALL MOISTURE.
THE SUB-SOIL MOISTURE NOW IS VERY LOW.

According to rainfall records, we can expect very little moisture in this area before April or May.

Irrigation farmers should plan now to replace needed subsoil moisture prior to planting. This means that a farmer with soil 4 feet deep should apply at least 8 inches of moisture.

Most soils in the Terry Soil Conservation District are from 4 to 6 feet deep. This means that farmers should apply from 8 to 12 inches of water on their land prior to planting.

THE TERRY SOIL CONSERVATION SERVICE WILL ASSIST FARMERS IN DETERMINING SOIL DEPTHS AND AMOUNTS OF WATER TO APPLY

The farmer should start watering enough to cover all his land with a heavy application of water, then if necessary during the summer, he can cut back his watering in accordance with the plant needs and the amount of water that can be pumped.

Brownfield's Annie Oakley — Mrs. Johnny Raybon on her first deer hunt, bagged a six-point buck. The Raybon party, shown elsewhere on the page, were hunting in South Texas, near Ingram. Mrs. Raybon got her buck shortly before 6 p.m. while hunting about a half mile from her husband. He (Johnny), incidentally bagged a buck just a few minutes later. Mrs. Raybon said she was just a bit nervous when she sighted the deer about 50 yards from her blind. She said she had to wait until her heartbeat slowed before she could shoot. But shoot she did — the result — a trophy and venison.

Honkers, if you prefer. The Lassiters downed the birds about 3:30 P.M. while hunting not too far from Brownfield.

FOUR DEER HERE — The above pictured group returned from South Texas with four deer after a four day hunt. They are: Left to right, by couples, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Raybon and Mr. and Mrs. John Clare. The party was hunting on the Fred Higbe ranch near Ingram, Texas. Gene Watson, Johnny Raybon, John Clare and Mrs. Raybon bagged the four bucks.

Colorado Hunters — Bob Hart, left, and Cliff Jones bagged a buck apiece while hunting in the Colorado mountains. The pair enjoyed a weeks hunting trip but both had their limit before the week was out. Where they were hunting the limit was one buck. Jones also journeyed to South Texas but failed to bag a deer there.

QBC Hosts Coaches, Cubs at Barbecue

The Brownfield Quarterback Club played host to the Brownfield High School coaches and players at an old fashioned barbecue dinner Monday night, at Veterans Hall on the Seagraves highway.

The affair was held in honor of the coaches and team who have completed the 1956 football season. The Cub record over the year was five wins and five losses and in conference play the Cubs finished in third place.

The Varsity, "B" Team and Freshman Team along with their coaches and members of the Quarterback club enjoyed barbecued beef prepared by Quarterback members, Clyde Bond, Senior and Junior, Bus Mason, Doug Lowe, Buddy Gillham, J. B. Huckabee, Lee Brownfield and Dewitt Stafford.

Awards to Coaches

Club president, L. J. Richardson presented coaches Doug Cox, Don Powers, Elroy Payne, Farris Nowell, Charlie Keese, Clifford Niles, and Coy Jones with gifts of appreciation presented in behalf of the club members and the business men of the city.

Freshman Coach Gene Baldwin was not present at the meeting but his gift was accepted for him by coach Cox. Baldwin's wife, Carolyn, gave birth to a 7-pound boy last Friday morning and the coach was with his wife and new born son.

$165,000,000 Spent By Texans To Hunt, Fish During 1955

Last year, 1955, about 25,000,000 American sportsmen fished and hunted and spent a healthy $3 billion in connection with their activities. Ed Cooper, extension specialist in wildlife conservation, says these figures are proof of the importance of fish and wildlife to the general welfare of the country.

In Texas last year, he says, the Game and Fish Commission reported that 1,162,500 Texans either hunted or fished or did both. The state's sportsmen spent $165,054,000 for equipment and all of the other things which go with hunting and fishing.

Cooper said the average fisherman includes all fishermen over 12-years of age, spent at most $70 each while the average Texas hunter spent slightly over $59 in pursuit of their favorite game.

For the nation, fishermen spent about $92 each. They devoted 19 days of their annual leisure time, at an average cost of about $5 a day, to the sport of fishing. Americans last year spent for fishing more than was expended on any of the following items: dental care, medical care and hospitalization insurance, personal legal service, higher education or even on funeral and burial expenses.

But, comments Cooper, hunting and fishing are mighty fine recreational activities. A few days spent in the woods or at a lake or beside a favorite stream or on the salt water can do things for sagging spirits or jangled nerves.

In order to improve hunting and fishing in Texas, the specialist suggests to landowners that they join with their neighbors in wildlife conservation associations so their lands can be made more productive. Wildlife conservation must be carried out on an area basis for best results; hence, the need for cooperative action.

Freshman coach Gene Baldwin and his pretty wife, Carolyn, join the bouquet and congratulatory department at this writing. Carolyn presented Gene with a 7-pound, 8-ounce son last Friday a.m. The event took place at the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock. Pop said, "Oh Boy," and it was.

The new Baldwin was christened David Bart. Both Mom and Pop are on cloud nine but otherwise doing O. K.

The hunters and their game finally made it. Delay was due to a breakdown in the film developing department. As stated last week, "I know these are just a few of the many hunters who have brought back game thus far. Perhaps we can run down a few more and make up another page real soon."

The proposed boxing match between the local golden gloves and those from Plainview had to be postponed. Clyde Bond Jr., said this afternoon the local lads had been invited to Lovington, N.M. for a match on the 21st of this month. He didn't indicate whether or not the team would make the trip.

Once the program gets underway way boxing fans can expect to see some good shows. Bond said he had about 75 youngsters who want to participate and from that many he should come up with a couple of fairly good boys.

How about someone coming up with a gymnasium for the boys to use for workouts. Anybody want to build a hall to hire out? Handled properly, it is a good investment.

You'll get your first look at the Cubs basketball team Friday night. However some of you saw them Tuesday night when they played at Hereford. A question for those of you who did see that game.

What do you think?

Coach Farris Nowell talked some pretty sound basketball last Monday afternoon. He admitted that the team would take some time to round into top playing form and cited these reasons; the boys are not completely accustomed to playing together yet, it'll take a few weeks to find the combinations that work best together. After that we should be on our way.

Coach Nowell has a good looking group of lads and the height of the squad could be declared as adequate. But then height alone doesn't make a championship team.

Why not cancel that bridge game or whatever you might have planned and drive over to the gym tomorrow night for the game. The whole point is simply this: go to the games back the Cubs, encourage them and just let yourself go, you'll have the time of your life and enjoy a good game too.
