County Reels Under Impact of Tornado Threats, Rain

No Damage, Injuries Are Reported Here

Alert Keeps Residents With Eyes To The Skies

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

Tornadoes and heavy downpours — something uncommon to Terry County for the past seven years — sent many residents scurrying to shelter and flooded most sections Monday night.

No known damage was caused by two tornadoes that briefly dipped to earth north and northwest of here shortly before dusk. One of the twisters was sighted over the city, sending residents to storm shelters about 7 p.m., but it did not touch ground until it reached open country.

Torrential rains lashed many areas of the county as varying amounts ranged from less than one inch near Meadow to more than four inches on the Alton Loe farm, 6 miles southwest of here.

A downpour, which lasted about 30 minutes, dumped 2.75 inches at the Pioneer Natural Gas Co. pumping station near Wellman, according to C. J. Jordan, superintendent.

The flood-like rain raced out of fields around the pumping station and inundated the Seagraves Highway — 200 yards wide at one point — and washed over the thoroughfare at several other places.

Texas Highway Department employees said the highway was under almost 5 feet of water at one time Monday night, completely blocking traffic. Water still was running-board deep at noon Tuesday and traffic was moving across the pool at a snail's pace.

Jim Foy, Terry County agent said the downpours will require some farmers to make a fourth attempt at planting. He said the hardest hit areas appeared to be southwest, between here and William, and north of Pool Community.

Foy said many farmers have a good stand of cotton and the rain did not bother it. "However," he said, "where cotton was planted recently, it will have to be replanted — mainly because of the washing caused by the swift-falling rain."

The agent noted that valuable top soil and water storage was lost during the night's downpour because many farmers neglected their terraces and contour planting. "It has been so long since we have had good rains here, that many farmers were caught planting up and down the slopes instead of following the contours," said Foy. "So a lot of top soil and water washed out of the fields and was lost."

Though rains of cloudburst proportions fell around Wellman, only 1.50 inches was gaged at Hefer's Grocery within the town. L. D. Hamm Sr. reported he measured 2.50 inches of rain on his farm 1/2-mile south of Wellman but another farm, 7 miles east, caught only .75 inch.

Boys After Bullfrogs

In the Meadow area Raymond Vardeman reported "over 2 inches" fell on his farm. Louis Peeler of the Meadow Farm Store said he registered 1.80 inches of moisture in town and had reports ranging from .75 to 2.50 inches in the surrounding area.

DON CATES MOVING TO ROSWELL

Tax Collector Resigns

Don Cates has resigned as Terry's tax assessor-collector. Now in his third term of office, Cates has left the post to enter the drug business in Roswell, N.M.

The resignation is effective Friday.

Said Cates: "It is with deep regret that I announce my resignation as tax assessor and collector of Terry County. I wish to express my profound thanks and gratitude to the people of Terry for the consideration which they have shown me. It has been a pleasure serving you."

"I have given this decision a lot of thought, and have decided to resign here to enter the drug business in Roswell, N.M."

"It is hard for me to leave Brownfield, because I have lived here all my life. The best friends and neighbors I will ever know are here, and it is not any easy thing for me to leave them."

"Again, I want to express my sincere thanks to all of you."

Cates will be associated in the Roswell venture with C. C. Primm of Brownfield, who long has been in the drug business here.

Cates first was elected to the county office in 1952, again in 1954, and again in 1956 — the last time for four years.

He is the son of P. R. Cates, well-known Brownfield contractor. His wife's name is Donnah, and daughter is Cathy. His drug store will be located in Union Plaza Shopping Center on Ruidoso Hwy., west of Roswell.

Although they have not yet officially accepted Cates' resignation, members of the Commissioners Court Wednesday expressed regret that the tax collector was leaving.

Guardsmen Prepare For Annual Summer Exercises at Hood

An advance party of Brownfield's National Guard unit will leave here June 15 to prepare for the organization's 10th annual summer encampment at North Fort Hood, according to 1st Lt. Victor Herring, commander.

The balance of Howitzer Company, Second Battalion, of the 112th Cavalry Regiment will depart for Fort Hood the following day.

Approximately 90 members of the organization will take part in the two-week encampment. Extensive field training, including a combat course and firing the 105 Howitzer, will take up most of the two-week period.

The unit will attend the 1957 summer camp almost 500 per cent stronger than when it took 15 men to Fort Hood in 1948, its first year of organization. Included in the 1957 group will be 21 recruits who recently passed their basic tests.

Occasion will be the annual convention of Area II, Future Farmers of America.

The event will be held here for the first time, and most activities will be confined to Brownfield High School auditorium. Dates: Friday and Saturday.

BGC Wins Trophy In 'Clean-Up' OF SWIMMING POOL

Brownfield Garden Club this week was named winner of the "Beautify Brownfield" trophy, according to John Hansard, campaign chairman. Runner-up organization was Boy Scout Troop 85.

"The award was not only based upon what the club accomplished during the campaign, but what they attempted to accomplish," said Hansard. "They cleaned up their area and encouraged many businesses to join the drive."

Some 13 city organizations participated in the clean-up campaign in competition for the loving cup won last year by the Negro section.

Hansard said the over-all program was a success though much was not accomplished. "We especially must commend the merchants for their cooperation," he said.

Despite adverse weather and construction on Lubbock Road, the chairman said Brownfield was improved considerably. "At least the city trash trucks were kept busy throughout the two-week period," noted Hansard.

Area Farmers May Turn To Tomatoes For Higher Income

West Texas farmers "backed to the wall" by acreage controls and low grain sorghum prices are scanning the list of vegetable crops in a search for some profitable use of diverted acreage.

Tomatoes may fill the bill if growers can economically produce the necessary quality for moving into central states' markets.

A 1956 study conducted by Texas A&M's Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology revealed that farmers in Bailey, Parmer, Deaf Smith, Castro, Lamb, Hale, Climaxing 136 days of lively session, the 55th Legislature ended its activities on a note very important to most lawmakers.

The ultimate approval of the $399 pay raise for Texas teachers was an enjoyable development for practically every legislator here.

Within the last few years, Texans have begun to look at their schools systems with more appraising eyes, and one problem became apparent . . . that teachers in this state have been underpaid for doing a job that means probably more than any other in helping mold young people into responsible, prosperous and happy citizens.

I can't think of a better way to close the activities of the 55th Legislature than to pass a bill that will furnish our teachers a pay raise . . . that they certainly deserve.

Wellman Board Orders School Budget Hearing

A budget hearing for Wellman Independent School District will be held June 10 at the school.

The hearing was ordered by the Board of Education of the Wellman School District, said L. F. Porter, business manager.

Unlike most West Texas crops, tomato prices fluctuate widely. Agricultural Economists cannot give a complete set of reasons for the annual price variations, but can partially explain them. Variations in Texas and competing area production of tomatoes as well as variations in the national disposed to make it factual, accurate and of value to the people of the 28th Senatorial District.

Your many letters, cards and personal visits have been very much appreciated. Legislators like to hear from the people they represent. Don't ever hesitate to contact them when it seems advisable.

Your state senator considers this job a full-time position, even if the Legislature is not in session. If you need to contact me for any reason you can write me at 2808-22nd Street, Lubbock.

a Dog's Life

FIRECRACKERS AND STORMS

The Fourth of July for people may be a day of celebration, but for dogs it's often the most terrifying day of the year. Hunting dogs used to the report of shotguns, as well as city dwelling dogs who take the bang of backfires in their stride, often panic at the sound of firecrackers exploding around them.

Veterinarians usually get many urgent calls on this date from owners whose dogs have

Bible Comment:

Troubled World Should Take Cue From This Prophet

EVEN prophets had their moments of depression. At times their words come like trumpet calls from a mountain top. But at other times, they were as souls in the darkness of the night, full of lamentation and crying for the dawn.

Habakkuk appears to us in this depressed mood. He comes before us with a burden. It is a burden of a world of violence from which God seems to have departed. It is the sort of world out of which some modern prophet in Czechoslovakia or Hungary might have uttered a cry of doubt or despair. He is appalled at the evil he sees around him, at the injustice, the strife and cruelty and the disregard of law and judgment.

He sees the power of the Chaldeans, which he describes in vivid, swift-moving phrases. He says they bring punishment upon Israel for their sins. But he reflects that these hosts of violence are even more sinful. It is too shallow and unsatisfactory a view to think of them as executing God's judgment.

DOG OF THE WEEK: AFGHAN HOUND

Hound dog. Average weight, 60 pounds; shoulder height, 27 inch; coat, short, silky hair on back, feathered hindquarters, flanks, ribs, forequarters, ears and all four feet; color, all colors are permissible, but white markings, especially on the head, are undesirable.

gone into fits from the sound of firecrackers.

If your dog is nervous and highstrung, give him a sedative ahead of firecracker-popping time. Consult your veterinarian, as he may have a preferred remedy. This will quiet your dog. Let him pick his own safe retreat, and after some pats and comforting words leave him alone. He'll likely sleep through the noise. Try not to take him out if he's a city fellow, but if you must, walk him early in the morning and early in the afternoon before the fireworks get into full swing. Permit outdoor-living dogs in the house on this day.

The same handling and treatment are helpful during thunder storms. Many dogs apprehend storms an hour or two before they actually break. They will crawl under the bed and shake from tip of the nose to tail. Other dogs may ignore storms for years until a particularly nasty one breaks and from that day on they're tremblers.

Feeding Tip: Don't give your dog rich, starchy foods. Good all-purpose dog foods like Friskies contain every necessary mineral and vitamin.

A Family That Prays Together, Stays Together

TOO LATE

It's gone now! That train, plane or that big deal. What do you say when this happens to you? That's a tough break? My bad luck? Hopeless? It's unfair? Those are all things that you might say to such an event or any time when life passes you by, or you might say, God! Surprised? Yet isn't He the source of all that comes, whether for good or ill as we see it? The Bible says, "Yes," and says further, "Trust in Him. for He is good, for His steadfast love endures forever."

Go to Church and meet this God, the Giver of all things—learn what it means to trust Him and you will never be too late again.

These religious messages are made possible by the above individuals and business firms with the hope of creating a more sincere interest in our churches and a more church-minded community.

Fast Growth Noted In Broilers Having More Feeder Space

Chickens need elbow room. Efficient broiler production demands at least two linear inches of available feeder space per bird.

Tests conducted with White Rocks and broiler crosses showed two to five percent greater growth responses when chicks were provided sufficient feeder space.

Broilers receiving a feeder space of 1.5 linear inches for the first three weeks of a 9-week growing period, and three inches for the remainder weighed .04 to .15 pound more than birds on limited space.

Chicks allowed one and a half linear inches were consistently heavier at three weeks of age than were similar birds on .7 or one inch. Greatest growth response from added feeder space occurred from 4 to 9 weeks of age, and male broilers receiving three linear inches were about .04 to .15 pound heavier than those on either one and a half or two inches. The female advantage for a three linear inch space was from .06 to .14 pound.

ROTARY HOEING, LATERAL AND SPOT OILING PROVE

Enemy To Weeds, Grass in Cotton

Weeds and grass in cotton can be given a real set-back says Fred Elliott, extension cotton specialist, by the use of rotary hoes, lateral oiling with post-emergence naptha oils and spot oiling Johnson grass.

Last year farmers saved more than $15,000,000 in their fight against weeds by using these three practices, and the savings in 1957 can be much greater because of improved moisture conditions. He says county agents reported that 43,918 rotary hoes were used in 145 counties; that post-emergence oiling with five gallons of naptha at a cost of about one dollar an acre was carried out on small cotton on 20,285 acres in 53 counties and spot oiling was used to control Johnson grass on 89,491 acres in 133 counties. Johnson grass, he adds, can be controlled faster, easier, cheaper than by any other method and can be eradicated in one season at a saving of five dollars an acre with spot oiling.

The rotary hoe, he says, is a triple purpose implement. It controls weeds and grass in small cotton; cultivates and can be used to break crusts and thus insure a stand or can be turned around and used to firm seed beds. It should be operated at high speed. A four section hoe can weed up to 100 acres a day depending on the rate of travel.

Seedling cotton is highly resistant to post-emergence oils but injury will result after the bark begins to form. Elliott says to apply the naptha oil with tractor mounted shoes, using two fan-type nozzles, one on either side of the row and staggered and kept at least five inches from the cotton. Three applications made at 7 to 10 day intervals can be used provided the cotton plants have not begun to form true bark.

For best results with lateral oiling, he says the seed bed should be smooth. The first application should be made when the weeds are in the seedling stage or up to three inches high but not until grass appears. The spray shoes should be calibrated and carefully adjusted on a smooth surface and checked regularly after the operation begins. When oiling and cultivating at the same time, cultivate shallow and in wet weather lighten the tractor by removing unnecessary weight and get into the field before the weeds get too large. For detailed information on these practices Elliott suggests a visit with the local county agent.

Summer Recreation Programs Offered Extra Milk Supplies

More of America's abundant milk supplies will be used this summer to improve the diets of our future citizens, reports A. M. Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

The special milk program which has made more milk available to school children at reduced prices during the past two years has been extended to include summer camps and recreation centers, says Meekma.

Non-profit institutions offering recreational or guidance programs to children are now eligible to receive partial reimbursement for extra milk served to the children in their care.

In Texas, this surplus milk reducing and diet improving program for growing children is administered by C. M. Hicks, chief consultant, School Lunch Program, Texas Education Agency, Austin, Texas. Information on how the program operates can be obtained by writing to Mr. Hicks, says Meekma.

The special milk program was established as a constructive means of using milk surpluses. Participating schools and other institutions are reimbursed by the USDA for part of the cost of extra milk served to children under their care. Milk consumption has been boosted in public and non-profit private schools as a result of the program.

Newly eligible groups include boys' and girls' clubs, Scout camps, child guidance centers, 4-H camps, day care camps, youth groups and summer camps sponsored by churches and civic organizations and municipal recreational programs.

The milk can be served with meals or in special milk "breaks" at any time of the day, says Meekma. In most cases, however, it is sold as fluid milk at several cents below the regular market price.

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
Economic Analyst

NEW YORK—The ambiguity of economic terminology can be quite confusing for producers, businessmen and government officials trying to keep abreast of changing events. Take, for example, "inflation."

If inflation is easing, as some economists claim, one set of actions would be beneficial. A proportionate modification of the actions would be necessary if inflation is still an important threat to the economy, as another group of analysts say.

It is possible that at least a part of the disagreement would end if the confusion regarding the term "inflation" were eliminated.

The confusion seems to lie in the fact that more than one of four meanings are assigned to the word in one argument. These four are: (1) a rise in prices, (2) a surge of demand which will probably result in a price rise (3) a condition of rising costs expected to lead to higher prices, and (4) inflation produces price increases but the term actually refers to the supply of money or credit.

The economy might be beneficial if we stuck to one definition at a time.

WORRISOME FLAW—Grain industry economists see a serious flaw in the new government wheat export program. And they're offering a solution to policymakers in the Commodity Credit Corporation, grain merchandising arm of the Department of Agriculture.

The problem, they say, lies in CCC's day-to-day changes of the export subsidy paid at our various seacoasts to adjust our supported domestic price to the world price.

The grain men say these arbitrary settings in the subsidies at the different coasts, without reference to one another, have had these unfavorable results: (1) they've seriously disrupted the normal flow pattern of grain, (2) unnecessarily complicated the storage problem, (3) aided Western farmers at the expense of Eastern farmers, (4) hampered efficient shipping, and (5) made the grain movement picture wholly unpredictable.

Industry spokesmen are asking CCC to establish instead subsidy structure by which the government could continue to control the volume of exports but which would restore the flow pattern for which the existing facilities were designed.

THINGS TO COME—a one-man helicopter being developed for the Armed Forces may be offered commercially soon at less than $1000. Where are those sky cops? . . . Electronic "brains" are being developed that can talk to each other—imagine the office gossip in a few years! . . . Australian scientists have found a new way to make wool moth-proof.

WHIRLYBIRDS TOUR—Two French-built jet-powered helicopters now on tour in the United States are bringing "ahs" and "ohs" to the lips of the military and press who have seen or flown the craft. Republic Aviation Corporation, licensed to build the helicopters here, is sponsoring their tour.

So far the whirlybirds, each called Alouette II (it's a model number, not just a term of endearment), have gone through their paces at Otis Air Force Base in Massachusetts, Lakehurst Naval Station in New Jersey, Friendship International Airport in Baltimore, the U. S. Air Force Research and Development Command at Wright Field, and the U. S. Marine Corps Base, Quantico, Va.

Among the advantages claimed for these roto-jets are: Virtual elimination of vibration, elimination of warm-up period and possibility of instant take-off through a gas turbine engine and reduction of maintenance costs to where they are practically negligible.

Typical pilot reaction was that displayed at Lakehurst where more than 60 helicopter pilots clamored to ride in the Alouette and lauded it enthusiastically after completing their flights.

Cotton School Set At A&M On June 3

Texas A&M's 48th annual Summer Cotton School will be held June 3 to July 12, according to Prof. J. M. Ward of the Department of Agricultural Economics and Sociology.

Purpose of the school is to provide training for persons who expect to enter the cotton trade; for growers who wish to learn how to market cotton more profitably, and for buyers who wish to review grade and staple standards or to become more familiar with the elements of quality in cotton.

Instruction, by men with successful careers in the practical aspects of the cotton trade, covers cotton grading, stapling, determination of cotton properties and cotton trade procedure.

Most of the student's time will be spent in actual practice and discussion; the rest will be spent in lectures and in visits to the U. S. D. A. Spinning Laboratory on the campus and to other laboratories of interest such as the Cotton Seed Oil Research Laboratory, also on the campus.

Registration will begin at 8 a. m. Monday, June 3, in the large room on the third floor of the Agricultural Engineering Building. Students who report on Sunday may obtain temporary housing from the Housing Office, Professor Ward says.

Further information may be obtained by writing to Professor Ward at the Summer Cotton School, Texas A. & M. College Station, Texas.

General Telephone's President Honored By Tool Engineers

Donald C. Power, president of General Telephone Corporation, received the Distinguished Public Service Award given annually by the American Society of Tool Engineers at their regular meeting, May 6, sponsored by the New York Chapter.

The award was made by Hartley W. Barclay, past chairman of the Greater New York Chapter and Publisher of Tide Magazine.

In making the award, Barclay referred to Power's activities as "through this joining of science, education, public service, finance and communications, such an important broadening of public gains has been made that it is an honor and a privilege for this citation to be awarded to Donald C. Power, whose deep insight into America's needs, capabilities and opportunities made this achievement possible."

Following the award, Power addressed the Society on "Merchandising-Key to the Future," in which he emphasized the importance with which General Telephone views the subject of market research and planning as a basis for developing future growth.

the way of an earnings increase—if costs rise. Airlines on the North Atlantic route have learned this to their sorrow.

The airlines introduced tourist-class flights about five years ago when they figured the limit of the first-class market had been reached. Fares for tourist were set 30 per cent lower than first. The sales effect was excellent—the number of passengers more than doubled.

Despite the increased traffic, however, the airlines are in comparatively the same position financially they were five years ago. Why? Because of capital demands for expansion, rising equipment prices and increased costs of facilities and services.

While the airlines didn't gain, there is a bright side to the story. The tourist flights are said to have aided the European economy by an injection of well over a billion dollars.

AUSTIN — Officially, Texas' 55th Legislature now is in history books. But the real story comes within the next few months when hundreds of new laws take effect.

They'll change people's lives — a little bit or a lot. Voter reaction to these changes will provide grist for the 56th session and determine how many 55th legislators will survive for the 56th.

Biggest issues of the past five months were water, segregation, reform measures, teacher pay and insurance. Here's what the lawmakers did:

Water — Passed a proposed constitutional amendment for a $200,000,000 bond issue to help local governments build dams and reservoirs. Failed, despite frantic last-minute efforts, to pass another amendment for a $100,000,000 bond issue to buy water storage space in federal reservoirs.

Segregation — Passed two of eight segregation bills. One allows local school boards to assign pupils to certain schools; other requires local option election before schools can be integrated.

Another, requiring registration of groups advocating integration or segregation, was declared unconstitutional by the attorney general. He said it would violate freedom of speech and press. Other House-passed bills died on the vine after repeated Senate filibusters made it apparent it would take all summer to get them through.

Official Reform — Passed a code of ethics bill prohibiting state officials and employees from engaging in outside activity "in conflict with the public interest." A sprinkling of officials already have filed statements of their private interest with the secretary of state as stipulated in the law. A lobbyist registration bill died when the House and Senate couldn't iron out differences. A host of others proposed as reforms were ditched earlier.

Teacher Pay — Legislators, with Gov. Price Daniel's help, found, after raking and scraping, enough money to give each public school teacher a $399 a year raise. It meant recalling two other money bills, one to pay off some old bonds and one to refund taxes paid under an unconstitutional law. Situation was tense when Comptroller Robert S. Calvert first ruled the state's kitty was $13,000,000 short of enough to cover.

Insurance — Passed a host of laws bringing a whole new system headed by new men into the battle-scarred Insurance Commission. Deadlock over a full-time or part-time board was finally compromised with a full-time board for one year, part-time thereafter. Policy-making board members will get $15,000 a year when working full time. Added to set-up will be a full-time $30,000-a-year Commissioner of Insurance who will be top administrator.

Stemming mostly from the multi-million-dollar ICT and US Trust failures, several other bills were passed placing stricter requirements and limitations on insurance company officials. However, the Legislators fell flat on their faces when it came to requiring publication of financial statements by insurance companies. The bill never got out of the House Committee on Insurance. So only those companies that want the public to know will print them.

And These, Too—Aside from the big issues, scores of not-so-major laws will cause Texans to change their way of doing things. Here are a few:

A "Scratched Ballot" is the only legal way to vote in future elections. No more choice between scratching and checking.

Texas Women's University at Denton, once Texas State College for Women and before that, CIA, will be the nation's first in that category. Women have a right to change their minds, reasoned solons. Besides, there were hundreds of cute little coeds around, a 'lobbyin'.

State Judges, both district and appellate, will get raises of about $30,000 a year apiece. City Officials can be elected for four instead of two years if voters okay a proposed constitutional amendment. Individual cities would then have to adopt the four-year plan.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

World's Mightiest Lawmakers Limited

The world's mightiest lawmakers — the United States Congressmen and Senators — sit down each year to make laws.

But mighty though Congress is, the Constitution won't give it certain powers:

1. Neither Congress nor anybody else can suspend the writ of habeas corpus (unless the public safety demands it during rebellion or invasion). All officers or others must obey a court and bring in anyone in their custody to see whether he is held lawfully.

2. Congress cannot pass "bills of attainder", special acts to punish someone. Congress cannot by-pass the courts.

3. Congress cannot pass an ex post facto law — a law which makes an act a crime which was not one when done, or which punishes the offender more than called for when done.

4. Congress cannot tax exports from any state nor by regulation favor one state's ports over another's, nor make one state's vessels clear or pay duties to another state in order to enter.

Besides these denials from within, the Constitution curbs Congress and the executive and judiciary in the amendments, especially the first ten.

Among other things, Congress cannot make a law respecting an establishment of religion or prohibiting its free exercise, or abridging the freedom of speech, of the press or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.

The Constitution also curbs the courts (for example, they cannot deny a person a fair hearing, duly represented by counsel). It curbs the executive (he cannot, for example, take private property for public use without just compensation).

The Constitution, which divides the work of the three branches of government, winds up by telling where the rest of the power rests — just in case anybody gets any fancy ideas of dictatorship.

There are things no state can do, for instance, "make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States."

If there are any powers not given to the United States government or reserved to the states, they belong to the people. The Constitution does not seem to limit the people.

(This column, prepared by the State Bar of Texas, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight

Bible Comment:

Lying Speeches of False Prophets Vanish With Death

THE false prophet is exposed by the quality of his life. He professes to stand in God's counsel, but he has not turned from evil himself. He has not tried to dissuade the people from their evil ways.

The true prophet is morally upright.

The false prophet is the prophet of the immediate and the expedient. Jeremiah charges that this type has a limited view of God. His God is an immediate and a temporary one. As Jeremiah puts it, "Am I a God at hand, saith the Lord, and not a God afar off?"

The amazing thing about the true prophets of Israel was that they had a world vision. They prophesied to a small people in a small land.

There were no printing presses or radio to carry their messages abroad. Yet, though they spoke to their own people and in their own time, they are well known today. They dealt so with moral and spiritual values and with eternal principles that their words apply with keen insight and terrible force to our own world.

No false prophet in any age has lasted beyond his own time. He is gone with the falseness of the time to which he pandered.

The false prophet says pleasant and easy things. They err, as Jeremiah says, by their lies and their lightness. But God's word, as spoken by the true prophet, is like a fire and like a hammer.

There is something stern and terrible about truth, just as there is power in it to save men from the falseness of life. God's mercy must be strong to overcome God's judgments. The true prophet never minimizes the one or the other.

It is the mark of the true prophets of God that they speak to men in every age and under all conditions.

Wellman Seniors On Visit To Colorado's Famed Royal Gorge

CANON CITY, Colo., May 23 —Members of Wellman High School senior class visited Colorado's famed Royal Gorge on their recent tour. It was a highlight of a trip which included Garden of the Gods, Seven Falls, and Cave of the Winds, all at Colorado Springs. They also viewed scenic and historic points in and around Denver.

At the Royal Gorge, the seniors crossed the world's highest bridge — 1,100 feet above the roaring Arkansas River — rode the world's steepest incline railroad — 100 per cent grade — and viewed some of Colorado's most magnificent scenery. Sponsors on the tour were Eldridge Ancell, high school principal, and Homer Jones Sr., vo-ag teacher and FFA advisor. Students were Ann Thornton, Sabra Welcher, Helen Ancell, Jenelle Hules, Foxie Oliver, Oatis Smith, Bill Elliott, Jimmy Taylor, Richard Ancell, Homer Jones Jr., Dan Neal, Jerry Carmichael, Diana Graham, La Vena Dickens and Barbara Smith.

Almost 70 per cent of all apparel fibers consumed today are cotton.

Widows of Veterans Must File By July 1 For Increased Aid

Twenty-four thousand widows of veterans who died of service-connected causes before Jan. 1, 1957 may lose money unless they apply for the higher death compensation payments by July 1, 1957.

Robert W. Sisson, manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Lubbock, said approximately 80,000 widows throughout the nation have already applied for the higher payments.

VA originally estimated that of all the 114,000 widows receiving compensation for the service-connected deaths of their husbands before Jan. 1, 1957, approximately 104,000 were qualified to receive the higher payments.

The 24,000 who have not applied as yet have until July 1 to file application if they wish to receive the higher payments retroactive to Jan. 1 under the Survivor Benefits Act.

Most of the widows who apply after July 1 will find that the higher payments will become effective as of the day their applications are received, Mr. Sisson said.

Those who apply for the new benefit but who would receive more under old laws will be advised by VA against the wrong choice of payment.

Thousands of years ago early European travelers to ancient Asia came home with tales of strange "vegetable lamps" growing on trees. The wool" was the first knowledge the Europeans had of the fluffy white fiber we now call cotton.

The first American-made cotton broadcloth sold for $16 per yard in Massachusetts shortly after the Revolutionary War.

Since 1900 average textile industry wages per hour have increased from 8.5 cents to $1.43.

CIRCUS PRINCIPALS — Shown above are Miss Flo McIntosh and "Miss Oklahoma," both of the A. J. Kelly-Miller Bros. Circus. Zoo and animal authorities all over the world agree that Miss Oklahoma's unique exhibition of intelligence is the most unusual of the animal presentations. The circus will be here May 31.

Cotton handkerchiefs are made square because of a decree by Louis XVI in 18th Century France. When Marie Antoinette complained about the many shapes of handkerchiefs, the king decreed: "The length of the handkerchief shall equal its width through the kingdom."

Re-baled samples and damaged cotton are referred to as "the city crop of cotton." Annual total reaches 46,000 bales. In the United States, men's and boys' shirts consume more cotton than any other single product, using about 550,000 bales annually.
