City's Water System Getting Large Boost

City water system expansion, approved by voters last December, is nearing completion, reports Jake Geron, city secretary. Panhandle Construction Co. of Lubbock began laying service and supply lines this week, readying for completion of three new wells, a pumping station and reservoir, said Geron. "The three wells south of town have been completed except for installation of pumping equipment," said the secretary. "The pumping station, being constructed in conjunction with a 1,000,000 gallon concrete reservoir, south of Coleman Park, is expected to be completed in July."

wells, the pumping station and the overhead pressure tanks now in use. "The new lines going into the southeast section will be necessary to boost pressure in the area as it continues its outward growth," revealed the secretary. Brownfield will have access to the new wells upon completion of line and pump station construction, said Geron. "I might add that two of the new wells are excellent producers and the third is average or better."

Three Best Of 'My Dad' Selections

Our Dad is the best in all the North, South or West.

Cause he does the things that Mom and us like the best. He works from Sun up till Sun down, but for Pee-wee ball or dance recitals he hurries to town.

He can fix everything—dolls bikes or tops and around the house he helps Mom a lot.

For his birthday he wanted a ball glove that was just right for me, and an ice cream freezer for Father's Day, although he really doesn't care for that kind of cream.

These are just a few reasons that he is "Our King."

My Dad is the best Dad because he works all day in the field to make money so that our family might have food, clothing and a home to live in and a car to drive.

When I am in trouble my Daddy helps me out. When I am sad my Daddy makes me happy and when I am sick he sees that I have medical care.

I would like to say something to the other children—when you are bad and your Daddy spanks you—it just shows you how much he loves you.

I love my Daddy with all my heart.

My Daddy is the best Dad because he's a wonderful father that any girl would be very proud of.

His kindness, thoughtfulness and his wonderful understanding are just a few of his many fine qualities as a father.

I'm very proud of the fact that he includes religion as a very important part of his life and that God is a very important part of his life.

Annual Battle Against Mosquitoes And Flies Will Begin Here Soon

The annual campaign here against flies and mosquitoes soon will be under way by city health officials.

"Quite likely," said Homer Barnes, Brownfield Health Department sanitarian, "our fogging machines will be put into action this week."

Targets for the fogging machines will be all alleys in the city, including spot spraying of garbage disposal units.

"Cost of the insecticides which are necessary for this service by the city runs into thousands of dollars each summer," the sanitarian explained.

City Mgr. Eunice Jones and members of the council said Saturday that there will be a continued effort this summer to combat the pesky — unhealthy — insects.

Much humid weather in the past several weeks has increased the probability that the flies and mosquitoes will be out in force, if steps aren't taken now to eliminate the breeding spots.

"Sanitation begins in the home," So said Barnes, who added: "A thorough check should be made at this time by each household to see that nothing capable of holding water is left lying around."

The city health officer also explained that the evaporative types of air conditioners make excellent breeding grounds for the mosquito, saying that the machines should be checked weekly for the "wiggle tails," common name for the mosquito larvae.

Said Barnes: "Several drops of oil 'poured on the waters' each week will do the job of destroying the eggs. We're also urging that everyone use a regulation type of garbage can this summer. They're available at any at any number of retail stores here."

It also was explained that "Some cooperation from the private citizens is needed. For instance, heavy hedges and vegetation around the house should be trimmed and sprayed.

"There are several good insecticides on the market, poisons which will do the job. Because they are poison, however, it is well to follow closely the manufacturer's directions on the label."

Barnes advised that mosquitoes may come into the city from 10 to 15 miles out, and flies, from as far away as 6 miles. "Hence, it is for our personal protection that we should keep breeding places for these insects at a minimum."

Was Don(s) All The Way In Golf Match

Don O'Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neal of 706 East Lons, was runner-up in the championship flight of the Texas Amateur Golf Tournament this week at Corpus Christi.

The former BHS golfer outlasted two other Don's before a third Don — Don Rayburn of San Antonio — beat him in the final round. O'Neal eliminated Don Martin, former captain of the University of Minn., golf team, and Don Massengall, a member of the TCU team, on his way to the final round.

IN THE PICTURE — Costing approximately $3 million, the brand new Prentice Gasoline Plant is pictured left. It is located about 12 miles northwest of Johnson Community. Designed to produce an estimated 100,000 gallons of high vapor pressure gasoline daily, the plant ships its product to Borger for final processing in the Phillip Petroleum company's facilities.

Power for the operation is contained in the building at left, behind the huge storage tank in foreground. The power units are three Cooper-Bessemer Model GMVA-10 integral compressor engines, with ratings of 1,350 brake horsepower each, and each may be supercharged to 1,880 hp. The evolution method of cooling the big power packages — by producing steam in the cylinder jackets — is the first installation of this type on the Bessemer.

Final product at Prentice is de-thanized gasoline, which includes commercial propane and butane in one lump product. The plant is owned by 62 operating companies — including 98 per cent of the producers in this area — and is operated by Honolulu Oil Corporation, also an owner. Because of the reduced personnel at the plant, a highly intricate control and alarm system is operative. For example, should any critical pressure level, temperature or flow depart from its normal volume, a loud horn automatically is sounded and various lights are switched on, giving personnel both audio and visual warnings in the plant or in their homes adjacent. If the trouble is not cleared within 20 minutes, the system shuts down all operations. Another item common at most such plants but missing at Prentice is that there is no production of steam whatever — there are no boilers.

Luna To Be Honored

A certificate of appreciation from the President of the United States will be given here June 25 to Murphy W. Luna of Plains.

The presentation will be made by Col. Morris S. Schwartz, director of the Texas Selective Service System, in the offices of Local Board 116, Brownfield State Bank building.

The certificate is being awarded to Luna for "15 years of service to his county, state and nation as a member of the draft board — a service performed without pay for his time and trouble."

Signatures on the award will be those of Pres. Eisenhower, Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who is national director of Selective Service, and Col. Schwartz.

Luna serves with Bruce Zorns of Brownfield and Edwil W. Wright of Sundown on the Yoakum-Terry-Hockley county board. He is a pioneer rancher.

IT WON'T HAPPEN — City health officials won't let mosquitoes breed at the lake immediately north of the downtown area. They'll ppgur oil on the surface. The officials also urge everyone to destroy all likely breeding spots for mosquitoes. The city's "fogging" machine already is being used in all alleys and spot spraying of garbage disposal areas has begun. The lake, by the way, rapidly is drying up. (Staff Photo)

by rose jean henson

One of the sad conditions of life is that experience is not transmissible — no man will learn from the suffering of another. He must suffer himself.

Aside from the emotional attachments we feel for our families, I suppose it could be said our homes are the next dearest thing we possess on this earth — and that is as it should be. God instituted the home and He intends that we should conduct our times, energy and thoughts toward making it the place where we like most to be and to share our lives with family and friends.

Such a description is fitting in describing the home of Mancel and Leota Hinson (no relation), which was destroyed by fire last Saturday night.

Watching the house grow through the years from two tiny rooms into a large comfortable home and seeing from time to time the work, and sweat and — yes — tears, that went into the making of it, I find myself at a loss adequately to say anything, except — I'm sorry — which sounds so empty to one who has lost so much.

Possibly, some would say the Hinsons were just plain "lucky" to be gone, for the two bolts of lightning which reportedly hit the structure, likely would have killed them.

Since I don't believe anything happens by chance, I choose to call it "the hand of God" that led them out, and I choose to say it will be the hand of God that leads them on to a bigger and better place in life. I call to mind the words of St. Paul, the great theologian, as he warned the Corinthians. In part, he said, "Let no man deceive himself — the wisdom of this world is foolishness with God".

I'm not known as a sentimentalist, but as I walked around that heap of ashes, I felt empty and sick inside. A great deal more than just a house and belongings were gone. This house was where one could go to borrow—even when the owner was away. Or if you felt like crying, there was a shoulder to cry on. Whatever your trouble, generally, you could find the answer at this house. If walls could speak, these certainly would reveal "a heap of living".

It's not so important why we live or where, but it does matter HOW we live. Such reflections were demonstrated by the thoughtfulness and generosity of friends and neighbors as they made hasty preparations to share "such as they had" with this fine family.

I really appreciated the fine job Gee Gee did in writing the feature story of Mrs. J. M. Burlison, retired school teacher of Meadow. One would have thought she had been an old pupil of Mrs. B. by the personal touch she gave it. Truly, the story was not "doctored" a bit. Although I was not privileged to have Mrs. Burlison as a teacher, my son was, and in his own words, "She was the best teacher I ever had". A teacher who weeps when a pupil quits school, my friends that's sincerity. I'm sincere in saying, "Indeed, she is a grand lady".

Perhaps my little contribution to the Dad readers will cause all of us to pause and ask for more wisdom to raise our children.

Not learned in School

Her breakfast was light and my sarcasm dimmed her eyes even to the little food she was trying to eat.

Our tempers flared over the need of wearing her winter coat on an early spring day when "All the other girls will be wearing their new spring coats."

Impatiently I closed the argument by telling her it would be the heavy coat or no school for her.

She hesitated a moment and then gently said, "I'm sorry, Daddy"—and wore the winter coat.

When I embarrassed her in front of her friends by giving her a top sergeant lecture on posture, she simply straightened up and admitted with a smile that she had forgotten.

Later, when I discovered her polishing my shoes and thanked her, she told me, with a great big smile, that she liked to do it.

And when I gave her a good-night kiss and she put her arms around my neck and asked me as a big favor to please go to her school show, I said, "Yes."

Tears came with her smile because, she said, "You are so good to me."

Sesame's Record-Breaking Yields, High Profits Make It One of State's Top Crops

About five years ago, an ancient plant never before grown commercially in this country was introduced to farmers in the cotton producing areas in Texas.

It was sesame, a plant that grows under conditions favorable to cotton. It produces tiny seeds from which vital oils are extracted.

At the time, sesame was hailed as a new cash crop for those areas where cotton production was curbed by allotments, but a big obstacle to profitable production was the sesame plant's tendency to shatter its seeds.

The Texas Research Foundation at Renner primarily was responsible for development of the crop in Texas. And after much research, the foundation has been able to produce a "nonshattering" variety.

This new variety has produced amazingly high yields, particularly where irrigation is applied. On the High Plains, Sesame has been termed the No. 2 money-maker for irrigation farmers, who last year averaged $121 per acre per acre in gross returns—second only to cotton.

The Texas Sesame Seed Growers announced that the 1956 sesame crop totalled 3,300,000 pounds. The crop was sold for $341,880. TSSG is a production and marketing organization composed of farmers. It handles the bulk of the U. S. sesame crop.

Sesame production runs as high as 1,200 pounds per acre. Last year's crop sold for $10.34 per hundred pounds.

Sesame seed is used in a variety of ways. But its chief market advantage is that the oil becomes rancid much more slowly than most oils and therefore is used in the food industries.

SPEAKER — The vice president of Fort Worth's Texas Christian University will address the congregation at the 11 a.m. services Sunday in First Christian Church. He is Dr. Ray Lindley, pictured above.

Cletus Caswell of Meadow underwent major surgery in Lubbock this week. His condition is reported to be progressing favorably.

gauge. Final recovery was 150 feet of mud-cut oil, 930 feet of 3.82-gravity oil, and 720 feet of salt water. Bottomhole pressure readings were 715 pounds flowing and 3,030 pounds shut in for 30 minutes.

Second test came from 9,476-501 feet. Test lasted three hours with gas in 17 minutes. Recovery was 360 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 890 feet of free oil and 360 feet of salt water. Flow pressures gauged 84-535 pounds and 30-minute shut-in was 2,700 pounds.

Electric Logs Run
Hole was deepened to 9,550 feet, and operator was prepared to test with packer at 9,530 feet. Logs were run to determine top of the Reef at 9,465 feet and top of porosity at 9,478 feet. Sample top was called at 9,470 feet under estimated elevation 3,100 feet.

The prospective discovery situates 12 miles northeast of Brownfield, being 1,980 feet from north and east lines of Section 2, Block T, D&WRR survey. It is about one mile southeast of the abandoned Mound Lake field. There is no nearby production of any kind.

THIRD TEST GETS ONLY MUD, WATER

A third test opposite Pennsylvania Reef has found only mud and water at Cities Service Prod. Co. No. 1 Hinson, rank wildcat in east-central Terry County.

Tool was open three hours on latest test between 9,520-50 feet. A weak air blow lasted throughout test. Recovery was 240 feet of mud and 480 feet of water. No shows were recorded. Flow pressure registered 55 to 300 pounds and 30-minute shut-in was 3,110 pounds.

Two earlier tests opposite the same formation recovered free oil and some water at the prospector. Top of the Reef by logs was picked at 9,466 feet, with top porosity called at 9,478 feet.

Contractor was waiting on orders at 9,550 feet. Project situates 12 miles northeast of Brownfield in Section 2, Block T, D&WRR survey. There is no nearby production.

HELP YOUR DOG DURING DOG DAYS

by Bob Bartos
Friskies Research Kennels, Manager
Do you know how to make those dog days that are coming up a little more bearable for your dog? When the thermometer reaches high and your dog's tongue reaches low, that's the time to try and make life a little more comfortable for him. See that his drinking bowl is kept filled with cool fresh water.

Dog of the Week: LAKELAND TERRIER

Terrier. Average weight: 17 pounds; height at shoulder: 14 inches. Coat: hard, dense and wiry. Color: blue-black and tan, blue-black, black, black-and-tan, red, mustard, wheaten grizzle.

Don't evict him from whatever spot he picks during a heat wave. If he's a house dog he'll probably camp in the bathroom or a cool dark closet. The suburbanite will stick close to his dog house if it's well ventilated and is located in the shade where a breeze hits it. The country dog is apt to seek comfort under the porch.

A dog should be exercised only during the cool of the day... early morning, evening and again late at night. If he's showing stress, sponge him down several times a day with cool, but not cold water.

There's a good deal of argument as to whether a long-coated dog is more comfortable with less coat. Some veterinarians prescribe clipping long-haired or full-coated dogs, while others feel that the coat provides insulation. Consult your own veterinarian on this score and see what he advises.

You must be especially careful with old dogs and puppies. They should be kept under supervision during heat waves where you can supervise and attend to their needs.

Feeding Tip: Dogs need less food in summer. Give your pet a good-quality prepared dog food such as Friskies, and even though you've cut down on his rations, you're certain that he's getting all the protein, vitamins and minerals that he needs.

PULSE BEAT OF GAS PRODUCTION — J. D. Manning, operator at Prentice Gasoline Plant, checks the maze of gauges and graphs which indicate whether the distilling process is operating correctly. Brownfield Scouts Gear For Jamboree

Some 52 Brownfield youths were among 300 Boy Scouts and leaders attending a "Jamboree Shakedown Camp" in Lubbock yesterday.

The camp, which ran from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., was set up to familiarize Scouts with tasks they will perform at the National Scout Jamboree in Valley Forge, Pa., July 9-19.

Youths, representing 20 counties in the South Plains Council, spent the day setting up and striking tents, checking equipment by chartered bus from Lubbock, preparing outdoor meals back.

Dr. McIlroy was accompanied by two brothers, O. L. and Jack, who are chiropractors in Lubbock. His son, H. W., of 1201 East Ripley, will attend homecoming at the San Antonio Chiropractic School in August.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barnes of 806 East Hester over the weekend were his brother, Maj. Charles B. Barnes and family of Dayton, Ohio. Maj. Barnes is serving with the veterinary department of the Air Force in Dayton.

normal of 1,170 million bushels. Normal supply is based on estimated domestic consumption and exports plus a 20 per cent carryover, said Shrauner.

Basically, voters will approve or disapprove wheat marketing quotas — not wheat allotments, noted the county chairman. However, he explained the end result of the referendum will be as follows:

QUOTAS APPROVED:
1. All farmers in commercial wheat states with more than 15 acres of wheat will be subject to quotas.
2. Any "excess" wheat will be subject to quota penalties.
3. Price support at a national average of $1.78 a bushel will be available to producers who do not exceed their farm acreage allotment.

QUOTAS DISAPPROVED:
1. No quotas or quota penalties.
2. Acreage allotments will remain in effect.
3. Price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity for producers who comply with their farm allotments. (Fifty per cent of parity applicable to the 1958 crop is estimated to be $1.18 a bushel.)

Golden also reminds farmers that July 1 is the deadline for making application for the 1958 new wheat allotments.

NEW PLANT NOW OPERATIVE — In the pipeline jungle pictured above, some 20,000,000 feet of gas can be processed daily. Scene is at the recently completed Prentice Gasoline Plant, located about 12 miles northwest of Johnson Community. Designed to produce an estimated 100,000 gallons of de-ethanized gasoline every 24 hours, the final product is shipped to Phillips Petroleum Company's Borger installation for final processing. Cost of the plant, which includes the gathering system, was in the neighborhood of $3 million. It is described as an absorption-type, and requires only nine men to operate, being run by "automation" from midnight until 6 a.m. (Staff Photo)

SOME FARMERS SING ITS PRAISES!

Some Profitable Use for Johnsongrass Is Listed by Expert

Johnsongrass is a forage crop or a weed, depending on where it occurs. It can be undesirable anywhere under certain field conditions, but farmers in adapted areas may well sing its praises if they are willing to tolerate certain peculiarities.

Johnsongrass can be a good quality hay or grazing crop, according to recent data from the Denton Agricultural Experiment Station. When used as hay it should be harvested in the boot stage, says Extension Agronomist E. M. Trew. Properly harvested, Johnsongrass is as nutritious as Sudan and has comparable quality.

One or two hay crops per season normally can be harvested from Johnson, he says, with yields ranging from one to three tons.

Although condemned by some, Trew says Johnsongrass definitely is valuable as a pasture if properly managed. It can be grown profitably with such winter legumes as sweet clover or burr clover.

There is some danger, as in all sorghums and sorghum grasses, of prussic acid poisoning if the crop is grazed while resuming normal growth after drought or frost retardation. Usually the plant contains only small quantities of the acid, however, and few livestock are poisoned by it.

Improved Johnsongrass, Sorghum-Johnsongrass and perennial sweet Sudangrass in 40-inch rows at Denton averaged 5,640 pounds of hay per acre — over 900 pounds above similar crops in 12-inch rows. Overcrowding the plants reduces production materially, warns Trew.

Johnsongrass does have a profitable place in certain agricultural situations. Given a

Bible Comment:

Jews Understood Past Mistakes in Babylonian Exile

LET us look back a moment on the political history of the Jewish people up to the time of the Babylonian exile. The kingdom of an undivided Israel as we might think existed under David or Solomon was broken up after Solomon's death by the revolt of Jeroboam.

Ten tribes followed him to establish the Northern Kingdom, or the Kingdom of Israel. Two tribes remained loyal to Rehoboam to continue the Southern Kingdom, or the Kingdom of Judah.

The Northern Kingdom was swept away in 722 B.C. when Sargon, the Assyrian conqueror, overthrew it and carried its people into exile, never to return. It is to this that we refer today when we speak of "the 10 lost tribes."

The Kingdom of Judah continued until 586 B.C. when it was conquered by Nebuchadnezzar. The people were exiled to Babylon, but the overthrow of that country by Cyrus in 538 B.C. eventually led to the return of the Jewish exiles to their homeland.

What the Jews suffered during the 50 years of their exile in Babylon is vividly portrayed in the 137th Psalm, beginning, "By the rivers of Babylon, there we sat down, yea, we wept, when we remembered Zion."

There they discovered what they had lost in spurning divine counsels and in turning from the ways of God. The songs of Zion had a new meaning for them when they could no longer sing them in their homeland or in a strange land.

Polo was developed in India. Proper chance this "weed" can pay handsome dividends.

Lighting the way of men to betterment is the finest profession known. The human heart rests about eight-tenths of a second between each contraction. Nobody ever gets anything for nothing, but a lot of people keep trying. Truth has only to change hands a few times to become fiction.

Gutierrez Pitches First No-Hit Game

A rash of five homeruns and a no-hit game highlighted activities of the Babe Ruth League Thursday and Friday. Eddie Gutierrez of the Red Sox pitched the first no-hit game of the season as his team walloped the Dodgers 15-1 Friday night in Lions Club Park. Gene Blake, Yankee right fielder parked two over the fence in a losing cause as the Cardinals, lead by Richard Collins' homer, edged the Yankees 10-6 in the opener Friday. Johnnie Murphy pitched a five-hit game and slammed a three-run homer to lead the Red Sox to a 7-1 victory over the Yankees in Thursday night's opener.

ASSERTS STATE HEALTH DEPARTMENT

Radiation In Controlled Amounts Can Be More Beneficial To Current Population Than Hazardous To Future Generations

Austin State Hospital physician called the State Health Department to report that a radium needle, being used to treat a patient with skin cancer, had been dislodged or lost.

Did the Department have radiation detection equipment with which the needle might be located? The Department did, and the needle subsequently found in a gauze bandage.

This incident, one of many that take place every month, illustrates the manner in which the Department's Division of Occupational Health, working in cooperation with private physicians and other agencies, quietly is going about the task of protecting citizens from the dangers of excessive radiation exposures.

A great deal has been said in recent months about the imminent peril the entire nation is facing from excessive radiation. Much of that information has been true in general, but some of it has been misconstrued to the point where people have cancelled much-needed x-ray treatments or examinations because of unjustified fear of radiation exposure.

One of the state's leading radiologists, writing in the Texas Medical Association Journal, has summed up the situation by saying that curtailment of radiologic examinations would cause a failure in diagnosis that would result in many times the number of deaths than would theoretically occur from radiation accumulation in the population 20 generations from now.

There is no question but what the various sources of radiant energy now in use — isotope usage in industry and medical research and the so-called "fall-out" from nuclear weapons testing — potentially are dangerous.

But the very fact that danger exists serves as a sort of safety valve. Persons engaged in peacetime use of radiation equipment and materials, acutely aware of the hazards, act with extreme caution.

Competent physicians and dentists keep accurate records of their patients' radiation exposure level. Wealthy foundations have been set up to train technicians in the safe use of radiation devices. And federal and state governments — along with medical, dental and engineering schools — have made considerable investments of money to insure the proper control of radiant energy equipment.

And as a sort of clincher, the Texas State Department of Health is one of five states which has complete regulations regarding the registration and proper use of all radiation-producing equipment and materials.

So while it is true that ever-increasing uses of radiant energy in national defense, medicine and industry does demand that we exercise every precaution, that caution must be tempered with common sense. Radiation in controlled amounts can be more beneficial than hazardous.

YOU ARE TYPICAL ACCIDENT VICTIM

If You're A Man, Between 25 and 44 Years Old, And Drive A Car, Be Extra Careful in Traffic on Fourth of July Weekend

CHICAGO, June 14 — If you are a man between 25 and 44 years old, and you drive a car, be extra careful in traffic over the Fourth of July weekend.

The National Safety Council, which is conducting a nationwide campaign to hold Fourth of July accidents to a minimum says the typical holiday traffic victim is a male driver between 25 and 44 years old. He usually is the only one killed in the crash in which he is involved, either because he is alone or because the others were lucky enough to escape death.

The accident in which the typical holiday victim dies occurs between 6 p.m. and midnight—with the odds on 6 to 9 p.m. — on the night of the first full day of the holiday period.

The accident is most likely to occur on a rural highway or in an unincorporated area, and the chances are good that the victim has been drinking.

The typical victim is speeding when the accident occurs. It is caused by an out-of-control plunge off the road or a rending crash with another car.

A recent study by the council of holiday traffic accidents shows that the most dangerous period for the holiday traveler is while en route to his holiday destination, rather than the trip home.

Motor vehicle accidents lead the list of Fourth of July hazards, the council says. Drowning from swimming and fishing accidents is the second biggest risk. Other causes of death are fireworks and firearms, sunstroke and heat exhaustion, food poisoning and falls.

One hundred and fifty-eight national organizations have joined with the council in an effort to curb these accidents. The Fourth of July safety campaign is designed to increase public awareness of the extra holiday hazards and the extra caution needed to overcome them.

Gandy-Henley Wedding Solemnized In Lorenzo

LORENZO, June 8 (Special) — In wedding rites read at 8 p.m. today, Miss Zana Lee Henley became the bride of Freddy Keeton Gandy. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Henley and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Gandy.

The Rev. Jack Pearce read a double ring service and Mrs. Campdon Lawson played wedding music. The latter also accompanied Don Chastain as he sang "I Yove You Truly" and "Because."

Vows were exchanged before a large fan of white ostrich plumes highlighted with pink gladioli. Similar basket arrangements and candles completed the setting. The bridal aisle was marked by pink flowers, plumes and satin bows.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a designer gown of white French lace and nylon tulle over net and tulle. The bride carried a portrait neckline framed by lace flower appliques. Tiny sleeves were completed by gauntlets. Stemming from a rounded waistline, the waltz-length lace skirt and cut on circular lines and finished by a wide band of tulle held by lace appliques.

Her silk illusion veil was joined to a cap of lace enhanced by leaves of tulle dotted with seed pearls and outlined by a pleated tulle ruffle held by pearls. The bride carried a Bible topped with cymbidium orchids and feathered carnations.

Misses Mary and Myrna Darren attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaid, respectively. Their ballerina-length dresses of aqua crystalline styled with scooped necklines and gathered skirts. They carried arm bouquets of pink gladioli. Candles were lighted by Miss Helen Jones and Miss Jimmy Sue Shewmake of Brownfield, niece of the bridegroom.

The bridegroom's brother, James Gandy, served as his best man. Ushers were Joe Joiner, Jerry Bartlett and Bobby Henley, brother of the bride. The reception table was covered with white cutwork linen over aqua and centered with the attendants' bouquets flanked by aqua tapers.

When the couple left for a wedding trip to New Mexico, the bride was wearing an aqua cotton and lace dress with white accessories. They will be at home here where the bridegroom is engaged in farming. Both are graduates of Lorenzo High School.

DWI Sentences Are Assessed in Court

Two probated sentences and one suspended sentence was handed down in 106th District Court here Thursday on convictions of second offense driving while intoxicated.

A fourth DWI case involving Kit Carson Morris of Plains, was granted a continuance by Judge Louis B. Reed. The district judge is considering the advisability of a probated sentence requested by a 35-year-old Haskell man who pleaded guilty to passing a forged instrument.

Two-year probated sentences were received by Lloyd Dawson and Claude D. Huckleberry, both of Terry County, after entering a plea of guilty.

Jimmie Max Houser of Rails was found guilty by the jury and received a five-year suspended sentence.

Judge Reed has not sentenced Jesse Shelly of Haskell though the man has pleaded guilty to passing forged checks. He also has been convicted of burglary in Cochran County but has not been sentenced to date, according to County Attorney Morgan Copeland.

Keep sprays and dusts away from children and irresponsible persons and if they are to be stored, put them under lock and key. Also do not store such materials near food or feed and make sure livestock and pets can't get to them.

Finally, Fuller advises that the information given on the manufacturer's label should be followed to the letter. Manufacturer's and research workers have conducted exhaustive testing programs of all recommended toxic materials and have based their recommendations for their use on carefully worked out directions. Follow the label and no difficulties should be encountered, says Fuller.

AS ANNUAL 'WAR' IS STARTED

Precautions Necessary In Handling Insecticides

The annual war against cotton insects is on and will be stepped up as infestations increase.

Because of the hazards involved in the use of several recommended toxic phosphorus compounds, Extension Entomologist F. M. Fuller cautions all persons, including applicators (aerial and ground), cotton checkers, farm laborers, growers and others to take no chances with such compounds as parathion, methyl parathion and demeton.

He points out that the Texas Agricultural Extension Service is cooperating with the Texas Department of Health and the Texas Medical Association in a safety program aimed at preventing serious accidents or fatalities.

A kit of information on the safe handling of insecticides is on file in each county extension office and is available to any doctor who may need information on safety precautions or treatment of poisoned persons. A similar kit has also been provided for all local health units and physicians by the cooperating medical groups.

Presently, one poison control center is operating in Texas, but more are planned. W. L. Wilson, M. D., is in charge of the center operated by the Texas Department of Health in Austin.

The center may be reached day or night on an emergency basis. Information on pesticide poisoning and the action to take can be provided if such is not available locally.

Fuller offers 10 suggestions for preventing accidents and perhaps serious injuries which could occur in connection with the handling of highly toxic pesticides. All applicators, he warns, must avoid breathing the pesticide dust, vapor or spray and also keep it off the skin.

Approved respirators should be worn at all times when highly toxic insecticides are being handled. Local county agents or Fuller can supply a list of approved respirators.

Too, says the entomologist, gloves and freshly laundered protective clothing should be worn when handling toxic materials. If toxic materials are spilled on the skin or clothing, work should be stopped immediately and the person should bathe with soap and water and change clothing. After a poisoning job is completed, a bath and change of clothing are in order.

All persons and livestock should be protected from drifts, sprays and dusts, says Fuller. He warns against entering the fields for two or three days after an application of highly toxic insecticides.

All persons who regularly handle highly toxic phosphorus compounds should have cholinesterase tests made at intervals of not more than 10 days during the period they are working with the materials. Fuller advises seeing your local doctor about

(Editor's Note: The following letter was not selected as a winner by judges in the "My Dad" contest sponsored by the NEWS, but due to its unusual text it was decided that it should be printed.)

Please may I tell you about my Daddy. I don't guess you mean for me to write about a Step-father and I know I won't win any money, but to let folks know what I think about my new Dad means more than money.

My real father R. L. Sanders was killed July 18, 1955 in an oil field accident. He was good to us and we missed him so much.

Our baby brother was born right after Dad was killed. We named him Michael R. L. He never did get to see his real Dad, but Sir, he has a new father now. Mom says God took Daddy that day and he is in Heaven and I guess he did, but he sent W. C. Bell to take his place. He is my father now and we are happy out on his farm. He is good to Mom and us, Gene, Judy, Michael and me. I could never tell you what my Dad means to me, but to us he is the best Dad in the world. I wish you could meet him.

Brown-Szydloski Engagement Told

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Bynum of McCamey announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their granddaughter, Patricia Brown, to James Szydloski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Szydloski of 802 East Tate. The wedding will take place July 12 in the First Baptist Church in McCamey.

Miss Brown is the daughter of Mrs. Lois Hill of Albuquerque, N.M., but makes her home in McCamey with her grandparents. She is a graduate of McCamey High School and is now a freshman student at Texas Tech, majoring in psychology.

Her fiancé is a graduate of Brownfield High School and is also a freshman student at Texas Tech, majoring in engineering.

Following their marriage, the couple will live in Lubbock where Szydloski will continue his studies.

Mrs. Myrtice Webster of the Nurses Home, Treadaway-Daniell Hospital, is vacationing in Arkansas.

Terry County Home Demonstration Council Names Delegates To State

The regular business session of the Terry County HD Council was held in the party house on June 11 with Mrs. Loyce Floyd presiding.

Eight of the nine clubs were represented and gave reports of club activities during the past month. The standing committee chairmen gave reports in the form of information collected from various sources. This will be carried to each of the clubs—thus all HD women share in the material collected.

Programs were planned and discussed for the next month while the county is without an agent. A committee with Mrs. A. J. Bell as chairman will be responsible for securing assistance with a workshop or training school during the month of July.

After the business meeting adjourned, a THDA election was held with Mrs. Marion Stone, THDA chairman, in charge. Delegates and alternates were elected to represent Terry County at the state meeting to be held in Houston July 31, August 1, and 2.

The delegates elected are Mrs. Denver Kelly of Gomez, Mrs. Lucille Willis of Pleasant Valley, and Mrs. Tom Pettigrew of Meadow-Challis First alternate is Mrs. W. M. Nelson of Willow Wells; second alternate is Mrs. Loyce Floyd of Harmony; and third alternate is Mrs. A. J. Bell of the Northwest club.

Here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Shelton of 910 East Broadway, were Mrs. Johnny Keyes of Azle and two children.

HE IS FORMER RESIDENT

Miss Vinita Roberts, Bill Moorhead Marry

The First Baptist Church of Littlefield was the scene of the wedding of Miss Vinita Roberts and Bill Moorhead, Saturday evening at eight o'clock.

Miss Roberts is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virrel E. Roberts of Littlefield.

The groom is the son of Mrs.

Gladys Moorhead of Brownfield, and of the late Mr. Moorhead.

A double ring ceremony was read by the Reverend Dr. Lee Hemphill before an altar decorated with white gladiolas, white tapered candelabra and emerald foliage.

Traditional wedding music was played by Miss Rosa Lee Hemphill who also accompanied Mrs. Weldon Findley as she sang "I Love Thee", "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer".

Sabrina Neckline

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original of white French imported Chantilly lace over tulle and satin. The scalloped lace Sabrina neckline was heavily accented with seed pearls. Long fitted sleeves came to a point over the hands and were closed with tiny covered buttons. Stemming from a pointed waistline was a magnificent skirt of fully shirred tulle over

Reading Program Is Moving Ahead, Says M&M Committee

Approximately 60 persons attended the Tuesday open house given in the courthouse by Maids & Matrons Study Club.

Occasion was the initiation of the group's summer reading program for children. The event is being sponsored in cooperation with the Terry County Library, head by Librarian Olga Fitzgerald.

"Some 496 titles are available for children taking part in this annual program," said Mrs. E. O. Nelson, M&M library committee chairman.

Hours of the program are from 9 until 11:30 a.m., and from 2 p.m. until 3:30 p.m., Tuesdays, Wednesdays and Fridays in the northeast corner of the courthouse basement.

The club this week expressed appreciation to the following firms and individuals for their efforts in the open house:

Brownfield Floral and Hoy's Flowers, the courthouse custodians, Nelson Pharmacy, Marion Bowers, Miss Margaret Bell of Lubbock, and Meses. K. B. Sadler, T. H. Eubank and R. D. Webb.

The committee explained Saturday that "Any donation of children's books will be appreciated greatly."

Mrs. Crawford To Head AAUW Group

Mrs. Virgil Crawford was installed as president of the Brownfield chapter of the American Association of University Women when the group held a covered dish luncheon at 1 p.m. Thursday at Seleta Jane Brownfield clubhouse.

Installing officer was Mrs. Al Muldrow, outgoing president of the club. Other officers installed were Mrs. Alvin Davis, vice president, and Mrs. H. T. Carr, treasurer.

The Thursday meeting was the final one of the year for the AAUW. The next meeting will be held Sept. 19.

The Statue of Liberty was erected in 1886.

Vows Are Said June 7

In a ceremony read at 8 p.m. June 7 in First Methodist Church, Miss Dora Jean Criswell became the bride of E. V. Murphy. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Criswell of 701 East Hill and Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Murphy of 1107 North 2nd.

The Rev. James E. Tidwell, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring rites before an altar decorated with white gladiolus and wrought iron candelabra tied with pink bows. White gladiolus tied with pink ribbons marked the bridal aisles.

Miss Leta Frances Baker, organist, offered traditional wedding music and accompanied Bill Baker as he sang "Bless This House" and "The Lord's Prayer". Both are cousins of the bride.

Wears Original Gown
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model gown of white satin, lace and tulle, fashioned with fitted bodice of lace, cap sleeves and a sweetheart neckline, worn with long white lace mitts. Her waist length veil of silk illusion net fell from a lace crest detailed with pearls and rhinestones. She carried a white orchid showered with Stephanotis and carnations intersticed with white satin streamers tied into love knots.

Sister Attends Bride
Miss Betty Criswell attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a gown of pink taffeta made with deeply scooped neckline, fitted bodice and full skirt. With this she wore a lace picture hat and short white gloves and carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations.

Misses Gail Cottrell, Donna Christopher and Theresa Stephens were bridesmaids. They wore gowns made identical to that of the maid of honor in green taffeta and carried arm bouquet of pink carnations.

D. C. Murphy served as his brother's best man. Merlin Soeed, Tommy Hamilton and Dovie Criswell, brother of the bride, were ushers. Pamela Criswell of Denver City and Billy Blankenship, both cousins of the bride, were flower girl and ring bearer.

Reception in Parlor
A reception in honor of the couple was held in the church parlor. The couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and attendants.

The serving table was laid with a white satin cloth detailed with seed pearls, with side shirring. A centerpiece of pink flowers and tapers was flanked with the punch bowl and the three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Guests attended from Canadian, Abernathy, Denver City, Ropesville, Burkburnett and Brownfield.

Trip to Ruidoso
For a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M., the bride chose a light blue linen suit with white accessories and a white orchid corsage. The couple is at home at 1203 Cactus Lane.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Murphy are graduates of Brownfield High School. She is employed with Terry County Abstract company and he is associated with McBride Pontiac Company here.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Zorns and children of 1002 East Tate are vacationing in Galveston.

John Adams was the first U. S. ambassador to England.

A Family That Prays Together, Stays Together

PERFECTION

Once in a while nature produces a perfect example of fruit, like the apple in this picture. Since time began, however, no earthly human has been anything but imperfect. Every person has his shortcomings and knows within himself that he is not what he ought to be or could have been. This consciousness of failure leads to guilt and anxiety, even to fear. There is a cure for this problem of humanity and the cure is proclaimed by the Church. It is very simple, accept yourself for what you are and accept God for what He is. Do this and you shall live. Go to Church this week and hear the message which alone will give you renewal and forgiveness.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction?— an answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

These religious messages are made possible by the above individuals and business firms with the hope of creating a more sincere interest in our churches and a more church-minded community.

Summer Session BHS News By Patti Wilder

On Thursday night, June 6, Roger Pendley hosted a party at the Party House. Dancing was enjoyed.

Shirley Wilkinson was hostess to a group of high school and college students at the Party House Wednesday night. Everyone had fun.

Brownfield High was well represented at Boy's State recently when Mont Muldrow spent eight days in Austin. By popular vote, Mont was elected mayor of Hutchings House. This was a meeting of high school leaders over the state. We're proud of Mont.

SUMMER TRAVELERS
Sherry Don Spears returned June 11 from a week's visit to Brownsville, where she had a wonderful time.

Ann Lee and family moved back to Matador this week. We regret seeing her leave and hope she enjoys her new home. Ann has been a wonderful friend and a great asset to our school. We hate to say "good-bye."

Gerald Jenkins returned from Amarillo Tuesday where he was inquiring about the Air Force.

A teen-age visitor to our city is Patsy Ashton from Ballinger. She is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Bobby Bird and family at 503 East Lake. We hope Patsy enjoys her visit.

Dixon Latham is in Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he is stationed for Army training.

Last weekend Barbara Knox returned from Canyon where she looked over West Texas State College. Before coming home, Barbara met Richard Baggett in Amarillo, where they celebrated her 18th birthday. Another Amarillo visitor has been Kay Kessinger, who spent several days with an aunt. She and Barbara traveled back to Brownfield together.

Many of our high school students are working on the highway. We even have some "foreigners" from Oklahoma. John Busha, a junior, and Bruce Winkle, a sophomore, are here from Oklahoma University.

Many of you may find you have a new mailman. Under the dark glasses, you'll discover its Jeff Chesshir, home from North Texas at Denton.

Charlotte Hard is keeping the highway warm from here to Snyder. She is a frequent visitor to Lake Thomas.

SERIOUS LOVE

The latest engagements are Jerre Sue Estes-Ernest Hyman and Ann Lemley-Johnny Cabbiness. Jerre Sue and Ernest are not planning on getting married soon, but Ann and Johnny are planning on an Aug. 1 wedding. Best wishes—

SEEKS MORE FLOOD CONTROL

Johnson Strongly For Survey Of All Rivers

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson said Sunday he is urging the Army Engineers to survey every river in Texas and recommend steps that would prevent a repetition of the current flood damage.

"I have had a major ambition since I have been in Congress," Senator Johnson said. "It is to live for the day when every river in Texas is controlled against flood damage insofar as we have the knowledge and the intelligence to control it."

Senator Johnson spoke over his weekly radio broadcast in which he answers questions sent to him by Texans. He said the current flood damage has driven home the lesson of "too little and too late."

Dams already constructed, he pointed out, have saved Texans millions of dollars in property and many lives.

In passing the first four appropriation bills to be considered by both the House and Senate, Congress saved the taxpayers nearly half a billion dollars, he said. He explained that this amount was sliced from the Presidential requests "and we have just barely started."

Senator Johnson also said that the decision to shift to a loan program, in foreign aid offers a method of helping oth-

He said that the record on foreign loans since the end of World War II reveals that other nations have met their payments on time "almost without exception." He said that Congress would be "reluctant" to vote gifts but will give reasonable consideration to sound loan proposals.

DEVASTATION OPENS EYES

Boy Scout Slogan, 'Be Prepared,' May Well Serve Texans, Says Coordinator

AUSTIN—Texans might well adopt the Boy Scout slogan — "Be Prepared" warns William L. McGill, state co-ordinator of Defense and Disaster Relief, following the state-wide devastation caused by 112 tornadoes, rampaging creeks and rivers and the Panhandle blizzard since March 1.

"Civil Defense," Mr. McGill points out, "will not in itself prevent floods, tornadoes and other natural disasters, but properly mobilized CD will go far to protect lives and property when emergencies arise."

"Every community should perfect a strong Civil Defense organization that it may be prepared for any emergency, be it war, tornado, hurricane, flood, fire, epidemic, explosion, or any other disaster."

Through passage of the Texas Civil Protection Act of 1951, Governor Price Daniel is empowered, through the State Co-ordinator of Defense and Disaster Relief, in emergencies to call on the combined resources of the Departments of Public Safety, Public Welfare, Civil Aviation, Fire, Highway; and The Railroad Commission (transportation); the Employment Service (manpower); the Adjutant General (National Guard); state consultants on engineering and education and a liaison officer of the American Red Cross, together with a representative of the Attorney General of Texas, who serves as legal adviser.

These are some of the tremendous resources at the command of your Civil Defense. The facilities and services of all other State departments and agencies are also subject to call, those listed being members of the State Defense and Disaster Relief operating organization.

Current Broiler Prices Slightly Above Those of Last Quarter of the Last Year

Current broiler prices are slightly above the last quarter average in 1956. However, the 1957 price level is below the same period of 1956 and far under that of 1955.

Poultry Marketing Specialist Kermit Schlamb says it isn't likely that prices will increase much until the broiler supply is brought more nearly in line with demand.

There is no consistent trend in that direction either, according to USDA reports. Placements of broiler chicks on U. S. farms for the first third of 1957 were nearly 6 per cent more than during the corresponding 1956 period. Placements in 1956 averaged better than 17 per cent more than 1955.

One of the big reasons for the slight advance in 1957 prices was the relatively low placements during the last two and a half months of 1956. Schlamb says. Placements by weeks for that period averaged nearly 25 per cent below average weekly figures so far this year.

Cold storage broiler holdings in February were 2,764,000 pounds higher than a year ago. Only 12 per cent of marketed broilers are sold in frozen

Bindweed Can Put The Farmer in A Real Bind

Bindweed can put cotton farmers in a real bind. This rapidly spreading menace will completely dominate infested field sites with a deep-rooted persistence unless properly treated.

Before you declare war on bindweed, knowledge of a few basic facts are essential. It has arrow-shaped leaves and small, white bell-shaped flowers, making it relatively easy to identify.

Sometimes called the "most feared weed in Texas," it is rather common in wheat growing regions. However, it is widely scattered in many other areas.

Fred Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, says small spots of bindweed can be controlled in cotton with "Kuron" and kerosene. Start immediately, the specialist urges, and destroy the crop in bindweed spots if necessary. On 1/4-acre-or-less spots, apply 1-1/2 to 3 gallons "Kuron" mixed in 100 gallons kerosene to the foliage and crowns of bindweed in or close to cotton.

Spray below 8 inches for best results, using a 5 pound-per-square-inch pressure or less. Spray surviving plants the next day and leave soil undisturbed for remainder of the season. Treat any new bindweed at emergence for two seasons, Elliott adds.

The specialist figures 100 per cent control from two or more treatments will cost about $75 to $150 per acre in the spot for first season work and $5 to $10 the following spring.

Watch for bindweed seedlings several years and destroy them immediately to prevent reinfestation. Crops many times fail to emerge in treated spots the following year.

form, Schlamb points out. National records show that 5.6 per cent more eggs have been set for broiler purposes than during the same period last year.

A decrease in Texas placements during recent weeks and possibilities of increased broiler consumption for outdoor cooking purposes are a couple of sweet notes in the picture, Schlamb says.

The specialist urges everyone interested in sound broiler tips to contact the Agricultural Information Office at College Station for Bulletin 849, "Financing the Production and Marketing of Texas Broilers."

Mowing, Chemical Application Answer To Weed Problems

A "keep out" sign won't scare undesirable weeds from your pasture. A carefully-planned mowing or chemical control program is the only efficient answer to the pasture weed problem.

Farmers can get a head start on weeds with proper establishment of adapted plants. Good stands of desirable grasses can usually "outgrow" pasture weeds under optimum conditions, says Extension Pasture Specialist E. M. Trew, especially when properly fertilized. Good grazing also limits pasture weed population.

Trew advises mowing when the worst weeds start blooming since they are more easily damaged at this stage. Mow all weeds before seed is produced, and remember that some require several operations. Sometimes fall-blooming weeds call for both early summer and fall mowing.

Avoid mowing when desirable grass is scarce or during hot, dry weather if grass stand is not thick enough to shade the soil. CAUTION—many mid and tall native bunch-grasses such as bluestem cannot stand repeated mowings.

Mowing excess growth for hay or silage is like putting money in the bank. Mowing also stimulates new growth on near-mature plants and evens up growth after grazing. It removes old grass growth and allows entrance of volunteer fall clovers. Mow high and as early is practical. A rotary-type mower is generally faster

Bids Are Higher On Land Forfeited By Veterans To Board

AUSTIN — Higher bids on smaller tracts of land were the trend in the June 6 sale of forfeited land by the Veterans' Land Board. These higher figures are a result of many things, with rain the primary factor, says Land Commissioner Earl Rudder.

The influence of water was most noticeable in Medina County, where nine tracts had been offered several times before, but bidders showed no interest.

"Recent rains filled up nearby Medina Lake, however, and we experienced vigorous bidding on seven of the nine tracts," Commissioner Rudder says.

Small Bids Eliminated

For the first time, the Veterans' Land Board in the June 6 sale, named the minimum amount acceptable on any tract.

"This eliminated many small bids from speculators," the land commissioner notes.

The sale brought in 164 bids on 37 tracts. Total bids amounted to $919,846.63. The total of high bids was $228,702.52. Highest bidder was Elmo S. Irby of Fort Worth, who bid $8,237.56 on 147 acres in Hamilton County. An excess in high bids over the previous principle invested amounted to $8,036.25.

CATLEMEN MAY RELAX SOME DAY—New Method for Eliminating Screw-Worm Is Studied Closely

Texas stockmen will be keenly interested in a new procedure for eradicating the screw-worm now being tested in the Florida cattle country.

In a joint federal-state operation, a project now is underway involving the use of male screw-worm flies hatched under laboratory conditions and sterilized through radiation exposure to cobalt gamma rays.

It is believed that when the sterile male flies are released in a screw-worm infested area, a market decrease in reproduction will result when many eggs produced by female flies in the area fail to hatch.

The Florida experiment, which is being directed by R. C. Bushland of the Entomology Research Division at Kerrville, is not an attempt at eradication of the screw-worm but merely a test if it can be accomplished.

The research project grew out of a similar operation held on the Caribbean island of Curacao in which a complete eradication was accomplished. In the Curacao project, 400 male screw worm flies per square mile were released.

The Florida experiment will employ a release of 500 male per square mile each week for four months. This will require a total of about 2,000,000 lab-reared flies a week when operations reach their peak in the area to be treated, which is 40 by 50 miles.

The screw-worm is the larva, or maggot, of the fly Callitroga hominivorax, which develops from eggs laid on open wounds on animals. The screw-worm has been known to exist in Texas since 1842, probably coming up from Mexico.

Because of the heavy Mexican infestation which migrates northward through Texas, the time eradication measure being tested in Florida presently would not be too effective in the Southwest.

However, if tests should prove successful in the Southeastern project, Texas cattlemen can look forward to a time when the ever-present screw-worm problem is relieved.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Rhyne of 214 South 2nd have returned after visiting their son, Leon, and family in Albuquerque, N. M. The Rhyne's grandson, Bobby, returned home with them to spend the summer.

How Long Did It Take You to Court Your Wife?

Did you just happen to see her, walk up to her, ask her to marry you, call in the minister—right on the spot?

Perhaps not. It probably took a lot of calls, many evenings on the family davenport, movies, flowers, candy—and a lot of nice things over a period of time before you closed the deal.

It's the same with advertising . . . you can't "woo" customers with one ad . . . you've got to "call on them" over a period of time.

Consistent advertising wins customers for you. Let the Brownfield News-Herald carry your message into 3,000 homes in Terry county and the surrounding area. Free ad—helps and illustrations are readily available.
