

BITTER MARK IS LEFT ON LAND AFTER STORM HERE

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

A driving rain and hailstorm Saturday and Sunday turned much of Terry County's agricultural picture as dark as the cloud masses that dumped up to 6.5 inches of moisture in the area.

County Agent Jim Foy estimated some 20,000 to 25,000 acres of cotton was heavily damaged or destroyed by the two vicious hailstorms that cut a swath approximately 7 to 8 miles wide through the central section of the county.

"Damage ranged from 20 to 100 per cent on about 90 sections of land," said Foy after a tour of the county Monday. He said the heaviest hit area apparently was in the Foster and Union communities, where many farmers sustained 100 per cent crop loss.

Approximately two inches of moisture fell Saturday night, accompanied by hail, and a more vicious rain and hailstorm lashed the area Sunday morning, dumping an estimated additional 3.5 inches of rain and fine slashing hail.

Foy said the strong wind bent the young cotton plants to an almost level position where the fine hail clipped it off just above the ground, leaving only stubs of the former plants.

"The area in which crops were heaviest hit extended from 1 mile west of here to 6 miles east and from 1 mile north to 10 to 12 miles south," he said.

Prospects for replanting cotton here seem pretty gloomy, indicated Foy. "With a lot of luck and a rapid maturing crop it would be possible to make a little cotton this late, but it would be a gamble all the way," he said.

The agent said several farmers are contemplating another attempt at planting but that most are making plans to replace the lost cotton crop with feed.

Is Desolate Picture

The aftermath of the two-day storm presented a desolate picture Monday morning. Where rapidly growing cotton and feed crops were evident only a week before, stubs, erosion and standing water were the rule on many county farms this week.

The saturated land refused to take the deluge and rushing sheets of water cut its way through fields, covering crops and roads throughout the storm area. "I have

OPENS FRIDAY AT BCC

Invitational Is Slated

Qualifying and medalist rounds will open Friday in the Fifth Annual Brownfield Invitational golf tournament, according to J. O. Burnett Jr., tournament co-chairman.

A field of some 100 state golfers are expected to tee off in an attempt to claim winner, runner and consolation trophies offered in each flight.

Burnett said it is unknown whether Rex Baxter, who won the tournament last year, will be able to attend this year's event. The Amarillo golfer is a member of the U. S. Walker Cup team and recently won the Trans-Mississippi Tourney.

Entry fee for the event will be $10. Qualification scores may be phoned to C. G. Griffin, country club pro, until 7 p.m.

Ensign Lyle Shelton In Advanced Flight At Naval Station

Ensign Lyle Shelton, son of Postmaster and Mrs. Joe Shelton, reported May 16 for advanced flight training at Cabanis Field, Corpus Christi.

Shelton will complete approximately 50 hours of instrument training in the T-28B trainer during the first phase of his tour at Cabanis.

After five months of intensive study, he will receive his Navy flight wings and will be assigned to a squadron as a pilot.

Prior to entering the service, Shelton was graduated from Brownfield High School and received his B. S. degree in petroleum engineering from Texas Tech in 1955.

Union School Exes At Annual Meeting Sunday

More than 100 attended the second annual gathering Sunday of Union High School exes in The Party House.

From the group were chosen the 1957-58 officers: Darrell Lewis as president; Bob Luker, vice-president, and Mars R. L. Lewis, secretary-treasurer.

The reunion next year will be held on June 4.

Guests were registered from Fort Worth, Lubbock, California, Fort Sumner, N. M., Portales, N.M., and several other cities.

Friday, Burnett reported. A barbecue and entertainment is slated for Friday night. See No. 5 Page 2

Farmers May File For 3-Cent Refund

Terry County farmers may file claims for the three-cent federal tax on gasoline used for farming during the 1957 fiscal year beginning July 1, according to Jim Foy, county agent.

Farmers may submit the claim on Form 2240 anytime from July 1 to Sept. 30, reported Foy. "However, only one form is permitted for each user."

The agent said a copy of the form with an instruction sheet soon will be sent to the old address of those who made claims in 1956. "The agent's office will have a limited supply of Form 2240, instruction sheets and revised publication number 308 for new users of farm fuels," added Foy.

THE SQUARE AROUND What's New?

By Weldon Callaway

One of the biggest jobs about trying to write a column is getting started... but if you folks will keep giving me the news, well I'll keep trying.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Plotner stopped over in Brownfield Monday on their way to Farmington, N.M. Kenneth said it was awfully warm down in Mississippi — and plenty wet, too. He's Dunlap's manager.

Don't forget — Monday is Dollar Day in Brownfield—and Sunday's edition will carry outstanding bargains to be found in the local stores.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Canipe and daughter, owners of Fashion Fabrics, are vacationing this week in Oklahoma.

Copeland Hardware is having a big sale on RCA Victor TV's — see their ad in this week's paper.

It looks as though the remodeling of Franklin's is about completed — and I think Mrs. Herschel (Martha) McKay is ready for it to be over with.

Cost of Some Postal Services Will Be Hiked Here, Says Postmaster Shelton

Fees for insurance, registration, certified mail, money orders and other special services will cost more for Brownfield Post Office patrons, effective Monday.

The hike in fees was announced here earlier this week by Postmaster Joe Shelton, and will be nationwide.

In most cases, Shelton explained, the increase applies only to the minimum fee. For example, he said, minimum cost of money orders will be jumped from 10 cents to 15 cents, but the maximum fee has been reduced from 35 cents to 30 cents.

The minimum fee for insurance, 10 cents, is to remain unchanged, but fees for valuations higher than $10 are to be hiked slightly.

Cost for sending certified mail, the postmaster said, will be 20 cents instead of the present 15 cents.

Said Shelton: "I would like to point out that because of the much higher fee for

Chinese Nationalist To Study Communications

GEE GEE PRIVITT
Staff Writer

As an official representative of the Ministry of Communications of the Chinese Nationalist Government on Formosa and as an unofficial goodwill ambassador for his country, Chen Yung-Shiang (or Paul Chen) can be given a vote of confidence.

The slight, smiling Chen is in Brownfield for two weeks to study carrier operations of the General Telephone Company of the Southwest.

Reason for his location at this particular office is the large volume of equipment and carrier operation from the company's offices here, particularly the toll-operator dialing system being put into effect now.

Brownfield now is partially on this system, which is the direct dialing by the operator to the town to which a long-distance call has been placed, and will be completely under the system by July 7, along with surrounding towns. Sweetwater will be a sectional center for the system, and Lubbock will be a primary center.

This, along with the many other facets of carrier communications, is being absorbed through study and work by Chen. He is in the United States for one year under auspices of the International Cooperative Administration, which is a branch of the Four Point Program.

As in all other countries with the exception of the United States, the telephone system in Formosa is government-owned. Chen is chief of the carrier section of the Taiwan Telecommunication Administration of Ministry of Communications for his government, a post he has held for 10 years.

Until he recently came to the San Angelo office for further research, he had been with a North Carolina company for a six-month survey.

Although Formosa is only one-fiftieth the size of Texas, the population totals about 10,000,000 (Texas is 8,000,000). There are some 40,000 telephones on Formosa, Chen said of which about 60 per cent are dial instruments.

Very few homes, in comparison, have telephones but, of course, all businesses have them. The reason for the small percentage of telephones? "Telephones cost too much in Formosa!"

All equipment, indeed practically every item necessary for living on Formosa, must be imported and as a result are very dear, currency-wise.

"The government has progressed tremendously since 1950," Chen said, "and would like to go further ahead, but everything costs too much on Formosa!"

A graduate of Taiwan Engineering College in 1936, Chen worked for the Manchuria Telephone and Telegraph company for 10 years prior to entering the Formosan government service. He lives with his wife and three children, ages 7, 9 and 11, in Taipei, Taiwan. His parents live in southern Formosa and are Buddhists. Chen's children attend a Presbyterian school in Taipei, a city of 700,000 population.

'FROM THE PRESIDENT' — The personal regards of the President of the United States were conveyed here Tuesday when Col. Morris S. Schwartz of Austin, director of Texas Selective Service System, presented a certificate of appreciation to Murphy W. Luna, Plains rancher who has served continuously for 15 years on his local draft board. The scene above is during the ceremonies in the Brownfield State Bank offices of Local Board 116. From left: Edwil W. Wright of Sundown, Col. Schwartz, Luna and Bruce Zorns of Brownfield. Wright, Luna and Zorns comprise the local board, which embraces Terry, Yoakum and Hockley counties. Others present for the event were T. F. Lindley of Seminole, district director within the system; W. B. (Red) Tudor and Clovis Kendrick of First National Bank; Al Muldrow, Brownfield oilman-farmer; Burton

Hackney, Brownfield attorney; Marie Merritt, board clerk, and Mrs. David Nicholson, assistant. After his introduction by Zorns, the colonel told the group that there were less than 15 men in Texas who could count 15 years of service. He expressed firm praise for Luna and the local board, saying, "These men are dedicated. They must be versatile, they must know the local situation, and they must deliver the manpower when it is needed. They are the ones who must maintain the inventory of U.S. manpower in these times we must 'best' Russia with our brains." Luna's certificate bore the signatures of the President, Lt. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, who directs the National Selective Service System, Gov. Price Daniel, and Schwartz. (Staff Photo)

Windows Are Broken

A survey of Brownfield insurance companies revealed an estimated 88 Terry farmers had filed hail claims by Wednesday morning. Agents indicated damage ranging up to 100 per cent loss was sustained on approximately 10,000 acres of hail-insured land.

Hail also took its toll in battered windows and roofs of homes.

The wind-driven pellets of ice collapsed window screens and broke out the glass in the home of Weldon Mason, who farms near Brownfield Country Club.

The greens at the country club sustained heavy damage as an estimated 5 inches of rain and hail struck the golf course. Plastic rain gages in the vicinity were battered to pieces, leaving most rain measurement to guess-work.

Saturday night's severe electrical storm destroyed the Earnest Carr home in Union Community, when a bolt of lightning ignited it. Carr's mother, the only person on the farm at the time, later was found in the barn in a dazed condition. She was reporting resting well Monday at the home of another son, Alfred Carr.

Meanwhile, at Washington the House Agriculture Committee set hearings for Wednesday on bills sponsored by Senator Yarborough to give financial assistance to farmers whose crops were damaged by floods and heavy rains this year.

Under the bills, any acreage of a basic commodity destroyed or damaged seriously in a disaster area would be eligible for cash payments for this year only equivalent to payments under the Soil Bank program.

Producers of a basic commodity in a disaster area could participate in the emergency program to the extent their acreage was reduced below their allotment because of floods or rains.

SOIL LABORATORY MAN RELEASES INFORMATION

Manager of the Farmers Soils Laboratory in Roswell, N. M., Hollis Oliver, Wednesday telephoned Brownfield with the following information:

Rain and hail destroyed most cotton last July 3 in the Roswell area. The manager and other persons experimented, and reached the following conclusion:

If the cotton stems are left alone, and if the middles are broke out and if a nitrate form of nitrogen fertilizer is put into the middles, chances for a good—though late-cotton crop are excellent.

The experiment at Roswell yielded 75 per cent returns of normal. Oliver said he would be here Friday at Goodpasture Soils Laboratory for discussions with Terry farmers. Telephone 3581.

Despite the fact that Chen never spoke a word of English until four months before he came to the United States, he has excellent command of the language and even understands "slang" expressions with which the average American's conversations are peppered.

The popularity of Chiang Kai-Shek has never wavered, according to Chen. "In fact he is probably more popular than ever," he says, enjoying the spotlight with the ICA, sponsors of Chen's program. "We in Formosa think very highly of this group and appreciate what their efforts have done for our country."

This is Chen's first visit to America, and he was immediately struck by its size, its living standards, but most of all "the people are so friendly, for which I would like to thank you," he smilingly told this reporter. And, although nothing like the USA, living standards of Formosans are quite high and are on the increase, Chen stated.

Chen will be with the San Angelo office for approximately three more months before going to the Lenkard Carrier factory in San Carlos, Calif., for advanced training in mid-September. He will return to Formosa from there.

Three men being held in Terry County jail pending transfer to Huntsville State Prison, apparently do not "cotton" to the idea of spending three to four years as a guest of the state.

The effort failed and Sheriff James Fulford, finding the results of the attempt Saturday morning, had a steel plate welded over the window opening to bar further attempts.

Her husband, who was expected to return here Wednesday from a fishing trip in Colorado, will find only battered stubs where a flourishing cotton crop stood when he left. Cadillac America At Its Bountiful Best!

You are looking, as you surely know, at a magnificent motor car—beautiful, luxurious, substantial and inspiring.

But you are also looking at tangible proof of the bountiful land that is America!

Certainly, for instance, no one could behold a Cadillac without gaining new respect for our freedom to create and to produce. For where but from America could there come a motor car so rare in beauty or so marvelous in quality and luxury?

Surely, no one could take the wheel of a Cadillac without appreciating our nation's industrial skill and progress. For where but from America could there come a motor car so fine in performance?

And most assuredly, no one could hear the practical facts about Cadillac without marveling at our nation's well-being. For where but in America could so prized a personal possession be brought within the economic range of so many?

We think it appropriate, therefore, to pay tribute to these precious American virtues—and to express our own gratitude at having been privileged to put them to such extraordinary use.

And we should also like to take this opportunity of personally inviting all America to see and inspect its "ambassador at large".

You will find that the 1957 Cadillac, with its luxurious Fleetwood coachcrafting, is the finest "Standard of the World" ever created. And you will also find that this is the perfect moment, from the standpoint of both delivery and economy, to make the move to Cadillac.

three percent that can be paid on bonds, which prescribed by law, is a limiting factor." "How is the Program progressing?" Commissioner Rudder said he is frequently asked. "We are processing a few loans as money becomes available from the revolving fund created by bonds sold during the first Program. We are also watching the money market very carefully and exploring every possibility of sale. The bonds will be offered again just as soon as we feel there is a possibility of selling them," he said.

"So far, we haven't been able to sell our bonds," the Commissioner continued. "When a second $100,000,000 bond issue was passed by voters in November, many veterans assumed that loans would be available immediately. This has not been the case," Commissioner Rudder said. "Aside from time necessary to enact legislation putting the new Program into effect, inability to sell the bonds has prevented the Program from developing as was hoped. In addition, the maximum rate of

In summing up the situation, Commissioner Rudder said he hoped that veterans who now have applications pending will understand problems involved. He indicated that applications are still being processed in the order in which they are received when money is or becomes available. Mrs. E. D. Ballard of 802 East Broadway and her sister, Mrs. T. S. Doss of Littleton, the maximum rate of field visited Sunday in Albany.

Chit Chat

This week has been a most interesting one all the way around. Dallas was hot and if any of you give a flip flop, all the old ex-natives seem to be doing okay. If you think Mary Ballard is crazy, you should get tangled up with her big sister Lena Mae, alias Mrs. O. G. Cheek, who, along with her child-dog Span, visited for a few days. Considering that I consider myself a pretty fine connoisseur of the wisecrack, it kept me right busy trying to keep up with Lena. And it was really fine fighting the war all over again with the old Air Force buddies from Pennsylvania whom we went to Dallas to meet.

Something of interest to me and I'm sure to you also is the proof that all cops aren't hard hearted and looking for trouble. Saturday afternoon Marie Merritt, who is head of our draft board and who lives in Mrs. Dora Smith's duplex on west Broadway, cut her hand quite badly. She called the operator and asked for an ambulance, but the operator called the local police, who dashed over immediately. They called the ambulance and after finding that Marie had only nearly severed her right thumb, including the cutting of an artery, left her in the capable hands, of the sawbones and returned to Marie's apartment and cleaned up the blood and whatnot. Which is not necessarily anything unusual except for the fact that it was above and beyond their call of duty and was a really wonderful thing to do. I know that Marie was most grateful and it makes me feel sort of good to know that we have a crew of swell guys on our police force.

Want to clue you in on a business in Brownfield that I must confess I don't know exist- Don and Norma Hewitt, who have fairly recently moved to their new home at 1213 East Reppto, have one of the finest collections of antiques I've seen. I will not tell you that I'm an expert on antiques, but I know a smattering about them and I know what's pretty and unusual. Their's is not what you'd call a full-scale operation, but the things they have are striking and will make wonderful accessory pieces.

Reese Chaplain Speaks To Group

The Women's Society of Christian Service met in the parlor of First Methodist Church Monday at 9:30 a.m. Mrs. Burton Hackney opened the meeting by reading scripture from Matthew. She then introduced Chaplain Holmes from Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock who addressed the group.

During a business meeting, presided over by Mrs. J. C.

Such as a fine old oak washstand with brass hardware and excellent carving on the doors... the price will make you ask again, it's so down-to-earth. They have walnut pieces, also, that will blend with any period furniture (yes, even modern) beautifully. I think one of the most unusual things about antiques is the uses they had in the days when every home had one.

Such as a portable shaving mirror with roll top comb case and shelves to hold candles. Norma was telling me that, back 60 or 70 years ago when these were in use, the piece was probably the only mirror in the home and was carried from one room to another as it was needed. Now it can be used in a home for a what not shelf, in a toy holder or almost anything to add that extra fillip to the decor. Not only do the Hewitts have these furniture pieces, but they have numerous pieces of fine silver and china, as well as press glass (a piece of which Norma made me a gift that I will love using). She has several fine pieces of bullseye glass, which is a popular collector's item. I understand, and some gorgeous solid sterling silver fruit knives. Not to mention many picture frames and a wonderful oblong shaped fruit print in a gilded frame. In fact, I wish you'd go by and see the wonderful Bristol ware cologne bottles (these change color when held up to the light) and a magnificent cameo glass vase, along with her other choice pieces of ironstone and brass accessories. If you'd like to give her a buzz before going by, call 4506, but it's perfectly okay to drop by, Norma says. She'll be glad to have you and you'll be glad you went.

MAKES SOLO — A first solo flight was made June 7 by Naval Aviation Cadet, Bobby D. Lemons at Pensacola, Fla. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd F. Lemons of 901 Lubbock Road. In addition to solo flights, Lemons is being instructed in communications, navigation, engineering, athletics, aerology and civil air regulations. (U.S. Navy Photo)

Farewell Coffee Fetes Mrs. Gill

As a farewell courtesy to Mrs. Sherwood Gill, who will move with her family to Pampa in the near future, a coffee was held in the home of Mrs. Murphy May, 619 East Tate, Thursday from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Hostesses with Mrs. May were Mrs. Marion Bowers and Mrs. J. C. Powell, Jr.

The serving table was covered with a pink linen cloth and was centered with red roses. Tiny cinnamon rolls, a fruit plate and coffee were served by Mrs. Bowers to approximately 35 guests who called.

A hostess gift of linen and organdy luncheon sets was presented to the honoree. Criswell, members voted to send several girls to Lubbock to a missionary school. Announcement was made that the district WSCS meeting will be held in Brownfield Monday, beginning at 9:45 a.m. Committees were appointed for various district activities. Approximately 20 attended.

VOWS READ SATURDAY

Miss Burnett Is Bride

Miss Laura Lea Burnett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burnett of Wellman became the bride of Doyle Kenneth Criswell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Criswell of 701 East Hill, in a ceremony read at 8 p.m. Saturday in first Methodist Church.

marked the bridal aisle. Mrs. Pat Ramseur, organist, offered a prelude of nuptial music and played traditional wedding marches. She also accompanied J. W. Hawkins as he sang "Always" and "Because".

Wears Original Gown

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original model gown of white imported Chantilly-type lace and nylon tulle ruffles over net and satin. Designed with Sabrina neckline outlined with scalloped lace, the fitted bodice had long sleeves terminating in points over the hands with a wide satin sash tying in a large bow with ends at center back. From this stemmed a voluminous waltz-length skirt made of fully shirred lace with scalloped edge, outlining bottom, and a wide panel of tiny tulle ruffles highlighting the back. Crinolines worn underneath emphasized the fullness of the skirt.

Her short veil of silk illusion net was joined to a Juliet cap of lace embroidered with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a white orchid showered with white satin streamers and love knots tied to white roses. For something old, the bride carried a white linen handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Ruth Pace of Wellman. Her bridal ensemble was something new, and she wore a pearl necklace borrowed from Jerry Lee of Farmington, N.M. The blue garter she wore was a gift of Mrs. Carl Stephenson of Meadow, and the bride's father placed a penny in her shoe for luck.

Miss Stice Feted At Bridge Party

As a continuation in the series of pre-bridal courtesies staged for Miss Barbara Stice, members of Gala bridge club honored her at their regular club meeting held June 18 in the home of Mrs. R. N. Lowe, 321 West Cardwell. Hostesses with Mrs. Lowe were Mrs. Herbert Chesshire and Mrs. Leonard Chesshire.

A marine life theme was carried out in decorations. The serving table was laid with a brown cloth beneath an ornamental fishnet spangled with tiny golden shells. Hawaiian fruit punch was served from a golden punch bowl, and fresh fruit was arranged in a giant golden shell. Congealed lobster, avocado and cafe rio salads were served.

Magnolia blossoms arranged in large shells decorated the room, and a floating magnolia blossom ornamented the punch bowl. Favors were individual golden shell ash trays.

The hostess gift was an adjustable brass lamp.

Attending were the honoree; her sister, Miss Patsy Stice; her mother, Mrs. Orb Stice; and Mesdames Walter Hord, Jimmy Billings, Troy Noel, Coy Barnett, Eddie Ballard, Frank Ballard, Harry Cornelius, J. O. Rodgers, Burton Hackney, Harlan Glenn and the hostesses.

Mrs. Hord scored high at bridge and Mrs. Glenn was second high. Mrs. Rodgers and Mrs. Hackney binged.

MR. and MRS. DOYLE CRISWELL

Attendants Wear Pink — Mrs. Ann Bridewell of Ropesville was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Sue Rowland and Peggy Burnett, sisters of the bride, and Nelda Ellis of Brownfield. Their dresses of pink lace over taffeta were made identically with fitted sleeveless off-shoulder bodices and bouffant skirts of ballerina length. They carried white carnations.

Candlelighters were Don Criswell, brother of the bride, and Johnny Cabe of Carlsbad, N.M. cousin of the bride. Flower girls were nieces of the bride, Denise and Dianne Lee of Farmington, N.M. They wore short pink taffeta dresses with white gloves and hats enhanced with pink satin streamers.

Van Perry of Odessa served as best man. Ushers were Kenneth McDaniel of Odessa and E. V. Murphy of Brownfield. Groomsmen were Jerry Don Brown, Dick, Green and Bill Thompson.

Reception in Home — At a reception held in the home of the bride's parents, the couple was assisted in receiving by their parents and bridal attendants. Miss Gloria Angue of Brownfield registered guests from Denver City, Farmington, N.M., Carlsbad, N.M., Lubbock, Odessa, Prewitt, N.M. and Albuquerque, N.M.

Bouquets of the bridal attendants decorated the serving table, which was laid with lace over pink. An anniversary candle and a three tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bridal couple completed the setting. Assisting with hospitalities were Mesdames Joe Crowder, Roy Priest, Dube Pyeatt, and Carl Stephenson.

Will Live Here — The bride is a graduate of Wellman High School and attended California Air College in Los Angeles, Calif. She is employed with the Brownfield State Bank and Trust Company.

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do.

At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

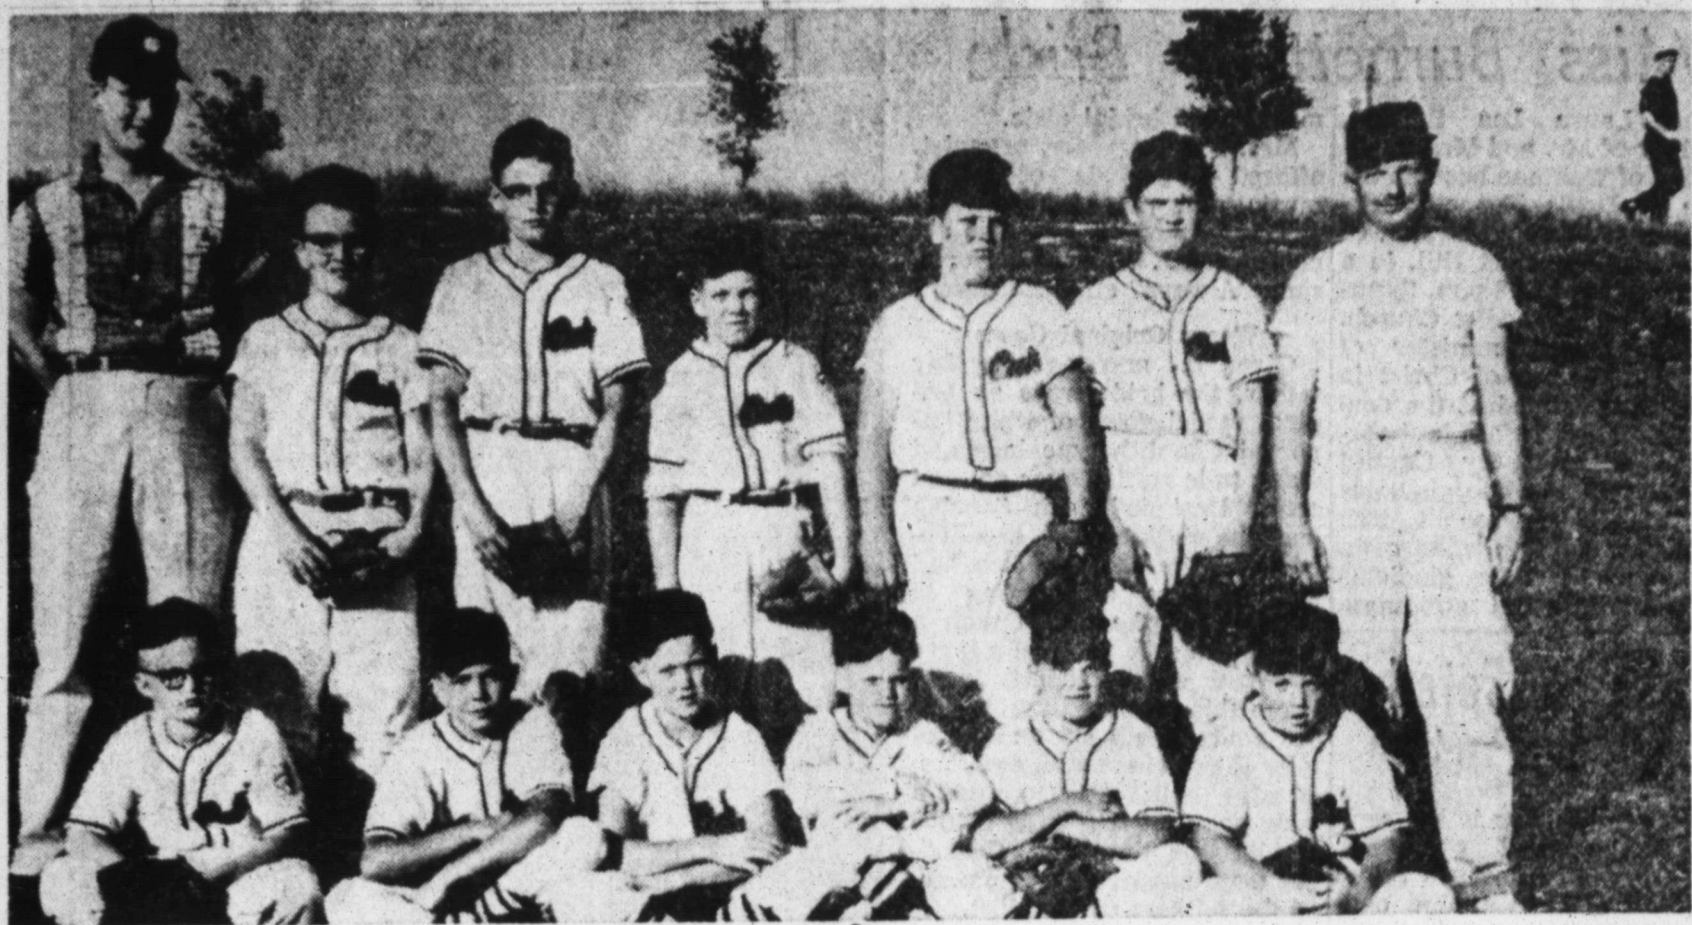

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.

Texas University To Observe 75th Year

AUSTIN — The University of Texas "Forty Acres" will be depicted from the day of redskins and tepees to the modern day student and the Tower by a special collection in the Texas Memorial Museum.

The display is now being assembled in the Museum in cooperation with the 1958 observance of the University's 75th Year. A Garland Adair, curator of history at the Museum, inaugurated the campaign to secure gifts appropriate for display during the 75th Year observance. Already given a place of honor in the Museum is the first Bachelor of Arts degree awarded by the University. The first graduate, Samuel Clark Red, received his degree on June 17, 1885. His diploma was signed by Dr. Ashbel Smith, San Jacinto hero and first chairman of the University Board of Regents; Dr. Thomas D. Wooten, regent who supervised construction of the first unit of the Old Main Building; Leslie Waggener, first faculty chair-

TEXAS UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR

Dr. Moehlman Heads TV Education Series

AUSTIN—The Texas Education Agency has chosen Dr. Arthur H. Moehlman, a University of Texas professor with broad teaching experience, to conduct 1957-58 television classes for public school teachers in its experimental "Teacher Recruitment and Education by Television" project.

The University has given Dr. Moehlman a leave of absence for the second summer term and the 1957-58 long session, allowing him to "star" in the TV series over a 16-station National Broadcasting Company hookup, originating at WBAP-TV, Fort Worth.

His statewide "class" will include college graduates who lack full teacher certification but who are approved by TEA to teach next year under emergency permits.

The television course for the first time is open to selected liberal arts seniors enrolled in any Texas college or university. Each person may enroll at the college of his-choice.

The Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education is financing the experiment, which may help relieve Texas' critical teacher shortage. The Texas Project in Teacher Recruitment and Education by Television, launched last year, received an additional $84,320 grant from the fund for 1957-58.

Dr. Moehlman will demonstrate and explain the art of teaching in 8:30 a.m. broadcasts each Saturday beginning Sept. 28. From time to time, he will present such guest instructors as Dr. A. J. Stoddard, Fund for the Advancement of Education consultant and former school superintendent in Los Angeles and other large U. S.

cities; Dr. L. D. Haskew, University of Texas vice-president for developmental services and college of education dean, and L. P. Sturgeon, Texas State Teachers Association public relations director.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, Texas education commissioner, said TEA is fortunate to obtain the talents of Dr. Moehlman, who has a background in both liberal arts and the history and philosophy of education.

"The University feels highly honored that one of its faculty members was chosen to carry on this very adventurous and forward-looking program in the education of teachers," Dr. Haskew said. "We are certain that the TEA made the ideal choice in selecting Dr. Moehlman to be the teacher for this course."

Another university instructor also has been tapped for the TV project, Lyle Hendricks of the Radio-Television staff. He will handle technical aspects of the program.

Dr. Moehlman has become well-known among teachers throughout the state since he came to the University of Texas in 1954 from the University of Iowa.

At the University, he has served on the Institute of Latin American Studies executive committee, worked with college of arts and sciences committees, and introduced new courses in comparative education and higher education.

mented with audio-visual materials and instruction with the bureau of education research and the school of the air, while teaching in the university's elementary and secondary schools.

Dr. Moehlman has traveled and studied extensively in Europe, Asia and Latin America and has become acquainted with many parts of the world while on military duty or serving as an education consultant. He was a research professor at the Sorbonne, University of Paris in 1951-52, studying recent developments in education in France.

Law Week Award Goes To Texas Law Student

AUSTIN—The Bureau of National Affairs, Inc., Washington, D. C., has granted a Law Week Award to James Edward Brill of Houston, University of Texas student who received his law degree in June.

The award, made to the senior law student who has made the most satisfactory scholastic progress in the last year, is a year's subscription to the United States Law Week, legal profession news magazine.

Grades Show Ends Pace Tech Gridmen

When spring semester grades came out, Tech's ends continued to pace their teammates.

Pat Hartsfield, alternate captain from Lubbock, majoring in secondary education, had two A's, four B's, and a C, and the other probable starter, mechanical engineer Gerald Seeman of Fort Worth, earned three A's, four B's. Reserve Todd Henson, San Antonio Harlandale ex, received three A's, a B, a C, and a D in his industrial management course.

Quarterbacks fared well, too, with Amarillo's Wick Alexander leading them with his three A's, two B's, and a C. Wick is a pre-dental major.

Non-Shattering Variety Of Sesame Developed

A new non-shattering variety of sesame has been developed in the cooperative plant breeding program of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This new variety, Delco, like other non-shattering varieties, does not open at maturity and may be harvested mechanically.

A leaflet just released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, "Delco, a New, Non-shattering Sesame", gives a description of the new variety, seed characteristics including size, color, flavor, content and use, methods and procedures of mechanized harvest, yield and source of seed.

Railroad passengers traveled 28 and a half billion miles during 1956.

Furniture Should Be A Planned Investment

Ever stop to think how much money newlyweds invest in home furnishings — especially furniture? Or how many times a costly suite or piece of furniture chosen in a hurry, turns out to be a "white elephant?" Selection of furniture reflects taste and judgment as well as a financial investment, according to extension home furnishing specialists. Careful choice will pay dividends in savings and satisfaction.

Choose design carefully. Comfort is not a matter of the size and amount of upholstery, but one of clever design. Look for graceful, simple lines and good construction. Consider care and upkeep.

Furniture should be appropriate to your way of living. The furnishings should have the same general feeling so that they will be appropriate to each other in design, texture and color. You can assemble pieces of any period in one room, or you can combine light and dark finished woods—just be sure to let one period and one finish dominate.

DOGS ON AUTO TRIPS

by Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

To take your dog on vacation with you, or not to take him. That's a problem confronting many of you these days. If you pack him off to a kennel or park him with friends or neighbors, you'll be wishing he was along and worrying that he may be pining away with loneliness. Dogs are very adjustable and chances are that he's settled right down in his new surroundings and not missing you half as much as you think or hope he is. So if you plan to leave him at a reputable kennel or with some dog-loving friend, enjoy your vacation and don't worry about him.

If, on the other hand, he's to be included in the vacation plans, there are a few things

Dog of the Week:
WELSH CORGI (Pembroke)

Working dog. Average weight, 20 to 24 pounds; shoulder height, 10 to 12 inches; coat, of medium length and dense, not wavy; color, red, sable, fawn, black and tan or with white markings on legs, chest and neck.

you should know about traveling with your pet. If it's a motor trip, be sure to know ahead of time if driving agrees with him. Some dogs get car-sick. Your veterinarian can give you pills that will eliminate this problem. Feed him lightly a few hours before starting out, whether or not he gets car-sick, and withhold the water. Try to stick to his regular feeding schedule, however, and serve him dinner at the usual time. Also, stop to give him a run when he is accustomed to getting an airing. Make sure the dog stays in the back seat of the car. It's safer for the driver. Also, don't let him hang his head out of the window. The constant rush of air may irritate his eyes.

Feeding Tip: The simplest way to solve the feeding problem of your pet when on vacation is to give him an all-purpose prepared dog food such as Friskies cubes, meal or canned food. Any of the three contains all the nutrients needed to keep your dog in the pink.

Extension Specialist Reports That Hay Is Essential For Good Forage Programs

Hay is an essential part of most successful and well-rounded forage programs, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Even when pasture is provided, hay will serve as a valuable supplement, for when cows are grazing plant that are 80 to 85 percent moisture they do not get enough dry matter to satisfy their body requirements.

Planning will pay off in hay production, says Trew. The producer must first consider the kind and amount of hay that would best feed his livestock. Then he must consider his facilities.

If he does not have the proper haying equipment, storage facilities and land for hay production, he may find that buying the hay would be cheaper than producing it.

Proper seedbed preparation is necessary when hay crops are to be planted. The fertility requirements depends on the condition of the soil and the kind of hay being produced.

Cutting the hay in the proper stage is also important for it has a direct effect on hay quality, says the specialist. Sorghums should be cut in the hard dough stage or later; Alfalfa in one-tenth to one-fourth bloom stage; Alyceclover and Sericea lespedeza when 12 to 15 inches high; Coastal Bermuda when 16 to 18 inches high; cowpeas when the first pods turn yellow soybeans when the pods and seed are fully formed and vetch when the first seed are half formed.

In general, the younger the crop at time of cutting, the higher the quality and the lower the yield. The crop should be cut at the time to give the best combination of yield and quality.

Proper curing of hay is very important, for this is one of the more critical stages in hay production. Curing should be completed as quickly as possible to prevent loss of quality from sunlight, rain and dew.

Overcuring results in losses of leaves, nutrients, dry matter and color while undercured hay is high in moisture and often heats, molds and spoils. Legumes should be wilted and windrowed for curing to prevent loss of leaves but this is not necessary for grasses. Hay may be chopped and stored loose to save on labor and baling and storage.

Specialist Says Milk is Best Cold Drink

Do you reach for something cold to drink on these hot summer afternoons? Frosty, cold milk is your best choice, both flavor-wise and nutrition-wise, according to Maeona Cox, extension foods and nutrition specialist.

A glass of milk is refreshing anytime during the day. It serves as a quick pick-up for young or old.

Milk is not fattening. An 8-ounce glass of whole milk has only 166 calories. This is just a small percentage of the 2,000 needed daily by the average woman. Skim milk has even fewer calories.

It's high in other food values, so that each calorie is packed with nutrition.

An 8-ounce glass of milk provides one-third the calcium you need daily. Calcium is the mineral that keeps bones hard — and it helps muscles working better, too.

Texas Ranked First in Onion Production

Texas ranks first in the United States in total acreage planted to onions. The average annual production over a five year period from 1949-53 was about 4 1/2 million fifty-pound bags, representing about 11 per cent of our country's total.

A publication recently released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the United States Department of Agriculture gives much information on the principal areas of commercial production, varietal adaptations, varietal descriptions plus information on sources of seed and transplants.

The tremendously expanded onion-breeding program developed cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the U. S. Department of Agriculture has resulted in many new varieties and hybrids that in some instances have tripled the production of old varieties, according to the publication.

SCOT Urges Texas Sportsmen To Aid In Wildlife Program

Outdoor clubs and individuals have been invited by Sportsmen's Club of Texas to share the responsibility for making Texas secure for wildlife.

Toddie Lee Wynne, Jr., of Dallas, SCOT president, said the board of directors decided to throw the statewide unit's doors "wide open for any and all groups and individuals interested in better hunting and fishing."

Wynne pointed out that SCOT, comprising only an estimated one-third of Texas outdoor clubs, used its educational facilities effectively during the last Legislature to lift the state out of the conservation hole.

"But we had to do it the hard way," said Wynne. "The better way is to work with every man, woman and child, organized or not, to keep this program moving. Since the best means of successful operation is by education and personal contact, numbers certainly count."

Wynne added that another primary reason for a unified organization front is "to simplify our objectives and to coordinate our methods." He went on to say that "one of the great drawbacks to keeping Legislators interested in wildlife affairs is disagreement and conflict between outdoor groups."

"The result," said Wynne, "has prompted Legislators to surmise that if the so-called representatives of the hunters and fishermen could not agree among themselves, that it would be futile, and politically hazardous, to become involved. Last session we were able to assure lawmakers that at least the bulk of the hunters and fishermen backed the proposals SCOT sponsored."

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here, I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

Johnson's Newsletter

By LYNDON JOHNSON
U.S. Senator

Dear Friend: Total Federal expenditures for flood control and development of our water resources during all our national history amount to $16.8 billion. Since the end of World War II, the United States has spent approximately $60 billion for aid to other countries.

Our investments for flood control and for the development of water resources have lagged far behind the increase in population and the expansion of the economy.

Our population increased by 11.6 per cent between 1950 and 1956, and the national income increased by 42.6 per cent. But Federal expenditures for water projects actually were 14.9 per cent less in 1956 than in 1950.

Texas needs more dams. At a time when, by every sound standard, we should have been doing more we have been doing less. Our failure to do more has been costly in lost industrial opportunities, in heavy flood damage, in loss of human life.

Appropriation bills continued to occupy the attention of the Senate most of last week. By the end of the week we had acted on eight of these bills.

We made reductions totaling $1,386,950,179 in the eight bills. This represents a cut of about 7.5 per cent below the amount requested in the President's budget.

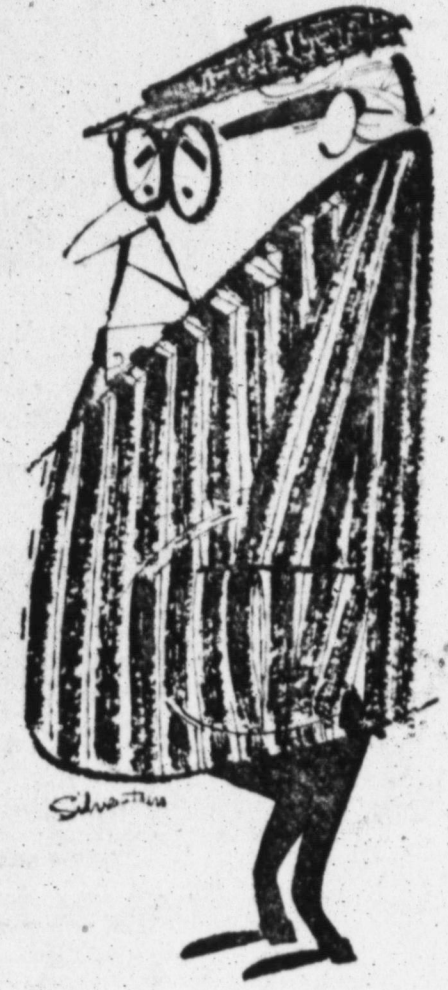

REA Co-ops will have to help pay the cost of the Administration tight money policy if a bill sent to Congress by the Budget Bureau is enacted into law. The bill would have Congress require Federal lending agencies to raise interest rates on REA and other farm and housing loans. I don't believe Congress will go along with this Administration proposal.

People are getting fed up with the gouging they are having to take in high interest rates. The Administration's policy is aimed at always getting a little more for lenders and toward charging the borrowers more.

Rev. S. Baxton Bryant, pastor of Whaley Memorial Methodist Church, Gainesville, opened a recent Senate session with prayer. He was here with 23 young people and sponsors from the church... L. L. Williamson, principal of Spring Hill School in Longview, brought 16 members of his student body and faculty for a visit... Lady Bird and I sent Lynda away to summer camp and should have sent Lucy as well, because she caught a bad cold and gave it to me. Glad to say I feel much better now... I was happy to see my friends, the Fred Korths of Fort Worth... Wendell Mayes, prominent citizen and former mayor of Brownwood, was in town... I enjoyed myself when I spoke the other night before a dinner meeting at the National Democratic Club. Speaker Sam Rayburn will be honored this week at a similar meeting.

Mrs. Dee Davis of Mineral Wells has returned home after visiting her brothers, Claud and Heard Hester, and sister, Mrs. Ivy Ward for the past two months. Mrs. Davis came originally to be with her sister, Miss Mattie Hester, who passed away April 27. Heard Hester carried Mrs. Davis home and will visit a brother, Virgil Hester, and family in Waco several days.

Most of us spend one-third of our lives in bed and asleep.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo,
Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;
And while he got a "special deal"
His disappointment he can't conceal!
While others drive in Swept-Wing style
Poor Bill just mutters curses vile:
"They got new styling, features, too—
"I bought a "deal"—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

The judge has many duties in a trial.

He sees that it goes in an orderly way and according to the rules—in selecting the jury, presenting evidence, hearing the lawyer's arguments, instructing the jury, and bringing in the verdict.

Before the trial starts, the judge sees that the questions put to prospective jurors are proper. He excuses jurors. He must see to the proper conduct of the litigants, lawyers, and witnesses. He must put down public disturbances.

The judge must see that the lawyers keep within due limits in questioning witnesses, in arguing to the jury, and in their attitudes toward each other and the judge.

The judge tells the jurors their duties and what questions of fact to decide. He instructs them on what law controls the rights of the parties. He sees that the verdict is due in form. He must decide any requests for rulings by lawyers.

For example, after the plaintiff's lawyer has made his opening statement or presented his evidence, the defendant's lawyer may move for a judgment of "nonsuit."

This motion grants the plaintiff's facts but denies their cogency as a matter of law. If granted, the motion will not allow the plaintiff to recover judgment.

A directed verdict also ends the case before the jury can decide it. It is a decision by the court on a question of law.

Either plaintiff or defendant may concede the facts but deny, as a matter of law, their power to sustain the other party's case.

A judge may render a "judgment notwithstanding the verdict" after the jury has brought in its verdict, when he should have granted, but mistakenly denied, a directed verdict.

The judge now and then may rule on the law and thereby take the suit out of the jury's hands. His ruling in no way
