Approximately 47 Brownfield youths will depart Tuesday on a grand swing through the eastern half of these United States. Their destination: Valley Forge, Pa., site of the Fourth National Jamboree for Boy Scouts of America.

The Brownfield group will be part of the South Plains Council delegation, about 280 strong. A total of 24 towns in the council will be represented when the travelers arrive at the historic Pennsylvania site in seven air-conditioned buses.

After their return to Brownfield on July 23, the boys will tell of sites seen, people met and things done in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Michigan, New York, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Virginia, North Carolina, Tennessee and Arkansas, and Ontario, Canada.

HOWDY, TEX — Some 50,000 Boy Scouts attending the Fourth National Jamboree July 12-18 in Valley Forge, Pa., certainly will not fail to see and admire "Tex," the 20-foot cowboy which will serve as the gateway to the camp in which Brownfield youths are to be quartered. In the gateway stand, from left, Johnny Rodgers, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Rodgers of 1308 East Lons, and Allen Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Neal of 1211 East Reppto. Invitational To Open Here

Some 100 state golfers are expected to tee off here this week as medalist and qualifying rounds open Friday in the Fifth Annual Brownfield Invitational golf tournament to be held at Brownfield Country Club, according to J. O. Burnett Jr., tourney co-chairman.

The field will attempt to claim the championship title won by Rex Baxter Jr. of Amarillo, who also set a course record with a sizzling 64 last year. It is unknown whether Baxter will compete this year since he is a member of the United States Walker Cup team.

Entry fee for the tourney will be $10, which includes a barbecue and entertainment scheduled Friday night, reported Burnett.

Qualification scores may be phoned to C. G. Griffin, country club pro, until 7 p.m. Friday except for those who compete in medalist play, he added.

Match play will begin Saturday and semi-finals and finals will be run off on Sunday. Trophies will be awarded to the champion, runner-up and consolation winner in each flight.

The tourney chairman said the club swimming pool will be open during the three-day event and a lifeguard will be on duty.

Harry Goble shares duties with Burnett as chairman of the tourney.

Quartet of Burglary Suspects Are Jailed By Authorities Here

A San Angelo man is in Terry County Jail in lieu of a $1,000 bond set Thursday by Justice of the Peace Lonnie Rhyme. The man and three youths, who were transferred to San Angelo Saturday, are alleged to have burglarized Model Dry Goods Store Wednesday night.

Gustarvo A. Garza, 21, and three juveniles were apprehended by city policemen only minutes after the break-in occurred, said investigating officers.

Officers R. L. Bartley and F. D. McClintock stopped the quartet for a minor traffic violation and found two portable radios, a .45 cal. pistol, an illegal knife, a razor, a tool box full of miscellaneous items and a set of burglary tools.

An estimated $25 also was taken from the business house.

Officers said the tool box is believed to have been taken in a burglary at Plainview recently. Plainview police are in-

Weeping Lovegrass Seed Is Expected To Pay Good Returns

By CHARLIE MAPLE NEWS Staff Writer

Some 40 acres of Weeping Lovegrass, planted last year by a Terry County farmer, is expected to pay handsome dividends as he harvests the seed for a cash crop this week.

Though the experiment was begun primarily as a soil building program, George Weiss is harvesting an estimated 100 pounds of pure seed an acre.

This will be the second crop he has gained from the 1-year-old stand—a light crop was harvested last fall—and another harvested will be made in September.

Weiss, who is conducting the experiment on his farm 8 miles northwest of here in cooperation with Terry Soil Conservation District, plans to turn the grass under after the cutting this fall.

He reported he will rotate the grass throughout his cultivated land, planting at least one-fourth of the farm each year for erosion control and soil improvement.

In addition to his harvested seed crop, which he intends to sell commercially, a large amount of straw will be available to bale as hay for livestock.

Weiss said he planted the grass seed in 40-inch rows in the spring of 1956 and fertilized the crop. However, volunteer plants have grown between the original rows until the field almost is a solid carpet.

Helps Controls Erosion — TSCD conservationists said Lovegrass aids in controlling soil erosion through an extensive root system which loosens the sub-soil, yet binds the surface, making it resistant to water and wind erosion.

A new stalk and root system springs from the old plant each year, leaving the dead plant and root system to provide

No 'Chance' Is Seen For Bill To Assist Farmers in County

Chances appear nil for approval in Washington of a bill which would enable Terry farmers to place in the Soil Bank acreage on which crops have been destroyed this year by natural forces.

Word that the legislation, sponsored by Senators Ralph Yarborough, Mike Monroney and Robert S. Kerr, had small chance of passage was wired Wednesday by Cong. George Mahon to H. L. (Hub) King, Texas Farm Bureau director of Brownfield.

Said Mahon: "House Agriculture Committee conducted hearings today (Wednesday) on legislation which would enable farmers in disaster areas to now place land in Soil Bank. I cannot positively guarantee what may develop, but regret to report that my investigation indicates no chance for the passage of this legislation."

Insect Infestation Is Reported Heavier In South Plains Region

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Information in the following cotton insect situation release for June 27 is compiled by county agents vo-ag teachers, USDA and A&M College.)

Light to heavy rains fell over a wide area during the past week. Heavy hail damaged or destroyed stands of cotton on an estimated 85,000 to 100,000 acres. Damage was heaviest in Dawson, Floyd, Lynn, Lubbock, and Terry Counties.

Conditions were favorable for growth of cotton in areas not

Ruby Montgomery's Hobby Of Oil Painting Gives Her Rich Rewards

By ROSE JEAN HENSON NEWS Correspondent

"I love to paint, and I guess I'll paint until I die, or as long as my eyes hold out," said Mrs. R. L. Montgomery, as she smiled shyly and surveyed the numerous paintings adorning the walls of her newly remodeled farm home 7 miles north of Brownfield.

"Ruby and R. L." as they are fondly known by the young and old alike, were in the garden (or what was left of it after recent rains) when I paid them a visit late Monday afternoon.

As she gently patted the wet earth around the tender pepper plants, and coaxed a heartier tomato plant to stand alone after removing its "bucket shelter," I knew I had found what I was looking for.

It took no shrewd detection to see that Mrs. Montgomery had a love for nature, the emotional key that unlocks her unique artistic ability.

Said Thompson: "Today, we take great pleasure in dedicating to the use of man this fine gasoline plant built at a cost of many thousands of dollars to save the natural gas produced with oil from the Prentice Field. Tours of the facilities, music and a barbecue lunch served by Sundown Lions marked the four-hour event. Some 35 Brownfield persons were in attendance. (Staff Photo)

It's not the 100-degree temperature: I just feel a little melancholy today. Maybe it's not good to recall too much of the past, but what else is there to talk about when Aunt Maude comes to visit?

branches. Nothing unique in any of them—just common everyday folks resembling the bulk of our country.

One Is Bachelor

I suppose everyone has an Aunt Maude—a relatives who for the past four generations has served as the link that holds a family tree together.

This particular tree, (the Everett generation) Aunt Maude's limb had 13 children less than 90 years ago. Two died in infancy; 10 married, and one remained a bachelor.

Our tree, like so many others, has become so huge its branches stretch from coast to coast and claim perhaps 200

Nothing unusual about that. But what is unusual, is my Aunt Maude is one of the 10, and I'd like to tell you about her.

Her father died in his fifties, leaving my great grandmother and two daughters, one of them being Aunt Maude. The bachelor brother stayed on at the farm and looked after them.

In those days when we visited we were there to eat and if we traveled more than 30 miles, we spent the night, often "making down" four or five beds.

Aunt Maude, sometime later, had the misfortune to marry a man who felt inclined to "go" where the wild goose goes, and one day when the goose flew over, he left her with one small child and expecting another. He didn't follow the goose back and she hasn't seen him until this day—30 years later.

My fondest memory of her sitting in her rocker, usually in the center of the room, tapping on her Garrett snuff box. With a tender mosquito root as a tooth brush, she would swish it around until it was sufficiently saturated. Then she would open her mouth, pull one jaw open, just enough to place the "dip" in a comfortable position. It looked good enough to eat and it was a coveted honor for the grandson who reached Grandma first with her yearly supply of mosquito roots.

Being a timid soul, and lacking any formal training, she had no alternative but to go back home.

There she sat, her plump 100 per cent Irish body laughing and talking—repeating tales of the past that never lost their flavor—at least to me.

Resigned to her fate, she gratefully accepted the meager living my uncle was able to squeeze out of a rented farm in the Depression years, with never a hint of discouragement.

When Grandma passed on, the habitual pattern of visitation was continued by the older group as well as the neices and nephews until poor health and mechanized farming forced them to leave the farm.

Grandma was getting along in years and, quite naturally, the married children (all with large families) visited her regularly as long as she lived. In those days the kids "waited" while the grown-ups helped themselves to the choicest food—a practice I deplore until this day. Aunt Maude must have felt the same way, because she always saved back some chicken for the kids.

Today, she reminisces how she sometimes boiled a bushel of corn, two gallons of peas and a gallon of okra. She often fried six chickens, baked enough peach cobbler and biscuits to suffice, all one one stove. Not one time do I recall Aunt Maude ever complaining or showing any signs of frustration.

There were no paper plates—no disposable nothing. Each table setting was washed before the next sat down to eat.

When Grandma passed on, the habitual pattern of visitation was continued by the older group as well as the neices and nephews until poor health and mechanized farming forced them to leave the farm.

Aunt Maude, though attractive and smart enough, never entertained the idea of remarriage. She possesses a See No. 1 Page 6 organic matter to build the soil. If more farmers would participate in a grass-growing program, there would be less wind Aphids were observed in light infestations in Floyd, Hockley, Lynn, and Lubbock Counties.

Thrips populations increased on cotton in areas where rainfall was light. Although infestations were reported as light in a majority of fields, somewhat larger numbers were found in some fields in Briscoe, Floyd, Hale, Parmer, and Terry Counties, with heavy infestations reported in Hale County.

began to give an account of their shared lives together. "But we've got along," he said, as Ruby came back into the living room with the records she has kept of her oil paintings the past 30 years.

Her story unfolded quite naturally as she thoughtfully flicked the pages of recorded data. Natural, but with a sense of pride and humility, coveted by every human being who realizes the true source of his creative ability.

Had Wanted to Paint
She began, "Way back in Johnson County, when I was a little girl, I knew I wanted to paint, but I never got the chance. The nearest to painting I did in early childhood, was with crayolas. We didn't have the money or opportunity to learn any art. I want to John Tarleton College but I didn't do any painting until we moved to Meadow."

Mrs. Montgomery, who does only scenic views, has 221 pictures to her credit. In the 30 years since her "hobby" first began, she has sold 45 paintings, receiving only a meager sum compared to their actual worth.

"Oh, I sell a picture occasionally — just to pay expenses—the rest with the exception of those I have kept for my own collections, I have given away," she said.

"I get a lot of pleasure from painting and the profit comes, though not in dollars and cents, in seeing one of my pieces placed in the possession of friends and relatives who I know will cherish and admire them in the years to come." The largest painting Mrs.

Montgomery has done is a scene depicting the Jordan river, which enhances the baptistry in the Meadow Baptist Church where she and R. L., who is a deacon, have been members 30 years.

It is an 8x12-foot scene, as the artist visualized the famous river—though she had never seen an actual picture of it at the time. Later, when Dr. Pete O'Brian of Big Spring, returned from the Holy Land, he presented her with a print of the Jordan. Strangely enough, her painting favorably resembled the true scenic landmark.

Those who are members with R. L. and Ruby can vouch that—come rain or shine—when the church doors are opened, they will be there (on time) and prepared to render what service is needed in their respective places of worship. When the crowns for faithfulness are rewarded in heaven, this couple "shall not be found wanting."

"It takes about three weeks to do a picture and I usually have about three going at once," Mrs. Montgomery said. "I haven't done much traveling, so most of my work is taken from pictures that catch my eye."

Oddly, though true, Ruby has never attempted any West Texas scenes. Her work in recent years has been concentrated on "orders", requested by clients desiring their favorite hunting spots, or in the case of Red Newton of Brownfield, who proudly prizes his cabin at Colorado City, "done in oils."

Ruby says she derived more pleasure from doing Mr. Newton's cabin hanging on a bedroom wall, I could readily see why Mrs. Montgomery felt partial to this particular painting. It was beautiful.

As I admired a "copy" of Mr. Newton's cabin hanging on a bedroom wall, I could readily see why Mrs. Montgomery felt partial to this particular painting. It was beautiful.

R. L., who she says is her best art critic, says he doesn't mind when she gets so engrossed in her hobby and lets the "beans burn." He proudly

Not being gifted to see through the eyes of an artist, most of us can hardly appreciate or feel the fervent desire one has to re-create for man some of the dormant expressions that lie within the breasts of talented people.

"I love to paint and I love to give my work away,"—words so truthful and modestly spoken, yet they kept repeating themselves as I drove away in the dark.

As a man thinketh in his heart, so is he.

I am no art critic technically speaking, but I can see beauty in the simplicity of an everyday life—lived so honestly and discreet that the true colors of its influence shall flow fluently onto a canvas of its own.

In this instance—self-portrait—of Ruby Montgomery.

If You Don't Support Your Church Weekly—Your Church Will Be Weakly Supported

DEAR GOD

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure.
Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

Dear God... that's how this boy begins his prayers. How do you begin yours? Is God dear to you and near to you, or are you a wayward son who has strayed so long from home that you have forgotten your Father's address. No mind, He has not forgotten you, nor ceased to care for you.
"Fear not, for I have redeemed you; I have called you by name, you are mine." We may forget this, but He never does.

He invites every straying son to come home
today and learn again to say, "Dear God."
Go while it is day to His house and claim your sonship for the night cometh in which no man can find the way.

Was Her Philosophy
Though this kind and patient saint never has been blessed with much of this world's goods she has accepted what she had as being her portion and made the best of it.

Today, she said, "Rose Jean, I've never thought of life as being hard. I accepted each day and what it brought forth as my portion. I tried to do the best I knew how and didn't think of tomorrow until it was given to me."

With such a philosophy, it's needless to say she never has had an ulcer or hinted of a nervous breakdown.

Perhaps it's the Aunt Maudes who hold the world together; after all. Today, at least, I like to think so.

The Brownfield group will mingle with boys from all walks of life, of all races and creeds, will live together, exchanging skills, swapping hometown products and learning about the customs and traditions of many sections of the nation.

The national jamboree also will have an international flavor. About 500 Scouts and leaders are expected from Australia, The Bahamas, Brazil, Canada, Chile, Cuba, Denmark, Great Britain, Greece, Iran, Israel, Peru, The Philippines, Sweden, Switzerland and Venezuela.

Scoutmasters here explained Saturday that the Brownfield boys had earned most if not all of the money which they will need for the 22-day event.

Rites Pending For Tokio Woman, Son

Funeral services are pending for Mrs. Retha Nell Marshall, 18, and her 3-year-old son, Doyle Wayne, who were killed in a car-truck collision near Farmington, N.M., Friday afternoon. Seven persons died in the accident.

Mrs. Marshall is reported to have been en route to her parents' home when the collision occurred. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson of Tokio.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by Brownfield Funeral Home.

Chinese Nationalist Is Lions' Luncheon Guest

Chen Yung-Shiang, chief of carrier telephone equipment for the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa, gave Brownfield Lions a quick word sketch of his homeland at the organization's noon luncheon Wednesday.

The Rev. Marion Nelson of Portland, Ore., also attended the meeting.

Babe Ruth League Highlighted With Home Runs, Pitchin'

Don Carter, Pirate pitcher, undoubtedly can vouch that some days it does not pay to get out of bed after he tossed a 3-hit game at the Yankees Wednesday night in the Babe Ruth League and lost in a 5-2 upset. Woody Harbin threw a 2-hitter for the Yanks to win the game.

Jimmy Hackney, who pitched a 5-hitter Thursday, was assisted by a fifth-inning home run by Doug Coppock and an 11-hit attack by his Tiger teammates as they upset the league-leading Cardinals, 10-6. The Yankees added another upset victory Thursday as they clubbed the Red Sox, 13-9.

Harbin stroked a homer for the winners and Johnny Murphy and Glen Sanders put one over the fence for the loser.

Friday night produced two slug-fests as the Tigers beat the Dodgers, 12-5, and the Pirates ran rough-shod over the Cardinals by a 14-4 score.

Homers were stroked by Coppock and Hackney of the Tigers; Tommy Stockton of the Dodgers, and the Pirates' Carter, who slammed two over the fence.

Lee O. Allen of 703 East Cardwell and the Rev. Ralph O'Dell, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, returned today from a fishing trip to Conchos Lake.

MRS. J. W. HAWKINS

EMU Group Hears Former Teacher

Mrs. J. L. Reast was hostess when members of the Evangelical Methodist Union met in her home Thursday night.

Opening prayer was led by Mrs. William Mayo from Ecclesiastes 12, continuing the group's study on "Songs of Solomon."

Miss Maurine Doyle of Kansas City, Mo., spoke to the members on her years as a teacher in Pakistan.

Following a business meeting, Mrs. Thomason closed the meeting with a prayer.

Refreshments were served to Mes. Laura Riney, Evelyn Collins, Mayo, Thomason, Reast, Miss Doyle and Carolyn Jones and Linda Reast.

Miss Patsy Ann Lewis Married Friday To Charles Mayfield In Ceremony Performed in First Baptist Church of Plainview

Miss Patsy Ann Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Clarence Lewis of 305 Irene, Plainview, became the bride of Charles Edmund Mayfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ermond J. Mayfield, 1208 East Lons, in a ceremony read at 8:30 p.m. June 28 in the chapel of First Baptist Church in Plainview.

The Rev. Elton Lee Brian performed the double ring rites before an altar flanked with baskets of white gladiolus and palms with candelabra holding white tapers.

Miss Jeannine Greene, organist, offered traditional wedding music and accompanied John Ward as he sang "Thine Alone" and "The Lord's Prayer" and, as a benediction, "Have Thine Own Way."

Cousin Is Attendant
Mrs. Mick Mason of Plainview attended her cousin as matron of honor, and Carol Ann Mayfield, sister of the bridegroom, was bridesmaid. They wore gowns of ice blue eyelet organdy, fashioned with Sabrina necklines and matching yards and yards of billowing tulle, with shaped bouffant neckline, the immense fullness emphasized with hoops and crinoline.

Her long veil of imported handmade lace beautifully detailed with scalloped edges was joined to a bandeau holding ruffled fullness. She carried a white orchid showered with stephanotis and streamers atop a white lace fan brought from Brussels by the bride.

Miss Edwina Schovajsa of Littlefield was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Miss Patsy Hale of Brownfield and Peggy Jones of Goldthwaite.

They wore identical dresses of light green polished cotton fashioned with fitted bodices, vee-shaped necklines and bouffant skirts with orlon streamers in the back. They carried white lace fans topped with featured carnations.

Janie and Linda Golden, sisters of the bride, lighted candles, and flower girls were Kathy Kite of Iraan and Karen Hawkins of Wellman, nieces of the bridegroom, who carried white satin and maline baskets and strewed feathered carnations.

John Hawkins of Wellman attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Joe White and Joe (Duck) Weaver, both of Texas Tech.

Reception For Couple
A reception honoring the couple was held in Fellowship Hall. They were assisted in receiving by their parents and bridal attendants.

sashes forming large bows in back, with full skirts. Their headpieces were of blue crystal and net, and they carried single white roses.

Father Escorts Bride

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original gown of white imported Chantilly lace over net and satin. A Sabrina neckline framed with scalloped lace enhanced the bouffant, waist length lace skirt, fully shirred with scalloped edge outlining the hemline. A silk illusion net and her attendants' bouquets veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white roses showered with stephanotis atop a white prayer book.

For something old, she carried a handkerchief purchased in Paris, France, and her wedding ensemble was something new. She wore a blue garter, and her prayer book was borrowed, and for luck, her grandfather, W. G. Lewis of Plainview, placed a 1957 coin in her shoe.

Other Attendants Lister
Don Boyd of Hereford served as best man. Ushers were Delbert Bradley of Brownfield, Joe Don Auburg of Napa, Calif. and a cousin of the bridegroom, Billy Wilson of Lakin, Kansas.

The mother of the bride wore a gown of powder blue lace over taffeta with black accessories and a white rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue linen sheath with matching bolero, white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Reception in Parlor
A wedding reception honoring the couple was held in the church parlor. The couple was assisted in receiving by Misses Joan Womble of Morse and Jorene Clement of Amarillo and Mes. Joe Line and Martine Line of Lubbock and Willa Mitchell of Brownfield.

The table was laid with a white hand embroidered linen cloth centered with the bride's and a tiered wedding cake surrounded with white roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Guests attended from Delta, Colo., Lakin, Kansas, Amarillo, San Antonio, Lubbock and Brownfield.

To Live in Lubbock
For a wedding trip to New Mexico and Colorado, the bride wore away a sky blue sheath with matching linen duster, black accessories and a white rose corsage. The couple will be at home in Lubbock after July 7.

Mrs. Mayfield is a graduate of Brownfield High School and Wayland College. She also attended Texas Tech. The bridegroom is a graduate of Brownfield High School.

When they return to Lubbock to make their home, Mrs. Mayfield will teach in the Lubbock school system and Mr. Mayfield will resume his studies at Texas Tech, where he is a junior student.

Double Ring Ceremony Unites Miss Billie Stockton and Bobby Rutledge on June 8

Beneath an archway of greenery intersticed with wedding bells and flanked with baskets of white gladiolus, Miss Billie Diane Stockton became the bride of Bobby Rutledge at 2 p.m. June 8 in Immanuel Baptist Church. The Rev. Boyd Pearce, pastor of the church, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Ewell Stockton of 819 North Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Eber Rutledge of Meadow.

The organist, Miss Glenda Rae Bellew, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Miss Sally Rutledge, sister of the bridegroom, when she sang "O Promise Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Bride Wears Lace
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original gown of white applique lace, fashioned princess style with empire bodice enhanced with taffeta bow, rounded neckline, three quarter length sleeves, and full skirt. Her shoulder length veil of silk illusion net depended from a Juliet cap embroidered of seed pearls, and she carried a white Bible topped with white roses showered with Stephanotis.

For something old, she wore a ruby and yellow gold brooch belonging to her grandmother. Her wedding ensemble was something new and she wore a blue garter. Something borrowed was a white Bible belonging to Melba Willis, cousin of the bride, and her father placed a penny in her lace shoe.

Mrs. Gene Rowden of Oklahoma City was matron of honor. She wore a gown of pink dotted swiss, fashioned identically to the bride's and carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Hollis Smith was best man, and ushers were Kenneth Draper of Lubbock, brother in law of the bridegroom, and Marion Blaine Rutledge, brother of the bridegroom.

Reception In Church
A reception, honoring the couple, followed in the church. A centerpiece of pink flowers was flanked with the crystal punch bowl and the three tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bridal couple.

For a wedding trip to Murry Lake in Oklahoma, the bride chose a beige embroidered linen suit with blue accessories and white rose corsage. The couple is at home at 1911 27th Street in Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of

Here Are 10 Hints For A Safe July 4

As millions of fun-seeking motorists head for the lakes, mountains or beaches over the Fourth of July holiday, safety experts are hopeful that extra care and caution will keep the highway accident toll at an all-time low.

To help achieve this goal, Jeanne Smith, Dodge safety consultant, has prepared this list of 10 driving tips.

1. Control your temper when behind the wheel. Highways are crowded and travel is slow; don't "blow-up" and take unnecessary chances.
2. Start early, expect frequent delays and leave for home early, preferably during daylight.
3. Watch out for careless drivers who are over-anxious to reach their destinations.
4. Slow down, to allow passing extra room to get back into the right lane ahead of you.
5. Always give the other driver more than his share of the road.
6. Get into the proper lane well in advance of turning — and always signal your intention to turn or stop.

7. Pull your car entirely off the road when stopping for sightseeing or a roadside picnic.
8. Check traffic in all directions, especially to the rear, before pulling out of a parking spot onto the highway.
9. Reduce speed at sundown and drive within the range of your headlights.
10. Concentrate on your driving—it's a full time job.
