Capital Investment, Lots of Sweat and Much Patience Told As Qualifications for Entering Dairy Business, Say Owners

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

About a $30,000 investment, lots of sweat and a world of patience pretty well cover the qualifications of anyone wanting to get into the dairy business, according to Mr. and Mrs. James Burnett, who are dairymen just west of here.

Though the "milkmaid" of the family said she could not estimate how much they have invested in the business since they started in 1946, Mrs. Burnett said it requires a minimum of $30,000 to get started now.

The high school science teacher and his wife expanded their dairy operations this year to include a new walk-in milking parlor.

"We had to make the expansion to stay in business," explained Mrs. Burnett. "Our creamery last summer told us we would have to convert to bulk tank container by this September 1 or get out of the business—so we converted."

Bulk Tank Arriving
Conversion is not complete because the company does not have tank trucks available for pick-ups yet. "They are supposed to have the trucks available Sept. 1, so we won't have the bulk tank

Letter To Editor

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following is a letter from Archie Proctor and Harold Wilson, who are with Brownfield's scout group attending the Fourth National Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pa.)
Dear Don,

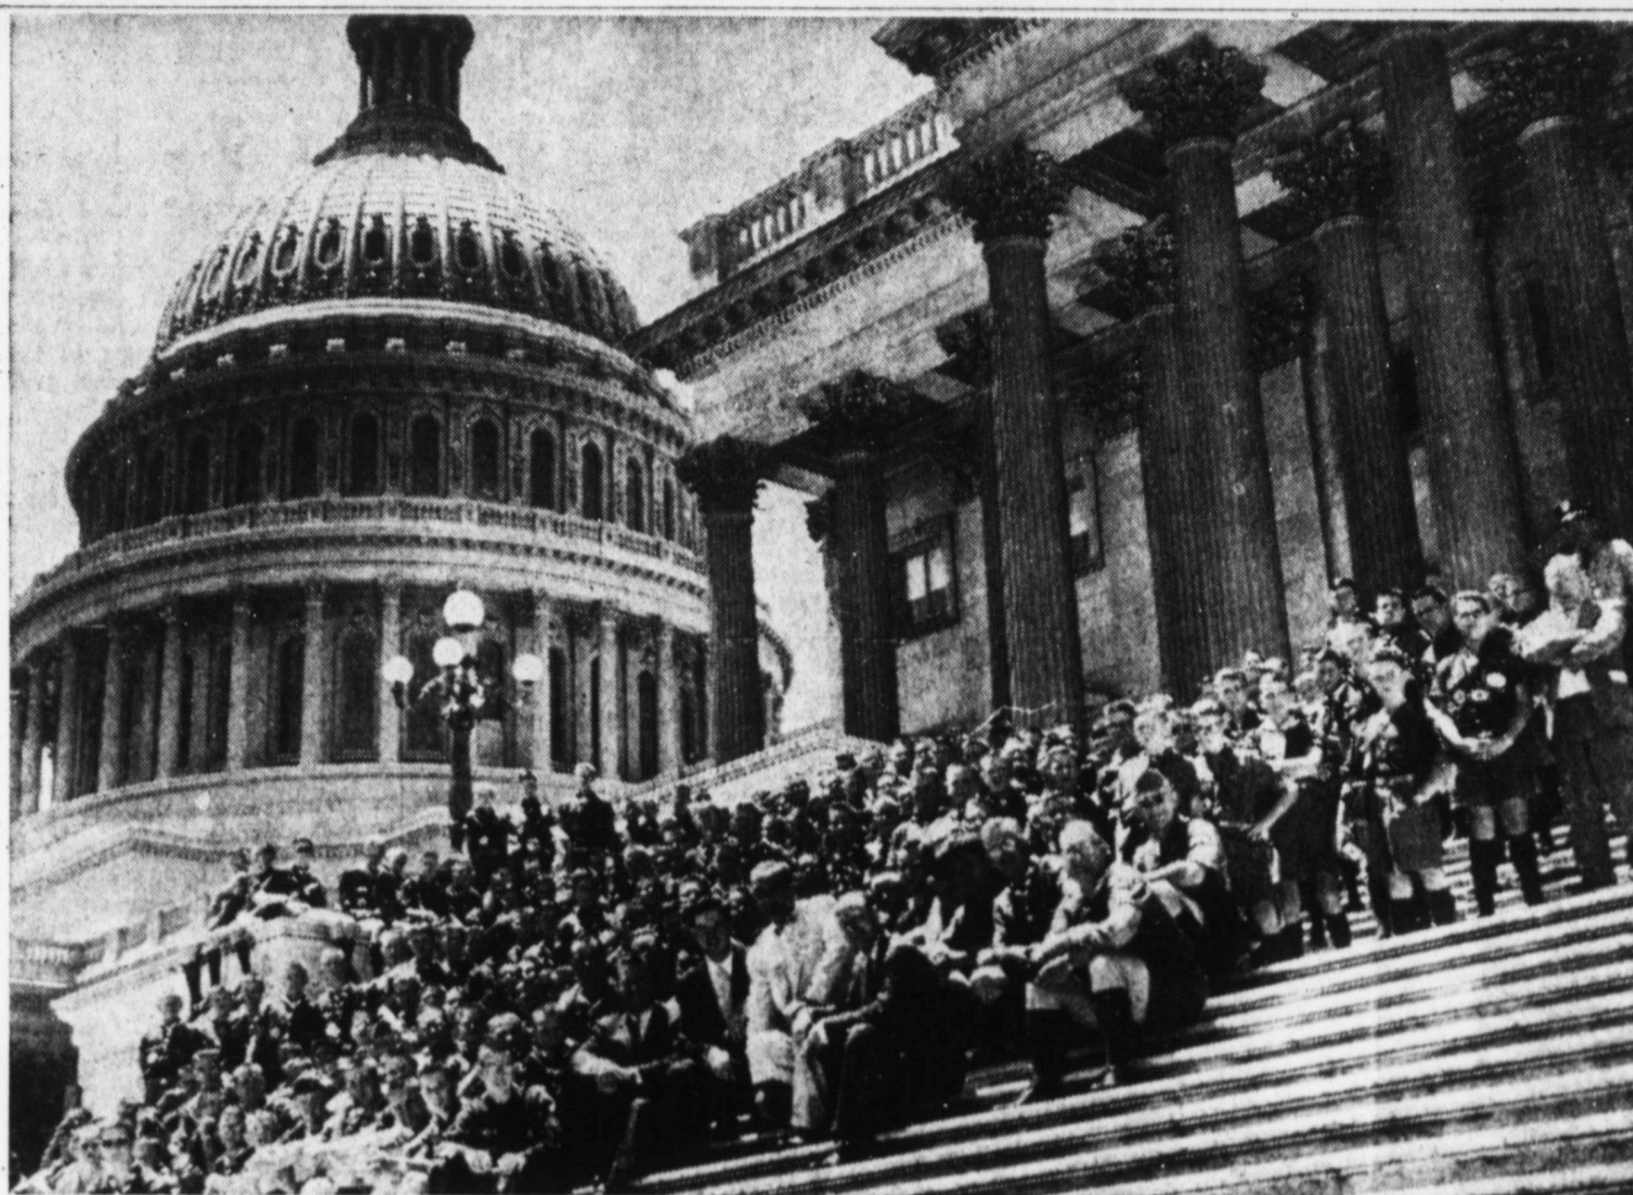

We arrived in Washington, D.C., at 11 a.m. Each scout in the 270-man party was personally greeted by a handshake from Representative George Mahon.

Mr. Mahon in turn introduced us to Senators Ralph Yarborough and Lyndon Johnson.

Pictures of the group were taken and then we were taken on a tour of the Capitol building.

A box lunch was served and we were taken to the Supreme Court building and allowed to go inside the room where the court is held.

Mr. Mahon then left us, but he sent his wife and staff to act as guides while we took a bus tour of the city. We made one stop at Arlington National Cemetery where we saw the changing of the guard at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier.

Here they are shown on the Senate steps of the Capitol with Texas Sens. Ralph Yarborough and Lyndon Johnson and Reps. Walter Rogers of Pampa and George Mahon of Lubbock. The Scouts, among them some 60 from Brownfield, toured the city, seeing the historic monuments, and then visited Arlington National Cemetery and the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. The Scouts are in the East for the Fourth National Jamboree, at Valley Forge, Pa. The Brownfield group is to arrive home sometime Tuesday.

Shows Little Jump Over 1956-57 Costs

Tax Rate Same Since 1952; Change Forecast

Trustees approved Tuesday the 1957-58 operating budget for Brownfield Independent School District. Total: $881,354.

The final action of approval was taken soon after a public hearing in Brownfield High School.

During the Tuesday session the tax rate again was set at $1.45 per $100 valuation. (The tax rate each year is at the discretion of the trustees. Legal limit, however, is $1.50.)

Trustees explained that the school tax rate in the district has remained unchanged since 1952. Property in Terry which is assessed for school taxes currently is valued at $36,580,000 of which some $22 million is oil property.

Since 1952, a total of $900,000 in bonds have been voted for construction in the district.

Although the rate has remained unchanged since 1952 the board noted that the "status quo" hardly could be maintained much longer.

In the next school year every available room, with the possible exception of one, in the five schools comprising the district will be occupied.

The number of scholastics in the district is increasing yearly; trustees pointed out, and expansion appears inevitable. And expansion probably will require some increase in the school tax rate.

The board also noted that the schools were operated in the 1956-57 year on some $5,000 less than was provided in that budget.

"In other words," said a spokesman, "we concluded that budget year with $5,015.37 to the good — operating with in about one per cent of the total approved."

To be effective Sept. 1, the budget approved Tuesday contains approximately 85 items ranging from salaries for teachers to textbooks to transportation to food to utilities.

In gist, the budget picture for the next school year looks like this:

For administration, $37,225. For instruction of white pupils, $531,359. For instruction of Negro students, $17,484. (Total for Negro and white, $548,843.) For other school services, $72,678. For plant maintenance, $26,000. For fixed charges, $6,733. For total operation of plant, $60,910. For summer school, $700. For adult education, $500.

Total of all current expenses for the 1957-58 school year: $754,589.

TO DETERMINE CANINE FREEDOM

Election on Tuesday...

The question of whether to allow Brownfield dogs to run at large or to keep them penned will be decided in voting which gets under way at 8 p.m., Tuesday in City Hall.

At issue is a proposed city ordinance which, if approved by the voters, will require that dogs be kept penned or on leash, that they be vaccinated and that they wear tags.

Balloting will be closed at 7 p.m.

AUG. 30 IN HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM

TCFB Queen To Be Selected

Groundwork was laid this week for selection Aug. 30 of the Terry County Farm Bureau queen.

Deadline for entering the annual contest is Aug. 16, said Mrs. R. D. Jones, chairman of the entry committee.

The queen will be chosen at 8 p.m., Aug. 30, in Brownfield High School auditorium.

Principal qualifications for contestants are: 16 years of age and not older than 22 on Sept. 1, single, and father or brother must be engaged in farming and a current member of TCFB.

Said Bob Etheredge, assistant county agent and director of publicity:

"All girls who are eligible to take part in this event are urged to do so. There are many beautiful eligibles here who probably would be proud to compete for the honor of representing Terry in a program to promote agriculture."

"Judging will be based on personality, poise and appearance," said Mrs. Tom Pettigrew, program chairman. She explained that three judges would make the selection. Contestants will wear full-length formal.

Winner will receive $25 and will compete on the District 2 level later this year. Runner-up will be given $15, and third-place winner will receive $10. Lessons in modeling and poise are scheduled for the contestants prior to the judging.

District 2 queen will receive $500 and a trip to the national Farm Bureau convention.

Home-made ice cream and cake will be served to the public after the Aug. 30 ceremonies in the auditorium, said Mrs. Winfred Tucker, chairman of the refreshments committee.

TCFB queen last year was Miss Donna Sue Christopher, daughter of Mrs. Don Graves and Ray Christopher.

Dog Haters Take Note

An increasing number of reports of poisoned pets recently have been phoned to the police department, according to Sgt. Jack Seales.

"Though some of the animals were valuable, monetarily or for sentimental reasons, we want to remind persons doing the poisoning that the big danger in the practice is that small children may get the poison instead of the animal," said Seales.

The officer urged that poisoning be stopped immediately before some child is the victim. "If animals become a nuisance, contact us — don't take the chance of killing or injuring a child," he added.

Light-to-Good Rains Reported in South Part of the County

Welcomed rains fell Thursday and Friday on much of the farming area in south Terry.

Jim Foy, county agent, reporting Friday morning that the fall was beneficial to much of the early grain—and some farmers who had begun irrigating now can wait.

Here are a few measurements from throughout the county:

W. H. Wagner, 14 miles south of Brownfield, reported about 3 inches. Said Mrs. Wagner: "We had a lake which had dried up, recently and been plowed. Thursday's rainfall gave us another 25-acre lake."

Some 1.5 inches fell on the H. E. Hancock farm, 15 miles south of Brownfield.

B. C. Horton, Meadow farmer, reported .2 inches in the northern part of the county.

James Thurman measured ½-inch at his home 2 miles southeast.

Grady Davis, 3 miles southeast, received approximately ½-inch.

Showers also were reported Thursday afternoon in the Tokio Community.

Leo Hawkins, 4 miles southeast of Wellman, got some hail but little damage in a 3.5-inch rain.

Jimmie Berryhill, farming 6 miles southeast of Wellman, also received 3.5 inches of moisture.

Brownfield Man Is Paid Tribute by 4-H Clubs in District 2

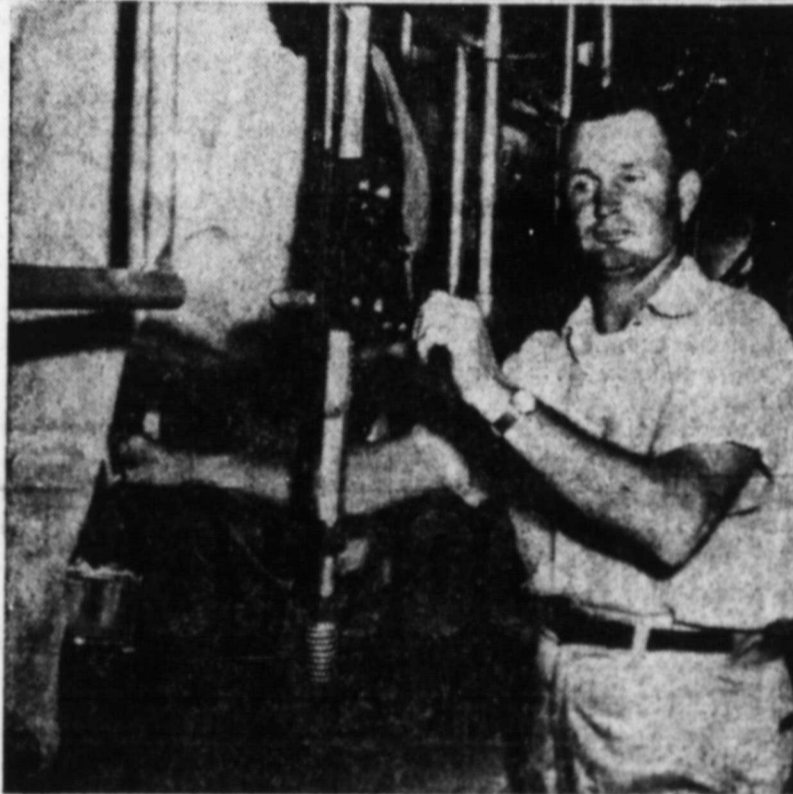

H. L. (Hub) King of 404 East Repto was named winner of the annual 4-H Club Spur award at the District 2 4-H Electric Camp in Lubbock Thursday night.

King received the honor for "outstanding contributions to 4-H Club work." It was presented at the district's annual meeting held Wednesday through Friday at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds.

July 14—Special services were held for Church of Christ, Morman, Catholic and Jewish boys. A 9 a.m. crowd of 45,000 boys went to the Protestant service in the main area. The main speaker was Dr. Louis H. Evans, minister at large of the Presbyterian Church. The choir was the Region II choir.

Opening campfire was started with a mass indian display.

This was followed by a roll call of the 12 scouting regions—each region hoisting its flag and giving a demonstration of places in its border.

Our region, 9, gave a skit of cowboys and indians.

Two speeches were given. One from Dr. Allen Shuck, chief scout executive, and another by Richard Nixon, vice president of the United States.

A pageant of the story of Valley Forge and a huge fireworks display concluded the

A district director of Texas Farm Bureau, King flew to Lubbock from Waco where he was meeting with TFB Commodity Advisory Committee.

The director has been active in 4-H Club and other Extension Service work for several years. He is serving his fifth year with the TFB.

The award was presented by Pat Shepard of Hale County, chairman of the District 2 4-H Council.

In accepting the award, King told some 120 youngsters attending the camp. "The future of agriculture lies with you 4-H Club boys and girls."

"There is one thing I would like to impress upon you," he added. "America needs and must have leaders in agriculture for tomorrow."

King lauded county extension workers as performing "one of the greatest works of mankind."

The 4-H Club Spur award is presented annually to a man in this district who has made outstanding contributions to club work. This marks the ninth award to be made in District II, which includes 20 counties in this area.

Other award winners were Scotty Samson, a Post stone mason; A. B. Davis, manager of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; Roy B. Davis, manager of Plains Co-op Oil Mill; Roy Furr, president of Furr's Inc.; Stanley E. Anderson, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech; John I. until that time," noted Mrs. Burnett.

The new milking parlor, housed in a neat concrete block building, is one of the most modern set-ups in the Lubbock milkshed as it now stands.

"When we get our refrigerated tank we will be as up-to-date as a dairy can be," added the petite dairyman's partner.

The name, "walk-in milking parlor," means that the cow walks in the barn and into one of four stalls, is milked, and walks out again without any pulling, pushing or cajoling by the dairyman.

The dairyman never has to leave the milking pit to complete the operation which is designed for ease and efficiency.

No Lifting Required

To begin the milking procedure, Burnett pulls an overhead rope which opens the door. The cow walks up the ramp and into a stall where a measured ration is waiting. Burnett closes the stall door and attaches the milking machine without lifting or carrying any equipment as once was necessary.

From this point, machinery and automatic equipment take over to move the milk from the cow to refrigerated milk cans in the adjoining milk room. Stainless steel pipes carry the white liquid and stainless steel cans receive it to insure utmost sanitation possible.

When the new stainless steel tank is installed, cans will be eliminated. Refrigerated tank trucks will make pick-ups by attaching a suction hose to the dairy's storage tank and withdrawing the milk, eliminating heavy lifting from the operation.

Another time and labor-saving device included in the new dairy building is an apparatus that automatically cleans lines and equipment when milking is completed. "All we have to do is add soap and disinfectant and plug it in," said Mrs. Burnett. "Then we can go off and it does the whole job."

"Though James and I do the milking," revealed Mrs. Burnett, "this is really a family project. Each child has assigned chores to do about the farm." Horace, 10, is the mechanical inclined member of the family, having helped his father since he was 6 years old. Judy, 8, and Gary, 7, round out the family group.

The Burnett dairy averages about 140 gallons of milk per day from some 35 cows producing now. The herd includes 60 Guernseys, Jerseys and Holsteins. "We added the Holsteins last April to boost our production," noted Mrs. Burnett.

In addition to the new milking barn, Burnett was invested in a concrete block self-feeding silo and a ground silo that has a capacity of 400 tons.

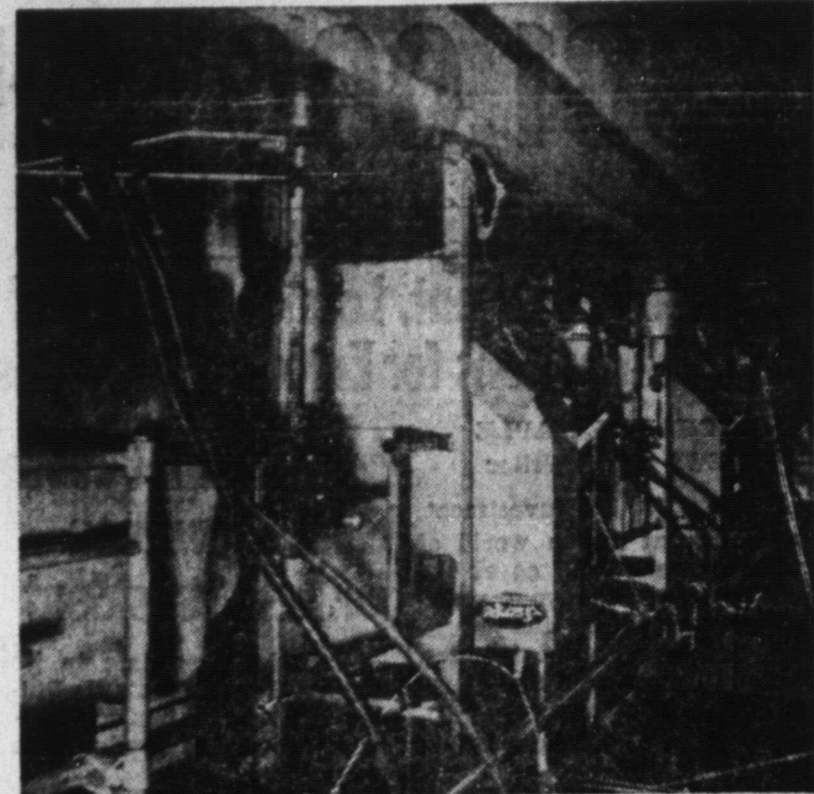

Grows Most Feed

Most of the feed is grown on the Burnett's 40-acre farm just south of the rodeo grounds. "We are raising 20 acres of alfalfa and 20 acres of Sorghum for the dairy ration," said Mrs. Burnett. "We hope that we will not have to buy any feed this year."

An automatic overhead feeder also is to be added to the milking barn in the near future. "Everything is ready now for the addition," said Burnett. "but we haven't installed the overhead lines. I hope to complete the system before September."

Used As Classroom

The couple uses their dairy set-up as a classroom occasionally during school terms. "Grade school children are brought out here so they can see some of the things they study about in their lessons," said Mrs. Burnett. "With the aid of the district representative from The Borden Company, to whom we sell our milk, we are able to show them what a real dairy is like."

Though dairy work requires the Burnetts to stay close to home most of the time, they indicate they would not get out of the business for anything. "I love dairy life and James loves to work with cattle so we're perfectly happy with our business," concluded Mrs. Burnett.

Bids without required check or proposal bond will not be considered.

The successful bidder must furnish a good and sufficient performance bond in an amount of not less than 100 per cent of the contract price, conditioned upon the faithful performance of the contract and upon the payment of all persons performing labor or furnishing materials, executed by a surety company authorized to do business in the State of Texas, in accordance with the provisions of Article 5121a, Revised Civil Statutes of 1925, as amended.
Bidders are expected to inspect the site of the work and to inform themselves regarding all local conditions.

'Eyes To the Future' Contest is Slated

When you walk into a business establishment in Brownfield, or meet one of our professional or civic leaders on the street—do you know them by name—or do you just nod a greeting and then say to yourself: "Now, what's his name, and what does he do, I know I know him?"

If you find yourself in this predicament, then you will appreciate the "Eyes to the Future" contest which is scheduled to run for the first time in next Sunday's edition of the NEWS.

Be sure and enter this contest and see how many of our business and civic leaders you recognize—and if you think you know most of them—enter our easy contest and maybe you will be one of our winners.

The contest will run two weeks. After that time winners will be announced, prizes awarded, and then we will run the pictures once more with their identification. Watch for this interesting feature in the NEWS.

Agricultural Injuries To Be Spotlighted As Nation Observes Farm Safety Week

National Farm Safety Week begins today as the National Safety Council, U.S. Department of Agriculture and numerous agricultural organizations work to make the farmers more conscious of the numerous dangers he faces daily.

L. M. Waters Jr., chairman of Terry Soil Conservation District board of directors, said "Farming is one of the most hazardous of all occupations because the farmer daily works with tractors, machinery, animals and numerous other potential injury producing things."

Reports show that tractors alone were responsible for some 1,100 farm deaths in 1956. Safety on the farm is no accident — it takes thought and deliberate planning, according to Henry Williamson, soil conservationist. "Frequent safety inspections of equipment and driver education will reduce chances of unnecessary accidents," he added.

During the week agricultural agencies will emphasize all phases of farm safety from repairing collapsing steps at the house to urging rest periods while the farmer is in the field.

Special emphasis will be placed on a year-around safety program on Terry County farms. "We can't work on this problem only one week in the year and, expect to cut down on farm accidents," noted Williamson. "It takes concentrated work all year."

OPENS SUNDAY AT REGAL

Lexington And Concord Battles Pace Up-Coming Action-Packed Disney Film

One of the year's most exciting and significant movie battle scenes paces the dramatic events portrayed in "Johnny Tremain," Walt Disney's action-packed feature based on the War of Independence. "Johnny Tremain" will open Sunday at the Regal Theatre for a three-day run. This is Disney's authentic re-staging of the dramatic incidents at Lexington and Concord, when a shot heard around the world opened the most important chapters in man's battle for liberty. Movie-goers soon will learn there were no foxholes for British soldiers.

While hastily-armed Minute-men dogged every step of their retreat with withering and unceasing fire from the cover of bush and tree, the Redcoats, obeying regulations to the letter and to the death, marched straight upright. In those days, Redcoat ranks would perform take volley after volley, advancing or retreating, in the upright position. To break ranks was considered unsoldierly. To run for cover, as in modern warfare, was the certain mark of cowardice. "Johnny Tremain," in color by Technicolor, star Hal Stal-master, Luana Patten and Jeff

The disturbance created over the dismissal of two Tech professors last Saturday by the governing board is likely to be news for a good while. Quite interesting if you have been keeping up with your newspaper reading. Regardless of WHO did WHAT to WHOM and for what reasons is already done. To say the least, the official board certainly set off a firecracker that will blast every rat out of its closet before it dies out.

When one accepts a position with the state, his contract should state exactly what he can or cannot do socially, politically or otherwise. It appears that the rules and regulations regarding the activities of state employed personnel have enough loopholes for one to hang himself, providing he sticks his neck in it.

Behind Eight Ball
J. Evetts Haley, the board member behind the eight ball, might have a characteristic common to a lot of people—you do as I do and think as I think and the moment you don't—brother that's it—you aren't my friend. Know anybody like that? I do. Let the chips rightfully fall. From what I've read of the account, I'd be inclined to suggest that something is lacking in the intestinal fortitude of the other members present when the action was taken. If Mr. Haley dominated the meeting and they sat calmly by and permitted it—then they are at fault. On the other hand, if they agreed with the decisions and won't back their convictions and face the usic, then they are too weak to hold the position to which they were appointed. Most of the time, there's more attached to these appointments than just honor. One error in judgement and it's all over but the smear.

I don't know who makes National this-and-that week official, but since it is national, I presume somebody is paid to take care of such matters. It would be interesting to know just how much money is involved in the process of promoting a product to national recognition. July is National Dairy Foods month; Keep Your Hair month, and Hot Dog month, to name a few.

Do you remember when the hot dog came to Brownfield? It must have been about 1936 when the late Alex Karl set up a little stand on Main street, and hung out a sign which read—Hot Dogs, 5 cents. Immediately Alex hot dogs became a food favorite with just about every body in town.

There was a profit those days in a five cent hot dog and soon Alex moved to larger quarters on South First street. His business could be called Brownfield's first drive-in. Anyway, it was the last stop on the journey home every Saturday night—providing enough nickels could be pooled to buy the hot dogs and—providing we could get served and drive 7 miles in a Model A ford by 12 o'clock. Notice too, I said Saturday night, because that's the only night most kids were allowed to "paint the town." Judging from the business enjoyed by the modern drive-ins, times have not only changed financially, but parental attitudes toward a lot of things have taken an about face. This I know—teenage conduct is no different—it's just that they have more opportunities to demonstrate it.

At the beginning of the war, Alex moved just north of the

Roy Priests Attend Wedding Thursday

Miss Christine Lenoir, formerly of Lubbock, New Deal and Wolforth, became the bride of Theodore Brown Larremore at a late afternoon wedding Thursday at San Angelo.

The marriage was performed in the home of Lt. and Mrs. John A. Newsom, 1120 West Twohigh. The elevated hearth and mirror-backed mantle formed an improvised altar banked with white gladioli in white wrought iron cathedral stands. Seven point candelabra with white lighted tapers were reflected by the mantle mirror.

Mrs. Roy Priest of Brownfield was matron of honor. Mr. Priest served as best man and minister as he performed the single ring rites.

A reception at the same address followed the ceremony. A white wedding cake decorated with pink roses and greenery and topped with a miniature bridal couple used at the Newsom's wedding provided the centerpiece for the table, which was laid with a pink lace cloth. Pale green cream punch was served with salted nuts.

Miss Lenoir is a General Telephone Company employee who has visited the Priest home frequently, having formerly lived with them.

Use of Women Warden by Game and Fish Commission To Be Sought by Sportsmen

AUSTIN — Women game wardens may be used as a public relations medium in Texas.

Cecil Reid, executive secretary for Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, said such a suggestion has been referred to SCOT's technical committee to determine whether it ultimately should be recommended formally to the Game and Fish Commission.

Reid said the proposal would call for a limited number of women assigned exclusively to public service routine, explaining that they would include "non-combat" duties at which women have excelled in the Armed Forces, on city police parking details, and elsewhere.

"Strictly a public relations approach," said SCOT's executive secretary, Calamity Jane Stuff. But legitimate information on licenses, season dates, bag and creel limits, and in stimulating subscriptions to the commission's magazine.

Reid said if the plan is accepted, Texas would be the first state to use uniformed women among its regular wildlife field personnel. He noted that warden's wives oftentimes, in the absence of their husbands, provide commendable informational service.

"Our sole idea is to encourage an adequate public relations system," explained Reid. "The last Legislature proved that information and education are indispensable for maximum development of our outdoor recreational resources. When the lawmakers got the true picture, practically all major proposals were enacted including financing for expanded public hunting and fishing projects."

Reid said the female field crew idea "fits into the pattern already etched by SCOT's in recognizing women's influence." He pointed out that women's groups have been invited to help launch SCOT's outdoor youth movement program.

SCOT's executive secretary envisioned rigid requirements for qualifying, such as sound educational background and strict personal recommendations. If the plan is accepted, a special course probably would be created for basic training, similar to the Texas A&M school now standard for all new game wardens.

"This is no longer a man's world when it comes to fishing and hunting, and to the open air sports generally," said Reid. "A substantial number of

Colombia Extolled As Paradise for U.S. Tourist Seeking the Most for His Money

One of the richest countries in the Western Hemisphere is still a land where the U. S. traveler can live comfortably — even luxuriously — on $10 a day.

Colombia, less than seven hours from the United States on the routes of Braniff International Airways, is fabulously wealthy in natural resources. Yet, the dollar-spending tourist will find that he can buy more food, fun and souvenirs for his money than in any other country in the Western Hemisphere.

This is a land where 16 cents will take you across the city in a modern taxi—no tip expected—or will buy a giant orchid corsage for milady. Three cents is the price of a cross-town bus ride or the morning paper.

In contrast, this country is the world's second largest producer of coffee, the principal source of the world's emerald supply and the second supplier of petroleum in South America.

The country is rich in minerals, the land fertile and the forests untapped in their vast supplies of rubber, dyewoods, gums and balsams.

U. S. tourists are just discovering the advantages of Colombia where a travel budget is considered. In the capital of Bogota, or in the Atlantic port cities of Barranquilla or Cartagena, a single room in a luxury hotel is about $5. A full course dinner with wine and filet mignon is seldom over $1.75.

At more modest establishments, prices are much lower and the beef just as tasty, for Colombia is also a big cattle producing country.

Favorite time for moviegoers in Colombia is 6 p.m., because the dinner hour usually begins around 9 p.m. Tickets average between 25 and 40 cents to the best theatres, where first-run U. S. color features in wide screen compete with choice European films. Antique hunters have a shoppers paradise in Bogota because many of the 15th and 16th century treasures from colonial Spain are to be found in the city's antique shops.

"Silversmiths Row" is a favorite shopping area with tourists, for the country long has been noted for its workmanship in fine silver. Again, for the dollar-spending tourist, prices of the goblets, service sets and bowls are much less than for comparable goods in the United States.

Woolen clothes also are a good buy in this rich sheep-raising land. Men's woolen slacks are about $6, and a woman's individually tailored woolen coat can be found for about $20. There are many small shops where, in the continental fashion, women's clothes are designed in high couturier styles.

One of the most typical Colombian products is the wool "ruana" or poncho. It is worn in the city although it originated in the rural areas of the country. The plainly cut ruana in natural or brilliant colors is about $6, while the dressier, hooded one for town wear is about twice that price.

A rich emerald lode which the Indians first showed to the Spaniards over 400 years ago still produces the world's main supply of the dark green gems. The only other known source of the lustrous "esmeralda" is Russia.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. (Shorty) Collier and family of Tahoka Road and Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Sloan and family of Seagraves highway are fishing in Colorado this week.

One look, one ride, and you'll find more to be proud of in a Chevrolet. No other low-priced car quite comes up to it for fine finishing touches—and sweet, smooth and saasy performance.

This one wants you to get choosy! The fustier you are, the more Chevy can show what it's got inside, outside and in performance.

Take the solid way a Chevy is built. It's the only car in its field with Body by Fisher—sturdily put together, with a look of substance other cars in its price class haven't quite captured. Everywhere you look, fine finishing touches confirm the craftsmanship that goes into a Chevrolet.

Chevrolet's response and performance are pretty special, too. There's a well-what-are-we-waiting-for spirit in the engine, especially when you show a Chevrolet a mountain. And you'll do a lot of looking to find comparable smoothness, steadiness and nimbleness on the road. If you do find them, you'll be in the high-altitude prices—for sure. See a Chevrolet at your dealer's now.

IN MACKENZIE AT LUBBOCK

Cottle County Reunion Scheduled Aug. 4

Aug. 4 has been set as date of the annual Cottle County Reunion in Mackenzie State Park at Lubbock.

The all-day gathering, which attracts dozens of present and former Cottle residents from throughout West Texas and Eastern New Mexico, is to be a "come early and stay late" event, according to Walter D. Wilkins, steering committee chairman.

Wilkins advises that the best route to reach the reunion site is to enter Mackenzie at the main west gate, off U.S. Hwy. 87. By following signs posted in the park, families will be able to find the area more easily.

Election of new officers will climax the Aug. 4 activities. Current officers are Byron Shotts, president, Walter Chalk, vice president, and Mrs. Romie Campbell, secretary.

Visiting last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Cox and family, 1206 East Buckley, were his mother, Mrs. Howard Baldwin of Winters, and his sister, Mrs. Dick Ayers and Kay and Jan of Ballinger. Also visiting in the Cox home is her sister, Midge Adair, also of Ballinger.

Mrs. Weldon Callaway and Murphy, and family. Her mother-daughters of 1209 East Reppotter, Mrs. Edna Murphy will return home with her early next week.

A Family That Prays Together, Stays Together

Suggestion for Life

There are many old-fashioned prescriptions for a good life such as "early to bed and early to rise, makes a man healthy, wealthy and wise." We have a suggestion that has been tried and attested by millions as the way of an abundant life; "seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness." Set your heart and mind on the Sovereign God, try to do His will and life will take the right proportions. Live for Him and you will have life and that more abundantly.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and restore.
Through the church God has commited the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God.
Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

These religious messages are made possible by the above individuals and business firms with the hope of creating a more sincere interest in our churches and a more church-minded community.

TOO MANY PERSONS LACKING IN 'GUTS'

Author Sees No Real Attempts At Legislation To Prevent Another Dave Beck Episode, Decries Lawless Union Tactics

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Alfred P. Haake, Ph. D., and author of the following article, is an economist, public relations consultant and lecturer.)

For a literate nation, priding itself on the moral basis for its freedom, we do some weird thinking. We qualify among the world's leading experts at justifying conclusions and actions almost stupidly inconsistent with the noble principles we profess to respect.

We apparently love to be kidded. We seem almost grateful for the insults that are hurled at what intelligence we have.

Some weeks ago a well-known labor leader was caught in the well-known dilemma of having lost the belt of his trousers. An investigation produced the greatest yet-known record of appeals to the Fifth Amendment in any appearance before a Congressional Committee.

But, in spite of his deliberate reticence, Dave Beck was revealed as one who had made free with the use of labor union funds to the enrichment of himself. It was a sordid story that unfolded in the course of the investigation.

Almost immediately labor leaders in other unions denounced the unhappy David, and finally threw him out of the high councils of organized labor. His own associates and supposed friends were among those who cooled off and sought shelter in pious pronouncements.

A wave of indignation and shock swept over the nation and it appeared certain that government would take effective action to prevent similar scandals in the future.

There even was talk of passing laws to recognize the right of men to work, free of the tyrannous dictatorship of union shop agreements.

But, there also were some red herrings drawn over the trail. There was talk of making management share the blame with Beck, and even some protest that the case against Beck was no more than an effort to destroy organized labor.

Real Decision Awaited

Now it begins to look as though the real decision as to the kind of law that may be passed will be made by labor leaders, men whose favor is still important to aspirants for public office.

Instead of a law with teeth to prevent repetition of the Beck episode, there may be some legislation which will gently affirm that the pension and welfare funds of unions may not be used for the private gain of labor union officials.

But — no real protection against use of the larger funds for general expenditures, which have already been used for political and other purposes, rather than for the benefit of the members. Even money without the "pension fund" or "welfare" label can be used to make men rich at the expense of the dues payers of organizations, including unions.

Leaders Pose Piously

But, why the furor about stealing some money from a union treasury, when there are worse offenses and crimes committed or approved by labor union officials and employees?

What about the mob riots, looting and destruction of private property, and even of life with no protest from the leaders who pose so piously against Dave Beck and his little racket?

What action can we expect to be taken to protect the lives and property of men whom unions seek to "persuade" to their way of thinking, with the "cooperation" of gangsters and mobsters called "goons," who have been known actually to be assigned to certain situations by labor leaders?

No Less Important

We are terribly upset, some of us, over denial of the right to vote, as alleged. So we are to have a Civil Rights bill to cure the frustrations of people who refused the right to vote.

But, it is no less important to have the right to work, to be secure in the possession of one's property against the immoral and lawless assaults of union leaders and goons. We would welcome the cooperation of labor leaders in legislation to protect the rights of men to work.

Is there not some way of persuading civil officials to enforce the laws of their communities against the rioters who smash things and people to get what they want?

Could someone persuade the Governor of Michigan to permit the trial of a man charged

Farm and Ranch Taxes in Texas Show Rise for the 10th Year, Studies Reveal

Farm and ranch taxes in Texas have risen for 10 consecutive years and agricultural prices have declined for four consecutive years, almost doubling the tax load of Texas farmers and ranchmen during the five-year period.

L. P. Gabbard of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Tommy W. Smith of the Agricultural Research Service, USDA, who made the survey said that the average tax per acre on farm and ranch real estate in Texas last year was 31.8 cents, an increase of .8 cent, or 2.6 per cent over 1955.

It is the highest average tax per acre yet reached in Texas, they pointed out.

While the average tax increased 2.6 per cent for the state, it declined as much as 17.1 per cent in some sections of the Rolling Plains, and increased as much as 22.4 per cent in the high plains and cotton-producing area.

The distribution of farm real estate taxes to the various types of governmental units remains practically unchanged as public schools, including junior colleges, received 56.7 per cent of the total.

Farm personal property tax declined slightly, probably because of declining prices for agricultural commodities and

Some Help Now Available To Completely And Permanently Disabled Persons Here

Completely permanent invalids in the community so mentally deranged that they require continuous oversight or others soon may be able to receive small monthly checks from their State Department of Public Welfare through the new state-federal program of Aid to the Permanently and Totally Disabled.

The Constitutional Amendment, which was adopted by the voters in November 1956, limiting the amount of money that can be appropriated for this program to $1.5 billion a year, makes aid possible only to those who are helpless and have no relatives able to support them.

Leo Healer of Lubbock, welfare supervisor for this area, pointed out that this is the only welfare program which requires consideration of the ability of relatives to support.

This law defines "responsible relatives" as children, parents, step-children, step-parents, brothers and sisters.

Healer said that for the first time in nearly 20 years the department's field workers will be required by law to determine the resources of relatives of persons who apply for aid.

The "permanency" and "totality" of the disability will be determined by a state reviewing physician after study of a complete physical or mental examination by the person's own private physician. Complete helplessness from a medical standpoint, rather than inability to work, is the criteria. The state will pay the private physician for his examination. Funds for assistance payments will not be available until September 1, 1957, but ap-lications will be taken after July 15. While the helpless individual will not be able to leave home, the persons responsible for his care may come to the local welfare office and acquaint the department with his situation. A field worker will then call, as soon as possible, at the home to take the application.

Offices in this area are located at: Courthouse, Brownfield; City Hall, Slaton; Old Courthouse, Lubbock; Courthouse, Tahoka; Courthouse, Levelland; Courthouse, Morton; Courthouse, Muleshoe, and Courthouse, Dimmitt.

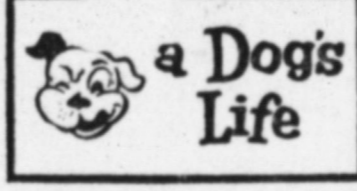

Field worker headquarters offices in this area are located in Brownfield, Littlefield, Levelland and Lubbock. Outlying counties or towns are handled by workers from these offices.

Two Gridmen Sign With Texas Tech As Season Approaches

Texas Tech has signed two more high school standouts to football scholarships, according to DeWitt Weaver, athletic director. The athletes are Jerry Lynn (Red) Sharp of Knoxvill, Tenn. and James Walter (Jim) Brock of Fort Worth, Tex. Sharp, a wingback at Fulton High School in Knoxville, stands 5-10 1/2 and weighs 165 pounds. Brock, a 6-2, 200-pounder, was an all-district end at Arlington Heights.

Both boys starred in other sports in high school. Sharp, captain of Fulton's track team, was a member of the state champion mile and 890-yard relay teams. Brock, a three-year letterman in football, basketball and baseball, captained the Arlington Heights cage team two years.

Brock is a member of the National Honor Society, and was an Arlington Heights honor society member three years. Sharp has been selected to play in an all-star game at Knoxville next month.

ORIGIN OF STRANGE HABITS

by Bob Bartos
Prominent Dog Authority

You may look upon your dog as a truly domesticated chap. He's well-mannered, polite, and equipped with a sense of humor. . . at times he seems almost human. But have you ever wondered why, with all his fine upbringing, he continues to hang on to some strange, unpleasant and definitely doggy traits? Take for example the business of burying bones. Why does he do it? He certainly gets plenty to eat. Bone-burying is a holdover from his wild days when he killed more game than he could use. He simply buried the left-overs . . . stored them away for a rainy day when hunting wasn't so good. And what about his habit of rolling in something dead? You try so hard to keep him clean,

Dog of the Week: SIBRIAN HUSKY

Working dog. Average weight, 50 pounds; shoulder height, 22 inches; coat, double, soft, dense and downy underneath and soft, smooth-textured outercoat of medium length; color, all colors including white are permissible. Most common colors are wolf-gray, silver-gray, tan and black with white points.

well-groomed and sweet smelling. In the old days when his meals depended on his hunting ability, he would stalk his game up-wind. But when the wind suddenly changed, he might just as well have handed his quarry his calling card. Therefore, to camouflage his scent so that the game didn't know he was coming, he rolled in something smelly.

Do you wonder why your dog makes such a to-do of lying down . . . circling a few times, scratching his blanket into a nest? It's because when his home was the woods and fields he had to mold the grass and weeds and even the soil into a comfortable bowl-shaped bed.

And why does he prefer to lie under the table, chair or couch instead of out in the open? There was a time when he was the prey of other animals. Lying under a jutting rock, crag or log afforded protection.

Feeding Tip: There is one way to make sure that your pet is getting the right amount of fat in his diet, and that is to feed him a balanced diet dog food such as Friskies.
