Buff-Miner Game Is Likely to Determine Border Champion

Texas Western College's Border Conference champions and West Texas State's powerful Buffaloes will touch off what is expected to be the hottest conference race in recent years in El Paso Saturday night.

Outcome of the game could determine the conference championship. Texas Western has been picked by many experts to repeat as titleholders this year. Others rate the Buffs, with their power and depth the most powerful team in the conference.

The contest shapes up as a match between speed and brawn, with the Miners of Coach Ben Collins having an edge in the latter and Coach Frank Kimbrough's crew possessing a margin in size, power and depth.

Each team boasts a collection of outstanding backs, but the difference could lie in the stronger and deeper line of the Buffaloes of Frank Kimbrough. The West Texas coach has a mobile line that is big—while Collin's has only two players on each of the first two teams who scale over 200 pounds.

West Texas has two of the most dangerous backs in the conference in speedy halfback Ron Mills and fullback Charlie Sanders, while Texas Western has two of the fastest halfbacks in major college football in fleet Don Maynard at left half-back and Jimmy Bevers at right half. Neither is large—Maynard weighs 175 and Bevers a slim 160—but both are ranked with the best.

Maynard, senior from Colorado City, averaged 35 yards per completion as a pass receiver last year and was all-conference. Bevers was the team's leading ground-gainer and scorer.

Sanders, on the other hand,

From The Huddle By CHARLIE MAPLE NEWS Sports Editor

The Cubs went back to football fundamentals again this week after they and the coaching staff viewed films of the Plainview game.

Films showed what Coach Elroy Payne spotted Friday—Blocking and tackling needed extra work. Downfield blocking especially was bad. A case in point came in the first half when Rabbit Wright broke into the open only to be knocked down by his downfield blocker.

Monday's practice sessions primarily were devoted to working offensive plays against the defensive line. Coach Cox made frequent shifts in personnel in an attempt to find a defensive combination and to teach linemen their assignments on defense.

Big Johnny Mack Jones and Jimmy Rodgers looked very good both offensively and on defense. Jones particularly shined after a rather unspectacular performance Friday.

WILDCATS FAST, GOOD

These fundamental drills are likely to be important in Friday's game with the Littlefield Wildcats. Coach Don Hendley, who scouted last year's state semi-finalists, said the team is fast and has a well-balanced attack.

Hendley said all four starting backs probably are faster than anyone on the Cub eleven. He said "We will have to stop them before they get started if we are the highest scorer in the conference though he was sidelined with injuries much of the latter phase of the conference chase.

we expected to win." Special rave notices again are up for Wildcat halfback Buddy Jones, who ran a 90-yard dash for a TD against the Cubs here last year.

WE BOBBLED

Last week's full football schedule caught the NEWS man flat footed as he missed stories about the Junior High teams and B and Freshman teams. Junior High traveled to Seminole Thursday and swept both games. Seventh grade won 14-0, and Eighth grade won by 14-7.

Seminole Freshman and B teams tackled our future Cubs here Thursday and took both games. Freshman score was reported to be 20-0 in favor of the visitors and the Cub B's dropped a heart-breaker, 12-7 in the last 10 seconds of the game.

So this won't happen again, please coaches, give us a call and give us a run-down on your games so we can get them in the paper. The number is 2188.

LAST CALL

Mrs. J. D. Miller has announced that today at 5 p.m. is the last day to purchase and pick up season ducats to Cub home games. Only 255 books have been purchased. After, today, the books will be broken into individuals tickets.

We hope everyone will make an extra effort to get these season passes. Despite injuries and inexperience, the Cubs are showing more and more promise and we think you will be missing some good games if you don't attend.

OUT ON A LIMB

Since it seems to be the fashion for a columnist to pick the winners, we will take our first stab at it this week. With crystal ball in hand and blindfold in place, here we go.

Andrews over Seminole by 40 points. The Mustangs were impressive in last week's encounter with San Angelo Lake View while Seminole took a 41-0 licking at the hands of Kermit.

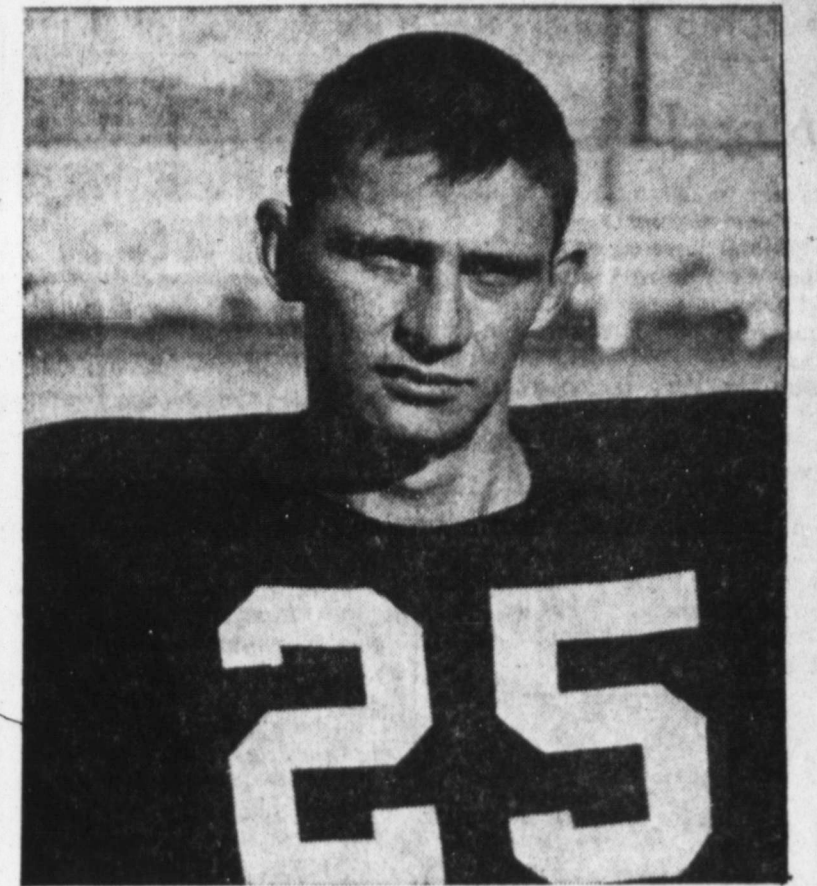

Brownfield over Littlefield, 21-20, on strictly a heartfelt hope.

Kermit over Lamesa, 28-14, since the Yellow Jackets looked loaded again this year and Lamesa has not been very impressive.

Ector over Birdville, 21-0, on strictly a long shot. Not much is known about Birdville and it is about time for Ector to break the ice after losing two straight.

Pecos over Crane, 19-6, in a close battle. Pecos looks tough this year.

Monahans over Colorado City, 13-7, in spite of Colorado See No. 2 Page 2

DON HOWARD

Don Howard Of Meadow Is Listed As Halfback Prospect At McMurry College

Don Howard, 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Howard of Meadow, has been listed as an outstanding halfback prospect on the McMurry College squad this season.

Coach Tommy Ellis said Howard, who is 6 feet tall and tips the scales at 170, is expected to see "plenty of action this year." He is a Meadow High School graduate.

Ellis had carded a 10-game schedule that includes Texas A&I in Kingsville Sept. 28, and Abilene Christian College in Abilene October 5.

The rest of the schedule includes Texas Lutheran College, Seguin, October 12; East Texas State in Stamford, October 19; McNeese State in Lake Charles, La., October 26; Louisiana Tech in Abilene November 2, which will be homecoming for McMurry; New Mexico A&M in Las Cruces, N.M., November 9, and North Texas State in Denton November 23.

An open date has been posted for November 16.

Wildcats Will Host Southland Tonight

The Union Wildcats hope to add another district win to their belt as they tackle Southland in a District 2-B Six-Man battle at 8 p.m. tonight at Union.

Though little is known about Southland, Coach Kenneth Sams says they are generally big and fast. "They should be one of the top contenders for the district title," he said.

The game will be the Wildcats last home game until Oct. 25, when they host Smyer. Union staggered Spade, 34-6 in last week's game.

PLAYING FOURTH YEAR AT TWC

Forrest Twins End Careers This Year

This year will mark the end of the "Forrest Era" at Texas Western College.

The talented twin football players from Carlsbad, N.M.—final season with the Miners this year. During their playing years the football stature of the El Paso school has grown steadily higher—largely because of their ability and desire.

Both boys—quarterback Bob and end Dick—have been regulars since they were freshmen. Dick has been an end since he arrived at Texas Western and last year was voted by Border Conference coaches to the all-conference first team. He is team captain of the "Forrest Era" at Texas Western College.

Bob, an all-state quarterback in high school, was moved to fullback his first two years at Texas Western but he was too good a runner and too much of a competitor to sit on the sidelines.

He was moved back to quarterback last year and shared playing time on the first team almost equally with All-Conference Bob Laraba.

Neither of the twins can get by on brawn. Dick is the larger with 175 pounds on his 6-foot frame. Bob is 6 ft. tall and weighs 165.

COAST-TO-COAST ECONOMY RUN PROVES IT—CHEVY COSTS LESS TO DRIVE!

Test run from Los Angeles to New York by the three leading low-priced cars showed Chevrolet costs less to operate, with up to 17% greater fuel economy!

When fuel and operating costs for cars are officially checked for 2,873 miles, from Los Angeles to New York, what happens?

In the certified findings of the NATA*, Chevrolet delivered up to 17% greater fuel economy, and lower total cost for the trip—proof that Chevrolet costs least to operate of the three leading low-priced cars that were tested!

This economy record only confirms Chevy's reputation for money-saving ways. size, is even stronger on defense than on offense. "He's got excellent speed, and he's strong for his size," said Coach Ben Collins. "But his major asset is timing—he can throw a shoulder into a 195-pound blocker, flip him out of the way and get to a passer better than any player in the conference." ### Football Review To Show SWC Action at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday

Football Review, Humble's weekly TV football program, will spotlight action from three Southwest Conference games next week. It will be on KDUB-TV at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Jess Neely, Rice Institute athletic director and football coach, will visit Kern Tips on the program and diagram one of his favorite plays. After Neely's explanation, viewers will see the play executed under game conditions.

The headaches of handling a sellout crowd in Memorial Stadium in Austin will be described by Ed Olle, Texas athletic director, who also will be interviewed by Tips.

Games from which cameras will pick out crucial plays and decisive breaks will include Texas A&M—Texas Tech, Baylor — University of Houston, and Texas—Tulane.

Luncheon guests in the Bob Clements home, 608 East Tate, Monday were his mother, Mrs. J. J. Clements of Lubbock, and his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Gregg Keyes of Hartford, Conn.

orn, says Bob is the finest runner he has ever coached. "He is fast, of course, but he has a peculiar move when he's about to be tackled that makes him hard to get hold of. He just sort of glides away. And I've never seen a fellow use a head fake any better. He fakes while running at full speed, and if the tackler hesitates even a moment Bob will be by him."

The "Forrest Era" has been a successful one at Texas Western. During their three years the Miners have won 22 games, lost 6, and tied 2. In addition, they have played in two in Two Sun Bowl games on Jan. 1.

"If we had 22 players like them we'd have no worries," says coach Ben Collins. "Those kids just don't like to be beat—in wind sprints, in the games themselves or at anything."

Writer Hits Parental Neglect And Progressive Education As Probable Causes Of Today's Appalling Juvenile Crime Rates

(EDITOR'S NOTE: John T. Flynn is a noted author, lecturer and radio commentator.)

A good many years ago the nation was horrified by the news that two young men—of wealthy families and with unusually high intelligence and education—murdered a boy for the sheer fun of it.

The case shocked the minds of the American people for many months. Here, indeed, was something new in the annals of crime. And the crime itself, together with the long and sordid trial which followed, held the horrified attention of the whole country.

But now, what is our reaction to a situation in a single big American city when there is in the newspapers the record of a juvenile murder or attempted murder almost every day of the week over a period of months?

This is not the story of merely unruly youngsters — just willful "boys who will be boys"—but of boys (and girls) who will be murderers and thieves.

Of course, this awful performance has been more obvious in the large cities because they are vast and because living conditions in many parts of them are so bad. But it is not confined to large cities.

It is, of course, worse in New York—so bad in fact that the Police Department has mobilized 600 special police to deal with this strange scourge.

In Chicago we read of four teenagers stopping a priest, slugging him and stealing his camera. In Arizona, kids aroused by liquor held up a man, murdered him and took $2.50 from his pockets.

It is reported that in one city juvenile crime has quadrupled. In another small city there were six juvenile murders in six months. Arrests of young offenders of all sorts have been on the increase generally.

In one large city 14,000 juvenile offenders were arrested in a year—and this represented an increase of 200 per cent. In New York City, Police Commissioner Kennedy has reported that juvenile offenders under 16 have become a shocking problem.

Rape by this age group increased 43 per cent, sodomy 109 per cent, arson 182 per cent, stealing automobiles 36 per cent and robbery 18 per cent.

Of course, there has always been a certain amount of crime among children of poor and unemployed parents. But it is greater now in spite of the fact that there is less poverty and almost no unemployment, and that wages are higher than at any time in our history.

Probable Causes Listed. Certainly there must be some root causes of all this. I do not pretend to know precisely what they are, but there are one or two which stand out as especially prolific in the field of juvenile crime.

For one thing, employment now is at the highest ever known, which one would think would produce better home conditions. Instead, full employment must bear some share of the responsibility for juvenile crime.

For instance, this tremendous employment means that in millions of homes where there are young children the father and mother are both employed. They leave early and come home late. The youngsters run wild in that interval.

Often the families live in small and crowded quarters because rents are appallingly high. With both parents at work, the children take to the streets.

There is beyond the shadow of a doubt another cause. It is to be found in the schools — particularly the public schools. And the root of the trouble there is the dangerous system as "progressive" education.

Progressive Education Hit. The spectacle of the authorities in one large city having to send out 600 cops to deal with the problem of juvenile crime is bad enough. But cops are needed only after the homes and the schools turn out the wretched young culprits. When all is said, I would put some of the major responsibility on the schools.

Some 20 years ago a group of so-called "progressive" educators took over the system of public education in many areas around the country. Under the baleful system of progressive or "modern" education, discipline is banished.

Learning is something which can be acquired without effort, hence discipline is not necessary. The little darlings must be permitted to indulge their own inner faculties for self-expression. Prescribed courses are no longer fixed.

The youngsters must make their own choices. There must be no advancement based on tests or marks. Promotion is automatic. Discipline must be introduced only on the most tactful scale.

This system ignores completely one great function of the individual to which he must be introduced at an early age. That is the thing called discipline—not ruthless and angry punishment—but a method of student becomes gradually aware of a sense of personal and social responsibility.

In the light of all this, let me suggest that you look to your schools. They need monitoring as well as the youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyman of Lubbock were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clements and family, 608 East Tate, Sunday.

Today there are about 291,000 nautical miles of submarine cables, enough to go around the globe 13 times.

Motorists Urged To Take Special Care In All School Zones

"A child may dare, so drive with care."

J. O. Musick, general manager of Texas Safety Association, made this appeal today in behalf of TSA's annual September program to remind motorists that a new school year is underway. More driving caution is needed on our streets and highways.

"Children have a way of making unexpected moves and it's hard to keep up with them," said Musick. "Yet the only way we can hope to cut down on traffic casualties, which claim so many of our children each year, is to keep a sharp lookout for their sudden and unpredictable actions."

"Many accidents happen in mere seconds—a child suddenly appears from nowhere, there is a screech of brakes, a cry of anguish and another casualty is added to an already overgrown list of traffic fatalities."

Musick said that while parents, schools and public officials are working constantly for greater child safety, there are many problems yet unsolved.

"One of the major problems," he said, "is coping with the impulses of children and training them to be safety conscious from pre-school age through adolescence."

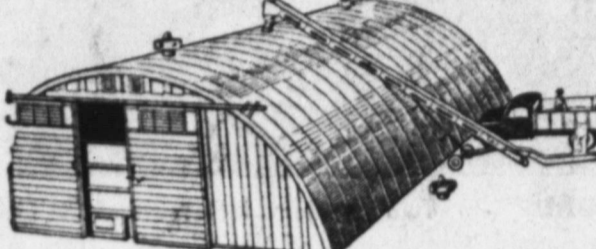

"The only way to tackle this problem of unpredictable behavior in children especially in crossing streets, is by repeated safety lessons. And, by urging motorists to remain on the alert and drive slowly through school and playground areas, especially during the peak hours of school traffic," he said.

"Nearly 500 children were killed in traffic accidents in Texas, last year," Musick concluded. "We must stop this needless slaughter of our youth. It is up to us to protect boys and girls by heeding the oft-used warning: Drive slow! Let 'em grow!"

Texas Electric Cooperatives Meet To Select Queen, Officers for Next Year

Sydney Slack, 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Slack Jr. of Perryton, has been named the first Miss Rural Electrification of Texas.

She was selected from eight finalists from throughout Texas as during the 17th annual membership meeting of Texas electric Cooperatives, Inc., in San Antonio August 29-30. She will compete in Dallas in February for the national Miss Rural Electrification title.

On the business side, rural electric leaders attending the conference highlighted the legislative problems of the electric cooperative of Texas.

They stressed dissatisfaction with the so-called "REA bill" passed by the Texas Legislature this spring. They also discussed the need for more favorable legislation in the next session.

An all-time record of 525 delegates attended the meetings in San Antonio. They heard talks by three legislators, an REA special consultant, and a Texas editor who declared that "Texas politics stinks like a rotten egg that has been broken open."

The editor was Ronnie Dugger of the "Texas Observer." He urged support of a lobby control law such as was advocated by Governor Price Daniel during the last session of the Legislature.

One of the legislators, Senator Henry B. Gonzales of San Antonio, supported the bill advocated by the electric co-ops in the last session.

"My philosophy was always been to be for that which was the greatest benefit to the people in explaining his support of the co-op bill.

Other legislators who spoke were Senator Charles F. Herrington of Austin and Representative Alonzo W. Jamison Jr. of Denton County.

W. G. Newton of Lubbock was elected president of the TEC board of directors. Other officers are Floyd Carter of Van Alstyne, vice-president, and W. C. McWilliams of Fredericksburg, secretary-treasurer.

Cotton Root Rot Can Be Destroyed Using Plowing, Rotation

Losses from cotton root rot can be reduced if a planned program involving a combination of practices is carried out on infected soils, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Currently, Smith says, the plant diagnostic lab is receiving specimens of cotton plants infected with root rot from every section of the state except northwest producing areas. Losses in some fields is said to approximate 90 per cent.

The fungus causing the disease is a tough customer to control but Smith offers three suggested practices which have proved effective in holding losses from the disease to a minimum.

The fungus may be killed by drying out the infected soil. The land should be plowed to a depth of 6 to 8 or more inches in the summer or early fall.

Smith points out that the fungus has been found as deep in the soil as cotton roots go and that plowing to this depth is recommended for some area.

The important thing is to turn the soil and expose the fungus to the hot sun and drying. Replowing at regular intervals during the summer and early fall is recommended.

A second practice, starving the fungus by reducing its host plants or food supply, has also proved effective. Smith suggests planting sorghum, corn, oats, wheat, barley or grasses for 1 to 4 years before cotton.

The severity of the infestation should determine the number of years the nonsusceptible crops should be grown. Too, summer fallow and deep tillage should be practiced on idle land to control weeds susceptible to the fungus.

Thirdly, Smith says plowing into the soil large amounts of organic matter will aid the growth of beneficial microorganisms in the root zone and apparently these organisms prevent the fungus from spreading.

The growing of a cool-season adapted legume as a green-mature crop or the addition to the soil of cotton burs prior to planting cotton has proved successful in many areas of the state.

Finally, Smith says local control measures vary with areas of the state and he urges farmers to contact their local county agent for the best practices for the area.

THIS WEEK
—In Washington

With Clinton Davidson

For the first time in more than 25 years a new and potentially powerful farm federation is springing up to challenge the old-line organizations whose difference led earlier this year to virtual collapse of the famed Farm Bloc.

A group of 11 big farm commodity groups met almost unnoticed in Washington recently to form an alliance and adopt policies independent of the Farm Bureau, National Grange and Farmers Union.

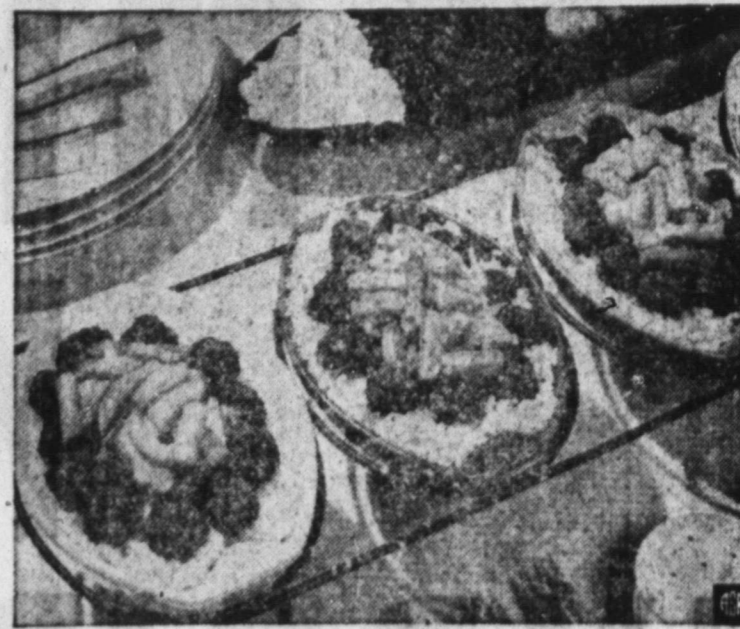

Leaders describe the meeting as "exploratory," but they agreed to meet again on August 9 and 7, and to invite other commodity organizations to join with them in forming a National Association of Commodity Organizations.

The objective will be to develop new farm legislation tailored to meet the needs of each commodity, rather than on a "big tent" basis intended to blanket all commodities under one general program, as in the past.

Represented at the Washington meeting were the American Soybean Assn., National Assn. of Wheat Growers, National Milk Producers Federation, U.S. Poultry & Egg Assn., National Turkey Federation, American Rice Growers Co-operative Assn., United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Assn., Vegetable Growers Assn. of America, National Potato Council, and the National Federation of Grain Cooperatives.

These groups have a combined membership of over three million farmers, a figure considerably greater than the total of the Farm Bureau, Grange and Farmers Union. Most of them also belong to one of the general farm organizations, but would be expected to support the commodity proposals.

New Outlook for an Old Standby
Beef Ball Ramekins

Meatballs with green beans and rice plus individual ramekins plus several shakes of Ac-cent equal multiplied mealtime pleasure. Ground beef seems to taste better when served in a portion-sized casserole, and it actually tastes better when seasoned with Ac-cent. These tiny white crystals of pure monosodium glutamate have no taste of their own, but they do have a talent for bringing out the taste of meat. Add them to the ground beef, then distribute by gently tossing.

Of course the flavor is developed while the miniature meat balls are cooking, and they're cooked before you can say "Beef Ball Ramekins for Dinner Tonight!" Say it to company, too, and serve them with sweet and sour relishes, hot rolls and a green salad.

Beef Ball Ramekins

- 1 pound ground beef
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 3/4 teaspoon Ac-cent (monosodium glutamate)
- 1 can (1 pound) green beans
- 1 teaspoon salt, divided
- 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 3/4 teaspoon pepper, divided
- 3 cups hot pre-cooked rice

Break up meat with fork in mixing bowl. Sprinkle Ac-cent, 3/4 teaspoon of the salt and 1/4 teaspoon of the pepper over surface of meat. Toss lightly to distribute seasonings. Shape into 1-inch meat balls. Melt butter in skillet; add meat balls and brown; remove. Drain bean liquid into skillet; cook until liquid is reduced to about 1/2 cup. Stir in soup, beans and meat balls; add remaining salt and pepper. Heat to serving temperature. Serve in individual casseroles with hot cooked rice. YIELD: 4 servings.

Eat A Cool Refreshing Breakfast

Take time to eat a cool, refreshing breakfast and see how much better you and your family are prepared to cope with the heat of a hot, summer day. An attractive breakfast buffet might be just the change of pace that would perk up listless appetites, dulled by excessive heat.

The buffet need not be elaborate but should provide enough variety so that each person can select a combination of breakfast foods that will appeal to him and at the same time meet the requirements of an adequate breakfast. An adequate breakfast follows a basic breakfast pattern recommended by leading doctors and dietitians to provide 1/4 of the daily nutritional requirements for most people. This basic breakfast pattern calls for fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter.

If a member of your family has been advised by his physician to go on a low-fat diet, you will find a basic cereal breakfast pattern among the best because it is low in fat.

Set up your breakfast buffet in the coolest spot you can find. It might be on the porch, in the garden or patio. If outdoor eating is not feasible, perhaps some indoor location other than the regular eating place could be more comfortable. Fresh fruit stop crisp, ready-to-eat cereal served with chilled milk is the main dish for your buffet. Set out several different varieties of breakfast cereals—this is easy with more than two dozen varieties available at your grocery store. Provide a choice of two or three fresh fruits while they are in season. Honey or cinnamon sugar add variety. Be sure the milk is ice cold. Breadstuffs offer additional variety with the many kinds of breads, rolls, and coffee cakes that are available.

Research at a leading Midwestern university has demonstrated that breakfast is essential for all ages. The subjects who ate an adequate morning meal not only felt better, but they performed better, especially in the late morning hours.

It's Time To Fertilize Lawns Now

A beautiful, well-kept lawn adds to the material value of a home and is a basic requirement for an attractive yard. A properly established and well-managed turf also provides a cool, restful cover and prevents soil blowing and washing.

Fertilization is the main practice to emphasize in the fall care for lawns, says E. M. Trew, extension agronomist. Lawn grasses will go into the winter in a vigorous condition if they are well nourished. The grasses will remain green longer in the fall and will grow off earlier next spring.

The fertilizer should be applied about a month before the first expected frost, advises Trew. When summer grasses are pushed into lush growth by late fertilization, some grass may be damaged by a hard freeze. Also, applying the fertilizer too late prevents the grass from getting the most out of it before going dormant.

Apply a complete fertilizer with a 2-1-1 ratio at a rate to supply two pounds of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn, recommends the specialist. This amount of nitrogen would be found in 20 pounds of 10-5-5 or 10-10-10, or in 25 pounds of 8-8-8.

After the fertilizer has been spread, Trew advises watering it down. Soak the soil to at least six inches deep. Plenty of moisture is necessary, for the plants can't use the fertilizer until it is dissolved. If the soil is already wet, just wash the fertilizer off the grass and on to the soil.

Ryegrass sometimes is overseeded on Bermuda to give green color during the winter. But, Trew says, this is sometimes harmful to the Bermuda. The ryegrass is usually growing in the spring when the Bermuda should start and unless the ryegrass is kept closely clipped, it often gives the Bermuda serious competition for light, moisture and plant food.

If ryegrass is seeded on a Bermuda lawn, Italian or annual ryegrass should be used, for these plants die in the spring. Ryegrass should not be overseeded on grasses other than Bermuda.

Seymour Promoted By Magnolia Oil Co.

E. Clyde Seymour has been named senior vice-president of Magnolia Petroleum Company, according to an announcement issued this week by J. L. Lattimer, Magnolia president.

The appointment, effective September 1, culminates a long career with Magnolia which began in 1912 when Seymour was employed as a messenger boy at the general offices in Corsicana. He is the only active member of the organization who saw services with the company headquarters before they were moved to Dallas in 1914.

Except for leaves of absence to complete his schooling and while serving in the Navy during World War I, he has been with the Magnolia company during his entire business lifetime.

A native of Angus, Seymour finished high school at Jacksonville, Texas. He attended the University of Texas, then joined the Navy for active service both in this country and overseas.

He advanced through the Producing Accounting Department and the General Accounting Department to his appointment as assistant comptroller in 1941. In March, 1942, he was appointed comptroller, and on January 1, 1945, was elected to the board of directors and to the position of treasurer. His appointment as vice-president followed the next year.

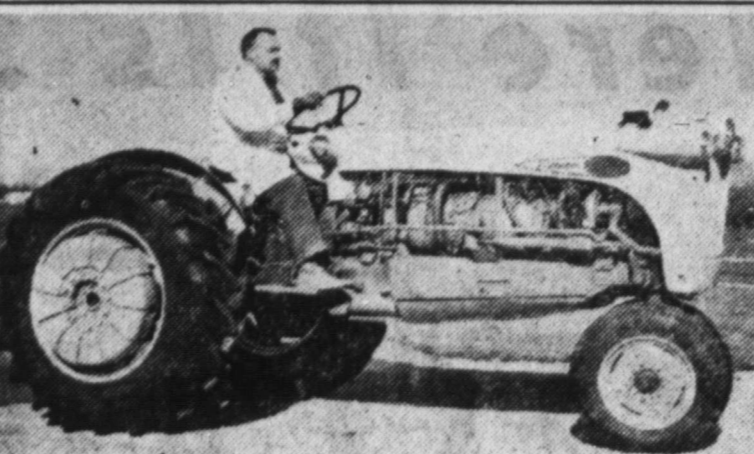

As vice-president, Seymour has at various times directed the accounting, employee relations, and public relations activities of Magnolia.

The present tax situation reminds me of an old vaudeville skit in which Sam rushes up to Joe and says: "Give me two tens for a five, quick!"

Joe gives him the $20 and gets the $5, before he realizes that he has been gyped.

That's not too different from Uncle Sam saying to the states: "Give me most of the taxes paid by your citizens, both individuals and corporations, and I will give you a small part of it back, in school aid and other Federal contributions—MAYBE."

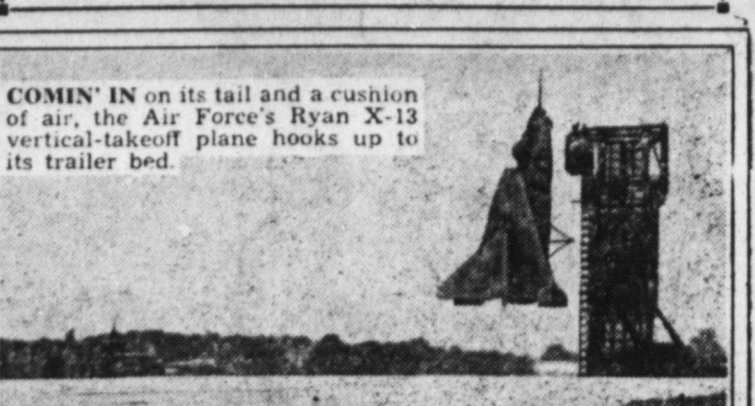

Take just one state, North Carolina, for example. In fiscal 1956 (citizens of that state paid $1,662,470,000 in Federal taxes. But when North Carolina said, "Give us back in school construction aid, $11,541,000, which is less than 1% of what you took." Congress said, "No."

States governments go, not in and to Washington, asking for handouts in order to meet normal obligations to their people. The Federal government, through the exercise of almost unlimited tax powers, has become the powerful central authority against which men like Thomas Jefferson warned State authority has declined by the same ratio as Federal authority has increased.

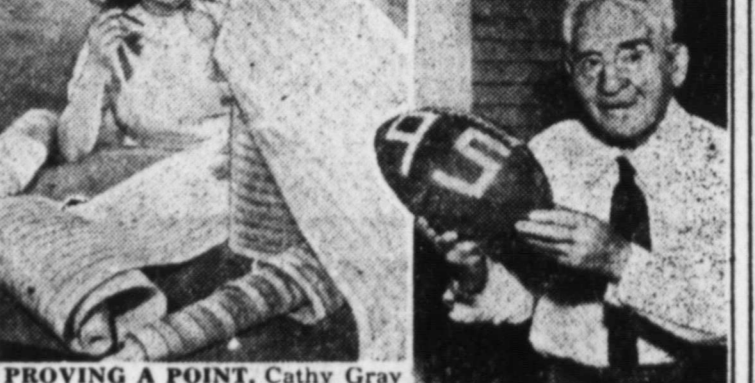

The Federal government in international and strictly national affairs is not questioned, but a big increase has come mostly in domestic affairs originally reserved to the states.
