

EXPANSION OF SCHOOL, STADIUM PLANNED

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Staff Writer

Two bond issues totaling $300,000 for school classrooms are expected to be presented to Brownfield voters shortly after the first of the year, according to T. A. Hicks, school board president.

Hicks said one issue, for $110,000, is needed to relieve a classroom shortage in Colonial Heights School. This would provide eight more classrooms and necessary equipment, he said.

Board members estimate $190,000 will be necessary to construct a new athletic plant to accommodate present and future needs. The new stadium will seat approximately 5,800 fans.

The president said the board reached the decision to call the election after several months of study and consultation with architects. However the election will not be called until legally drawn petitions are submitted to the group, he said.

Preliminary plans were presented to the board Monday by Acheson, Atkinson and Cartwright, a Lubbock architectural firm.

A definite date has not been set for the bond election. However, Hicks said the board hopes to select a date at their next meeting on Jan. 6.

If okayed by voters, the new athletic set-up will be situated at the northeast end of Oak Grove addition on a 30-acre tract purchased earlier this fall.

Hicks revealed that construction will be similar to the center section of the present south (home) stands in Cub Stadium—steel structure with wooden seats.

Parks 3,000 Cars

Plans call for moving the 2,000-seat center section to the new site to be used for visitors. New seating, to hold an estimated 3,800 fans, will be constructed on the home side of the field.

Other features of the proposed athletic plant include a larger modern press box, concession stand, rest rooms and a field house capable of housing varsity, B and freshman teams and all their equipment. A six-foot net fence will enclose the field.

Hicks said the new-site will include off-street parking for approximately 3,000 automobiles. Practice fields and a baseball diamond also have been planned for the tract.

Enjoy Your Yule Holiday! Discard All Your Cares!

The tragedy of highway traffic deaths during the Yule holidays—maximum effort will be made here to keep them at a minimum.

Gov. Price Daniel has asked full cooperation of Brownfield police, Terry County sheriff's office and county prosecutor in the campaign.

Said Police Chief James Tippit: "Glasses have a dangerous effect on the driver's vision—especially if they have been emptied several times."

Said Sheriff James Fulford: "In launching our Christmas Safety Drive, Brownfield and the county may have a safer and happier holiday if drivers will exert a little extra caution and care."

Said County Atty Morgan Copeland: "The Department of Public Safety predicts that 113 Texans will die in traffic accidents this Christmas holiday period."

The trio affirmed Saturday morning that they would use the maximum power of their offices to prevent needless and tragic highway deaths in Terry this Christmas.

I am the Christmas Spirit!
I enter the home of poverty, causing pale-faced children to open their eyes wide in pleased wonder.
I cause the miser's clutched hand to relax, and thus paint a bright spot on his soul.
I cause the aged to renew their youth and to laugh in the old, glad way.
I keep romance alive in the heart of childhood, and brighten sleep with dreams woven of magic.
I cause eager feet to climb dark stairways with filled baskets, leaving behind hearts amazed at the goodness of the world.
I cause the prodigal to pause a moment on his wild, wasteful way, and send to anxious love some little token that releases glad tears—tears which wash away the hard lines of sorrow.
I enter dark prison cells, reminding scarred manhood of what might have been, and pointing forward to good days yet to come.
I come softly into the still white home of pain, and lips that are too weak to speak just tremble in silent, eloquent gratitude.
In a thousand ways, I cause the weary world to look up into the face of God, and for a moment forget the things which are small and wretched.
I am the Christmas Spirit!

Political Candidates Will File Notices After First of Year

A rash of political candidates, are expected to file immediately after Jan. 1 for county, district and state offices. Because of mild criticisms of "playing favorites" in the past, the Brownfield NEWS makes public its policy, effective now, regarding "political announcements." A one-column picture of each candidate, plus five inches of written matter, will be printed by the NEWS. In addition, the name of each candidate will appear in the "Political Announcements" column in each edition of the NEWS from Jan. 1 until date of the first primary election. The following prices will prevail, payable in advance, for political announcements in the NEWS: justice of the peace, $20; precinct candidates, other county candidates, district office candidates and state office candidates, $35 each.

'Be Careful' Should Go With Gun Gifts

If you are giving your son a gun for Christmas, don't just hand it to him with the simple admonition "be careful," warn the editors of Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine. You should see that he gets adequate instruction and that he uses the gun only under the supervision of an experienced adult. Competent instruction is widely available today through rifle clubs, many of which are in high schools and junior highs. Membership in such a club solves the problem of where a boy may do his shooting after he has learned how. In addition to this basic instruction, there are five safety rules which your son should learn by heart for his future well-being: 1. Treat every gun as if it were loaded. 2. Keep the muzzle point-

- ed in a safe direction — away from everyone, including yourself.
- 3. Be sure of your target.
- 4. Be sure of your backstop. Backstops have one purpose — to stop the bullet. Continued firing may wear some away.
- 5. Know your gun and ammunition. Only a clean gun in good condition is safe. And make sure your ammunition is the right kind for the gun you are using.

BY ADVERTISING AGENCIES
Newspaper Advertising Rated Tops

By WELDON CALLAWAY

Some of our friends occasionally accuse us of letting our enthusiasm for newspaper advertising run amok.

That may be. But our enthusiasm is based on experience. We know what a newspaper can do to help build a retail business. Results obtained by merchants here and in other communities are constant proof that good newspaper advertising is an integral part of prosperous retailing.

Admitting, however, that a newspaper man may be prejudiced in the matter, the case for newspaper advertising is well supported from neutral sources. Such a source would be an advertising agency charged with finding the best medium in which to spend millions of dollars to advertise a client's products.

Mr. Melvin Brorby of Needham, Louis & Brorby, one of the nation's great advertising agencies, was asked why he chose newspapers as the major medium for promoting a wash-drying product. He listed the following advantages of the newspaper:

1. The effect that can be obtained from tremendous circulation and readership by both men and women.
2. The impact that may be obtained from a full page newspaper advertisement.
3. The flexibility of newspapers.
4. The low cost per thousand people reached.
5. The friendly cooperation of newspapers in helping with merchandising.

Well, Mr. Brorby has presented the case for newspapers better than most of us in the business could state it. No one could accuse Mr. Brorby of being prejudiced in favor of a particular advertising medium. He collects his impartial selection of the medium which will do the best job for his client.

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

A friend who is a high school teacher told me how one day the principal called a faculty meeting to discuss certain pupils whose conduct had become a neighborhood problem.

The teachers were shocked and amazed that these youngsters were becoming juvenile delinquents in their quiet and law abiding midst. "What is it that we have not taught them, that they should behave like this?" the principal asked.

My friend was young and different. But she ventured one word, "Compassion." The principal sat silent for a moment, and then said, "We just haven't taught them to be civilized."

He was right. For "compassion" is the hallmark of the civilized man. If we were all compassionate, our most dangerous problems would be solved. What ever our creeds and political dogmas, we would find a way to live and let live.

Cannot Feel Pain
George Duhamel, the French writer who began his career as an army surgeon in World War I, wrote out of his hospital experiences, "Wars go on because there is no way in which one man can feel in his own body the pain which another suffers."

Compassion at least helps us to share the pain of others. It holds our hand when our old barbaric instincts threaten to get the worst of us. Literally translated, compassion means a "feeling with." It is much more than pity.

Pity may be condescending. It can stand inactive on the side lines. At best it is giving. Compassion is an active, dynamic "sharing". The compassionate man says not merely, "There, but for the grace of God, go I." He must, by his nature, actually go with the sufferer.

It Isn't Weak
Compassion isn't weak or sentimental. It can be stern and realistic. Abraham Lincoln had a compassion that went out to all living things. If a chickadee fell from its nest he could not ride on until he had returned it to safety.

As Moulton Marston wrote, "Whenever you contact a human being who craves your understanding, you are treading a path which may never open to you again. Don't ignore it. We pass this way but once."

Perhaps the most striking living example of Christian compassion is Dr. Albert Schweitzer. When he was 30 he had acquired fame as scholar, musician and philosopher. Then one day he read an account of the Congo natives and their miserable plight.

Since by nature he had to "feel with them," he also had to take action for them. He abandoned fame and security to become a doctor among them, sharing their hardships and suffering. He brought them not only Christian faith but also Christian compassion.

Those of us who are not born with compassion can acquire it either by way of our imagination or through our experience. Education can help us. It also can, if it is the wrong kind of education, turn our decent human instincts into inhuman channels.

It is worth while to value compassion, for so much of our individual happiness depends on it — the success of friendship, marriage, parenthood, employer-employee relationships.

Compassion is the rich soil from which springs a civilized life. When we are courteous, when we give way to others, when we expend ourselves in their relief and comfort, when we are generous and forbearing with their weaknesses, we are displaying at least the outward and visible signs of compassion.

And we are well rewarded. For compassion begets compassion. And courtesy begets courtesy. How gladly we welcome it. How our heart is moved by a stranger's courtesy and helpfulness which sends us on our way with a sense of friendliness for the whole world.

A compassionate man, whatever his race and creed, is a man after Christ's own heart. Nearly 2,000 years ago it was that Christ was born in Bethlehem of Judea, a Babe whose life was destined to affect countless millions. The people among whom He was born were poor and despised, having been conquered by the Roman power.

A political power so strong and effective, and yet it knew no "compassion." In the heart of every man was a cry for deliverance. The world knew not of His birth. Work went on as usual. There was no tremendous upheaval announcing His wonderful birth. Only heaven appeared to be interested.

He did not come to a place with marble halls and carpeted stairs. No luxurious bedchamber was prepared for His birth. Neither nurses nor doctors were in His attendance. Bells failed to toll; bands were silent. Only the heavenly orchestras were heard.

He came to a stable, and he was laid in a manger. He was destined however to be recognized by countless millions as the greatest of all prophets, the mightiest of all the mighty, the Saviour of the world, God incarnate.

He dwelt among people only a short time — 33 years. His enemies had not learned "compassion" and he was put to death. Put to death... but he arose and it is through him that you and I live and move and have our being.

It is by his miraculous power.

NO NEED FOR TRAGEDY OF ANY KIND AT CHRISTMASTIME

Use Only Flameproof Crepe Paper, Use Real Candles Only With Extreme Caution, Dispose of Tree Soon As Practical

The very things which delight the hearts of children and make parental eyes glow—the lights and candles and artificial snow — are most often the agents of Christmas tragedies.
But most tragedy is avoidable. Follow these simple rules this year as you plan your Christmas decorations, and the occasion can be as festive and warm as any you have ever experienced, says Dr. Henry Holle, state health commissioner.

Use only flameproof crepe paper for streamers. If the package doesn't say "flameproof," don't buy it. The same injunction applies to other decorations, including the cotton bunting under the tree.

Don't use it unless it has been treated with an inflammable solution by the manufacture or unless you have treated it under directions supplied by your fire department.

If you think Christmas will not be complete without candles glowing in the windows, use them with extreme care. But never use them on the tree.
Take special pains to keep away from curtains, and put them in a sturdy candle holder to guard against their tipping over.

Make certain you use only decorative lighting which carries the tag of Underwriters

Laboratory approval.

Even after buying only UL products, pull the power cord from the wall outlet when the lights are turned off. This is important because insulation failures and overheated circuits could develop while you are absent from home.

Saw your Christmas tree off at an angle at least one inch above the original cut and keep it standing in a pan of water throughout the holiday period.
The tree thus will absorb a great deal of water, especially during the first few days, and thereby be less vulnerable to fire. Be sure to add to the water from time to time so the entire stem cut always will be submerged.

As an added precaution, take the tree down as soon as practical after the holidays. If you have had a real tree, dispose of it in the manner and place prescribed by your community.

In most Texas towns, the junior chamber of commerce or a similar organization routinely supervises the burning of discarded trees. Check to see if this service is handled by an organization in your town.

Keep these few simple suggestions in mind this year as you prepare for the holidays.
They require no extra time or inconvenience, but they will pay you big returns in that they will add to your chances of being around to celebrate Christmas, 1958.

May our sign point your way to holiday fun!

Texas Methodists
Plan Evangelistic
Campaign For 1958

From every walk of life,
Texas Methodists will gather in city, town and rural churches at 11 p.m. on Tuesday to launch the "Tell Texas About Christ" evangelistic campaign to be conducted throughout the state in 1958.

For the first time in history,
says Quay Parmer of Fort Worth, director of the campaign, every Methodist Church in Texas is being asked to have a New Year's Eve communion and watch night service.

By television, radio, movie screen and all other available forms of communication, an invitation is being issued to active and inactive Methodists, the unchurched and the general public to worship in a Methodist church on New Year's Eve.

All services will be designed to launch the 12-month campaign which has as a goal the reaching of every inactive Methodist and unchurched person in the state and presenting them with the challenge of active participation in some local church.

Each service is to feature a message by Bishop A. Frank Smith of Houston, or Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas, who head Texas Methodists.
Other features will be determined by individual pastors.

Plans also call for a prayer vigil in each Texas Methodist church beginning at 12 noon and continuing until 11 p.m. on Dec. 31.

Other scheduled events of the year's crusade include an All-Texas census on Jan. 26.
Area responsibilities will be assigned to each church, so that every home can be reached and information recorded concerning unidentified and potentially Methodist families.

On March 2, Texas Methodists will join in "One-Great Day of Witnessing." On that day, local church representatives will be knocking on doors throughout the state to invite thousands to accept Christianity and become active Methodists.

Circles Of Calvary Baptist in Study Of Foreign Missions

All circles of the WMU of Calvary Baptist Church met Tuesday afternoon, with the Helen Tisdale and the Darlene Sears circles having visitation.

The Everlay Hayes Circle met with Mrs. Lloyd Daugherty of 601 Lanny Avenue for a mission study. "Continent In Commotion."

The Helen Stuart Circle met with Mrs. Phillips of 311 East

Cardwell for a study, "Christ's Birth." Mrs. Alton Garner gave the devotional, "We have seen the Christmas Star."

Letters from foreign missionaries of various countries were read and studied. Different members gave their suggestions as to how Christmas should be observed.

NO OBSERVANCE

The Puritans of Mass. bay colony had a law that imposed fines for observances of Christmas and Gov. Bradford once issued a statement publicly ridiculing certain young men who declined to work on Dec. 25, "ye day called Christmas."

WINNERS — In upper panel is the outdoor Yule lighting of the Randall McBride home at 1415 East Buckley, which was judged best-door decoration in Jaycees' annual Christmas lighting contest. In lower panel: unfinished Vic Porter home 1300-block of East Card-

FORT WORTH—Current pasture condition in Texas as reported by USDA indicates 84% and just one year ago it was 50%, and this vast improvement was reflected in the continued light movement to market here, and at other points in the Southwest Monday.

Present range feed conditions are 13% higher than the ten year average, so the restocking program following the drought years continues at full throttle.

The bounty of range feed was reflected in cattle and calf prices at Fort Worth as strong to 50 cents higher levels opened the trade Monday. Some classes were at new high points for the season.

Fat calves reached $25, best for the class since January 1953. Bulls were at a seasonal high of $17.50, cows were at the best levels for a year or longer.

Stocker classes were equally higher, with good steer calves up to $25.50, and some of the $25.25 markers included bull calves, leaving strictly choice steer calves of lightweights untested in the trade.

Comparative prices: Good and choice steer and yearlings $22 to $25, and medium and low grades $15 to $21. Fat cows $14.50 to 17.50 and canners and cutters $10 to $14.

Bulls $13 to $17.50. Good and choice fat calves drew $22 to $25, with medium and lower grades $13 to $21. Feeder yearlings sold from $23 down, and a few stocker cows sold from $13 to $16.50.

FAT LAMBS WEAK, SHEEP AND GOATS STEADY

Fat lambs opened weak to 50 cents lower at Fort Worth Monday as good to choice slaughter lambs drew $20 to $21.50. Woolled feeder lambs also topped at $21.50. Slaughter yearlings and two's sold around $16 to $18, and old wethers sold from $12 to $15. A few slaughter ewes drew $8 to $9. Aged bucks drew $5.50 to $7. A few goats cashed at $8.

The Story Of Christmas

Long, long ago, 1,957 years as man now marks the passing of time, a star shone brightly on the little City of Bethlehem. No ordinary night was this, and no ordinary star. This was a night of glory and wonder and this was a star that would be the hope of the world. On this night in Bethlehem the angels sang in their heavens, the humble shepherds knelt in the fields to pray, and even the wise men were filled with awe and reverence.

Here in this quiet place a glorious birth brought hope and joy to the hearts of men, for here in Bethlehem, on this starry night, a King was born. His coming was made known by the angels. Unaccompanied by blatant blasts of trumpets or hawking cries of heralds, their soft, praise-filled voices reached out into the stillness of the night, singing "Hosanna, Hosanna, hail to the King!"

Out on the hillsides the shepherds heard and they knelt among their flocks to pray. And there came three wise men, following the star that had guided their pathway from the East.

Simple, indeed, were the surroundings. A crude stable served as a palace; the royal cradle was but a lowly manger filled with hay. There were no trumpets, no court

Brownfield News

And Terry County Herald... Terry County's Oldest Business Institution

Vol. 20 Brownfield News-Herald, Sunday, Dec. 22, 1957 No. 85

In the history of the world, no story has ever been told or written or repeated as many times as the story of the first Christmas. Yet the telling and retelling of this story through generations finds it forever the same—a simple, effective narrative of the birth of the Child Jesus at Bethlehem. The characters, the setting, the situation are forever the same in the recounting of mankind's greatest moment, the coming of the Redeemer. The story shall never change, nor shall the effect of that One Great Life upon man's eternal quest for salvation.

criers, no multitudes surging forth to adore. There, that night in Bethlehem, when the story began, there was only the stable, the Child in the manger, with Mary the Mother hovering near and Joseph standing quietly by. And in the brilliant light of the star were the Wise Men and the shepherds—bearing gifts for the new-born King of Kings.

Through centuries of telling and retelling this greatest of all stories has remained unchanged. It has for centuries marked the beginning of a new era of hope and faith for all mankind.

For the King that was born in Bethlehem was not a mere king of some worldly domain. He was the King of all men and the King of Kings. He came unto earth as a promise of eternal salvation, to show the way. He walked in the valley of men, not garbed in the regal raiments of worldly authority but surrounded by an aura of ethereal goodness and wisdom; as a leader and teacher of men.

There is then, deep significance to this holiday we celebrate as Christmas. It is more than an anniversary or a festive occasion; a time to find joy in the acts of giving and receiving. Christmas is a time for prayer and thanksgiving; a time to return in thought and spirit to the simple meaning of the Story of Bethlehem; for on this day mankind was divinely blessed and given the right to seek out eternal salvation.

THE SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

What, indeed, is Christmas? Ask a child and he may tell you that it is a time of snow and bright lights, and Santa Claus and presents under the tree. Ask a hundred grown-ups and you may get a hundred slightly related answers, for Christmas is many things to many people.

But, for all of us, the happiest memories of childhood are those associated with the celebration of this great holiday. How easy it is to vividly call up scenes of long ago when a happy family gathered by the warm glow of an open fireside; to close the eyes to see again the snow-covered fields and to hear again the crunching sound of heavy boots plodding through the snow and visualize the little white church of the hill. In the silence of a darkened room one can so easily revisit that little church, breathe again the aroma of evergreens and burning candles and sense anew the presence that is so obvious in the quiet and solemn stillness.

These are the things about Christmas that have not changed and will not change with the modes and mannerisms of new generations. These are the things which reflect the spirit of Christmas. It is in the spirit of love and goodness, of close communion with God and with mankind and with it all is mixed a sense of awe at the wonderful miracle brought into being on that first Christmas night at Bethlehem so long ago.

This is the spirit of Christmas, and so it shall remain until the end of time.

WISHING SPOT . . . Practically every nook and corner of the department store becomes a wishing spot as kiddies anticipate the coming of Santa. In this instance the very young ladies have focused their attention on a pair of dolls.

Bows And Bells Help Dress The Outer Door

Instead of the conventional wreath on the outside of your door why not string some bells and tree ornaments on narrow baby ribbon and hang from a huge red bow?

Make your door and window frames bright and cheerful by framing them with ribbon and sprigs of holly. Hang the ribbon in festoons across the curtains and tie at the sides in wide sash bows for colorful effect.

Safe Toys Will Make Holiday Happiest

The toys you give your child this Christmas can turn his happy holiday into a time of needless tragedy if you do not exercise caution in selecting safe and well-constructed playthings.

The frequency of eye accidents among children show a marked increase during the holidays, accidents caused by BB guns, bows and arrows, sharp-pointed toys, or toys so poorly constructed they fall apart, leaving jagged edges.

Here are some helpful hints for toy-buying parents:

1. Be sure the toy is suitable for the child's age and that he knows how to use it.
2. Avoid toys with sharp edges.
3. See that the toy is put together sturdily.
4. Avoid dangerous playthings such as BB guns, pointed-tip arrows and air rifles—especially for the smaller fry.

UP SHE GOES . . . It takes plenty of horsepower to hoist the huge Christmas tree in New York's Rockefeller Plaza. The three ton white spruce shown above is estimated to be 65 years old.

Choose Wisely When Buying Toys for Tots

Safety is an important factor in the selection of Christmas toys for the pre-school set and here are some good suggestions:

Be sure paint on toys is lead free and that toys have no sharp or jagged edges.

Never give a small child a toy that is small enough to swallow. Tiny toys or toys with small parts that may come off should be avoided.

Consider traffic hazards before buying toys used outdoors. A ball or a bicycle is a dangerous plaything on a busy street.

Building blocks are just something for the small tot to scatter from one room to another and small toys quite often cause bad falls if left scattered on the floor.

Avoid glass and other breakable materials.

Imagination Helps Give Home Christmas Feeling

Attractive holiday adornments for the front door, mantels and dining room can do much to bring the warm, friendly spirit of Christmas season into the home.

A triangle or crescent formed greens will brighten the front door.

Pine, hemlock, spruce, fir, laurel, holly and scotch broom all work well here.

Tie the stems together with string or wire to form the triangle or crescent. Use branches of varying length, with the larger foliage near the base of stem end.

Add a bow of waterproof Christmas ribbon and some pine cones, berries, balls or bells for color at the stem end of the spray.

Front Door Piece

Turn a few greens upside down and insert them at the basal ends to cover the bare stems. The entire spray should then be turned upside down and hung on the outside of the front door.

A simple, but attractive dinner table arrangement involves using a glass salad bowl with a needle or pin holder in the center.

The holder can be made fast with modeling clay. Place a few evergreens around the edge of the bowl, inserting the stems in the holder.

A dozen red and white roses or carnations facing in different directions—completes a beautiful but simple centerpiece for the table.

Texan Named President Of Historical Group

University of Texas Historian Walter Prescott Webb will become president of the American Historical Association at the organization's annual meeting Dec. 28-30 in New York City.

Dr. Webb is author of "The Great Plains," "The Great Frontier," "The Texas Rangers" and other books, and has received international recognition for his scholarly achievements.

An excellent mantle piece can be made from a piece of plain white Styrofoam. Insert candles in a row down the center, then decorate foreground and background sparingly with small pieces of evergreen.

He has served this year as AHA vice-president, and was president of the Mississippi Valley Historical Association in 1955.

NEW M-F "65" TRACTOR

THE NEW MASSEY-FERGUSON "65" 4-plow tractor—a new brand name—heads up the Massey-Harris-Ferguson tractor line for 1958. It is classed in the medium horsepower range and is available in four models—standard four-wheel, four-wheel high arch, dual-wheel row-crop, and single wheel row-crop. The "65" features the famous Ferguson system which transfers load weight from plow to rear wheels. This system allows light weight and economically operated tractors to perform jobs which normally require heavy and much more costly equipment. A new feature is "Grip Action" links that make hook-up much easier no matter how uneven the ground. For comfort, the M-F "65" incorporates a high position in-take to allow dust free air, simple easy-to-reach controls, ample leg room, and a thick foam rubber seat with padded back rest. The new "M-F" tractor was introduced to 5,000 Massey-Harris-Ferguson dealers throughout the United States at regional meetings in November.

Proper Care Prolongs The Life Of Poinsettias

The poinsettia, with its bright red flowers and green foliage, will survive if cared for properly. If you have recently purchased a poinsettia, chances are it was greenhouse grown, so try to provide conditions as nearly as possible like those in the greenhouse. A uniform temperature of 60-75 degree F. is best. Place the plant in bright light near a sunny window but remove it at night to prevent chilling. Water it enough to keep the soil moderately moist but not waterlogged. If you intend to keep the poinsettia for another year, gradually withhold water and store it in a cool, dry place after it has stopped blooming. In April or May, prune it down to six inches, and repot it in a good potting mixture with proper drainage. Return it to bright light to renew its growth. You can put it out in the garden when the temperature remains above 60 degrees F. An area partly shaded from the mid-day sun is most desirable. You can keep the poinsettia short by pinching it in summer, but do not prune the same shoot more than once because small flowers will result. As cool weather approaches, move the plant indoors to an airy and sunny location, preferably near a south window. The poinsettia is a short-day plant and must not be exposed to artificial light because it will delay or prevent flowering.

MAKING SNOW

Grandmother's way of making snow for evergreen branches is still a good and economical way to dress up holiday decorations. Use plenty of soap chips or flakes in a little water. Beat lightly with a wire mesh spoon just long enough to get a nice, thick foam and smear on the needles and stems. Allow to dry and you have a beautiful winter woodland scene.

TREE USES NOTED

You can still put your Christmas tree to use after it is taken down. For one thing, you can cut off the longer branches and "plant" them as windbreaks to protect outdoor plantings such as low-growing boxwood, abovita, azalea, yew, rhododendron and juniper. Little teepees can be built around exposed shrubs and tender plants. This will protect them from biting, drying winds and prevent snow and ice from accumulating and bending the plants out of shape. Some kind of Oscar ought to be created for an intelligent person who sits in front of a television set all night.

Christmas Tragedy Is Awaiting Unwary

Christmas is the season of joy and peace, yet quite often carelessness causes it to be a time of tragedy. Fire hazards are about us everywhere during the holiday season. The majority of us overload our home electrical systems during the season and practically everyone brings a Christmas tree into the house without first spraying it with a fireproof substance. Holiday fires are needless. Don't use more lights than you need to make your tree look bright and cheerful and have your electrical system carefully checked even before you install any lights at all. Don't let a tinder-dry, Christmas tree spoil your holiday. Be certain your tree is fresh when you buy it. Keep it in water at all times and do not bring it into the house until a day or so before Christmas. Do not place the tree near a fireplace or heating unit. Dispose of the tree when it begins to shed its needles a lot. Be sure that all decorations used in the home are fireproof. Do not use lighted candles as a part of your Christmas decorations. They are much more dangerous than decorative. Check Wiring. If your string of lights are not new, check the insulation on the wiring carefully as it tends to become brittle with age and use. Use only approved lights and wiring for outdoor decorations. Indoor wiring tends to short when used outside. If you burn a Yule log in your fireplace to observe the holiday, be sure to use a screen and keep household items and other articles a safe distance from the fireplace.

Tree Should Be Safe As Well as Pretty

Make sure your Christmas tree this year is as safe as it is attractive. The way to do it is to keep the butt of the tree in water while it's in the house.

Keeping the tree in water will help to prevent dryness that may mean a fire hazard. It will also help the needles from dropping so rapidly.

When you select your tree, try to find out how long it has been cut. It will last longer if it has been cut recently.

Balsam fir makes the best Christmas tree, but Douglas fir is nearly as good. Becoming increasingly popular are the pine trees—Scotch, red, white and jack—which hold their needles from two to four weeks. Spruce trees will hold their needles only from three to ten days in the house.

Here's How to Keep The Christmas Tree

For the family which prefers a small tree, an evergreen can serve as the traditional Christmas decoration during the holidays and later take its place in the family yard as an ornamental tree.

Pinata Is Traditional In Mexican Christmas

Our Mexican friends south of the border are picking up some of our holiday traditions and we could do ourselves a favor by adopting one of their customs, such as the "breaking of the pinata."

Widely used in Mexico throughout the year, the pinata is busiest during the Mexican Christmas Festival. The pinata is a fragile earthen jar which is filled with sweetmeats, trinkets, candies and toys, then suspended from the ceiling in a large room or patio.

Each guest is blindfolded, spun around, and allowed a whack at the pinata with a stick. When it is finally smashed, all hands rush for the shower of candies and toys.

Forestry experts say that the live tree has a reasonable chance of survival if several rules are followed.

First, careful digging is necessary to insure that the whole root system is removed with the tree. The evergreen should be thoroughly watered from the moment it is potted.

The tree should be kept in the house a minimum amount of time, since the heat of the house often forces the buds to break out. These will freeze when the tree is transplanted outdoors.

Short-needled varieties of evergreen make the best potted trees. These include balsam, white and Dauglass fir and blue, white, red and Norway spruce. The foliage of pines is too sparse at the three-foot height to make them suitable as table trees.

Now that the Army-Navy football game is over, maybe the generals and admirals can get back together, behind the defense program.

Hot Punches Grow in U.S. Popularity

Hot punches, gaining new popularity in America, have never gone out of favor in England where punch bowls are a frequent sight, usually of polished silver to hold hot brews. These zesty punches may be mild or glowing.

For mild drinks there is spiced tea with cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg added before brewing, then combined with heated fruit juices.

For glowing drinks there is Mulled Cider, simmered with spices and served with floating orange slices; or the traditional Tom and Jerry, served

FOR CHRISTMAS

Saint Nick Necessary

Every December many parents are faced with the problem of what to do or what to say about Santa Claus.

Some of our educators have been saying for years that the Santa theory is all wrong and some of today's "modern" parents seem to agree.

But is the Saint Nick idea good or bad for children? We say it is good that no child, be he average or brilliant, ever suffered from the grand illusion.

Children know there is a Santa Claus and they accept the fact that he gradually changes from the Santa of fiction to the bill-paying Santa of reality.

Santa is good for small children, for children have imaginative minds. The fact they might see a Santa on every corner matters little.

In their eyes Santa is a symbol, a mystery, and in his wondrous magic, is apt to pop up anywhere.

And it is not the end of the world when the times comes that older child shatters the illusion by telling all.

Such is the perfect opportunity for the wise parent to explain that Santa is, after all, a spirit of Christmas. He represents the spirit of giving and the reason that we give at Christmas time is because this is the day on which Jesus was born.

Jesus taught us love and faith and hope and Santa is a figurative being who helps us understand and use that teaching.

Christmas Tree Called Center of Fire Hazards

The Christmas season is indeed a happy one, but few people stop to think of the added fire hazards their home contains during this time of the year.

The Christmas tree, the center of all the pretty decorations, can be one of the principal hazards if certain precautions are not followed, warns W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

A freshly cut tree should be selected just a few days before Christmas, advises Ulich. Cut the base of the tree diagonally and keep the base submerged in water. Locate it away from fireplaces, powerful electric lights, radiators or other sources of heat.

Use only Underwriters

Laboratories approved lights for the tree and inspect them carefully for frayed cords and damaged sockets, says the engineer. Avoid overloading electrical circuits with additional lights, toys and appliances.

Only nonflammable decorations should be used on the tree, he cautions. Turn the tree lights off when retiring or leaving the house. Discard the tree when the needles begin to dry and fall off. Also remove Christmas package wrappings as soon as they have been taken from the packages.

This is also a time for smokers to take special precautions. Extra care should be taken with cigarettes, cigars and pipes around all flammable LET'S SEE NOW . . . Checking the Christmas list with Santa is an important task. No need to risk the chance that Santa might bring the wrong things or not know exactly where to come on Christmas night.

Mistletoe Is More Than Romance Leaf

There's more to mistletoe than the excuse to invite a kiss from a pretty girl.

The white-berried plant actually is a parasite, often killing off trees that play it host. In recent years Australian foresters resorted to flame throwers to kill off the plant in some wooded areas.

The popular promoter of Yuletide romance has a bad habit of sapping the water and mineral salts from the trees, starving them to death.

The mistletoe does serve one useful function in the outdoors, however, as it provides a winter food supply for mockingbirds, robins and waxwings.

These small birds are responsible for the spread of the tree-damaging parasite. After eating the berries, the birds clean their beaks on the trees, firmly planting the mistletoe seeds they do not eat.

The tap root of the seedlings pierces the tenderest portions of the tree — young branches or buds — and the tree sap is drawn into the thick leaves of the guest plant.

Thus the mistletoe plays dual characters and at least according to one superstition, can change from one character to another in the twinkling of an eye. For instance, if the Yuletide mistletoe bough isn't removed from a house by Candlemass Eve (February 1), each

THE WASSAIL BOWL

The Wassail Bowl is the center of adult festivities in Scotland. Its origin is lost in antiquity, but tradition has endowed the Wassail Bowl with legendary romance. It is ornamental in design and decorated with branches of greenery. The mixture within is warm and sweet, and wine is sometimes added to the ale and sugar and spices.

Utopia must be the place where the women folks don't change the furniture around in the room every month or two. — Greensboro (Ga.) Herald-Journal.

Holiday Cooking Should Be Planned

Fun's a-poppin' in the kitchen during the holiday season. Much of the preholiday fun comes in deciding what to serve, but this often means extra work.

Plan your holiday cooking so that you can do much of the preparation well ahead of time—make pies, breads and prepare fowl and store them in the freezer.

You can make salads 24 hours before serving, and you can prepare cranberry jelly at any convenient time.

Since you want to save your energy so that you'll be in good spirits for the holidays, recruit the helping hands of your family. List things to do, and let them choose their jobs. You'll have better cooperation that way. They will want to help and share in what should be a family tradition.

Holidays are more meaningful to your children if you let them have a hand in the preparations. Of course you'll adapt their jobs to their ages and abilities.

Annual Tree Harvest Helpful to Forests

Don't feel disturbed or guilty about using evergreens for Christmas trees—there's more than enough to go around. Besides, today most Christmas trees are "harvested" as a crop to insure more living room for regular plantings.

Also, many Christmas trees come from poorer forest soils and wet bog areas devoted exclusively to the growing of trees for the Christmas market. In such areas evergreens grow far too slowly to produce a lumber of pulpwood crop—thus Christmas trees are the only profitable harvest to come off that land.

Another Christmas tree source is thinnings. Mother Nature seeds from 5,000 to 10,000 trees per acre. In today's growing-trees-as-a-crop operation, frequent thinning is essential to allow trees room to live and grow. The thinnings can be sold as Christmas trees—and fill a trio of needs: first, as a bringer-of-joy into the home; second, as an income source to the forester; third, as "life insurance" for upcoming timber crops.

OFFICIAL CARD . . . Shows above in the official Christmas card sent out last year by President and Mrs. Eisenhower. The entire front of the card is gold with embossed lettering. Background of the presidential seal is white with a red, white and blue shield. The inscription on the card is inside the fold.

Every intelligent person must decide certain questions concerning personal conduct on his own. No human being or group has ever been successful in laying down blanket rules, the same rules, for everyone.

Egg Nog Custom Dates Back To Early Custom

The custom of inviting friends and relatives in for cocktails or egg nog during the holiday season, so popular in America today, dates back to the old English practice of "wassailing."

In Elizabethan times, no celebration was complete without the wassail bowl filled to the brim with pungent ale—a cherry invitation to all to come in and help celebrate the Yule.

Then, as the guests raised their steaming mugs in a toast to Christmas, the merry cry of "What Hail!" "W a s s a i l!" would ring joyously through the hall.

If you have ever wondered why audiences are so easily pleased or amused, the answer lies in a few plants, who lead the herd by their laughs and applause.

Big Holiday Candle Made from Scraps

Odds and ends of partly burned candles can be used to make a big, long-burning Christmas candle.

Melt the candles and remold them in an ice cream carton or oatmeal container, whichever is handy. Use plain cord for the wick.

When the wax is beginning to harden, tie the wick to a pencil and suspend it in the wax.

Let set hard, remove the carton, and there is a nice candle for your table.

Be sure, however, that you burn the candle safely. While it is pretty and attractive and adds to your holiday decorations, it is also a potential fire hazard.

Let no one assume the editor is under the impression these lines are immortal. We suspect in another eighty or ninety years people will begin to forget their wit.

Native Shrubs Help Dress Up the Home

Native shrubs of ornamental value are found in all parts of Texas . . . They add interest to farm and home grounds and save dollars too.

Shrubs can be marked now and transplanted to the grounds during the winter, according to Sadie Hatfield, extension homestead improvement specialist.

It's easy to spot shrubs which have attractive berries and bright fall leaves at this time of the year. It's also easy to select the evergreen shrubs you may be looking for.

Valuable native plants are often found growing in nearby pastures, old fields, canyons and breaks. Those found near your home especially will be well adapted to the soil and climate and will usually thrive when moved to the home grounds. They may take less care than introduced plants. There are many possibilities.

Examples are the ceniza and agarita or algerita, which grows in the southwestern area; native hollies, bayberry, cherry laurel and Indian Cherry in East Texas.

Evergreen sumac or kiniknik, mountain laurel, Texas Madrona, Texas Arbutus, cedars and Arizona Cypress are found growing wild in Central and West Texas.

There ought to be a law against radio and TV programs combining scores and music.

EL PASO — Only an assist from the weatherman is needed for El Paso to enjoy its sunniest Sun Carnival celebration in history.

Selection of a pair of crack-jack football teams, a pretty Sun Queen, a bevy of beauties for the Sun Court has wrapped the mid-winter festival up in a big bright package, ready for delivery between Christmas and New Year's Day.

Louisville and Dre'a Universities, a pair of offensive powerhouses, are the Sun Bowl participants. The two schools, who suffered only one defeat during regular season play, are expected to provide one of the most explosive and colorful games since the Sun Bowl series began back in 1933.

Reigning over the entire celebration will be Sun Queen Mary Lee Leavell, a blonde, blue-eyed Southwestern girl, chosen by a secret Sun Carnival committee. Her court is composed of duchesses and princesses from throughout the Southwest.

Sun Queen Mary Lee and her court officially will be introduced during a gala Coronation and Coronation Ball Saturday, December 28, in the El Paso Coliseum.

Mistletoe Once Was Considered As Evil

The mistletoe, alternately a symbol of good and evil, has a controversial background. Known today as a criminal killer of forests, it is still used as a symbol of love, peace-making and goodwill.

According to legend, this is how the mistletoe became a symbol of love: The ancient Scandinavian light god, Balder, so the myth goes, was killed by Loki with a mistletoe arrow after the beloved Balder's mother had evoked a promise from all other living things that they would not harm her son.

Balder was restored to life by the intercession of other gods who entrusted the mistletoe plant to the goddess of love and she ordained that henceforth anyone passing beneath its bough should receive a kiss in token of love, not vengeance. Held high, the mistletoe would never again be evil.

Safe Christmas Likely If Rules Are Followed

You wouldn't build a fire on the living room floor, but an improperly decorated Christmas tree amounts to the same thing. Don't invite Santa to come to your house on a fire engine; follow these precautions in Christmas tree lighting and decorating:

Choose a small tree, rather than a large one.

Store the tree outdoors until a day or two before Christmas. When the tree is brought into the house, stand it in water and set it in a cool part of the house, away from radiators, heaters and fireplaces. Don't allow it to block an exit.

Check Carefully

Be sure every lighting set and electric cord you use is in good condition — no worn or frayed wires, no loose sockets.

When you buy new sets or cords, look for the approved Underwriters' Label. The one that bear it have passed tests for fire and shock hazards.

Provide a switch some distance from the tree.

MRS. ERNEST HYMAN

FRIDAY IN FIRST PRESBYTERIAN

Miss Jerre Sue Estes, Ernest Hyman are Wed

Miss Jerre Sue Estes, daughter of Mrs. Mary Lou Estes of 820 East Broadway, became the bride of Ernest Leo Hyman of Abilene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hyman of Route 1, at 7:30 p.m. Friday in First Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Ralph O'Dell, pastor, read the double ring ceremony before an altar framed in candlelight from massed branch candelabra. Emerald palms formed a background for large baskets of white gladiolus accented with white satin streamers. Satin bows marked the aisles.

Mrs. Ruth Ramsey, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Crawford Taylor as he sang "I'll Walk Beside You," "Because" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Is Portrait Neckline
The bride, entering on the arm of R. O. Black of Brownfield, wore a wedding gown in an original model of imported lace and tulle over net and satin. The portrait neckline was outlined with scalloped lace. The fitted lace bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands and terminating with points at center front waistline.

The voluminous floor length skirt was made of tulle fully shirred over net and satin. It was highlighted with an scalloped yoke of lace and outlined with bands of lace.

The fullness was emphasized by hoops and crinolines worn underneath. The veil of silk illusion was joined to a crown of seed pearls and iridescent sequins. She carried a white orchid bouquet.

Identical Dresses Worn
Miss Janith Spears of Lubbock was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Kay Hamilton, Linda Hyman, Clarice Cornett and Mrs. Gerald Goldston of Brownfield. Pam Stephens was flower girl. The bride's attendants wore identical dresses of wild rose cotton satin complimented with bows of velvet ribbon. The dresses were made with low scalloped necklines, empire waists and full skirts. They carried pink carnation bouquets arranged with net and satin ribbon. Headaddresses were matching feather bandeaux.

Don Howard of Abilene served as best man. Ushers were Ken Muldrow of Norman, Okla., Pat Hyman of Abilene, Bobby Moore of Odessa, and Lewis Chambliss of Brownfield. Mike Hamilton of Fort Worth and Mary Joe Christian of Brownfield were candlelighters.

Misses Dorothy Patton and Carol Johnson of Brownfield registered wedding guests.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hyman are graduates of Brownfield High School. She formerly was employed as secretary to the county attorney. He is attending Abilene Christian College and is employed by Thornton's of Abilene. They will make their home in Abilene after Jan. 1.

FIVE OF ITS MEMBERS WIN SPECIAL AWARDS

County's Oldest Home Demonstration Club Is Pleasant Valley; Formed 1940

THAT SPECIAL GIFT — Mrs. Doyle Johnson of Union is shown as she opens a special gift presented her, as president, Tuesday afternoon when Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Hubert Henson, Route 1, for their Christmas party. Chances are the present, a crystal punch bowl with cups and ladle, will be used at many club meetings. (NEWS-foto)

Dear Santa,
I want you to bring me lots of apples, nuts, candy, oranges and a 2 gun holster set.
I've got a little brother Tony that wants the same only he wants a pair of chaps to go with the guns.
Bye, bye till Christmas
Eddie, Ray and Tony Emery, 1269 West Lake.

Dear Santa Claus,
I want a high heel doll and a Cinderella watch. I am 9 years old. I wish you a very Merry Christmas and a happy New Year. I live at 1204 East Main, Brownfield, Texas. I am a good little girl. My name is Patricia Tilger.
Your friend,
Patricia Tilger

Pleasant Valley Home Demonstration Club, oldest in Terry County, met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Hubert Henson of Route 1 for their annual Christmas party.

The club was organized in 1940, with the late Mrs. U. E. Steen as president. During 17 years more than 100 women have held membership in the club with the largest enrollment at any one time being 26.

Mrs. Hubert Henson takes the honor of having the longest membership record. She has been in the club for 16 years, with Mrs. M. E. Hinson running her a close second with 15½ years.

The organization has had a one-year course with Looie Miller's School of Millinery, advanced dress designing, leather tooling, textile painting, metal etching and custom tailoring.

The 10 present members are quick to sing its praises. Mrs. Leonard Willis says, "If we are working with a club member on any project, we know we will have 100 per cent cooperation."

Mrs. Adrian Hinson, driving from Union to attend the meetings, says, "We can express our views without fear of criticism."

No time is set for adjournment and at times individuals have been known to stay as late as 10 p.m. Meeting days are definitely the wife's day out.

A unique ruling in the club gave five of the members an abundance of gifts. To the member not missing a single meeting during the year, all other members must present with a special Christmas gift.

On the winning end this year were Mrs. Adrian Hinson, Mrs. Vanoye Riley, Mrs. Smith, Mrs. Delton Tatum and Mrs. Henson. Mrs. Doyle Johnson, president, received a special gift.

Both the living room and the dining area were decorated for Christmas with a miniature white net tree centering the table. Cookies served with coffee also were cut in the shapes of trees.

Those attending were Mmes. Leo Willis, Leonard Willis, Johnson, Smith, Riley Tatum, Hinson, M. E. Hinson and Henson.

MAKES COMEBACK

Yule Log Tradition

The Yule Log tradition is making a comeback as more and more of today's modern homes are designed with open fireplaces as well as central heating and gas stoves.

For those who have a place to burn a Yule log and want one, tradition says that it should be oak, ash, olive, apple or may be able to acquire, get plenty of wood.

Ash is highly desirable since it can be used without being seasoned. It burns quickly, and throws off plenty of heat. Poplar, on the other hand, will spark badly if unseasoned.

Elm is less desirable since it is slow to get started. However, it lasts a long time and brightens up when it gets going. A few logs of birch, pine or fir will help it along.

Beech and oak are among the best logs. Beech has a pleasant aroma and gives off a steady glow. Oak has the outstanding merit of burning slowly.

If none of these are available. Select wood from some kind of fruit tree. Such wood gives off a pleasant smell when burning.

The bride's mother wore a dark blue crepe sheath. The collar and the cuffs of light blue satin on the elbow length sleeves were trimmed with seed pearls. She wore blue accessories and a pink sylvium orchid.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the church annex. The bridal couple, their mothers and the bride's attendants made up the receiving line.

The table was covered in white tulle over pink. Forming the centerpiece was a tall wedding candle surrounded by pink carnations. Completing table arrangements was a three-tiered wedding cake topped with miniature bridal couple.

Live In Denton
Mrs. James Adams of Denton, Mrs. Jerry Adams of Lubbock and Mrs. Wesley Patterson of Crandall cut the wedding cake. Misses Sally Perry of Sherman and Barbara Eaves of Brownfield served the punch. Mrs. Don Gross was at the register.

For a wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride wore a brown wool suit with beige accessories and a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Cooke is a graduate of Brownfield High School and attended North Texas State Teachers College in Denton. He graduated from Rockdale High School and will graduate from NTST College in June. He is a member of Kappa Sigma social fraternity and Delta Sigma Chi journalism fraternity. After Jan. 3, they will be at home at 1731 Scripture, Denton.

TERRY WINTER SPORTS

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

By the time this column reaches your breakfast table the sports wars will be over for at least a week while athletes take a rest for the Christmas holidays.

The Cubs will reopen the cage program when they host Lovington here New Year's Eve. Meadow's Broncos will be in the first round of the Ropesville Tourney the same day.

It will be nice to sit back and relax for awhile after the fall's rush of sports. However, it will be just a prelude to another onslaught as the bowl games hit Jan. 1, followed by district basketball for county teams.

With the exception of the Broncos, Terry's quintets have had a rough time in this year's cage wars. However, even in losing, the youngsters have done very well.

Coach Farris Nowell reported this week that he thinks he has a winning combination now after shuffling his lineup in the initial stages of the season. The combination includes Ken

There is an old saying about winter fishing separating the men and the boys. The men stay home by the fire and the boys go out.

Well, that isn't exactly true any more. Many Texans have learned that some of the finest fishing is had during the cold months.

Also there is a new kind of fishing. Men work at fishing nowadays. They don't just set out trot lines or a few cane poles and let the fish do the work.

Today they get in fast boats and whip out across the fine lakes of Texas. They've learned new tricks for making fish hit the bait. Also they have learned how to find these fish.

For instance, right now there is wonderful white bass fishing. They are caught trolling and with minnows, still fishing. Most of the fun, however, is in following the gulls to find these fish.

Follow the Gulls

This is an old trick on the coast. Fishermen down there for years have followed the gulls, especially in finding trout schools. Now they are doing the same thing on Texas

ALL-AMERICAN

Bailey Is Honored

Two Eastern New Mexico University football players have received special post-season honors.

Curtis Blair, senior quarterback from Spur and Jerry Bailey, Brownfield, senior end, have been named to Williamson's 1957 Mid-Bracket All-American team. Both received honorable mention honors to join senior tackle Gerald Moore who was recently named on a wire-service Little All-American eleven.

Blair, who ran and passed for 920 yards this season, was named to the honor for the first time, but Bailey is a repeater on the Williamson eleven. He received a similar honor on the 1956 team.

Numerals Awarded To 40 Tech Frosh

Forty Texas Tech freshmen have been awarded numerals for their football play last fall, according to Tom Hamm, freshman coach.

They are: Ends — Stanley Bolding of Dallas, Rory Younger of Whitney, Eldon King of El Paso (Austin High), Mike Seay of Andrews, James Brock of Fort Worth, Don Davis of Justin and Tommy Turner of Garland.

Tackles — Allan Tolbert of Vega, Dale Robinson of Stamford, Emmett Bowers of Yardville, N.J., Kelly Gilbert of Oklahoma City, Okla., Joe Anderson of Lewisville, Robert Meyer of San Antonio and Bobby Mackey of Hillsboro.

Guards — Kim Foulkes of Artesia, N.M., Norman Morgan of Burkburnett, Jackie Wiles of Levelland, Jere Mohan of Panhandle, Mike Nichols

Brownfield's battling Cubs claimed their second win of the season at the expense of the Seagraves Eagles on the latter's home court, 52-48, Thursday night.

Kenneth Cason tallied four points in the overtime period to spark the Cubs to the non-conference cage triumph.

Dennis Grimes' jump shot from the corner knotted the score, 46-46, six seconds before the end of regulation time to send the game in the extra five minutes.

Cason dropped a counter through the nets early in the overtime, but Eagle Jim Hamilton retaliated to knot the score again. Cason followed with another goal and Gary White added two free throws for an insurance margin.

After trailing 14-7 after the first period, the Eagles assumed command to lead most of the way in the nip and tuck tilt. The Cubs took the lead with four minutes to play, losing the advantage in the final six seconds.

Cason ripped the nets for 15 points, but Hamilton was high scorer for the game, tallying 17 counters.

Joe Oswald's 19 points led the Cub B team to a 42-34 victory over the host B team. Bobby Bullock led the losers with 14 points.

A Family That Prays Together, Stays Together

The True Light

The true light that is intended for every man has come into the world. This light shines perpetually into the darkness in which man lives and the darkness cannot overcome it. It radiates from the manger stall at Bethlehem; it gleams from Calvary's hill; on Easter morn it broke the bonds of time and is eternally present in our world. Joy to the world indeed! Praise God from whom all blessings flow!

The light is here; we need not even ask it, but only open our eyes. Then why do so many walk yet in darkness? There is only one answer, they love darkness better than light. For those who stumble blindly about life and yearn for respite, there stands an eternal invitation—"Come unto me all ye who labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest." For those whose hearts ache with emptiness—"Behold I stand at the door and knock. If any man will hear my voice and open the door I will come in to him."

Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

These religious messages are made possible by the above individuals and business firms with the hope of creating a more sincere interest in our churches and a more church-minded community.

BROWNFIELD FFA SURVEY

By HERBIE PICKETT

Reporter
Brownfield FFA members brought home honors from the State Leadership Contest at Huntsville last week. Members of the second place senior farm skill team were Gene Purcell, Leon Clark and Homer Pendergrass. Mike Smith, Bill Walker and Bobby Whitney received a fourth place banner for their performance in radio broadcasting. Subject of the farm skill demonstration was "Soil and Plant Tissue Testing". The title of the radio broadcast was "Building Soil Fertility." Members from about 60 chapters were present for the contests. This represented the "cream of the crop" of Texas' 1,000 FFA Chapters.

Stock Show News
Most of the livestock has been put on feed already for the spring shows. At last count members of Brownfield FFA had about 25 calves and 60 pigs on feed.

These will be exhibited at the South Plains Fat Stock Show in Lubbock on March 17-18 and at the Terry County Junior Fat Stock Show here sometime during April.

All vocational agriculture students are required to have a crop of livestock project during the year in addition to other supervised farming work.

Study Records
This week, V.A. students have been studying Record Keeping in their classes.

Record Keeping has a place in every type of business and has had too little attention on the farm in the past.

Record keeping of the modern farm is becoming more complicated each year. By training students to understand and complete simple records on farm projects in their agri-

Tests Reveal Rutgers Tomatoes Yield Well

Texto 2 and Homestead tomatoes have given consistent yield increases over other widely planted varieties in tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in South-Central Texas.

Dr. A. L. Harrison who made the tests said Rutgers variety which has been widely planted as an all-purpose tomato has been extremely variable in yields for the past several years with satisfactory yields obtained only during favorable weather conditions. He said Rutgers no longer is recommended for South-Central Texas.

Lions Host Wives At Annual Yule Event

Members of Brownfield Lions Club entertained their wives with a Christmas dinner in The Party House Wednesday.

A number of Mrs. Dea Parker's students gave special dances. Those attending brought toys to be given to Brownfield Goodfellows for distribution to needy families. Sid A. Lowery, president of the Lions Club, asked all those who have assisted the Goodfellows in past years to please do so again. The group will meet at the J. B. Knight Machinery Company of 611

West Broadway at 9 a.m. Tuesday. They will be needing pickups and station wagons.

Armyworms Controlled By Toxaphene and DDT

Good control of fall armyworms attacking alfalfa resulted after spraying the plants with a mixture of toxaphene and DDT or parathion.

N. M. Randolph of Texas A & M's department of entomology said also that garden webworms were nearly eliminated in plots treated with a mixture of toxaphene and DDT or with endrin. The spotted alfalfa aphid was controlled for approximately 2 months with two applications of parathion, malathion, demeton or thifluthion.

ough power to put you there in a hurry. The custom is to work around the lake until you find a flock of gulls. Watch them and you'll find a place where you can load the boat.

down with these sandies. As a rule one gull flies low over the water. When the white bass start chasing shad and the shad surface, the fun begins. Other gulls nearby watch this searcher and when they see it has found the shad, they all join in and swoop down on the water.

That's the time you want to drop anchor and start jigging. Some call it jigging and others have still other names for it. Anyway, the process is simple. With a good spoon like the Dixie Jet, or the Abu spinner, you want a light action rod, capable of responding to the lightest action on the part of the fish.

Using Spinning Reels
Perhaps spinning equipment is best for this purpose. I personally use a Mitchell reel, with a 6 1/2 foot Mitchell spinning rod, with a 6 pound monofilament line. One of my fishing buddies uses one of those new free-spooling Ambassador reels, also produced by Garcia.

We drop our lures to the bottom, reel them back a turn or two and then start a tantalizing vibration of the rod, by raising and lowering the tip slightly, mostly with wrist movement. Sandies strike on the down movement of the lure. For that reason if your upward movement is too quick or severe you'll probably lose your fish.

With a little practice you can tell very easily when the fish has taken the lure. He'll telegraph you when he's ready and then you have a nice fight on your hands with this light equipment.

We mentioned the above equipment so that you will have some idea of tackle most suitable for this type of fishing. This same tackle also is very good for sand bass fishing in fast water, such as you will find below our dams in Texas.

While some of this fishing also is done with spoons, this is a fine place for free minnow fishing. Use a bubble some 18 inches above your hook, with enough waterweight to carry it out.

Of course many fisherman sit on the banks with cane poles and use worms or drag spoons through the swift running water. Some of these catch fine strings of the whites or sandies.

Texas has a limit of 25 on sand bass. Oklahoma doesn't consider it a game fish and has revoked the limit. Still the fishermen are not able to catch them all.

Every large impoundment in Texas now has sand bass. They are lots of fun to catch.

Fishing for Blacks

Of course black bass also can be caught this time of the year. The process is not the same. While there are some plug casters who have just about as much luck in the winter, with top water plugs, as they do in the summer, generally the big ones dive deep and hit hard.

On Lake Texoma a few Sundays ago we watched two fishermen work around the Willow Springs Camp on the Oklahoma side. They used nothing but top water lures and caught a big string of blacks. Most of them were around a pound and a half, but some went as much as two pounds.

Some other Texoma fishermen have found they can use heavy salt water equipment, with Hellbenders of similar lures. These lures run real deep. With the heavy equipment, the fisherman can jerk them loose from brush in the bottom of the lakes. They don't catch too many small fish, but occasionally they come up with some big lunkers.

A new lure also has been made by the Hellbender people. It is called a stinger.

It looks like a long worm, with hooks in it. This usually is strung behind a Hellbender or similar plug, and not worked too fast. Cast it toward the shore and pull it out close to the bottom.

Here is a word of caution, however. A bass will take hold of the tail end of this lure and slowly suck it back into his big mouth. Don't jerk too quick. Be sure he's swallowed it.

This artificial worm is a wonderful lure for either summer or winter fishing, if worked right. But it takes practice.

Yes sir, winter is a good month to go fishing. See you at the dam.

Let's be different THIS CHRISTMAS

ay, Ken Cason, Johnny Mack mes, Bob Cloe, Ellis Cox, id Ivey and Gary White. Alternating these seven, No- ell said he expects to get re- unding power out of Jones ad Cason, and speed from the hers.

The Union quint primarily as been hurt by lack of height us far. Coach Kenneth Sams ts only one player over 6 et—Alton Foster is 6-2. In ddition to the height problem, sams has had to nurse a squad at includes six players who uffered knee injuries during e grid season.

Despite their problems, we xpect brighter things from ion and the Cubs during the est of the season. When dist- ct play rolls around, they are kely to pull a few surprises.

The Southwest Conference eally threw the TIL into a tiz- y last week when they ad- vanced the date that confer- ence members could sign high school players to letters of in- tent.

The League remains ad- vant, saying any youth who gns a letter will be ineligible or further athletic competi- on.

We feel this is a lot of bunk! After all, a youngster who gns a letter of intent to at- tend a college is not bound to attend that college. He does ot receive any "valuable con- sideration" until he enters the school.

It is hard for us to see why an athlete signed to play foot- ball after graduation is ineli- gible to play basketball or basebal, etc., the remainder of his school year before gradu- ation.

It is high time the League got off its high horse and thought of someone besides their own little group. Their present attitude hurts Texas schoolboy athletes' and colleges and universities in the state. If the youngsters could sign the letter after football sea- son is over, it is not likely he would be put under the pres- sure he is subject to under league rules.

The annual Brownfield Tour- nament will kick off here after the holidays with a rapid-fire two-day meet in Cub Gym.

The Cubs will host Monterrey of Lubbock, Levelland and Col- orado City in the tourney which will run Jan. 3-4.

Preliminary plans call for Cee City and the Lobos to meet in the opener Friday, fol- lowed by the Cub-Plainsmen tilt. Losers will meet in the in- itial tilt Saturday and the win- ners will clash in the finale.

Tourney competitors are ex- pected to give Terry fans two nights of top-flight basketball. All four teams are capable of breaking loose for the big night and likely will do so unless holiday turkey slows them down.

We wonder why the Aggies are so intent on latching onto a "big name" coach. They have tried to get Michigan's Duffy Daugherty, are talking to Red Sanders this week, and list Forest Evashevski of Iowa as a top contender.

Though it is not always the case, we would like to point out a few of the "now-big name" coaches who have turned out some top teams in the nation.

Close at home we can think of Texas' Darrell Royal and Kansas' Jack Mitchell. Then there is Bud Wilkinson who went to Oklahoma as an almost unknown assistant to Jim Tatum.

These are only four of count- less unknowns that have made good. Why get a man who de- mands a big salary plus thou- sands more in fringe benefits when the college can get a good man without bringing sea- ate and conference investiga- tions about their head?

Old coaches never die—they just return to their alma mat- er.

CLOSING CLIPS:

Jerry Bailey of Brownfield, a mem- ber of Eastern New Mexico's undefeated Wolfpack team, was named to Williamson's mid-bracket All-American team this year. . . . When senators opened an investigation into the alleged $60,000 offer to Duffy Daugherty by A&M, a friend of ours said he thought the investigation should be made at Michigan if Daugherty turned down that much income here. . . . MERRY CHRIST- MAS!

BEGINS WEEK-LONG RUN WEDNESDAY AT RIALTO

DeMille's Masterwork, 'The Ten Commandments,' Is Hailed As the Greatest Production in the History of Movie-Making

Cecil B. DeMille's production "The Ten Commandments," begins a week-long showing Wednesday at Rialto Theatre. Acclaimed by the nation's press, advance audiences and ministers of all faiths as an overwhelming motion picture experience and the all-time pinnacle of movie-making,

"Commandment" was 10 years in the making. Ten years in the planning, three years in research, three years in the writing and more than a year in the actual shoot- ing, the masterwork of the screen's master showman is by far the biggest production in film history.

Utilizing the talents of a massive cast of top stars and the best technicians the indus- try has to offer, the Paramount picture backgrounds an etern- ally dramatic and meaningful story with spectacle that has been called colossal in its scope. The dramatization of the Book of Exodus stars Charl- ton Heston as Moses, Yul Brynner as his implacable enemy, Rameses II, Anne Baxter, Edward G. Robin- son, Yvonne De Carlo, Debra Paget and John Derek.

Starring also are Sir Cedric Hardwicke, Nina Foch, Martha Scott, Judith Anderson and Vincent Price, with even the "supporting" roles played by a long list of stars. Extra num- ber upward of 25,000 and were hired for the Egyptian location shooting by the tribe. Running three hours and thirty-nine minutes, the Vista Vision, Technicolor film is the account of the life of Moses from the time his mother set him afloat on the Nile, through his years as a mighty general in the Pharaoh's army, to his betrayal and exile to the de- sert, and finally his deliverance of the Israelites and his receipt of God's Commandments. Many scenes were made on Mount Sinai itself.

Publication Offered Concerning Alfalfa

Alfalfa is a versatile crop that may be dehydrated, grazed, fed as greenchop, put up as silage and used as a honey crop and for soil improvement. But hay and seed are the most important products over 300,000 acres of alfalfa in Texas.

Alfalfa is one of the most palatable and nutritious forage crops grown when harvested at the proper stage of growth. The forage is high in protein, minerals and vitamins and low in fiber.

The Texas Agricultural Extension Service has released a bulletin, B-873, "Alfalfa for Forage and Seed," that gives much valuable information on the production of this crop. It is based on Texas Agricultural Experiment Station Bulletin 855, "Alfalfa Production in Texas."

The bulletin contains sections on adaptation, land preparation, fertilization, seeding, irrigation, cultivation, insects and diseases as well as sections on the various uses of alfalfa and other topics of interest.
