Senator Johnson Asks All-Out Effort From Congress in Face of Red Threat

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson told his colleagues as Congress opened its session that "a potential for peace never before within man's reach" lies beyond the present peril faced by the United States.

Senator Johnson told the conference of Democratic senators that "the ground beneath us when we last met has been, largely, swept away."

Since Congress adjourned last August, he said, "The human race has multiplied its capabilities to infinity."

"The exploitation of these capabilities by men of selfish purpose holds the awful threat of a world in subjugation," he warned.

Non-Partisan Views

The Texas senator called for non-partisan, determined effort by members of Congress to make a beginning "on what ultimately must be done" to insure the unchallengable strength of the nation.

"We must work," he declared, "as though no other Congress ever would have an opportunity to meet this challenge, for, in fact, none will have an opportunity comparable."

"We must furthermore, bring to this opportunity a freshness, an originality, a diligence far exceeding our previous standards, for many of

AT THE REGAL — Marked for murder by Rick Vallin and Paul Newland because he knows too much, Robert McQueeney is saved by his wife, Jean Willes, in Columbia Pictures' "The Ti Juana Story," showing Friday and Saturday at the Regal Theatre.

SENATOR RALPH YARBOROUGH SAYS:

Government's Role In Education Is Problem

One of the most important problems facing Congress this Session is the question of what role the Federal Government should play in expanding American's educational program.

Dr. Charles A. Quattlebaum, specialist in education, recently said in a report prepared for the Senate Committee on Government Operations:

"Our development of more and better trained scientific, engineering, and other professional manpower is important to our national survival. The problem can be attacked from many approaches. There is no single solution."

As a partial answer to the tremendous need, I have introduced a bill providing for the extension of the educational provisions of the GI Bill of Rights. Educational provisions of the original bill ended January 31, 1955 after the Korean War. My bill will permit all those who honorably served in the armed forces after that date, and those who do serve during the period up to July 1, 1965, to attend colleges of their choice under the GI bill, with tuition and minimum subsistence paid.

As things now stand, only half of the high school graduates with high grades go on to college. I believe the adoption of my bill will offer many young men and women, who otherwise could not afford to attend college, the opportunity to secure a higher education. Several other bills will be introduced to establish special science and engineering education programs, and I will support most of them. But I'm convinced we also need the extension of the GI Bill educational provisions to help provide continued balance in our national educational program. I believe we need to train more Americans, not only in science, but also in the humanities.

My bill, which is titled the Veterans Education Act of 1958, will be a step in the right direction, helping thousands of Americans to better educations. And the nation will be expressing its gratitude to the young Americans who are manning our radar warning stations in the Arctic, our Strategic Air Command planes, and our other freedom stations around the world.

LISTS 10 MEASURES FOR AID

Someone In U. S. Needs First Aid Every Three Seconds; Health Commissioner Urges Preparedness Before Trouble

Every three seconds someone in the United States needs prompt first aid for an accident or illness. Often the difference between life and death. Being prepared to give effective first aid takes time and study — before emergencies arise. It is too late to learn and dangerous to guess afterward. You and your family can meet emergencies by enrolling now in a first aid course, learning how to follow through on these 10 aids to give first, says Dr. Henry Holle, state health commissioner.

1. Act promptly. Examine the victim carefully from head to toe. Look for breathing obstructions, bleeding and broken bones.
2. Send for help. First aid "holds the line" until a physician takes over. Call him at once.
3. Stop bleeding. A snug bandage or pressure dressing usually checks bleeding. If not, press firmly at the point which cuts off blood flow to the injured area. Use a tourniquet only when other methods fail.
4. Look for shock — face drained of color, cold moist skin, rapid weak pulse, fainting. Wrap the victim in blankets, make him lie down unless doing so will make other injuries worse, and try to calm him. If he can swallow, has no abdominal injury, and is not vomiting, have him drink as much "shock solution" as possible. Make the solution by stirring one teaspoon of table salt and a half teaspoon of baking soda into a quart of water.
5. In poisonings, follow antidote instructions on the poison container label if it is at hand. Otherwise, give egg whites beaten in water, or plain water to dilute poison. If the poison was not corrosive or kerosene, induce vomiting.
6. Give artificial respiration in drownings or electrical shock. Learn artificial respiration techniques now, before an emergency.
7. Handle with care. Don't move an injured person unless necessary; then use a stretcher, or make one with blankets, a board, or ladder padded with clothing.
8. Splint broken bones. The time-honored rule is to "splint 'em where they lie." Make splints from any firm objects, and long enough to reach well beyond the joints above and below the suspected break.
9. Care for burns by applying a sterile gauze dressing and cover with bandages. Don't pull off clothing stuck to burned tissue. In case of chemical burns, rinse immediately with plenty of water.
10. After covering wounds with sterile dressings, bandage to guard against infection, reduce bleeding, and lessen pain.

What Car Has The Best Brakes?

Read this

"After testing a 1958 CENTURY, one of four Buick Series (all but the SPECIAL) equipped with new deeply-finned aluminum front brake drums, it is our agreeable duty to report that these are the best brakes on a Detroit sedan by far that we have tested, and that they are, conservatively, a 100 per cent improvement over conventional Detroit brakes."

Direct quotation from the new issue of SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED in a report entitled: THE SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED 1958 AWARD IN RECOGNITION OF OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT AND SIGNIFICANT CONTRIBUTION IN THE AUTOMOTIVE FIELD PRESENTED TO THE BUICK MOTOR DIVISION GENERAL MOTORS CORPORATION, FOR MAJOR ADVANCES IN BRAKES.

22 emergency stops from 60 mph — and Buick's brakes still effective!

As a result of this grueling brake test, SCI stated: "We find it the rule for Detroit sedans to brake quite efficiently for the first few steps, but then they deteriorate rapidly." But here's what happened in the Buick Century: 22 "crash stops" were made from 60 MPH, and afterwards, the brakes were still fully effective. Says SCI: "This was by far the most severe test we ever have submitted a sedan's brakes to, but after it was over the Buick's brakes functioned perfectly... Buick has done it, has achieved a much better product, and has set a new standard of brake quality for Detroit."

*"Crash Stop"—fastest full stop possible for a car traveling at a given speed.

Texas Schoolboy Coaches Await TIL Decision On Rules Changes

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

Football rule changes passed this week by the NCAA likely will produce several changes in gridiron play in this area if they are adopted by Texas interscholastic League.

Though TIL does not have to accept the changes, there is a good possibility it will, noted Coach Doug Cox. "If the rule changes are adopted," he said. "We probably will see a lot of spread formations and power plays on the extra point."

Under the NCAA revision, one point will be given on a kick for point, and two points for a pass or run play for point after touchdown. In either event the extra point try will be from the three yard-line instead of the present two.

Three Equals TD

Cox said he believes most coaches will go for the two-point. "After all, that's equal to a third of a touchdown," he pointed out. "And three of them will be just as good as a touchdown."

The rule change, instituted to give some life to the point after touchdown and to eliminate many tie games, already has stirred a tempest among many coaches, both high school and college.

If adopted by TIL, the scoring situation will force coaches to change their extra point defense. Where they rushed the kicker before, linemen will have to hold tight in case of a run or pass play. "It will mean a lot of headaches and second guessing," the Cub mentor lamented.

Thumbs Down

National Federation of State High School Athletic Associations, of which TIL is not a member, already has turned thumbs down on the scoring rule change.

The Federation instead is working on a rule to make field goals worth four points instead of three. "The general feeling prevails that football is a kicking game and that there should be more, not less," said H. V. Porter, executive secretary of the group.

If the rule is adopted by TIL, Coach Cox said the day of the "specialist" will be past. "However, the field-goal kicker still will be in demand," he added.

Other Revisions

Other revisions are not expected to effect Texas schoolboy gridirers to any extent.

TIL now is operating under the free substitution rule. The NCAA revision allows a player to return to the game during a quarter. Previously, only starters were allowed to return after leaving during any one quarter. A third change will reduce time-outs from five to four per half. As in the other rules, this will be up to the decision by TIL.

Though the reduction is designed to speed up the game, most high school coaches likely will fight the measure. "There are times when that extra time out is important in a tight game," said Cox.

Dr. Rhea Williams, TIL athletic director, could not be reached early this week for comment as to whether Texas will follow the NCAA in rule changes.

Game & Fish Meet Set at Wichita Falls

Members of the Game and Fish Commission will hold a special meeting in Wichita Falls Jan. 30, according to H. D. Dodger, executive secretary.

At the same time they will attend the annual banquet of the Northwest Texas Field and Stream Association, where Secretary of the Treasury Robert B. Anderson will be the principal speaker.

Secretary Anderson, named to the Cabinet some months ago by President Eisenhower, once was manager of the Waggoner Estate properties, including the vast Waggoner Ranch. He has been recognized for many years for his interest in wildlife conservation.

Regular quarterly meeting of the Commission will be 9:30 a.m. Friday, in Lubbock.

Druggers Slam Past Whiteface By 78-45

Brownfield's Primm Druggers rolled to their second Texas TAAF cage victory when they trimmed Whiteface, 78-45, at Wellman Saturday night.

A 30-point spree by Joey Johnson paced the Druggers their second win. Kenneth Sams added 12 points.

Jim Reid took runner-up honors by meshing 17 points for the visitors.

Telephoning Fish Hits Pocket Hard

Despite heavy fines some men still persist in telephoning for fish.

In November two men paid fines of $100 each in Newton county for shocking the fish with magnetic telephones, according to E. M. Spratt, director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission.

Heavy fines also were dished out in justice court in several counties for killing deer illegally, according to the report. In almost every instance, these violators paid $100 fines.

Most fines were paid for either hunting or fishing without licenses. A number, however, violated the law in hunting from automobiles, night shooting, and illegal limits.

Federal Agency Okays Texarkana Lake For Wildlife

Permissive rights to 79,400 acres of land surrounding Lake Texarkana, on the Sulphur river, finally have been acquired by the Game and Fish Commission from the Federal Government. It has been announced by E. A. Walker, director of wildlife restoration.

Under the license agreement signed on behalf of the Game Commission by H. D. Dodger, executive secretary, and Edward A. Bacon, deputy assistant secretary of the Army, the commission now can begin a program of wildlife management on the area.

This may include the construction of fences, buildings and signs; the planting of shrubs, plants and grasses. It is thought parts of the licensed area have definite opportunities for upland game and waterfowl management.

The license is for 10 years, but may be revoked by the Secretary of the Army at any time.

According to the director, the state will undertake a program to improve habitat around the lake.

Arkansas already has begun a waterfowl program on approximately 9,000 acres of land down the Sulphur River from Lake Texarkana.

Local capital is building Kickapoo Lodge on Highway No. 8, four miles south of Vaughn. The city of Texarkana also has acquired some acreage at the lake and plans recreational facilities.

Game Warden Offers Tip for Dressing Duck

It's too late to be tested in the Austin office of the Game and Fish Commission, but the game warden at Canadian sends in what he says is an easy tip for dressing ducks.

"Add one tablespoon of any household detergent to each gallon of boiling water. Dip and wet duck thoroughly. Feathers and down will come off with little effort."

January Listed As Best Fishing Month

Wintertime is the best time for fishing, if you can stand the cold. If you don't believe it, check the evidence given by Marine Biologist Terrance Leary in the January issue of Texas Game and Fish, the official publication of the GAME and Fish Commission.

Fishermen who line the coastal fishing spots this month will probably be rewarded with good strings of redfish, Leary claims. Trout, drum, and sheephead also rise to the bait when the northerns hit.

"Wet hands and cold feet are a small price for the fine strings of fish," Leary adds.

CUBS HOST KERMIT FRIDAY

Terry Teams Open District Cage Slates

Terry cage teams will pick up tempo this week when all four schools move into district play Thursday and Friday.

Brownfield will entertain the Kermit Yellow Jackets in their second 2-AAA contest of the season. Kermit, picked to win the district, will bring a strong experienced team to the local court.

The Cubs will be attempting to spring an upset after falling to Pecos, 63-32, last week in the district opener.

Union will sandwich a district tilt with Wellman Friday between competition in the Seagraves Tournament Thursday through Saturday.

The Union 'Cats, fresh from an upset of the Plains Cowboys, are expected to take their first conference victory.

Meadow's Broncos, strong favorites to repeat as district winners, will open their conference slate at Smyer at 7 p.m. tonight. The Broncos will move to the Seagraves meet Friday and Saturday.

A "B" game will prelude the Cub-Yellow Jacket tilt at 6:30 p.m. The varsity contest will start about 8 p.m. in Cub Gym.
