Hospital To Close This July

Treadaway-Daniell Hospital will close its doors here on July 1, according to Joe Satterwhite, Brownfield Chamber of Commerce manager.

Satterwhite said Dr. A. H. Daniell and Dr. T. L. Treadaway, owners of the hospital, listed health and over-work as their reasons for closing the facility.

Dr. Treadaway has announced he will retire from active practice after the closing date. Dr. Daniell and Dr. Cecil Knox have not announced definite plans.

"We have enjoyed working with the people of Terry County," said the owners. "However, the work load has become too large for our health and years."

Satterwhite said an open meeting will be held at 3 p.m. Monday in the council room of City Hall to "see what can be done to maintain a hospital in Brownfield."

The manager urged City Council, Terry Commissioners Court, C.C. directors, directors of First National and Brownfield State banks and any other interested citizen to attend the meeting.

Popular Joe Kerbel Will Talk at Athletic Banquet

Brownfield High School athletes will be honored at the annual Pep Club Banquet slated at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Junior High School Cafeteria, according to Bobbie Neil Richardson, president of the sponsoring organization.

Some 180 persons are expected to attend the event, which will feature Joe Kerbel, Texas Tech assistant coach, as the evening's speaker.

Crowning of the Athletic Queen also will be a highlight of the event. Her identity will not be revealed until the coronation ceremony, said Miss Richardson. Selection of the queen was made by secret ballot by BHS athletes.

Miss Richardson, who will be mistress of ceremonies, said coaches, players and guests will be introduced as part of the program.

The featured speaker is considered to be one of the top men on the after-dinner circuit, according to Coach Doug Cox. "We feel lucky to have him here Tuesday night."

Kerbel, until Feb. 1 head coach at Amarillo High School, compiled an outstanding record at Cleveland, Okla., Breckenridge, and Amarillo high schools.

Breckenridge's Buckaroos, under Kerbel's coaching, won the 1952 and 1954 Conference AAA state championships.

In 1955 he took over the reins at Amarillo to help restore the Sandies to their former spot of respect among high school grid powers.

Kerbel guided the Amarillo Sandies to district titles in 1956 and 1957, advancing to the quarterfinals last season. After a 5-5 record in 1955, Kerbel's Amarillo Sandies compiled a 9-2 record in 1956 and an 11-1 mark last fall.

In all, Kerbel's high school teams have amassed a mark of 75 wins, 12 losses, and 2 ties.

Highly regarded by DeWitt Weaver, Texas Tech's head coach and athletic director, Kerbel also won this acclaim from Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma coach: "Joe Kerbel prepares a boy better for our split-T formation than any coach we have ever had send us players."

Kerbel, 36, is an Oklahoma graduate.

AS TAX BASE FOR LOCAL GOVERNMENT

Terry County Property, Personal And Real, Valued $32,486,000

(Special to the NEWS) NEW YORK, Feb. 14—What is the assessed value of property in Terry County. What is the local tax base per capita? How does it compare with that in other parts of the country?

A look at these figures, of interest to everyone who pays local taxes, now is possible, thanks to the Department of Commerce.

Its 1957 Census of Governments, currently being revised, provides the data, which has not been available on a nationwide basis since 1942.

It shows that in Terry County, where the property tax is the mainstay of local government, the tax is based on holdings assessed at $32,486,000.

The figure comprises real property amounting to $28,135,000 and personal property of $4,331,000.

Because property generally is assessed for tax purposes at something less than its actual worth, this is not to be taken as the market value. Rather, it is the tax base against which local tax rates are applied.

From a per capita standpoint, the tax base is equivalent to $2,220 for every man, woman and child in Terry County.

In the rest of the United States, the tax base averages $1,490 per person, and in the state of Texas, $1,150.

Cubs Close Out Season With Victory Over Ector

The Cubs closed out the 1957-58 cage season on a winning note here Friday by pasting Odessa Ector, 54-49, to keep the Eagle's record perfect — no wins in district play.

The Cubs jumped to an 8-0 lead in the initial minutes of play before Ector began to drive down the middle to narrow the margin to 19-15 at the end of the period.

Coach Farris Nowell's cagers closed the gap in the second period to moved out to another eight-point lead at halftime. The visitors hit only two fields goals during the second period, keeping within striking distance on free throws. During the same period, the Cubs missed nine of 10 free throw attempts.

A 12-point second half by Ector's Gayle Courtney pushed the visitor's back to trouble-making distance. However, the Cubs calmly held on to claim their fourth District 2-AAA victory with ease.

Cary Hits 19 The Cubs never were headed as they took leads of 19-15, 32-24 and 42-38 at quarter rest periods. The victory capped a disastrous season for the Eagles, who went down to 10 straight district losses in this, their first season.

In taking the win, Brownfield fired a crisp 43 per cent from the field in the first half before sagging to 34 per cent the final two periods. Ector hit 32 and 37 per cent for the two halves.

Ken Cary rammed home 19 points to lead scorers. He was closely followed by Courtney and Mike Kropp, both of Ector, who tallied 17 points.

TO STOP COMMUNICABLE DISEASES

Union Raps New Home By 57-31

Union's Wildcats continue to cling to the chance for a tie for the District 7-B cage championship by virtue of a 57-31 victory over New Home at Union Friday night.

David Cabe tallied 12 points to lead scorers and the "Cats" moved to a 23-4 first period lead. Alton Foster meshed 10 points for runner-up honors.

Coach Kenneth Sams played reserves most of the second period, but still held 29-18 halftime lead.

The Wildcats pulled away steadily the final two frames to set the stage for Tuesday's championship struggle. Union will host the undefeated Meadow Broncos in a game that will decide the conference representative.

Union must win for a tie, having lost to the defending champs earlier at Meadow.

The New Home girls took the Friday night opener by a 36-24 tally. Betty Renfro led the winners with 19 points and Barbara Gruben tallied 15 for the losers.

Department of Health Urges Slum Clearance

AUSTIN — The State Department of Health has been engaged for many years in the promotion of housing hygiene because of the direct relationship insanitary housing conditions and the spread of communicable diseases, report Dr. Henry Holle, state health commissioner.

The Urban Renewal and Slum Clearance Act of 1949 (amended in 1954) provided a means for systematically attacking the problem. The 55th Texas Legislature provided the needed state legislation.

The department of health was made the official planning agency by act of the Texas Legislature for city planning programs undertaken by cities.

All these cities had less than 25,000 population according to the 1950 census, which is one of the basic prerequisites under the program. However, seven of these cities — Texas City, Brownwood, Irving, McAllen, Victoria, Grand Prairie and Denton — have present populations in excess of this figure.

Indications are that there are other Texas cities now eligible on the basis of the 1950 census figure which will be ineligible for the planning assistance after 1960.

Cities contemplating participation in the program are Linden, Mineola, Quitman, and Panhandle, although they have initiated no active steps in that direction as yet. Other cities are working with a consultant, and their applications will be filed soon.

All cities with less than 25,000 population according to the 1950 census and who cannot financially bear the entire cost of planning are eligible to receive the aid offered by the matching funds. The grant may not exceed 50 per cent of the cost of the work for which they are made, local funds making up the remainder of the cost.

With steady pressure from the public for more and better services, local governments are seeking ways and means to add to their revenues. In some cases, this has meant higher assessments and, in others, new non-property taxes.

Terry Students Will Compete on College Scholarships Soon

Terry junior students this week began applying for qualification tests offering more than $3 million worth of college scholarships to the nation's top ranking students.

Deadline for application will be Mar. 20 with actual testing on Apr. 29. Application may be made at the guidance counselor's office here and at the high school principal's office in other Terry schools, according to Dr. Robert Hoye.

The counselor said about 37 Brownfield juniors will take the tests. About 14 students will compete in tests at Wellman according to N. H. Fields, principal. Other schools have no released figures.

Dr. Hoye said testing will be conducted from 9 a. m. to 1 p. m. on Apr. 29.

Students participating will receive test results, giving them an indication of their academic strengths and weaknesses. "The tests also will aid students to plan their senior year and future college course of study," added Hoye.

SALE!
SALE!
SALE!

By Jim Bayless

The first ten years I was in the jewelry business, I did not believe in sales. That belief has completely changed during the last seven years.

I think that if a store really means business when they have a sale, and gives good values that it can prove to be one of the best methods of gaining new customers and keeping old friends.

As you know, we only have one storewide sale each year. This sale has grown larger and larger each year. I believe this is possible for one reason only. We have in the past, and will continue in the future to offer fine quality merchandise at drastically reduced prices.

This is the first time that I have given any advance notice of our sale. I am doing so this year for two reasons. First of all to find out how many of you are reading this weekly column. Secondly, although we cannot reserve merchandise for you, this will give you the opportunity to come in Monday and Tuesday and see all of the fine quality jewelry that will go on sale this coming Friday, February 21.

Be sure and see our double page advertisement in this paper next Thursday. This year's sale promises to be bigger and better than ever. Every item in the store will be drastically reduced.

Our store policy is the same during the sale as it has always been. Your satisfaction is guaranteed on every purchase. We will make exchanges and adjustments on any merchandise purchased during the sale.

This is the perfect time to buy gifts for the numerous occasions coming up in the near future. Such as Mother's Day, Father's Day and Graduation.

We will be closed Wednesday and Thursday preparing for our sale that starts Friday morning.

I always look forward to the large crowd we have on opening day.

I'll be looking for you next Friday Morning. BAYLESS JEWELRY, 507 W. Main, Ph. 2292.

Brownfield schools will participate in a research study of local and regional education problems being conducted by the West Texas School Study Council headquartered at Texas Tech.

Included in the over-all plan will be a study of South Plains science and math offerings, and requirements for graduation. This will be the first year of operation for the organization.

The council now has an affiliate membership with the Association of Public School Systems and will have access to all research studies completed by that organization, said Dr. Berlie Fallon, Tech associate professor of education and executive secretary of the council.

Twelve South Plains school systems and Tech are participating in the WTSSC to conduct the research. Tech graduate students in education also contribute to the council, said Fallon.

Research committees are being formed to study three immediate problems in public schools: (1) standardized testing programs in the member schools; (2) science and math curricular improvements; and (3) high school graduation requirements for the 1958-59 school year.

Fallon said during the fall semester Tech graduate students in an education research class completed literature surveys in approximately 20 different areas of public education of interest to the WTSSC.

Covering the best of educational theory and the best of current practices in selected school systems throughout the nation, the graduate studies included surveys of programs for gifted children, closed circuit TV experimentation, reporting pupil progress to parents and optimum space needs in elementary, junior and senior high schools.

"During the spring semester, we'll begin editing and publishing the graduate reports for distribution to member schools," revealed Fallon.

Other school systems in the council are Andrews, Denver City, Hale Center, Hereford, Kermit, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Plainview, Seminole and Slaton.

Executive committee members include Fallon, Dr. Ralph Schilling of Littlefield; T. A. Roach of Andrews; N. L. Douglas of Hale Center; Fred Cunningham of Hereford; O. W. Marcom of Levelland, and Lee Vardy of Slaton.

Meadow Sets Stage For Showdown Tilt In District Race; Raps Whiteface, 61-45

The Broncos, undefeated in District 3-B play this season, romped to a 61-45 victory over the Whiteface Antelopes at Meadow Friday, clinching a tie for the title and boosting their chances for an undisputed crown.

Meadow's girls also trounced the Whiteface girls 53-40, marking up their eighth win of the season against a single loss, giving them a crack at a tie in district play.

The boys' game turned into a rout in the first quarter, with Meadow chalking up 23 points compared to four tallies for the Antelopes.

Maurice Warren sparked the Broncos with 16 points, followed by Harold Henson with 14. Norris was high for Whiteface with 12 points.

Betty Eubanks was high point girl with 22 points, followed by Linda Hendricks with 21 on the ledger. High for the Whiteface girls was Sandra Powell with 14 points.

Meadow hit 41 per cent of its shots in the girls' game compared to 28 per cent by Whiteface.

The Broncos travel to Union Tuesday for a showdown battle in the district. Union has been defeated only once, by Meadow, and could move into a deadlock with a victory Tuesday.

Valentine Theme Used for The Annual Mother-Daughter FHA Banquet Here

Miss Tommy Loe was mistress of ceremonies when Wellman FHA held their Mother-Daughter Banquet Thursday evening in The Party House. A Valentine theme was used in decorations, and the centerpiece was a white cupid posting a message of love in a mail box surrounded by red carnations and white snapdragons. Several smaller cupid and flower arrangements were used on side tables. Red balloons and Valentine place cards completed the scene.

Mrs. Leo Hawkins gave the invocation followed by the introduction of mothers by their daughters. A duet, "Mother," was given by Peggy Burnett and Tootsie Hawkins, accompanied by Karen Hamm. Barbara Bishop gave a "Home Project Report."

Mrs. Alton Loe, speaker, used for her subject, "Let Me Call You Sweetheart." The group then sang the song of the same title and "The Homemaker."

Mrs. E. G. Thornton gave the benediction.

Expert Urges Fish Pond Fertilization

Applying fertilizer to the farm fish pond not only increases the amount of food in the water but also is one of the best practices for controlling submerged mosses in the pond, says Ed Cooper, extension wildlife specialist.

The first application of fertilizer should be made immediately, he says. Since the pond water is usually deficient in the same nutrients as is the soil over which the water flows into the pond or tank, Cooper suggests the use of the same commercial mixture as is used for crops on the farm.

An initial application of 100 pounds for each surface acre of water is suggested. This amount should cause a change in the color of the water.

This is due to the development of a great amount of plankton which is used for food by the fish and organisms upon which fish feed. Bloom is another term used to describe the water in a properly fertilized pond.

Cooper advises a periodic check of the pond to determine when additional fertilizer applications are needed.

He says to submerge the arm into the water to elbow depth and if the thumb can be plainly seen, more fertilizer should be applied. Only the amount required to get the desired bloom should be applied and this may be about half of the first application.

Pond fertilization should be stopped during the hot summer months. The fertilizer can cause a shortage of oxygen in the water, especially during the periods when the wind is not strong enough to cause wave action. Fish will die when their oxygen supply is depleted.

Finally, Cooper emphasizes that all of the fertilizer to be

In writing to public authorities asking that something be done, a common and unfortunate mistake of the citizenry is to imply or assert that said authorities are crooks, bums, and loafers. The consequence is that a task that might be performed gladly and promptly by the department of government involved is done reluctantly, if at all.

On several occasions when we have wanted information, special service, or correction of some neighborhood nuisance we obtained excellent results by addressing the public official as we would any gentleman. We state the case, ask for help or correction, and close the letter.

When the job is done, as it almost always is, we then make it a point to express our thanks. The procedure is recommended in transactions with public utilities; in fact in all written communications.

Pamphlets Concerning Control of Cotton Insects Available For The 1958 Season

No cotton farmer has to be so lucky, cotton insects can be told about the reduction in profit controlled economically by the fits that insects can cause. But use of the proper poisons at the right time. Controlling damaging infestations of boll weevils, bollworms and other insects on cotton growing on fertile soils returns substantial profits even when a large number of applications is necessary for maximum yields. On upland soils where insect infestations do not last long, fewer applications may be needed.

Giving information and recommendations for the control of the various cotton insects is the theme of two leaflets recently released by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service—L-218, "Texas Guide for Controlling Cotton Insects," and L-219, "Ways to Fight the Pink Bollworm in Texas."

L-218 deals with the more harmful cotton insects. It contains a chart giving the recommended controls and also general information including points on the safe handling of

'NOT ALL IS KNOWN ABOUT THEM'

Finally! A Manufacturer Cautions on Use of 'Happiness Pills'

It is refreshing, in the face of all the ballyhoo for these mis-called "happy" pills, to have a word of caution from one of the pharmaceutical manufacturers. "Medical science . . . still has a lot to learn about tranquilizers — exactly how they work and on what part of the brain," says the Schering Corporation, of Bloomfield, N. J. "Most medical men agree that these agents are of value in treating mentally and emotionally disturbed people, but they also warn that they should not be used indiscriminately."

On their own, the Schering people warn that we should not take any tranquilizer "except on specific orders of a physician". And further: "Your doctor can determine by careful examination whether you should be taking a tranquilizer. Your problem may best be remedied by other types of therapy."

At the same time Schering admits — somewhat reticently, it seems to us — that they happen to have a new tranquilizer called "Trilafon". It permits the doctor, by varying the dose, to treat any degree of agitated emotional or mental disturbance with the one drug. They also report that "many doctors successfully use tranquilizers (not necessarily theirs) in the treatment of epilepsy, alcoholism, mental problems of the aged, disturbed children, surgical shock, nausea and vomiting, heart disease, high blood pressure, among other conditions."

It seems to us that if we were a doctor we'd be pretty impressed — perhaps even grateful — when a firm makes a serious and sincere effort to protect the public (including his own patients) from their optimism, wishful thinking, and self-diagnosis.

By VERN SANFORD
Right now the Moving Hand is writing in the Book of Time what kind of hunting we'll have next Fall.

Farmers and ranchers hold the key to successful wildlife harvests. If you doubt this, just remember that almost 90 per cent of the hunting area in Texas is private domain. Actually, some of this is under state ownership, but grazing rights are leased. So, after all, the farmer or the rancher is the one in charge.

Our wildlife must have its habitat, just as we must have our homes. If that habitat is not available, then wildlife suffers, whether the weather is good or bad.

Naturally the weather plays a very important part in every year's wildlife crop. No more so, however, than the area that is the natural home of our birds and animals.

Income for Farmers
Although land owners and sportsmen have made great strides in providing proper ecology, there is a constant uphill battle to keep the work going.

Recently biologists of the Game and Fish Commission reported on 1957 activities in planting multiflora roses for quail cover. They had passed out to landowners almost 50,000 of these little bushes, bought with the money which you paid for the privilege of hunting.

Land owners accepted the plants and put them in the ground. Then, far too many landowners lost interest and a goodly number of the plants died.

This is just one example of what happens when someone doesn't care . . . or doesn't realize the income possibilities that might result from just a little attention.

However, some landowners have discovered that hunting privileges constitute a cash crop. This is particularly true in the Hill Country of Texas, home of most of our white tail deer. Unfortunately, however, some of the agricultural areas have not responded so well.

One of the most successful quail areas in Texas is a quail management project adjacent to Crooks Lake in Lamar County. Here Warden Reb Burks has brought about the planting of many multiflora roses to surround the lake. Food producing plants like dove weed and lespedeza add to the inducement for quail to multiply.

Good Club Project
This is one of the most important projects that local sportsmen's clubs can adopt. If club members will work closely with land owners, mutual understanding can be had. Landowners will soon come to realize that cotton and corn aren't the only crops he can produce.

Of course you don't have to belong to a club to talk this over with your farmer friend. Sell him on the idea of improving his range land, and providing more cover.

Almost any conservation practice that is good for wildlife is good for the land. The reverse also is true.

Shooting .22 Rifle
First powder burning gun to be owned by most boys is a .22 rifle.

A few weeks ago I was on Lake Travis, near Austin. I heard the constant popping of a .22 rifle. I ran my boat into a cove, and sure enough there was a father teaching his son how to shoot his Christmas 22.

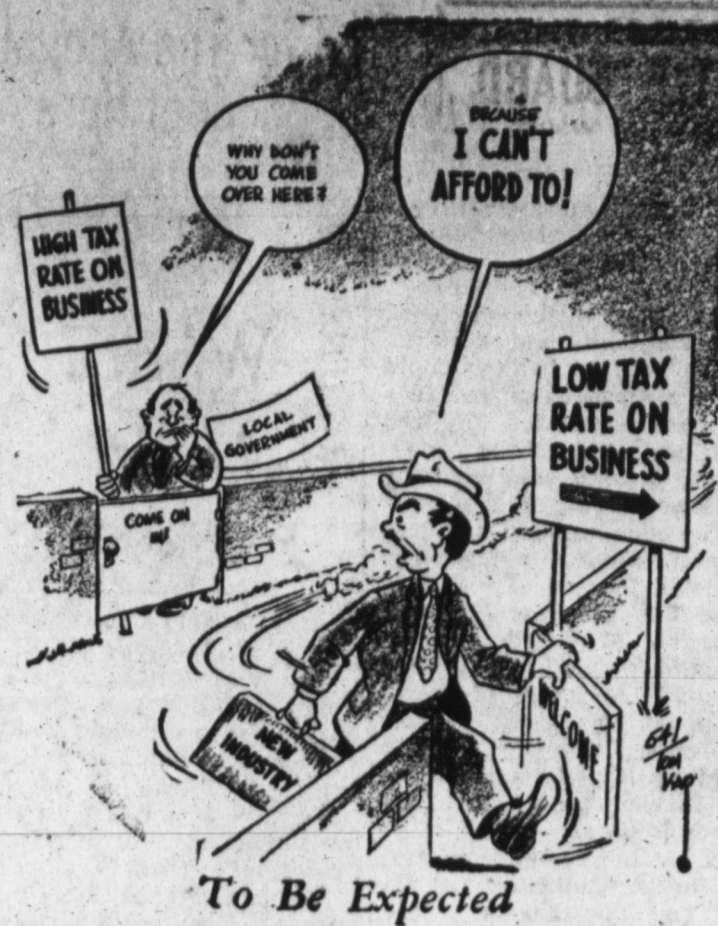

A half-dozen cans had been placed far back against a soft bank so the bullets wouldn't ricochet. The boy was joyfully pumping lead bullets into the can, from a very neat little Noble 22 rifle.

My wife and I sat in the boat and watched them as long as we could stand it. Then we joined the dad-boy team in a discussion of the new gun.

It was a little slide action gun, made by the Noble Mfg. Co., of Haydenville, Mass. The boy handed it over and we both shot it several times. Although it had been years since I had shot a 22, it came back to me quickly. Soon I was gleefully knocking those cans around. Finally my wife suggested that we move on before we burned up all the boy's ammunition.

We commented on what a wonderful thing this father was doing for his boy. That young fellow will grow up to be a good shot and a true hunter. Besides that, his dad was teaching him how to be careful. And that's mighty important.

Care in Shooting
Speaking of 22 shooting — and caution. They should be

To Be Expected

THE AMERICAN WAY

INTERNATIONAL FOR WOMEN

By George Peck

For quite a spell this columnist has been flirting with the idea of doing several columns on the burning subject, "Equal Rights for Women"—for the ladies, God bless 'em, are being discriminated against in certain phases of our American economy. In other words, the female of the species has not been completely integrated with us males in this land of equal rights and opportunity for all—and that's not right.

What has led me finally to take up the cudgels on behalf of the so-called "weaker-sex" (was ever any group more erroneously named) is a slight but rather unpleasant adventure this poor male experienced a day or so ago. He was part of a line-up waiting to check out with a wagon-load of groceries at a super-market. Suddenly he was almost knocked off his feet by a lady (?) attempting to push her wagon in ahead of his. That did it! We just must have "Equal Rights for Women" if for no other reason than to give ever woman the right to wait her turn, even as we mere males are now privileged to do.

Let me add right hurriedly, that this lady (?) referred to above, misrepresents rather than represents her sex. She is very much in the minority—thank goodness. The point is that this exhibition of impolite-ness, yes, even rudeness, was the straw that broke the camel's back. And now a bit of history. Spearheading the fight for "Equal Rights for Women" is the National Woman's Party (hereinafter referred to as NWP)—a non-partisan organization of women whose program is to secure for women complete equality with men under the law and in all human relationships. This is its only objective and, as an organization, it takes no action on any other issue.

The NWP believes that the only certain way to accomplish its objective is by means of an Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and so it works for the passage of an Equal Rights Amendment which reads: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any State on account of sex."

The NWP was founded in 1913, as a temporary body, to secure an Amendment to the Constitution which would enfranchise women. The adoption of the 19th Amendment in 1920 accomplished this. It gave women, the country over, the right to vote. To secure removal of all remaining discrimination against women, and completely integrate them into our economy, the NWP was reorganized from a temporary to a permanent body in 1921.

The reorganized NWP really got off the ground with its crusade in 1923, when it drafted and had introduced in Congress an Equal Rights Amendment to the Constitution to give equal rights to women in all fields not covered by the Woman Suffrage Amendment. An Equal Rights Amendment has been introduced in each succeeding Congress since that time, and with ever increasing support.

Both political parties, Republicans since 1940 and Democrats since 1944, have included planks in their national platforms advocating a Constitutional Amendment for equal

BEHIND AMERICAN BUSINESS SCENES

Interest In New York's National Motor Boat Show Indicates So-Called 'Recession' Does Not Apply To Recreation Buys

By REYNOLDS KNIGHT
Economic Analyst
(Special to the NEWS)

NEW YORK—If the current run of boat shows around the country proves anything, it's that there's still a lot of money available for spending in pursuit of leisure.

The National Motor Boat Show in New York had 389,000 visitors, an all-time record for a marine exhibit. Biggest previous mark was Chicago's 1957 show, which drew 271,000. While attendance at New York was up eight per cent from the previous year, sales orders were up 12 per cent—to $22 million.

"If anything sank at the boat show, it was the so-called recession," said one happy outdoor motor exhibitor.

The mixture of Midwestern, Farwestern, Southern, Yankee and New York accents at the Coliseum exhibit here indicated that free spending is not confined to any one region.

To show how this form of recreation has really taken hold, it's estimated that last year 35 million persons took part in boating and that these happy citizens spent $1.9 billion for boats, engines, accessories, insurance, maintenance, mooring fees and club memberships.

Even before this year's boat show buying started, there were more than seven million recreational craft in existence in all waters of the United States — or about one boat for every 24 persons in the country.

BRIGHT FUTURE—Authorities close to the ceramic tile industry believe tile production and sales could double within the next 10 years. They point out that productive facilities necessary for this increase already are available in the nation's tile plants, as the result of an expansion program that's been going on for five years.

These already-in-place facilities are sufficient to produce twice as much footage as was recorded for 1957. Tilemen's confidence in the future is based on two important premises: a continuing expansion of the general construction industry, and technical advances in tile installation methods.

Researchers of the Tile Councils of America recently have made two important technological break-throughs that should have a substantial effect in increasing the use of ceramic tile.

One is a revolutionary mortar mix. A layer 1/16-inch thick of the new mix has twice the bonding strength as the old type applied in a setting bed an inch thick or more. The new mix also has a further advantage in that it eliminates certain preparatory stages before tile is installed.

Another recent development is a new countertop grouting material—the cement used to fill the joints between tiles — which is impervious to staining by foodstuffs and other household items, thus providing a maximum sanitary surface on kitchen countertops.

THINGS TO COME — Fiber glass, which has taken a lot of the maintenance problems out of boating by its use in hull construction, now appears in molded masts for larger sailing craft . . . The world's first practical diesel outboard motor has been introduced in a seven-half-horsepower size that costs approximately 25 per cent more than comparable-horsepower gasoline engines . . . A new electronic organ has a built-in high-fidelity phonograph system that uses the instrument's amplifier and speaker system plus a record player.

ALOUETTE APPROVED — The Civil Aeronautics Administration has put its okay on the first gas turbine-powered (jet) helicopter. It is the Alouette II, first French-built aircraft ever to be certified for commercial use in this country.

In a unique hands-across-the-seas arrangement, an American firm, Republic Aviation, is assembling and selling the Alouette II for use on this continent under a licensing agreement. See No. 3 Page 7

ACROSS THE CATTLE GUARD
By LEO W. WHITE
Yoakum County Agent

Prices of cattle have held up well during the past 12 months and as a result of these increased prices and improved pasture conditions over much of the range area, there is a strong demand for good quality breeding stock. Some people are contemplating going into the business of producing registered cattle.

Some few are past the thinking stage and already have made some purchases. Five years ago I was a brand new agent in Yoakum County and I was asking if there were many registered breeders in the county.

I was told that Murphy Luna, Marion McGinty and Sherm Henard and Sons were probably the only breeders who ever sold any registered stock.

Some Registered Cattle

I was also told that most of the ranchers used registered bulls with the cattle and many of them had cattle that were registered or subject to register but they did not make a practice of selling registered animals.

During the past five years there have been some registered Hereford animals brought into the county. Earl Bryson started with a bull and five or six two year old heifers about three years ago. Roy Fitzgerald bought about 20 or 25 young heifers about two years ago. Bobby Field, who actually is not a resident of Yoakum County but I consider him as such, has been buying registered cattle along for over two years and now has in the neighborhood of a 100 females.

Leon Simpson has a registered bull and about six heifers. Just this week Bob Loe bought six registered females. Garland Swann has been in the registered Angus business for about three years.

Looks Over Herd

There may be others that I do not know about but it looks like the situation is getting better and I hope that every man who starts in the registered business is able to make a success of it.

I was with Bob Loe when he bought his heifers and I enjoyed looking over the herds of Ellis and Adam Furr down in Young County. Ellis has been in the registered business since 1945 when he started with a bull and seven females.

He now has 100 females and almost every one of them trace back to one of those seven foundation cows. We saw one of those original cows that he

CRITICAL SHORTAGE OF BETTER GRADES OF LINT

National Cotton Council Vice President Warns Congressmen U. S. Will Lose Markets If Allotments Are Not Upped in '58

(Special to the NEWS) Memphis, Tenn. — Unless cotton growers are permitted an immediate increase in their 1958 acreage allotments to relieve a critical shortage of the better grades of lint, the cotton industry faces a severe loss in its markets.

The need for quick action to head off what could well become a disaster is being pointed out by the National Cotton Council and other groups concerned with the future of cotton.

UNTIL FOCUSED BY PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Newspaper Advertising Underestimated

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager

The effects of advertising are often hard to measure. A shopper rarely ever mentions the advertisement which drew him to a store. Often he is not aware of the fact that an advertisement caused his buying.

Also many customers patronize a business, not because of a single advertisement, but because of the prestige the business has built with consistent advertising over along period of time.

Thus, the power of newspaper publication is often underestimated until some personal experience brings it to focus. For example, an Illinois publisher with a sense of humor has made a list of occasions which make a reader aware of the power of the printed word. He says these occasions are:

"When the birth of a grandchild is announced.

"When a daughter is married.

"When a son starts in football.

"When a friend or relative dies.

"Woe unto the publisher who underestimates the importance

Nitrogen Ups Yield Of Grain Sorghums In Tests at Halfway

An application of 120 pounds of nitrogen per acre produced the greatest increase in yield of grain sorghum on Pullman clay loam in 1957, at the High Plains Station of Texas Research Foundation at Halfway.

This application also gave the greatest net return per acre over fertilizer cost.

In this experiment with different rates and ratios of nitrogen and phosphate phosphoric both nutrients were applied at the rate of 40, 80, and 120 pounds per acre alone in all possible combinations.

The phosphate was applied as raw phosphoric acid in bands 20 inches apart on each side of the beds at a depth of five inches just before planting.

Four-row plots 100 feet long with each treatment replicated four times were used. Texas 610 hybrid was planted at the rate of six pounds per acre in 40-inch rows on June 19, 1957. The nitrogen was applied as anhydrous ammonia in bands 20 inches apart when the grain sorghum was from one to two inches high.

The soil was irrigated prior to planting in addition to three waterings during the growing period. A total of 32.4 inches of moisture was available from time the preplant irrigation was made in April to the end of the growing period on October 1. Of this total 15 inches was applied through irrigation with 17.4 inches of rainfall.

The two interior rows of each plot were harvested on November 15 to determine yield. The yield data reported in Table 1 are the average of four replications.

Yield data for one year are not adequate to use as a basis for making fertilizer recommendations but these results indicate that nitrogen alone at the rate of 120 pounds per acre will give the greatest yield increase and net return per acre of any of the rates tested thus far.

Fertilizer for this test was contributed by Phillips Chemical Company and Plainsmen of his own newspaper on these occasions," he writes.

He might have added that the power of the local paper is also apparent when a name is misspelled, when a typographical error is made in the price of advertised goods, or when an out-of-town merchant buys space in the local paper.

In short, we become conscious of the power of the newspaper when it touches our emotions. Yet the influence is always there. The same large public which reads and mentions wedding and birth announcements, also reads and acts on newspaper advertising.

study, made by the Survey Research Center of the University of Michigan. The study points out that consumers' optimism in regard to their own economic situation has not deteriorated as much as has their appraisal of national economic developments.

A third of the families reported that their incomes had increased over the past year, while less than a fourth reported declines.

Nevertheless, "attitudes toward prices and market conditions point toward increased restraint and caution among consumers." Chief reasons cited are high prices and high expenses.

agement with Sud Aviation of France.

Components and assemblies of the helicopter developed by the French firm are delivered by air freight from Sud Aviation's plants in France to Republic's Farmingdale, L. I. plant where they are assembled and test flown before being sold to the American, Canadian and Central American market.

After a period of phasing in manufacture of components here, Republic plans to manufacture the helicopters at Farmingdale.

THE CONSUMER SPEAKS—A consumer attitude survey made during the last few weeks of 1957 reveals that a substantial proportion of consumers believe the recession is "something which already has occurred rather than a prospective or threatening development."

This was one of the more reassuring highlights of the

calls Old Granny. She had produced eight calves before he got her in 1947 and at that time he was expecting to get two or three more calves from her. She was 20 years old last October and her 19th calf was about two months old.

Old Granny Descendants are Almost all of his cows were descendants of Old Granny. He had many of her daughters, granddaughters and great-granddaughters. He had used some of her sons as herd sires so he had a lot of the blood of Old Granny in his cattle.

Some of the top kind of steers in the local Fat Stock Show have come from Furr's place and most of them have been big growthy steers. A few years ago they would let a club boy take almost any calf on the ranch for a club steer.

This year they have such a demand for bulls that most of them are spoken for before they are two months old. His prices are not entirely out of reason but he gets $300 to $500 for some of his better calves.

Need Good Conformation

His best bull calves are spoken for before they are two months old and in many cases they are moved at that age. The demand for breeding stock has changed to the extent that buyers are picking them up soon after they are born rather than waiting until they are a serviceable age.

The modern beef cattle breeder has to produce animals of good conformation, that Agriculture Committees of both houses of Congress and in a statement to the Secretary of Agriculture, Wm. Rhea Blake, council executive vice president, explained that bad weather over most of the Cotton Belt in 1957 brought a shortage of good quality cotton.

"The size of the crop," he noted, "was reduced two million bales, which together with a serious deterioration in quality resulted in a three-and-one-half-million-bale loss in the production of good quality cotton (grades of strict low middling or better)."

"If this critical shortage is not relieved, United States cotton faces a situation potentially more serious than that precipitated by the Korean crisis of 1950-51, which resulted in our greatest loss of markets in history. The only answer is immediate action to substantially increase cotton acreage in 1958."

Demand for higher quality cottons has been rising steadily during recent years, both at home and abroad, Blake said. A scarcity of these qualities, he declared, would mean severe losses in U. S. cotton exports and give domestic mills a great incentive for turning to cheaper synthetic substitutes.

have plenty weight for age and backed up by a pedigree that is considered free from dwarf carriers.

Many beef cattle breeders are in trouble today because of dwarfism. Even though they tried to be careful and not get any dwarf carrier in their foundation animals, the thing is so tricky that it often gets by.

The use of clean pedigrees is one thing that is being stressed at the present time and no breeder would encourage a new man to go into the business without advising him to make every effort to stay clear of dwarfism. Breeding stock with clean backgrounds are really in demand at the present time.

Secretary Benson on January 30 said he did not have authority to increase 1958 allotments by executive order. He based his statement on a ruling by the Department's legal counsel that the Secretary's emergency powers do not include authority to increase production in order to cure shortages in particular grades and staples.

The most recent development in the drive to obtain higher cotton production in 1958 came this week when Senator James O. Eastland (D-Miss.) introduced a bill which would give individual farmers a choice between: (1) acreage allotment and price support provided by present law; (2) 30 per cent increase in acreage and 70 per cent of parity price support.

These naked steel poles with their whining copper wires are a symbol of tingling surging power; power which can lighten work and light cities, run a factory or illuminate a book. Power carried by these wires transforms a nation and makes possible ways of life that could not happen without it.

The Bible repeatedly speaks of the power of God released in human life making it new and vibrant. We all want the power of new life, but how do we get it? Well, to get power from the electric wires it is necessary to be attached to them, literally to become a part of them and share their pulsating singing life. It is like that with God, too. To have life from Him one must trust Him enough to become attached to Him, dependent upon Him, obedient to Him, sharing His way of life in love, and sharing the community of love which is His Church.

SEEKS MORE ACRES—H. L. (Hub) King, right of Brownfield and chairman of the Texas Farm Bureau's cotton committee, is shown with Rep. George Mahon last week in Washington, where King testified before the Cotton Subcommittee of the House Agriculture Committee. King said an increase in acreage, sufficient to provide adequate quantities of better grades of cotton which now are in critically short supply, was absolutely necessary to prevent a drastic loss of markets. King appeared before the subcommittee last Monday, and was scheduled to go later, before a Senate group. He told the House subcommittee that, in his opinion, farmers would be willing to take a small reduction in price support in return for additional acres. He added that an increase in acreage would not be inconsistent with the December referendum because farmers would choose voluntarily whether they wanted the additional acreage.

"Down Wellman Way"

Hello, everyone! Well, Valentines Day is just around the corner (right along with six-week tests!) Incidentally, there are only three and one-half months of school left. The juniors and seniors have been busy practicing their class plays. Both promise to be very entertaining and everyone at Wellman High is looking forward to seeing them when they are presented in March and April. Friday at 9 a.m., "The Roscos" presented an assembly program entitled "Rodeo-Roundup." They were dressed in western costumes and performed... whip-tricks, shooting, gun-juggling, and rope-spinning. It was very interesting and everyone enjoyed it very much. We hope that several of the students from Wellman High will plan to enter the National Advertising Contest. Anyone in the high school level is eligible to enter and compete for the prize of $500 and a trip to Dallas. We were sorry to hear that Jones' eight year old son, Ricky, is in the hospital recovering from a sinus infection. We wish him a speedy recovery and hope that he will soon be able to come home. A big surprise is in store for someone at the next PTA meeting! Someone (and it could be you!) will be the subject for a "This Is Your Life" program which will be presented Feb. 20, in the high school auditorium. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Wellman FHA girls honored their mothers with a Mother-Daughter Banquet Thursday night at The Brownfield Party House. A Valentine theme was carried out in the decorations and place-cards. Of interest to college-bound students at Wellman High is the National Merit Scholarship Test. Second-semester juniors and first-semester seniors are eligible to enter. Students are urged to register before the March 20 deadline. Goin' Places and Doin' Things Mrs. L. F. Harlan and daughter, Mrs. Dwayland Holland visited in the home of Mrs. E. C. Harlan and family. Mr. and Mrs. Luke Baker and daughter visited in Piedras Negras, Old Mexico over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip O'Connell and family spent the weekend in Brownwood. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Agnew from Morton visited in the home of the W. M. Bolens in Brownfield over the weekend. W. O. Stanford from Odessa visited the T. J. Riches last Sunday. Mrs. N. H. Fields and children visited in Comanche Saturday and Sunday. "Misters and Misses" Anna Lee Morton and Larry Sims, Bertha Smith and Ronnie Nettles, Mary Bolen and Troy Willis, Tootsie Hawkins and Ldean Hughlett, Peggy Burnett and Lewis Hare, Barbara Bishop and David Cabe.

Style Show Slated At BCC On March 13

Merchants participating in the style show will be Collins Dry Goods, Cobb's Department Store, Dunlap's Department Store, Shelton's Ready-to-Wear, Cliff's Western Wear and Bayless Jewelry. Each store will be represented by four or five models. Mrs. Jim Finley, chairman

Charles Glen Westerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Westerman of 905 South Sixth, and James R. Taylor Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. All set for your Personality Color Test? You can use the following test to analyze yourself (or your friend's if you know which colors they would choose). Of course, this isn't enough for a complete analysis. A thorough test given by an expert psychologist would require you to make about 45 quick choices between various colors and combinations.

No short test can give a true insight into anyone's personality. Nevertheless, most people who give the same answers to this test are approximately the same kind of people. So this will tell you what sort of person, on the average, you are likely to be. Try it and see if you agree.

Answer the questions off-hand, without stopping to think them over. Then read the answers which I have given you and see what your answers indicate:

1. Visualize a drawing of two telephones — one is blue, the other is orange. Your kitchen is all white. Now that extension phones are available in different colors, which of the two would you rather have in your kitchen?

2. Visualize a drawing of two pullover sweaters — one a warm magenta red, the other a cool green. You are spending a few hours alone at home. Which of the sweaters would you wear?

3. Visualize a drawing of a long towel rack. Towels are colored red, maroon, pink, orange, yellow, green, blue-green, blue, purple, brown. You are buying bath towels for your private bathroom. No one else will use or see them. Which of the colors would you choose?

4. Visualize a drawing of bedspreads, with identical designs, in these color combinations: brown and green; violet and black; maroon and gray; maroon and green; orange and cream; blue and cream. Your bedroom has pale-gray walls. Which bedspread would you choose?

5. Visualize a drawing of two notebooks — one is red, the other is black. You are buying a note book for addresses and phone numbers. Which of the two would you choose?

1-2: People who choose the "cool" colors—blue and green—are usually calm, reserved, thoughtful. They don't talk much, do not mix much with other people, but they are steady thinkers and dependable friends. Those who pick the "warm colors" — red and orange—are likely to be active, peppy, emotional.

They would rather go to a party than spend a quiet evening at home. They are warm-hearted, and sometimes hot-headed. If your choice in 1 and 2 were mixed—blue and red or orange and green—you're probably a rare type of in-between person, complex and flexible.

3: Red is usually chosen by vigorous, active people. They are likely to be fickle, eager for excitement, interested in unusual furnishings and decorations.

If they choose this color as low is popular with arty intellectuals, especially those who like reform movements or unusual religious groups.

A room decorated in orange shows that the owner would rather talk than play games and is usually just as happy alone. He also probably goes in for modernistic art and decorations.

Green seems to indicate tolerant people of broad interests, who still keep close rein on themselves. In their furnishings they want comfort above all else. When they entertain, they usually play cards. When they eat, they eat heartily.

Blue-green often pleases a rather fussy people who want everything exactly right. They are poker-faced, rather cool, yet generous underneath. They dislike being thanked and seldom ask anyone for advice.

Blue is the color of dignified, sensitive people. They like antiques. They seldom say or do anything without careful thought.

Purple is an odd color; one who chooses it is probably a mystery to himself as well as to others. Sometimes it may mean conceit.
