Is something wrong with your life—an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provision and redemption of His forgiveness and redemption of love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

IT WON'T HURT

No—that first haircut won't hurt, but there will be much in this little fellow's life that will, and whether or not a child is able to use pain and hurt as a tool for maturing depends upon his early understanding of himself as a child of God. No person is really a person without other people—let your little child become a real person by being a part of the community which shares the understanding of themselves as children of God. Go with him to Church this Sunday and every Sunday.

PART OF THE CROWD — A total of 671 persons jammed the Junior High School Cafeteria Friday to make the Kiwanians' annual Pancake Supper one of the most successful events to date. Stacks of pancakes and bacon, and gallons of coffee

Rites for C. Landes Held Here on Friday

Funeral services for Carl W. Landes, 40, of 405 North 10th, were held Friday in Northside Baptist Church, with the Rev. A. J. Franks, pastor, officiating. He was assisted by the Rev. E. L. Cave.

Landes, sexton for Terry County Cemetery Association for the past seven years, was pronounced dead on arrival at Treadaway-Daniell Hospital about 11:30 p.m. Thursday.

He moved here from Stephenville about 10 years ago. Burial was held Saturday at Morgan Mill under direction of Brownfield Funeral Home.

Palbearers were Stanley Threet, T. A. DuBose, J. M. Hare, Glen Hart, Leon Goldston and Ernest Ervin.

Surviving are his wife; two sons, Charles and Truman, of the home; two daughters, Alesia and Martha, of the home, and three brothers, Aubrey and Alvin Landes, both of Fort Worth, and Ira Landes of Midland.

Levelland College Is Accredited by State Agency From Austin

South Plains College at Levelland has been certified by the Texas Education Agency at Austin as an examination center for high school equivalency diplomas.

The certification was announced Wednesday by the school's president, Dr. Thomas M. Spencer.

Veterans and any other person, 21 years of age or older who are not graduates of an accredited high school may secure such a diploma by applying for and passing the examinations.

The tests are to be given by appointment, said Dr. Spencer, and will require approximately seven and one-half hours to complete. They may be taken in one day or two evenings.

Charlotte Reid Has 4th Birthday Party

Charlotte Reid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Reid of 711 Park Lane, was honored on her fourth birthday Friday March 7 with a luncheon.

Celebrating with her were Randy Reid (brother), Mr. and Mrs. Paul Scott, Vonda and Connie of Denver City, Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stephens, T. J. and Melba Dean, and Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Reid Jr., grandparents.

Teacher Recruitment Problem To Be An Important Phase of School Studies

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of four articles concerning a study of Terry's four school systems in conjunction with a statewide investigation under the Hale-Aiken Committee of 24.)

Though the nation's teacher shortage is becoming more critical each year, the Texas State Teachers Association estimates almost 41,000 additional teachers will be needed by 1963.

This ever-increasing problem will be a major consideration for study by Terry's Hale-Aiken school committee as they scrutinize present and future problems of the county's four school systems.

TSTA estimates include 15,270 teachers to be added because of population increase, and 25,685 for replacements. The association revealed that some 4,500 teachers leave the profession each year. The population trend has jumped from 173,000 births annually about 15 years ago, to 247,000 today.

Brownfield already is feeling the board of trustees added teachers last fall to meet anticipated growth in enrollment, four more were added after school started. Another large increase is expected this fall.

The Hale-Aiken group will delve into various factors affecting teacher recruitment. Among the factors listed are salary, job satisfaction (status in community), opportunity to make a career or teaching or administration, opportunity to continue education, love for children and desire to give public service, retirement benefits and working conditions.

Surveys indicate the biggest bugaboo in teacher recruitment today is attributable to low salaries.

Minimum Foundation School Funds (Gilmer-Aiken) pay teachers with bachelor's degree a minimum of $3,204. The law also provided for at least $54 per year increase for 12 years. Masters degree holders are eligible for pay increases 26 years.

Any salary over the minimum must be paid by the school district.

In 1956-57, Texas ranked 25th in the nation according to the average salary of teachers and administration with $4,000. Some 1,383 Texas teachers were lost to states paying higher salaries the previous year when pay averaged $3,925.

Despite a shortage of teachers, Texas can claim that 96

THE Sportsmen's Corner
TIPS FROM SPORTS AFIELD MAGAZINE
 FISHING AND HUNTING AUTHORITY

Sports Afield does it again! This time the editors have accepted a reader's challenge to find out how many single words end in the letters j-i-s-h. What's more, they're offering an 18 h.p. Evinrude Fastwin outboard motor as first prize for the reader who sends in the greatest number of acceptable words. 2nd Prize: a Marlin bolt-action 30-06 big game rifle. 3rd Prize: a Garcia spinning rod kit complete with rod, reel, line and lure.

You'll find the details on where to send your entry, and rules of the contest, in the Letters Column on page 6 of the March issue of Sports Afield, on newsstands everywhere tomorrow. Anyone is eligible to try for the prizes, so grab your dictionary and start "fishing".

We've noticed that a lot of sportsmen are taking to the new choice in blunt-end cigars—THE PRESIDENT—by DUTCH MASTERS. Extra long and impressive—and like other fine Dutch Masters cigars, comes in a brand new, convenient 5 pack... You can see Starcraft's new 1958 line of boats at their dealers. Be sure to see their three new Fiberglas models... Just add water to Instant Ken-L-Meat, and you're ready to feed your dog in seconds. Has a crumbly, hamburgerlike texture that sends out "strong meat signals" your dog won't be able to resist.

Sand eels are considered a very fine delicacy, especially by the Danes.

The famous Miller Hollow Fly Line has an exclusive TUF-COTE superfinish which offers a glassy-smooth exterior finish for fast, effortless casting. Graduated cellular construction aids floatability... A boat made of lightweight Reynolds Aluminum can be a joy forever. Never rusts, rots or warps. No scraping, sanding or caulking... Latest in the famous Alcedo family of spinning reels is the new Alcedo Atlantic surf and heavy salt water reel. Holds 400 yards of 15 lb. monofilament.

The best way to keep fishing rods when they are not in use is to hang them from screw hooks or some similar device in a cool, dry room.

The Poly-Choke Co., famous for shotgun chokes, is building a new 35-foot semi-custom sport fisherman-cruiser through a subsidiary company. Yards are in Boothbay Harbor, Maine, so you can look for real "Down East" craftsmanship... New Barbasol Presto instant lather is fortified with Humectant 105—holds hairs upright, reduces cutting resistance. And you get two-thirds more for the money... Newest closed-face fishing reel on the market is Langley's lightweight Cast-Flo Deluxe. Gives you smooth, effortless casting, and its high gear ratio insures faster retrieve.

Like to win one of 32 new 1958 Chevrolet convertibles? Or one of 32 $1,000 charge accounts at the store of your choice? Then turn to Page 5 of next month's Sports Afield, and read all about the exciting new $200,000 Hit Parade Cigarette Mystery Tune Contest. 1344 fabulous prizes, including Philco Hi-Fi sets, portable TV sets, Bell & Howell movie cameras, and projectors! Michigan Wheel's 1958 outboard catalog is packed with important information on how to get better results from your outboard outfit. It's free... A fine gift for a friend or yourself is Fendleton's unique Robin-a-Bag. The big 52 x 70 robe is woven of pure virgin wool to a 90-year-old Oregon formula. The big zipper bag has a carrying handle, doubles as a cushion.

Fishermen, if you want limit catching you can't afford to miss Byron Dabymple's "How To Get Your Trout Opening Day," lead-off article in the big March issue of Sports Afield.

For further information on all products and services reviewed in this column, consult your local sporting goods dealer, the classified telephone directory or write Sports Afield, Dept. BB, 959 Eighth Avenue, New York 19, N. Y.

"We've Come a Long Way Together..."

A replica of the first Froelich tractor which was the "granddaddy" of the present-day complete line of John Deere Tractors.

One morning back in 1892, the peace and quiet of the little Iowa town of Froelich was shattered by an unfamiliar roar... the cough and clank of a one-cylinder engine mounted on the running gear of a steam traction engine. This one-lunger, the pride of John Froelich, proved a success and soon moved out of Iowa to the broad plains of the Dakotas. That fall it helped harvest over 72,000 bushels of small grain.

From that humble beginning has come the great line of John Deere Tractors... tractors that today offer advantages undreamed of just a few years ago. Time has changed... John Deere Tractors have "come a long way."

And through these years, as the John Deere Dealer in this community, we've been a part of this progress. We've seen changes in tractors, in equipment, in farming methods, in farms. We've made new friends to be cherished as old friends as the years passed by.

Yes... we've come a long way together in this community... you, our customers, John Deere, and ourselves. It's a winning combination that enables us to face the future with confidence.

could crop "up during experiments," he added.

Eulice Farrar offered 40 acres of his farm to be used for the experiments. He has aided experiment station fertilizer tests during the past three years.

However, Henry Williamson of Terry's Soil Conservation Service work unit, said Farrar's farm is more of a mixed-land variety, rather than the desired sandy land.

A three-man committee, comprised of Kenneth Purcell, Val Garner and County Agent Jim Foy, was appointed to find a plot suitable for the experiments. The group also will attempt to obtain an operator for the land.

Fisher explained the operator will be required to do most of the work under supervision of experiment station personnel. "We have necessary equipment to run the tests," he said. "But we are very short of labor personnel."

He noted that determination of a feasible irrigation cut-off date will be a major goal of the tests. "We know the hard land (Plainview) will hold about eight inches of water; the mixed land (Lubbock) will hold about six inches, and we estimate sandy land (here, south and west) will hold about two inches of moisture," he said.

"It would be rather foolish to apply an Aug. 25 cut-off date to all three areas when we ac-

OCEAN TO OCEAN ACROSS SOUTH AMERICA—AND BACK—IN 41 HOURS!
CHEVY'S NEW V8 LEVELS THE HIGHEST, HARDEST HIGHWAY OVER THE ANDES!

To prove the durability of Chevrolet's radical new Turbo-Thrust V8,* the tremendous flexibility of the new Turboglide transmission,* the incredible smoothness of Full Coil suspension, we tackled the most challenging transcontinental road in the world—the 1,000-mile General San Martin Highway. To make it harder, the Automobile Club of Argentina sealed the hood shut at Buenos Aires—no chance to add oil or water or adjust carburetors for high altitude.

So the run began—across the blazing Argentine pampas, into the ramparts of the forbidding Andes. Up and up the road climbed, almost 24 miles in the sky! Drivers gasped for oxygen at 12,572 feet—but the Turbo-Thrust V8 never slackened its torrent of power, the Full Coil springs smothered every bump, the Turboglide transmission made play of grades up to 30 percent. Then a plunge to the Pacific at Valparaiso, Chile, a quick turn-around and back again. Time for the round trip: 41 hours 14 minutes—and the engine was never turned off!

*Extra-cool option.

Levitt - His Name is On Every U. S. Map

Nation's Biggest Home Builder
Men Who Make America Great

By LOUIS JAMES
William J. Levitt's fame is certain for at least one reason. His name is on every United States map at least twice. He is probably the only living American with two large cities named for him; and soon there will be a third—Levittown, N. J.—in the booming Delaware River Valley halfway between Trenton and Philadelphia.

A 50-year-old Brooklyn-born dynamo, he was typed by Fortune Magazine as the "Henry Ford" of the home building industry. Levitt has built more homes (over 50,000) than any man in the country—and turned the building industry upside down doing it.

A wiry man, who talks fast in a husky authoritative voice, Levitt is a fearless pioneer whose methods upset all existing production ideas. Home building will never be the same.

Built first planned city

He is the first man to build a pre-planned American city since 1791 when Washington, D.C. was laid out.

On Long Island, he built 18,000 homes for 73,000 people. In Pennsylvania, he is now completing another city of 17,000 homes—the 10th largest in the state. Both are called Levittown—a name now synonymous with suburban living.

Plans for the nation's third Levittown are on the drawing boards now. It will rise on 4,000 acres of south Jersey farmland and incorporate all the planning ideas and construction techniques developed by America's master builder.

How does he do it? "You need nerve in this business," he grins, "and know-how helps." Levitt thinks big—and acts fast. For example, when lumber was scarce, Levitt went out and bought a whole forest and a sawmill in California.

When cement was unobtainable in the country, he bought a freighter and imported boat-loads of German cement. When nails went off the market, he promptly bought a nail factory.

Homes by assembly line
On Long Island, when Levitt-towners complained about lacking a central meeting place, Levitt built a $250,000 Community Center and gave it to them as a Christmas present.

Levitt builds houses like Henry Kaiser used to build—herty ships—bringing mass production and prefabrication into close, high gear.

Brooklyn Boy Who Made Good

Timing is the key. His specially trained crews move from site to site with precision, doing their specific jobs with assembly line smoothness. It takes a heap of planning, and Levitt is a whiz at it.

Levitt grew up on the turbulent Brooklyn streets, adoring the Dodgers, scrapping, attending local schools. He spent three years at New York University, but a restless urge caused him to withdraw to join his father's small home building firm.

Today, he heads Levitt and Sons, Inc., the nation's biggest home-building firm, a king-size success story.

Russians are awed
Once they used to build 35 homes a year and thought it good. Now, Levitt builds that many in a day.

Even the Russians, who also like to build big, are awed by Levitt. A film about Levittown has been shown in at least 13 Russian cities.

His business is so volatile and competitive, he has to keep his finger in many pies. He does it by reading economic reports, trade papers, the Wall Street Journal and local papers.

Levitt has a motto, learned when he was with the Seabees in World War II. It is "Can Do!" As his conferees—and competitors—will testify, he does!

SHE WON IT— Pictured above is Mrs. Gus Pollard, admiring the new Whirlpool Washer she won Friday at Copeland Hardware. With her is Odell Sears, the firm's manager. Mrs. Pollard won the brand new washer in a simple way: She merely took time to visit and register at the store during the firm's month-long demonstrations of the RCA-Whirlpool washer-dryer combinations. "Of all things," explained Mrs. Pollard, "I didn't even own one!" Mrs. Pollard lives near Meadow.

ADVERTISING PLAYS KEY ROLE Sporting Goods Sales Sprinting Up, Up

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager
American consumers will spend two billion dollars on sporting goods this year, a research agency has estimated.

Expenditures for recreational goods are three times larger today than in 1950. Here is one of the great new markets open to any alert retailer.

Because the sporting goods market is new and growing, it may be influenced greatly by advertising. In fact, it can't be captured without advertising.

The new buyers of boats, bowling balls and badminton birds have not established retail preferences. They do not know where they can satisfy their new wants. Some are still establishing their recreational habits. All are eager for information which advertising can provide.

All types of retail stores stand to gain from growing recreational needs which are resulting from a shorter work week and increasing numbers of retired persons. Drug, grocery, hardware, clothing or variety stores may handle many items needed in sports activities.

But having a potential market is not enough. In sporting goods, as in any rapidly changing market, the business likely is to go to the retailer who anticipates demands and guides buying through advertising.

If a retailer is not getting his share of the recreational trade, probably he has failed to expand his advertising to keep pace with the new demands.

TO BRACERO LABORERS

Louisiana Court Decision Holds That 'Prevailing' Wage Scale Must Be Paid

Farm wages which the U.S. secretary of labor finds to be "prevailing wages" must be paid by employers of braceros when the prevailing wages are higher than the contract rate.

That is the essence of a Feb. 25 decision by the U. S. Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit in New Orleans, La. It reversed a district court judgment involving J. H. Morris, a cotton grower in Fisher County.

Morris employed eight braceros during the cotton harvesting season of 1955. His contract with them was to pay the workers at the rate of $1.35 per hundredweight or the prevailing rate, whichever was higher.

Midway of the season, the secretary of labor determined that the prevailing wage for the area was $1.75 per hundredweight.

The government sued to recover the difference between the contract rate and the determined prevailing rate which it was obliged to pay the Mexican government under the terms of an international agreement between the United States and Mexico.

The case is said to have widespread significance because a large number of other employers have refused to pay the established prevailing wage rate when it was higher than the rate mentioned in their contracts.

IN HER 'LETTER FROM PEKING'

East-West Conflicts Are Watched by Pearl Buck

("Letter From Peking," Pearl S. Buck; published by John Day Company, Inc., $3.75)

By BERYL SADEIR
Delphin Study Club
A few years ago it seemed to me that Pearl S. Buck was beginning to lose her magic touch with words. To belie this idea, she has brought forth one of the most suspenseful books she has ever written in "Letter From Peking."

This book is available at Brownfield Public Library, and certainly it is worth the reading.

There is a deep hurt in the book, a hurt which spans an ocean and three generations. But there are also happiness, rebellion, and the calmness of the Orient. It is one of the most modern books dealing with the East-West (or if you prefer, Americanism vs. Communism) situation.

The story, however, is not written in terms of ideologies as such. It is a very personal and human story of people caught in the circumstances of their times.

Elizabeth MacLeod is the central character of the book. She is the one who received the "Letter" referred to in the title of the book. And she represents the middle generation of the three involved.

The involvement began when "Baba" MacLeod, who was employed as an advisor to the Chinese throne, married a Chinese lady. Because he did not love her she became bitter and after the birth of their son, Gerald, became an active member of the Communist movement which was just beginning to make itself felt in their country. She left her husband when Gerald was quite small.

Gerald was subjected to all the conflicting emotions and teachings of both parents. He received his advanced education in America, where he met and married Elizabeth. Then he returned to China with his new bride, to become a teacher.

The supreme happiness of their years together (too few, when considered in relationship to a lifetime) is so delicately and deftly dealt with that it seems like a flower unfolding a petal at a time.

A political crisis made it necessary for Elizabeth and their 12-year-old son Rennie to leave Gerald and return to the house in Vermont where Elizabeth had grown up and which she had inherited from her mother. Gerald felt compelled to stay in China to try to keep some small flame of freedom burning.

Five years passed and Rennie was a tall, good-looking boy of 17, when the fateful letter arrived from Peking. From that day their lives changed rapidly, and the "meat" of the book develops. Most of what I have given you here is background for the development of the third generation of the first Chinese-American marriage, for Rennie, with more than his share of problems and adjustments to be made, has his own story.

Elizabeth, too, has a further story. For she must compose an answer to the letter from

Essay Contest Set For Navy Reserves

A national essay contest, open to Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard officers and enlisted men, has been announced by the Naval Reserve Association and is being promoted to stimulate interest in the Naval Reserve.

The Association said that $500 will be awarded to the three best essayists on the topic "The Increasing Importance of the U.S. Naval Reserve to the U.S. Navy". Top prize is $250, with the second and third prizes being $150 and $100.

The contest is open to Regulars and Reservists and retired personnel of the above services, and entrants may submit any number of essays. Essays must be received at the Naval Reserve Association Office, 1140 National Press Bldg., Washington, D. C. by July 15 and entries must be postmarked on or before June 30.

Essays must be submitted typewritten, double-spaced, on one side of the sheet only. An original and on carbon copy of each entry is required, and it should not exceed 2,000 words, and may be shorter.

The essay should not bear the entrants name, however, his name, with rank or rate and address, should be written on a plain sheet of paper and attached to the essay. This procedure is to insure that judges do not know the identity of the writer until the judging is completed.

The contest will be judged by a group of Regular and Reserve officers and civilians.

Guarding Tomorrow's Freedom

How to maintain a lasting peace... how to preserve full employment... how to ward off recession... how to keep our high standard of living. These are problems which continually face the Government of our country.

Tomorrow they may blaze into issues that must be solved by the factions and interests that make up our democracy. Each of these factions and interests will demand to be heard—and they will be heard.

The press of America will report and comment on what each and every party to an issue has to say. The public will know what is going on. It is only thus that the best interests of America can be served over and above the interests of any one faction or any limited-interest group.

This vital function can be performed only by a press that is free to write and free to publish the story of national issues, unfettered by distraction from any source.

Today's freedoms can be secured and tomorrow's freedoms guarded only by a press that owes allegiance to no ogre of tyranny bent upon shaping our destiny to suit its own ends.

If the press of America is, in a real sense, to remain the guardian of our future, we must preserve the freedom it possesses today.

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

Congratulations to Weldon Mason for being given the honor or Terry County's Outstanding Young Farmer for 1957. I don't know all the young farmers in the County but I'm sure no better selection could have been made — for you see, I know Weldon and his charming wife Novella. They were neighbors to us before moving east of Brownfield and I can vouch that he indeed is a fine farmer.

I know this couple best for another reason however. They are one of the most faithful church members Meadow Baptist church has ever had. Driving some 20 miles to a place of worship is no easy task. It requires effort to drive 8 miles. Even with two small youngsters, Weldon and Novella, always manage to be present and both take an active part in church activities.

Attend Church Faithfully Each Sunday morning they sit directly behind my family which is the reason I can testify to their faithful attendance. Weldon always has struck me as being a very stable young man. He appears to know what he wants and how to go about getting it. In other words, he knows where he is going — which is the key to any successful endeavor, regardless of its nature.

To know Weldon's parents, Glen and Jackie Mason, is to know why Weldon, along with his brother Wendel and sister Betty, have grown into the fine individuals they are.

Just this morning, my memory carried me back to 1929 when we moved to Brownfield. I attended school at West Ward and Weldon's grandfather, Mr. W. H. Brown, of Brownfield, was janitor for the school at that time.

Sometimes when he came to perform his duties after school, his three daughters, Jackie, Jim Bob and Irene helped him. I rode to and from school with Mrs. Choc Hamilton, and sometimes we would have to wait after school until she arrived.

The Browns were the kindest, nicest people. I had a cigar box and Mr. Brown saved all the broken crayolas that he swept from the floors and put them in the box which I left on top of my desk in the second grade.

Of course I appreciated the kind deed at the time, because I probably wouldn't have had crayolas otherwise but looking back now, I realize that it was considerable trouble to collect broken crayolas from all those rooms.

Yes, the Browns were nice people in those days and they still haven't changed a bit as reflected in the third generation. Guess Weldon is just a "chip off the old block" — solid and genuine and of the sort that keeps the home fires burning.

Caught Speeding

Found out the other day what the speed limit is going north out of town. It is 35 miles per hour or so the patrolman informed me. He also informed me that he clocked my peed at 50 per.

I have forgotten the young fellow's name but he was peryice and seemed a little surprised when I told him I had lived here 29 years. (That was the first question he asked me.)

FOR NEW CHAPEL-AUDITORIUM

Hardin-Simmons Will Receive $100,000 Gift

ABILENE (Special) — The Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas Tuesday voted a $100,000 gift to Hardin-Simmons University. The gift is to apply on a new chapel-auditorium to replace Behrens Chapel lost by fire last November.

The action of the board was unanimous. It came upon recommendation of the finance committee headed by Dr. W. A. Jones of El Paso.

One half the grant is to be made available in the current fiscal year and the remainder next year to facilitate early action in the emergency replacement of the chapel.

Through President Evan Alford Reiff, the trustees of Hardin-Simmons University presented a request for this emergency grant.

The request addressed to the education commission of the convention last January was unanimously endorsed and referred to the executive board's financial committee.

This was necessary since funds of this magnitude and urgency were not available except through action by the finance committee and the executive board. Upon hearing this action by the Texas Baptist leadership, President Reiff said:

"This gift from our denomination is truly a challenge and a stewardship. It has been made in the expectation that friends of the university will push the campaign for one and $500,000 for urgent building body. But on Feb. 10, 1958, no longer in the White House, he delivered himself of the following:

"There are those who have been saying that a little recession is a good thing for the health of our economy. They would like you to believe that a temporary curb of prosperity is the way to halt run-away inflation. This kind of thinking is like believing a little bit of war might be beneficial."

Well! Well! 'Twould seem "IT ALL DEPENDS" on whether one's party is in possession of the White House or not, as to what unemployment statistics indicate.

needs to a successful and an early conclusion.

"Although specifically designated for the erection of the greatly needed chapel to encourage early action in its replacement, it is in fact the first major gift toward the total objective. That objective includes a major chapel-auditorium, a small multi-purpose auditorium and a student union building and center.

"The university expects very shortly to announce the major organization of the campaign forces and to launch this spring its appeal to its friends."

HEALTH and SCIENCE

THE FIGHT AGAINST PAIN

Man's fight against pain is as old as he is. Priest-pharmacians of ancient Egypt blamed demons in the patient's body for his misery, and stamped and jumped on the victim, hoping to maim the offending spirits. Instead, they caused more pain, and often serious injury to the sufferer.

Modern painless surgery began October 16, 1846, when Dr. William Morton, a dentist, who long had sought an anesthetic that would render the patient unconscious, administered sulfuric ether in preparation for surgery. Dr. John Warren successfully removed a tumor at Boston's Massachusetts General Hospital and delightedly exclaimed, "Gentlemen, this is no humbug."

Though the agonies of surgery had been eliminated, many ailments still plagued daily life. One effective analgesic was aspirin, acetyl salicylic acid. Chief drawback was that pain relief was not lasting. Latest advance in lasting pain relief is Super Sustamin 2-12, a new "chemo-static control" tablet, providing sustained release of medicine into the system. Arthritis and rheumatism sufferers who take it only twice daily now can sleep through the night for the first time. A available without prescription, it is completely safe.

Brownfield Observing National Library Week, March 16-22; Meeting Scheduled

"For a better read, better informed America, wake up and read," is the slogan for National Library Week, March 16-22, being observed in Brownfield.

In proclaiming National Library Week in Texas, Governor Price Daniel stated, "The public libraries of our state play an integral part in the dissemination of information and learning to countless numbers of people."

Many adults get the wrong impression by thinking their education is complete. No person's education ever is complete, and for a richer, fuller life one's education should continue through continuous observation and selected reading.

Brownfield Library is for all ages and furnishes the best in reading for any mood. It truly is a "University of the People," and being free, makes it possible for all people to take advantage of its opportunities.

DURING PRESENTATION AT BROWNFIELD COUNTRY CLUB

Easter, 'Chemise' and 'Sack' Influence What the Audience Saw at Style Show

By KLYDIE SCUDDAY
NEWS Woman's Editor

In a rainbow of colors, Easter fashions and play togs for the summer's recreation were on parade Thurs., when Brownfield Country Club Women staged their annual style show in a setting of spring flowers and Easter decorations.

Crawford Taylor of Radio Station KTFY was commentator, describing the fashions as models crossed the stage to music by Mrs. Jack Shirley and paraded the length of the auditorium on a red carpet flanked by spring blossoms.

The show, playing up the modern chemise, took some back to memories of the flapper age. Mrs. Jerry Bailes, modeling a chemise creation by Ellen Kaye from Shelton's show rooms, was the talk of the parade. The skirt, of the white dress of rayon-acetate, was formed by five tiers of fringe. Ropes of beads with matching earclips were a must for the costume and many could vision the fringe and beads bobbing up and down, if the wearer should decide to do the Charleston (the dance of the "Roaring Twenties.")

Brown, Black, Also

There was just enough black and brown in the show to complement the gay colors of spring. Modeling for Cobbs, Mrs. Jim Bayless was wearing a black sheath in drip-dry cotton by Doovan-Galvani of Dallas. Insets of dainty cotton embroidery added an unusual note to the sleeves and, with a picture hat by Park Layne and bag by Garey, the costume could be the envy of any woman.

Mary Jane Brownfield was checking in for Collins in the latest spring checks, with a two-piece suit in a chemise style that didn't have the sack look. The dress, in rayon linen and with a tie adding interest at the throat, called for washable nylon pigskin gloves by Hansen. Complementing hat and bag were also from Collins.

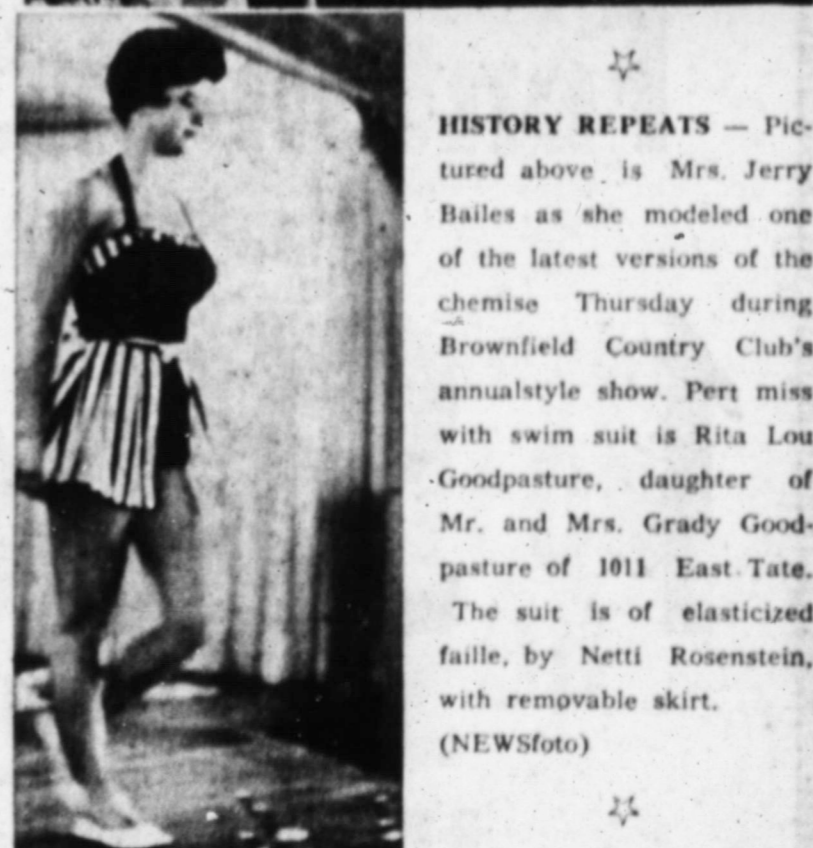

Shirtwaist Still Here

The shirtwaist is still in the fashion, but with a Parns Feinstein from Dunlap's and worn by Shirley Reed it definitely has new interest. Made of gossamer-silk organza and worn with bouffant petticoat, it had a festive air that was emphasized by a beaded bag and a hint of a hat of veiled linen.

Mary Joe Christian brought reminders of the rodeo in a brocaded shirt and black riding slacks - from Cliff's Western Wear. The unusual yoke treatment of the shirt continued down the sleeves, and with a clip-on metallic tie by Rockmount and a black western hat, Mary Joe won the approval of all rodeo fans.

A few years ago many feared the bathing suit was going too far toward the French version, but Rita Lou Goodpasture, modeling an elasticized faille swim suit by Nettie Rosenstein, put minds at ease. Coming from Shelton's, the suit had a removable skirt that converted it into a play suit for the beach or around the pool.

A number of the play clothes modeled were made into matching garments cap-

IN CHURCH AT MEADOW

Miss Betty Hester, John Garrison Exchange Vows

Miss Betty Joyce Hester of Big Spring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hester of Meadow, and John Howard Garrison, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Garrison of Big Spring, repeated wedding vows at 6 p.m. Saturday in First Methodist Church of Meadow.

The Rev. James P. Patterson, pastor of Silverton Methodist Church, read the double ring ceremony before a background of palms and baskets of white gladioluses and stock lighted by cathedral candles.

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore an ice blue full skirted street length dress of crystalline. The tucked bodice had long sleeves coming to a point over the hand and fastened with tiny buttons.

The matching hat held a shoulder length veil. The bride carried a bouquet of gardenias and stephanotis with showers of white satin ribbon atop a white Bible. Something old and borrowed, was her mother's wedding band; something new, her dress; something blue, a garter, and a penny in her shoe for luck.

Mrs. Hollis Lloyd of Lubbock, matron of honor, wore an ice blue polished cotton with full skirt and bateau neckline and carried a cascade bouquet of deep blue carnations with matching satin ribbon.

Donald (Bud) Garrison of Midland, served his brother as best man and brothers of the bride, Donnie and Dwain Hester of Meadow, lighted the candles. Ushers were Buck Drake of Big Spring and John Shanks of Andrews, Garrison's brother-in-law.

Mike Jarratt was at the organ for the wedding music. Hubert Murphy and Wilda Carruth sang "True Love," followed by Murphy vocalizing "You'll Never Walk Alone." "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

A lace cloth over blue covered the table with its three tiered blue and white wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and bridegroom. Bouquets of the bride and her matron of honor added interest.

Assisting with the serving were Misses Janice West and Pat Dunn and Meses. John Cadenhead, Bob Wilson and Roy Guber. Guests in Meadow for the wedding were from Big Spring, Brownfield, Lubbock, Andrews and Midland.

Employed in Big Spring
For a wedding trip to Oklahoma, the bride wore a royal blue sheath with black accessories and a corsage of white gardenias.

Mrs. Garrison is a graduate of Meadow High School and Howard County Junior College. She now is employed at Webb Air Force Base at Big Spring. Her husband is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Arlington State College and attended H.C.J.C. He now is employed by Texas Electric Company at Big Spring.

They will make their home in Big Spring until fall, when they will move to Stillwater, Okla., where he will enter Oklahoma State University to complete his work for a degree in electrical engineering.

'Genius In The Jungle' Reviewed at CWF Meet

"Genius In The Jungle" by Joseph Gollomb, was reviewed by Mrs. George W. Weiss of 502 East Buckley for Christian Women's Fellowship when they met Monday evening in First Christian Church.

Mrs. Bennie Jones gave the devotional and hostesses were Meses. Herbert Chesshir and W. T. Pickett. Guests were Meses. Weiss and C. A. Winn.

You've heard the old saying that half a loaf is better than none. But when it comes to written contracts, that isn't exactly true.

Oral contracts with some exceptions are perfectly enforceable in court. You make many such contracts in your daily living. When you drive into a filling station and say "Fill 'er up!" you've made an oral contract obliging you to pay for the gasoline the attendant puts in your tank.

Every auction results in many oral contracts of sale. Millions of people are employed on oral contracts.

The trouble with an oral contract is the difficulty of proving its terms if a dispute arises. The court will listen to your version of the contract and to the other fellow's version and then try to reach a decision.

It is best then to put a contract in writing. But here is the danger—be sure you put it all in writing.

If the written contract does not contain all of the elements you believed to be in the agreement, the court will not even listen to your version of the agreement. Thus, half a written contract may be worse than none.

For instance you buy a stove which the salesman says you may return if you don't like it. You sign a conditional sales agreement that does not mention your right to return it.

In fact the fine print on the form says that you agree that no representations have been made about the stove except those written in the contract. If it turns out you don't like the stove you will have no right to return it, and you can be sued if you fail to pay for it.

For your own protection, read your contracts before you sign and insist on writing in any promises the seller makes to you but does not put in the contract.

INTHOMPSON FAMILY SIX GENERATIONS

500-Year-Old Prophecy Proven Right By History

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following poem, believed to have been written more than five centuries ago, has been owned by the family of Mrs. Truman Thompson of 305 South A, for at least six generations. Mrs. Thompson said the prophecy might have been in the family longer. Though Mother Shipton's poem has been in the family for many years, Mrs. Thompson said she does not know whether the authoress was a relative.)

Mother Shipton, author of the following prophetic poem, was born in Norfolk, England, and died in Clifton, Yorkshire, 1449 A. D., forty-three years before Columbus discovered America. How many of her prophecies have come true can be checked readily by the most casual reader. How many are yet to come true remains for the future to disclose.

A WOMAN'S PROPHECY (Made 500 Years Ago)
A carriage without horses shall go.
Disaster fill the world with woe;
In London Primrose Hill shall be
Its center hold a Bishop's See.
Around the world men's thought shall fly,
Quick as the twinkling of an eye.
And waters shall great wonders do

And seek to take each other's life
When North shall thus divide
The south
The eagle builds in lion's mouth
The tax and blood and cruel war,
Shall come to every humble door.
Three times shall sunny, lovely France
Be led to play a bloody dance.
Before the people shall be free
Three tyrant rulers shall see?
Three rulers, in succession be,
Each sprung from different dynasty.
Then when the fiercest fight is done,
England and France shall be as one.
The British Olive next shall twine
In marriage with the German vine.
Men walk beneath and over the streams
Fulfilled shall be our strayed dreams.
All England's sons shall plow the land,
Shall off be seen with book in hand,
The poor shall now most wisdom know.
And water wind where corn did grow;
Great houses stand in far flung vale;
All covered o'er with snow and hail.
And now a word in uncouth rhyme,
Of what shall be in future time;
For in those wondrous, far-off days
The women shall adopt a craze
To dress like men and trousers wear
And cut off their lovely locks of hair.
They'll ride astride with brazen brow
As witches on a broomstick now.
Then love shall die and marriage cease
And nations wane as babes decease.
The wives shall fondle cats and dogs,
And men live much the same as hogs.
In nineteen hundred twenty six
Build houses light of straw and sticks
For then shall mighty wars be planned,
And fire and sword shall sweep the land.
But those who live the century through,
In fear and trembling this will do.
Flee to the mountains and the dens
To bog and forests and wild fens
For storms shall rage and oceans roar
When Gabriel stands on the sea and shore;
And as he blows his wondrous horn,
Old Worlds shall die and new be born.

Race problems are not new in the history of the world, and they will not be solved by newspaper articles and pretty speeches.

Ramsey Announces for Fifth Term As Lieut. Governor

Ben Ramsey of San Augustine today announced for reelection as lieutenant governor, advocating continued support of essential state service and additional safeguards against hasty, "scatterbarrel" blasts at Texas taxpayers.

The public services of the veteran small town lawyer have been recognized by an unbroken string of four political victories for lieutenant governor — once by a record-setting Democratic primary majority.

Ramsey said, "The coming years will be crucial. In addition to the national tensions and problems of a sagging economy and a 'Space Race', Texans also face a financial squeeze in their state government.

"As everyone knows, our expected state revenue has been sharply reduced by cutbacks in Texas oil production. The oil market is glutted with foreign imports. Moreover, living costs are still rising, unemployment is mounting, and high interest rates add to the squeeze on the average citizen.

"At next year's legislative session, there will be a real premium upon experience and calm, unhurried judgement. While doing what we can to help in the national emergency, we must maintain essential state services and at the same time make a fair and deliberate appraisal of any and all proposals to increase taxes.

"Legislation of such impact upon Texas people as a tax bill should require the approval of two-thirds of the members of the legislature," declared Ramsey. He said he will propose that a constitutional amendment be submitted to give the people — those who must pay — an opportunity to vote on a law to that effect.

"This is the No. 1 plank in my platform," he declared. "Now, with a bare quorum of two-thirds of the membership present, it is possible for 11 of the 31 senators and 51 of the 150 representatives to vote any kind of a tax bill. The amendment I advocate would require the vote of 21 senators and 100 representatives to put a state tax on our homes, wages, activities and businesses.

"We now require such a vote to propose even a minor change in our Constitution. It seems that a big tax bill ought to have the same serious consideration.

"Such an amendment would protect our farmers, working men and businessmen against unjust levies by an actual minority of the legislature."

The second point in Ramsey's platform calls for adequate support for schools, hospitals, roads and public health, safety and welfare, with careful evaluation to make sure that the tax dollar is being wisely divided and spent.

He urged special attention to the courses offered in public schools and colleges. "The parents and taxpayers of Texas are aware of the intensified demands upon our schools, teachers and students," said Ramsey. "I believe it is the Legislature's responsibility to see that Texas children are being educated to meet the challenge of the Space Era."

Foster Services Are Held On Wednesday

Funeral services for J. N. Foster, 59, of Bledsoe were held Wednesday in Bledsoe Baptist Church with the Rev. Leroy Burris, pastor, officiating.

Foster, the father of L. J. Foster of 505 Magnolia, died early Tuesday. He had been commissioner of Cochran County's Precinct 3 since 1953.

He was buried in Morton Memorial Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home.

He is survived by his wife, Ocia; one son, L. J.; one daughter, Mrs. Dorothy Fay Peurifoy of Hobbs, and three grandchildren.

The would-be reformer might as well understand that human nature doesn't change in a day, or after the passage of a law.

Schoolboy question: What difference would it make if everyone was dumb?

Cubs Win Exposition Blue Ribbon

Brownfield Cub Scout Pack 74 brought home a blue ribbon when they attended the scout exposition last Saturday in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum.

They took the ribbon on their display of a miniature Indian village. Added atmosphere to the booth, was obtained by dressing members of the pack in Indian Costume.

Rating in the top position, they were judged on neatness, time spent on crafts and promoting cub scout work and general interest shown in the booth by the public and other participants.

Good Irrigation Is Study, Engineering Result Of Planning

Efficient irrigation systems just don't happen, says R. V. Thurmond, extension agricultural engineer. They are the result of study, planning and engineering.

Thurmond advises that now is an excellent time to plan for the dry summer months ahead. Don't wait, he says, until the situation is acute before seeking assistance on irrigation problems.

An adequate irrigation plan should include an evaluation of the farm's soil and water resources; an evaluation of the present cropping system and the possibilities for growing new crops under irrigation; a thorough study of the costs involved, including capital investment and the annual costs — depreciation, fuel, labor and other expense items.

Too, under irrigation he points out that more machinery is usually required; more fertilizer is needed for maximum production; insect problems are often multiplied; harvesting costs are upped and the increased production could bring on an additional marketing problems.

After a decision has been made to make the change to irrigation, and Thurmond emphasizes that the switch from dryland to irrigation farming is probably the most important change a farmer will make during his farming career, a well designed system should be planned before any money is spent for equipment.

The plan on paper should show how the plan will operate. It will require a lot of engineering and this should come from a reliable source. County agents and SCS personnel can advise and assist with the planning.

In the high rainfall areas, Thurmond says a drainage system must be a part of the irrigation plan for the farm. It is just as important to get surplus water off of crop land as it is to supplement rainfall with irrigation, says the engineer.

IAS EIGHT LETTERMEN RETURNING Raiders Baseball Team Preps For '58 Season

LUBBOCK—Eight lettermen from last season form the nucleus for Texas Tech's baseball team, which was scheduled to begin its 1958 season with games against Hardin-Simmons here Friday and Saturday.

Coch Coach Beattie Feathers must replace five 1957 lettermen, including his ace pitcher, Leo Chase of Amarillo, shortstop Monroe Henderson of Jacksboro, rightfielder Darrell Summers of Borger, first baseman Walter Bingham of Midland, and catcher Jack Bates, Henderson, Bingham, and Summers were starters. The latter two became scholastically ineligible at mid-term.

Returning lettermen are pitchers Houston Powell of Lubbock and Wick Alexander of Amarillo, catcher Cullen Hrig Garrison of Lubbock and Hunto of Abilene, outfielders Gehrig Garrison of Lubbock and Norman Huggins of Plainview second baseman Dave Allen of Lubbock and Sperry Donelson of Stratford and third baseman David Potter of Tyler.

Starters were Hunt, Huggins and Garrison. Donelson, who shared a lot of time at second base, is moving to the outfield.

Much of Tech's batting power left with the departing lettermen as Henderson hit .342, Summers, .318 and Bates, .304. Despite being Tech's eighth batter with a .263 average, the returning Potter led the Raiders in runs-batted-in, with 11 in as many games.

Numeral winners with last year's freshman squad, victors in all eight games, are expected to fill in most of the vacancies.

These include pitchers Bill Tonabs of Georgetown, Billy Sisk of Lewisville, Charles Flanagan of Dumas, Lawrence Barber of Seagraves, and Bruce Boyd of Abilene (moved from first base), infielders Rob Hill of Lubbock, David Bourland of Abilene, Gary Wetter of Fort Worth, Ken Warren of Dallas (from the outfield), Bill Dean of Lubbock ('57 outfielder), and outfielder Dewey Bryant of Lubbock.

Jackie Miller of Amarillo, infielder in 1954, has returned from the Air Force.

Tech last year won seven and lost four.

UNEXPECTED SHOWING SCRAMBLED STAND

Successful Tech Cage Season Muddled Race

How responsible for the mixed-up Southwest Conference basketball race was the fact that Texas Tech was in the campaign for the first time? Principally, if the Red Raiders' games had not been counted there would have been an outright champion, Arkansas' Razorbacks, who split with the Raiders, would have wound up with an 8-4 mark, a full game ahead of Southern Methodist, a winner twice over Tech, with a 7-5 record.

Tied with the Mustangs would have been Rice and Texas Christian. Actually, it ended with the Razorbacks and the Mustangs tied at the top with 9-5 conference marks.

Here's how the race would have been without Tech (with actual records in parentheses): Arkansas 8-4 (9-5), SMU 7-5 (7-7), Texas A&M 6-6 (7-7), Texas 4-8 (5-9) and Baylor 3-9 (3-11).

Tech, a game out of first place with an 8-6 record, beat every team it played this past season. The Red Raiders compiled a perfect, 6-0, non-conference mark, beat SMU in the pre-season tournament and managed at least a split with every other SWC team in official play. Tech's season mark was 15-8.

Thus, the Red Raiders attained the two objectives Coach Peck Robison outlined at the start of the season: to be a worthy representative of the Southwest Conference in non-league competition and to finish in the first division of the conference.

Robison says he never was so overwhelmed and surprised as he was at receiving the air-conditioned DeSoto following the Raiders' final game.

Assistant Gene Gibson chimed in with a sincere "likewise" concerning his color television set. Trouble is, both have been out of town nearly every day since receiving their gifts from Texas Tech students and other fans.

Premium List Is Announced For 1958 State Fair; Totals More Than $9,000

A total of $9,991.50 in premiums and prizes is offered in the women's premium list for the 1958 State Fair of Texas Oct. 4-19 in Dallas, according to Mrs. Leah Jarrett, director of the women's department.

The book lists 752 classifications in eight divisions, with $8,450.50 in premiums as follows: Needlework $3,487.50; art $995; designer-craftsmen $990; antiques $897; miscellaneous arts $750; hobby collections $572; foods $412, and hand-painted China $387.

The Rose Show on Oct. 12 will offer $450. For the first time in the Women's Department there will be three new contests, a clothing contest offering $450, a hat contest offering $236 and a photography contest offering $405.

The Clothing Contest will be a one-day event on Oct. 11, with winners modeling their own garments at noon that day. The Hat Contest will be a one-day event on Oct. 8, with contestants modeling their own hats for judging. The Photography Contest will be sponsored by the fair with the Dallas Camera Club.

The "Picture of the Day" contest will be repeated in the art division due to its popularity last year, said Mrs. Jarrett.

A new class in Bathroom and Boudoir Accessories has been added under needlework and sewing division, plus new classes for wool thread embroidery. Also new will be Doodles for TV Doodlers, for colorful crochet designs appliqued on hooked or crocheted rugs or afghans.

Under foods a novelty jelly class has been added, with rainbow jellies to be judged on appearance only.

In Hobby Collections there are new classifications for antique covered dishes with covers of animal or fowl designs, antique crusts, antique glass goblets, antique salt cellars or salt and pepper shakers, and antique wood toys. Back in this year will be antique perfume bottles, sea shells and rare snuff-boxes.

HOW WERE PLANS FOR THE FIRST COTTON POWER LOOM BROUGHT TO AMERICA?

FRANCIS CABOT LOWELL REPRODUCED THE FIRST U.S. POWER LOOM FROM MEMORY AFTER SEEING ONE IN ENGLAND

TODAY AT RIALTO — Gina Lollobrigida, the gypsy dancer in Allied Artists' "The Hunchback of Notre Dame," is shown here as she is being tortured for a crime she did not commit. The film in CinemaScope and Technicolor, with Anthony Quinn as co-star, opens today at the Rialto.

STARS QUINN, LOLLOBRIGIDA

'The Hunchback of Notre Dame' To Be Screened at Rialto Theatre This Week

Starring Gina Lollobrigida and Academy Award winner, Anthony Quinn, Allied Artists' "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" opens today at the Rialto theatre.

Although this production is the fourth feature-length film based on Victor Hugo's immortal classic of romance and action-drama, it is the first to be made in color for the wide screen, thus capturing the full beauty and scope of the amaranthine story.

As the grotesquely deformed Quasimodo, the cathedral bell-ringer who falls hopelessly in love with the gorgeous Gypsy dancer, Esmeralda, Quinn once more proves himself to be one of Hollywood's outstanding performers.

His performance, in depth and reflecting a complete understanding of all the facts of the character he portrays, is equalled only by the masterful projection onto the screen of Esmeralda, the Gypsy, by the spirited and ineffably beautiful Miss Lollobrigida.

Giving tremendously strong support to the two stars are two of France's popular players, Jean Danet, who portrays Phoebus, the captain in whom Esmeralda falls in love, and Danielle Dumont, the aristocrat whom the captain ultimately marries.

They handle their roles with a rare intelligence which spells the difference between mere player and star performer.

In all, there are some 40 speaking parts, and for the mammoth scenes 10,000 persons appear against sets which were more than two months in the building. All of the screenplay was filmed in Paris, locale of the famed Hugo novel.

The adaptation and dialogue by Jean Aurenche and Jacques Prevert reflects at once their excellent ability as writers, and the photography by Michel

Two Terry youths were included in the list of 510 students on the fall semester scholastic honor roll of the University of Texas College of Engineering.

They are Ralph D. O'Dell, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Ralph L. O'Dell of 1215 East Broadway, and Jerry H. Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Carmichael of Route 3.

TEEN-AGER'S PROBLEMS—Dean Stockwell and Natalie Trundy star in "The Careless Years" slated for the Rialto Theatre Wednesday. The pair ably show the problems confronted by today's teen-age youngsters.

OPENS WEDNESDAY AT THE RIALTO

The Problems of Today's Teen-Ager Is the Basis For 'The Careless Years'

The problems confronting the average teenager in today's moral-free society is the dramatic basis for the Bryna production, "The Careless Years," opening Wednesday at Rialto Theatre through United Artists release.

The film takes a long, hard look at what has always been the toughest problem of teenagers; love and marriage, and love vs. marriage.

By concentrating on a dilemma which is faced by the vast majority of teenagers, and by studiously avoiding the fringe group of youngsters who make the headlines with their wild escapades, Bryna believes the motion picture will be of interest to the youth of America—and to their parents as well.

Under the guidance of the young team of Director Arthur Hiller and Producer-Writer Edward Lewis, the trials and tribulations of ordinary youngsters are brought into proper focus.

And the problems that confronted the producers and directors in making the film almost match the problems of the characters in dramatic interest.

For instance: The modern architecture of the new L.A. schools made it difficult to find one to fit the popular conception of an average high school. Neighboring Santa Monica High finally was chosen.

The picture was to begin with beach sequences, but the Malibu fire, biggest in Southern California's history, delayed the sequences until near the end of shooting when they had to be postponed again account of rain and cold.

And while statistics show that 61% of all 16-18 year-olds smoke, Producer Lewis insisted only 10% do so in the film. He felt that parents, if not facts, should be on his side.

The rock-'n'-roll dance scene between Dean Stockwell and Natalie Trundy didn't come off because neither digs the new rage. So soft music was substituted and the dance, dreamy version, went off smoothly.

Then, difficulties began to disappear, like this, for instance: Stockwell needed an authentic jalopy for a scene. A high school buddy of Dean's gives him a ride to the studio . . . and yes, you guessed it . . . in exactly the kind of jalopy needed.

O'Neal Member Of Raider Golf Team

Texas Tech entered both varsity and freshman golf teams in the Southwestern Recreation Tournament at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday.

Coach Warren Cantrell's varsity includes Don Kaplan of Borger, Johnny Farquhar of Amarillo, John Paul Cain of Sweetwater, and Robert Rodgers of Lubbock. Freshmen are Ben Alexander of Lamesa, Don Nix of Hobbs, N.M., Chris Blocker of Jal, N.M., and Don O'Neal of Brownfield.

The varsity finished fifth at the Border Olympics last week. It will be the first meet of the year for the freshmen.

Former BHS Student Taking Basic Training

James H. Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Nicholson of Tahoka, enlisted in the Navy on Feb. 18 at Albuquerque, N. M.

A former student at BHS, Nicholson is undergoing basic training at San Diego, Calif.

His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Nicholson of 621 East Main, and Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Perry of 621 South Ninth.

'The Lady Takes A Flyer' Bills Lana Turner at the Regal

Luscious Lana Turner, who is now lavishing her special brand of glamor upon lucky Jeff Chandler in Universal International's "The Lady Takes a Flyer," opening today at the Regal Theatre, confesses that a tight-fitting sweater launched her into the Hollywood big-time.

"If I hadn't been wearing a sweater," she says, "chances are that my first picture might well have been my last."

About all she had to do in the initial vehicle, prophetically titled "They Won't Forget," was amble down the street doing what came naturally.

The bombshell she dropped stood movieland on its ear and she was catapulted from one sweatgirl portrayal into another—in as rapid succession as the voracious cameras could grind.

TODAY AT REGAL — Lana Turner and Jeff Chandler are cast opposite each other for the first time in Universal-International's romantic hit, "The Lady Takes a Flyer." Playing partners in an aviation ferry service, their courtship takes them around the world. In Cinemascope and color, the picture also features Richard Denning and Andra Martin. It will play today and Monday at the Regal.
