Cotton Will Be 'Talked' On Monday

A three-part analysis of the present and future problems of the cotton industry will be presented to Terry producers at 7:45 p.m. Monday in BHS auditorium.
Earl Sears of Memphis, Tenn., former Brownfield resident, and John Gregg of Lubbock, National Cotton Council representative, will graphically describe the industry's problems in three parts: "Where

EARL SEARS

We Are," "What's Being Done" and "Where Are We Going?"

Kenneth Purcell, chairman for the meeting, Saturday urged everyone connected with cotton production and marketing to be present Monday.
"Coffee and doughnuts will be served during the intermission," he said. "A question-and-answer session will follow the program."

The countywide session, presented by National Cotton Council, will serve to explain in detail cotton's competitive situation at home and abroad, in industry activities aimed at increasing cotton consumption and potentials for cotton if it competes in price, quality and promotion.

Purcell pointed out the seriousness of the challenge to U.S. cotton, not only from man-made fibers and foreign cotton production, but also from many goods and services being offered consumers and promoted aggressively.
"The NCC presentation Monday night will employ slides to portray where the cotton industry stands now, what is being done about its situation and where it is headed," he

On the day in question, an attractive eight-page booklet containing much detailed information on the subject (diversification) will be distributed at the Hall.

Logically, half of the panel members — they'll not speak as a panel, however, but will present individual addresses of 15 to 20 minutes each — come from Texas Tech's Agriculture Department.

One member will travel from as far south as Houston; one from as far west as Lovington, N.M., and another from as far north as Hale Center.

Hospital Meeting Nearing

Six weeks of intensive study will be climaxed when Terry County's "hospital committee" presents its recommendations to the public at 7:30 p.m., Thursday in Brownfield High School auditorium.

What the committee will make public is its thinking on which course best to take when Treadaway-Daniell Hospital closes its doors July 1.

The study group was named Feb. 18, shortly after the hospital owners revealed their intentions for July 1. Election of the nine-man committee was by secret ballot in a City Hall session attended by some 75 county residents.

"The committee's decision has not and will not be made known until Thursday night," said Atty. Burton Hackney, chairman.

Tornadoes Are Threat Once More

With tornado season at hand, Terry residents likely are to begin their annual sky-watch, remembering the twister that struck near here last year.

Though little damage was reported, two tornadoes struck in the county Friday, giving little hope for diminished twister activity this year after 1957's erratic spring and summer.

Civil defense officials advise residents that Brownfield's Radio Station KTFY is the best possible news source during severe weather or a tornado alert.

Officials urge residents to keep their radios tuned to the station and leave telephones free for emergency traffic. When police and radio station telephone lines are clogged, essential information is blocked and the warning net may be rendered almost useless, reports Leo Holmes, chairman of Terry Civil Defense and Disaster Organization.

Holmes pointed out that a "severe weather alert" is put into effect when climatic conditions are favorable for tornadoes. However, a "tornado alert" is not announced until a funnel actually is sighted, he added.

"When severe weather is announced, at least 18 shortwave radio sets automatically are placed in a huge circle around Brownfield," revealed Lewis Simmonds, executive assistant to Holmes.

"These units are manned by members of the Brownfield Police Department, Texas Highway Patrol, Fire Department, Terry Sheriff's Office and by 'hams' of Terry County Amateur Radio Club," noted Simmonds.

The radio net is linked to KTFY, which is in a position to relay information through its facilities. An important cog in the network is telephone lines to the police station and KTFY.

Police Chief James Tippit issued a plea that residents not call city Hall offices or the radio station. "Our telephone See No. 4 Page 3

ANDREWS, April 3—Though finishing far behind the leaders, Brownfield's Cub thinclads turned in a creditable performance in the first annual Mustang Relays dominated by the host team here today.

High winds and dust slowed most times throughout the day, but a calm night allowed several excellent records to go into the books.
Brownfield's Johnnie Mac Jones gave future shot putters a 51-6½ mark to shoot at. He heaved the iron ball to the mark on his second try, giving him the third best record in Region 1.

The shot put win, plus a third place finish in the high hurdles and fourth in low hurdles by Larry Meeks, gave Brownfield a total of 20 points in the meet, good for eighth in the 12-team field.

Points were given in individual events on a 10-8-4-2-1 basis for the first six places. Relay events garnered points on a 16-10-8-6-4-2 basis.

The high-flying Mustangs showed their heels to the field in the AA division by tallying 123 points. Midland came in second with 71 points and Snyder scored 61 counters.

Denver City edged Fort Stockton and Seminole by two points with a 77½ point total in Division A.

All winning times went into the record book, two of which were the best in the state. Jerry Jettton, Andrews sophomore quarter-miler, sprinted to a record-smashing 49.4 seconds and the Mustang 440-yard relay team of Jettton, Ray Ham, Larry Shoemaker and Tony Cain posted a 42.5 seconds mark in the preliminaries. The Andrews quartet turned in a 42.8 reading in the finals.

The host mile-relay team outclassed all opposition tonight, leaving the field about 50 yards behind, when they entered a 3:24 mark into the records. The Cubs finished out of the money by about a second as they posted a 3:38 timing.

Brownfield also finished seventh in the 440-yard relay See No. 5 Page 3

Area Now Expanded

Brownfield City Council approved Thursday a request for extended area service between General Telephone patrons in the city and users of some 300 telephones in the north and west part of the county.

The council's action eliminates toll calls between city telephones and the two exchanges—Wheatley and Ausborne — comprising the 300 telephones.

Although approved Thursday, the non-toll calls will not go into effect for some 16 to 18 months, time needed in which to make and install the necessary equipment.

Council's approval was based on a recent poll, in which a majority of General patrons approved.
One result will be the addition of 10 cents per "main" telephone to the customer's bill each month for his residence, and 50 cents for his business instrument.

General officials explained carefully to the council that the additional charges would NOT be for all telephones in one home or one business, but only for the "main" instruments.

Cost to the Wheatley and Ausborne exchange patrons will be a flat rate of $1.50 a month.

TOUGH COMPETITION

The Cubs racked up 20 points Thursday in the first annual running of the Mustang-Relays at Andrews. However, tough competition in what is considered one of the fastest meets this year, eliminated several Cub runners in the preliminaries. In left photo, Delbert Hadaway, center foreground, comes in third in his heat of the 440-yard dash with a 56.3 timing. In center photo, Ellis Cox, extreme left, placed third in 220-yard dash prelims with a 24.4 mark. At right, Larry Meeks, clearing hurdle nearest camera, runs neck-and-neck with a competitor. However, he easily outdistanced the field in the 180-yard lows to go into the finals Thursday night. He placed fourth in the finals behind Snyder's two speedsters, Morgan and Wilson, and the Pecos hurdler with a 20.8 time. (NEWS-fotos)

BRIEF SKETCHES OF TEXAS TECH SPEAKERS

Leonard has taught agricultural economics at Tech since 1947, and has been associated with farm management studies since graduation from Oklahoma State University. For 11 years, he was a specialist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Cole has a master's degree in agronomy from Tech, has been with the Texas Extension Service two years, and the New Mexico Extension Service seven years. He believes that a farmer cannot merely "get in" and then "get out" of the vegetable business.

Retires On August

Dean Stangel, to retire in August, joined the Tech staff in 1925 as an animal husbandry department head. He has been a leading agricultural figure on the South Plains for three decades.

From Iowa State College, Dr. Young holds a bachelor, master and doctor's degree. In 1935, he joined the Tech faculty as associate professor of agronomy. Much of the technical supervision of research on the Tech farms is furnished by Young.

Lettered in Sports

A Texas A&M graduate with a bachelor of science degree in agriculture education is Dawson, who lettered in football, basketball and track at the college.

Dawson worked 10 years in 67 Texas counties for the SCS, and joined the Bank of the Southwest in 1945 as manager of the agriculture department, which position he still holds.

In his current capacity with the bank, Dawson travels extensively throughout Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Alabama, New Mexico, Louisiana and Colorado.

lines must be kept open if we are to give adequate protection to the city," he said.

Tippit explained that calls to the department or to KTFY will get no more "late news about possible storms than information available over the radio."

Residents also are urged to remain at home or in a protected place and stay off the streets. "Traffic jams and accidents are the result of everyone trying to go somewhere in an alert," said Tippit. "Four accidents occurred during the tornado west of here last year, taking valuable manpower from the field."

Explaining Brownfield's alert system, Simmonds said six mobile shortwave sets, manned by "hams", are deployed in a 15-mile ring around the city.

Operators are in constant touch with police and county officers set up in a closer radius. City and county officers are in contact with KTFY and the U.S. Weather Bureau at Lubbock, through civil defense center here.

"If a tornado is spotted, information is sent immediately to the center here. KTFY is notified, as well as weather offices at Lubbock," he said. "Lubbock radio and TV stations are notified by civil defense in the Hub City."

Civil defense officials request that sighted tornadoes be reported to Brownfield police, giving the twister's location, direction of travel and time seen.

Officials said preparations for a tornado should be made during a severe weather alert. A tornado should be the signal for action, they add.

If a tornado alert is sounded, they advise evacuation to a storm cellar or the lower floor of a steel-reinforced building. If such shelter is not available, residents are advised to move to the southwest corner of the home because most twisters come from that direction.

As an added precaution, a mattress or strong table may be used for further protection from flying debris. The main thing to remember, conclude authorities, is that the individual remain calm. They advise prior planning for a tornado so that over-excitement does not take the place of good judgement.

Retirement Is Set By Extension Agent

(Spl) . . . Miss Leta Bennett, an employee of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service since 1926, is retiring on April 30. From 1926 to 1945, she served successively as home demonstration agent in McCulloch, Caldwell, Wichita and McLennan counties. In March 1945 she was named to the position she now holds . . . district agent.

She is a native of Gatesville and a graduate of Texas State College for Women, nor Texas Women's University, with a degree in vocational home economics. Prior to her Extension appointment, she taught in the public schools of Texas for several years.

For the past several years, she has supervised the home economics phase of the Extension program in 19 southeast Texas counties with headquarters in Richmond.

She is a member of the American Association of University Women; Epsilon Sigma Phi, honorary Extension organization, Delta Kappa Gamma, Pilot Club and area and state home economics organizations.

Miss Bennett will make her home in Victoria after April 30.

According to Miss Gladys Martin, state home demonstration agent, Miss Leta White, now home demonstration agent in San Patricio will succeed Miss Bennett on May 1 as district agent in District 11.

Miss White is a native of Milam county; a 1942 graduate of North Texas State College and since 1949 an employee of the Extension Service, first as home demonstration agent in Starr county and since 1951 in San Patricio county. Prior to 1949 she taught home economics at Hamilton, Krum and Valera; was a home supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration and a field worker for the State Department of Public Welfare.

Buttons' Humor Had Japs In Guessing Game On Location

Despite an oscar-winning performance in a serious role in "Sayonara," Red Buttons had a game going that kept native Japanese technicians in stitches during the picture's filming in Japan's ancient first capital, Kyoto.

Buttons wore a big-sleeved Japanese kimono in several scenes, and each day he came up with some new surprise from the cavernous folds of his kimono.

He has nonchalantly pulled out a steaming cup of tea, a small kite which he immediately flew, a luncheon of bagels and cheese, a miniature hibachi (portable heater) complete with glowing charcoal embers which he squatted beside and warmed his hands.

The crew watched hopefully each morning, and Redd never disappointed them.

Joshua Logan directed the film of James Michener's best-seller as a William Goetz production; Marlon Brando stars, along with co-stars Buttons, Patricia Owens, Miiko Taka, Miyoshi Umei and Ricardo Montalban as Nakamura.

18 Recording Stars, 15 Hits Tunes Help Make "The Big Beat" Much Worth Seeing

The throbbing beat of various rhythms sets the keynote of high entertainment value in one of the most exciting musicals seen in many years with the presentation here of Unions merriment, "The Big Beat."

Starring William Reynolds and Andra Martin, the picture begins a three-day showing today at The Rialto.

Filmed against the tempestuous background of New York City's Tin Pan Alley, it tells the inside story of the guys and dolls who make and sell America's music.

What counts is not the number of hours you put in, but what you put into the hours.

Bill Reynolds gives a performance of rare sensitivity as the son of a record company president who wants to get away from the old fashioned ideas of his father and give the public music they want.

Reynolds is Established
This role definitely establishes Reynolds as one of the screen's top leading men.

The line-up in "The Big Beat" goes like this: Alan Copeland, The Del Vikings, The Dimands, Fats Domino, The Four Aces, The Lancers, The Mill Brothers, The George Shearing Quintet, Jeri Southern, The Cal Tjader Quintet, and Charlie Barnett, Buddy Bregman, Harry James, Freddy Martin, The Bill Thompson

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

The human brain is many things — much yet unexplored. One of the most precious characteristics about it, is that it has the power to remember. Memories are very valuable possessions and without them we surely would be a helpless lot. How lonely, how defenseless man would be were they taken away. It is how we utilize these precious memories that often can and does make the difference in whether we are conquerors or victims of defeat.

Had the followers of Christ remembered the things which He had told them previous to His crucifixion, they would have had no reason for the grief and unrest which they endured while He was in the tomb. Had they retained this information and the things which they had known and seen themselves, surely they would have known:

The Lord Jesus Christ came from the bosom of the Father to the bosom of a Virgin. He left the ivory palaces, came to earth and put on humanity that they might put on divinity.

He became the Son of Man that they might become the sons of God. He stooped low to our level that we might see God in a human body. He was born in a supernatural way. He lived in poverty. He grew up in obscurity. He had no wealth and attended no college. Yet the wisdom of men has never equalled his discourses. The Bible says, "Never man spake like this man." In fancy He frightened a king — in boyhood He puzzled the doctors. At the age of 12, He possessed more wisdom than the theologians.

In manhood He ruled the elements by walking on the sea, the winds obeyed His voice. He spoke peace to a raging sea. He never wrote a song, but He has furnished the theme for more songs than all the writers combined.

He relieved broken hearts. He blessed children. He healed the sick, cleansed lepers, raised the dead. He did good continually. He associated with sinners. He ate with publicans. In fact one has to be a sinner to attract His attention. He had 'ben (and now) the power to transform any human life.

He never mobilized an army or drafted a soldier or fired a gun and yet no military leader has ever enlisted as many volunteers as those who take orders from Him.

Of course, some of these things his followers could not have possibly known since it has taken 2,000 years of history to reveal them; but those who were His bosom companions, had they remembered, could have known far more than we, because they actually saw it happen while we believe through we have not seen. Why? you ask. Because those who "really" know Him have not the power to believe otherwise.

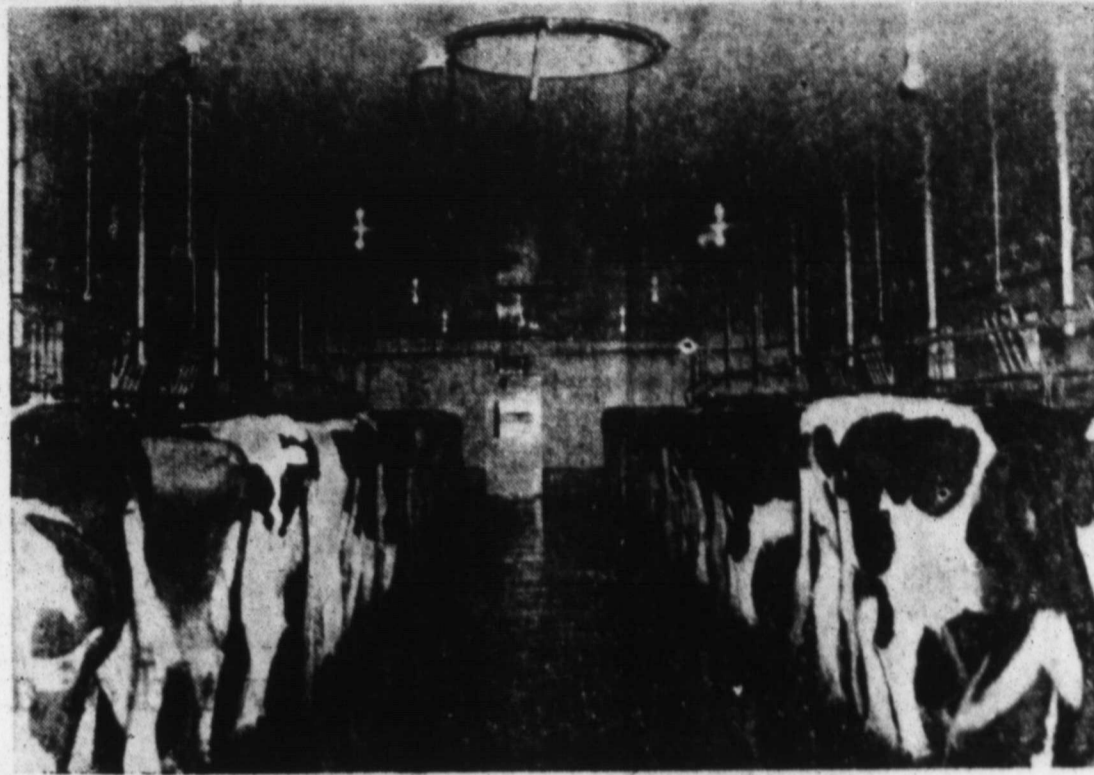

You do not have to be an astronomer to understand that He is the Day Star of Eternal Hope, nor do you have to be a geologist to understand that He is the Rock of Ages. You do not have to be a zoologist to understand that He is the Lamb of God slain from the foundation of the world. You do not have to be a biologist to understand that He is the Rose of Sharon and the Lily of the Valley.

You don't have to be a musician to understand that He is the great Harmonizer of all discords. You do not have to be a doctor to understand that He is the Healer of human ills.

Herod could not kill Him — the synagogue could not stone Him. Satan could not tempt Him; death could not destroy Him. The grave could not contain Him.

He was rich, but for our sakes He became poor. At the time of His birth, wise men brought costly gifts. He slept in the manger of a stranger. He preached in a borrowed boat. He rode into Jerusalem on a borrowed beast. He was buried in a borrowed tomb.

He conquered death and rose on the third day as He had previously announced. He walked among friends 40 days and then ascended into heav-

So today, should it not be the empty tomb in which we rejoice? It is not the Christian's business to know whether Christ rose from his own power or whether God the Father made it possible. There is no record where His disciples ever asked Him how it happened. They

I trust if you attended church this morning, your faith was revitalized while hearing the most glorious words ever spoken. "He is not here." The disciples found the answer — He had conquered death. IN NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING Marshall Field Company Firm Believer

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager

The merchant who assumes that everyone knows all about his store could learn something from the Marshall Field department store of Chicago.

The great department store ran its first newspaper advertisement in 1857. Since that time, Field's has become one of the most successful retail stores in the world.

After a century of experience, the Marshall Field executives still regard local newspaper advertising as a key force in retail sales. In fact, the store placed $2,670,000-worth of advertising in a single newspaper during 1956.

No business could afford to invest two million dollars in advertising without plenty of proof that solid profits would result.

The Field company expected the record high advertising expenditure to bring a new record in gross sales. It did.

A small retailer may wonder how the experiences of a giant operation like Field's could be applied to his business. But actually the problems of advertising do not vary greatly with size.

Field's advertising is much the same as the advertising of some of our local stores. It is made up of newsy information about the latest products on hand. And while selling individual items, Field's advertising helps to maintain the store's personality and identity. All good retail advertising does the same.

Sure, everyone in Chicago knows about Marshall Field and Company. Yet, even after a hundred years, Field's spends more than three million dollars annually on advertising just to make sure that no one forgets about Marshall Field and Company.

With Mayor Louis Peeler presiding, the councilmen described brush fires, gin bur fires, and other similar blazes as hazards.

Present for the council session, in addition to Peeler, were City Secy. Max Kisor and Councilmen Dan Roberts, Jesse Brooks and Herman Horschler.

Meadow voters will ballot Tuesday for C. C. Brooks, unopposed in the mayoralty race, and three councilmen: Incumbents Horschler and G. B. Jones, and Peeler.

Irrigation Water Salinity Is Subject Of Research Study

A permanent, prosperous irrigated agriculture is dependent on an adequate supply of irrigation water of satisfactory quality.

There are many things that can affect this supply and quality and in many cases, successful irrigation farming is more dependent on the management practices followed than on the quality of water available.

This especially is true in regard to salt content, or salinity, of the water. Frequently, too much attention is given to the "toxic limits" of salt concentration and not enough emphasis directed toward the selection of suitable crops and adjustment of tillage and irrigation practices to the water which is available.

All waters from surface streams and underground sources contain substances known as salts. This does not necessarily mean table salt, which is the common concept of salt. Thousands of different salts are known. Epsom salts, gypsum, and baking soda are a few examples.

A salt-affected soil is one in which enough salt has accumulated to reduce or interfere with crop yields. The source of the salt that accumulates is usually the irrigation water, but in some cases the soil may have been salty in the virgin state, or salt accumulation may have resulted from a high water table.

A bulletin released by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, "Salinity Control in Irrigation Agriculture," gives a thorough discussion of this problem and suggests several ways to counteract it.

A few of the ways given in the bulletin are provide adequate drainage; irrigate more often than ordinary; select crops tolerant to your salt conditions; and apply the water uniformly.

New Program Gives Boost To Housing, Repairs on the Farm

An expanded farm housing loan program, designed to speed up farm building construction improvement as well as act as an additional anti-recession measure, has been announced by Walter T. McKay, Farmers Home Administration state director, according to William T. Simms, Terry supervisor.

An owner of a farm in agricultural production and on which the operator plans to produce at least $400 worth of farm commodities for sale or home use may qualify for the 4 per cent long-term housing loan provided that he meets other standard eligibility requirements.

Formerly an eligible applicant had to own a farm that produced a more substantial part of the operator's annual cash income.

Loans may be made to build, improve, or repair farm houses or other essential farm buildings, and to provide water for farmstead and household use.

Simms said that in addition to financing major construction, the loan funds can help meet many other needs for farm and farm home modernization such as adding bathrooms, utility rooms, better kitchens, and many other improvements, to the home as well as to farm service buildings.

While tenants and farm laborers are not eligible, the owner may borrow to do the construction work or make improvements for them.

The loans are made to farm owners who need credit to finance building improvements or repairs, but find that adequate credit is not available through banks or other regular credit channels. The interest rate is 4 per cent and loans may be amortized over periods up to 33 years.

Eligibility for loan assistance is determined by the three-member County Farmers Home Administration committee, and applications are now being accepted in FHA county offices.

Specialist Lists Methods of Reducing Cost of Weed, Grass Control in Cotton

The second highest cost item in cotton production is for grass and weed control. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says on the average 10 hours of labor are required an acre for this one item. But, he adds, this figure can be reduced if recommended control practices are followed.

Last year the State's cotton producers saved an estimated $16,000,000 by using rotary hoes, chemicals and oils in their efforts to keep weeds and grass under control.

Rotary hoes on 44,798 farm tractors were used in 150 counties to cut more than $15 million from the hoe bill. Elliott points out that rotary hoe equipped tractors should be operated at high speed for best results, around 6 miles an hour.

Lateral oiling with five gallons of naphtha an acre was used on 21,000 acres in 53 counties to cut the weed and grass control cost by $65,000, reports Elliott.

The cost of application was $1.00 an acre and oiling shoes with a gage wheel arrangement permitted the operators to travel at fourth gear speeds.

In one county, five gallons of naphtha an acre was ap-

Flowers and Vegetable Gardens Thrive In Good Soil Fortified With Compost

"Look at that beautiful, rich soil," is a comment from visitors admiring the garden landscape exhibits at spring flower shows. "No wonder those plants grow better than ours," is likely to be the next remark.

And these people are right. Garden and landscape plants do thrive better in good soil containing plenty of organic matter to help it hold air, moisture and giving it a loose structure that permits roots to develop naturally.

With a little effort, it is possible to have such soil in your flower or vegetable gardens, says E. G. Hancock, extension horticulturist.

A compost pile may be heaped with a fine spray on grass in the drill with 95 per cent of the grass killed. This treatment cost a dollar an acre; eliminated hoeing and saved the producers a gross of $7 an acre.

Spot-treatment of Johnson-grass, says the specialist, can eliminate the pest in one year while a full crop can be produced on the treated acreage.

Elliott advises cotton producers who would like detailed information on the recommended weed and grass control practices to contact their local county agent for the desired information.

answer. Grass clippings, leaves weeds, plant residues and even vegetable parings and fruit peels from the kitchen will decompose into suitable compost material.

To make compost build up alternate layers of soil and organic waste materials. Over a five or six inch layer of the organic materials, spread a thin layer of manure or a high-nitrogen fertilizer.

Hancock emphasizes that the nitrogen is needed for hastening the decomposition of the organic materials. Then add one or two inches of soil to the pile and continue the alternate layers until the pile reaches the desired height.

The sides of the pile should be kept vertical and the top should be level or slightly sloping to the center so as to catch and hold moisture. In dry seasons, Hancock suggests sprinkling the pile to keep it moist.

Turning or mixing a "ripening" pile will help the decomposition process and produce a compost mixture of more satisfactory fineness. By noting the condition of the material during the mixing or turning process, it is easy to determine when the compost is ready for use.

In using compost, Hancock points out that for most plants additional fertilizer will be needed.

Moisture Theft By Weeds Cuts Yields

Weeds often cause tremendous reduction in pasture and hay yields by stealing moisture, plant food and light from desirable pasture plants, warns E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Too, he adds, they lower hay quality, harbor insects and diseases, and increase labor and equipment costs.

Weed control is essential for best returns from productive pastures and meadows, but is not always profitable, says Trew. It is profitable only if the pasture or meadow is productive.

Weeds may be controlled several ways, points out the specialist. The best way is through prevention. Weeds are a minor problem in good stands of adapted grasses that are fertilized as needed and properly grazed or utilized.

Cultivation is still an excellent means of control. Most annual weeds and seedling perennial weeds are easily killed by plowing.

Another effective method of weed control mentioned by Trew is mowing. Properly timed mowing will kill most pasture and meadow weeds. The best time to mow is when the worst weeds begin to bloom.

They are weakest and damaged most by mowing when in bloom. The specialist advises starting in time to mow all the pasture before the weeds produce seeds.

Chemical control is usually fast, cheap and effective, says Trew. One spraying at the right time often gives near-complete control for one season. He advises checking with your local county agricultural agent for instructions on when to spray as well as what to use and the recommended rates.

NEW MANAGER NAMED—Garlan H. Green, right, is congratulated by Ed L. Baker of Fort Worth after announcement of Green's appointment as manager of Colorado City's Baker Hotel. Baker's Worth Investment Corporation, which purchased the five-story hotel—formerly the Crawford—is underwriting a full-scale remodeling job now in progress. Opening date is slated for May 1.

Texas Continues To Battle The Fire Ant

Imported fire ants damage many kinds of young plants by gnawing holes in roots, tubers, stalks and buds. Too, they often attack young unprotected animals, such as newborn calves and pigs and newly hatched quail and poultry.

They interfere with harvesting since their sting is very painful. Their mounds damage machinery and prevent mowing operations and reduce the value of land in heavily infested areas.

The ant spreads naturally through nuptial flights, but also may be spread by crawling, drifting in logs, aboard cars, trucks, trains and on nursery stock in shipment.

Two species of fire ants occur generally in Texas while the imported fire ant has been found only in Hardin, Jasper, Jefferson, Newton, Orange, and Tyler counties. But it is spreading rapidly and is almost certain to appear in other counties.

In small lightly infested areas the ants may be controlled by mound treatment, but treating the entire surface is more practicable in heavily infested areas. Chlordane, dieldrin and heptachlor are the recommended insecticides.

The insecticides should be applied only when vegetation is dry and livestock should be kept off treated pastures for two weeks. They should be kept out of water used by humans or animals and should not be applied to food crops.

BROWNFIELD, TEXAS

Farmers Urged To Test Soil For Lime
Deficiencies Now

"You are cheating yourself out of possible production when your land needs lime and you don't supply it," says W. F. Bennett, extension soil chemist.

"Even if the correct amount of fertilizer is applied, your soil will not produce the most profitable returns unless sufficient lime is available," points out the chemist. A soil test is the only method for determining just how much fertilizer and lime is needed for a particular field.

There still is time to take samples and send them to the soil testing laboratory at Texas A & M College before most 1958 crops will be planted. If the samples are submitted in the very near future, they can be processed and recommendations returned in time for use this spring.

The chemist advises farmers to use the soil test information they receive from the lab not only for applying lime and fertilizer but also as a guide in buying the recommended plant food.

Farmers who depend upon general fertilizer recommendations usually get close to the right amounts, but guessing at the need for lime is another story. Only a soil test will give that answer, says Bennett.

"With fewer acres in cultivation, it is more important than ever to make the highest possible production per acre. To make this production, it will be necessary to use the right kinds and amounts of fertilizer and lime," Bennett says.

"Too, if this high production is to be made at the best possible profit, farmers will need a guide in fertilizing the crops grown. Soil tests give this guide," concludes Bennett.

'Gunfight at the O.K. Corral' Claimed To Be Really Magnificent Western Film

When a Western provides superb performances, realism, brilliant writing and direction, as well as the pure excitement in which it excels, it becomes a motion picture of universal appeal.

Such a film is Hall Wallis' epic production of "Gunfight at the O.K. Corral," which can be seen today and Monday at The Rustic.

Starring are Kirk Douglas and Burt Lancaster.

In two solid hours of brawling, tension-packed action, it presents a vivid, realistic study of two of the most colorful gunfighters the West ever produced. Wyatt Earp and Doc Holliday. As different as night and day — Earp was a U.S. Marshal who fairly breathed law and justice and Holliday a well-educated but embittered gambler who hated the law — these two oil-and-water personalities teamed up to rid Tombstone of the murderous Clanton gang. Around them producer Hal Wallis, director John Sturges and screenwriter Leon Uris have woven an action drama of great distinction, power and authenticity.

As Earp, soft-spoken but deadly, Lancaster plays with all his rugged strength, while Douglas, a fiery-tempered Holliday with the courage of a man with nothing to lose but his life, provides his finest characterization.

Beautifully cast are Rhonda Fleming as the gorgeous lady gambler who almost turns Lancaster aside from his duty; Oscar-winner Jo Van Fleet as the dance hall girl who loves Douglas despite his often cruel treatment of her; John Ireland as the venomous Johnny Ringo; Lyle Bettger as the nefarious Clanton; Frank Faylen, the aging and corrupt marshal Cotton Wilson; and Earl Holliman as Earp's brash young deputy.

The key to the plot's iron grip is tension, brought on by "A FAREWELL TO ARMS" — Rock Hudson and Jennifer Jones are seen in a key scene from the David O. Selznick production of Ernest Hemingway's great "A Farewell To Arms," a Twentieth Century-Fox release which also stars Vittorio De Sica. The awaited picture can be seen for four days beginning Wednesday at The Regal.

TSA President Urges Motorists To Drive Defensively And Save Lives

Do you know: (1) how to tell whether or not you are over-driving your headlights? (2) if it is safer to hit a fixed object or roll your car over, at given speeds? (3) how to maintain control of your car when a tire blows out?

"Knowing the answer to questions such as these and reacting correctly when confronted by such situations could save your life."

A. Ross Rommel, president of the Texas Safety Association, reminded motorists of this fact as he urged them to learn to drive defensively. He spoke in behalf of the defensive driving program which TSA is conducting throughout Texas.

Rommel explained that the defensive driver is one who drives in such a manner as to avoid accidents by expecting the unexpected.

"He realizes that in addition to turning in a safe driving job himself, he also has a responsibility to make up for the shortcomings of others. Such

In making the announcement, Miss Gladys Martin, state home demonstration agent, said that Miss Holt would be succeeded by Mrs. Roberta M. Forgy, Johnson county home demonstration agent, on May 1.

Mrs. Forgy is a native of Hamilton county and a graduate of Texas Women's University. She was named to her present position, her first in the Extension Service, in June 1955. She has supervised an outstanding program in Johnson county and has received national recognition for her work in farm and home safety. Extension District Six headquarters are in Ft. Stockton.

an attitude comes naturally to persons accustomed to accepting their moral responsibilities in other areas of daily living.

"However, other motorists and pedestrians are not the only hazards that may confront the defensive driver," warned the TSA president. "He must also be alert to the dangers presented by the unexpected."

In answering the questions above, Rommel gave the following solutions:

1. When driving along a little-traveled road some night, and after making certain you will not interfere with traffic, look for hazards such as livestock along the shoulder. When you see such a hazard, bring your car to a stop. If your car does not stop before you reach the hazard, you certainly were overdriving your headlights, and you will be wise to alter your driving habits accordingly.
2. According to the Texas Department of Public Safety, "The energy of a moving car increases in proportion to the square of its speed. Between 35 and 40 miles per hour, this energy increases to such an extent to be extremely dangerous, while at lower speeds a car might be demolished yet the occupants may not be killed. Above this speed range, however, it is believed that the safest maneuver would be to sideswipe a fixed object or, if possible, miss the object by rolling the car over."

Extension Agent Of District Is Retiring

(SPL) ... Miss Vida Holt, district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service with headquarters at Fort Stockton, is retiring effective April 30. Prior to 1951 when she assumed her present position, Miss Holt had taught school in Oklahoma and Nevada; served briefly as a home demonstration agent in Nevada and from 1929-1951 in Gregg and Hidalgo counties in Texas.

The retiring district agent is a native of Arkansas; a graduate of the high school at Quinton, Oklahoma and the University of Nevada. She has also attended Central State Teachers College in Oklahoma, Kansas State College, University of Colorado and University of Arkansas.

Her outstanding achievements as a county home demonstration agent were recognized in 1947 when she was named a Distinguished Service award winner by the National Home Demonstration Agents Association.

Miss Holt is a member of the Texas and American Home Economics Association; Texas the inexorable drive toward the climactic gunfight at the O.K. Corral. Like a rumbling avalanche, the suspense snowballs from scene to scene as it becomes apparent that a pitched battle against the Clanton's massed guns is in the making, and when it comes it emerges as the greatest gunfight ever filmed.

Roaring sixguns, blasting shotguns, rearing horses and desperate ditch-to-ditch skirmishing create an episode of such realism it will have you ducking for cover in your seat.

Filed in sweeping and spectacular VistaVision and Technicolor, the Paramount picture is notable also for its Dimitri Tiomkin score, which includes a terrific title song, with lyrics by Ned Washington, hauntingly sung by Frankie Laine. "Gunfight at the O.K. Corral" is the best entertainment there is.

Mr. Farmer... The New Plains Cotton Guide

Recommended By

Plains Cotton Growers Inc., Agricultural Experiment Station & Extension Service

CAN MAKE YOU MONEY WITH HIGHER QUALITY COTTON IN 1958

Production practices govern quality and yield. Do your best to see that your land preparation is adequate. Check your soil fertility needs now so that maximum production of quality cotton will not be hampered by lack of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or organic matter. Sub soil moisture may be adequate — but check to be sure.

Planting time is almost here. Optimum planting dates on the High Plains are May 5-20. Later planting usually results in lower quality. Before planting be sure the minimum soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed. Use delinted, treated seed and check for germination. A uniform stand of approximately four stalks per foot in 40-inch rows is recommended. The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety planted.

Respect for Other Religions Is Urged By Minister Addressing Women's Club

The Rev. Ralph O'Dell, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, spoke on "Faith Is the Strength of Man's Life," when Maids and Matrons met Tuesday afternoon in Seleta Jane Brownfield Clubhouse. It was the last of a series of lectures club members have heard in their study of "religions of the world." The Rev. Mr. O'Dell stated, "There is only one God and He manifests Himself in all religions; therefore, we should have respect for other religions." He was introduced by Mrs. W. A. Bell, program chairman. Adding interest to the theme was a worship center, a white styrofoam cross guarding an open Bible on a small round table.

TERRY COUNTY WITHOUT A HOSPITAL!

IS THIS WHAT YOU WANT??

LET US PLEAD WITH YOU TO ATTEND THE
HOSPITAL MEETING...APRIL 10
AT THE
SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL AUDITORIUM
AT 7:30 P. M.

HERE ARE SOME REASONS WHY WE Feel You Should Attend This Meeting:

1. Get All The Information Possible Before You Make Up Your Mind.

We want everyone to attend this meeting so that each person will be as well informed as possible. The Hospital Committee will make their recommendation and will be present to answer any and all questions. They will also consider all other points of view.

2. Don't Wait And Get Your Information Second-Hand

Come to this meeting rather than relying on someone else to inform you. It is next to impossible for anyone who has not studied this problem thoroughly to explain all the reasons for suggesting certain definite steps, and ways to solving this problem.

3. We Must Take The Best Possible Approach And Then Put It Over

We cannot come up with any solution to this problem and it be exactly what everyone of us want. We must take the best possible solution . . . then work to put it over. In other words, we must be able to compromise and forget little petty differences in order to get the job done.

4. This Is The Problem Of The General Public Now.

You may contend that the doctor make plenty of money, and should provide their own facilities. Right or wrong, this is no argument any more. In order to get good young doctors at this time the public must provide the facilities to attract the Doctors. Since this is a public problem, we must co-ordinate our efforts and come up with the best possible solution.

Let Us Plead With You To Attend This Meeting If It Is Within Your Power To Do So . . . It Is Our Problem; Let's Inform Ourselves To The Best Of Our Abilities . . . Then, Get The Job Done.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provisions and proclamation of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

so loved the men of this world that He gave to them to express that love His only Son. So unflinching and complete was that love that He suffered the pain of their rejection and even allowed them to take him as a common prisoner, try him as a criminal and execute him on a cross. Even this series of acts did not stop His love for He made the very cross a symbol of the eternal presence of His Love. To this day and to eternity, whoever will open his eyes to the magnificence of God's love laid open and made forever present in the event of the cross will receive as a permanent gift — the land of beginning again. A new life will be his.

Meadow Group Sets Volleyball Program

A volleyball program for outsiders was initiated in Meadow Monday night, with play scheduled for 7:30 p.m. each Monday and Thursday.

Coach Bo Moorhead will be in charge, with play to be in the old gym. All interested persons are invited to participate, the only qualifications being rubber-soled shoes and a disregard for bruises.

A tournament, set for today at Whiteface, has been entered by a men and women's team from Meadow. Anyone wishing

Famed Hypnotist Dr. Morton Greene To Drive Car Downtown While Blindfolded

The big stage show, HYPNOTIC MARVELS, will open here April 18 at 8 p.m. at the high school auditorium. Citizens of Brownfield will have their first opportunity to see Dr. Morton Greene, star of the show, on that day at 12:30 p.m. when he appears in person on Main Street driving a car through the busy traffic while blindfolded.

This remarkable demonstration is free and will be held under the supervision of the local police department. Those who watch the blindfolded Dr. Greene as he maneuvers a new 1957 model Chevrolet furnished by Jack Bailey Chevrolet, will have a glimpse of the amazing ability of this nationally famous hypnotist who will headline the two-hour show sponsored by Brownfield Jaycees for the benefit of Raising Funds to sponsor their Little League Team.

The old adage, "Seeing is Believing," will be full of meaning for the audience which attends the extraordinary and baffling program to be presented by Dr. Greene. The show deals with all phases of hypnotism and reaches a thrilling climax in a demonstration called cataplexy. At the direction of the young doctor of psychology, two chairs are placed back to back, about five feet apart.

A subject is put into the deep fourth stage of hypnosis — his body rigid as steel — and is then placed on the tops of the chairs. Supported at his neck and heels in this horizontal position, he feels no strain when Dr. Greene stands on top of him.

There are laughs, thrills and excitement for the whole family in this fast and clean show, and indications are a full house. Tickets are still available from members of the sponsoring organization, or they may be purchased at the box office beginning one hour before curtain time. Proceeds from the show will be used for the purpose of sponsoring the Jaycee Braues Little League Team.

Meadow Lots Are Auctioned Tuesday

Several lots in Meadow went for delinquent taxes at a sheriff's sale held Tuesday on the courthouse lawn in Brownfield. Sheriff James Fulford served as auctioneer for some 20 spectators.

Lots 7 and 8, Block 5, OT Meadow, were sold to Mrs. F. A. Wilson. Lots 1, 2, and 3, Block 5, OT Meadow, were sold to Meadow Church of Christ. Lots 11 and 12, Block 1, Watkins Addition, were sold to Meadow Independent School District, and Block 27, OT Meadow, was sold to J. M. Burleson.

LL Play In Offing

"This year, as in the past, we will attempt to take care of any boy (12 years or younger) who wants to play baseball."

Thus did the president of Brownfield Little League, Bill McGowan, keynote the efforts which his group currently is making in preparation for another season.

"However," McGowan explained, "it has been suggested by league officials that in the majority of cases boys younger than 9 are, perhaps, too young. But there are exceptions." He urged that the parents accept the responsibility for their son.

The president (meeting with Minor League Pres. Jim Tidwell) said that all Major League members are to report to the teams on which they played last year.

Try-outs for youngsters 10 years old and under will be held at 5 p.m. April 28, 29 and 30 in Little League Park.

Boys who will be 11 years old before Sept. 1 will report for try-outs at 5 p.m. May 1 and 2, and 12-year-olds will work out on May 3.

THEY ARE
The times are out of joint, not joints. — Louisville Times.

Considerate Nature
Nature very seldom brings the first worm out on the same day that the first robin arrives. — Cleveland Plain Dealer.

McGowan explained a "boy's age is determined as of Aug. 31. For example, a youngster who will be 11 years old by Aug. 31 is considered to be 11 now in Little League.

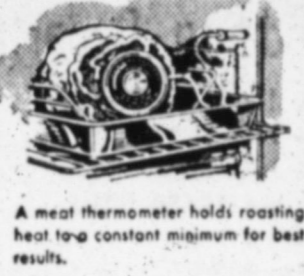

Little League play begins in Brownfield at 6 p.m., May 13, in Little League Park.

Both McGowan and Tidwell urged that the parents as well as the boys take part this year in more league activities.

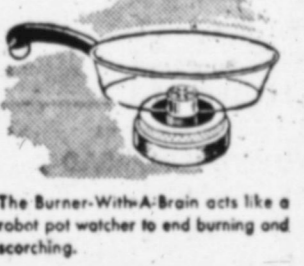

Anything GAS can do
gas can do BETTER!

The handsome ROPER Built-In Gas Range with completely automatic controls.

A meat thermometer holds roasting heat to constant minimum for best results.

The Burner-With-A-Brain acts like a robot pot watcher to end burning and scorching.

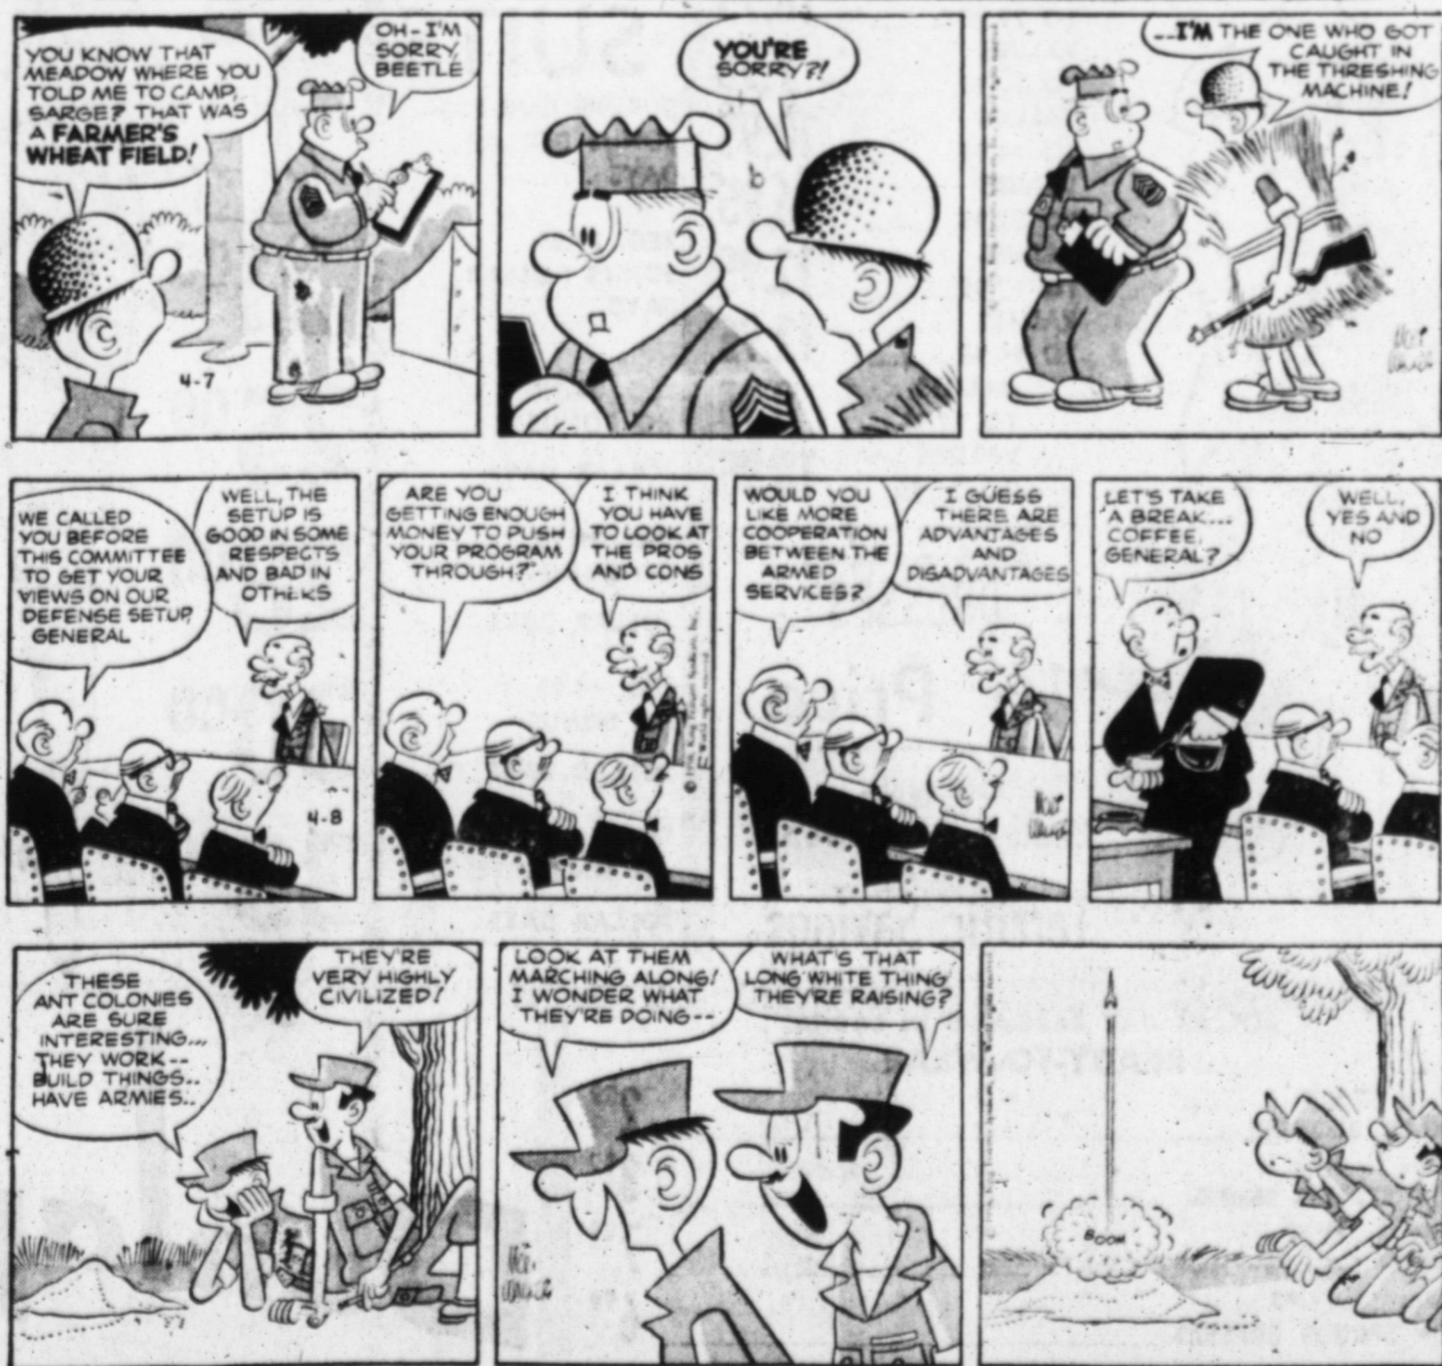

A luxury of Gas cooking is closed door broiling — the live flame consumes vapors!

The best cooks have found they get Better Results with the precision accuracy of a gas oven.

"Better" is a word you have to back up with facts! And when we tell you Gas cooks "better," we have the facts in hand! What's your prime requirement for roasting meat to perfection? Low, low temperatures, of course! Only a Gas flame can maintain really low temperatures with an absolute minimum of fluctuation. That means with Gas you get less shrinkage, less drying, so that your meats have wonderful texture and flavor! What's the secret to turning out delectable pastries, airy and delicate? The answer is perfect heat control, of course! Even the pastry cook with the "lightest hand" imaginable is no match for heat that's unvariable. And that's why the best cooks insist on Gas which, alone of cooking fuels, can hold an oven temperature within a margin of five degrees. These are sound reasons why Gas would be best at any price, but again facts prove that Gas consistently costs less! It costs less to buy, less to install, less to operate. And with Gas, lifetime parts cut maintenance right out of the picture. We'd like to give you all the facts, or we invite you to visit a gas appliance dealer, soon!

Tech Horticulturist Gives Tips About 'Training' Spring Flower Gardens

Growing flowers can be just as entertaining as any sports event and the time to start "training" is now, says a Texas Tech horticulturist.

Edward W. Zukauckas, assistant professor of horticulture at Tech, points out that while the cheering crowds may not exist, the challenge of proper timing and showmanship is present for any gardener.

For instance, if you wish to have gladiolas blooming in your yard by mid-July, better start planting gladiola corms (bulbs) sometime between April 1 and May 10, Zukauckas advises.

Because the number of days between planting and blooming varies from 70 to 120 days for gladiolas, it's a good idea to plant corms at various time-

This gives you a greater span of time for blooming flowers in your yard, he added.

The Tech horticulturist names a number of varieties that excel in this area. Among the All-American selections are varieties such as "Apple Blossom," "Caribbean," "Royal Stewart," "Emperor," and "Maytime." Standard varieties that do well in this region are "Spic and Span," "Burma," "Mother Fisher," "King David," "Jene," "Sans Souci," "Traveler," and "Prospector."

With spring officially here, it's time to start cleaning the trash out of the flower beds, the Tech horticulture department reminds.

It also would be a good idea to watch for plant disease at this time, especially on roses, Zukauckas said.
