'NOTES' GO BACK TO 1947; STARTED WITH MILK

Mrs. Hinson's 'Record Calendars' Reveal Many Events of the Past

By ROSE JEAN HENSON
NEWS Correspondent

Want to know what the temperature in Terry was on June 15, 1948?

Chances are that the only way you could find such information would be to ask an official weather bureau — unless, of course, you asked Mrs. W. J. Hinson of Route 1, Meadow.

A quick look at her 1948 "Record Calendar" will reveal that the temperature on that particular day 10 years ago was a scorching 106 degrees.

On March 22 of the same year, Mrs. Hinson's notations would show that construction of Meadow Baptist Church was begun and that dedication services were held Feb. 19, 1950.

Mrs. Hinson, or Maggie as she is known to friends, says her calendar records started quite by accident in 1947.

Their cow was not giving milk at the time and they were buying milk from a neighbor.

As a matter of convenience, she recorded it on the calendar. On June 6, 1947, she jotted down two quarts of milk, and made another notation, "Pudgy died." Pudgy was their pet dog.

Pudgy's death was followed by another notation which reveals something about Mrs. Hinson's personality. She is interested in the welfare of others as noted by these words on June 7, 1947: "Mrs. Yowell very, very sick." Mrs. Dan Yowell, who now lives in the Johnson Community, was a neighbor in 1947 and had undergone major surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hinson were both born and raised in Erath County. They moved to Terry County and settled near Meadow in October 1935. They bought their present home 4 miles east of Meadow in 1945.

Although Mr. Hinson is 73 years old, he is still an active farmer. However, this year he cut down on his farming operations. He turned 160 acres back to the landlord which he had been farming 16 years.

Said he, "Age didn't have anything to do with it. At least I'm not admitting it. I just think a man my age should have more leisure time."

Mrs. Hinson had no intention of keeping the calendars, but when the neighbors and relatives began asking her to look on her calendars for various information she had no alternative but to save them.

February 24, 1947, was a red letter day for everyone in the Meadow rural area. What happened? The electricity was turned on and the following day the Hinsons purchased a new electric iron and radio.

Important news events have also been recorded down through the years. April 10, 1945, Kathy Fiscus was rescued from a 150-foot well in California. Strange things do happen. April 30, 1958, the man who rescued Kathy Fiscus suffocated beneath an avalanche of dirt which caved in as he was investigating a sewer line only 10 miles from the spot where the little girl died.

March 5, 1953, Stalin died.

Mr. Hinson had his teeth pulled in September 1949. On Sept. 25 he sported a new set to the tune of $154. "I need some new ones," the amiable gentleman remarked, "but if teeth have gone up like everything else, I just may make out with the old ones."

West Texas has earned a rightful reputation for "those awful sandstorms." The Hinson records reveal just how awful they were in 1953. From April 28 to June 27 of that year, the sand blew a total of 33 days. February 19, 1954 boasted the worst sandstorm in 20 years.

In July, August and September of 1950, it rained 14 inches.

Mrs. Hinson, who is 68 years old, says that her memory is not as good as it once was and in recent years she records the birthdays of favorite friends and relatives and when the day arrives they always receive a selected card.

It's signed "Maggie and Whately." Poor health has made it impossible for her to be as active as the average person so she says cards and letters are the only way she has of letting others know she cares about them.

Mrs. L. C. Lefevre, who lives in Lufkin, is the elderly couple's only living child. Two others died in infancy. Having only two grandchildren — and them living so far away — possibly accounts a notation made seven times on December 25: "Home alone all day."

The Hinsons' favorite sport is baseball and both enjoy playing "42." For many years she was a crossword puzzle fan. "Lately, I've sort of lost interest," she said. She is, however, a faithful daily Bible reader which makes her somewhat of a scholar, according to those who know her. When prompted, she said that for years she had tried to pick out a favorite Bible verse but had never been able really to say which one was her favorite. The couple has been members of the Baptist Church 58 years. He is a deacon of Meadow Baptist Church.

Personal pride is also noted as one looks at the ten outdated calendars. For the past ten years Mrs. Hinson has got an average of three permanent waves per year. On Dec. 10, 1957, Mr. Hinson "went modern." He purchased an electric razor. They have purchased two cook stoves, two air conditioners, and two television sets the past 10 years. Also three new cars — all different brands.

On April 5, 1956, Hinson telephone was connected. The number is 2119 Ausborne Exchange. If you need information which possibly isn't recorded anywhere else, it's quite possible that a call to 2119 might give you the answer.

The manager, who will be aided by Asst. Coach Charlie Keese, Robert Wright and Charles Lee, advised parents that "Normal pool safety regulations will be enforced by a capable staff of guards."

Admission will be 25 cents for students and 50 cents for adults. "Swim suits are available for 50 cents and towels for 15 cents," noted Keese.

Cox will conduct swimming classes from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. Monday through Friday. A $10 fee is required for the two-week course.

The manager added that parties may be held at the pool by prior arrangement. "However, parties may not be held before or after normal hours," he said.

A Brownfield student at Texas Tech has completed preliminary work on an "atom smasher."

He is Thad Risinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thad Risinger of 910 East Lake, who worked in conjunction with two other Techs.

The device, a positive-ion accelerator, will be used in nuclear research, say school officials. It is a product of the Physics Department.

Farmers Urged To Write Congressmen

Terry Facing Big Slash In 1959 Cotton Acres

Terry producers were urged strongly Thursday night to write their U.S. congressmen expressing sentiments about the situation in cotton allotments which will come about with the 1959 crop.

Meeting in the Hitch-n-Post, some 50 men from Yoquim, Lynn and Terry counties heard Farm Bureau personnel explain that if Congress fails to act the U.S. cotton allotment for '59 will be cut some 20 per cent.

Main speaker was H. L. (Hub) King of Brownfield, chairman of Texas Farm Bureau's cotton committee, who explained: "Should the present law stand, Terry's allotted acreage, 152,000 this year, will be dropped to about 120,000 acres next year."

The individual farm allotment for 1959 may be cut 30 per cent or more compared to the 1958 allotment.

Principal item up for discussion Thursday was a proposed Farm Bureau bill which includes the reduction of the national allotment to 13,600,000 (present acreage is 17,500,000), but looks forward a number of years.

Farm Bureau proposes that a cotton producer be allowed to take one of two courses in 1959:

1. Accept his portion of the 13 million-plus acres (meaning his 20 to 30 per cent reduction in allotment) and 90 per cent of parity.

2. Accept his portion of the 13 million-plus, request 40 per cent more acreage, and be guaranteed a floor of 75 per cent of parity.

The Thursday audience also heard the FB bill explained thusly:

In 1959, U.S.-owned cotton must be offered at 110 per cent of 75 per cent of parity, which automatically would set the cotton market at about 84 per cent of parity, plus carrying charges.

For the 1960 crop year, the FB bill proposes: Same choice as No. 1 above

Suggestion Pays For ASC Personnel

Two members of the Terry Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office staff received $60 and certificates of merit for a suggestion that is estimated will save the government about $37,500 annually, according to Looe Miller, ASC manager.

Virginia Cornett and Margie Milburn received the award for a suggestion that county ASC offices mimeograph sufficient notices for all cotton buyers in the area instead of each county preparing its own notices.

The notices are prepared when the ASC office cancels a cotton marketing card.

Thrip, Collembola Attacks Slowed Up

Thrips and collembola attacks on Terry's young cotton plants have decreased considerably with dryer weather, according to Jim Foy, county agent.

Collembola, also known as "spring tails," normally attack cotton in the "crook" stage when weather is damp, said Foy. He added that little damage results after plants emerge to a stand.

"Small holes in plants indicate a collembola attack," revealed Foy. "Where damage is apparent and chemical control is needed, 1 1/2 pounds of toxaphene and one-tenth pound dieldrin is suggested."

The agent pointed out ground application is the best method but that it is dangerous to disturb certain types of soil. Dosage should be increased about 50 per cent if aerial application is used, he said.

Toxaphene or dieldrin also will control effectively grasshoppers, added Foy.

Coyote hunting in certain parts of the state now is furnishing sport for a good many shooters.

Most of this hunting is done with the benefit of one of the mouth callers currently on the market. However, some hunters just drive down country lanes and shoot coyotes that dare to cross the roads. This latter method is dangerous. Also it's a violation of the law.

Recently a group of us went coyote hunting in Zapata County, down on the Mexican border. We were with Raymond Dave, the game warden. Raymond knew where the coyotes were running, and also how to use a mouth call.

It was a bad morning. The wind was blowing strong from the north. This meant the call did not carry very far in that direction, and the animals could get our scent down wind. We did get one coyote, however, which proves it can be done.

It was the first time the three of us had met. Yet when we showed up for the hunt each of us had a scope-equipped 222 Remington. Proof enough that this is an ideal calibre for coyote shooting.

Although this gun is not recommended for deer, it is effective in the hands of a good shot. My gun, the pump action, was used by three wildlife biologists during the deer season to take three deer specimens. Each was killed with a single shot.

The gun is equipped with a Weaver K 4 scope, and you can put the bullet just about where you want to.

Incidentally, Remington has just announced a souped up version of the 222 in the model 722. It is a magnum load, and is not interchangeable with the present cartridge. The bullet weighs 55 grains. It leaves the muzzle at 3300 fps, dropping to 2340 at 200 yards.

It has 1330 ft.-lbs. of energy at the muzzle, dropping to 670 at 200 yards. Its mid-range trajectory at 200 yard is 2.3" and 6.1" at 300 yards, which makes it a flat shooter for varmints.

Shooting coyotes and fox with a gun like this can furnish a lot of good sport and serve a good job of varmint eradication.

First, however, you need the land owner's permission, and you should use every precaution. There is less danger in one of these high-speed bullets than in a heavy bullet because they go to pieces on impact with most anything. However, they'll kill a steer just as dead as they will a coyote.

Coyote calling has become quite a pastime with ranch owners in West and Southwest Texas. Game wardens also have taken up the craze and many coyotes have been lured into shooting range. Mostly the calls have been made by individuals who have perfected the reeds to produce noises like a crying rabbit. Some hunters are adept at calling with their mouths, or sucking against the shoulder part of the hand. Still others buy reed horns in 5 and 10 stores.

With a little practice they are very effective.

The task is to mimic as nearly as possible the cry of an injured rabbit. The coyote can hear this for two or three miles. Unless he's been shot at before he'll get there in a hurry.

GROWING POPULAR — A sport which is showing a rapid increase in Texas is bow and arrow hunting. Advances in the manufacturers of a rchery equipment have made it possible for enthusiasts to get high quality at prices that are within reason.

Unlike firearms, the bow and arrow can be shot in the backyard of your own home. It also is a deadly weapon in the field.

I have just finished reading a new book, Modern Bow Hunting, by Hiram J. Grogan and published by the Stackpole Co., which gives a new insight into archery.

The book deals with all aspects of archery and hunting. It tells how to hunt upland game birds, how to make multi-barbed arrowheads, and very important, the use of a reel and line to save arrows.

Since it now is legal in Texas to use a bow and arrow in shooting rough fish, many hunters will be interested in this phase. In fact there is an entire chapter in the book on bow fishing, telling how to shoot rough fish.

Another chapter deals with the use of squealer calls in predatory hunting. You can put this book on your list of recommended reading.

SNAKE HUNT—An interesting group recently held its annual field meet on the banks of the Rio Grande in Southwest Texas. It is the Texas Herpetological Society, made up of some 70 men and women who like to hunt snakes and lizards.

Actually it is more than just a hobby with them. Most of them are zoology teachers in schools and colleges of the state. Others, however, are in related work, where they need to know all about the things that crawl and hide under rocks and old logs.

This year's field meet was held on the Trevino ranch, 40 miles northwest of Laredo. More than 600 individual specimens were taken by the "Herps".

Although they turned over thousands of big rocks, they unearthed only one rattler. It was a big four-footer. This area generally is infested with these reptiles. However, the field meet was in the middle of March, just after a heavy norther, and perhaps the snakes were still in their dens.

Dr. Richard Baldouf of Texas A&M College was elected president and Al Flury of the Game & Fish Commission at Mathis, vice president of the group.

All of the cotton plant except the leaf is utilized in some form to benefit man or beast. The cotton fiber, seeds, hulls, and stalks all are put to commercial use to benefit civilization.

FREE RIDE

Life, however, will not give him a free ride. Very soon he will have to learn that he must bear the responsibility for his acts. That responsibility is the inevitable price of the increasing privileges that come with growth in age and wisdom. But many people go through all of life looking for a free ride, unwilling to face themselves or life or God. That approach to life is poisonous and leads to ruin because it is untrue to the facts of life. But how can one bear up under the great responsibilities which life forces upon us? There is one way: by knowing that God is loving and merciful, that His love is greater than our mistakes, and that we are accepted by Him already. That God the Church proclaims, go and hear about Him this week.

Is something wrong with your life — an inner restless dissatisfaction? The answer to every human problem comes only from God our Maker. He alone can forgive and reassure. Through the church God has committed the provisions and redemption of His forgiveness and redeeming love. Without a church relation no one is securely related to God. Everyone should be in the Church and the Church in everyone!

THE City Farmer

By ALVIN G. DAVIS

This column has been planned to provide interesting as well as informative news notes on local, state and national agricultural levels.

In order for it to accomplish this purpose, the writer will need the cooperation of all readers in so far as the local agricultural news is concerned.

Please advise us of any and all meetings on the local level that pertain to agriculture by contacting the writer at Brownfield State Bank.

Your help will be appreciated greatly, and we in turn will be able to write a column that will be of interest to you.

The Terry County crop situation looks good at the time, with an estimated 50 to 75 per cent of the cotton crop up and most of the remaining acreage planted.

If good weather conditions prevail, practically all the cotton should be up by next week.

Some dryland feed has been planted, and considerable acreage of irrigated feed is up. Farmers are urged by leading South Plains farm authorities to wait until the middle of June to plant dryland feed.

Past experience proves that the early dryland sorghum has small chance of making, as compared to the later-planted feed.

The cotton insect picture in Terry is not too good at this time, with the thrip problem continuing. Some farmers have poisoned with airplane applications, and the effectiveness is not too good because of the small size of the cotton.

Farmers are urged to check their cotton once or twice a week, and when poisoning is warranted to use the recommended poisons and application rates as given in the Texas Guide.

World cattle numbers continued to increase during '57 and at the beginning of this year were a record 972 million, reports the Foreign Agricultural Service.

The 11 million head advance during the previous year reflected gains of 5.3 million in the U.S.S.R., 2.7 million in Asia, and 1 million each in South America, Western Europe and Africa.

Cattle production has expanded considerably in the tropical and semitropical areas during the past several years, and is likely to continue in these areas, which have a large potential for expansion.

Number of persons at work on the nation's farms during the week of April 20, at some 7.4 million, was up 20 per cent from the previous month but was one per cent below the corresponding date in 1957.

The increase from a month earlier compares with the average of 16 per cent seasonal gain from March. Farm operators and unpaid members of their families accounted for 78 per cent of the total farm workers, and hired workers made up the remainder.

Several areas in the United States report that the supply of farm labor was more adequate in relation to demand than it had been at this time in several years.

Cattle receipts at Fort Worth, May 19, were nearly as numerous as a week earlier, when the supply was the largest of the season.

Marketings totaled an estimated 4,000, or 800 fewer than a year ago.

Prices generally were steady to weak, with the following prices quoted:

Good 550 to 1,000 pounds slaughter steers, $25.50 to $27 per cwt; most utility cows, $17.50 to $19; good 550 to 700 pound stocker and feeder steers, $24.50 to $27.

The calf run is placed at 600, or a fourth smaller than both

NEWS

Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas

AUSTIN—Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, Inc. failed by a whisker to win first place carrying with it a Distinguished Service plaque, awarded annually by the National Wildlife Federation, it was disclosed by the Federation's report on the competition.

The citation went to the Washington State Sportsmen's Council which now has won the honor twice in the last three years. Washington's outfit was nosed out last year by the League of Kentucky Sportsmen.

In its belated formal report on the contest, the Federation stated: "Dr. James S. Lindsey and other staff members of the Virginia Cooperative Wildlife Research Unit at Blacks-a week ago and the corresponding date in 1957. Prices mainly were steady.

Good grades of slaughter calves brought $25.50 to $27, and stocker and feeder steer calves were quoted at $27 to $30.

Hog offerings totaled about 500, compared with 800 on previous Monday and 1,300 a year ago. Trading was slow and somewhat uneven. Barrows and gilts sold at prices which were 25 cents to 50 cents lower than the latter part of the preceding week. The bulk of Number 1 through Number 3 grades of 200 to 250 pound butchers brough $22 to $22.50.

Over four million acres of the nation's cropland were offered for contracts under the 1958 Conservation Reserve Program of the Soil Bank through the close of this year's sign-up on April 15, points out the USDA.

The acreage is in addition to about 6.5 million acres placed in the program during 1956 and 1957. Annual payments account for $35 million, and payments for conservation practices comprise $36.5 million of the total payments obligated for the 1958 program.

In the southwestern states of Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, 1,036,000 acres, or a fourth of the national total, have been placed in the '58 CRP. In these states, annual payments are estimated at $9,281,441, and conservation payments at $7,716,206.

Hayden Head of Corpus Christi, SCOT president, said the closeness of the national competition "proves that we have a job to do and know how to do it. Our state headquarters, activated with a paid staff, had only part of a year to reach for the national title but with the help of good people from border to border we made a strong bid. Next time we will go all the way."

FINAL STAGE — Contracts were let Thursday for the final phase of the new football stadium construction and the eight-room addition to Colonial Heights School. Frank Bennett Jr. of Lubbock was low bidder on the construction with a combined bid of $206,674. Bennett underbid five other companies offering combined bids; four companies on mechanical bids, and five companies bidding for the electrical contract. Construction will include the school addition, field house, press box, stadium lighting, restrooms and curbing for a 440-yard track around the gridiron. Bennett's contract calls for completion within 210 calendar days, which means the classrooms and stadium should be ready about the last of August, said O. R. Douglas, superintendent. Grass and sod have been planted on the field and watering operations have begun, he added. (NEWSfoto)

The Rev. Alton West, pastor of the church, read the double ring ceremony, Marca Brinson and Dorothy Barrier sang "I Love You Truly," "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length white dress of nylon with a tulle and lace bolero with finger tip sleeves. Her white lace halo hat was embroidered in seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped by a bouquet of white, carnations and stephanotis.

Attendants Listed

Joyce Goldstone, maid of honor, wore a gown of turquoise taffeta with bateau neckline and full skirt and matching head band. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations. Mothers of the bridal couple wore white carnation corsages and men of the bridal party wore white carnation boutonnières.

Jack Milburn attended his brother and two other brothers, Jim and Joe, ushered. Lighting the candles were Sheree An-draws, cousin of the bridegroom, and Billy Mike Winkle, nephew of the bride.

Parents assisted the bridal couple in receiving guests at the reception following the wedding in the home of the bride's parents. Wedding bouquets formed the centerpiece for the table with a three tiered wedding cake.

Honeymoon in New Mexico
Mrs. Milburn was wearing a red sheath with white accessories when they left for a wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Milburn are graduates of Brownfield High School. They will make their home in Key West, Fla., where he is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

Guests here for the wedding were from Bay City, Meadow, Rankin and Seagraves.

will give "us our fair share of the foreign market — six to seven million bales annually."

For the 1961 crop year, the FB bill would have all cotton supported at 90 per cent of the 3-year weighted market average. Only No. 1 will be available to the farmer.

King, and Jack Moore, also of Brownfield and area fieldman for TFB, said they were firmly convinced that the FB proposal will not reduce the price of cotton, but, instead, will raise the price.

They also explained that the program has the far-reaching aim of eliminating the $8,000-bale monthly loss to domestic synthetics.

King emphasized that owners of spinning mills have told the cotton industry to "set a long-range pattern and we'll go along with it."

The audience also heard the FB men say that their proposed bill would "make the farmer the seller of his cotton, and not the government. Henceforth, mill operators would have to buy direct from the farmer."

Among others at the Thursday session was Millard Shivers of Waco, TFB's state organization director for membership. All fieldmen are under his jurisdiction.

King also explained that the president of TFB, J. H. West, would be in London May 31-June 7 to attend a meeting of the International Cotton Advisory Committee.

DOES NOT INCLUDE EXTENSIONS OR BUSINESS

Smart 398 Per Cent Increase In 'Phones Here The Past 10 Years

(Special to the NEWS)
NEW YORK—One sign of the rise in living standards in Terry County during the past 10 years is to be seen in a report on the number of home telephones now in service locally.

The report, issued by the Department of Commerce, is based on a nation-wide survey made every five years by the American Telephone and Telegraph Company.

The latest findings are that there are 1,703 residential telephones in use in Terry County as compared with 342 ten years earlier.

(The foregoing figure does not include the hundreds of extension instruments in residences, nor does it include the thousands of main and extension telephones in business in the county.)

Of Any Kind

The increase amounts to a whopping 398 per cent, which compares favorably with gains noted elsewhere.

In the United States, the rise in the period was 123 per cent and in the State of Texas, 179 per cent.

Better economic conditions today, compared with 10 years ago, have enabled a bigger proportion of families to afford home telephones. At that time it was more of a luxury than it is today. Now it falls into the class of ordinary household conveniences.

As a result of the expansion, Terry County now has 11 residential phones for every 100 local people.

How large a talking arsenal this is may be realized through comparison. Europe averages less than five phones, residential plus business, per 100 people. Throughout the rest of the world there is less than one per 100 people.

However, although we have more phones in this country, we are surpassed by some European nations in the information services provided.

In Switzerland, for example, a service is available for calling a subscriber at an appointed time. It may be to awaken him, to remind him to put another coin in the parking meter, or perhaps to take a pill. For Fairy Tales

And in Vienna, one may flick a dial and get fairy tales for children, stenographic dictation for practice purposes, menus, bus schedules and other services not to be had here.

Surprisingly, too, we are out-talked by people in some countries. Canada proves to be the talkiest nation, with 417 conversations annually per capita. Then comes Iceland, with 394 and the United States, with 393.

European travelers to ancient Asia came home with tales of strange "vegetable lambs" growing on trees. News of this amazing "tree wool" was Europe's first knowledge of the fluffy white fiber we now call cotton.

'LEST WE FORGET'—Dennis Fairbairn, right, member of Hand Bros. Post 6794, VFW, was speaker at Memorial Day ceremonies held here Friday. The Rev. ## 'NEWSPAPER BEST AD BUY'

Lumber Executive Lauds Advertising

By WELDON CALLAWAY
NEWS Advertising Manager

"The newspaper is the best advertising buy for most lumber dealers."

This quotation did not come from a newspaper publisher. It is the advice offered by a prominent New England lumber executive to fellow lumbermen.

The statement was made by A. W. Clifford, vice president of the Northeastern Retail Lumberman's Association. Clifford gave reasons for his opinion.

"People buy the newspaper; they want it; they feel they can't be without it. Men read it. Women read it. They all read it, at their own leisure."

"Their reading habits are fixed to such an extent that generation after generation will read the same newspaper right through a family — an advantage of priceless value to the advertiser," the lumberman said.

Clifford recognizes advertising as a profit-making investment. "Don't count program ads, church suppers, and tickets to this and that as advertising. Call it by its right name — contributions — and don't penalize your advertising budget."

The lumber dealer agrees with President Eisenhower on the role of advertising as a business stimulant. "When

By ROSE JEAN HENSON

Howdy Doody is a stuffed doll. Howdy Doody of the Van-oye Riley household met his Waterloo when three little girls, ages 2 to 4 years, came to visit little Miss Yvette Riley Wednesday of last week.

According to Louise, Yvette's mother, the little girls had a hilarious time and strung and strewed as little girls will. Only they don't necessarily have to be 2 or 4 years old to do that.

I have a daughter 10 who still has that habit. Do they ever stop until they have a house of their own to keep?

Anyway, Howdy Doody was found floating in the cesspool with part of his innards missing. Later as Louise was picking up toys, she found poor Howdy Doody's voice box on the front porch. It was tossed into the toy box along with the other toys and was forgotten until Monday at least.

Why Monday? That was the day the repairman came to check on the Riley telephone which had been out of order since the Wednesday afternoon before. The lines were checked but the man found nothing a miss. Not until he removed the cap on the end of the telephone, did he discover the trouble.

"Lady, he said, 'part of your telephone is missing.' Naturally, Louise was bumfuzzed when he told her that the hearing apparatus was completely gone from that end of the phone.

She had no explanation until he brought the spare piece to fix the phone from his pickup. Then she remembered Howdy Doody and his voice box.

Sure enough what Louise thought was Howdy Doody's voice wasn't a voice box at all. It belonged to the telephone. As Mrs. Riley said later, "How foolish can you feel?" How could she excuse the little girls of taking the cap off and removing the piece—and if she did which one could she accuse?

But how could she let the repairman think that she or her husband would do such a foolish thing? All she could do was to explain the little girls' visit and let him draw his own conclusions.

Louise said he concluded before he left that Yvette couldn't have done it because the cap was securely tightened when he checked it. You can imagine about how far Louise got with an explanation from Yvette who is not quite three. The moral: Never underestimate the ability of a child.

As the little girl (or should I say big girl . . . she was 10) unwrapped her gifts at her birthday part last Sunday afternoon, she proudly displayed a pair of panties around the table to her guests, which included both boys and girls. Well, girls wear panties—everybody knows that—go what! The reason I mention the incident at all is that I am just thinking how times have changed and are continuing to change. Time was when most of you reading this column can remember quite well when it was not an accepted practice nor a comfortable feeling either to show or be shown "unmentionables" in the presence of the opposite sex if they were past 6 years old.

Maybe this wasn't a wholesome attitude but nonetheless it was the way we were taught. I don't know whether it came under the heading of manners or modesty but anyway which ever it was, we had it.

Perhaps our parents were a bit too modest but to go from one extremity to the other can be harmful, too. Somewhere in between the two there should be a happy medium.

Some parents have become too slack in letting the child decide for himself what is the best and comfortable way for him to act. For instance, I have absolutely nothing against shorts. I do have something against big strapping girls—and even women—wearing them on the streets and in other public places.

For the life of me, I have never decided why some of the girls are not content just to wear shorts. Why do they make shorts shorter by rolling them just as high as they will go.

I know they are no cooler and certainly look no better. I have about come to the conclusion that they do it to expose more of their legs. If that is the reason, heaven forbid! Surely it would be better to teach our children to have a wholesome attitude toward modesty and let them suffer some for being old fogey than to let them go along in life with absolutely no modesty at all.

I am not saying that it is wrong for little girls to show a pair of panties at a birthday party, but what I am saying is that to do so with absolutely no embarrassment is quite a far piece from 30 years ago. And again may I repeat, it is not the child but the parent who has made the change.

'Damn Citizen' Has Thrills Galore As Crime Is Uprooted

Every now and again there is a motion picture based on fact that is far more thrilling than any fiction.

Such an attraction is Universal-International's "Damn Citizen," which tells the story of one man's fight against organized crime in Louisiana. The film opens Tuesday at the Regal Theatre.

This is the story of Col. Francis Grevenberg, World War II hero who was persuaded, against his better judgement, to become Superintendent of State Police and clean out the rackets that were corrupting Louisiana.

From the opening scenes to the fadeout, this a thriller and the audience will never stop to think that what is being presented is fact, for it moves faster than fiction and has action, intrigue, suspense and high drama, as the gangster elements as well as some of the crooked law enforcement officers attempt to kill Grevenberg, threaten his children and his wife, and try to buy off his police force.

Keith Andes has just the right authority for the role of Col. Francis Grevenberg, keeping the heroics to a mini-Maggie Hayes plays his wife and turns in a competent job, while Lynn Bari is excellent as the girl friend of the top gangster, played by Edward C. Platt.

Director Robert Gordon cast many roles with New Orleans people who simply played themselves or people they knew.

This is vicariously true of the man who plays a brutal deputy sheriff, Pershing Gervais, a former New Orleans detective, who almost steals the picture. Of better-than 30 speaking parts, only 11 were portrayed by Hollywood "professionals."

Entire film was shot on location in New Orleans so that it always has the ring of truth about it.

Amino Triazole Is New Weed Death-Dealer

A new chemical has been developed which spells doom for many of the enemies of profitable farming in Dixie.

Known as Amino Triazole, the chemical has been found to be a potent "one-shot" weapon against such toll-taking weeds as Johnson grass, quack grass, Canada Thistle and others which have plagued farmers throughout the country.

In addition, it has been found especially effective against poison ivy, milkweed, cattails and a number of deep-rooted perennial weeds; and its researchers say that Amino Triazole Weedkiller will solve many of the most serious weed problems facing farmers today.

The weedkiller is unique in its action in that it is absorbed by the plant foliage and translocated throughout the plant's system to give complete control — roots and top growth — many times in one application. After extensive evaluation, it is now being recommended by most states for the control of various perennial weeds.

Moreover, it has been found highly effective against Japanese honeysuckle, which threatens pine forests of states from Maryland to Georgia and prevents the normal regeneration and reestablishment of woodlands.

The Forest Service, which has been conducting experiments with various chemical control methods in the Hitchiti Experimental Forest near Con. Ga., since 1951, found two of great promise of a kill, and one of these was Amino Triazole.

The chemical has been found efficient against paragrass, long canal banks and in Florida; against Bermuda and sugar grass in sugar cane Louisiana; against John grass and Bermuda grass as a defoliant in Georgia and other states. Quack grass has been controlled well by deep plowing followed by about two weeks, and control during the season possible.

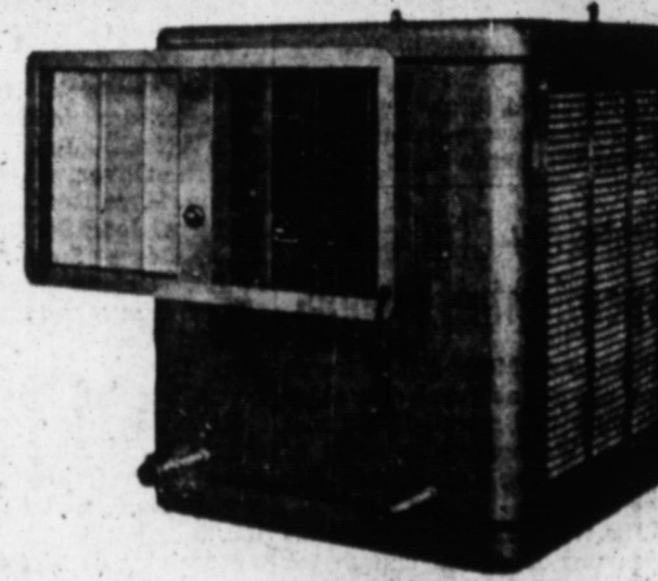

The weedkiller also has 90 per cent or better control of Canada thistle, the No. 1 economic problem in fields in a number of areas. Amino Triazole should not be applied directly to crop. Spring applications can be made to actively growing weeds two weeks before plowing and planting.

LIONS SPEAKERS — Razz Renfro, left, Texas Ranger from Lubbock, and Tom Barnes, polygraph (lie detector) technician for Region 5 of the Texas Department of Public Safety, were speakers at Brownfield Lions luncheon Wednesday. Barnes traced the forerunners of the polygraph from the Chinese to the development of the present machine and explained the role it plays in modern criminal investigation. Renfro discussed how the machine helped break various cases handled by his organization. The speakers were introduced by Sheriff James Fulford, center. (NEWS-photos)

About Your HEALTH

Suppose your youngster swallows a substance you know is poisonous. The label is missing and you don't know the antidote. All you know is the name of the product.

Grim supposing? Yes, but it happens every day to adults as well as children. How would you react? You should call your doctor at once, but what would he do? He must know exactly how much of what is in the poison before he acts.

And time is all-important. If your community had a poison-control center, the problem would be much simplified. By checking a master index the center could give your doctor a quick run-down on ingredients in the substance. If necessary the child could be rushed to the center for emergency treatment with special equipment.

Unfortunately there was only one complete local center in Texas, operating in Austin's Brackenridge Hospital, until Galveston, Houston, and Fort Worth established poison information centers more recently.

This clearly is a dangerous situation. The State Department of Health, through its Division of Occupational Health, for over a year has been seriously intent on encouraging formation of poison control centers wherever there is local willingness.

The Department will furnish free an index information file, together with periodic supplements. Additionally, the Department offers counsel in organizing a center, and will make the resources of its extensive toxicological library available. The Division itself serves as a poison information center on an around-the-clock basis.

A complete local poison control center does three things:

1. It keeps information instantly available on compositions of poisonous materials, together with antidotes. It keeps up to date with a reference library on toxicology, and maintains a master index of poisons.
2. It maintains all emergency drugs, oxygen equipment, catheters, tubes, syringes, needles, etc., for immediate life-saving use in treating poisoning cases. A treatment center is usually located in a local hospital emergency room.
3. It conducts continuous public education on the hazards of literally thousands of poisonous agents available on today's market. Educational activities might be handled by persons other than the information or treatment staff.

... By Frances Gillham

AT THE BEAUTY AID CLINIC

Somewhere in each of us is a yearning for beauty.

Each one of us seeks that "tip-toe" perfection which makes a woman walk with pride and glow with confidence—and just makes a man glow, period!

This desire is so important that it actually affects our whole destiny, for we always feel and act very much the way we look.

If we look sloppy, we feel sloppy, and it is reflected in our home, our work, our entire life.

If we look well-groomed, we feel wonderful. And our jobs, homes and our lives are organized accordingly. This is merely the nature of the curious creature we call "woman."

The basis of over-all appearance is in your figure and your posture, because good posture is the foundation of all beauty.

As the years go by, we have a tendency to lose the trim, youthful lines we had. Lack of exercise causes muscles to sag and the flesh to lose the radiance which it would have from matching muscle tone.

An extra dessert here and there causes unpleasant lumps to collect where they least can be appreciated. For the woman who cares, this lumping spells disaster, and it is a warning sign that now is the time to get some professional assistance in correction of the figure.

Your perfect posture line is a straight line from the lobe of the ear through the center, of the shoulder, touching the pelvic frame at the crest, through the knee and ending immediately in front of the heel.

Bust and hip measurements should be the same and the waist 10 to 12 inches smaller than the hips.

Many persons believe that there is an exact set of measurements which represent the ideal figure, but there never can be a set standard. There is, however, an ideal measurement for YOU, based on your height and bone structure.

These measurements will be explained to you in a private analysis of your figure at the Niblack studio.

After you have your new figure and posture, the rest is easy! Select fashions which are suited to you. Your personality and the inner self must be reflected—your best points brought out, and thus your prettiest self showing for all to admire.

Of some things it may be said that beauty is only skin-deep, but not so for a woman. Her beauty reaches all the way to the soul.

That look you long for can be a reality. I like to think of it as a recipe: Take a slim, attractive figure, stand tall, cover with tastefully selected clothing, top with a fluffy hat, carefully apply make-up, sprinkle lightly with perfume, and place in the sun to brown lightly.

And so... there you have that beautiful American woman whom men pause to notice all around the world! (Adv.)

Terry Sports Review

By CHARLIE MAPLE
NEWS Sports Editor

With the closing of school, it looks like sports activities will slow to a dog trot for a change. Other than baseball, supplied by Little League, Babe Ruth League and American Legion, we don't look for much action on the sports front for the next two or three months.

However, Brownfield Country Club's Invitational golf meet is coming up in July to add a little spice to the pot.

To keep this column moving through the summer — if our readers are interested — how about some of you fishermen giving us a call and let us know how you do on your escapades with the finned creatures.

Even if we don't have much luck with the rod and reel, we like to know how someone else is doing — and we are sure someone else would like to know about it.

We also are sure some of the local duffers and golfers will toss the sticks in the car when they are on vacation, so let us know how you do and about some of the courses about the country.

***
In other words, we would like to hear anything our readers are doing in the sports vein this summer — any other time, for that matter.

Red Raider Club To Hold Meet Tuesday

A reminder to Red Raider Club members to make their reservations for the meeting in Lubbock Municipal Coliseum Tuesday night, was voiced today by President Wayne Prather.

Prather urged members to bring their wives and other guests. Invitations are not required, he said. Anyone interested in Texas Tech athletics is welcome. Reservations may be made by writing Box 456, Lubbock, or telephoning PO 2-0158. Tickets are $2.

weather we have had the past week.

Coach Cox and Charlie Keese will manage the pool again this year and will give swimming lessons. See the story elsewhere in the edition for information about the pool.

***
A note from Bill Homes, Tech sports publicity man, reveals that Tech's lone graduating basketball player, Bobby Wilson of Lipan, will enter LSU next month on a graduate fellowship in entomology.

Men like Bobby are an asset to sports," commented Polk Robison, his coach. "Besides performing creditably in athletics, he was able to keep up his grades and earn an outstanding scholastic award."

We wish him lots of luck. He was a fine roundballer at Raiderland.

The home stands are up at the new football stadium site — except for the seats. They should be completed soon.

Grass and sod have been seeded over the whole area and, with a little luck, we should have a good cover soon.

Contracts for the fieldhouse, pressbox and other facilities were scheduled to be let Thursday afternoon. If bids fall within the $190,000 limit for the whole unit, construction should get started soon.

Tech Signs Percival 4 Boys To Grid Pacts

Two more former Palo Duro Dons of Amarillo have cast their lot with Texas Tech. Joining center Franklin Brunson, who signed a football letter of intent earlier, are halfbacks Leo Brittain and Milt Brown. Coach DeWitt Weaver announced today.

Brittain, 6 feet tall, 185, earned Palo Duro's "Most Desirable" award in both football and basketball. He lettered three years each in football, basketball and track.

Brown, second team all-district, gained the "Most Valuable" award in track. The 5-11, 168-pounder, earned three football letters, making all-district second team last fall, and three in basketball. He was junior class president.

Brittain will major in business, and Brown will be a pre-dental student.

Two backs who earned all-state honors last fall also have signed letters of intent with Texas Tech. Coach DeWitt Weaver announced.

They are fullback Don Jester, second team Conference 4A all-state with the Austin High Maroons, and quarterback Billy Ryan, first team Conference 2A all-state for Seymour.

Both teams made the semi-finals in their state races.

J. T. Bowman, Joann Harding Win Foursome

J. T. Bowman and Joann Harding were high in a Scotch foursome contest Sunday afternoon at the Brownfield Country Club.

Partners were paired with one man and one woman all at BCC. Play starts today and will end next Sunday.

Mac Percival of Vernon will be the first son of a former Texas Tech basketball player to play for the Red Raiders.

Highly sought-after for his football play as well as his cage ability, Percival, 6-3, has signed a basketball letter of intent with Coach Polk Robison. The player's father, Bob, who coached him in high school, lettered for Texas Tech in 1939 and 1940.

The younger Percival, who alternated between guard and forward, made third team Conference 3A all-state this year in basketball and gained all-district football honors for the third successive season. An end, he captained the Vernon football team. He also lettered in baseball three years.

Percival is the second school-boy athlete to sign a basketball letter with Texas Tech. Announced earlier was Conference 2A all-state second team member Billy Wilbanks of Belton.

AT REGAL — Trio pictured above comprise stars in "The Gift of Love," which will be shown today and Monday at The Regal. They are Lauren Bacall, Evelyn Rudie and Robert Stack.

'The Gift of Love' Is, in a Real Sense, An Exercise in Sentiment; Stars Bacall

"The Gift of Love," Twentieth Century-Fox's CinemaScope, De Luxe Color production premieres today at The Regal.

Stars are Lauren Bacall and Robert Stack, and featured is Evelyn Rudie.

The story promises to be that rare motion picture offering, a story of pure sentiment treated with honesty and realism.

Produced by the world famous picture maker, Charles Brackett, and directed by Jean Negulesco, whose past films have set an industry pace, the picture tells of a brilliant yet lonely man, at atomic scientist, who marries a beautiful and compassionate woman, who later finds she is fatally ill.

Orphan is involved. With fearless and adult realism the film, based on an original story by Nella Gardner White, shows how this woman brings into their home a loveless orphan who becomes her "Gift of Love" to her husband. Lauren Bacall's first film since the untimely death of her husband, Actor Humphrey Bogart, the picture was made in and around some of the most news-making and vital locations in America today, the scientific observatories and laboratories where the secrets of the earth satellite and the intercontinental missile are being probed and unlocked.

Follows Own Tragedy With the same slightly acid, transparently honest delivery which made her a star in her earliest pictures, Miss Bacall helps to make believable a story which is, in a great sense, an exercise in sentiment.

As "Julie Beck," she turns in one of her most notable performances, certainly surpassing anything she has done before, including her famous scenes with Bogart in "To Have and Have Not," her first picture.

It is, perhaps, not without significance that "The Gift of Love," a story about a woman who leaves something of value, is her first picture following her own tragedy.

Presbyterian Choir Is Honored Tuesday

Miss Ruth Ramsour played background music during the meal. Members of the choir and their families served were: Director and Mrs. Fred R.

Smith Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ben Monnett, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bender, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kehoe, Leonard Ellington, Miss Martha Chapman, Miss Ellen Griffin, Mr. and Mrs. Richard E. James, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stuteville, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Morris, Mack Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Edson Wilder, Jim Hankinson and Miss Lavoy Berry. Serving the meal for the session were Meses, James King, Clovis Kendrick, L. E. Sloan, Walter Hord and Herschel Griffin.

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — A fresh task force is being organized by Gov. Price Daniel to attack the state's monetary problems.

With oil production still hovering at a historic low and a prime source of state revenue partially throttled, Texas government is, for the time being, at least, "living beyond its means."

Governor Daniel named a six-man committee of executive department officials to study ways of bridging the gap between income and outgo. Members are Sec'y of State Zollie Steakley, Treasurer Jesse James, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert, Auditor C. H. Cavness, Budget Officer Jess Irwin and Co. J. T. Ellis Jr., of the governor's administrative staff.

They are expected to work cooperatively with the State Tax Study Commission, a group of legislators and outside experts who have been surveying the state's fiscal position for some months.

Under the present spending pattern, it is estimated the next legislature would have to scratch up upwards of $100,000,000 in new revenue to balance the books.

As in a family that comes up short at the end of the month, the state's advisors, both official and unofficial, are divided between those advocating getting more money and those favoring less spending.

Governor Daniel urged his executives to try both angles. Specifically, he suggested exploring:

1. Every possible economy in use of state funds.
2. Possible elimination or reduction of non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.
3. Compilation of a list of non-recurring expenses in the present appropriation.
4. Every possible source of additional state revenues which may be available without the levy of additional taxes.

OPEN SEASON — Most major candidates have held their opening rallies and will be campaigning with little let-up between now and the July 26 primary.

But in many areas of the state an even more intensive struggle is going on at the grass roots for control of the precinct conventions. They'll be held right after the primary, on the evening of July 26.

It's a small-time battle with big-time stakes. Whichever group of the Democratic party gets out the "mostest" to the precinct conventions will control the state convention in the fall. This means taking over the official machinery of the party for the next two years — leading up to 1960 and presidential nominating time.

Governor Daniel has said he will personally lead "conservatives, moderates and all other Texas Democrats who believe in majority decisions." He's been assured of vigorous opposition from the liberal Democrats of Texas led by Mrs. Frankie Randolph of Houston, Texas' national committeeman. DOT will have a statewide rally in Austin May 31 to draw attention to its efforts to oust the governor from official party leadership.

For the average citizen the precinct convention poses a more ticklish problem than primary voting. It may mean voting, publicly, against a neighbor who's running for precinct chairman.

'WARS' WATCHED — Atty. Gen. Will Wilson says his office is keeping close check on the gasoline and milk price wars that have broken out in major cities.

In some areas gasoline prices dropped as much as 10 cents per gallon below normal, and milk has been sold at a fraction of the usual charge.

"Texas anti-trust laws do not prevent price wars which are the free working of competition," Wilson commented, "but they do prohibit agreement or conspiracy to fix or cut prices and selling below cost to eliminate competition."

MORE BUILDING — Effect of the drought's end is being seen in more building in smaller towns dependent on agriculture for prosperity.

UT's Bureau of Business Research reports a 10 per cent rise in the January-April building volume for towns with less than 10,000 population.

BBR's report reflected a fairly general brightening of the building picture. Construction authorizations for April were up 3 per cent from March and 22 per cent from a year ago.

Home builders were found to be cautiously optimistic. Most, BBR reported, hadn't actually experienced much of an increase in home sales. But they were busier than they'd been in months building up a supply for an expected pick-up in buying by fall and next year.

Easier credit and, in some cases, lower costs of materials are expected to make house-buying more alluring.

MORE SALVAGE — Sale of some municipal bonds owned by the bankrupt US Trust and Guaranty Co. has brought another $144,000 for the company's creditors.

An earlier distribution of $2,181,000 represented about 31 per cent of the amount owed some 9,000 persons.

Meanwhile, Insurance Department employees are working against a May 31 deadline to complete an operation designed to prevent such fiascos in the future. They check the annual statement of each company doing business in Texas. If any questionable transactions are uncovered, the company is required to straighten them out before being re-licensed.

During the past year, a period of tightened regulation, there has been no large-scale crack-up in the industry. Many younger companies have merged to strengthen their positions by combining assets.

GUN SELLING LAW — Whether Texas law regulating sale of pistols is constitutional is being considered by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Case in point involves a Houstonite who was sentenced for sale of a pistol to a minor. Attorney for the defendant contends the law is too vague and confusing to be valid.

Texas penal code has two separate and sometimes conflicting sections on sale of firearms, forbidding their sale to minors, persons "under heat of passion" and persons convicted of felonies.

SHORT SNORTS — Texas

Employment Commission has announced the first substantial drop in unemployment claims this year. After weeks of tabulating steady increases in joblessness, TEC reports claims had slid from 90,913 to 86,528. Total benefits paid dropped $143,070 for the week.

Accompanying this good news, TEC announced 1,127 new jobs created in the state by the opening of new businesses. Largest was a garment factory in Temple employing 200.

Cotton is stronger when wet.

Hamilton To Seek A Position On Bench Of State High Court

A three-way contest for one of the positions on the Texas Supreme Court was revealed with the passing of the filing deadline last week.

First to file for Place 1, which will vacated by St. John Garwood who is not a candidate for re-election, was the Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals.

He is Judge R. W. Hamilton a 58 year old former school teacher-turned-lawyer who once coached a state championship football team.

Upon release from military service in 1919 after World I, Hamilton took up teaching and coaching and in the 6 years that followed, taught at Plainview where his team won state honors in 1919—also at Sonora, San Marcos, and finally back at Tyler near his family farm at Troup where he was reared.

Brownfield News-Herald, Sunday, June 1, 1958 PAGE THREE

Judge Hamilton is basing his campaign entirely upon his 31 years experience as lawyer and judge.

His law practice began at Tyler in 1927. In 1929 he was County Attorney at Martin County. In 1933 he was District Attorney of the 70th Judicial District. He engaged in general practice at Midland from 1935 until 1950, when he was elected Judge of the 70th Judicial District which he had formerly served as District Attorney. In 1953 he was appointed Chief Justice of the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals and was elected in 1954 without opposition to a full term of that office which he is now serving.

Mrs. Hamilton is the former Lois Rogers of San Antonio. The Hamiltons have two daughters, Emily and Ann, both attending the University of Texas, and a son, Robert, Jr., attending A&M College.

About that boulder
in your eye

"Got something in my eye," the customer said. "Feels like a boulder. How about taking it out?" He was hurting and wanted help then and there. The pharmacist remembered hearing about another man whose "something" turned out to be a steel splinter embedded in his eyeball. He advised him to see his physician. Prompt surgery saved his sight. So, we're careful. And if we seem overly cautious sometimes, remember—we're pharmacists, not physicians. We work with doctors, dispensing the drugs and medications they prescribe. But we don't practice medicine.

Lone Star Agriculture

By JOHN C. WHITE
Texas Commissioner
Of Agriculture

The Texas cotton farmer's opportunity this year will be in a high quality crop — not necessarily in quantity. Agriculture Commissioner John White said this week.

While there is a present surplus of cotton, the supply is mostly in the lower grades that sell for less. This cotton results in heavy mill waste and best demand — and biggest opportunity for profits — is for the higher grades.

Seven important steps are recommended to help the grower improve the quality of his cotton. As to the first two points, planting is already well under way over most of Texas but the other suggestions can still be put into effect.

These seven steps are:

1. Plant cotton on the best suited land. The ideal field is inherently fertile, free of soil borne disease, warms up early, is well drained and yet not drouthy.

2. Use best seed available of a recommended variety. Good seed may be somewhat short this year but all of it should be treated with a good fungicide.

OOPS! FARDON! M'SIEUR — One of the funniest clowns making the rodeo circuit this season is Norman Brooks of Decatur, pictured above in one of his typical run-ins with a Brahma bull. Brooks will be here Thursday, Friday and Saturday as part of the all-around parcel of entertainment awaiting spectators at Terry County Sheriff's Posse Rodeo. Brooks has the

3. Fertilize to fit needs. Use your fertilizer at the rates time and manner recommended by Texas experiment stations in your area. Both excessive and under use of some fertilizers can have a bad effect on the grade of harvested cotton.

4. Manage the crop for quality. Control weeds, insects and diseases. Discontinue irrigation early enough for the crop to mature before frost. Late irrigation can delay maturity and seriously reduce grade.

5. Pick promptly and carefully whether by hand or machine; avoid mixing good cotton and bad, wet and dry lots.

6. Deliver cotton to the gin as dry and clean as possible. The ginner, too, has a responsibility to keep his equipment in order, to use proper drying and take time to do a good job.

7. Sell on merit. Have cotton classed before selling; then sell on the basis of its grade and staple. This is the grower's means of assuring himself of the benefit of producing better cotton. "Today's cars are really automatic. They have everything from push button windows to push button shifting. Yet, there still isn't a button to push that will do your driving-thinking."

This statement was made today by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, which is co-sponsoring a traffic laws program in cooperation with the National Safety Council's campaign to Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents.

"Every driver has to accept his responsibility for traffic safety," Musick said. "He has to know all the traffic rules and regulations and follow them to the letter."

Many otherwise law abiding citizens will treat traffic laws casually and even ignore them when it becomes inconvenient to comply. Too many drivers leave their morality and common sense at home when they get behind the wheel of a car, the safety expert said.

Continuing, he added: "Traffic laws can't be treated lightly. The attitude that 'it is okay if I can get away with it' causes many useless accidents. Every driver must be on the side of law observance if we want to cut down the shocking traffic death and injury toll."

Musick urged each Texan to be his own policeman by obeying traffic laws voluntarily.

"After all," he concluded, "These laws were enacted to protect you, not annoy you."

Their Sunday schedule is: 10 a.m., Sunday School; 11 a.m., worship; and 8 p.m., worship. They meet at 8 p.m. each Thursday for a sing-song. Organizing recently, after a period of visiting other churches for worship, they have a membership of about 40 with an average attendance at Sunday school of 38. Unlike most churches, their evening attendance is much larger than that of the morning, with an usual evening attendance of 70 to 100. Since reorganizing the church has had nine conversions. What has happened to the spirit of America? Ten years ago we set out to answer the challenge of communist aggression. With a great sense of unity and determination, we dedicated ourselves to meeting strength with strength. Where people in the world were hungry, we fed them, where people were naked, we clothed them; where they were destitute, we shared our abundance. This was a great show of America's spirit, the spirit of free men. And the world trusted us and respected us for it. Eight months ago the communists challenged us anew with the firing of the first Russian Sputnik. This time the American answer was slow in coming. There was no great unity, no immediate dedication. For each voice raised to say, "Let's move, let's get going," there were other voices raised to say, "Wait—let's not do too much." Again, when our great economy began to falter, this same confusion, this same kind of cross-purposes, appeared in our midst. When friendly neighbors began to ask questions about our policies, again this reaction came — division where once there was unity, hesitation where once there had been action. Outbreaks of anti-Americanism have come in many parts of the world — in Venezuela, in Peru, in Lebanon, in France, in Canada, in the British Parliament, in Indonesia. These are not hostile nations. These are people who have been, and must continue to be, our friends. But what has happened? It is far too easy for us to say that the communists have been at work. That is more an excuse than an answer. Many of these nations love freedom and loathe communism no less than we do. While the stone-throwers and the mobs in the street may be a minority, there was a day not long ago when these elements would not have dared attack symbols of American freedom so openly. What has changed? The American spirit has not shown through the gathering clouds. Boldness, courage, new ideas, new directions, new initiative — these have not been forthcoming. This has not been the America that free man used to know, the America they could trust and respect. The love of freedom — the zeal for freedom — must burn

Brownfield News-Herald, Sunday, June 1, 1958 PAGE SEVEN
Mrs. Pate Collier of 901 East Oak and her sister, Mrs. John Dick Moorhead of Sundown, went to Odessa last week to attend a shower for Ruth Wilson of Vernon, bride-elect of their cousin, Jimmie Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Proctor of Odessa. Jimmie is the grand-son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Markham of Morton, formerly of Brownfield.
In men's hearts before it can be given meaning in a nation's laws. We must rekindle those fires of liberty—within ourselves before we can warm the hearts of other men. In other lands to a new trust in America.

TESTS ARE PROMISING

Important Break - Through Seen For Cerebral Palsey

Extensive studies now being conducted in Dallas may mean another dramatic step forward in the long uphill battle against the crippling disease, cerebral palsey. Dallas research indicates that for the first time one of a series of new muscle relaxant drugs may help the tiny victims of the dread disease, for which there is as yet no cure or preventive. "Cerebral palsey has emerged as the nation's No. 1 crippler of children, with half a million known cases and 30,000 new ones being added yearly," Dr. Nicholson J. Eastman, head of the obstetrics department at Johns Hopkins University in Baltimore, Md., and immediate past president of the American Academy for Cerebral Palsey, told doctors and scientists at the Academy's annual convention in New Orleans last fall. Cerebral palsey has moved up to become the top villain among disease cripplers since the Salk vaccine has so greatly reduced the number of poliomyelitis cases. Dr. Philip N. Hood, director of the Dallas center where the tests are being conducted with the new drug, said they are being made as what the medical world calls "a double blind study." This means that one group of patients is given the drug while a similar group gets a "placebo", or sugar pill. The experiments are being conducted at the cerebral palsey treatment center of the Dallas Society for Crippled Children, an Easter Seal agency, which has for several years run clinical tests on new medications for leading drug companies. The center was selected for this work because of its nationwide prominence in cerebral palsey treatment. It is one of 31 Easter Seal treatment centers in the state, where aid is given to victims of all types of crippling conditions. Neither doctors, parents nor patients know who is taking the "placebo" and who is taking the real drug. The information is kept only by the doctor who later evaluates the results of the study. A careful analysis is made on each group of children, and the newest drug tested has produced for the first time different result in the two groups. Dr. Hood said that experts have long known that psychological reactions play a big role in cerebral palsey. When young patients think they are supposed to show improvement, they usually do so, to a certain extent. On most drugs tested in the past, the extent of muscle relaxation and, therefore, improvement was about the same for both groups of children, giving the staff at the Dallas center the hunch that the main effect of the drugs was psychological. Cotton was grown in Virginia in 1619.

"Wherever Crops Grow, There's a Growing Demand for John Deere Farm Equipment"

KERSH IMPLEMENT CO.
SEAGRAVES ROAD

See Us For JOHN DEERE Quality Farm Equipment

QUADRILLE — A major attraction opening night of the three-day Posse rodeo will be the performance of the Lubbock Mounted Quadrille, pictured above. Mrs. Whitey Beason is secretary-manager. A downtown parade at 3 p.m., Thursday will herald opening day of the rodeo, stock for which is being furnished by Morris Stephens of Quitaque. Brownfield businessmen wishing to enter floats in the parade have been asked by possemen to telephone Eddie Courtney at 2181.

IT'S TOPS — Figure pictured at left is L. V. Wagner of Tahoka Road, who stands in a 103-acre field of amazing thick and tall rye, 8 miles east and 2 west of Brownfield. Now in the Conservation Reserve Program of the Soil Bank, the acreage was sown with 60 pounds of seed to the acre, with no fertilizer and no irrigation. "However," says Wagner, "the good rains and snow of last winter was all that was needed to make this rye grow this good." Picture was taken over the top of a station wagon. In right panel, Wagner stands at edge of field planted to wheat following peas and on ground recently deep broken. It's owned by his son, Bryce Wagner, and is on land owned by Jack Wagner. No fertilizer was used in planting. In some plots, Wagner expects the wheat yield to be 45 bushels, and in others, 30 bushels. L.

V. has 38 acres of wheat in the area, and Bryce, 20 acres. Jack Wagner has 250 acres, all of which probably will be ready for harvest about mid-June.

Soybean Production Hints Are Given By West Texas Farmer

West Texas farmers planting soybeans for the first time this year may benefit from the experiences of producers who have grown this crop for several seasons. Factual information on soybean production in West Texas has also been developed at Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in Lubbock, Paymaster Farm at Aiken, and the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway.

Variety, soil temperature and moisture, and length of daylight period, all strongly influence soybean yields. A soaking preplant irrigation, followed by a clean cultivation to control weeds, should have the soil ready for planting. The Lee variety soybean has proven to be the best adapted for West Texas.

Soil temperature should be 60 degree F. or higher, soil moisture level high, and seeds should be inoculated with a special soybean bacteria inoculant just prior to planting. The Lee variety soybean should be planted between May 25 and June 15. Rate of planting should be from 45 to 60 pounds of good quality seed, or an average of one seed per inch of row, planted on 36 to 40 inch rows.

Cotton planting and cultivating equipment is used for soybeans, and the same row width setting of equipment eliminates the need to reset for each crop. Soybeans should be planted in a very shallow furrow or as near to ground level as possible. When planted deeper, early cultivations often cover the first few nodes which may cause a reduction in yields. A planting depth of 1 inch is ideal, but in any case, seed must be planted in good moisture.

The use of the rotary hoe following seedling emergence affords good early weed control. One or more later cultivations prevents further weed competition with the small soybean plant. Irrigation of soybeans is essentially the same as for cotton until plants begin to bloom. From this time on, high soil moisture must be maintained throughout the bloom set, pod and seed development period.
