

VFW Post's Annual Pilgrimage To Veterans Hospital Slated Today

TO MINIMUM OF THREE MILLION GALLONS DAILY HERE

Rocketing Temps Up Use Of Water

Recent torrid temperatures already have sent Brownfield water usage soaring well past the 3 million gallon mark daily and the worst is yet to come, according to Harold Jones, pump superintendent.

High point of the week was last Thursday, when Brownfield residents used 3,172,000 gallons, said Jones. "However, Friday's shower caused usage to drop to 2,478,000 gallons," he added.

The top mark last year was hit on July 12, when 3,462,000 gallons were used. "Usage was not especially heavy last year," he said, "because we had several rains that reduced lawn watering."

Jones said the upturn in water usage began about May 30. "Almost 2 million gallons were used that date in comparison with about 850,000 gallons normally used through the winter months."

The superintendent noted heaviest usage normally is between 4 p.m. and 11 p.m. on hot days. A shower or cool weather reduces usage considerably, he said.

To obtain maximum results from watering lawns, Jones pointed out that water should be turned on after sundown or early in the morning. "Water used in the heat of the day evaporates quickly and often causes the lawn to turn brown," he said. "Watering operations should be accomplished during cool periods so grass roots can get full value from the moisture."

City Secretary A. J. (Jake) Geron also pointed out that many residents lose a lot of water by allowing it to run out on the ground or down the sewer. "Faucets, commodes and other water connections should be checked to assure that they are not allowing water to be wasted," he said. "These are the most common causes of costly water bills."

EFFECTIVE JULY 1

PO Box Rent To Be Raised Some

Rental for small post office boxes will be boosted slightly the next quarter, beginning July 1, according to William Brown, Brownfield postmaster.

Small box rental will be increased from $1.10 quarterly to $1.20, said Brown. "However, all other rates for boxes and drawers will remain the same," he added.

Effective July 1, rates will be $1.20 for small boxes, $1.50 drawers and $3 for large boxes, $2.25 for small drawers and $3 for large drawers. A total of 735 boxes and drawers are in use at the Brownfield office.

Brown also urged patrons to pay rent prior to the first of the month. "Regulations require us to stop service on any box that does not have rental paid," he concluded.

PUDDLE JUMPING — Small lakes were prevalent in most of Brownfield Monday after a brief downpour dumped up to 1.14 inches in parts of the city. These vehicles were snapped as they plowed through a pool that formed at the intersection of Tahoka and Lubbock Roads. (NEWSfoto)

HILARIOUS INCIDENTS SOFTENED PAST TORTURES

Modern Beauty Parlor and Its Results Far Cry From The 12-Hour Permanent

By KLYDIE SCUDDAY
NEWS Woman's Editor

Are women becoming more aware of their look? More prosperous? Or is it merely a matter of follow the leader.

In 1930, 15 per cent of the women of America went to beauty parlors. In 1940 it went to 35 per cent; 1950, 65 per cent, and by 1956 it had jumped to 70 per cent, according to figures from distributors of beauty parlor supplies. There could be another angle. There has been a decided increase in women working away from the home, giving them more spending money and less time to do their own work. As working women, they also must look their best.

There has been a great change in the beauty parlors and their work. Years ago it was considered a day's job to get a permanent. Women took their lunch with them or had some of the family bring a plate at the noon hour. Cafes located near beauty parlors often delivered meals.

Did you ever watch anyone eat with pounds of weight on her head and sitting in a erect position. The victim dared not tilt the head lest one of the hot clamps come in contact with her body.

To complete the picture, feature one or two people standing at the side in a stooped position and blowing their dear might. Those earlier beauty parlors didn't have commercial blowers to cool the heads of poor women set on beautifying themselves.

It isn't a restful picture but in that day the woman who could afford a permanent was indeed considered lucky. The first machine permanents were also a bit of a gamble. Not only the hair but often the scalp was burned, and occasionally the customer came out without hair. Extreme cases required the wearing of a white gauze turban for several months.

Jewel Walker of Jewel's Beauty Parlor said, "The first time I was ever inside a beauty parlor, I went with an aunt. She got a permanent and when the operator was taking her hair down one of the curls also came off. I never did tell my aunt, but the operator slyly hid the curl in her pocket and went on with the job. I wondered how often she emptied her pockets."

According to some of the Brownfield operators with longer service records here, beauty parlor work used to be done in the living room of the home, with the customer being taken to the bathroom for her shampoo.

Chances are that some Brownfield women still remember the marcell and spiral waves given by early operators. They also tell of the care

Memorial Services Are Held by Lodges

Memorial services for two members were held Monday night in a joint meeting of Brownfield Oddfellows and Rebekahs.

Honored were the late Mrs. Eldora White, longtime Terry County district clerk, and O. B. Presley, longtime resident.

The service was conducted by Mrs. Delton Tatum, who placed a rose on the Bible for Mrs. White, who joined the Rebekah Lodge soon after it was organized here.

Assisting in the event was E. V. Riley, who also placed a rose for Presley, who joined the Oddfellows here in 1946.

Indians Stop Rally, Beat Sox in Tuesday Little League Action

A Red Sox rally in the lagging fell two runs short as the Indians continued their winning ways with an 8-6 victory in Tuesday's Little League action.

The Sox rallied for three runs and loaded the bases before the Indians halted the threat. Major blows of the tilt came in the second inning when J. W. Harrell and Archie Jennings hit back-to-back homers for the Indians.

Other results were: Raiders forfeited to the Longhorns; Buffs 3, Eagles 1, and Giants 11, Braves 6.

Of those first permanents. "You didn't set them, you steamed them. The steaming was done by cutting a small hole in a paper sack and fitting it over the spot of a steaming teakettle. The head then was inserted into the paper sack and after a time the hair was restored to its frizzy state."

Mrs. Homer Winston is not a beauty parlor operator but she says she once owned a shop. She tells of one of her operators:

"The girl stuttered, and when she gave women instructions on caring for their permanents she would say, 'Team it, team it.' They didn't understand what she meant and wondered why their permanents didn't last as long as those given in other shops."

Ruth McCain of Mac's Beauty Shop tells of the first burr she gave. "The woman really liked long hair. She had blonde hair and when I put a light rinse on it for some reason it turned a sky blue. The customer was real sweet about it and even got to where she liked her short hair."

Green Hair Result
She laughed. "This other time I was giving a tint and discovered I didn't have any vinegar. I thought lemon juice would do just as well. You heard of 'The Boy With The Green Hair?' That woman's hair was as green as grass and smelled just like milkweed. A burr wasn't necessary in this case though, as shampooing restored it to its original color."

Mrs. McCain said she has had several customers faint in the process of getting a permanent.

IN HITCH-N-POST

Friday Meeting of UCT Is Scheduled

Monthly meeting of Brownfield Council 825, United Commercial Travelers of America, will be held at 7 p.m., Friday in the Hitch-n-Post.

The session was called by Johnny Harrison, Senior Counselor, who explained that entertainment and a brief report would follow the dinner.

Wives are expected to attend with their member-husbands, and Harrison will report on the June 6-7 session of the Grand Council in Houston.

The event also was attended by R. H. Casstevens, council secretary.

Reservations for the Friday session can be made by calling Harrison at 2179 or Don Bynum at 2188.

IN HOBBS TOURNEY

Don O'Neal Grabs Fifth Place Berth

Despite a pair of sub-par rounds, Brownfield's Don O'Neal finished fifth Sunday in the annual Hobbs Invitational Golf Tournament behind the blistering pace set by Texas Tech teammate Chris Blocker, who won handily with a 201 total.

O'Neal, son of Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neal of 706 East Lons, tallied a 210 total with rounds of 70, 71 and 69 on the par 71 course.

He was one of five Tech golfers finishing in the top 10 finalists in the championship flight. Others were Blocker, John Farquhar, Don Nix and Jimmy Johnson.

Jerry Stoltz, former editor of the NEWS and present publisher of the Lovington Press, finished 11th in the Hobbs meet with a 220 total.

O'Neal left Sunday with his teammates to compete in the Trans-Mississippi tourney this week in Hutchinson, Kans. Qualifying rounds were slated Monday and Tuesday and a match play started Wednesday.

Cards Take Top In Babe Ruth, Rap Sox

Despite a five-hit pitching chore by Eddie Gutierrez, the Red Sox dropped a 9-4 decision to the Cardinals in a Babe Ruth League makeup tilt Tuesday night.

Darwin Cheatham, Cardinal pitcher, allowed nine scattered singles to lead the winners to their sixth victory in seven starts. The loss gave the Sox a 2-5 record.

The win gives the Cards a one-half game bulge over the Dodgers who were idle with a 5-1 record. Kenneth Grubben collected three of the Card's five hits to lead the attack. Gutierrez picked up three hits to lead the losers.

MEN OF '51' ASSOCIATION

Group Renews Determination To Obtain Federal Designation Of Major Route

The manager of Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, Joe Satterwhite, was reelected last week as vice president of the International Parks Highway Association.

Election was held during the organization's national convention last Friday and Saturday in Hot Springs, S. D., the event also attended by County Judge Herb Chesshir and Commissioners Bob Burnett and Carl Stephenson.

The 100 delegates from six states were convened in South Dakota to renew their efforts for a federal designation for a major highway from Canada to Mexico.

Other officers reelected were Harley Rhoades of Burlington, Colo., president; R. A. Singer of Dimmitt, secretary; T. W. Backlund of Burlington, treasurer, and C. W. Cox of Lamar, Colo., honorary secretary.

The group entrusted the six state divisions of the association to seek the designation — Federal Hwy. 31 — from their respective state engineers, the requests to be presented by Sept. 15.

Principal address at the three-day session was presented by Satterwhite, introduced by Rhoades.

The speaker urged the six state associations to push ahead vigorously with their responsibilities, reminding his audience that the main job ahead was to get federal designation for the entire route.

Until federal numbering is granted, the states, Satterwhite explained, must seek state designations of numbers, such as 851.

"After we get the designation," Satterwhite continued, "we must push ahead with a vigorous advertising campaign to get tourists on our highway."

THE SQUARE
AROUND What's New?
By Weldon Callaway

What is it? There it goes out—yep, there it is... landed on the northwest side of the square — what's taking place — little men coming out loaded down with "Values Out of This World" and headed for Cobb's.

As you probably have already guessed, Knight Furniture is having a gigantic "Table Sell-A-Bration" and you probably will never see anything ever again to equal such a give-away price event. Hurry — you name it, they've got it in this group of over 250 beautiful tables.

A man has to love with himself, and he should see to it that he always has good company.

Is your car's paint beginning to fade, do the kids kinda hate to ride in that "old" car?

Equalization Board To Convene Monday

A board of equalization will be convened at 9 a.m., Monday in the Commissioners Court.

The board will be available to determine, fix and equalize all taxable property in Terry County.

Board will comprise county commissioners: E. S. Tankersley of Precinct 1, Carl Stephenson of Precinct 2, Eulice Farar of Precinct 3, Bob Burnett of Precinct 4, and Judge Herb Chesshir.

Officers Named For Meadow Lions Club

Jesse Brooks was installed president of the organization. Other officers include Tom Verner, first vice president; Carl Stephenson, second vice president; Joe Burleson, secretary-treasurer; Robert Brooks, tail-twister, and Robert Beasley, Lion-tamer.

Guests included Mrs. Barnes and members' wives.

The thing for you to do is to take your car to Johnny Harrison at Jack Bailey Chevrolet Body Shop and get a new paint job at a specially reduced price — see their ad in today's NEWS.

If you have a moment—stop and try to remember... What happened to the Constitutional form of government we had at one time? Where did we fail our past and future citizens by not upholding our "true" Federal Enterprise way of life?

The time has come for us to take a careful look at the type of persons who now pretend to "be working for our best interest in government."

What happened to the "government of the people, for the people and by the people"? It isn't a matter of legislative government any more — now it is a "judicial" form of government—many of the one-time precious freedoms and rights have been wiped out, not by the people, directly, but by the people indirectly when they relaxed in a state of complacency and failed to take an active part and keep a "weather-eye" on our government officials.

It's not too late to make a few needed changes... between now and July 26, date of the first Democratic Primary. See No. 3 Page 3 casual look of the chemise or sack dress."

To keep that younger look, more women are turning to hair coloring. Sales of supplies to beauty parlors reveal that only two per cent of the customers had tint put on their hair in 1930. In 1940 it was only 7 per cent, but by 1956 the figure had jumped to 39 per cent.

As yet Brownfield operators haven't gone in for these purple or green dyes, but in other places they have. So... one can never tell what women will be calling for in the future.

Little League — or, rather baseball in general — and golf seems to dominate the sports scene these hot days.

It appears that the Yankees and Indians will battle for the LL major loop championship right down to the wire. The Oilers and Eagles are all alone at the top of minor loop standings, and it looks like a three-way race in Blue Jeans.

We have observed, however, that any team has the capabilities to spring an upset at any time. A case in point is the Cubs. They took a shelling at the hands of the cellar-dwelling Braves, then turned around to beat the Indians. You just can't make any bets on these youngsters.

This week's games mark the end of the first half of play in the league. Season will end July 18.

Bible School Slated At First Methodist Church On Sunday

First Methodist Church Vacation Bible School will start at 4:30 p.m. Sunday with "The Life of Jesus" as the general topic for all age-levels, according to Mrs. W. A. Gee, school director.

Following the introductory session Sunday, a family picnic will be served, with each family bringing a basket supper. Drinks will be served by the church.

The Cherub Choir will sing as an added feature for the Sunday night church services. Mrs. Coke Toliver, director of the group, urges "Mothers of cherub members should have their children dressed in their robes and in the choir room, adjoining the sanctuary, promptly at 7:15 p.m. Mrs. Robert Baumgardner is pianist for the choir."

Beginning Monday, the sessions will be held from 8:30 to 11 a.m. through Saturday. Commencement exercises are set for 7:30 p.m. June 29, in the sanctuary as a part of the regular evening worship service.

Mrs. James E. Tidwell will direct activities of the pre-kindergarten department with the assistance of Mmes. Bill Gorby and Kenneth Threet. Mrs. Wayland Parker will be in charge of the primary department and junior activities will be under the direction of Mmes. J. H. Carpenter and Paul Turner. Mrs. Tim Faulkenberry is secretary of the school.

The school is for all children from three through 12 years of age. A nursery will be provided for infants and toddlers of workers' children, only.

man, this week passed on some advance information on fall grid prospects.

He notes that the Raiders will have 20 of 28 1957 lettermen back, in addition to one from 1956 and one from 1954. Nine of the group are starters.

"Added experience should result in improvement over 1957, although the strengthened schedule can partly offset the effect in the win-loss column," he says. "The line will be weak, especially at guards, but the backfield is experienced."

We noted with interest that the department — not meaning Holmes — still touts everyone on the squad except the man who makes it move best—Jerry Bell.

In our opinion, Bell is the best quarterback on the Tech squad and proved it despite muzzling by frequent removal from the lineup after he moved the Raiders inside the opponent's 20. He's a smart ball-handler and signal-caller as well as being a top-flight passer.

Perhaps Joe Kerbel and J. T. King will help Bell receive recognition of his ability for a change.

Gable, Doris Day To Team In 'Teacher's Pet' At The Regal

Teamed for the first time, Clark Gable and Doris Day arrive Sunday at the Regal Theatre in the Periberg-Seaton production of "Teacher's Pet," an audience-pleaser that has been called one of the season's great entertainments.

A Paramount release co-starring Gig Young and Mamie Van Doren, the VistaVision film is a newspaper-themed blend of humor and romance, written for the screen by Fay and Michael Kanin.

"Teacher's Pet" is the story of tough city editor Gable, who thought books were useless until he fell in love and learned experience hadn't taught him everything; journalism professor Doris Day, who always looked for brains in a man but secretly hungered for brains; psychologist Gig Young, who learned everything there was to know but couldn't use any of it when it came to women, and torrid nightclub dancer Mamie Van Doren, who never gave brains a thought as long as he had her natural talents to rely on.

Heading the supporting cast are Nick Adams, Peter Baldwin and Vivian Nathan, with the mile-a-minute world of the big city newspaper authentically reproduced by 49 newsmen from all over the country, who

A labor bill designed to drive racketeers and crooked officials out of the union movement and to protect the rights of workers, management, and the people generally has been reported to the Senate by the Labor Committee.

The bill has the support of Senator John McClellan, the Arkansas Senator who has led the Senate investigation into labor racketeering. Senator McClellan is probably better informed about the evils growing out of dishonest labor leadership than any other man in the country. He has given close study to proposed labor legislation, and he suggested several strengthening amendments to the bill.

An analysis of the bill, as reported by the Committee, shows that it would have the following important effects:

The right of secret ballot would be guaranteed union members in selecting their officials.

Crooked or rigged elections would be contested in Federal courts under a system provided by the bill.

Fair standards to govern

the firm's replica of a famous city room.

union trusteeships would be established, and a time limit would be placed on them so that union would be under trusteeship for an indefinite period.

The spotlight of publicity would be focused on "middle-man" deals that are against the best interests of the working man.

Effective reporting of union operations would be required. Union leaders and officials would be required to reveal any personal financial transactions having a bearing on the manner in which they conduct their responsibilities in order to disclose any conflict of interest.

Needed barriers against the control of unions by crooks — by unreformed, convicted thieves, embezzlers and extortionists — would be erected.

Union treasuries and trust funds would be protected against misappropriation and embezzlement.

Criminal penalties would be imposed against men who give bribes and men who take bribes in labor-management relations.

Union officials would be prevented from using union funds to perpetuate themselves in office and election ballots would

In the few years since 1951, Texas has moved from seventh to first place among 12 southern states in the amount and enforcement of protective farm legislation.

Our state is no longer regarded as an agriculture dumping ground. Today, Texas has come into its own both as a producer and consumer of high-quality farm products.

We have asked for and received from the Texas Legislature the necessary weapons to clean up many of our farm problems. Ten years ago, we were a convenient, inviting garbage pail for the nation, serving as a wide-open disposal point for bad seed, unhealthy nursery plants, poor quality eggs and a host of other inferior products.

Until the necessary laws were passed and put into effect, the old saying was "If you can't sell it here, send it to Texas." Now this picture has changed. We can put more trust in our own production and know, too, that farm goods shipped into the state must meet certain standards of quality.

The clean-up of the grain-scandals through the Texas Grain Warehouse Law is a case in point. Texas was one of the first states to strengthen grain legislation after the national scandals of 1952, and no major outbreak of public defraudment has occurred since that time.

Through the Texas Seed Act, seed buyers have learned that testing and inspection protects them from fraud and deceit which earlier ran rampant.

Our nursery industry was offered greater protection by the revamping of the Texas Nursery Law in 1953. Strict inspections and impartial enforcement have prevented any major outbreaks of plant diseases and have protected unknowing homeowners from being defrauded by misrepresented stock.

The Texas Legislature five years ago approved a modernization plan which gave the Texas Department of Agriculture its first major overhaul in 47 years. As a result, many departmental programs offer greater services and yet are on a self supporting basis, bringing the need for tax-money to a bare minimum.

We are now leaders in the south. But we must look to the day when Texas will find its rightful place at the top of all the 48 states in providing protection to producers and consumers alike.

be required to be preserved. It would make ineligible for office convicted criminals and union officials who willfully falsify or destroy records.

These are worthy objectives. The bill does not, of course, cover all areas in which legislation is needed. But its enactment would represent some long steps in the right direction.

In the opinion of men who have thoroughly explored the problem, it is a bill that, if enacted and properly administered and enforced will drive many unsavory characters out of the union movement and strengthen the position of honest, decent unionism and its leaders.

That is an objective on which the great majority of Americans can unite.

TALL IN THE SADDLE

Texans have a choice of a refreshing new personality for their junior United States Senator in the Democratic Primary election on July 26. He is William A. (Bill) Blakley, a rancher, accountant, lawyer and businessman, who served by appointment for several months last year in that national chamber.

Bill Blakley was unknown politically when thrust into the national limelight on that day little more than a year ago. The tall Texan entered the United States Senate as a Democrat and his presence kept the balance of power with his party. Not in many years has such an important appointment, this one made by Governor Allan Shivers, brought spontaneous praise from so many national figures. Speaker Sam Rayburn, Majority Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, the present governor, Price Daniel, and many others, were high in their accolades.

Bill Blakley learned his accounting and law "from the books" and he learned his ranching since the age of 10 when he "worked out" along with three brothers and two sisters to earn his living. He was born as his folks were moving to Oklahoma Territory from Missouri in a covered wagon to homestead an 80-acre farm in Custer County.

He ranches near Dallas, west of San Angelo and in New Mexico and is just one of the cowboys at roundup time. He stands on principle and is a staunch defender of the United States Constitution as it was written, in plain language. He is concerned over threats to the sovereignty of the states, government waste and non-essential spending. He wants most the boundaries separating the three branches of government to remain firm. And he believes as strongly in the individual liberty of the people.

Bill Blakley can find the answer to public questions in the constitution and he is alarmed over what he terms a critical situation in the nation's affairs. This is why he made the decision only a few weeks ago to offer himself as a candidate for the Senate. News writers have found him true and clear in his thinking. He expresses himself in simple terms and asserts himself with determination on his beliefs.

Bill Blakley is a Democrat who sits tall in the saddle.

Accent Is On Living Ease And Comfort

By KLYDIE SCUDDAY
NEWS Woman's Editor

Bright flamingo colors greet the visitor calling at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hallbauer at 1208 East Cardwell.

The guest enters between walls of light, natural colored brick, forming partial walls to give the appearance of a hall. Protruding from the far wall is a brick planter box, giving a touch of green to the living room at the left.

Decorated in shades of red and pink, the living room has a warm feeling and the pink lining of the light weight green draw drapes gives the room a mystic air. Mrs. Hallbauer, selected leather topped a French provincial furniture for her living room, with sofa in the newer quilted material.

In contrast to her furniture in the room was the blond spinet. The individual was considered with the addition of one floor lamp and three table lamps, giving light where needed.

On a table beneath the windows was a portrait of her son, Leslie, now in school in Wichita, Kan. Flanking the table are matching occasional chairs, upholstered in a fabric blending with other furnishings.

Uses Family Heirlooms
To the right of the living room is found the dream of any housewife, the paneled family room. The room is large but protruding brick walls divide it into distinct units that add to pleasant living.

The brick fireplace is a part of the brick wall forming the entrance and has its own furniture grouping of Early American Rock Maple pieces. Built into the wall at one side of the fireplace is a TV set that can be viewed from most places in the room. Mrs. Hallbauer used family heirlooms to achieve special interest.

The grandfather clock on the mantle is flanked by two old-fashioned kerosene lamps. Mrs. Hallbauer explained, "It gives a natural look and they are ready in case the electric goes off."

An old-fashioned china wash basin and pitcher serve as vase for red roses on a bar separating the room from the living room.

On the hearth stands an old crock churn with its dasher. A little paint and a bit of artificial ivy have made a piece to be desired of the churn. In the what-not shelves on the left wall is found its companion.

AT EASE—Pictured is Allen Hallbauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hallbauer of 1208 East Cardwell, as he takes things easy on his sofa bed in his room designed especially for he and his brother, Leslie. (NEWSfoto)

ery. Miss Linda Castleberry of Friona, the bridegroom's sister, played organ music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Rudy Quizenberry of Lubbock as she sang "Because" and "Whither Thou Goest."

Entering on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of Chantilly-type lace and tulle over net and taffeta. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline, with sheer lobe embroidered in iridescent sequins and long petal-point sleeves. The skirt was fashioned in pleated tulle ruffles and lace panels ending in a chapel sweep.

A pearl crown held her fingertip silk illusion veil. The bridal bouquet was an orchid surrounded by feathered white carnations and lilies-of-the-valley. It was carried on a white Bible.

the right is the guest room or at the end of the hall to the left is a bedroom as feminine as its little owner's name, Cindy.

Shades of lavender and pink accented with highpoints of red have been used with ruffles and bows for that feminine effect. The Early American bed with its quilted spread and ruffled canopy and a collection of stuffed toys would be the dream of any little miss.

Family Pictures Used
The peg board hanging above the powder table guarantees space for treasured keepsakes. On the opposite wall are hanging shelves for a collection of dolls. A peek into the closet finds a space for everything, including more toys.

An arrangement of family pictures adorn the hall. Considering type of picture and style of clothes worn, some of the pictures were taken years ago.

Recent pictures show the three Hallbauer children, also Mrs. Hallbauer's twin brother and sister, Jack and Joan Harlan, whom she reared after their mother's death when the twins were only seven. Jack still lives in Brownfield and Joan is now Mrs. Ray Bowen of Belleville, Kan. with two sons of her own.

The bath off the front hall is done in green tile and pink fixtures with a dressing table running the length of the room. Florescent lights frame the long mirror over the dressing table. The light finish of the guest room's modern furniture is complemented with floral green draw drapes and an antique spread. On the triple dresser, matching boudoir lamps blend in with the color scheme.

It is necessary to reenter the family room to reach the master bedroom. The oversized bed of the old Franch walnut suit is covered with a quilted spread in a brown floral print splashed with tones of pink. A Duncan Phyfe sofa, brought from her former home and re-upholstered, in quilted material, adds a living area to the room.

A large closet has built-in features for organized storage. The bath features rose tile and fixtures with shades of brown to match the bedroom. It also is equipped with full-length dressing table and mirror.

Has Large Patio
The boys' room is reached through a door at the back of the family room and down a hall from the utility room.

Sofa beds give Leslie and Allen separate beds and with their figured light green spreads, give a base to the brown of the colonial shutters covering the windows.

A wall display of emblems surrounding a gun, at one end of the room adds to the masculine look. At the other end of the room is a study area with desk and chair. The walls behind the desk are covered in treasures dear to a boy's heart with peg board being used for easy display.

The boys' bath, done in tones of green and brown, features the glass cabinet shower for a masculine look.

The utility room, in green and brown, is equipped with labor-saving fixtures of white. The deep freeze is handy for easy storage of frozen foods. It is from the utility room that entrance is gained to the patio, viewed from the picture window of the family room. A part of the area is covered but

On the outer rim of the patio is the brick fireplace for preparing outdoor meals. There are plenty of redwood tables, chairs and benches to assure plenty of space for guests.

Early landscaping plans are already evident to give the visitor an idea of the beauty of the Hallbauer home.

The standards will require all bread and rolls to be properly labeled so as to truthfully reflect their ingredients and nutritious qualities.

Patterned after federal food standards, they will be administered by the State Health Department's Food and Drug Division. A majority of the baking industry fully supports the standards.

Labeling means much more than a colorful wrapping around a loaf of bread. It includes, among other things, the advertising claims made by the maker for his product.

A food is misbranded when its labeling is false or misleading in any particular, if it is offered for sale under the name of another food, or if it is an imitation of another food (unless its label bears in prominent type the word "imitation" and immediately thereafter the name of the food imitated).

Bread is also mislabeled if it purports to be or is represented as a food for which a "standard of identity" has been described and it fails to conform to that standard.

Standards not only protect consumers in the marketplace; they also protect honest manufacturers by assuring fair competition. The consumer may select and serve standardized foods with complete confidence in their composition and integrity.

The law's basic requirements for clean handling, informative labeling and no adulteration gives consumers an insight into the purity, wholesomeness and nutritious quality of the product.

Bread labels must show net weight or numerical count of Bread labels must show net weight, one pound, or "one dozen doughnuts," and the name of the product such as "Smith's Enriched Bread," or "Jones' Raisin Bread."

While there is no specific requirements as to type size, the standards do provide that the label shall be considered false if the information is not prominently displayed in such a manner that it can be easily read.

You, as a consumer of bread and rolls, can help make the new standards work by carefully reading the label on the bread you buy.

Blue limousine... Dented fender... Let's see if the paint matches the stuff that rubbed off on our car...

Same thing! This is the car we've been looking for! But it doesn't make sense... Why would those monkeys have brought down to the game?

Depends on who those monkeys are, Johnny...

Which I'll know when I check out their license number!

From the way he uses a gun that baby's hobby to play around with! What's our next move, snap?

Get to Corky and spill the bad news about what's happened to Donny! A police squad should be here in about ten minutes!

None of which is going to help pull Gullet out of his pitching slump!

Another hit! They're closing in! Poor guy must be worried silly over that Donny Brook dame! Where's Hazard? Why doesn't he show up with her...?

It's a long story, Corky...

Hazard! Where's the girl? Why isn't she with you?

There's hazard now! But Donny's not with him! Something happened...

Oh, no! Gullet just threw a home-run ball... with the bases loaded yet!

Strike!

Nice going, Beetle! You struck out another one!

Strike three!

You did it! A no-hit game!

What an arm! What control!

You're a natural, Beetle!

Sarge wants all you new guys outside, Cornsby!

Soon as I mail this letter to Mom, telling her how much I like the army!

You like the army?

Sure, with these swanky barracks and soft beds who wouldn't like such luxury?

Letter for you, Mz Cornsby!

Early Fruiting May Be More Important Than Upped Yields

Early fruiting of the cotton plant may be more important to South Plains cotton farmers this year than increased yields, some cotton authorities believe.

And to obtain early fruiting, they're recommending a early season insect control. Dr. H. G. Johnston, former head of the Texas A&M College Entomology Department and now with the National Cotton Council, said recently that increased yield should not be the only factor for evaluating early season insect control.

With the campaign now under way by cotton leaders on the Plains for production of high quality cotton, farmers are being urged to set an early crop since early cotton generally is of a better grade than cotton produced later in the season.

Thrips and fleahoppers are the insects which usually damage the South Plains cotton crop early in the season and research at the Lubbock Experiment Station shows that they can be controlled in a manner that should help the cotton farmer increase his profit.

of fruit have been applying an application when the cotton reaches the two to four leaf stage and then following through with two others at weekly intervals. Usually this will take care of these two early-season pests.

Stress on early production this year results from last year's late harvest and severe damage to the crop by an early freeze which cost farmers as a result of a drop in yield and also a drop in grade.

Behind American Business Scenes

By Reynolds Knight

NEW YORK—There are 13.5 million persons between the ages of 15 and 20 in the U.S. Hordes of them descend on the labor market in the summer-time, but this year the pickin' is slimmer than at any time since World War II.

"You just don't go around hiring summer help when grown men are out pounding the pavements for jobs," says an official of a big corporation. A Midwest university placement director comments: "In the 11 years I've been here, this is the worst." The owner of an eastern employment agency confesses he's having trouble even lining up a summer job for his own daughter.

Factory jobs for the ordinary teen-ager are virtually non-existent. Companies having any openings for students are hiring the older collegians who might be expected to join the staff in a year or two. Girls seeking summertime work in an office find few employers hiring vacation replacements. Lower-paying jobs — camp counselors, food store stock boys, city playground helpers, harvest workers on farms — are about as plentiful as ever, but applicants for them have more than doubled.

Concomitant effects: Industries which count on teenagers as consumers of products like phonograph records, candy, movies, sportswear, etc. may feel the impact of less pocket money. Also, some sociologists fear idleness of thousands of high-spirited young people may spur juvenile delinquency.

PUSHBUTTON FARM—The age of pushbutton farming has come a step nearer with construction at Morrison, Ill., of the Midwest's largest consumer-level distributing plant for bulk animal feeds.

The new 720-ton facility, built by a major northwestern Illinois dealer for Nutrena Mills, Inc., was designed for high-speed loading of farm trucks and special bulk vehicles for delivery to on-farm storage and automatic feeding units.

The first supply of feed — 11 rail cars with more than a half-million pounds of hog, cattle and poultry formulas — is thought to be the largest shipment to a single dealer in industry history. The hog feed alone, contained in seven cars, would produce 1,000,000 pounds of pork — equal to the average daily pork consumption of 5,300,000 people — when fed as supplement with farm-grown grain.

Before World War II most feed was bought in bags at local stores, but labor-saving bulk techniques have since boomed to the point where Nutrena expects 50 per cent of its production to be in that form by 1960.

THING TO COME—You can grill hot dogs right in the car with a "carbecue" cooker that sits on the open glove-compartment door and plugs into the cigarette lighter. . . . For $25,000 you can buy an aluminum and glass house on a turntable to revolve with the sun. . . . A new-type motion picture projection lamp called the "brightest artificial light source ever developed" may make possible twilight movies at drive-ins.

MAJOR BREAK-THROUGH — Big electronic data-processing systems now are capable of correcting mistakes with no interruption of work, with no human intervention and with no slackening of the lightning-fast operations.

The discovery of a method to insure virtually uninterrupted accuracy in the performance of the giant "brains" was announced by the Datamatic Division of Minneapolis-Honeywell. The new system is called Orthotronic Control and was invented by Richard M. Bloch, Datamatic's director of product development.

Orthotronic replaces the expensive manual correction of error, it being impossible for electronic tape operating at

'Back-Seat Driver' May Be Solution To Accident Reduction

Want to live longer? Here's one method: Become juddies with that person fidgeting in the back seat of your car or right there beside you, for that matter.

"Two heads are better than one when they're behind the wheel of a car," the National Safety Council says. It believes that the so-called back-seat driver may hold the solution to the traffic accident problem.

peeds of 120,000 decimal digits per second not to be occasionally affected by dust or other adverse influences. All systems today have built-in detection methods by which the machine in effect proofreads its own material and may ring a bell, flash a light, or otherwise say, "I have found an error in the copy." Until now, however, this has then required tedious manual searching of files, or time-consuming re-runs of the tape.

POSTAL PUNCH — Starting August 1, you'll pay a penny more for every first-class letter you mail. Doesn't seem like much to the individual letter-writer, but if you're in business, that extra penny per letter penny per letter looms as a 25 per cent increase in the cost of one large segment of your operations.

Mail-order houses see a definite cut in their profits, because now is no time to raise prices to cover such increases. Many utilities will switch from letters to postcards for billing customers. Hardest hit will be the newspapers and magazines, whose rates go up in three annual steps starting Jan. 1.

And not even a shred of good news for the consumer: Companies say that while they'll whack many of their routine mailing lists, the rate boosts will not slow in any way the delivery of their bills each month.

BITS O' BUSINESS — The Common Cold Foundation blames half of all industry absences on colds, claims 150 million work days and about $2 billion in wages are lost annually. . . . Research outlays are still on the rise, a recent survey showing that 93 per cent of America's 500 key firms this year will equal or top 1957 investments. . . . Better-than-seasonal replacement tire sales may help 1958 set a new high for the seventh straight year.

"We're in favor of motorists combining their driving knowledge and skill with the help of other passengers in the car can give," the Council says.

It agrees that the term "back-seat driver" has a bad connotation. The motorist who's been subjected to nagging "advice" from the rear takes a dim view of interference with his driving.

"But with the proper spirit on both sides, back-seat drivers can be a real help," the Council says.

How? 1. Let your wife, for example, who used to sit with nothing to do on a trip, be your copilot. Her observations—a car sneaking out from a side street, a quick turn in the road ahead—can take a big load off your mind.

2. Studies show that the irritated driver is more accident prone. The wife can help hubby cool off when he's upset over slow-moving cars or heavy traffic.

3. Giving other persons in your car something to keep them from getting bored makes the trip go faster for both of you — and keeps friction at a minimum.

"In addition to her lookout duties, the backseat driver can handle many other details to make motoring more relaxing," the Council says.

"Let her light your cigarette, keep down the roar of your kids in the back seat, and chart your course. There are a thousand and one things she can do for you while you're driving."

"Successful businessmen well know the value of delegating authority. Yet, behind the wheel of a car an executive will try to handle the whole job of driving — often with disastrous results.

"Why do all the work, when minor parts of the job can be handed just as well by your wife?" the Council asks.

"Bringing the back-seat driver up front with you — in other words, giving her responsibilities on a trip — eases your job of driving."

"It may save a life — yours, or the life of the back-seat driver who used to get on your nerves."

Sgt. and Mrs. Cecil Fisher and children of Portus, France are visiting his mother, Mrs. Abbie Fisher, and his sister, Mrs. Roy D. Moore, both of 110 East Buckley.

A man who is never very strong against anything is never very strong for anything.

"Life for most of the world is a puzzle with a peace missing."

Worry is like a rockinghorse; it keeps you going, but it gets you nowhere.

"Labor is rest from the sorrows that greet us; from all the petty vexations that meet us; from the sin-promptings that assail us; from the world-sirens that lure us to ill."

"FAVORITE RECIPE" — Pictured is Mrs. C. N. Dyke of 502 North Fifth as she prepares her favorite recipe, prune cake. Her directions are: Mix one scant cup of cooking oil and 1/2 cup of sugar then add one cup of chopped cooked prunes and three beaten eggs. Alternately add one cup of sour milk to which one teaspoon of soda has been added and two cups of flour that have been sifted with 1/2 teaspoon allspice, two teaspoons of baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon of cinnamon and 1/2 teaspoon cloves. Add one teaspoon vanilla and one cup of nuts and mix well. Bake in two greased layer pans at 350 degrees. For icing mix 1/2 stick of soft oleo and 1/4 cup of powdered sugar. Add 1/2 cup each of cook chopped prunes and nuts and mix well. Add just enough cream to spread. Mrs. Dyke says, "Any time I serve this cake they ask for seconds."

a Dog's Life

DOGS, PORCUPINES, SNAKES AND SKUNKS

By Dr. E. M. Gidlow
Director, Friskies Research Kennels

Being nosy and wanting to investigate everything within sniffing distance, dogs often get too familiar with snakes, skunks and porcupines, with dire results. What to do if your dog's curiosity got the best of him?

Porcupines, probably dog's worst enemy, can inflict severe damage. Contrary to popular belief, these animated pin cushions do not shoot quills. Contact with the erect quills in either their body or tail will leave dozens of barbs in their enemy's anatomy. Dogs have been blinded and killed in this way. Removing the quills is a painful job, one that's best done by your veterinarian with the dog under sedation.

Love story

It seems this girl was so crazy about the service she got from her Phillips 66 Dealer that she'd buy only one gallon of Flite-Fuel at a time... just so she'd have an excuse to come back often.

It was rather trying for this Phillips 66 Dealer, considering all the free services he provides for every customer on every visit. Brushing out inside the car; for example. Cleaning the windows all around. Checking the tires, battery, and radiator.

It turned out just about as you'd expect. Such an obliging fellow, she decided, would be a handy man around the house. So she hooked him.

The trouble is, of course, that most Phillips 66 Dealers are so dedicated to their jobs that household chores get short shrift. No more here for wives. Obvious moral for motorists...

Great Moments in Motoring

Facts and Figures from Auto Touring Service

Plymouth, Massachusetts
Here on a hill that commands the sea, the Pilgrims settled in 1620. Their struggle to carve a new way of life out of the forest is recalled in many monuments and shrines, such as reproductions of the First House and First Fort of "Plymouth" Plantation and famous Plymouth Rock, one of our country's first cornerstones.

Empire State Building
New York City
Sometimes rain is red and snow flutters up instead of down at the observation levels of the world's tallest building. Clear days afford thrilling, distant views. By night Manhattan is breath-taking. The red rain? It's from clay-dust particles that vanish from the raindrops before they reach the ground.

Morrystown National Historical Park, New Jersey
With his army enduring cold more bitter than Valley Forge, Washington headquartered here during the winter of 1779-80. Log huts near by where shivering soldiers sought shelter and a museum of priceless documents, utensils, weapons and uniforms—including the first President's inaugural costume—make this area a historic military "capital."

Leitchworth State Park, N. Y.
Three major waterfalls and the rampaging Genesee River, ripping a 600-foot-deep cut for 17 miles through green woodland—these are highlights of the "Grand Canyon of the East." One waterfall is 107 feet high. An inn, camping cabins and an Indian and pioneer museum are other features of this spectacular tourist attraction about 30 miles south of Rochester.

NO GAMES HERE — Luckily no games were slated Monday at Little League Park. The afternoon downpour inundated most of the diamond and left the restrooms at right completely surrounded by water. Such scenes were commonplace when a brief lashing rain struck here. (NEWSfoto)

Bad Eyesight Cited As Accident Cause

How's your eyesight? If you drive a car the condition of your eyes should be of great concern to you, naturally. Yet, according to a professor of ophthalmology, poor eyesight probably is one of the basic causes of traffic accidents. Add to that the number of accidents that result from blocked vision, and you can see just how important sight is to motorists.

PICKING A BOARDING KENNEL
By Dr. E. M. Gildow
Director, Friskies Research Kennels

If your dog isn't to be included in your vacation plans this year and you can't lodge him with a family or friend, you're probably thinking in terms of boarding kennels. You will undoubtedly want the best available for your pet, so don't wait 'til the last minute; allow plenty of time to look around. Inquire among some friends and neighbors. If two or three vouch for the same kennel, you're off to a good start. Satisfied customers are the best recommendation of all — far more important than individual items you might look for.

The next step is to see the kennel. You'll want to check for cleanliness. A clean kennel is generally one that's well run. Be sure it isn't overcrowded; that each dog has adequate facilities, comfortable quarters and a good-size run. Check to be sure that fences are sturdy and high enough to prevent your dog's escape. Dogs that escape from kennels are often permanently lost. Find out what the dogs are fed.

If you decide this is the kennel for Rover, make your reservation then and there on the spot. Word gets around if a kennel is good and it may be booked solid a week or two hence.

Since you may be in a rush the day you deliver Rover, give the kennel owner the name of your pet's veterinarian, in case of illness. Brief him on any feeding or medical problems. If you request a special diet, be prepared to pay an additional fee.

Feeding Tip: Most kennels feed their boarders a prepared dog food. If your dog isn't accustomed to this fare, it's wise to introduce him to a top grade of commercially-prepared dog food such as Friskies a week or so before he's to be boarded.

Fishing, for the sport of it, is fine. However, in addition to the fun of fishing, most of us like to bring home a good string of edible fish.

If you really want fish to eat, right now is the time to take an off-shore excursion and bring back a tub full of red snapper. It is the real pan fish of the Gulf of Mexico.

However, fishing for red snapper is more work than sport. The first half-dozen give you a thrill. Thereafter it becomes a chore, especially if you are on a good boat over a hot spot. It is nothing unusual to catch a hundred pounds or more of red snapper, if your operator won't take you out unless the weather is right. A good party boat has to be one large enough to withstand about the roughest water that can be thrown at you in the Gulf of Mexico. Generally one of these boats won't get caught in bad weather, but sometimes they do.

Most important of all, the boat must have a good captain. He must know the Gulf and how to read the electronic instruments that tell when he is getting over a reef.

Red snapper inhabit coral reefs on the bottom of the Gulf. These reefs have been built up through millions of years, and afford a fine breeding and hiding place for snapper, as well as groupers and some of the other large fish of the briny deep.

There are a few of these reefs at around 10 to 12 fathoms. (A fathom is approximately six feet.) Most of them are at 25 or 30 fathoms, some at from 30 to 50 fathoms.

You fish for red snapper with heavy equipment, such as a large Ocean City reel on a heavy rod with about 300 yards of good line of from 75 to 125 pound test. For a terminal equip it with a good Weller bottom rig leader, a couple of No. 6 hooks and a 16 ounce sinker.

Bait this terminal with squid, cut bait or frozen bait and let it to the bottom as fast as you can. And we do mean fast. Otherwise, on the way down some smaller fish may take it and you'll lose your bait before it ever reaches bottom.

When your rig is on the bottom, fish it something like fishing for crappie. When a snapper gets on, it's up to you to crank him up as fast as you can. Occasionally if it is a small snapper, a big old amberjack or ling may come by and decide it's hungry. If that happens, then you have a real fight on your hands.

Incidentally, you don't have to buy your own red snapper fishing equipment. It can be rented from any party boat operator. Also he'll show you how to use it. He wants you to make a good catch. If you do you'll tell your friends and his business stays good. Party boats usually are pretty well dated up. It is a good idea to select one you want to use, early, and make a definite date. The boat usually leaves the dock about 2 a.m. and returns about 6 p.m. with a load of fish and some pretty tired but happy fishermen.

These boats carry beverage boxes and most of them have lunches for sale. Some of them are equipped with ship-to-shore telephones, radio and other modern conveniences.

The trip will cost from $10 to $15 for your fare, plus your drinks, and a per-day rent on equipment. You'd better figure on spending about $20 for the day, but if it's a good day you will get more than your money's worth.

If you are interested in such a trip, write the Chamber of Commerce in the area where you'd like to embark from. They'll be glad to send you folders and the names and addresses of the party boat operators. Satisfy yourself you are getting the best one possible. He's the cheapest in the long run. SOMETHING NEW — "Best doggoned improvement in fishing since the invention of fish!" That's what Walteo Products says of its new Stubbaster. The Chicago manufacturer has produced a 21-inch rod (yes—21-inch) that's a novelty to say the least.

But it's more than a novelty. It makes a practical little rig. Secret of Stubbaster's live action is its coil spring, which makes it ideal for the new closed-faced spinning reels.

Another advantage — it brings your fish right up to the net. Stubbaster is not designed to replace the conventional rod. Only to supplement. It breaks down to 14-inches, so you can carry it in your traveling bag or brief case — and most tackle boxes. Casts overhead, underhand or sidearm. It is ideal for crowded boats and in areas overhung with trees.

FISHING WITH MICE—Ever try a mouse for fish bait? As a kid we used to use baby mice. Sometimes we'd take them while they were still young and red. When we wanted to catch a really big fish we'd wait until the mice got big enough to give plenty of action.

For a good many years various tackle manufacturers have been making artificial mice in some form. Most of them really looked like mice. Last year Weber came out with a Dylite mouse for fly fishing. It was pretty good. This year Weber has a new Dylite mouse. It's for spin fishing, and right now it is as hot as a firecracker.

You don't just toss one of these lures out on the water and leave it there. You pull it slowly over a lily pad, then retrieve it fast until you can get it onto the next lily pad. Or you can toss it on a log and pull it off.

We've found it works best where it is retrieved through an area where it is likely a mouse might fall into the water. A big old bass can stand only so much temptation. So he ready when he hits.

TRUE TO LIFE—Weber also has come out with what they call their Lifelike worms. And they look it. They are true to life, complete with natural egg sac. Made of special plastic, they are soft and resilient, yet tough and durable. They come in assorted colors from white to grey, tan, orange, red and black . . . and in a variety of sizes. Also available is a 2-hook, Worm Rig, complete with spinner, No. 8 hooks and beads. For larger sizes they have the Red Worm and Eel Rig which is ideal for spinning, and has No. 2 size hooks.

BEST FISHING DAYS — A study of some old fishing calendars indicates that the best fishing days, year-around, are the first 10-days in each month. Last half of the month seems to be the least desirable. Don't know how this compares with your successes, but it might be interesting to think back and see if maybe there isn't something to it after all.
