Directory Arriving

The city-county directory is expected to arrive here about the first of next month, according to Joe Satterwhite, Brownfield Chamber of Commerce manager.

The directory, prepared by Winters Publishing Company of Amarillo, has been delayed by floods in the vicinity of Monroe, La., where it is printed, according to the company.

Satterwhite said residents will be advised when the publication arrives.

PROGRAM PLANNED

Radio 'Hams' Set Up Field Day Exercises

Members of Terry County Amateur Radio Club will be among some 10,000 "hams" in the United States taking part Saturday in emergency communications drills.

The event will last through Sunday, and is the American Radio Relay League's annual Field Day.

Terry hams will be working at a site 2 miles on Lamesa Hwy., from the Lamesa-Seagraves intersection. Hours will be from 4 p.m. Saturday until Club officials said Wednesday that all visitors would be welcome. The group will be operating under emergency conditions such as with portable electric power plants, low-powered transmitters and antennas.

Radio 'Hams' Set Up Field Day Exercises

Equipment at the Lamesa road site will consist of four transmitters and receivers.

The Field Day has been held every year since 1933, except for the World War II years, by the League, a national association of amateur radiomen, with headquarters in West Hartford, Conn.

Said Lewis Simmonds, director here of disaster communications in Terry County:

"In real emergencies such as floods, blizzards, hurricanes, tornadoes or enemy attack, one cannot expect regular power sources to be available.

"Often communications must be maintained from a remote point such as a levee or dam where no facilities exist. Simulating such conditions, the ham stations involved in this coming weekend exercise will operate from tents, barns, station wagons and buses, using batteries or portable generators to furnish electricity.

"Through training such as this, conducted on their own and without pay, hams have qualified as the hard core of civil defense emergency communications systems."

RE: MR. BLAKLEY

Letter For The Editor

Editor, Brownfield NEWS: May I question your editorial point by point concerning Bill Blakley? (June 22 edition of the NEWS).

1. No one man can be in tune with all of Texas for there are too many beliefs in government for that to be possible. All of us have had our part in building this state, and many others who have moved away.

2. What constitution does he wish to uphold? One never to be amended or one that can be and is amended from time to time to meet the needs of the people?

3. The States have banded together to form a Federal Government and we accept its help in time of war, financial crises and invasions of our natural enemies and turbulent weather. Could we give back to each Texan his six gun, his own interpretation of law and order and the freedom he uses to know when our State was

Other bidders included A. W. Puckett, Loyd Moore and Sons and L. A. Brannon. Bids were opened at Monday's meeting of Terry Commissioners Court.

Chesshir said remodeling will begin within the next 10 days, and is expected to be completed within 90 days, though no contract deadline was specified, he added.

Dedication Ceremonies Stated At Negro Park

Stuard Park for Negroes will be dedicated in ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. today.

"The Sport of Kings" included at least 10 Terry entries in the field when the Ruidoso Downs racing season opened Memorial Day.

Though race horse training is a little known art in this area, G. W. McClanahan, who farms 12 miles northeast of Brownfield, has been putting quarterhorses and thoroughbreds through their paces about 11 years.

McClanahan left here May 1 with one quarterhorse and nine thoroughbreds to give his charges a month of training on the New Mexico track before the season started.

The trainer and his stable will remain at the Ruidoso racing "palace" until Sept. 1 before moving to Albuquerque for a month. He will run his charges at El Paso from Oct. 5 to Jan. 19 to wind up the season.

Training Since 1947

The 39-year-old Meadow High School graduate has been training horses steadily since he was discharged from the Coast Guard in 1947. "I did some jockeying before that but, like most boys, I got too big and had to quit riding," he added.

McClanahan is training one quarterhorse and four thoroughbreds owned by C. R. Lackey of 520 East Tate, and five thoroughbreds owned by his father, Jim McClanahan of Route 1.

vealed he begins training racers in the spring of their second year. "We start them slowly the first season, working primarily upon fundamentals and starting, and then begin heavy campaigning when they are 3-year-olds," he said.

Depends On Strength

He added that a race horse may compete on the campaign trail from four to 10 years, depending upon his condition and strength.

Training for a 2-year-old begins about three months before the season. "Initial training stresses fundamentals, conditioning and working from the starting gate," said McClanahan. "We begin exercising short distances and gradually lengthen workouts to a couple of miles before the season opens."

"A horse is like a human being," explained the trainer. "Each one has a different disposition and you have to gear his training to that disposition."

He noted that some are easy to train and some are hard to ready for the track. "Like a human, some horses have had habits that must be broken — often every year before the season starts," he said.

Comparing his charges to human sprinters, McClanahan pointed out that feeding is an important phase of training. "We try to feed them what they want as long as it does not hurt them and is not fattening," he said. "Excess fat heats them, reducing their speed."

The trainer said his charges are "like kids — some want one kind of feed and others like another type. We have to change the ration often so they won't get tired of any one variety."

McClanahan — trained horses have established several track records in past campaigns. Last year, five of six McClanahan competitors were winners.

"The one that did not win spent most of the season with various illnesses," he said. "These young horses are like a bunch of first grade youngsters — one gets sick and they all get sick."

He pointed out that the jockey is as important in horse racing as a quarterback is to a football team. "Though a horse may be smart about running

HIGHLIGHTS MONDAY NIGHT ACTION

Joe Crabtree Blasts Single To Give Pirates Third Straight Babe Ruth Win

A scorching single by Joe Crabtree in the bottom of the seventh inning sent two runs across the plate to give the Babe Ruth League Pirates an 8-7 victory over the Yankees in Monday action.

Crabtree's game-winning rap followed a single by John Clark and successive walks by Tommy Proctor and Weldon Bell. The victory ran the Pirates' winning skein to three straight and gave them third in league standings.

Johnny Herring allowed only four hits in garnering the Pirates' fourth victory of the season. After a shaky start the first three innings, in which his mates booted five chances, Herring tightened his pitching to allow only two hits and one run the final four frames.

In the nightcap, the Tigers recovered from two straight defeats last week to edge the Red Sox, 8-6.

The Sox threatened to take the tilt in the sixth frame when they rallied for three hits and four runs with only one out. However, Don Simmonds forced Keith Davis to fly out and cut down Curtis Box on strikes.

The rally matched the Bengal's sixth inning output, but could not match the prior inning's production. The Tigers plated three runs in the fifth, setting the stage for the final flurry of tallies in the sixth.

for race horses, according to the trainer. "Duststorms really cause us a lot of headaches," he said. "The dust saturates the hair, and we have to spend a lot of time getting it out."

I cannot mention too often our God-given right to live as free people, to vote for whom we choose, to tell them just what we think if they don't do as promised when elected — but the only way we can be sure this way of life will continue is to exercise our right to vote — if you fail to vote, it will cost you two votes — yours and the fellow who voted against your candidate. The first primary (Democratic) vote will be July 26. Now is the time to study the candidates; ask questions of persons you now feel know the answer . . . and on that day (July 26) go to the polls and vote for the candidate you want elected.

5. States rights are vanishing slowly but surely as time marches on, no matter whether we desire this or not. For instance we retained our territories, but now it is impossible to develop these reserves or those on land with much degree of profit due to excessive imports. So the Federal Government is being called upon to curb imports.

6. There are millions of people who do not have to know to anyone so we have to take their opinions of government to know whether to vote for them or not.

He wishes farmers were returned to freedom of acreage and price control and if we were our prices would drop, most business would fail, taxes would go unpaid, our school and hospital would suffer.

In order to survive the farmers would have to form their own unions to govern prices and production. It is impossible to go back to the good old days with Bill Blakley.

Labor has its unions to protect it and it is weeding out graft, crooks and mistakes. If we do away with our protection, then we couldn't farm with the cheapest labor Old Mexico could send us.

The Dallas

May 17, 1958

During the past week a tall quiet man has been exchanging handgrips with fellow citizens of Central Texas, making friends wherever he went. Cowpuncher, rancher, oil man, lawyer, banker and capitalist, he is plain Bill Blakley wherever he goes. He likes people and people like him.

Such is the opening of the Blakley campaign for the junior seat in the United States Senate. It is not to be assumed that this is to be a speechless campaign throughout. Nor is it to be assumed that Mr. Blakley can't make a speech. On the contrary, he can handle the English language extremely well. A sample from recent addresses:

It should require no great legal mind to alert everyone to the fact that we are now standing in the twilight of state sovereignty — and the lengthening shadows of a centralized, national government are threatening to erase the last essential elements of our constitutional system . . .

No executive order of the President, no opinion of the Supreme Court can ever be regarded as the supreme law of the land. This power was delegated only in the Constitution — and all others not so delegated remain within the authority of the sovereign states and the people.

If Bill Blakley is sent to Washington by the vote of this state, the Senate will then have no clearer mind, no keener student, no steadier counselor, no truer American than the junior Senator from Texas.

IN MEMORIAM

A POEM

(Editor's Note: The following poem, entitled "A Living Sermon," was submitted to the NEWS in memory of Jess S. Smith, longtime resident who died Tuesday in his home at 904 East Lake. Its author is unknown, except for his own signature, "a friend.")

A living sermon was your life,
Through joys and sorrow,
love and strife,
On your word of honor did so many lean,
That led them on to joys unseen.

We know God takes the ones
we love,
To live with Him in heaven above.

At times it seems our hearts will break,
Yet God in heaven makes no mistakes.

Life here on earth was made more sweet,
By the prayers I heard you pray.

The kindly acts, the tasks you did meet,
By the life you lived from day to day.

Now you have passed, forever
From this sinful world of pain,
I thank my Heavenly Father
Your influence will remain.

In heaven you are bearing no heavy load,
You have heard the Master say, Come.

You have traveled down the narrow road
That led you safely home.

Big Spring Woman Slightly Hurt In A One-Car Accident

Mrs. Wilma M. Emerson of Big Spring suffered minor injuries 2 miles south of here when her automobile veered off the road and overturned about 10 a.m. Friday.

Mrs. Emerson, who was alone at the time of the mishap, remained overnight in Treadaway-Daniell Hospital for observation. Investigating officers said the accident occurred when her automobile veered off the side of Lamesa Highway as she headed south, hit soft and overturned.

Highway patrolmen also investigated a minor collision at the intersection of Lamesa and Wellman highways about 7:15 p.m. Saturday.

Officers said vehicles driven by James Carl Wilson of Seagraves and Charles G. Goza of Wellman, side-swiped as Wilson attempted to pass Goza. Neither driver was injured in the mishap.

Brownfield's runners, none of which got further than first base, came on two walks and three errors by the Chefs.

The Red Chefs never were threatened in the tilt after garnering nine runs in the first frame on two hits, eight walks and two Brownfield errors.

State Capital NEWS

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—First drought, then floods and now grasshoppers have come to plague disaster-weary Texas farmers.

After touring the affected area the Panhandle Gov. Price Daniel called it the worst grasshopper infestation in 20 years. Unless checked, he said, thoppers could destroy much of the crops and pasturage in 26 counties.

County, state and federal agencies worked with landowners to get crews to spray hatching grounds along roadways. State Agriculture Department, Highway Department, National Guard and Defense and Disaster Relief Office are cooperating in the battle. Aim is to try to kill the insects before they leave the hatching grounds and start chewing their way into crops for which farmers had high hopes this year.

Another threat is fund shortage. At a cost of some $3,000 a day for spraying crews, Texas Agriculture Department's emergency funds dwindled fast. Governor Daniel expressed hope that some federal assistance might be obtained.

COX APPEAL DENIED — Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two-year prison sentence.

Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left—filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeals court recesses June 28, this could not be considered until it reconvenes next October.

Cox's troubles rocked the state last Spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, onetime head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation

REV. MRS. GARDENHIRE

United Pentecostal Revival Scheduled

Pastor of United Pentecostal Church, the Rev. J. M. Allen announced Wednesday that a weeklong revival would be initiated Sunday.

Evangelists will be the Rev. and Mrs. Jack Gardenhire of Odessa.

The Rev. Mr. Allen said that services would begin at 7:45 p.m., daily. "We urge our friends to be with us during this coming fine revival."

The trouble with most speakers is that they shout too loudly for the little they have to say.

with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to shake down Harmon in return for killing an anti-naturopath bill which Cox had introduced in the legislature.

JUDGE'S OPPONENT OUT — One election contest has already been settled, some six weeks before Election Day.

Texas Supreme Court ruled Dist. Judge Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls not eligible to run for the Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge K. K. Woodley. Reason: Judge Purcell has had only nine years experience as a lawyer and judge.

An 1891 amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualifications as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1945 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal Appeals judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case. Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic renomination for another six-year term.

ADD TO HIGHLIGHTS — LINE-JUMPING THREAT — Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenson Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big D" voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election.

"FAVORITE RECIPE" — Pictured is Mrs. Francis Carnes of 1013 North Fourth as she prepares her favorite recipe, mayonnaise cake. Her directions: Sift two cups of flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons soda, 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder and four tablespoons of cocoa into a bowl. Add one cup of sugar, one cup of water, one cup of mayonnaise and two tablespoons of vanilla and beat well with an electric mixer. Pour into two greased layer pans and cook for 20 minutes at 350 degrees. For icing mix two cups of sugar; 1/2 cup of cocoa, 1/2 cup of milk and 1/2 cup of butter in a sauce pan and bring to boil over low heat. Boil two minutes, then take from fire and beat until cool enough to spread. Mrs. Carnes says, "This is my husband's favorite cake and it is so simple to make."

Meat Preparation Short Course Offered At Tech

There's more to meats than many cooks realize, says Dr. Mina Lamb of Texas Tech. For instance, adding seasoning to certain meats can cancel out their natural flavor and result in a flat-tasting offering that's not as good as it would be with no seasoning, she explains. Because of interest in the art of meat preparation, Dr. Lamb is offering a short course in that subject July 1-3 and 7-8. Included will be subject matter of interest to experienced home makers as well as professional home economists and food managers for hotels, churches and other organizations, she says. The course can be tailored somewhat to individual needs, she adds. Participants will study the

Insects' Speed Is Fable; Speed in A Car Could Be Fatal

That fable about flies streaking 820 m.p.h. is for the birds. Top speed for insects is about 35 m.p.h. in short sprints, according to a British professor of entomology. And you'll never catch a horsefly going faster than 15 m.p.h., he says. Even if insects could travel faster, they'd have horse sense enough not to, insect lovers claim. Too many dangers from traveling fast, they point out. The same is true on the highway — traveling fast is pretty dangerous here, too. But a lot of humans, apparently, don't have the sense of insects when it comes to driving a car. Speeding is a factor in about 4 out of 10 fatal motor vehicle accidents, according to the National Safety Council.

You don't necessarily have to exceed the posted limit to be speeding, the Council points out. Observe the limit in a 25 m.p.h. zone during a blizzard and you may end up with a ticket. "Speeding," the Council says, "increases the likelihood of an accident. The greater the speed the less time you have to react in emergencies. It takes longer, naturally, to stop nutritive value of meats, including structures and compositions as related to cooking. Storage methods also will be explained.

The group will visit Lubbock packing plants, observing meat marketing from slaughter through inspection, grading and processing. Retail meat supply will be studied also.

Assoc. Prof. Stanley Anderson of the animal husbandry department will demonstrate carcass cutting and will show cuts of meats as they relate to tenderness of muscle, bone location and cost.

Finally each student will do actual cooking, observing the influence of grade on cooking quality. A Lubbock feed lot operator will supply the meats.

In addition to beef, other meats such as poultry, fish, pork and lamb will be studied and prepared, reports Dr. Lamb.

The Space Agency Bill passed by the Senate this week without opposition had been reported by unanimous agreement of the Special Senate Committee on Space and Aeronautics. I am Chairman of this Committee, and I have never served with any group that approached its work with greater seriousness.

That is as it should be. Man presumes much when he presumes to bring the dominion of the stars within the purview of his legislative processes and under the jurisdiction of his administrative agencies.

Some say we now stand at the edge of the battleground for Armageddon. Others believe we are poised before the plains of the millennium. In either case, we have no national option but to marshal our resources, order our course, and proceed beyond the shelter and sanctuaries of Earth's atmosphere into the realm of the limitless unknown. To proceed prudently — or to proceed at all — we must of necessity proceed by faith. Humility is a proper companion for this national journey.

As a nation, we are motivated not by fear, but rather, by great confidence that extension of our capacity into the realms of space will some day bring release from fear — for ourselves and all mankind. We are moved by no thought of aggrandizement. We have no intention of planting flags of conquest upon the planets or of laying annexation claims to the stars. We do propose that space shall never become the route of march for tyrants and totalitarians and, as we have dedicated our resources in the past to maintaining the freedom of the seas and the security of the skies, so shall we dedicate our national capacity to maintaining the neutrality of space.

Space neither invites nor necessitates any re-definition of American goals and aims.

The goal of peace and liberty has led Americans throughout our history to explore the dimensions of challenging frontiers. Our goal now remains unchanged.

The nature of space, we must recognize, is quite apart from the nature of land frontiers. We were permitted, in the development of the American West, to roll back the unknown at our leisure, confident as we did so that such gains as we claimed would be permanently ours. With space, neither such leisure nor such confidence is permitted.

Space has given priority to a new denominator of national strength — the human mind. Unless this resource receives continuous exercise, our presumptions of security are meaningless.

We are, therefore, faced with the challenge of devising a policy and a program assuring the Nation the fullest mobilization of a resource which, among free men, is not responsible and command.

That is the challenge. Mankind has never faced a greater one.

IT'S THE LAW in Texas — A public service feature of the State Bar of Texas

For centuries men wanted perfect laws. For them, change was sacrilege.

For example, the Romans enjoyed the fiction that their law merely interpreted their first, changeless, Ten Tables.

Today we know that no lawgivers can foresee how their laws may fail, and so we provide for basic changes in our Constitution, and by two methods:

1. By a two-thirds vote of each House, Congress may send a proposed amendment to the state legislatures for ratification.

2. As yet unused, the second method would allow Congress "on the application of the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states" to call a convention for proposing amendments.

Trying to follow the second method, the lawmakers of 32 states — or two-thirds of them — have approved resolutions for a constitutional amendment to limit income taxes. You might think that Congress would have to call the convention to amend the Constitution.

But meantime, eleven states have turned around and rescinded their approval; and governors of two other states have vetoed the legislative acts.

Query: Have two-thirds of the legislatures applied to call a convention? "Are all the state resolutions now in force? And if so, how does one make Congress call the convention? No Founding Father, it seems, had foreseen such a problem.

Even the U. S. Supreme Court in 1929 found such a question "political" and not "subject to judicial guidance." Maybe each age should have such problems to think through. They might teach that even our best laws can stand study and improvement.

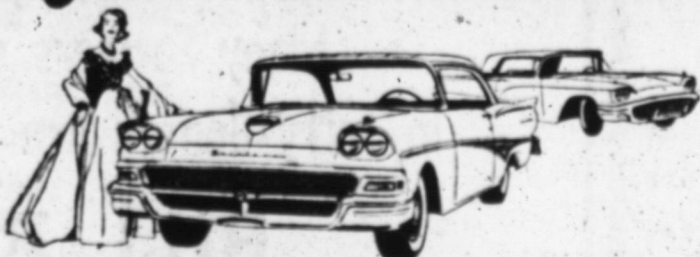

MAN-IN STYLE — Pictured is the front and back view of a modern sack suit Lee Loftis of 610 Cactus Lane designed and made as a left-handed job at today's styles for women. Perhaps the present trend prompted him in his rib-tickling idea of what men will be wearing in the near future. He got his idea from a suit he saw recently when he attended a convention in San Antonio. He wore his new suit Saturday night to the Century Club dance given in Brownfield Country Club.

Most religious arguments are over non-essentials.

Texas' Official Concern With Alcoholism Reflected in First Annual Institute on Alcohol Studies, To Be July 6-11 at Austin

Texas' official concern with alcoholism — an illness afflicting more than 200,000 of its citizens and through them directly affecting at least 1,000,000 Texans — is reflected in the First Annual Institute on Alcohol Studies to be held July 6-11 at the University of Texas.

The institute is being co-sponsored by the university, the Hogg Foundation for Mental Health, and the Texas Commission on Alcoholism.

The latter is a state agency which embarked only last September on a program of education, information and prevention to combat alcoholism in the state.

The institute has recruited a distinguished faculty of nationally and internationally renowned authorities in the field of alcoholism.

Dean of this group is Dr. E. M. Jellinek, presently serving as secretary general of the International Institute for Research in Problems of Alcohol, Geneva, Switzerland.

Dr. Jellinek was co-organizer of the Yale School for Alcohol Studies and actively initiated publication of the "Quarterly Journal on Alcohol."

For some time he served as consultant on alcoholism to the World Health Organization, and developed the "Jellinek Formula," a singularly accurate method for estimating the number of alcoholics in a population group by means of medical and other report figures — upon which much of our statistical data relating to alcoholism is based.

A score of Texas authorities in the fields of religion, medicine, law-enforcement, sociology, physiology, psychology, economics and education will round out the institute faculty.

Though student attendance will be drawn largely from those whose professional work brings them into contact with alcoholism, anyone interested in the subject for whatever reason is eligible to attend.

Sessions of the institute will be held in the new, ultra-modern, completely air-conditioned Kinsolving Dormitory, where out-of-town students likewise will be boarded and housed.

Registration fee is $25, and board and room costs will

Irwin Shaw's 'The Young Lions' To Be Offering At Regal

When Irwin Shaw's book, "The Young Lions," was published in 1948, it was greeted by critics as the finest novel to emerge from World War II.

Most of them agreed that the book had all the ingredients of great drama.

Now, 10 years later, Twentieth Century-Fox and its producer, the late Al Lichtman, have taken this highly acclaimed novel and transferred it to the CinemaScope screen.

The transfer was accomplished to retain all the same high-grade ingredients mentioned above. Foremost among these is the year's most imaginative cast:

Marlon Brando, Montgomery Clift, Dean Martin, Hope Lange, Barbara Rush and Swedish nie Spain and Genell Cornett.

District II 4-H Leadership Camp will be held July 22, 23 and 24. Girls to attend are Linda Henson, Ethel Martin, Winnie Shults, Jeannie Solsberry and Genell Cornett.

Courtesy is just as important in solving the daily problems of living as intelligence, but some intelligent people do not know it.

AT REGAL — Marlon Brando plays an officer in the German Army, and May Britt, a new Swedish discovery, plays the seductive wife of his superior in Twentieth Century-Fox's drama, "The Young Lions," opening Sunday at The Regal. Montgomery Clift, Dean Martin, Hope Lange and Barbara Rush are co-starred.

beauty, May Britt, in leading roles. The film can be seen Sunday and Monday at The Regal.

"The Young Lions" is the story of three vastly different young men, the girls they loved, and what the war did to each of them.

But... it is not a war story in itself, although the conflict motivates and affords a vivid and violent background to what they do.

It is, in fact, really three stories in one: Two concern Americans, the other a European, and the three do not mesh fully until the closing moments of the picture.

'Tragedy of Failure' Subject of HD Club

Gomez HD Club met with Mrs. Denver Kelly Thursday afternoon, answering roll call with, "Something I have accomplished in the past two months."

Mrs. R. D. Jones Sr. was elected delegate to the State HD Club Convention, meeting in Austin in August. Mrs. R. L. Jones presented the program on "Health and Safety."

The group voted to devote a day's meeting to make baskets and other crafts.

Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served to Meses. George Ellis, B. Stice, Key, Imogene Key, Jones Sr., Jones and Tyler Martin.

Hat Course Is Completed By 10 Women

Ten women took advantage of a millinery course offered last week in the summer home-making program at Brownfield High School.
 Mrs. Roy G. Webb and Mrs. Coy Jones, BHS home economics instructors, directed the group in making, redecorating and resizing hats, and in making material flowers.
 Meeting two hours each morning, they made 17 hats, including straws and fabric for summer and fall wear. They were made at a cost ranging from 20c, for some of the fabric hats, to $3.50 for more expensive straws. A number of the women redecorated or resized hats they owned, giving them a new look.
 Taking the course were Misses R. D. James Sr., Robert Baumgardner, J. C. Rhodes, O. D. Kennedy, H. L. Berry, Charles Kester, Roy Priest, Dick Bailey, Ray Eaveland and J. Q. Cox.

NEW PRODUCT — A new and continuous-spiral paraffin scraper which can be installed on sucker rods in the field now is available through Brownfield representatives, Imperial Distributing Company. Manufactured by Sunshine Iron Works at Odessa, the full-length scraper leaves a minimum of paraffin downhole and eliminates the need of hot oil treating, say company officials. According to the manufacturer, field installation also eliminates transporting sucker rods to and from a central plant. Dealers make installations in the field at no extra charge, say the officials.

Need of an agency to coordinate Texas' natural resource affairs is scouted by the National Wildlife Federation.

Results of a survey, announced through Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, confirms an earlier SCOT observation that overall efficiency suffers from lack of uniform approach.

Summarizing its findings, the NWF stated: "In general, Texas state agencies seem to exchange little information with each other and have modest knowledge of each other's operations. There is a great and common tendency to keep their operations to themselves. A state coordinating agency might help correct this..."

Sportsmen's Clubs of Texas, a NWF affiliate, had pointed out that Texas is among the few states without a combination "Conservation Department." Definite steps have been taken by SCOT to blend actions of federal and state agencies on certain projects, such as the recent brush control conference sponsored by SCOT's Technical Committee.

This meeting was arranged as the initial coordinating gesture to standardize land-clearing techniques particularly where the fate of wildlife is involved.

The Federation emphasized that its sole interest in scrutinizing the present Texas arrangement "is in assisting your statewide group to function with the greatest power and effectiveness" and that its suggestions for "constructive and worthwhile programs are based on experiences of other states."

It adds: "It is but our hope that we may, through frank appraisal of resource management, give you some encouragement your state the soundest overall resource management, most wisely administered and best geared for the times."

NWF's study included Texas Forest Service, State Board of Water Engineers, State Extension Service, Agricultural Experiment Station, State Department of Health, State Agricultural Department, State Highway Department, State Game and Fish Commission and State Parks Board.

Relationships between agencies were generally found to be moderate to fair but as affects one of the agencies listed the relationship it and the other departments was rated as "poor to moderate."

"Our advice to drive slowly and live longer applies to every driver, regardless of how fast they scoot along the highways," gave tips on furniture arrangement. Refreshments were served to Mmes. Sam Gossett, W. J. Moss, J. C. Finley, E. N. Corley, L. P. Price, W. J. Henderson and J. C. Pettigrew.

IS SAID TO BE COMPLETELY WEATHER-TIGHT

Largest Air-Supported Building in World, An Experimental Grain-Storage Unit, Raised in 10 Hours for Fort Worth Firm

(Special to the NEWS)
Fort Worth — The world's largest air-supported building, an experimental grain-storage unit of 1,800,000-bushel capacity, was raised in 10 hours here June 17.

The building, the first air-supported structure ever roofed with steel, was designed and built by Cargill, Incorporated, nationwide handler and processor of agricultural products, as "a pilot elevator to provide permanent weather-tight storage and to yield data for possible construction of still larger units."

It stands adjacent to the firm's present 540,000-bushel installation.

The steel roof, 2.3 acres of aluminum sheeting weighing more than 50 tons, was lifted from the concrete floor by giant fans to form a quonset-shaped building 158 feet wide, 38 feet high and 550 feet long.

End walls — steel half-circles 40 feet high — were already in place to guide the roof while flexible seals between roof and walls prevented escape of air pressure.

Cargill, which operates 45 terminal elevators and 55 country elevators in the United States, is a leading innovator in grain handling.

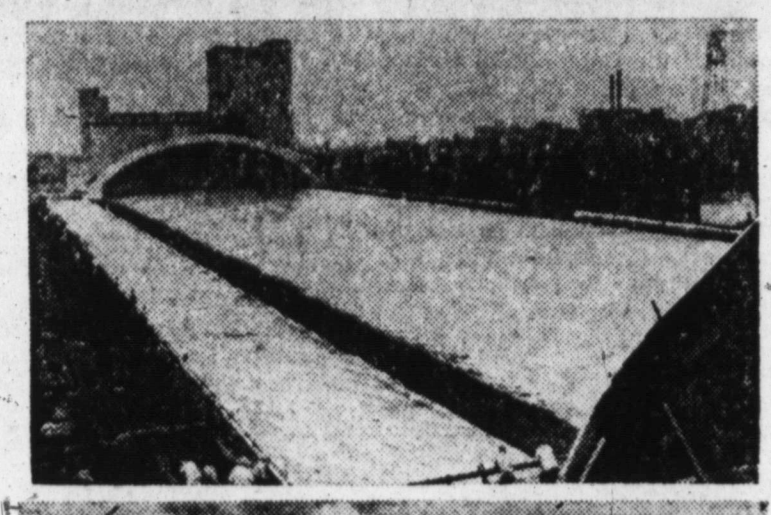

Among its first air construction in the 1870's of the prototype of today's country elevator, introduction of single-bin storage holding up to 7,000,000 bushels, successful experimentation with air-supported construction as early as 1933 and development of more efficient integrated barges for inland waterways hauling.

Company designers say the Fort Worth structure will be kept rigidly inflated and able to withstand winds of hurricane force by fans maintaining an interior pressure of 25 to 30 pounds per square foot.

Entrance to the grain bin is through air locks at one end, and a person entering experiences a pressure change equal to descent from a 25-story building.

One air-lock is large enough to admit truck-sized vehicles and other large grain-handling equipment. A stand-by generator will drive the building's fans in case of electric failure. Fabrication of the roof, in which steel replaced plastic and rubber film heretofore used in air-supported construction, was done on the site by a specially developed welding technique yielding air-tight seams.

Some 935,000 welds were required to fashion the roof from 155 separate sheets. One edge of the expanse was anchored immediately to an edge of the concrete floor. The other roof-

LARGEST — World's largest air-supported building was raised June 17 in Fort Worth. Deflated structure, a grain-storage unit of 1,800,000-bushel capacity, is in upper panel. At 6 a.m., air pressure began to inflate the 2.3-acre steel roof, which weighs more than 50 tons. Four giant fans placed along far edge of building did the job. In lower panel, 10 hours later, the roof is raised to predetermined height of 38 feet above ground surface. The building belongs to Cargill, Inc.

edge was left free, extending on the ground beyond the floor slab.

Four Fans Used

Inflation of the buildings required four 40,000-cubic-feet-per-minute fans forcing air through ducts in the floor under the roof. As pressure increased, bowing the center upward, the free edge of the roof—kept airtight against the ground by a weight of sand — was pulled inward until it reached the slab and the roof was fully raised. Then it also was anchored to seal the building tightly on all sides.

Grain will enter the building along an overhead conveyor from the headhouse of the older elevator. It will be removed by handling and conveying equipment below floor level that will carry it to the headhouse for elevating and spouting into rail cars.

Miss Sparkman And Carlos Nettles Wed

Miss Georgia Sparkman, daughter of Mrs. E. D. Nettles of 508 East Broadway, and Carlos Wendell Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Howell of Route 4, repeated wedding vows at 7 p.m. Saturday in the parsonage of Parkview Methodist Church.

The Rev. Ray Elmore, pastor, read the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Howell of 407 East Reppito, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, were the couple's attendants.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell attended Brownfield High School. They will make their home in Brownfield.

'Safety Always'
By The
TEXAS SAFETY
ASSOCIATION

"How accidental are traffic accidents?" This question was asked by J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, today, in connection with TSA's current Slow Down and Live program for Texas.

"The term 'accident' hardly seems appropriate for mishaps on the highway that are invited through careless or unlawful acts," Musick said.

"Of course many violations are not deliberate — just inattention or an impulse to take a chance — but they are still inexcusable because of the damage they cause."

Musick said some people, through their carelessness behind the wheel, commit harakari by using an automobile instead of a Japanese dagger. He changed the suicidal term slightly by calling it Hurri-Karl.

"Improper speed doesn't shorten the road; it shortens life," Musick said. "And this is the central theme of the Slow Down and Live program. We hope the campaign will call motorist's attention to the dangers of excessive speed, which accounted for 57 per cent of all rural fatal accidents in Texas."

ROTAN VISITORS

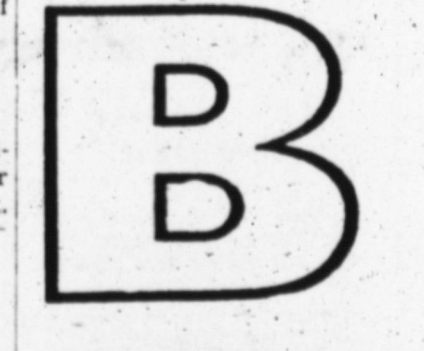

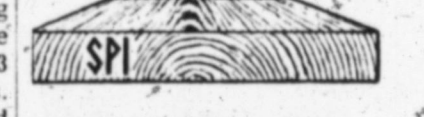

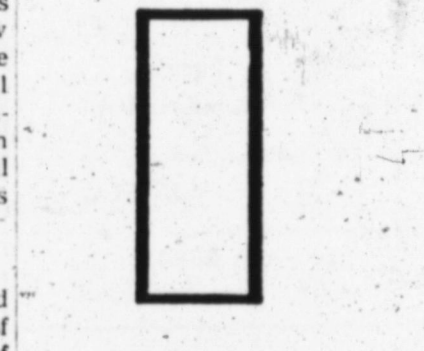

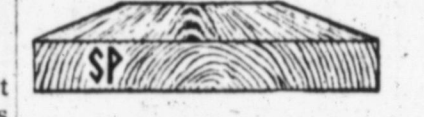

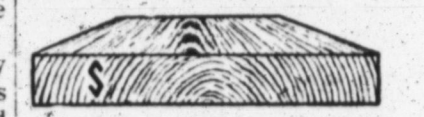

Mrs. Robert Land and daughters, Judy and Patty, of Rotan, former residents of Brownfield, have been visiting here. Mrs. Land is the house guest of Mrs. C. L. Hafer of 803 East Reppito, Judy of Mrs. Tommy Winn of Route 2 and Patty of Sharon Snedecker of 507 East Buckley.

VISITS HERE

Mrs. Berta Lee Hicks of Abilene visited Mrs. C. L. Hafer of 803 East Reppito last week.

during 1957." Musick defined excessive speed as being any speed which is unsafe — in the face of road, traffic, mechanical, climatic and other physical conditions which present driving hazards.

Everyone who drives a new INTERNATIONAL cab-forward model tells us how easy it is to maneuver. Would you give it your own personal maneuvering test? Note how nimble this INTERNATIONAL Truck is... in traffic, or on the road. Reason? The short cab and the way IH designed it. Only 89 inches long, bumper-to-back-of-cab! That short dimension not only gives better maneuverability—it allows more payload in back. Yet the cab is full-size—doors and all. Nothing cramped about it. MIDDLING INCH EXPECTED TO DRAW $190 MINIMUM

South Plains Farmers Will Get Higher Net Profits This Year With All-Out Insect Control, Says President of Cotton Group

LUBBOCK—Higher net profits may be the reward of Texas High Plains farmers who go all-out to control insect infestations and weeds to produce high quality yields—especially in cotton, W. O. Fortenberry, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., said today.

Fortenberry said there are a number of excellent reasons why cotton growers should take every effort to control weeds and insects this year. It will pay big dividends to see that a full cotton crop goes to the gin rather than be consumed partly by insects, or choked out by weeds.

First, producers are assured a minimum price of at least $190 per bale (middling inch) for lint and seed in 1958. The government loan insures the grower this amount and cotton can sell higher.

The subsoil moisture also is the best in many years. Farm officials say that subsoil moisture is adequate to insure a better-than-average crop. With timely rains on non-irrigated land, a record breaking yield could be made.

Cotton insects can be counted on to be a limiting factor in production if they are not controlled. There have been plenty of host plants for the thrips, aphids, fleahoppers and even bollworms to hibernate in or feed on this past winter and spring.

Cotton plants will grow and fruit much during June. This is a critical month for these insects to build up. With favorable fruiting and growing conditions, conditions also are favorable for insects and the grower must, therefore, control insects or have them take a terrific toll from his crop this year.

Weeds also must be eliminated since they rob cotton plants of precious moisture. Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton specialist, says the second highest cost item in cotton production is for grass and weed control.

Last year, Elliott said the state's cotton producers saved an estimated $1.1 million by using rotary hoes, chemicals and oils in efforts to keep weeds and grass under control.

Another loss that could be costly to Texas High Plains farmers is lower grades caused by insect "spots." This often amounts to more than $25 a bale, and in most cases the cost of insect control is more than paid for by the reduction in "spots," alone.

Fortenberry also reminded growers that 1958, more than in recent years, is the time to market high quality cotton. "With the demand good and parity higher than last year, the farmers with better quality cotton are certainly going to have higher net profits from their 1958 cotton crop."

putting up good quality grass silage from your own County Agent, Farm Adviser or Agricultural College.

Question: "We recently acquired about three tons of stale, plain and sugared cookies, white and graham crackers, pretzels, ice cream cones, dog biscuits, in somewhere near equal quantity. How would you analyze this material and its feed value?"

Answer: The analysis would not differ greatly from that of farm grain, and the sugar content would be the equivalent of that much starch as contained in farm grain.

My suggestion is to consider these stale bakery products, when ground, as so much corn or wheat and feed it to almost any kind of livestock, in a balanced ration, very much as you would the two farm grains.

Question: "Does speltz or emmer make good feed for laying hens or for milking cows?"

Answer: Emmer or speltz is one of the minor cereals, not grown very much in this country. In analysis and feed value it rates about midway between oats and barley.

Hereford, Tex., Man Reports—
2 Bale Per Acre Cotton
Using Phillips 66 Ammonia

J. F. Martin, who farms 1,720 acres near Hereford, Tex., says: "I put down Phillips 66 ammonia pre-plant on my irrigated cotton and made 2 bales to the acre. I also use Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on my wheat and maize land with good results."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen from top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... more marketable vegetables are harvested... and profits on wheat are increased through better forage and higher yields of grain.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

Hay making in early June or before is beset with difficulties because of so much rain. Frequently abundant rainfall during April and May has caused the crop to be tall and rather coarse and difficult to cure.

A lot of stemmy, musty hay is put up every year and the subsequent performance of dairy cows and particularly young stock of all kinds is in accordance with the quality of such hay.

The custom of adding from 10 to 20 pounds of salt per ton when putting this type of hay into the mow or stack makes for better palatability and decreases its dustiness, but it cannot restore completely the feed value that has been lost during the unfavorable curing conditions.

Since early season hay making is difficult, the thought has occurred to farmers again and again, why not try to ensile as much of the first cutting of hay as possible, but depend primarily on the second cutting during the dry days of July or August, to provide the fine stemmed, peg-reen, leafy, sweet-smelling hay that is nearly ideal hay.

There may be a run of pleasant days in June that would permit putting a good bit of the first cutting into the barn, especially if a hay crusher has been used to flatten the stems for a speedup of the curing process.

But in any event, the chances are that a tall hay crop makes better grass silage than hay. More leaves are saved as silage and there is less likelihood of the forage becoming musty and moldy.
