LUBBOCK'S YEAST CAKES AND THE TECH PARTY

The fair is over! The Tech party is on!

We have been in Lubbock a bit better than four years and it has ever been so. Just as fast as one thing is successfully put out of the way three new ones have bobbed up for attention—and the same faithful baker's dozen or so continue to carry the load, do the work, foot the bills and fall right back in on the next job.

Bill Smith makes a good hand ruling funds for something-or-the-other. At least he takes his work seriously and makes a good account of himself. For the next seven years every time a few shovels are needed in town Bill is given the same old job of collecting. I will bet a dozen assorted colored ismailles that I can name three of the committee of five that will be appointed to raise funds with which to celebrate Lubbock's Centennial about 75 years from today if Walter Poesy, Ted Rix, and one or two others of the Old Boys are still able to wave a crutch and hobble around when that day arrives.

As one of our historic old "Aginers" is wont to declare—"Taint fair! Taint fair!" and for once we agree with him. It certainly TAIN'T FAIR to work to death the twenty-five or thirty men around the square who are willing to accept their share of the responsibilities and efforts necessary to put Lubbock over big. There is a lot of work to be done in getting ready for the laying of the cornerstone. Why not secure a secretary to death, startle the natives and do your own soul good by phoning Davis at 469 and volunteering your services on this job. You are needed and your offer of assistance will be appreciated.

HAVE YOU VOTED

Speaking of Yeast Cakes, Tech Parties, Civic Work, etc.—Have you voted in the big Journal Citizenship Contest? On this page you will find a coupon with blanks for five names—three men and two women. In these blanks you are invited to fill in the names of the men and women in Lubbock who, in your judgment, contribute the most to the growth, development, spirit, reputation and general good of Lubbock.

Year after year the same old couple of dozen men and women have carried the bulk of the civic work of the city—without reward, special notice or publicly expressed appreciation. The Plains Journal believes in passing the praises to the fellow that can still smell them and is taking this means of calling for a vote of appreciation to the earnest hard working citizens who continually give of their time, labor and means for the advancement of Lubbock.

Everyone is entitled to a vote—but no votes counted unless made out on the official Journal ballot to be found on the front page of the Journal for the coming three weeks. Any citizen in Lubbock is eligible for nomination on this honor roll except the teachers, preachers and newspaper men—they are parts of institutions of public service and are only fulfilling the requirements of their jobs when they give of their best to the uplift, advancement and progress of the city of which they are a part.

SPECIAL PRIZE OF $5.00 A special award of $5.00 in cash will be made to the person giving the most interesting and convincing reasons for the selection of either man or woman on their ballot in a short summary of not more than 500 words.

Mail your vote and your reason "WHY"—if you care to enter the contest—to The Plains Journal before November 1st.

EVERY SUCCESS CARRIES ADDITIONAL OBLIGATIONS The fair went over big. The exhibits were wonderful, the crowds satisfactory and the spirit excellent—in spite of the sand and wind. With an attendance of more than 100,000 for the four days only slight arrests were made and all of those for minor offenses. There was no disorder, rough housing, apparent drinking or any of the other objectionable features that too often accompany huge gatherings of this nature. There were no serious accidents—stolen cars—lost children or fights during the four days.

WE ARE SORRY—BUT GLAD!

To our many subscribers who called us Friday and Saturday of last week about their Journal—we are sorry that they were delayed in reaching you but glad that you missed them enough to call us when they failed to show up Friday morning.

The Journals were delivered to the Post Office Thursday night for both city and routes. In these deliveries we always include a number of "keyed" papers to various addresses in the city in order to keep a check upon the delivery service that we get through the local office. Some of these we did not get until Sunday afternoon and Monday morning. Formal complaint has been filed on this service and we assure you that we will try to get better service for you in the future.

COMIC OPERA IS TO BE SHOWN IN THIS CITY SOON

"Don Pasquale" To Be Brought To Lubbock By Local Club November Fifteenth

William Wade Hinshaw, nationally known opera impresario and the Southwestern Musical Bureau, of Dallas, will present the celebrated American prima donna soprano, Miss Irene Williams and her supporting cast, in the English version of "Don Pasquale," in this city on November fifteenth.

The opera will be presented at the high school auditorium on the night of the date announced and will be held under the auspices of the Lubbock Music club, according to statements issued by Mrs. G. N. Atkinson, president of the organization, the first part of this week.

Supporting Miss Irene Williams will be undoubtedly the greatest group of operatic performers ever seen in this city. Pierre Remington, basso; Leo de Everapollis, baritone; Thomas McGranahan, tenor; and Alfred Calzini, pianist and musical director, are included in the cast.

Tickets on Sale—Members of the music club have already begun preparations for the opera and tickets for the presentation have been placed on sale at the City Drug store. Reserved seats will be sold and the prices have been arranged. The tickets may be purchased at two dollars, a dollar and a half, a dollar and for seventy-five cents, depending on their location in the auditorium. The auditorium has eight hundred twenty-four seats and music club members expect it to be crowded throughout for the presentation.

The opera "Don Pasquale" was written by Donizetti and has been a favorite wherever shown in this country and in Europe. Press reports indicate the company coming here has been enthusiastically received both in the eastern and southern parts of the United States.

The music club is taking a lead in the bringing of high class entertainment to this city and the whole-hearted support of the music lovers is not only urged but expected. Miss Mary Dunn, one of the leaders of the organization, stated recently. A number of tickets have already been sold.

STATE MAN HERE

A. B. Conner, of College Station Working With Karper On Cotton And Sorghum

A. B. Conner, vice director of the state experimental farms, arrived in Lubbock last Sunday and immediately went to the state agricultural farm east of the city where he and R. E. Karper, superintendent, began work on sorghum and cotton in an effort to better crop conditions for the farmers of this section of the state, R. E. Karper said today.

Conner has been connected with the state experimental farms for the last fifteen years and knows this part of the state as well if not better than any body connected with the state agricultural department. For several years he was superintendent of the experimental farm at Chillicothe.

According to Karper the work which the two have been doing at the station this week has been purely of a research nature and they hope when their work is completed they will be able to give the farmers some ideas concerning the raising of cotton and grain sorghums.

Everything around the experimental farm is going along in fine shape, Karper said. The farm here is regarded as one of the best in Texas.

IDALOU TO VOTE

Plans are being made in Idalou at the present time for the voting of bonds in the extent of $25,000 with which will be purchased a fire truck and with the balance of which water lines will be laid to protect the neighboring city from fire. No date has been decided upon for the election but pre-election sentiments seems to favor the plan.

MEETING PLANNED

A quilt auction and supper will be held at the Canyon school house tomorrow night, in which W. C. Rylander, Mrs. S. A. Wells, Miss Hallie Wall, C. K. Watkins and Rev. F. R. Pickens, all local people, will take part. The quilt, which will be sold to the highest bidder, has been made by the ladies of the Methodist circuit. A fine musical program is being arranged and a large crowd is expected.

LABORERS NEEDED

Lubbock and the surrounding territory is at present in need of unskilled laborers, including cotton pickers and men to work on the Tech buildings. A. B. Davis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, said yesterday. There is no call here for skilled workmen, however, and it cannot be judged how long there will be a demand for laborers of the unskilled type, Davis stated.

COTTON FARMERS TELL ABOUT BIG CROPS EXPECTED

A yield of from between five and six hundred bales of cotton off of eleven hundred acres in cultivation—an average of half a bale to the acre!

That is what John Kling expects to harvest from the R. C. Rawlins farm, one and one-half miles south of Littlefield, in Lamb county, according to Gus M. Shaw, Littlefield merchant, who was a business visitor here Monday.

Kling has already begun to bring in his crop, Shaw stated, and on last Monday morning took his first step toward the harvest by turning seventy Afro-American pickers loose among the bolls of white gold.

And after Shaw had given his version of Lamb county cotton production W. T. Teal, of near Shallowater, made the statement that some of his neighbors were predicting between fifty and sixty bales from his eighty acres of cotton, three miles north of the Hardy school house, in Lubbock county. Mr. Teal, who is a cotton planter of years experience, refuses to be that optimistic but states that he expects to average at least half a bale to the acre.

FAIR SHOWS BIG GAIN IN REPORT

Thousand Dollars Surplus Is Shown After Improvements And 1923 Debts Are Paid

In spite of the fact that $5,000 were spent for improvements on the grounds and a deficit of approximately $6,500 was left over from the 1923 exposition, the Eleventh Annual Panhandle and Plains Fair was ended with a surplus of about $1,000, President Chris Harwell stated recently after the directors of the fair had received a financial report from Manager A. B. Davis. A preliminary list of almost $2,500, the largest ever offered on the South Plains, was also paid by the fair this year.

According to the report issued by Manager Davis and passed by the board of directors, expenses for the fair this year totaled $13,678.95 while the sum of $25,988.42 was taken in, leaving a surplus of $12,309.47. Receipts of the three days of rain during the 1923 fair a deficit was encountered to the extent of almost $6,500 and from the surplus of the fair this year the old debts were taken up and paid.

Improvements on the grounds this year included grading and making off grounds for the parking plan, a new shed for the exhibiting of livestock, a shed for the exhibiting of farm machinery, three turnstiles, an eight foot wire-strand fence topped with barbed wire surrounding the grounds and a great many minor improvements. $5,000 will cover the cost of the improvements.

The figures of the 1923 fair, as compared with the exposition this year, show that the eleventh annual event almost doubled the one preceding it in receipts. In 1923, due largely to the rains which swept the grounds for three days, the sum of $13,678.95 was taken in at the gates, as compared with the sum of $25,988.42 for this year. Expenses of the two fairs were practically the same in spite of the enlargement of this year's exhibits. In 1923 the fair cost $18,553.36 and this year it cost $18,678.95.

Special Court Work Coming Along Well

Work in the special session of the district court is coming along in fine shape and by the end of the eight weeks term the docket should be well cleared, Louis F. Moore, court clerk, said yesterday. Forty civil cases, many of them of long standing, were placed on the docket at the opening of term and it is the desire of court officials to get them out of the way in the called session.

Nothing has been done concerning the dividing of the Seventy-second judicial district although attorneys and court officials are desirous of the division to further facilitate the working of the courts.

OFFICERS CHOSEN

Walter S. Posey, local banker and member of the city commission, was elected as president of the Lubbock Country club for the coming year, at the annual meeting of stockholders held at the clubhouse north of the city, on last Tuesday night. Byron C. Dickenson, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, was selected as vice-president and Lee M. Duggan as secretary. Mayor F. R. Friend was elected as treasurer.

EVERYBODY URGED TO CAST VOTE IN CONTEST

With but two more weeks remaining to cast a ballot honoring the three men and two women who, by their unceasing and unselfish labors, have made Lubbock what it is today, the Plains Journal is urging every man and woman in Lubbock and Lubbock county to cast one of the official Journal ballots to give "Flowers to the living."

As soon as the announcement of the election was circulated it met with the support of practically everybody who heard about it and already scores of the ballots have been received. The Plains Journal, however, will not be satisfied with a few ballots but wants hundreds of them if it is possible. The ballot casting gives every citizen an opportunity to show his individual appreciation for what these men and women have done for the community and is an opportunity which should not be overlooked. The workers have earned the praise of their fellow citizens and are due the honor. There is a ballot on the first page of this paper. Cast your votes and watch the pictures of the winners.

GAS WELL IS TO BE PUT DOWN ON BOLES PROPERTY

Local Men Plan To Furnish The City And Nearby Towns With Natural Gas

Local capitalists and business men are working on a plan to organize a company through the selling of stock to finance the drilling of a well in an attempt to furnish Lubbock and the surrounding cities with natural gas for cooking and heating purposes, it was announced here recently.

Sam C. Arnett, president of the Citizens National bank; J. O. Jones, a director of the Security State Bank and Trust company; and George M. Boles, widely known stockman and landowner, are the principal business men behind the plan and they are already urging the purchase of stock in the organization on the part of local business people looking for investments.

H. A. Hellar, of Santa Maria, California, a geologist highly recommended from men in all parts of the country, has been in Lubbock for the past several weeks working on the plan. After a careful survey he decided that the Boles property, located eight miles south of the city of Lubbock, is the most logical spot on which to drill the well.

Geologist Has Faith—According to a statement given out by Hellar the latter part of last week he has every reason to believe that gas will be found on the Boles property in paying quantities. The survey he made was as thorough as it was possible to make it from the surface and considering his wide experience in petroleum geology his word can be taken with confidence.

Several times in the past different methods have been discussed concerning the feasibility of bringing natural gas into this and surrounding cities for use in heating, lighting and fuel but never before has a plan to drill for gas been seriously considered. All of the former plans have been to pipe it from the proven fields in the vicinity of Amarillo.

Very little attempt has been made thus far to interest local people in the project but it is intended that a campaign for capital will be started. The plan was explained to Chamber of Commerce directors on Tuesday.

STATEMENTS OUT

Local Banks In Fine Condition Call Issued October 10 Indicates

More than two millions of dollars are at present in deposit in the three banks of this city, statements issued at the close of business on October 10. The exact sum on deposit here totals $2,381,282.34. Resources and liabilities of the three banks total $2,239,373.96, the statements show.

Of the three banks the Lubbock State leads in deposits with $1,232,754.81 followed by the Citizens National bank with $796,931.87, and the Security State Bank and Trust company, with $351,695.65. Resources of the three in order named were announced as $1,811,527.55; $955,875.26, and $742,271.11.

As bank statements are generally regarded to show the actual business condition of a territory it can be seen at a glance that Lubbock and the surrounding territory is on a firm financial foundation. The Citizens National bank and the Security State Bank and Trust company are each capitalized at $100,000 while the Lubbock State recently advanced from that capitalization figure to $200,000.

COURT OPEN SOON

The next term of county court will open on November 17, the third Monday in the month, and will continue over a four week period, according to statement made yesterday by County Attorney Owe W. McWhorter.

TALK ABOUT SCOUTS

A dozen prominent business and professional men were called in consultation on Tuesday night by L. S. Harkey, local insurance man, in a last attempt to keep boy scout work alive in this city. There are two troops here and in addition a number of boys who have applied for membership but who cannot be admitted until another troop is formed. Harkey is looking for scout masters to aid him in his work and stated yesterday that unless local people got behind the scout work here it was doomed to failure.

TO PLAY FOOTBALL

With the grid battle with Brownfield, scheduled to be played here tomorrow afternoon, called off, Coach Mule Davis and his Western football team will entrain early in the morning for Clovis where they will meet the fast high school eleven Friday afternoon. The Idalou high school team will come to Lubbock today to engage the second team of Lubbock. The game will be held at Fair park and will be under way at 4:15 o'clock.

IDALOU THEATRE READY

The new theatre now under construction in Idalou, will be opened the latter part of this week or the first part of next. Roy C. Russell, Idalou merchant, said today while in the city on business. She show is being built by O. B. Daniel and according to Russell will be a fine theatre.

SEVEN YEAR OLD CASE IS ERASED WHEN DISMISSED

After having been pending almost seven years, the boundary suit case of Frank Boles versus J. W. Watson, et al, was brought up for trial in the special session of district court last Monday and almost immediately after the jury had been empaneled to try the case it was compromised and dismissed. District Court Clerk Louie F. Moore, stated yesterday.

The case has been tried once before and after four days were consumed in the testimony a decision was rendered. The case was then appealed to a higher court and the officials reversed the decision and sent it back to the district court for trial. It has been conservatively estimated that more than five hundred dollars in court and jury fees has been spent in the fighting of the case, in addition to attorneys fees, Moore said.

The property actually involved in the boundary question is less than one acre but it was necessary to establish a line that would correct any future irregularity in the surrounding lands.

LUBBOCK MAN IS WORLD TRAVELER

O. D. Hargis, Rubber Expert, Has Traveled Three Times Around Globe

At least three trips entirely around the world and enough side trips left over to go around again is the record of a Lubbock man during the past twenty years just as an ordinary part of his regular work. O. D. Hargis of Lubbock is not a globe trotter, a lecturer, a newspaper correspondent or international bootlegger, spy, or any other novelty occupation but just an all around authority upon the production of crude rubber.

India, China, Japan, Africa, South America—all of these continents, countries and ordinarily unvisited places are as familiar to him as the South Plains, Abernathy, Littlefield and Gaines County. The habits, customs, characteristics of the natives, their food, homes and modes of life are known to him from personal contact with them in their every-day life, and not as is seen by the passing traveler. Not only does he know the cities of these various nations and countries but the obscure, seldom explored reaches of the interior—the swamps, valleys, rivers, mountains and forests of the back country he has tramped on foot, atop the swaying elephant, the swinging camel, and many other varied and interesting forms of locomotion.

Only three months ago he returned from a six months tour of exploration of the upper reaches of the Amazon River in search of native rubber or conditions suitable for the production of crude rubber on a commercial scale. He is in the employ of the Federal Government under the direction of the Bureau of Domestic and Foreign Commerce investigating the crude rubber sources of the world. He will return to Washington before the end of the month to wind up some details in connection with his last assignment—a two or three months' study of the Isle of Haiti and will then be away to (CONTINUED ON PAGE EIGHT)

Many Cattle Being Shipped To Market

Cattle shipments in the vicinity of Ropes, Brownfield and Seagraves have been moving swiftly during the past week, according to Lem Chesler, local cattleman and correspondent to "The Cattleman," a monthly magazine. During the past week there have been a hundred and ten carloads of cattle shipped from Seagraves neighborhood, Chesler said.

Another shipment, this time of seventy-five cars, is scheduled for tomorrow, leaving from Seagraves. Cattlemen all over this territory are shipping and selling their cattle as fast as they can at the present time. The first ban against Texas cattle in the northern markets, as a result of the foot and mouth disease, has been removed.

TALK ABOUT SCOUTS—A dozen prominent business and professional men were called in consultation on Tuesday night by L. S. Harkey, local insurance man, in a last attempt to keep boy scout work alive in this city. There are two troops here and in addition a number of boys who have applied for membership but who cannot be admitted until another troop is formed. LEGION ENCAMPMENT PLANNED FOR CORNER-STONE LAYING HERE ON ARMISTICE DAY

OBSERVANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY WILL BE MERGED WITH TECH CELEBRATION; ALL PANHANDLE AND PLAINS LEGION POSTS INVITED

A big encampment of ex-service men, at which one thousand former soldiers are expected to take a part, will be one of the features of the Armistice Day celebration and the cornerstone laying of the Administration building of the Texas College of Technology in Lubbock on November 11, Hubert L. Allen, chairman of the program committee of the local Allen Brothers Post of the American legion, stated yesterday. The encampment will be held in the community auditorium on the night of November 10 and every legion post in the Panhandle-Plains territory will be invited to participate.

The visiting legionnaires will participate in the flag raising which is scheduled to start the ceremonies and immediately after the corner stone is laid in place will stand a formal retreat. Martial music will be furnished by bandsmen and a salute from the French Seventy-fives by the local battery of the Texas National Guard will be fired. A regular reversion to army life is to be taken in the encampment and even the menu, made up of "corned Willie" and beans, will smack of the days of 17.

A meeting of the central committee of the Tech party, made up of the heads of the various committees, will be held tomorrow night at seven-thirty, in the offices of the Chamber of Commerce in the courthouse. At that time heads of the various committees will report the personnel of their committees and also what they have accomplished to make the affair a success.

Committee heads already appointed by Chairman Henry T. Kimbro, and who have begun to function at their various tasks are: Seating and Grounds, J. B. Maxey; Publicity, H. D. Woods; Music, Smiley C. Wilson; Finance, R. W. Blair; Parade, H. H. Griffith; Automobiles, Homer D. Pharr; Platform Arrangement, A. V. Weaver; Individual Accommodations, M. M. Dupre; Special Dinner, Neil H. Wright; Reception, C. E. MacGowan; and Traffic and Parking, Sam C. Arnett.

With each of the eleven committees composed of from three to five members a total of from forty to fifty persons are working diligently to make the second Tech party a success. Final plans will be laid at the meeting tomorrow night and from that date on the organization of workers will work on the plans in a way which will assure success of the undertaking.

Ruby Is Elected To High Post Of Honor

Martin S. Ruby, city manager, was recently elected to membership in the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and is now proud of displaying his badge, symbol of the affiliation.

The organization selects its members from standpoints of efficiency, service and rigid technical examinations. So select is the organization that in the entire state of Texas only twelve or fifteen electrical engineers have been accorded the honor of membership. Ruby has been doing so notable work in the operation and enlargement of the local light and power plant.

Canyon Mayor Looks Over Water System

Mayor Harrison, of the city of Canyon, arrived in Lubbock yesterday for a several days visit with city officials. While here Mayor Harrison will make a survey of the Lubbock municipal water works. The city of Canyon is planning an extension to their system and it was thought that by viewing the system here it would be possible to find out some points which could well be used in the Randall county seat when the work of enlarging the water system begins there.

Realtors See Great Business Coming On

Only four or five real estate deals were shown following the dealings made here on Tuesday, a very small number for this city, local real estate men stated yesterday. The fact that so few were shown was regarded as one of those strange events which occur in any line of business.

According to the realtors business is growing every day and especially in the farm-seekers line has the trading been accelerated. By the first of next month it is thought the fall and winter business will begin to reach the heights prevailing here last year.

Ideal for Fall

PARIS recommends this as the ideal costume for fall and early winter, the long coat worn over the straight chemise frock keeping the lines close and slender. The material is black kasha lined with beige crepe de chine and finished at the neck with a scarf of the crepe. A row of buttons up the back and half way up the sleeves are the only trimming on the coat. The front buttons on one side with a row of buttons from shoulder to hemline and has a Jenny neckline.

73 STUDENTS AT A. C. C. REGISTER FROM THIS CITY

Several Are Becoming Leaders Writes Harbert Hooker, Local Boy

Harbert D. Hooker, who was a student in Lubbock high school in 1922, says all of the college students from Lubbock are not at C. I. A., the state university, the agricultural and mechanical college or at S. M. U. He reports that Lubbockites, seventy-three strong, are on hand every day for classes at the Abilene Christian college and recently wrote the Plains Journal to tell us about it. Here is what Harbert has to say on the subject:

Noticing that several of the other schools of Texas have been telling how many Lubbock students they have enrolled I want to let you know that they haven't got all of them by any means. When the Abilene Christian College doors were opened on the seventeenth day of September, seventy-three were admitted.

Several of those Lubbock students are taking an important part in the school's activities. George Brown is captain of the 1924 Wildcats. Alta Burns is taking an active part in literary events and Pug Brown and Price Sanders are on the staff of the Optimist, the school's year-book. If I do not make the debating team I am going to know the reason why.

I am enjoying the Plains Journal very much and do not see how I could get along without it.

Yours truly,
Harbert D. Hooker.
The Plains Journal is always glad to get reports of the doing of Lubbock people, both at home and abroad and feels indebted to Harbert Hooker for his interest and kindness. A large percentage of college students from Lubbock and the South Plains are regular readers of the Plains Journal and this publication is glad to keep in touch with them at all times.

J. C. Walker of Garza county, was a visitor here Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Douglass and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Edwards spent Sunday in Tahoka visiting friends.

S. A. Mitchell, of Idalou, was a Lubbock visitor Monday.

Ernest Weaver of Center, Texas, was in Lubbock transacting business Sunday.

Why do Purina-fed hens lay more eggs right through the moult? It's because they get more protein and it takes lots of it for feathers and eggs. Feathers run as high as 60% protein. Whites of eggs are nearly all protein. Feed a balanced ration—

Industry is Doing the World's Work

The people who know most about industry are those who are in industry. In addition to knowing about industry people who are in the public service industry know about the interest that all the rest of the people have in that industry.

The public utility industry—for instance the service of light and power is peculiar in that it can do well only as the people served by it do well. It is an essential service, and experience has shown that an industry which is affected with a public interest serves well only through cooperation between the service and the people served.

The spirit of cooperation for the benefit of both the service and those served is the spirit that inspires this company to look always to the welfare of its customers and of the community it serves.

LUBBOCK COUNTY FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS WILL MEET IN AN ALL DAY SESSION ON OCTOBER 25

The Lubbock County Federation of Women's Clubs will meet at Slaton, Saturday, Oct. 25. Registration of delegates and visitors will begin at 10 o'clock a. m., regular session at 10:30 and close at 4:00 p. m.

Last fall the members of the women's clubs throughout the county looked forward with pleasant anticipation to the meeting that was to have been held at Slaton in October, but continuous rains prevented the holding of the meeting, although the good women of Slaton kept themselves in stoical readiness for many weeks. Determined not to be outdone by the weather, Slaton again invited the Federation to meet at that place and again the women throughout the county are thrilled with pleasant anticipation.

Every woman in Lubbock county is invited to be present at this meeting, whether or not she is a member of any club, but especially are club members and school teachers urged to attend. The Federation has for its purpose the improvement of community life morally, socially and educationally throughout the county and no person can afford to neglect the opportunity of helping in so universal a cause.

Twenty clubs are affiliated with the County Federation and the mingling together of their members, the exchanging of ideas and the friendly offering of helpful experiences never fails to inspire in these women a determination to be of greater help in maintaining their communities' higher ideals of social, moral and educational existence, and in securing of these ideas a practical application.

The Federation is anxious to enroll as a member every club in the county that is interested in and working for the purposes for which it is organized and cordially invites any club that is not already a member to fill out the application blank below and send it, together with one dollar, which is the yearly dues for each club, to Mrs. W. L. Baugh, President, County Federation, 1319 12th street, Lubbock, Texas. We desire to become active members of the County Federation of Women's Clubs, and hereby promise if admitted to membership to endeavor to further the objects for which the Federation is formed.

LAMESA TO VOTE FOR BOND ISSUE ON OCTOBER 20

Question To Come Up on School Completion; Ask For $25,000 Addition Expense Money

LAMESA.—The Board of Trustees of the Lamesa Independent school district have ordered an election to be held on October 20th, for the purpose of voting $25,000 in additional bonds. The money to be derived from these bonds will be used to complete and furnish the new high school building now under construction here.

A total amount of $131,000 was made available several months ago for the erection of this building, but since the construction started it has been found necessary to add new features to the building, in order to care for the increasing enrollment, brought on by the rapid increase in population of this district.

Should the contemplated bond issue carry and the money be used for the building, the new high school will have cost $156,000.

Several grades of the school are being cared for in church buildings of the town, awaiting the completion of the new building.

The $75,000 building erected three years ago is inadequate to care for the entire enrollment at this time. The six gins of Lamesa had ginned 4968 bales of cotton up to Wednesday night of last week. A light rain the first of the week put a stop to cotton picking for a few days, but with fair weather the remainder of the week, the gins ran night and day. Cotton picking is just now getting started generally over Dawson county. Many farmers have fifteen and twenty bales ready to pick, and no hands to gather it. There is still a big demand for cotton pickers in this county.

There are ten gins in the county outside of the city of Lamesa, and it is estimated that there have been ten thousand bales already ginned in the entire county.

The Lubbock Cotton Oil Co., is erecting a large storage house on the Santa Fe right of way at this place. They will use this house to store cottonseed that they will buy here. The local oil mill is running at full capacity now.

The official board of the Methodist church of Lamesa has voted to build a new church building to cost not less than $65,000. No definite plans as to the style of the new church or the material to be used have been made. The building will be constructed of fire-proof material and will be arranged to care for all departments of the rapidly growing congregation. It is hoped by those in charge to have the actual construction under way by the first of the new year. No difficulty is looked for in securing all necessary finances to construct and furnish the structure. Rev. J. W. Watson, formerly of Rotan, is pastor of the church.

VERY LITTLE IS KNOWN ON SHORT LINE RAILROAD

Chamber Of Commerce Cannot Give Out A Great Deal Of Information

The management of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce recently received a telegram concerning the new Roswell, Lubbock and Memphis short line railroad, which was chartered nearly two weeks ago in Austin. The telegram suggested that the Chamber of Commerce either send a representative to Houston to confer with Clifford Gruenwald, the president of the road, or else invite Gruenwald here for a conference.

At the time the telegram was received O. L. Slaton, president of the Lubbock State bank, was attending a meeting of bankers in College Station and Manager Davis, of the Chamber of Commerce, telegraphed Gruenwald to confer with the banker if the questions involved were urgent. Mr. Slaton returned from College Station yesterday, however, and according to his statement he did nothing concerning the railroad while he was absent from the city.

LUBBOCK PEOPLE ARE INTERESTED IN FARRAR'S COMING TO AMARILLO

Lubbock followers of the fine arts greeted with enthusiasm the announcement of the coming of Geraldine Farrar in "Carmen"—the new and modern version of the great opera, as prepared by Miss Farrar herself.

Under the direction of Emil F. Myers of Amarillo, the event will be presented at the municipal auditorium in Amarillo on the evening of October 27. Ticket sales opened on Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock. Mail orders should be addressed to Prof. Myers at 305 Taylor street.

In view of the near approach of Miss Farrar's engagement, a recent review of the great diva's artistic accomplishments, given by a widely known New York critic, is interesting. He said:

"A certain characteristic of Geraldine Farrar's art and career has been, and one would say ever will be, youth from the first moment when she returned to America from her studies and artistic battles abroad to conquer critics and public, to send hurrying to their corners upholders of traditions whose eyes were blinded to the events and the accomplishments of today, her course has been distinguished by the fire, the courage, the idiomatibility of youth and talent. For her there has never been the word 'impossible'; for her no labor is too tremendous to achieve a thing desired, and nothing in the world is too big, too great for her to attempt. An individual from the bottom of her heart, a woman who acts as she thinks for herself, she has made a host of friends in the country which admires almost nothing else, and some enemies. But she has always triumphed by her sheer force, vitality, charm and optimism which nothing can displace or dismay. While others are wondering what will happen, Miss Geraldine is evolving a new exhibition of art.

"Miss Farrar's attitude toward her own work is admirably duplicated by her attitude toward fellow artists. She is always curious, always enthusiastic to learn what other musicians with talent and brains are doing. The first to commend a distinctive accomplishment, and to greet with open arms new ideas. Life seems to remain for her what it always is for youth, whether the circumstances be grave or gay, viz., a struggle, a victory an ad romp. Those who have seen her tired or depressed are so few that they have never been found. She loves her work, her fight, her daily climb a little higher up the ladder of achievement. She loves the public, which reciprocates this sentiment on the part of one of its own."

TESTED RECIPIES

CONFECTIONER'S SUGAR ICING

1 cup confectioner's sugar

Hot water

FIRST CONSIDERATION IN AUTUMN WEAR IS THE COAT, DICTATORS OF MILADY'S FALL ATTIRE ANNOUNCE

At this season a coat tops the smartest dress and is, therefore, the first consideration in planning one's wardrobe. The winter coat may be very luxurious even when it is not a fur one. The new cashmere coatings have a soft sheen that denotes richness of texture and suggests warmth. When chosen in one of the lovely new tones of brown and trimmed with fur, a cloth coat of this type is elegant enough for any day time occasion. The shawl collar is a new feature and may be worn rolled close about the throat for colder weather. Otherwise the familiar straight-line coat, that wraps the figure and is held in position rather than buttoned, will prevail for this winter. A coat in a new seven-eighths length is frequently used as part of the ensemble costume, though it may also serve as a separate wrap over any dress. As part of a complete costume, however, it is lined to match the silk of the dress, while the dress usually has a border of the wool coat fabric. The short jacket of fur or fur fabric so successful the past winter, continues to be the modish accompaniment of the wool frock or separate skirt for smart street wear. It is really a very practical type of coat and exceedingly youthful, which especially recommends it.

The two-piece suit for late autumn and winter wears its coat rather long, when it is not one of the short manish tailor-mades. This dressier suit mode, too, often follows a novel outline, which may be most effectively brought out by the crosswise use of striped or ribbed material. The use of buttons as trimmings is fashionable, yet many of the newest modes choose to be button-trimmed.

EXPLANATION IS GIVEN ON OPERA COMIQUE COMING TO CITY

'Don Pasquale,' Opera Comique Is High Class Production Musicians Say

With the announcement by the Lubbock Music club that the opera comique, "Don Pasquale," would be presented here on November fifteenth, at the high school auditorium, local dramatic and music lovers immediately became enthused.

In order that everyone interested in the performance might be informed just what the performance will be and just what type of entertainment it is, Miss Pearl Denman, member of the Music club and one of the faculty members of the George M. Hunt school, has submitted an explanation, which follows:

OPERA COMIQUE—WHAT IS IT? "Opera Comique" means any opera that has been brought out at the Theatre de l'Opera-Comique, in Paris. The chief offshoot of opera, proper is Opera Comique, in France and that of Singspiel in Germany.

The French opera comique is very similar in origin to the Italian opera buffa, and grew out of the vaudeville. As early as 1714 it was the custom for holiday-makers to gather in the market places and watch the performances of burlesques—which were always uproariously applauded. When sons in direct connection with the plot of the farce were introduced we have the beginning of comic opera. It was the inevitable result of the growing demand for naturalness and spontaneity in dramatic representation.

WEST TEXAS LEADS THE NATION IN PROSPERITY

West Texas, written about in the geographies of our father's days, as "Llano Estacado" and "The Great American Desert," has come into its own. The wise men of the financial world, the captains of industry and the barons of big business admit it. The map above shows why.

In the national survey of business conditions for the entire United States, released by the LaSalle Extension University, of Chicago, West Texas in its entirety is shown to be the most prosperous area in the whole country. Several smaller sections of the country, including extreme south Texas and isolated parts of Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Arizona and California, are shown to be as prosperous as is West Texas but the whole of the other parts shown to be in a fine condition will not, if merged into one tract, equal the size of this territory.

The entire survey shows all of the United States in a fair condition, no portion of it being shown as failing in a business way, a showing which should dishearten some of the nation's leading politicians who are pleading for election upon the grounds that they will put America on its feet from a business standpoint.

The talk of prosperity in West Texas, as shown by the testimony of unbiased experts, has not been all imagination as some of the enemies of this section would have the gullible and uninformed believe. The only thing West Texas people can regret about it is that it is impossible for the interested parties in other sections of the country to really know business conditions here by looking at a survey map.

The best thing about the whole matter is that prosperity has only begun in West Texas and there is greater business success and more riches awaiting its people in future years.

TURN HAIR DARK WITH SAGE TEA

If Mixed With Sulphur It Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

The old-time mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur for darkening gray, or's recipe, and folks are again using it to keep their hair a good, even color, streaked and faded hair is grandmother's which is quite sensible, as we are living in an age when a youthful appearance is of the greatest advantage.

Nowadays, though, we don't have the troublesome task of gathering the sage and the mussy fixing at home. All drug stores sell the ready-to-use product, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." It is very popular because nobody can discover it has been applied. Simply moisten your comb or a soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also produces that soft lustre and appearance of abundance which is so attractive. TEXAS COTTON REPORT INDICATES CROP WILL BE SMALLER FOR 1924

OCTOBER CONDITIONS SHOW COTTON CROP IS NOT AS LARGE AS WAS FORECAST IN SEPTEMBER, SAYS COMMISSIONER GEORGE TERRELL

Geo. B. Terrell, Commissioner of Agriculture, gave out his crop report today based on conditions October 1st. The report shows a lower condition and estimated yield than the report of September 1st. His report follows:

"Reports received from our correspondents representing nearly 200 counties show slight decline in the condition and estimated yield of cotton since our last report.

"The tabulated reports indicate a yield slightly below last year with a production of approximately 4,000,000 bales, compared with 4,125,000 bales estimated in our report published September 30th. Ninety-five per cent of all reports indicate no top crop. The recent heavy rains have damaged the crop in all districts except the Western and Northwestern, where slight improvement is indicated.

"The reports show that more than half the crop was picked October 1st. I do not know what number of bales were ginned to this date, as the government ginning report has not been issued. Reports from other states indicate a total crop of not more than 12,000,000 bales and possibly less.

"The recent advance in the price of cotton is the result of two obvious reasons: First, there is a growing suspicion in the minds of speculators and mill men that the crop will be shorter than estimated by the government; second, the holding of a large amount of cotton off the market, when the price dropped to 20 cents which is below the cost of production. The speculators are not fools and these causes will always influence the market.

"It cost 26 cents per pound to produce this cotton, and any price below 26 cents will not give the producer a fair profit.

"It will require an average of four acres to produce one bale of cotton.

"The average price paid for picking is $1.42 per 100 pounds.

"The average price paid for lint cotton was 23 cents, and the average price per ton for seed was $25.75.

val percentage, for industrial spaces, etc., to pay in full all of the expenses of management, printing, advertising, premiums, entertainment, etc., connected with the operation of this year's fair and in addition to that $5,000 worth of permanent improvements were added and paid for and the back obligations of approximately $6,000 were cleaned up, with interest—leaving the fair for the second time in its history absolutely clear of debt and with around $500 to start with for next year.

That is good—wonderful in fact, and all the credit in the world is due the officers, directors, and citizenship of Lubbock and the South Plains for putting it over in such good shape. Particularly should we mention Slaton, Ideson, Shallowater and Acuff for their part in the Cotton Pageant. However, it is simply impossible to mention, by name, every man, group, city or county that has contributed to the success of the fair.

But—success always entails additional responsibility. The new fence this year was a long needed improvement that more than paid for itself—yes three or four times its cost was saved in added admission fees. Now we must take another long step—that will also pay for itself within two or three years. Regardless of costs, financial conditions or anything else we must buy an additional 40 acres of ground for the fair and our present lease on the ground now being used by the fair must be extended for 99 years—to give the directors a solid, safe basis upon which to make some permanent improvements for the coming years.

The fair is not a Lubbock proposition. It is as much a part of Lubbock county as it is of the city of Lubbock. It is as much a part of the entire South Plains as it is of Lubbock county and there should be no hitch in extending the present ten year lease for 99 additional years. The County Park was bought and is being improved for the good of the county as a whole. Potter county is now voting a $130,000 bond issue for the purchase of a fair park and buildings for the Tri-State Fair—to serve the same purpose that the Lubbock Park must serve—as a recreational park for eleven and a half months in the year and a fair park for the other two weeks.

A little more than 20 years ago Dallas bought a fair park out of a city bond election for $125,000 and organized a fair association with the same form of charter that we have for the Panhandle South Plains Fair—one that provided that all of the profit that might accrue shall be put back into the permanent improvement of the property. Today the Dallas Fair property is worth over two and a quarter million dollars. Eleven months of the year it is a city park, a playground, a recreational center for a great city. During the other month it is the "show window of the South," the second largest exposition in America and one of the most constructive factors in the development of not only that great city but all of Texas.
We have the same opportunity—and the same obligation. Will our leaders, our fair officials, Chamber of Commerce directors, our County Commissioners and the progressive citizenship of our county be big enough, broad-gauged enough, far-sighted enough to take the necessary steps, make the necessary agreements, contracts, etc., to provide Lubbock and the Plains country with adequate facilities with which to build a similar great exposition for this section.

Fairs—like cities—do not happen. They are built—and Lubbock has an opportunity of building here a truly great fair for the years to come if she will but accept the full responsibility today of providing for tomorrow.

PANHANDLE-PLAINS SECTIONS ARE IN THE FOREFRONT AT STATE FAIR; EXHIBITS STRONG

WINNERS OF LUBBOCK AND AMARILLO FAIRS WILL WIN SOME PRIZES; HALF OF AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS FROM PANHANDLE-PLAINS

DALLAS—The Amarillo Tri-State fair agricultural department and the Panhandle and South Plains Fair has been transported to the Dallas State Fair. More than fifty per cent of the agricultural exhibits to the State fair are from the Panhandle-Plains.
All the prize winners at the Amarillo and Lubbock fairs are at Dallas. Hale county, which took first place two years in succession at Amarillo, is here with a splendid exhibit in charge of Col. R. P. Smyth and Sam Scalling. Col. Smyth was at the Amarillo fair and has an exhibit similar in design to that which won first place in the Panhandle-Plains metropolis.
Randall county, which took second prize at Amarillo, has an exhibit similar—in fact, almost identical—to that shown at the Tri-State Fair and the Panhandle and South Plains Fair. J. W. Jennings, Randall county agent, is in charge of the exhibit.
Floyd county took third at the Amarillo fair. It has an exhibit in charge of Maury Hopkins, secretary of the Floydada chamber of commerce. The background has the word "Prosperity" with a star, cotton and wheat worked in the lay out. A State Fair edition of the Floyd County Hesperian is being distributed.

Dallam and Hartley counties placed fourth and fifth at Amarillo. These counties have a joint exhibit here because Dalhart is on the county line and the names comes from the two counties. C. S. Guin, secretary of the Dallam chamber of commerce, and C. F. Lockridge, Dallam county agent, are in charge. Mr. Guin, who was at the Amarillo fair, said that he is well pleased with the way which exhibits from his section are placing at the various expositions. Dallam county took first at Wichita Falls and Hartley county second at the Austin exposition.

Hale, Floyd, Lubbock, Crosby and Potter counties are in a row at the main entrance to the agricultural hall, formerly the coliseum. The Potter county booth is beautifully designed with a horn of plenty in the center of the background. At the mouth of the horn are fruit and grains. White and purple cloth are the background for the grain. The exhibit is not crowded, and it is attracting considerable attention.
O. V. Vernon, secretary of the Amarillo Board of City Development, and Miss Anna Bower, Potter county home demonstrator, are in charge of the booth.
Mr. Vernon is expecting the competition to be the stiffest in the history of the State Fair. The reason for this is the fact that approximately 25 counties have filled out every classification, as required by the score card, compared to 10 or 12 a year ago. "The county that wins first this year will have a splendid honor," Mr. Vernon said. "Even eighth to tenth place is not to be held placing low."

Competition on Quality
With the score cards well filled, it is expected that competition will hinge upon quality of products and design. Many counties are eliminated from awards because they have lost 50 to 200 points by failure to meet the entrance requirements.
D. F. Eaton, county agent, and Miss Mabel Marsh, county demonstrator, are in charge of the Lubbock county exhibit. The Lubbock exhibit is well arranged and those in charge believe it will receive full recognition by the judges.
Crosby is another county in the Potter county row. Its exhibit is next to Potter and is in charge of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Palmer. All five of the counties in the row have fine backgrounds and it is difficult to tell which will place the highest.
J. B. Wallace, federal grain inspector at Plainview, is one of the judges and he was seen Sunday going through the grain exhibits, his specialty.
Building Opened Sunday
The exhibits were not opened up Saturday on account of so much construction work being done that the building was very dusty. But thousands packed the building Sunday to inspect the exhibits. Former residents of the various West Texas counties made those exhibits their headquarters to meet friends.

Joe H. Burris, secretary of the Clarendon chamber of commerce, and Homer Mulky, Clarendon booster, are in charge of the Donley county exhibit, which has a blue background with the wording, "Under the Cap Rock." A bale of cotton is shown in the center.
Lynn county of which Tahoka is the county seat has a large map of its section with Lynn county shown as the heart. The map is made of wheat.

Deaf Smith county, which has become so widely known at the Amarillo fair through the people's loyal attendance, has an exhibit with the word Hereford written in cotton in an alfalfa background.
C. T. Watson, county agent, and Mrs. Watson have charge of the Dawson county exhibit. Mr. Watson is proud of his booth which shows many days of hard labor. He spent four days in getting it ready for display. He has been bringing exhibits to the state fair for several years and says that it is remarkable to note how less crowded his exhibit this year is compared to his first one here.
Another heart design is that of Terry county. George W. Nell and J. B. Leedy of Brownfield are in charge of this county's exhibit, which is attracting considerable attention.

George (Scotty) Samson of Post is in charge of the Garza county exhibit. Scotty is widely known in the Panhandle as a golf player and also for his courses. Scotty is being assisted by E. Fogue with the Garza county exhibit.
Dickens county is almost out of the Panhandle-Plains, but many of the citizens of Spur are known to the people a little farther in the northwest. "Where Farming Pays" is shown in the Dickens county background. R. B. Johnston, county agent at Spur, is in charge of the Dickens county exhibit.
Dr. O. H. Loyd, the veteran booster of Oldham county, has charge of that county's exhibit. The Vega resident has shown exhibits at a number of regional expositions for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and is always happy to tell people from other sections that the Panhandle is not a barren desert. His talk on his exhibits is almost a lecture, but interesting.

The background for the Oldham county exhibit is a rug. On the outside rows are maize and kaffir with apples and cotton worked toward the center. The representation of the rug is so apparent that nearly all visitors easily notice the purpose of the design.
J. C. Temple of Farwell, who was with the Parmer county exhibit at the Amarillo fair, is in charge of the booth at Dallas. He is talking to hundreds of people about the advantages of Parmer county, which is rapidly developing into an agricultural region.
Hemphill and Lamb counties are here with booths side by side. Alex Pinkerton of Littlefield has charge of the Lamb county booth, which has a lamb in the center of the background. The Hemphill booth is well filled with fine agricultural displays together with some fruit.
"Where the green belt is greenest" advertises the Childress county booth in charge of L. T. Hunter, county agent. A map of Texas shows the green belt—Donley, Hall, Childress and Collingsworth counties.
Another West Texas exhibit that is of interest to the Panhandle-Plains is that from Midland county—because of the people in charge, Mr. and Mrs. Paul T. Vickers.
Lea County, New Mexico, has an exhibit that attracts attention because of the strawberry plants. Green and ripe strawberries are shown by Luke Roberts, editor of the Lovington Leader.

CAPTAIN KIDD FADES FROM SCENE WHEN FORMER LUBBOCK MAN TELLS OF TREASURE BURIED YEARS PAST

The buried treasures of the fabled Captain Kidd have no lure for the rum hounds of this city and section since Dr. MacMillan, director of the Department of Mathematical Astronomy in a Chicago University made the startling announcement of a buried treasure only four miles from Lubbock that is being sought after more than gold—yea verily—than much pure gold.

"Twenty-six years ago this summer Charlie Mitchell was rounding up a herd of cattle on his ranch four miles northwest of where Lubbock now stands and as a reward for the good day's work he expected to get done by his hands that day had provided a three-gallon jug of good red 'licker.'" This was the story Dr. MacMillan told the Lubbock Rotary Club this week. "But he knew that if the boys found the jug before the work was done there would be some brands put on crooked before night. So he selected a small bush on the side of a hill and buried the jug—sprinkling it over with loose grass."

"In the process of milking the great herd of cows during the day not only was the grass tramped down, the newly dug earth abraded, but the little bush itself was entirely destroyed—with the result that in spite of much digging, hunting and sniffing that three-gallon jug of 'licker' still lies buried somewhere on the side of that hill in the pasture that I bought from Charlie Mitchell a few weeks later."

The Doctor has already had several offers from local men to break his entire 3,500 acre farm to a good depth free of cost and "sniffing parties" are being organized to explore the hill in hopes of finding the long lost jug. "Just consider the historical value of such a container," said one recognized rum hound as he licked his lips and thought of the beauty of an old brown jug.

who is in charge of the booth. A few other West Texas counties are: Howard (Big Spring); Wilbarger (Vernon); Foard (Crowell); Haskell (Haskell); Eastland (Eastland); Brown (Brownwood).

Plainview To Vote On Another School Building For City

PLAINVIEW.—A bond election has been called for the purpose of authorizing the issuance of $120,000 for a new building for the Plainview public schools.

Capt. Winfield Holbrook today told a representative of The Herald that if the bonds carry this amount will be used in paying the balance of the amount owed on the new site, $7,500, which is now in the form of vendors' lien notes, and to erect and equip a new building install sidewalks, grade the grounds, etc.

The proposed new building is to be of brick with a variegated tile roof. There are to be about 26 rooms of usual size, in addition to the storage, cloak and other rooms necessary. This building is to be on the unit plan, so that in years to come as needed other sections can be erected.

When completed it will be used first for a junior school, housing the sixth seventh and eighth grades, these being the first grade in high school and the upper grades in the grammar schools, thus relieving the crowded condition in all the schools. — Herald.

Eleven Bids Considered By The Commissioners; Cost Will Total $45,330.07

RALLS.—The City Commission of Ralls awarded a contract Wednesday to Joe B. Winslett of Dallas for construction of a complete water system.

Eleven bids were considered by the commission, the Winslett bid being $37,901.50, and the highest bid being $9,000.00 greater than this. This bid did not include pumping machinery, house and installation of pumping machinery. The water works complete will cost $45,330.07.

Contract calls for completion of the job within 90 days and Mr. Winslett is under bond to half the amount of the bid to guarantee completion of the contract.

Other bidders were: James Construction Company, Dallas; Sherman Machine & Iron Works, Oklahoma City; Eugene Campbell, Dallas; Roy Erick, Plainview; John Moore, Cisco; W. H. Cramer, Dallas; Gantt-Baker Company, Oklahoma City; Moore & Johnson, Dallas; Pittsburgh-Des Moines Steel Company, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Municipal Excavating Company Oklahoma City.

Tahoka Has Ginned About 5,000 Bales

TAHOKA.—Up to ten o'clock Thursday morning, the number of bales of cotton ginned in Lynn county, according to yard and gin reports received by the News, was 4462. The report would have been considerably larger had picking not been delayed by the rain the first of the week. The price of cotton Thursday morning in Tahoka was about 23.56. At the first of the week the price ranged as high as 25.75, but the government report caused a considerable slump in the market. — News.

NEW SCHOOL FOR SOUTHLAND NEAR SUCCESSFUL END

Fine $35,000 Structure Neatly Arranged; Classes Are To Be Held In It Soon

SOUTHLAND.—The new thirty-five thousand dollar school building is nearing completion and looks to us to be the best that can be found in any little West Texas town the size of Southland.

The finishing touch is being put to the building, the walls are being plastered and the flooring is being laid, the roofing is also being finished up and the finishing work in general is in full swing.

The large auditorium, with its big stage, high ceiling and big seating capacity, will be an ideal place for the school programs and plays. The class rooms are all large, with plenty of light and each room is equipped with steam heat. The superintendent's office is a neat little office just inside the main entrance of the building; next to the library, which joins the big study hall. The building is neatly arranged and will be equipped with new furniture and fixtures. It will be completed by the last of the month. — News.

TAHOKA TO HAVE ICE PLANT SOON

City Council Lets Contract To Insure Construction On Municipal Factory

TAHOKA.—Tahoka is to install a municipal ice plant. The City Council entered into a contract with the Sterling Machine Company for the installation of a ten-ton plant to be operated by the City in connection with the municipal water, light and power plants.

It is contemplated that the plant will be installed and ready for operation by the time the next ice season opens.

By the operation of this plant the city will be able to furnish ice to the citizens at a much lower figure, it is thought, than they are compelled to pay for ice now, and the plant will pay its own operating expenses.

This marks another step in the development and growth of our city, and the Mayor and the City Council are to be commended for this forward step. — News.

Hale Center Annual Fair Well Attended

PLAINVIEW.—The Hale Center Community fair, which was held in that enterprising town last week, was a great success from most every standpoint, though the attendance was naturally curtailed by the light rains of Monday and Tuesday and the heavy rain of Tuesday night; however, the attendance was very large each day. There were about 3,000 people present at the fair.

The fair did not open on Tuesday until noon, the delay being occasioned by the rains.

Borden County Fire Kills Man And Wife

SNYDER, Texas.—The charred bodies of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hicks were found this morning in the remains of their home 28 miles west of here which was destroyed by fire during Wednesday night.

Mr. Hicks was a prominent ranch man and his home was located in Borden county. He was 50 years of age and Mrs. Hicks was 42.

The origin of the fire is undetermined. The family lived in a remote section of the country and the fire was not known until the discovery this morning. The bodies appeared to have been dressed.

Mrs. Hicks is a sister of John and Ira Sturdivant, both of Scurry county.

He resides with his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Eastland, 4325 Hall street.

TRIANGLE CAUSE OF SHOOTING OF AMARILLO WOMAN

Waitress Is Killed By Wife Of Chef Who Surrenders To Police Afterward

AMARILLO.—Mrs. Billie Meeks, pretty 24-year-old wife of J. Allen Meeks, day chef at Engman's cafe, is being held in the county jail, following the shooting to death of Mrs. Bessie Summers, waitress at Darnall's Cafe, 513 Polk street, early this morning.

Claiming according to officers, that Mrs. Summers refused to listen to "repeated warnings," Mrs. Meeks immediately went to the police station, where she gave herself up. Mrs. Summers, who was rushed to the hospital, died an hour after the shooting.

Mrs. Summers, with another waitress at the cafe, had just come in ready to begin her day's work, at 5:45 o'clock this morning. The two waitresses went directly to the cloak room to dispose of their wraps, witnesses said.

While they were in the cloak room, Mrs. Meeks entered the restaurant. She took a seat at the counter and Phillip Darnall, proprietor, believing her to be a customer, approached her to take her order.

She shook her head to indicate she did not care to eat, Mr. Darnall said. Just then the two waitresses came out of the cloak room. Mrs. Meeks arose, drew a .38 caliber police special pistol from her coat pocket, and shot Mrs. Summers, according to witnesses.

Shot Five Times. Mrs. Summers leaped to the top of the lunch counter, and fell back on the floor. In the meantime, Mrs. Meeks continued to shoot. She is said by witnesses to have fired five shots, four of which took effect.

Mrs. Summers was wounded in the left breast, just over the heart, twice in the abdomen and in the right wrist. Mrs. Meeks left the restaurant and went to the police station where she surrendered.

Handing her pistol to the officers, she said, "I want to give myself up. I just shot a woman."

Later, when Chief of Police Clark Cain came in, he questioned Mrs. Meeks.

"I had warned her and pleaded with her, Mrs. Meeks is said to have told the chief. — Post.

Work On Gymnasium At Canyon College Is Now Under Way

CANYON.—Work was started Tuesday night on a $14,000.00 gymnasium building on the College campus, which will be erected at once to take care of the growing needs of the Physical Education Department of the institution.

President J. A. Hill gives two reasons for the immediate erection of the gymnasium building: 1. The present facilities cannot begin to take care of the students in physical education. 2. The present gymnasium will not hold the folks who try to see the basketball games.

According to Mr. Hill, he has available $5,000 in funds to put in the building. A campaign is on in the College and the city of Canyon for funds to assist in the erection of the building, and two men have agreed to carry the balance covering a period of three years' time, when it is believed that the large building would easily pay itself out. — News.

BOY IS SHOT

VOTERS WILL BE ENABLED TO MIX GENERAL BALLOT

May Scratch Ballot Is Ruling Of Attorney General After Legal Controversy

AUSTIN.—In an opinion requested by John Marshall of Sherman, the attorney general's department today, outlining how a "scratched" ticket may be voted at the November election said:

"The law would not be violated if a voter marks out all the tickets on the official ballot except the democratic and republican tickets and then marks out all the names on the republican ticket except the one such voters desire to vote for, and also scratches out the name of the person on the democratic ticket for whom he does not desire to vote. Such a vote should be counted for all the democrats so voted for and for the republican so voted for."

"Where an agreement or proposal to vote for the person on the second marked ticket has been entered into or made, and no request has been made to the person receiving or securing such marked ticket to vote for the person on the marked ticket, the law would not be violated by the preparation of a sample ballot for distribution among the voters as circulars or for publication in newspapers showing the voters how they may lawfully vote for the democratic presidential electors and other nominees except for governor and also the republican candidate for governor."

CLUBWOMEN OF LAMB COUNTY SHOW BENEFITS OF COMMUNITY CANNING

MISS BIRDIE LEE BURKHALTER, DEMONSTRATION AGENT, HAS REMARKABLE SUCCESS IN THREE MONTHS OF WORK IN NEAR CANYON

Three months ago home demonstration work was virtually unknown in Lamb county. Today there are six home demonstration clubs, averaging thirty members to the club, and a great deal of interest is being shown in the work by the women all over the county. Miss Birdie Lee Burkhalter, formerly of Canyon, working in conjunction with the extension department of the state agricultural and mechanical college, of College Station, is the principal reason for the interest Lamb county women are showing in the work. She is the county home demonstration agent.

While six clubs do not sound like a great many to Lubbock county people that organization in Lamb county, where the population is much smaller, represents one club for each community in the county, or one hundred per cent organization among the community women there. Four of the communities have already purchased pressure cookers and sealers and the other two are preparing to purchase such material.

The community club women of Lamb county have been doing a great deal of fine canning work. There are several pressure cookers to be found among the club women and one enthusiastic woman has purchased individually a pressure sealer, a pressure cooker and five hundred cans, for her own use. In the last month the women of the county have placed orders for six hundred cans, or enough to put up seven baby beeves and even now many of them are ready to place additional orders for cans. One club, three weeks old, has purchased a sealer and five hundred cans for its members use. Throughout the county the canning of corn, peas, chicken and some beef has been the general thing for the past several weeks.

The way that the clubs of Lamb county are progressing under the guidance of Miss Burkhalter can well be seen by the way they took prizes in the recent fairs held in Amarillo and Lubbock. At the Tri-State Exposition they took three blue ribbons, and two red ribbons. The following week, at the Panhandle and South Plains Fair they took fourteen blue ribbons, five red ribbons and one white ribbon in the home demonstration clubs department.

The women of Lamb county and Miss Burkhalter are to be congratulated upon their work thus far and the rapid strides they have made in the short length of time that home demonstration work has been given in the county. Lamb county is furnishing an example to the counties in West Texas which have not yet installed the home demonstration work under competent agent.

Canyon Light And Power Firm Bought

CANYON.—The Canyon Light & Power Company was sold Monday by A. J. Arnold to W. G. Swenson of Abilene and G. T. Scales of Haskell. A 15-ton ice plant will be installed by the new owners, to be ready for operation by next May.

The new owners will take charge of the business on the first of November. A. F. Holt of Haskell will move here during the month to take active management of the plant. Mr. Scales will move to Canyon by the first of January.

HUGE CIRCUS IS SCHEDULED HERE ON NEXT FRIDAY

Hagenbeck-Wallace Shows Visit Lubbock; Street Parade Is Promised Kiddies

Small boys and girls and even the adults in Lubbock are happy today. Everywhere the bright and gay lithographs and posters, telling of the wonders of the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace Circus meet the eye. This city as well as surrounding countryside for fifty miles have been covered with bills announcing the coming of the world's greatest wild animal show on October 24 for afternoon and night performances, with a mile long street parade at 11 a. m.

In the old days the circus bills were made to catch the eye, and frequently the show was not what they advertised. But all that is changed now and no longer do the big circuses advertise something that they do not carry. "Truth" in advertising is one of the slogans of the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus.

When the Hagenbeck-Wallace circus comes the circus patrons will find under the "big top" everything that has been advertised and when the bills show that is just the real facts. The Hagenbeck reputation of both sides of the Atlantic for trained animals is established, and this year more wild animal acts are carried than in past seasons.

Big feature acts, gathered from the four corners of the globe, exactly as they played in the big cities last winter on the first metropolitan tour ever played by a circus are what made the Hagenbeck-Wallace, a real circus in every way.

Heading this great galaxy of stars will be found the world's greatest riding clown, "Orrin" Davenport and the Riding Davenport, the premier act of the circus world. "Orrin" is the best little clown of the sawdust ring, and he will "prove" a joy to the kiddies whether their age be six or sixty.

A total of two hundred performers, 150 wild animal acts, 100 domestic animals and 50 clowns, not counting the thoroughbred horses take part in the performance, which is offered in three rings, a steel arena and on the Roman hippodrome track.

The big street parade of more than a mile in length, will be given at 11 o'clock in the morning. In this gorgeous procession will be seen wild animals from every section of the globe, scores of pretty women, mounted on Kentucky thoroughbreds, beautiful hand-carved tableaux wagons, and five bands of musicians.

PRESIDENT HORN REQUESTS LOCAL PEOPLE PLANNING TO HOUSE TECH STUDENTS TO CONSULT HIM FIRST

Lubbock persons planning the erection of boarding houses, for use by the students of the Texas College of Technology should consult with President Paul W. Horn before doing so, thus benefitting the boarding house builders and the college authorities alike, was the suggestion issued by Doctor Horn recently.

It will be absolutely necessary for the college authorities to know something about the living conditions of the students, from standpoints of sanitation, health and social surroundings, the President said, and if the people planning to aid in the caring for of the student body will consult him before building he believes he will be able to render some valuable advice and save any difficulties which might otherwise arise when the school is open and the students arrive in this city.

To Safeguard Health
Doctor Horn is particularly interested in the sanitation of the boarding houses. He will insist on enough bathing facilities being present in all boarding houses being inhabited by students for by such provisions only can the health of the students be safeguarded.

It will also be the policy of the institution to prevent men and women students from living in the same houses. Board may be furnished to both men and women students in the same houses and at the same time, it is understood, but under no consideration will any houses be permitted to furnish rooms to both sexes, the President has ruled.

Adequate social facilities must also be maintained by boarding and rooming houses patronized by students. Especially in the cases of the places housing women students must living room facilities, under the proper chaperonage, be maintained. While the discipline maintained over the private life of the student body will be far-reaching and strict, it will in no way be too stringent, only necessary steps to be taken to oversee the social life of the institution.

Not To Interfere
President Horn does not wish the owners of rooming and boarding houses to feel that he wishes to interfere with their plans in any way but in the housing of students there are many questions that arise which can be handled only by co-operation between the school authorities and the owners of the boarding houses. In every college and university town in the country it is necessary to have a number of rules which apply to the housing of students and in every case the rules, when laid down in advance by the school authorities with the help of the townspeople caring for the students, greater efficiency in maintenance is reached.

The present offices of the Texas College of Technology are being maintained in the new Wilson building, at the corner of Thirteenth street and Avenue H. President Horn not only is willing to talk to everyone interested in the housing of students but requests that they advise with him concerning their plans.

H. L. Allen, of the Texas Utilities Company, transacted business in Lubbock Saturday.

Few Lawbreakers At Fair, Sheriff Finds

Law-breakers during the four days of the 1924 Panhandle and South Plains fair last week were conspicuous by their absence, Sheriff H. L. Johnston and Chief Deputy Lee George, both said yesterday. Despite the fact that the city and county forces were on the alert only about one dozen prisoners, all classed under the line of drunks were arrested in connection with the fair.

It is naturally expected that when great crowds of people gather that there is bound to be a certain amount of law-breaking and the fact that the offenders were so few is a feather in the cap of Lubbock and the South Plains. Carnival people were surprised at the scarcity of intoxicants during the fair.

Where Are The Calamity Howlers?

Remember last winter, when everybody was wondering if this year was going to be a good one—and if we were going to have any rain—and if the price of cotton was going to be anywhere near right? Sure you do.

And do you remember the few who were pessimistic—who said this year was the year the drouth would hit again—and that too much cotton was going to be planted and that the price would be down to about fifteen cents—and that everybody had better sit tight in the boat, save all their money and not buy anything or build anything or vote in favor of any civic improvements? Sure you remember them too, although the memory may not be exactly a pleasant one.

Well anyway here we are—on the threshold of the most prosperous era in the history of West Texas and those who maintained faith in the country are reaping their rightful harvests and getting ready for another bigger and better year in 1925.

But where are the calamity howlers, the crepe hangers, the hard time boys? As wagon load after wagon load of white gold is being hauled to the grins they are keeping under cover, preparing for their winter offensive when once again they will gather on the street corners and broadcast their cries of pessimism.

The Plains Journal believes in conservatism—believes in looking before leaping and in using heads for something else beside hat-racks. But it also believes that through implicit faith and through faith alone can this country keep up its onward march along the pathway of progress.

All of us know that West Texas and the South Plains is a proven cotton country and a proven agricultural section where all sorts of feed crops can be raised with profit to the raisers. True, a bad year may strike every so often but in what part of the country are the farmers immune from bad years? It has already been demonstrated that the fat years will heavily out-balance the lean so why be pessimistic about it?

When you feel uncertain don't broadcast it. Remember the calamity howlers of yesterday and remember this fall when they start their annual moanings this winter. Where are the calamity howlers? They're hibernating but will be out in full force in the next three months so prepare to turn a deaf ear to their arguments.

Flowers For The Living

In inaugurating the "Lubbock Yeast Cakes" election the Plains Journal believes that it is not only sponsoring an interesting and attractive local feature but that its outcome will be a source of gratification to the entire community. In Lubbock, as in every other city, the burden of civic work has fallen on the same strong and willing shoulders for many years. A few lines in the local newspapers have been the only thanks these workers have gotten and while such publicity has been the result of the feelings of the citizenry at large, there has never been offered the thanks of the community to these workers. It is with the plan in mind to give honor and credit where honor and credit are due, that the Plains Journal inaugurated the election.

As some unknown poet so aptly wrote, and as we have quoted in these columns before:

"If with pleasure you are viewing
Anything we may be doing,
If you like us, or our business,
Tell us now!
Don't withhold your approbation
'Til the parson makes oration
And we lie, with snowy lillies o'er our brow!"

The sentiment carried in the above quotation is the Plains Journal's sentiment in sponsoring this selection of the three men and two women, who through their tireless and unceasing labors have made and maintained Lubbock as "The Hub Of The Plains."

The voting was begun last week and already a large number of ballots have been received in this office. The Plains Journal urges everybody who is interested in thanking the civic workers of this community to cast a ballot, one of which will be found on the first page of this edition. The rules of the voting are simply these: Vote for three men and two women, based on their individual worth toward the progress, growth, development, reputation and spirit of the city. No one is barred save the pastors of the local churches, editors of the newspapers and members of the school profession.

Let's give flowers to the living!

Cheerfulness Pays

The agreeable, friendly man who goes through life amiably, who makes good impressions and has many friends, is more likely to succeed in his plans than is the churlish individual who is always looking for a chance to oppose somebody and to play the part of an ivory-headed cynic and pessimist.

The friendly person has a big advantage.

However, the good will of the amiable one must be sincere. The pretended "good fellow" who is merely acting the part, is really a cad who exploits himself falsely. He lives a lie. He is worse than the sincere pessimist.

The Red Cross Roll Call

Within a few days, possibly in this issue of The Journal, full announcement of the Red Cross Roll Call programme will be made public. This is an annual event in Lubbock that should be looked forward to throughout the year with a view to intelligently meeting the charity responsibilities of our city.

There is no greater waste or more unsatisfactory means of getting rid of a lot of money than through unorganized charity. The sins that are committed in the name of "sweet charity" are as many and varied as the minds of professional "city slickers, post graduate bums and highly artistic pan-handlers." For the past four years Lubbock has developed a reputation with the professional begging class as being mighty poor pickings—and at the same time the real charity needs of the city have been efficiently, intelligently and satisfactorily met.

The Lubbock Red Cross, through its board of directors and its most efficient secretary, is better able to investigate the claims of charity cases, weed out the fakes, care for the actual needy, provide work, small loans and other constructive forms of assistance and generally care for the distress that is a natural part of the life of any city of this size than any other agency in Lubbock.

A Red Cross contribution is the cheapest beggar insurance the citizenship can take. When you are called on remember that you are not padding the mit of some professional "gimme" artist but that you are assisting in a programme of well organized, intelligently directed, carefully supervised charity and that you are thereafter exempt from the feeling that you should contribute to every beggar that crosses your path with an outstretched hand. Refer them to the Red Cross and let them be investigated—But contribute enough to the Red Cross to enable them to care for the needs of the city.

Cotton and Schools

County School Superintendent P. F. Brown informs the Plains Journal that several schools in the rural parts of the county have been closed because of cotton picking and that two schools have never yet begun their 1924-25 terms because of the annual harvest.

Cotton is king in Lubbock county but it does seem too bad that public instruction must be halted to harvest the crop. The future of the younger generation is even more important than the cotton crop. In it is held the future progress of the section and the youngsters must be cared for.

The Plains Journal sees no harm in opening the schools at a late date, after the cotton crop has been gathered, or in closing the schools during the picking season provided the time is made up by shortening the summer and Christmas vacation periods.

Educators all over the country have experienced and have found that the nine months schooling period is the most practical. Lubbock county's schools should conform to the nine months period if it is at all possible. The pupils of the city school system are given nine months education per year. Surely there should be no distinction made between the city and county school children.

All of us had better get our heads together on this subject and attempt to work out a plan whereby our county children may receive just as much education as our city children. Much of the future depends on it.

The Tech Party

Plans are being laid now whereby Lubbock will be made the mecca for all West Texas celebrators of Armistice Day. The corner-stone laying of the first building of the Texas College of Technology will be the greatest drawing card and should provide an object of interest to West Texans.

In order that the day will be an entire success the citizenship of Lubbock must enter into the plans in the same whole-hearted way that it entered into the Tech locating party, the recent fair and the other signal successes of the community.

Some of the biggest men in all walks of life in the State of Texas will be here and it will be a time of festivity, of ceremony and when Lubbock should appear in its Sunday dress. Committees have been appointed to take charge of all of the details. The rest of us must pitch in and help.

Get Behind The Armistice Day Tech Party!

How About Mail Boxes?

Free mail delivery has been in effect around a year—long enough to be an accepted fact in the city—but where are the mailing boxes that customarily go with free city delivery? It makes no great amount of distance around the square as long as the Post Office is in its present location but if Old Sam responds with the same deliberate "when-I-get-ready" air that he used in putting in free delivery—if we hope to get mailing boxes put up in town within a year after the office is moved to the new location—now is the time to start agitation.

And why can we not have a mailing box at the railroad station to take care of outgoing letters like practically all other cities of this size regularly have? The expressman accommodates us now by mailing our late letters—but why not a regular southbound box and a northbound box for posting late letters and save the delay of missing a train when mailed through the uptown post office?

With Our Contemporaries

"The airplane has arrived. The Yellow Air Cab Company of Chicago has been organized and has ordered 200 aerial taxicabs, which will be put into service between Chicago and various outlying cities. The planes will have all the conveniences of Pullman cars."—Abilene Reporter.

The use of the airplane in everyday business will, by supplying more speed, accelerate business and cause competition to be more tense. The keynote of success in business today is speed plus accuracy. The airplane in commercial use will supply greater speed, the accuracy will be added by other means. Heretofore the airplane has been in the limelight only as a method of fighting and as a curiosity. Before it now dawns a greater era of service.

"The efforts of the city authorities to enforce traffic regulations on speeding, etc., deserve the close co-operation of every citizen. The city is doing this through its peace officers not to be 'hard-boiled' or to cause anyone trouble or inconvenience, but for the protection and safety of the general public."

While the foregoing statement came from the pen of Editor Hilburn, of the Plainview Herald, the same may be aptly applied to Lubbock. People here, both drivers and pedestrians, must have greater care on their movements else more accidents and fatalities are sure to occur on our streets. The authorities in Lubbock are and have been doing their best to enforce the traffic laws but they are powerless to make the thoroughfares safe for the citizenry without the cooperation of all concerned.

"The free use of apples appears to combat the tendency to acidosis."—The Sweetwater Reporter.

Now ain't that dandy? Heaven only knows how many weary hearts have been gladdened by the discovery that apples actually combat the tendency to acidosis! Just stop and think a minute! How much that means to humanity. No more acidosis! Its absence may halt wars, put the United States into the League of Nations, decrease taxes, stop the ponjola hair bob rage and change the name of Arkansas. And all can be accomplished by apples. Let us add our hearty, happy voice to the gladsome tumult—"Hooray For The Apple."

The fact that a man's ancestors signed the declaration of independence is no sign that he isn't hen pecked.—Oklahoma City Times.

Non Voters Not Illiterate

The mayor of a considerable city in New York is inclined to depreciate the importance laid upon the size of the stay-at-home vote, says The Christian Science Monitor. To him there is nothing terrifying in the fact that senators are continually elected by a beggarly minority of the qualified voters of their states, and that, even in presidential contests, the proportion of the vote cast to the entire potential vote has been steadily decreasing until in 1920 it barely reached 50 per cent of the whole.

The mayor of Binghamton says on this subject: "A lot of propaganda is put forth to force all voters to go to the polls. It is said that less than half of the 50,000,000 voters in this country take the trouble to vote, and it is proposed by some that laws be enacted to compel disinterested voters to vote. But why should we attempt to stampede disinterested or unintelligent voters to the polls like so many sheep? What use is the 5,000,000 voters who can neither read nor write? What value is the vote of the man or woman who has no interest in public questions and who lacks intelligence to study such questions?"

The fundamental difficulty with this view of the situation is that it is not the fact that unintelligent or illiterate voters stay away from the polls. As a matter of fact, the stay-at-home vote is largest among the better educated classes—we will not say among the more intelligent classes, because a vote which is not cast is certainly not the vote of an intelligent voter. But it is the illiterate, the ill-equipped voters who quote the politician, are stampeded "to the polls like so many sheep."

As he says, education will to some extent correct this tendency, but not mere education of a literary sort. The people who possess that now stay at home on election day. Education which will lead to a wider comprehension of the fact that it is the lethargy and indifference of voters, even more than the intrigues or machinations of professional politicians, which create and perpetuate bad government, may, perhaps, have the effect of stimulating more citizens to the discharge of their duty. There is something to think of in the fact that in the United States, with its high proportion of educated people, the stay-at-home vote is almost twice what it is in Great Britain, and that, in the states showing the highest ratio of illiteracy, the proportion of the stay-at-homes is less than it is in those in which education is well nigh universal.—Scottish Rite News.

FUN, FOLKS AND PHILOSOPHY

The world admires any man that works at his job. If your job is peddling prunes don't be afraid to walk right in with your head up, spread your samples and try to sell your stuff. Maybe the man you are talking to won't buy. He may even answer you a bit snappy and there is nothing else to do but roll 'em up again and move on. But if you respected yourself, made a good presentation of your wares, and left without a grouch—he admired you and will welcome you when you call again next day, next week or next year.

There is joy in living, in working, in knowing folks, their problems, ambitions and disappointments. If you go to your day's work with dread, a grouch, and a lagging heel you not only do not deserve success—but do not have the chance in ten thousand of succeeding.

HORN TO CHOOSE STRONG FACULTY FOR FIRST YEAR OF TECH SCHOOL

FIVE DEANS ARE TO BE CHOSEN AND FACULTY OF ABOUT FIFTY TO BE CONTRACTED BEFORE NEW STATE SCHOOL IS OPENED

Horn to choose strong faculty—Believing that a strong faculty will be the greatest one thing to put the Texas College of Technology on the collegiate map immediately after opening its doors next September, President Paul W. Horn is already planning for the contracting of forty or fifty educators of the highest type to be found anywhere, was his statement made recently.

No teachers have yet been contracted for, President Horn said, due to the fact that no appropriation for the salary of faculty members has yet been made by the state solons. As soon as the salary appropriation can be decided upon steps will be immediately taken to secure them.

"In contracting for teachers," the President said, "the first thing the individual asks is 'How much will you pay me.' And because the statement is a rightful one I have not made out any contracts for professors."

Has Begun Search
However, President Horn has talked to several individuals over the state concerning accepting of posts here and as soon as he is able will sign them up. Educators all over Texas, and especially those to whom he has spoken, are very much interested in the new school and have signified their desire to come here if proper remuneration can be decided upon.

There will be five Deans appointed to take charge of various departments from the first year of the school's existence on, President Horn stated. A Dean will be provided for each of the following departments: School of Engineering; School of Agriculture; School of Liberal Arts; School of Home Economics and Women. All of the Deans, with the President, will form a board which will care for all of the administrative work, including the discipline of the student body. The Dean of Women will be assigned the duties of caring for the female students and she will have charge of the laying out of the rules and regulations to be followed by them.

No Dean of Undergraduates will be appointed until a later year when more students are enrolled in the institution than are expected next fall. All of the students will be undergraduates for the first few years and until a time when a direct need for such an official is felt no appoint will be made.

President Horn estimated that five hundred students will enroll here when registration begins next September. He is still receiving communications from interested students from all over the Southwest and feels only optimism for the immediate popularity of the institution. Only freshman and sophomore classes are to be offered the first year.

To Exercise Care
Great care will be exercised in the selection of the faculty members and only specialists in their various departments will be tendered posts. A new school must first build a reputation and through a strong faculty a reputation becomes only a matter of time.

President Horn will leave the city next week to attend a meeting of the Board of Regents, scheduled for October 23, in the city of Fort Worth. The meeting will be presided over by Amon G. Carter, president of the board, and at the time of the meeting construction contracts for two buildings, Home Economics and Textile Engineering, will be let as well as contracts for the building of the heating and lighting plant. The drilling of several water wells will also be given to some drilling contractor. The school will be supplied with water from its own wells, it is understood.

LOCAL SERVICE STATION DOING GOOD BUSINESS

Amarillo High Test Gas Brings Many Buyers To Real Service Station Says Tom Scott

Three hundred fifty gallons of gasoline per day and eighty quarts of oil. That represents the average sale at the Real Service station, opposite the court house at the corner of Avenue H and Main street. Thomas D. Scott stated yesterday. In addition to the regular service station trade a tire service and sales department is operated in connection with the business.

The Real Service station is retailing only Amarillo High Test gasoline, according to Scott, and in this grade of gasoline the managers believe they are offering to Lubbock motorists the best gasoline on the market.

The Amarillo High Test gasoline has a gravity of 88 whereas the general run of gasoline only tests 86.58. Despite the marked difference in grade the Amarillo gasoline is retailed at the same price as the other kinds, which at the present time is eighteen cents per gallon, following a decline in price effective here on last Saturday. Purchased at wholesale the Amarillo High

Test gas costs more than two cents per gallon in excess of the other kinds, but in the opinion of the managers of the Real Service Station the gasoline is well worth the difference in whole-sale cost.

W. D. Cleveland and Thomas D. Scott own and manage the Real Service Station and the tire business held in conjunction with it. Six persons are employed in the business and all six of them are kept busy serving the trade.

THINK PRICE OF COAL WILL JUMP NOVEMBER FIRST

Jackson Brothers Predict Coal Prices Will Be Raised A Dollar Per Ton

Persons using coal for heating or cooking purposes had better purchase it now for winter use, A. W. Jackson, of Jackson Brothers Hay, Grain and Coal company, said yesterday. According to Jackson the price of coal is due to jump fifty cents or a dollar on the ton by the first of November and by laying the winter's supply now coal users can save considerable on their fuel bills.

The Jackson Brothers are stressing their coal business at the present time and as a result are meeting the demands of many Lubbock coal buyers who wish the utmost in coal quantity. Every two days sees a freight car load of coal cut loose on the Lubbock sidetracks, billed to the Jackson brothers. In addition to the shipments arriving every other day a large supply of coal is kept in storage here by the firm.

Colorado coal of the finest type is being handled by Jackson brothers and according to A. W. Jackson, the best grades are selling at the present time at the rate of twelve dollars and a half to thirteen dollars and a half per ton. He estimates that by the first of November these same grades will be selling for thirteen and fourteen dollars, respectively.

While common sense should urge a householder to buy his coal in advance of the coal season, and by so doing take advantage of lower prices and at the same time get coal of the finest grade, such action is the hardest thing in the world to stimulate, coal men all over the country say. Coal dealers are united in that suggestion and it enables the buyer to get more coal at a smaller expenditure and at the same time enables the dealer to give better service in delivery.

The Jackson Brothers Hay, Grain and Feed company is located at 1381 and 1383 Avenue H, a brick building on the southeast corner of the intersection. Their telephone number is 595. A phone call will secure rapid delivery.
