Action/Reaction: Kosher

Q. What do the letters "K" and "U" on food labels signify?

A. The letter "K" stands for kosher, meaning the food has been prepared according to Jewish dietary laws. The letter "U" also means the food is kosher, and it further signifies that no meat or dairy products have been used in the food's preparation. The use of the symbols is completely voluntary among food producers.

Amtrak train derails; 4 killed

MARSHALL (AP) — The Amtrak train Eagle derailed in a wooded, rural area Saturday killing four people and hospitalizing at least 24 others, authorities said.

Rescue workers using heavy cranes lifted three overturned cars and poked through the dirt with shovels but did not find any more bodies at the accident site 13 miles north of here.

Authorities said they presumed that passengers not accounted for left the scene on their own by catching rides with cars on nearby U.S. Highway 59.

Harrison County Sheriff Bill Oldham said the "lack of a good (passenger) manifest" contributed to the confusion about the number of dead, injured and unaccounted-for passengers. Witnesses also said they saw passengers walk away from the accident and get into cars. Oldham, who earlier said 25 people were unaccounted for, said Saturday night that only four passengers still had not been located. He said the manifest showed 163 people on board, including 145 passengers and 18 railroad workers.

See photos, story on page 12B

A ticket agent said the train, bound for San Antonio, Texas, from Chicago, had been running late, but its speed at the time of the accident wasn't immediately known. One passenger said the train had been speeding to get an ailing passenger to a doctor.

Missouri & Pacific Vice President Richard Davidson said a data recorder on board confirmed that the train was traveling "something just under" 75 mph — the speed limit for passenger trains — when it derailed.

He said workers still had a few other portions of the train to raise and would continue working through the night.

"We have no information on the cause at this point," Amtrak spokesman R. Clifford Black said in Washington.

Davidson said he had no indication what caused the accident, but

Contractor promises progress

Street project delayed

By RICK BROWN
Staff Writer

Big Spring residents upset that two main thoroughfares remain torn up with no construction crews in sight to finish the jobs may get some relief this week, although city officials say they are disappointed with progress on the $1 million street project.

"Weather permitting," pouring of the concrete gutter and curb on Birdwell Lane between Third and FM 700 should be finished early this week, with reconstruction of the College Park section of the street between Fourth and Purdue to begin later in the week, said Bob Price, vice president of Price Construction Inc. of Big Spring.

Goliad Street between 11th and 15th should be open to traffic within 1 1/2 weeks, Price added.

Although city inspectors are satisfied with the quality of work Price Construction is doing on the city streets, they are concerned the work is lagging too far behind schedule. City Public Works Director Tom Decell said last week.

Before work can resume on either street, construction materials must pass 95 percent density tests, Price said.

Price says reconstruction of Birdwell to be 46 days behind schedule due to rain delays, public utility work on the street that was not completed until Sept. 30 and conflicts with other commitments the construction company has.

Price Construction signed the $1,030,000 contract for street improvement — its largest ever with the City of Big Spring — on Aug. 18, Price said.

Decell said the contract also includes work on streets other than Birdwell and Goliad and sets out a priority list for the projects and

Phone charges pay UW

Harte-Hanks Austin Bureau
AUSTIN — Utility customers pay not only for service but for some charitable contributions and advertising that bolster the companies' corporate standings.

The Public Utility Commission, however, is studying a proposed rule change that would give its three members more flexibility on a case-by-case basis to take some, if not all, advertising and contributions off ratepayers' backs.

In the case of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., which has a $1 billion-plus rate hike request pending, the company wants to charge consumers for $6.5 million of its almost $23 million in advertising expenses for a year ending in March 1983. For contributions — including donations to civic groups and colleges — the consumer tab would total about $894,000 of some $2.3 million spent.

Included on Bell's list of charitable contributions are Big Spring Boy Scouts, $50; Big Spring United Way, $2,500; and Kern-Mit/Winkler County United Way, Big Spring, $160.

Commissioners will accept written public comment through Friday (Nov. 18), information officer Ronna Martin said. A hearing on the issue, along with other rule changes, is set for Dec. 8, according to a commission notice. Commissioners expect to vote that day.

While the amount of a customer's bill dedicated to advertising and contributions is cents a month, the practice bothers most consumers, said Commissioner Peggy Rosson.

DUST BOWL — Big Spring lies shrouded in a thin cloak of dust Saturday as westerly winds whipped up the Permian Basin sand in the first dust storm here since spring. Otherwise, the area enjoyed unusually warm November temperatures and sunny skies.

Cotton reduction program planned

By KEELY COGHLAN
Staff Writer

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recently announced its 1984 agricultural programs, which will include a 25 percent voluntary acreage reduction program for upland cotton and a 10 percent voluntary acreage reduction program for corn, sorghum, oats and barley for acreage conservation reserve purposes.

According to the Big Spring office of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, sign-up time for the cotton, wheat and feed grain programs is from Jan. 16 to Feb. 24.

Waxy corn will be included in the 1984 program, but popcorn and sweet corn will be excluded. Malting barley will not be exempt from acreage reduction requirements.

To be eligible for price support benefits, producers must agree to limit upland cotton planted acreage to no more than 75 percent of their cotton acreage base. Cropland acreage equal to 33.33 percent of the cotton planted acreage must be devoted to approved conservation uses.

Grain producers participating in the program must agree to limit corn, sorghum, oats and barley acreage planted for harvest to no more than 90 percent of the farm's feed grain base. They also must devote cropland acreage equal to 11.11 percent of the 1984 planted acreage to an acreage conservation reserve. Two bases will be established, one for corn and sorghum, and the other for barley and oats.

Upland cotton price support provisions include a base loan rate for Strict Low Middling 1 1/6-inch cotton, micronaire 3.5-4.9, of 55 cents per pound and the minimum target price allowed by law. The current statutory minimum target price for the 1984 cotton crop is 81 cents per pound.

Current statutory target prices per bushel for grains are: corn, $3.03; sorghum, $2.88; barley, $2.60; and oats, $1.60.

The 1984 acreage base will be the average of the acres planted and considered planted to upland cotton or feed grains in 1982 and 1983.

Land designed for conservation use or reserve must have been devoted to row crops or small grains in two of the last three years, except for a summer fallow farm. In the case of summer fallow, conservation use acreage must be land that would have been planted to small grains or row crops in 1984 in the absence of the 1984 cotton program. The land must be protected from wind and water erosion throughout the year.

Harvesting for hay will not be permitted on conservation use acreage. However, the acreage may be grazed except during the six principal growing months.

Farmers will not be permitted immediate entry in the farmer-owned reserve for the 1984 crops of feed grains. A review of the size of the reserve will be made before regular price support loans for the 1984 crops mature. A ceiling may be placed on the size of the reserve, which will effectively preclude entry of the 198 crops in the reserve.

Disco owner arrested

The owner of a private club in Big Spring which has been denied a dancing permit was arrested early Saturday morning at her club for allowing patrons to dance.

Mary Lozano, 37, owner of Mary's Disco Paradise at 205 N. Runnels, was arrested at 1:16 a.m. Saturday at the tavern in connection with allowing dancing without a valid dance hall permit, police reports said. She was released on $100 bond.

Police reports said, "Officers on routine bar checks observed patrons of Mary's Disco dancing and officers then issued a citation to the manager."

Mrs. Lozano said Saturday night that she had received a similar citation in August and that it had been dismissed on appeal. She received two more citations in October, both of which are pending appeal, Mrs. Lozano said.

She appeared before the Big Spring City Council Tuesday night to appeal the council's denial Oct. 18 of her application for the dance hall permit.

Lozano's lawyer told the council at that time that the city had no jurisdiction in the matter because Mary's Disco Paradise is not a public dance hall, but a private club.

In the past year, police have received 31 calls to Mary's Disco Paradise in connection with several criminal offenses, City Manager Don Davis said at a news conference Tuesday.

Mrs. Lozano said the club would reopen Saturday night.

"I've got a responsibility to over 500 members who come here to have a good time and party," she said.

On the weekend of Nov. 4-5, an expensive metering device was stolen in the burglary of a motor vehicle.

The instrument is designed to measure the liquid level in an oil well. The components consist of an aluminum carrying case containing the metering instrument.

Coax cable attaches to a "Quick Load" gun microphone assembly which is a stainless steel wellhead containing a microphone and a ball which houses a 45 cal. blank and a spring loaded releasable firing pin for discharging the blank. The dimensions of this device is approximately 2 3/4 inches square by 9 inches long. Black carrying case. Brand name: Echometer.

Between Nov. 3 and Nov. 7, someone broke into a residence at 1702 Morrison in Big Spring and removed a shotgun 12 gauge, a 22-250 Varmint rifle with a Weaver scope and a red tool box containing numerous silver coins and gold coins.

On Nov. 3 someone entered four apartments on 1711 and 1711 1/2 Scurry and 106 W. 18th and 106 1/2 W. 18th. Subjects entered by kicking down the door at 106 1/2 W. 18th and proceeded through other apartments by kicking through the sheetrock walls.

Between Oct. 20 and Oct. 21, someone entered five cars located at Auto Supermarket, 905 W. 4th and removed the batteries from the vehicles.

If you have any information that may lead to the arrest and indictment of the person or persons responsible contact CRIME STOPPERS at 263-1151. CRIME STOPPERS will pay up to $1,000 for information leading to the arrest and indictment on any felony crime.

Robbery suspect released

David Milton Williams, 19, of 904 N.W. Ohio was transferred at 4:20 p.m. Friday from the police department to the county jail and released on $15,000 bond after having been charged with aggravated robbery, reports said.

● Cody Dewayne Carroll, 22, of Route 2 was arrested at 3:30 p.m. Saturday by county authorities on a warrant after a grand jury indictment of criminal mischief. He was released on $3,000 bond, reports said.

● Robert Wayne III, 52, of Route 1 was transferred Saturday from the police department to the county jail and released on $1,500 bond after having been charged with driving while intoxicated, reports said.

Father shoots daughter; thought she was prowler

FORT WORTH (AP) — An 8-year-old girl was in critical condition Saturday after being shot by her stepfather, who said he thought she was a prowler.

Quinton Palmer told police he had seen a prowler outside his house and then went to his stepdaughter's room early Friday after hearing a noise.

The hollow-point bullet from his .38-caliber pistol struck Laura Hardin in the buttocks and exited through her stomach, according to John Peter Smith Hospital officials.

Police ruled the shooting an accident. "It had to be an accident. He loves that little girl so," said Palmer's father, James Palmer, who drove to Fort Worth from Lehigh, Okla. after learning of the shooting.

Quinton Palmer said he and his 27-year-old wife, Brenda, were watching television in their bedroom about 3:30 a.m. when she heard a noise.

"I got my gun and looked out the bathroom window, and I saw a guy dodge down behind my car," said the 26-year-old man, who said he keeps two loaded guns in the family's house.

UT Dad's club cites students

AUSTIN (AP) — Lynn Marie Fox of Spring and Jose Agustin Martinez of Houston were named outstanding students of the University of Texas Saturday by the UT Dads' Association.

Tom Arnold, a Houston attorney, was elected president of the Dads' Association for the next year. He succeeds Dr. Donald R. Lewis, a physician from Paris.

Today's topic

MARRYING JUDGE — Bandera County Peace Justice Ed Jennings stands beneath the gnarled boughs of his marrying oak, where he has united an estimated 835 couples.

The marrying oak

This judge will tie the knot anywhere

PIPECREEK, Texas (AP) — Justice of the Peace Ed Jennings has married 'em in pontoons and back seats, atop low-to-the-ground motorcycles and lofty rafters, and in hay-filled barns and rustic fields.

Mostly though, the ex-vaudeville performer turned judge pronounces people man and wife under the gnarled boughs of his Marrying Oak.

"I just figured I could get publicity," he says with a wink. "I've been marrying people here for almost 25 years. It brings out the show business in me."

Jennings has boiled his wedding formula down to a science: you bring the license and $25 — beer optional — and he'll perform a memorable ceremony.

"My weddings are so quick that by the time you say, 'I do,' you already have," he said. "I just want to give them something to remember."

Jennings himself has 68 years of memories, encompassing his halcyon days as a music man and stand-up comic and the loss of his wife almost three years ago.

His largest wedding, he recalled, was when more than 100 bikers roared into this placid Hill Country town for the nuptials of two Bandidos motorcycle club members.

"They got pretty lit on my beer and then the dope they had," he said. "They just drove all their bikes up under the tree. But let me tell you, if someone's drunk before they get here, I won't marry them."

"Then there was the time two of my peacocks sat above my sign during a wedding," Jennings said. "I said, 'If anyone can show just cause why this couple should not get married' and one of the birds dropped some droppings in my bald spot."

"Well, I learned in showbiz, when you get in an embarrassing situation, get everyone laughing. But it was literally the stickiest wedding I've ever performed."

Jennings, who acts as Pipecreek's coroner along with his other official duties, reckons he's married about 835 couples since becoming a Bandera County peace justice in 1959.

Show business was dead, he said, and he wanted to move on.

Included in the hundreds is the dogged romantic who asked Jennings to perform his marriage ceremony — three separate times.

"That old boy said that as long as the good Lord would keep making women, he'd keep marrying them," the judge said.

The wooden sign imprinted "The Marrying Oak" actually dangles from four ancient trees. Underneath, a thoughtful touch, is a strip of authentic artificial turf.

"They're just like church weddings, except there's a lot more drinking," Jennings said. "The boys wear rented tuxes — you can always spot a rented tux — and we have the brides in the traditional white gowns and all the bridesmaids."

The fabled oaks aren't Jennings' only gimmick, though.

In April 1969, the peace justice fined himself $18 for speeding and "got at least $200 worth of free publicity. Radio stations, newspapers — oh boy, was I popular."

Jennings still loves to circulate his official-looking "weekend wedding license," a gag document full of ribald language and risque clauses that unites a couple in holy matrimony — for Friday and Saturday night, at least.

He also passes out raunchy raffle tickets for an, ahem, unusual dog and business cards that call Pipecreek, about 40 miles northwest of San Antonio, "a town so small the city limit signs are on the same post."

tion with the project engineer, Decell said.

If asphalt is laid when temperatures are too cold, "you don't get the asphalt to set up properly. All the properties don't work together: The top gets cold and it crusts over," Decell said. "You don't have the desired compaction to get long-lasting streets," Decell said.

Decell said he expects there to be cold-weather delays in the street work and said he will work with Price Construction so large portions of Big Spring streets will not be torn up for long periods.

Decell said there will be some border-line decisions on whether or not to pave a street in cold weather.

"If the contractor wants to try in an 'iffy' situation, he still has to put a year's warranty on the work," Decell added.

According to the contract, if concrete in a curb or gutter breaks or if a street develops potholes within one year after the work has been submitted, the contractor must replace the work.

Price Construction earlier this year had to repair construction of Wason Street, which it had widened in 1982, Decell said.

Streets

● Birdwell Lane — Nov. 15, 1983.
● Street repairs following waterline reconstruction — June 15, 1984.

● Goliad Street — Dec. 15, 1983.
● Intersection of 11th and Settles — May 15, 1984.

● Intersection of 15th and Main — May 15, 1984.
● Oak Glen Drive — June 15, 1984.

The contract lists no penalty if individual projects are not finished by the completion dates but calls for a blanket $100 penalty for every day after June 15, 1984 that any project covered by the contract is not substantially finished, Decell said.

The contract allows Price to submit an alternate progress schedule to be approved by the project's engineer, Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock, Decell said.

Although no new progress schedule has been submitted, representatives of Price Construction, the project's engineer and the city public works office met last week, and priorities for the project were changed at that time, Price said.

Train

Continued from page one he said repairs made earlier in the day to the track did not appear to have had any impact.

"There was a rail pull-apart this morning that had been repaired. There is no indication that had anything to do with it," Davidson said.

A railroad spokesman said two freight trains passed over the rails

The new priorities stress finishing the Birdwell curb and gutter, followed by the opening of Goliad and then work on the north end of Birdwell to be done concurrently with reconstruction of 79,000 square yards of street pavement that previously had been cut for water line replacement, Price said.

Much of the work reconstructing pavement following water line replacement will be delayed until spring, Decell said.

The city is looking at options that will hold down the amount of dust on these streets and protect them against erosion, including the use of temporary patches and emulsion, Decell said.

Both Price and Decell said they are concerned about street reconstruction that will take place during winter months when air temperature is an important factor in deciding whether asphalt can be laid.

The contract states that asphalt shall not be laid when the air temperature is 45 degrees and falling, but it may be laid when the air temperature is 40 degrees and rising, Decell said.

The decision to lay asphalt is made by the contractor in conjunc-after the repairs were finished Saturday morning and shortly before the Amtrak train derailed. The last five cars in the nine-car, two-engine train left the track. Three were on their side, another was off the track and tilted at a 45 degree angle and a fifth was off the track but still upright.

"It happened so quick," said passenger Adah Sarber of Lakeville, Ind., who was en route to Tucson, Ariz. "There was no warning. We were going along ... heard this terrible crash ... glass was flying."

Funeral home employees stood by at the scene while workers used heavy cranes to lift the wreckage to make sure nobody was buried beneath the overturned cars.

County to canvass amendment voting

Howard County Commissioners will meet at 9 a.m. Monday to canvass the results of Tuesday's constitutional amendments election.

In addition, commissioners will recast their 1,115 votes for members of the Tax Appraisal Board. The commissioners' ballot, which was marked in executive session in a special meeting Nov. 27, was declared void after state officials said the commissioners acted improperly.

According to state officials, the commissioners were to have announced how many votes they cast for a person, instead of just announcing that they voted and sealing their ballot until Monday.

The commissioners were acting on instructions from County Clerk Margaret Ray, who asked for directions on conducting the voting from state officials.

The commissioners originally nominated Jack Watkins for the post.

In other action, commissioners will decide whether to sign a letter of intent to join a proposal for automation of the county library with the West Texas Library System.

Commissioners also will discuss their lease agreement with the Big Spring Independent School District for the building housing the Howard County Boxing Club.

Coahoma Justice of the Peace Willie Grant will appear before the commissioners to discuss office space. Coahoma State Bank President Bill Read also will appear before the commissioners.

Three county employees will discuss personnel matters. County Sheriff A.N. Standard will discuss salaries for county jail employees. The county treasurer and the county engineer also will discuss personnel matters.

The county engineer also will appear before commissioners to discuss equipment, materials and facility repairs.

County Auditor Jackie Olson will present bids, and the county home extension agent will present a report.

Deaths

Florence Lindsey

Mrs. Florence Lindsey, 73, of Big Spring died Saturday afternoon at a Big Spring hospital following a six-week illness.

Graveside services will be at 3 p.m. Monday at the Hermligh Cemetery in Hermligh, Texas. Directions will be under the Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

She was born June 23, 1910 in Abilene. She had been a resident of Big Spring for three years. She previously lived in Snyder for 35 years. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

She is survived by one son, Ray Lindsey of Big Spring; one sister, Sarah Lou Byrd of Clovis, N.M.; one brother, Raymond R. Copland of Harmon, La.; and four grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

She is preceded in death by her husband, Gerald O. Lindsey, in 1952, and one son, Garland Lindsey.

Artie assembles new band

NEW YORK — A touch of the big band era is returning with the Artie Shaw Orchestra set to fill the Glen Island Casino with the sounds of "Stardust," "Nightmare" and "Dancing in the Dark."

The new band will be assembled and supervised by Shaw although his clarinet will not be a part of it. Even the casino has been rebuilt.

The band's debut and the ballroom's opening are set for Dec. 17.

"I'm interested in seeing if history can repeat, or at least go around to the same point in a spiral," said Shaw, 71.

"There are very few people who get a second time around. In a way, I'll be getting it."

He said younger musicians convinced him "the time might be right to try it," and the opening of the casino "sounded like a great launching pad to find out if the thing really would work."

The band will be led by Dick Johnson, a clarinetist and alto saxophonist, but Shaw will be consulted.

Ali has books, will travel

MILWAUKEE — Former heavyweight champion Muhammad Ali, subdued and soft-spoken compared to his boxing days, says he carries a suitcase full of books on religion wherever he goes.

"I am the king... he'll go in five... he'll never know what hit him," Ali said in an interview Friday, mocking his former persona.

"That wasn't the real Ali," he added softly. "I was acting then. This is the real Ali. Boxing was just a vehicle for what I'm doing now."

He said that wherever he goes he carries a suitcase full of books and cassettes on Christianity and Islam.

He attended a fight production that included local bouts and an exhibition by former light heavyweight champion Eddie Mustafa Muhammad, and took time to sign autographs.

"I love the people," he said. "I always have time for the autographs. If it weren't for the people, I wouldn't be where I am."

Queen rolls over Africa

THIKA — Queen Elizabeth II traveled by train through the African countryside Saturday, cheered along by Kenyan boy scouts, farmers and housewives.

The British monarch, on the third day of a five-day state visit to Kenya, got a rousing welcome from virtually everyone in this small farming town when her train arrived.

Thika was the setting of the autobiographical novel "The Flame Trees of Thika" by Elspeth Huxley, who wrote of the early British settlers in Kenya shortly before World War I.

President KOs Congress

COLLEGE PARK — The president is more powerful than ever while Congress is losing its influence, says former Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Watergate created the illusion of the power of Congress but it has faced a "loss of the power and prestige relative to the president," Fulbright said Friday at the Gannett Foundation Editorial Seminar in Maryland.

"The president can invade Cuba or Nicaragua tomorrow as he did in Grenada if he chooses to do so," Fulbright said. "And the public, responding to his version of the affair delivered directly to them on television, is unlikely to disagree with his views."

Reagan visits Korean DMZ

SEOUL — Exceptional security was set up around Korea's high-tension demilitarized zone for President Reagan's unprecedented journey to peer across the border at North Korean outposts and praise American infantrymen for serving on the "front lines of freedom."

While military readiness always remains high at the border area, exceptional precautions were taken for Reagan's safety. Security checks were tightened at military posts, and camouflage netting was hung at several sites to prevent North Koreans from getting a good view of Reagan, the first U.S. president to enter the DMZ.

Reagan planned to fly by helicopter early Sunday, Korean time, 26 miles north from Seoul to Camp Liberty Bell, an American outpost just south of the DMZ, for a prayer service with U.S. infantrymen.

From there, Reagan was to travel in a heavily armored limousine into the 2.5-mile wide demilitarized zone separating Korea into two countries, and meet with troops at Guardpost Collier, one of two guard posts in the American-patrolled sector of the DMZ.

Earlier, Reagan praised what he called South Korea's increased respect for human rights and gently prodded the regime of President Chun Doo-hwan to do more. "The U.S. welcomes the goals you have set for political development and increased respect for human rights," he told the country's National Assembly.

Stoppagap spending bill ok'd

WASHINGTON — Congress, acting to make sure government operations continue uninterrupted, approved Saturday emergency spending legislation that congressional leaders say is assured of winning President Reagan's signature.

The Senate, with virtually no discussion, passed the measure on a voice vote and sent it to the White House. Earlier, the House voted 173-136 in favor of the compromise stopgap bill worked out by congressional negotiators during day-long bargaining on Friday.

To get Reagan's approval, the conferees whittled down additional education and social spending sought by House Democrats to about 10 percent of the nearly $1 billion initially sought.

Passage of the measure and the president's signature, expected Monday when he returns from a trip to the Far East, means that departments and agencies covered by the bill — including the White House — will be carrying on business as usual at the start of the week.

Much of the government has been technically without money since midnight last Thursday, but there has been no impact on federal operations because Veterans Day, followed by the weekend, gave federal workers three days off.

Arafat may skip town

TRIPOLI — Yasser Arafat on Saturday demanded guarantees for the safety of his fighters and civilians before he could leave Tripoli, which has been besieged for more than a week by Syrian-backed PLO mutineers.

At least 1,000 people have been reported slain in the tank and artillery attacks on Palestinian refugee camps where Arafat's men held out. The loyalists retreated to the Baddawi camp outside Tripoli after one camp fell last week.

"I came because my people were facing direct danger," the Palestine Liberation Organization chief told a news conference. "It is my duty to be beside them, so I cannot leave without giving full guarantees and assurances."

Asked if he would leave with such assurances, Arafat replied: "That is under discussion."

Arafat said he had spoken with Kuwaiti officials who negotiated a truce Wednesday between the mutineers and the loyalists who have been fighting since Nov. 3, and that contacts were under way with Syria and the Soviet Union.

The shooting tapered off Saturday.

The U.N. Relief and Works Agency said some 9,000 Palestinian refugees, mostly from the Baddawi camp, have sought shelter within the city of Tripoli and that families remaining in Baddawi — about 3,000 people — were huddled in 11 air-raid shelters and two tankers were supplying them with water.

Arafat has said if he leaves Tripoli he will go to his political headquarters in Tunis.

A senior aide to the PLO chief, who asked not to be identified, said Arafat was demanding Arab League observers to monitor the truce, lifting of the siege of Tripoli and withdrawal of Syrian and Libyan forces from northern Lebanon.

Pope warns scientists

VATICAN CITY — Pope John Paul II on Saturday urged the world's scientists to give up war-oriented projects in "factories of death" and steer politicians away from the search for power and onto the path of peace.

The pope, addressing 15 Nobel Prize winners and 70 other scientists from around the world, said scientists are "faced with this great patient in danger of death, which is humanity."

"More than any other, the scientific community is a community of peace," said the pontiff at an audience in the ornate Regia Hall of the Apostolic Palace.

"By refusing certain fields of research, inevitably destined, in the concrete historical circumstances, for deadly purposes, the scientists of the whole world ought to be united in a common readiness to disarm science and to form a providential force for peace," John Paul said.

He urged scientists to reject research that will be used "for purposes of aggression," though he did not name specific projects.

He said "scientists, in collaboration with all the other members of the world of culture and with the social institutions, must carry out a work of salvation analogous to that of the doctor who has sworn to use all his powers to heal the sick."

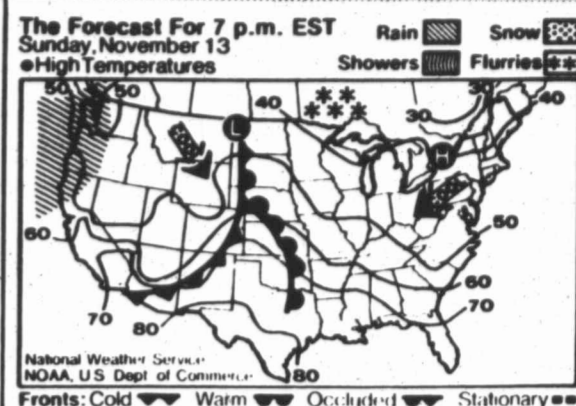

Maggie gets nuke baggie

LONDON (AP) — Demonstrators delivered a bag of dust and a garbage can of mud that they said were radioactive to Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher's residence Saturday.

The group, claiming that a nuclear reprocessing plant at Seascale in north-west England is dangerous, handed the bag through the front door at 10 Downing Street and dumped the mud outside. Police cordoned off the area for 45 minutes while the dust and mud were taken away.

Two men were arrested and charged with obstructing a police officer, police said.

Weather

By the Associated Press

Crisp air on tap

A sunny, crisp football weekend was on tap for Texas as forecasters called for mostly fair skies and slightly warmer temperatures through Sunday.

Skies were clear statewide before dawn today, except for some high-level cloudiness over North Central Texas.

A weak area of low pressure had moved into the Panhandle and was drifting slowly southward. The system was not expected to trigger any major weather changes, the National Weather Service said.

Pre-dawn temperatures were generally in the 40s and 50s, although the mercury had dipped into the upper 30s over East Texas. Readings at 4 a.m. ranged from 37 at Longview to 56 at El Paso and Galveston.

Winds were shifting across the South Plains and the Red River Valley while southerly breezes dominated the rest of the state. Winds were blowing from 10 to 15 mph over North and Central Texas, while light breezes were noted elsewhere.

The forecast called for mostly fair skies and a slight warming trend through the weekend. Afternoon highs were expected to range from the upper 60s in Northwest Texas to around 80 over the Rio Grande and the Big Bend.

On Sunday, the National Weather Service expected afternoon temperatures to reach the 80s over wide sections of South Texas.

Icy gales gusting up to 50 mph thrashed the Northeast and churned up breakers on the southern Great Lakes on Saturday as the Coast Guard suspended a search for people who had radioed that they were abandoning a boat in high waves east of Chicago.

West Texas - Mostly fair through Monday, but turning cooler north Monday. Highs Sunday 74 Panhandle to 88 Big Bend. Lows Sunday night 38 Panhandle to 54 Big Bend. Highs Monday 62 Panhandle to 90 Big Bend.

North Texas - Fair through Tuesday. Warm days and cool at night. Lows Sunday night 46. Highs Sunday and Monday near 70 east to middle 70s west.

East Texas - Fair with warm days and cool nights through Monday. Highs Sunday and Monday upper 70s. Lows Sunday night upper 40s.

South Texas - Clear and not as cool Sunday night. Sunny and warm through Monday. Highs Sunday 78 upper coast, around 90 extreme south, 86 elsewhere. Lows Sunday night 56 and 66. Highs Monday 86, low 90s extreme south.

Port Arthur to Port O'Connor - South and southwest winds 10 to 15 knots Sunday and Sunday night. Winds locally gusty near shore Sunday afternoon. Seas 3 feet or less.

Port O'Connor to Brownsville - South and southeast winds near 15 knots Sunday and Sunday night. Winds briefly higher and gusty near shore Sunday afternoon. Seas 2 to 4 feet.

Q. What is title insurance and why is it important?
A. How would you like to buy a home, probably making one of the largest investments of your lifetime, and then suddenly have a "lost heir" of a former owner show up, claim the property, and cause you to lose your house and all your financial investment in it? It is this sort of thing that title insurance protects against. A title search commonly takes place when a property is about to be sold. When the search is complete, an "insurance" policy is issued, protecting the buyer from any defects that might have existed but which were not known when the policy was written. Commonly, the small premium is collected at the time the home purchase is closed. With such insurance, you are assured against loss, including the cost of any title defense, for as long as you own your home.

Grenada invasion distracts attention

It's hard to know how the historians will finally characterize the dramatic events of the last couple of weeks, first in Beirut, then in Grenada. In terms of the tragic impact on hundreds of lives, American and French, the terrorist attacks in Beirut were of momentous importance. In terms of subtle global relationships and impressions, and in terms of Ronald Reagan's personal reputation in international affairs, the invasion of Grenada had great significance.

Yet for all the deserved attention that each received, neither must long be allowed to divert attention from far more dangerous and chronic problems — problems of economic stability around the world, problems of East-West relations which, all sides agree, haven't been as bad or unstable since the Cuban missiles crisis 21 years ago.

Real victories do not come in invasions of little islands; real peace will not come from the indefinite occupation, however costly in lives, of a foreign airport. Grenada may be politically welcome as a distraction to an administration heavy with foreign policy failures and sadly lacking in success, but it certainly cannot be a substitute for real achievement.

The issue here is not the propriety of either the presence of Marines in Lebanon or the invasion of Grenada. The issue is the dangerous diversion that simple, dramatic events sometimes represent. In the new few months, critical decisions will be made, among others in the placement of new U.S. missiles in Europe and in the negotiations — or lack of negotiations — affecting them.

Luther and Grenada

I had intended this week, in a telling biography, to debunk the myth of birthday boy Martin Luther, highlighting his vociferous anti-Semitism, his predilections for beer and profanity, and his unlikely but inestimable contribution to modern secularism.

In the meantime, however, I was asked by a fan, Omar Jones, to point out the egregious timing of the U.S. invasion of Grenada.

Because I prefer attacking living men to dead ones, I shall aim this dart at Reagan.

Omar and I both agree that the invasion of Grenada was justified. The thing that rankles is that the invasion of the Caribbean island — the circumstances which allowed us to invade — fell so much like a golden egg into Reagan's nest of unbelievably good political fortunes.

Reagan's invasion plans had been brewing for about 10 days. The National Security Council tumbled into action after Grenada's Prime Minister Maurice Bishop was overthrown in a bloody coup by a pro-Cuba military junta.

The Grenada threat apparently did not bother Reagan enough at that time to keep him from shooting a few rounds with the boys down at Augusta's Aryan National Golf Club on the weekend of Oct. 21-23. Even on that Saturday, Oct. 22, when five Caribbean nations asked us to invade Grenada, the alarm was not loud enough to prevent Reagan from keeping his appointed rounds.

While the president putted, American Marines were buried in a cowardly bomb attack on U.S. headquarters in Beirut. This was serious business — serious enough to at least delay the tee-off time for Sunday.

As the casualty lists increased, however, Reagan realized the liability of having to explain why so many Americans had died so worthlessly. Reagan had campaigned against Carter for his abandonment of American hostages to the whimsies of Iranian fanatics. What irony, then, that Reagan would now have the blood of 250 of America's finest on his hands with no ready recourse to address the affront.

Ah, but let's not forget Grenada, that ripe plum ready to pluck from the garden of good luck.

The fleet was in waiting, the Caribbeans were giving the green light, and the island offered no serious defense. So in went the GIs on Oct. 25, and Reagan, abracadabra, had an easy and elegant victory to parade before the nation. Politics, like magic, is the art of illusion. In a sleight of hand, Reagan quickly turned America's attention from the carnage in Beirut to the triumph in Grenada. As I said, Omar and I have no argument about the need to invade Grenada. Whatever the President's reasons, the world now counts one less Castro and the hemisphere is much safer because of our military action.

We must ask, however, why there was no military response to the Beirut bomb attack. Are our Marines, those sitting ducks on the tarmac of Beirut International, hostages to a foreign power?

At the same time the Rangers were assaulting St. George's, the fighter-bombers of the 6th Fleet should have been launched to pummel Syrian and Shi'ite positions, and the Marine contingent in Beirut (what was left of it) should have been unleashed to take the surrounding heights.

If we are to maintain consistency in our foreign policy, then those reasons that impelled us to invade Grenada should be applied to Lebanon. Two Marine divisions can do wonders in restoring order to a dangerous country.

But I fear that is too much to expect of Reagan, who, facing a campaign year, is understandably jittery about jeopardizing the oil money that got him elected to his first term. Aggressive action in Beirut would earn us the disfavor of the Arab League, which would of course accuse us of collusion with those imperialist Zionist Jews in Israel.

Speaking of Jews, that leads me back to Luther, who hated Jews, preached against them from the pulpit, and advocated their expulsion from Europe.

Brother Martin, who influenced modern European history more than any other person, is largely responsible for the vicious anti-Semitism that consumed Central Europe for the last five centuries and that reached its logical conclusion in Hitler's madness.

To the Reformer's credit, I must add that by so convincingly separating church and state, he created a new society of sovereign nations that allows a country like America to invade a country like Grenada without asking for the Pope's permission.

I got a letter to the editor the other day from a "peace" group in Missouri claiming the invasion of Grenada was engineered by a powerful coterie of Caribbean Jews in fear that rampant Marxism would endanger the riches they had swindled from the impoverished, "indigenous" population.

Luther and Grenada. Through 500 years of history, there is continuity and connection.

Grenada Invasion: The World Reaction...

Jack Anderson

Iran's shadow darkens Beirut

WASHINGTON — The Ayatollah Khomeini's fingerprints are all over the suicide attack on U.S. Marine headquarters that literally decimated the American peace-keeping force early Sunday morning.

No one can yet say for sure, of course. There's a possibility that the massacre of Marines was pulled off by a terrorist group that deliberately used Iranian tactics to throw suspicion on the fanatical old mullah.

But there is circumstantial evidence that backs up Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger's remark that Iranian terrorists may have been responsible for the outrage. And it's more than just the call to a French news agency that claimed that the twin attacks — against U.S. Marines and the French peace-keeping force — were the work of "the Iranian revolution's campaign against imperialist targets throughout the world."

For one thing, the attacks had all the earmarks of the bombing of the American Embassy last April: a kamikaze mission by a fanatic driving a truckload of explosives. The National Security Agency and the CIA both had advance indications that a pro-Iranian Shiite Moslem group was planning to attack the embassy. The intelligence reports also warned that preparations for the embassy attack were supervised by a high official in the Iranian Foreign Ministry — presumably with Khomeini's approval.

An organization calling itself the Islamic Revolutionary Movement — previously known — has claimed "credit" for the bombing. But my intelligence sources say this group could well be part of a known pro-Iranian organization called the Islamic Jihad.

The Islamic Jihad is a prime suspect in the explosion that killed 17 Americans in the Beirut embassy last April. And its prior record of violence has been closely followed by U.S. intelligence agencies.

The Jihad claimed credit for a car-bomb explosion that killed 12 persons in the French Embassy in Beirut 18 months ago. It also took responsibility for grenade and machine-gun attacks on American and Italian peace-keeping troops in Beirut last March.

The Jihad is an offshoot of Amal, a Shiite paramilitary organization that has tried to export Khomeini's extremist revolution to other parts of the Middle East.

Specifically, the CIA holds Khomeini responsible for an aborted attempt to set up a revolutionary state in Turkey through the Iranian consulate in Istanbul; a planned coup in the Persian Gulf state of Bahrain; a meeting in Cyprus of Saudi Arabian opposition leaders to plot infiltration of the military and eventual rebellion by the large Shiite minority in Saudi Arabia; and the financing of secret trips to Iran by Moslem students who are given revolutionary training by Khomeini's experts.

What is probably most persuasive, though, is the fact that Khomeini has hundreds of Tehran-trained terrorists scattered throughout the Moslem world — from Lebanon to Indonesia. In Lebanon, Khomeini's terrorists are holed up in the northern mountains around Baalbek.

The Iranian terrorists could not, of course, have engineered the Beirut airport attack without the cooperation of the Syrians, who may have given them munitions and certainly let them sneak in Beirut's back door to do their dirty work. Syria is hoping to drive the international peace-keeping forces out of Lebanon and take control of the country once they have left.

Some CIA analysts suspect that Moscow may be behind the Beirut carnage — to keep the United States from sending Marines into the Caribbean island of Grenada to overthrow the hard-line communist regime that just took over in a bloody coup. A U.S. Navy task force was sent to the Grenada area with enough Marines to do the job. So in this view, Yuri Andropov tried to checkmate President Reagan by making a decisive move on the other side of the global chessboard.

Davis-Bacon high on the hog

Does it make sense for the Pentagon to spend $693 for a washer that you could get for 50 cents at any hardware store? No, said Defense Secretary Caspar Weinberger and everyone else when the story of our odd military buying practices became known. Well, then, does it make sense for the federal government to hire construction workers for $14 an hour when there are plenty who would work for $9? Obviously not. But that is what it does — and has had to do, by law, for half a century.

The culprit is the Davis-Bacon act, one of those laws that is frequently criticized but never disturbed. A relic of the Great Depression, it was supposed to stamp out itinerant contractors who would underbid established ones, thus driving them out of business. The law requires the federal government to pay the "prevailing wage" on its construction projects. In practice the prevailing wage often means the (high) union wage. That's why the law is so fiercely defended by the AFL-CIO, and why it survives despite the heavy costs it imposes on the rest of us.

How costly is it? The Congressional Budget Office recently completed a study which calculates that repealing Davis-Bacon would save the federal government about $5.2 billion over the next five years.

President Reagan, who as a candidate promised not to repeal Davis-Bacon, has had some success in altering the regulations under which it is administered. Despite an unresolved court battle, the Labor Department did manage to get rid of the notorious "30 percent rule." This rule provided that, in cases where there was no single wage paid to a majority of workers in an area, the prevailing wage was the highest wage paid to more than 30 percent of them. That usually means the union wage. The new rule says that if there is no clear majority, the prevailing wage is the average paid to all workers in a specified craft.

The other proposed changes have been postponed until the courts have their say. In figuring the prevailing wage, the administration would like to prohibit the use of high urban wages and to exclude wages on past federal projects, which perpetuates past distortions. It also wants to loosen the rules for wages paid to low-level helpers and trainees and to ease paperwork requirements. But none of these changes, desirable as they are, would accomplish nearly as much as simply repealing the act.

The main effect of Davis-Bacon is to inflate wages on federal construction projects, and thus their cost. That was less important when it was enacted in 1931 than today, when no less than a quarter of all new construction is covered by the law. In 1982, the Labor Department estimates, the wages paid on federal projects were about 5 percent higher than on private ones. The difference, of course, is paid by the taxpayers.

By raising wages, the act helps to insulate union workers from non-union competition. They can use the protection. According to the CBO, average hourly compensation "is 54 percent higher for union members than for non-members." That is especially significant in construction, where labor is a big share of total costs.

Faced with competition from non-union firms on federal projects, unions would be in a weak bargaining position. Over time, they would probably have to moderate their wage demands. By requiring all federal contractors, union or not, to pay the same wage, Davis-Bacon eliminates that threat.

The way the AFL-CIO sees it, the law "only protects non-union workers. Members of labor organizations have negotiated contracts to protect them." Davis-Bacon, however, mainly protects non-union workers from working on federal projects, a protection they could probably do without. Given a choice between raising wages and forging federal contracts, a non-union contractor is likely to choose the latter, knowing his workers won't be eager to go back to their lower wages once the federal job is finished. Unionized firms don't have that problem.

In an era of $200 billion deficits, it makes no more sense for the federal government to pay more than it has to for construction work than for military hardware. It should approach both the same way: invite bids from qualified companies and then take the lowest one. These days, as Caspar Weinberger will tell you, we can't afford to do otherwise.

Only female and young gorillas sleep in trees, mature males sleep on the ground at the base of the tree.

The eyes of an owl cannot move in their sockets so the bird must turn its head from side to side to see.

Let's stand by President Reagan

Editor:

In Tuesday's paper, Nov. 8 the editorial headlines read "Grenada invasion lacked intelligence." It seemed to me to be a clear cut attack on the president and his administration. I PERSONALLY wish people would quit campaigning against the president until it gets a little closer to election time. I believe our country would benefit more if our people would pull together and back our president simply because he is the leader of our country, the greatest nation in the world. The president can't possibly please all the people, all the time, but he still was elected by our "freedom to vote" to be president of this nation. Maybe if we would support instead of bad mouth President Reagan he could run this country a lot smoother without as many problems. If you don't support him don't vote for him. I believe it's time that we as Americans respect the position of President whether a democrat, Republican or whoever is in office.

All I hear is how bad of shape our country is in, I personally believe we live in the most blessed country in the world. Just one trip around the globe would probably verify my opinion.

I don't care to get involved in any silly dispute with anyone on whether I'm right or wrong. Because I'm an American, praise the Lord, I'm simply expressing my opinion. America, this Thanksgiving, lets be proud to be Americans and thank the Lord for all he has done for us. Let's also pray for our president and his administration, instead of crying because everything is so bad and blaming Reagan for the mess we're in, because he is still President of the greatest nation and best place to live and raise our children in the world. I for one American stand with you Mr. President and will support you or whoever holds your office.

Tune out evil broadcast on TV

DEAR DR. GRAHAM: My wife and I are having an argument about something and I wonder what your opinion is. She says that watching some of the shows on television that have a lot of violence or sex can be harmful, but I'm not sure it really makes much difference, since those shows are just fictional stories. — B.E.

DEAR B.E.: Just because they may be fictional does not mean they cannot excite our imagination or stir our desires — sometimes in a wrong way. We need to be careful, therefore, what we allow to enter our minds.

The Bible makes it clear that what we see and what we think about can have a powerful influence on our lives. That is why the Bible urges us to turn our minds away from things that feed our hearts in a wrong way and instead turn our attention to those things which are good. "Set your minds on things above, not on earthly things... Put to death, therefore, whatever belongs to your earthly nature: sexual immorality, impurity, lust, evil desires and greed" (Colossians 3:2,5). The reason for this is that God's will is for us to be pure, and to be guided by him.

Your question makes me wonder, however, if you have ever honestly examined your own life and asked yourself if your priorities are right. Are you honestly concerned about God's will for your life, or are you somehow seeking to keep him at arms length so you can run your own life without him? God created you, and he sent his only Son to die on the cross so you could be forgiven of your sins and become his child forever. If you have never committed your life to Christ, turn to him and invite him to come into your heart as your Lord and Savior. Make him Lord of every area of your life — including your time, your imagination, and your marriage.

The speaker is locked out

AUSTIN — Some people just can't take a hint.

Early last week House Speaker Gib Lewis arrived at his office-apartment on the second floor of the State Capitol and found that his key wouldn't work.

"I tried to get in and they had changed the lock on me," he told reporters later.

Embarrassed Capitol police officials explained that locks were changed as part of a security crackdown growing out of fears of possible terrorist activities.

That's undoubtedly all true, but I can't help but wonder whether subconsciously the state gendarmes weren't trying to send Lewis a message. If they were, it didn't work.

A couple of days later the Fort Worth Democrat allowed as how he enjoys being speaker "more by the day" and he wouldn't rule out seeking a third term in 1987 or even a fourth in 1989.

That was the first time publicly that Lewis has retracted his statement of last year that two terms as speaker was enough and he didn't want any more than to be re-elected in the 1985 session.

If not of earth-shaking importance, Lewis' newly stated view on his future should cause some tremors in Texas political circles. Any incumbent speaker who wants two or three or four terms probably is going to get them, and that means ambitious House members must seek satisfaction elsewhere, such as runs at the Texas Senate or U.S. Congress.

The speaker wields great power in the Texas House of Representatives, particularly through the appointment of members to committee posts and at least indirect control of the movement of bills.

Most members want to be effective and thus want to stay on the good side of the speaker. If the incumbent looks like a shoo-in as speaker for the next several legislative sessions, lots of members will offer their friendship and support.

The more members who offer support, the more likely others are to jump on the bandwagon. Those who wait too late to jump often find themselves sitting at the back of the wagon and on the worst committees.

Thanks to this sort of frog-jumping group hysteria, Lewis almost is assured a majority vote for speaker when the Legislature meets next in regular session in 1985...and 1987...and 1989.

That may seem like a strong statement considering Lewis' rocky start as speaker this year. He suffered all sorts of bad publicity about incomplete personal finance reports, cozy relations with lobbyists and a talent for putting his foot in his mouth.

But remember the speaker is not elected by the public statewide. Lewis must only win re-election as a representative every two years in a relatively safe Fort Worth district and then capture the support of half of the 150-member House.

Legislators' concerns about their own legislative programs and powers are likely to outweigh any concern about foolish antics by the speaker.

The public might get upset about the speaker having close business ties with lobbyists who are promoting or opposing major pieces of legislation. Legislators understand such things.

The public might get upset about the speaker promoting a lobby-financed luxury weekend for legislators in order to help pay for an expensive remodeling of the speaker's apartment in the Capitol. Legislators understand such things.

The public might get upset about the speaker's family living in a luxury apartment in the Capitol. Legislators understand such things.

So, it is not just possible that Lewis will be able to continue as speaker for several more terms, but even likely.

His predecessor, Bill Clayton of Springlake, broke the century-old tradition of two terms and may have begun a four-term tradition.

Each term builds the power of the speaker, and there are some legitimate concerns about such a narrowly elected official being such a force statewide. But don't count on the House members to worry about that.

The only hope for heading off a dynasty of multi-term speakers is the Capitol police and their concerns about terrorist bombs. And how long can they keep changing the locks?

Education board OK's

$36 million book buy

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Board of Education approved $36.3 million in public school textbooks Saturday after directing world history book writers to stress the accomplishments of Mexico's and Central America's Indians, not their human sacrifices.

A last-minute effort to remove the word "housewife" from a marketing textbook failed.

The 22-3 approval of the more than 200 textbooks for languages, history, mathematics and vocational education ended a year-long selection process that included numerous public hearings.

Next the approved list goes to individual school boards as a guide in selecting textbooks for each school.

Board member Ruben Hinojosa, Mercedes, protested that all five world history books on the list were about 60 percent negative and 40 percent positive.

"I want these books our children read to be at least 60 percent positive and not more than 40 percent negative," Hinojosa said. "All these books put too much emphasis on the human sacrifices of the Mayan and Aztec Indians."

"I think these books should stress the agriculture, the architectural, and other beneficial accomplishments of these people," Hinojosa said. "All of us with Mexican ancestry feel that these Indian groups had a very rich civilization."

Hinojosa's motion was accepted without opposition.

Man shoots wife, turns gun on self

ORANGE (AP) — A man killed himself after shooting his common-law wife to death outside a church school just as students were being sent home for the day, police said.

Justice of the Peace Claude Wimberly ruled the case a murder-suicide.

Twins die in fire

LONGVIEW (AP) — Twin 6-month-old infants died in a fire that raced through a frame house so fast that their mother, who rescued three older children, could not get to the twins, fire officials said.

Fire officials said the Friday morning fire was started by a propane bottle used for heating in a bedroom where the twins slept.

Steer band holds banquet

The Steer Band has made much progress since the beginning of the year. The students and directors have put in many hours of hard work.

To celebrate the end of a successful marching season, the band held a banquet on Thursday, Nov. 10. The band members selected and voted for the ten best marchers in the band. Those elected were: John Buzbee, Melinda Corwin, Karen Crandall, Janice Duncan, Kerry Fortson, Dwain Fox, Glenn Mellinger, Jimmy Ologue, Robby Roten and Chris Williams. Melinda Corwin was also voted as the person who had outstanding spirit and was chosen as the recipient of the Zane Donald Award. Bert Andrews received the Band Directors Award for the recognition of all the hard work he has done for the band.

The band competed at the UIL Marching Contest on Nov. 5 at which they received a division II rating. Twirlers Robin Butler and Allison White received a division II rating on their solos, and Diane Boothe received a division I. Melinda Corwin made first chair percussionist for the Region Orchestra during tryouts held on Oct. 29 in Odessa.

The next performance of the Steer Band will be held on Dec. 15. This concert will feature the honor and symphonic Bands, and they will be playing Christmas music as well as other compositions.

Cast members who were selected for the play "The Night Thoreau Spent in Jail", which is a joint production with the Howard College Drama Department, are as follows: Jennifer Moore as Lydian, Mike Walker as Bailey, Eric Watkins as General Ball, Lanton Hamby as Sam, and Sami Eyskens as Williams. Those selected as extras are: Scott Boland, Randy Langlois, Tatia Colvin, Kim Beckham, D'Carlton Wilson, Michelle Wilson, Eva Baucham, and Sue Lasher. James Puentes will be in charge of the set design and Shot Smith will be the stage manager.

The Big Spring Area Chamber of Commerce is looking for the girl who most personifies the spirit of Christmas and who will represent them as Miss Merry Christmas. Any junior or senior girls who would like to apply for this honor needs to see Ms. Hoover in the office for more information.

The freshman class is selling tickets for a chance to win a trip for two to the Dallas Cowboy-Washington Redskins football game. The tickets are on sale in the cafeteria for $1.00 a ticket or six tickets for $5.00. The drawing will be held on Dec. 2 at 10:30 a.m. at Big Spring High School.

On Monday, Nov. 14, FFA will be participating in the District FFA Leadership Contest in Coahoma.

Seniors are reminded that graduation announcements will be ordered on Tuesday, Nov. 15 and that a $20.00 deposit is required to place an order.

Students who wish a second semester schedule change need to see a counselor about this change sometime this month.

School to pick it's top turkey

Veta Spears will be the guest speaker at the Future Homemakers of America meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 15, at 7:00 p.m. The topic of Mrs. Spears' presentation will be "rape prevention."

Plans will be made at this meeting for the "Turkey of the Day" contest which will take place the week of November 21. The contest will be a popularity competition between the high school teachers.

Students will be able to purchase "Turkey Feathers" for the teacher of their choice on Monday, Nov. 21, and Tuesday, Nov. 22, for ten cents. The winning teacher will be crowned "Turkey of the Day" on Wednesday, Nov. 23. Prizes will be given to the winner.

A student exchange day will be held in Snyder for the Student Council officers on Wednesday, Nov. 16. The purpose for this meeting is to share ideas from different schools on events and ideas held by the Student Councils.

On Saturday, Nov. 19, the speech students will attend a practice UIL meet in Denver City.

On Monday, Nov. 14, there will be an FFA Leadership Conference in Coahoma at 1:30 p.m. Also on Monday, the FFA will hold its banquet at 6:30.

School picture retakes are slated to be taken on Nov. 17 at the school for those students and faculty members who missed having their picture taken for the annual.

Sweetwater will be the setting for the varsity basketball boys scrimmage between Coahoma, Sweetwater, and Abilene Wylie. This scrimmage will begin at 5:00 p.m.

The varsity and junior varsity basketball girls will also be playing in a scrimmage on Thursday, Nov. 17. The varsity team will be scrimmaging with Anson and Andrews beginning at 7:00 p.m. at Coahoma. The junior varsity, which will also include freshmen, will be playing Anson beginning at 5:30 p.m. also in Coahoma.

Father: Ashley's death signals public

FORT WORTH (AP) — Ashley Bailey, the tiny infant for whom President Reagan issued a national appeal, could have been saved if the public was more aware of the need for donor livers, her father says.

The blond, blue-eyed 14-month-old girl from the West Texas town of Clyde died Friday morning after a 10-month wait for a liver transplant. In addition to Reagan's radio appeal, Texas Gov. Mark White issued a call for contributions to her hospital bills and family friends raised more than $100,000 through bake sales and golf tournaments.

"Hopefully, some other family won't have to go through what we've gone through," Ashley's father, Greg Gossett, said at a news conference, his eyes filling with tears.

"Some kind of public awareness has got to come from this because that's why Ashley is no longer with us. I don't want to see somebody else go through this because it's pain — pure pain," he said.

Gossett said three times he learned of livers that would have been available for transplant if hospitals had known of Ashley's condition. Finding a liver was particularly difficult in Ashley's case because she weighed less than 15 pounds for most of her life, said Dr. Robert Squires.

"The irony of the situation is that on the very day we're going to be doing a transplant on a child just about the size of Ashley Bailey, a donor is available today — the day of her death. So that's really quite sad," said Dr. John Majarian, chief of surgery at University of Minnesota Hospitals.

The transplant was performed on 9-month-old Joshua Brooks of Laurinburg, N.C., who suffers from biliary atresia.

Since Ashley was 4 months old, her parents spent most of their time in hospital waiting rooms in Texas and Minnesota. Annette Bailey Gossett, 21, wore a telephone beeper and her 24-year-old husband wore a cap emblazoned with Ashley's name so they would be easily found in the event of a development.

Ashley suffered from biliary atresia, an incurable disease that hardens the liver. She had been in and out of hospitals since May, and despite a plea broadcast nationwide by Reagan, no suitable liver donor was found.

Charges dropped on 'people's court'

CORROE (AP) — A judge has quashed indictments against four members of a self-styled township government that maintained a "people's court." The judge said the charges were unclear.

Harold "Ed" Blake, 42; Robert Jeanes, 50; Daniel Lee Swank, 42; and Swank's wife, Karen, 31; were arrested last May in a raid on the Southern District of Texas Township Court at the Swank home in nearby Porter.

All four were charged with tampering with government records. Blake and Jeanes, who acted as judges for the "court," also were accused of impersonating government officials.

The group insists it is guilty only of upholding the true intent of the U.S. Constitution. They issued subpoenas to several local officials demanding they appear before the "people's court" for committing "constitutional crimes."

One township document bearing Jeanes' signature demanded a municipal court judge appear before the "people's court" to explain why a township member was issued a traffic citation.

But after hearing defense motions Friday, State District Judge Lee Alworth agreed the indictments failed to specifically outline how the alleged tampering occurred and dismissed the charges.

Alworth also said he was uncertain whether the offense could have occurred if the documents were never entered in a legally recognized court.

"This Southern District of Texas Township — there is no such court," the judge said. "This is some fantasy or mystical thing that exists over in East (Montgomery) County."

District Attorney James Keeshan said he plans to go back to the grand jury and seek new, more specific indictments.

Township leaders called the charges against them "ridiculous."

"We can't enforce anything," Jeanes said. "We don't have the power to put anyone in jail. It (people's court) was just to redress grievances."

Swank said, "They've wasted my time. I've got a country to save."

Bill tells firm it's been sued

AUSTIN (AP) — A major pharmaceutical company says the first time it knew it had been sued and lost was when it got a recent bill for $603,652.

Anne Beck, 35, of Austin brought suit against A.H. Robins Co., manufacturers of the Dalkon Shield.

Blum's Jewels & Gems
One beautiful place.
by Ralph and Lynette Brooks

A closed or bezel setting is among the most commonly used settings for cabochons and irregularly shaped stones. The bezel consists simply of a band of metal that fits around the gemstone and is soldered to the base jewelry. It is usually curved but can be square. Bezels can be made with or without a seat or bearing that fits inside to support the stone. Seats are used when there is no metal backing to which the bezel is attached, as in the case of a pendant. Or, a seat may be used to lift the bottom of a convex stone away from the base metal so that it sets firmly.

PIK plan clause enacted

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will enforce the "plant for PIK" clause for cotton farmers participating in the Payments in Kind (PIK) program in 1983, according to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service Howard County Committee.

Operators and landlords who have cotton on their farm and participated in the 10 to 30 percent PIK program must meet the requirements to furnish 40 percent of their PIK needs.

The enactment of the clause requirements will not apply to farmers who participated in the 100 percent PIK program, to farmers who will not harvest any cotton on their farm or to farmers with enough cotton in their 1981 or 1982 loan.

Cotton produced and sold prior to placing in the plant for PIK loans means the producer will not receive all of his PIK needs.

For example, if a producer has 100 acres of cotton and is supposed to receive 50 bales of cotton from PIK, the Commodity Credit Corporation will furnish 60 percent of the 50 bales, or 30 bales. The other 40 percent, or 20 bales, must come from the producer's harvest. If he does not put this cotton in the special PIK for harvest loan, he will not receive the same 20 bales.

If the producer were to harvest only 10 bales, then the 10 bales would be placed in the loan and the CCC would find him 150 more to meet his 20 bale needs.

PIK entitlements from CCC inventory are being delayed from their original date, Oct. 15.

In other agricultural news, wool and mohair producers are reminded to bring in all sales documents as soon as they are completed, and dairy farmers should contact the ASCS county committee office concerning the milk refund program.

Seed firm settles suit

A Dallas-based seed firm, Ring-Around Products Inc., has paid the U.S. Department of Agriculture $35,200 in a settled agreement with the U.S.D.A.'s Agricultural Marketing Service of a case involving shipments of seed that were alleged to violate the Federal Seed Act.

According to U.S.D.A. allegations, the company allegedly mislabeled and falsely advertised soybean seed as U.S. protected varieties RA604, RA701 and RA800. The company also has returned the protection certificates relating to RA701 and RA800 varieties.

BOLLED OVER — The John Deere Co. has been testing a new four- or five-row tractor mounted cotton stripper. Displayed recently at a company meeting in Lubbock, the stripper is advertised as being able to reduce costs by over 50 percent.

New cotton stripper tested

A new four- or five-row cotton stripper being introduced by John Deere, when teamed with a high-horsepower tractor, will reduce harvesting costs by as much as 51 percent, company officials said.

Company engineers tested the implement across 1,500 acres. According to the tests, a new four-row Deere 740 mounted on a 4450 tractor with front-wheel drive will cost $15 per acre to operate. A five-row version on the same tractor will cost $14 an acre.

Engineers estimated the cost of using two double-row cotton strippers mounted on tractors without front-wheel drive.

Lubbock, the stripper is advertised as being able to reduce costs by over 50 percent.

HOME — Jimmy and Janice Hopper built a geodesic dome home on their ten acres of land in the Tubbs' Addition. The couple designed the energy-efficient, total-electric home themselves. The home has 10 outside riser walls, 60 triangles making the roof and five skylights.

SHINGLING THE ROOF — Jimmy Hopper shingled the top of the roof of his geodesic home by tying a rope to himself on one side of the house and to a skylight on the other side. A scaffold was used to shingle the lower part of the roof.

READING FOR FUN — Janice Hopper and son Jacoby, 6, read a book in his room. The Hoppers' master bedroom, which is a second-floor loft, overlooks Jacoby's room.

TAKING IT EASY — Janice Hopper and son Jarrett, 7 months, take a moment from their day to relax in the family's settee. The skylight above them provides light for the house.

J. Hoppers design dream home from geodesic dome

By RHONDA WITT
Lifestyle Writer

Jimmy and Janice Hopper saw their dream home when they entered a geodesic dome in Sand Springs. "We loved it," Mrs. Hopper said.

Hopper's father, Billy Hopper, is a retired carpenter. With the elder Hopper's instructions and ideas, the couple built their two-story dome home on their 10 acres in Tubbs' Addition. "If it wasn't for him, it wouldn't be standing here," the younger Hopper said.

While the house was being built, the Hoppers lived with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.C. Clanton of Elbow.

"When we first started building the house people thought we were crazy for building a round house," Mrs. Hopper said. "After we finished the house, they saw it and liked it. When the dome was first here people said it looked like a spaceship had come and landed here in the pasture.

"ON THE OUTSIDE it looks small, but inside it has lots of room," she said. The house is 2,400 square feet. It has a kitchen, dining room, settee, living room, three bedrooms, two bathrooms, a dressing room and storage room.

Although the Hoppers used one of the basic floor plans that came with their dome kit, they used several of their original ideas to build the home.

Entering the home, a person finds himself in the living area which contains the dining room, the settee and the living room. The living area is divided by a counter and a low ceiling.

The master bedroom is on the second floor of the house directly above the kitchen. It is a loft, surrounded by a four foot wall, overlooking the rest of the home.

"All my rooms are open, none of them are closed in. There are no dead corners, so air flows freely," Mrs. Hopper said. The dome is the ceiling for the entire home.

The Hoppers installed a catalog-ordered fireplace, which is surrounded by rocks both inside and out. "It warms both the downstairs and upstairs.

"A lot of people say it is not private enough," she said, "which is both good and bad." From upstairs, the Hoppers can see into both sons' rooms. In the future if more privacy is needed, the couple can build over their son Jacoby's room to make another room upstairs.

Some people also don't like the noise level, which is due to the openness of the house. "If I send Jacoby to his room to play, I can hear everything like he was right here by me," she said. "We have just learned to live with it."

HOPPER WORKED on the house after he got off work in the afternoon. He is a milkman for Gandy's.

To build the house, Hopper had to dig a footing with a pick and shovel. It took four to five months from the time the ground was broke to when the concrete slab was poured. During this time the dirt work and plumbing was done. Hopper hired someone to install the plumbing.

To allow for furniture to fit against the outside wall, the Hoppers built a three foot riser wall to set the dome on. The dome was erected two years ago Thanksgiving day. The dome serves as the frame of the house and consists of 60 triangles. Unlike a regular house with four sides, the dome has ten sides. While the triangles were being put together support beams held the frame in place.

"The dome is self-supporting so if we wanted to re-do the house, we could totally gut it," Mrs. Hopper said.

To shingle the house, Hopper used a scaffold on the lower part. To shingle the top part of the house, he would tie a rope to a skylight on one side of the house and to himself on the other side.

"The hardest thing to do was to sheet rock the inside because of all the different angles. Each piece of sheet rock had to be cut to the precise side," Mrs. Hopper said.

"One reason we wanted to build this house was because it is energy-efficient. The house is total electric." "One day we would like to get the house solar-powered to get away from electricity," Hopper said.

"The dome can withstand tornado type winds because it is round and has no corners for the wind to catch it," Mrs. Hopper said.

THE DOME HOME has five skylights which "provides plenty of lighting for our plants to go bonkers," Hopper said. The Hoppers love plants.

During the day, the inside of the house is so bright, that when Mrs. Hopper's sister, Judy Park, comes to visit she feels like she should turn out some lights.

Six months ago, the couple built a wooden deck around three sides of the dome. "There still are things we want to do," the Hoppers said. As they get the money, they work on the house. Now they are building a carport beside the dome.

The Hoppers had one disaster while building the house. Their son, Jacoby, then 4½ years old, fell from the top of a ladder to the concrete floor below him.

Hopper had gone up to the second floor, he said. "I had always told him (Jacoby) not to climb the ladder. He was standing on the top rung of the ladder."

Hopper bent over to pick something up, turned around and saw his son. "I guess it scared him when I turned around. He just turned around and fell straight to the floor."

The Hoppers rushed Jacoby to Malone-Hogan Hospital, who rushed him to Midland Memorial Hospital. Jacoby had a light skull fracture and a light concussion, but was "completely healed in a week. We did a lot of praying that week," Mrs. Hopper said.

The accident delayed work on the house for a month, because the Hoppers didn't want to go back to the house. After the couple moved into their new home, their second child Jarrett was born.

"It was all fun. We enjoyed it because it is ours," Hopper said. "By doing it ourselves we probably saved half the price it would have cost me to contract the work out.

"It was a lot of hard work, but it was worth every bit of it," Hopper said. Building the house was "kind of like a puzzle. However, you can do anything with it."

"I'm glad we built it. I'm so proud of it. We wouldn't have any other type of home," Mrs. Hopper said.

SETTING THE TABLE — Janice Hopper and son Jacoby set the table for the family's dinner. The family's dining area is color coordinated with a settee and a living room. The rubber plant in the upper right corner sits atop the closet in the nursery. Other than the dome ceiling, most of the rooms have no individual ceiling thus creating an open-air environment.

Couples visit Glen Canyon

"It's absolutely gorgeous," says EDNA WOMACK about Lake Powell and Glen Canyon, Ariz. MR. AND MRS. RALPH GOSSETT, MR. AND MRS. TRUMAN JONES, DR. AND MRS. B. BROADRICK, DR. AND MRS. H.F. SCHWARZENBACH, MR. AND MRS. JACK COOK, MR. AND MRS. KEITH HUBBARD OF DALLAS, and MR. AND MRS. ODELL WOMACK recently returned from a trip in that area in northern Arizona.

The couples rented a houseboat and spent four nights out on Lake Powell. They saw Rainbow Bridge and all the beautiful scenery. They didn't catch much fish but enjoyed the trip.

DOROTHY GARRETT has been ill and was in the Lubbock Memorial Hospital this past week.

On the way to Midland to make up a Dale Carnegie session Thursday evening, MARGIE HILL told me about her two week trip to Europe she just returned from. EVELYN McCANN accompanied her. "We had a ball," Margie said. "We went everywhere we could. It was marvelous." The two women visited Holland, Belgium, Germany, France and Switzerland. They also took a cruise down the Rhine River and saw the beautiful old castles that line the river. "Now I've got to save my money and go somewhere else," she said.

MARY QUILIN of Mesquite, daughter of

MR. AND MRS. HENRY DIRKS JR. of 1735 Purdue, performed a solo at a Bach concert at Stephen F. Austin State University in Nacogdoches. The concert was presented by the university's choir Nov. 3.

Mrs. Dirks was there to see her daughter perform and to visit with her grandchildren. A member of Mary's wedding party when she married was the choir's director. He knew she was a good singer and he needed an extra soloist for the particular selection. So he asked her to sing. The Dirks are proud of Mary. Mary graduated from Big Spring High School in 1971 and was a member of All State Choir her senior year in high school. Until next week...

Dear Abby

Mom can't give thanks for misfit son-in-law

DEAR ABBY: My daughter recently married a man who does not fit into our family. She lives in another state, so it isn't a problem most of the time. She has invited herself and her husband to our Thanksgiving dinner, and now I am a nervous wreck thinking of having that person she married as a guest in our home.

It will ruin the whole family affair. We will have to count the silver and other valuables after he has been here. I would love to see my daughter and don't want to hurt her feelings, but we just can't stand the thought of her husband being here.

Is there any way to handle this, or am I in a corner?

TRAPPED

DEAR TRAPPED: Before I can give you a helpful answer, I need to know: Is your son-in-law a known thief, or do you merely suspect that he is capable of stealing valuables from your home? If he has already stolen some silver and other valuables from you, surely your daughter is aware of it, so it would be appropriate to share your concern with her.

Although you say he doesn't "fit" into your family, he is now part of it, so if you would "love" to see your daughter, you had better make her husband welcome even if you have to lock up your valuables and use plastic tableware on Thanksgiving.

DEAR ABBY: This is for the woman who dream was to go to bed with her boss. Don't! When I started my new job, I was very much attracted to my boss and actually dreamed about what kind of lover he would be. I wanted that man in the worst way. Finally, a few months later, I got my wish.

We were involved for a few months, during which time I found out that he was selfish and inconsiderate. As a lover, on a scale from 1 to 10, he was barely a 1.

Fortunately, my husband never found out and I learned my lesson. Dreams like that are always better than reality.

WIDE-AWAKE IN DALLAS

DEAR WIDE-AWAKE: No snooze is good snooze; dreams of horsing around in the hay usually become nightmares.

DEAR ABBY: I would like to respond to "Nursing Mother," who has trouble finding a comfortable place to breast-feed her baby away from home.

A breast pump that extracts the mother's milk into a sterilized bottle is a simple solution. It is a convenient method of feeding a baby anywhere at any time.

A mother wouldn't eat in the smoky, crowded bathroom of a restaurant. Why should she feed her baby there?

Anniversaries

MR. AND MRS. DOUG BOYD
...to celebrate anniversary

The Doug Boyds

Doug and Nita Boyd, 1303 Runnels, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary Nov. 16 by spending Thanksgiving with their daughter's family in East Texas.

Boyd, one of nine children from Baird, was an engineer for the Texas and Pacific Railroad for 32 years. He retired in 1974. Mrs. Boyd, the former Nita Clemmer, was one of 12 children born to the Robert Edward Clemmer family of Hamby.

In the early years of the Boyds' marriage, the couple lived in New Mexico while Boyd worked in the oilfields for Conoco. The couple moved to Big Spring in 1942 where Boyd became a locomotive engineer with the railroad. He retired from the railroad nine years ago.

Today the Boyds divide their time between Big Spring and Lake Livingston. Their daughter, Helen "Punkie" Boyd, and her husband Gary James Tidwell live in Houston. Tidwell, originally of Big Spring, produces the syndicated television show "Eyes of Texas." The Boyds have three grandchildren.

MR. AND MRS. GRADY W. DUNNAM
...to celebrate anniversary

The Grady Dunnams

Grady W. and Omega Dunnam, Sand Springs, are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary with a reception today at the First Baptist Church Parlor from 2 to 4 p.m. The reception will be hosted by their children and grandchildren.

Dunnam met the former Omega Rogers at a party in 1931. The two were married Nov. 12, 1933 in Wingate. The couple lived in Pampa and Guyman, Okla. before moving to Big Spring in 1950. Dunnam was employed by Cabot Corporation for 36 years before retiring in Nov. 1973.

The couple has five children: Mrs. Vernon

(Margaret) Gamble, Charles W. Dunnam and Tommy C. Dunnam, all of Big Spring. Mrs. Lewis (Barbara) Chandler of Artesia, N.M., and Mrs. Fravis (Janie) Reid of Coahoma. The couple also has 11 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Dunnam belongs to Shrine, York Rite, Scottish Rite and Masonic Lodge, of which he is a past master. He also is past senior president of Howard County Youth Horseman Club. The Dunnams are members of Eastern Star, of which Dunnam is past worthy patron. The couple enjoys traveling, fishing and gardening.

MR. AND MRS. J.V. BRISTOW
...to be honored at reception

The J.V. Bristows

Mr. and Mrs. J.V. Bristow, Rt. 1, will be honored by their children and grandchildren at a reception at Coahoma State Bank's Signal Mountain Room Nov. 20. The event, scheduled for 2 to 5 p.m., will commemorate the couple's 50th anniversary.

Bristow, originally of Floydada, was introduced to the former Thelma Julia McBeth by her brother at Rotan during the summer of 1933. She was born in Rosedale, Okla. The couple married Nov. 18, 1933 in the bride's home. The Rev. J.D. Brannan officiated the rite.

The Bristows had five children: Wayne Bristow, Sterling City, Rt. 1; Darlene Caffey, Stanton; Jimmie Bristow, Arlington; Patsy Shaw, Rt. 1; and Linda

Cowan, Denton. The couple also has 15 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The Bristows first lived in Rotan following their wedding. They moved to Ackerly in 1946 and to Vincent in 1964. Following Bristow's retirement, the couple moved to Big Spring in 1969. The Bristows owned a butane company at Ackerly and a grocery and butane company at Vincent.

The Bristows have been active in the Baptist church for many years where both have taught Sunday School. Bristow has been choir director for 25 years in various churches they attended and also sang for revivals. He enjoys fishing and gardening. Mrs. Bristow enjoys crocheting and quilting.

Couple honored at bridal showers

Linda Long, bride-elect of John L. Taylor Jr., was feted by a party and reception Nov. 5.

A brunch, kitchen shower and share-a-recipe party was held in the home of Mrs. Betty Robb. Co-hosting the party were Sue Broughton, Dottie Duncan, Gail Little, Nancy Little, Pauline Nelson, Rosie Shaffer, Clifla Slate and Betty Wrinkle.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a silver chafing dish. Dorothy Long of Kaufman, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. John Taylor, mother of the prospective bridegroom, and Lillian Stulting, grandmother of the prospective bridegroom, were special guests.

That evening, the couple was honored with a reception at Big Spring Country Club. The Ballroom was decorated with a Mexican theme. Margie Rainwater provided background music.

Corsages were presented to the Miss Long, Mrs. Long and Mrs. Taylor. Boutonnieres were presented to the prospective bridegroom, his father John Taylor, and the bride-elect's father George Long.

Hosting the affair were Messrs. and Mrs. J. Corson, Harold Dugas, James Duncan, Kenneth Guthrie, Granville Hobb, Harold Jones, George McVister, Paul McLaughlin, Douglas Hooper, Stephen Stripling, J. H. Walter, Walter Wheat and Worthy. Also attending were Miss Alice Hall.

Special gifts were given by Mrs. and Mr. J. Long of Kaufman, mother of the bride-elect, Mrs. M. B. Taylor, Jr. and Terrell Taylor of Lubbock, and Mrs. Wayne F. Taylor and Mr. Wayne Taylor Jr. and Terrell Taylor of Lubbock, and Mrs. J. H. Taylor of Big Spring.

Joggers beware of plantar fasciitis

Dear Dr. Donohue: I have plantar fasciitis. My left heel has been sore and painful for several months. Is there danger of it spreading? What can be done for it? — M.H.

Joggers, take note. Plantar fasciitis can always lurk around the corner. It is inflammation of the dense tissue that supports the bottom (plantar) of the foot. This tissue is slung like a hammock, anchored at the heel and front of the foot. Poorly-fitted shoes and anatomical quirks of the feet can lead to it, as can running or jogging on hard surfaces. If the inflammation doesn't lessen, the result can be calcium deposits on the front part of the heel — the famous heel spur, an attempt to protect the body from the repeated insults.

The treatment, as you can guess, is rest until the pain disappears. Then, before resuming jogging, you have to look for the proper cushion supports for the heel and bottoms of the feet. It is wise to have an examination to determine whether there are any foot deformities aggravating or causing the inflammation.

L.L. has asked me about cortisone for such conditions. Regular anti-inflammation medicines and warm soaks are usually enough. But sometimes a cortisone shot is used to quiet particularly bad inflammation episodes.

Such a condition should not last for months. When it doesn't subside in a week or so, it's time for a more complete examination. Why you have it in the left heel may be because of one of the anatomical quirks I mentioned. The bones of that foot may be out of line, causing the undue pressure when you jog.

This problem doesn't spread from one foot to the other, but if both feet are being abused the condition can be expected to appear on the foot. It's not infectious, though. The booklet "Relief and Care of Your Feet" discusses this problem. Other readers may order by writing me in care of this newspaper, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope and 50 cents.

Dear Dr. Donohue: Sir, we read your column with special interest in letters about sports medicine. You often have information on exercises for special sports. Our sons are all in basketball, wrestling, track and football. Is there one book that deals with these sports? — D.H.

Sure; it depends on your specific interest. Is it in sports techniques? Then you want a book oriented toward that, more of a coaching book. If your interest is general, in areas of physiology, how the body is cared for and how it is trained for the particular sport, then you would be more interested in a book devoted to physiology of sports.

I'll mention a few of those, since that seems to fit your need. They are: "Sports Physiology" by Fox (Saunders); "The Wilmore Fitness Program" by Wilmore (Wallaby); "Sports Medicine and Physiology" by Strauss (Saunders), and "Exercise Physiology," by McArdle et al (Lea and Febiger).

Horticulture committee plans pecan show

The Howard County Pecan Show will held Dec. 1 at the Highland Shopping Mall. The show, an annual event sponsored by the County Horticulture committee, provides education in the selection of improved varieties and utilization of established and native pecan trees, and promotes the pecan industry in the county. Exhibits will include Pecan variety divisions and a foods division.

Any pecan grower in the area may submit entries to the show. No entry limit per exhibitor is made, but participants are limited to one entry for each named variety. The grower may enter as many seedlings, known hybrids or natives as he wishes. The exhibitor must be the grower.

A minimum of 40 pecans are necessary for each entry. This sample of 40 should represent the variety of individual seedling tree and be uniform in size and shell color. Mixed samples — more than one variety in an entry — are disqualified.

The grower may wish to select the heaviest pecans by weighing individual nuts. This will eliminate poorly filled pecans, but certainly isn't an entry requirement.

A varietal entry may be composed of nuts from more than one tree. For example, if the grower has 10 Choctaw trees, each tree could contribute nuts to the grower's one Choctaw entry.

Nuts should be free of dust, dirt, and shuck remnants. They should not be buffed to the extent that shape or color is altered.

Discolored shells and kernels may result from peeling pecans from the shucks too early. Pecans must be from the 1983 crop and are judged on the basis of size (number per pound), appearance, and shell color.

Kernal quality is also important is based on the percent kernal (as relative to shell), color, general appearance, texture and taste.

All entries must be turned in to the County Extension office by Nov. 29 to be eligible for judging. The County Extension Office is located in the basement of the Howard County Courthouse. (267-6671)

The foods division will be subdivided in to two classes: Adult (20 years of age and over) and Youth (19 years of age and under). The food categories are breads, pies, cakes, cookies, candies and other foods for each age group.

1. Pecans must be used in the recipe for all categories.

2. The entire recipe must be entered for judging; the cookie and candy category must include at least 3 dozen pieces.

3. All food when entered becomes property of the Howard County Pecan Show.

4. Place food on disposable dishes, cover with clear plastic wrap. Items requiring refrigeration cannot be accepted.

5. Recipes must accompany food entry. Recipes should be submitted on standard 8 1/2 x 11" paper with name of contestant, age group, food category listed in the upper right corner. All ingredients should be listed in order used. Complete instructions should be given including pan size (where applicable), oven temperature, cooking time and yield (number of servings or number of pieces).

6. Food entries should be brought to Highland Mall between 9:00 a.m. and 10:00 a.m. on Dec. 1.

7. There is no limit on the number of entries, but the recipe must accompany each entry.

8. The food show will be open for public viewing and tasting from 12 until 2:30 p.m.

9. Recipe entries will be compiled into a cookbook which will be available as soon as it can be compiled.

10. Ribbons will be awarded to the first, second and third place winners in each food category of both youth and adult divisions. Trophies will be awarded to the champion adult and youth entries.

Nutrition-wise, pecans are a powerhouse of protein, phosphorus, thiamin, unsaturated fat and energy.

American Indians knew that, too. They were the first to pry pecans on the menu — for "good eating" and nutritional benefits.

Pecans are about 12 percent protein, 70 percent polyunsaturated fat, concentrated energy source.

They also provide some iron, calcium, vitamin A, Potassium, riboflavin and niacin — and 10 large halves total only 62 calories.

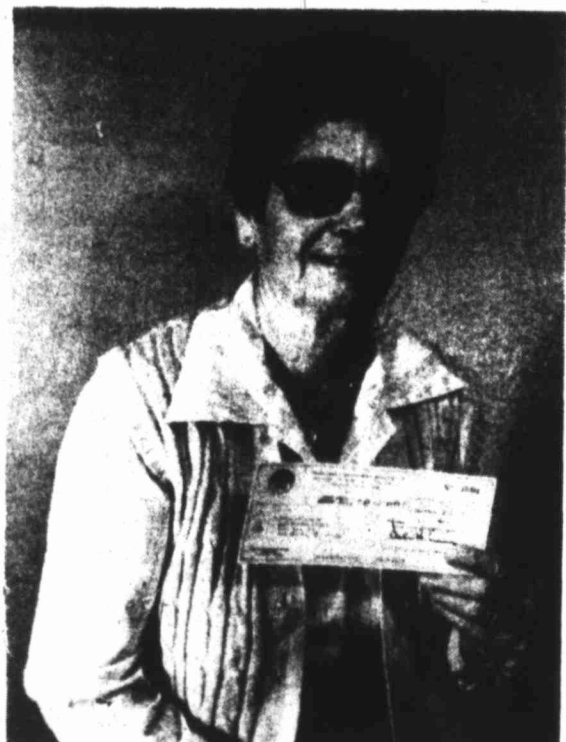

Pecans have extraordinary versatility, so they'll team up with almost any food imaginable.

PAULINE HANSON

ONE OF TEXAS' TOP FIVE ADULT CARRIERS*

Pauline Hanson has been delivering the Big Spring Herald for almost 30 years. She regards the folks on her 75 mile motor route as her friends, and she's seen their children marry and make homes of their own on her route. She hasn't missed driving her route more than 30 days total, and most of that was when she had surgery. Pauline said she always followed the Golden Rule, "I just delivered the papers the way I'd want my paper delivered." Winners were judged on service, sales ability, record keeping and overall performance.

*The state's top five carriers were selected by the Texas Daily Newspaper Assn. and the Texas Circulation Managers Association. She received a $250 prize.

Treat nematodes and peach tree disease in fall

Fall is good time for treatment of nematodes and peach tree Diseases.

Root knot nematodes are present in the soil in most areas of West Texas. They are microscopic round worms that invade the plant root system. Symptoms of nematodes include wilting during periods of moisture stress, stunting, pale green leaves, and reduced yields. However, according to Dr. Harold W. Kaufman, Extension Plant Pathologist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the most diagnostic symptoms are the knots or galls that form on infected roots.

Several methods of nematode control are available to the home gardener. These include resistant varieties, rotation with plants least affected by nematodes (asparagus, onion, garlic and corn) tilling the soil in the heat of late July and early August to dry the soil and kill the nematodes, and chemical soil fumigation.

Chemical control of nematodes is the most effective method. Chemicals allow growing of favorite non-resistant varieties, and are fairly simply to apply. The only chemical soil fumigant available to the home gardener is vapamr. This is a toxic liquid with an offensive odor which reduces the chance of harmful overexposure, making it safe for the home gardener. Read the entire label before using this chemical. Vapamr should be applied to moist soil, well tilled, and ready for planting. The soil temperature 6 inches deep should be at least 50 Degrees F. Cold soils will not permit adequate movement of the chemical to get effective control.

Waiting until spring to fumigate provides the additional benefit of killing all the weed seeds that have blown into the garden during the winter. However, the required 50 Degrees F. soil temperature and the two week post-fumigation waiting period will make the garden late and subject to high summer temperatures which reduce or eliminate fruit set of many plants.

Apply one pint Vapamr per 50 square feet of garden space. Mark the garden off in 50 square foot areas. Place one pint of Vapamr in a sprinkling can, fill with water, and apply evenly to a 50 sq. ft. area. Sprinkle the treated soil immediately with water until the soil is sealed (water runs off). Then treat the next area. The soil should be sealed again on the second and third day after treating, or you may cover the area with a plastic tarp after the first watering. Leave the treated area undisturbed for one week. Then remove the tarp, if used, and store it to use again the following year. Not all the nematodes will be killed, so the treatment must be repeated each year, for best results.

If you grow peaches or apricots in far West Texas you probably have encountered one or more of three major diseases, bacterial leafspot, coryneum blight, and bacterial canker. Now is the time to apply fungicide to prevent spring infection, based on advice of our Extension Plant Pathologist, Dr. Harold Kaufman.

Symptoms of bacterial leafspot are angular lesions that are surrounded by a halo of lighter colored tissue. The inner portion of the lesion turns black and falls out after a time, giving a leaf a "shot hole" appearance.

Coryneum blight symptoms are reddish purple spots on the leaves. These lesions develop a gray center and shortly thereafter drop from the leaf again causing a "shot hole" appearance. These lesions are round and are easily distinguished from the angular bacterial leafspot lesions. Coryneum infects the buds in the fall and spreads to the developing foliage in the spring. Trees with root systems damaged by poor drainage, or competition with grass or weeds are more susceptible to attack.

Formation of gum at leaf nodes, and on the limbs and trunk are symptoms of the third disease, bacterial canker. In addition, elongated lesions filled with gum, are often found under the bark. This disease is more likely to kill trees that are already being stressed by drought, low fertility and overproduction.

Application of copper fungicides in the fall will help prevent spring infection of the three disease organisms. Dr. Kaufman says the best time to apply the fungicide is usually between October 15 and November 15. You can tell the exact time by running your hand along the terminal shoots. When 50% of the leaves comes off in your hand, it is time to spray. Apply Kocide 101 at 2 lb./100 gallons of water or 1 1/2 tablespoons/gallon. Soak the entire tree for maximum control.

Book report given during club meeting

Susan Alexander and Kathy Pickett gave a book report on "The Five Thousand Year Leap" during a meeting of the Tejas Cowbelle at La Pasada Restaurant, Nov. 8. The book emphasized the 28 principles encouraged by the founders of the United States Constitution.

The Texas Beef Cook-Off will be held in Lubbock in April. Each recipe must contain two pounds of beef and each serving must have three ounces of beef. Anyone interested in entering the contest should contact a local Cowbelle.

The Dairy Bill that is before the legislature was discussed and asked members to call their congressman. The importance of local participation in organizations was emphasized.

The next meeting will be a Christmas party in the Snyder Country Club at 11 a.m., Dec. 13. Members should bring a gift for Girlstown.

Engagement policy

We will be pleased to announce the news of your engagement in the Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald from anytime after the engagement is a reality until at least three weeks before the wedding.

We try to use the story on the date you request, but sometimes space does not permit this.

The information must be submitted to us on a form available at the Herald no later than Wednesday noon before the Sunday it is to be published. The form should be signed by the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or parents of either.

We will use a picture of the couple or the bride-elect. The picture must be of a quality that will reproduce well in the newspaper. We prefer a 5x7 glossy black and white print.

If the bride-elect, prospective bridegroom or their parents do not now or have never lived in our area, we need to know why you are submitting your engagement to our paper. If only grandparents live in our area, please, give their names and addresses.

The information may be brought by the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry, or mailed to the Big Spring Herald, P.O. Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720.

Call us at (915) 267-7331 if we can help with more information or clarification of our policies.

NATIVE TEXANS OFFER WORLD WIDE HOME FURNISHING KNOWLEDGE!

Dee and Gloria Rounsaville specialize in fine wooden dining rooms by Keller and Virginia House. These are complemented by bedroom and living room pieces to make livin' easy as well as beautiful. Stratolounger, Futuristic and Lane supply all their multi position chairs and the upholstered sofas and loveseats come in a wide style and price variety from Kenline, Swagart, Clayton Marcus, Korkin and Dagle.

Their home furnishings training came from a 10 year association with the Montgomery Ward Co. Dee then managed Riverside Furniture from its opening in '79 until he and Gloria stepped out on their own. Gloria developed her love of far eastern accessories from a childhood spent living around the world. Both her father and stepfather were in the intelligence branches of the service and she lived in the Republic of China and Europe.

One of Dee's hobbies is floral design and each one on display at D & R Furniture Showroom is his original composition. He also enjoys building and finishing furniture. While Dee and Gloria were living on their ranch in Hawley (near Abilene), they were in the business of custom designing and constructing furniture for their clients. After opening D & R Furniture Showroom in December of '82, they bought out a store in Snyder in August of '83. They're now operating two full line home furnishing establishments. Gloria is a Blue Blazer and active in ABWA. Dee is a member of the Lion's Club and the family belongs to the 1st Baptist Church. They have settled in Big Spring with their two children; Rae Lynn, 13 and Dee Jr., 7.

Dee and Gloria have a complete accessory department that includes copper and brass, baskets and Rocky Mountain Clay Sculptures. They're expecting a delivery of Ridgeway Grandfather Clocks in time for the holiday season. For a Switzer dinette, a brass bed with a therapeutic box spring and mattress set by Southwest bedding, accessories or even an arrangement of colorful silk flowers, you'll love shopping at D & R Furniture Showroom. Their personal service is typical of the special attention you'll find at Highland Mall!

Dior's 'Go Anywhere' spring look featured

By SUZY PATTERSON
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — The House of Dior proudly presented its new ready-to-wear designer recently, with Gerard Penneroux showing a spring-summer collection of sleek clothes that you would call "polite" in English and "passe-partout (go anywhere)" in French.

Dior chief Marc Bohan will keep the haute couture firmly under his own hand — at least for now. Penneroux, the ready-to-wear designer for Dior, gave up engineering to study design with Balenciaga and Givenchy some 20 years ago, and recently studied marketing in the United States.

And while Penneroux' pastel tunics and jackets, lean skirts and blouson tops were nicely cut, they generated little excitement.

"Underwhelming," said one journalist of the show, which concentrated on clothes for cautious people rather than way-out fashions. The impression (with clean colors, structured lines and welt seaming) was sometimes a vague harking back to Courreges in the 60s.

In pastels or bold grid patterns of chocolate or black and white, the soft wools or gabardines could certainly grace any Palm Beach bridge party.

And not to be missed were the huge floral-patterned straw sunhats — real starmakers when worn with an understated linen sheath dress.

The prettier silk prints were in geometric patterns, wrapped like sarongs and topped with soft hoods.

Plenty of sequins and sparkles were shown for late in the day, and some models were cleverly cut to flatter and hide unfortunate figures — one of three types of women described by Penneroux in his silhouette ideas.

The others were "Latin" with a rounded figure and Nordic with a more athletic build.

After Dior, Emmanuelle Khanh showed a huge line of trousers and shorts in daytime looks, all quite young and bright. The shorts with sunsuit or "bustier" tops in bright blue and white were appealing, and often flared a la Hollywood in the 1940s.

The longer pants in white, navy and cornflower blue linen or poplin with red touches also had plenty of appeal. If you don't like the very flared culotte styles, you can go for the narrower versions in all lengths, including the clam-digger so popular for next summer. The boleros and mariner jackets here also have unpretentious appeal.

Earlier, the house of Chanel scored a solid hit under the aegis of Karl Lagerfeld.

His new looks include a red-stitched blue denim suit with gold buttons, soft layered long dresses in bold horizontal stripes, pastel suits in textured weaves and large floppy bows on low-cut silk chiffon blouses.

American designer Vicky Tiel was not giving a show, but her husband Ron Berkeley told The Associated Press she was "working her head off" on her summer collection. The Paris-based designer is enjoying a solid and growing success among women from Palm Beach and Manhattan, and her latest coup is that Bergdorf-Goodman is featuring her clothes.

Vicky Tiel concentrates entirely on cocktail and dressy clothes, ignoring sportswear and pants for body-fitting, sophisticated looks.

Her summer wear will feature bright red, black and white. Her cocktail dress with a plunging sweetheart neckline topped by a full-backed bolero should appeal to those with a yen for men, especially the version in siren-red silk.

COUPLE TO WED — Bessie Stoker, Rt. 1, announces the engagement and the approaching marriage of her daughter, Disa, to Randy Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Reeves, 538 Westover. The couple will wed Dec. 3 at Coahoma First Baptist Church with the Rev. Danny Curry, pastor, officiating.

Handsewn monogramming adds more personal touch

Using a sewing machine to monogram ready-to-wear clothing or personal creations can be difficult for a beginner, but the skill can be mastered with a few hours of practice. The end result is initialed sweaters, blouses, collars, pockets and even towels and sheets.

The size of the needle should correspond with the weight of the fabric that is being monogrammed. The finer the fabric the finer the needle should be. Don't use a needle that is larger than a #12.

Strength, non-fade and lustrous qualities in the thread chosen for monogramming are important. A decorative 100 percent cotton mercerized thread works fine in the top of the sewing machine. Size #50 rayon thread is a synthetic that also is excellent and will give a nice luster. Use fine hem-stitching or darning thread available in black and white in the bobbin.

Use an embroidery foot when monogramming for clear vision of the work as it progresses. The foot eliminates the tendency for the needle to push the work into the machine. Also slightly loosen the upper tension.

To begin the monogram, choose a simple letter like "I" or "H". Set the zig-zag dial on 1/2 and sew one row the length you want. Sew over the same row a couple of times. Then set your zig-zag width on 1 or 2 and sew a second couple of rows next to the first. Do a third row with zig-zag width set at 3 or 4. By varying the zig-zag width, and building several rows of stitches, you will achieve a design that has sculptured, three-dimensional effect which characterizes monogramming.

The free-hand method of monogramming with a sewing machine allows the sewer to be more creative. Remove the presser foot and either drop the feed dogs or cover them with a darning plate that has a slit large enough to accommodate the zig-zag stitch. Preparing the machine this way lets you move the fabric under a stationary needle and allows you to achieve a paint-brush stroke effect.

When monogramming sweater material or stretch fabric, be sure to underface the areas with a tightly woven piece of organdy.

Wedding policy

Weddings are published in the Sunday Lifestyle section of the Big Spring Herald. A wedding form, available at the Herald, should be filled out, signed by either the bride, bridegroom or a member of either family and in our office no later than noon the Wednesday before the wedding.

The information may be accompanied by a photograph either of the bride or the couple. A black and white glossy 5 x 7 inch print is preferred. The picture must be of sufficient quality to reproduce in the newspaper. Pictures may be picked up following publication.

If a wedding writeup is turned in after the wedding, the space allotted to it will diminish according to the length of time that has passed since the wedding.

Forms for wedding stories may be picked up at the Lifestyle Department of the Big Spring Herald, 710 Scurry. Writeups may be brought in to the department or mailed to Big Spring Herald, Box 1431, Big Spring, Texas 79720. Please call our office if you have problems or questions. Our number is (915) 263-7331.

Woman speaks on Treaty of Paris

Mrs. Curtis Driver outlined details of the national defense program of the Treaty of Paris at Captain Elisha Mack Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution meeting in her home, Nov. 7.

The treaty, which was signed after three years of deliberation on Sept. 3, 1783, is one of the three most valuable treaties of the United States. The other two treaties are the Declaration of Independence and the Surrender of the British at Yorktown in 1781.

Congress appointed five men to go to Paris. The men were Benjamin Franklin, John Adams, John Jay, Thomas Jefferson and Henry Laurens. Jefferson did not go due to his wife's illness. Laurens, who had been held in the Tower of London as a British prisoner, was able to participate in the negotiations.

The boundaries set by the Treaty were Canada on the North, and include the Mississippi River on the West. The treaty stated navigation on the Mississippi River, from its source to the Ocean shall forever remain free and open to the subject of Great Britain and the citizens of the United States.

Mrs. Jack Alexander has been appointed organizing president to organize a chapter of the Children of the American Revolution.

Members will give gifts to the Rainbow Project at a Christmas party, Dec. 5.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Dec. 5, in the home of Mrs. William Riley.

Local organizations to repair donated toys

The Big Spring Civitan Club, Blue Knights and Big Spring Fire Department will collect and repair toys to be distributed by the Salvation Army for needy families during the holidays.

Repairable toys to be donate can be left at the Police Department, any Fire Station, the Salvation Army Center or Greenbelt Homes Maintenance Building #2259.

Applications for receiving toys will be taken by the Salvation Army at the old State National Bank Building at 2nd and Main, Nov. 28-Dec. 2.

For more information or to have toys picked up, call 267-6895, 263-1825, or the Salvation Army at 267-8239.

Arrival of cold weather and the "flu season" call attention to the need for influenza vaccinations for people at greatest of serious illness or death from flu and its complications.

Influenza virus infections occur every year in the United States, reminds Dr. Mary Ann Shirer, health education specialist with Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Ideal time of year to get flu shots

People considered to be in the "high risk" category are those 65 years of age or more, and people of any age who are chronically ill with heart disease, lung or kidney disorders, diabetes, severe anemia such as sickle cell disease; and conditions that affect immune (disease fighting) mechanisms such as certain malignancies and immuno-suppressive therapy.

Influenza and pneumonia have average more than 2,600 deaths per year according to a report by the Texas Department of Health. Flu vaccine generally is available through the winter months, with November as an ideal time for the vaccination, Shirer adds.

State and local health officials will be conducting the immunization programs, and the vaccine also will be available from private physicians. If there are questions relating to the need for vaccine, check with your local physician.

On Turning Heads

by Gary Don

One of this year's more innovative short haircuts is the asymmetrical styling shape. The hair is parted on the side and cut with subtle layering to curve forward and accentuate the eyes and cheekbones. The length is kept just below the ear and slightly longer on one side for a gently rounded shape. This type of short cut allows ease of care and yet is long enough to allow several styling options. Hair can be waved with the fingertips after shampooing, brushed back or worn straight and shining. The new short look is soft but definite.

Knowing how to properly care for your hair is what LA CONTESSA is all about. We are constantly updating all the latest in hair care methods and techniques to offer you the finest hair care available anywhere. You will find us conveniently located at 1506 Marcy. Howard's Winning Ways

Hawks get consolation crown at Chap Classic

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

MIDLAND — Despite winning four of his first five games as head coach, Mike Mitchell hasn't been seen smiling often after the final buzzer. Until Saturday afternoon.

"I thought we played real well...the best," the first-year Howard College coach said following the Hawks' 82-61 victory over Ranger College. "We played with some esprit de corps, with a different intensity level today. This was definitely our best game of the year."

As far as compliments go, that's a volume for Mitchell who is trying to mold a challenger in the Western Junior College Athletic Conference. Saturday's win over Ranger gave the Hawks the consolation championship at the Chaparral Classic and boosted the team's season record to 5-1.

Host Midland College won the tournament but needed an overtime period to down Odessa College 94-91. Barton Co. (Kan.) defeated state rival Garden City 79-75 for third place. In a third game played Saturday, McLennan drilled hapless St. Philip's 108-66.

Dwight Harris was named to the 11-man all-tournament team. Joining Harris, who scored 100 points in three tournament games, on the team were Most Valuable Player Tevin Binns, Vernon Coleman, Zeak Williams and Jackie Phinnessee of Midland; Mark Benoit, Dewayne Chism and Lavelle Wilson of Odessa; Wayne Montgomery of Barton Co.; Jerry Thomas of Ranger; and Andre Ervin of Garden City.

Ranger had a simple game plan Saturday but Howard attacked and defeated coach Larry Gibson's strategy. The Rangers came out in a box and one defense, playing a zone defense but putting one man on Harris who had scored 36 points in two previous tournament games.

The Ranger did stop Harris from scoring in the first half, limiting the sophomore to only nine points. But while he was taking just four shots, the other Hawks on the court were taking charge and building a 40-26 halftime lead.

Harris hit three of his four shots while Howard dropped in 17 of 29 first half shots (59 per cent). Meanwhile, the Hawks' combination of tenacious man and surging zone defense limited Ranger to 41 per cent accuracy and forced six turnovers.

Mitchell had Harris play a low post and he drew double coverage. Instead of trying to force the ball in to their leading scorer, the Hawks worked a passing game on the opposite side. The results? Jerry Stroman scored 11 and Michael 10 points.

Gibson had enough after a half, pulling his team out of the special coverage. That's when Harris went to work, hitting seven of 15 second half shots on his way to a game-high 26 points.

The Hawks had only minor trouble in the last 20 minutes, going three minutes without scoring. After taking a 50-33 lead at the 14:51 mark on Al Holland's jumper from the lane, HC went on a dry spell until Holland took a pass from Harris and slammed in another two-pointer with 11:16 to go. In between those two shots, Ranger had sliced the Hawks' lead to 50-41.

Howard survived the scoring lull and stretched its lead to 21 points minutes later as Harris scored to give HC a 67-46 lead with 5:57 left.

Adding to Howard's impressive win over Ranger — the pre-season pick to win the Northern Junior College Athletic Conference — was the absence of Stroman in the second half. The sophomore from Columbia, S.C., pulled a hip muscle during the first half and sat out the rest of the game.

The Hawks had their best rebounding game of the season. Holland had six and forwards James Johnson and Joe Johnson four each in the second half.

"When you play at higher intensity level," Mitchell said, "you get hyper and you rebound better. Today we had two or three of guys in there jumping. We didn't always get the rebound but we tried. Right now, we're an undersized team and we have to jump like crazy to get our share of rebounds."

Following Harris in scoring were Porter and Stroman with 11 each and Holland with 10.

Queens, OC finish Optimist co-champions

ODESSA — It wasn't a pretty sight Howard College coach Don Steves said but the Howard College Hawk Queens thumped Ranger 63-49 here Saturday night to grab a share of the Odessa Optimist Classic championship.

Host Odessa College drummed Barton Co. (Kan.) 85-64 in its final game to also finish tournament play unbeaten in three games. In other games Saturday, Kilgore bombed Frank Phillips 78-63 and Amarillo pounded injury-plagued Panola 76-48.

"It was a very sloppy game," Steves said. "There were lots of turnovers, lots of substitutions and lots of yelling. It was pitiful but we're 5-2. We played two good games out of three."

Neither team was able to convert free throws. Howard missed 16 of 29 attempts for a 45 per cent mark while Ranger could sink just nine of 25 tries, a frigid 36 per cent.

The Queens held the lead for the greater portion of the game, taking a 32-18 halftime advantage. Ranger started the second half with a 12-6 scoring spurt to cut the score to 38-30. The Hawk Queens then hit stride and put away their second win within the week against the RangeAnns.

The teams will meet again Monday in the first round of the Ranger Classic. That game is scheduled for 7 p.m. with the Queens playing Weatherford at 5 p.m. Tuesday. HC returns home to host the annual Hawk Queen Classic Thursday-Friday at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

While Steves wasn't impressed with his team's overall performance, he did pass out a few compliments. "Pat Carter didn't play well on offense but she did do a good job on defense. Alex Provicio did good job on rebounding."

Debbie Hall led all scorers with 15 points while Provicio and Carter scored 12 each for the Queens. Jesse Cloud scored 10 points and was the lone RangeAnn in double figures.

Howard (63) — Shelly Kay 3 0-6; Alex Provicio 6 0-12; Pat Carter 6 2-12; Debi Young 0 1-1; Molly Early 2 3-7; Janene Berry 2 4-8; Debbie Hall 6 3-15; Diane Dickson 1 0-2; Totals 24 13-63

Bowling for dollars

Bowl games, you ask?

We're talking college football. We're talking the season-long chore of trying to decide which teams are going where. And we're talking which match-ups would provide the most revenue for the host city.

Bowl games provide a most interesting side to amateur athletics. The NCAA has championship tournaments to decide basketball, baseball, tennis, lacrosse, swimming, track and field — the list goes on and on. But strangely, the national football championship is decided through a barrage of bowl games.

It's kind of like the Pepsi Challenge, you see. You try one soft drink, you try the other, you pick which you like the best. It's a matter of choice. The rules don't vary much in college football. You watch one, you watch another and if they both win, you pick the one you like the most.

But then they could all lose and then it's time to play "Spin the No. 1 Bottle."

Opponents for the six zillion bowl games are being scrutinized already. Some of the participants are already bowl-bound after Saturday's results. Others blew their chances. Still others remain in limbo. A glance at the situation finds a major problem. Will any bowl game decide the best team in the country?

Nebraska is surely headed for the Orange Bowl unless Oklahoma slips up and shocks the No. 1 ranked Cornhuskers. Miami squeaked by Florida St. last night and is regarded as Nebraska's probable foe.

Texas looks to be the host team in the Cotton Bowl even after almost losing to TCU. But who can the Longhorns play? SMU would be good but that can't happen. Georgia is a likely choice after losing to Auburn Saturday. But if that's the case and the Longhorns win, who can prove they're better than Nebraska should the 'Huskies also win?

Other possibilities? Ohio St., Michigan and Iowa are decent. But we Texans deserve first class competition in Dallas.

How about Clemson? Those guys have been coming on strong and destroyed Maryland Saturday? Hmmmm.

There's the Rose Bowl. Illinois is a powerhouse this year and clinched the Big 10 title yesterday. But it looks as if they'll play Washington in Pasadena. What good would a win over the No. 18 do the Illini? It could have been worse. Thrice-beaten and once tied UCLA could have made it had not the Bruins choked against Arizona Saturday. All right, two of UCLA's losses were to Georgia and Nebraska. Still...

Brigham Young is finally getting some respect but they're sentenced to the world-famous Holiday Bowl (played in San Diego for you who don't know).

Let's not forget the Peach, Gator, Fiesta, Hall of Fame, Liberty, Sun, Independence, Bluebonnet...yawn...Bowls. There is so many of them that a lot of crummy teams get a bid.

With the number of bowl berths open, teams that have faded like Maryland, North Carolina, Notre Dame or Boston College still stand a chance to get into post-season play.

When the bowls are over, the results will jockey the teams around in the final poll. Should Nebraska and Texas survive their regular season scheduled unbeaten, they would be the only true No. 1 considerations. Too bad we couldn't pit them against each other.

I guess we could blame it all on Pitt and Notre Dame. Those two schools are usually national powerhouses and because they are independents, they can bounce around from bowl to bowl.

If Nebraska wins and Texas wins, who is No. 1? The team with the best offense or the team with the best defense? The 'Horns would have beaten two top 10 teams, Auburn and SMU, during the course of its season. Nebraska would own wins over Oklahoma, resurgent Penn St. and UCLA.

During the summer, members of the Texas Sports Writers Association met in Dallas during coaching school week and questioned the merits of having the Associated Press and United Press International determine the national champions.

I think there must be a better way than through bowls and opinions. Bowl games are determined in part by which schools can draw in the most money. Opinions have led to different champs in the AP and UPI polls.

It's all pretty confusing. But one thing is for sure. As long as the picture's muddled, there's hope for the Baylor Bears.

4-A AAAA Roundup

Mojo blasts Hereford

LUBBOCK — Britt Hager scored three touchdowns and keyed a defense gave up just 159 total yards as Permian whipped Hereford 40-13 in a Class 5A bi-district game here Saturday night.

The Panthers will now play El Paso Eastwood at 2 p.m. next Saturday in Ratliff Stadium in Odessa. Eastwood topped El Paso Coronado 14-7 Friday night.

Hager scored on runs of one, two and one yard as Permian racked up 193 yards on the ground. Quarterback Rex Lamberti fired a 42-yard TD pass to Shane Easley and placekicker Kirk Strahan booted field goals of 28 and 38 yards as Permian took a 19-7 halftime lead.

Lee destroys Amarillo

LUBBOCK — Amarillo High held Midland Lee fullback Issac Garnett to 67 yards but the Rebels still managed 416 yards rushing and crushed the Sandies 30-3 in a Class 5-A bi-district game here Saturday afternoon.

The Rebels, now 9-2 on the season, meet El Paso Irvin at 8 p.m. Friday in Midland. Irvin won its bi-district game Friday night, edging El Paso Bel Air 22-20.

While Garnett was held to his season low rushing total, halfbacks Walter Jones and Tyrone Thurman combined for 244 yards and scored three touchdowns.

Jones opened the game's scoring with a 55-yard run in the first

Tennis-playing couple joins Figure 7

By GREG JAKLEWICZ
Sports Editor

Credit the City of Big Spring for getting two for the price of one.

When Richard Reher was hired to head up the Figure 7 Tennis Center, he brought along Vicky, his wife and former Big Spring High School tennis standout. Between the two of them, the facility should turn into a profitable racquet.

Reher comes to Big Spring from Kingwood, a northern suburb of Houston where he served as an assistant tennis pro. He graduated from Arlington High School in 1972 and played collegiate tennis at North Texas State. His employment has included five tennis club assistantships and a coaching-teaching position in the Port Lavaca school system.

Vicky — the former Vicky Murphy — played her high school tennis locally and attends Schreiner College in a scholarship.

The Rehers are beginning their fourth week at the tennis center. Their duties

TENNIS INSTRUCTOR AND PART-TIME PAINTER
...Richard Reher gets a critique from tennis-playing wife Vicky consist of maintaining the courts and grounds, operating the tennis pro shop and to promote tennis in Big Spring through lessons, tournaments and league play.

"We have several things in mind for Big Spring," Reher said, "but being this time of year, we won't have a lot of programs going on in the winter. We'll be starting up mostly in the spring."

"What we want to do is concentrate on what we can do for the people of Big Spring. We want to bring more people out to the courts. I guess our main job is tennis promotion," he added.

Figure 7 will continue to offer youth programs but since the Youngsters of Big Spring can get additional tennis in the school system, Reher wants to work with the adults.

Plans are in the works for an improved ladder, more tournaments and social events which might include expanded church league play.

The Rehers are offering private or group lessons. "We're both qualified to teach," the pro explains. "We're going to try to keep our prices as low as we can."

The Center is open Tuesdays through Saturdays 10 a.m.-9 p.m. and Sundays from 1-6 p.m. Court fees for an hour and half playing time are $1 for adults and 75 cents for juniors.

The facility is closed each Monday.

TCU gives No. 2 Texas a scare

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas' offense was its own worst enemy Saturday for a half, until Coach Fred Akers told the No. 2-ranked Longhorns to "suck it up, believe in each other and get it going" in a 20-14 victory over Texas Christian.

Meanwhile, the Texas defense — No. 1 in college football — shut out Southwest Conference foe TCU and extended to 20 quarters a string in which it has allowed only one touchdown.

TCU, which has won only one game and tied two this season, had only 20 yards total offense and one first down on a penalty at halftime, but led 14-3 on an 80-yard fumble return by linebacker Robert Lyles and a 66-yard interception return by safety Byron Linwood.

After freshman Jeff Ward's second 33-yard field goal, fullback Ronnie Robinson, playing one week after he separated his shoulder, ignited Texas' comeback with a 40-yard scoring run.

Texas also scored in the third quarter on an 8-yard run by Michael Brown, which finished the scoring.

The victory was Texas' 16th straight over TCU and extended its season record to 9-0.

Playing without two of its top four rushers, its top two offensive linemen and its No. 1 punt returner, Texas used a 20 mph wind to score 17 third-quarter points.

Texas raised its SWC record to 6-0 and needs only a win of its final two games against Baylor and Texas A&M to clinch a berth in the Cotton Bowl. TCU fell to 1-7-2 for the season and 1-5-1 in conference play.

College Capsules Auburn wins, BC stunned, Clemson rolls

No. 1 Nebraska 67, Kansas 13

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Mike Rozier gained 285 yards and scored four consecutive first-half touchdowns to claim one NCAA and one league record as top-ranked Nebraska powered past Kansas 67-13 in a Big Eight Conference football game Saturday.

The 11-0 Cornhuskers wasted no time in setting the pace as Rozier scored on runs of 49 and 11 yards in the first period. He tallied on runs of 3 and 17 yards in the second period.

No. 3 Auburn 13, No. 4 Georgia 7

ATHENS, Ga. (AP) — Third-ranked Auburn, using a ball-control offense keyed to the running of Bo Jackson and an unyielding defense, strangled No. 4 Georgia 13-7 Saturday to clinch at least a share of the Southeastern Conference championship and a Sugar Bowl bid.

"They are going," Sugar Bowl President Bill Martinez said in the waning moments of the game, although the formal announcement will not be made until next Saturday.

No. 5 Illinois 49, Indiana 21

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Illinois earned its first trip to the Rose Bowl in 20 years Saturday as Dwight Beverly scored three touchdowns and led the Illini to a 49-21 victory over Indiana.

Beverly scored on runs of 1, 5 and 13 yards as Illinois won its ninth straight game, the longest Illini winning streak since 1928.

No. 6 Miami 17, Florida St. 16

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Jeff Davis kicked a 19-yard field goal as time ran out to give sixth-ranked Miami a 17-16 victory Saturday night over intrastate rival Florida State and apparently send the Hurricanes to the Orange Bowl.

No. 8 BYU 24, Colorado St. 6

PROVO, Utah (AP) — Steve Young passed for two touchdowns to lead No. 8 Brigham Young to its eighth straight Western Athletic Conference championship and sixth consecutive trip to the Holiday Bowl with a 24-6 victory Saturday over stubborn Colorado State.

The win, BYU's ninth straight after an opening loss to Baylor, improved the Cougars' season record to 9-1 and WAC record to 6-0. Colorado State fell to 4-3 in the WAC and 5-6 overall.

No. 9 Michigan 58, Minnesota 10

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Michigan quarterback Steve Smith tossed a trio of touchdown passes and ran for three more as the ninth-ranked Wolverines buried Minnesota 58-10 Saturday night, saddling the Gophers with their 16th Big Ten defeat in a row.

Smith ran the ball four times for a career-high 143 yards, including touchdowns of 75, 20 and 50 yards. The senior quarterback also completed 10 of 18 passes for 180 yards and another three touchdowns.

No. 10 Ohio St. 55, Northwestern 7

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Tailback Keith Byars scored two touchdowns and led 10th-ranked Ohio State to a 55-7 Big Ten Conference football rout over Northwestern Saturday.

Byars, the league's leading rusher this season, played in only the first half and scored on touchdown runs of 1 and 2 yards. He rushed for a total of 52 yards, to increase his season total to 1,011.

No. 12 Iowa 12, Michigan St. 6

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Iowa quarterback Chuck Long completed 15 of 23 passes for 194 yards and a touchdown, setting a school record for career completions to lead the 12th-ranked Hawkeyes to a 12-6 Big Ten football victory over Michigan State.

The victory improved Iowa's record to 8-2 for the season, 6-2 in the conference. Michigan State slipped to 4-5-1 overall and 2-5-1 in the Big Ten.

Syracuse 21, No. 13 Boston College 10

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Syracuse quarterback Todd Norley threw two touchdown passes Saturday and his defensive teammates sacked Doug Flutie of Boston College three times and intercepted three Flutie passes as the Orangemen stunned the 13th-ranked Eagles, 21-10, in college football.

No. 14 Florida 24, Kentucky 7

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Wayne Peace became the 20th passer in NCAA history to go over the 7,000-yard career mark Saturday as 14th-ranked Florida snapped a two-game losing streak with a 24-7 Southeastern Conference victory over Kentucky.

No. 15 West Virginia 35, Rutgers 7

MORGANTOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Quarterback Jeff Hostetler threw for three touchdowns and ran for another Saturday as 15th-ranked West Virginia moved closer to its third straight bowl appearance with a 35-7 victory over Rutgers.

With scouts from the Hall of Fame, Liberty, Peach, Gator and Citrus Bowls watching, Hostetler completed 17 of 28 passes for 279 yards as the Mountaineers improved their record to 8-2.

No. 16 Alabama 28, Southern Mississippi 16

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Fullback Ricky Moore, with two touchdowns and his third straight 100-yard plus game, powered 16th ranked Alabama to a 28-16 football victory over Southern Mississippi Saturday.

It was the 600th victory in the Crimson Tide's 89 years of football. Only Michigan, Notre Dame and Texas have more among the major colleges.

No. 17 Clemson 52, No. 11 Maryland 27

CLEMSON, S.C. (AP) — Senior fullback Kevin Mack rushed for 186 yards and scored three touchdowns as 17th ranked Clemson crushed 11th ranked Maryland 52-27 Saturday before 81,000 fans at Frank Howard Field.

No. 18 Washington 24, USC 0

SEATTLE (AP) — Speedster Danny Greene raced back a punt 71 yards for a touchdown in the third quarter and scored on a 39-yard pass with no time left in the first half as 18th-ranked Washington blanked University of Southern California 24-0 Saturday to move into first place in the Pacific-10 Conference football race.

Virginia 17, No. 19 North Carolina 14

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va. (AP) — Virginia's Cavaliers, led by quarterback Wayne Schuchts, struck for two quick touchdowns in the third quarter, held North Carolina scoreless in the second half and upset the 19th-ranked Tar Heels 17-14 Saturday in an Atlantic Coast Conference football game.

No. 20 Pitt 38, Army 7

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joe McCall ran for 246 yards and two touchdowns and also caught a 26-yard scoring pass from John Congemi as Pittsburgh rolled past Army 38-7 Saturday for the Panthers' sixth straight victory.

Pitt, 8-2 heading into this Saturday's intrastate showdown with Penn State, scored quickly on its first two possessions and built a 38-0 lead before allowing Army to score in the final two minutes.

TIGER POUNCES ON THE FUMBLE — Auburn defensive end Quency Williams (93) falls on a fumble by Georgia quarterback John Lastiner (12) during Saturday's showdown in Athens, Ga. Auburn defenders Jeff Jackson (42), Doug Smith (99) and Gerald Robinson (95) are ready to help. The No. 3 ranked Tigers fought off the No. 4 Bulldogs, 13-7.

Aggies smash Hogs in second half

COLLEGE STATION, Texas (AP) — Texas A&M's Kevin Murray threw four touchdown passes — three of them in the third quarter — and ran 34 yards for another score in the fourth quarter to rally the Aggies to a 36-17 victory over Arkansas Saturday, dimming the Hogs' bowl hopes.

The loss dropped the Razorbacks to a 5-4 record and marked the first time in seven tries the Aggies had beaten Arkansas team coached by Lou Holtz.

The Aggies evened their record at 4-4-1.

The Aggies were trailing, 9-3, at the half, but Murray hit Shay Walker with a 14-yard touchdown pass early in the third quarter and 2:34 later threw 11 yards to Jimmy Teal for another score.

Teal's touchdown came after cornerback Billy Brown returned an interception five yards to the Arkansas 32.

Brown recovered a fumble by Donnie Centers at the Hog three prior to a three-yard TD pass to tight end Rich Siler and a 24-9 lead.

Arkansas rallied with an 80-yard drive leading to Carl Miller's 13-yard touchdown run and Miller also caught a two-point conversion pass from Taylor with 42 seconds left in the third period.

The Aggies stormed back, however, with Murray's 34-yard touchdown run with 7:58 left in the game and Murray hit halfback Rod Bernstine with a five-yard touchdown catch with 5:35 left to play.

Arkansas got the final score with 2:18 to play on Taylor's two-yard TD pass to Mark Mistler.

Baylor 48, Rice 14

WACO, Texas (AP) — Saturday evening in the locker rooms under Baylor Stadium, two Southwest Conference football coaches were looking in opposite directions.

Baylor's Grant Teaff, architect of a 48-14 thumping of the Rice Owls just moments earlier, was looking ahead to a possible post-season bowl bid. Ray Alborn was looking for a job.

The game ended Alborn's tenure as Rice head football coach after a six-year record of 13 wins, 53 losses.

"It was tough, but life goes on," Alborn said. "We have got to pick up, get the resumes ready, get out and find a job on Monday."

Teaff, whose Bears were watched by representatives from the Independence and Bluebonnet bowls, said he was glad to have the Owls behind him.

"Rice came out steaming," he said. "But we were mentally ready for this important game. I thought we played excellent defense and we moved the ball as we had planned."

Running back Alfred Anderson scored two touchdowns in a four-minute span, sparking a 28-point, second-period Baylor outburst that put the game out of reach.

Baylor's offense was sluggish early and could not cross midfield until Anderson ran 6 yards to the Rice 48 with 35 seconds left in the first quarter. Two minutes later, Anderson burst 25 yards for a touchdown and he scored from 12 yards out just two minutes after that.

No. 7 SMU 33, Texas Tech 7

IRVING, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Lance McIlhenny dashed for two touchdowns and tailback Reggie Dupard rushed for 151 yards Saturday to keep No. 7 ranked Southern Methodist's major bowl hopes alive with a 33-7 Southwest Conference victory over Texas Tech.

With scouts from the Sugar, Sun and Liberty Bowls in the Texas Stadium press box, the Mustangs advanced their overall record to 8-1 and 5-1 in SWC play.

Tech dropped to 3-5-1 and 3-2-1. McIlhenny scored on a three-yard run as the Mustangs built a 9-0 halftime lead.

But Tech cut the deficit to 9-7 on Tim Smith's one-yard run to cap a 94-yard drive on the Red Raider's first possession of the third quarter.

Dupard then gained 61 yards on an 80-yard drive and scored from a yard out, Jeff Harrell hit a short field goal, and McIlhenny tallied on a 7-yard run to put the game away.

Jeff Atkins, the second half of the Mustang tailback tandem, had 131 yards on 22 carries and scored from a yard out in the fourth period.

S'west Texas destroys ACU

ABILENE, Texas (AP) — Teddy Steele rushed for two touchdowns and five other Southwest Texas State players scored a touchdown apiece as the Bobcats rolled to a 54-13 Lone Star Conference football victory Saturday night over Abilene Christian.

Southwest Texas, tied with California-Davis for the top spot in the NCAA Division II national poll, raised its record to 8-1 for the season and 5-1 in the conference. Abilene Christian fell to 6-3 for the year and 3-3 in the LSC.

Ron Gaskin ran eight yards for Southwest Texas' first score, Ricky Sanders ran one yard for the next touchdown.

After a 28-yard field goal by Rod Clark made the score 17-0, Lembia Kinsler scored Abilene Christian's first touchdown on a one-yard run.

Southwest Texas in the second half got a 38-yard field goal by Clark, a 28-yard and a 10-yard scoring run by Steele, a nine-yard touchdown run from Billy Booker, and one-yard touchdown runs by Eric Cobble and David Longhofer.

Abilene Christian got its last touchdown on an eight-yard pass from Mark Allen to Arthur Culpepper.

North Texas 27, Northeast La. 7

MONROE, La. (AP) — North Texas State quarterback Greg Carter passed for three touchdowns and the Mean Green defense took advantage of six Northeast Louisiana turnovers to beat the Indians 27-7 Saturday in a regionally televised Southland Conference football game.

The victory gave North Texas a 4-1 record in the SLC and a giant step toward the league championship and the Division I-AA playoffs.

Tenth-ranked in I-AA, North Texas is 7-3 overall.

Angelo St. 21, Sam Houston 12

HUNTSVILLE, Texas (AP) — Quarterback Ned Cox threw a pair of third-quarter touchdown passes that brought Angelo State from behind and paced the Rams to a 21-12 victory over Sam Houston State Saturday in a Lone Star Conference game.

Pat Delaney's field goals of 47 and 30 yards gave Sam Houston a 6-0 halftime lead before Cox hooked up with Todd Boales on a 52-yard TD completion and Mike Northcutt on a 43-yard scoring toss.

Sam Houston State's Bearkats struck back early in the fourth quarter on Jon Meyers' 53-yard pass to Sam Moore, but a 2-point conversion attempt to tie the game failed.

Glen Saterfield's 36-yard interception return for a touchdown iced away the victory for Angelo State in the fourth quarter.

Penn St. gets by Irish; Arizona thwarts UCLA

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Quarterback Doug Strang swept eight yards for a touchdown with 25 seconds left in the game Saturday to give Penn State a 34-30 victory over Notre Dame and keep the Nittany Lions' postseason bowl hopes alive.

Notre Dame had gone ahead 30-27 with 7:31 left in the fourth period on a one-yard burst by tailback Allen Pinkett, who accounted for 217 yards and four touchdowns.

After fumbling away a scoring chance at the Notre Dame 12, Penn State got the ball back at midfield with 53 seconds on the clock. Fullback Jon Williams picked up five yards and Strang connected with Dean Dimidio for a 35-yard gain and a first down at the Irish 10.

Two plays netted two yards and Strang, who completed 16 of 24 passes for 274 yards and three touchdowns, then raced for the winning score on an option play.

The lead changed hands six times in the see-saw inter-sectional struggle.

Notre Dame went ahead for the last time on a 10-play, 77 yard drive in which Pinkett scored from the 1 for a 30-27 advantage.

Arizona 27, UCLA 24

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Arizona's 69-yard touchdown drive in the last 61 seconds stood up Saturday as UCLA's John Lee missed a 37-yard field goal with three seconds remaining as the Wildcats throttled UCLA's Rose Bowl drive, 27-24, in a crucial Pacific 10 Conference football game.

Quarterback Tom Tunnicliffe connected on an 8-yard scoring pass to flanker Jay Dobyns for Arizona's go-ahead touchdown, after UCLA had scored with 6:55 remaining to put the Bruins ahead for the first time since early in the game, 24-20.

With the loss, UCLA fell to 5-4 for the season and 5-1 in the conference. Arizona improved its conference record to 3-3-1 and claimed a 6-3-1 overall mark.

Arizona, which came into the game relegated to the role of spoiler, played it to the hilt. The Wildcats took a 3-0 lead, trailed briefly 7-3 and then went up 20-14 at the half, before the wild fourth-quarter finish.

Oklahoma 41, Colorado 28

NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Earl Johnson set a school record for freshmen with 258 yards rushing and a pair of cross-country touchdowns Saturday, and Oklahoma held off late-charging Colorado, 41-28, in a Big Eight Conference football game.

The Sooners built a 34-7 halftime lead and led 41-14 after three quarters, but surrendered two fourth-quarter touchdowns and barely avoided allowing a third that would have pulled the Buffaloes within striking distance.

Oklahoma improved to 7-3 overall and 5-1 in the conference. Colorado fell to 3-7 and 1-5.

Johnson scored on runs of 57 and 58 yards and finished with 258 yards on 28 carries, eclipsing the mark of 239 yards set by Marcus Dupree in last year's Fiesta Bowl.

Missouri 16, Oklahoma St. 10

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Missouri quarterback Marlon Adler hit flanker George Shorthose with two touchdown passes and Brad Burditt added a field goal as the Tigers slipped past Oklahoma State 16-10 in a cold, damp Big Eight game Saturday.

Playing in intermittent snow and with scouts from five post-season bowl games watching, Adler capped a drive late in the first half with a 41-yard scoring strike to Shorthose to give Missouri a 13-10 halftime lead.

Oklahoma State's Harry Roberts ran back the opening kickoff 90 yards for a touchdown and Larry Roach kicked a 25-yard field goal with 12:40 left in the first half to give the Cowboys a 10-0 lead.

After Roach's field goal, Missouri drove to the Cowboy 23 and Adler found Shorthose wide open for a touchdown pass. Burditt's conversion attempt was blocked.

Burditt closed out the scoring with a 23-yard field goal midway through the third quarter to cap a 43-yard Missouri drive.

The Cowboys threatened late in the game, driving from their own 16 to the Missouri 22. But split end Malcolm Lewis dropped a third-down pass and quarterback Ike Jackson threw incomplete on fourth down under pressure from Missouri linebacker Jay Wilson.

Vikes, Pack fight for survival

By The Associated Press
Neither team has resembled a National Football League powerhouse this season. But both the Minnesota Vikings and Green Bay Packers have shots at making the playoffs and they square off Sunday for first place in the NFC Central Division.

The Vikings, 6-4, have lost their last two games, including a 17-12 defeat at the hands of Tampa Bay last week that was the Buccaneers' first victory of the season. Green Bay beat Cleveland 35-21 last Sunday to even its record at 5-5.

Minnesota Coach Bud Grant didn't expect to see many new wrinkles from the Packers, nor was he looking to spring some surprises on the Packers.

"Of course, you try to work new things in," he said, "but when you've played Green Bay two times for each of the last 17 years, it's all in the files somewhere."

Still, Grant admitted that games against Green Bay have a way of developing into something wild and crazy.

"The one thing you can say about a Minnesota-Green Bay game is that nobody has an idea what's going to happen," he said. "Our games just haven't been predictable."

Three weeks ago, the Vikings defeated the Packers 20-17 in overtime on a 32-yard field goal by Benny Ricardo.

Roundup

The Vikings will go into the key battle without their top rusher and receiver, Ted Brown, out with a separated shoulder. Minnesota quarterback Steve Dils was hospitalized for treatment after being jolted late in the game against Tampa Bay but is expected to play Sunday.

"The players realize how big it is. I don't think we have to stress it much," said Packers Coach Bart Starr.

Detroit, which is also 5-5 in the NFC Central, visits winless Houston. The Oilers have lost 17 straight, including 10 this season, and would tie a team record with an 18th defeat Sunday. In other key divisional battles, Denver, 6-4, is at the Los Angeles Raiders, 7-3 and first in the AFC West; Miami, also 7-3 and atop the AFC East, visits 5-5 New England, while 6-4 Buffalo is at the New York Jets, and the Saints and 49ers, both 6-4 and tied with the Rams for first in the NFC West, go at it in San Francisco.

In other Sunday games, it's Cincinnati at Kansas City, Philadelphia at Chicago, Seattle at St. Louis, Pittsburgh at Baltimore, Tampa Bay at Cleveland, Dallas at San Diego and Washington at the New York Giants.

The Los Angeles Rams visit Atlanta Monday night.

Both the Raiders and Broncos are in similar positions at quarterback. The starters the last few weeks were Steve DeBerg for Denver and Marc Wilson for Los Angeles. Both hurt their shoulders last weekend and are sidelined as the men they took over for earlier in the season get to call signals again.

Rookie John Elway, the first player chosen in the NFL draft this year, replaced DeBerg. Veteran Jim Plunkett gets the nod for the Raiders.

Cowboys tackle 3-7 Chargers

SAN DIEGO (AP) — These are trying times for Charlie Joiner, elder statesman of the struggling San Diego Chargers.

A 15-year National Football League veteran, Joiner has been close enough to the Super Bowl the past four years to taste it.

Making it tougher to swallow is the frustration of the current 3-7 season.

"This is killing me," said Joiner, at 36, the fourth-oldest wide receiver to play in the NFL.

The Chargers, in a tailspin after a shaky start and an injury to quarterback Dan Fouts, will try to avoid a fifth consecutive loss Sunday in a meeting with the Dallas Cowboys, whose 9-1 record is the NFL's best.

Joiner, nearing the end of his career, is tops in career reception yardage (9,585) among active NFL receivers, fourth on the all-time list behind Don Maynard (11,834), Lance Alworth (10,266) and Harold Jackson (10,246).

"I'm in the twilight of my career," said Joiner, "and I really hate to go out like this."

The Chargers, pre-season favorites with Dallas to reach the Super Bowl, have scored only two touchdowns in three games with young Ed Luther at quarterback.

"We can make all the excuses we want," said Joiner. "No matter what happens to us, we should be professional enough to get the job done. We haven't made the necessary adjustments. This isn't high school anymore."

While San Diego's once-mighty offense has disintegrated, the Charger defense, the club's weak spot over the past four years, has shown signs of coming alive.

"I'm so proud of our defense," said Joiner. "I'm terribly upset with our offensive ineptness. We're used to blaming the defense for everything over the past four years. Not now."

The Chargers, 26-3 losers to Pittsburgh last week, are faced with trying to corral the No. 2 scoring offense in the NFL.

Jim Wagstaff, San Diego's defensive backfield coach, likes what he sees.

"We're playing better defense now than at any time since I've been here. Based on teams I've coached in the past, if our offense was healthy and doing things it normally does, I have no doubt we'd be winning easy. The whole situation has been depressing."

Dallas can set a club record for best-ever start with a victory. They were 9-1 in 1976 before losing to Atlanta 17-10.

Tony Dorsett needs a 100-yard-plus effort to reach two rushing milestones. With 115 yards he can surpass the 8,000-yard mark and 130 yards would give him his sixth 1,000-yard season in the last seven years.

Oilers aim for first win versus Lions

HOUSTON (AP) — Detroit's Billy Sims and Houston's Earl Campbell, a pair of elite runners who have found unhappiness in professional football, will be opponents for the first time Sunday since they were carefree collegians playing for Oklahoma and Texas.

Campbell, a former Texas Heisman Trophy winner, asked last week to be traded. He hasn't said why he wants to leave but he reportedly is unhappy with his contract, which pays him $400,000 annual with incentive clauses that could add another $100,000.

The Oiler running back will get little sympathy from Sims, who is playing out his option year with the Lions at a salary of $181,500. Bonuses are believed to give Sims about a $250,000 annual income.

While Sims' contract problems have been simmering for awhile, Campbell's demands are less than a week old, and interim Coach Chuck Studley hopes it has no adverse effect on Campbell's or the team's performance.

"I would hesitate to say at this point that it's going to be a problem because Earl won't let it become a problem," Studley said. "He's still a Houston Oiler and has strong feelings for the members of this team.

"I know his relationship with each guy on this team and he wouldn't want to do anything that would hinder our quest to win a football game."

Campbell issued his trade demand following last week's 55-14 loss to Cincinnati in which Campbell was removed from the game after gaining 42 yards on 16 carries with the Oilers trailing 41-0.

Studley chalked Campbell's demands up to frustration. Campbell denied late in the week that he would sign a contract with the San Antonio Gunslingers.

Rockets edge Mavs,

Spurs sting Nuggets

HOUSTON (AP) — Rookie center Ralph Sampson swished two free throws with 1 second remaining to lift the Houston Rockets to a 100-98 victory over the Dallas Mavericks in National Basketball Association action Saturday night.

The Rockets, 3-5, entered the fourth quarter with an 82-81 lead and led throughout the final period until Brad Davis' 12-footer with 32 seconds left tied the game 98-98.

Houston, which snapped a three-game losing streak, worked the ball to Sampson, who missed three close shots in heavy traffic before being fouled by Pat Cummings with a second to play.

Elvin Hayes' tip-in put the Rockets in front 82-81 with 4 seconds to go in the third quarter.

Hayes, who scored 10 points in the fourth quarter, tied John Havlicek for the all-time NBA lead in field goal attempts with 23,930.

Sampson paced the Rockets with 23 points and 12 rebounds. Reid had 22 points and 11 rebounds.

Howard Co. boxers win

another title

COLORADO CITY — The Howard County Boxing Club collected another team championship at an invitational tournament held here recently.

Six Howard Co. boxers earned individual titles while a seventh took a runner-up award. The winners were: Martin Baldwin over Anthony Almagar of Seminole; Juan Baldwin over Michael Hernandez of Olton; Marcus Garza over Lionel Jones of Sweetwater; Jaime Baldwin over Julio Silva of Abilene; Ricky Cadenhead over Johnny Aroyo of Sweetwater; and Gene Dukes over Mike Deanda of San Angelo.

Danny Dukes won his first round bout over Joe Flores of Colorado City but lost in the finals to Richard Gutierrez of San Angelo.

A dozen boxing clubs were represented in the tournament including Big Spring. The Howard Co. team took the team championship while Abilene finished second and Seminole third.

Other boxers to compete for the local team were Bruce Garcia and Pete Chavarría.

Howard Co. is attempting to join the nationwide Police Athletic League in conjunction with the Big Spring Police Department.

The club boxes again Nov. 25-26 in Seminole.

The guru's a real joker, but the Jews aren't laughing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Jokes are central to the philosophy of Indian guru Bhagwan Shree Rajneesh. They are included in each issue of his followers' weekly newspaper, and his disciples use jokes to open and close meetings in Rajneeshpuram, their commune-town.

But jokes by Rajneesh and his followers aimed at Jews, coupled with what critics brand as Rajneesh's "blatant anti-Semitic teaching," have led some Jewish leaders to accuse the guru and his followers of being anti-Jewish.

Rajneeshes deny the jokes are anything but fun-loving. They say the jokes are meant to bring people together.

The Jewish Federation Council of Greater Los Angeles and the Board of Rabbis there have asked the Immigration and Naturalization Service office in Portland to deny permanent residency to the Bhagwan. The groups assert he is "anti-Semitic and a destructive force in American society."

The INS said allegations that Rajneesh is anti-Semitic are not germane to the decision on his immigration status. Rajneesh entered the country on a visitor's visa; the INS denied him permanent residency and ordered him deported when it determined he was not a religious teacher, as claimed, and because of what the agency said was false material in his visa application. But the agency is reviewing the case again and is expected to make a final decision within two weeks.

One of the jokes that upset some Jews was in an interview broadcast on KNBC-TV in Los Angeles with Ma Anand Sheela, president of the Rajneesh Foundation and the guru's spokeswoman. She made a joke based on the Nazi extermination of Jews in World War II.

Swami Krishna Deva, the mayor of Rajneeshpuram, wrote to the editor of Oregon Magazine in response to an article about the group and its relations with Jews and included a postscript — a joke about Jews' physical appearance.

In addition, Mark Greenfield, a lawyer for "1000 Friends of Oregon," a land-use group contesting the incorporation of Rajneeshpuram, accused the Bhagwan's followers of heckling him with anti-Semitic comments during a visit.

Greenfield, a Jew, said one Rajneesh with what he described as a German accent told him, "We burned Jews in Germany."

Ma Anand Sheela said Greenfield's account of his visit was not accurate.

Rajneesh officials deny the charges of anti-Semitism, noting that 40 to 50 percent of the guru's following is Jewish.

"No, he's not anti-Semitic," said Ma Anand Sheela. "He's a man who is trying to bring the world together — all kinds of people — in a way the world has never seen before."

"Any jokes the Bhagwan has said are not original jokes. He just uses whatever is published before," she said in an interview.

She said the jokes are intended to promote humor. "I guess the Federation is basically paranoid and they feel that they are losing their membership," she added.

Ma Prem Isabel, another Rajneesh spokeswoman, said the jokes often helped people overcome bad memories and feelings of persecution.

"I never accept the idea that any joke that is a slur is simply good humor," Robbins said. "Jews have been the butt of that kind of humor for too many centuries with horrendous consequences."

Train wreck victims

DERAILMENT DEATH — Rescue workers close bag containing the body of a passenger killed nine miles north of Marshall when a nine-car Amtrak car derailed, killing at least six and injuring at least 33.

EVACUATION CENTER — A law officer points to an area in the Marshall National Guard Armory where victims of the Amtrak train derailment were being housed and fed. In the foreground, passenger bags are lined up to be claimed.

Amtrak federal carrier

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amtrak, the nation's rail passenger service, was born May 1, 1971, formed by the federal government to take over from financially troubled private railroads.

Today, the Amtrak system totals more than 23,000 route-miles, serves about 500 points around the nation and operates an average of more than 200 trains a day, over half of them running in the Washington-New York-Boston corridor.

The rail service was threatened early in 1981 by President Reagan's proposed budget cuts, with Amtrak officials saying a reduced subsidy would force the service to become only a Northeastern line.

But congressional supporters managed to keep most of the Amtrak subsidy intact, and railroad officials eliminated several highly unprofitable trains to keep within the new budget.

When Congress established Amtrak as a quasi-public corporation, officials predicted it would turn a profit in two years. Inflation, politics and mistakes derailed that goal. By the time of its fifth birthday, Amtrak was losing half a billion dollars a year.

By its 10th anniversary, Amtrak's fortunes had improved markedly. Almost the entire system had new locomotives and cars. On-time performance of the trains had eclipsed that of some airlines. The number of passengers was growing steadily.

But some critics still maintain that the hundreds of millions of dollars in federal subsidies Amtrak receives yearly aren't a good investment. These critics say that not enough inter-city travelers use the trains to warrant the large federal subsidies.

Greyhound service to hit road this week

PHOENIX (AP) — Greyhound, the nation's largest inter-citybus company that has been crippled by a 10-day-old nationwide strike, will resume operations this week, union and company spokesman said Saturday.
Greyhound has told the 12,700 members of the Amalgamated Council of Local Greyhound Unions that they should notify the company by noon Monday whether they planned to return to work.

Greyhound's "next move in this game of psychological warfare will be to begin some service next week."

This winter, get your diesel off to a good start.

Gulf Gulf Auto Diesel fuel is specially formulated to meet the cold weather starting needs of diesel engines. A cold flow improver makes the fuel flow to your engine as easily in January as it does in June. And, because Gulf adds the cold flow improver before you pump fuel into your car, you don't need to add anything later on. So, if you want to beat the cold weather starting grind, look for our red and yellow 'D'. And get off to a good start this winter with Gulf Auto Diesel.
