St. Ann's annual turkey dinner

St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina is having their annual turkey dinner Sunday, November 4, 2012. Serving time is 11:30 a.m. to 2:00 p.m. in the St. Ann's Parish Hall, 401 3rd St.

The menu is turkey and dressing, creamed potatoes and gravy, green beans, homemade bread, cranberry sauce, relish plate, desserts, tea and coffee. Donations will be $10 for adults and $5 for children under six years. Take out plates will be available at no additional charge.

A quilt throw made by St. Ann's Society will be raffled off at the dinner. Everyone is invited.

Red Ribbon Week artists featured

October 21-28 is National Red Ribbon Week to serve as a reminder to live Drug Free. As in the past, we asked FISSD art teacher Sherry Zehner and her junior high and high school art students to furnish artwork about the Drug Free Week. The results are inside and included in the various sponsored ads by our local businesses.

We thank Ms. Zehner, the art students, and our business sponsors for their participation in this important program to keep our schools and community Drug Free. Here is the text of a note from Ms. Zehner she included along with the drawings:

"The kids worked in groups this year. I didn't know if I had enough artwork for all your ads with just high school kids so I'm sending a few from junior high also. You can choose to print or not print any of them according to what you need. In junior high we made wall posters and some didn't have time to redo their rough draft so they are a bit messy. Sorry about so many pregnant lady ads. I showed some pretty graphic pics this year of birth defects and it made a big impression with many of the girls. Thanks for giving us this opportunity to make the news."

A Christmas night in the park

Friona's 1st Annual "Light Up The Night!" Holiday Extravaganza and Christmas in the Park is being planned. Local organizer Dana Campbell and volunteers are organizing the event to coincide with Santa's annual visit to the city park.

This year the Christmas in the Park celebration will be Monday, December 3, 2012. Mark your calendar.

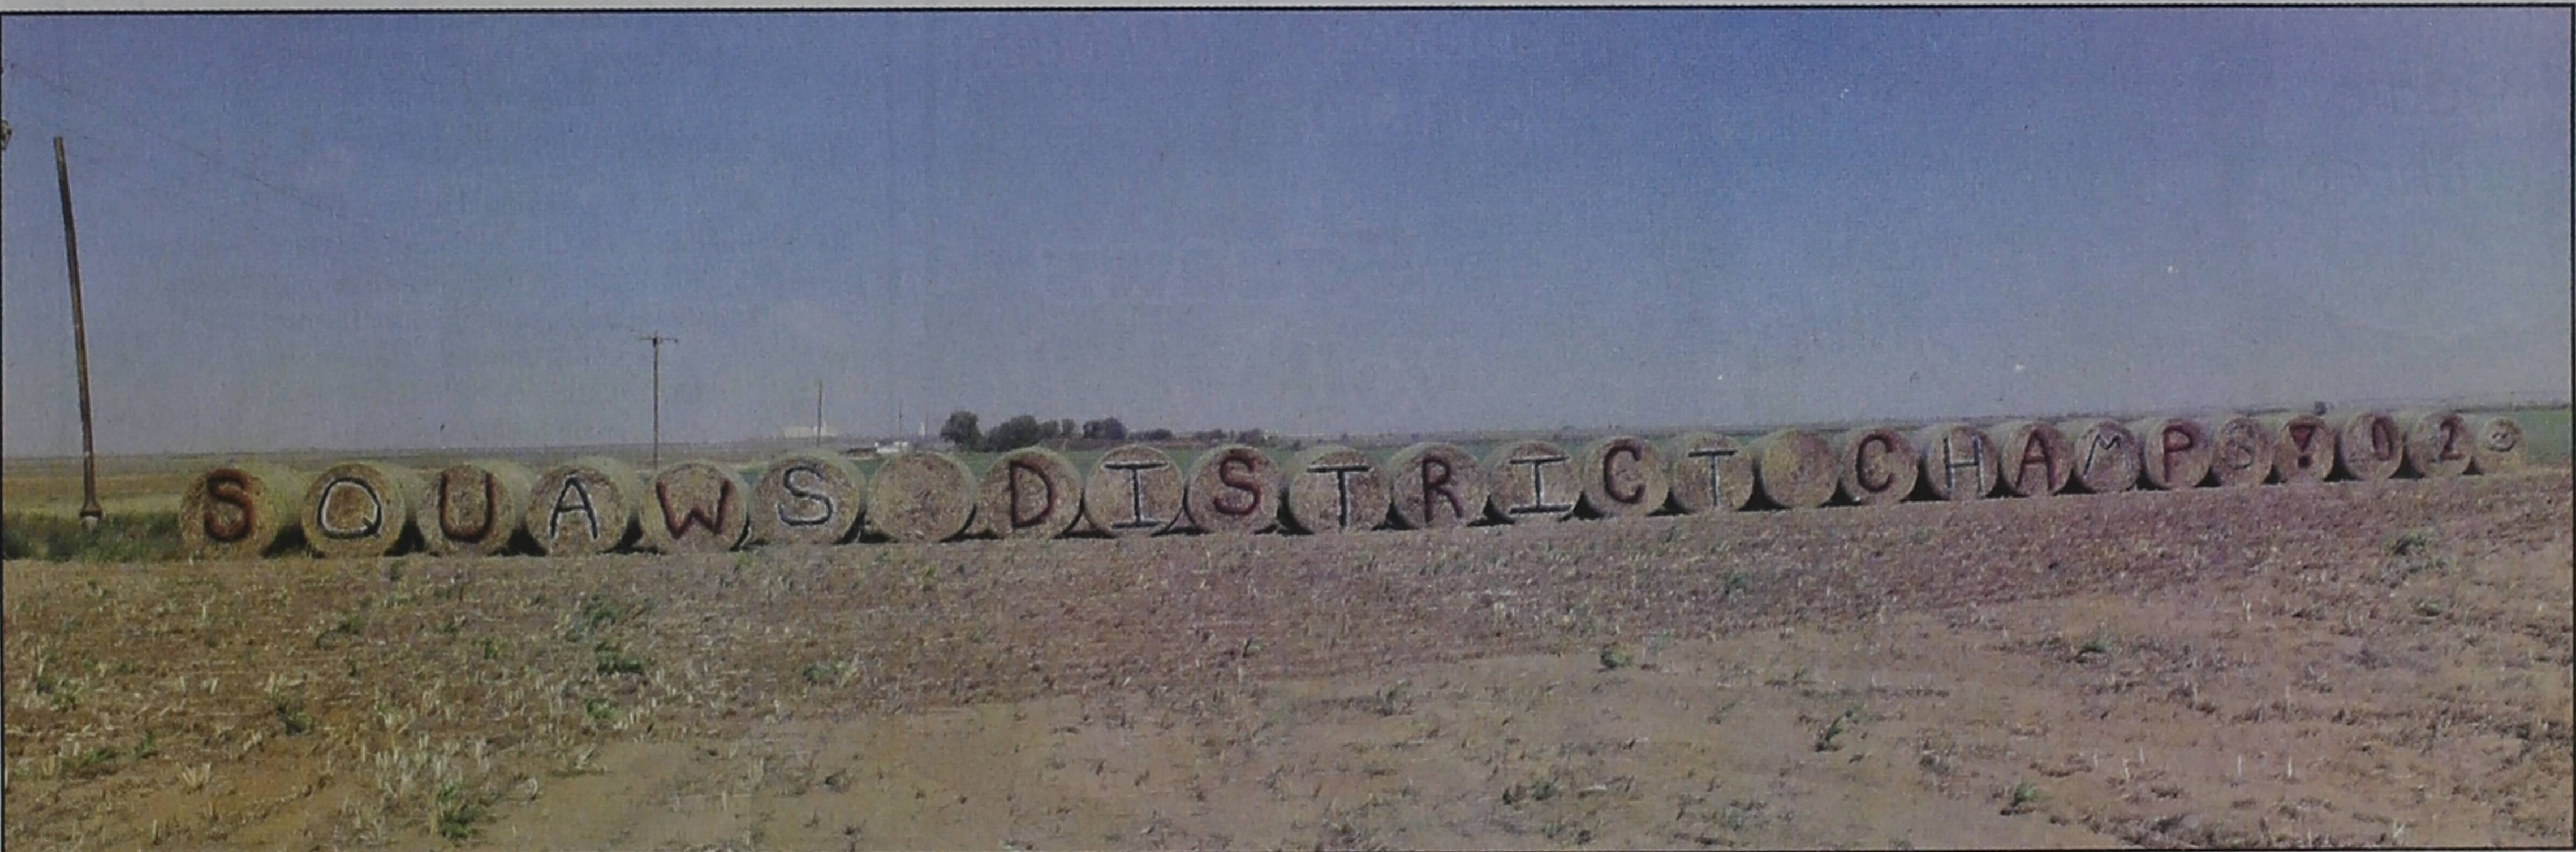

Mrs. Campbell says, "Make plans now to come together as a community to make our city park a place to remember for years to come for your children, as well as for yourselves and our fellow citizens."

Organizations, businesses, churches, and citizens of Friona are invited to decorate a small area of the city park for Christmas. Your group will be assigned an area with a tree and electricity. You can decorate this area in any way you want, using your own lights and decorations or using donated decorations that can be found at city hall. (If you have any decorations, lights, etc. to donate, take them by city hall.)

A first place prize will be awarded to the best-decorated area. Call Dana Campbell today at 265-5213 to reserve an area at the park. Decorating will take place any time from November 26 to November 30. The booths in the park are free. Suggestions are to sell hot chocolate, baked goods, chili, beef jerky, gifts, etc. This is a good fundraising opportunity for organizations, churches, businesses and citizens.

"This year's Christmas in the Park is going to be an evening filled with festive fun for the entire family," Mrs. Campbell said. There will be Santa Claus, Christmas caroling by local choirs, and a Girl Scout Coat Drive. (Donate children or adult coats at WT Services.) To participate and be a part of Christmas in the Park on December 3, call Dana Campbell at 265-5213.

Turf experts advise cycle-soak watering of lawns

By Kay Ledbetter

A typical landscaped yard consists of lawn area and ornamental plants. If watered properly, homeowners can see the beauty, pocket some green and save some water, according to a Texas A&M University turfgrass professor.

Supplemental watering of urban lawns and landscaped areas is required to keep the plants healthy through the typical long, hot and dry summers and falls in Texas, according to Dr. Richard White, Texas AgriLife Research turfgrass management scientist in College Station.

White discussed different studies during the annual turf and landscape field day held recently at Texas A&M for turfgrass professionals and homeowners. Results homeowners can take to their lawns the fastest are the ones coming from the new surface water runoff facility built specifically to look at issues associated with water conservation, irrigation scheduling and water quality preservation, he said.

The facility includes 24 individual turf plots, each with separate irrigation systems, flow meters to measure the quantity of water applied and actually running off the plots, and automated samplers that collect runoff water for laboratory study, he said.

"Our runoff water testing can measure concentrations of nitrogen or phosphorus and other things that have the potential to impair surface waters," White said. "We have the capacity to measure things such as fecal coliforms that might come off a residential lot that has numerous pets."

"This provides us a better idea on how to translate that information to homeowners or turf professionals about how they can do a better job with water application and water management."

What the researchers have found early on is that the method used to apply water makes a great difference in conserving water and keeping the plants alive and thriving, White said.

"We are looking at a cycle-soak type of irrigation that will really benefit consumers," he said. "If they would apply water using this method to their home landscapes, they would use water more efficiently, they would capture more water in the soil and they would produce better turf and landscape plants - healthier plants on the lawns and landscapes."

White said cycle-soak is all about not just setting a sprinkler system to come on all at one time for 20 to 30 minutes, as is typically done by the majority of those trying to maintain a lawn.

"What we've found is you are going to lose probably 30 to 40 percent of the water you actually apply," White said. "It will end up going across the curb, down the gutter and into the storm drain. The cycle-soak method creates an environment where we get better infiltration of that water into the soil."

He explained that while Texas has a variety of soils ranging from sandy to clay textures, most urban areas are primarily on clay textured soils. Those soils are very fertile but have very small pore spaces and are slow to accept water. Infiltration rates are well below one-tenth an inch per hour across most of the state.

The cycle-soak technique allows smaller amounts of water to be applied with a rest period between them, giving the water time to enter the soil and be redistributed within the soil profile, White said.

"So what you might do is get very familiar with your irrigation controller and set it to come on and operate for 5 or 6 minutes and then turn off and let the water soak into the soil for about an hour. Then let the program come back on for 5 or 6 minutes again, turn off and soak in again," he said. "You might need for it to come on for another application to get the total water volume you need to apply for the day to support plant health and needs."

The advantage of watering in this manner, White said, is that while there might be a few drops of runoff, it won't be anywhere near the 30 percent to 40 percent runoff that happens with a 20-minute cycle on a typical home consumer irrigation system.

"What we are trying to demonstrate to people is they can use water more efficiently," White said. "It affects your bottom line. It will not only reduce your water consumption for lawn and landscape irrigation, but it will also help preserve potable water for future use in Texas."

Need a ride to vote?

Dana Campbell and Becky Dickson will be offering a "Ride to the Polls." Any elderly folks or anyone who is unable to drive is encouraged to give these gals a call and they will be happy to take you to vote on Tuesday, November 6. Contact Dana Campbell at 265-5213 or Becky Dickson at 806-223-6348.

Girl Scout Coat Drive

The Friona Girl Scouts are having a coat drive. They are accepting coat donations for both children and adult coats. You can drop off your coats at WT Services anytime during business hours. The coats will be passed out to those in need at the Christmas in the Park celebration Monday, December 3, 2012.

on being presidential

No more debates. Please. For me, nobody ever wins a debate, one of the debaters just does a little better than the other. In the third and final presidential debate, our president was not too presidential.

Romney was criticizing our military power. He said our Navy had fewer ships now than in World War I. Our presidential president gave Mr. Romney a first grade scolding. "We also have fewer horses and bayonets," the commander-in-chief observed. He went on. "We also have these ships that airplanes land on called aircraft carriers and ships that go underwater called nuclear submarines."

Sorry but to me that kind of condescending statement makes Mr. Obama look pretty foolish. I stopped short of using the word stupid because that would not be very presidential.

It did not take long for the Marines to rise up and remind their "leader" that the Marine Corps still uses bayonets and the Army has a bunch of horses they use in rough terrain like Afghanistan.

Then there is this: President

Barack Hussein Obama and his aides and minions LIED about the terror attack in Benghazi, Libya, that killed four Americans including a US Ambassador. They LIED to us for several days and still will not own up to their mishandling of the situation.

I believe Obama tried to minimize the attack because it would not look good for his campaign. I believe they did what they did for political reasons. The POTUS does not want us to know that al Qaeda is very much alive and growing and still killing people despite his assertion that Bin Laden is dead and al Qaeda is on the run. He wants us to believe that the terrorists are about finished, at least until after November 6. Obama's plan to "get the country back on track" is to tax the rich. That's it as far as I know. "We've still got a lot more to do," he preaches. Not sure he has explained what "a lot more" means.

Here is a math problem. Tell me if I am wrong. Every Friday the Labor Department publishes the number of Americans applying for unemployment for the first time. That number is usually 370,000 to 380,000.

If a person is applying for unemployment for the first time I think it means they have lost their job and are unemployed. At 370,000 per week for four weeks, that is 1,480,000 people per month newly unemployed. Am I right so far?

Then, on the last Friday of each month the Labor Department gives the number of new jobs created during the month. At the end of September that number was 96,000 jobs created. The White House was delirious with joy. Good but not good enough they would say. We still have more to do.

Now, 1,480,000 people applied for unemployment and 96,000 people went to work. Doesn't that leave 1,384,000 more unemployed than employed? Perhaps my Wal Mart Big Display calculator can't compute that many decimals.

By the way, I heard a small rumor that President Obama had purchased a $40 million mansion in Hawaii. I Googled "Obama's $40 million home in Hawaii" and the results were rather surprising. You might want to check it out. It has some mighty pretty photos of a mansion alleged to be Obama's although I am cautious about random stuff posted on the Internet. Being a hypocrite is not very presidential.

Then there is the October Surprise everyone seems to be expecting. That means some major government action will occur between now and election day in an attempt to gain votes. Some speculate he may attack Libya in a big way. Not many days left in October though. He better get busy. After all he has to act presidential sooner or later.

Although I am not a woman and do not live in Ohio or Florida, I guess I will vote Monday anyway. Seems unnecessary since they say a candidate cannot win without the woman vote and winning Ohio and Florida.

Friona State Bank, Monday October 29. Early voting. Be there. Try to look respectable.

Howdy! Lot of stuff going on you need to know about. Election day is just under two weeks away. You can early vote next week in Friona on Monday and Thursday at Friona State Bank. Election day is Tuesday November 6. Yes it will finally be over one way or another. I am real tired of all the campaigning. I hope you will vote. Please. Thank you.

The ladies of the Friona United Methodist Church will host an Election Day Cowboy Stew meal. It will be from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. November 6 in the fellowship hall. The cost is $5 per person and proceeds will benefit the local SnackPak-4Kids program. So go vote and then have a bowl of stew. Nice idea. I bet it will be good.

CORRECTION: Here is the correct Amarillo address for Tom & Bettye Jarboe: #6 Painted Daisy, Amarillo, TX 79106. Phone is 806-467-7237. The address we had in last week's Town Talk was incorrect. We listed the street as Painted Lady instead of Painted Daisy. The Jarboes were packing up to move Monday and invite friends to keep in touch. Sorry about the error.

The Friona high school choir will have a spaghetti supper in the high school cafeteria Friday night, October 26, before the Chiefs vs. Bushland football game. Serving is from 5:30 - 7 p.m. Tickets in advance are $6 adult, $4 kids 10 and under. At the door tickets are $7/$5. Get a ticket from any choir member. Hope they use some garlic. It will be good so come support the choir and the Chiefs.

Wednesday, October 31 is Halloween. Trunk or Treat at the Calvary Baptist Church from 5:30 - 6:30 p.m. Elizabeth Romero says all trick-or-treaters are welcome at Prairie Acres beginning at 6:00 p.m. Also, Victory Family Worship Center will have a free kids coat giveaway on their parking lot at 9th & Washington beginning at 6 p.m. Free coffee and hot chocolate. See details in the ad in this Friona Star.

Next Thursday November 1 at 7 p.m. gospel singer Curtis Shelburne will give a concert at Friona Heritage Estates. The public is invited and refreshments will be served. Call Heritage manager Sue Rasser at 250-5599 for information.

My long time friend and acquaintance Denise Anderson has been promoted to serve as Bovina ISD superintendent. When I started visiting Bovina for news in 1995 Denise, a Bovina graduate, was the computer lab teacher and yearbook sponsor. Through diligent effort she has progressed to middle school principal, high school principal, and now superintendent. She takes over the superintendent post in January when current superintendent Dale Fullerton retires. Hats off and kudos to you Denise.

Chain link fence and a big construction trailer have been moved into place on the high school parking lot. About one-third of the parking lot, on the north end, is blocked off and will remain so for about a year while the new activity center is built and high school renovations are completed. Parking will be tight for the final two home football games this Friday and Friday November 9.

We made the long journey to Childress last Friday for the Chiefs vs. Bobcats game. Was surprised when before the game a Childress student got on the public address system and recited the Lord's Prayer. First prayer I have heard at a high school sporting event in many years. Quite a nice surprise.

The Haile boys, dad Allan and sons Nathan, Mark, Chris, and John David, made the trek to College Station for the Aggie-LSU football game Saturday. John plays for the Chieftains so Allan, John, and Mark left after the game at Childress for the drive to College Station. Chris lives there and Nathan drove up from San Antonio. Long weekend but well worth it Allan said.

Some local ladies are organizing a big Christmas in the Park event to kickoff the Christmas season in Friona. There is a story with details on the front page. Dana Campbell and others are encouraging Friona organizations, churches, and businesses to make this a big community celebration. I hope many will step up and participate.

Girl Scouts are having a coat drive, accepting coat donations for both children and adults. Take your coats by the WT Services office during business hours. The coats will be handed out December 3 at the Christmas in the Park celebration.

If anyone needs a ride to vote November 6 call Dana Campbell at 265-5213 or Becky Dickson at 806-223-6348. They will be happy to drive you to the polls then take you home again. Nice effort. Thanks ladies.

Anyone else notice the price of groceries these days? Everything costs more at the grocery store. I paid $6.44 for a 40 oz jar of peanut butter this week. Yes I know that is a lot of peanut butter but it is a big part of my snack diet. I buy Jif extra crunchy.

Monday, October 29 you can early vote here in Friona at the Friona State Bank. I will be voting then. Have waited a long time to cast this vote. Just hope we have a change. Go vote. Every vote counts and you will feel better about yourself.

The always popular St. Ann's Catholic Church in Bovina turkey and dressing dinner is Sunday November 4 from 11:30 - 2:00 in the parish hall. Donations are $10/$5. That date is also the end of Daylight Savings Time so we turn clocks back an hour. That extra hour of sleep should help your appetite.

Had a rousing big time Tuesday night as the Squaws wrapped up an 8-0 undefeated district record by beating the Tulia Lady Hornets in four games. Pretty exciting and there was a full house on the home side. Volleyball started in Friona in the 2005 season. This is the first district championship for the Squaws. Lots of photos in this week's Star. Very proud of the Squaws and Coach Bryan Masse.

The local Sonic will be selling corn dogs for 50-cents all day on Halloween, Wednesday October 31. A scary good deal they say. Grab a sack full and watch out for trick-or-treaters while you are driving.

The Friona elementary 5th grade social studies classes are conducting a mock presidential election to allow students to participate in the election process. Voter registration for all staff and students will be conducted Friday, October 26 and the election will be held Tuesday October 30. Great idea.

Then on Wednesday, October 31 Dr. Gary Hogg will be a special guest at Friona elementary. He will be presenting a writing workshop for all students in grades 1-5. Another great idea.

The Squaws volleyball team and managers gathered around and sang the National Anthem prior to the Squaws vs. Tulia game. They sang a very nice rendition and received a big applause. Several, if not all, of the girls are also in the high school choir. It was senior night and the final home volleyball game for seniors Bianca Romero, Marissa Lozoya, Maddie Murphy, Dakotah Hicks, Kalley Preston, and Brianna Miller.

There will be a pep rally for the volleyball team Thursday November 1 on the football field after the JV game with Littlefield. The area playoff game is tentatively set for Saturday November 3 at a location to be announced.

The Chamber of Commerce newsletter says the Arts & Crafts Show will be at the community center Friday-Saturday November 9-10. Hours are Friday 10-6 and Sat 9-4. Ingram's will sponsor a style show Saturday at 10:30 a.m.

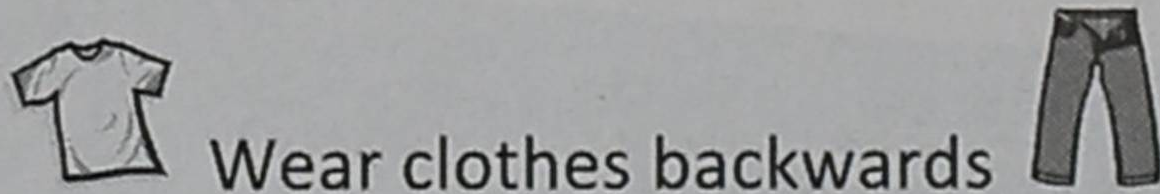

Rehearsals are underway for this year's high school musical. We will give you details of the performance next week. It will soon be time for Project Christmas Card and the Empty Stocking Fund. In the meantime, enjoy the season and don't forget to vote. Until then!

Squaws sweep district, head to playoffs

From Coach Bryan Masse

The JV and varsity volleyball teams worked hard to complete a sweep of Dimmitt there Saturday. The JV had to overcome a change in their lineup but adjusted fine to win 2-0.

The varsity swept Dimmitt 3-0 to win the outright district championship.

All three teams were victorious Tuesday night in Friona. The C team started off the night with a 2-0 sweep of the Tulia Lady Hornets. With this victory the C team became district champs. I think the C team became better as the year went along and everyone improved on their skill level. Congrats Coach Moreno.

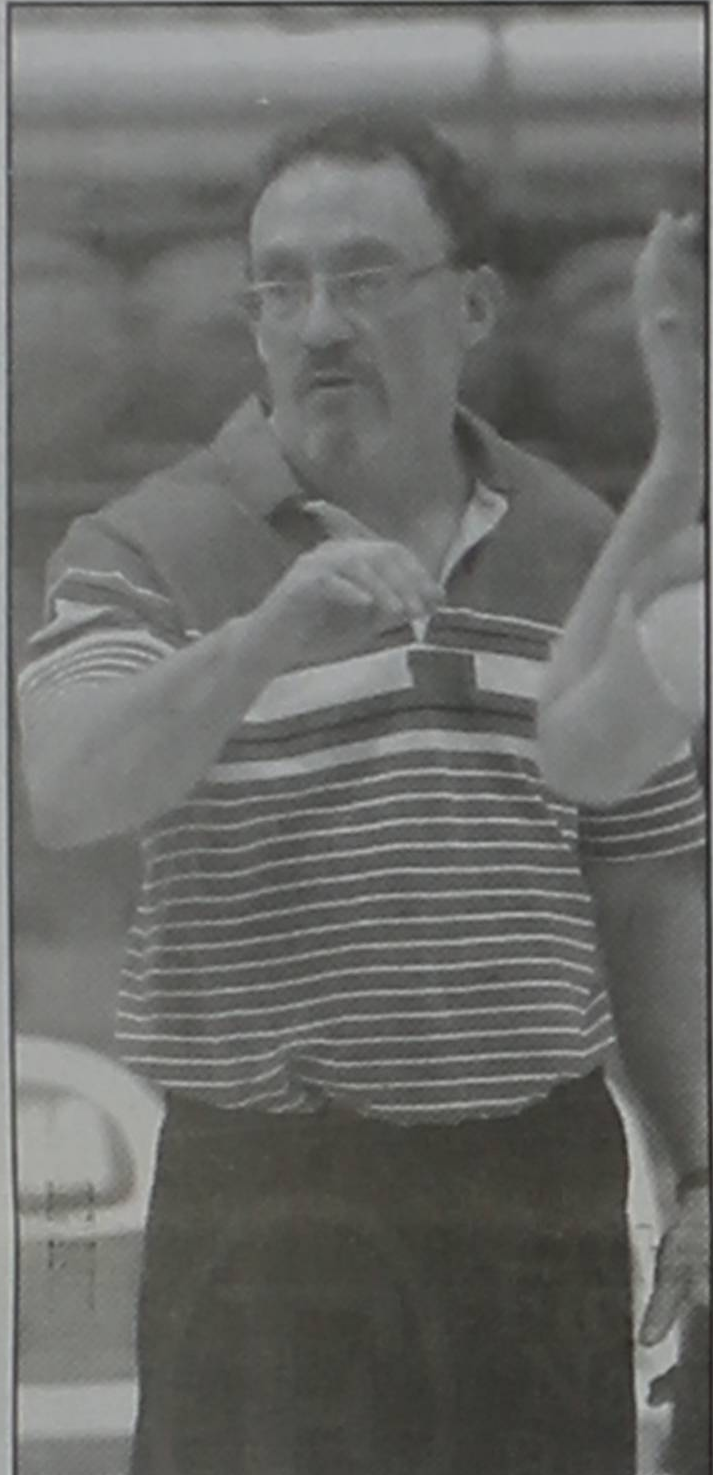

The JV team also won over Tulia 2-0. The JV continued their dominance over district opponents and were also district champs. The JV team did not lose a district game. Well done. JV Coach Ray continues to do a great job developing players for the varsity level. Great job Coach Ray.

On senior night the varsity team came out with a lot of fire. The girls put together the best two games of the season for 25-10, 25-16 wins in the first two games. In game three the Squaws lost momentum and had to fight back from behind. Tulia began to serve better and pick up everything on defense.

The Squaws fought back and had chances to win in three but fell short 27-29. In game four the Squaws had to fight from behind again but they were determined to go undefeated in district and rose up to pull out the win 25-23. The Squaws finish the regular season with a 24-11, 8-0 record.

We play a warm-up game against Dalhart at 6:30 p.m. Monday October 29 at River Road. The area playoff game will be at noon Saturday November 3 with the site still to be determined.

Boot on a Post

JEFF PROCTER, Minister, 6th St. Church of Christ

This may be a tradition that spans a hundred years. To tell you the truth I do not know. Once while traveling in Nebraska, I noticed something that seemed a bit odd to me. There would be old worn out boots stuck upside down on cedar fence posts. Not just one or two, but everywhere seemed to be rows of them. Not just one rancher either, but many. I tried to come up with several logical explanations, but to no avail. My curiosity of why, lead me to one day ask the question Why does everybody take their old boots and put them upside down on fence posts? So I asked a resident rancher, who had come in to the store where I worked. His answer was simple, but it left me with the same question as before. He said, "I don't know, but we have always done it." With that being the answer, I just left it at that.

Make no mistake I am not poking fun at anyone. The concern I see is that our society no longer questions things. Folks have stopped wondering what is right and just go with the flow. Unfortunately, this applies in religion as well. Do you know why you believe what you do? It must be a personal commitment. In 1 Peter 3:15, we are told to be prepared to give a defense. Not only are we to be prepared, but in Philippians 2:12 we are to work out our own salvation with fear and trembling. As Christians we must know what we believe and live that way. When asked our answer cannot be, "I don't know, but we have always done it." As the children's song goes, "Read your bible and pray every day and grow, grow-grow-grow-grow."

Concert at Heritage Estates

Sue Rasser, manager at Friona Heritage Estates, has announced that gospel singer Curtis Shelburne will give a concert Thursday November 1 at 7 p.m. at Heritage Estates. Everyone is invited. Refreshments will be served. November 9 at 11 a.m. Friona high school band members will be at Heritage and play TAPS for dedication of their flag pole. November 16 at 6 p.m. Heritage will serve their Family Thanksgiving dinner for residents and families. For more information about these activities call Sue Rasser at 250-5599.

Wisdom Wanted

BRETT HOYLE, Pastor, First Baptist Church

James 1:5, "If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives generously to all without reproach, and it will be given him." God is the God of all wisdom, infinite knowledge the originator of understanding, and He invites His children to seek His wisdom in His Word, by His Spirit, through godly counsel and in prayer. Soon after King Solomon began his reign he did just that as he asked God for wisdom to lead the nation of Israel. 1 Kings 3:3-15 gives the account of Solomon's inability and God's ability to supply wisdom for the direction God had called him to. Solomon's quest for wisdom began where we must begin ours, in worship and humility before God. As Solomon approached God in worship, God invited Solomon to a greater level of dependency on the Lord by saying, "Ask what I shall give you," (v5). Solomon's response is simply for wisdom to lead God's great nation, and continue in the steadfast love of the Lord. God's answer was affirmative and abundant as he promised to establish Solomon's riches and honor above any other king in his day.

God still gives wisdom, and has demonstrated His wisdom most fully in the gospel of Jesus Christ. God, in His grace, love and wisdom, did what we could not do, in providing a substitute for our sins in Jesus Christ. Although the world may scoff at God's wisdom and call it foolishness, 1 Corinthians 1:30-31 declares "And because of Him you are in Christ Jesus, who became to us wisdom from God, righteousness and sanctification and redemption, so that, as it is written, "let the one who boasts, boast in the Lord."

Lions Club News

The Friona Noon Lions regular meeting Thursday October 18 had ten members and club sweetheart Holly Johnston present. Boss Lion Clint Mears reminded members of the tailgate party fundraiser prior to the November 9 football game vs. Dimmitt. The club is planning to sell burgers and fries at the game.

A short video was shown about how to better understand mathematics and shortcuts to math solutions. It was from a Great Courses video series. We gave an attagirl to sweetheart Holly for the first division the Chieftain band earned in Amarillo. Holly is a member of the Flag Corps and plays flute in the band. She is also in the cast of the high school musical.

The next meeting of the Noon Lions will be Thursday November 1 at Headquarters Restaurant. Prospective new members are invited to attend as guest of the club.

Conklin receives honor at Texas Tech

Dr. Britt Conklin received the Horizon and Hall of Fame award during the Texas Tech Meat Science recognition banquet at the Spirit Arena in Lubbock on Friday, October 12, 2012. He married Lee Ann Ford and is the son-in-law of Kenny and Mary Ford of Friona.

He was raised in the Texas Panhandle with a farming background. As an adopted child, Britt was raised primarily by his mother until her death in high school after a long battle with cancer. An initial horse interest as a child was subdued, and it was not until high school, when a paraplegic horseman asked him to ride some of his young horses, that opportunities in the horse industry began to open up. Conklin graduated from Friona High School as salutatorian in 1993.

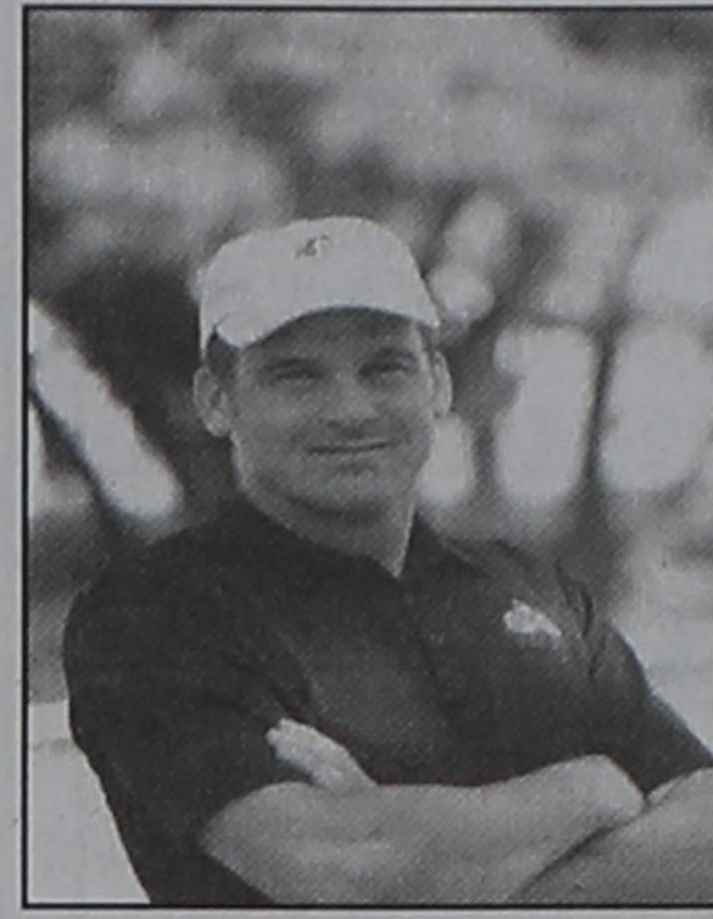

Britt attended Texas Tech University from 1993-97 where he was a co-manager of the Texas Tech Horse Center for three years. He was also active in Block and Bridle and was a part of the Livestock Judging Team. He graduated Magna cum Laude with a B.S. in Animal Science in 1997. He also attended Texas A&M College of Veterinary Medicine from 1997-2001.

After graduation, he began work at Alpha Equine Hospital and became co-owner in 2003.

In 2004, he and one other partner completely bought out the practice and changed the name to Reata Equine Hospital. In 2008, The Podiatry Center at Reata was opened. He has also been featured in: The Horse Magazine, Track Magazine, and The American Quarter Horse Racing Journal, among others. He is involved in numerous organizations, such as the American Farriers Association, The American Association of Equine Practitioners, and The American Veterinary Medical Association.

In 2012, Conklin and his wife decided to move back to the Panhandle to raise their three kids. He sold Reata and now resides in Bushland, Texas, and is employed by Boehringer-Ingelheim Vetmedica. Conklin and his wife also operate Panhandle Equine Veterinary Service, while pursuing the farming and livestock industries.

- 50 – Robert Rios

Week 7 winner: Jess Dearing

High scores in the Week 7 Star football contest. Any other week if you guessed 13 or 14 correct you would likely be the weekly winner. Not so in Week 7.

We had two contestants that had a perfect entry, 15 correct. First time this year we have had a perfect entry. Tim Elmore of Kemp, Texas, and Jess Dearing of Lubbock both picked all 15 correct. The tie-breaker was the Texas Tech – TCU shootout which went into triple overtime and scored a total of 109 points, Tech 56, TCU 53.

Dearing's tie-breaker of 64 was closer than Elmore's 48 so she wins the $25 cash prize. Two players, Greg O'Brian and Jeremy Dearing had 14 of 15 correct.

Turning in entries with 13 of 15 correct were Charlotte Marrufo, Izzy Marrufo, Rusty McFarland, Scott Brown, Dorothy Stowers, Sally Gonzalez, Brandon Berend, Mark Galan, Sandra Berend, Martin Brito, Logan Loflin, Jack Glover, and Raul Brailiff.

The higher scores make the grand prize total point standings a bit tighter. Eight contestants have 70 or more total points. Top two are Jeremy Dearing and William Martin with 74, followed by Sandra Berend, Jack Glover, and Greg O'Brian at 73, Tyson Neill at 72, and Enrique Rodriguez and John Seright at 70 points.

We have five more contests to play. That means 75 more games to pick, money to be made and fun to be had.

Sales tax received

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs announced that state sales tax revenue in September was $1.96 billion, up 11.6 percent compared to September, 2011.

"Continued strength in the manufacturing and oil and natural gas sectors led to the sales tax revenue increase," Combs said. "Collections were also boosted by improvement in consumer spending at restaurants and retail stores. State sales tax revenue has now increased for 30 straight months."

Parmer County receipts: Farwell received $7,218.69 compared to $7,649 in 2011, a -5.62% decrease.

Bovina received $7,642.21 compared to $7,125.86 in 2011, a 7.24% increase. Friona received $32,069.58 compared to $33,053.61 in 2011, a -2.97% decrease for the period.

The sales tax figures represent monthly sales made in August.

The construction fencing and office trailer were in place on the high school parking lot this week. Construction on the new activity center/gym and renovation of the heating and air conditioning in all of the high school classrooms is underway. The project is expected to take about one year. This trailer is in front of the gym doors and blocks about one-third of the parking lot on the north end.

Brad Stowers (15) looks for running room against the Childress Bobcats Friday night. Teammate Abel Palacios (72) blocks. The Chiefs will be looking for their first district win Friday night as they host the Bushland Falcons. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. Choir's spaghetti dinner from 5:30 - 7 p.m. in the cafeteria before the game.

JV Chiefs 0 Childress JV 14

The JV Chieftains continued the battle as they hosted the Childress Bobcats JV last Thursday.

The stats were fairly even as Friona had 154 total yards to 167 for Childress. QB Jacob Dickson completed 7 of 17 passes for 100 yards and rushed 16 times for 29 yards. Israel Espinoza had 2 carries for 12 yards and Chris Alvarez carried 3 times for 10 yards. Adrian Munoz caught 6 passes for 96 yards.

Coach David Towner said, "This past week we played Childress at home and lost 14-0. The scores over the past few weeks may not seem to show the improvement these young men have had. This week the defense stepped up in the second half and stopped Childress inside our own 20 on four different drives.

Coach Henderson and I both feel we have the makings of a good football team. Once this team is able to put together both an offensive and defensive game for four quarters they will be a team to be feared."

Childress ran away, beat the Chiefs 45-0

It was a long drive to Childress and a long night for the Chieftains as the Bobcats pounded out a 45-0 district win. Childress rolled up 459 yards rushing and 128 passing for 587 total offensive yards. The Chiefs managed 128 rushing yards and were shut out with zero yards passing.

Brad Stowers led Friona rushers with 4 carries for 43 yards. Francisco Martinez added 41 yards on 11 carries, Stephen Dominguez was 7 for 18, and Omar Ramos 12 for 26. Stowers and Martinez alternated at quarterback as QB Mason Loffin was sidelined recovering from a concussion.

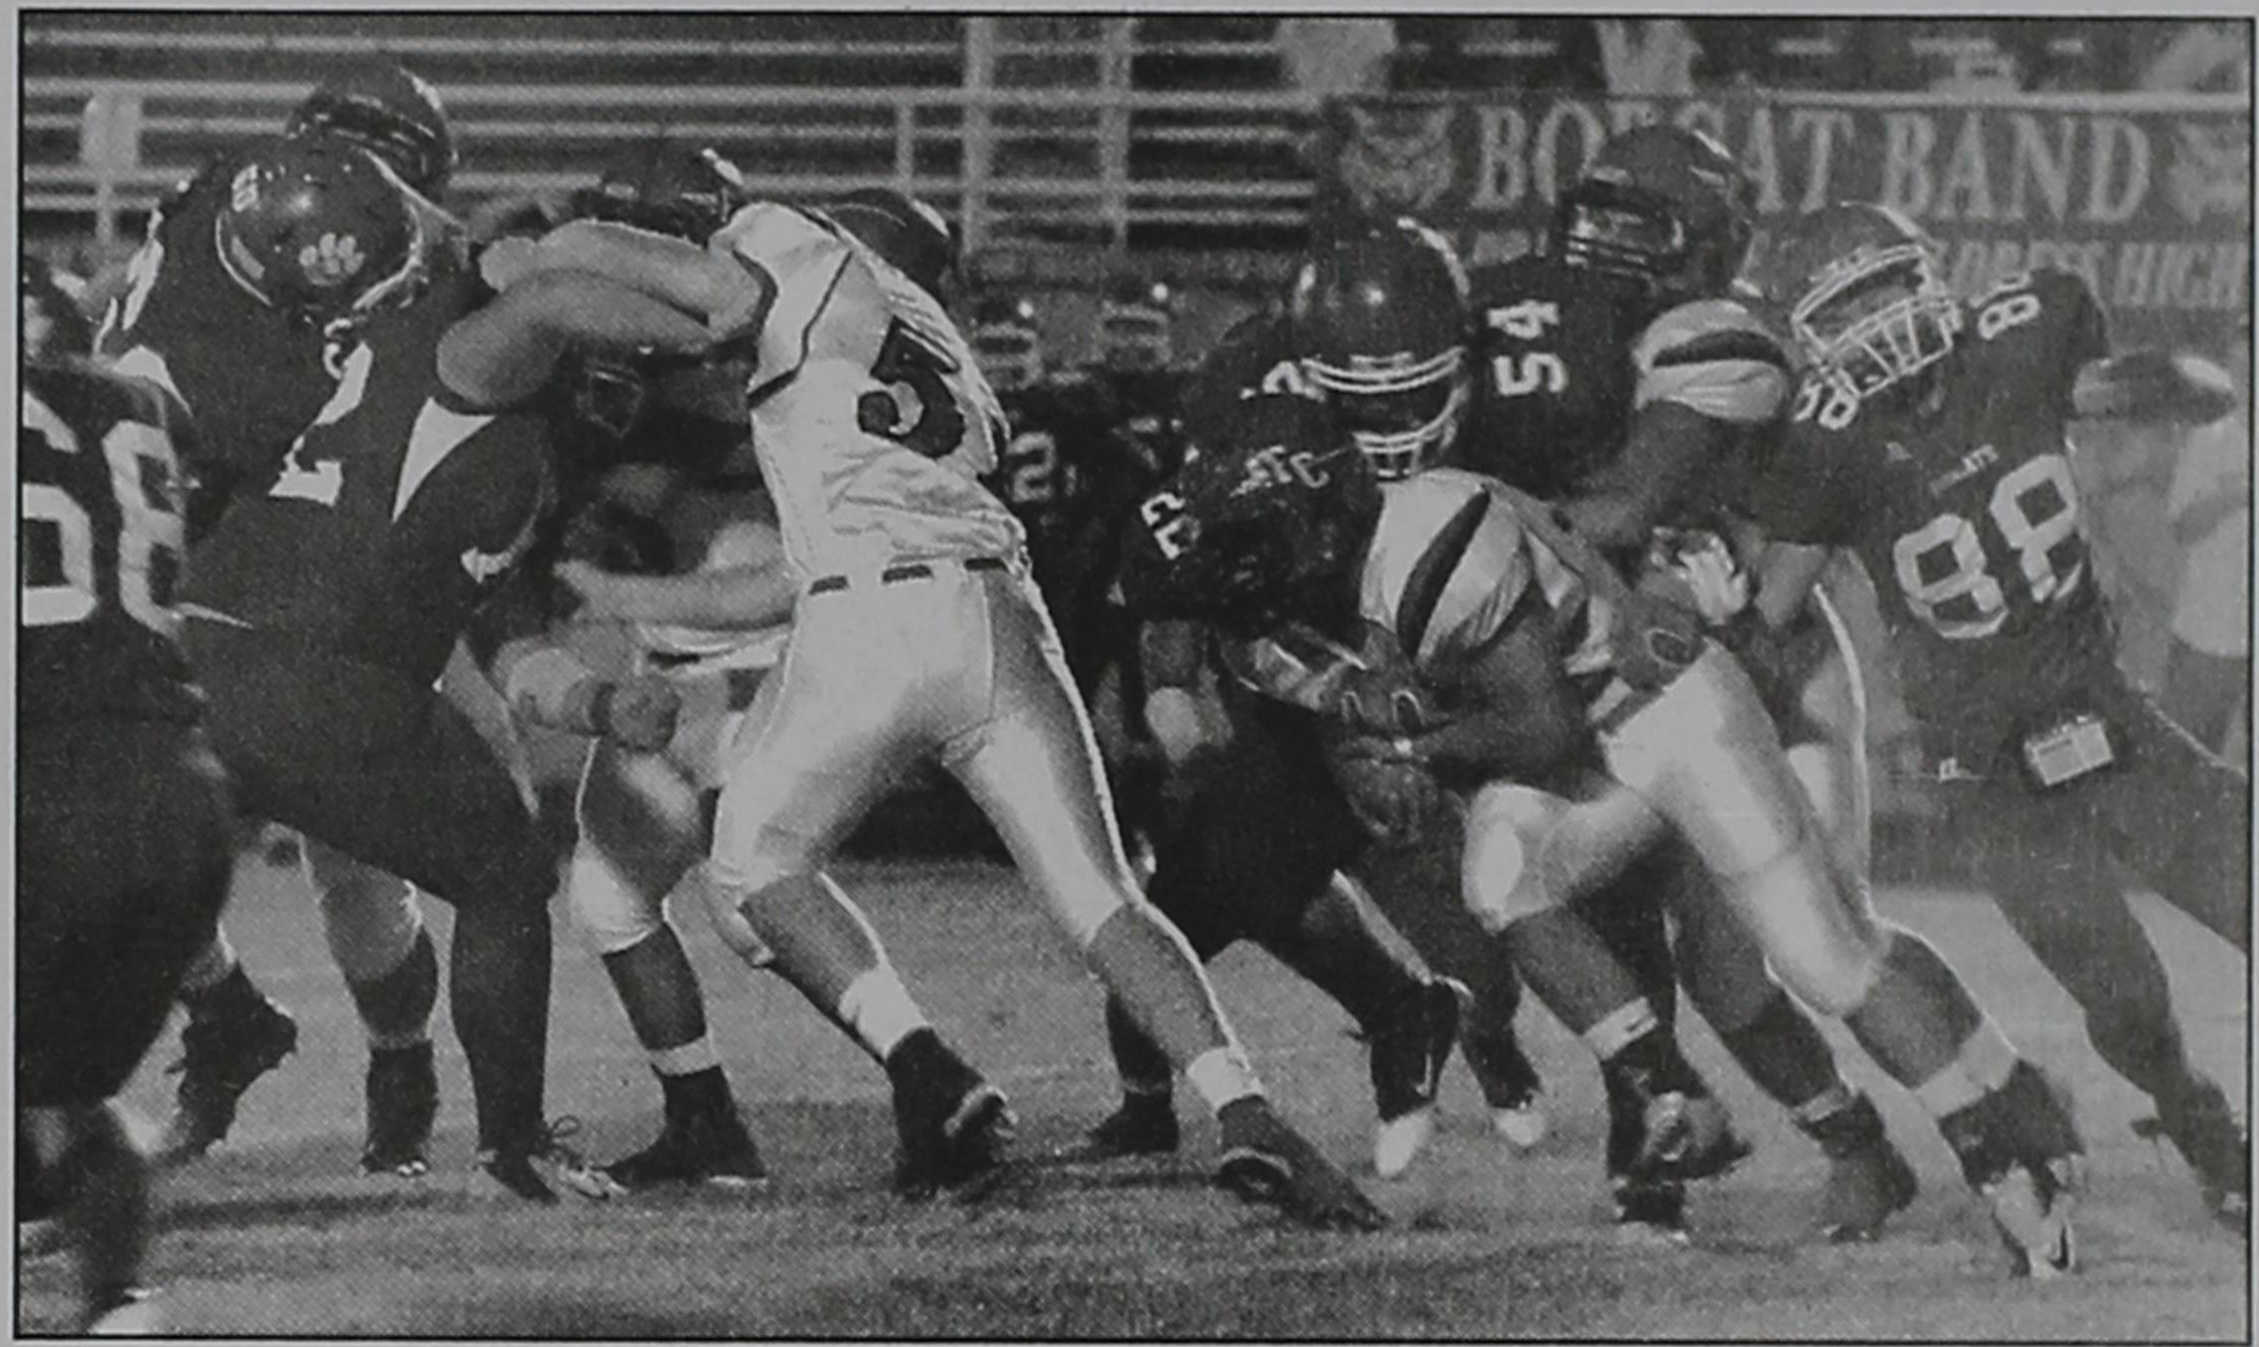

Martinez punted 9 times for 252 yards, a 28 yard average. On six kickoff returns, Sawyer Osborn was 3 for 71 yards, Eddie Garcia 2 for 24 yards, and Stephen Dominguez one for 29 yards.

The Chiefs host the Bushland Falcons Friday October 26. The Falcons and Chiefs will bring identical 1-6 records into the game. Kickoff is 7:30 p.m. and weather forecast is cold. Come early for a spaghetti dinner in the cafeteria sponsored by the high school choir.
