The gifts are distributed at the Prairie Acres annual Christmas party. To adopt a resident and find out about their particular needs contact Elizabeth or Yvette at 806-250-3922.

Beauchamp is the new water district director

Mike Beauchamp of Friona was elected Precinct Three District Director and Lynn Tate of Amarillo was elected Precinct Four District Director of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, according to unofficial results from the November 6, 2012 general election.

Beauchamp, an agricultural producer, defeated incumbent Carroll Cook of Friona, 3,265 to 1,216 votes. Beauchamp will serve a four-year term as Precinct Three District Director representing all of Bailey County, the portion of Castro County within the district, and all of Parmer County.

Cook has served on the HPWD

Board of Directors since August 2003.

Tate, an agricultural producer and lawyer, defeated incumbent Robert Meyer of Canyon, 14,023 to 12,653 votes. Tate will serve a four-year term (2012-2016) as Precinct Four District Director representing the portions of Armstrong, Deaf Smith, Potter, and Randall Counties within the HPWD service area.

Meyer has served on the HPWD Board of Directors since September 2003.

The district's Board of Directors will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday, Nov. 15 at the HPWD office to canvass the election returns and declare official results.

Council meeting Monday

The Friona city council will meet in regular session Monday, November 12, at 6:30 p.m. in council chambers at 619 Main St. All council meetings are open to the public.

The tentative meeting agenda looks to be brief. In addition to approval of accounts receivable and financial statements, several city codes will be discussed and considered, possibly including updates of the city's building codes, electrical codes, family codes, and residential and commercial codes.

An ordinance concerning an Atmos Energy rate increase will also be considered. The official meeting agenda will be posted on the window at city hall 72 hours prior to the meeting.

Bi-Wize Pharmacy had a haunted truck at the Halloween Trunk or Treat. Employees decorated a delivery truck and handed out candy and soft drinks to the many children who came by for Halloween treats. About 15 vehicles from local organizations and interested individuals participated to distribute candy to the children.

Public Notices Keep Texas Notified

By Donnis Baggett, Texas Press Association

An informed citizen is the ultimate source of power in a democratic government, which is why Texas' governmental entities are required to print notices of their plans for actions ranging from annexation to zoning, and from large expenditures to tax hikes.

For several years, lobbying efforts have been underway to eliminate this essential element of government transparency, which bodes ill for an informed electorate. Some state agencies and some associations representing local governments are pressuring legislators to eliminate printed public notices in newspapers, saying they should be allowed to "publish" notices solely on their government-owned, government-controlled and government-operated websites.

Ever since Texas declared its independence, notices of governmental intent have been printed in newspapers to get the word out efficiently to as many citizens as possible through a non-governmental medium. Newspapers — not obscure pages in the maze of a difficult-to-navigate government website — are still the best way to do this.

Most citizens who are vigilant about government activities also happen to be avid newspaper readers. They are well served by the fact that most of the state's 500 or so newspapers print public notices — and print them at their lowest classified advertising rate, as required by law.

Newspapers also post legal notices on their websites, for the convenience of those who choose to read the paper electronically. And for commercial enterprises that do business with governments outside of their home county, the Texas Press Association maintains a free statewide compilation of legal notices from all over the state.

There is some cost involved to print a newspaper notice, of course. The expenses of paper, ink, personnel and delivery are very real, and like any other business, newspapers must charge for what they provide or close their doors. There's no difference between a local government paying a newspaper for a printed legal notice and paying an automobile dealer for police cars...except for price.

When it comes to printed public notice, that price is miniscule. In 2011 Texas counties spent an average of 0.00533 percent of their budgets on legal notices regarding procurement. To put that in perspective, imagine that the height of the Empire State Building represents the total budget of a Texas county. Now visualize the height of a thumbtack, and consider this: 0.00533 percent of the height of the Empire State Building would be the height of the thumbtack.

It's ironic that the associations lobbying to kill printed notice are funded primarily by dues paid by local governments — governments that get their money by taxing the very citizens who'd find it hard to keep an eye on city hall if legal notices were no longer printed.

Legislators considering this issue should consider the Empire State Building and the thumbtack. And citizens should remind lawmakers that a thumbtack serves a useful purpose and never causes a problem...unless you happen to sit on it.

Letters to the Editor

Our school is participating in the Lowe's Register Tapes for Education program. It's a fantastic way for us to earn much needed free equipment and supplies for our students. Please save your register receipts from Lowe's Supermarkets and turn them in to the school office or your child's teacher. Friona Primary School can earn some wonderful items with each and every receipt so please don't forget to save them for us! Thank you for your help.

The Friona Cub Scouts are collecting money for two families who lost their homes in New York and New Jersey during Hurricane Sandy.

We will have a donation table at the Chiefs football game with Dimmitt Friday night. Donations can be given to any Scout Leader. Checks should be made payable to Friona Cub Scouts.

The money will be used to purchase gift cards to help the families purchase larger items such as appliances and household needs. You can also donate gift cards from Wal Mart, Home Depot, Lowe's, etc. For information or to donate call me at 223-6348. Thanks.

Becky Dickson
Scout Leader

Restoration work on the Mt. Olivet Cemetery south of Farwell is progressing slowly but surely. A Parmer County grader has been scraping the original roadway as laid out in the 1918 survey. We thank Ronald Byrd and the employees of Parmer County for this work. A portion of the old fence has been removed in preparation for the installation of the new fence. The cemetery group is in need of volunteers with the equipment to do welding, concrete work, and shredding. If anyone would like to volunteer to work, contact David Kube at 575-760-7888.

Thank you,
David Kube

There is no denying that I am disappointed with the outcome of today's election. Like so many others, I was confident that voters across America would vote to replace the failed, liberal policies of the Obama Administration, but it appears that was not the case. This is the beauty of our democracy. Candidates spoke their cases to the voters, Americans cast their ballots and chose our leader for the next four years.

While I would have preferred a different outcome to this Presidential election, I am confident that the Republican majority in the House will continue to fight for the conservative values we all believe in. You have my commitment that I will continue to hold firm to the ideals of the 19th District of Texas and fight to protect these values in Washington.

May we continue to pray for all of our elected officials. For the days ahead, they will need courage and encouragement to stand strong to uphold the principles of our Founding Fathers.

Randy Neugebauer

post election resolutions

Yes I know Obama was re-elected. Thanks for telling me.

No, I do not know how or why, just that he got enough votes to stay in the White House another four years. He operated America at a four-plus TRILLION dollar deficit and divided the country through class warfare but was re-hired anyway.

I can pretty well predict if he was a farm or dairy manager, or any other business manager, and lost such whopping amounts every year for four years he would have been fired. He convinced women, blacks, gays, Hispanics, and old people that the Republicans hate them all. Perhaps soon Americans will stop blaming Bush and hold Obama accountable.

Of course the Republicans have their share of blame for nominating a basically weak candidate in Mitt Romney, then having a couple of idiot Senatorial candidates comment on rape and abortion topics. The Republicans and Democrats ran nasty, uncivil campaigns and basically the country is right back where it was before all the campaigning began.

The news is filled with people and pundits and organizations eager to explain why Obama won or why Romney lost, neither of which matter to me at this point. I'm making a few post election resolutions.

First I resolve to not watch MSNBC for even one minute the next four years. I'm considering calling WT Services and see if they can block MSNBC at my house.

I resolve to remove or ignore all reference to AARP forever. The organization supported Obamacare at the expense of its senior citizen members and expects a discount on a breakfast at Denny's to suffice instead.

It has been a while since I have been required to show an AARP card anyway to prove I am a senior citizen.

I will never believe another prediction by Dick Morris on Fox News channel about any politically related topic. Not too happy with Karl Rove and Rush Limbaugh's predictions either.

In spite of Michelle Obama's concern for my health, I will continue to eat chicken fried steak with copious amounts of gravy at every opportunity. Plus cheeseburgers and enchiladas.

I will keep the TV remote close by so as to quickly change channels when or if the President or any liberal Democrat starts telling me about our wonderful world. And I will refuse to watch any future State of the Union address for the next four years.

Finally, I resolve to write whatever I want, whenever I want, about whomever I want. Oh wait, I've been doing that anyway.

Relax and enjoy. Your taxes are going up and there are penalties and fees to pay and you have to pitch in your fair share. In the meantime you might want to figure out how to cash in on all the free stuff available.

Merry Christmas and Happy Unemployment.

Deadline looms for range insurance

By Kay Ledbetter

Livestock and hay producers have the ability to buy insurance through the new Pasture, Range and Forage Insurance risk policy offered in the High Plains region, said DeDe Jones, Texas A&M AgriLife Extension Service risk management specialist.

The 2013 sign-up and acreage reporting deadline for this program is Nov. 15, and premiums are due by July 1, Jones said.

"In the face of continued dry conditions, insurance becomes a critical component in producers' risk management portfolios,"

Payment is not determined by individual damages, but rather area losses based on a grid system, Jones explained. Producers can select any portion of acres to insure, but they must also choose a minimum of two two-month intervals, or a maximum of six two-month intervals per year.

Coverage levels between 70 and 90 percent are available, she said. Once coverage is selected, the producer chooses a productivity factor between 60 percent and 150 percent. Productivity factor is a percentage of the established county base value for forage.

The base value is a standard rate published by the Risk Management Agency for each county. It is calculated based on the estimated per-acre cost of grazing, Jones said. For example, Hansford County's value is $8.11.

She said Texas uses a rainfall index to determine the insurance coverage. The rainfall index utilizes National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration Center data and a 12-by-12 mile grid system.

"Indemnities are calculated based on the deviation from normal precipitation within an area for a specific period selected," Jones said.

A decision-support tool to help producers determine coverage levels and intervals can be found at: <http://agforceusa.com/rma/ri/prf/dst>.

For more information about the insurance and how it fits into a risk management plan, contact Jones at 806-677-5600 or djones@ag.tamu.edu

Deena Leuea and Deanna Curtis are once again organizing a project for providing sweat suits for residents of the nursing homes in Farwell and Friona. This is the 11th year for the project. With help of businesses, 4-H clubs, churches, and individuals they have been able to give each resident a sweat suit and a Christmas picture each year. They plan to deliver the presents in early December. To donate a sweat suit or money call Deena at 806-481-3619 or Deanna at 575-693-3984 or 806-251-1405.

A trailer behind Friona city hall is available to collect your old computers, televisions, or cell phones. Only electronics though. No charge, just bring them and place on the trailer. It is the city's E-recycling event. A good opportunity to get rid of electronic stuff you didn't know what to do with.

The banks, post office, and city office will be closed Monday, November 12, in observance of Veterans Day, which is Sunday, November 11.

WT Services is offering a voicemail service for $5 a month. It is a built in answering machine that takes your messages. You can access it from any phone, including your cell phone, or have messages sent to your email. Check it out. Go see Annette, Cherry, or Teresa or call 250-5555.

The Easter Lion's Club Turkey Shoot is Sunday November 18 from 1-5 p.m. For more details see the article by Jim Steiert in this issue of the Star. It is a fundraiser for the Easter Lions. Call Dee Taylor at 276-5217 or Tommy Sparkman at 276-5856 for info.

Also Sunday November 18 the annual Holiday Arts & Crafts Bazaar will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Nazareth. The same day a Thanksgiving dinner and raffle will be held from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

The Farwell Country Christmas Jubilee is November 30 and December 1 at the Farwell community center. Friends of the Friona Library will have a booth and serve as greeters for the event. A reminder that the Library Book Shoppe, with many, many used books is open each Monday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and their Bag Sale is the 3rd Wednesday of each month. Lucy Hernandez is the new assistant Library Director. She has been there 3 years and is promoted to take the place of Brenda Patterson.

At Prairie Acres the next meeting of the family council will be January 17, 2013. No meetings in November or December due to the annual family dinners and parties. The family supper at P.A. is November 13 at 6:30 p.m. Bring a salad and a dessert to go with the holiday meal. Resident of the Month is Rheata White and Employee of the Month is Debbie Sanchez.

Try this tongue twister from the Prairie Acres November newsletter: The sixth sick sheik's sixth sheep's sick.

Each year Prairie Acres asks for assistance through their Adopt-a-Resident program. Call Elizabeth or Yvette at Prairie Acres, 250-3922, or go by and they will assign a resident and give you gift ideas, usually some type of clothing or toiletries.

Congratulations to Jose and Alicia Pinon who celebrated their 18th wedding anniversary on November 6.

A rumor I found on Facebook. Is a United store being planned for Hereford? The rumored location is south of Whiteface Ford. Remember it is a rumor.

This is not a rumor. The Master's Christian Bookstore in Clovis, owned by former Bovina resident Tammy Garner, is closing. They are having a close-out sale and will close for good when all the stuff is sold, probably by the end of the year.

There was a cheeseburger discussion on Facebook too. With the closing of Tasty Cream the discussion asked where the best cheeseburger could be found now in Friona, the Cheeseburger Capital of Texas. The interesting conclusion by several contributors named Los Arcos Mexican Restaurant as the best cheeseburger in town. Haven't tried it but I plan to soon.

The mediamobile stopped at Leal's in Muleshoe Thursday on the way to the Squaws volleyball game in Littlefield. The place was filled with Friona folks and the food was excellent as usual. On our Friday return trip to Littlefield for Chieftain football, we ate at a little joint in Littlefield called The Humdinger. Chicken fried steak, hamburgers, Mexican food and a nice clean atmosphere. Probably wouldn't seat more than 20 people but a good quick meal with good service.

Guess you know by now that fried chicken has come to town. Chester's Chicken To Go has opened in the Fast Stop Grill. I did try it this week and it was plenty good. They offer a lengthy menu combination from one piece to a bucket. The gravy was good which is how I usually judge a place that sells fried chicken. Good to have them here.

One more food note: Canna and Jeff Ray will be catering the concession stand during this weekend's Country Market Arts & Craft Show at the community center. It runs Friday and Saturday with an Ingram's Style Show Saturday morning. Sampling Canna's cooking is worth the trip to the show. Lots of vendors there too.

At the football game in Littlefield, the head ref came over and told me that his wife is Shirlene Lilley, a former Squaws basketball coach in the early 1990s. She left here and went to Lubbock Coronado and continued her winning ways. He said she is the winningest coach in Lubbock ISD history with 501 wins. She is retired but may resume coaching later.

The video replay of the Squaws-Highland park game plus the Chiefs-Dimmitt game will be Saturday November 10 starting at 10 a.m. on WT Services channel 76.

During the past week between football, volleyball, and the musical, Holly Campbell and I probably took over 1,000 photos all total. After editing and deleting we still have a bunch of photos, all of which are posted on our website at frionaonline.com. We also receive photos from our readers and appreciate them as well. We have taken several photos from Facebook too. Thanks for allowing us to use your photos. We can't be everywhere so rely on you to send along news and photos.

Basketball season is starting up. The girls are supposed to play Vega Saturday here. A boys game with Bovina next week has been canceled since Bovina is headed to the football playoffs. Many Chief and Squaw basketball players have still been playing football and volleyball. We have printed the basketball schedules in this Star but a few of the early games might be adjusted.

We received word of the passing this week of former Friona resident Reese Fleming. He died from bacterial meningitis in a Lubbock hospital.

After about a month in the Friona hospital my mother will be going home Thursday (Nov 8). She battled pneumonia and general weakness but has regained enough health to come home. Thanks for all the thoughts and prayers during her hospital stay. We hope for the best now. And special thanks to the great staff at PMC for their caring.

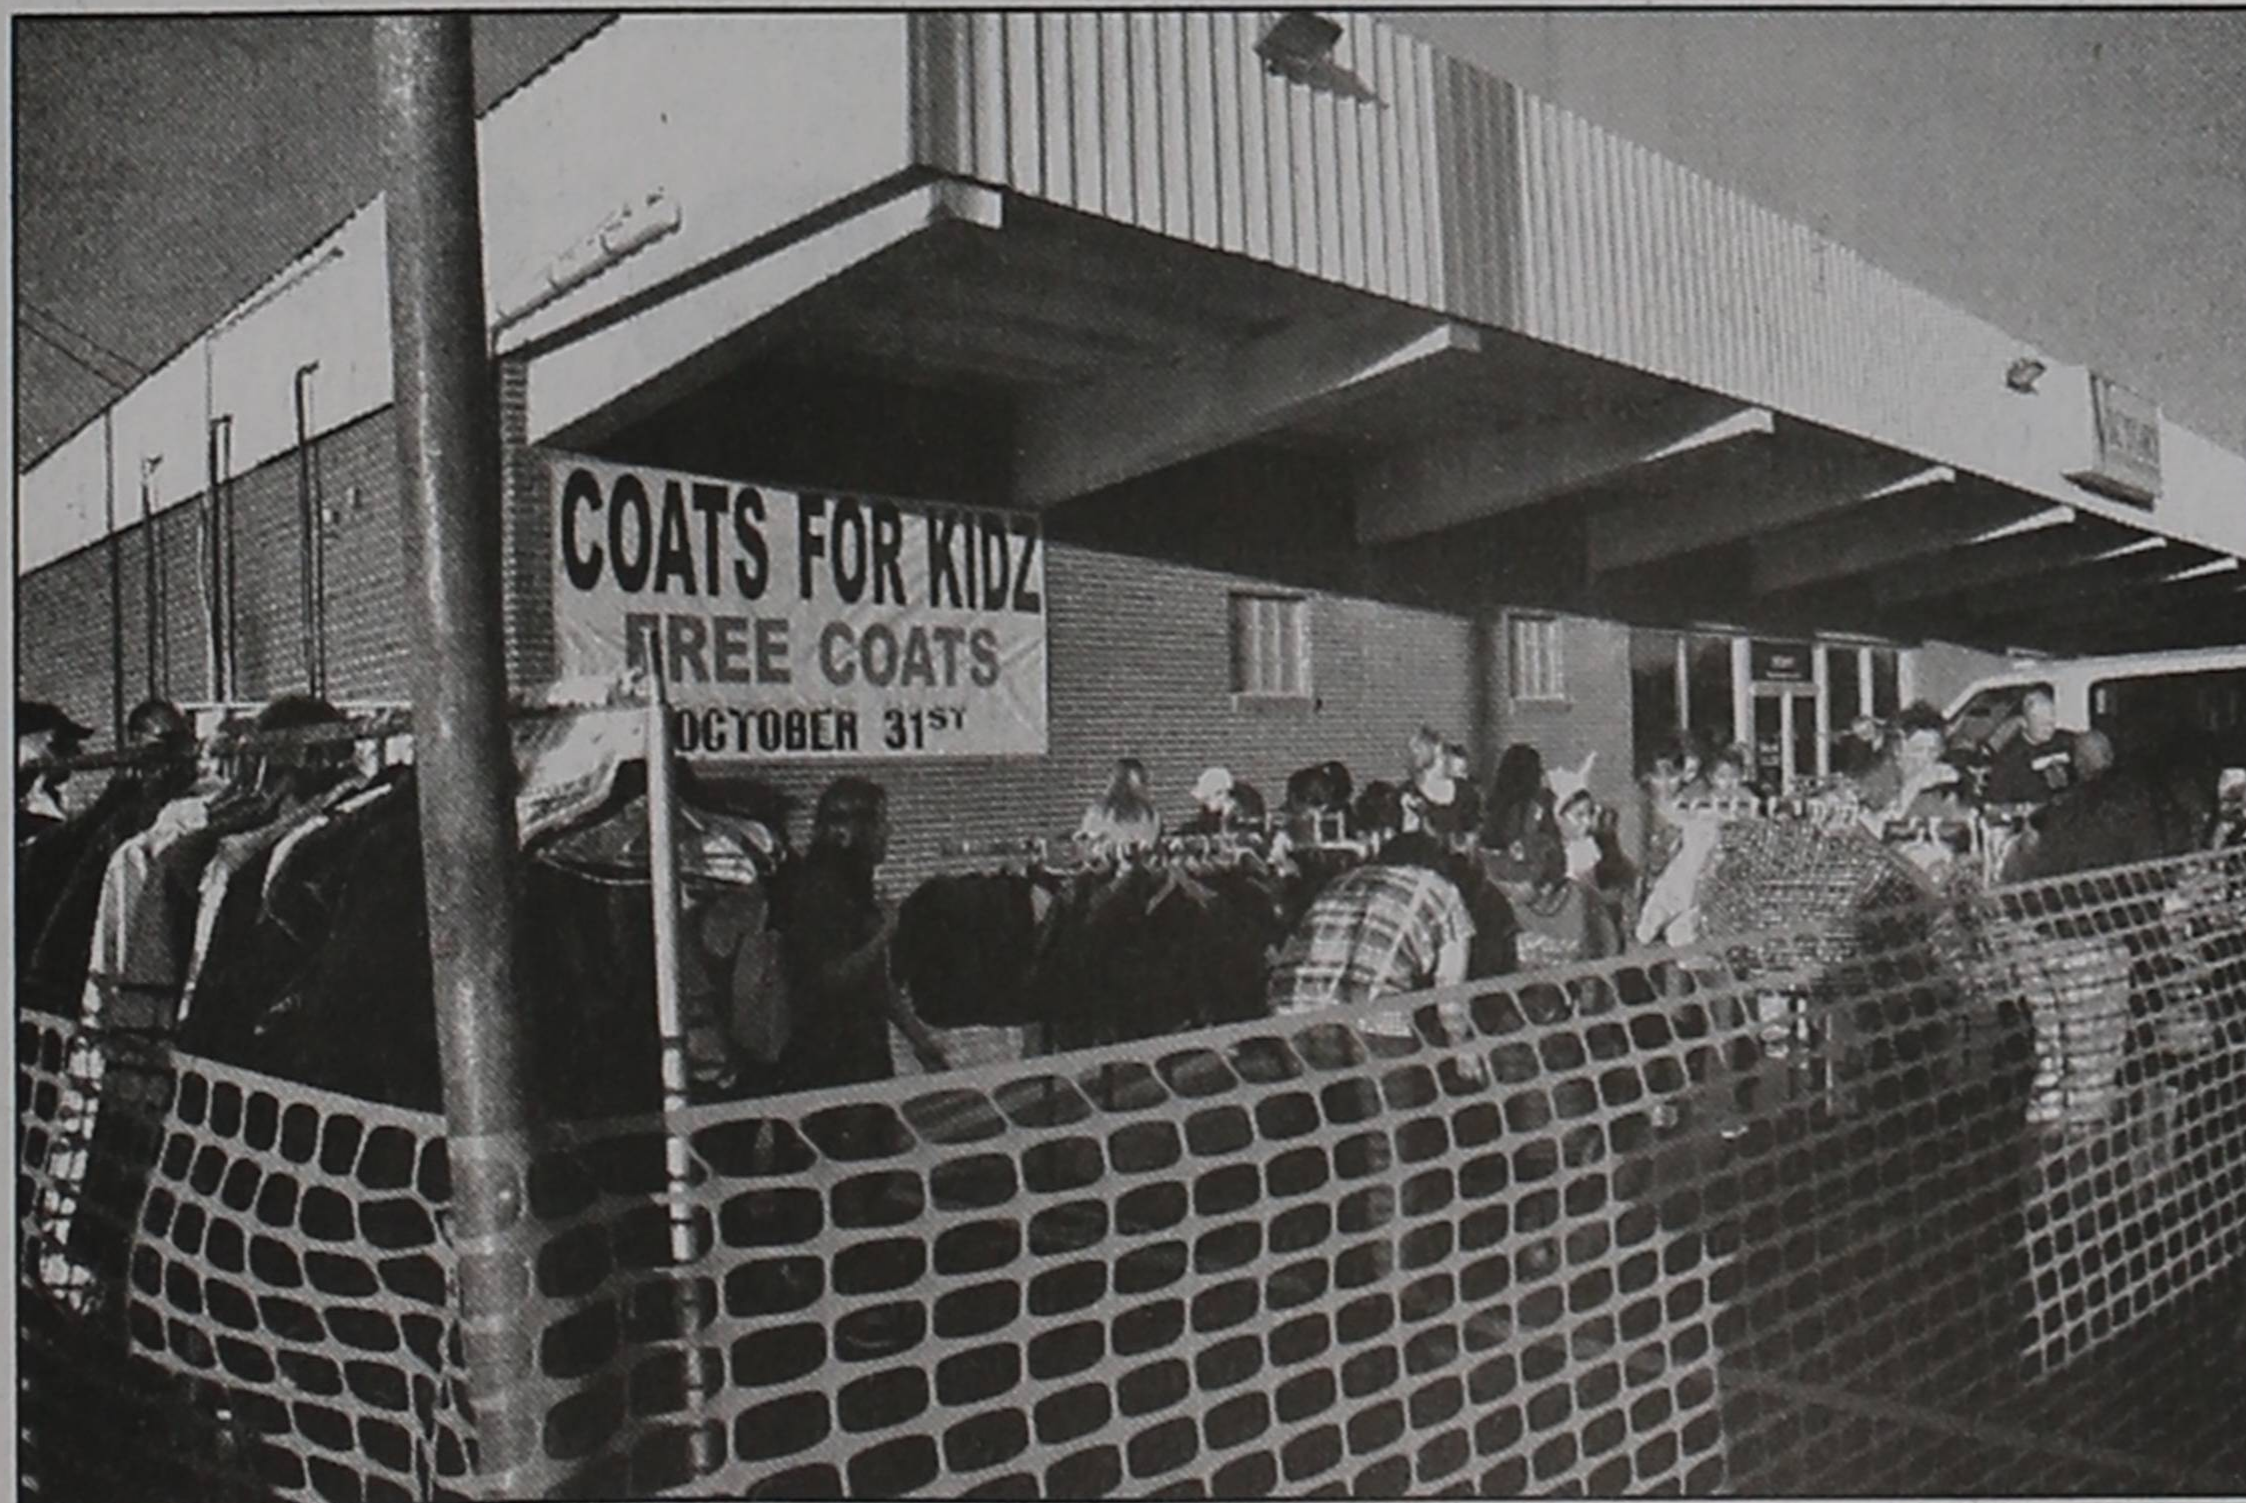

Late breaking news: Jack Owen Giddens born Wednesday morning at 7:03 a.m. to Sheila (Wiseman) and Toby Giddens. Was 8 lbs and 20 inches. Delirious grandparents are Carolyn and Kevin Wiseman. Congrats to all of the extended family.

Lot of junk talk on both sides about the election. Obama won because the Republicans lost. What's ahead for us the next four years? Lot of opinions on that too. Guess we will wait and see won't we? In the meantime keep reading the Friona Star. See you next week. Until then!

The Victory Family Worship Center provided free coats for needy children and families. The event was held October 31. Through assistance from Cargill and Bunker Trucking the church purchased 300 new coats and received about 50 donated used coats for the giveaway. Pastor Robert Kerby said next year the goal is to provide 500 coats.

Way to go Squaws!

Thank you to our nation's veterans

JEFF PROCTER, Minister, 6th St. Church of Christ

By my simplistic definition a veteran is one who has served in the defense of our country and is now home from a job well done. We honor those who have fallen in May and now we honor those who served and survived. It is the veteran who reminds us of the sacrifice that comes in daily ways. For those who served and missed many first steps of their kids, birthdays, anniversaries and all the daily events we take for granted they defended. It is the veteran that wears the cap of their former military service and proudly holds it over their heart as the flag goes by or our anthem played. It is the veteran who may walk with a limp, or no longer walk at all who still stands tall because their service has allowed us to continue to pursue our freedoms. It is the veteran who knows what it is like to come home and are among the first to welcome home soldiers today. It is the daily presence of the veteran that remind us of the many who answer freedom's call and not all who served came home to be veterans. They are our sons and daughters, our husbands and wives and grandparents, and they remind us that there was a point in history in which they volunteered to stand up and protected all who call the United States home.

Jesus was not a soldier in a physical military, but came to serve not to be served. He understands not having a place to lay his head and understands and did help the helpless. I think veterans know those things too. Thank you seems so small for service so great, but thank you we say and I pray we live as good citizens must and exercise our freedom to vote, to speak, to assemble, to worship etc... and to do so in honorable ways. Freedom has never been free and we can thank those who have died and those who live for their willingness to sign freedoms check.

Preparing With Purpose

BRETT HOYLE, Pastor, First Baptist Church

Are you prepared to be a diligent, faithful, regular servant for Jesus? This begins, by first having a personal relationship with Him, then purposefully aiming your life to glorify Him and expand His kingdom. 1 Kings 5 depicts the preparations King Solomon began to make as he set out to obey the Lord by building a temple, a place for the great name of the Lord.

First, Solomon clarifies his purpose with those who are around him, leaving no room for doubt regarding who he is and what he intends to do. His intention is to build a temple for the Lord, in accordance with God's promises to Solomon and his family. What are you about, have you ever clarified your purpose in life? God made you to love Him, worship Him, glorify Him and make disciples of all nations (Mark 12:30-31; 1 Cor 10:31; Matt 28:18-20).

After Solomon clarifies his purpose he begins to address the tasks at hand, which included gathering the finest building supplies, and preparing for the temple's construction. Finally, Solomon enlists skilled workers to assist in construction of the temple. Solomon's task was great, impossible without the Lord's guidance and provision, but by relying on God's wisdom and direction he succeeded. Similarly, you may be facing massive hurdles or tasks in your life, and I pray you lean on Jesus Christ to see you through to the end.

O'Brian is Week 9 contest winner

Either the Week 9 football contest was very easy or else our contestants are getting really good at picking winners. We had 18 contestants pick 11 of 15 correct, 16 contestants pick 12 of 15 correct, and 5 contestants picked 13 of 15 correct.

Out of that 13 of 15 group Greg O'Brian emerged as the weekly winner by virtue of being only 5 off of the tie-breaker. The tie-breaker game was Dallas - Atlanta which had a total score of 32. Greg guessed 27. Others with 13 correct and their points off the tie-breaker were Clayton Smiley 10, Christen Stowers 18, Tyson Neill 24, and Harley Merritt 38.

Picking 12 of 15 were Rick Castaneda,

Jeremy Dearing, Sally Gonzalez, Mark Galan, Procoro Rodriguez, Linvell Rose, Jesse Morales, William Gromowsky, Jack Glover, Sandra Berend, Frank Dominguez, Jr., Mal Manchee, Andy Montana, Eric Geske, Alryna McElreath, and Ron Smiley.

Locked in a battle for the top spot in point standings with 97 are Sandra Berend and Jeremy Dearing. Jack Glover and Greg O'Brian are in second with 96 points, while William Martin and Tyson Neill are close by with 95 points. Three more weeks to decide the outcome and declare the $100 grand prize winner. Good luck all!
