VILLA-CARRANZA BREACH WIDENS AFTER FORMER RESIGNS COMMAND

CONSTITUTIONALIST EMPLOYEES ARE REMOVED FROM OFFICE

Villa Denies There Is Any Rupture Between Himself And Carranza However

EXPECTED TO INFLUENCE MEDIATORS' WORK

Action Said To Be With View To Getting Rid Of Officious Politicians Hired By Carranza

By Associated Press.

El Paso, June 17.—General Villa through his agents here today issued a general denial that there had been any split between himself and General Carranza. He said the arrest of the Carranza officials at Juarez had been the result of a misinterpretation of orders by the officer in charge of the Juarez garrison.

It was learned, however, that between twenty and thirty employees of the Juarez offices were sent on a special train early today to Chihuahua City, thence to be transported to Torreon, where Villa remains. These men, employees of the customs house, telegraph office, treasury department and information bureau, were arrested late yesterday by Col. Ornelas in a raid on the various national offices where Carranza appointees were employed.

The whereabouts of H. Perez Abreau was the matter of most speculation. He had been selected as publicity agent of the revolution, whose function it was to issue official bulletins to the press. He disappeared when his office was taken over by Villa's soldiers. He had just issued an announcement that he was reporting the attack of Natera on Zacatecas in which Natera had been defeated.

Constitutionalist agents here today are busy attempting to explain the sudden turn of affairs at Juarez, but owing to the rigid censorship on telegrams from Villa's headquarters at Torreon, no messages were permitted except those denying, in a general way, that Villa and Carranza had reached a point of divorce on account of Natera's appointment and other incidents which the Villa partisans have reported as disturbing.

Partisans of Carranza and Villa here discussed hotly the future of the constitutionalist movement. The question of mediation, especially regarding a provisional president, played an important part in these arguments. Some Villa supporters even declared that General Felipe Angeles, Carranza's secretary of war, had been selected by Villa for provisional president in place of Carranza. Angeles, a former federal general, has been commanding Villa's artillery since the battle of Torreon and yesterday was reported to have started for Zacatecas.

May Take Supreme Command Of Rebel Affairs In North Mexico

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—General Villa's action in resigning his commission and imprisoning Carranza leaders at Juarez last night is not interpreted by constitutionalist leaders here as meaning a permanent breach between the two chiefs. Carranza's representatives here explain that Villa had determined to rid himself of politicians who were associated with General Carranza and who had issued orders without authority which embarrassed Villa.

Carranza is said to have felt that the trouble would adjust itself, but Villa took the initiative. In the opinion of leaders here, Villa will take supreme command in Northern Mexico as he previously had insisted and Carranza will compose the other differences. Officials here were considerably impressed by the turn in events. No word has been received from George Carothers, American consular agent with Carranza. He was due today back in El Paso from Saltillo.

Rafael Zubaran and Luis Cabrera, the constitutionalists who conferred in Buffalo yesterday with the American commissioners, maintained silence when they returned to Washington today. L. Cabrera said nothing could be made public now, but there probably would be a statement within a day or two.

A long dispatch was received today at the White House from the American delegates at the Niagara conference which officials say did not change the situation. Beyond expressing the view that there was hope of ultimate success of mediation, officials here did not comment. Both the war department and state department and White House disclaimed having any official information on the reported break between Carranza and Villa.

POLICEMAN SHOTS AT GERMAN MINISTER

BULLET GOES WILD AND AMBASSADOR BERNSTORF IS UNINJURED

CHAFFEUR REFUSES TO HALT

Officer is Angered and Fired—Incident Takes Place at Illinois Commencement

By Associated Press.

Champaign, Ill., June 17.—Count Johann von Bernstorff, ambassador from Germany to the United States, risked death today when a special policeman fired point blank at the automobile in which he was being driven to the commencement exercises of the University of Illinois. The shot went wild and was not repeated.

The count was riding to the campus from the railroad station. Arthur Meeker of Chicago, was taking him in Meeker's automobile. Vice President Dr. David Kinley of the University and Dr. Green also were in the machine.

As the car neared a street intersection, Michael Murphy, a merchant policeman employed by neighborhood business men, held up his hand as a warning. Murphy was not in uniform. The chauffeur paid no attention to him. Apparently angered at the inattention, Murphy fired one shot at the automobile.

SOME MANUFACTURERS DENY THERE IS ANY DEPRESSION

President Gets Letters Taking His Side of Issue as to Present Business Conditions

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—As one result of President Wilson's denunciation of what he characterized as a deliberate campaign to spread abroad the idea that business is in the doldrums, the White House has begun to receive letters from manufacturers and others throughout the country taking the president's view that "psychological depression" has been created. One letter circulated by a St. Louis hardware company said:

"Our business up to date this year are just three-fifths of one per cent less than the same period last year and if June business continues to increase as it has done so far, we will gain this three-fifths and probably finish the first half of the year with a gain."

UNITED STATES INTERFERED IN NICARAGUA, IS CHARGE

Resolution Alleging Undue Use of Marines Is Introduced By Smith of Michigan

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Charges that the United States kept its marines in Nicaragua to influence the recent presidential election and that the state department had been acting in the interest of American bankers, were contained in a resolution introduced by Senator Smith of Michigan, which was read to the Senate foreign relations committee. The resolution charges that the state department has forced the Nicaraguan republic to redeem at par $6,250,000 in bonds issued by Zelaya and later repudiated and bought in at about twenty-five per cent of their face value by American bankers.

FOOD SUPPLY IN VERA CRUZ IN NO DANGER AT PRESENT

Funston Advises Against Sending of Food From United States Except For the Troops

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Brigadier General Funston reported to the war department that the food supply of Vera Cruz was not in great danger although some prices were high and he recommended especially against sending food supplies from the United States except for troops. He said:

"Sending government supplies here is not recommended. If sold direct to the consumer, the city would lose the taxes and trade would be badly affected. It is preferable to depend for food supplies upon foreign trade with free entry. Railroad connections have been established from the United States throughout northern Mexico as far as Tampico, Saltillo and Chihuahua."

HARVESTING NEAR OLNEY IS DELAYED BY RAINS

Olney, Texas, June 17.—One of the heaviest rains that has fallen in this section since anybody can remember fell here last night. There was a steady downpour for about two hours and the total fall is estimated at about three inches.

Threshing, which had begun early this week, will be stopped for a day or two. The wheat now being marketed here is a little light and is bringing 72c per bushel. A small crop of oats near town threshed out 100 bushels to the acre, while some other crops near made little better than twenty.

Quite a number of the men who were to have worked with threshers here have refused to go to work and others have quit on account of the wages offered by the threshing men. Most of them have offered $1.50 and board for single hands and there is a feeling among the laborers that the pay should not be less than $2 per day. One operator is paying $2 per day for his help and threshing for the same price per bushel that was charged last year. All the other operators are proposing to charge an additional cent on the bushel for threshing and only pay their help $1.50 per day. It seems likely that if they run full crews they will have to meet the laborers' demand.

WOMEN'S FEDERATION INSTALLS NEW OFFICERS

Chicago, June 17.—With simple but impressive ceremonies, officers chosen at yesterday's biennial election of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, in their twelfth biennial convention here, today were formally inducted into office. The installation ceremonies ended the real work of the convention which will, however, remain formally in session tomorrow and Friday when receptions, sight-seeing excursions and a trip on Lake Michigan will occupy the ten hours and delegates.

By Associated Press.

Glasgow, Scotland, June 17.—The hospital ship Malhe presented to the British nation by American women during the South African war was ashore today on the Pirth of Lorne on the west coast of Scotland, during a fog and it is feared she will be a total loss. RECEIVE NEWS OF DEATH OF MISS GILLIE FIELD

A telephone message was received by Mrs. J. A. King last night from Abilene, announcing the death of Miss Gillie Field, daughter of the late John Field and wife. Arrangements have been made to bring the body here on the Wichita Valley passenger train arriving at 1:25 p. m. tomorrow. The body will be taken to the cemetery from the train where brief funeral services will take place before interment. Mrs. M. G. Scoville, sister of the deceased and her husband will arrive tonight from Dallas to meet the body.

NEW CURRENCY IN CIRCULATION SOON

PAPER MONEY FOR RESERVE BANKS TO BE ISSUED IN NEAR FUTURE

Will Be Issued in Denominations of Five, Ten, Twenty, Fifty and Hundred

By Associated Press.

Washington, June 17.—Millions of dollars in paper money of a new type will be put into circulation upon the establishment of the federal reserve banks within the next few weeks. Under the federal reserve banks each of the twelve reserve banks will receive advances from the federal reserve board in the form of reserve notes, a distinctly new sort of paper money. Commercial paper will be the collateral advanced by the various banks as security for these notes.

Samples of this new paper currency are now under consideration. Includes notes of five ten, twenty, fifty and $100 denomination. The sample five dollar note has the portrait of Lincoln and the back shows a harvesting machine and figures typical of farming. The $10 note has Cleveland's portrait and a manufacturing scene. The $20 note bears Jackson's portrait and typifies commerce, having a steamship, train and other mediums of trade on the back.

Grant's portrait showed on the $50 note and Franklin's on the $100 bill. Both these bills typify art. All bills will be printed in green on the back and in black on the face. For some time the treasury department has been anxious to make paper money more uniform. At present different portraits appear on different sorts of paper money in the same denomination. It is likely portraits selected for the federal reserve notes will also be used on other paper money.

At present no treasury department official is able to estimate the amount of federal reserve notes which probably will be put into circulation this year.

DALLAS AGAIN CONSIDERING WICHITA FALLS INTERURBAN

Matter Comes Up For Attention at Meeting of Directors of Commercial Body There

The matter of an interurban from Dallas to Wichita Falls is still receiving the attention of business men of Dallas and at a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of that city the question was discussed. The following is from the news:

"Not only will an interurban railway system be considered for construction from Dallas to Denton, but that the consideration for the construction or extension of such a line from Dallas through Denton and on to Wichita Falls is to be taken up by the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, was the announcement made last night before the board of directors' meeting at the Lakewood Country Club.

"The railroad committee of the Chamber of Commerce reported through its chairman, A. M. Matson, that the plans for the successful consummation of such a road to Denton were well in hand. The committee likewise reported that a meeting of its members would be held tomorrow morning at 11 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce building to make final plans upon the proposition and to consult with Frank Kell, Joseph Kemp and Wiley Blair of Wichita Falls relative to the extension of the interurban on to Wichita Falls.

"That this move to have an interurban system not only from Dallas to Denton, but to Wichita Falls, is a move which has long been growing more imperative each day, it Dallas is to continue to keep pace in her interurban systems with other growth of the city, is the belief of many who have been given occasion to express their views upon the matter. That the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce railroad committee tomorrow morning will be fruitful of some action on the question is to be expected.

VOLCANO ACTIVE IN CALIFORNIA TODAY

MOUNT LASSER, IN NORTHERN PART, IS EMITTING SMOKE, ROCKS AND ASHES

SERIOUS DAMAGE NOT FEARED

Mountain Has Two New Cones and is Very Active—Scientists Are Much Interested

By Associated Press. Red Bluff, Cal., June 15.—Mount Lassen, ninety miles south of the Oregon line and ninety miles west of the Nevada line, the world's newest active volcano, spluttered through the early hours today. What may come from her two new cones which came into existence last night, or the third, which has been growing larger steadily since May 30, is a matter of no small conjecture. Her activities have augmented steadily—for two weeks until a burst of smoke rising 2000 feet yesterday morning was followed last night by a pillar of fire, visible a hundred miles down the Sacramento Valley.

Compare it to Krakata. Krakata in 1803, after a few minor disturbances similar to Lassen's present activity, burst into one tremendous explosion which destroyed the mountain and spread a pall of darkness over thousands of square miles. It is a mistake to put the disturbance in the class of geysers. Geysers do not eject rocks, scoria, cinder and ashes. These are the characteristics of genuine volcanoes. Lassen is in active and violent eruption."

Prof. T. J. See, observer at Mare Island Navy Yard, a scientist of international reputation, believes that the mountain 200 miles from the coast is too far away to be a source of much real danger. He says really dangerous volcanoes depend upon leakage from the ocean for the formation of vast accumulations of steam at their base. No volcano he says is active more than 125 miles from the ocean.

Have Narrow Escapes. Jesse Wright and J. Reagan of Redding, who early today reached a point within three quarters of a mile of the main crater, said they were enveloped in sulphurous fumes and saved themselves from suffocation by lying on their faces and digging into the ground. So far as could be learned today, the crater of May 30, which started as a large fissure, is the most active. From it yesterday rose a great cloud "like a burking oil well," observed Wright.

It attracted attention within a large area and lured Lance Graham, a lumber man, and seven companions up the slope until they were almost overcome by noxious vapors. The eight threw themselves into snow banks while ashes and rocks fell about them. One rock cut off Graham's arm and tore open his breast. Relay parties tried to bring him down the mountain in a blanket litter. Repeatedly he was reported dead, but the latest word said he was still alive, though fatally injured.

Anxiety was felt regarding W. J. Rushing, federal forest supervisor, who has been active in viewing the disturbance.

EFFECT OF HEARING UPON CHARACTER

REV. C. C. SMITH PREACHES ON THIS AT FIRST M. E. CHURCH SUNDAY

WHAT TO HEAR OR NOT TO HEAR

Importance of Things That Comes to One's Ears in Their Bearing Upon Life

From Monday's Daily. "He that hath ears, let him hear," was the text of the sermon Sunday evening at the First M. E. Church by Rev. C. C. Smith, the pastor. His message stressed the bearing as to its importance upon human lives and character. Mr. Smith said: "Christ used the words of the text on several occasions, thus showing his conception of the importance of the principle involved, and his emphasis on its bearing on the growth of the church. In the first three gospels they repeat themselves frequently and throughout the book of Revelations John uses practically the same words to emphasize certain important truths. To which he has given expression. These words appear at least fifteen times in the New Testament with particular emphasis in each case. There is a simple bit of philosophy underlying them, from which we can not well escape.

"That we have been given the faculty of hearing is evidence that the Creator intended us to hear. His intention flows our responsibility. Since we are moral and intellectual creatures we are to use this faculty intelligently. As with every other faculty of the soul, so with hearing, obligation goes into possession. We can well see our responsibility for hearing, since we have the faculty to hear and the power to discriminate largely as to its use. We can not weekly say, 'I am so surrounded that I must hear this and that.' The physical ear may be compelled to receive many disagreeable things, but this is only a part of hearing and this may be controlled to a very great extent if we understand that it is important. "The physical fact of hearing is closely related to the moral problem involved in the use of our ears. Hearing is accomplished through a nerve reaction. A vibration of ether strikes upon the machinery of the ear and the connecting nerve carries the vibration on to the proper brain center and that mysterious sense of which we know so little gathers an idea from the vibration. But when the vibration is past an impression still abides upon the receiving instrument. We are not the same as we were before hearing. Different processes of living and thinking effect the brains of individuals differently, so that we can not suppose that each separate thought confirms the brain somewhat and the makeup of our brain is affected by the sum total of our thinking. We hear a song and perhaps after months have elapsed we will be echoing the strains. If the song is good the impression is valuable. If the song is foul we are impoverished by so much. We hear a story, good or bad, and it lingers. We can not shake it off. We are richer or poorer because of the story. Because we listened we made that story a part of us and we can not escape it. That we gather our ideas and build up our self within, and because of this fact we should take heed to what we hear.

"That our thoughts make abiding impression is illustrated in many ways. An English speaking girl was made of all work in a home where the husband and wife often repeated words and ideas together. They had picked up some conversational German and were in the habit of talking it at the table for practice. The girl did not particularly enter into the study, but of course heard the German phrases. Presently the maid was taken ill and she constantly repeated accurately the German phrases to which she had listened but had made no effort to learn. She was automatically responding to brain impressions. Persons losing control of themselves in delirium or insanity often repeat words and ideas foreign to their normal life, but which had impressed them in some way. A lady of refinement and religious conviction was compelled to listen for years to her husband and his hired men swearing. She became insane and her husband was driven to a lunatic asylum. Her words echoed from her lips. This is the physical fact, but it is very important. The physical is the foundation through which the spiritual must express itself and we should take heed to all those things which make abiding physical impressions.

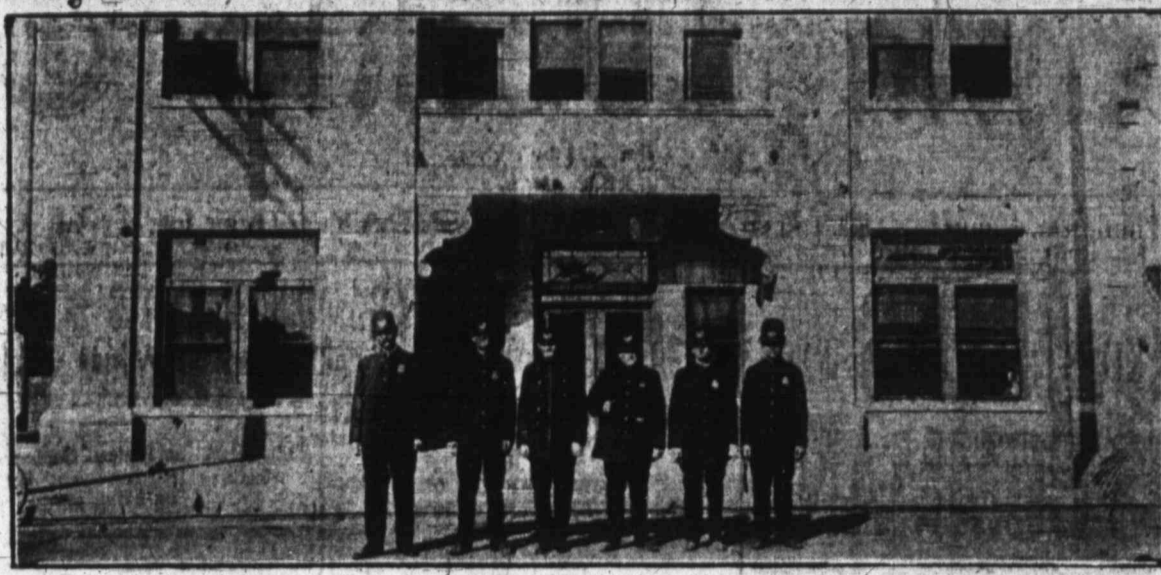

"Parents should determine to a great extent what children hear. For several years the child's thought and conversation is little more than a reflex of what he hears and sees. Parents who desire the best for their children should cause them to hear and see the best. Most any Sunday school song is better than any time. Some of the best songs are those which are only a little better, it is true, and if song leaders fully understood what is involved all church music would be of a high order. The teaching in the Sunday school will contribute to the high thinking and speaking on the part of the child. He will hear enough to bear in mind, and therefore we should cultivate his taste by associating with him the best. For child and adult there should be study to find the right environment. We should hear for ourselves, and cause the children to hear, the good in music, public address and conversation and the bad in a blanket litter. Repeatedly he was reported dead, but the latest word said he was still alive, though fatally injured.

"It makes a difference what we hear because our beliefs are largely shaped by what we receive in this way. It is sometimes said that it matters little what one believes and only the sincerity. Christ did not so teach. Some matters that have been emphasized in connection with religion may be incidental, but there are fundamentals without which religion is nothing. The divinity of the Christ—'Except ye believe that I am ye shall die in your sins.' Getting rid of sin is the only way to live. Keeping rid of sin, 'The soul that sinneth it shall die.' Living right with others, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor.' The reality of sin, 'Sin is the transgression of the law.' The seriousness of sin, 'While we were yet sinners Christ died for us.' Eternal life, 'Because I live ye shall live also.' These verities regarding sin and redemption are essential to salvation. It is more important how we hear regarding these fundamentals.

"There are those today who are trying to teach that there is no such thing as sin. One such teacher in a nearby city forced by his own logic when applied to a concrete case, declared that a man who had recently committed a very brutal murder had in reality done no wrong. Such teaching is dangerous both to the individual and to the social order. He may be a good sinner, but he was tremendous wrong nevertheless. The most casual observer should be able to see that there are at least two ways of living—a right and a wrong. No manipulation of words can change this obvious fact. It makes very little difference by what name we call it, but when a man takes the life of another there is a breaking with the natural order that is serious and must inevitably have serious consequences. From this hideous crime to the more innocent offenses there are obvious breakings with the ideals of right that have some serious consequences and inevitable reality. We may seek to ignore his fact, but our zeal will not affect how we hear along these lines as well as along others.

"Familiarity with truth makes hearing difficult. We tend to speak of people as to hearing 'general hardened.' This expression may not be very good, but it is expressive. Many auditors do not hear and it is often difficult for a teacher to elicit real earnest attention. A familiar text is announced and the auditors drop back to restful contemplation of the familiar suggestions of the text and shut themselves up against any new truth. If men would divest themselves somewhat of all pre-conceived notions and hear as though it were for the first time what a difference it would make. How far shall we grow with Bible truth? A

CANT GET MEN TO WORK ON RAILROAD

LABORERS JUMP TRACK WORK IN OKLAHOMA TO HELP IN HARVEST

NORTHWESTERN NEEDS HANDS

Farmers Offer Better Wages and Railroad Has Hard Time Keeping Sufficient Force at Work

Lack of sufficient labor to repair the tracks will delay putting the Wichita Falls & Northwestern passenger train taken off about ten days ago back into operation. The company has shipped many laborers here from Dallas and Fort Worth only to have them strike out into the harvest fields. The laborers haven't been blamed either for the wages of trackmen are only $1.50 per day while the farmers have been paying $2 and $2.50 per day and giving good country board in the bargain.

As it is the Northwestern has three extra gangs at work and is making the best headway possible but the harvest demands will hold back the work considerably. The engineer of the Oklahoma railroad commission went over the line a few days ago but his report has not yet reached the Northwestern offices here. The track is in the worst condition between Frederick and Wichita Falls.

PROHIBITION WORKER GONE, FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

Disappears While on Way Home From Church—Had Fears Trouble, He Told Friends

By Associated Press. Detroit, Mich., June 18.—The police today were without a clue as to the whereabouts of Rev. Louis R. Patmont of Westville, Ill., a prohibition worker who disappeared Monday evening while going from church services to his rooming place two miles distant.

The Rev. Mr. Patmont was found in the collar of a house near Columbia, Ill., recently where he said kidnappers had held him in captivity and treated him harshly. His disappearance had caused a nation-wide search. Several days ago after Patmont came here it is said he declared several men were following him. Believing his life in danger, he made out his will and it was signed yesterday.

HEAVY RAINS DELAYING HARVEST IN ROBY VICINITY

By Associated Press. Roby, Texas, June 18.—Heavy rains yesterday stopped harvesting of wheat and oats and caused some damage but small grain is the best for several years.

The Rev. Mr. Patmont was found in the collar of a house near Columbia, Ill., recently where he said kidnappers had held him in captivity and treated him harshly. His disappearance had caused a nation-wide search. Several days ago after Patmont came here it is said he declared several men were following him. Believing his life in danger, he made out his will and it was signed yesterday.

"We understand somewhat of the possibilities in hearing. We know how it may shape the life. We are to command this faculty as well as all other faculties. We are not only cautioned against hearing the evil, but we are commanded to hear the good. We may best annihilate the evil by embracing the good. If an evil thought intrudes itself our mind should be turned toward a good thought instead. If a vicious song persists in ringing in our ears, sing a good one till the other is gone. Avoid the low by cultivating the high. Drive out the impure by bringing in the pure. Hearing is a means by which this may be accomplished. We can bring ourselves within hearing of much that is good and can avoid hearing much that is evil. Having ears we should hear right. He that hath ears let him hear intelligently."

DENVER LINE MAY CONTROL T & B. V.

HILL RAILROAD INTERESTS LIKE TO ACQUIRE COMMAND OF ROAD

ROCK ISLAND IS ALSO FACTOR

Both Systems Want It To Give Them Outlet From North Texas To Gulf

That the Hill interests which own the Colorado & Southern and the Fort Worth & Denver will acquire the Trinity & Brazos Valley which yesterday was thrown into a friendly co-operation on the petition of the Old Colony Trust Co., of Boston, is the prediction of some of those connected with the Denver here. "These interests hold forty-nine per cent of the stock of the T. & B. V. Fifty-one per cent is held by the Rock Island. The line has been used jointly by the Fort Worth & Denver and the Rock Island, but it is believed by many that if the line was under the complete control of one of these systems it would come nearer paying for itself.

It is predicted in Fort Worth that the line will be taken over by the Rock Island, but with the Hill line in complete control the Hill line would be without an outlet to the gulf. Part of Great system. The Fort Worth & Denver and the Colorado & Southern are parts of a system that already reaches to the Pacific coast in the northwest and it is not conceived that the Hill interests would have bought the Fort Worth & Denver had they not had in mind a system extending from the Gulf to the Pacific.

Whether the Trinity & Brazos Valley is acquired by the Rock Island or the Fort Worth & Denver it is believed that the receivership will result in some advantage to the latter over the arrangement that has prevailed.

EVERYBODY TOO BUSY TO FIGHT, RECRUITER FINDS

Plenty of manful jobs, but practically no jobless men have been found here by Corporal Jesse Culley, recruiting agent to the war department. Mr. Culley recently returned here, reopening the recruiting station which was closed some months ago. "Weat have seen and other things have taken about all the available men throughout this section and there is decided scarcity of men who want to fight Mexicans, eat beans, etc. for the flag and fifteen dollars per month. As soon as the wheat crop is gathered and work is less plentiful the recruiter expects to be able to get a number of youths here to go down to Mexico and attend to that saluting business.

FIRE DAMAGES STORE OF JONES-KENNEDY

FLAMES ORIGINATING ON SECOND FLOOR CAUSED HEAVY LOSS EARLY TODAY

STOCK IS INJURED BY WATER

Extent of Damage Not Ascertained—Fire Department Extinguished Blaze in Short Time

Fire of unknown origin caused thousands of dollars' damage to the Jones-Kennedy stock early Wednesday morning. The fire which started in the northwest corner room on the second floor used as an alteration room was discovered by employees of the Chinese restaurant on Seventh street across the street from the store and the driver of the street sweeping wagon at about the same moment. The restaurant employees fired revolvers while the driver of the street sweeper telephoned in an alarm.

Department Responds Promptly. The blaze was covering from one corner window on the Indiana avenue and the Seventh street sides by the time the department arrived. Streams of water were soon centered upon the seat of the fire and although the fire was stubborn, the wooden partition and ceiling and the front of the building which is woodwork beneath a covering of tin, offering the best sort of kindling, it was extinguished in a comparatively short time.

The second floor of the building was occupied by the alteration room and the ready to wear departments. Although few garments were actually burned practically all were damaged by smoke and water. The metal ceiling on the first floor caught the water from above and distributed it over the entire first floor where it leaked through the seams and damaged all exposed stocks. Goods in cases and boxes were damaged but slightly if any.

Stock is Large One. The Jones-Kennedy stock is one of the largest in the city and the damage will run into thousands of dollars. No estimates were available today. Insurance adjusters will be here Friday to take up the adjustment of the loss. Mr. Jones, one of the partners in the firm is at Amarillo where he is running a store. He was telephoned about the fire this morning and will be here tonight. The fire engine was not used in fighting the fire, the hose being connected directly with the mains. The pressure was strong. This morning's fire was the first in seventy-two days.

WICHITA GUEST OF HONOR AT BANQUET IN SHERMAN

Frank Kell of This City Delivers Address Before Chamber of Commerce There. Frank Kell of this city was guest of honor recently at a banquet of the Chamber of Commerce at Sherman in which Mr. Kell has milling interests. In his talk Mr. Kell of course took occasion to give his home town a hearty boost and submitted some of his ideas as to city building. The following is from the Sherman Democrat: "The speaker stated that agricultural interests alone would not build a town. They are important he said, but they will not build a town without such aid as is given by the manufacturers. Wichita Falls has more manufacturers, a bigger payroll and more sidewalks than any town in Texas in proportion to its population according to Mr. Kell's statement. As an illustration of the rapid growth in property value, the visitor mentioned a lot, one hundred by one hundred and fifty feet, which he purchased for three hundred dollars in 1903 and which is now worth $35,000. He mentioned the increase in the importance of Wichita Falls as a railroad center and stated that there are at present seven rail outlets from Wichita Falls. He said that this is also due to the fact that they all work together and that there are very few 'grouches' who do not support the progressive enterprises which are beneficial to the growth of the city.

"In this connection, the speaker stated that the biggest obstacle to a city is to have the wealthiest and best fixed men of the community fall to co-operate with the progressive interests. The influence of these men upon the other men is very great. "Mr. Kell said that this work was pleasant at times and that at other times it was necessary to 'sweat blood,' but after the work that he derived a certain pleasure from it, in knowing that he had done some good for the town, whether or not he profited financially from the deal. In speaking of the city of Sherman, he noted strong symptoms of city building. He spoke highly of the character of the business men of Sherman. "The proposition of the railroad from Sherman to Ardmore was mentioned and the guest said that at a later date he would be glad to join with the business men of Sherman in building the road, but that at the present time such a road would not be the best possible investment. The benefits in general to be derived from such short roads were remarked upon. Reference was made to the young men who were present and their enthusiasm and ambition was applauded.

B. W. Gawey, a Times subscriber at Windthorst, is in the city. Mr. Gawey underwent an operation here several days ago for the removal of a growth on his face.

TWO HUNDRED MEN SENT TO OKLAHOMA

HARVEST IS WAITING FOR AS MANY MORE AS THEY WANT WORK

MORE STILL BEING RECRUITED

Jobs Await All Who Want Them Along the Northwestern Line in Oklahoma

From Tuesday's Daily. Over two hundred men have been sent to Woodward, Okla., from Wichita Falls within the past two days to work in the harvest fields there. Many of these have rode on freight trains while others have paid first class fares to get to the jobs that await them.

W. G. Ashton, assistant labor commissioner for the State of Oklahoma is still in the city recruiting men to send to Woodward and other points in Northwestern Oklahoma. He said this afternoon that four or five hundred men are still needed around Woodward.

"It takes seven men to man a header," he said. "The machine cannot be operated with less. Many farmers are without help of any character and unless we can supply them with harvest hands they will lose their crops."

Mr. Ashton says there are a million acres of wheat in thirteen northwestern Oklahoma counties and that the crop throughout that section is a bumper one.

A party is being organized to leave for Woodward tomorrow morning.

ESTIMATES OF WHEAT YIELD ARE UPSET BY PRODUCTION

Some Farms Far Above Figure Set For This Section—Price Remains at 75 Cents

From Tuesday's Daily.

Wheat is yielding all the way from twelve to twenty-five bushels per acre according to reports brought in by drivers bringing in wheat. Some fields which it was thought would make from fifteen to twenty bushels are yielding between twelve and fifteen bushels while other fields estimated from fifteen to twenty are making from twenty to twenty-five bushels. Farmers have finished threshing so that it is impossible to get any accurate reports on the yields.

Wagon wheat remained at 75 cents in the local market today. July wheat declined still further in the Chicago market today. Some farmers who hold their wheat last week on delivery this week are receiving 80 cents per bushel.

REBELS ARE DELAYED BY WRECKING OF RAILROADS

By Associated Press. Torreon, June 15, via El Paso, June 16.—The wrecking by federal forces of the railroad has become the greatest obstacle to the constitutionalist troops, an official here said today that after the capture of Zacatecas now under attack and of Aguas Calientes, General Villa expects to have little difficulty on this account in the movement toward Mexico. At some of these points Mexico is well watered and roughly cultivated and long marches can be made easily. In his campaign in the South, Villa will have co-operation of the division of the west commanded by Obregon and numbering about 18,000 men.

NATIONAL EDITORS PRAISE THIS CITY'S ENTERTAINMENT

Copies of different papers published from the Atlantic coast to the Rocky Mountains continue to come in containing write-ups of the entertainment of the National Editors when they visited here last month. Some of the papers contain full columns descriptive of Wichita Falls, Electric and Burk Burnett, and it is certain that Wichita Falls has gotten a vast amount of desirable publicity from the visit.

All agree that Wichita Falls provided one of the most delightful entertainments of the entire circuit trip and all the editors seemed impressed with the possibilities of the city.

The Rocky Mountain Magazine, published at Denver, in speaking of this city's entertainment, says: "It was the most elaborate of all," and of Wichita Falls it says, "It is the real giant of Western Texas."

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS NOT AT ALL SURPRISED

By Associated Press. Austin, Texas, June 16.—Members of the railroad commission today expressed no surprise when informed the Trinity & Brazos Valley had been placed in receivers' hands. Railroad Commissioner Williams said: "I am not surprised as the financial condition has been poor for some time. We could not increase the freight rate on that line without increasing the rates on the lines of its competitors which would not have helped the situation."

LOST—Two pony mares; one brown brandy on left shoulder. Will pay for information leading to their recovery. If located write or call by phone to P. O. Williams, Crowell, Texas, or inform the Times. 30 1/2

LABORERS BEING SENT TO OKLAHOMA

FREIGHT TRAIN THIS MORNING CARRIES EIGHTY-TWO TO HARVEST

DEPARTMENT OFFICIAL HERE

Assistant Commissioner of Labor in City to Get Men—Railroads Prepare for Harvest

From Monday's Daily.

Bound for the harvest fields around Woodward, Oklahoma, eighty-two men left Wichita Falls this morning at ten o'clock on a Wichita Falls and Northwestern freight train. The men were quartered in cabooses and while railroad officials would not comment themselves, there was an understanding that no fares would be required.

The men were recruited by W. G. Ashton, assistant labor commissioner of Oklahoma. Mr. Ashton remained here to try to secure more men and teams if possible. Telegraphic advices from Woodward this morning were to the effect that ideal harvest weather prevailed there and that one thousand men would be wanted in that section for the harvest starting tomorrow.

Have Big Task. The labor department of Oklahoma and the railroads are doing all they can to supply labor, but the task of finding a sufficient number of men is a difficult one.

The wheat crop in that section, it is estimated, is four times larger than any ever harvested there and a great number of men are wanted.

The Northwestern is making great efforts to be prepared to handle the grain when it starts moving. The road has more than 2,000 box cars fixed to receive grain.

Railroads Are Ready. Forces have been at work here and at Mangum and Elk City for several weeks getting the cars into shape to receive grain. Solid train loads of empties are being shipped out of Wichita Falls daily and distributed to points along the line. One train load Saturday carried sixty-two cars to points north of Woodward.

C. C. Smith, superintendent of transportation for the M. & T., estimated the grain crops including hay and grain products on the Northwestern this year at 10,200 cars. His estimate for the entire Katy system is 20,920 cars, showing that the Northwestern will furnish nearly half as much grain traffic as the whole system.

Making Up Second Gang. A second gang of men was being made up this afternoon to go to Woodward, Okla., this afternoon or tonight. Three hundred thousand acres of grain is ready for the binders in the country around Woodward and north of there. Mr. Ashton, the representative of the Oklahoma department of labor, who is in the city, says that fully 1,000 men are needed and needed badly. He is keeping close touch with the situation and will remain here as long as he can get men.

He says that he will know when enough men are secured and that none need fear of going there and not finding a job as he will send men as soon as sufficient help has been furnished. Mr. Ashton is stopping at the St. James Hotel while in the city.

WITH BATTLE IN PROGRESS, GOVERNOR GIVES BANQUET

By Associated Press. Mazatlan, June 14, via wireless to San Diego, June 15.—The grizzly duel between federal forts and constitutionalist batteries continued all day yesterday. While the guns roared and shells flew over the city the governor of Mazatlan entertained a party of officials and friends at a banquet.

The Barbadoes are said to be free from malaria because the tiny fish known as "Millions" devour the mosquito larvae.

STEPS TO RECOUR FINANCES

Bonds Are Redeemed and City Borrow Money Back To Meet Its Expenses

From Tuesday's Daily. The city of Wichita Falls is now down to the point where it must hook the family plate in order to get by. The general fund became exhausted last Friday. Temporary relief was given by the sale of a note held against a prominent citizen for street paving. The city had paid for the instructions as to their duties.

At a special meeting of the city council held yesterday afternoon Mayor Britain was authorized to redeem some city hall bonds held by Messrs. Kemp and Kell who have agreed to loan the money back to the city. The bonds will be redeemed from funds out of the interest and sinking funds in which there is a large balance. This balance, however cannot be touched by the city for any other purpose than for paying interest or redeeming bonds.

T. & B. V. RAILWAY IN RECEIVERS' HANDS

TEXAS LINE ALLEGED TO BE INSOLVENT IN PROCEEDINGS TODAY

INTEREST ON BONDS UNPAID

J. W. Robbins of Houston, President of Road, is Made Receiver—Trust Company Takes Action

By Associated Press. Dallas, Texas, June 16.—The Trinity & Brazos Valley Railroad was thrown into friendly receivership today by United States Judge Edward Meek on petition of the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston. The road is one of the transportation companies between north and south Texas.

The Old Colony Trust Company acted for bondholders, alleging that the road had defaulted on interest on bonds amounting to $5,760,000 due January 1, 1914; also that in addition it owes $1,000,000 more that it is unable to pay and that the company is insolvent.

J. W. Robbins of Houston, president and general manager of the company, was appointed receiver. The Trinity & Brazos Valley railroad connects Dallas and Fort Worth with Houston and Galveston and is comparatively a new line. It was built originally by the Rock Island and Colorado & Southern interests. Of recent years it has been recognized as closely allied with the Burlington interests.

The highest inland building is the new Chamber of Commerce at St. Louis. The height above the street level is 495 feet.

THREE IOWA PARK STORES BURGLARIZED SUNDAY NIGHT

Sheriff's Department Receives Word of Several Depredations Upon Business Houses

From Monday's Daily.

The sheriff's department was notified this morning of three burglaries at Iowa Park last night. The stores of J. H. Tanner, hardware; Akers and Baker were burglarized.

At Tanner's hardware store a shot gun, a number of pocket knives and a small electric flashlight were taken. A small amount in cash was taken at Akers and Baker's grocery and at Bonsey and Brubaker's twenty-five boxes of ten cent cigars were taken.

There is no clue to the robbers but they are believed to be a gang of youths who have been operating in a number of smaller towns between Wichita Falls and Childress recently.

WANT LOCAL EXPRESSION ON NEWLAND TRUST BILL

Chamber of Commerce Will Probably Be Asked to Memorialize Congress On Subject

The Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce will have an opportunity to express itself on the Newland bill now before Congress. Letters have been received from other commercial bodies urging that the Chamber of Commerce adopt a resolution to be forwarded to representatives in Congress asking for a delay in this legislation to give an opportunity for more discussion and study.

The Dallas Chamber of Commerce has adopted such a resolution. The matter has assumed considerable interest in view of the dispatches today indicating that President Wilson will urge such legislation notwithstanding the campaign for postponement from certain quarters.

FEDERAL RESERVE BOARD NOMINATIONS MADE TODAY

Boston Man's Name is Substituted for That of Simmons of St. Louis This Morning

By Associated Press. Washington, June 15.—The following members of the federal reserve board were nominated by the president today for the following terms: Charles S. Hamlin of Boston, two years.

T. B. Jones of Chicago, six years. Paul Warburg of New York, four years. A. C. Miller of San Francisco, ten years.

These nominations were sent to the senate. E. C. Simmons of St. Louis declined appointment to the federal reserve board. Charles S. Hamlin of Boston, now assistant secretary of the treasury, was designated in his place when the nominations for the entire board go to the senate.

Tom Parker, editor of the Iowa Park Herald, was down on business today. He reports two threshing outfits started in that vicinity Saturday afternoon and that threshing has started in earnest today. The yield of wheat is estimated to be about $25,000 a year. He said the wheat will be around twenty bushels, he estimated. North of Iowa Park, he says, there is considerable wheat standing. In some places there is several days work for the binders.

ALBANIAN REBELS ARE REPULSED TODAY

PRINCE COMMANDS DEFENDERS

William of Wied in Personal Charge of Government Troops After Colonel is Killed

By Associated Press. Durazzo, Albania, June 15.—The government troops under personal leadership of Prince William today repulsed an attack on the Albanian capital by Muslim insurgents. At the beginning of the fighting the insurgents gained an advantageous position but after Col. Thomason, the Dutch commander of the gendarmie had been killed, Prince William placed himself at the head of the defenders and succeeded in silencing the rifle and artillery fire of the attacking force after three hours fighting.

Blue jackets from the international fleet lying off the Albanian coast went ashore to guard foreign legations. The attack was a surprise, beginning at five a. m. in three separate columns. Official statements had declared that the rebellion against the rule of Prince William had been defeated and that the remainder of the rebel forces was surrounded.

It is estimated the government has 5000 trained men who are said to be opposed by about 27,000 insurgents, tribesmen without discipline who are scattered over a wide range of country. Durazzo occupies a peninsula and has a natural defense, easily protected.

MEXICAN DELEGATES AT NIAGARA SAID TO HAVE TAKEN THIS STAND

Mediators and Delegates Resume Discussion of Possibilities for New Officers in Mexico

By Associated Press. Washington, June 15.—Secretary Bryan conferred with President Wilson over progress of Mexican mediation today and immediately afterward forwarded a long telegram to the American delegates at Niagara Falls. The telegram, it is understood, concerned the character and personnel of the proposed provisional government and the attitude of Mexican delegates who object to a provisional executive with constitutionalist leanings.

Mr. Bryan would not discuss the nature of the conference. He said mediation was progressing satisfactorily. The opinion prevailed here that the United States would not recede in its desire to have Huerta's successor in the office of Arts and Letters. The son is the property of Robert U. Johnson of New York.

Rebel agents here have received no reply from the mediators to the offer of Carranza to send delegates to Niagara Falls.

Informal conferences resumed at Niagara Falls, June 15.—The American delegates, the mediators and Mexican delegates resumed their informal conferences today on the personnel and form of choosing the new provisional government of Mexico. More names were discussed, but the American delegates have not yet obtained from the constitutionalists a complete list of persons who would be acceptable to them.

Publication in some newspapers of charges of bad faith against the American government for its espousal at this time of a constitutionalist for provisional president brought no formal comment from the American delegates. Emilio Rabasa of the Mexican delegation, however, authorized the statement that he charges of bad faith against the United States had been made by the Mexican delegates at any time.

One resolution also proposed an investigation of published reports that a treasury department employe had been sent to examine the mine property at the order of John Skelton Williams, controller of the currency.

To look on the bright side of life and its affairs with an enthusiastic belief that everything is all right and for the best is ideal.

The friends of Candidate Ferguson had a great rally at Dallas Saturday, and some who made speeches and who had before predicted his election by 50,000.

Among the many curious developments of the present state campaign, none will arouse more interest and general comment than John M. Duncan's communication to the press of May 30th.

During the fourteen years since 1900 when Governor James S. Hogg first proposed and discussed before the people the amendments offered by him to the state constitution there has never been an hour when they would not have been overwhelmingly adopted had they been submitted by the legislature to a vote of the people.

History related by a personal witness, who was on the ground at the State capital, when Hogg made his personal appeal to the committee on Constitutional Amendments, is worth more than the argument of candidates for governor during the heat of debate.

In some cities there is an ordinance that forbids boys and girls under sixteen years of age from driving automobiles, and not then unless they can give satisfactory evidence that they know how and can drive the machines with safety to themselves and others.

He is stating the truth within the knowledge of every legislator who has served the state from that day until this.

two candidates for governor are making the same assertion in their speech.

Then Duncan goes on to say: "I challenge the statements of these gentlemen as grossly incorrect and misleading, and affirm that the Hogg amendments have never, in either form or substance, been enacted into statute laws."

As proof of this contention he submits data as follows: "These are the facts: After Governor Hogg's death in March, 1906, there was a deep and widespread feeling in Texas that the people had been betrayed and the great champion of their cause cruelly wronged by the nefarious work of the corporate interests in defeating submission of the amendments."

This acquiescence in their contention that statutes on the subject would be effective was all the corporations wanted. They knew how to deal with mere statutory measures. If there is anything in which the shrewd lawyers of the lobby are more expert than in another, it is in emulating a statute in the making.

That legislature passed some laws on the same subject as those of the Hogg amendments, which for the most part have proven utterly worthless.

The chief effect of these laws has been to delude the people into the belief that the Hogg amendments have become the law of the land, and to delay indefinitely the relief they proposed.

And that the people can draw a contrast between the statute laws passed and the original amendments he says: "I will now take up the amendments by the subjects in their order as proposed by Governor Hogg and show that none of them have ever, in either form or essence, been passed into laws."

They provide in substance: 1. That the power to issue stocks or bonds in a special franchise or franchise, the right and duty to regulate, supervise, limit, restrict and control which shall be vested in the state.

It is clear that the effectiveness of these prohibitions depends upon the provision in regard to what checks, vouchers, etc., shall show, yet in the pretense of a law passed on this subject in 1907, both the check and the voucher requirement and the prohibition against the payment of corporate funds for salaries or expenses of lobbyists, were carefully omitted.

has swarmed about this capitol from the beginning of your regular session until this hour.

He named "the liquor lobby, the railroad lobby and the commercial securities lobby." He spoke of it as an "organized," "professional," a "trained," "hired," "lobby," the "boldest," "most arrogant," "most formidable" lobby ever assembled at Austin.

It requires no gift of prophecy to accurately predict that these expanded laws will not be enacted until legislators are so busy with the Hogg amendments and other public officials shall again enjoy their most valued perquisites, and the lobby its more powerful instrument.

Who is responsible for this slaughter of the Hogg amendments in the present attempt to enact them into laws? Can any one doubt that the skilled and insidious hand of the very interests which they were intended to restrain was in it all?

We are still without a constitutional provision defining a corporate franchise and asserting state control over it as defined.

The first and highest necessity is a franchise law against lobbyists, for as long as that bar to free and representative legislation exists it is practically useless to discuss before the people measures affecting the special interests.

I have taken the trouble to clip and present this communication of John M. Duncan to The Times, because, next to Governor Hogg, the people of this state never had a braver defender of their rights in the state legislature.

During the 20th Legislature, as correspondent of the Fort Worth Gazette, in the general session, and as Journal clerk of the House in the special session, I became intimately acquainted with the lobbyist and the lobbyist both Hogg and Duncan. In my estimation they were the ablest and most sincere public men I ever met.

It is a step in the wrong direction. That theory followed out means the absolute destruction of, not only the tenant, but of every producer as well.

THE COST OF OFFICE

A long, long time ago there came into existence a homely aphorism to the effect that "those who dance must pay the fiddler."

In the arena of politics the expression quoted above is especially applicable, as many would-be and many now bankrupt statesmen will bear witness if not cheerful testimony, to while a regular anvil chorus of those who would have indulged in the fascination except for the lack of funds will give a hearty amen.

It is not the purpose of this article to offer a remedy, for in truth we have come to offer, but the following editorial from the Wichita Falls Daily Times is offered as a possible solution of the problem:

"Governor Colquitt's campaign expenses for the first time he succeeded in securing the nomination were about $20,000, and it is believed that they were nearly that much for the second term. Candidate Ferguson expects his campaign expenses to cost him individually at least $30,000.

Men and women do not ask for charity. They only want the money they should receive for a hard day's work.

It has been stated in the Times that the glove factory were only paying the girls at first to encourage them. This initial payment appears to have been only a bait.

It is true that in the factory districts of the large cities men, women and children are overworked and underpaid, but I feel sure that the business people of Wichita Falls would not want to see or buy any of the gloves if they thought these girls were toiling their lives away day by day for almost nothing.

That's the true story of John L. Sullivan's last drink. Eight years have passed and the John L. Sullivan who was tottering on the edge of the gutter looks eight years younger today than he did that night.

provide a nice place to live, and enough clothes to work in, at least. And from the statement in the Sunday's paper setting forth the Glove Factory's ideas, no poor girl has an opportunity of learning the glove making trade, for the reason that she must work hard for practically nothing until she is an expert in the business, when she will receive from $1.00 to $1.50 per day.

A Good Time For Everybody

The Chief Magistrate to Transact Business This Summer in a Tent—A Comfort to the Open-Air Life.

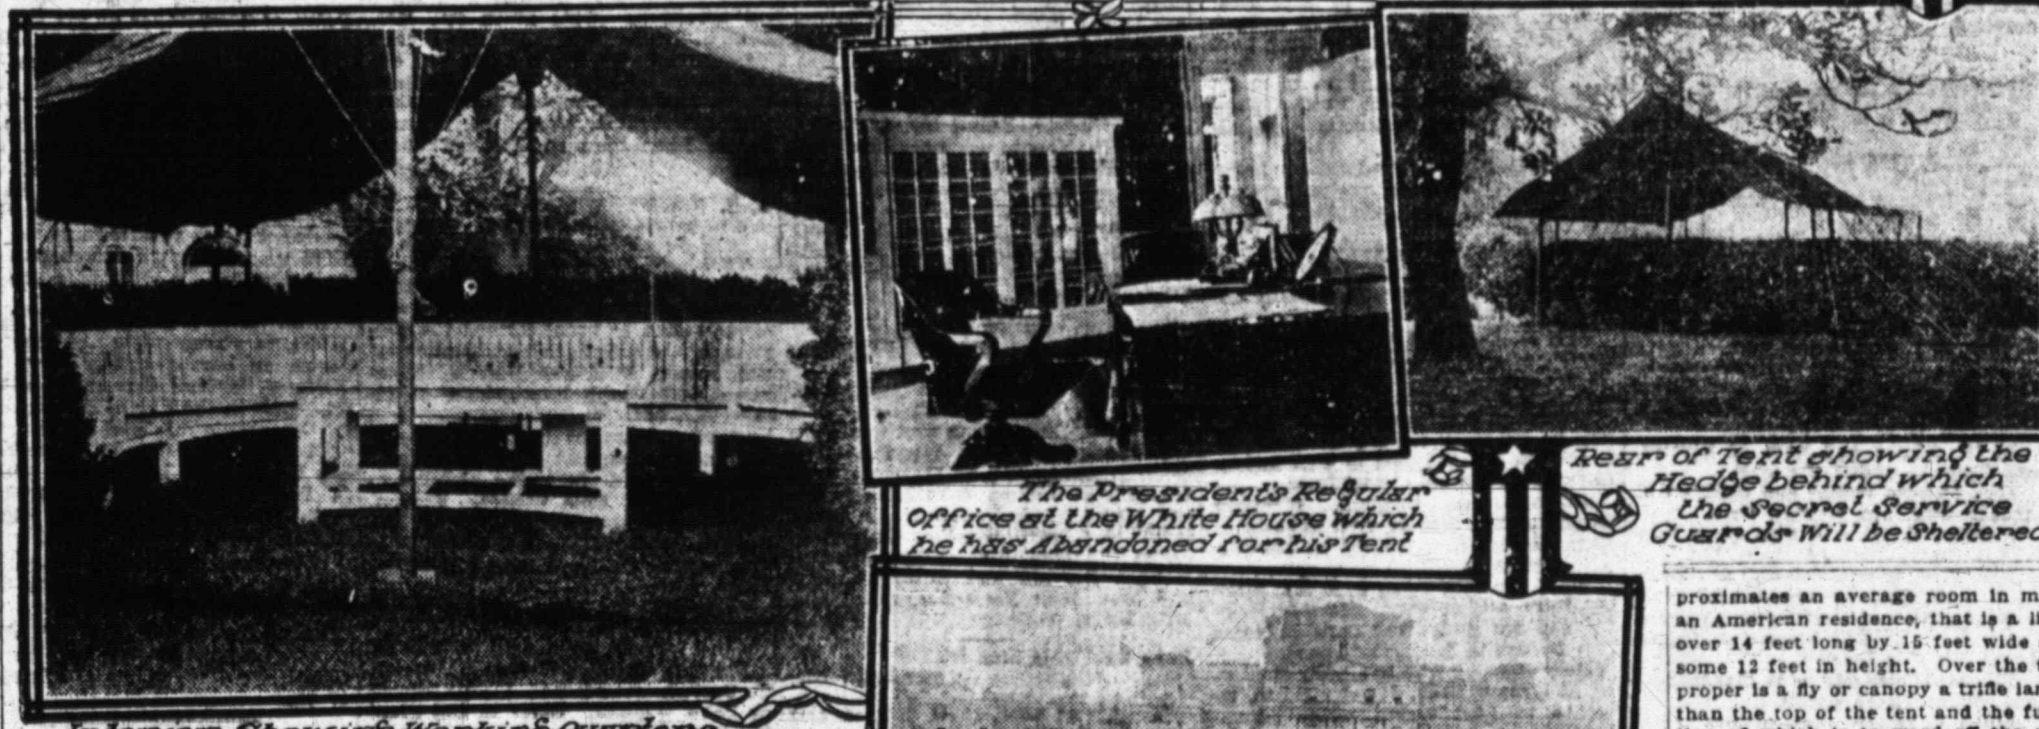

President Wilson is smashing another precedent. In some respects the latest evidence of disregard for time-honored customs is the most radical departure he has made. The Chief Magistrate is going to transact business this summer in a tent. No previous occupant of the White House has done anything of that sort unless you count the occasions when Lincoln visited the Union Army in the field, or when Theodore Roosevelt indulged in a hunting trip. Moreover, such instances as the above are in no sense a parallel to the Wilson innovation, because they were but temporary expedients and served only for a day or two. President Wilson is a pioneer in establishing the executive office under canvas and he has emphasized the novelty of the proceeding by having the tented business establishment set up on the White House grounds at Washington instead of at some seashore or mountain resort where its existence might seem more natural. The shelter of khaki duck in which the head of the nation will wrestle with the problems of State is located in a shady and breezy nook in the rear of the Presidential Mansion and only a steps' throw from the permanent Executive Office to which the President can repair in the event of a severe thunder storm or other interruption to his work.

Credit Due De. Grayson.

While President Wilson has been given credit for this overturning of White House routine it may as well be confessed that the credit ought to go to the President's personal physician—the naval surgeon who is detailed to look after the health of the Chief Magistrate. It was he who induced the nation's ruler to consent to "camp out" for the summer season, and it was he who accomplished, either, without a deal of persuasion.

It was the trouble in Mexico that led the President's advisors to urge that the Presidential business establishment take to the tent. Until the Mexican situation became acute the men close to the President had hoped that this year the Chief Magistrate might enjoy the rest and relaxation of a well-earned vacation. Last year, it may be remembered, the tariff legislation kept the Chief Executive in Washington pretty much all through the heated term, but this year there appeared ground for hope that Congress would adjourn early in June, and let the bones of the government get away for a period of relaxation at the summer home at Cornish, N. H., which the Wilsons leased again this season, as they did last.

Then came the Mexican flare-up and what, with the prolonged fight over the canal tolls repeal question, it became apparent that not only must the President stay on the job in Washington, but that with Congress "on his hands" until past mid-summer and the Mexicans playing hob, there was scant chance that the man at the helm of the government could get away even for brief outings. The plan for tent life was the answer to this dilemma. The physicians said that the President must be well fortified with nerve force to stand the strain. There is no nerve tonic in the world equal to fresh air. Presto, the tent pitched on the lawn and fitted with all the essential modern office facilities so that the occupant might almost imagine himself in his office indoors if he did not pause to look out at the greenery or to listen to the birds singing in the nearby trees.

Air Cooling A Failure.

The setting up of this tent in the White House garden is, in effect, a confession of the failure of schemes to cool the White House offices—that is to maintain a healthfully cool temperature in this one-story building during the torrid summer days. Experts have been wrestling with that problem ever since the Executive Office building was erected during the Roosevelt administration. They even went to the trouble of installing an elaborate air-cooling plant that was so ingenious that it attracted much attention. Blocks of ice were placed in a sort of refrigerator in the basement and the iced air from this cold storage compartment was forced by means of fans into and through the President's offices. It was a beautiful plan in theory, but the only trouble about it was that in practice the air was not only cold, but damp, and it looked like a case where the cure was worse than the disease.

The office in the tent ought to be considerably cooler. It is shaded by trees, and yet it is in a position to benefit by all the breezes that blow, especially the south breeze which, according to Washington tradition, is the prevailing one in summer. Furthermore, the air in the vicinity of the tent ought to feel a cooling influence from the waters of the very beautiful fountain located directly south of the White House. This fountain located in line with what the architect intended should be regarded as the front of the White House is seen by comparatively few visitors to Washington, and yet it is fully as beautiful as the lished in white enamel and is consequently thoroughly in harmony with the setting afforded by the khaki-colored tent and the green lawn and shrubbery. There are only three pieces—a chair for the President, a work table of generous size and a distinctive semi-circular settee that suggests a pretentious lawn seat such as is sometimes installed facing a fountain in the formal garden of an elaborate estate.

The outlook from the Presidential tent is most attractive. At the rear of the tent is a lofty hedge behind which Secret Service men can be sheltered as they stand guard over the Chief Magistrate. In the opposite direction the occupant of the tent looks out upon the famous White House flower garden which extends to the Executive Office building. Over the roof of the latter a glimpse may be gained of that massive granite pile, the State War and Navy Department building which cost Uncle Sam $11,000,000 and is claimed to be the largest office building in the world. The flower garden at the White House is one beautiful spot at the Mansion which is not open to inspection except to intimate friends of the Presidential family. The garden was first laid out during the Roosevelt administration and is well-kept in accordance with the personal preferences of each successive Mistress of the White House.

Need of Quiet.

Tent life for the President of the United States will not only mean an opportunity for the busy Executive to work in the coolest and most healthful environment in Washington, but it will also afford comparative quiet from the clamor of crowd that ever then surges around the Executive Office. Only the other day when a Cabinet meeting was in progress Uncle Sam's "board of directors" all but had to suspend business because a powerful brass band on a visit to Washington happened to choose that particular time to treat the President to a serenade. President Wilson himself needs quiet for his more serious work. Time and again during the past year when important business was in hand he has sought the seclusion of his study on the second floor of the White House and absented himself from the Executive Offices for a day or more at a time. His new tent will enable him to secure something of the same seclusion in summer without being cooped up indoors.

proximates an average room in many an American residence, that is a little over 14 feet long by 15 feet wide and some 12 feet in height. Over the tent proper is a fly or canopy a trifle larger than the top of the tent and the function of which is to ward off the rays of the sun as well as to afford extra protection in the event of heavy rain. As used in the army, such tents have sides after the fashion of all regulation wall tents, but it is not anticipated that there will be any use for sides in the case of the tent at the White House. When the President is occupying the tent he will want the benefit of all the air that is stirring, and when the weather is so inclement that sides might be needed for protection the President, presumably, will not be making use of the tent.

The feature which distinguishes this tent from the similar type of tent familiar to all our readers is the ventilator which has place just under the ridge of the tent and is sewed securely to the tent so as to form a part of it. The ventilator, the principle of which is very simple, consists of a strip of duck 14 feet long and 18 inches in width in which are four holes each about a foot in diameter. The warm air being lighter will ascend through these holes and escape from the tent, and thus a circulation of air is maintained. Electric communicative wires connect the tent with the White House offices proper. There are push buttons on the table provided for the use of the President and also a telephone connection.

Simple Furniture.

Artistic but simple is the furniture which has been provided. It is furnished with the President's new tent ap-

Don't Wait For The Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Wichita People's Experience. Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches, dizziness spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally recur with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Wichita Falls proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

C. N. Harrison, 1925 Eighth St., Wichita Falls, Texas, says: "About two years ago I had trouble from my kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills had been used in my father's family and proved reliable for removing kidney annoyances, so I used them. They removed the lameness across my back and other troubles. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Harrison had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. (Advt.)

VILLA AGAIN TAKES COMMAND OF FORCES

WILL BE IN COMPLETE COMMAND OF ZONE GIVEN HIM BY CARRANZA

ARRANGEMENT PECULIAR ONE

Constitutionalist Governor Gives Ex-Bandit Free Rein For Advance On Capital

By Associated Press.
El Paso, Texas, June 19.—General Villa will leave Torreon today for the front above Zacatecas. This will begin the peculiar arrangement between him and General Carranza, which will allow Villa full command of the zone which he dominates and of any further territory he can take to the south.
No announcement has been made concerning the status of General Natera, appointed by Gen. Carranza as head of the central zone, which Villa by his insistence has taken over. The general plan of the campaign is now along the lines drawn up before Carranza put Natera in command of the new zone. Villa, who has taken Juarez, Ojinaga, Chihuahua City, Gomez Palacios, Torreon and San Pedro in northern Mexico, all within the last few months, will now have a clear road to the national capital so far as Carranza is concerned, according to the arrangements which were made after Villa had tendered his resignation. Villa's zone will include Chihuahua and western Coahuila which his troops already have taken, and any territory directly south which he can capture.
Gen. Pablo Gonzales, commander of the eastern division, will proceed south as best he may, along the east coast, investing points to the south of Tampico. Gen. Obregon in the west will move along the Pacific seaboard. His troops now are investing Mazatlan. General Carranza will remain at Saltillo for the present, directing Obregon and Gonzales, but it is said on authority that Villa as commander of the north and center, will work out plans for his own campaign, buy his own supplies and supervise the civil offices along his route. He now has a large supply of ammunition which was amplified by the receipt of the entire cargo of the steamship Antilla which was discharged recently at Tampico.

EIGHT MEN ARE COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY AT VERA CRUZ

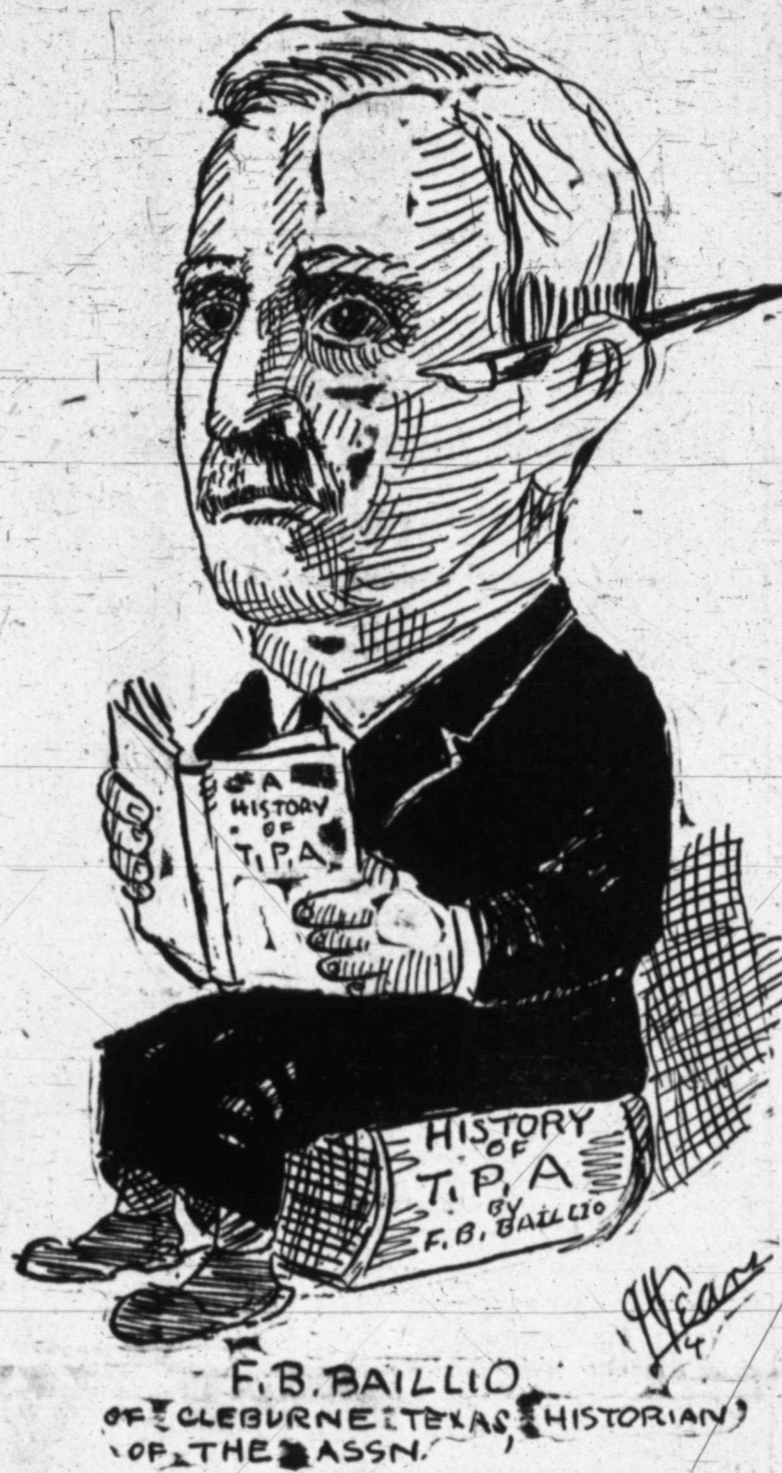

Saved Wounded Comrades While Under Fire—Daniels Take Appropriate Action

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 19.—Six privates, one corporal and a sergeant in the marine corps today were commended by Secretary Daniels for gallantry displayed in removing two of their wounded comrades to a place of safety while Vera Cruz was under fire recently. Private Haggerty, one of those killed in the occupation of Vera Cruz and E. A. Gisburne, a third class electrician of the battleship Florida were the two rescued. With Haggerty mortally wounded, Gisburne, himself wounded, attempted to carry him out of the range of fire. His efforts were without success, however, until the men who were today commended proceeded under an effective fire and removed both wounded men. A medal of honor has already been awarded Gisburne.

SOME INTIMATE VIEWS OF THE BIG GUNS OF THE PRESS ASSOCIATION

OIL FIELD IS VISITED BY EDITORS THIS AFTERNOON

Banquet At Lake Tonight—Busy Session Of Association Held This Morning

SELECT 1915 CONVENTION CITY TOMORROW

Papers Covering Various Topics Are Read Today—Convention Comes To Close Saturday

Texas editors this afternoon are seeing the great gas wells and the oil wells at Petrolia and are being entertained by Editor Thompson of the Petrolia Round-Up and the citizens of that enterprising town. About seventy-five automobiles were required to carry the editors to the oil field from here. The automobile caravan left the city shortly after two o'clock and was scheduled to arrive at Petrolia before three. At Petrolia refreshments will be served and the editors taken for a drive through the oil and gas field.

One of the mighty gas wells there will be opened to show the terrific pressure. It is also probable that an oil well will be drilled into the sand for the edification of the visitors. Editor Thomason in extending the invitation for the visit on behalf of Petrolia boosted that for that town this morning in his characteristic manner and promised his hearers that what they would see would astound them.

The trip to Petrolia was made up the river road where the visitors saw thousands of acres of wheat, the shocks standing about as thickly as they can be piled in the field. On the return-trip the upland road will be used.

Automobiles will carry the passengers directly to the lake on their return to the city and a banquet, which is chief feature of Wichita Falls entertainment will be served the visitors. This banquet will be followed by a ball.

The selection of the next place of meeting and the election of officers was announced as a special order of business for 10:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Tomorrow morning's session will open at 9:30. It is likely that this session will continue until final adjournment. Some of the editors will catch this afternoon trains for their homes while others will remain until Sunday. Those who remain will attend a complimentary matinee race program at the Lake Wichita Course.

This morning's program was opened with a paper, "All About the Job Office and Job Printing" by L. E. Stone of Wichita Falls. The membership committee reported application for membership and the following were elected:

BOTH SIDES UNRELENTING, MEDIATION FACES FAILURE

United States' Firm Stand With Regard To Presidency Halts Negotiations

INTERVENTION OR RECOGNITION UNLIKELY

No Session Is Held At Niagara Falls Today—Minister Naon Visits Officials At Washington

By Associated Press.
Washington, June 19.—Mediation stands today on the brink of failure. Only concessions by President Wilson or Huerta can save it.

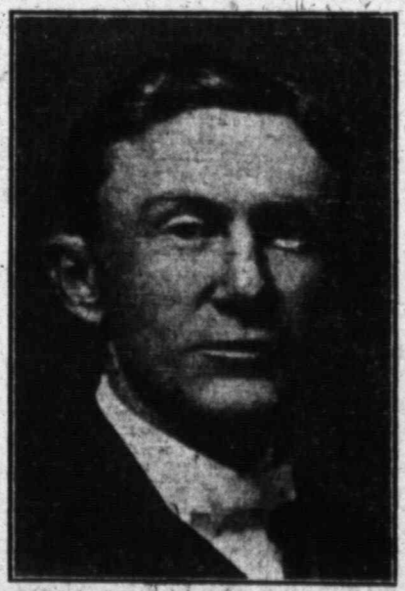

While the Niagara conference halted, Minister Naon of Argentina, one of the three South American mediators returned to Washington for a conference with Secretary Bryan and probably to see President Wilson today. He planned to start back to Niagara Falls tonight, carrying word whether the conference shall proceed or disband.

Announcement at the White House that the President stands squarely on the statement by American delegates seemed to make it certain that the United States will not be satisfied with anything less than the choice of a man approved by Constitutionalists to head the new provisional government. The firm attitude of the Huerta delegates for a so-called neutral seemed to hold out no hopes of a break in the deadlock.

The situation, admittedly another crisis, was discussed in the cabinet meeting and some sort of an official statement from the President himself informing the public in full in case mediation fails, is promised. Officials closest to the president declared that all talk of further armed intervention or of recognition of Carranza or Villa at this stage was unfounded.

WILSON STANDS FIRM ON HIS PREVIOUS STATEMENT.

By Associated Press. Washington, June 19.—President Wilson stands squarely on the statement given out at Niagara Falls by the American delegates and will accept no settlement of the Mexican problem which was not based on the principles outlined therein. This was made clear today by officials after the president had an early conference with Secretary Bryan. If mediation fails, the president plans to issue a statement fully informing the public of the position of the administration and outlining his future course.

The president has no plans for going before Congress with any phase of the Mexican question and all talk of further armed intervention is groundless at the present time according to officials in close touch with the situation. The same, they say, may be said of reports that the United States plans to recognize General Carranza, General Villa or any other faction in Mexico.

Romulo S. Naon, minister from Argentina and one of the mediators in the South Niagara conference, arrived here, unexpectedly today. He did not go to the legation, but took quarters in a hotel near the White House. The return of the mediator to the capital undoubtedly for a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Bryan or both at a time when the Niagara conference is marking time and threatened with complete failure was regarded as highly significant.

If it was known among officials that Minister Naon was returning, news of it was carefully guarded. The minister went directly from the train which brought him from New Haven and Cambridge, where he had been attending commencement exercises at Yale and Harvard Universities to the Upton hotel where he was close to the state department and the White House.

At the White House, it was said that if President Wilson knew of Mr. Naon's visit to Washington he had not imparted the information to officials there. It was thought, however, that the mediators visit had been one of the subjects discussed at an early conference between the president and secretary of state. The Argentine legation professed not to know of the minister's arrival. Mr. Naon at first denied himself to all interviewers. It was understood, however, that conferences with an administration official had been arranged later.

The issue of the note of the Mexican delegates by Senator Rahan and the reply of the American delegates published last night after it had been approved by President Wilson, admittedly has brought the mediation conference to a point where it is generally expected to fall unless one side gives way. The Huerta delegates, standing firm for the selection of a neutral for the provisional presidency and the American delegates no less firm that the new executive shall be one fully approved by the constitutionalists are confronted with a situation which only a modification of demands on one side can ameliorate.

With the mediation as a solution of the Mexican difficulty in an admittedly precarious stage, attention

SPIRITING OF WITNESSES CHARGE TAKEN BACK TODAY

Counsel For Collier Storstad Withdraws Intimation He Made in Thursday's Session.

By Associated Press. Quebec, June 19.—The Empress of Ireland wreck inquiry opened today with explanations and apologies by G. S. Haight of counsel for the owners of the collier Storstad which sank the Empress. He said he had not meant to imply yesterday that the Canadian Pacific railway owners of the Empress had tried to spirit witnesses away. This was the impression made by Mr. Haight yesterday when he placed on the stand James Galway, a quartermaster of the Empress, who testified that the steering gear was defective Galway had told him, he said, that he was about to be sent to England. Capt. Stanton, life saving superintendent of the Canadian Pacific, said that the Empress life boats, belts and other equipment had been tested at Quebec on May 23 and found to be in perfect condition. Lord Mercer said he had heard it suggested that bodies were found with belts on but with heads under water. The captain replied the belts would keep the heads above water if put on properly. There were clear instructions on each belt he said. Lord Mercer remarked he did not believe passengers ever read them.

Olin Sadje, second mate of the steamship Aiden testified that when the Empress passed his ship on the St. Lawrence before the collision he noticed that the Empress was steering badly and he had to port his helm to avoid her. Hans Alvoren, another sailor on the Aiden corroborated him.

IN DEFENSE OF THE GLOVE FACTORY.

Editor of The Times: Referring to the several articles that have been contained in the columns of your paper concerning the trouble existing between some of the girls who have been connected with Hilburn Brothers' Glove Factory and Mr. T. A. Hilburn, manager of the above institution, I wish to say in the beginning that I have no connection with Hilburn Brothers' Glove Factory further than to be their sales agent.

I have had occasion as their sales agent to be about their factory quite a good deal of my time, and know a good deal about the condition existing there, and will say that I have never been about any institution where young ladies were employed that maintained better conditions for the comfort of the young ladies.

Now, it seems that the contention that the young ladies make is that they were not paid in proportion to the amount of work that they have done. I wish to say that I began life before my majority managing skilled labor and with the exception of but very few years have been in the management of same, and I have yet to see my first apprentice in any line who would not be dear help at any price.

Impetus was given the Dallas-Wichita Falls interurban movement at a meeting held in Dallas Thursday at which J. A. Kemp and Wiley Blair of this city were present.

There is no doubt but that the line would pay, said he. "And that the towns along the way would support it. All that we need is to go after the matter unceasingly."

A committee was appointed by Mr. Matson and the body will make the trip to Wichita Falls by Denton, and gather prospectus data and form an estimate on the cost.

The committee selected to go to Wichita Falls and look over the interurban matter is composed of William Doran, chairman, H. M. Hughes and J. C. Duke. The committee will probably make the trip one day next week.

"Many of us fail to push our papers to the mark to which they should go because we are handicapped soliciting printing, figuring on jobs, worrying over proof reading, attending to collecting when we should be using the time to improve the product of the newspaper, so we can keep abreast of the times and keep in close touch with requirements of our readers."

HISTORIAN BAILLIO THANKED FOR HIS UNSELFISH LABORS

Convention Adopts Heartfelt Resolution of Gratitude To Him For Work He Has Done

Heartfelt gratitude and appreciation was expressed in a resolution adopted by the Texas Press Association this morning on Col. F. B. Baillio and his works of love for the association. It was with deepest feeling that members of the association voted for the following resolution:

Whereas, Col. F. B. Baillio has for more than a generation evidenced his fidelity and love for the newspaper fraternity of Texas, and particularly for the Texas Press Association, first by never having missed a session thereof, and in a thousand nameless other ways, and the "God Bless You" and hearty handshake for the young, obscure or timid member, to the sacrifice of his means and time for the promotion of the every interests of the Association; and

Whereas, in the evening of his life, he has added a crowning service in the production of a history of the Association that is original and a classic, covering a field of research and requiring an effort that one less faithful, less loving and less sincere, would have shrunk from; therefore

Be It Resolved, That this Association here express its sincere and grateful thanks to him for his unvarying and inspiring devotion to its interests and for the great labor of love which has found its best expression in the history which he was commissioned to write. And further, that the members of this Association ever remember him and his dear ones when offering their petitions to our God.

AT THE MOVIES

The Empress. "The Three Shadows," a Gaumont three-reel feature, is showing here today. A synopsis is as follows:

The Empress. Little Mary Pickford is playing here today in "Tess of the Storm Country." The story is of the wild life in the northern part of England. Tess is the daughter of a lawless squatter and poacher. The part is one admirably suited to Miss Pickford, in which one can get a glimpse of the primal nature, and feelings that move at all times. Mary Pickford was much beloved for her work in "Hearthside" and she excels even that production in "Tess of the Storm Country."

The Lydia Margaret. Sidney and Well in a rapid fire sketch of songs and talk, and Miss Billie Ferguson, singing comedienne, opened a three days' engagement yesterday at the Lydia Margaret. Both acts are pleasing. "Aprons of the North," a two-part drama, and "Vasco, the Yankee," a juvenile production, are today's pictures.

The Gem. A Pathe two-part, "Detective Kelly," is featured here today. A Biography, "The Bondage of Fear," and a Kalen, "Her Fallen Hero," complete the four reel program.

The Victoria. "Caught in the Rain," Keyatone, "The Different Man," Majestic, and "The Story of the Olive," American, are the pictures on today's bill at the Victoria. "The Story of the Olive" is especially interesting, being taken from the old Spanish mission life.

Miss Annie Veve Carter has returned to her home in Houston after a short stay here with friends.

FOOT RACES ARE PLANNED AT LAKE TRACK NEXT WEEK

May Be Run in Connection With Opening of Short Ship Circuit on Tuesday.

An effort is being made by several followers of track in this city to stage a foot race some day next week at Lake Wichita in connection with the horse races. There are several college athletes and a number of amateur runners of more or less ability in the city as well as a large number of people who are interested in track work.

A purse of $25 will probably be raised early next week to be given to the winner of a free for all mile or half mile run. It has not yet been determined what day the race will be run, but those desiring to compete can do so by making known their intention to Jerome Stogge at the office of Ben & Gohlke or by appearing on the race track the day of the meet. Ralph Mathis, captain of the track team at the University of Texas expects to enter the race.

END OF MEDIATION CONFERENCE IS PRESAGED BY NIAGARA EVENTS

AMERICANS MAKE STATEMENT

Lamar and Lehmann Explain This Country's Attitude and Reassert Their Position

Niagara falls, June 19.—Shortly after noon today the South American mediators announced no conference would be held until tomorrow because Minister Naon has gone to Washington. It is understood he seeks to learn at first hand if the American secretary of state has any information that would seem to make it advisable to continue the mediation conferences. Just before the American delegates were notified there would be no conference today they were in communication with the Washington government by telephone. It is understood they received instructions to stand by their attitude as outlined in the statement of last night and to insist on an acceptance of the American plan.

In some quarters the attitude of the Washington government was described as virtually an ultimatum the acceptance of which by the Mexican delegation would be the sole condition on which mediation would be continued. In this connection attention was directed in American quarters to the phraseology in the concluding paragraph of last night's statement which was taken literally from Justice Lamar's memorandum to Emilio Rabasa. That paragraph said in part: "The United States is a party in the mediation in the hope that it might lead to peace and that peace might lead to prosperity. The plan which the American representatives propose and on which we must insist has been formulated solely with that end in view."

The insistence referred to in the American memorandum was taken to mean that at tomorrow's conference the United States would reiterate its purpose of accepting only a constitutionalist and that unless the Huerta delegates accepted mediation would come to an end. But for the presence of American troops at Vera Cruz, it is believed the United States might resume its attitude of passive observation while the two contending factions in Mexico decided the issue. It is this phase of the situation, however, which is embarrassing the American government and by which the course of developments, it is believed, may be shaped.

Oil Field Is Visited This Afternoon By Editors

Childress; B. T. Shepherd, Democrat, Memphis; Tom Finty, Jr., Journal, Dallas.

"Texas School of Journalism—It's Worth" was the subject of an address by Hon. Will H. Mayes, dean of journalism, Texas University.

Miss Laverne Cates of Bartlett, talented daughter of one of the members of the Association, gave a reading that was well received.

J. E. Farnsworth, president of the Southwestern Telephone Co. of Dallas, spoke on the "Telephone as a Business Asset to the Publisher." He said there 250,000 miles of telephone line in Texas and that he city of Dallas had more telephones than all of Spain. He declared the development of the telephone had been the result of individual effort that such wonderful growth of service would not have resulted under government ownership.

Several resolutions which were offered were referred to the committee on resolutions which will report tomorrow morning.

One of the interesting features of the morning session was a paper by Frank P. Holland, Jr., on "Getting Foreign Advertising." The report of the committee on memorials was received and a new committee to serve during the ensuing year was named. The new committee comprises R. E. Yantis, F. C. Thompson and Sam P. Harben.

Adjournment followed an announcement by Editor Thmason of Petrolia concerning the trip to that place.

PLUMBING SUPPLY HOUSES MAY BE SUED BY STATE

Attorney General Said To Have Collected Evidence on Which To Base Proceedings

Austin, Texas, June 19.—Sufficient evidence has been obtained it is learned to justify the attorney general's department on behalf of the state to institute proceedings against a large number of the wholesale plumbing and supply houses of Texas. It is likely the suit will be filed within the next week or so.

Marie J. Cole of Dallas, state grand proctor of the Knights and Ladies of Honor, is here to begin a campaign for membership for the order.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES HEARS ELECTION CONTEST

Washington, June 19.—The House today was treated to the rare scene of being addressed in its own hall by a man not a member. Michael Gill, Democrat, contesting the seat of J. C. Dyer, Republican, from the twelfth Missouri district who under the rules has the right to speak for himself, took the floor and made a brief speech supporting his claim to Dyer's seat. He declared he had been an "honest lifelong hardworking Democrat" and resented any intimation that his representatives had tampered with the ballot. A majority of the elections committee had previously reported resolutions unseating Dyer and giving Gill the place contending that the election in 1912 was so tainted with fraud that the returns from seven election precincts should be thrown out. This would give Gill the election by a plurality of seventy-seven.

IN THE SPHERE OF WOMANKIND

I used to think 'twas noble quite To sing of "Home, Sweet Home" In spite of palaces and poms Through which a man might roam.

But when I came to roam myself Among palaces immense, That noble loyalty collapsed To simple common sense.

For as I sit and glance around My cosy little hall, ('Tis furnished just to suit my taste, And comfortable at that!)

I think of corridors so vast, All lined with stiff red chairs; I think of mammoth candeliers, And vases huge—in pairs.

I think of beds like Noah's ark, And tables made of buhl, Tall cabinets of ugly stuff, All ranged around by rule.

And oh, what credit is there then In praising "Home, Sweet Home?" When none with sense would choose— For palaces to roam?

Winifred Arnold.

Tuesday evening Mrs. Irene Foster presented her pupils with a piano recital at her studio 1306 Thirteenth. This is the second of her recitals, closing this school session, the first being by her more advanced pupils late in April. Hair Made Beautiful Beautiful hair, thick, fluffy, lustrous and absolutely free from dandruff is not so much a gift of nature as a matter of care and proper nourishment. Hair is like a plant—it will not grow healthy and beautiful unless it has attention and proper nourishment.

Parisian Sage, daintily perfumed and easily applied, tones up and invigorates the roots of the hair and furnishes the necessary nourishment to not only save and beautify the hair, but also stimulate it to grow long, heavy, soft, fluffy and radiant with life.

When used frequently and rubbed into the scalp, it will simply work wonders. Just one application stops itching head, removes dandruff and cleanses the hair of all dust and excessive oil.

Since Parisian Sage, which can be obtained from Fooseh & Lynch or at any drug store, never disappoints, it is no longer necessary for any woman to be humiliated because of thin, streaky, faded, lifeless or unattractive hair.

his family and the reception was thus a very pleasant affair, and largely attended. Rev. Miller and his wife with the officers and leaders of the Woman's Alliance formed a receiving line in the vestibule. Mrs. W. H. Davis, president of the Alliance being at the head of this line. A short program was held in the main auditorium which was beautifully decorated with quantities of flowers arranged in artistic fashion. H. A. Fairchild gave the welcome address and Mr. Murchison contributed to the musical program of the evening with vocal selections. Rev. Miller spoke at length in response to the welcome address. Following the program a social hour was enjoyed informally and refreshment punch was served in the Sunday school and Baraca rooms, the gentlemen doing service at each punch bowl. The reception was a success from every standpoint, being thoroughly enjoyed by all and affording the members an opportunity to become better acquainted with their pastor.

SEWING CIRCLE HONORS MEMBERS THURSDAY

Thursday afternoon the Thursday Sewing Circle honored one of their number, Mrs. M. M. MacKellar, a bride of two weeks who just returned from her wedding tour of the Northern States. A number of guests were invited for the occasion and these were stationed in another room until time to spring the surprise on the unsuspecting honoree. At a set time little Mary Pressley entered drawing a huge basket, in which the shower was contained and followed by the guests. Many beautiful articles of hand painted china, silver and embroidered linen made up the shower which proved such a delight to the Sewing Circle bride and a source of much pleasure to the Sewing Circle. Musical selections, both vocal and instrumental were enjoyed during the afternoon and the hostess served a delicious refreshment course of cream and cake. Those participating in this most delightful affair were: Mesdames Montgomery, Jenne, Gardner, Walker, Bell, Hartson, Waggoner, Murph, Pressley, Fligo, Huggins, Stayton, Mains, Perham, Fain of Lubbock, Carr, Andes, Misses Lee, Murph, and Lucy Huggins.

Mrs. G. W. Ayres of St. Louis, is the guest of her sister, Mrs. C. W. Bean. She will remain here a few days and will then accompany Mrs. Bean and her son and daughter to Colorado.

Thursday evening three Sunday school classes of the First Christian Church taught by Mrs. Grey, Mrs. Reese and Mr. Willis enjoyed a picnic at Lake Wichita. A basket luncheon was spread and the usual diversions were enjoyed.

IKEMOTO TO LECTURE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA

Famous Japanese to Tell of His Land and Its People.

Every American is interested in Japan and the relations of that country with the United States. Japan is the most progressive nation of the east, and the United States is the most progressive nation of the west. The problems constantly arising from the clash of interests of these two nations engage the attention of every thoughtful American citizen as well as cause concern to the leading statesmen of the world.

At the Chautauqua a noted Japanese scholar and lecturer will speak upon this most interesting of subjects. His name is Seichi E. Ikemoto.

Ikemoto is a native of Japan and hails from the Samurai clan, from which the state army and navy have come. He has been educated in the finest universities and the best institutes of learning in Japan and America, and he is an orator of marked ability, having won high recognition as an eloquent speaker in this country, and for several seasons past has been on the Chautauqua platform, and his messages on America and Japan, in which he discussed the institutions, domestic life, national hopes and aspirations of the Japanese people, excited intense interest in every Chautauqua audience.

Ikemoto's theme is undoubtedly vital, and he handles it in a masterful way. He is not only a polished gentleman and an able orator, but he possesses the mind and mental attitude of the student and scholar. His wit is sharp and subtle, his utterances unbroken, with a keen understanding of the inner life and ideals of both America and Japan.

Ikemoto appears on the platform dressed in the native garb of the famous Samurai clan, from which he is descended and back to which he traces an unbroken lineage for 800 years.

He will deliver at the Chautauqua his lecture, entitled "The Changing Orient." This is one of a series of lectures which he, during the past winter, has been delivering in the city of New York in the public lecture course provided by the department of education for New York city.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION.

Subject of Address by Max M. Mahany on Chautauqua Program.

Max M. Mahany is going to speak at the Chautauqua on "The Mexican Situation."

There are available for Chautauqua engagements the United States senators, authors, political "celebrities," etc. who could give a very interesting talk on Mexico.

But that isn't what we want. We want the truth about Mexico that is not colored or influenced by political ties.

Max M. Mahany has covered Mexico from the Rio Grande to Yucatan and from the Pacific to the Atlantic. He was formerly a member of the American legation at Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, and has had occasion in various secret capacities to make his residence among the Latin American peoples and get their point of view.

He knows Mexico and the Mexicans. He has made his residence with them for years. He speaks their language and understands their ways. He has at his disposal a fund of information about that land and its people that cannot be gathered except in one way—by actual contact and observation extending over a period of years.

Mr. Mahany comes to the Chautauqua fresh from the theater of war in northern Mexico and the border country, and he has many things to tell which have not been published in the press of this country. His address will be of intense interest.

CONVICT FORCES ANOTHER TO SERVE

SHANGHAIES SAILOR AN 'DLATER IS BROUGHT TO THE PENITENTIARY.

MISTAKE DISCOVERED LATER

Innocent Man Says He Was Induced To Take Two Drinks—Recalls Nothing More.

By Associated Press.
San Francisco, June 19.—Peter A. Grimes, convicted of forgery in Shanghai and on his way to San Quentin penitentiary in California, shanghai-sailor Alfred Johnson, a Norwegian sailor in Nagasaki, Japan, substituted the sailor for himself and escaped, according to information developed today in an investigation.

Not until Johnson in a cell at San Quentin told his story to a fellow Norwegian was it discovered that an innocent man was probably serving the three year term of Grimes.

Johnsen said:

"Ashore from ship from Nagasaki I was in a saloon and drank with three men who approached me. After two drinks with them I remember nothing until I woke up in iron between decks on ship. I tried to explain but no one understood me." It was found that Grimes under the name of Rogers had served a term in San Quentin before being released last year. Prison officials looked at Johnsen and discovered that an innocent man was probably serving the three year term of Grimes.

When shown the picture of Grimes or Rogers Johnsen said:

"That is one of the three men I drank with in Nagasaki." While at San Quentin, Grimes or Rogers was a private secretary to the former warden. His parents are said to live in Pittsburg and are wealthy.

OKLAHOMA GRAIN MOVEMENT STARTS

TRAINLOAD OF TWENTY-SIX CARS ARRIVES OVER THE NORTH-WESTERN

LOCAL RECEIPTS PICKING UP

Price Remains Above 75 Cent Mark So Far—Preparations For Handling Big Yield

A solid trainload of wheat comprising twenty-six cars was brought in last night by the Wichita Falls & Northwestern. This was the starting of the grain movement from Western Oklahoma. From now on, General Freight Agent C. L. Fontaine believes that the wheat will move at the rate of one and to trainloads a day for the next ninety days. The Wichita Falls & Northwestern railroad is expecting to handle 10,000 cars of grain this year. It is believed that several counties along its line will make more than a million bushels each.

For the last several days local grain dealers have been handling an average of about 10,000 bushels per day. This amount would probably have been larger but for the slight showers of a day or two ago, which served in a measure to curtail the receipts. It is thought that as soon as the threshing season is in full blast or in a few days, receipts here will approach a maximum of 20,000 bushels per day which will continue as long as the season is in full swing.

So far the price of wheat has not fallen below the seventy-five cent mark and it is hoped that this price can be maintained indefinitely. Frank Kell, president of the Wichita Mill and Elevator Company thinks that the price will hold up and other prominent wheat men are also predicting that it will.

Both shippers and dealers state that they are amply prepared to take care of a yield much larger than the present one and no trouble is anticipated in handling the crop. All agree that this year's yield will be heavier than any year since 1900, although estimates fifteen days ago seem to have been about twenty per cent too large.

Both Events Are Largely Attended. Music is Pleasant Factor in Entertainment.

Thursday afternoon the United Clubs held a reception at the Elks Club at which the ladies of the Texas Press Association were the honor guests. A large reception committee was composed of the following ladies: Mesdames J. A. Kemp, Addicks, Ed Howard, Gaffney, James Calvert, Newton Maer, H. C. Dakan, J. T. Montgomery, Boger, Culbertson, E. E. The rooms were very prettily decorated with ferns and cut flowers and delightful refreshment punch was served by Misses Helen Beavers, Gertrude Schuerer, Wilma Fligo, Lella Bell Anderson, Adele Addicks and Louise Leitcham. Music was furnished throughout the afternoon by Katz' orchestra and several hundred ladies called to meet the honor guests.

The out of town ladies present were: Mesdames J. A. Johnson of Memphis, Lee Rountree of Georgetown; J. J. Taylor of Dallas; Minnie Tufts of Lancaster; R. S. Schuffler of Olney; J. A. Thursday evening a very delightful lawn party was held at the Kemp home in Floral Heights. The spacious lawn had been transformed into a veritable fairland with myriads of lights, rugs were spread and tables scattered at intervals over the lawn bore masses of nasturtiums and other cut flowers.

Here punch was dispensed during the evening to the guests by Misses Annette Walsh, Marion Maer and Addicks.

A corps of musicians stationed in the music room gave numerous selections and as a further means of amusement the hostess had through the courtesy of Messrs. Wren and Berry, arranged for a vaudeville act of songs and monologues. The broad veranda was used as a stage and the audience, remaining seated on the lawn enjoyed the variety program. Additional features were a number of vocal selections by Mrs. Fred Botta of New Orleans and two readings by Miss Laverne Cates of Bartlett, both visitors to the convention.

More than one hundred ladies were present at this delightful affair, the reception committee of the afternoon doing duty at night with a number of additions.

ELKS CLUB SMOKER ENJOYED BY EDITORS

DUTCH LUNCH IS PROVIDED AND OVER 300 ARE IN ATTENDANCE.

ORATORY, MUSIC, VAUDEVILLE

Many of Visitors Are Called Upon For Talks and Occasion is Pleasant One.

The smoker at the Elks Club for the visiting editors last night was a most enjoyable function. It was attended by over three hundred editors and townspeople. After everybody had met everybody else Master of Ceremonies Morris Marcus threw open the doors of the big hall where a Dutch lunch was piled on a long table. This lunch had all the prerequisites that properly belong to such a menu.

A. E. Myles, exalted ruler of the Elks lodge was impressed as toastmaster an dater telling the editors that the Elks and everybody else in Wichita Falls was glad to have them here he called upon J. H. (Cyclone) Davis, candidate for congressman at large and a prominent prohibitionist. It is proper to state here that Mr. Davis was one of the few who did not partake of the full menu. Following Mr. Davis, J. H. Lowry, Will H. Harris, Judge Martin, L. L. Shields, J. Taylor, J. B. Marlow, Clarence Gilmore, H. B. Terrell, Judge Felder and others were called upon and spoke briefly.

A quartette comprising C. R. Van Vay, F. A. Hill, Harry Wright and C. P. Rogers sang several numbers that were appreciated and the entertainment was closed with a vaudeville performance.

EDITORS SAY FERGUSON IS GAINING STRENGTH RECENTLY

Though none of the visiting editors cared to be quoted on the subject of politics, a number of them expressed the confidential opinion that Ferguson has been gaining in strength within the past weeks and that he is now considerably more of a factor in the contest than he was a month ago. That Ball will be elected is the prevailing opinion, but several visiting newspaper men expressed the opinion that were the primary to be held at once the result would be very close.

One visiting editor said that Ferguson was cut on such a different pattern from the average candidate that he appealed to many voters in that way, being something of a novelty in the political line. Some of the editors reported the voters in a state of indifference at present; one Northwest Texas newspaper man saying that the wheat harvest in his section kept everyone too busy to bother about politics.

TELLS SAN ANGELO SOME THINGS ABOUT THIS CITY

Judge R. E. Huff is interviewed while on Visit Recently to West Texas City.

While in San Angelo recently, R. E. Huff of this city was interviewed and of course took occasion to say a few kind words for his home city. The following is from the San Angelo Standard:

"It has been the factories, resulting from cheap gas which have in the main aided in the upbuilding of Wichita Falls, and if you can strike either gas or oil here, you're sure to come through with flying colors," said R. E. Huff, president of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, who was in San Angelo Tuesday. "We in Wichita Falls have grown to what we now are only in the past four years, and the town can well attribute its success to the gas and oil fields."

Mr. Huff, president of the First National Bank of Wichita Falls for the past twenty-five years, however, is one of those strong backers which the town has possessed during the years it has been struggling upward and it has been, although he will not admit it, as much due to his own untiring efforts and of his co-laborers as to the oil fields that Wichita is what it is today. Mr. Huff was down, he said, merely on a little private business trip and expressed pleasure at finding this section in such fine shape.

"From all appearances, you have a live town here," said he, "and I am glad to see San Angelo doing so well. Up our way, although there's not quite the boom on there was some time back, everything is moving smoothly and we are looking forward to a fine year. The wheat is fine. So are oats, but this crop was somewhat damaged by the freezes and will not pan out so good as usual."

"As to oil, prices have dropped quite a bit lately and the producers, while they are of course not deriving the revenue which they gained some months back, are still getting the production." This latter, Mr. Huff stated, amounted to something like 32,000 barrels per day. The town, he stated, had broadened out considerably since the Wichita Falls and Northwestern had extended its line through to Forgan, Okla., and a rich and productive section had been brought into touch with his section. That the oil and gas fields have proved Wichita's greatest asset toward upbuilding was shown when Mr. Huff stated that pipe lines now connected that city with Fort Worth, Dallas, Sherman, Gainesville and other North Texas towns, thus monthly bringing in enormous revenues. The wells, he stated, were some fifteen miles out of Wichita, not close in as some people may have supposed, and the oil and gas was piped in.

CALOMEL A GREAT DANGER TO MANY.

Has Bad Effect on Some—Dodsan's Liver Tonic Takes its Place and is Perfectly Harmless.

If you will inquire at your druggist's you will find that Dodsan's Liver Tonic is guaranteed to be a safe, reliable remedy to take the place of calomel and a harmless liver stimulant having no bad after-effects. Indeed, your druggist will refund purchase price (50c), without question if you are in any way dissatisfied with this vegetable liquid. It is very unwise to take calomel, even dangerous, as many people suffer from the poison afterwards, even though they may appear at first to be temporarily relieved. On the other hand, Dodsan's Liver Tonic works easily and naturally (really assisting nature) with no pain nor griping and correcting all bilious conditions and ill-effects of constipation, clearing away the sick headache and the coated tongue, brightening up the dulled brain and strengthening the weakened body at the same time that it removes collected waste from the overburdened system.

Those who have tried Dodsan's Liver Tonic have found that it makes them healthier and happier. A test may prove of great benefit to you right now.

ANXIOUS TO AIR NEW WORD

Norwegian Guide Seized Opportunity to Make Use of Knowledge He Had Recently Acquired.

"The guides who pilot visitors about in Norway," said a returned traveler.

"Occasionally this desire leads to funny mistakes. While exploring some of the wild and precipitous cliffs one day with my guide, we came upon a spot which looked like an abandoned quarry.

"What is this, Karl? I asked. 'Have they been getting out stone here?'

"Oh, yes, 'blasting,' I said, with a smile, and Karl's quick ears caught the new word for 'shooting.'

"The next day our journey brought us into a large tract of magnificent forest. 'Karl,' said I, 'there ought to be fine hunting here in the season.'

"Yes, sir," was the prompt reply. 'very good hunting.' Then, with the air of a man who seizes an opportunity, he added, proudly, 'Indeed, it is near here, sir, that we blast many bears.'

Archbishop's Hospitality. London in the eighteenth century did not afford so many free shows as at present, but visitors who knew the ropes could then obtain at least one sumptuous dinner for nothing.

AMONG THE VISITORS

LOWRY OF HONEY GROVE ANSWERS TO ROLL CALL

If they would just leave it up to the newspaper men to settle this congressman-at-large business, there is one certain candidate who would stand an awful good chance of going to Washington. The same is Jim H. Lowry, editor of the Honey Grove Signal. One of the keenest wits in Texas lurks beneath that naked dome of his and he has an established reputation as a writer and lecturer. Fame has come to him in recent years by his earnest advocacy of buttermilk as an article of diet, he setting it up as a cure for everything from ruff to ingrown toe nails. The phrase "setting it up" is here intended to be used in its literal and not in its generally accepted sense, as nobody ever discovered him setting 'em up. The strange part of it all, is that nobody who knows J. H. real well ever saw him take a drink of buttermilk in his life.

EX-LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR IS NOW TEACHING OTHERS

The job of teaching the young idea how to shoot has fallen to Will H. Mayes of Brownwood, lately lieutenant governor. Mr. Mayes has been placed at the head of the school of journalism of the State University and it will fall to his lot to teach the future newspaper men of Texas the difference between a column rule and a space hand and other necessary knowledge. If Col. Mayes—or ought it to be "Professor" Mayes now?—tells the students all he knows he ought to get by, for few newspaper men have had wider or more practical experience in this State than he has. He is entering upon his work with much enthusiasm and expects to tell the convention before it adjourns what he is going to do. In recent years a number of educational institutions have established journalism departments and the results are being watched with interest. Lots of newspaper men who learned how in the stern school of the cases and the G. Wash. hand press and the desk itself aren't yet ready to believe that you teach 'em how with books and they contend that they are born, not made. Such ideas are losing ground, however, and it is generally believed that even if colleges can't build news smeller onto a man that wasn't equipped with one by the Almighty, they can work the ivory out of his system to an extent where he'll be some good when things come to a show down.

HISTORIAN BAILLIO HAS COMPLETED HIS WORK

With a record of having missed only one convention of the association since its organization in 1880 Col. F. B. Baillio, of Cleburne, was one of the early arrivals for the meeting of the Texas Press Association. Col. Baillio has been president both of the Texas Press Association and the National Editors' Association.

SAID HE WAS COMING, BUT HASN'T SHOWN UP YET.

Tom W. Perkins of McKinney.

Two years ago he was commissioned to write a history of the association and of the newspapers of Texas. He has now completed this work of more than 500 pages and will turn the manuscript over to the association. The compilation of this history has been a work of love on the part of Col. Baillio and has occupied his leisure hours during the past two years. Chapters deal with the efforts to organize an association in 1853, the organizations of 1869 and 1873 and of the present organization in 1880. One chapter deals with the beginning of printing in Texas in 1819, another compares the pioneer days with the present when there are 1016 publications in the State. The fraternal dead are memorialized in a separate chapter. Considerable space is devoted to biographical sketches and Judge A. B. Morton's history of the newspapers of Texas up to 1884 is incorporated in the work.

AGENTS AND SALESMEN ARE MINGLING WITH THE CROWD

Men who call on editors at intervals and try to sell them leads, type, cuts, stock, printing presses, typesetting machines and other staples are here in numbers for the convention and handling out the original glad hand stuff. You couldn't buy a half pound of leads from anyone of them now and they wouldn't talk business with you at all. The Times will print a list of them later. To do so now would mean to leave some of them out and then they might refuse to sell the Times anything hereafter. Yes, they might.

INTRODUCING THE GUY WHO PUT TELL IN TELEPHONE

The handsome gentlemen on the left is Charles Abbott of Dallas, the man who put the "tell" in telephone. He is publicity agent for the Southwestern Telegraph and Telephone Company to which position he degenerated after being city editor and other things on the Houston Chronicle, a right nice paper. His is the job of keeping the telephone constantly in the public mind which is pretty hard work. However, he finds time in his spare hours to do little things like getting up complete primary election reports for Texas newspapers and similar simple little tasks.

ONCE EDITOR OF TIMES IS AMONG CONVENTION VISITORS

No longer in active service as a newspaper man, but nevertheless a beloved member of the Texas Press Association is Clarence E. Gilmore, of Wills Point; "Judge" Gilmore, they call him now. He is a newspaper man who has reformed and become a lawyer and they say he is as good a lawyer as he was a newspaper man. Way back yonder in the late eighties, Mr. Gilmore was owner and editor of the Times, then a whistling station in the desert. He remained in charge about seven months, selling out to Ed Howard, the present editor, and returning to Wills Point. He was the Texas legislator for three terms and was a commanding figure in that body, author of much beneficial legislation and a very popular member. In the Thirty-Second he was a candidate for speaker, being defeated by Sam Rayburn, now a congressman by three votes. A few years ago he took up the study of law and was admitted to the bar where his success has been marked. He has long been a member of the Press Association and his defection from the ranks of active newspaper men has not dimmed his popularity to any noticeable extent.

SEVERAL CANDIDATES HERE TO MEET THE EDITORS GANG.

Quite a few of the aspirants for State offices found it convenient to visit the city for the convention and mix with the editors. Among these are H. B. Terrell of West, who is recommending himself for the job of controller; J. L. Franklin of McKinney, who is recommending himself for controller's job; Prof. W. F. Doughty of Marlin, present state superintendent of education and candidate for re-election; Prof. S. M. Marrs of Terrell, who also wants to be state superintendent; J. H. L. of Honey Grove, who has presented not only a willingness but an earnest desire to serve this State in the halls of Congress, is also among those present, being an editor as well as a candidate. State Senator W. A. Johnson of Memphis, candidate for re-election, is here, being another who was a newspaper man before the people called him. It is likely that some other candidates will be here before the convention ends; among these likely to attend is W. P. Hobby of the Beaumont Enterprise, who seems how good a lieutenant governor candidate; a newspaper man has made, has offered himself for that office.

HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE OF ASSOCIATED PRESS IS HERE

Most newspaper men think they have a tolerably sized job when they keep one newspaper supplied with news of births, accidents, marriages, divorces, trials and the like, but here is a man who has about fifty papers to look after every day in the week. He is Howard W. Blakeslee, correspondent at Dallas for the Associated Press. He gathers up the news of the world and delivers it to Texas and then gathers up the news of Texas and delivers it to the world, which is a fair enough swap. He supplies probably half a hundred papers in Texas, taking all the way from 500 words to all wires will carry. In Dallas he bears the reputation of being able to keep an ice cream suit cleaner for a longer length of time than any other human. If you see a man, with a shape like an extra condensed 36 point gothic, that's probably him.

Arrangements have been made for complimentary matinee races Saturday afternoon at the Lake Wichita race course for the editors who remain. There are now over a hundred head of horses on the grounds ready for the opening of the race meet next Tuesday and Secretary Jeffries promises races well worth while for those who will stay.

Big cakes of ice in front of electric fans are helping keep down the temperature of the theatre. Three of these fans on the stage and others scattered about the theatre make it comfortable.

SAYS EVERYTHING LOOKS GOOD IN CHILDRESS COUNTY

"The Childress country is in the best condition than for many years,"

LEADING CORPUS CHRISTI'S FIGHT FOR 1915 CONVENTION.

John W. Clayton.

says Fred L. Haskett, editor of the Childress leader. "Our county is now harvesting the banner grain crop and all other crops are fine. The farmers are well up with their work. The Denver railroad is increasing the shop force which means a good increase in the pay roll.

"Childress is preparing for the big races which will be held July 15-18. Over one hundred and fifty horses have been entered from seven States. The purses are large and some fast racing will be had.

HEAD OF SOUTHWESTERN TELEPHONE COMPANY SPEAKS

"The telephone an asset to the publisher" was the subject of an address by J. E. Farnsworth, vice president of the Southwestern Telephone and Telegraph Company. Himself a former newspaper man connected with the Austin Statesman thirty years ago, he contrasted old methods with new.

"Today in newspaper offices in Texas," he said, "the editor may sit at his desk and speak to any of more than 3,500,000 persons in this state alone. He also has the opportunity to verify such news as is assembled by his comparatively few reporters. His telephone is the center for a system of 312,000 other telephones in Texas.

"Modern equipment has made it possible to print the news the telephone is bringing into every editorial center. The public conscience has been quickened by a knowledge of what is going on in the world. The newspapers and the telephone have made of the nation a one great neighborhood and have in an almost unconscious partnership served the purpose of better government.

"This has been done under private administration and we of the telephone as well as you of the press would like to do more. It is our wish to continue to operate the telephone system under every proper restriction to safeguard the public interest."

Mr. Farnsworth here compared private and government ownership of telephones, claiming that private ownership had produced the best results in this country. He said he believed private ownership can do more for the public at less cost in money and less waste in government. He added:

"We have almost as many telephones in Texas as in France where there are almost ten times as many people and where government ownership prevails. This testifies to what private enterprise does for the system of communication."

FORMER PRESIDENTS ARE ATTENDING THIS CONVENTION

Among the former presidents of the Texas Press Association who are at present here attending the convention are Will H. Mayes of Brownwood; F. B. Baillio of Cleburne, both of whom have served as presidents of the National Association also. Other former presidents are: Fred Robinson of Waco; W. A. Johnson of Memphis; Jim Lowry of Honey Grove; Will Edwards of Denton; Bob Ransome of Cleburne; Clarence Gilmore of Wills Point, and J. A. Thomas of Mineola, all of whom are at present in the city.

J. A. Thomas, editor of the Moinitor at Mineola, has not missed a meeting of the Texas Press Association in fifteen years. He attended his first meeting in Greenville fourteen years ago and has been to every convention since that time.

Fred Robinson of the Waco Times-Herald attended the first meeting of the Press Association in Houston thirty-five years ago and has been a member in good standing since that time, although he has missed several conventions. This is the thirty-fifth meeting of the association since its organization.

Do you know who is the present lieutenant governor of Texas? There is none. When Will H. Mayes resigned from his position to become head of the School of Journalism of the University, the State was left without an existing legal substitute for Governor Colquitt in case anything should happen to him. However, should the governor become incapacitated his place would be taken by Senator A. V. Collins who will preside over the next meeting of the State Senate until after the organization of that body.

Senator Collins shortly before the last adjournment of the Senate was elected president pro tem and is therefore now entitled to fill the office of lieutenant governor in case it becomes necessary for that office to be filled before January 3rd.

OLNEY EDITOR TELLS OF GOOD CONDITIONS THERE

Roy Schuffler, editor of the Olney Enterprise, is one of the editors here for the convention. Mr. Schuffler said only one wheat crop had been threshed when he left home. This made an average of about eighteen bushels per acre. He reports a phenomenal yield of oats on a small tract near Olney. A farmer who had in a five acre crop threshed 507 1/2 bushels.

Falls & Northwestern offices announcing that passenger trains Nos. 1 and 2 recently discontinued on account of the condition of the tracks of this road in Oklahoma will be restored effective next Sunday.

No. 1 will leave here at 2:40 p. m., arriving at Elk City at 9 p. m. No. 2 will leave Elk City at 5:45 a. m. Officials hope to have their other trains running on schedule time within the next ten days.

Three extra gangs have been at work on the track between Wichita Falls and Frederick for about six weeks and the road bed is now in much better shape than it was several weeks ago. The road has been hindered much in this work by its inability to keep laborers, higher wages in the harvest fields being a lure that took away their men.

June Wedding Feasts

Birthdays, graduations, and weddings are three very important events in the lives of young people—events that are looked ahead to and frequently planned ahead for months.

Weddings, especially those where a breakfast, dinner or luncheon is served are the subject of the most careful thought and selection of materials.

The best only is good enough. Frequently something rare or unusual is wanted.

If you have such a spread to plan and prepare for, let me help you. I have or will get quickly get exactly what you want.

Ask me for information. If I don't know I will try to find out for you.
