AWAIT APPROVAL

Mexico City and Washington to Pass Upon It—Said to Provide That Americans Shall Operate in Limited District at Present

By Associated Press. El Paso, Tex., May 3.—A tentative agreement said to have been reached between Major General Scott and General Obregon was generally understood today to provide for the gradual retirement of American forces in Mexico.

Advices from Mexico City and Washington today are awaited to set the seal of approval upon the provisional agreement which it is understood was reached at the informal conference last night.

The conference was not ended until after midnight and the two conferences emerged from the meeting in rare good humor. General Scott went immediately to his private car and arranged for the dispatch of a coded message to Washington giving the details of the understanding that had been reached with General Obregon.

This detailed report to Washington is not expected to reach the secretary of war until late today and its consideration probably will delay the answer to General Scott until Thursday. A similar report is being sent first Chief Carranza.

It has been suggested that another formal conference here may now be regarded as unnecessary and the final word will be said by Mexico City and Washington.

The reported agreement is said to be based on the general proposition that the American troops will further retreat toward the border and operate against the Villistas in a restricted district, where their presence and activities will not provoke further hostilities of the Mexican people and to remain there until such time as the administration at Washington is convinced beyond any doubt that the defunct government can cope with the Villa bandits.

TEXAS BOY HOLDS STRIKEOUT RECORD

Believed Fanning of 24 Batters By Killeen Youth is Best Showing Ever Made

By Associated Press. New York, May 3.—The record of twenty-four strike outs in a nine inning game, credited to Pitcher Dan Killeen of the Killeen (Texas) high school team in the contest against the Belton high school nine on April 22, appears to rank with any pitching feat now recorded in the annals of baseball. So far as is shown by the leading publications on baseball the feat stands in a class by itself. Whether it is a world's record is hard to determine because unusual pitching exhibitions by amateur, school and college teams are not kept with the same care that is devoted to those of the major and minor leagues.

So far as the records show it is the best strike out performance for a nine-inning game to be found among the available data in existence today.

A careful search disclosed that the National League record of strike outs, under similar conditions, is nineteen made by Charles Sweeney in the Providence-Boston game of June 1, 1884. The American League record was made by the late George (Rube) Wadsworth who fanned sixteen in the contest between St. Louis and the Athletics on July 29, 1908.

Pitcher Dalley struck out nineteen in a Union Association game between Chicago and Boston on July 7, 1884. Tom Ramsey turned seventeen batters back to the bench in an American Association contest between Louisville and Cleveland on June 2, 1887 and this was a remarkable performance as at that time the four strike rule was in existence. On August 21, 1903, William Mitchell fanned twenty batters in a Texas League game involving San Antonio and Galveston. During the year 1912 Frank Davis of the Knoxville Appalachian League Club and Fred Alpegate of the Blue Grass League also fanned twenty batters. A Stagg, now coach of the University of Chicago, while a student at Yale struck out twenty Princeton batters in the Yale-Princeton game of May 26, 1888 and this is probably the best college record to date.

WASHINGTON OPTIMISTIC OVER NEWS

NOTE WILL STATE GERMANY'S ATTITUDE IN PRECISE TERMS AND WILL LEAVE NO ROOM FOR DOUBT

TO BE SENT SOON

By Associated Press. Berlin, May 3, (via wireless to Associated Press). The draft of the German reply to the American note has been finished. The reply is subject to minor alterations which may result from interchanges of views between Berlin and general headquarters.

The attitude of Germany will be stated in clear and precise terms. The note will leave no room for doubt concerning the exact position assumed by Germany, which will communicate the definite nature of instructions that will be given to submarine commanders and other data on which Washington itself can judge the situation.

The Associated Press is permitted to make these statements, although the censorship on dispatches tending to reveal the terms of the German reply is still effective. The date of delivery of the answer has not been fixed.

HOPEFUL VIEW IS HELD AT CAPITOL

By Associated Press. Washington, May 3.—The announcement from Berlin that new and definite instructions are to be given to German submarine commanders is the first positive indication of how Germany will attempt to meet President Wilson's final demand that she abandon the present method of submarine warfare.

Whether the new instructions will meet the terms of the last American note, and thus prevent a break in diplomatic relations can only be determined by examination.

President Wilson is said to be unshaken in his determination that the issue is not negotiable, that a settlement cannot be delayed by discussion or side issues, as the British blockade and retaliatory measures, that the controversy between the countries can proceed further in diplomacy only if Germany effectually stops destruction of ships without warning and takes measures to bring her submarine operations otherwise within the confines of international law.

With a declaration that such orders have been given and evidence that they will be carried out in good faith, the president is willing to discuss the conduct of submarine warfare, but only upon that basis.

Until this morning Germany's delay in making a reply to the already of any definite report from Ambassador Gerard have led American officials to fear that the Berlin foreign office was planning to send an answer which the United States could not consider other than inconclusive and therefore unsatisfactory.

The news that new instructions to submarine commanders will be announced served to encourage hopes of a favorable outcome of the dispute. Until President Wilson had opportunity to consider it fully and finally, no one can say whether it will meet the requirements of the United States or postpone or avert a diplomatic break.

The state department was still without any reports from Ambassador Gerard today and has received nothing since last Friday. It was stated that if important developments such as Emperor William's participation in training the reply had not intervened to make for delay it would not have been considered that the American demand for immediate action had been met. Under the circumstances however the length of time is not considered unreasonable.

MUSIC FESTIVAL AUDIENCE HEARS NOTED ARTISTS

OTTO L. FISCHER, PIANIST AND HARRY EVANS, BASSO CANTANTE, ARE ENTERTAINERS ON TUESDAY NIGHT'S PROGRAM

HIGH SCHOOL CHORUS

Students Singing Wins Much Praise. Attendance is Not Large—Matinee Being Held Today—Festival to End Thursday Night

The second night of the festival of music, with Harry Evans, basso-cantante, and Otto L. Fischer, pianist, as the entertainers, was up to the high standard set on the opening night, and furnished thorough enjoyment to a too small audience that gathered at the Wichita Theater. Both Mr. Evans and Mr. Fischer have appeared in Wichita Falls before and their ability is well known to local music lovers.

There are two more nights of the festival, with a matinee in progress this afternoon. The attendance so far has been far below that hoped for by the promoters of the affair.

A feature of last night's program was a chorus number by high school students under the direction of Miss Agnew, with Wynne Lay as accompanist. The students sang splendidly and their effort was enthusiastically received. "Miller's Wooing" (Fanning) was their selection, and it was rendered in a manner that reflected credit upon both the singers and their instructor.

Mr. Fischer played half a dozen selections, including one of his own composition, and demonstrated his masterly ability as a pianist to the complete satisfaction of his hearer. He played with much expression and feeling, bringing out the full beauty of the numbers rendered.

Mr. Evans sang the aria from Mendelssohn, several British folk songs and some request numbers, all very pleasing to his hearer who pleasantly recalled a former occasion when his deep, resonant bass was heard here.

Mr. Fischer, Mr. Evans and the feisty soprano, Mrs. Marie Stendler Zandt are on this afternoon's matinee program. Tonight there will be a two-part program, with Miss Charlotte Moore at the piano, Charles Harrison, the tenor, and Mrs. Zandt giving the first part. "The Musicians' Club" will give the second part of the program, giving the composition of "Israel" by Mr. Machin and Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater."

The festival will come to a close tomorrow night with the big event, the rendition of Handel's "Messiah" by the visiting artists, the festival chorus and the festival orchestra.

To Sing "Israel" Tonight. The rendition of the composition by C. B. Machin of this city on Poe poem, "Israel" is expected to be a very interesting feature of tonight's program, as it is not often that Wichita has opportunity to hear a musical composition by home folks. The poem follows:

In heaven a spirit doth dwell,
Whose heart-strings are a lute;
None sing so wildly well
As the angel Israel.
And the giddy stars, so legends tell,
Ceasing their hymns attend the spell
Of his voice—all mute.

Tottering above,
In her highest noon
The enamoured moon
Flushes with love;
While to listen the red vein
(With the rapid pleads even
Which were heaven
Pauses in heaven)

And they say
'The starry choir
And the other listening things
'That Israel's fire
Is owing to that lute
By which he sits and sings.

The trembling living wire
Of those unusual strains.

But the skies that angel trod;
Where deep thoughts are a duty,
Where love's a grown-up God,
Where the heart glances are
Imbued with all the beauty
Which we worship in a star,
Therefore thou art not wrong.

Israel, who despaired
An unimpassioned song
To these the laurels belong.
Pest hard because the wisest,
Merrily live and long.

The ecstasies above
With thy burning measures suit;
Thy grief, thy joy, thy hate, thy love,
With the fervor of thy lute
Well may the stars be mute.

Yes, heav'n is thine; but this,
A world of sweets and soured,
Our flowers are merely—flowers;
And the shadow of thy perfect bliss
Is the sunshine of our

If I could dwell
Where Israel
Hath dwelt and he where I,
He might not sing so wildly well
A mortal melody.
While a bolder note than this might swell,
From my lyre within the sky.

As it is often helpful to have some sort of guide when listening to music, the following synopsis of theme and explanation of their development may be useful to those who intend to hear this composition.

The opening theme of the accompaniment is to represent the song of the angel Israel. Obviously, this is the principal theme, and occurs in several forms throughout the composition. This is given generally to follow the voice parts to some extent, but rather creates an atmosphere in which the singers are to tell the story. The atmosphere of background, which ever so please to call it, is to suggest the thoughts which the words convey, and this treatment is adhered to almost entirely. It is especially noticeable in the second verse—"The enamoured moon" down to "pauses in heaven" at which was the theme of the lyric of Israel re-enters.

The fourth verse introduces a new thought, the majestic and beauty of heaven as the dwelling place of Israel. The theme of this verse re-appears later in the sixth verse. The reason will be obvious on comparing the two verses; in both cases the accompaniment follows the voice closely.

Therefore, thou art not wrong
'Israel' is the tribute of the earthly poet to the heavenly singer, commending him for his scene of angelic song. The music here is to portray the wild passion of this scene and the unrequited praise of the poet. The theme is used again in the last verse, where the poet is supposing himself to have reached heaven. The first theme also reappears with "while a bolder note than this." The verse closes with the repetition of the words, "If I could dwell where Israel dwelt" though with rather a different meaning. The first time they are used the theme of passionate scorn is employed. The second time, the thought being of reminiscence, though, one were meditating upon the glories of Israel's home. Therefore, the close for the verse parts is, with the theme of the fourth and fifth verses, while the accompaniment continues the song of Israel's lute.

Those notes are not of a technical nature, or they would so of little use to the majority of readers. If they thought of over-technicality, it is suggested that those who intend to hear the performance bring this synopsis with them.

BARTON ASKS FOR PRO DELEGATION

Says No Liquor Machine Politicians Should Be Sent to Democratic Conventions.

Special to The Times. Austin, May 3.—Dr. A. J. Barton, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, has authorized the following statement:

"A very important matter needs to be said with emphasis. The time has come when no man in Texas can be pro or anti, ought to consent for the liquor machine politicians and the hirelings of the brewers to control or to have any important part in controlling our political affairs. The first show of strength since the shameful persistent corruption of a decade or more has been uncovered by the courts will come next Saturday in the precinct convention, which, in turn, will send delegates to the state convention at San Antonio, May 23rd. The San Antonio convention will send delegates to the national convention at St. Louis, which will renominate Woodrow Wilson.

"The good name and honor of the state demands that no man shall be sent to St. Louis or take part in the renomination of Woodrow Wilson who has been in any way connected with the liquor machine politics or who is chosen at the behest of the liquor forces. The precinct and county unit will be in force and the Anti-Saloon forces of the state can easily control the convention if they will be vigilant.

"Some of the pro-liquor papers throughout the state have hammered the superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League pretty hard and have charged him with 'finding bugs under chairs, scaring at stumps and other like offenses.' The superintendent is neither surprised or disturbed at this, nor has he any feeling of offense toward these papers. In the most abstract sense every paper in the exercise of its freedom has a right to stand for the organized liquor traffic and its methods just as the Anti-Saloon League has the right to stand against the organized liquor traffic and its methods. The superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League knows what he is talking about and he desires to send this word of warning and appeal to every friend of the Anti-Saloon Cause.

The liquor politicians fought the enactment of the poll tax provision in the constitution. Failing to prevent it, they, from that day to this, have defied the provision of the constitution and the statutes as well as every other law. ## OFFICERS BLOCK PLAN TO ATTACK MEXICANS' CAMP

PIPE LINE LABORERS NEAR ELECTRA OBJECT OF RAID BY NUMBER OF MEN IN AUTOMOBILES TUESDAY NIGHT

EIGHT UNDER ARREST

Officers Hear of Plan and Get To Camp First, in Time to Stop Trouble—Several in Party Make Escape in Darkness

Eight men are in custody and other arrests are expected as the result of a frustrated plot to "clean up" a camp of Mexicans a few miles south of Electra last night. The eight men, residents of Electra and vicinity, are held on charges of carrying weapons.

Anti-Mexican sentiment in Electra had resulted in a movement to drive away the Mexicans employed by the Texas Company in making repairs on its pipe line near Fowlkes Station and last night a number of men, estimated to number anywhere from 25 to 50 started for the camp in automobiles. Deputy Sheriff J. T. Ligon had heard of the movement and with E. V. Gwinn and J. S. Wilson of this city, had gone to the camp in readiness for the "attack."

Officers There First.

The first car, a Ford arrived and as the occupants disembarked they were halted by the officers. Some of those in the rear seat made a successful break for liberty as did some of the occupants of the second machine which arrive shortly afterward. Four arrests were made at that time and four more arrests were made today. There were a number of other cars moving toward the camp but most of these turned back when it was known that their plans had been interfered with. Other machines were said to have been approaching the camp by a less direct route.

All of those arrested were jailed. Whether they intended to really attack the camp or merely make a demonstration in order to frighten the Mexicans is not known, but it is thought that they expected to shed any blood.

The Mexicans, about 50 in number were camped north of Fowlkes, where the Texas Company is making repairs on its pipe line. So far as can be learned, there was no especial reason for anti-Mexican feeling, as the laborers kept to their camp and annoyed no one, but the sentiment against them at Electra crystallized to a point where a number of men decided to take action.

Censorship Too Lax.

The plans were discussed some what too openly and Mr. Ligon heard of the movement. He accordingly with Messrs. Gwinn and Wilson took station between the camp and the road, with the result that any disturbance was prevented. A Ford car, a Winchester rifle, several pistols, and other "munitions" were seized by the officers and are held awaiting claimants.

No charge other than that of carrying pistols is expected to be brought against the participants in the raid, most of those arrested being oil field workers. The Mexicans were not apprised of the move and were peacefully at work today, not dreaming of any trouble nearer than the Rio Grande.

A story that will appeal to every fine American citizen, exposing a conspiracy against your dear old U. S. A.

AT THE THEATRES

The Gem.

Quite the most interesting picture on the Gem program today is "The Secret Eye," a two-part drama with Myrtle Gonzalez, Frederick Church and Pat Pauli starring. A story follows Mary Page and Courtney Dines are engaged and their marriage is set for an early date. Mary's Aunt Jessica arrives to be present at the wedding and discovers her niece in the act of taking a drug. The girl confesses that she has become a victim and is unable to break off the habit. Mary remembers an old friend, who is practicing medicine, and they decide to consult him in the matter. Mary's decision is strengthened when she and Courtney meet a dope fiend and notices the repugnance with which Courtney regards the fiend. Mary's aunt proposes that the girl disappear and that she and Mary's friend, Dr. Willis, take her to a lonely place and try to break the dreadful habit. Mary consents.

Her father and Courtney exert every effort to risk notoriety, the girl, unwilling to risk notoriety, they secure the services of private detectives. Mary, meanwhile, responds to the treatment. Her father receives a note from the girl, stating that she is in good hands and begging them not to search for her. Courtney believes that this letter is merely a blind. Aunt Jessica develops a severe case of pneumonia and is compelled to leave the two, while she goes to the city for treatment. Dr. Willis, an old school mate and also an old sweetheart of the girl, finds his old love returning. When Mary's aunt regains consciousness several days later, she hurries a nurse forward with instructions to take care of the girl. The detectives, meanwhile, have located Mary. Courtney and the detectives arrive at the doctor's just at dinner time. He enters and upgrades the girl for her unfaithfulness. She starts to explain, but, remembering Courtney's hatred toward the dope fiend, refuses to give any explanation. Courtney leaves in a rage and Mary is much broken up. The doctor tells her that for a whole week she has not taken any drug, and that he thinks she is strong enough to go home.

Three weeks later Willis is much surprised by a visit from Mary and her aunt. Mary has broken her engagement with Courtney and the aunt has come to offer the doctor payment for his services. He refuses the money. The aunt begs him to come to the small town until informed that Mary is expecting to spend some time with her aunt and turning to the girl, he sees that his presence would be greatly desired. The aunt smiles and realizes that in the future Mary will have the doctor to see that she never becomes addicted to the drug habit again.

The Majestic.

Edith Storey is starred in today's attraction at the Majestic, "The Two-Edged Sword," a Vitagraph. "The Two-Edged Sword" referred to in the title is revenge. Mary Brooks, played by Miss Storey having in her desire for revenge forged a two-edged sword which is turned upon herself. "The Two-Edged Sword" is remarkable for several things. The plot is distinctly novel and one which holds the attention until the last foot of film has been run. The cast is well balanced—excellent acting and perfect photography having combined in the production of a picture par excellence. Edith Storey gives her customary careful interpretation of an unusually strong part, the role of Mary Brooks offering exceptional opportunity for the display of her peculiar talents. Miss Storey possesses the happy trait of being able to portray many parts and characters of widely different ages and attainments with but slight change in her facial make-up. A different gown and another twist to her hair and she is somebody else.

The Empress.

Today's attraction at the Empress is "Tennessee's Pardner." The following review of the picture from a picture journal will be of interest. "The glory of 'Tennessee's Pardner' belongs to Fannie Ward. She takes the part of a pretty, sweet, affectionate lass, who goes through life unscathed by surroundings full of all manner of danger and wickedness. Rarely has a woman artist brightened the screen more delightfully than Fannie Ward in this picture. When I say that no portion of the audience was reader with praise than the women, I am giving the readers some idea as to the merit of her performance.

The nature of the story is such as to give an ambitious and conscientious producer notable opportunities for settings, especially outdoors settings. These opportunities the producer has utilized to the fullest and bringing all his art to bear on the material at hand, has made the atmosphere or rather the scenic atmosphere, perfect and thoroughly convincing. Bert Harte's humor is at times of an iron strain and there is a good deal of it in this story, very finely translated into screen language.

The scenes in and about the old mission were beautiful and beautiful altogether too short for the demands of the spectator. There are tragic and intensely dramatic moments in the play. The climaxes are carefully prepared and never miss their effect. Next to Fannie Ward, the performance of Jack Dean, merits special mention. His was convincing. He had to be manly and he had to be tender to the point of weakness. He succeeded in portraying both qualities most convincingly. Another performer that deserves mention is Jessie Arnold who took the part of Kate Kent, the mother of Tennessee, likewise H. Bradbury, taking the part of Bill Kent, Tennessee's father. Charles Clary gave us a villain of the true melodramatic dye. In the subordinate part of the Padre, James Neill, acquitted himself splendidly.

Altogether, "Tennessee's Pardner" is a lovely American play with an appeal which can not fail with any audience.

ALL OUT OF SORTS Has Any Wichita Falls Person Never Felt That Way?

Feel all out of sorts? Tired, blue, irritable, nervous? Back feel lame and achy? Perhaps it's the story of disordered kidneys—Bad blood circulating about. Uric acid poisoning the body. There's a way to feel right again Stimulate the sluggish kidneys. Do it with Doan's Kidney Pills. Doan's are recommended by many Wichita Falls people.

Here's one case: Mrs. Lula Davis, 1304 Scott avenue, Wichita Falls, says: "The first symptom of kidney complaint I had was my back hurting me. I suffered this way off and on for about a year and was scarcely able to do anything. I felt worn out and drowsy and severe headaches and dizzy spells annoyed me. I doctored, but got no relief. I finally started using Doan's Kidney Pills. I could see that was getting better right away, as I felt stronger and the pains and weakness in my back left. I used two boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills and was cured." Price 50c at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy but get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. Davis had. SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months. I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

STOCK COMPANY NAME QUEEN FOR TO MANUFACTURE AUTO INVENTION MAY FETE TODAY

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WORKING ON PROPOSITION TO MAKE CRANMER DEVICE—DIRECTORS MEETING HELD TODAY

FOR HOME TRADING

Telephone Company Asked To Discontinue Present Practice—Other Matters Receive Attention at Session This Morning

A $200,000 stock company project will be incorporated in Wichita Falls in the near future for the manufacture of H. Cranmer's automobile route indicator, if members of the manufacturing committee of the Chamber of Commerce consider the invention practical. Mr. Cranmer appeared before the regular weekly meeting of the chamber this morning and explained his device, later demonstrating it to members of the committee and all were unanimous in approving the invention. No definite action was taken, however, because of the absence of several committee members. A sub-committee composed of Messrs. Noble, Cullinan and Carvey was appointed to augment the standing manufacturing committee and a report will be made at the next meeting.

Mr. Cranmer told the committee he would prefer to enlist local capital for the manufacture of his invention, but said he would be obliged to seek another location if the Chamber finds it cannot finance the project. The factory he would build would employ more than 300 workers. He pointed out that Wichita Falls could be widely advertised if the accessory was manufactured here. He said one car out of every forty in the United States would be equipped with the device after the factory had been in operation a year.

In keeping with the movement to induce Wichitans to patronize home industry the following resolution was drafted:

Resolved, we believe it to be the duty of all citizens of Wichita Falls to build up the city patronizing home industry and employing home labor and where the Southwestern Telephone & Telegraph Company has been granted a favorable franchise and given liberal patronage by our citizens, now therefore, be it resolved by the Chamber of Commerce that we request the management of the telephone company to discontinue sending any work incident to its service here to other cities and have all such work done in Wichita Falls.

Mr. Huff told the members that the monthly statements issued by the telephone company had been printed at Fort Worth. A lengthy discussion of telephone rates and service followed, but no definite action was taken in regard to these questions.

Another invention. M. E. Stevens exhibited a square rule recently invented by Attorney M. McFarland which is to be manufactured in Wichita Falls and assist for the moral support of the Chamber. This was granted. The rule is equipped with a hinge which makes it possible also to use it as a square. Mr. Stevens said he had submitted the invention to contractors, mechanics and others who work with a rule, and that in each instance the invention was deemed practical. He said about 10,000,000 rules are sold annually in the United States. The following members attended the meeting: Messrs. Huff, Gardner, Hugg, Art. Matlow, Bridwell, Noble, J. Leopold, O'Reilly, Harvey, Pennington, Ward, Carrigan, Cullinan.

YOUNG MAN TRIES TO COMMIT SUICIDE

Knife is Knocked From His Hand When He Draws it at Resort in Flats

An attempt at suicide by a well dressed young man in May Howard's house in the flats Tuesday night at 9 o'clock was frustrated by another man, who knocked the knife out of the would-be suicide's hand. Both left the house without giving their names.

According to the landlady, the house was full at the time and the man seemed to be in good spirits. While the merriment was at its height she said, the man pulled the knife from his pocket and announced that he was tired of living.

TEN JURORS CHOSEN FOR BATTLE TRIAL

Continuance Refused — Prosecution Will Ask Death Penalty For Negro

With ten jurors empaneled in the murder trial of J. W. Battle, negro cut of a venire of 41 men, the taking of testimony is expected to begin Thursday morning. The venire was exhausted at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon and twelve more persons were summoned, from which to complete the jury. The following jurors are empaneled:

C. R. Krizon, G. L. Troutman, G. P. Holtzen, M. D. Walker, A. S. Byman, R. W. King, J. B. Sumner, P. P. St. Clair, W. G. Crossland, J. D. Marcum.

In examining the jurors counsel for both sides questioned each man as to his views on capital punishment. The prosecution will ask for the death penalty. Battle is charged with murder in connection with the death of Sam Holland, a white man, just a month ago.

The state announced ready when the case was called at 10 o'clock this morning. The defense presented a motion for a continuance on account of the absence of the witness, Nan Blood.

COLLIER & RICHARDSON

The negro woman who bears this rather ominous name was declared by the defense in its motion to continue, to have been in a room adjacent to that in which Holland was killed, and to have been an eye witness to the shooting. This was the first intimation anyone had that there was an eye witness. The motion recites that the woman would testify that angry words were exchanged by Holland and Battle and that Holland struck the negro with a piece of metal which he held; she would also testify, the motion said, that Battle seemed to be afraid of Holland. The subpoena for the negro was returned with the indorsement "out of the state," efforts to locate her having been unsuccessful. It was said that the state is prepared to prove that the woman could not have been in the room at the time of the shooting.

Judge Nicholson overruled the motion to continue. A motion to quash the indictment was next presented by the defense, which alleged that the grand jury was not legally in session at the time the bill was brought in; this was also overruled. A third motion which was also overruled, was to quash the special venire.

Selection of the jury then began. A number of those on the special venire of 100 presented excuses and were allowed to go. The examination of talesmen began late in the forenoon.
