The Star again this year will boost the fair by every possible means. In order to get the fair edition of the paper in the mails at an early date next week, we ask the cooperation of all who wish to place advertising messages. Will you call us or bring your ad as early as possible. Thanks.

Former editor T. A. Landers of McLean is boasting a butterbean of over three feet in length! Well, our answer to that is the watermelon over at the Farmer's Produce right there in Friona. Imagine if you can a melon weighing 106 pounds and looking every ounce of them! Owner N. C. Tubbs really has something there, though we gather that the melon was raised in sandy Oklahoma.

We lived in one Texas town that eventually was taken over by the Oklahomans, and now we are facing an invasion of vegetables from the same state. This situation bears watching!

What's better than Texas barbecue from 1-a-t Texas calves? That is just the treat in store for all visitors at the County Fair next week-end. Take our word for it, you won't want to miss that barbecue, 'cause we've seen the calves.

Two corrections bear mentioning this week:

In our absence the Church of Christ revival was omitted from the Star columns last week. This was in no way intentional, and we certainly regret the occurrence.

Also Lee Cranfill will not attend school in Dallas, but will attend the University of Texas Medical School at Galveston.

Mrs. Nelson Welch has informed us that plans for presentation of the Farmer County Pageant, which was tentatively set for this month, have been postponed until some time next spring. The pageant will review a history of Farmer County from the days of the red men, and will be held in the natural amphitheater at Rhea Community.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Lawson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Rhoden and David Lee visited in the home of Mr. Lawson's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawson in Pampa this week-end.

Friona Schools Enroll 526 At Opening; Classes Held In Gym, Church, Offices

Qualifications for being a teacher or administrator at Friona Schools this year required a good dash of Yankee ingenuity along with the usual scholastic requirements and common sense.

Faced with the problem of teaching approximately 525 pupils and handicapped by inadequate classroom facilities, the staff is making every effort to get along with substitutions.

As a result English classes are meeting in the gymnasium, Home Economics girls ply their art in the church and administrative offices have been carved out of space once devoted to shower rooms.

Add this havoc to the usual first of school confusion when bells generally refuse to ring at the right times, students jam the halls because they can't find their next classroom and first graders weep because they'd rather be home with mama.

The only pleasant sound in the melee is the slam and bang of construction as workmen strive to complete the new annex which will house Friona High School this year, and will later be turned into a new cafeteria building.

But in the meantime, school is shaping up and education is going forward, while Friona Independent School district cares for even more students than were enrolled last year.

The first seven grades had a total enrollment of 361 by Wednesday morning. The first grade was the busiest with 83 new pupils registered. The second grade had 54; third, 62; fourth, 59; fifth, 51; sixth, 55 and seventh, 45, according to Principal John Parish.

Enrollment in the eighth through twelfth grades reached 165, said Principal Dillie Kelly. There are 50 pupils in the eighth grade, 34 Freshmen, 38 Sophomores, 25 Juniors and 19 Seniors.

Approximately fifty percent of the scholastics enrolled here are bus riders, for the local school serves the community of Black, Rhea, Messenger and Lakeview, as well as rural homes in surrounding areas, pointed out Superintendent Dalton Caffey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Baxter visited in Hobbs with Mrs. Baxter's mother over the week-end.

Mrs. Terrell Christian of Claude is visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spring this week. Mrs. Christian is Mrs. Springs sister.

Farm Bureau OK's Water District

The formation of a water conservation district for this area gained further support this week as the directors of the Farmer County Farm Bureau went on record favoring the proposition.

A spokesman for the group emphasized that the men felt that detailed discussion from their offices might lead to confusion; but they urge the Farm Bureau membership and others to carefully read and weigh any press releases forthcoming from higher levels. The directors voiced their favor of the proposition to be presented in a special election on September 29; and they point out their opinion that a vote for the district would be a vote for free use of water to the landowner, and would probably avoid state control at a later date.

Bruce Parr, local bureau president, has been scheduled to speak at a organization sub-district meeting in Plainview on Sept. 12 at 10 a. m., his subject will be, "What Farm Bureau Means to Me." Several state officers will appear on the program, and special musical numbers will be presented. An invitation has been extended all farmers and interested persons to attend.

Hike In Driver's License Cost Is Effective Sept. 7

A. F. Temple, Chief of the Driver's License Division of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded motorists this week that the fee for Texas Operator's and Commercial Operator's licenses will be doubled effective Sept. 7, 1951.

The increase which was authorized by the 52nd Legislature sets the new price of the Operator's License at $1.00 and the Commercial License at $2.00. Fee for Chauffeurs License will remain at $3.00. The Operator's permit will remain valid for a period of two years while the Commercial and Chauffeurs will continue to be issued for one year periods.

Public Poll

The housewives in Marshall are revolting against paying withholding and social security taxes to their household help and doing all the paper work involved in this measure. Do you think they are right or wrong in their stand?

Mrs. O. J. Beene: It seems to me that they are making a big fuss over a mighty small issue. I don't understand why they should quibble about it when there are so many big things in the world today that need their attention so much more. I never could get with them on this project. Obviously they had the money so it wasn't a financial issue at stake. Really, I'm not much in sympathy with them.

Mrs. Nelson Welch: I think they are right. The most important thing about this whole question, I believe, is the fact that those women were ready to stand up and fight for what they think is right. I admire anybody who will do that, regardless of whether they are right or wrong. Every day I meet somebody who has honest convictions but they have a passive attitude about it and are afraid to speak their mind for fear of criticism, financial loss or something similar. That complacency is dangerous in a democracy where issues are continually being tested by the people.

I think, too, that the issue at stake here, the matter of collection of withholding and social security taxes deserves to be tested legally. As long as the majority of citizens are passive about it the government will just keep on handing it out to us. Today every employer is just a government employee with all the book work and paper work involved. You can't make a move anymore without bumping into government regulations and I think that's detrimental to personal initiative.

Also, I gather from what I have read of Martin Dies' attitude in this matter that if all the women of the country would support this revolt the government could not legally enforce them to withhold these taxes. Of course, this may be a political football, but on the other hand he may be right.

And I understand, too, that the money collected from the government for Social Security and Withholding Taxes is not so it will be available later for put into any sort of trust fund

Congregationalists To Fete Teachers Sunday

The Congregational Church is to be host to the teachers of the public schools of Friona on Sunday evening September 9th. The affair opens with a feed at 7:30 p. m., Rev. Meyer has announced.

Special feature of the evening will be the showing of the sound movie "A Wonderful Life." The principal character of the picture is portrayed by Academy Award winner, James Dunn, who played in the well known picture "A Tree grows in Brooklyn."

The reception honors all the teachers of the Friona Community and their families, this announcement to be considered an invitation.

pensions, ect, but it is spent as received. Consequently when the government needs more money for pensions they just tax again.

Mrs. Paul Fortenberry: I haven't really given much thought to this issue but it seems to me that if everybody else has to bother with withholding tax and social security, such as business employers and farmers, that the housewives should have to do it, too.

Mrs. Wright Williams: I am not in sympathy with them, but I do know that this has opened my eyes to the question of whether or not all these government policies are legal. We all went along, complacently accepting these regulations without a question of whether the government was actually stepping on our rights in enforcing them or not. However, I don't really believe the women of Marshall are interested in the legal point involved as much as they are rebelling against the decree that they have to do this work. They don't want to be told what to do. And I do believe, also that household help should get the same sort of social security benefits as anyone else who work.

MISS SWISHER RETURNS

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher has reopened her voice studios in Friona, using the facilities of the Henry Lewis home located 3 houses south of the campus for headquarters. This change from the usual schoolroom location was necessitated by the crowded conditions due to the fire, Miss Swisher pointed out.

She emphasized that a special class would be conducted for pre-school and lower grade students, in addition to the instruction periods.

Control Of Weed and Johnson Grass Emphasized by County Agent Joe Jones

Bind weed, which has been the next season. Plows, harrows, called a saboteur of farms and rows, and other implements passing which spreads both by roots and ing through infested areas break seed, has become a serious pest roots and spread them to other over the plains area, Joe W. parts of the field where new Jones, County Agent States, The plants develop, the agent ex-County Agent urges local farmers plains. The deep root system of to declare war on the weed now, bind weed make it particularly difficult to eradicate, because the root system must be destroyed for riddance of this weed. Also, seed may stay in the soil for years and also occur along fence rows, highways, railroads and other places. After becoming established, the weed reduces crop yields, and land values depreciate, Jones adds.

The weed develops deep root systems which live through the winter and produce new growth

ERADICATION METHODS

Bindweed may be eradicated by continuous intensive cultivation which usually means plowing or cutting the new growth every ten to 14 days. By cultivation at this short interval the top growth will use more of stored food in the root system than will be put back, thus starving the roots to death.

District Court Convenes Sept. 14

District Court convenes September 14 at which time District Judge E. A. Bills of Littlefield will hear non-jury trials involving civil cases according to County Clerk Lloyd Brewer.

Included in this category are cases involving clearing land titles, uncontested divorce action, etc. Brewer said he did not know whether Judge Bills would take any action on selection of Grand Jury for the new term beginning October 8.

Accompanying Judge Bills will be Court Reporter Jim Norman of Plainview. The District Attorney is Joe Sharp, also of Plainview.

No Fatalities On Parmer Highways During Holiday

Parmer County breezed through Labor Day with a perfect score on traffic accidents, according to Sheriff Charles Loveless.

The Sheriff's department did not receive a single call for the long three day week-end he reported, nor did the State Highway Patrol file any charges against traffic violators on the highway.

"Traffic isn't too congested around here, and I guess people are just getting accustomed to our slow down ways," the sheriff said in offering an explanation for the clean slate against accidents.

JOHNSON GRASS

Johnson grass is another of the obnoxious weeds found throughout Parmer County which farmers should continue to fight states County Agent Joe Jones. Where large acreage is infested, cultural methods are the only practical way to eradicate it, the Agent states. For small spots and along fence rows and bar ditches non-selective weed killers are recommended.

Sodium Chlorate, Atlacide, T. C. A. Polybor Chlorate and other Chemicals have been used successfully to kill this well known pest. The Agent states that during the fall months is a good time to treat infested areas. The Agent points out, however, that for best results the grass should be actively growing, and should not be disturbed for six weeks following treatment.

VISIT WITH YOUR FRIENDS AT THE PARMER COUNTY FAIR

Editorially Speaking . . .

Lest an Opportunity be Overlooked, Consider WHY Our Fair is Called a COUNTY Fair; There's a Reason!

Being unjustly accused is ever distasteful, but to be justly accused of error is even more disconcerting!

We are thinking of an accusation, heard on many corners and in many years, that Parmer County is the least united of any county of the entire area.

Old hurts are not being re-opened by this comment, nor are we censoring any individuals or communities; but there IS something that should be said, not tomorrow but today:

"Let's do something about it if this reproach is true."

There is a special opportunity afforded you and me, whether citizens of Friona, Farwell, Lazbuddie, or Bovina, right this month to mend our fences. We are referring to the County Fair.

What greater opportunity or privilege is there here than that of working together with our neighbors from every sector of the county to promote the common good through better livestock, better community exhibits, increased interest in displaying and viewing the products of our lands?

We think an old-fashioned county fair spirit would do more to unite this county in understanding and brotherly appreciation than almost any other project. Will the fair of next weekend be such an occasion?

Already there is aroused interest among the increased number of exhibitors; there has been excessive work by the fair committee; the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture officials have spent more time in preparation of a fuller program than possibly ever before. Then the success of the enterprise rests finally on you and me, doesn't it?

Whether you are primarily interested in the fat calves, the flying-farmers get-together, the speakers, the community exhibits, or the barbecue, we invite you to join in supporting the fair with every resource at your command. We just can't lose when we do that, can we, Parmer County?

Another Milestone Was Passed Last Sunday - Parmer County Farmers Recall the Black Duster Of 1934; We've Come a Long Way In 17 Years

Monday was Labor Day; but the day preceding probably should and did come into some recognition by people of this area at least. It was on September 2nd, 17 years ago, that the first black duster swept across the plains from the north, ushering in a series of luckless years for those who depended upon the fruits of the soil.

Ralph Smith was first to call this date to our attention; others have mentioned it since.

Many tales, most of them factual, others with both essence of truth and dramatism, have stemmed from that first afternoon. And today, almost as fabulous stories can be told of the plains. . . but in another light. Today, 1951, Parmer County, the farming methods and ingenuity of the hardy plainsmen have effected a near mecca in the agricultural realm. The winds do minimum damage today, largely due to improved methods of tilling, contour farming, etc. Where else can one find mile upon mile of level tillable land spread as a canopy over vast underground water resources, there for the tapping? The water is abundant and pure; the soil is fertile; the climate is one of the best; and the average Parmer County farmer labors daily to combine the use of all these resources for a better living for himself and his community.

We have wondered why chambers of commerce of this area have not come up with a holiday distinct to this region, pointing out to the nation the opportunities on one hand and the past accomplishments on the other. . . each peculiar to the plains and most particularly Parmer County. It could well be dubbed "Reclamation Day" "Plains Progress Week," etc. Maybe county-fair time would be a suitable date; anyway we never get tired of extolling the attributes of our town and county. Aren't we justified?

Can There be a "Non-Partisan American"? We Think So

We note that the Weekly Bulletin published by Peck Associates of New York quoted the Star last week and referred to us as "Non-Partisan." Mulling the implications of this category in our mind, we wish to elaborate a bit lest our political stand be considered wavering or indefinite.

In all sincerity, we have attempted to establish the Star as a non-partisan personality. Sure, a newspaper has a personality, and it is our desire to represent one wherein the best interests of the public are considered; we only trust there is some element of wisdom in our separate editorial declarations and policies. And we hope no one is offended by this stand though our opinions may differ. But we do have a POLICY, a CODE, and a PLAN.

The Star is American above all, a political party member secondly.

In the various organizations to which we have belonged there has been only one official capacity to which we aspired, and that has been the "Americanism Committee," whether the organization be the Legion, the VFW, civic club, or whatnot. And until more effective measures can be taken, you might just as well consider the Star as a crusading Americanism Committee in itself, and to the winds with partisan politics as we now know them! We invite you to string along for there is much to be done.

We believe ever our president might take some pointers from an Americanism Committee; certainly such a group would never have suggested his timing of that clarion call to loyal Democrats at the Japanese Peace Conference. Wes Izzard of The Amarillo News amply covered this subject Wednesday morning so we won't amplify it here.

And there are instances heaped on one another where you and I can do a bit more for America - non-partisan or not!

Do You Remember ?

August 31, 1928

School was the big news when a banner headline announced that "Frionans Plan Warm Reception for School Teachers." The big event was to be held under the auspices of the P.T.A. and it was one of the most completely planned affairs ever. Mrs. E. R. Furlong, president of the organization announced the following committees: Registration, Information, Wrap and Hat, Receiving Line, Hospitality, Games, Program, Serving, Service and even one for the Care of Children and Collection of Flowers.

Superintendent J. A. Conway also announced plans for enrolling the classes, and the headline proclaimed "Children Should Enter School First Day by all means and Continue Uninterruptedly Throughout Term." Back in those days a child six years old on or before March 1, 1928 could enroll in the first grade.

Another story announced that R. H. Kinsley was experimenting with growing different varieties of fruit here in Parmer County and had, had considerable luck with his peach trees "of a large, rosy-checked variety"; a n d "thrifty grape vines of four different varieties loaded with luscious fruit." Other fruit growers in the area included T. B. Gallows, T. J. Crawford, F. T. Schlienger and E. S. Euler.

A warning was made to the owners of domestic livestock: "The town is afflicted with a pack of apparently homeless dogs whose conduct has become quite a nuisance to many of our people. These dogs roam the town and adjoining fields and pastures during the night hours and chase the cows, calves, hogs and sheep and sometimes disturb poultry. On Friday night they attacked a sheep belonging to T. N. Jasper and so worried and injured it that it died Sunday."

Possibilities for obtaining a winter Chautauqua were being studied by a Mrs. Poland of the Associated Chautauqua "who visited Friona this week in the interest of her company."

Among the personal items of interest was the story of a group of Friona Young People "part of a crowd of 776 who explored earth's wonders at Carlsbad Cavern." They included Misses Lola, Nelda, Floy and Margaret Goodwine and Orma White and Messrs Otho and Orville Whitefield and Mr. and Mrs. Fred White.

Leo Pottishman of Fort Worth had been a recent visitor in Friona. Mr. Pottishman was owner of a controlling interest in Santa Fe Grain Company. J. M. Osborn, cashier of Friona State Bank, and his family returned from a two weeks visit with relatives in Arkansas.

As for the other information in the eight page paper, the most interesting fashion note displayed a picture of the patchwork sports coats that were so fashionable for a few years and included in the comic strips were "The Featherheads," "Our Pet Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hall returned Peave" and "Finney of the Force."

And page six was dominated by a story on the origin of Labor Day which was first held in 1886 and credit for the idea was given to P. J. McQuire, secretary of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America.

September 6, 1929

This issue was busy reminding readers not to forget the Trades Day on September 14, and the ears of the paper (those little boxes of information bracketing the masthead) said "Your Dairy Cows need Comfortable Winter Quarters" and "Boost for a Permanent Fair and Friona and Plant Fruit Trees."

Everything was ready for the opening of school. J. A. Conway, was superintendent; George Heath principal, and the faculty included Mrs. Alice C. Conway, J. H. Mims, Marie Gardner, Elizabeth Cherry, M. A. Armstrong, Inez Osborn, Louise Watson, Ester Jennings, Vivian Boston, Ester Reeve, Marie Whitley and Eloyse Pitman.

Friona's Main Street had been graded and was "much improved since the City Commission secured the services of a grader." In fact, civic improvements were evident in much of the news.

Another story dealt with the fact that the water works committee was busy gathering data for the proposed local plant and Friona might soon have a local water supply; while still another announced that the building of the Texas Utility high line into Friona was completed Tuesday.

Architects drawings that brightened the front page were of the Municipal Airport in Amarillo which was to be dedicated Friday, Sept. 7, 1929, "when planes from all parts of the United States will gather for air stunts."

The other was a drawing of the two story Wayland Baptist College Gymnasium being "finished and ready for occupancy when school opens." It was a gift of Mr. and Mrs. J. Lindsay Nunn of Amarillo, Texas.

A safety note cautioning lads to be careful of air rifles read: "One citizen says the roof of his barn is shot full of holes by these small guns in the hands of boys shooting at the pigeons which alight on the roof, and members of the family are fearful of going into the barn to gather eggs or look after cows for fear a stray bullet from some pigeon shooter's gun might hit them."

Social notes of the day: The play "Two Days to Get Married" was presented by the entertainment committee of the local Christian Endeavor Society. Mrs. H. P. Eberling opened her beauty parlor which was named "The Bella Donna."

F. N. Welch and family returned from spending their vacation touring the Mountain States and Yellowstone Park. E. H. Gisler had been to Amarillo attending meeting of Harvester Insurance representatives. Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Hall returned from a six weeks trip to

India Problem Needs Studying

The Wellington Leader

We ship grain to India; but over there monkeys are sacred and the critters are destroying 10c worth of grain per day per monkey. That is enough grain to keep an Indian alive. They are starving on the streets; but they won't kill the monkeys for they are sacred creatures. In another part of India the cattle we know as Brahmas roam the streets and fields eating precious plants that the natives could eat; but they won't kill and eat the cattle because the cattle are also sacred like the monkeys. Yet we send them grain. And if we will only send them enough their birth rate, (girls are married off at 12 years,) will increase to such an extent that starvation will be even worse than it was before we sent extra food. (That has been the Red Cross experience with the Chinese through the years.) Our only hope of helping other people is to help them help themselves; and if they can't or won't then we should cut them off and try to make an effort to save our own economy and our own civilization.

Valley Paper Cites Chamber of Commerce Worth to Community

The Weslaco News

The Weslaco Chamber of Commerce is the best means yet devised for harnessing community power and guiding community activity. During the past 25 or 30 years, it has been organized and reorganized on several occasions, the most recent having taken place about six years ago. Since that time, the Chamber has gone from achievement to achievement, and it is now squarely in the middle of its biggest program of work in years. Because of this, it needs support more than it has ever needed it. This is not the time to pull in Weslaco's horns and forget about community development. We can't think of a time in the past ten years when such community labors were needed more. Since these efforts are needed and since there is no better way of organizing and directing them than through the Chamber of Commerce, it follows that the Chamber MUST have the support of Weslaco businessmen.

It should be remembered always that the Weslaco Chamber is being run by human beings, that they cannot always hope to be 100 per cent correct nor to satisfy the individual desires or requests of everybody in the community. If the Chamber and its officials were perfect, there would be no need for anyone else to concern themselves with Chamber operations.

But The News has always said this: We would rather have the Chamber make a mistake trying to DO something for Weslaco than to have it sit idly by and make no move for fear of committing an error.

ITU Will Make Mistake

from
The Canyon News

We see where the International Typographical Union is about to start a new daily newspaper.

If the printers get the idea that publishing a newspaper, either daily or weekly, is a gravy train, with nothing to do but rake in the coin of the realm, they are certainly on the way to disillusionment.

In the first place, newspapers are more or less local or regional in nature.

In the second place, a daily newspaper which is nothing more than the trade publication, ceases in its news value, and advertising revenues diminish to the point of another trade publication. Such revenue is light.

Due to the high wages of printers; the scarcity of both labor and print paper; and the uncertainty of policy, we are convinced that the Union is making a serious blunder in attempting to start a new publication at this time.

Texas Compares Well In Low Traffic Fatalities In 1951

from
The Panhandle Herald

Comparison of traffic fatalities in Texas and Oklahoma for 1951 indicate that the Lone Star State is doing much more effective enforcement.

Oklahoma had 345 traffic deaths through Aug. 27 compared with 299 for the same date last year. As the state has not gained much in population, it indicates slack enforcement and possibly highways behind Texas in ability to handle traffic.

Texas had 1269 traffic fatalities through July with 1,283 compared for the first seven months in 1950. The state highway patrol estimates Texas will have a 1 per cent increase for the seven months over 1950 when complete reports are received.

According to the projected fatalities, Texas will have more persons killed this year than there are in Panhandle and part of its rural area. It is enough to make one shudder to think that a population greater than that of Panhandle could be wiped out in motor vehicle accidents.

As the traffic fatality may be you, some member of your family or a good friend, it pays to be a careful driver all the time.

Wedding Vows Unite Miss Murna Welch Jack Miller in Formal Church Service

Miss Murna Loy Welch, daughter of Mrs. F. N. Welch and the late Mr. Welch, became the bride of Jack Reeves Miller, Dimmitt, in an impressive candlelight ceremony Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Miller, Dimmitt.

The double-ring ceremony was read in the Friona Methodist Church with Louie Welch of Houston, minister of the Church of Christ, officiating. He is a cousin of the bride.

The green and white background was provided by jade foliage and large fan arrangements of white gladioli. In between the baskets of foliage and flowers were cathedral candelabras with white tapers.

The bridal aisle was marked by arrangements of candles in double candelabras and white gladioli bouquets tied with white satin.

Miss Jane Welch of Hereford, cousin of the bride, gave a pre-nuptial organ recital.

Candle-lighters were Miss Joyce Ann Miller, Friona, and Miss Doris Jeanne Scott, Vernon. They were gowned in pale aqua satin dresses with hoop skirts. Their wristlet corsages were of pink carnations. They also presided at the guest register in the foyer of the church.

Miss Joann Thornton, Littlefield, was maid of honor. Her pink satin gown was fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long basque waist pointed in back and front, puff sleeves and a full skirt with front drape. Long satin mitts matched the dress. She wore a bandeau of split carnations in her hair, and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Bridesmaids were Misses Lu Nell McFarland and Dorothy Nell Guinn, Friona; Miss Carolyn Lee, Dimmitt, cousin of the groom; and the bride's three sisters, Mrs. Steve Struve, Friona, Mrs. Rex Johnston, Commerce, Texas, and Mrs. Billy Joe Brown, Midland, Texas. The bridesmaids wore identical dresses of mauve satin. Their headpieces were of feathered pink carnations and their bouquets were of pink and dubonnet carnations.

Mikie Welch and Kay Struve, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Their pink satin dresses were identical to those of the bridesmaids and maid of honor. They carried baskets of rose petals.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her brother, Nelson Welch, wore the wedding gown of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Louis Welch. The ivory satin gown had a sweetheart neckline edged in imported lace. The long fitted bodice featured tiny covered buttons as did the long sleeves which tapered to a point over the hands. The sleeves and waistline were accented with lace and the full skirt extended into a train. The pearls she wore were her wedding gift from the groom.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a double-brim bonnet headdress, which had clusters of orange blossoms at the sides.

She carried a white Bible, a gift from her Rainbow Chapter, topped with an arrangement of orchids with feathered white carnations in the satin streamers.

Dick Davis, Hobart, Okla., cousin of the bridegroom, attended him as best man. Ushers were Orrin Howe, Carroll Gregory, and Leland Lee, the groom's cousin, all of Dimmitt; Royce Dowell, and two of the bride's brothers, Louis Welch, Friona, and France Welch, San Angelo.

Miss Welch, organist, accompanied Stanley Lockhart as he sang "With This Ring I Thee Wed" and "Because."

Rex Johnston, the bride's brother-in-law, read the poem, "How Do I Love Thee?" by Browning, as the organist played "I Love You Truly." As the couple knelt at the altar following the wedding vows, Mr. Johnston sang "Wedding Prayer."

The wedding reception was at the Friona Woman's Clubhouse. An arrangement of white gladioli centered the lace-covered serving table. The wedding cake was encircled with pink and white flowers. In the house party for the reception were Mesdames Louis Welch, Nelson Welch of Friona, Mrs. France Welch of San Angelo, Mrs. John Merritt, Dimmitt, Miss Joan Williams, Farwell, Miss Jerl Hudson, Earth, and Miss Jane Welch, Hereford.

Following the rehearsal Monday night, the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Miller, entertained with a dinner served to the wedding party, the house party for the reception, and other special guests. The dinner was given at the Jim Hill Hotel in Hereford.

Immediately after the reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo. After September 6, the couple will be at home at 2313 13th Street, Lubbock, Texas.

The bride's going away costume was a gold velvet suit with lizard shoes and bag. Her hat was brown velvet. Her corsage was a white orchid.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller will enroll at Texas Tech College again this fall. He will be a senior and she will be a junior.

Fishing at Conchas Dam over the Labor Day week-end were Roy Clements and Frank Spring.

Also holidaying in New Mexico were Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Gonsers.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Crump and children were in Lamesa this week-end to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Jobe.

Reed-Bandy Vows Exchanged Here

In an informal double ring service read Thursday evening at the Church of Christ, Miss Patsy Jane Reed became the bride of Marvin Eugene Bandy.

Mrs. Bandy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Reed and the groom is the son of Mrs. Viola Bandy of Amarillo.

The vows were read by Stanley Lockhart, pastor of the Church of Christ, before an altar decorated with gladioli in a variety of autumn colors.

Attendants were Miss Beverly Sue Jones and Charles Sanders. Miss Jones wore a lavender crepe dress styled with a high neckline and decorated with tucks. Her corsage was of white carnations.

The bride wore a charcoal grey crepe dress with a fitted bodice, cap sleeves and a V-neck that rolled into a stand up collar. The skirt fell in knife pleats, and her accessories were in black. Her only jewelry was a necklace, which was a gift of the groom.

The bridal flowers included both a corsage of white carnations and a dainty bouquet of pinks which topped the white bible she carried. Streamers of white ribbon fell from the arrangement.

Following the service, a reception was held in the church annex.

The serving table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of white carnations in a crystal bowl. The two tired, white iced wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. Assisting at the serving table were Mrs. Marvin Massey, who cut the cake, and Beverly Sue Jones who served the punch. Mary Joyce Renner presided at the guest book.

The wedding and reception was attended by 35 guests who were relatives and close friends of the couple.

The bride and groom are making their home in Friona. He is employed here and the bride will continue her work at Friona High School where she is a junior student. The groom is a graduate of Friona High School.

Those present were Helen Carr, Sue Jones, Laura Nell Hardesty, Patsy Reed, Deanna Buske, Joyce Ann Miller, Betty Zon Ashcraft, Lamona Neff, and the hostesses Margie Haws and Mary Joyce Renner.

Chieftains Meet Springlake There

Football season gets off to a rousing start tomorrow as the Indian Chiefs representing Friona's Class B high school meet the Springlake Wolverines from a Class A high school in the first pigskin tussel of the 1951 season; the game is to be played on Wolverine Field.

Coach Raymond Cook said he had high hopes for his team this year and was confident the first game would be a good one.

Game captains appointed for tomorrow night are Max Cruise and Doyce Barnett.

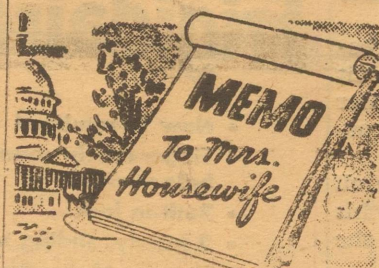

Friona, tomorrow night meets a team about which they know little. Cook said the Springlake team had lost four or five of their first string men by graduation and the Wolverines are also playing under the direction of a new man, Johnny Cardinal, who comes to Springlake from Sudan where he was assistant coach last year.

Game time is eight o'clock and the coaches urged that as many football fans as possible be out to cheer for the home team.

"It's only a 55 mile drive to Springlake and we are looking for a crowd of boosters to back Principal Dillie Kelly said that us up," said Cook.

The pep squad and band would not be going to this game as a group because school had not been convening long enough to get the two groups organized. However, they will appear at the first home town game scheduled for September 14.

A pep rally will be held tomorrow morning (Friday) at 8:45 in the Auditorium, at which time cheer leaders, pep club sponsors and class sponsors will be named, said Kelly.

Price Daniel Receives First Copy Texas Press Publication Laws Book

Texas' Attorney General Price Daniel has a big job and a big family.

In spite of that, during the past two years he has found time to compile and edit the first complete book on Texas Publication Laws, a work long needed by Texas newspapers, public officials and newspaper lawyers.

The first copy of the new book, published by the Texas Press Association, was presented to Price Daniel by his four children on Father's Day.

In addition to his distinguished career as a country lawyer and then as the aggressive attorney general of his native state, Price Daniel is co-publisher of his hometown newspaper, the Liberty Vindicator. His newspaper partnership with Jake Smyth and John Manthey also includes the Anahuac Progress at Anahuac, Texas.

Daniel is the son of a weekly newspaper editor. It was in the high schools of Fort Worth at the age of 15 years that Daniel first published his own newspaper, the Fort Worth High School Student. He also worked as a cub reporter for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, and then for the Waco News Tribune while attending Baylor University. At Baylor, Daniel edited the Daily Lariat and the college annual.

"I paid my way through law school by working in the newspaper business," Daniel has often said. He is an active member of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity, as well as his many legal associations.

From the standpoint of a lawyer and a newspaper man, Daniel was well equipped to write the book which contains all newspaper and public notice law in the state. The Texas Press Association is making it available to newspapermen, lawyers, public officials, and others at actual cost of publication. "It is a public service project made possible by the work of our attorney general," Brad Smith of Weslaco, president of the Texas Press Association said.

The only thing which rates higher attention than the law and the newspaper with Price Daniel is his attractive and devoted family. His wife, the former Jean Houston Baldwin of Houston, is a great-granddaughter of General Sam Houston. The four children are Price Jr., 10, Jeanie, 9, Houston, 5, and John, 4. They now live in Austin in a rambling house on three lots covered with oak trees—the nearest thing they could get to the open spaces of their permanent home in Liberty.

In his first five years as Texas' Attorney General, Daniel has gained distinction for his fight against federal seizure of the tidelands from the Texas public school fund. He insists that Texas will win in Congress if Texas keep on fighting and refusing to compromise or surrender. He has been outspoken in his belief that federal officials are violating the Texas Annexation Agreement in attempting to take these lands.

Daniel has been equally persistent against other federal encroachments upon the powers and property of the states and of individual citizens. Also, he has been leading the state's fight against organized crime, vowing that Texas will soon lead the nation in its clean-up of syndicated gambling and warning outside hoodlums and racketeers to stay away from Texas.

Daniel is a veteran of World War II, having retired from the office of Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives to enter the service as a private. After three years, the last few months of which were spent in General Douglas MacArthur's occupation of Japan, he was discharged as a captain.

That he is a hard worker in his job as "the people's lawyer" is evidenced by a record of 4832 lawsuits and 2498 official opinions disposed of by his administration since January 1, 1947.

Hazards to New Pasture and Meadow Seedings

Failure of seeds to germinate, destruction of seeds by insects or rodents after sowing, too deep coverage of seed, failure of seed to break through a soil crust, freezing of seedlings from too early sowing, damping-off of seedlings before and after emergence, and insufficient moisture to support seedlings, are all recognized as causes of poor early stands in pastures and meadows, which by farmers are usually, but often incorrectly, charged to "poor seed."

What appears soon after the appearance of the seedlings above ground to be a good stand often turns out to be a poor, thin stand, of both grasses and legumes. The causes for these later losses are usually not difficult to locate but are not always recognized, understood, or easily remedied.

With legumes, lack of proper inoculation is one of the frequent causes of loss of early stands. Since there are on the market today suitable commercial cultures for practically all cultivated legumes, this cause can always be eliminated by proper inoculation at time of sowing.

Acid soils may not prevent germination of legume seeds, but they do often prevent plant development. In strongly acid soils, seedlings soon show the lack of lime by slow growth and sickly appearance. Many plants die in a few weeks' time, and others during first winter. Many a clover or alfalfa failure which is attributed to poor seed, dry weather, or other unfavorable condition, is really because of insufficient lime.

Legume seeds will germinate well in a poor soil, but by weak growth and lack of vigor the seedlings soon show the effect of starvation, which makes them susceptible to disease and winter damage. Probably, because of its effect in stimulating root growth, nothing helps more in establishing a legume than an abundance of available phosphorus in the soil. Applications of superphosphate, or where potash is also likely to be deficient, of 0-14-6 or a top-dressing of manure are often worth more than their cost in helping to insure a good stand of legumes.

Insects and diseases frequently cause more or less injury to the young forage seedlings, sometimes causing near-total losses. Examples are the clover leaf weevil, pea aphids, grasshoppers, and leafhoppers, among insects; and anthracnose and damping-off, among diseases.

Drought is a common and serious enemy of young grass and legume stands. However, when crops are sown without the competition of a companion or so-called "nurse" crop, it is usually only on very droughty soils, particularly encountered in spring sowing. Even in years of severe drought, alfalfa and clover sown alone in the spring usually survive.

Weeds may do forage crops as much or more harm than to cereals, and be worth nothing. They may also appear after the companion crop has been harvested, so that means for their control are important. Usually, the only practical control for weeds in the new stands of mixed grasses and legumes is mowing; in certain pure grass stands and those including white clover and Ladino, 2-4-D treatment may be effective.

Winter killing is a frequent hazard of seedlings in cold climates. It may follow late fall sowing, poor development on account of drought, or lack of nutrients or lime, untimely clipping, or poorly adapted seed.

Good Foods Help Build Sound Health

This young American, enjoying his tapioca pudding with bananas calls attention to an important day devoted to the welfare of youngsters — National Child Health Day, May 1.

A bright eyed eager child is usually a healthy child. And so that more little Americans may have a healthy happy childhood, a day each year is set apart by our government for calling attention to the well being of children. It is National Child Health Day, observed on May 1.

Puddings like this banana tapioca are favorites with children and like other good foods they help build sound health. Most important for their control are important. Usually, the only practical control for weeds in the new stands of mixed grasses and legumes is mowing; in certain pure grass stands and those including white clover and Ladino, 2-4-D treatment may be effective.

Tapioca Banana Pudding
 1 egg white 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar
 2 tablespoons sugar ½ teaspoon salt
 1 egg yolk 3 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
 2 cups milk ½ teaspoon vanilla

Beat egg white until foamy throughout, add 2 tablespoons sugar 1 tablespoon at a time, and continue beating with rotary egg beater until mixture will stand in very soft peaks. Set aside.

Mix egg yolk with small amount of the milk in saucepan. Add 2 or 3 tablespoons sugar, salt, quick-cooking tapioca, and remaining milk. Place over medium heat. Cook until mixture comes to a boil, stirring constantly — this takes 5 to 8 minutes.

Pour small amount of hot mixture gradually on egg white mixture. Blend. Add remaining mixture, stirring constantly. (The hotter the mixture and the faster it is blended in, the thicker the pudding will be.) Add vanilla. Cool, stirring once after 15 to 20 minutes. Chill. Makes 4 or 5 servings.

When serving, top pudding with sliced bananas.

Our community has and is changing fast, so has flying since the good old days. Schools are better, so are medical and farming facilities, and living conditions in general. Of course, improvements like these aren't automatic. They are made because people want them and are willing to work for them. But people alone don't make a better community. People working together do. That's where your chamber of commerce and agriculture comes in. It's the rallying point for those who want a hand in shaping the good old days of tomorrow. How about you? Are you ready to pitch in? If so, become a member.

"Your Lowest Paid Employee"

You pay your Chamber of Commerce dues, and no doubt have the feeling that you have merely performed a Civic Duty. Perhaps you consider it a contribution to something intangible, but nevertheless for good of the order. Think of it in the light of an investment. The purchase of specialized service, as necessary and useful in conducting your business as the public utility services you buy. You don't see gas or electricity, only the results they produce. That's the way with Chamber of Commerce service. Every business and professional office is dependent upon an increasing flow of people. Bringing people to our community, treating them courteously, making them satisfied and extending to them just a little more personal service, is distinctly a selling job. Your chamber of commerce does exactly that; it is less costly to do it collectively, so you see, the Chamber of Commerce is actually in your employ and you are paying for something tangible and substantial when you pay "dues."

FRIONA CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND AGRICULTURE IS WORKING FOR YOU—BE SURE IT IS ON YOUR PAYROLL!

Tape recordings were made and will be put on the air over K P A N Hereford, KCB D Lubbock, KICA Clovis, KFDA Amarillo and KGNC Amarillo as spot announcements announcing our fair, recordings will be made during the fair and will be broadcast over the various stations.

Mr. Dick Doshier of Texico has donated to the Parmer County Fair sudan straw for bedding at the fair, also, Don Barnett.

Mr. Ramey of Dimmitt is lending Chamber of Commerce continuing us his equipment for the barbecue as well as his services, this will be one bang up affair to start the fair off with and the parade and calf roping to bring it to a close, there will be something going on most of the time to interest our friends and neighbors paying us a visit at this time.

Final plans for the fair were formulated at the meeting at Bovina on Tuesday night. A meeting of the superintendents will be held on Monday at 2 p. m. at the fair barns.

So far the only club that has arranged for a bake sale at the fair is the Modern Study Club to be held on Saturday morning at 10 a. m. They will also have a fish pond. Clubs which are planning a Bake Sale or other means of raising money should get in touch with me so that the program can be worked out, it was decided by the fair board that all organizations holding things of this nature would be charged 10% of the net, other than clubs which use their money for prizes at the fair.

Unable to secure rides for our fair some of the business men are building a kiddie auto ride and this winter are going to build another ride or so that we will have here in Friona through out the year.

The American Legion of Clovis has consented to rent us store front banners and street stringers for our week of the fair, the cost of these is almost prohibitive but for a small charge we can rent them and dress up the town.

Few little girls receive letters who joined with you for your kind letter. The president has ever had a profound belief in the power of prayer and, as you know, he has constantly urged the people to unite in prayer to seek Divine blessings and guidance in behalf of the peace of the world.

Barbara Crow, 11 years old in the 7th grade, Nancy Crow, 13 year-old 8th grader, and Sherry Settles, a cousin from Amarillo, were recipients last week of the following letter:

It was indeed thoughtful of you to assure the President of your confidence. Such fine expressions mean much to him.

Cafeteria Supervised By Mrs. Dillie Kelley

Mrs. Dillie Kelly, a home economics major from North Texas State College, who specialized in dietetics, has been named supervisor of the cafeteria for Friona schools, according to Superintendent Dalton Caffey.

Mrs. Kelly will be assisted in her work by Mrs. Irene Pope, Mrs. Marlene Drake, Mrs. Jewel Green, Mrs. Verda Osborn and Mrs. Phyllis Sanders.

Mrs. Kelly, a former teacher here, will now have charge of preparing some 1750 meals a week, as the cafeteria serves about 350 meals a day to students and teachers.

Cost of the meal is only 25c to children in grades one through seven, and thirty cents for eight graders and high school students. The federal government subsidizes these meals through gifts of money and of commodities on a per capita basis of people fed.

Three types of meals are designated by the government as eligible for federal aid, and these are typed A, B, and C, meaning, respectively hot lunch with milk, hot lunch without milk and a cold lunch. The cafeteria here serves only meals of type A and type B.

"The practice of serving cold lunches was tried and found wanting," Caffey pointed out, "so now we stick to hot lunches exclusively."

Approximately 65 per cent of the school students and teachers eat at the cafeteria regularly. Students purchase their meals by buying tokens, one for each day. They may buy them daily or several at a time. These tokens are exchanged for their noon meal.

Since it is impossible to feed 350 people at once in the space available to the cafeteria, the students eat in shifts. First, second and third graders eat at 11:15 until 11:45. Students from the fourth through the seventh grades eat from 11:45 until 12:15 and the older students have from 12:15 until 1:00.

Teachers of the various grades act as supervisors during the lunch hour.

"The problem of second helpings is solved by allowing extra helpings to anyone who wants it, after he has cleaned his tray," Caffey pointed out.

During the last five years some $5000 worth of cafeteria equipment has been added to the building here. At some future date, when the new high school has been completed, the cafeteria will be moved into the building now being constructed.

During each school week The Friona Star will publish the weekly menus being served at the cafeteria for the benefit of parents.

Bible School Conducted Demonstration Program

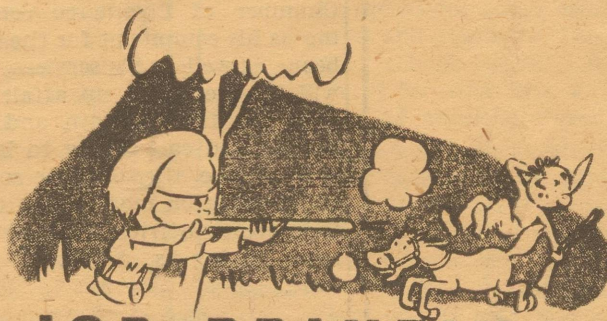

Demonstration Night of the Congregational Church Daily Vacation Bible School was held Sunday evening.

Mrs. Floyd T. Reeve played the prelude of music accompanied by Curtis O'Rear in his cornet solo. Johnny Jasper gave the Invocation; Bobby Sanders and Milford Sanders served as altar boys; Jimmy Bainum read the Scripture; Pat Cranfill gave the prayer; Peggy Widener read an Old Testament story; and Edd Uri Luttrell sang a solo.

Playing in the orchestra were: Curtis O'Rear, Glenn Evan Reeve, Sue Cranfill, Phyllis Treider, Dudley Bainum, and Don Reeve, with Mrs. G. L. Cranfill at the piano and director of the orchestra.

Then there was the cub reporter who was told to cut his stories to the bare essentials. He submitted the following:

"John Smith looked up the elevator shaft to see if the elevator was on its way down. It was. He would have been 46 this April."
