School opening dates in Friona are as yet undetermined, according to announcement this week by Superintendent Caffey, but announcement will be made in the near future.

We mentioned last week that there were some mighty good farmers in this area, and we asked for nominations of those who could plow the straightest rows. Evidently the county is full of these better farmers, confirming our belief. Nominations have been thick and fast for R. E. Sneed, farming just east of Hub. We concur - his is one of the neatest farms to be found anywhere. Then others have mentioned Floyd Dutton R. L. Green. But we don't believe the south part of the county has a monopoly on the good farmers. Let's have some nominations from every section.

It's not Clean-Up Week in Friona—it must be civic pride. Anyway there's a lot of paint being spread locally this week. Probably most noticeable is that at Rockwell Bros. & Company where a bright orange is being spread. Then across the street "Meathead" Thornton is painting the interior of the locker and cold storage a glistening white. Over on Main Street the Lewis Variety Store and Foster's Dry Goods are sporting new signs, courtesy Don Lewis and Ray Nell Foster.

Someone asks if we were hinting for some vegetables when we mentioned the farm gardens last week. If that had been the case, we surely would have mentioned these city gardens, too. I'm serious, some of the best gardens are raised by the city cousins, believe me. Even the Phillips 66 Wholesale firm boasts quite a garden to its rear. We are sure that Pudge Kendrick had nothing to do with it, however; let's give credit where due - to Marvin Bartlett. Who raises the best city garden? Our phone number is 3172. The watermelons of Mike Palavus have been nominated. CL was going to nominate his own patch but Mrs. CL being indisposed and unable to work the garden, cut the weeds, etc., we withdraw our entry.

Where would any of us be without friends, and good neighbors? In an inopportune setback in our Linotype last Wednesday, the Star just couldn't have been put out without the assistance of fellow publishers. Mr. Graham at Farwell heard of the trouble and... offering his assistance, later Sonny Graham came over to assist during the night; then B. M. Nelson of the Castro County News at Dimmitt set some of the type that made publication possible.

We note from time to time the new employees of the businesses in town, including our own. But maybe it would be just as newsworthy to mention the faithful service of some of the old employees. Hardly a business has an employee that has not stayed month after month or year upon year, rendering exceptional service. Maybe a "clerk-of-the-month" contest would bring to light the services of some of these employees. How about it, Mr. Chamber of Commerce Manager—why not recognize a clerk each month, maybe offering a casa award, saluting an outstanding clerk who exemplifies a "Friendly Friona" by his or her courteous services, knowledge of his trade, service beyond duty, etc?

We have a young fellow at the Star who's going to make a printer if he doesn't change his ways. We refer to Tommie Jasper who pitched in the first day we were in Friona and worked in the shop, first folding papers, and doing janitor work, later learning to cast the metal, run the commercial printing press, and now becoming adept at setting type and building ads in the shop. And some people still wonder if the younger generation knows how to work! We maintain that every boy has some interest whether printing, farming, carpentering, writing, etc., that should be encouraged. There's little juvenile delinquency among busy young people.

Lazbuddie Benefits From Additional State Transportation Funds

The Lazbuddie school's bus routes recently were inspected by an auditor from the Texas Education Agency; and the district was assured some $1,000 to $3,000 more aid from the State agency for transportation, Superintendent Sims announced this week.

In addition to the transportation audit, all records with exception of lunch room records were audited for the years 1949-50 and 1950-51. The lunch-room records were examined earlier in the year, and all records were reported as quite accurate.

Work Under Way On Temporary Housing at School

The foundation has been poured for the temporary high school building in Friona, and every effort is being made to speed construction plans on the permanent building. Superintendent Caffey stated this week.

Bricks for construction of the temporary school were being unloaded as the Star went to press. Contract for the building with Walter Construction of Lubbock, called for completion in 120 days which means it should be ready for occupancy between the first and fifteenth of October, Caffey added.

In the meantime, the school board is waiting for official government action on its permit to build a new school, before they can let the contract.

"We must have an official permit from the Office of Price Stabilization before we can start any construction which will use more than 25 tons of steel. Our application for permit has been sent to Dallas' office and we hope to have it granted the first week in August," said Caffey.

The board was able to go ahead with this temporary building because it will not use more than 25 tons of steel.

Special Program Given At Methodist W.S.C.S.

The final meeting for the 1950-51 session of the Friona Methodist Women's Society of Christian Service was held Tuesday afternoon and a special program was presented in honor of the members who had departed many years to Christian service in church or civic work.

Mrs. Knute Goff read the meditation for the service and Mrs. H. Kendrick paid a tribute to the guests of honor.

A vocal solo, "Love that Will Not Let Me Go," was sung by Mrs. Jimmy Tidwell, accompanied by Mrs. Kendrick.

Following the program a social hour was held. Refreshments were served and bouquets of summer adolvas were used for the decorations. Hostesses for the social hour were: Mrs. J. T. Gee, Mrs. J. P. Hauffer and Mrs. Cocanougher. Forty-one people were present including nineteen guests.

Sammie Graham Funeral Held Tuesday Afternoon

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday for Sammie Lee Graham, daughter of Publisher and Mrs. W. H. Graham of Farwell.

Miss Graham died from a heart attack at the family home in Farwell early Sunday morning. She was born in Melrose, New Mexico on August 17, 1920.

Funeral services in the Hamlin Memorial Methodist Church were conducted by Rev. R. L. Butler of Munday, formerly of Farwell, assisted by Rev. Lance Hurst. Burial was conducted in the Long Haven Cemetery in Clovis under the direction of Steed Funeral Home.

Survivors included the parents, a sister, Mrs. Vance Crume of Friona, and a brother, W. H. Graham, Jr.

Public Poll

"WHAT IS the most valuable lesson you have learned in working with people?"

LOLA GOODWINE: You have to learn to understand your customers and to get their viewpoint. You soon learn that your first impressions of people are not always correct, so you quit making spot judgments. I enjoy working with people, and I think they are very interesting.

JUD BRISCOE: I think working with people helps you to develop your faith in human nature. There are exceptions to the rule, of course, but I believe most people want to give and to get a square deal. I have worked with the public for years, and I've discovered that the Golden Rule really pays.

PEARL JOHNSON: I like to work with people. I've worked with them about seven years, and I know one thing, people sure respond to the mood you set. If you are cheerful, they'll be more cheerful; but if you're grouchy, they're grouchy, too. They are all kinds of people in the world and in business, you certainly meet them all.

MRS. FORREST OSBORN: A person who works with the public learns to like people, to understand them. I certainly think you have to like people before you can work with them successfully.

JACK ANDERSON: I've worked with people for forty years. And I learned you just have to play politics with them. "What erer you think is what I don't think," you know. Everyone you meet has got some real good ideas, you know, and more than likely he's just bursting to tell you about them. Anyway, they've all got me outclassed so far. I don't really know what I think. People never learn much from me, but I sure learn a lot from them.

MRS. SAM WEIR: I believe the greatest lesson you learn is tolerance. Realizing that perhaps others' viewpoints are right instead of mine. And you learn tolerance of viewpoints as well as patience with the ways and habits other people have that aren't like yours. Everybody has their problems you know, and you've just got to realize that.

WANDA HART: You learn that all people are different, and you just accept them as they are with their own ideas and ways of doing things. You can't make them over without making them mad. I like working with people, and when you have a congenial group to work with, it makes all the difference in the world to your job.

H. L. OUTLAND

Henry L. Outland has moved to Friona to take over his duties as local manager for the Southwestern Public Service Company here.

Mr. Outland, his wife and two children moved here from Amarillo where he has been employed with the company since 1943, when he started as an Engineering Assistant in the Division Engineering Department in Amarillo, where he handled surveying plans and layouts.

He was formerly an engineer with the Oklahoma State Highway Department.

Mrs. Clara Pearson received word Tuesday that her nephew, Marion Douglas Bills of Shamrock, was killed in action on July 8 in Korea. Bills was 33 years of age and had been in the army since he was 17 year old. He has three brothers in the service and a sister who is doing defense work in Houston.

Howdy Neighbor:

We have a crew of 60 Mexicans that is available to work in the cotton. If you will get in touch with this office we will be glad to arrange for these people to work for you. Our phone is Friona 3301.

Miss Ella Mae Wood and Mrs. Mabel Romich have received word from the American Red Cross office that they are qualified and have been issued the information and equipment for holding first aid classes. A meeting will be held next week to formulate plans and set up dates and places to hold the classes throughout the county.

The Brown Swiss tour proved a great success. Ninety-three were served dinner at the Martin Fulcher farm north of Black. Officials of the association included Ivan Adkins, president of the Brown Swiss Association of Plainview, Canton No. 1, (This is the Swiss name for the county in Switzerland that is original home of the breed.) Mr. Coy Nealey of Texas Tech was in charge of grading during the tour. A halter was presented to the boy coming the nearest to a perfect score. Mr. Fulcher showed three heifers, one with 265 days record of 236 lbs. production, one with 92 days production of 133 lbs.; and one with 271 days of 395 lbs.

Work on the fair catalog is progressing very fast and will be in the hands of the printer very shortly. There is some available space left in the exhibit hall, so anyone who is not advertising in the catalog and who wishes to secure space should see me as soon as possible. The booth spaces sell for $25.00.

The Rhea Farm Bureau is considering the naming and numbering of the roads in that district. Your manager was appointed on a committee to go see Mr. McCarty of the Highway Department, stationed at Lubbock. His suggestion was to

Irrigation Farmers Invited to Testify At Plainview Meet Next Thursday In Behalf Creation Conservation District

Groundwater users from 21 counties will gather in Plainview Aug. 9th to tell the State Board of Water Engineers how they feel about the proposed creation of High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1.

Irrigation farmers and other interested citizens have been invited to testify at the Board's public hearing, which is set for 10 a. m. in the Plainview Municipal Auditorium.

On evidence presented, the Board will decide whether to declare creation of the 10,600-square-mile district. If the district is established, the Board will then appoint a five-man board of directors to supervise an election at which the voters may approve or reject the district.

Such districts are in operation in Martin and Dallam counties, on a much smaller scale. They were created under House Bill 163, passed by the Texas Legislature in the spring of 1949.

The proposed district includes all of Lubbock, Parmer, Hale and Swisher counties and parts of Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Castro, Crosby, Deaf Smith, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hockley, Lamb, Lynn, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Terry and Cochran counties.

Know Your Notary Publics? There Are 62 Located Within the County This Year

It shouldn't be hard to find a Notary Public in Parmer County this year, for late figures show that there are exactly 62 of these designated individuals here.

Conversations with the local notaries reveal that most of them made the application to the Secretary of State (accompanied by $4.00) because they needed the notary service within their own business. What other reason could there be when many of them charge practically nothing for their notary service to the public? Soon after making their application they receive the impressive commission which is displayed on the wall, a seal is purchased for probably twice the cost of the commission, and now the notary is ready to serve.

Farwell and Friona each have 26 notary publics, with others listed in Bovina and Lazbuddie. By towns the local notaries are:

- Bovina: F. L. Anderson, H. J. Charles, M. H. Martin, John S. Potts, Aubrey Rhoads, Lee Thompson, W. H. Willoughby, and J. W. Ashcraft.
- Lazbuddie: H. L. Ivy, W. M. Sherley.
- Friona: Charles E. Allen, C. S. Bainum, Vagge D. Crume, Raymond Euler, Lola Goodwine, H. K. Kendrick, Marvin Lawson, Henry Lewis, C. L. Lillard, H. T. Magness, Lois Norwood, Cecil Robinson, Bert Shackelford, W. H. Sheehan, Denver Smith, Frank A. Spring, Bill Stewart, J. W. White, Wright Williams, Mrs. Geneva Williams, Elroy Wilson, Zola Cranfill, Wanda Hart, Thomas L. Lloyd, J. H. O'Rear, J. Alan Romich.

Farwell: John Aldridge, Sam Aldridge, Caroline Anderson, R. J. Camp, Alvenia Cox, M. Cranfill, B. N. Graham, Mrs. W. D. Hardage, Otis Huggins, Jesse F. Landrum, Bess Mansfield, H. Y. Overstreet, L. S. Pool, Alia Sikes, A. D. Smith, Nelson C. Smith, Beth Sharp, Iris Thornton, Jack Williams, Ellen Wurster, Paul F. Wurster, W. J. Banks, Capitola Crume, Dorothy Lovelace, R. E. MearsGeradine Meeks.

The hearings on the water district will be held at Plainview on Thursday, August 9th at 10:00 a. m. in the court house there. This should be an important meeting for the people of the plains.

There will be a meeting at Lubbock on August 31st. The topic of the meet will be "Harvesting West Texas' Largest, Most Valuable Crop, Cotton." This will start at 9:00 a. m. and run through till 4 p. m. at the Lubbock Hotel. Cotton men are urged to attend.

Arrangements have been completed to phone in to Amarillo to the U. S. Weather station our moisture readings so that they will be broadcast to the people listening to these reports.

Some facts on government spending as issued by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce this week: The economy bloc is not strong—the house vote in favor of economy was 189 to 186. The federal payroll increased over last month by 34,000. The chamber urges immediate action on the part of each and every one because there is a chance to hold down the amount of new taxes; courageous expenditure control can lighten the tax. Acceleration of defense spending will make the federal deficit between $20 and $30 billion in fiscal 1953. The recommended $3.5 billion for foreign economy would bring our total expenditure for this program since the last war to 100 billion. How much is this? Roughly

Applications Are Being Studied For Friona Positions

The Friona School Board announced this week that they had received several applications for the five positions on the faculty which have been vacated by resignation.

Four of the positions are for classroom teachers in the elementary grades, and the position of band instructor for both the grade school and high school is vacant.

"The Board will take action on these applications shortly but we want to be sure we have the best qualified teachers available," said Dalton Caffey, superintendent.

Regular meeting of the Board is scheduled for August 6 at the school house, when reading duties will be discussed. Board members are G. Cranfill, president, Arthur Drake, secretary, C. V. Potts, George Messinger, P. L. London, Owen Seaman and Clyde Hays.

"As soon as the teaching personnel is elected, it will be announced in the Star," said Super. Caffey.

Dr. Spring Presides At Area Medic Conclave

Dr. Paul Spring, president of the Tierra Blanca Medical Society, presided at the regular monthly meeting of the association which was held Monday night in Hereford at the Hereford Clinic.

Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. Dudley Moore of Canyon who spoke on newer orthopedic internal fixations.

Eighteen doctors from the five Tierra Blanca counties representing Parmer, Deaf Smith, Randall, Oldham and Castro belong to the Society which meets to discuss current health problems, medical charges, etc. The group meets on the first Monday of each month.

OPS Clinics Will Be Held Weekly

The Office of Price Stabilization division at Lubbock has announced that weekly price clinics will be held in Friona during August to bring each trade up to date on regulations, answering questions, explaining forms, etc. Each clinic will last one-half day, and will be held in the American Legion building.

First of the meetings will be held Thursday morning, Aug. 9th, conducted by a specialist on industrial materials and manufactured products.

Subsequent meetings will be held by specialist in consumer durable goods (August 16th), food, Aug. 23rd, and consumer durable goods on Aug. 30th.

Mexican Consul Will Speak at Lions Club

The life and times of a Mexican Consul will be reviewed for members of the Friona Lions Club next Thursday night when Senor Joel S. Quinones will be the guest speaker.

Senior Quinones is head of the consulate at Amarillo and has a unique job in view of the fact that until about four years ago there was no foreign representative to head a legation in this part of the country at all.

The second man to fill the Amarillo post, Quinones' duties consist mainly of protecting the economic interests in Anglo-Mexican relations. He is also the official representative of their homeland for many Mexican students who attend Panhandle schools, and to him, also fall the problems of Mexican migrant labor.

He will speak at the regular dinner meeting of the Lions Club to be held at the club house and will be introduced by J. T. Gee, program chairman. He was secured by J. Alan Romich, who will drive Senor Quinones back to Amarillo following his talk.

Miss Helen Taylor and two former teachers of the Friona School, Miss Be Lewis and Miss Wilma Wilkins, and a teacher from Stratford plan to leave August 5th for an extended trip to the West Coast, the Pacific Northwest, and Canada.

Mrs. O. F. Lange is Introduced In No. 4 of Series in Get-Acquainted Stories of Parmer County People

Woman's place is in the home but not exclusively so, theorizes Mrs. O. F. Lange, and consequently she set about proving to this reporter yesterday that it is really quite possible in one lifetime for a woman to raise a family, learn a trade, manage a home, head the P. T. A., sponsor the girl scouts, support church activities, chairman the Red Cross, and still find time to be a good Samaritan.

Born with the spirit of a pioneer, but relegated to city houses and with the bride attired in a long, white batiste dress, decorated with hand embroidered panels, lace insertion and a full skirt.

Years later her daughter Kathryn wore that gown to a fancy dress ball in Chicago, and won first prize. "It just fit her, too. You know, when I came to Texas I just weighed 125 pounds. But I grew to fit the State," she teased.

Bert was busy working for the Addressograph Corporation and then for Packard Corporation where he acted as a test driver.

But in 1917 they decided to move to Texas. Bert and his brother, Ray, were going to come down to the Panhandle and farm for Mr. Hitts.

So Rose and her children, Mary, Charles, Albert and Katherine arrived in Texas.

"Bert took us out to that ranch house. And mind you, I was used to city houses, with all their conveniences and the close neighbors; well, the house wasn't bad. Had kitchen cabinets and water in the house. But it still wasn't like home. Bert said, 'Well how do you like it? And I couldn't even answer, I just stood there and cried.'

"But the kids liked it so, and so did Bert. The kids were like they had just been let out of prison with all that space to run and play. And I learned to like it. But I sure made some mistakes at first.

"I remember when we first got there, I said 'What time do you eat lunch?' And Bert said, 'We don't eat lunch; we eat dinner!' Well, they had an old oil stove out there so I set out to cook, just like I would on the stove back east. And do you know it was two o'clock before we ever had dinner that day.

"Then I remember how I served the vegetables to the hired men in those little side dishes we had always used. I wasn't used to cooking for men who did manual labor and therefore ate a lot of dinner. They didn't approve of those little dishes, I could tell. So the next day I sent Bert into town and made him buy me a dozen vegetable bowls."

Early in 1922 Bert Conway was killed in a car-team accident. His wife and the children (young Bob had been added to the family by now) moved into Friona and Rose set about finding a house to live in and some way to feed and clothe her family.

She decided to lease the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company here, put the switchboard in a corner of the house, and that way she could be on 24 hour duty and still keep a watchful eye on her brood.

Her mother tried to persuade her to come back to Indiana, but Rose declined. Texas was her home.

Two years later she married O. F. Lange and gave up her work to devote her time to other interests.

"But I learned a lot those two years, and I think it's mighty good experience for a person to support themselves for awhile."

The Langes have two daughters, Carolyn, now Mrs. John C. Lynn of Friona, and Doris Ann, who graduated from Texas Tech last year, majoring in accounting and is now employed by Humble Oil in Houston.

"I'm awfully proud of my family; parents just are, you know," smiled Mrs. Lange. Her daughter Mary, now Mrs. Misstell, is in Harlingen, Texas, as an administrative assistant with Montgomery Ward. Charles, a graduate of A. and M. works with Humble Oil in Houston. Albert, graduated from Texas University Law School and is now an attorney at Harlingen, after serving four years with the FBI, and Katherine, Mrs. Jonte lives in Chicago. Bob also lives in Friona.

But now that her family is all grown Mrs. Lange has not lost her interest in the schools, churches, politics and civic affairs of Friona.

"Right now I'm awfully interested in that park project here. I think we definitely need a city park, with public restrooms, facilities for the children to play and for mothers to be comfortable. I see too many mothers sitting in cars on Saturday afternoons and they sit there for hours and their children get restless, and I don't know why they don't get to be nervous wrecks. In a place where everybody comes to town on Saturday afternoons, we need a public park for those women and children to enjoy."

But public jobs and personal jobs interest her equally. Cooking is one of her hobbies; she's famous for her icebox pies. "Everything she does, she does well," say her friends, "including being a friend. She's a real Samaritan."

ATTENDING AG SCHOOL

J. T. Gee is in Lubbock for a three day training school for Vocational Agriculture teachers. This is an annual meeting, but is usually held on a statewide basis. This year, however, the groups are being broken up, and several meetings will be held over the state combining teachers from different areas, so that each meeting will be closer to home. This year the Agriculture Teachers Association meets at Hotel Lubbock for their conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jasper, who are now living in Amarillo where Mr. Jasper is employed at Pantex, were in Friona Sunday to visit with friends and relatives.

Returning last Thursday from Denver were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Weir. They were guests of their daughter, Mrs. H. L. Jeffers, and enjoyed fishing and sight-seeing in Colorado. Enroute home they stopped at Calwell, Colorado, to visit with the Staley family, who are old time Friona pioneers.

Laymen from the First Methodist Church in Friona are expected to attend the Laymen's Retreat at Acta Canyon to be held Friday through Sunday of this week. Conducting the services will be Bishop Glen R. Phillips, from the Denver area, and Dr. George L. Morelock of Miami, Florida, who is the former Executive Secretary of the General Board of Laymen. The annual Retreat will open Friday noon and will be open to all Laymen from the Northwest Texas Conference.

Mrs. Edmund White and young daughter left to visit her parents in Petersburg.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hall have received word that their son, Dean, an army reservist who has been on duty in Korea, is returning to the states. He docks at Seattle, Washington, and is due for a discharge pending his arrival in America. Dean is now concluding his second tour of duty in Korea. He was stationed in the tiny republic during World War II.

Word has been received in Friona that Rev. Omer E. Hyde has resigned his pastorate at Blair, Oklahoma, and has accepted the church at Watanga, Oklahoma, to begin his work there the first of August.

to be dead shall be proved to be living, shall be restored to him with the rents and profits of the state with legal interest during such time as he shall be deprived thereof; provided, however, that no person delivering such estate, or any portion thereof to another under proper order of a court of competent jurisdiction shall be liable therefor."

Ladies Aid Commences Calendar Promotion

The Ladies Aid of the Congregational Church has made advance plans for the promotion of their annual community feature The Birth-Dated Calendar which will carry the names of those of the community who desire it, under the date of their birth. This was a real success last year and promises to be the same this year Rev. Meyer states. Solicitation of names and advertisements will soon be in progress.

The Aid also voted to assist in every way possible, the dinner-reception for the teachers of the schools of the city which is to be held Sunday evening September 9th, and sponsored by the church as a whole.

YOUTH GROUP RETURNS

Five members of the youth groups at the Friona Methodist Church returned Friday from a week of camping activities at the Church's campground at Ceta Glen Canyon. Vesper services, quests, swimming, hiking, sunrise services and bedtime devotionals were some of the activities that entertained the group. Attending from Friona were Gay Ann McFarland, Patsy Anthony, Raymond White, Harold White and Don Lewis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lloyd and children, Barbara Lynn and Jerry, returned early Tuesday morning from a trip to the West Coast where they enjoyed sight-seeing and visiting with relatives and friends. They left Friona last Thursday week and made the trip by car.

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS

Not many weeks ago this column mentioned the bulletin board over at Parmer County Hospital with all the pictures of Young Friona decorating it. Now there's another bulletin board that will probably be of interest to you all, and that is the public board over at the Post Office. I suppose it is in the charge of Mrs. Sam Weir. Go down and take a good look at it. There is something just real personal and friendly about that posting place. To realize that, of course, you have to mentally eliminate the "Wanted For" pictures and descriptions, the patriotic posters urging all red blooded men to become a soldier, sailor or Marine, and the "buy War Bonds" slogans, and then you get down to brass tacks. The "Just for Friona" notices, like the fact that high school annuals are ready for distribution, your box rent due, instructions regarding civil service examinations, and where to get your O.P.S. forms. And if you catch it on the right day, there'll be several notes up there addressed to various individuals, telling Joe where to meet Bill or asking Mary to call Sue when she gets to town. Yes, definitely every small and friendly town should have one of these Community Bulletin Boards.

Incidentally do any of you women have bulletin boards in your home? Kitchen bulletin boards for shopping lists, chores to do, and schedules to make? Or do your children keep bulletin boards in their rooms full of pictures, invitations and souvenirs? If you do, tell me about it. Where is it, what's on it and do you enjoy it? I know one woman whose kitchen bulletin board emerged as the family's collection spot for their favorite cartoons, and now, she says, every guest who enters the house makes a bee line to read the cartoons. So drop us a line, or give us a call if you do have a bulletin board in your house, and let us know all about it.

If you have a pet around the house it might interest you to know that all the modern veterinarian hospitals keep blood banks for their animals the same as modern hospitals do for their patients. And now word comes from the American Veterinarian Association that there is talk about banking bones for use in rebuilding the body framework of pets injured in accidents. Healthy bone for grafting purposes is said to keep as long as ten months if stored at a few degrees below zero.

Another valuable use for deep freezers, see. Bet the man who invented home freezers never realized that he builded better than he knew.

Incidentally, did you know that the first man on record to realize the potentials of freezing as a form of preservation was Sir Francis Bacon? Not content with just philosophizing and writing, he took a hen one day, set it out in the ice and snow, kept it covered and frozen and when at last he brought it in, he had proven his theory: ice was a fine preservative. Unfortunately, while conducting these experiments, he contracted pneumonia, which ultimately caused his death. And that, dear readers, is your history lesson for today. But it doesn't conclude our discussion of frozen foods.

I want to remind you of a cartoon that appeared recently in a monthly magazine showing two befurred Eskimos standing near their igloo and reading a U. S. newspaper whose headlines screamed "Wages and Prices Frozen." And said one little Eskimo to the other, "Say, if that's as popular as orange juice was, they've really got something."

You know that subtle little bit of the Friona Star, is just too subtle for own publicity. He mentioned discreetly in his column last week about some recognition that the Dallas Morning News had paid to the Star. But he did it so unobtrusively I didn't know what he meant, and in case you didn't either he was talking about the "Roundup of Texas Views" Column in the Sunday paper which nods approvingly at Ber's quotes of the New York Stock Exchange and his interpretation about being salesmen of shares in our country, remember? Well, the Dallas Morning News liked it, anyway!

Now, I feel like I've almost become a real citizen of Friona, because, now, I, too, have had some apples from Mr. F. L. Spring's fine apple trees. I was worried for awhile because when he invited me to go pick all I wanted he warned me they were high in the top of the tree (where all the best apples grow, of course). But he did have a ladder, he said. However I guess he thought it all over and decided I probably wasn't even as agile he is because here long, here he came with a big sack of bright red apples. Well, they were delicious, as you all must know. Good eating, good apple sauce, and good apple pies.

And speaking of home grown products, have you noticed how many people are taking home grown vacations this year? Instead of tearing off across the country they are staying close to home. (You know, within a radius of 300 miles or so). They're going fishing at Red River, or camping at Palo Duro or off for a tramp through Carlsbad Caverns. Giving the old neighborhood a real once over. Now that's a good idea. Its always amazing that tourists will travel 1500 or 2000 miles to visit a well publicized vacation spot that the people 20 miles away have never even seen. After all Palo Duro is supposed to be the most colorful canyon on the North American Continent and Carlsbad is supposed to be the biggest cave in the U. S. and it's a wonderful thing when people realize that just because its foreign, it's not necessarily better.

Vacation time? That brings up golf, "swinging, sweatin', swayin' and swearin'" and fishing, "a pole with a worm on both ends," said the irate housewife, and swimming and sunburning. At this stage, let me pass along a word to women only or "What Every Young Girl Should Know" Its a poem I ran across once entitled, "For Whom the Belle Peels," and it goes like this: "The belle who incandescent glows Where suns and winds have

Annuals Arrive!

Off the press and into the willing hands of the student body went 210 copies of the Friona Chieftan for 1951, leatherbound copies of school day memories for every student from the first grade through graduating Seniors. But don't for a minute assume that the one hundred page, tooled leather annual is just another book for the shelves. It's not to the students who grin back at you from the pages of the book, and no, to the staff who worked so many long hours, and worried so heartily over the sections, the pictures and the events.

The annual for 1951 is the largest book which, the Friona schools have ever put out, and it's advertising is handled in a new way patterned after successful collegiate publications. Yes, it's here and the hard working staff can breathe a thankful sigh of relief, for only a quirk of fate and a stroke of luck kept the cherished annual from being completely destroyed before its publication date.

Acting as staff sponsor for the annual this year is Dillie Kelley. Now annuals never rip off according to schedule. Always the weather, or illness or some minor disaster contrives to keep the staff breathlessly behind schedule. This year due to combination of all three, the material which compromises the yearbook was not ready to go to press until the last month of the school year.

It had been sent off to the publisher only one week before the school building burned. One week later, and all the blood sweat and tears behind the annual-building would have gone up in smoke to no avail.

And it is perhaps another strange coincidence that the index pages and the division pages of the annual are decorated with hand drawn sketches symbolic of the doorway to the now destroyed high school building which is featured in a photograph on the title page.

"We had originally intended it to co-ordinate with the theme of doorways as the portals of learning, and we added theyucca to emphasize the theme of the southwest," said Mr. Kelly, who did the art work for the paper himself. "As it turned out, we ended up with the only recent picture available of the old building."

When the name "Chieftan" originated remains an obscure mystery, but that was the name of the first Friona School annual which was published in 1926. In latter years the school was forced to discontinue printing them, because of prohibitive costs.

This 100 page annual is the biggest yearbook ever put out. It contains the pictures of some 500 students, sections devoted to the Administration, Class pictures, Music, Athletics, Home Economics, Teachers, and candid shots of school life.

Copies of the book have been sent all over the state of Texas and to students now living in California, Arkansas, Missouri, and Oregon.

The staff who edited the annual were Ruby Shaffer, Editor; Vera Ann Jones, Typist; June Shulk, Asst. Business Manager; Wanda Beaty, Assistant Art Editor; Don Lewis, Advertising Manager; Peggy Creel, Asst. Advertising Mgr.; Helen Carr, Assistant Editor; Martha P. Yllis Allmon, Art Editor; Sue Gibson, F.H.A. Editor; Keith Brock, F.F.A. Editor; Jean Knight, Photographer and Jimmy Gore, Photographer.

Portraits were made by Melton Studios, Clovis. Candid shots the staff photographers and the sponsor.

Instead of running credit lines to advertisers at the bottom of each page, a practice instigated in other issues, this year the annual features a section of advertisements showing pictures of businesses and information about the stores.

"Most of the merchants I have talked with have seemed pleased with this plan," said Kelly, "and I think we shall try to continue it in the future. It gives a little more urbane look to the yearbook. That seems to please everyone."

Copies of the book were distributed free to advertising merchants, to the administration, to the school board, and were sold to the students at a cost of three dollars per book.

The books are financed by advertising, sale of the annual and sale of the pictures.

"We are very proud of the book this year and most of the students are pleased, too," said Kelly. "But the true value of any annual, of course, can only be estimated in later years when it becomes a Memory Book instead of a Year Book."

Attend Parents' Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Burnett and Dorothy and Lenard have returned from a trip to California where they attended the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. Burnett's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. Burnett.

The elder Burnetts formerly lived south of Farwell, moving to San Ysidro, California, in 1936. Married in Salt Lake City, Utah, they settled on the plains in 1908.

Mr. Burnett is 79 years old and Mrs. Burnett is 72. Present at their anniversary celebration were all their twelve children.

Friona Methodist Women Organize Prayer Groups
"The women of the Methodist Church have inaugurated a new series of prayer groups meetings which begun this week and will continue indefinitely, meeting at any specified time when there is a strong need for Christian prayers," said Mrs. Jimmy Tidwell this week as she outlined the organization of these new units.
"Our first group was held with five women Monday morning. We meet for an hour during which we engage in short discussions, prayers and meditations. In the past we have found these to be a source of strength to our church," she explained.
This current project is an outgrowth of a recent study which the WSCS has been making on "Corporate Worship." Prayer groups had proved so successful in the past the women agreed to re-instate them.
They will meet four times a month, at an time specified by the group leader, and such times will be determined by special needs.
Attending the first meeting Monday were Mrs. Hadley Reeve, Mrs. J. T. Gee, Mrs. Howard Ford, Mrs. Charles Gray and Mrs. Tidwell. Hostess for the group was Mrs. Ford, who served coffee and refreshments afterward.

House guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Anderson this weekend, were the M. H. Costolows of Spur, who are the parents of the Anderson's son-in-law. The couple arrived Saturday and visited until Sunday in Friona.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Watson were Sunday dinner guests in the home of their daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Boggess and Robbie, at their farm home southeast of town.

The Board of Stewards of the Methodist church met Wednesday night at 8:30 in the Methodist Church to take care of routine business matters. Charles Mercer is chairman of the Board.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborn and sons, Carl and Teddy, accompanied by Mrs. Al Wilkerson, Junior and Ken, of Black visited Sunday at Girlstown with Sally Wilkerson.

Mrs. Frank Spring was in Canyon Monday to visit with her mother, Mrs. T. W. Collins, and to bring back the children, Mary Tom and Frank Lewis, who had spent the weekend with their grandmother.

Mr. and Mrs. William Beene and daughter, Sandy, were house guests of his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Beene on Sunday. They are from Paducah.

Weekend guests in the W. A. Pearson home were Mr. and Mrs. Mary Boggess is in Borger visiting with her sister. Accompanying her were her two children, Ranza B. and Mary Ann.

Mrs. Elvis Pearson and son, Michael of Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Walker and family of Snyder.

COOL COOKING

It's electric because electricity is coolest of all heat producing methods. Only when you cook electrically does all the heat go into the cooking job. For only on an electric range do you have pan-hugging heat, with the utensil setting right on the heating element. And only in an electric range oven do you have complete six-sided insulation, for only matchless, flameless electric cooking can be completely insulated—without oxygen because it's without flame.

Cook the cool way—the way that lets you prepare an entire meal without raising the temperature of your kitchen more than one degree. Of course, it's electric.

Four Generations Will Be Present To Honor Mr and Mrs Bert Day on Occasion Of 50th Wedding Anniversary Sunday

Friends Are Invited To Open House from 2 Until 5 O'Clock P. M.

"If you had known you were going to have to live with her for fifty years, would you still have married her?" the spry old man was asked. "Yep, I sure would. I sure did the right thing when I married her," replied Mr. Bert Day, and thus summed up his story of half a century of married life.

The Days will celebrate the occasion of their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Sunday, August 5, with an open house at their farm home near Friona, from two until five in the afternoon. They invite all their friends to visit with them at this time. They live five miles southeast of Friona.

Bert Clifford Day was 21 and Florence Jane Tucker only 18 on August 5, 1901 when they drove up to the Lynden, Kansas Justice of the Peace and were married. They insist they didn't elope, that their families knew what they were up to when Bert drove that single harness buggy up to Florence's door.

The romance started some months before when the couple met at a masquerade ball and community dance. But let Mrs. Day tell you about it. "Well, I had on this dress all covered with roses. They weren't real roses, of course, just paper ones, and Bert, he came up and started picking them off, and that's how we met."

"Yep, but I think all along that she wanted me to have those flowers," replied Mr. Day.

On their first date they attended a supper at the home of a neighbor.

"That's when Bert stole a buggy to take me for a buggy ride over the prairie," grinned Mrs. Day.

Following their marriage they lived for two years in Kansas where Bert was farming for another man. Then they gathered up their belongings, put them on the train, and headed for Caddo County in Oklahoma Territory, which was part of the Cheyenne-Arapahoe range. Here they settled down to homestead a quarter section of farmland.

"The first night we got out to our land, I put my wife and baby girl off in an overjet (the top of a covered wagon) and took the buggy on in to Higgins, Texas, to get some lumber to build us a home, mused Mr. Day.

It was a thirty mile trip and it took him three days to make it. In the meantime his young wife and baby daughter stayed all alone on the prairie. One night they spent with a neighbor who lived up the road, but the next night they camped all alone, hoping for Mr. Day home at any time.

When he returned with his lumber, Day and his neighbors built a home 12 by 16 feet, dug a well, and settled down to homestead for five years. They raised feed and grain sorghums, had a garden, a vineyard, and a fine young orchard. It was home.

"Weren't you afraid of rattlesnakes out there, Mrs. Day?" "I never heard a rattlesnake in my life," she replied.

Now the family had two children, a daughter, Leona, who had been born in Kansas, and the son, Earl Samuel.

It was while they were living on this place near Ellis that Oklahoma became a state.

This was farmland, fine Oklahoma farmland, but also it was farming in small patches with a mule team or dray horses. And now, too, the boy was growing up, and with typical youthful enterprise, he shunned the use of work animals and was far more interested in mechanization.

So the family talked it over. They talked of Texas, where farms were bigger, and tractors and combines were being used.

At last Mr. Day came to Texas to look it over.

"I heard it was a great place; I came out to look at it, fell for it right then and moved the family out," he declared.

They found some land near Friona and settled down again. But in a few years tragedy struck. Their boy was hurt in an accident, badly burned, and then he died.

Now the Days have lived here nearly 25 years. They think the country's grand.

"I didn't want to leave Oklahoma, you know, but now, I don't want to leave Texas. I guess we'll both just stay here till we have to go," smiled Mrs. Day.

So the pert little couple will celebrate their fifty years of married life on Sunday. They are looking forward eagerly to seeing many of the friends they have met in all these years. They cordially invite all their friends to call on them on this occasion.

A highlight of the celebration will be picture making, at which time four generations will be present. Mr. and Mrs. Day, their daughter, Mrs. Leona Wolfe, their grandchildren, Mrs. John S. Thompson, and their great-grandson, Darrell Kenneth.

Rev. and Mrs. Haskell Bolding of Springfield, Mo. are the proud parents of a daughter, Jan Carol, born July 21. She weighed 8 lbs. and 4 ozs. Mrs. Bolding is the former Maxine Hyde.

A letter was received from Mr. Quick, the man who was to have furnished lady bugs last winter. He states, quote: It is recently recommended that fall application as a means of aphid or green bug control will be more satisfactory than spring application. Less ladybugs will be required to give control in the fall. We are contracting this fall for delivery when wanted; upon receipt of order and check or money order the ladybugs will be placed in artificial hibernation and you will receive a warehouse receipt and they will be delivered upon request. The price is $3.00 a gallon in lots less than 10 gallons, and $7.50 for orders over 10 gallons. These prices are f.o.b. Phoenix, Arizona, G. C. Quick.

So far there have been no comments on the telegraph office to reach this office. It is your suggestions and help that is needed if we are to secure this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Rueben Meissner

Eleanor Schueler and Rueben Meissner Vows Read at Rhea Lutheran Church

In a candlelight service at the Immanuel Lutheran Church of Rhea, Miss Eleanor Schueler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schueler, became the bride of Rueben Meissner, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Meissner of Farwell.

The double ring service was read by Rev. E. W. Lichtsinn, pastor of the church, at seven o'clock in the evening, July 22.

Vows were exchanged before an altar banked with white gladiolus, aster, palms and emerald fern against a background of branched candelabra. The bridal aisle was marked with white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony a prelude of organ music was played by Arnold Schueler, brother of the bride. He accompanied Miss Doris Richter who sang, "My Heart Ever Faithful" before the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer," at the conclusion of the service, as the couple knelt before the altar. Wedding music by Tosini was used as a processional.

Candles were lighted by Floyd Schueler, brother of the bride, and Lloyd Kriegal, cousin of the groom. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore the traditional white wedding gown styled of French lace and marquisette over satin and decorated with lace medallions, fashioned with a neckline of illusion molding into an off-shoulder line.

The lace bodice was designed with long sleeves tapering into deep petal points at the wrists, a long waistline ending in pointed scallops attached to a full hoop skirt, with a short chapel train.

Her fingertip veil of illusion fell from a cap of lace, trimmed with eed pearls. She carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and tephantos with white satin streamers.

The maid of honor was Miss Irene Schueler, sister of the bride. She wore a dress of green marquisette over taffeta, designed with a V neckline and a bertha collar effect, with a tight bodice attached to the full gathered skirt. Her matching headpiece was a green marquisette and her bouquet was of daisies.

The bridesmaids were Dorothy Schueler, cousin of the bride, and Agnes Meissner, sister of the groom. They wore dresses styled like the maid of honor and carried bouquets of daisies.

The best man was Calvin Meissner, brother of the bridegroom. Raymond Schueler and Wilbert Kalbos served as ushers.

At the reception which followed in the church parish hall, the table was laid with a lace cloth and centered with a five tiered cake. A large memory candle surrounded by daisies and greenery was placed at one end of the table. Mrs. Raymond Schueler and Mrs. Norbert Schueler served the wedding cake and Miss Lucille Hoffman presided at the punch bowl. Gifts were displayed by Miss Lillian Schueler and Miss Mildred Meissner was at the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding the bride's mother wore an aqua dress with brown accessories. The groom's mother wore a navy dress with matching accessories. Both had corsages of red roses.

The bride is a graduate of Friona High School and Northwest Texas Nursing School in Amarillo. She has been employed as a registered nurse in Chester, Illinois, during the past year.

Mr. Meissner is a graduate of Farwell High School and is a student at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in St. Louis, Mo. The couple will be at home in Independence, Mo. where the groom is serving his vicerage.

NEW STAFF MEMBER

Dorothy Schueler of Rhea Community has joined the staff of Farmer County Community Hospital, resuming her nursing duties there once again. She is a graduate of the School of Nursing of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. There are now six registered nurses and five nurses aids on duty at Farmer County Hospital. Miss Schueler joined the staff on Monday and effective August 1. Mrs. Carol Fallwell resigned her duties at the hospital. She will be on leave of absence for several months.
