There were nine guests. Mrs. Lewis sang two songs accompanied by the local group. After the business meeting, lunch was served in the C. H. Shanks Dining Room. Lunch was followed by a visit to the Home Demonstration Kitchen on the Farm Bureau campus. The nine exchange buildings have now been completed. These structures are 15 ft. by 20 ft. with a 7 ft. ceiling. They are constructed of plywood with the walls covered with vinyl. Each building is fully equipped with a refrigerator and a stove. The exchange buildings are designed to be self-supporting and are intended for use in the County Extension Office.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt, President-elect of the United States, and Chairman of the Board of the Federal Reserve System,  has been the dominant figure in national and international affairs since the beginning of this century. His policies have been characterized by a strong commitment to social justice and economic stability. His leadership has been marked by a steely determination to prevent another Great Depression and to promote world peace.

WASHINGTON AND

"Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

British Prime Minister, Sir Winston Churchill, and President Roosevelt have agreed to work together in the cause of peace and freedom. The United States and United Kingdom are preparing for all-out war against Nazi Germany.

The time has come, many feel, to declare war on the Axis powers. If you have not already done so, please do so now.

The Congress of the United States has already taken several steps to aid the war effort. These include the issuance of a declaration of war, the calling of the Selective Service Act, and the passage of a bill to authorize the President to draft men into the armed forces.

The nation is in the midst of a crisis, but it is not an impossible one. We can win this war if we work together.

The President and his cabinet are now working on plans for the future of the country after the war.

The United States is not alone in its efforts. Many other countries are coming together to form an alliance against the Axis powers.

The United Nations, established in 1945, is an organization of nations dedicated to maintaining international peace and security.

The United States has contributed billions of dollars to the war effort and will continue to do so.

The war is not over yet, but we are making progress. The United States is determined to win the war and to build a better world for all people.

The United States is committed to fighting for the principles of democracy, freedom, and justice.

We will not rest until the job is done.

The President and his cabinet are working hard to bring about a successful outcome of the war.

The United States is determined to make the world safe for democracy.

The United States is determined to make the world safe for democracy.

The United States is determined to make the world safe for democracy.

School Progress Recalled by Reeve in Historical Review

The young center expressed real concern about school facilities but the responsibility had been assumed last June that every child should have the opportunity for basic education. The idea of providing primary and secondary education was central to the district's philosophy. When the school was organized in 1886, it was one of the first in the country to offer free education to all children.

In 1917 the district was disbanded and put back into the jurisdiction of the county. In 1920, the district was reorganized and moved south of town. A very old house was sold for a barn. In 1922, Mrs. L. F. James, the head teacher, moved to the Black district. She was the first female principal of the district.

In 1925, the district was expanded to include the Black district and a 6-mile strip was cut off the eastern edge of the Rhea district. This made little difference to the children, and big distances were involved.

In 1930, the district was expanded again to include the Spohn school, which was located. One of the best related to this schoolhouse: when the county was organized, the Black district was held.

Broadhurst Named as Hydrologist for District

W. L. (Bill) Broadhurst, now in Denver, Colorado, has been named chief hydrologist for the High Plains Water Conservation District No. 1, serving 13 West Texas counties. He will assume his duties in the latter part of May, according to announcement made in Lubbock by T. J. McFarland, manager of the district.

Employment of Broadhurst as chief hydrologist is of direct benefit to the five-member county committees in each county, as well as to the water well owners and drillers, and others interested in the best use of underground water supplies. McFarland pointed out that scientific and practical knowledge of groundwater problems will be brought to bear on the current water well spacing problem of the area.

In addition, Broadhurst is to be active in recharging aquifers of the area. He has liberal and expertise in this field.

Then, only electric cooking makes it possible to wipe off your range with a damp cloth after cooking—and bring the cloth away clean.

Cleanliness is the big PLUS value in electric cooking.

The reason that—when all costs are taken into consideration—it is electric cooking that is really economical.

YOUR COMMUNITY IS WHAT YOU MAKE IT

Will You Remember!

This month you probably will pay some expenses that will be deductible from your income tax next March.

Will you remember in March what you paid out in September . . . in December? ?

The solution:

YOU DON'T HAVE TO REMEMBER if you use a Checking Account to handle all your business transactions.

And you have a written record of where your money went . . . in many cases such a record is the guide to a better saving plan.

Disregard of Signs-
Most communities are well posted with traffic signs. We have two new ones near our own school. Are they properly observed?
A high school student recently remarked that he actually had seen people speed up when they saw the sign, "Slow for School Crossing.
Let's never let that be the case here.
