Lamona Potatoes Find Market throughout US

Potatoes bearing the "Lamona" brand originating in Friona this week are travelling via rail and truck to army posts in the southwest and to markets as far away as Chicago.

With weather conditions becoming more favorable to harvesting conditions, the Herman Neff Company here is operating as much as 18 hours per day this week to speed the harvest which yet is hardly begun. Mr. Neff estimates at least three more weeks of processing and shipping.

Markets have fluctuated with potatoes throughout the mid-west now being harvested, and early today the local potatoes were being shipped on government contract of $1.85 per bushel to army installations at Wichita Falls, El Paso, Ft. Leonard Wood, Missouri, and Denver.

Shipments have been made to civilian markets in Arkansas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Illinois and Texas. Friona potatoes can be had on local markets.

Fields so far harvested include those of Carl Schlenker, Ross Terry, W. H. Long, Gordon Massey and Ed Walters.

Who Wouldn't Smile?

Owner Ralph Roden of the Bi-Wize Drug is shown here at his opening ceremonies Saturday, presenting the watches which were awarded. Roden is holding the women's watch ensemble given to Mrs. June Brummett who was not present when her name was called. Mrs. Bertie Stowers, center, received the other watch ensemble. Both names were drawn by Jeanie Taylor, pictured at right, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Taylor.

Looked like the Kermie Deatons were all fixed for on big time as they left in a pickup for vacation this week. Plenty of bedding for mountain climates, etc. And taking the honor position in the back was their dog. Mrs. Deaton said the dog was getting pretty old, and hadn't been on a trip in 4 or 5 years, so this was going to be a treat for him!

John Burrows is building onto his home this week.

Most easements are signed on the loop west of town that most everyone hopes to see paved before many months. Pudge Kendrick and Charles Allen have been putting in some long hours on this project.

The man up the street says that the best time for a man's ship to come in is before he's too old to navigate.

Stanley Lockhart, minister of the Sixth Street Church of Christ, submitted his resignation Sunday. Lockhart, a popular minister known over the entire area, will assume a new position at Level-land, but states that he will remain here until a replacement can be secured for the Friona church, probably within two months.

Hate to mention new cars over town without taking recognition of Dalton Caffey seen one evening this week perambulating a new English bicycle—fancy handlebar gear controls and all.

Notice where a book is just off the press entitled "Ghost Towns of Texas." Don't believe you'll find any local towns listed.

One point is interesting, however, with a word of warning: Of the book, the publishers write: "Alive as Texas is, its surface is pitted with ghost towns of great schemes that went sour. These plans were the results of dreams spurred on by men ambitious in industry, by those devout in religion or by those eager to experiment with government and those having dreams of finding Utopia."

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Welch and girls went to Dumas Friday afternoon to visit her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fates and boys, and to bring their son, Bob, home with them from a two weeks visit there.

One of the Bates' young sons had fallen Thursday afternoon while playing and broken his arm in three places. He will be in the hospital for several more days.

WEATHER

Partly cloudy afternoons and evenings have prevailed locally this week, with no moisture received. Afternoon temperatures have reached the high 90's with nighttime readings in the low 70's.

Forecast is for little change in temperature or conditions, with some very widely scattered thundershowers possible.

Farm operations are in full swing, with perfect weather for such following the recent local rains.

Toll Service for Rural Telephones Indicated Reality by September 1

C. of C. Clarifies Promotions Here

"At this time, no member of the board of directors of the Friona Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture has arbitrarily acted for the organization in sponsoring a "Chamber of Commerce-promoted Dollar Day", nor has any member authorized any out-of-town promoter to solicit or represent himself as working with the endorsement, encouragement or sponsorship of the Chamber of Commerce organization", Granville McFarland, organization president, informed the Star yesterday.

McFarland's statement came after some confusion existing among the Friona merchants, some of whom thought the C of C was sponsoring such a day this Saturday.

The organization DOES welcome the merchants' offering special inducements to their customers, building good-will and better trade relationships; the town and community has much to offer the buyer and the visitor to Friona where the latchstring is out every day, McFarland added, but at any time the organization sponsors

Toll contracts for the Friona and Bovina exchanges of the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative may be expected in the near future, according to indications embodied in a letter this week from the Southwestern Bell Company to Leo Forrest, project manager of the Cooperative. Forrest says that he has been informed that the switching equipment necessary for these exchanges was to be provided by Southwestern Bell in the near future, meaning that these exchanges can expect toll service possibly by September 1st.

The Hub exchange is being connected for local service only on August 1st. Extended area service for the three local exchanges is entirely dependent on negotiations with General Telephone Company of the Southwest which have not been too fruitful in the past.

"We all know," Mr. Forrest said, "that Extended Area Service will be provided. When and at what cost are the subjects for negotiations."

The RTC Board of Directors met Monday afternoon, and sent the following telegram to Southwestern Bell at Dallas, in the negotiations involving exchanges in their area. This wire is representative of the efforts of the RTC to expedite full service over its entire system.

J. C. Paxton, Southwestern Bell Telephone Company Building, Dallas, Texas:

Deposit Required On Well Requests

Directors of the Parmer County Underground Water organization met Monday evening, reviewing applications for well permits.

Decision was reached at the meeting, board member Raymond Euler states, to require $25 deposit with each application for permit, returnable if well log and registration is provided the group within 30 days after drilling.

All permits will be considered at regular meetings on the second and fourth Monday evenings of each month from 8 to 10 p. m. in the Farm Bureau offices at Friona.

Hairy Vetch Promoted by Conservation Dist. As Interseeding Crop; Now is Planting Time

County Agricultural Agent Joe Jones (above) is inspecting the nodules on a hairy vetch crop in Parmer County, with the vetch interseeded in grain sorghum.

Upper right picture shows an unidentified farmer looking over a heavily seeded stand of the green manure crop, and at lower right is a scene from the Leroy Berggren farm near Bovina, with some 12 tons of green manure per acre being afforded there by hairy vetch.

With this being the correct season for interseeding vetch in grain sorghum and cotton crops the acceptance of hairy vetch as a profitable interseeding crop.

Bulletins have been mailed by the District to growers, and Steve Bavousett, work unity conservationist, has spent considerable time acquainting local farmers with this crop.

The District has available the seed, inoculant and drills needed for the crop.

States Bavousett: Hairy vetch has long been recognized as an important crop to help build soils by the addition of organic matter, increasing the production on the following crop by adding fertility, increasing the water-holding capacity of the soil, promoting better plant-soil-moisture relationship, reducing crusting, increasing water infiltration into the soil, and helping prevent wind erosion by encouraging formation of water stable aggregates.

Hairy vetch is a legume and should be inoculated before planting. The inoculant gives the legume the ability to take nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil.

The three interseed drills belonging to the Soil Conservation District are so constructed as to permit drilling of seed in the middles at the last cultivation of cotton and grain sorghums. They are located at the A. L. Black farm, 4 miles east of Hub, at the Ronald Berggren farm west of Bovina, and at the Joe Blair farm near Farwell.

Seed and inoculant are available through the service at Sherry Elevator in Bovina and at the Clyde Sherrieb farm near Friona.

Recommended seeding rate is 10 lbs. per acre covered 2 to 2-1-2 inches deep.

Monday Morning Musings

F. L. Spring might well qualify for the post of local philosopher. At and rate, we enjoy his conversations and the observations that he jots down for his friends to appreciate. We note three of these "Spring Originals" on our desk now:

"All the best thoughts of the ages are ours forever, no matter who first thought of them".

"Anyone who has made an honest effort to do right has no reason to fear death".

"It will be time enough to think about another life when there are no hungry and ill-clad people in this world".

Did you know that every two weeks a Texas highway road condition bulletin is issued as a service to the motoring public by the Texas Highway Department?

You cafe and service station owners along the highway might provide an appreciated service to the tourist by keeping a supply of these on hand—they're free.

Entered as second-class mail matter July 31, 1925, at the post office at Friona, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1897. Published each Thursday.

Any erroneous reflection upon the character, standing or reputation of any person, firm or corporation which may appear in the columns of The Friona Star will be gladly corrected when brought to the attention of the publisher.

It is heartening for those of us, all Friona, who who, have worked on various local projects day in and day out, finally to see some of them become realities—the local park, increased retail activities, the growing school with its many facilities, new industries, paved streets, local service offices maintained by utility companies, an active city health department, price-conscious merchandising, ect.ect.

You can remember when you or ourselves or our neighbors have gone to bat for some or all of these projects, working sometimes against almost unsurmountable difficulties.

It is nice to see other newspapers now giving recognition to these accomplishments, for some reason or other being out considerable expense to tell us how fine we are. The publicity is good for us.

For ourselves, however, as much as we like subjective reporting of deeds already done by others, we like to think of ourselves as a promotion-minded paper—promoting those things we believe for the good of the community. Our files prove we have steadfastly followed that course. And we want to shake the hands of those many, many of you who maybe for a decade or even longer have worked for the realities we now enjoy in Friona. To you belongs the credit.

You are the kind of folks who'll do the work in Friona; and we'll join in glad-handing the news hounds from out of town—lest they are subtly reaching into our pocket with one hand while greeting us with the other! Reminds us of the story of the lawyer who was being congratulated for having his hands in his own pockets.

Do You Remember...

7 YEARS AGO
Workmen had been busy during the week building to the rear of the rooms occupied by the Roden-Beene Drug store and to the Welch Auto Supply store. Both additions had been appropriately furnished and were being stocked with new merchandise in each of the two businesses.

Bill and Randell Whitefield had arrived from California to spend the summer with Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Whitefield.

Miss Sue Pinckley and Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Collins of Merkle had been visiting their daughter and sister, Mrs. Hadley Reeve.

Surplus government property was being sold to the highest bidder at the Amarillo Army Air Field.

Charles Allen, Tiny Magness, Raymond Adams, Jim Roy Roden, Ralph Adams and Alvie Jennings had left Wednesday morning for Vernon where they got three new planes, B-T's. From there Jennings and Adams went on to Mississippi where they got two new PT's.

Bill Bowman had been killed and Ezra Collier seriously injured when their Piper Cub had crashed on the Alton Biggers farm northwest of Hereford. The men had been coyote hunting.

Harry Schultz had defeated John Aldridge in the election for District Judge. Floyd Richards had been elected District Attorney winning over King Fike.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Euler and Gertrude had been vacationing in the mountains of Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Massey were the parents of a baby daughter.

12 YEARS AGO
Mary Jo Anderson and Nancy Ruth Shackelford had taken their first train ride when they rode a trade from Friona to Farwell for a short visit with relatives.

Mrs. F. W. Reeve had gone to Indiana for a few weeks visit with friends and relatives.

Harley Bulls of Friona was presented in a voice recital at the Musical Arts Conservatory at Amarillo.

Bricks for the Plains Museum building at Canyon were being collected.

Leo Pottishman of Fort Worth had been a business visitor during the week.

J. B. McFarland had suffered a heart attack while in the Spring grocery store.

Rev. Carl Dollar of the Congregational church had accompanied a group of young people to Lake Murray, Okla. to attend the annual Pilgrim Fellowship of Young People. Making the trip were Jacquelyn Wilkison, June Maurer, Nancy Shackelford, Frances Buchanan, C. L. Lillard and Bobby Blackwell.

WASHINGTON AND "Small Business"

—By C. WILSON HARDER

A great glaring inconsistency noted by Washington observers is that so often a mighty hue and cry is raised over a huge problem, yet no attention is given to the solution right at hand.

As example, during tax hassle, statement was made that it may even be necessary to raise the national debt limit by the end of the year, so serious is the nation's financial plight.

Yet, Congressman Ralph W. Gwinn, of New York's 27th District, whose views are often circulated by the Committee for Constitutional Government, firmly believes at least $47 billion could be lopped from national debt right now.

As one item, he points to Public Housing, stating in past 19 years, the public has been saddled with a 40-year mortgage totalling $20 billion dollars.

Congressman Gwinn marshals many facts about public, low rent housing projects. Removal of property from local tax rolls creates a burden on local government. He also cites the apparent fact that only the politically announced can secure this low rental housing.

Only families below a certain income are supposed to be eligible for the rentals which are about half the prevailing rental market, yet in one case a tenant with a $24,000 per year income was found; in another case the mayor of Birmingham, Alabama was a public housing tenant.

But while the scandals are bad, Congressman Gwinn has not yet commented on the most interesting fact.

The Public Housing Authority has built somewhere around 500,000 family dwelling units. This means, based on Congressman Gwinn's figures of $20 billion dollars, that public housing has cost somewhere around $40,000 per family unit. Thus it becomes plain government has no business in real estate business.

If Public Housing Authority property was sold to the highest bidder, competent real estate operators would undoubtedly find attractive investments.

While the property would probably not be worth the full $20 billion bled from taxpayers, a strong possibility is felt that sales to private operators should return more than half.

This reasoning is based on the fact that a fair portion of this housing was prewar built, some during the war, only a portion built during the postwar inflated cost period.

Therefore, at present day values, it is conceivable that a part of the housing could be sold for considerably more than its cost to build, despite bureaucratic waste, and that a big loss would only be taken on property built during postwar period. Such a move would slash $10 billion from national debt save untold millions in interest and administration. It is common business practice to take a loss to avoid further losses, a principle presumed understood by an administration self-proclaimed as businessmen.

Congressman Gwinn also believes that the government could reduce the national debt $27 billion by selling the Tennessee Valley Authority, or TVA.

Because consideration of this issue is bound to be highly controversial, it will be treated in the next column.

Farm Bureau Report

Texas A&M College and M. C. Jaynes, Farm organization and Co-operative Marketing Specialist of Extension Service, will be host to the Fifth Annual Texas Farm Bureau Institute August 2nd to 6th. Ten regular and three advanced subjects will be taught. (1) Philosophy of Farm Bureau, (2) Policy development, (3) Membership Acquisition and Maintenance, (4) County and Community Organization (5) Techniques for Officers, (6) Publicity and Public Relations, (7) Public Speaking, (8) County Office Procedures, (9) Farm Bureau Service Program, (10) Recreational Activities, (11) Extensior Service-Farm Bureau Relationship, (12) Effective Selling, and (13) Techniques in the Operation of a Farm Bureau. If some of these subjects interest you, you can have a free ride to A&M on August 2nd, and Farm Bureau will pay your tuition to attend as many of the classes as you can handle. Your only expense will be room and board. Call 3521, Friona collect.

Frequently heard remarks recently go something like this: "Say, these Farm Bureau Dividends are getting pretty good, aren't they?" August 14 is the day for wheat producers to vote yes or no on marketing quotas. That's on Friday. Everyone who raises as much as 15 acres should vote, for sure.

Please remember this: The method of determining past acreages of wheat for allotment purposes is based, to a great extent, upon honor. Be honest. The purpose of the parity and allotment program is to help you and your fellow farmer produce the maximum proportion at marketably profitable prices. Let's not sabotage the farm program by misrepresenting. It is not by any means perfect, but if it is adhered to, it can more accurately be corrected in the future years. Remember that you, as a farmer, are a member of a minority group, (less than 17 per cent of our population). Let the public know that you are honorably trying to produce food and fiber for the populace at fair prices while you make a good living, too. Farm Bureau can and will continue to effectively present your problems to the proper authorities and the public if your pleas are justified and honorable.

Consider this: "As a mad man who casteth firebrands, arrows, and death. So is the man that deceiveth his neighbor, and saith, Am not I in sport? Pro. 26:18-19."

Star Recipes

Deviled Dinner Beef Patties
 1 pound ground round steak
 1 teaspoon salt
 1-4 cup chopped onion
 1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
 1-4 cup butter or margarine, melted
 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
 1 tablespoon horse-radish
 1 clove of garlic (finely mashed)
 1-4 cup catsup

Combine ground steak, salt, onion, mustard, horse-radish and garlic thoroughly. Shape into patties 1 1/2 inches thick. Place on aluminum foil on a pie pan with fat and omit the foil. Place the broiler pan in a hot broiling oven with the surface of the steak 3 inches from the heat source. Broil 10 minutes or until the surface of the patties is well browned. Turn and broil 10 minutes more. Serve the hot patties on a hot platter or hot plates. Add the catsup to the butter and Worcestershire sauce. Pour over the patties and serve at once.

"MOTORCIDE"

Maybe this is a new word to you; it was to us. It is a word coined by the State Department of Public Safety.

But its story is old - "avoidable" auto accidents.

We are happy to see that the motorcide rate is decreasing, according to department figures for 1952 and the first 6 months of 1953.

And it can decrease even more, with your help and ours.

WALTER ROGERS
WINDING UP THIS SESSION OF CONGRESS: The drive for early adjournment of Congress is under full steam. Committee meetings are being crowded together in the mornings and the House is staying in session late every day. Many of the committees are meeting while the House is in session in an effort to complete action on much pending legislation. The President's "must" legislation includes two bills that may cause a substantial delay in adjourning this session.

The bill to admit 240,000 refugees into this country is due for rough sledding in the House. Its main support will come from the extreme liberal wing of both parties and those who feel constrained to follow the President's recommendations, regardless of what they may be. The Southern Democratic bloc will oppose this legislation almost to a man. This bloc and the general scattered opposition throughout the country will cause the vote to be very close and could defeat the measure in the House. This same type of legislation was losing much support during the latter days of the Truman administration and many of those who opposed it then will not go along with it now just because it is endorsed by Eisenhower. It is risky legislation that could cause much trouble in this country if passed.

The other controversial bill is the proposed postal rate raise. The general consensus seems to be that this proposed raise penalizes the users of first class mail, which has always paid its own way, while second, third, and fourth class mails have not paid their own way. Many members feel that it is unfair to put an added burden on the backs of the individuals who are the large users of first class mail in order to extend what constitutes a subsidy to the users of second, third and fourth class mails. This bill will be highly controversial in the House but will probably meet even rougher sledding in the Senate. A substitute bill has been proposed to place rate fixing powers in the Postmaster General. It is doubted that Congress would pass this type of legislation.

The odd thing about the postal rate raise bill is that the opposition before the committee is coming from users of second, third and fourth class mail, which is not presently paying its way.

Since first class mail is used by Mr. Average American, who does not maintain a lobby in Washington, vocal opposition to this added tax on him has come from the many members of Congress who realize what is going on.

The big argument for raising the rates is the $700,000,000 postal deficit. Approximately nine times the amount of this deficit, or six-plus billions, has been allocated by the House for foreign aid for the fiscal year. This amount will probably be upped by the Senate. This six billion dollars plus the amounts on hand in that fund totals 14 billion dollars for foreign aid. The question is "Are we going to increase the burden on the already overtaxed John Q. Citizen by a postal rate increase, that is nothing more than a new tax under a different name, while we are sending billions of dollars of tax moneys overseas?" Not by my vote.

VISITORS: Eck Brown, O. H. Finch and O. H. Finch, Jr., were in town with a group of cattlemen representing the new organization that was formed at Dalhart. They are seeking the same treatment for livestock growers that is received by other industries and businesses in the nature of a partially protected market. They talked to the President of the United States, the Secretary of Agriculture and a large group of
