Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

We are more firmly convinced every day that the penalty for driving while intoxicated should be more stringently applied than that for carrying a concealed weapon without a license.

Wheat straw has been baled and placed in the barn for the Fall Fair and the Spring Fat Stock Show. We express our appreciation to the following who made this possible: Giles Cobb, who contributed the straw; Bud Elmore, who baled it at a very reasonable rate; Bruce Parr, who furnished a truck; Raymond Schueler, who furnished a truck and supervised the following crew members: Robert Schueler, Richard Kinickie and Les Bruns. This is an annual task. Maybe you would like to plan to assist next year. Bailey County Farm Bureau is, we believe, the commendation for the "Good Neighbor Cotton Seed Program" they promoted for the benefit of dry land farmers who are hard hit by drought conditions. We understand they provided, through individual contributions, over 1300 bushels of cotton seed. The seed was made available to applicants free of charge.

R. W. Shelton and Olan W. Turner are the two newest Farmer County Farm Bureau members. May we suggest that you vote in the July Primaries? May we also suggest that you consider the moral and religious qualifications of candidates? We are not referring to denominational ties, but rather to the characteristics that

Bootlegging Is Charged Here

Charges of transporting liquor within a dry territory were filed early this week against Buster Jasper of Friona.

Jasper was apprehended in the residential section of Friona, Saturday night, by Deputy Roberts who reported confiscating 19 pints of liquor from a vehicle driven by Jasper. Roberts took Jasper to the jail in Farwell, Saturday night.

Jones Emphasizes Range Importance

COLLEGE STATION.—A knowledge of grasses is fundamental to the building of a successful range management program. There is a wide range of usefulness among pasture grasses and, according to Joe Jones, County Agricultural Agent, scrub grasses are like scrub animals, growing them doesn't pay.

Even under conditions of favorable moisture, the agent points out that the good plants are fighting for survival. They must compete with other vegetation which in addition to less desirable grasses include brush, weeds and trees. These competitors rob the good grasses of needed moisture and plant food and make the struggle for survival a one-sided fight when overgrazing is practiced.

Pastures and ranges of the state have been hard hit during the past few years but have shown remarkable recovery in most areas. The agent's advice is to give the key grasses a chance to build a root system and produce a seed crop just as soon as moisture is available. The roots are even more important to the plant than the top growth; without a deep, well-developed root system, the key plants' chances of survival are reduced. A good seed crop is needed to hasten the range rebuilding job and here is where the knowledge of grasses come into the picture.

The county agricultural agent has on hand material which contains suggestions and aids for identifying range plants as well as hints on how best to handle them for maximum returns.

Finally, the agent points out, the key plants, they may be native or well-established introduced species, are the best ones for any given area. They should be the measuring stick for judging proper range use. They produce more forage and are a basic resource of the state's range land and are of major importance in the economical production of livestock in Texas. Their survival and well being depends upon the treatment given them by the livestock producers. Too much of the time plants are grazed off too close and too often following moisture that would help them get rooted down again following the bad drought years.

Well Drilling Becomes Year-Round Business

Irrigation well drilling is no longer a seasonal operation in Parmer County, according to committeemen who issue permits here. The number of permits issued from time varies, but to no great extent. Fifteen permits were granted at the last meeting. The greatest number ever issued in a two-week period was about thirty-five. The number of replacement wells is becoming a little alarming, say committeemen. Most of these are replacements for wells that have been pumping for less than two years, and too many of them have pumped only a few months. This seems to indicate that more study of formation and other elements should be made before installation is made. Minimum cost of replacement installations run around two thousand dollars.

Effective immediately, "special permit" procedure for drilling a well before regular meeting dates of the committee will be handled in a different manner than previously. The committee requests that pump companies and drillers insist on a copy of the temporary permit before beginning drilling operations.

This can avoid embarrassment and possible added expense for their patrons, who may not be sure they have complied with District Regulations in locating their well site.

When a farmer feels he cannot wait for the regular meeting of the committee to secure a permit, he can follow the procedure outlined here: (1) Go to the office in Friona and provide all necessary data regarding the proposed well location. (2) Such data will be placed on a form which will show exact location desired. (3) The form may then be taken to three committeemen for their approval. (4) The form must then be returned to the office for issuance of a temporary permit which authorizes beginning of drilling operations. (5) At the next scheduled meeting date, applicant shall appear before the committee for formal completion of application.

The committee wishes to emphasize that if the driller will require a copy of temporary permits before moving on location, he will be doing a service to his patron by eliminating the possibility of illegal installations which may prove costly as well as inconvenient. The driller who will take this responsibility will soon become respected when a new well is considered.

New City Codes Now in Effect

The Friona plumbing, gas, and electric codes took effect the first of this month according to Roy Wilson, City Secretary.

The city voted in March to adopt the national plumbing code, the gas code (governing piping, appliances, fixtures, and apparatus in all buildings and structures of gas customers), and the electric code (governing electrical installation). Two licenses have already been issued for the Electric Code, to Nick Dudley and L. A. Parsons.

City Park Opens To Good Crowds

Approximately 250 people were present for the park opening Saturday, according to Don Lewis, operator for the summer. It is hoped that the good attendance will continue throughout the summer, thus making available a more fully rounded recreation program throughout the following month.

Already the park offers many possibilities for enjoyable recreation, parties, etc. The rides have been more frequently patronized than any other sport, golf came in second, and snow cones were the third most popular attraction.

People who picnic in the park are requested to leave it in the same condition as when they came and to prevent children from doing damage to the equipment and playthings.

Corner Drug Store Has Unique Niche in Community History

By GAY CASS

If the corner drug store could talk, a saga of early day Friona would gradually unfold. The old adobe building with the 18-inch thick walls could relate tales, that the city was but a husky infant, that have been long buried and partially forgotten over the years. But part of the history has been preserved, an interesting and colorful Western scene, that allows younger generations to peer through the hazy mist of time and get a glimpse of what it was like to gather at the corner drug in the season of winter and swag yarns around an old coal stove.

T. J. Crawford was owner of the first drug store in the city which was then combined with a grocery store. Here, Lola Goodwine was employed.

The drug store was eventually moved to the site where the pool hall is now located. J. R. Roden was owner at that time and in 1931 he moved the drug store to its present location. The building had formerly been an implement house.

Accounts of a few fist fights right in the store were reminiscent of "the old days." One incident brought amused smiles, then concerned faces when one man, in the attempt to sock another, missed and broke his own arm. But that is only one experience. Ervin Johnson used to tell of the time when he calmly sauntered into the drug store and displayed a snake before the startled eyes of Bert Chitwood.

What followed, certainly relieved any quietness that Friona might have been enjoying. It seems that Bert jumped through out of the large plate glass windows in front of the store and came out on the other side with not a scratch.

Solid oak fixtures were put up somewhere around '29. Those same fixtures still stand today, though they have been refinished.

During his high school years and on through his college holidays, Dr. Paul Spring worked at the drug store.

A doctor's office was formerly established in the back. M. D. at that time was Dr. Willis.

There was no recreation in Friona so the people had to supply their own. A community get-together was an excellent substitute for the movies or theatre. It was held in the drug store that served as a meeting place for Friona's citizens.

Everyone was there, from children up to old folks. They danced and they served lunches but in general, they just had a good time. Boxing gloves were often furnished and sparring matches drew the interest.

Mrs. J. G. Weir, onetime owner of the drug store (then a confectionery) was considered by many as an absolute artist. Many watched her expertly dip chocolates and when the fresh candy was sold, it was delicious.

Westway Accident Takes Two Lives

Linda Marie Davis, 6-year-old daughter of Mrs. Annette Waldrop, and her uncle, a Deaf Smith County farm laborer, were killed Tuesday after their car swerved out of control and overturned in a ditch beside a country road near Westway.

The child was dead when the ambulance arrived at the scene of the accident. Her uncle, Paul Albert Zehringer, 34, died that night. The third passenger of the car, driven by Zehringer, Mrs. Waldrop, was taken to the hospital for observation and treatment of minor injuries.

The accident, occurring shortly before noon, was apparently caused by a blowout, and loss of control resulted, causing the car to overturn, according to Highway Patrolman Joe Culp, who investigated the accident.

Zehringer and Mrs. Waldrop were employed on the J. B. Sneed farm.

Cars Damaged Friday In Local Collision

Two cars were badly damaged Friday afternoon on Highway 60 west of Friona when they overturned, but no one was reported injured. A Chevrolet and Ford were travelling together in a tow hook-up when the driver lost control of the lead vehicle, overturning both vehicles. The cars were being transported by H. D. Witherpoon of Lovington, New Mexico.

Rev. and Mrs. Fields Return from Arkansas

Reverend and Mrs. C. M. Fields returned Wednesday night after a vacation to points in Arkansas and a period of sightseeing. The couple visited with the Dudley Robsons in Siloam Springs. From there they went to Lake Keith and enjoyed fishing, then to Eureka Springs. At Mountain Home, they crossed the water on a ferry boat. The next stop was Little Rock.

In Dallas, they visited with the C. B. Skimmers and in Comanche, visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Fields, and Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Harbor.

Max and Joe Reeve left Friday for Amarillo to visit their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Sparkman.

Guests in the Henry Lewis home over the holidays were his nephew and family of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Braddy.

Annual Queen Contest Announced

The Farm Bureau Queen contest will be held on August 27 of this year. The same rules have been adopted and contestants will be judged on personality as well as beauty.

The state winner will receive an expense paid trip to the metropolis of New York. Detailed information has not yet been released. Raymond Euler stated that he is expecting twice as many entrants as the 18 contestants that entered last year.

CROP Soliciting Beef for Germans

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is your special invitation to help 80,000 Greek young people who are homeless because of two earthquakes.)

From now until July 20, counties in the High Plains are canvassing for beef cattle which will be processed and shipped on July 20. All animals are to be assembled at the Amarillo stockyards by noon on July 20 at which time there will be a dedication service and the animals shipped to Fort Worth for processing. On this shipment, in addition to canned beef, there will be 150 dairy heifers, which will be sent to refugee farmers in West Germany. There will also be other commodities. If you desire to give a beef cattle or cash to purchase beef cattle, please contact Rev. James Carter, Polk Street Methodist Church, Amarillo; Frank Shaler, General Chairman, Camarillo, Texas; or your county chairman, Raymond Euler.

The need is great, especially meat of which there has never been enough. Two devastating earthquakes made thousands homeless. The Christian Rural Overseas program asks you to contribute.

Well Permits Are Continuing Pace

Since the first of the year, 240 irrigation well permits have been issued to Parmer County residents, reports Raymond Euler, Farm Bureau Service representative. This is an increase of about 20 over last year's recorded permits. In one week alone, 13 permits were issued. However, the average is approximately 20 permits per month. He also estimated the number of wells in Parmer County as being near 1500.

An interesting but discouraging fact concerns the number of complete well failures. Nearly 100 wells have been replaced, and 50 per cent of that number had not been in production over two years. That amount is all that have been recorded up to the present time, but it is suspected that several additional well failures have never been reported.

Though the statistics are discouraging, they are expected to improve through time and with more careful effort in the direction of the digging and development of a well.

Vera Ann Jones Takes NTSC Dramatic Honors

Vera Ann Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, Friona, has been chosen assistant for the current North Texas College summer dramatic production.

Former Residents Visit

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. (Fat) Elliott and family were in Friona Wednesday. Thirteen years ago, the Elliotts moved from Friona to Cortez, Colorado, after living here for 20 years.

The Elliotts farmed in Friona but they now run the Navajo B. and Appliance Store in Cortez. They were visiting old friends here and purchasing a truck from Consumers. Their last visit to Friona was made some five years ago and Mrs. Elliott stated that many improvements have been made.

MORE NEGRO TEACHERS?
(Panhandle Herald)

Refusal of young persons to enter teaching become of prime importance in the educational field unless the trend is reversed.

Negroes are entering the teaching field at a rapid pace because of the prestige in community life.

In North Carolina a report said that North Carolina is qualifying negroes for teachers quicker than positions are available in negro schools.

One report said that during a year 715 negroes qualified for teaching and there were only 459 vacancies.

With the Federal government running our school system, as well as many other unnecessary phases of our lives, you can expect the Supreme Court to order school boards to employ negroes to teach white pupils.

Teachers' salaries are going up rapidly and any objection over low pay is being overcome. If the young people are opposed to teaching—and it is said there is a shortage of 70,000—then do not be surprised to see negroes move in to fill the vacancies.

Newspapers are like women, because they both have forms—back numbers are not in demand much—they always have the last word—they are all well worth looking over—they have a great deal of influence—you can't believe all they say sometimes—there's small demand for the bold face type—and every man should have one of his own and not borrow.—Carlinville (Ill.) Macoupin County Enquirer, W. L. Schmitt.

YOUR CIVIC RESPONSIBILITY

If you are going to build a good community, it takes more than the work of a few persons. A recent article in Investor's Leader, published by Merrill Lynch, Pierce Fenner & Beane, brokers, reveals an interesting business philosophy of D. A. Hulcy, 45, of Dallas, president of the Lone Star Gas Co.

Hulcy came up from the ranks beginning as an accounting clerk for the gas firm. He has reached the top and has been president of both the American Gas Association and the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

"If you live in a community you owe more than taxes to the welfare of that community," Hulcy is quoted as saying.

A co-worker explained Hulcy's program as follows: "Early in his career he established this policy both for himself and the company. As a result, each one of us feels he has a personal obligation both as an individual and as a representative of the company—to participate to his maximum ability in any civic enterprise which might better the community. Thus almost every Lone Star man is a civic worker."

Civic responsibility is not limited to employees and officers of public utilities. It is an obligation for every one in the community and surrounding territory. Many civic problems would be much easier to solve if the people would have the view of Hulcy and his Lone Star co-workers.

Don't Take a Daily Bath Says Expert—Just Sweat and Stink

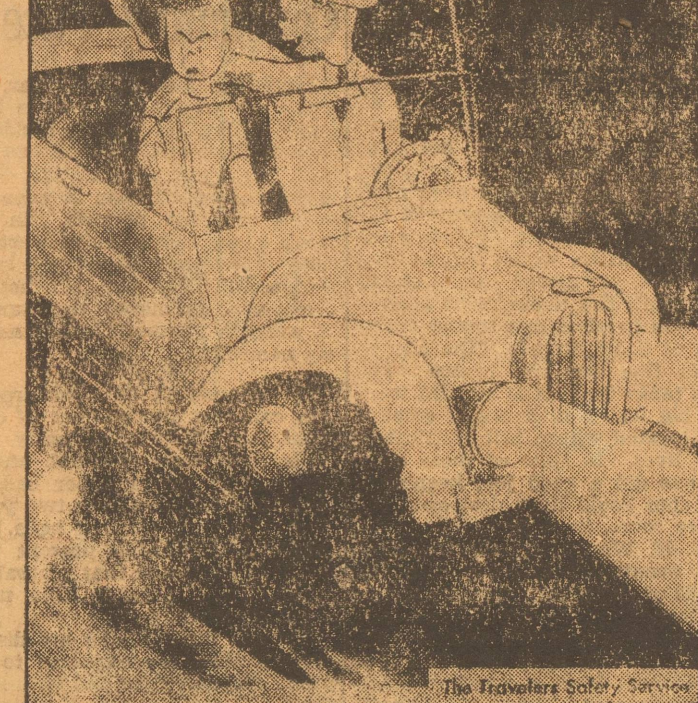

Dr. Earl D. Osborn, Buffalo skin specialist, says the business of daily bathing is the worst thing that can happen to your skin. And if you use soaps—and who doesn't—that is even worse.

Dr. Osborn says statistics have proved that people who take the most frequent baths have the most frequent occurrence of skin infections and skin diseases. Furthermore, he believes the alkali in soap gives many people an infection, especially on sensitive areas of the skin.

Dr. Osborn is an expert in the field of dermatology, and made the above observations while speaking before a session of the Oklahoma Medical Association Convention in Oklahoma City. His observations are welcome news to many a male, who tries courageously not to wash his strength away with too many baths. Perhaps this new ammunition will enable the male species to better ward off attacks of wives and mothers who attempt to weaken what would normally be called a healthy aromatic condition.

Some guy has started a new racket in Washington.

That is, the idea may be new, but the method is as old as time; or at least as old as the printing press.

This fellow uses the catching phrase, "Human Events." In his weekly letter he devotes four letter size pages to the discussion of just one problem. He pretends to know all of the answers.

His stuff may be worth reading, but we have long ago found that few men have the ability to know the answers to all problems. At least, we know one thing for sure; the older we get the less we know for sure.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION:

RECKLESS TEEN-AGERS

A logical explanation of the high traffic accident rate of teen-agers—about one and a half times the normal rate—has been given by Chicago's traffic chief, Michael J. Ahern.

The enforcement officer holds that the youth in his teens should be a first-class driver because of his quick reflexes, fine co-ordination and better than normal vision. But the teen-age motorist is a threat in traffic because of his willingness to "take a long chance."

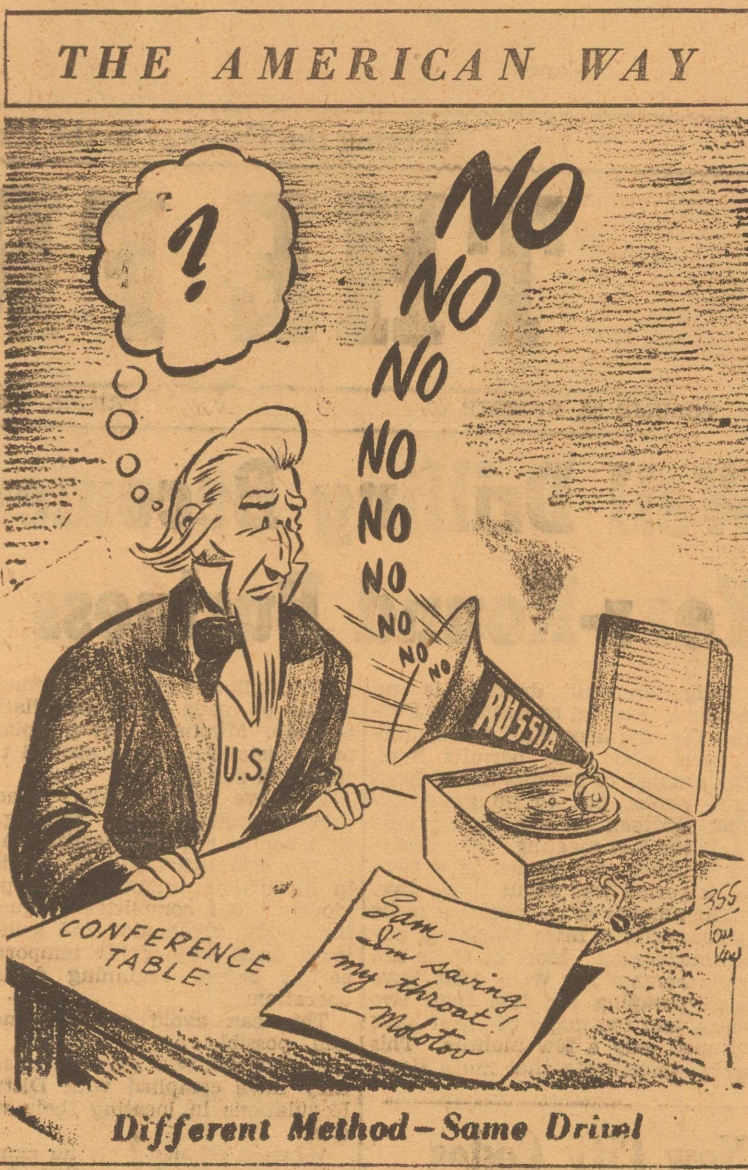

That impulse is due to a number of factors, not the last of which is the desire for a thrill and showing off before other teen-agers.

Chief Ahern gives another explanation—the example set by the offending teen-ager's parents who lack courtesy, are impatient and often disregard the laws in traffic. He suggests that the parent first set an example in careful driving for the child.

Atomic "Operation Ivy" Movies Are Available Courtesy Rep. Walter Rogers

To the People of the 18th District:

Operation Ivy

The first full-scale thermo-nuclear explosion in history took place at the Pacific Proving Ground of the Atomic Energy Commission in November, 1952, and was designated as "Operation Ivy." During this operation a series of colored motion pictures were taken, both for the historical record and for information and educational purposes.

This film was highly restricted until April 1, 1954, at which time it was released, in black and white copies only, to television, radio and press. Further restrictions on the colored version of the film have been able to purchase one of the colored versions. This will be made available to any of the groups that desire to view the film. It is 16-millimeter size and requires approximately 28 minutes to screen. It occurred to me that many of the people in the 18th Congressional District would want to have a first-hand view of this explosion. I will be happy to loan the film, which has a sound track, to any groups desiring it if you will write me. Just address your communication to Walter Rogers, Member of Congress, 1712 House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

Foreign Aid and the Farmers

The House of Representatives considered two bills during the week of June 28. The first was the Foreign Aid Bill, which involved an expenditure of approximately three and a half billion dollars. The second was the Agriculture bill, having to do with the continuance of the agricultural program in this country. I was somewhat amazed at the ease with which the Foreign Aid bill sailed through the House. A bill providing three and a half billion dollars, in addition to the nine billion plus appropriated but unexpended, to be spent overseas. I voted against this bill, as I have similar bills in the past, for the reason that I do not believe that this country is getting value received or near it for the dollars spent under this program.

I have long contended that this money could and would produce ten times the results if it were operated on the basis of exchanging the products of this country in which we are in over-supply for the use of the manpower in many of these countries in which they are in over-supply. Such procedure would, in my opinion, furnish the most effective weapon in the battle against Communism. It would enable many an American boy to remain on his home shores to help produce the goods, wares and merchandise needed in this fight, and it would also enable the manpower of these recipient countries to stand up and be counted against Communism and do something about it. In addition, it would furnish the economic aid more effectively, because the funds for the services rendered would reach the individual citizens. In many instances in the past it has been definitely shown that tremendous amounts of these foreign aid funds paid over to the governments of these countries suffered a terrific evaporation loss before they

Some people have adopted the practice of dumping their refuse and dead animals in the ditches along the county highways. This greatly hinders the county road maintenance from properly grading the roads. The practice is also a finable offense. Washington and Small Business:

Circus-like Army-McCarthy hearings have created confused comment. Many write "What good are Congressional committees?"

Responsible Washington leaders feel it unfortunate that emotional viewpoints on personalities in dispute give rise to this feeling with main issue overlooked.

Here's basic issue. It is exclusive privilege of Congress to make laws. It is duty of executive branch, through C. W. Harder what has grown to be a myriad of bureaus, to enforce those laws.

Under American system, a bureaucrat is no sacred cow. Power is vested in Congress. Held responsible, Congress, therefore must ascertain whether its laws are carried out, what law modifications are needed to make enforcement practical. This work is split up among committees.

Fortunately, people usually elect gentlemen to Congress with a high sense of justice and responsibility. That it is possible to be ambitious, forceful, resultful and still be a gentleman was proved by the Kefauver crime investigating committee. Occasional failure of a committee to meet traditionally high Congressional standards of conduct is no reason to eliminate committees.

As example the Senate Small Business Committee has released its annual report. This committee since inception, headed by gentlemen has accomplished a great deal for independent business and American economy.

Among scores of matters reported on, it is being made of nations distributive industry. The Committee states "Assistance programs for small businessmen in the past have shown a marked tendency to concentrate on the problem of the manufacturing community. Distributive trades have problems just as numerous, just as complex . . . should receive the day-by-day attention of those charged with responsibility of protecting rights and increasing opportunities of all small businessmen."

The report also points out the importance of the distributive business to the American economy . . . over 24% of all employment is provided by this industry; mostly by small firms.

The report further covers the need for enforcement of anti trust laws and fair trade laws.

The committee also charges Justice Department and Federal Trade Commission with dragging their heels in enforcing them.

But this is noteworthy. There are no flamboyant personality charges that so and so is being paid off secretly by such and such corporation.

Instead firm language indicates unless suitable action is forthcoming, the committee will take steps, based on well documented facts. No threats of character assassination, just facts.

Therefore, it is hoped in Washington that due to current unfortunate incident public will not clamor for curtailment of Congressional investigative powers. But rather for Congress to "take over" even more control.

Twenty years ago Congress permitted its tariff making powers to be taken away from it, with the result that today an estimated 300,000 American workers are idled by huge imports of cheap foreign products.

reached the people in the every-day walks of life. Such a process would also remove from any of the funds, goods, wares or merchandise, any taint of charity.

Just after the House had increased the funds available for foreigners to some twelve billion plus dollars, the agriculture bill was brought before the House. Immediately the tune changed. The picture became one of tragedy, wherein the American farmer had grown foodstuffs in excess of our demand to the extent of about six and a half billion dollars. That is, six and a half billion dollars worth of foodstuffs are in the pantry, ready to be used and consumed by the American people, or our allies, as the need may be. Why this is a tragedy, I have never been able to understand, but there seems to be a great propaganda campaign on to convince the American people that it is a sin and a crime to have a backlog of food and fiber, both of which are indispensable in the life of man. When the smoke had all cleared away at the end of the week, the result was that the foreigners got three and a half billion more, the farmer got his price supports cut. I voted against the foreigners and for the farmers. Sorry my side didn't win.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Blackburn and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Herring left the third for Lake City, Colorado, as the need may be. Why this is

RECIPE OF THE WEEK Lemon Barbecue Sauce*

- 1 clove garlic
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup salad or olive oil
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 1/2 teaspoon black pepper
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce

Mash garlic with salt in bowl, stir in remaining ingredients. Chill 24 hours. Especially good on chicken.

Oven Method for Barbecuing Chicken: Select young broiler-fryer chickens weighting about 1 3/4 pounds dressed. Cut in half, place skin side up in roasting or broiling pan and pour sauce over them one-half to one inch deep. Bake uncovered in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) for about 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Test leg joints for doneness. If they come apart easily, when twisted, the chicken is done. For rich crustiness, place cooked chickens skin side up, baste and turn up heat to 500 degrees F., or place under broiler heat for 2 or 3 minutes. Serve extra barbecue sauce over the chicken.

Improved Roads Are Major Stride in Texas

During the last five years, 39.15 miles of roads have been built in Parmer county. It was Texas' greatest period of road construction history, Highway Department files show.

The breakdown by counties as well as state totals prepared by the department showed that $610,019.14 was spent in the county for maintenance of present roads and for the gigantic construction program.

Meanwhile in Austin, Governor Shivers cited the impressive figures "as evidence that the state's construction program is giving Texas motorists the best roads that engineering can provide."

The report showed that 14,926.10 miles of roads added to the state highway system over the period covered cost $575,158,572.32, more money spent for construction than in any other comparable period.

Figures also showed that Farm-to-Market roads came in for a lion's share of the total. The roads were named a priority because they give farmers needed routes to markets and access to towns surrounding rural areas, a highway official said.

Shivers, who said he was very proud of the excellent way Texas roads have improved in the last half-decade, listed dollars and time saved as two prime benefits to Texas motorists.

"State drivers have been able to save countless hours and money through good roads that provide the ultimate in safety and design," he remarked.

He also pledged that he "would do everything in my power" to continue the present rapid pace of road-building and maintenance.

"A road system worthy of its name must provide its motorists with swift, safe routes," he said.

Pledge Service Marked MYF Meet

An impressive pledge service was conducted by the Methodist Youth Fellowship at their regular meeting Sunday evening.

Displayed on the worship center was the Bible, the cross, and an arrangement of pink roses. As the members entered, they were asked to contribute something to the worship center. Watches, class rings, jackets, and books were placed on the table. The pile of possessions was suggestive of the many things that Americans take for granted. Patsy Anthony pointed out the contrast between such a pile of American belongings and a similar collection from Liberia or Pakistan.

After pledges were made by the individuals, the service was closed with the MYF benediction.

W. A. Tinney who left for the Navy the following Tuesday was presented a small Bible, with a tiny gold cross dangling from it, as a gift for the group.

The meeting was closed with a prayer by Rev. U. S. Sherrill. Eight members, a guest, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones, counselors, and Rev. Sherrill were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Wright Williams celebrated the Fourth with a trip to Ruidoso.

VETERANS' QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I am a Korean veteran with a service-connected disability serious enough to prevent me from getting commercial life insurance. Will my disability also stop me from obtaining GI permanent insurance available to disabled Korean veterans?

A—No. No matter how severe it is, your service-connected disability will not bar you from permanent GI insurance. But you could not get it if you had a non-service disability that would prevent you from meeting the good-health requirements of the GI insurance law.

Q—I understand I can pay off my GI loan in advance, without penalty. Can these advance payments be of any size, or is there some minimum amount below which they can't go?

A—There is a minimum amount. It is the amount of one regular monthly payment or $100, whichever is less.

Q—I'm planning to add the total disability income provision to my GI insurance policy. I pay my insurance premiums once a year. Could I pay the extra amount for the disability provision on a monthly basis?

A—No. You must make your disability income payments in the same manner as your regular insurance payments. If you pay your premiums yearly, you must pay the extra amount for disability coverage yearly, too.

Q—I am a Korean veteran, and I got out of service in July, 1952. What is my cut-off date for starting Korean GI Bill training?

A—You—and all Korean veterans separated before August 20, 1952—must begin training under the Korean GI Bill by August 20, 1954. Veterans separated after August 20, 1952, have two years from separation in which to begin.

Great Plains Beef Range Restored by Reseeding

This fat cow is evidence of well-managed reseeded western range.

Poor crop land reseeded with high quality seed of nutritious grasses is yielding 2 or 3 times as much beef per acre as native range, at USDA's Southern Great Plains Field Station, Woodward, Oklahoma.

Well-adapted grasses, an effective seeding plan, and subsequent weed control are given credit for restoration of this typical Great Plains range.

In the most successful plan at Woodward, a preparatory crop of sorghum was close-drilled about July 1. The sorghum was grazed or cut for hay, largely paying for reseeded. The grasses were seeded early the following spring on the firm seedbed of the stubble field—protected by the undisturbed sorghum stubble.

Among the grass mixtures tested, one stood out as best for the soil and climate in the southern plains area, most dependable by season-long production, and most likely to provide a well-balanced diet through the year. This consisted of 2 pounds each of blue grama and side-oats grama, a pound of cool-weather western wheatgrass for spring and fall grazing, 1 pound of nutritious yellow sweetclover, and 1 pound of productive switchgrass per acre. Add two pounds of mixed bluestems and 1/2 pound of sand lovegrass for sandy soils. On heavy soils, make it 1 pound of buffalograss instead.

Among the recommended grasses sown alone, sand lovegrass was the leader over an 8-year period of comparison.

One of the better experimental mixtures—blue grama, side-oats grama, western wheatgrass, and Texas bluegrass—yielded an average profit of $7.68 in beef gain per acre. Although sand lovegrass alone was more profitable during part of the season, it failed to provide the sustained grazing of the mixture. Well-managed native range returned a profit of $4.15 in beef gain per acre.

Buffalograss was included in the mixture for heavy soils. Alone, however, it failed to live up to its fame for forage and beef production.

FOR THAT MONEY TEXAS ADDED 14,926.10 MILES OF SMOOTH ROADS TO THE STATE HIGHWAY SYSTEM AND MAINTAINED ALL ROADS TO KEEP THEM SAFE AND SOUND FOR YOU.

Allan Shivers knows the importance of good roads to you. Whether trade routes that speed goods to market or modern super highways that make your driving a pleasure, good roads save you time and money.

S.C.D Observations

Mr. Arlan Hartzog plans better use of his native grazing land. He plans to do this by building a series of earth-tanks properly located in his pastures.

Mr. Hartzog plans locating these tanks so that cattle will not have to walk over a fourth of a mile from any point in the pasture to a watering place. This will allow his cattle to drink more after and bring about proper grazing of his grass land.

Plans for locating the tanks so that tail water from surrounding irrigation wells could be utilized to fill the tanks in addition to the rain runoff. The tanks will be set up to drain water from lakes, to allow grass to become better established in the bottom of lakes.

When the tanks are finished and filled in Mr. Hartzog plans to stock these ponds with fish, to be used as a course of recreation.
 Mr. Sam Cook has started to put drops in his ditch on his bench level land so he can irrigate. These drops are made out of old hot water heaters and old auto tires are put around them to help keep them from being washed out of his ditch. Mr. Cook will have fourteen or fifteen of these drops when he completes his job.

Family Reunion

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bartlett, Sunday and Monday, were his brothers, I. S. Bartlett and N. S. Bartlett of Gainesville, Texas, and B. I. Bartlett of Fresno, California.

This was the first time that the family had been together in nearly 30 years and was a grand occasion for each of them.

The Howard Loves are visiting in Durant, Oklahoma.

Choir Director School

Don Lewis, director of the Methodist Church choir, will leave Sunday for a week's training at Georgetown, in directing technique.

The school will be for church organists, pianists, and choir directors. Courses on meter for hymns and courses on technique will be available.

WIMBERLEY REUNION

A reunion was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wimberley this week when several sisters, cousins and old school chums of Mrs. Wimberley gathered for the first time in many years. Also present were the daughters and families of the Wimberleys.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jones, Lubbock; Mrs. John Cornwell, Ralls, New Mexico; Mrs. Homer Newton, Dimmitt; Mrs. Beulah Cornelius and Miss Ada Cornelius, Belton; Mrs. Carl Reese, Yvette, Sherrill, Margaret and Adeline of Cleburne; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Brock and Sandra, Friona.

Delegate Returns From Florida Meet

Dean Buske, Area I FHA Corresponding Secretary, returned home from Daytona Beach, Florida, Tuesday. She reported that the regional Future Homemakers of America meeting there was one of the most unusual and interesting occurrences in her life.

Four hundred attended, representing 11 states and Puerto Rico. Some of the highlights included a fish fry, concert by the Daytona Beach Band, and swimming in the Atlantic Ocean. The girls met in discussion groups at the meeting. They learned how to be better home members and talked of how to build better homes. Texas received a national office in the Future Homemakers organization—Betty Gilbreath of Valley Mills, was elected as historian.

On the return trip, the group attending from Texas stopped at Silver Springs, Florida. Boating was the feature attraction here and, in glass bottom boats, the underwater growth and unusual species of fish were plainly visible. If you want to hear some good fish stories, let Deann tell you about the large trout she saw. Bet no Farmer County fisherman has ever caught one that big!

Friona Youth Rally Held in Park

The Friona Youth Rally Council met in the Park, Monday evening. The group completed plans for the next Youth Rally which will be held July 24 in the Assembly of God Church.

Marilyn Fairchild, Gladys Baxter, and Phyllis Hinds served at the table.

Canadian Fish Story

Canadian fishing waters have a proud reputation, and there's good reason for it. More than half of the world's fresh water lies in Canada, and fishing fish abound. In the Province of Ontario there are more than 750,000 lakes; no one has ever counted them all. In the picture above, a visiting angler displays a 20-pound muskellunge, typical of fish to be caught in the French River of Northern Ontario. For literature and information on where to go for a fishing vacation in Canada, write to the Canadian Government Travel Bureau, "C" Division, Ottawa, Canada.

SCIENCE and your Health
DISHPAN HANDS
By Science Features

A woman's work is never done, according to an old maxim, but very few people regard housework as injurious. Yet the housewife does know occupational diseases. Dishpan hands, or, as it is known when more serious, housewives' eczema, is becoming more and more common.

In a study of 145 cases of eczema of the hands Dr. Matthew J. Brunner of Chicago found that 101 patients were housewives. The doctor describes the ailments as starting with dryness, redness and scaling which, when the condition became more severe, led to cracks in the skin, crusting and blistering.

Continued dunkings in hot water and soap are responsible for the condition, along with other household culprits such as ammonia water, bleaches, detergents and solvents (as in waxes and poishes).

Treatment, based on the idea that the eczema is primarily due to irritation and the skin is extremely sensitive to household agents, is simple. The doctor said that "cosmetic cleansing creams are sometimes useful," and that petrolatum, boric acid and zinc oxide ointments are also recommended.

Serious outbreaks demand the attention of a physician who will check for secondary infection. Dr. Brunner reported that "antibiotics are given orally and sometimes produce spectacular improvement." Terramycin orally administered for five to seven days was preferred over drugs that are applied to the skin to fight infection.

The most important point for the patient is to remove the irritating causes. Possibly to the dismay of other members of the family, Dr. Brunner stated that "the patient is urged to do only a minimum amount of housework . . . and to enlist the aid of husband or children in dishwashing and other such duties."
