INDIANS AGAIN WINNERS, 16-7

No baseball game is scheduled in Friona this Sunday, with the Indians to play again in the play offs August 28th. They will take on the winner of a Dimmitt-Umberger encounter being played this Sunday.

The locals took a decisive win Sunday from Bovina 16-7 before a large audience.

Stan Barrett turned in another of his habitual good performances as winning pitcher; Rebert Reed fas losing pitcher.

In a game that was played hard, close all the way, Friona made its bonus scores in the 4th, after a single and two walks had loaded the bases for the Indians. Bovina made a fatal mistake of trying to prevent the scoring run, and the redmen capitalized to send in 11 runs.

Weldon Minchew, out most of the season with an injured ankle, was back in the play to account for three singles. Wesley Barnett, C. H. Veazey and Jimmy Oliver were other standouts.

Trucks Badly Damaged In Collision at Hub

Well over $2,000 damage to two trucks was incurred Wednesday afternoon at an intersection collision at the Hub.

James Troy Westfall, 30, of Canyon received a broken collar bone, only serious injury of the accident. His truck received some $1200 damages.

Westfall was going south on the Farm-Market Road 299, driving a semi-truck trailer. He was struck from the west by a '54 Ford pickup driven by Newman Lee Maynard, 44, of Elmendorf, Texas. Maynard received numerous lacerations of the scalp and face. Over $1,000 damage was estimated to his pickup.

Maynard was charged with failure to stop at the "stop sign" on Highway 86, by investigating patrolman, Clarence Blair. Deputy Jim Roberts also investigated the accident which occurred about 3:15 o'clock.

Tires, tools and other items carried in the pickup were scattered by the impact over a wide area, probably 200 ft. in diameter.

Annals Are Available At School Office Here

The Friona school annuals arrived Saturday, and are the principal's office in the high school building.

Any student who has not yet received their annual should go by the office and get it, said Superintendent Kelley.

The annuals are unusual and different this year, with a bright red leather binding featuring an Indian Chief. Several of the inside pictures of school favorites are finished in a light red tone.

Fry Asks Interview With 5th Grade Prospects

The fifth grade children who plan to start band this year are requested to meet with band director J. D. Fry next week. It is vitally important that the parents be with them. Fry will be at the high school auditorium at 1 p.m., August 22-26.

The aptitude tests which the children took last year should prove of great help in selecting musical instruments. Representatives of several music companies will be in Friona at a date to be announced later.

Ted Sanders is vacationing this week in the Sangre de Cristo mountains in New Mexico with his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Sanders of Morton.

Friona Retailers Are Expanding Facilities

More new business improvements are being made or have recently been completed by Friona business firms.

The Lewis Variety Store has recently completed a 40 foot addition at the back of their building, making an over-all 120 feet of space, including a store room. The store now has 92 feet of display space, which according to the owner, Mrs. Tom Lewis, will allow more display space for new merchandise. She plans to add additional piece goods, men's work clothes, and other articles of clothing. She also is planning to add a more complete line of toys, making for a better selection in buying for Parmer County shoppers.

Foster's Dry Goods, owned by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Foster, is being remodeled and modernized with plans to double the size of the present store. Work was begun about three weeks ago by the contractor, O. E. Stevick. The store when completed will have three levels—a large basement level which will be a shoe department, the present store level, and a mezzanine floor. A ladies ready to wear department, blouses and lingerie will be on the mezzanine floor.

Mr. Foster stated that the additional space will allow more room to display present merchandise, and to add new.

Foster's have recently installed new modern plate glass windows on the front, as have White Auto Store and City Drug Store.

Other business improvements since the first of the year include the new permastone front of Gib's Cleaners, addition to Bi-Wize Drug, new aluminum awnings at Steffy's Drive Inn, new plate glass front for Vestal-Brewer Hardware and Welch Auto Supply, a modern car port and parking area for Friona State Bank employees, storage platforms for Strickland Shamrock station and Blanton Butane, warehouse for Herring Implement, new hangers at Bengel Air Park, warehouse for Massey Bros. Drilling, million bushel addition to Friona Wheat Growers elevator, addition of fertilizer plant to Kendrick Oil Company, additional space at the Telephone office, and the Mabry building now under construction, and Ware's Department Store which will open some time this month.

The amount of growth in Friona in recent months is almost staggering. New business establishments opened in recent months are Marcum-Claborn Funeral home and Florist, Tasty Cream Drive-Inn, Cummings Farm Store and Rockway-Hurst Department Store.

Truck Burned At Local Garage

Friona firemen were called Wednesday afternoon to the O. C. Jones wrecking firm where a Dodge pickup had caught fire.

The vehicle was reported near total loss, with extensive damage to cab and all wiring. Parked adjacent to a gasoline tank, the truck had just been filled with gas, and workmen were using a cutting torch for some repair work on the truck, causing the blaze. After firemen arrived, the truck gas tank exploded, but the larger storage tank never ignited.

Band Rehearsals Begin Monday

The Senior band will start band rehearsals Monday, August 22 at 9 a. m., according to J. D. Fry, band director. Fry announces that marching practice will be held from nine until ten and regular band practice will be held from 10 a. m. until 11 a. m. each morning. These rehearsals will be held at the high school auditorium and all new members as well as old members are asked to be present.

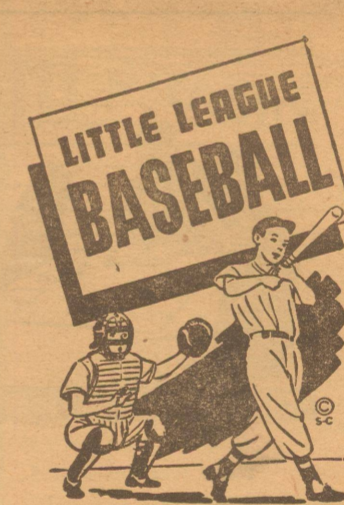

All band members who will need new shoes are asked to contact Wesley Foster as soon as possible. Junior band practice will not be held until school begins, September 11.

Three local girls will leave shortly to enter Nurses Training at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. They are Carol Blackburn, Betty Ashcraft and Mary Sissel.

Miss Blackburn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Blackburn, and Miss Ashcraft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashcraft, are both 1955 graduates of Friona high school. Both girls will leave for Amarillo September 1.

Miss Sissel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Sissel of Gainsville, Missouri, will leave for Amarillo August 31. Miss Sissel is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Lawton of Friona.

FRIONA PARMER COUNTY TEXAS

By VERN SANFORD

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN, Tex. — Despite "go slow" warnings from top state officials, 28 or more Texas schools have announced plans for complete or partial racial integration. Gov. Allan Shivers, in setting up a statewide advisory committee, cautioned against "hasty, ill-vised action." Earlier Atty. John Ben Shepperd had warned schools against "rushing headlong" into desegregation ahead of legislative action.

Though the Texas Education Agency makes no recommendations to schools, it is keeping tab on locally-decided policies. Its file of newspaper clippings from over the state shows that about 36 schools have definite plans, either pro or con.

In numerous other districts studies are being made by bi-racial committees. Questionnaires are measuring sentiment in some areas. Texas Citizens Councils, similar to an anti-integration organization in Mississippi, have sprung up in some East Texas areas. Dallas and Kilgore have councils pledged to "fight desegregation by every legal means."

Austin last week was the largest city with a high percentage of Negro students to plan integration this fall. It will begin in the top three grades which are 15 per cent Negro. A liberal transfer policy is expected to ease adjustment.

San Antonio, with 7.7 per cent Negro students, is the largest school system to plan immediate integration. All grades will be included here.

Other towns adopting immediate, across-the-board integration include Corpus Christi, Lubbock, San Angelo, Crystal City, Carrizo Springs, LaFeria, Mission and Brownsville.

More popular is a partial desegregation policy, such as Austin's. It begins usually on the high school level with a staggered schedule for lower grades.

Cities avowing this include San Marcos, Robstown, Bishop, Port Lavaca, Brownwood, Kerrville, Weslaco, Harlingen, Sinton, Amarillo, Kingsville, Friona, Rockport, Aransas Pass, Karnes City, Kenedy and Runge.

When it hears of a school planning to desegregate, the Education Agency writes local officials for a blueprint of the plan. These are made available to undecided school leaders who want to know how others are solving the problem.

Vaccine Shipment Expected

Arrival of 50,838 shots of Salk polio vaccine was expected by the State Health Department this week.

This is part of Texas allotment of 1,177,069 shots in addition to the vaccine given free to first and second grade school children.

Under the "volunteer control" plan adopted by the State Polio Vaccine Committee, 83 per cent will be allocated for commercial use, 17 per cent for public agencies.

This week's shipment was to come from the Wyeth Laboratories in Marietta, Pa.

Meanwhile, Health Department figures showed polio on the increase. Forty-five new cases were reported during the past week, bringing the 1955 total to 939.

Of the victims 45 had received Salk vaccine.

Crop Prospects Improve

August predictions for 1955 Texas farm production, though improved since early summer, fell below 1954 figures.

US Department of Agriculture forecasts showed a probable cotton crop of 3.9 million bales—one per cent lower than 1954.

But the prospective 278-pound yield per acre is the highest since 1866. Improved soil moisture, irrigation and new yield-increasing practices by growers are credited for the high figure.

Texas cotton acreage is nearly one million acres less than for 1954.

Widespread summer rains have upped the estimated wheat crop by more than two million bushels. In June the USDA forecast a total of 11,883,000 bushels; by August the figure was raised to 14,212,000.

Even with the improved outlook the 1955 crop will be less than half that in 1954.

High yields of hay also were foreseen as a result of showers. Sorghum, corn and peanuts were aided.

On the unfavorable side, rains delayed insect control programs and created a critical problem in cotton fields.

Book Lists Mailed

A list of 318 proposed public school textbooks has been mailed out to county and district superintendents.

Dr. J. W. Edgar, state commissioner of education, urged they be made available for public inspection.

Petitions and suggestions will be heard by the 15-member state textbook committee between Sept. 15 and Oct. 1. Its recommendations will be drawn up Oct. 3-8.

Actual adoption will be by the commissioner and State Board of Education. Texts chosen will be for use in September, 1956.

Schools Satisfy Parents

Seven out of eight parents either are satisfied with Texas public schools or are too uninformed to have an opinion.

That conclusion was drawn from study of 16,788 "parent reactionnaires" circulated in 59 school districts by the Texas Association of School Administrators.

Survey results were announced last week in Austin by Dr. Kenneth E. McIntyre who coordinated tabulation.

Criticism, he said, was aimed more at high schools than lower grades. Also some parents felt the schools fell short in developing "good behavior."

Even though baseball seems to still be in full swing, it is almost time for football to be taking the spotlight. Yes, before long the great American favorite sport of football will be in the thought of most everyone. We notice that some schools have already started football workout and the boys of Friona High School will be starting August 22.

Read recently about a new '55 hardtop convertible painted a raspberry and cream, colliding with a truckload of sugar. Sounds like a perfect combination doesn't it?

How long has it been since you looked at Friona and observed the opportunities it offers. Of course it doesn't offer the things Houston, Dallas or Amarillo offers but how many other towns the size of Friona have such a good hospital with three doctors and one dentist. How many other towns with the population of 2,000 have a school system or a shopping center as good as ours. Don't you agree that Friona is almost an ideal little city.

Wonder how many people realize the work that goes into the making of a paper? One never really appreciates any business until after helping with it in some way.

We women are always hearing comments from the stronger sex that we are unable to carry on the work a man ordinarily does. Perhaps you would be interested in a statement made by our President. When asked if he thought a woman was capable of holding the important position of President of the United States his reply was, "Yes, but I thought a woman had more sense than to want the job." Oh, well that's one man's opinion.

Toughest Congress Session Ends

Washington Views:

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

QUIETER WASHINGTON

As the Rogers family pulls out of Washington for the Panhandle, the City is as quiet and calm as I have ever seen it. The fanfare and trumpet blowing that always accompanies a session of Congress has all leveled off and peace seems to prevail. The highly combustible and controversial issues that faced the first session of the 84th Congress no doubt accounted for the general talk on both sides of the aisle that this was one of history's toughest sessions. The tremendous pressure from both the extreme left and the extreme right was constant during the session, both in committee meetings and in House sessions. This builds up a tension and a strain on an individual that is not noticeable until it is relieved. It is probably the reason that so many members were on their way out of Washington within 24 hours after adjournment. The Rogers family would have been gone in the same amount of time, but it takes us about a week to gather the children up from around the neighborhood.

The respite from the controversial issues will be short, because many of them are not settled and must be faced during the early days of the next session. Some that are left pending are the natural gas bill (it passed the House but not the Senate), the highway bill, the school construction bill, additional legislation concerning the polio vaccine and several others. In addition there will be new ones. One of these will be the surface transportation issue. Much pressure is being built up in this particular segment of the economy and a tough conflict will probably ensue. In any event the respite is most welcome, because it will give all the members a chance to re-evaluate the problems and to obtain the grass roots advice on them that is so essential to their proper solution. They will be refreshed both mentally and physically for the renewed attack on these problems in January.

Operation Deep Freeze

In association with several other Members of Congress, I had a very pleasant visit with Admiral Richard E. Byrd, of both North and South Pole fame, and a group of those who have worked closely with him in his explorations. The Admiral expects to return to the South Pole in connection with the Antarctic Expedition announced by the President on March 28th. The expedition is to be in conjunction with the International Geophysical Year, a cooperative world-wide effort. A thorough briefing on the subject clearly points up the tremendous importance of Antarctica. The great mysteries that have been locked in this icebound continent prove to be the greatest boons mankind in future generations. Dr. Siple, one of the leaders these expeditions, puts it of special interest in Antarctica:

"The intensity of the electromagnetic phenomena, such as those related to geomagnetism, aurora and airglow, cosmic rays, ionospheric physics, and solar activity, are directly or indirectly influenced by the earth's magnetic and geomagnetic poles. Evidence is incon-years, say several thousand.

A Friend Of Man

The nation came off the loser when Bob Anderson, Deputy Secretary of Defense, terminated his government service. I have known Bob for many years. He is an outstanding fellow who has been blessed with a brilliant mind and many qualities and abilities that the average man did not get. His crowning glory lies in the fact that he has always employed these characteristics and fine qualities for the betterment and benefit of his fellow man and not his own personal purposes. We were sorry to see Bob leave and wish him the great success in his personal life that we know he is entitled to enjoy.

Something To Keep In Mind

Oliver Wendell Holmes once said, "To be seventy years young is sometimes more cheerful and hopeful than to be forty years old." This sounds like a good old Panhandle saying to me.

Visitors

Visiting in the office with us this week was Charles Hastings, Jr., of Dumas, Texas.

WALTER ROGERS
Member of Congress
18th District of Texas

Read Romans 16:1-4

The Lord shall count, when he writeth up the people, that this man was born there. (Psalm 87: 6.)

John Ruskin said, "The history of the world is not the record of great wars and conquests but the history of its households." He was reminding us of certain unforgettable homes on side streets.

He was reminding us of Mark's mother who lent her upper room, where Pentecost began shaking all history into new patterns; of Priscilla, Aquila, Lydia, whose hospitality to Paul helped him write whole pages for Christendom; of the concern of Claudia and her household over factions dividing their church in Corinth.

Today, the mere mention of any country recalls some special residence. No house in all Japan is better loved than that uncomfortable place in the slums of Tokyo where Toyohiko Kagawa chooses to live among needy neighbors. In Africa, a certain hospital proves how Albert Schweitzer lives, symbolizes his reverence for life, as a result of his being "swept up into a new course of life through love of Jesus Christ."

PRAYER

Heavenly Father, make our homes dwelling places of the Holy Spirit that people on our street may desire to know more of Thee. May we show Thy Word made flesh as we embody Thy light, Thy truth, Thy peace. In His name. Amen.

Traffic Fatalities Appalling

Some 1134 people were killed in traffic accidents during the first six months of 1955, representing a two per cent increase over the same period of 1954. F. Darby Hammond, Executive Secretary of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service of Dallas, announced today.

Traffic accidents were also up two per cent from the first half of 1954, totaling 952. Over one-half of the traffic deaths—577—occurred on Texas highways. Cities, with a population of 2,500 or more, accounted for 246 traffic fatalities.

A total of 139 traffic deaths were reported on farm-to-market roads, and 89 persons were killed on County roads. In towns under the 2,500 population 83 deaths were recorded. The month of May was the worst traffic fatality month. A total of 214 people lost their lives during the month, Hammond stated.

The insurance industry representative pointed out that the Department of Public Safety in Austin predicts that at the present rate of deaths on Texas highways, and roads, the year-end tally of traffic fatalities will be nearly 4.4 per cent higher than in 1954.

"Already the economic loss for the first six months of 1955, from traffic accidents is close to $3,353,750 higher than for the same period last year. Estimates of the economic loss so far this year stands at $61,296,250. Of course, this is the monetary loss and doesn't take into consideration the terrible pain, suffering and bereavement resulting from traffic deaths," Hammond said.

"As a total problem, or national problem, deaths on the highways and roads have become the major problem confronting the America people. Some 38,000 of our fellow Americans have their lives snuffed out in traffic accidents each year, and the economic loss is nearly 4 1/2 billion dollars. Motor vehicles annually bring death to more children than all five of the major dread diseases combined. Even among adults, they are the fifth-ranking killer during the productive working years of life. In short, the loss of life and property annually sacrificed on the altar of carelessness and criminal irresponsibility is a national disgrace. We're all calloused to big figures when it comes to money, and in a sense, we're somewhat the same way with respect to human accident statistics. But spelled out, those 38,000 traffic fatalities equal the entire population of Tyler, Texas. Think of it! Each year, the entire population of a city of that size is completely wiped out in needless traffic accidents," Hammond said.

"Texas, while it ranks third in the Nation in automobile registrations, it also contributes 6.4 per cent of all the Nation's traffic fatalities. Last year, Texas traffic deaths were the second highest in the country. While there are varying estimates, the cost of traffic accidents to each individual in the Lone Star State—to every man, woman and child—is generally agreed to be about $60 per year. For a community of 10,000 persons that's a bill of $600,000—enough to build a new school, swimming pools, and to pay for countless other civic improvements, Hammond continued.

Gay Ann McFarland - Ben Jordan Ceremony Solemnized at Church

Marriage vows were read Saturday evening at 8:00 o'clock at the Friona Methodist Church for Miss Gay Ann McFarland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. McFarland, and Ben Wayne Jordan, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. R. Jordan.

Rev. U. S. Sherrill, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Lorenzo, read the double ring ceremony before an altar flanked by bouquets of pale pink gladioli, lilies and asters and a palm backed background. Pink candelabra were grouped to the sides and back of the altar. The bridal aisle was decked with pairs of pink candles and pink flowers with strands of cascading ivy and tied with satin ribbon. The white aisle cloth and kneeling bench completed the altar decorations.

Miss Denise Magness sang "O Promise Me," "Why Do I Love You," and "The Wedding Prayer." She was accompanied at the organ by Miss Peggy Campbell of Lamesa, cousin of the bride. Organ numbers included "At Dawning," "Through the Years," "Salut D'Amour," "Adagio," "Liebestraum," and the traditional wedding marches, "The Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin," and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Miss Doris Jane McFarland, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of pale yellow cristiline, designed with a princess waistline and a full gathered skirt. The fitted bodice was pleated and tied over each shoulder. The matching jacket featured a large stand-up collar and a deep neckline which was accented by a tiny bow. Her net circle veil fell around her shoulders. Her shoes were white and she wore small white lace gloves. Her flowers and those of the bridesmaids were arrangements of pink mums and stephanotis on fans of tubular satin.

The five bridesmaids wore dresses identical in style to the maid of honor's, but were pale pink in color. Bridesmaids were Deann Buske, Carol Christian of Claude, Carey Seerest of Clayton, N. M., Shirley Evans, Abernathy, and Barbara Wilson of Merkel, cousin of the bride.

Best man was Marvin Jordan of Snyder, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were M. C. Osborn, Ross Miller, Harold Joe Wells, Pat Westerfield of Gruver, and Dale Smith of Lubbock.

Candlelighters were Miss Sally Osborn and Miss Suzanne Taylor of Fort Worth. Both are cousins of the bride. Their pale yellow dresses were identical to the bridesmaid's, and they wore pink wrist corsages.

The flower girl was Judy Mae Jordan, niece of the bridegroom. She wore a pale yellow dress of cristiline, designed with a full two tiered skirt and fitted jacket. Her shoes were white and she wore tiny white lace gloves. John Bill McFarland, brother of the bride, was the ring bearer.

The bride's mother wore an Italian print silk dress which featured a large collar, and matching gold accessories. Her corsage was of green orchids.

Mrs. Jordan, mother of the bridegroom, wore a pale blue linen dress with matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink orchids.

Miss Zelma Fay Beaty and Miss Bennie Grubbs registered the wedding guests.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional wedding gown, belonging to her sister, Mrs. H. H. Horton of Friona. The gown was of ivory French lace in a Tudor rose pattern, accented with finely pleated tulle. The figurine basque bodice was designed with a tiny Elizabethan collar, and miniature lace buttons fastened her gown down the back. Long lace sleeves tapered to deep petal points over her hands. The voluminous scalloped lace skirt parted over bursts of pleated nylon tulle and fell into a court train.

Her veil of matching imported French illusion was caught to a delicate crown of lace, accented with tiny pearls, and fell in misty tiers to her fingertips. Her bou-quet was of white butterfly orchids and stephanotis with cascades of miniature ivy, arranged on a white Bible. She wore a strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom. Heirloom accessories included a wedding ring belonging to her grandmother, and she also carried a lucky Scotch sixpence belonging to her sister, Mrs. Horton. Something blue was her garter.

Reception

A reception was held for the wedding guests immediately following the ceremony. It was in the back yard of the home of the bride's parents. The outdoor reception table featured hurricane lamps with pink asters and lilies, and a tiered wedding cake with pale pink rosebuds, and topped with a miniature bridal couple under a white arch. Assisting at the refreshment table were Miss Carol Blackburn and Miss Betty Zon Ashcraft, and Mrs. Marvin Jordan Snyder.

For her going-away attire, the bride wore a red cotton suit with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The couple left for a trip to Red River, Denver and South Dakota, after which they will make their home in Friona, where he will be engaged in farming.

Mrs. Jordan graduated from Friona High School in 1954. She

HABEAS CORPUS—CORPUS DELICTI

Two legal phrases which are probably more misunderstood and misused by laymen than any other are "habeas corpus" and "corpus delicti."

The words habeas corpus are Latin for "you have the body." They are commonly used in the legal profession to describe a writ or order signed by the judge directed to the sheriff or jailer holding a prisoner or to any person who is physically detaining another, and commanding him to produce the body (alive) of the prisoner (or person detained) before the judge. The purpose of such an order is to allow the judge to determine whether the prisoner is being held lawfully or whether he should be set free.

The writ of habeas corpus prevents law enforcement officers from abusing the constitutional right of personal liberty and has been a jealously guarded privilege. The words "corpus delicti" are Latin, and, liberally translated, mean the elements of the crime or wrongdoing. Laymen incorrectly interpret corpus delicti as meaning literally "the body," as in a murder case.

Speaking technically in a legal sense, corpus delicti is that which must be proved in every criminal case. Such proof must show that an unlawful act has been committed by a human agency. The mere finding of a dead body or a burning building does not mean that there is murder on the one hand or arson on the other. To prove murder, it must be shown that the death was unlawfully caused by a human agency. Contrary to popular belief murder can be proved even though the body cannot be found. In the case of the burning building, it must be shown that the building was unlawfully set on fire by a human agency.

To sum up then, habeas corpus is a writ designed to prevent the unlawful detention or imprisonment of any person. Corpus delicti, on the other hand, literally means the body of the crime, or, in general, the substance of crime.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts because the facts may change the application of the law.)

VETERANS ? Box

Q—A friend of mine, on VA's pension rolls, is entitled to an additional amount of money because he is so helpless that he requires constant aid and attention. Will he receive his additional allowance even though his mother provides this aid?

A—Yes. He may receive the additional allowance even though a member of his family provides the necessary services. It is not necessary for him to hire an attendant in order to qualify for the payments.

Q—I understand that if a veteran breaks two appointments for VA outpatient medical treatment, he will not be entitled to further treatment. I broke two appointments, but each time I gave VA at least two days' notice. Will I be barred from further treatment?

A—Since you gave VA at least 24 hours' advance notice, you will not be barred from further treatment. The bar applies only when veterans break appointments without prior notice, and without good reason for doing so.

Q—I am going to school less than half time under the Korean GI bill. At what rate am I using up my GI training entitlement?

A—VA considers that you are using your GI training entitlement at quarter time rate. For example, if your course lasts for a year, you will have used up one-quarter of a year's entitlement, or three months.

Q—I applied for disability compensation a couple of years ago, VA asked me to report for a physical examination, but I never showed up. I let the entire matter drop. Now I would like to follow through. What should I do?

A—You must file a new application, since VA has considered that you have abandoned your original claim. Should your new claim be approved, payments may begin as of the date of the new application—not the old one.

Findings Shown from Deaf Smith Survey

The portion of Deaf Smith County within the boundary of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District covers about 632,000 acres of land. (The total area of the county is 964,480 acres.) The underground reservoir in the Ogallala formation beneath the area within the district contains approximately 13,700,000 acre-feet of ground water in storage available for pumping.

The map in plate 1 shows the thickness of the water-bearing strata between the water table and the redbeds in 1938 before an appreciable amount of water had been pumped from the reservoir. The map in plate 2 shows the decline of the water table from the spring of 1938 to January 1955.

The volume of water remaining in the underground reservoir was determined by subtracting the volume of material unwatered since 1938 from the total volume of saturated material in 1938 and multiplying the remainder by the coefficient of storage of 15 percent.

These data show that 15,000,000 acre-feet of water was in storage available for pumping in 1938, and that 1,300,000 acre-feet of water has been removed from storage since 1938. In other words, 8.7 percent of the volume of the available water has been removed from storage since 1938. Approximately 900,000 acre-feet or about 70 percent of the volume of water removed from storage was pumped during the 5-year period from January 1950 to January 1955.

The approximate quantity of underground water in storage, available for pumping, beneath an individual farm may be determined by multiplying the number of acres in the farm by the thickness of the water-bearing strata underlying the farm and then multiplying by the storage coefficient of 15 percent. Suppose the farm consists of 320 acres and has 200 feet of water-bearing strata underlying it, then 320 acres x 200 feet x 0.15 equals 9,600 acre-feet of water available for pumping. An acre-foot of water is the quantity required to cover one acre to a depth of one foot, and it is also equal to 43,500 cubic feet or 325,829 gallons.

An individual may use this information to determine, within reasonable limits, how long the quantity of underground water in storage beneath his farm will last at any annual rate of withdrawal. This assumes, of course, that his neighbors pumps a comparable amount of water per acre on their farms.

These maps and studies of this now available.

ty are parts of the regular hydrological work in progress by the staff of the Water District. Similar maps and information will be prepared, as rapidly as practicable, for all the counties within the Water District. Maps of Deaf Smith and Farmer Counties are now available.

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 12 — Generally, moisture conditions are on the upgrade in most sections of the state and prospects for fall and winter pasture crops are good. This, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, should be all of the encouragement farmers and livestock producers need to get in a record acreage of winter crops.

Winter pastures, he says will help relieve the price-cost squeeze which continues to get tighter. Too, they provide minerals, vitamins and needed protein; make possible a rest period for permanent pastures; supply the green grazing needed when summer pastures are dormant and probably most important, cut the cost of wintering livestock.

Too, from the standpoint of soil protection and improvement, winter pastures are a paying proposition. The cover protects the soil from wind and water erosion and the roots and residue add organic matter to the soil.

When planting time rolls around, Trew says, plant. Earlier planting means earlier grazing even in the case of dry planting. The specialist recommends that soil samples be submitted to the soils testing lab from the fields to be planted and that the fertilizer use recommendations from the laboratory be followed.

Trew likes to use a combination of grasses and a legume. The total production is often increased, the forage is higher in protein and minerals and the grazing season is frequently extended when a combination is used.

The small grains, oats, rye, barley and in some areas wheat, are the best bets for winter grazing. Italian ryegrass does well in East Texas, the Gulf Coast region and in the Blackland and Grand Prairie areas. Vetch, crimson clover, Hubam and Madras sweetclover are among the legumes which can be grown successfully in combination with the grasses. Trew suggests contacting the local county agent for information on the best combination for a particular area.

The legume seed should be inoculated before planting. The cost is small compared with the returns and benefits from good inoculation.

Finally, asks the specialist, why not use water grazing crops to lower the production costs of meat and milk; cut labor requirements for handling livestock and for building and protecting the soil on your farm? z

COLLEGE STATION, Aug. 12 — There is an easier and cheaper method of getting Johnson grass out of the cotton field other than by hoeing. It is known as spot oiling.

Fred C. Elliott, extension cotton work specialist, in response to many requests from over Texas for information on the equipment needed for doing the spot oiling job, has made available to the county agents plans for a gravity flow hand sprayer.

This type sprayer is recommended because it is cheap and a good application job can be done with it, says Elliott. They may be built in the farm shop or by a local tinner. Included on the plan is a complete listing of all the materials needed to do the construction job.

Elliott says that other types of light portable sprayers if already available may be used for applying the oils. In the case of pressure sprayers, only 10 to 12 pounds pressure is recommended, and a fan type nozzle should be used.

The cotton specialist says that many different type application rigs have been tried by research workers of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station but the most thorough job of killing all the grass with the least damage to cotton plants was done by a man with a small tank of oil on his back and a trigger type assembly for getting the oil on the Johnson grass crowns.

Farmers interested in securing the gravity sprayer are advised by Elliott to contact the local county agent.

Does This Constitute Waste?

The above picture was made of a milo field with rows 9/10ths of a mile long and with no steps taken to keep irrigation water from emptying into county road bar-ditch.

This picture of water produced for irrigation uses was made after following the water for 2 1/2 miles from point where it left the land upon which it was pumped.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Waste of underground water as defined in Texas Law was amended in the 1955 session of the Legislature by adding the following section:

"(e) WILLFULLY CAUSING, SUFFERING, OR PERMITTING UNDERGROUND WATER PRODUCED FOR IRRIGATION OR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES TO ESCAPE INTO ANY RIVER, CREEK, OR OTHER NATURAL WATER COURSE, DEPRESSION, OR LAKE, RESERVOIR, DRAIN, OR INTO ANY SEWER, STREET, HIGHWAY, ROAD, ROAD DITCH, OR UPON THE LAND OF ANY OTHER PERSON THAN THE OWNER OF SUCH WELL, OR UPON PUBLIC LAND."

Farm Bureau Report

By Raymond Euler

Cotton growers and ginners will appreciate the program Friday night, August 19 at 8:30. John T. Gregg, West Texas District Representative of the National Cotton Council will conduct the meeting, designed to help you know the problems of marketing cotton, and what you can do about it. Betty Hawkins and her western band will furnish entertainment from 8:30 to 9:00.

Tuesday morning at 9:00, August 30, Mr. Darwyn Metcalf, of A. & M. Extension Service at Texas Tech, and Mr. Roberts, Chief State Grain Inspector, also of Lubbock, will be ready to leave the Farm Bureau office with weed committee members and farmers interested in checking fields planted to certified seed. It seems that there are excessive amounts of foreign plants present this year.

Mrs. Cynthia Bell, who spent five weeks with us, rearranging office files and working with Glenda, left for Michigan last Saturday. We feel that the office can render even better service to you since she has been here.

Glenda Ricker, office secretary, will leave for Waco next Sunday morning where she will attend a secretary's training school with other Farm Bureau Office Secretary's. She will return home Wednesday evening.

Clara Jean Jesko, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Jesko, of the Lazbuddy community, was crowned Parmer County Farm Bureau Queen for 1955, Friday night. She received a $100 check for further outfitting in which to appear in the District Contest in Lubbock in September. She appeared on Cotton John's Farm and Home T-V Program Wednesday night on Amarillo's K G N C. Farm Bureau's float will be graced with her presence in the fair parade, September 10th. We are proud of her, and hope she wins in the district, too. We thought Tom Dycus, of Lubbock's Community Cross Roads K D U B TV show did a good job as Master of Ceremonies. Mrs. Eva Miller and others worked hard and well, too. And we're proud of our President, Gilbert Kaltwasser, who did a nice job of running the show. Our thanks to all the entertainers, and everyone.

Farm Bureau will sponsor and promote the talent show, scheduled for Saturday night, the last night of the County Fair. Watch for details.

Start now to make your retirement easy...through U.S. Savings Bonds!

IT'S not hard to figure out what you'd like to do 10 or 20 years from now when it's time to retire—if you have the money. A trip to Tahiti—a home all your own with a garden for putting. Such dreams come true easily, if you start investing now in United States Series E Savings Bonds.

It's easy to save the U. S. Savings Bond way

Join the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Just tell your company payroll department how much you want to save each payday. They'll do the rest—saving out that amount from your check before you have a chance to spend it. If you're self-employed, invest in Bonds regularly where you bank.

It's safe to save the U. S. Savings Bond way

There's no sense taking chances when it comes to retirement. Be smart and be sure. Bonds are one of the safest, surest investments in the world today.

It pays to save the U. S. Savings Bond way

When held to maturity each Series E Bond pays an average of 3% per year, compounded semiannually. Now with the automatic extension privilege it will go on paying that same fine interest for 10 more years.

If you want your interest as current income, ask your banker about 3% Series E Bonds that pay interest semiannually by Treasury check.

One Point of View -

Happenings That Affect the Future of Every Individual National and International Problems Inseparable from Local Welfare.

On many occasions in the months preceding the summit conference of chiefs of state, President Eisenhower and other top men in the government warned against the disease of excessive optimism. In a speech made just before boarding his plane for the Geneva meeting, the President stressed still another point. He said that too much stress had been laid on details—that is, on obtaining specific agreements covering this problem or that. The big goal at the present time, he went on, should be to improve the international atmosphere to the extent that the way will be open to take steps, however slow and halting, in the direction of a permanent peace.

In his report to the nation made on his return from Geneva, the President again warned against too much optimism. But, it seems clear, he does believe that the atmosphere between the great powers is better than it was. Now, in his view, we will need "prayerful patience" and hard work if we are to "keep alive the spark ignited at Geneva."

To some the spark may seem frail. The chiefs of state reached agreement on no issue—and on the main issue, German unity, the deadlock between East and West was absolute. But the Soviet leaders were willing to talk about German unification, even though their terms were unacceptable to us, and to express a desire to keep on talking and bargaining in search of a solution. That, in itself, was a great change from the past.

The overall issue, of course, has not changed—it is coexistence. All Marxist-Leninist teachings say that coexistence between communism and capitalism is but temporary, and that in the end one or the other must be destroyed and the whole world won by the victor. Stalin held to this too, for all his occasional reassuring words. These new rulers of Russia, however, profess a different attitude—a sort of "new look" in the Communist philosophy. They say, in effect, that there is no reason why the two systems cannot keep on existing together—that the world is big enough for both.

It would be the height of folly to take this at face value. It is certainly true that the Communist leaders would like nothing better than to have the free world lulled into complacent and weakness. Yet it is conceivable that they wish to avoid a major war in this age of the hydrogen bomb. And all the evidence indicates that they sorely need the most precious of all elements, time—time to solve political and economic problems which are grave trouble-spots inside the whole Communist empire.

A high note is found in the manner President Eisenhower seized the initiative at Geneva. His international prestige and influence was vastly enhanced, if European commentators are to be believed. A French newspaper said that he is the equal of Churchill as a force and a personality, which is the highest of praise. He reached a peak of drama in the proposal that a disarmament plan be based on a reciprocal inspection system, under which the Russians could freely look over all our factories and installations, taking all the pictures and notes they want, and we could do the same thing inside Russia.

Only time can tell how much or how little was attained at Geneva. Meanwhile, most seem to feel that our current policy should be one that was laid long ago by Theodore Roosevelt, in a phrase that has become a classic: "Speak softly and carry a big stick."

WRONG NOTION

There is a fairly widespread notion that the growth of big business in this country has been made possible by the absorption and destruction of small business.

In 1900 there were 21 independent establishments per 1000 population—half a century later there were 27. And big business needs and supports small business. One of our biggest businesses has over 33,000 suppliers and subcontractors, most of them small. Another buys goods and services from 21,000 independent suppliers.

In some lines big business can do a job best—in others small business is superior. The country has to have both.

LEARNING THE HARD WAY

We have heard considerable about three GI's who decided to stay in Red China following the Korean war but changed their minds after living under communism. They had to be convinced the hard way that dictatorships offer no primrose path to happiness.

Whatever their crimes or failures, they are back in the United States, a country that cherishes freedom, to take such punishment as may be meted out to them, in preference to remaining behind the iron curtain. Their decision may open the eyes of some Americans who have been sympathetic to government ownership of business, and to the relentless extension of the size, power and authority of government in general.

The Ontario, Oregon, Argus-Observer, recently said that if socialism is right in one field of enterprise, it is right in all. "The end result of this," it went on, "would be outright communism, which nearly all Americans oppose in theory but which many seem eager to embrace a step at a time."

No nation can long remain half socialist and half free. A choice must be made.

SYMBOL OF QUALITY

AN ELECTRIC FREEZER IS A Flavor Saver!

Two Styles... There's room in the smallest kitchen for a food freezer — so take your choice — upright or chest type.

Time Saving... Go to the store when you want to — that makes shopping a pleasure — and keeps you in command of your time and budget.

Economical... Spur-of-the-moment meals, without a freezer, have a way of being expensive. You're ready, though, with a freezer, for economical last-minute meal planning.

Freezing "locks in" the goodness that Nature gave the fruits and vegetables you enjoy so much. Keeps all the vitamins and nutrition in the foods, too.

A home freezer will pay for itself in economical purchases when quality is high and price low.

You can bank on a food freezer for money and flavor dividends — all year long.
