

Open Forum for Discussion Farm Problems Called Thursday by Bureau

Farm Bureau Report

By RAYMOND EULER

A County-wide open forum will be conducted at the Bovina School Auditorium, Thursday night, October 6, at 8:00. We again refer you to this opportunity of getting your ideas for improving the farmer's situation before the people who can do something about it. You are welcomed, and urged to attend this meeting, whether you are affiliated with any farm organization or not. If you are a Farm Bureau member in good standing, and are deriving the major portion of your income from production of agricultural products or livestock, then you will be qualified to vote on policies at the County Convention, which will also be held at the Bovina Auditorium on October 20, at 8:00 P. M.

For the benefit of some who have inquired, and any others who do not know, Farm Bureau "Associate Members," those who derive a major portion of their income from business other than agricultural or livestock production, do NOT vote on policies at Farm Bureau meetings. A grain elevator operator, for instance, who farms some, but derives the major portion of his income from the operation of the elevator, does NOT hold a vote in Farm Bureau.

Three hundred twenty railroad cars were needed in Farmer County to ship CCC grain ordered out by that office. Not more than 10 or 12 per week were being received. Your local Farm Bureau gathered this information, and as it has done the past three or four years, relayed it, through TFB President Walter Hammond, to the Chicago railroad car pool, which supercedes district railroad distribution of cars. We expect now to have enough cars to empty bins of CCC grains ordered out, before harvest gets underway. Bruce Parr did this work in the absence of the president and vice-president. Remember that you can get 80 percent of the loan on grain stored in the open, or in temporary shelter; don't sell it because storage is not available, if the price is much below the loan.

A labor spokesman recently stated that Benson's claim that continued wage increases for labor contribute to the "cost-price" squeeze of farmers was sour grapes, because, said he, labor pumps these wage increases right back into markets, mostly for food, which is what the farmer produces. What we can't figure out, is how a man can work less, and eat enough more, to make 7 to 10 per cent more money for the farmer, who is paying those increases for farm machinery made by the laborer, who is paid more, works less, but eats all of his increase in pay. We refer to the spokesman, not the laborer, who we are sure would not make such an asinine statement.

CONSIDER THIS: The wise shall inherit glory; but shame shall be the promotion of fools. Proverbs 3:35.

MONDAY MORNING MUSINGS

Thanks for the response to the editorial comments last week advocating a youth center in Friona.

It would be folly to give credit to the specific parties agreeing or disagreeing with our proposal for a youth center, operated as a canteen recreational center open every evening.

The important consideration—the salvation of this or any youth program proposal—is the awareness of the public awareness of a need for concrete action, and a desire for individual service in seeing the project through.

The public is aware. We have reason to place full confidence in its desires—ultimately if not soon to materialize into a sound youth program appealing to every teen-ager, benefitting all who have an ounce of appreciation for good, clean recreation.

Most easements are signed on the F-M road north and west from Friona. Those who haven't signed can find the proper papers at the Ehridge-Spring Agency, reports Commissioner Forrest Osborn.

FRIONA SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

Dear Uncle Bert,

Well, the Student Faculty Congress race for president I told you about last week is over. We're expecting great things from Don Reeve, our new president, and Mickey Reid, our new vice-president. Thursday we'll know who these new officers' helpers will be when they are installed in a really impressive and dignified ceremony.

Lots of things are happening around here, Uncle Bert. The F.H.A. initiation got started with a big bang Monday, when a formal ceremony preceded a very informal initiation. I bet all the girls really feel like full-fledged members now.

Speaking of the F.H.A., they've already started activities for the year. Phyllis Treider, Helen Hamilton and Miss Rymer went to Amarillo for an Area I Executive council meeting Saturday and helped make big plans for the coming year. The chapter has elected some swell mothers. They are Mrs. F. W. Barnett and Mrs. J. T. Gee. We're real proud of them and the projects for the year. A national, state and chapter project have been chosen.

F.H.A. Sweetheart was elected at the meeting the other night, and we are all very glad that Buford Carter will be the sweetheart.

Say, while I'm thinking of sweethearts, John Hamilton and Phyllis Treider were chosen as band sweethearts this week. The new band officers are Harold Taylor, president; Dick Morrison, vice-president; Linda Miller and Phyllis Treider as secretary and treasurer, and Marie White, reporter.

Oh golly, Uncle Bert, the bell has rung and it's time for English. I've got to run. 'Bye.

Love,
Big Minnie.

Chiefs Hapless In County Play

Two games for the price of one! Well, the two halves of the Bovina-Friona football tilt last Friday night were as different and distinct as two games, with the first half ending in a scoreless tie, the last half netting a 13-0 victory for the Bovina Mustangs.

Breaks, runs and yardage of the first two quarters pointed toward an evenly-matched contests, with neither side gaining any real prestige for goal savvy or scoring threats, the defense of both groups holding commendably. However, last-half superior drive by Bovina players, Read and Smith, buttoned up the game beyond doubt, in play after play showing up the weaknesses of the losing team, weakened by players and switches in positions.

The Friona group goes to Farwell this week, observers noting that the starters appear considerably more seasoned, and confidence again is riding high locally for a creditable if not winning showing by Coach Joe Means' tribe of Redmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wiley of Clovis spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Wiley.

Polio Vaccine Is Available Here

Dr. Paul Spring announced this week that the local hospital now has available a supply of polio vaccine, and will vaccinate any child from five to nine years of age who has not been inoculated.

Each shot in the series of three will be $3.50 and will be charged individually. Dr. Spring emphasizes that all children should receive the vaccine, and with the increased production of the serum, the age limit should be lifted in a short time, allowing all children under five years to receive protection against polio.

Lapel pins and safe driving certificates were presented to the employees who had driven a full year or more without an accident. The following awards were presented:

AUSTIN, Tex.—Almost everyone is talking about farm prices. In Austin before a meeting of 200 Texas Farm Bureau officials, the Indiana Bureau's president predicted a "depression that will make the 'thirties look like a picnic" if present farm policies continue. At his Gillespie County ranch U. S. Senator Lyndon Johnson said the Republican sliding scale of parity lets "prices slide down and mortgages slide up." In Houston Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson retorted in a speech before Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers. Democrats, he said, left him a "neat package of carefully fused bombs"—falling prices and accumulating surpluses. Substantial progress has been made, nevertheless, Benson said. Major strategy to help low-income farmers, he promised, is in the offing.

Water for Texas Conference at College Station.
It will be a lengthy, costly proposition, he said.

Land Buyers Cleared
Honest deals sought under the veterans land program are gradually being cleared. A suspense order, invoked when investigations began, has been moved from 111 accounts. They were "made in good faith," according to Land Commr. J. Earl Rudder. Another 1,400 accounts, representing a $3 million investment, still are being checked.

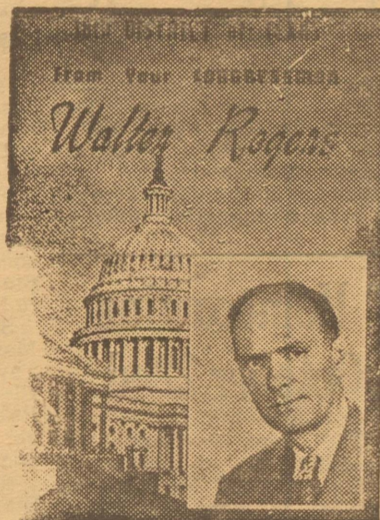

Plaque For Early Newspaper
National Newspaper Week in Texas will open Oct. 1 with a ceremony in Houston commemorating the role of the Telegraph and Texas Register in the Texas Revolution. Russell W. Bryant, Italy News-Herald, president of the Texas Press Association, will present a bronze plaque to be used as a permanent historic marker.

Recipient of the plaque will be Mac Roy Razor of Austin, president of the State Association of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalism fraternity. The plaque will be placed in the museum to be erected at Washington on the Brazos.

SHORT SNORTS: A. C. Turner, director of rehabilitation for the Texas Prison System, has resigned to become a member of the State Board of Pardons and Paroles. He will serve out the six-year term of the late Lyle C. Harris. . . Burton C. Hackney of Brownfield will succeed Hubert T. Johnson of Waco on the State Board of Public Welfare. . . Charles A. Rowe of Houston is the new member of the Texas Aeronautics Commission. . . A new law prohibits drinking or possession of liquor at "public school" athletic events. That includes the University of Texas football games in the opinion of Austin law enforcement heads. . . A five-state drive for funds to extend the Boy Scout program in the Southwest open Oct. 25. H. H. Coffield of Rockdale is chief planner for the county-by-county campaign. Texas' oil allowable for October will be 3,148,459 barrels per day, up 64,772 over September. . . Two critical issues, segregation and school district organization, will be scrutinized when the Texas Association of School Boards meets in Austin on Oct. 7-8.

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

Mines And Mining

Another item of prime interest in the coming year will be the domestic mines problem. This is a subject on which we have several schools of thought. Most of the experts are in agreement on a list of approximately seventy-seven raw materials, including mineral and material resources, which are classed as strategic and critical materials, and which have been acquired primarily from imports from abroad; they are also in general agreement that a substantial part of these materials, most of them mineral in character, are indispensable and essential to peacetime economy and in maintaining preparedness for defense of the nation. The records (and these are public) show that 80.1 per cent of the present stockpile of strategic minerals and materials have been secured from Africa, Asia, South America and other foreign countries. Most experts agree that these sources would be closed to permanent access in the event of international war. The major disagreement lies in whether the United States—until now the greatest producer of mineral wealth in the world—is a "Have or Have-not" nation which must depend upon foreign nations for strategic minerals and materials. The fact seems to be that this country does not know what it has or does not have in mineral resources. This statement can be supported by the established facts that mineral resource utilization comes about only after (1) prospecting; (2) exploration; and (3) development. Although the U. S. Geological Survey service has been engaged in mapping activities since 1880, as of January 1, 1954, less than 1 per cent of the land area of the United States has been included in geological investigations; only 12.7 per cent has been geologically mapped; and only 31.1 per cent has been topographically mapped by the U. S. Geological Survey. Most every attempt to aid and promote the domestic mining industry is met with cries of governmental subsidies. Yet we find that the availability of minerals and materials from foreign source has been brought about by our foreign aid programs, stockpile and defense production procurement contracts, lowered tariffs, and the assistance of government mining engineers, metallurgists, and geologists sent abroad to stimulate foreign production. These activities have resulted in a choking off of the domestic production of a number of minerals and metals, including lead, zinc, antimony, and flourspar. The domestic production of tungsten, manganese, chromite, mica, baryte, and asbestos will be in the same category as soon as government purchase programs for these minerals and metals are terminated.

Some feel that the fight against the domestic mining industry finds its source in the fact that some big money in this country is invested in foreign mining activities.

It might be pointed out that the best way to make this country vulnerable would be to make it dependent upon foreign sources for any indispensable mineral or metal.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Luke 11:9-13.

Pray without ceasing. (1 Thessalonians 5:17).

When can we pray? Besides the established way, we also can pray when we do an unselfish act—

When we feel pure love for one another—

When we see and appreciate God's handiwork in a sunset—

When we struggle and sacrifice for a good cause—

When we speak the truth. Where can we pray? Besides at home and in church, we pray also in field, factory, or business where we try to earn an honest living—

In school where we teach worthy ideas to enable—

In the court where we judge others righteously—

In parliament where we support proper decisions—

In the laboratory where we seek ways to help mankind—

In the forum where we utter a sincere opinion.

How can we pray? Besides using words, ours or others, we also pray—

As we bend over the sick trying to relieve them—

As we toil to bring about a better order of things—

As we at night, under a clear sky, meditate on God—

As we in a sea-storm think of man's littleness—

As we, innerly pleased, watch a task accomplished.

Prayer

Our Father, help us to understand that our lives can be a living prayer at all times. Help us to know we pray when we consider Thy majesty and power and serve others, in Christ's name. Amen.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Abraham Lincoln is reputed to have said "You can fool part of the people all the time, all the people part of the time, but you can't fool all the people all the time."

It is not by accident that Congressional Committees are now closely studying the activities of the enforcement of the nation's anti-trust laws.

Nor is it perhaps just chance that Edward H. Roy, whose appointment to that office was opposed by the National Federation of Independent Business has resigned as chairman of the Federal Trade Commission.

In fact, it might even be established with some degree of probability that Attorney General Herbert Brownell performed a great service for independent business in this nation when he appointed the Attorney General's Committee to Study the Anti-Trust Laws.

The majority recommendations of this august body were so heavily in favor of weakening, or eliminating the protection given by the nation's anti-trust laws that so much smoke was raised many Congressmen decided to look for the fire.

By and large, Congressmen have a common peculiarity. They hate to be spoofed. In addition, they are Americans adhering to the American traditions which include from Mississippi river boat days to the gold rush days of the West the looking with askance on stacked decks.

It was therefore quite natural that one of the first things the Senate Small Business Committee took up when making a study of the National Federation of Independent Business of the Attorney General's special committee on anti-trust laws was to find out just who was on committee that so wholeheartedly impugned anti-trust laws.

It is important to remember it was a 61 member committee. Here is the breakdown.

Of the 61 members 33, or a clear majority, were corporation attorneys who together have fought the government in the past few years in a total of 228 anti-trust actions. Some of the biggest domestic and international firms were their clients in these cases. Four other members were college professors who have appeared as "expert" witnesses for corporations involved in anti-trust proceedings.

This line-up, to say the least, rather provoked Congressional curiosity, especially as findings of this group were quite critical of anti-trust laws.

In fact, Congressional attitude might be compared to that which would exist among racing judges if a hotly contested race between twelve horses finished in a dead heat. While those racing judges might not come right out and say that there was tomfoolery in the stables before the race, they would be mighty curious, and would do some looking around.

And that probably best explains why at present time Congressional committees are looking into anti-trust matters so deeply.

Right now, Congressmen are not talking about any tomfoolery, but things are coming to light which are making them cautious and curious. In time, it could develop that the corporation lawyers who composed majority of this committee made the mistake of forgetting the Aelian admonishment that runs "People who live in glass houses should not throw stones."

Texas Prison Rodeo Among the Best

HUNTSVILLE, Sept. 22. — (ECHO). Added feature attractions and specialty acts booked by Rodeo Manager Albert Moore for appearance at this year's Annual Prison Rodeo, sure-fire hits wherever they have played in the professional rodeo circuits, are the best to be had.

Two groups of Mounted Quadrille Riders will be featured at this year's series of shows. The Pasadena, Texas, will appear the first three Sundays of the Rodeo; The Cherokee Riders of Rusk will appear for the last two shows.

Highlighting this year's five performances of the Prison Rodeo will be one of the leading thrill riding acts performed in Rodeo circuits, "The Valkyries." This all-girl troupe performs on an eight-member team of trained albino horses in a series of daring jumps which have thrilled audiences throughout the United States and Canada.

Hoyt Hefner, that amiable bull fighting fool in the baggy blue pants, from Elk City, Oklahoma, will be on hand to pull thrown riders out of tight spots with the prison's Brahma bulls. Assisted by such inmate clowns as Marion Frazier, Webster Mitchell and Bill Garrett, Hefner has become a favorite with all who have witnessed his antics in the arena here.

Mrs. Fay Kirkwood, noted Fort Worth horsewoman who has performed at rodeos and horse shows throughout the United States and in Europe, comes to the Prison Rodeo from a 4 1/2 month tour of the West Coast that opened with her appearance at the Helderado Day Celebration in Las Vegas, Nevada, in My.

Houston's radio station KFRC's Lee Norton, widely known TV and radio star and announcer, who also acts as master of ceremonies for the weekly prison broadcast "Behind Prison Walls," will emcee for the Prison Stringsters as well as for the girls' band from Goree Farm, women's unit of the prison system, presenting a musical program which will please thousands of spectators each Sunday of the show.

Bringing glamour to the rodeo are two dazzling blondes, the Lamb Sisters, Ted and Betty, of Dallas, who are under contract for all five Sunday performances. They have pleased spectators at this rodeo for the past 5 years with their equestrian acrobatics.

Marion Frazier, inmate rodeo clown from Ramsey Farm, who for the past 2 years has brought his prison raised and trained dogs into Prison Stadium to put on performances that equal a lot of outside acts, will be back again with something new added. He plans to bring 2 dogs, twin deer fawns and a monkey into the arena this year.

What do YOU Think?

Many problems confront farmers today. Your Parmer County Farm Bureau wants to know what YOU think about certain vital questions. Thursday, October 6, there will be an "open forum" type meeting at the Bovina School, starting at 8:00.

WE WILL DISCUSS PROBLEMS VITAL TO YOU. LOOK OVER THESE QUESTIONS, AND BRING YOUR OWN ANSWERS TO THIS MEETING!

- Do you favor compulsory Federal Social Security for farmers?
- Do you think the tax refund on farm-used gasoline should be reduced 1c per gallon, the 1c going into the public school fund?
- Do you favor Federal Taxation of gasoline for highway improvement and construction, or do you think the state should retain this responsibility?
- Do you think farmers should be allowed exemption of 2c Federal tax on gasoline, and on any future increased tax on such gas?
- If Texas adopts a water development program, which method of financing would you suggest: A water user's tax? A State Ad Valorem Tax? Get money from the General Revenue Fund?
- If a water development program is adopted in Texas, there will have to be a board of directors. Do you think the board members should be appointed by the governor or elected by the people?
- Do you think the "Right to Work" law in Texas should be repealed, since it works a hardship on labor unions?
- Texas has more livestock than any state in the United States; Therefore, the feed manufacturing business in Texas is one of the biggest businesses in Texas. Should the law under which this feed has to be sold be written to protect the feed manufacturer or the farmer and rancher who buy the feed?
- Do you think Texas law should be changed to allow use of a farm licensed pickup as a private passenger car?
- In view of the fact that in numerous instances, grain sorghums shipped from this area to other states have been denied license for feed use because of the presence of Johnson Grass and other noxious seeds, do you favor a penalty system on such infested grains at the local market level as a means of eliminating this hazard to markets of our feed grains?
- Do you favor increased effort in the county weed control program that Parmer County Farm Bureau has conducted the past two years?
- Do you favor making grain sorghums a basic commodity with acreage controls on the same basis as present basic commodities?
- Do you favor this resolution adopted in the 1954 Texas Farm Bureau Convention "we favor 90 per cent of parity for non-basic commodities as long as supplies are in line with demand. If supplies are not in line with demand, we favor a price support level that will decrease 1 per cent in support level for each 2 per cent increase above normal supply."
- Do you favor rigid Federal price supports with absolute acreage controls, or flexible Federal price supports, based on supply and demand factors?
- Do you favor the Land Fertility Bank Agricultural program, as supported the past year by Texas Farm Bureau and American Farm Bureau?

NOTE: This is not the time we will vote on resolutions. That will be done at our annual convention, October 20.

WINTER PASTURES

COLLEGE STATION — There is no substitute for winter temporary pastures. They are the only dependable source of green grazing during the late fall, winter and early spring, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

Winter pastures should be planted early in order to increase the amount of grazing which in turn can mean cheaper gains on beef cattle, more milk from the dairy herd and lower hay grain and veterinary bills. Early planting may mean dry planting. Oats and barley may be safely dry land planted but there is a risk, says Trew, with wheat and rye. If small grains are dry planted, put the seed deep enough to prevent germination from light rains, advises the specialist.

Because the inoculent used on legume seed may be killed if the seed remain in dry soil for a long period, Trew says it is sometimes advisable to make separate plantings when the grain is dry planted.

Early planted pastures, September 12-20, last year gave almost three times the net return per acre for four East Texas dairymen as did pastures planted in late October and early November. The value came from increased milk and hay saved. Grazing days were 143 against 80 for the late planted pastures.

Trew suggests to farmers and stockmen interested in planting grasses and legumes for winter temporary pastures a visit with the local county agent. Pick up a copy of brand new Extension Leaflet-258, Winter Temporary Pastures. The leaflet lists recommended plants, date and rate of seeding and gives information on earliness and disease susceptibility of the different grasses.

Finally, Trew reminds, for the soil's sake, give it some winter protection either in form of temporary pastures or a winter cover crop. Both are soil improvers.

HURRY-UP SUPPER LOAF

You can make this meat loaf in a hurry just before mealtime because the recipe calls for ready-to-use meat in a can. Since you don't light the oven until you put in the meat loaf, your kitchen isn't heated up unnecessarily. It's so easy to spoon the tasty rice and American cheese mixture between slices of luncheon meat to make the loaf. The loaf is baked in a "sauce" of garlic-mixed tomatoes and golden corn kernels.

HURRY-UP SUPPER LOAF

String Beans with Butter and Almond Topping
Tossed Vegetable Salad
Hot Biscuits
Lemon Snow Pudding

Ingredients—
1 1/2 cup water
1 teaspoon salt
2/3 cup uncooked white rice
1 No. 303 can tomatoes
1 cup drained whole kernel yellow corn
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/8 teaspoon black pepper
General dash of garlic powder
1 cup grated American cheese (use some sharp cheese if desired)
1 12-oz. can luncheon meat.

Method: Put the water, 1 teaspoon salt and rice in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover with a lid and leave over this low heat 14 minutes. Remove saucepan from heat but leave lid on 10 minutes.

While the rice cooks, place the tomatoes, corn, salt, pepper and garlic powder in a shallow baking dish about 10" x 6" x 2". Mix well. After the rice cooks, stir in the cheese. Cut the luncheon meat crosswise into 8 slices. Spoon the rice-cheese mixture between the slices to make a loaf. Place the loaf in the tomato-corn mixture.

Light the oven and set the oven control at 350 degrees F. Immediately place the baking dish in the oven. Bake for 30 minutes or until the meat and cheese are the desired degree of brownness. Once during the baking, spoon some of the tomato juice over the loaf. This recipe makes 6 to 8 servings.
