Two Slayer Inmates Are Still At Large

HERE and THERE

By Joe Quinn

IT HAS been a long time since I used my allotted space in this newspaper on subjects of local interest. I don't usually have any trouble writing about things of international and national consequence because I can pitch into whatever subject I choose and pretend that I know all about it, when as a matter of fact I sometimes know less than most of you readers. I have been very fortunate in getting by with it, however, and that's why I stay clear of local matters; there are too many people to jump on my neck if I miscue.

EVERYONE has a hobby. I have several and the reason is that I can't do any one thing well enough to have a single hobby, so I claim several. My chief one perhaps is golf, and if you must know the truth I talk it ninety percent and play it the other ten. I was at one time one of those fellows who couldn't see the consistency in knocking a ball smaller than the size of an ordinary hen egg all over a ninety acre pasture and then spend all day looking for it. But finally during one of my weak moments I tried the stuff and now it's going to be the death of me yet. Golf has its good points, however. It teaches a man to concentrate; it's a good form of light exercise, and it teaches him to lie consistently.

HAMILTON had its annual invitation golf tournament the first of this week, and I had the good fortune of attending with several others from Gatesville. I didn't enter as a contestant in the tournament, however. Don't get me wrong. I went up to see some of the best golfers in the state do their stuff, and I thoroughly enjoyed it. Bennie Sellers was the only Gatesville boy to make the Championship flight, and although he lost his first match to one of the best golfers in west Texas, he didn't fail to let those people up there know that there are some fellows from Gatesville that make a pretty good showing in this golf business.

I WANT to take this opportunity to say this for those Hamilton folk; they really do things in a big way, and they don't do it half-heartedly either. When they take a notion they want to put something over they don't do any asking to find out if it is going to be all right. They get together and start things buzzing and the first thing you know they've done it.

I HAD hardly had time to climb out of my car the other day when I reached the Perry Country Club when here came Jack Moore, then a little later up jumped Buck Carlton and Floyd Campbell. Travis Franks was all over the place doing a big job putting the thing over. Velda Bradford was another ex-Gatesville boy sharing in the hospitality and so was Cyril Doggett.

After following the matches until nearly dark the hosts began bringing out the food—barbecue, salad, coffee and all the fixings. Of course by this time I was feeling pretty lean, and after the golf players had filled their plates, several of the Hamilton fellows said, "All right, visitors, next." I guess they must have seen that hungry look on my face. I didn't know. But anyway they ushered us right up to the eats and pushed us right in

Attitude of City and County On National Building Program Depends on Further Information

What position Gatesville and Coryell County will take on the office of the federal government to aid cities and counties in a program of national reconstruction, depends largely upon the nature of the offer the national government will make. The decision of the city authorities and county commissioners court will rest upon the terms of the provision of the new Industrial Reconstruction Act.

According to recent information the new Roosevelt industrial-control public-works program, designed for the support of unemployed and the reconstruction of public property, will provide material cooperation in the form of funds for the counties and cities of each state that are so disposed to accept the offer of the federal government.

City and county officials of Gatesville and Coryell have already begun making the necessary arrangements in order that they might be fully prepared to act on the matter when the time presents itself. To date very little definite information has been received as to how the money will be offered the counties and cities of the state. It is not known whether it will be advanced in the form of a loan or as a pure grant, but it is certain that at least thirty percent of the amount appropriated will be as a gift and the county and city treasurers will not be called upon for the repayment of this part of the total figure.

Although it is not known how the amount of $3,000,000,000 will be proportioned among the states it is a general supposition that the amount given or loaned as the case might be, to each county, will be based on a population ratio. In that case Coryell county will be entitled to a maximum of $600,000.

The provisions set out by the National Industrial Act state the nature of the work for which this great amount of money must be spent. As far as local conditions are concerned, Coryell county's greatest need would be for laterals roads. Among the various works that may be undertaken by each city, Gatesville is in position to use her allotment on a municipal building; the extension and enlargement of the sewerage system; the erection of school buildings, and oil-surfacing the streets that are not already paved.

Fred G. Prewitt, city secretary left for Austin last Thursday. They didn't have to do much pushing, however, for most of us were already in a receptive mood. But seriously, these Hamilton people really spread it on with hospitality. It looked like to me they were afraid they would not be able to do enough.

I NOT only got plenty to eat and had a good time at Hamilton, but I got one thing bigger than that. I found a real inspiration in the way they handled things up there. I suppose it was because I could easily compare Hamilton with the size and possibilities of Gatesville. I don't speak specifically about this golf business but in a general way. If we could get it into our heads that when we want to do something, we can do it, we will be a lot happier and have a lot more complimentary things said about us. Some times it looks like we are afraid of publicity for fear it will be the wrong kind. Well we are the ones to govern that and if we want good things said about us all we have to do is to do good things.

there to meet and confer with the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief Commission concerning the interests of Gatesville and Coryell County. Mr. Prewitt will present to that body a preliminary application for both the city and the county. It will be decided at a later date by the city commission and county commissioners court whether or not formal application will be made. In the event it is decided that such an application shall be made it is probable that the maximum appropriation will be sought. All information secured from Austin will be submitted to county and city authorities so that each governing body may act wisely in the matter.

Merchants Will Be Asked to Close Doors For Business July 4

In keeping with the custom followed heretofore it was agreed at the Chamber of Commerce meeting last Tuesday evening that each and every merchant will be asked to close his place of business on July 4th.

Although present plans indicate that there will be no celebration to take place in Gatesville on that date it is hoped that every business institution will observe the national holiday by closing its doors on the fourth of July.

Lewis Holmes Elected C. C. President

Lewis H. Holmes, prominent banker of this city was elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce to succeed F. W. Straw, retiring president, of the new term, at the regular membership meeting last Tuesday evening. The name of Mr. Holmes was recommended to the body by the nominating committee, and his election was made unanimous. Cecil Gardner, Edgar Franks, and Dan B. Graves were elected vice president and directors. Other directors elected were P. D. Holt, F. W. Straw, John T. Morgan, D. I. Glass, C. E. Alvis, Morton Scott, and Byron Laird Jr.

Following the election of officers at the Tuesday meeting, the membership entered into a discussion of the federal industrial public works program, which comes under the National Industrial Reconstruction Act. After a lengthy and detailed discussion of the plan which pertained chiefly to the prospective part Gatesville and Coryell County will take in the plan, the members voted an expression of confidence in the city council and commissioners court for any action that they might take in the interest and for the betterment of the city and county.

Miss Pearl Brown will leave Waco Thursday to join the University of Tours, to be gone fifty days. The Century of Progress will be a part of the Tours program. They will remain in Chicago ten days and will include a tour through Canada, returning through the New England state and New York and many eastern cities.

Miss Katherine Washburn returned last week from Dallas. Miss Washburn has been teaching at the Buckner Orphans' Home near Dallas for several years.

Large Crowd Attends Formal Opening of New L. and I. Hotel

Mesdames Beatrice LeSar and Eita Lester were hostesses at the formal opening of the new L. & I. Hotel on East Main Street Wednesday evening from seven until eleven o'clock. Mrs. LeSar and Mrs. Lester are co-owners of the new hostelry.

The opening which was attended by several hundred guests was in the form of an open-house. A seven piece orchestra furnished music for the occasion and refreshments were served those who attended. Cars were parked up and down Main street in the one thousand block and in view of the fact that such a large number were present to inspect the new modern and up to date hotel traffic in that block was practically blocked.

As the visitors arrived they were escorted over the premises, where they were privileged to inspect the various rooms and facilities of the building.

Local Farmer Suffers Broken Leg Putting Thresher Into Use

Smith Williams of the Cravy Crossing Community sustained a broken left leg when he met with an accident in starting his thresher Thursday.

He was brought to Gatesville for medical attention and it is thought that there will be no complications, as only one bone was broken.

'round the square

By The Snooper

Irvin McCreary looked like a lost sheep Sunday, but he is very much improved now that his wife is back from Dallas. Mrs. Lee Colwick wears her glasses so seldom I can hardly say they become her. I get a big kick out of George Palmer; he can make news of anything, and news is music to my ears. Mrs. Bob Arnold Jr. is bound to be a good housewife if she is half as good at that as she is as a drug store clerk. Bo Wright thinks he's mighty smart having a grand-daughter who won a baby contest recently. Tom L. Robinson has two good looking boys, and are they thrilled with their new home! Mrs. Laura Rayford is a "champeen" and doesn't fail to take the prizes either, but she has a hard time trying to stop her car when she can't get the key out. Police Chief Bone needs a cow pony and a lasso when calve's get loose on the square. Frank Battle thinks he has a new car now that he has painted its wheels. Mrs. Jim McClellan is really enjoying her new steed; she makes a mighty attractive horsewoman, too. Jack West and her mother are real pals.

A. C. Buchanan Named to Head District Drys

Dry forces of the 21st Senatorial District met at Meridian Tuesday Jun 20 for an all day meeting. There was a good representation from each of the five Counties of the district.

Hon. B. D. Sartain of Wichita Falls addressed the gathering in the morning. Mr. Sartain is a splendid speaker and has been chosen West Texas organizer for the United Forces for Prohibition. At the business session in the afternoon the following officers were elected; Hon. A. C. Buchanan of Temple, President, Rev. F. E. Kirchner, Meridian, Sec'y, Treasurer, Dan E. Graves Vice-President from Coryell. One vice president was named from each of the Counties.

The body nominated Dr. J. C. Hardy, President of Baylor College at Belton, for a place on the ballot and Hon. Sam Russell of Stephen County as his alternate. Dr. Hardy will be formally elected at the convention to be held at Austin in July.

Posse Continues Search for Missing Pair; Boys in Custody Lay Killing Blame on Others

City Offers Swimming Instructions Free on Two Days Next Week

The services of Mrs. Boyd are offered through the courtesy of the city and it is hoped that the parents of the children of this city will allow them to participate in the free instructions given by Mrs. Boyd.

Delegates To Highway Meet Perfect Plans

A permanent organization was accomplished objective by the representatives from those counties on Highway No. 36, who attended the recent meeting at Comanche.

Former Judge P. M. Rice of Hamilton County was elected chairman, and Hilton Burke of judge from each county on High-Comanche, secretary. The county way 36 was made ex-officio county chairman and vice-chairman of the permanent organization.

It is the object of the organization to solicit the promotion of the finished construction of the highway from Temple to Comanche, and on to Abilene via Rising Star and Cross Plains. According to information, Abilene has already begun the survey on that part of the highway, which is being carried on at her own expense.

Following an executive meeting which came immediately after the general meeting, in which it was urged that all counties represented select one member from their own delegation to meet and confer with their commissioners court at a later date, the delegates were served a barbecue dinner by the women of Comanche. About 300 were guests.

Grocery Damaged by A Fire of Unknown Origin Tuesday A. M.

The local fire department responded to an alarm about one o'clock Tuesday morning and succeeded in extinguishing flames that would have completely demolished the grocery and filling station on the Waco road east of town operated by Mrs. Atkinson.

The origin of the fire is unknown yet it is supposed that it was started by faulty electrical wiring in connection with the air-compressor. Damages done to the building, fixtures and stock amounted to approximately $700.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. S. Petree Sunday were Mrs. M. M. Henderson and Mrs. Mitchell Petree and little daughter of Dallas and Mr. Orville Petree of Fort Worth. Afternoon guests were Messrs. and Mesdames T. E. Barton and family, Charles Barton and son, Vernon Barton and daughter of Mountain Community, Miss Iva Lee Hardin and Mr. Quintan Blacklock.

Willard Scott of Oklahoma City and Grady Applegate of Wood county, two of the youthful inmates of the State Juvenile Training School here, who figured in the recent fatal attack upon Will Leonard, Training School blacksmith, were still being sought by county and state officers early today.

Two of the four boys who participated in the axe murder, James Anderson of Fort Worth and Clarence Raines were located by Bosque County farmers fifteen miles north-east of Meridian, on the White ranch near noon Thursday. The farmers learned of the probable whereabouts of the boys and immediately notified possemen who, with the aid of dogs, surrounded the pair and took them into custody. Rufus Burleson and E. W. Jones terminated the capture.

Will Leonard, 48, blacksmith shop foreman and instructor was a victim of murder Wednesday afternoon when four inmates of the school beat in his head with an axe while he was at work in his shop. After leaving Leonard unconscious, the four boys escaped in his car. According to another inmate, who saw them leave the building, the boys departed in the direction of Clifton and Meridian. It was he who carried the news to school authorities that the boys had escaped. When the guards reached the shop they found the doors locked and upon opening them discovered Leonard unconscious with his head badly battered. Later a blood stained axe was found not far from the dead man's body.

The car belonging to Leonard, in which the boys were riding, was found early Thursday morning near Meridian on the Morgan road, out of gas. The supposition is that the four separated at this point and deserted the car, going in the direction of the timbered area. Blood stained kahki shirts were found as the only evidence left in the car. Whether they had other shirts to replace these is not known.

Will Leonard has been an employee of the local state institution for the past fourteen years. He was well liked by both his business associates and by inmates as well. It is practically certain that Leonard had had no trouble with the four who attacked him, but that the youths made their attack solely for the purpose of confiscating his car and making their escape. All had been sent to the Training School on minor charges, with the exception of Raines, who had only been there ten days, on a charge of attempted murder in Leon County.

Leonard is survived by his wife; one son, Raymond, 16, and a brother, Charlie of Oklahoma.

More Dough for Nags Ascribed to Passage of Texas Racing Bill

Cooper, Texas, June 18.—An increased demand for live stock has been evidenced in Delta County, according to Manager Rube S. Wells of the Cooper Chamber of Commerce and he ascribed it to the passage of the race horse bill during the recent session of the Forty-third Legislature. There is pronounced demand, he said, for saddle horses.

Dr. Joe Blackwell, one of the few breeders of fine race horses in Texas, whose farms and private race course are just on the outskirts of Cooper, is now in Kansas City, Mo., with a carload of fast horses.

It is planned, said Mr. Wells, as soon as the racing bill becomes effective, to have horse races at Cooper, and some of these may be run on Dr. Blackwell's private track.

Houston Will Seek R. F. C. Aid on New University Project

Houston, June 18.—A committee of school board officials was busy Saturday perfecting plans for the University of Houston, an institution where it is planned to erect with a $2,000,000 loan from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Dr. Ray K. Daily, chairman of the University committee, recommended to the board of education that the university be built and application for the R. F. C. loan will be made as soon as the board approves the recommendation.

The university would offer instruction to youth and adults alike in arts, sciences, vocational and technical subjects.

The committee also recommended that $100,000 be borrowed to build a huge athletic stadium here. Both projects would be self-liquidating, they pointed out.

Maurice J. Sullivan, architect, estimated the two projects would provide one year of work for 450 men at $5 a day for a five-day week.

Termites, the white ants of warm regions, build huge mound homes sometimes many feet tall. ### EVERY GRADUATE IN A GOOD POSITION

That was the honest record and the motto of the outstanding business college of the United States until the world-wide depression struck us.

With business again gaining momentum and with optimism our people possess—and with the faith and confidence in our leader in Washington—it seems likely at this time that the Business College graduate in the future will enjoy an even greater prestige and have a better choice of business opportunities than ever before.

There are many good training schools in America. They survive in competition with schools whose services are free because they fill an important place in our general education scheme. Most of these schools—and we are glad to include ours among them—are improving year by year. Good teachers are maintained in our school on a yearly salary basis, instead of eight or nine months. Good courses of study, good executive management, a good student body, good equipment and facilities for the placement of graduates are considered the most important factors of the Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration.

The most valuable asset that any institution depending upon the public for patronage can have is a reputation for leadership in its field. The name of the school on a diploma must give prestige to its graduates, otherwise the applicant for a position is at a great disadvantage.

The Tyler Commercial College and School of Business Administration has been the leader in its field for thirty-two years. Every business training school that has been in existence long enough to be familiar with schools will vouch for this statement.

Our school is accredited by the National Associations of Accredited Commercial schools. Our graduates are preferred by the larger business concerns throughout the United States. It costs no more to attend our school than to attend a national and an international reputation than it does to a small school. ### IT'S UP TO US NOW

Mayor Lowrey and the city commission have shown great faith in the future progress of Gatesville by virtue of the work now underway on the new city hall office unit adjoining the present fire station. The city officials would have been easily justified in holding their hands securely in their pockets awaiting the return of prosperity before spending any of the city's funds on a building project, but their faith has been too great for any such conservative action as this.

The mayor and city council not only realize this to be the opportune time economically to start a building program but better still they have drawn up plans for a gigantic city auditorium structure which when completed will do credit to any municipality.

If the citizens of Gatesville can boast of as much confidence in the mayor and his commission as the city officials have already shown in the citizenry of Gatesville, our city will be made a place that you and I, as residents, will certainly be proud to claim.

Now it's up to us. It's our turn to show our confidence and by doing so help make the city auditorium project a finished reality.

COTTON WILL GO TO 15c, MR. FARMER

Cotton will reach a new level of fifteen cents a pound. To most everyone, that is almost unbelievable. Nevertheless it is a pretty good prediction to say that cotton will sell for fifteen cents when the plan of Secretary Wallace on cotton acreage control is made effective.

The cotton control plan will raise the price of that commodity by cutting out over-production. This subject should be of vital interest to the cotton farmers of Coryell County because the time is not far off when state agricultural authorities will put the proposition to us and we are going to either be ignorant on the subject or well enough informed to take advantage of the opportunity to help kick the price of cotton up to the new level.

Mr. Farmer, the federal government is going to allow you rental in cash on so many acres that you already have planted in cotton if you will plow up that cultivated land. The amount that you will be paid will be based upon the average production of your land at the present price of cotton, or you can take an option on your estimated production and collect your rental whenever the current price is good enough. The Wallace plan is a bargain for you now and a life saver for you later.

DAD MADE IT HIS DAY

Last Sunday may have been just another Sunday to most of us but to one person in this world it was a different day altogether. To Dad, it was his day, and mind you, he was just as proud of it as Mother was of hers on the second Sunday of last month.

There were not as many flowers perhaps on Dad's Day as there were when Mother celebrated hers, but no one heard him complain about being slighted, nor did the look on his face cause anyone to feel that he had been neglected. From the way he acted one might have thought that everything was done just for his particular pleasure, and all in remembrance of him.

All day long he held his head high in the air with a certain feeling of pride, and whether or not we failed to remember him with a necktie or a pair of socks, one could never tell it by the way Dad acted. He made the day to suit the occasion and what's more, he enjoyed every minute of it.

NOT ENOUGH TIME FOR BIG THINGS

We keep on talking about shorter work days, five-day work weeks, day-light saving time, and the like, when as a matter of fact what this country needs is a forty-eight hour day or a similar solution that will provide the same facilities and give us more time to get the big things done.

America is short-winded; we never have enough time to do things that should be done. Really though, it isn't the fault of time. Time spenders are the ones to be blamed; we never know how to use profitably the time that we have. We usually do the things we want to do first and afterwards find that there's no time left to do what should have been done. Anyhow, here's the point in a round-about way:

Lawlessness took another "poke" at law enforcement over the week end and it landed squarely on the jaw of every peace-loving citizen in the United States. When the smoke had cleared away death claimed the lives of five bullet victims in two cold blooded scenes, both of which took place west of the Mississippi, and one in our own state.

If America had more time we could get around to some of this banditry and put a stop to some of this lawless bloodshed, but as it is we are so deeply involved with ourselves and our petty political whims and problems that we haven't time to save America from a sweeping massacre that is well on its way.

We are spending entirely too much time on things of minor importance—political questions that we have learned to call "vital issues" just for the sake of dignity.

Coming Back

By LEONARD A. BARRETT

Inflation is on, and we sincerely hope it is the wisest course. Had the alternative method been chosen, that of "laissez-faire," which advocates a policy of "let well enough alone and all will end well in time," doubtless the financial disaster would have been much greater. We are assured, however, that the method of inflation is only temporary, that it will be controlled, and ultimately we shall return to the gold standard.

The economic recovery, while important, is not the only problem involved. We should be more vitally concerned with the re-establishment within the heart of the people of those moral and spiritual qualities upon which the welfare of our country depends. It is a matter of very serious concern that our lost courage and confidence be regained. It is only upon these two moral qualities that any return to prosperity can be established.

The disastrous effect of fear must be completely eliminated if we are to have a permanent reversal of the economic trend of the last few years. Fear plays havoc with the psychic centers. Once give fear free reign and the very foundations not only of economic but all moral life are shattered. Fear destroys the capacity to reason and sends a man to his work more of a coward than a hero. Fear completely destroys both confidence and courage.

More insidious than anything else is the tendency in every city and village to depreciate the value of education, especially in our public schools. Where ignorance abounds fear is present doing its disastrous work. Very little serious attention has been given to this matter by those who are seeking, by various and sundry methods, to end the depression. The education of our youth is of vital importance if we are to have a coming generation capable of directing the affairs of government. Some of the colleges are offering free tuition to unemployed young people. This is very encouraging and indicates a full appreciation of the serious part education is destined to fill in molding our future destiny. On the other hand many high schools and grade schools are reducing hours of instruction, cutting courses and in some localities, not even paying their teachers. Let no person underestimate for a moment the great importance of the public school in the future development of our American democracy.

Local Boy in Arizona Camp Likes Work and Scenic Beauty There

(This is part of a letter received from John Frank Powell, who is in the Reforestation Camp in Arizona):

C. C. F-6-A, Flagstaff, Ariz. I arrived in Flagstaff last Friday. We are located in the mountains of Arizona, about thirty miles from Flagstaff, on the Mormon Lake. Pine trees and mountains are south to north, and east to west. We are eight thousand feet above sea level.

Sunday we took a hike west of camp in the mountains, and found snow on them. The climate is magnificent, the scenery possesses majestic grandeur that I am unable to describe in this letter.

Saturday we labored all day about the camp, with the same thing today. I think I shall enjoy the six months of labor. It seems like a vacation.

Today being Sunday, and not a thing special to do, I just imagined a letter would at least be appreciated by all the family at home. Yesterday all the camps made a trip to Grand Canyon. Believe me, it was a dusty trip. However, I just gazed upon that indescribable wonder of the world with awe. It was more than worth all our dusty trip. All my life I have dreamed of seeing that one place. To think that it at last came true! It is useless to try to describe it to you. As I gazed out over it a feeling came over me that I was in a dream. It was so wonderful that I was stunned for a while. A vivid picture will remain with me.

Last week I was detailed on a fence building crew. We left camp after seven o'clock and made a trip to the mountains. We went to work a little after eight o'clock, working four hours before noon and two hours after. Taking this situation from every view it suits me just fine. The meals are all o. k.

I will send you a picture of our camp as soon as they get them made.

We have about ten tents which house twenty men each. Our directors are army men, five in all, and each seems to understand boys. The camp is running as smooth as a highly expensive machine.

Morman Lake borders our camp. I took three baths and swims in it last week. The water is severely cold at the present, but after getting out and dried off it makes you feel like a new silver dollar.

John Frank Powell.
