

Coryell Cotton Farmers To Vote On Bankhead Referendum Friday

Friday, December 14, 1934 has been set as the date for the Bankhead referendum throughout the cotton producing states by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

At this time eligible voters will be asked: "Are you in favor of continuing the Bankhead Act for next year (June 1, 1935 to May 31, 1936)?" An eligible voter is defined in the Act as a "person who has the legal or equitable right as owner, tenant, share-cropper, or otherwise to produce cotton on any cotton farm, or part thereof, in the United States for the crop year 1935-36."

According to that, any person is eligible who signed a 1934 and 1935 cotton acreage reduction contract as well as any person who is or was eligible for tax exemptions certificates in 1934. Any other person is eligible who presents proof that he owns and has a present right to produce cotton on a cotton farm, or any person who signs and files a witnessed statement that he has made arrangements to produce cotton on a cotton farm in 1935 by entering into a lease or share-cropping agreement.

If ownership and the right to produce cotton on a cotton farm are held jointly by two or more persons, all such persons are entitled to vote. The term "cotton farm" means any farm on which cotton has been produced commercially on more years since 1927. Individuals who are in doubt about their eligibility to vote can obtain information from the community committee which will have a list of eligible voters.

Henry A. Wallace, Secretary of Agriculture, defines the impartial attitude of the Adjustment Administration in a statement that will be given each voter with his ballot. This statement urges cotton farmers to "examine carefully all the facts and reach a decision based upon considered judgment as to whether the Bankhead Act is needed to assure attainment of the objectives of the cotton adjustment program."

"Cotton farmers," a portion of the statement read, "must decide whether, in their opinion, the adjustment of cotton production under the voluntary contracts is sufficient to meet the requirements of the present emergency. Will the efforts of a small minority of non-cooperators, the tendency toward more intensive cultivation, and the possibility of new lands coming into cotton production combine to increase total production above the point which seems desirable? That, it appears, is desirable. That, it appears, is a decision on continuing the Bankhead Act for next year." The Secretary emphasizes in his statement that the Administration is not seeking to impose its views upon the producers and that it is for the cotton farmers to choose.

The referendum is provided for in the Bankhead Act itself. If two-thirds of those who have the legal right to produce cotton favor the continuation of the Bankhead Act, and if the President finds and proclaims that the economic emergency in cotton production and marketing will continue to exist, the provisions of the Act will be extended to cover the period of the crop year 1935-36.

Figures Indicate Best Shopping Season Here Since Christmas 1929

MANY EMPLOYEES ADDED

If shopping figures from the larger cities of the nation are a true indication of the general upward trend in Christmas buying merchants of Coryell county should be experiencing the same increase in business.

A survey of current shopping shows that Christmas trade is at its highest pitch since 1929 or 1930, and ranged in some cities as high as 33 1-3 per cent above last year.

Department stores predict that even sharper gains as the holiday approaches. Chicago, Kansas City and San Francisco firms have stated that the current Christmas business is "the best in years."

Along with the increase in business has come the increase in employment with thousands of extras being put to work in Xmas goods stores to help take care of the holiday trade.

Reports of Gatesville merchants indicate that Christmas buying this year has been rather slow to get underway but encouraging indications are to the effect that the shopping is beginning and this week will see a bullish trend in local buying.

The code is blamed for growing of bad conditions in the oil industry the past year.

Huge Crowd Gathers to Welcome Santa on His Visit to Coryell Co.

SHOPPING SEASON OPENED

One of the largest crowds ever to gather in Gatesville was on hand Saturday for the formal opening of the Christmas shopping season in the county-seat town. The announcement of Santa's pre-Xmas visit was responsible for the large crowd.

Riding high on his snow-covered float St. Nicholas and his companions made their appearance in Gatesville shortly after 3:00 o'clock in the afternoon.

A modest parade including the band, and fire-department escorted Santa's float, guarded by local Boy Scouts. The parade formed at the City Hall and marched westward on Main Street, around the square and down Leon and back up Main. The parade was discontinued at the square where the band played a concert on the south side of the courthouse. The conveyance carrying Santa and his story-book characters made several trips around the square while the amiable old gentleman threw liberal quantities of candy to spectators who formed lines on both sides of the path of the float.

The infant daughter of a prominent Pidcoke family died at the Baylor Hospital at Dallas at 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Newel Clark with interment in the Pidcoke Cemetery.

Susvivors of the deceased are the parents, one brother and one sister.

Additional 500 Head Of Cattle May Be Last Government Allotment

TOTAL NEARING 11,000 HEAD

Coryell county has received an additional allotment of 500 head of cattle as a part of the buying program, according to word received here Saturday from George W. Barnes, assistant state drought director at College Station.

Local authorities believe that this will be the final allotment for the current year.

Buying on the recent allotment began Monday morning and is expected to close by Friday. Only those producers listed on this allotment will be allowed to sell their stock to the government buyers. Producers holding stock and wishing to sell must be listed by Wednesday, according to word from the county agent's office.

Only cows of two years and over will be purchased under the new allotment. This is due to the fact that females are the hardest to care for during the winter.

The recent allotment will bring the total number of head bought in Coryell county to approximately 11,000 head.

Gatesville Meets Moody In First All-Star Game On Local Field Friday

G'VILLE 7, MOODY 0 IN '33

The local All-Stars of football team will meet a team of picked stars from Moody on the high school gridiron here Friday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock in the first of a series of all-star games.

The Gatesville club will be composed of local talent, former high school and college gridsters, most of whom have been seen in action at some time or other by local fans. The team is being coached by Truman Blanton of this city. Ted Harris is the manager.

Moody came to Gatesville last year for an all-star game, which was one of the most thrilling games witnessed here in some time. Coach Walter Baker will bring another strong team to Coryell county this week with the hope of avenging a 7-0 defeat suffered in 1933. Neither of the two teams have played a game thus far this year.

Proceeds will go into the high school athletic fund.

County Mourns Passing Of Community Leader In Tom Watson's Death

SUCCUMBS TO PNEUMONIA

Funeral services for John Thomas Watson were held at the Jonesboro Baptist Church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock with Rev. V. A. Lemons officiating, assisted by Rev. B. F. White, former pastor of the Jonesboro church. Interment was held at the Jonesboro Cemetery with the Masonic Lodge in charge.

Tom Watson, 67 years old, retired farmer, was born in the state of Mississippi in 1867. He had been a resident of Jonesboro for the past 40 years, active in civic, church and community affairs. He contracted pneumonia on Monday, December 3, and died the following Saturday morning at 2:30 o'clock.

Surviving the deceased are his wife, Mrs. Fannie Watson, one son, Alphonso of Jonesboro; two daughters, Mrs. Otis Williams of Hamilton and Mrs. Wilmer Jones of Floydada; his step-mother, Mrs. Wells Watson of Jonesboro; two brothers, Ben of Robstown and Ed of Jonesboro; three half-brothers, Sam of Pancake, Rube and Hugh of Rule; and a half-sister, Mrs. L. Walsh of Jonesboro.

During his forty years residence at Jonesboro Mr. Watson had been looked upon as the outstanding community leader, a devoted Christian and a faithful member of the Masonic Lodge, having served for 27 years as secretary of that fraternal organization. He was also Superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School.

The popularity of this beloved character was not limited to the community in which he lived, but during his life in this section he was known throughout the county and was considered highly by the people who knew him.

Mr. Watson had served on many county-wide committees and contributed materially to the progress and development of Coryell. At the time of his death he was serving as a member of the County Board of Trustees for the schools of this county.

His passing will be mourned by a host of friends. His departure will be keenly felt by those who looked to him for guidance and direction.

Turkey Buying in Tex. Draws to a Close Today

(Fort Worth Star-Telegram)
Turkey buying in Texas for the New York market will end Tuesday, said John B. Collier of the Fort Worth Poultry and Egg Company Wednesday afternoon.

Texas turkeys must be in New York by Dec. 17 or 18, according to Collier, and farmers failing to sell by next Tuesday may be forced to hold their birds over or sell them on a lower local market.

Most Texas turkey packers will finish up their shipments to Northern markets Wednesday. It is probable there will be an ample supply as the big buyers have put thousands of the Thanksgiving purchases into the refrigerators to be sold Christmas.

Turkey Shippers On Heat, High Prices

New York, Dec. 5.—The Thanksgiving 1934 turkey business of the United States goes down in history as the most disastrous in the history of the turkey packing industry, declares the Produce News in a review of conditions which brought about this unhappy result.

Packing plants both large and small all over the country but particularly in Texas and Oklahoma were the losers, and the causes were two: Paying prices unwarranted by the size of the crop and the prospective demand therefore, and damage to the shipments either before being packed or in transit by the hot weather.

The Produce News declares that the 1934 crop has turned out to be the biggest in the history of the industry with Texas shippers 576 cars and Oklahoma sending 228 to market. Farmers received about $575 a car for these birds or a total for Texas alone of more than $1,650,000.

Receipts had been estimated at 400 cars for Texas and 150 for Oklahoma and, on that basis, the Texas carlot shippers meeting in San Antonio on Oct. 4 to 6 passed resolution to pay 12c for No. 1 birds and half that price for No. 2s so that farmers would take their poor birds back home and fatten them up. Immediately following the return of these carlot shippers to their plants, an intensive competition developed and prices were pushed upward to 13c, then to 14c, and finally in some localities to 15s and 16c. Meat packers were most active buyers and the smaller shippers were forced to meet their prices. The result was, says this paper, that one of the packers averaged 16.25c for turkeys, another 15.40c, and a third 14.88c, basis No. 1 birds.

These prices raised the laid-down price of Thanksgiving turkeys in New York to 25c and in some cases to 26c a pound. When the retail prices were published in the papers the Sunday before Thanksgiving, there was great disappointment. Very few of the birds brought cost to their wholesale owners. That price was only 29c on fancy Northern birds and retailers were able to buy No. 1 Texas turkeys at 23c or 25c.

Many of the large buyers rejected the shipments on account of the condition of the birds which had been packed in very hot weather in the Southwest and were by no means No. 1 birds in the condition they were in when they reached New York. Even at the low prices asked, New York retailers were unable to dispose of the stocks of turkeys they had purchased, although most of them had bought very sparingly.

We Will Wash Your Hands of Washing Worries

We wish to announce to our friends and customers that we have reassumed the management of the Gatesville Steam Laundry, having purchased the same from Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Ricketts, and are now doing business at the same old stand.

In efforts to rebuild the splendid patronage we had at the time we retired from the business two years ago, and to introduce ourselves to the people of Gatesville, who are not now using the services offered by our plant, we are offering some very attractive reductions in prices.

The price of family washing (everything finished ready to wear) will be reduced from 15c per lb. to 10c per lb. for wearing apparel; 5c per lb. for flat work (sheets, table linen, etc.) and 5c per lb. for rough dry.

Men's shirts are now 10c each.

Call 140 and talk with us about your wash day problems. We will guarantee you the best and cheapest Laundry Service your money can buy.

I will think—talk—write . . . Texas Centennial in 1936! This is to be my celebration. In its achievement I may give free play to my patriotic love for Texas' heroic past; my confidence in its glories that are to be . . .

The individual who remarked that neighbors to Gatesville had quit coming to the county-seat excepting cases of necessity has probably already reversed his decision if he was in town last Saturday afternoon. Local people estimated that it was the largest crowd that has assembled in Gatesville for several years. The fact is unquestionable that eighty per cent of the people did not come to town for any necessary reason. They came to see "Santa Claus" and to enter into the Christmas debut for the year 1934, and to partake of the first real glimpses of the Christmas spirit. The actual number of dollars and cents spent in holidays buying is of minor importance as compared with the thousands of Gatesville's friends who came to town last Saturday—a true indication of their feeling of good-will toward the county-seat.

The problem of the proper use and display of Christmas fire-works is near at hand as far as the City officials are concerned. We are not positive that there is any ordinance prohibiting the use of fire-works in certain sections of the city, and we would not want to see a general ban put on fire-crackers. We do not believe this precaution would be necessary and besides it would deprive us of a general custom which has added materially to the Xmas spirit in this section of the country. It is evident however that this year more fire-works than usual will be bought. Naturally then the number of casualties will be increased unless individuals take steps to safeguard the lives of others as well as their own lives. Children who purchase fire-works can hardly resist the temptation to explode fire-crackers as soon as they are bought—on the sidewalks while throngs of shoppers pass by. If those who purchase the toy explosives can be induced to take them home or even into the street, if necessary, the danger will be lessened to a marked degree.

Proponents of the movement for the organization of a "third party" in political circles may find that the old adage, "Two is company and three is a crowd," holds water in politics as true as it does in courtship.

Senator Costigan, Democrat of Colorado, is pushing a greatly expanded public works program for further relief of unemployment. The Senator's plan contains 14 points and among them is provision for $3,000,000 alone for grade crossing elimination. Readers of the NEWS who read the account of the Colorado Senator's recovery program in the daily newspapers Sunday might recall the county newspaper advocated the extension of crossing elimination in a recent editorial pointing out the recently constructed over-pass at Round Rock, Texas.

Since Xmas trees are so popular just now it might be interesting to know that cedars are easier than most all other trees to grow and the easiest to kill.

Texas got more recognition from the international games played Saturday from the "big-shots" than they ever have. S. M. U. defeated Washington State in St. Louis 7-0, at the same time the Waco High Tigers were defeating the Grover Cleveland team of St. Louis, in Waco. With victories on both ends of the line, Texas should be satisfied.

The T. C. U. Hornet Frogs gave the Santa Clara of the west coast a 9-7 defeat. A. & M. was the only team that played an inter-sectional game from Texas that suffered a defeat. Michigan defeated the Aggies 26-13.

From a recent news report, we notice that Kaufman won their bi-district game. Kaufman is coached by a former Hornet mentor, coach Hines.

The only up-set we have noticed in the class A bi-district games Saturday was the Masonic Home defeating the Dallas Tech club 32-0.

Twelve to fourteen men are reporting to coach Truman Blanton each day preparing for their game here Friday afternoon at 3:30 with Moody. The Moody club met defeat by the all-stars last year 7-0. If you will recall, it was coach Ewing who made the spectacular play for the former Hornets to score. Moody has practically the same team that they had last, and the local former Hornets are weaker this year than they were last year. I would not be surprised should the Moody club defeat the former Hornets this year.

Between 350 and 400 fans attended the basket ball game between Pearl and the Waco High Tigers Saturday night. Pearl won the game 23-22. Moseley of Pearl was the high point man with 9 points. Boswell of Waco ran second with 7 points.

The Commercial basket ball games scheduled for Thursday night, Dec. 13, will be postponed due to the fact that the Hornet Banquet will be held Friday night in the Gym. The time for these games will be announced at a later date.

Schedule Tuesday, Dec. 11

- (1) Merchants vs. Jonesboro
- (2) Conoco vs. Levita
- (3) Leon Junction vs. Round Table.

To-night's Dope

Jonesboro will give the Merchants their worse defeat of the season.

The diminutive Miles brothers will prove too much for the Oilers.

Leon Junction will give the Bachelors a defeat.

Jack Elam and Dawson Preston of Pearl visited friends and relatives in Gatesville during the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bond and son, Macie of Waco, formerly of this city, were visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Routh and family last Sunday.

Buster Laxson and Glen Blackshear spent the week end with friends in Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Guggolz were in Jonesboro Sunday afternoon to attend the funeral services of Mr. Tom Watson.

Miss Bessie Rubarth and Billie Blaine Rubarth of Los Angeles, California are visiting their sister and aunt, Mrs. Pat Potts, and other relatives over this county.

Messrs. R. R. Anderson, Leake Ayres, F. W. Straw, Fred Prewitt and Wesley Ford were among the Gatesville people who attended the funeral of Mr. Tom Watson at Jonesboro Sunday afternoon.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

The United States wants peace last and always, but does not want a huge Japanese navy swarming over the Pacific and casting threatening eyes toward our western coast cities. Regardless of the fact that abrogation of the Washington naval limitation treaty by Japan will probably provoke a naval race between the two powers, Japan remains adamant in her intention to denounce the pact immediately. Norman H. Davis, American Ambassador-at-large, in London recently warned that the end of the present naval treaties would mean conditions of insecurity, of international suspicion and of costly competition and hinted that the U. S. could attain and maintain naval supremacy in any building race if she chose. Japan has had her way in the Far East for three years now but she has hardly run upon anything as formidable as Uncle Sam and John Bull.

Texas journalism lost one of its most beloved, capable, and outstanding workers last week in the death of Judge W. O. Huggins, venerable editor of the Houston Chronicle. Prominent lawyer and former chairman of the state Democratic executive committee, he became known throughout the state for his advocacy of highway improvement, devoting a great deal of his time and talent to road improvement. Wednesday the Texas flag was at halfmast on the state building while the entire state paid him tribute.

The complexities of the European populations are so great that a racial map of the continent can not be made with any degree of accuracy. The Jugoslavian government has just expelled 27,000 Hungarians living within its borders. The official explanation of the government was to the effect that the 27,000 has lived sixteen years in Jugoslavia without forswearing their allegiance to Hungary. The Jugoslavian government is acting absolutely within its rights and in the interests of its own citizens, and yet it seems bad that Europe can have no definite racial boundaries. Poland, Russia, Czechoslovakia, Rumania and other continental nations have this racial minority problem to contend with and although the Treaty of Versailles made some effort to solve the situation, it miserably failed, as has been shown by events within the last few years.

I am so interested in the speakership race that I can't keep something about it out of Comment each week. The election of Mr. Rayburn would mean so much to Texas that I feel I am justified in continually bringing it before your mind. Right now its a bad scramble with no leading contender. By the time of the meeting of the Democratic caucus in January possible a dozen will be in the fight—with none holding an advantage. Rep. Crosser, veteran legislator of Ohio, has recently entered the race and will win many votes from the Middle West. Vice-President Garner, now in Washington, has predicted that President Roosevelt will take no part in the hot contest and I presume he knows. But Garner failed to mention what attitude the President's aides would take. Of course the President can not personally take a hand in the battle but he can probably bring about the election of any candidate he chooses by exerting pressure through his assistants.
