Popular Local Youth in Fatal Accident Thurs.

Deep sadness and gloom was cast over the entire city when Ralph Shepherd, popular youth of Gatesville, and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Shepherd, was instantly killed here Thursday night just before ten o'clock when his motor cycle collided on Main street with an auto being driven by Howard Horn.

A few minutes previously, Ralph was at a local drug store when Joe Ricketts, another young man of this city, asked Ralph to take him home. Ralph got on his motor accompanied by Joe, and started out on Main street, the nearest route to Joe's home on the Waco road. Both vehicles were going east on Main when Horn started to turn to the left on 15th street between the residences of Mrs. Oran Crow and Mrs. Frank Jones, where he has an apartment. Ralph was immediately behind Horn and did not see him hold out his hand. Realizing that he was too close to Horn's car to turn and pass, Ralph began to honk in an effort to let Horn know he was behind. Horn then began to slow down and pull in toward the center of the street to give the boys right of way. But driving around forty miles Ralph saw he was too close to stop and in a vain effort to do so, lost control of his motor cycle and it hit Horn's car, forcing the motor to the curb, Ralph was thrown over the motor and it was supposed he hit the curb, being instantly killed. Ricketts was thrown clear of the motor and hit a tree.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning with Rev. M. M. Chunn, pastor of the Methodist Church of Gatesville, officiating. Interment was made in the City Cemetery.

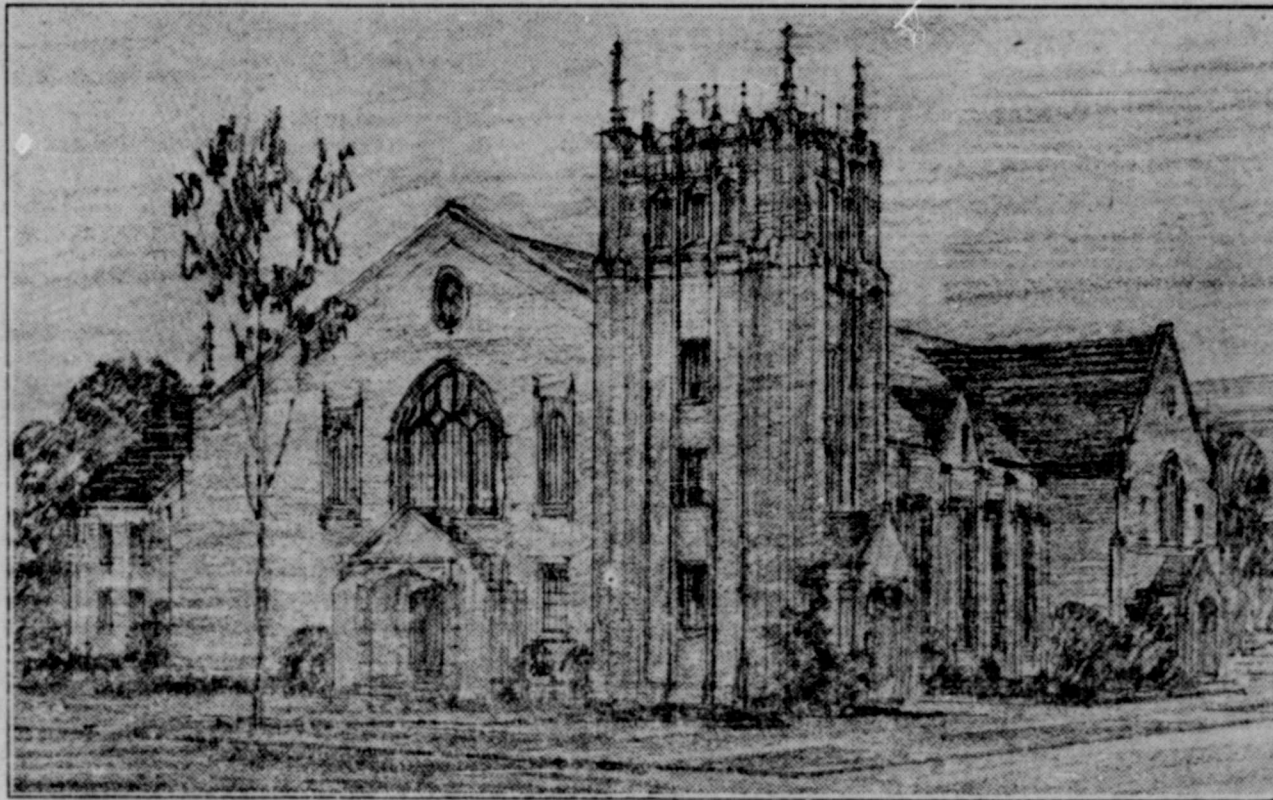

Joe received lacerations on the head, three broken ribs, and one lung injury. Physicians report that his condition is not serious, and think he will recover within a few weeks.

NEW FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH BUILDING TO COST $45,000

Pictured here is the view of the new First Baptist Church building which is to be constructed on the site of the old church at the corner of Main and 10th streets. The building is to be of Gothic type, constructed of brick at an estimated cost of $45,000.00. The auditorium will be equipped with modern conveniences, and will seat approximately 100 people.

The Sunday School department will be two stories without basement, equipped with rest rooms, drinking fountains, etc. Every room in the building will have an outside exposure which will make it ideal from the standpoint of ventilation and light. A modern kitchen with an assembly room that may be turned into a banquet or dining room are also provided in the plans. February the 17th the building committee made its report, and at the evening services of that day the church unanimously adopted the committee's report for the proposed building. This coming Sunday, March 3rd, has been set for the official program that will be launched for the erection of the new building.

Trial of Mexican Youth Started in District Court Here Monday

MAY GO TO JURY TODAY

The jury for the case of the State of Texas vs. Anderson Ortega, Mexican youth, charged with the murder of Paul Rodgers, 19-year-old Mexican youth, was selected by noon yesterday, and the state and defense attorneys started examining witnesses yesterday afternoon.

The trouble between the Mexicans occurred last October 6, 1934 in front of the home of Jim Ortega, brother of the defendant, located in the northeast part of Gatesville.

It is thought the attorneys may close arguments sometime today, when the case will go to the jury.

MIDWEEK SHOPPING

Many people, even in the smaller towns prefer to shop during the midweek when the stores are not so crowded and the clerks have time to give unhurried attention to their customers. A purchase made in more or less of a rush often proves unsatisfactory to both customer and merchant. In the larger towns and cities merchants more and more are ca-

Hornets Lose Initial Game of District Meet To Purdon, 44 to 27

WACO HIGH WINS TOURNEY

The local Hornets, who were doped to go far in the District Meet in Waco Friday and Saturday, lost their first game to the strong Purdon quint, who was runner-up in the Meet and who carried away the honors last year.

The locals were out played in every department of the game, lagging by a few points throughout the contest. Purdon had trouble at times getting through the Hornets defense, but very few times did the local crew have time to set their defense, as Purdon got the tip-off throughout the game.

The Hornet forwards got much recognition however, McLarty being placed on the second all-district team, and the way they handled the ball was a puzzle to spectators. Playing with a new ball was a disadvantage to the locals and helped them lose to Purdon 44-27.

The Waco High Tigers advanced to the finals as did Purdon, and the Tigers won the Tourney 24 to 19.

tering to the midweek trade. The columns of the semiweekly News offer local merchants an opportunity to carry their store news to the people. Local theaters are already taking advantage of this opportunity, and are pleased with results.

Palace To Observe First Anniversary Today, February 26

NO CHANCE IN EMPLOYEES

Today, February 26, the Palace Theatre is celebrating its first anniversary in Gatesville. The original employees of the Palace are still with the Manager, Mr. Harold Cunyus.

In celebrating this birthday event, Mr. Cunyus is playing "The Mighty Barnum," featuring Wallace Berry.

LOCALS TO PRESENT PLAY THURSDAY NIGHT

"Melody Parade" which is being sponsored for the Methodist Church of Evant, will be presented at that place Thursday night by young people of Gatesville.

Those taking part in the "Melody Parade" are Clinton Chamlee, who will sing favorite songs, accompanied by Jack Reesing at the piano. Miss Jacqueline West, accompanied at the piano by Miss Orpa Mayo, will play a specially chosen violin solo. Jerry Davis, June Marie Chamlee, Mary Margaret

Man Arrested in Longview Indicted In This Co. in '25

Sheriff Joe White accompanied by Constable Mayberry, motored to Longview last week and arrested Fred Bond, who was indicted for burglary in this county in 1925.

In 1925 Fred Bond was indicted on two counts for burglary. Before being arrested he went over the hill, and was next heard of in Oklahoma, where he stayed for six years, and then went to Longview and in the used car business there at the time of his arrest.

After leaving here Mr. Bond married the second time and was going under the name of J. M. Brown up until the time of his arrest.

Sheriff White brought Bond back to Gatesville the latter part of last week and he was released Saturday on $1000 bond each, on two cases.

COLORED BOYS PITTED IN GAMES TONIGHT

The local colored school will play the Valley Mills quint on the local gym floor tonight at 8 o'clock and immediately following this game the local all-star crew will be pitted against the strong all-star crew from McGregor.

Fans remember the thrill derived from the other colored ball game played here a few weeks ago, and a large crowd is expected to witness these games tonight.

Teams Coming

Arrangements are being ironed out to have the following teams to participate in games on the local gym floor: Waco High, the team that won the District Tourney in Waco Saturday. Purdon, the team that was runner-up in the Tourney, and Bynum, the team that was a strong contender for honors in the recent meet.

GOLFERS TO MEET

All golf players and others interested in the sport are requested to be present in the District Court room at the Courthouse at 7 o'clock Thursday evening of this week. Matters and plans of interest to those interested in golf in this vicinity will be discussed.

Holmes and Dorothy Chamlee, students of the Rayford's School of Dancing, will give several ballet and toe dances. Beulah Gamblin, who accompanies Miss Rayford's pupils at the piano, will also whistle "Glow Worm." There are others who will participate in the "Melody Parade."

A large crowd from here is expected to accompany these young folk to Evant Thursday night in order to help the Methodist Ladies of that place build a pastorate.

SOUTHWARD HO!

Horace Greely gave the well-known advice: "Go West, young man." Had he lived in these days he would have said, Go South—the real frontier for the next onward push of national expansion.

Texas is the greatest of the cotton-producing States but it is shedding no tears over the slow passing of King Cotton. Nor should the Old South weep over that impending change. Cotton brought the Negro and slavery into the fertile lands of the South and the Southwest. It indirectly caused the war between the States and brought the problems of depleted soils and a poverty-stricken mass of tenant and crop farmers, wretchedly educated and narrow in the outlook. Yet the majority of these are Keltic-English in stock and inherently capable of high living standards. Fortunately, supremacy in the raising of cotton is passing to the inhabitants of India, China, Egypt, Brazil—countries of the low living standards. A better future is awaiting the inhabitants of the South and Southwest than a cut-throat competition with the world's poorest paid laborers. The transition from cotton-raising to other vocation may be painful but the change is inevitable, seeing that the uses for cotton are diminishing and the South's present heavy production means permanently low prices.

The industries and capital of the North are seeking new outlets and are bound to move southward. Here are undeveloped sources of wealth in forest areas and mining resources. Here are fertile lands, water power, fuels, and abundant labor eager to forsake the cotton patch. State planning boards are in process of formation and these will show opportunities for industries. Irrigation, terracing, renewal of fertility and scientific study of soils indicate in agriculture a trend from cotton to higher forms of farming. Rivers are being harnessed for power and as reservoirs of water supplies; applications in chemistry are showing how wealth hidden under the soil may make prosperous those States rich in natural resources.

Texas should realize that the gradual passing of cotton will be a blessing in disguise. It will be followed by diversified farming, "living at home," an inflow of industries from the North, and a more prosperous and happier body of citizens. The incubus of a one-crop system is more suited to tropical labor than to those who are at present engaged in the cultivation of what has become the worst enemy of the South and the Southwest.

Texas is on the economic frontier. Come to Texas. It is an empire in itself and is open for skilled industries. —Dallas News.

New buildings and other improvements in Gatesville and Coryell County are unmistakable signs of a gradual recovery from the dire industrial conditions that have depressed our people for the past four years or longer.

COPPERAS COVE NEWS

(From Copperas Cove Crony)

Mr. J. M. Brooks will move his family to El Paso the first of next week, where he has employment with a wholesale hardware house. Mr. and Mrs. Brooks spent the first of the week in El Paso making arrangements for moving.

Mr. Brooks has been the local postmaster here for the past twelve years until January 1st when he was replaced by Mr. Alvin Clements.

The depression MUST be over. At least it is for two of the Covians. Mr. Hicks Goodson went to work Monday morning in a barber shop in Marlin. Marvin Brooks goes to work the first of March in El Paso. Miss Mae Hull is now employed as a stenographer in Gatesville, we hate to lose them but a job is the thing, these days.

You've all heard the moans and groans of the high muckity-muck about what this country needs, but our idea of what the city of Copperas Cove needs is a Little Theater. Lack of amusement has been this town's worst trouble for many years. The town is not large enough to support a picture show, dance halls and other amusements are forbidden, hence, a Little Theater is the best thing possible. We have an abundance of good actor here and we think we have one man who is just as good, if not better than some paid directors. Think it over, folks.

Chamber Commerce Makes Spring Plans

At a meeting of the Copperas Cove Chamber of Commerce last Tuesday night, plans were discussed for their Spring program, which includes a booster trip, the lighting of a soft ball court, Trades Days, and the annual school closing picnic.

The booster trip will take place in April, and neighboring communities will be visited by local business men.

Mr. Raymond Adams was appointed to see all parties connected with the lighting of the soft ball court on the school grounds. It is possible for us to have a lighted court, they hope to have this ready for use in the near future.

It was decided to have another free barbecue and picnic in May. A definite date was not set, as it not known just what day school closes here.

If you have any idea how to make the picnic a bigger and better success, come and tell the Chamber of Commerce about it at their next meeting which will be held in the Wolt Hotel, March 19th. This is everybody's picnic.

NEED FOR LEADERSHIP

In my opinion we are in the midst of a tremendous important social if not political revolution. The demand for leadership was never greater. Whenever one looks, one is impressed by the fact that the masses respond to the man or the idea that is simple and positive.—Arthur S. Draper, editor, Literary Digest.

NEW FORD V-8

The Car Without Experiments

THERE'S never any doubt about value when you buy a Ford car. You know it's all right or Henry Ford wouldn't put it out. One thing that never changes is his policy of dependable transportation at low cost.

That's the biggest feature of the New Ford. The reliability and economy of its V-8 engine have been proved on the road by upwards of 1,400,000 motorists. Owner cost records show definitely that the Ford V-8 is the most economical Ford car ever built.

Mrs. Chapman Entertains With Tea Friday.

Mrs. H. T. Chapman and Miss Bess were hostesses Friday afternoon from 2:30 to 5:30, at a tea given for their daughter and sister-in-law, Mrs. Ned Chapman.

Receiving with Mrs. Chapman and her daughter were Miss Will Mat Claxton and Mrs. Patillo, and Mrs. T. M. Hall presided at the guest book. A program of musical selections was presented during the afternoon by Misses Orpa Mayo and Mamie Sue Halbrook.

A crystal bowl of pink and white sweet peas centered the table, laid with a white normandy lace cloth over pink satin and lighted by white tapers in crystal holders. Large baskets of pink gladiolas were used throughout the party rooms.

Mrs. Robert Thomas and Miss Edna Murray poured tea and Mesdames H. S. Compton, E. G. Beerwinkle, Joyce Ryan, Frances Caruth, W. C. Guggolz and Misses Maude Allyce Painter, Mary Routh and Ila Faye Selby assisted in serving during the afternoon. Some eighty guests registered in the guest book.

Mrs. Anderson Entertains With Party Friday.

The Merry Wives Club was entertained last Friday afternoon when Mrs. Levi Anderson opened her home to members of that organization and guests.

The George Washington motif was carried out in the table centers and refreshments.

After a series of games of "84" Mrs. Anderson served two tables of guests cherry pie topped with whipped cream, coffee and salted nuts.

RURAL LIVING CONDITIONS IMPROVED BY AAA

College Station.—Of the 6,283,548 acres of Texas land under crop adjustment contracts in 1934, 3,558,564 were planted in feed crops for home use according to the annual reports of county agents assembled here. Only 1,178,854 acres were al-drouth last year was a factor which H. H. Williamson, State Agent and vice director of the Extension Service, estimates had a great deal to do with that, as nearly half a million acres of the total was wheat land lying in the region of least rainfall.

Food for home use claimed 295,917 acres; soil improvement crops were planted on 221,358 acres; while with pasture crops for home use, 617,296 acres headed toward the goal of more grassland to replace that so disastrously put to the plow in the past 25 years. The remaining acreage was in temporary pastures and miscellaneous crops for home use.

"Emphasis is often publicly placed on the emergency and temporary nature of some of the work of the county agents during the past 18 months," Williamson pointed out, "but if there can be a greater permanent improvement on Texas farms and ranches than will come from the use of these acres released by the government from corn and cotton and wheat to be used for food and feed crops, I do not know what it is.

"That vast new acreage of pasture and feed crops for home use means more meat of a better quality on the family table and a nearer approach to the amount of milk the children need to make them strong and well than Texas has ever before provided. And moreover they saved the situation, in so far as it was saved, when the drouth cut the normal feed crops.

"These acres planted to soil improvement crops, taken with the enormously increased interest in terracing, represent a turning of rural public opinion in Texas to soil conservation from which the State will be benefiting more years than I dare to prophesy," Williamson said.

INMATE ESCAPES TRAINING SCHOOL

A Mexican youth, inmate of the State Training School, escaped Sunday night. He, supposedly, came through town, stealthily entered the home of B. S. Cook and stole a few articles of wearing apparel. Mr. Cook said he did not get so mad about missing a pair of trousers, but when he discovered his shoes and green suspenders missing, he really grew hostile.

ALPINE TO HAVE PART IN TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Alpine, Tex. Feb 21.—Visitors to Alpine during the Texas Centennial celebrations of 1936 will be interested in the museum which is maintained in conjunction with the West Texas Historical and Scientific Society at Sul Ross State Teachers College here.

Victor J. Smith of the College is preparing maps, which will direct Centennial visitors to the points of interest in the Big Bend, a plan which is worthy of emulation in other sections of the State. Mr. Smith also is interested in the possibility of erecting road signs calling attention to unusual or interesting points, such as the Pecos High Bridge, which might be overlooked entirely unless one was informed of the most advantageous point from which to observe it.

Report comes from Jones county that at the training school held for the pantry demonstrators of the county home demonstration clubs 75 people learned how to make and lay tile for garden subirrigation. These citizens will in turn teach their neighbors in their own communities to make tile so that gardens may prosper and fruit trees flourish come rain or no.

In Dickens county every home demonstration club member is a "cooperator" in the yard improvement work being undertaken by these club women. Goals for cooperators are very definite—each one is to "remove all rubbish, repair fences, lay a flagstone walk, learn to recognize and locate for transplanting five native shrubs and report to the demonstrator." Demonstrators, by the way, undertake the complete landscaping of their premises.

Three home orchards of one acre each were set out at three orchard demonstrations in Wharton county attended by 175 people. As a result, 300 more trees have been ordered and there are prospects for 500 more than that being put out in the county either as new orchards or replacements.

Navarro county is going in for more fruit too, with a definite goal of ten home orchards in every community in the county. S. M. Hudgins, a Navarro county orchardist of long experience, recommends to the beginners to have and follow a schedule of regular pruning, spraying and cultivation if they want success.

Weatherford—As a part of her yard improvement work for 1934, Mrs. A. E. Scherer of the New Hope Home Demonstration Club in Parker county put out 63 foundation plantings around her house and 100 shrubs in screen plantings, of which three-fourths were native, according to Miss Janie Parks, home demonstration agent. The dirt had been washing away for many years, so the yard was filled in and a retaining wall was built across the front and side of the yard. The side and front fences were moved to make the yard larger. In addition, Mrs. Chere, underpinned the house, moved the smoke house back, sodded the yard, and built a cobble stone walk.

Crowell—"I have fought the drought and hail storms this year to fill my food budget but by planning and trading articles of which I had a surplus I managed to can 1072 pints valued at $163.92," Mrs. H. H. Beggs, farm food supply demonstrator for the West Side home demonstration club of Foard county, told Miss Myrna Holman, home demonstration agent. Mrs. Beggs sold a calf to buy corn and tomatoes and sold enough cream and eggs to pay for her fruit. The total expense of her garden seed, cans, sugar, and of shelves added to her cellar was not more than $20, she reports. Mrs. Beggs stored her canned goods in her cellar which was dark and had no shelves. With the help of her sister, she built enough shelves to hold her canned products, painted them white, and then whitewashed the walls of and ceiling.

Clairemont.—Sixty-four Kent county school children from 43 homes are carrying carefully planned school lunches in adequate lunch kits as a result of the school lunch demonstration given to the nine home demonstration clubs of the county, according to Miss Frances Wilroy, home demonstration agent. Nine hundred containers of food have been especially prepared by these mothers for lunch purposes. These include relishes, luncheon meats, and sweets. During the cold months, the children take a hot beverage or soup each day in a thermos bottle.

Quitman.—From a demonstration plot in which he planted alternately a row of corn and a row of peas this year, J. J. Westmoreland of the Clover Hill community in Wood county cut 7½ tons of pea-vine hay, the estimated value of which is $150, he told James W. McCown, farm demonstration agent. Due to the drought, his corn was almost a complete failure, but the fall rains came in time spite of the drought, Mr. Westmoreland has feed for his livestock.

Beaumont.—Native grasses were made to pay a dividend on uncultivated areas on the farm of Charles Tubre of Jef-erson county, according to the report of J. F. Combs, farm demonstration agent. Mr. Tubre has some idle land that was producing an excellent growth of Vasey grass, so he purchased a new mower and a baling machine and saved 2500 bales of hay off this acreage. The hay not only supplied him with his home needs but the surplus paid for his machinery and left an extra profit.

THE FAILURE of the President and labor leaders to agree upon a minimum wage scale for relief workers has resulted in the giant $4,880,000,000 relief bill being returned to the Senate Appropriations Committee.

Speaker Joe Byrnes gave the administration encouragement when he asserted that the House would veto the prevailing wage amendment adopted by the Senate.

It seems almost certain that the $880,000,000 for relief will be passed as a separate bill to bolster depleted relief funds.

UNITED STATES District Judge W. I. Grubb of Birmingham, Alabama, has restrained the government from disposing surplus power generated at the hydroelectric plants on the Tennessee River.

This may mean a permanent halt in President Roosevelt's plans to sell power from the Muscle Shoals power plant to farmers and municipalities in the Tennessee Valley.

As a result of Russia's alarming accusation that Germany is preparing to seize territory in Central and Eastern Europe, Sir John Simon, British Foreign Secretary, will go to Berlin and possibly Moscow to patch up differences between Germany and Russia.

united attempt to seize the Ukraine region from Russia.

Germany has no intention of signing the Eastern Locarno pact, nor has Poland. Russia does not want the British to allow Hitler to reject the Locarno pact, which would guarantee the territorial integrity of Russia, in return for signing the air pact.

THE VALLEY

By Mrs. L. Young

The valley grows dark when the sun sinks low And my courage do sometimes fail

When I catch a glimpse of the lepth below Should I slip from the narrow trail.

Oh, what shall I do when the sun goes down And I walk the valley alone, Can I find my way to the water of life?

That flows out from the great white throne.

When the rived of death is at my feet And the billows are tossing high, Can I ride the waves to the golden streets

And the pearly gates of the sky?

But lo, here are footprints in the sand And there's blood on the thorns I see I have found the way for here is the cross Of the man of Galilee.

Now when I come to the waters cold I shall cry with my dying breath, Please give me Lord Jesus your hand to hold While I cross the river of death.

Then his voice will come to me out of the gloom Saying "Fear not my child 'tis I" And his own hand will lead me through the tomb To the pearly gates of the sky.

OBITUARY

Mrs. William Nile Elam died from heart attack Wednesday evening at 11:50 p. m. February 13, at the family home in the Liberty community where she made her home for over fifty years.

Mrs. Elam was born in Newberry, New York, September 27, 1854, and at the age of sixteen she moved with her parents to The Grove. She was married to William Nile Elam, Sr. September 17, 1877 and to that union was born eight children, six of whom survive her.

Mrs. Elam united with the Methodist church at the age of sixteen and always faithful to the church and its cause and was foremost in all its worthy ventures. She was a noble christian character and a devoted wife and mother.

She is survived by her husband and six children. They are: Mrs. Ida Peck, Stephenville; Prof. W. N. Elam, Taylor; Eugene, Emmett, Miss Grace Elam and Mrs. Bessie Brown, all of Liberty.

It's a Great Life If— Imagine how the poor editor felt after receiving the following letter:

"Please send me a few copies of the paper containing the obituary of my aunt. Also, publish the enclosed clipping of the marriage of my niece who lives in Uerham. And I wish you would mention in the local column or classified, if it don't cost anything, that I have two bull calves for sale. As my subscription is out please stop the paper as times are too hard to waste money on newspapers." Well, anyhow he was polite to start with a "please."—Frazee (Minn.) Press.

THE STORY OF CANCER CONTROL

Written Especially for Women, with Special Emphasis on Preventability and Cure.

WHAT CANCER IS NOT

Common misunderstandings concerning cancer are one of the great handicaps in its conquest.

Many uninformed persons believe that cancer is contagious. There is no evidence that cancer is passed from one person to another by contact. In experimental animals it is even possible to allow young to suckle a female actually possessing a cancer of the breast. Even with close contact the young animals do not catch the disease. CANCER IS NOT CONTAGIOUS.

At intervals the Press carries rumors that the "germ" causing cancer has been discovered. Each of these claims eventually collapses as it is carefully and critically scrutinized. There is no evidence that cancer is a germ-borne disease. It is an actual part of the individual in which it is growing. CANCER IS NOT INFECTIOUS like tuberculosis, malaria and typhoid fever.

Many people speak of cancer as though it were a single, simple disease. It is not. Cancer is a term popularly used to describe a whole group of widely diverse conditions. The fact that these various conditions possess in common the quality of uncontrolled tissue growth and the power to invade, like advancing soldiers, the surrounding healthy tissue, have made a common descriptive term convenient. Cancer is such a term.

Many people, among them unfortunately certain of the medical profession, believe that all cancer is incurable.

Cancerous conditions reported early and treated adequately with x-rays, radium or surgery are OFTEN CURED. Tens of thousands of our people are alive and happy today cured of cancer because of their own intelligence and of surgical and medical skill. There could be many more such cures if all cases of suspected cancer were reported at once. In all diseases delay is dangerous and the chances of cure increase with earlier recognition of the presence of the ailment. This is abundantly true of cancer. In that disease it is fair to say that delay is not only dangerous but, if sufficiently extensive, is inevitably fatal.

The fact that cancer is actually a part of the individual himself makes its early stages painless and almost diabolically disarming to the over optimistic or procrastinating, easy going and nappy-go-lucky individual. Safety from cancer depends upon eternal watchfulness and immediate action in event that a suspicious situation arises.

Hornets Champions of County
By defeating the Pearl five Saturday afternoon at 3:00 by a narrow margin of 26-24, the Turnersville High quint met the Gatesville Hornets in the gym at eight o'clock, Saturday night.

The game started with both teams fighting furiously, but the Hornets took an early lead and the half ended 16-7. Coming back in the second half, the lads from Turnersville made the going tough for the locals and at one time they were trailing Gatesville by only 4 points, but the combination of Ward and McLarty got to hustling and the game ended with Gatesville the winner, 29-23. Perry towering Hornet center, turned in a hard fought game.

Jack Hestilow.

Candy Sales
Approximately $300 worth of goods, including candy and soda water, has been sold by the home economics department at the basket ball games in the gymnasium, since the opening of the season. Profits will be used for buying furnishings for the department.

Officials Hope to Tell the President Birthday Ball Result Within Month

NEW YORK (Special)—Within the next month or six weeks officials of the Birthday Ball for the President hope to tell President Roosevelt and the 4,000,000 Americans who attended 7,600 birthday parties in more than 4,000 cities and towns how much their 1935 contributions have aided the war against infantile paralysis.

The thrill, the drama and the spectacle of simultaneously staging the world's greatest social event under 7,600 roofs is history. To the heads of organized labor, fraternal, social, civic and industrial groups which cooperated in the work of raising funds to aid America's 200,000 sufferers from infantile paralysis, the national committee has sent its thanks. But there remains to face Col. Henry L. Doherty, national chairman, and others who have contributed their time and talent, one of the most staggering accounting jobs in modern business annals. Although a full staff of certified public accountants is working overtime under Keith Morgan, national treasurer, to correlate reports as fast as they come in from the 4,000 local treasurers, no final announcement can be made within a month to six weeks, Col. Doherty said.

Unofficial reports already received by Col. Carl Byoir, who handled the enormous task of organizing the country to make the Birthday Balls possible, show that record-breaking events were held in New York, Chicago, Washington, Denver, Kansas City, Miami, Boston, Atlanta, Columbus and Cleveland, as well as in scores of other population centers and thousands of smaller communities.

Involved in the final accounting this year is the fact that 70 cents of every dollar raised by the birthday parties is to be retained by the communities for local rehabilitation, the other 30 per cent to go to the President's Birthday Ball Commission for Infantile Paralysis Research.

Brownsville.—A net profit of $2.42 per hen was made on his flock of 178 white leghorn hens during 1934 by Clarence Thieme age 18, a 4-H club member of Cameron county. During the 12 months the hens averaged 170 eggs each which is almost double the State average of 96 eggs per hen. Young Thieme started his demonstration in November 1933 with 192 white leghorn hens and 13 roosters. At that time he was feeding shorts, yellow dent corn and milk, and he continued feeding this ration until the first of March. He then started feeding shorts and laying mash, half and half. He also fed the mash moistened with milk. He had an abundance of green feed for his flock in the winter as well as in the summer. The flock has a citrus orchard for shade in the summer, and in the winter this orchard is planted to oats for green feed. Clarence's record show a net profit of $431.70.

Woman's Advertisement for Toe Gets 900 Replies

Paris.—The power of advertising never ceases. The most recent proof being the case of a pretty French woman who found herself in need of a toe.

Appealing to Dr. Frances Du-bois to find a new toe to re-place one in process of being amputated the doctor resorted to an advertisement in a newspaper.

More than 900 offers were immediately received, a selection being made from a woman who had six on one foot.

The toe was grafted on the doctor's patient to take the place of one just amputated and both women are happy to have normal feet again. This is the only case on record where an individual has used advertisement to improve feet make-up.—Publishers Auxiliary.
