Sheriff Has Chat With News Representative To Help Citizens

Yesterday a News hound went in a huddle with Sheriff Joe White and got some inside dope that might be of interest to local citizens. He stated that citizens take a big risk in harboring, manufacturing or transporting liquors in an effort to avoid the federal tax. Mr. White stated that records in the courthouse show that 75 per cent of all trouble is caused from liquor.

Some people do not realize that if a man is caught operating a still on his farm, the federal government can sell his farm. If he is caught with liquor in his car, the government can take the car as well as the man.

Sheriff White stated that the past Saturday night was the quietest he has had in some time.

Last Saturday he picked up a man with a quantity of whisky in his car turning him over to federal authorities. Mr. White said that he has heard some comment on the matter of turning men over to the federal government who could be tried in the county although they were caught breaking the federal laws. Mr. White gave the News' reporter a brief but definite answer and said "I save the county money by doing this, I am working for the county, and the federal government gets results." If Mr. White were to have the men tried in the county he could collect from the state money on every mile he drives while capturing the men.

Saturday night a report came to Sheriff White that a man lay in the middle of the road on highway No. 7, near Joe Blankenship's place. Upon receiving the call he immediately went to the place described and searched for the man, but was unable to locate him. Upon arriving in town he received another call to the effect that the man was seen lying near the edge of the road. He and four other citizens hurried to the place with a flash light in an effort to locate the man but their efforts were in vain.

The man could have been hit by a hit-and-run driver or maybe drunk, which is not known, but to say the least he hasn't been heard from since.

Charles Mounce Elected President of R. Table

At the regular stated meeting of the Round Table club, composed of young men of Gatesville, Charles P. Mounce, was elected president of the organization.

Besides the election of the president, other officers installed at this meeting were David Franks, vice-president; Sherrill Kendrick, secretary-treasurer; Johnnie Bradford, Sgt. at Arms, Mat Jones publicity director.

Orations by both incoming and outgoing officers were dispensed with due to other pressing matters.

SPEAKER TO 7TH GRADS

Mr. J. W. O'Bannion, head supervisor of the State Dept. of Education, will speak at the County-wide seventh grade graduation exercises tonight at the high school gym.

Mrs. B. E. McCoy and daughter, Rozella, visited Huron McCoy last week end in Dallas, who has been connected with the Commercial Standard Ins. Co., but has recently accepted a position with the Pillsbury Flour Mill Co. in Dallas.

The man could have been hit by a hit-and-run driver or maybe drunk, which is not known, but to say the least he hasn't been heard from since.

Commencement Programs Many County Schools in Progress This Week End

The big moment is upon us! That's what hundreds of school mates are saying at this time of year, and especially this week, since approximately 27 schools are having or starting graduation exercises, usually beginning with the Baccalaureate addresses this Sunday, May 5, and running, some of them thru the whole of this coming week with plays, Tom Thumb Weddings recitals, school programs, Commencement exercises and many other entertaining events usual at school closings.

These are the schools closing within the next week: Springtown, Pearl, Mountain, Bigham, Harmon, White Hall, Oakton, Schley, Flint Creek, The Grove, New Olive, Hubbard, Coryell Church, Mound, Antelope, Murrell, Whitley Creek, Turnover, Enterprise, Flat, Peabody, Ireland, Maple, Plainview and Jonesboro.

Programs that have been sent in are Ewing, with Baccalaureate Service, by Rev. Geo. Siler, May 5, Tuesday evening, May 7, Intermediate and Primary program; Wednesday evening, May 8, seventh grade graduation and 9th grade play; Thursday evening, May 9, senior play; Friday evening, May 10, Commencement Exercises with Rev. C. A. Morton speaker. Saturday, picnic, ball games, music, etc., Saturday evening, May 11, ex-student's play.

Tonight May 3, Turnersville High School Senior Class will present their play "Civil Service" in the auditorium.

Closing exercises of the Ireland schools begin Sunday night, May 5 at 8 o'clock, with Rev. C. F. Bell, pastor of the Methodist Church delivering the Baccalaureate Sermon. E. M. Brooks, Deputy State Superintendent, will deliver the Commencement address, Wednesday night, May 8. Interesting programs will be furnished Friday night May 10 by the various rooms of the school. Another program is scheduled for Saturday morning May 11, following which athletics and other events will be had in the afternoon. Climaxing the closing exercises will be the Senior play, Saturday night.

White Hall's seniors and other students begin their exercises with attractions for three nights, ending May 8 with the commencement exercises.

Cast for the Flat School senior play, "The Night Cry," May 10, includes Annie Mae Taylor, Mahdeen Lockaby, Lee Ingram, June Webb, Elvin Wolff, Loran Brazzil, Aaron Palmer, Mozell Hamilton, Beulah Hardin and J. W. Palmer, all seniors of the Flat high school. Other exercises of this school were announced last Tuesday.

Since we have no reports from the other schools, we don't have the programs, but you may be sure there will be a number of very interesting programs at a large number of schools for the coming week.

AAA CONTRACT SIGNERS WILL DISCUSS FARMERS SPECIAL TRIP TO WASHINGTON, D. C. COUNTY AGENT WILL PRESIDE; FARMERS WILL SPEAK.

As most farmers know special interests in the cotton industry are working to defeat and jeopardize the first real protection the farmers have ever had thru Government Leadership.

Farmers and friends of AAA are called to arms! The fight is on at Washington, D. C. Farmers, if they do think the AAA Program has helped, must make a stand on the question of future course of Agriculture. Farmers stand the chance of losing the present businesslike plan of protection to farmers by benefits from the processing taxes, unless something is done. The manufacturer has long been enjoying the protection of certain tariffs. The farmers, who number 30,000,000 or one fourth of the total population do not ask for one fourth of natural income which would be 12 billion dollars but they do ask for a fair deal. That "fair deal," as the AAA maintains is parity which means the same buying power as they enjoyed in the "good ole days 1909 to 1914."

Will the farmers lose all gained thus far because they are lukewarm, indifferent and unorganized? We believe not! We believe they will heed the call to arms. Surly 85 per cent of the farmers favor the continuation of past protections and benefits strong enough to speak in no unmistakable terms.

The trip to Washington, D. C. of probably over 500 farmers from Texas, which date is May 12th to 17th will have representative farmers from every county. Coryell county cannot afford to be found lacking or lagging. Too many benefits have come home to us. The purpose, therefore, of the county wide mass meeting, which is called Saturday, May 4th, 2 p. m. at the Court House, is to discuss the farmers AAA program, present and future, to answer questions, to give information on Coryell County progress on 1935 AAA programs, and to select delegates and plan definitely to send at least 3 or better 6 farmers from Coryell county on the "Farmers' Special to Washington." These farmers will thank the officials for past cooperation and ask for continued benefits on the same sound basis as before. The entire trip will be less than $100.00 for each farmer, and is a business, not a pleasure trip. This will not be a "Cox's Army," but a well organized group of dirt farmers.

All committeemen on cotton, wheat and corn-hog programs are urged to attend and all AA A cooperators who care enough for the program and can do so are urged to be at the meeting. Farmers will do the talking. The importance of this problem cannot be stressed too much. A good turn out of Coryell County farmers is expected. The way to have the

NATIONAL BABY WEEK

It's National Baby Week. Here in Coryell County, as elsewhere, we take off our hats to the "pretty babies," the wee tots.

They are the future of our nation, state, county, city and homes. Their ideas are not going to coincide with ours in scarcely any way. They are growing up under a different environment to what we are accustomed. Our forefathers will think they are radical. They're not; they simply are different because they have nothing in common with our forebearers.

Not being used to ox carts, horses and many of the older things we have been accustomed to, these babes, with their automobiles, radios, air conditioned homes and all of the new and newest, certainly can not be expected to think at the same rate, or rather same slow speed that we are accustomed. They'll mature in a hurry, get considerably more done and in general live a faster life than those of us who came before.

However, these "Da Da" live and thrive, all of us who have any interest in the future, will certainly be for them if we don't understand them and can't see why they do some things. It is a sign of the changing an ever colorful times, that we don't understand youth (which we never did and never will) that they are thought all bad, are going to the dogs and all sort of rot.

So to the future generation, the youngster, we salute you, and even tho we don't understand all your actions, we still believe in you!

AMERICAN LEGION TO FIGHT ACCIDENTS

The highway safety problem took a long step toward solution lately with the announcement that the American Legion is to carry on an aggressive, organized program in the interest of automobile accident prevention. The program is detailed in a booklet jointly published by the Legion and the National Bureau of Casualty and Surety Underwriters.

Under the suggested plan, the safety program will be handled by the Legion's Americism Commission. Working under it will be State Traffic Committees, composed of representatives from each district. These committees in each state will maintain contact with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, the State Motor Vehicle Commissioner, the State Highway Patrol and the Legislature.

Next there will be district safety committees, composed of a representative from each county in the district. These will hold meetings with county safety committees, to be composed of a representative of each local post in the county. The representative if each local post will work with local police, schools, city councils and engineering departments. All of the committees will cooperate with automobile clubs, insurance companies, newspapers, safety associations and similar organizations.

Workers in the cause of safety believe that the Legion can be of tremendous aid in reducing the inexcusable accident toll—a toll which reached 35,000 people killed on streets and highways last year. The Legion is to be complimented on accepting this arduous duty—and the result will be happier and safer living for the people of the country.

THE FUTURE OF COPPER

A writer in the Annalist forecasts that copper prices will remain at about the present levels for the next decade. He believes there is little chance for a substantial rise—and that it should be possible to prevent a decline. He adds that low-cost, efficiently operated copper mines will be able to earn a reasonable profit in spite of prices which are comparatively low.

World Comment By JOE BURNS

The response to President Roosevelt's speech of last Sunday night was gratifying to Washington Democratic circles and instilled new courage in those seeking to return Mr. Roosevelt to the White House in 1936.

The Republicans, on the other hand, are for the first time since 1932 manifesting some signs of life and a semblance of organization. Middle West and New England Republicans are planning meetings to rehabilitate the party organization in their respective sections and to decide upon what issues opposition to the New Deal should be based.

Third party movements in 1936 have been predicted and discussed for some time, but none of the independent groups have organized yet. The success of the Roosevelt recovery program and the wise spending of the four billion dollar work fund during the coming two years will determine whether there will be a third party in the 1936 election. The Huey Longs and Upton Sinclairs with their Utopian plans will sink into local obscurity with the coming of prosperity in its true form.

The Longs, Coughlins, and Sinclairs have laid a foundation for a strong third party that could challenge Mr. Roosevelt's re-election to a second term in 1936, but the trouble lies in the fact that these elements could not united. Perhaps Senator Long is the greatest single menace to the Administration at the present. Father Coughlin (pro. Cog'lin) is stronger nationally than Senator Long, although relatively unknown in the South, but the priest has shown little inclination to break with the Administration. It would be an impossibility to unite the Long Coughlin factions, as you know. Father Coughlin does not wish to become subservient to Senator Long in any movement that may be launched and therefore will refrain from joining hands with the Kingfish.

The 10-odd independent Republicans rendered Mr. Roosevelt valuable help in the 1932 election. The Democrats can count upon the undivided support of this group at the next election, with the possible exception of Senator Cutting of New Mexico, Washington assures us. Norris, Johnson, La Follette, and other have not broken with the Administration, generally speaking, although Nye (Rep.) of North Dakota recently said he would prefer to vote for President Roosevelt in 1936, if the Republicans select "a Hoover, a Mills, a Fletcher, or anyone of that type." He added that he might vote for Senator Vandenberg, (Rep.) of Michigan in preference to Roosevelt. Vandenberg, incidentally, seems to be the strongest potential G. O. P. candidate at present. Although Nye did not join the Roosevelt forces two years ago, his support of Mr. Roosevelt in 1936 would be valuable in the Middle West agricultural sections where he is extremely popular.

Back from Georgia where Gov. Eugene Talmadge had criticised the New Deal Senator George (Dem.) of Georgia predicted that the people of his state would overwhelmingly endorse President Roosevelt in 1936. Senator Long has boasted that he could carry the entire South on a third party ticket, but Huey's strength in the South does not compare with Mr. Roosevelt's now, although in 1936 the Kingfish might succeed in carrying away Mississippi and Arkansas with Louisiana from the Democratic ranks. Upton Sinclair, the "End Poverty in California" Socialist-Democrat who was defeated for the governorship of California in 1934, does not want to create a new party but to "end poverty in the nation" by capturing control of the Democratic party. The radical Farmers' Holiday Association, led by Milo Reno, of Iowa and other Middle Western states wants to form a strong agrarian third party movement, independent of either of the old regular parties. All in all, it does not seem that a third party today could offer any effective opposition to the re-election of Mr. Roosevelt. The danger lies in the fact that a third party might take away enough votes from the Democratic column to slip in a G. O. P. candidate, as pointed out before in this column.

COOPER AND STEN IN "WEDDING NIGHT"

Tall, lanky Gary Cooper and blonde, exotic Anna Sten are paired for the first time as a new romantic team in "The Wedding Night," which comes to the Palace Theatre, Saturday night at 10:30, also showing Sunday and Monday. It is a Samuel Goldwyn production, directed by King Vidor, and features Ralph Bellamy, Helen Vinson and Siegfried Rumann. "The Wedding Night" is a dramatic romance in which Miss Sten portrays a modern American girl rebelling against the dictates and restraints of tradition, and Gary Cooper appears as a successful, sophisticated New York author with whom she falls in love.

Miss Sten's part is in sharp contrast to her previous performances in "Nana" and "We Live Again." In the first, she was an exotic, languorous woman of Paris, and in the second a simple peasant of Russia. In "The Wedding Night," she emerges thoroughly American in dress, talk and actions.

The film marks another milestone in the career of Cooper. Nine years ago, Goldwyn gave the tall, broad shouldered young cowboy his first important part in a motion picture, the role of Abe Lee in "The Winning of Barbara Worth," and it was the beginning of Cooper's long string of successes. His salary then was $75 a week; it was rumored to be about 100 times that in "The Wedding Night."

Edwin Knoff wrote the original story of "The Wedding Night," and Edith Fitzgerald made the screen adaptation.

DUSTING COVERS — OF — TEXAS HISTORY

Calling a halt to his army of Mexican soldiers, General Filisola, who had become commander after Santa's capture, read the dispatch he had just received from his government. He hesitated after reading the message, called together his officers and after a short conference, gave the order to march on. Trudging over the sandy road toward Matamoras, Filisola pondered over the order he had refused to obey. "At all costs," the order had read, "retain San Antonio." San Antonio's skyline of church steeples had long since disappeared. Still Filisola did not turn back when he was informed that four thousand men were on the way to reinforce his army. General Urrea was made commander when Filisola disregarded orders, but since Urrea was in Matamoras, General Andrade was given command. Contrary to Urrea's expectations, Andrade also refused to turn back the army.

By the end of July every Mexican soldier had crossed the border. Mexico had no intentions of ending the war, it seemed. The government disregarded the Treaty of Velasco which stated specifically that Mexico should recognize the independence of Texas. President Houston ignored interference with Texas sea commerce, wisely refusing to begin another quarrel with the neighboring government.

Houston had been elected President of the Republic at a general election held the first Monday in September, 1836. Stephen F. Austin and Henry Smith, other candidates, were appointed Secretary of State and Secretary of Treasury respectively. Congress met the first Monday in October to discuss amendments to the constitution, and the problem of annexation. President David G. Burnet made his address to Congress, stressing chiefly the trials of the ad interim government, reminding the people that errors in judgment were inevitable when a new government was trying to operate in a time of war.

The constitution was ratified and the power of amendment vetoed. The task of getting a new and weak Republic on its feet was that of Houston. If his State were to become a great one, attention must be turned to public schools and internal improvements. An adequate financial system should be established. There was no systematic postal system; no good judicial system.

October 22, Sam Houston was inaugurated as the first regular President of Texas. Almost immediately the serious problems were considered. Before the new year came, significant laws and useful ones had been passed. A good beginning had been made in the upbuilding of the Commonwealth, which will celebrate its Centennial in 1936.

"LADDIE" COMES TO REGAL SCREEN SAT. NITE AT 10:30, SUN. & MON.

Gene Stratton-Porter's world famous story, "Laddie" comes to the screen of the Regal Theatre, as a motion picture production into the making of which has gone all the lavish and elaborate care and effort and expenditure that characterized RKO-Radio's "Little Women."

Entrancing entertainment is offered in what has been described as the best picture of American life since the Louisa May Alcott story set the world afire with enthusiastic praise. "Laddie," it is predicted, will repeat that triumphant acclaim that in the time became worldwide. For the same attention to casting, to direction, to every production value, was strictly ordered and given by the makers of the new film.

One of the most famous of American novelists, Mrs. Stratton-Porter's stories of life and love are still among the best-sellers. Of her entire list of novels, four are ranked among the ten best-sellers of the past 60 years, it is announced! and one of these four is "Laddie," for which book it is said has 40,000,000 readers throughout the world.

Newspaper to be Issued

Following a brief skit in chapel next Tuesday morning, the typewriting classes will release 150 copies of the "Black and Gold," a magazine covering all phases of school activities, and much of interest to students of GHS. While it will be neither a newspaper nor a literary production, it is recommended as good reading material for students and teachers. Those who will take part in the skit presenting this magazine to the student body are: Merle Hopson, Jacqueline West, Vivian Andrew, Mona Draper, Oraper Roe, Doris Lawrence, Margaret Gilder, Beverly Chamlee, Harold Goolsby, Ray Byrom, Joe Hal English, Norman Painter and James Webb.

Joyce Baker Representative

By Lena Mae McCoy
The members of the Gatesville High School student body have chosen Miss Joyce Baker as representative to the Killeen "Kangaroo" celebration this month. Joyce will have the privilege of choosing her escort. At the celebration they will be presented as the Duke and Duchess of Gatesville High School.

Killeen High School is honoring its football team, the "Kangaroos," of last season. A large number of Central Texas High Schools will be represented there.

Senior Girls Honored

By Kathleen Adams
A tea was enjoyed by the girls of the 1935 Senior Class Thursday evening, April 25, from six to eight o'clock in the gymnasium. It was given in the sewing room of the new Home Economics Department. The room was very beautifully and effectively transformed into a lawn garden. Very appropriate favors, small dolls dressed in caps and gowns, were presented to those who attended.

The girls enjoyed the tea very much and wish to express their appreciation to Mrs. Pinkney and her helpers in the foods classes for this entertaining and enjoyable event.

Hornet Sport Review

By Jack Hestilow
Spring football training will be about over, another week—a game and that's all the grid-iron practice until next September. The fellows go down every afternoon feeling fine, but after a couple of hours strenuous drilling they're tired as a Boy Scout after a 10 mile hike. Ewing and Baldrige will have them in shape, even if they are rather diminutive.

Basketball sweaters were presented to 18 lettermen by coaches Grantham and Ewing, who also received sweaters. The players certainly deserved them and here's hoping that Gatesville will have as good a team next year as the one the past year.

Cafeteria to Close

By Jack Hestilow
Since January 8 the High School cafeteria has been in operation under the supervision of Mr. Estelle Cantrell. This establishment, which is an asset to the school, will close the last day of this school term and all the money cleared from this will help pay for the furniture in the Home Economics department of the new gymnasium.

The cafeteria will probably be opened next semester.

Teams Receive Awards

By Jack Hestilow
Tuesday, April 30, at the activity period the boys and girls of the Gatesville High School basketball teams received sweaters. The boys receiving awards were Seth McLarty (Captain), Joe Powell, Hazen Ward, Herbert Turner, Clyde Perry, R. D. Myers, and Herbert Nance. Coach Maurice Ewing also received a sweater. The girls received sweaters were Rebecca Clmons, Winnie Belle Davis, Wanda Coward, Hazel Mayberry, Bessie Voss, Ometra Thetford, Winnie Fay Williams, Hazel Laxon, Quinevere Whisenhunt, and Alcenia Walsh. Miss Lois Grantham, coach of the girls' team, received a sweater also.

Tuesday Chapel Service

By Louise Mayes
Mr. E. D. Shelton, principal of the Elementary School, introduced the speaker of the morning, Reverend J. L. Hines, pastor of a Church of Christ in Dallas and boyhood companion of Mr. Shelton in Kentucky. Reverend Hines, after the introductory prayer by Shelton, gave a very interesting and educational talk on the Bible.

Band Attends Waco Meeting

By Ethel Diserens
The members of the Gatesville High School and Elementary School band enjoyed a day in Waco last Friday listening to a band contest. Thirty-five bands from towns in Central Texas entered the contest, not including the Gatesville band. In one room of Waco Hall the bands played selected numbers and in other rooms solos were played.

At noon the band went to Cameron Park and enjoyed a picnic lunch. In the afternoon the contest continued and more interesting numbers were heard. At three o'clock the group returned on one of the High School buses.

Assembly Program Friday

By Marjorie Ayres
On Friday, April 26, the Junior Dramatic Club presented a very interesting program. The sponsor of the club is Miss Virginia Worthy. The first number was a short comical play. The characters were: Annie Ruth Witt, Burl Davis, Josie Lee, Frances McCoy, Rosylene Anderson, Eloise Cook, Elwayne Newland, Nella Mae Colvin, Foster Hinson, Billie Kirby, Joe Ned Brown and J. Rufus Colgin.

The second number was a play entitled "Pocahontas". The play was acted in silence while Robert Thomas read the words of it. Captain John Smith was played by Jack Hestilow. Frances McCoy, Pocahontas, Patsy Olsen was the Wind; Pauline Smith the situation; Eloise Cook the curtain; Josie Lee, Annie Ruth Witt, Mary Post, and Rosylene Anderson were trees, and Foster Hinson played the part of "Chief Gunpowder."

Schools from several places in north Texas were represented at the meet and a student from Wichita Falls won first place. Lula Gene is to be congratulated for having brought credit to herself and to our school.

Assembly

The High School Choral Club, under the direction of Miss Halbrook, presented a very interesting program for the fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh grades in assembly last Friday. The program included three songs by the entire club, two songs by the girls of the club, duet by Helon Chamlee and Pearl Powell, and another duet by Belva McCoy and Merle Hobson. Everyone enjoyed the program very much.

The Bachelors up set the dope bucket Tuesday night, and defeated the Independent team 2-1. The Round Table crew had only nine men out, which was some improvement over the game previous to Tuesday night.

The Firemen nosed out the Oilers Tuesday night 20-1. Berry, new hurler for the Oilers, played fair ball, but did not receive sufficient support from his mates.

Tonight the Independent team is scheduled to play the Conoco club. This should prove a good game, the Independents having trouble getting their men out, and the Oilers are still fighting to win their first game. The Independent crew is doped to win, however, it will be no set-up.

The Bachelors and Firmen will play the second game tonight. The Firemen are still in their winning streak, and will probably lick the Bachelors again tonight.

The Oilers and Round Table Club did not play their game Wednesday night due to the fact that neither team had enough men out. I do not know when the game will be played, the two managers will have to see Brother McLean and he will set a date for the game.

Team	won	lost	per.
Firemen	8	1	.888
Round Table	5	3	.625

Rayford Meeks, Leonard Meeks and Louie Campbell are off on a fishing trip to the Colorado River near Goldthwaite this week.

County Baseball League Will Start Saturday; Schedule to be Made

The County Baseball League will open Saturday with twelve teams in the loop. A schedule has not been approved as yet but a schedule for games this week end is as follows:

Saturday, May 4

Pidcoke vs. Jonesboro at Jonesboro.

Turnersville vs. State Training School at the State Hill.

Ireland vs. Plainview at Plainview.

Sunday, May 5

Levita vs. Liberty at Liberty. Osage vs. Hubbard at Hubbard Mound vs. Purlmela at Purlmela.

Below are the by-laws drawn up by Kenneth Hedgpeth and Ted Harris and adopted by the Arbitrary Committee. Players as well as Managers are requested to read these by-laws, which will avoid much confusion while playing games.

The by-laws as submitted by the Arbitrary Committee of the County Baseball League are as follows:

I Organization:

The organization shall be composed of twelve teams, namely: Liberty, Levita, Purlmela, Plainview, Jonesboro, Ireland, State Training School, Hubbard, Mound, Ewing, Osage and Pidcoke.

The Executive power of the League shall lay in an arbitrary Committee composed of three members, namely: Virgil Lockhart, chairman; Frank Blair, and H. E. Drake.

II Division of League:

The League shall be divided into two divisions. First division composed of teams playing on Saturday and Second Division that of teams playing on Sunday.

The winner of the league pennant shall be the winner of a series of not more than five games and less than three games. The teams playing in this series shall be the team winning its respective division.

The time, number and place of games shall be decided by the Arbitrary Committee.

III Officials:

In all games, except in games of series, the officials shall be furnished by the teams playing. The home team shall furnish one, and the visiting team shall furnish one. The officials shall alternate in capacity at the end of each inning.

IV Players:

The players of each team shall be limited to sixteen players, same being entered on list to Arbitrary Committee by Wednesday, May 1.

No limit shall be made on securing players to enter on list, but these sixteen, or less, originally entered players shall be the only players to play in the league.

No player or players shall be transferred from one team to another without ruling of Arbitrary Committee. Nor shall he or they play on two teams in the league.

Less than sixteen players may be entered by a team, but this player list will be governed as if it were sixteen players—no additions will be allowed.

V Games:

Each team in the league shall play each other team in its division twice—one game on each team's field.

In case each team wants to play their game on neutral field, it shall be allowed, but both managers shall compromise.

Each game shall begin at 3 o'clock, and last through a legal game length as ruled by official rules.

The team starting at bat shall be the first listed on schedule as presented by Committee.

VI Postpones Games:

In case of a postponed game due to uncontrolled reasons—the game may be played during the following week if teams so desire. In case the teams are unable to reach a date, the Arbitrary Committee shall designate a time for game, and must be complied with or forfeiture.

VII Forfeiture:

If at time of game a team is not on field and additional thirty minutes shall be allowed. If at the expiration of thirty minutes the team has not appeared—a forfeited game shall be declared.

VIII Balls:

Each team shall furnish two new balls for each of the games played on its home field. All kinds of balls must be passed on by the Arbitrary Committee.

IX Notification of Game Results:

The manager of the team on whose field the game is played shall notify Ted Harris at the Coryell County News the result of said game.

Percentage for each team will be figured by Harris and same shall be the official decision.

X Playing Rules:

All playing rules shall be in accord to official baseball rule book.

XI Umpire's Decision Final:

No decision made by officials shall be questioned. Their decision is final.
