Hockley moved the "Twin Sisters" into line of defense. They (the cannon) were gifts from the people of Cincinnati to the cause of Texas.

All was set for the big battle. The band, minus any martial music, but feeling in the spirit of playing, piped forth with "Will you come to the Bower?" Over and over again they played as the last recruits were whipped into line, and all was arranged for the conflict.

General Houston looked at the sun. Then he looked at his timepiece. Four o'clock. With keen anticipation in his voice he gave the command, "Forward!" So eager were the men to begin fighting that it was all Houston could do to keep them from an immediate attack when they were hardly within shooting distance. Quite suddenly the Twin Sisters were wheeled around, and into the midst of the Mexican camp was poured a volley of cannon and gun shots. Immediately all was turmoil. Cries of pain, audible prayers, and wild screaming roused the Mexicans who had not seen the Texans coming.

Santa Anna, asleep in his tent, turned over and over. His fitful sleep was one of nightmares. He kept hearing his foes screaming "Remember the Alamo! Remember Goliad!" The cries seemed nearer. He fancied he could hear cannon shots. Then, springing from his cot, he was wide awake, and in a glance took in the situation. His dreams were realities. The Texans were in his camp! They were killing his men; they were shooting those who were trying to run away; they were yelling like fiends, stabbing, fighting, giving their hair-raising war cry.

Castrillon had tried to form a line of defense. He was killed at once. Santa Anna looked about in desperation. Juan Bringas, servant of his aide-de-camp, rushed up and pleaded with his master that he take his, Juan's, horse and escape. Without hesitation, he jumped on the horse's back, and fled toward Vince's Bridge, which the Texans had destroyed early in the day.

The Texans with fiery vengeance stabbed at random, crushed with glee, and killed men right and left. The slaughter was so terrific that in the half hour during which the battle was fought, 630 Mexicans were killed, and 208 were wounded. Only twelve Texans were killed, and forty wounded. Running over the boggy ground to escape, 730 Mexicans were rounded up and brought back prisoners. Some died in the mud and water of the San Jacinto.

The Lone Star flag that had waved so proudly over Goliad was to wave henceforth over the entire State. Texas was free; The battles were over! Life could begin anew, and the battlefields could be planted in corn, wheat, and oats.

All was well—except for the fact that Santa Anna had not been captured. By another sundown, he would be in the hands of the Texans.

One hundred years later Texans were to recall with humble gratitude this glorious victory by observing Texas' Centennial in 1936.

When your menu-list's gone fallow,
And you've thought till thin and fallow,
Burning tons of midnight fallow,
Here's your true friend—the marsh-mallow.

BY WAY OF A CHANGE
IF YOU ARE that rare bird, a home-maker who never gets stumped for something new in the way of desserts, this message is not for you. But if you ever wonder despairingly, "O dear, is there nothing different and easy, too?" then give heed.
The answer to your lament is not some strange new concoction requiring an afternoon of work and a lifetime of experience for its perfecting. It is, on the contrary, the whole list of old stand-bys—baked apples, rice pudding, bread pudding, and the rest—dressed up to look like new with that old childhood favorite, marshmallows.

Your family will think they are eating a brand-new dessert, though, when you serve bread pudding topped first with a layer of jam, then a layer of marshmallows, and lastly a sprinkling of coconut, the whole baked until delicately browned. A topping of marshmallows makes any baked pudding look and taste like something different, for that matter. Say it with chocolate pudding, custards, apple betty or any other baked dessert popular in your household.

Try marshmallow baked apple sometime. Core your apples and fill the holes with pieces of marshmallow—not too full, for this filling has puffy habits and will not shrink and run away like sugar fillings. Put bits of butter on the top and bake until soft with a little water, beating frequently. Just before the apples attain perfect tenderness, place a marshmallow on each one and brown it. Serve these either hot or cold, depending on whether you want your marshmallow puffy or chewy.

CAGNEY FILM ADDS TO GANGLAND PANIC

That Uncle Sam always gets his man when he goes after him has long been acknowledged by the underworld, which for years lived in mortal terror of the "G Men"—the term used to describe United States Federal agents.

For a few years before repeal, the crime mobs successfully defied the government, but within the past year a different story has been written in the front page head lines of the nation's newspapers.

Now, in the opinion of many authorities, First National Pictures has performed a patriotic service by showing how one branch of the government's law enforcement agencies will wipe out gangland through methods depicted in the latest James Cagney starring vehicle "G Men" which will open at the Regal Theatre on Saturday night at 10:30, also showing

Sunday and Monday. Thoroughly aroused by the challenge of the underworld, the Federal sleuths started out on a war of extermination—with results that are familiar to every newspaper reader.

Around these actual occurrences Gregory Rogers wrote a screen play, and the actor who rose to screen fame as Hollywood's most notorious bad man was selected to portray the G man who hunted down the Mad Dog of Gangland, and led the killer no jail could hold into a rendezvous with death.

"The 'G Man' may go anywhere he pleases, cross any state line and his assignment lasts indefinitely," Sherlock explained. "When he is given a job to run down a criminal—that's his job. He isn't called on to handle a dozen other assignments at the same time, as is the average city detective.

"Department of Justice men have only to call upon the police department or the sheriff's office or State Police anywhere for help or co-operation," Sherlock continued.

"Chief of all reasons for their success is that the Department of Justice knows no politics. When a 'G Man' makes a pinch, it sticks. No fixer or writ of habeas corpus can 'spring' the crook. Besides this, public opinion is behind him. He wars on kidnapers and gangsters, and the people know that they must crush crime."

Travel Economies Threatened By Upward Trend Of Taxation

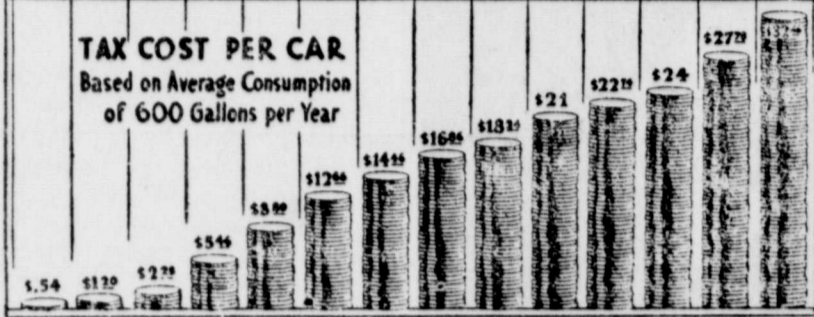

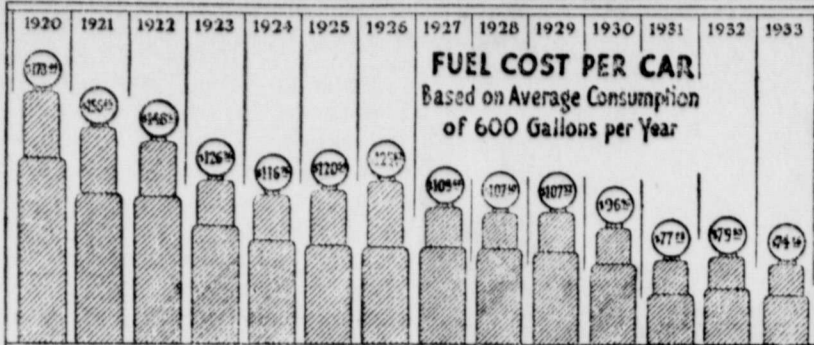

Chart shows how average motorist, consuming 600 gallons of motor fuel yearly in travelling the highways, pays less than half as much for the gasoline as he did in 1920, but 60 times as much in taxes!

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A recent survey of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads, revealing that the average motorist consumes 600 gallons of gasoline yearly, has led to the disclosure that fuel costs of about $15 a year are increased more than $32 by federal and state gasoline taxes!

Studies of fuel and tax costs, made by the American Petroleum Industries Committee, clearly show that since 1920 the average price of motor fuel has been reduced 60 per cent, while taxes on that fuel have increased about 6,000 per cent. In other words, taxation is tending to eliminate one of the greatest assets of highway travel, economy.

The studies show that in 1920 the average motorist paid $178.44 for the entire year's supply of gasoline. In 1933 the supply cost him only $74.46. However, while gasoline taxes cost him only 54¢ to the year 1920, in 1933 they cost him $32.46!

The findings are supported by a recent report of the Federal Trade Commission stating that:

"The combined rate of state and federal sales tax on gasoline, ranging from 3¢ per gallon in some states to 8¢ in others, amounts to an average of about 5.15¢ per gallon and costs the consumers of gasoline approximately $700,000,000 a year."

Federal and state levies upon gasoline now constitute an average sales tax of more than 40 per cent

The Scout's Trip

Preparations were being made for the annual hiking and camping trip of the Boy Scout troop. Food was the chief topic of discussion.

Some boys were worried about the amount they would have to carry, but the others had different ideas.

"We don't need to carry much," they said. "There are farms near camp and along the road we're taking."

"That's right, fresh vegetables and milk. Nothing better than that. The farmers have butter too, and we can get bread at the village store."

"What about the milk," asked one boy. "Will it be safe?"

"Sure it will," replied one who seemed to be posted. "Some of the farmers pasteurize their milk at the farm and the other farms are approved by the state inspectors."

"Wait until you see those dairy barns," added another, "they're as clean as a kitchen. And you won't find any diseased cows either. The state is very strict. You'll drink milk all right, a quart every day. That's what I'm going to do."

"Peas and string beans will be ready, and young carrots, lettuce, and tomatoes. Boy! I can taste them now. Berries for dessert. Some eggs from the farmers and some bacon and meat from the store. We're all set. Let's go!"

In his next article Dr. Ireland will discuss the problems of touring, especially when children are along.

DEPORTATION OF ALIENS

Congress, slow and cumbersome as usual, are finally working on one of the most important things we know of which will end the depression—Deportation of Aliens.

Details of the plan as outlined by Representative Martin Dies of Texas is as follows:

"First, it bars all immigration of pioneer immigrants who have no relations in this country.

Second, it makes mandatory the deportation of 3,500,000 aliens estimated of illegal entry.

"Third, it gives about 4,000,000 aliens legally in this country twelve months in which to become citizens or to go home.

"Fourth, all aliens must secure Labor Department permits to work, and permits would be issued only when employers show they can't find U. S. citizens to do the job.

"Fifth, it provides for gradual reunion of families not likely to become public charges when the economic situation is improved."

We've been, more or less, in contact with this situation, since we've seen aliens deported who have been in the States 20 or more years and have never taken out their first papers; other who have jumped ships in ports and attempted to make their homes here. Immigration-patrol inspectors are constantly on the watch for these people in ports, along the Mexican border and other places, but they slip through and are very hard to catch. When apprehended the government pays their expenses for the return trip to their home country.

Here, in America, the attitude has always been, and is now, but often erroneous, that if a person is in the country, he is as a matter of course, a citizen, and has a perfect right to be here. Many, many of these alien people are taking our jobs, and it sometimes seems they are preferred to our own, while we look in vain for work. Inland and in small towns this is not noticeable or even thought about, but in cities and seaport towns, there has always been considerable feeling against these people.

In countries like Germany, France and other western European countries it is impossible for Americans to work unless they have the right papers. Everyone carries his "papers" showing who he is, what his trade or profession is and other important information concerning himself. In this manner, the European does not have his foreign cousins taking his jobs while he has to go to the bread line, or worse. It's protection for their own citizens, and certainly should have long ago been that way in this country.

Even in England, some years ago, they had a campaign to "Buy British" which included employing British, and nationalism in nearly every country of the earth is spreading, and so here in America, why shouldn't we say "Buy American, Work American, and Sell American."

SAVING HARD-EARNED DOLLARS

An example of one of the multiple services a well-managed farm cooperative can render its members, is provided by the Shelby County Farm Bureau Service Company, through which members buy oil products collectively.

This cooperative, recognizing the advantages of paying cash for supplies, decided to eliminate the words "change it!" from its vocabulary. It obtained a $20,000 loan from the Omaha Bank for Cooperatives in order to take advantage of the discounts that accrue to cash purchasers. The interest cost of the loan is $600 for the first year, and it will diminish each year as principal is reduced.

By paying cash, the cooperatives will save $3.50 each on the 150 cars of fuel it will buy during the year—a total of $525.

The association has been paying 8 per cent interest on its preferred stock. It used its surplus to retire this, thus eliminating an additional $400 per year expense.

"SOAK THE RICH"—FDR ETHIOPIA AGAIN TENANT FARMER RELIEF UNCLE SAM'S DEFICIT

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT and Democratic congressional leaders have decided to push through the President's tax-the-rich program this session, which provides for a system of high inheritance taxes, for added taxes on high incomes and for a graduated corporation tax in place of the present flat tax of 13 and three quarters per cent.

Administration leaders of both Houses were called to the White House the first of the week and after a lengthy conference conferees Garner, Byrns and Robinson announced that the new tax levies would be attached to the House resolution extending $500,000,000 in "nuisance" taxes, now before the Senate.

The White House announcement followed a threat by twenty senators, headed by La Follette and Borah, to filibuster all administration measures unless the tax program was passed this session.

Senator Huey P. Long has pledged "every atom of support and strength" to Roosevelt if he will enact his "share-the-wealth" tax measure. Huey has his own share-the-wealth plan, by which a 1 per cent tax would be levied on fortunes of $1,000,000 graduated up to 99 per cent on more than $8,000,000. His pension plan would give about $30 to all over 60 years.

GREAT BRITAIN'S Minister for League of Nations Affairs, Anthony Eden, in Rome talking with Mussolini, has learned from Il Duce ("The Chief") that Italy wants a protectorate over Ethiopia (Abyssinia) and will demand that that nation be expelled from the League of Nations.

Informed quarters say Mussolini is determined to stand fast for a complete settlement of the African dispute, meaning a protectorate backed by military occupation.

Italy's demand for Ethiopia's expulsion from the League is based upon alleged violations of the conditions under which it was admitted, namely, abolition of slavery, delimitation of frontiers and extension of central authority to all parts of the Empire. Certainly Emperor Haile Selassie's failure to comply with the last named is not his fault. He simply has been unable to bring the unruly tribesman under his control. And they have been raiding Italian colonies and causing Haile trouble.

David Darrah, who was recently expelled from Italy as the correspondent of the Chicago Tribune because of the unpardonable offense of reporting the situation in Italy as he found it has given some interesting facts concerning the Italian dictator. Mr. Darrah has said, among other unprecedented things, that the tide of public favor, which has sustained Mussolini for so long, is turning against him. He said that feeling against the dictator is running high, that there have been anti-fascist demonstrations and that they have resulted in wholesale arrests.

Mr. Darrah also told the truth about the reaction at home to the Ethiopian adventure. He said that it was unpopular; that there was little sympathy in support of the aggressions against the black nation in Africa, even among Mussolini's closest adherents.

The Chicago Tribune correspondent has been sent out of the country, but before leaving, he succeeded in lifting the veil and showing a brief but illuminating glimpse backstage, behind the deceptive exterior which Il Duce presents to the outside world.

The Administration is continuing its program of helping the farmer, but this time its the TENANT FARMER that will be benefitted. With Administration support, the Bankhead bill was pushed through the Senate the first of the week by a vote of 45 to 32. The bill would set up a corporation with an initial capitalization of $50,000,000 of work relief funds and an eventual borrowing power of $1,000,000,000 to make loans to farmers, farm tenants and share-croppers to buy small farms. They would have up to sixty years to repay the loans at low interests rates.

It passed by the House and okayed by Mr. Roosevelt, many farmers now on relief rolls would have another opportunity to return to the land under this government purchase plan.

UNCLE SAM, closing his books on June 30, will find that outgo exceeded income by more than three billion dollars during the 1935 fiscal year. Each June 30 for five consecutive years he has had to dip into red ink as on this occasion. And again next year the Uncle will face an estimated deficit of $4,000,000,000, occasioned by the work-relief expenditures.

What of the future? Wants to know the taxpayer. Obviously the government cannot go on indefinitely spending several billions more than it takes in. It is the constant dependence upon the Federal government for relief that is the cause of the huge yearly deficits. Four billions will be used this fiscal year for indirect relief and $880,000,000 for direct relief; this means that revenues are covering the ordinary expenses of government and the deficit is occasioned by the relief burdens which the government has been carrying three years.

Relief of unemployment directly accounted for two billions in 1935, indirect relief through Public Works expenditures accounted for another billion or so, while relief to business men and bankers through the RFC added another $300,000,000.

The gross public debt on May 31 was $28,600,000,000. This time next year the debt will have risen to nearly $33,000,000,000.

The local Softball League has terminated. The Oilers and Independents managed by Truman Blanton and Archie Gartman, respectfully, disbanded Wednesday night when a quota of their men failed to show up for a game, which gave the Firemen this second division. The Firemen won the first division without much trouble.

It is thought by several members of the Executive Committee that the League will be continued after the CCC camp becomes located here.

All who have played or know the situation are of the opinion the league opened too early, and the writer agrees with them.

We still lack some reports on the County Baseball League.

however, we have two, Mound defeated Liberty at Mound last Sunday 7-5.

Hubbard defeated the Purmela aggregation 10-2.

There are very few teams in each division that have played the quota number of games, however, the team standing will appear in Tuesday's issue of the News with the exact number of games played and those that haven't been played.

Saturday: Pidcoke vs. State at State; Jonesboro vs. Turnersville at Turnersville; and Ireland vs. Plainview at Plainview.

Sunday: Liberty vs. Hubbard at Hubbard; Osage vs. Purmela at Purmela and Mound vs. Levita at Levita.

Several football fans have inquired as to how Gatesville will line-up with other teams in this district this year. We are a little in the dark on this question at present, however, we will give you our view on the situation from time to time as we become aware of facts about other teams in this district as well as the Hornets.

$3,000,000 BILL FOR TEXAS CENTENNIAL GOES TO PRESIDENT

The Texas Centennial resolution, engrossed and signed by Vice-President John N. Garner, was delivered to the White House Wednesday. The signature by President Roosevelt means final enactment. It creates a U. S. Commission to arrange and superintend Federal participation in the 1936 Centennial and authorizes $3,000,000 for that purpose.

Garner signed the bill Wednesday with four pens, handing one each to Senator Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally and Reps. Fritz G. Lanham of Fort Worth and Luther A. Johnson of Corsicana.

Fifty Million Dollar Program for Youth Begun by President

Washington, June 26.—A fifty million dollar program for training young people and supplying them with jobs was put under way today by President Roosevelt.

Officials estimated that the plan would take care of half a million young men and women between 16 and 25. Upward of the same number are to be helped by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

"The yield on the investment should be high," Roosevelt said in announcing the program.

The new plan was divided into four sections designed to: Give young persons work in private industry.

Train and retain them for private employment.

Allow them to finish high school and college.

Give them work relief on youth projects.

Miss Josephine Roche, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, and Aubrey Williams, assistant to Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins, were put in charge of the new program.

Miss Roche declined for the time being to amplify the presidential statement, but said that the program would get going very soon. Williams was out of the city.

The money for the work was allocated from the work relief fund.

In outlining the plan, the following rates of payment were set: $15 a month for youths on work relief; $6 a month for those in high school; $15 a month for those in college.
