Measuring of Cotton Acreage Well Under Way in Coryell Co.

Community Committeemen have been named as county compliance supervisors. Practically all non-contract signers cotton acreage has been measured and committeemen will begin measuring rented acreage and cotton acreage signers Monday, July 15. Farmers will cooperate in assisting each committeeman to measure the fields. This is necessary in order to receive the second rental checks due under the contract for 1935. Certain other information will be secured at the time of measuring in order to show that the contract signer has completely complied with the terms of the contract. There will be no exceptions allowed and each contract signer must fully comply with all terms of the contract rulings and regulations pursuant thereto, in order to keep the contract in good standing and for the payments to be made. Signers will designate rented acres on an average soil and according to the contract the crops on rented acreage must be used for home use. Contract signers and landlords must sign the compliance papers certifying that they have complied.

$8,000 Pooled Certificate Checks Here

All of the 2,000 pooled certificate books were sold except 31 per cent which will be returned for use in 1935 unless the producer wishes to place them in the special pool before July 20. Those who have not called for their checks are requested that if they wish to secure their checks Monday, July 15, that they wait until noon of next Monday to call for their checks will not be in the county agent's office Monday morning, July 15.

Soil Erosion Control Cooperators Are Asked to Sign Now

It is desirable to have all applications signed up with the county agent for the CCC Soil Erosion Control work prior to the camp's arrival so that the work might be grouped in districts. This seems to be a real opportunity for farmers to improve the value and productivity of their farms.

IT WASN'T THE HEAT, BUT A $250 GENERATOR OVERCHARGED

Tuesday morning, an over-charged generator used for welding broke the silence and its bottom when it exploded blowing pent up gas and slacked carbide all over the back end of "Fuzzy" Chamlee's garage.

There were no injuries, except "Fuzzy's" pocketbook and he says it will cost over three hundred to replace the damaged generator.

WE'VE GOT HEAT AS WELL AS ALL STATE NEWS THIS WEEK

We've tried to stay aloof from any reference to heat, but Old Sol finally got us and too, since every other paper in the state is talking, we must.

Official reports have it—hottest day and time 9:00 A. M. Tuesday, 102. Wednesday was reported 99 and Thursday 99. However, the Guaranty Thermometer, Thursday said 102.

BIG PAPA FOUND IN PLOWED FIELD

"Thar's rattlers in them Hills," believe you us!

While plowing last week for his brother, Cordie Whately, heard the rattling sound of a rattler, (which could very easily be called a death rattle,) and stopped his team.

Lady luck was certainly with him and the team he was driving, because he stopped his team and plow in such a way that the old boy couldn't move, rattle or bite.

Then, shaking in his boots, and with cold chills running up and down his spine, he managed to put "Big Papa" away in a nice way.

This rattler was of such size that he weighed it, and found that there were 79 pounds of rattler, carrying 14 rattlers. Just another one of the bumper crops being raised in Coryell county this year.

Authority for this story is our Pearl Correspondent, and he says "several good men of the Peabody community vouch for the above statement given by Mr. Whately." Wotta Snake!

Chairman of North and South Airline Highway Ass'n Calls Meeting

In a letter to Judge Robert Brown, L. Lambert Lain, chairman of the North and South Airline Highway Association which proposed highway runs from Fort Worth to a point on U. S. Highway No. 88, somewhere between Belton and Georgetown, calls a meeting of all towns represented at Cleburne Friday night, July 12, at 8:00 at the Chamber of Commerce in its new home at the American Legion Hall on West Chambers Street.

Mr. Lain asked local representatives to come prepared to give Secretary J. T. Webster, a fairly complete report as to number of relief roll clients in your county available for highway work.

"A hearing before the State Highway Commission on this project has been requested for next Monday or Tuesday. We shall expect a delegation from you city to attend the hearing, so please be prepared to tell us Friday night who these delegates will be," stated Lain's letter in part.

This is another movement, which sooner or later is going to culminate in some highways for this part of the state.

Grace Walker Winner Of National Honors in Good Writers Contest

Grace Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Walker and a sixth grader in the Gatesville Elementary School, has recently received a large bronze medal together with the notification that she was winner of third place in the United States in the Fifth National Good Writers Contest. Schools from all states were allowed to have as many entrants in the contest as they desired, and the winners were chosen from the thousands of specimens of writing which were entered. Grace has not only received a beautiful medal, but the American Penman, a national magazine, has requested her picture. The September issue of the magazine will include her picture and several photostatic copies of her writing.

It is a distinct honor to Grace and to Miss Ila Fae Selby, her writing teacher, that she was given the honor of being the best writer in Texas and the third best in the nation. Other good writers are also being trained as is shown by the fact that the following pupils were given honorable mention by the judges in the contest: Ruth Hanna, Helen Walley, Ernestine Chitwood, Marguerite Kelso, Lois Thomas, Ruth Bradford, Dorothy Jean Powell, Alma Louise Murray, Bonnie Nell Prewitt, and Weldon Campbell.

Little Theatre Will Present "Double Door" Thursday, July 25th.

It was announced yesterday that Thursday, July 25, has been set as the date for the Little Theatre production of "The Double Doors," a three act drama by Elizabeth McFadden. This play was an outstanding success on Broadway during the 1933-34 season, and it has proved a thriller wherever shown.

The play concerns itself with a battle for power in an old New York family which almost culminates in a murder. Rip Van Bret, (David Franks) scion of an old New York family, has, since the death of his father been under the autocratic rule of his spinster sister, Victoria Van Bret (Beverly Chamlee). Caroline Van Bret (Verona Franks) who has also slaved to the unswerving domination of the family by Victoria. The shrine of Victoria's life is the Van Bret family pride and wealth which she has worshipped unmolested until Rip decides to marry his pretty nurse, Anne Darrow (Elaine Cross) to whom Victoria refers as "that empty headed upper servant." This marriage which Rip insists on going through with, kindles in the heart of Victoria a deep and apparent hate for Anne Darrow—a hate which brings to the mind of Victoria, thoughts that are so black that they make even her shudder. Dr. Sully (Byron McClellan) a former lover of Anne, and Mortimer Neff (James Boyd) the Van Bret family lawyer, are much concerned about Rip and Anne trying to live in the Van Bret Mansion with Victoria—a house that proved to be both a shrine and a tomb. Their fears prove well founded when Victoria, by her hate and cunning causes the married pair to be miserable and almost causes a rift between them.

The play moves with a truly imposing power to a climax of attempted murder that finds every spectator tensely sitting on the edge of his chair, nervously awaiting the outcome.

Other characters are as follows:

Every, the Van Bret Housekeeper, Pauline Carner; Telson, the Butler, Earl Powell; Louise, the Maid, Ruth Raby Franks; William, Footman, Raymond Leonard; Mr. Chase, an agent of Tiffany, Bryan Arnold; Lambert, a Detective, Jack Wollard.

Louis Woodall is acting as Technical Director of the production.

IN MEMORY OF WALDENE DAVIS

Another life from this world has flown
To join her Maker and His angel band,
Oh, how we miss her in this earthly home,
But she has gained a far better one not made by hands,
A ray of sunshine from us was taken,
Like a rose bud she was sweet and fair,
But she has fallen asleep to soon awaken,
In the arms of her blessed

Saviour up there.
Her last earthly days were but suffering and pain.

Though she bore them with neither a murmur of sigh,
How great is her blessings in that home she has gained,

With our Maker, who keeps watch o'er us from the sky.
Her mother had died not long ago leaving father and children alone.

How lonely seemed the thoughts of life,

With this beloved one gone,
Now she has gone to join her dear mother,

Where there is never any anguish or care,

Again they have been reunited together,

As they tread the gold streets with Jesus up there.

Dear little loved one, how we miss you,

Though we know you are safe in that home above,

And we'll strive to meet you in that heavenly blue,

Where there is only, Peace, Happiness and Love.

—By Blanche Dossey.

WAGON WHEELS AND OTHERS

Early this morning, the rolling, chattering and hammering of "Wagon Wheels" of a thresher crew waked us. With a little pondering, we just thought, what a large part a little thing like a wheel plays in our lives in this 20th century.

First wheel we had any experience with was a "walker" or maybe before that a baby buggy or perambulator (english) next was probably "the little red wagon." Then the buggy or surrey. Then the clikety-clack of railroad wheels, an automobile, model T variety, and on thru a whole list of wheels, including roller skates, bicycles, and well we've been "Rolling along" on some sort of wheel nearly all our life.

People, all of us, today, are literally mounted on wheels. Nearly every implement or device we use now has some "wheeling principle". Seem's like now, the long idle "wheels of industry" are turning since threshers are busy and every factory and other business is moving more or less on wheels.

Then, finally, when we get too old to walk, the wheel chair gets us, and as a fade out, we're rolled into the funeral car, rolled out to the cemetery and rolled into the earth where it is hoped you'll R. I. P. (rest in peace) until the judgment day "rolls" around.

WEEDS

Another war is or should be on just now. The War Against Weeds. Right now, that's part of what is keeping the farming interests of this county out of Gatesville and the other nearby towns.

Following the spring clean up, here in town, we've overlooked one thing, that of cleaning off the weeds on vacant lots. On some of the more dangerous corners here in town we've noticed sunflowers, and other tall weeds that obscure the corners to the coming traffic, and are a positive menace. Who these lots belong to, we don't know, the whole thing is, they look bad, and this verdure, foliage or just plain weeds should be removed or cut.

You pass a nicely kept lawn, and the very next 50 or 100 feet is a perfectly marvelous weed patch that you can't even see over, not mentioning the danger. Besides, mosquitoes and other pests make their homes there, and come out to bother you at night.

Well, our suggestion is that these vacant lots need a "hair cut," and this is particularly a good time, since it is just about time for the heads to shatter and seed another bountiful crop of weeds for another year.

HE BARS DOLE TAKERS

The late J. Doak Roberts, long a canny owner and developer of professional ball clubs, said once that only in dire emergency would he obtain a player off a "tail-end" club. "They may look good in comparison," he argued, "but they lack the winning spirit." Similar psychology evidently motivates E. P. Halliburton, wealthy Oklahoman, who announces that he will hire for his various commercial enterprises no one who has accepted the dole.

Halliburton puts it this way: "There is not and never has been any excuse for the dole. Any man who wants to work can take the modern methods and earn for himself a better living than he could have done thirty years ago."

The Oklahoman says that the sooner industry decides not to employ persons who accept the dole, the sooner recovery will come. This substitutes the wish for the thought, of course. What he means is that if we terminate the dole, everybody will have to find work to live. Maybe that is a large blanket order but there it common sense in it. The fallacy is that there are no votes in it.

World Comment

By JOE
BURNS

Byron Utecht, in his "Between Sessions" column in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, reports some important political developments that have recently taken place in the State.

Austin political observers have attached considerable significance to two speeches made by Attorney General Bill McCraw. Utecht says, in which McCraw attacked Gov. Allred for permitting State Rangers to destroy costly furniture in raids upon saloons and gambling places and his advocacy of a State police force, and, at Dallas, telling oil men that the recent trips made to Washington by Allred and Railroad Commissioner, E. O. Thompson, to oppose federal control of oil were "nothing but political junketing trips."

It all hooks up, apparently, with reports in circulation for some months that Allred has his eye on Morris Sheppard's seat in the Senate, that Thompson is focusing his eye on the Governor's chair, that McCraw is ready to combat with him for the chair if things continue shaping up as at present. True, all these officials for public consumption say they have no present intention of running for anything but their jobs, which is good politics.

Utecht sees a possibility that McCraw will run for Governor even should Allred seek a second term, which would be poor politics.

The Governor's friends say he is watching the senatorial situation and would like to run, but is making no decision for the present, not until a complete sounding-out process is carried out, and this will take a few more months. In the meantime everyone is going to run for his present office until something happens to make conditions so they can seek a higher post.

As to Allred running for the United States Senate, well you cannot keep these politicians from guessing, talking and aiding up things in order to arrive at a total. They point out he discusses national issues to a large extent, including state rights, that he went to bat on this at Amarillo a month ago and brought forth a widespread supporting response from Texas citizens.

Many Texas officials and private citizens have been going to Washington in recent months and some of them have brought back word that Roosevelt has let it become known he wants Morris Sheppard back again. No official announcement to this effect has been made and you can expect none. If Roosevelt wants Sheppard, it will just drift down from Washington.

What a mix-up it would be if the senatorial race looked like this:

For U. S. Senator:
MORRIS SHEPPARD
JAMES V. ALLRED
JAMES E. FERGUSON

In the meantime, Coke R. Stevenson, Speaker of the House for two terms, and who is mentioned as a candidate for Governor, is branding calves, riding horseback and practicing law at Junction, unworried over any political situation.

A hearty "Amen" was discernable from a large audience at Belton last week when U. S. Representative Martin Dies of Orange, who earlier in the week had predicted the deaths of the AAA and Bankhead Act by a Supreme Court ruling, said: "I cannot accept the theory that American farm troubles are due to over-production. There is under-consumption. Of course little children have to go without milk and men and women have insufficient clothes. That is because they are unable to buy the things the farmers produce. But God never put too much of the good things on this earth."

But were the American people asked if thousands of sows and cattle should be killed, resulting in the present-day importation of thousands of tons of meat from Argentina, if millions of acres of land should be retired from cultivation while millions of Americans went hungry for lack of meat and cold for lack of cotton garments?

A. G. Gardiner, "England's Greatest Liberal Editor," discerns an effort on the part of Benito Mussolini to escape from a hopeless and dangerous internal situation in Italy by engaging in war with Ethiopia.

Recent reports truly indicate that the tide of public favor, which has sustained Mussolini so long, is turning against him. Italian youth has lost confidence in Mussolini, we learn. The country is helplessly sinking into a financial cataclysm. Reserves of wealth are gone and the Fascists are bleeding the country white with tremendous expenditures for war, corrupting it with monopolies, political prizes and preferences. Exports are decreasing continuously, the pressure of taxes is unbearable, the standard of living of all classes is worsening.

From this Il Duce is attempting to escape by opening an avenue in Ethiopia for Italian exports and giving Italy adequate oil and mineral deposits and unsettled land for Italian settlement.

Political writers agree that at the present the outstanding contenders for the 1936 G. O. P. presidential nomination are Senators Dickinson of Iowa, Vandenberg of Michigan, Frank Knox, Chicago publisher, and Governor Alfred Landon of Kansas. (See World Comment, June 18, for a complete discussion of G. O. P. presidential prospects.)

Dickinson stands out above the other two today. He is a vigorous New Deal opponent and would be the man to ruthlessly rake Roosevelt and his policies. Sen. Vandenberg, on the other hand, has pursued a compromising attitude toward the New Deal and is considered 50 per cent New Deal. Mr. Knox has not had to say aye or no on great public questions but has attacked Roosevelt thru the columns of his paper, the Chicago News. Gov. Landon disapproves of what he terms the "profligate and indiscriminate" spending of Roosevelt's Administration. And, it is notable that more and more the American public is disapproving of the spending spree of the New Deal that has been going on continuously for sixteen months.

WHEN everything you attempt is a burden—when you are nervous and irritable—at your wit's end—try this medicine. It may be just what you need for extra energy. Mrs. Charles L. Cadmus of Trenton, New Jersey, says, "After doing just a little work I had to lie down. My mother-in-law recommended the Vegetable Compound. I can see a wonderful change now."

The County Baseball League terminates this week end with games being played on Saturday and Sunday. In the Saturday division Jonesboro has the division cinched. In the Sunday division the winner is either Mound, Osage or Hubbard. Osage is one game behind Mound at present, however, they play Sunday, and should Osage defeat Mound, probably a series will have to be played. Osage was a couple of games behind Mound, but Liberty forfeited their game of June 16 to Osage. If Mound loses to Osage and Hubbard wins from Levita Sunday, Hubbard, Mound and Osage will be tied for top. One may readily see the Sunday division is "kinda" mixed up, and some good games are promised for Sunday.

The Arbitrary Committee of the Baseball organization is called to meet at the News office Saturday afternoon at three o'clock. All members of this committee are earnestly requested to be present.

Below are the Teams Standing in each division. If there are any errors contact us at once.

TEAM STANDING Saturday Division

Team	won	lost	per.
Jonesboro	6	1	.857
Turnersville	3	2	.600
Pidcoke	4	4	.500
State	4	4	.500
Ireland	1	3	.250
Plainview	0	4	.000

TEAM STANDING Sunday Division

Team	won	lost	per.
Mound	7	2	.777
Osage	6	3	.666
Hubbard	6	3	.666
Purmela	3	6	.333
Liberty	3	6	.333
Levita	2	7	.222

Saturday State vs. Pidcoke at Pidcoke; Plainview vs. Jonesboro at Jonesboro; and Turnersville plays Ireland at Ireland.

Sunday Purmela vs. Liberty at Liberty; Mound vs. Osage at Osage; and Levita vs. Hubbard at Hubbard.

This week end's game should be the tenth game for every team in each division, however, no team in the Saturday division has played its quota of games. The Sunday division teams will play their tenth game this week end.

The league, like any other organization, has had its ups and downs, but all in all the league has progressed, and has proved to a worthwhile organization. We will look forward to next year when we hope to conduct another such organization.

Ten or twelve local golfers will journey to Hico Sunday to compete in a tourney with Hamilton, Stephenville and Hico. The locals are endeavoring to improve their mark of the tourney held here recently, however, with Wisdom of Stephenville for superior to any local golfer, and the locals playing on a foreign course, they are apt to end up in the cellar.

INTEREST SHIFTED FROM PUBLIC ENEMIES TO PUBLIC HEROES

Atlantic City, July 9.—A new public attitude that should do much to aid the anti-crime crusade which the nation is conducting and uphold the interests of law enforcement is reflected in the new emphasis which the press and the screen are placing upon current crime problems, according to Carl E. Milliken, former Governor of Maine and Secretary of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc.

Public interest is shifting from the gun-toting desperado to the police and trained investigators who are cracking down one by one the aggregations of criminals operating in various parts of the country, he declared in an address here today at the annual meeting of the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

"The press and screen have made good," he said, "in their promise to co-operate to the utmost in focusing public attention upon the problems of crime detection and law enforcement. The apprehension of the criminal has come to have news value equal to the commission of the crime. And the public which admires true courage, has come to sense the vast differences between this quality, and the acts of desperation and false courage of the machine-gun gangster.

"We have passed a period," he pointed out, "when the criminal seemingly held the stage, when crime after crime was committed with apparent impunity to the offender—an impunity often due to lack of public cooperation with the enforcement of law and order. Today the news of a crime whets public expectations of the apprehension of the criminal or criminals, and the public heroes are those who untangle the tortuous skeins woven by the alleged master minds of crime and who destroy or deliver these criminals to justice, at the risk of their own lives.

"By bringing the achievements of the police and the federal crime detection agencies into sharp relief, the press and screen reflect and foster a renewed interest on the part of the public and especially the youth of the country in the heroes of the law. This should mean much to the maintenance of our national morale in dealing with the crime problem."

The country has become conscious, Mr. Milliken asserted, of the wide sweep taken by the anti-crime crusade and the continuing education necessary to meet the issue. "Due recognition at last has been given to the fact that the causes of crime are many and complex," he said, "criminals may be street-made, school-made, prison-made, or even home-made. Poverty and the consequences of poverty, poor home environment, disruption of family life, inadequate spiritual training, undirected street play, doting mothers, excessive use of alcoholic beverages, drugs, all these and many others are admitted to be important components of the crime problem. The mobilization of all existing community agencies towards effective crime prevention promises much in the interest of law enforcement in the United States."

Few rivers of the world have witnessed more momentous events than the Rhine.
