CCC Camp Construction Well Under Way; Three Buildings Up

LIEUT. LYON IN CHARGE OF ACTUAL WORK WITH LOCAL MEN

Gatesville and Coryell county's soil erosion camp is gradually taking shape with the erection of the pre-fabricated buildings under the direction of Lieutenant Lyon, who is the Company Commander of the new camp.

At this time three buildings are complete, by sixteen local workmen on the job, and these buildings include the hospital, headquarters and office quarters.

Floor work has also been completed on the recreation building and the foundation laid for the others.

Thirteen buildings will make up the camp as it will be when finished, and they will include those named and four barracks, quarters for technical service, mess hall and kitchen and others.

Personnel will consist of 200 enrollees, a commanding officer, educational adviser and other technicians. Completion of the camp is expected within the next three weeks. The company will move in in about a month, but Lieut. Lyon has not received orders as to whether the company will be local men or from other localities.

formed so well, the "beasts" voted unanimously to "buy the whistle." She was accompanied by Miss Jacqueline West, violinist. Miss Gambelin's numbers were "The Blue Danube Waltz" and "The Glow Worm."

Twenty Indictments By Grand Jury as They Complete Their Work

Finishing two weeks' work as grand jurors, one of the most unusual grand juries that has been named finished its work here, late yesterday afternoon. According to reports here, the jury finished with two men short. One was Fred Dewald who died suddenly at his home in Copperas Cove and the other was Evant Brooks of Evant, who was excused, at least for part of the session.

Only non-jury civil cases have thus far come before the court and only a few of those disposed of thus far, the following having been tried since the last report:

A. J. Blanchard et al vs. Mrs. P. A. Bridgewater et al., suit for portion of real estate; judgment granted according to the interest of parties concerned.

Neta Ayres vs. E. J. Ayres, suit for divorce and custody of children; judgment as prayed for by plaintiff.

Next week will be the first jury week of the term and the criminal docket will be called Monday morning and all cases set for trial and disposed of as rapidly as possible.

The following is the report of the grand jury: To the Hon. R. B. Cross, Judge of the District Court:

We, the grand jury, impaneled for the July term of the district court wish to make the following report:

We have been in session nine days and have examined 150 witnesses, and have returned twenty indictments, eighteen felonies and two misdemeanors.

We wish to thank the District and County Attorneys and the Sheriff's department and the riding bailiffs and the clerk of the court for their co-operation and assistance during our deliberations.

We also wish to commend Mr. Mason Crawford for the manner in which he is caring for the court house, as we find it in the best and neatest condition we have seen it for a number of years.

Also we visited the jail and find it in first class condition. Having finished our labors we desire to be discharged.

M. W. Murray, Foreman. Evant Brooks, Secretary.

ESCAPERS ABSCOND WITH DOCTOR'S CAR STOPPED BY FLAT END HWY

Three "State" boys, Bobbie Johnston, Gilbert Cox, formerly of Dallas, and Melvin Johnson of Austin, Monday night late are alleged to have taken the car of Dr. Hamilton, and proceeded east on Gatesville's new highway. The "get away" was only perfect for five plus miles, since the highway ends abruptly.

However, a flat stopped them there anyway, and soon a searching party took them in, and they were probably placed in the "sailer."

The V.S. was not contacted, with the exception of the flat, and the ignition switch.

Alvis Moves to County Attorney's Job in Changes Effective Aug. 1

Surprising the entire county, Judge Robert W. Brown tendered his resignation to the Commissioner's Court in session Wednesday at the Court House in Gatesville, completely upsetting the county's legal setup.

Immediately after receiving Judge Brown's resignation, the Commissioners appointed County Attorney Floyd Zeigler as County Judge, and C. E. Alvis, Jr., City Attorney as County Attorney replacing Zeigler.

Judge Brown gave as the principle reasons for his resignation as bad health, a financial change to the better, and that he wishes to further his law practice.

Below are statements issued the press Thursday afternoon by the men effected by these changes.

To the people of Coryell County:

I am today submitting my resignation as County Judge to the Commissioner's Court. I have several reasons for resigning, here they are:

1. I believe that a change where I could be out of my office more would improve my health which was materially impaired by my illness some months ago.

2. I believe the change will be to my financial interest.

3. I want to practice law and the duties of my office leave no time for such activities.

4. I have some outside matters that I would like to engage in that I do not feel free to do.

5. I feel that I have served long enough, if not too long, and that a change would be best for the County as well as myself.

In resigning as County Judge I am not giving up my interest in the welfare of the County, nor its people. I will open an office to practice law and as a private citizen I expect to continue to work for better roads, highways, and other public improvements.

In the near future I will give the press a report of my administration and the condition in which I am leaving the County.

I am greatly touched with a sense of gratitude to the people of Coryell County for the Honor they have conferred on me and the confidence they have shown in electing me as County Judge and returning me to office for four consecutive terms during the greatest period of personal, financial and business unrest in the history of our county.

Respectfully submitted, ROET. W. BROWN.

To the people of Coryell County:

Due to the resignation of Robert W. Brown as County Judge of this county and the further fact that I have been appointed by The Commissioners Court to fill out his unexpired term, I desire at this time to express to the people of Coryell County my deep appreciation for the confidence and trust placed in me in allowing me to serve as your County Attorney for the past two and one half years, also for the assistance rendered me in attempting to carry on the duties of that office in a fair and impartial manner.

I desire also to thank the members of the Commissioners Court for their vote of confidence in appointing me to fill the vacancy left upon the resignation of Robert W. Brown and hope that I may carry out the duties of this office in a manner that will show to the people of Coryell County and the Commissioners Court that their trust and confidence has not been misplaced.

FLOYD ZEIGLER.

To the people of Coryell County:

I personally appreciate the action of the Commissioners Court in bestowing upon me the office of County Attorney, I will do my best to discharge the duties of that office in a manner that will reflect credit on our county and the court which appointed me.

In the retirement of Judge Brown and the advancement of Judge Zeigler, the County, I am sure, is losing an excellent County Judge and an excellent County Attorney.

C. E. ALVIS, JR.

DR. O. G. GILDER IS NOW WORKING AS PHARMACIST AT ARNOLD DRUG

Dr. O. G. Gilder has accepted a position as druggist at Arnold's Drug Store. He will work in conjunction with Mr. C. E. Nesbitt in the prescription department.

Dr. Gilder has had wide experience as a pharmacist and is well known in Gatesville and Coryell County. His many friends may now call upon him at Arnold's.

Arnold's Drug is one of the few in Texas of its size to employ two registered pharmacists.

VEHICULAR ACCIDENTS THIS WEEK

Two accidents by motor vehicles have been reported this week.

Otis Coward and Otis Chambers enroute from McGregor one night this week overturned the car they were driving, seriously damaging the car, and Mr. Chambers wrenched his back rather painfully. Mr. Coward was unhurt.

Jack Carroll was injured Sunday the 14th when the motorcycle he was riding collided with one driven by Y. J. Horvath, at the corner of 8th and Leon streets. Jack sustained a badly sprained ankle and some bruises.

Recent records in Montana show that when the air temperature was 10 degrees below zero the soil surface under a fern-like snow blanket was almost 10 degrees above zero.

Palo Pinto—Seven pounds of new cotton plus one worn out mattress equals one good mattress for a child's bed in the home of Mrs. A. C. Newberry of the Village Bend Home Demonstration Club in Palo Pinto county, according to Miss Pauline Lokey, home demonstration agent.

Mrs. Newberry took the old mattress which was filled with shoddy, short cotton, added seven pounds of new long staple cotton after the old was well aired, beaten and fluffed; and then washed the tick and remade it. There was no cost to the renovation.

An eye specialist says that about six out of every ten persons who consult an oculist have some condition elsewhere in the body which may affect the recovery of their eye symptoms.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

One Year (in Coryell County)....$1.00; Elsewhere.....$1.50

Entered as second-class matter June 24, 1933, at the post office at Gatesville, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

NOTICE: Any erroneous reflection upon the character or standing of any person or firm appearing in its columns will be gladly and promptly corrected upon calling the attention of the management to the article in question.

HOW ABOUT THIS?

Here's a thought! Now that we have the new athletic field underway and due to be finished by the opening of the new school year, what's going to happen to the old athletic field?

After a talk with W. E. Lasseter, Vocational Agricultural Instructor in Gatesville High School, we've evolved a plan which we submit as a suggestion to those in authority for a meritorious disposition of the now unused old athletic field.

Suppose we do this! Let's start, in line with Mr. Lasseter's work a demonstration project in erosion work, vocational agriculture and Future Farmer of America's work using this land for this, if no one can think of a better disposition. A few calves could be scientifically fed, and the feed grown on this land, or a model poultry plant could be made here and this would be something that would be of interest to every citizen in the country, and help forward this very commendable movement now led by Mr. Lasseter.

Mr. Lasseter is furnishing us with a series of articles which will explain more explicitly this new work which is now being carried out extensively thruout the United States and has just now commenced locally.

Let's see if this wouldn't be a good disposition of the unused part of the school's physical equipment. Our candid opinion is that there could be no better use.

PROSPECTS BRIGHTER GENERALLY

Here are some business briefs of interest:

Employment: Has gained 60 per cent in heavy industries since March, 1933; shown a lesser advance in consumer industries. The unemployed are now estimated at about 9,000,000.

Industrial Activity: Has fooled the forecasters, by holding up better this year than was anticipated. Was at 85 per cent of the 1923-25 average in May, and the first half of 1935 was five per cent better than the same period last year.

Automobiles: First half production was 35 per cent over same period in 1934, represented the highest volume since 1929.

Steel: Steel makers are hopeful, and the usual summer decline has been less severe than in the past. Structural steel business is good, due to government orders.

Agriculture: It is estimated that the farmers' 1935 income will be about the same as in 1934, which registered a billion-dollar jump over 1933. Crops will be larger this year than last, but prices will probably be lower.

Labor: Latest trouble has occurred in New England textile mills, where the union recently called a strike on one large operator, is threatening others. It is said to be inevitable that there will soon be a strike of cloak and suit workers in the east. Potential labor troubles have most big industries nervous.

THE SEEDS OF PROGRESS

The only worthwhile progress comes from efforts of the individuals concerned.

The farmer is learning this truth.

The much-heralded government farm relief program may not have collapsed—but it has certainly not justified the high hopes that were held out for it.

During the depression real and permanent farm progress has been made—by farmer-owned, farmer-controlled cooperative marketing associations.

These associations have gained in membership. They have made striking progress in trying to balance supply and demand, and in forwarding more scientific production methods. They have disseminated information that individual farmers were not in a position to obtain. Result: A start toward farm recovery.

It has long been said that self-help is the best help. It is likewise the only kind of help that amounts to anything in the long run.

By JOE BURNS

FDR'S TAX PROGRAM AAA UNCONSTITUTIONAL? WILL DUCE FIGHT? BRITONS WON'T FIGHT.

SPEAKER JOE BYRNS has made it clear to House members that there will be no adjournment of Congress until President Roosevelt's share-the-wealth measure is enacted. Weary legislators want to know when the measure will be given consideration and what provisions for soaking the rich it will contain. It seems that the President himself has only a vague idea.

The general provisions to be incorporated in the bill are these:

An inheritance and gift tax (no specified amount) on "all large amounts received by any one legatee," the proceeds to be used to reduce the national debt.

"A definite increase in the taxes now levied upon very great individual net incomes"—especially those over $1,000,000.

A graduated income tax on corporations, ranging from 10 and three quarters to 16 and three quarters, and replacing the present uniform levy of 13 and three quarters on all companies. Serious opposition to this provision in the House is expected.

A constitutional amendment to permit the taxation of now tax-exempt government securities.

It seems that the President is acting with too much haste in pressing for enactment of his bill this session. There is no crisis whatsoever calling for such unexampled haste in the passage of a measure of such importance. The rich won't get much richer and the poor much poorer by fall, when a special session could be called, hot heads would have cooled, and a bill of which something definite would be known could be passed to the mutual satisfaction of all.

THE AAA, most important of Roosevelt recovery agencies, suffered a setback this week when a Boston Circuit Court ruled that the processing taxes were unconstitutional and that the AAA was an improper delegation of power by Congress to the executive department.

This is, of course, a setback, not a death-blow, as Administration officials immediately announced that the constitutionality of the act would be submitted to the U. S. Supreme Court, the august body that made the Blue Eagle of the NRA just another relic for the museum.

If the circuit court decision is upheld by the superior court, the Administration will be in a quandary. One billion dollars, collected by the processing taxes and distributed to farmers, will have been illegally collected. Fat checks have been handed out to farmers to pay for land retired from cultivation. What would happen in an election year if the farmers were told, "The Treasury is empty; no more checks but we would appreciate your vote and continued abstention from the raising of cotton." Obviously, the payments to the farmers can not keep up if the processing taxes are illegal; yet the treasury could not stand a demand of $1,000,000,000 a year for payments to farmers.

By September, 250,000 Italian troops and workmen will be in the two Italian colonies of Somaliland and Eritrea—a quarter of a million of the best equipped and drilled fighters in Europe.

Thirty thousand troops have left Italy this week bound for Africa! one airplane carrier carried 24 planes for African service and 80 pilots.

In London, young English boys are flocking to the Ethiopian ministry, applying for service in the army of Emperor Haile Selassie. The British people are frankly in sympathy with the blacks but the government can do nothing officially for the reason that an irate Mussolini can upset the entire European equilibrium by making friends with Adolph Hitler.

Observers say the life of the Fascist regime in Italy depends upon the success of the African venture. But Mussolini has miscalculated somewhere. Italy hasn't the money to fight Ethiopia and can't borrow abroad; six months hard fighting in Africa will bankrupt Italy. Duce can't back out; with internal dissension seething in Italy, the lost of prestige incurred by an about face would write finish for Mussolini and he knows it.

Duce is caught in a fore boat; if he jumps he will drown; if he stays on board he will burn. Europe is out of sympathy with him; the Italian people are none to enthusiastic about the Ethiopian war. A reduction in taxes would appeal to them much more than an Italian Ethiopia.

Will Mussolini risk a prolonged war in Africa? If he does, he will be risking the overthrow of his regime. Does he dare back out now? These are questions the observer of world politics wants to know and can't answer. He can't fight without money and he hasn't money. What will he do?

BRITONS don't want to fight. This was learned when more than 11,000,000 Britons balloting in the British Isles peace ballot voted overwhelmingly for continuance of League membership and international disarmament. Thirty Englishmen favored continued adherence to the League of Nations to every one against; eleven voted for arms reduction for every one against.

France may fight alone in the next war. Does anybody want to fight? Do the German people share the enthusiasm of their Nazi overlords for a strong military machine; if so, for protection only, not for aggression. Italian parents are on the verge of revolt because Mussolini wants to send their sons to fight in the equatorial swamps of Africa.

The Japanese say they are fighting for their existence. The Kaiser fought for the existence of his empire, we are told. Mussolini is fighting for his existence, for the perpetration of Fascist power in Italy. But its the leaders that want to fight; not the people—not the fighters. The bosses start the fight; the people do the fighting. Should not they have something to say as to whether there should be a fight.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND

Director, Physical and Health Education New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

Summer Heat

Too many cautions cannot be printed against sunburn. No matter how much is said or written, no matter what one's past experience may have been, the majority of people show unreasonable haste in acquiring a sunburn.

'I'm going to be tanned like an Indian,' they say, forgetting that the Indian's red-brown skin is natural. Children are in danger, because they don't know there is any danger. In the summer, they have all day for play. The release from school is tempting, with so many things to do. If parents aren't mindful and watching, the first day or two in the summer sun may bring a serious burn. Then a week of suffering, often confined to bed.

And it isn't always as simple as that. Burn from the sun is no different from any burn. It isn't confined to a sore skin. Poisons, or body toxins, are formed. The child may be feverish and nauseated. In attempting to throw off the poisons, the kidneys may be injured. Sometimes severe prostration results.

In all cases of sunburn, it is advisable to place a child in a physician's care. Wise treatment will prevent the complications. But the greatest wisdom is shown at the beginning. Take the sunburn gradually, a little each day. Give the skin a chance to tan painlessly.

Are you making your child's life a nightmare by insisting on regular promotion at school? Don't miss Dr. Ireland's next article.

Culinary Jingles by Marcia Camp

The ideal cake was never made And never will be, I'm afraid! The kind of cake I'd like to see Is thin as thin can ever be, With frosting piled three inches thick Besides a bowl and spoon to lick!

ICING PRESERVES CAKE

A CAKE with more frosting than batter would obviously be doomed to extinction, with the extinction of the eater as a possible sequel! But most frostings have quite an opposite mission in life: that is, to make the cake keep longer and better. On the day after it is baked, the finest cake is no better than its keeping qualities. And its keeping qualities depend a great deal on its icing. An icing that holds its own moisture helps to keep moisture in the cake, besides staying tender and fresh on its own account.

Marshmallows in cake icings make them fluffier and chewier to begin with, and keep them moister and fresher as they stand.

White Mountain Marshmallow Icing

8 campfire marshmallows 1/4 teaspoon salt 1 tablespoon water 2 egg whites 1/2 cup water 1/2 teaspoon vanilla 1 cup granulated sugar

Cut marshmallows into eighths with scissors dipped in hot water, and melt them in top of a double boiler with the 1 tablespoon water. Put 1/2 cup water, sugar and salt in a saucepan and boil without stirring until it spins a long thread when dropped from the spoon. Have egg whites beaten stiff. Pour syrup slowly over them, beating continuously. When syrup is all combined, add vanilla and melted marshmallows and beat until smooth.

This marshmallow icing has a way of developing a thin protective crust over the surface, which makes the cake easier to handle without sticky fingers and worth handling for longer, because underneath the crust the icing stays as delicious as the moment it was applied, and underneath the icing the cake scarcely feels its age.

Ted Lyons, Chicago White Sox veteran pitcher, won eight of his first 10 starts this season and in each of the two defeats lost by one run, 6-5.

VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE AND RELATED SUBJECTS

By W. E. LASSETER
Instructor in Vocational Agriculture, G. H. S.

WHAT IS VOCATIONAL AGRICULTURE?

Since a department of vocational agriculture has been added to the curriculum of the Gatesville high school, and since very few people understand what such a course implies, an attempt is made in this article to explain in a brief way the meaning of vocational agriculture. This we will do through a series of questions and answers.

1. What is vocational agriculture? Vocational education in agriculture as defined in the national vocational education act is that type of instruction in agriculture which shall fit the boy for useful living. In order to do this it must meet four requirements: First, it shall fit for useful employment; second, this it shall be of less than college grade; third, that it shall be designed to meet the needs of persons who have entered upon or who are preparing to enter upon the work of the farm; and fourth, that provision shall be made for at least six months of directed or supervised practice in agriculture on a farm provided by the boy or by the school.

2. How does vocational agriculture differ from a course in general agriculture as taught in many rural schools? In the first place, as the subject vocational agriculture implies, vocational agriculture is a practical working agriculture based upon enterprises and conditions and experiences of the local community in which the subject is taught. The course of study is built by the teacher to fit the needs of the immediate farming conditions of the community and the experiences of the pupils taking the course. A course in general agriculture, as the name implies, covers the whole field of farming and farm life in a very brief narrative form of discussion, without any particular type of farming or community in mind.

3. Is vocational agriculture just book learning? No. Theory as commonly found in text books, is minimized and the pupil's time is spent in the study of operative jobs and skills that will enable him to do a better job of farming, develop his initiative, make him a better citizen, and increase his earning power.

4. Why should vocational agriculture be taught? A survey of the population of any community will show that a majority of its inhabitants are people who have grown up and settled down in that particular community. The young people of the community, for the most part, expect to settle down in the community in which they are reared, or in neighboring communities. They expect to engage in the same type of enterprises common to their native community. Farm boys and girls, for the most part, settle down on the farm to make a living. The same may be said of urban young people. A large majority of them will engage in the same type of occupation that their parents follow, and will expect to follow that occupation in the community in which they were reared. If this be true, and it is, then certainly if our public schools are to meet the needs of the community they serve, some type of instruction should be given that will fit our boys and girls to meet the problems of life with a reasonable assurance of success.

The time was when the farmer could get along with comparatively few economic facts. Today he faces complex relationships involving the industry, business, and finance of the entire world. Today what happens off the farm affects agriculture vitally. The shift from an economy of scarcity to an economy of abundance, the building of the human barriers of nationalism, the lack of balance between production and consumption are some of the powerful influences necessitating the building of a new social order. When our youth, upon leaving our educational institutions, embark upon a career in the present period of adjustment, they face responsibilities and difficulties scarcely equalled in complexity by any previous generation in modern times. Clearly the rapidly changing conditions and demands for new abilities and attitudes on the part of youth impose upon public education, and particularly upon those branches dealing with the technical and vocational training for earning a livelihood, new obligations to equip each young person: First, to carry his own economic load; second, to lend the weight of his ability in building social and economic justice; and third, to contribute his bit to that readjustment of the human spirit that will make possible the building of human resources in a generation of abundant material resources. As a part of the public educational program, training in vocational agriculture contributes to the achievement of such objectives at many points.

Resolutions of Respect

In His wisdom, Almighty God created man to inhabit the earth and care for the things that He had put there for his benefit and happiness; also He admonished him to be careful of the way in which he lived and tended the things trustfully created, and informed him "That ye know not the day nor the hour when the son of man cometh."

Last Saturday morning this injunction of the Lord was carried out to the letter in the death of our friend and co-laborer, Fred R. Dewald, of Copperas Cove. When the Grand Jury adjourned late Friday afternoon he departed for his home and family in high spirits and with a smile and kind farewell to his many friends, and early Saturday morning the sad news came that he had suddenly passed to his reward.

Fred R. Dewald was a real man; he was all the word implies, a man among men, loved and honored by all who knew him, an affectionate husband, kind father and noble citizen and his passing has brought sadness to the people throughout this county.

We, your committee, appointed by Judge R. B. Cross to draw resolutions expressing our regrets at the untimely taking of this good man, wish to report as follows:

Whereas, God created this earth and all that is in it, and He did so for His own pleasure and glory, and while we regret the departure of our friend and neighbor we bow in humble submission to the will of God, for had it not been His will he would still have been with us, and we feel sure that Mr. Dewald is much happier than when upon this earth for he is with his heavenly Father.

Whereas, the main object of this message is to express to those left behind our deep heart felt sympathy during this sad hour and to commend them for the relief no earthly power can give to the one whom the dear husband and father worshipped and obeyed, and that is your God and our God, and our Creator and Preserver.

We further recommend that a copy of these resolutions be spread upon the minutes of this court and that a copy be sent to the bereaved widow and family, also a copy to the newspapers of the county.

P. M. POST,
T. B. JOHNSON,
J. R. BATES,
Committee.

Proposed Constitutional Amendments

Concise Explanation Given out by Secretary of State, Gerald C. Mann.

TEMPORARY COMMITMENT OF INSANE

Proposition No. 2 on the August 24th special election ballot has to do with the temporary commitment of insane persons, preliminary to a trial by jury.

Under the present Constitution whereby everyone is guaranteed a jury trial, it is impossible to commit a mentally ill person to an institution for treatment or observation without the necessity of a jury trial. It has been pointed out that this is often very inconvenient and embarrassing.

The proposal, according to Secretary of State Gerald C. Mann, if passed, would authorize the Legislature to pass such laws as would permit mentally ill persons to be confined by County Courts in institutions, presumably, or under the care of physicians or experts for a period of ninety days prior to a jury trial. It is presumed that the ninety day period of confinement would be for the purpose of observing such person.

The provisions would apply only to persons not charged with a criminal offense.

The Amendment specifically sets out that the right of trial by jury shall remain inviolate, but that in the particular case of insane persons a confinement period of ninety days for observation may be prescribed without the necessity of a jury trial. At the end of that time a jury trial would be had.

sons; E. S. Watson of Jonesboro and B. F. Watson of Raymondville.

Pall bearers were W. J. Watson, Cullen Walsh, Andrew Watson, Chester Gardner, J. W. Watson, and Dillard Watson.

MRS. EFFIE DOOLEY

Funeral services were held Saturday morning, July 13, at 10:00 o'clock at the Ireland

Methodist Church for Mrs. Effie Lorene Dooley, who died Friday July 12, at her home in Ireland, after an illness of several years.

Mrs. Dooley was born in Ireland in 1905.

She is survived by three children.

LOCAL SOFTBALLERS DEFEAT TEMPLE CLUB

A local softball team, composed mostly of Firemen, poun-neyed to Temple Wednesday night and defeated a club representing the Kyle Drug Store of that city, 26-6.

Lead by Roger Miller, Cliff Rankin, Carter Ray and Pete Patterson, hard-hitting Firemen, the locals tallied seemingly at will, failing only to work the score keeper in the last inning.

Joe Powell took the box for the locals and was "on" as usual to give fans a most un-usual demonstration of the game. Miller was behind the plate, and also played good ball.

The Temple aggregation was off form or the locals were far superior, the truth of which we do not know, however, knocking the pill all over the lot, the locals had no trouble defeating a team rated high in Central Softball circles.

The Temple team is due here next week in a return game.

SporTalk

By TEDDY

Arguing like a bunch of state legislators, baseball fans, players, managers and this writer have failed to agree upon the dates for the Mound-Hubbard playoff. For this reason the Arbitration Committee of the County Baseball League is called to meet at the News office Saturday afternoon at three o'clock.

In a one-sided baseball game Sunday at Halbert's Crossing, the Seattle Club defeated the C. C. C. Camp of Neff Park, 14-5.

Again we're enthused over the prospects of the Gatesville Hornets for the coming season. It would be foolish for us to dope the locals to win the district or to end in the cellar, however, if we had to dope the locals to end in one of the places, we would say they will win the district. Our opinion is that they will not win the district, however, they will be nearer the top than the bottom when the season is over.

Twenty-five cents of her money went for seed to plant her garden. An incomplete report on this demonstration shows that she has used fresh 73 pounds and canned 31 quarts of vegetables and 7 gallons of berries valued at $16.35.

In addition she has made five dresses, two slips and two cup towels. These are valued at $10.15 but cost only $3.05. Clara remodelled two clothes closets, but she spent no money on that work.

Clara still has the 12 hens, and has 16 fryers in addition.

Dallas—An average production of 25 eggs per hen per month has been reached for the second time this year by the flock of C. A. Luper of Dallas county, according to Dale Merwin, county agricultural agent. For the month of May, Luper's flock of 71 white leghorn pullets averaged 25.5 eggs each, while in March they averaged 25 eggs each.

The flock is entirely composed of last year's pullets. The hens consumed an average of 4.7 pounds of mash and 3.4 pounds of grain each during the month and had access to green alfalfa all the time.

"Double Door" to Be Staged Thursday Night By the Little Theatre

Reserved seats are being placed on sale at The City Drug Store, Arnold's Drug Store, The Gatesville Drug Store and the Cozy Cafe, for the Little Theatre Production of "The Double Door." The play is to be staged on Thursday evening, July 25 at 8:15 o'clock at the High School Gymnasium.

The Director of the play, C. E. Alvis Jr., stated yesterday that The Ames String Band, a talented musical organization of the county, has been secured to render musical selections between the acts. This well known local band is composed of the following members:

- Evelyn Ward ..... Violin
- Flaye Ward ..... Piano
- Lucille Wilhelm ..... Guitar
- Hazen Ward ..... Guitar
- Inez Anderson ..... Guitar
- Edwin Wilhelm ..... Guitar
- Ray Ward ..... Guitar
- Herschel Wilhelm ..... Madolin
- Joe Ward ..... Madolin
- Bud Anderson ..... Mandolin

Those who have heard this band know that they alone can furnish a program well worth the price of admission.

This gripping drama, "The Double Door" has enjoyed widespread popularity as an amateur production. It has recently been produced at The College of Industrial Arts, and by the Waco Little Theatre. The play deals with the happenings in a weird and eccentric household with the hate and vengeance through which an unbalanced old spinster seeks to destroy her charming sister-in-law. The drama moves deftly and tensely to a surprising and crowning climax.

The cast includes the following: Beverly Chamlee, David Franks, Elaine Cross, Verona Franks, James Boyd, Bryan Arnold, Byron McClellan, Ruth Raby Franks, Pauline Garner, Earl Powell, Raymond Leonard, and Jack Wollard. Miss Katherine Gordon is prompting the play and Louis Woodall is Technical Assistant.

The proceeds from this play will be used exclusively in paying The Little Theatre debt incurred in equipping the stage of the High School Gymnasium. Patrons are urged to purchase tickets early and get seats in the reserved section.

"STRANDED" BACKGROUND IS ONE OF UNIQUE INTEREST

The cycle of pictures that have various departments of Government services for background is now complete. The last remaining branch, Department of Immigration, is covered in the new Warner Bros. Picture, "Stranded," which comes to the Regal Theatre on Saturday night at 10:30, also showing Sunday and Monday.

Instead of the fast and furious action of the fighting branches, immigration offers more human interest.

Through the water-front headquarters of this service pass all types and nationalities; hopeful young men who see nothing but opportunity in the new world; sad-eyed mothers with no thought except to find a refuge from the storms of South Europe; bewildered children hanging to the coat of a bereaved father who has crossed the ocean in search of forgetfulness; busy officials patiently trying to understand and to explain; gray-haired couples fuddled in corners waiting for American sons and daughters to find them.

Thirty-one nationalities were represented on the big immigration dock built on the Warner

Bros. lot, in exact reproduction of the dock of a large American port.

A group of doll-like Chinese "brides" mingle with peasants from France—a riotous mixture of colors and costumes.

The manner in which newcomers to these shores are handled, is shown in all its interesting detail.

Kay Francis, in the role of a representative of the Travelers' Aid Society, sits in the center of this human maelstrom, helping, directing, consoling. It is here that George Brent, the young bridge builder, sees an incident that dramatically changes the course of their love.

The picture is a thrilling and romantic drama based on the story "Lady With a Badge" by Frank Wead and Ferdinand Reyher. Others in the cast include Patricia Ellis, Donald Woods, Robert Barnat and Barton MacLane. Frank Borzage directed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufe Brown returned Sunday from a fishing trip in Corpus Christi and Port Aransas.

Mrs. Wm. Weigand and daughter, Grace, who have been visiting her mother, Mrs. Charles Beall, the past three weeks, returned to their home last Sunday.
