765 Students Enroll in Gatesville Public Schools Sat.; More Monday

Gatesville High School and Elementary School opened with a bang Monday morning after the classification Saturday, with 765 students enrolled Saturday and a dozen or more being enrolled Monday, according to Superintendent Frank L. Williams.

Division of the the students is: High School 357, Elementary school 408. In the high school, they are divided into classes, with the Seniors heading the list with 108, Freshmen, 98, Junior 82, and Sophomore 69.

Busses are being run from Jonesboro, Purmela, Leon Junction, Ewing, and one running "up the river" from Moccasin Bend and other communities.

Physical Education is to be started early this week, and also all other school activities, but the course in Music has been dropped on account of lack of interest.

Mr. Williams informed a News reporter that everything was going off smoothly and that with a few minor adjustments the schools of the city would be functioning perfectly.

50,000 Texas Students Will Go to Centennial

Preparations are being made for a songfest of 50,000 Texas school children at the Texas Centennial Exposition to be held in Dallas June 13, 1936, the date set by Mr. Cline, Director of the Texas Centennial.

This songfest is also under the auspices of the State Board of Education, as outlined in a letter received by Supt. J. M. Witcher from State Superintendent L. A. Woods.

Special songs are to be used for different classes, ranging from about the third grade through the seventh grade, and by a process of elimination the best singers will be selected for this program. Allotment to each county will probably be made so that the number will not be too large.

Negro singers will have their mass singing program on July 19 of next year.

Bands, orchestras, choral and glee clubs will be assembled at a later date—possibly the latter part of October or the early part of November, 1936.

According to "Red" Chamlee, these "air-conditioned" dresses are still popular, and are hanging on during this continued hot weather, those "nets" and well—anyway, those with holes in them. Got scared to other day by Charlie Liljeblad who had a couple of six-inch oligators, the kind suitcases are made of in his hand, which were sent up from Huey Long's domain, where it never rains but it fogs. Irvin Scott, the bon vivant, hurries with one of "them rubber-tired Becks and Judes" that are taking the place of mules and horses, that can eat corn, helping, "light" delivery out of the ditch near the old Mounce home on Lecon.

Frankie Wilson, the girl with the rabbit's foot, loses her job one day, and gets a better one the same day. Never had that luck. With Trades Day (is that the correct name, prompt us if we're wrong) here again, someone is due to go home happy, but curses, we're not eligible, and so we've got nothing to lose. It's supposed to be a day of Co-Operation.

"Stag" Sherrill Loses "Singularity" in Park Pre-Matrimoneyal Affair

With the time approaching for the loss of his "ad libing" in life, D. W. Sherrill, romped joyously in Raby Park Saturday evening with nineteen other "free lancers" and two would-be "free lancers," Mayor Dr. or Dr. Mayor M. W. Lowrey, and Judge R. B. (Bates) Cross.

Being the next to the last night of his "liberty" before his marriage to one so charming as Miss Mary Lou Morris, "D. W." galloped and romped with the stags to his hearts content, until eyes and stomachs were sodden with sleep and barbecued steak respectively, at which time, all the Bachelors, the "lost one" (DW) and the two who wished they were Dr. Lowrey and Judge Cross, left for their "better halves."

Speakers for the occasion were none other than that master of art of vocal expression, Judge R. B. Cross, and the equally witty twister of oral implements, Dr. M. W. Lowrey, who gave Mr. Sherrill, pointers on what he was missing and what was coming his way since this matri-money-al stigma has blighted his life.

Those who gorged themselves in the "bully" beef, pickles, potato chips, super-heated coffee, cakes and buns, were: M. Burleson (alleged next victim along with) B. Thomson who has bought "ice," T. Yongue, "M. B." Scott, F. Zeigler, G. Alvis, D. Franks, C. Mounce, J. Hix, W. Hix, C. McGilvray, J. Bradford, W. Ford, K. Hedgpath, L. Woodall, "Porky" Kendrick, M. Jones, Dr. M. W. Lowrey, and Judge R. B. Cross, and the "sympathee" D. W. Sherrill.

Well, anyway, congratulations are coming and going, because D. W. is certainly fortunate, and D. W., how did he ever get such a "break" is something local members of the Roundtable will have to debate over from now on, and never fathom. So, two Good Lucks are in order for both principals, to the now, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sherrill.

TURNERSVILLE SCHOOL OPENS SEPT. 23; NEW TEACHERS

Old Age Pension to Be Costly As Auditor Says If Pensions Unlimited

"Old-age pensions could cost Texas taxpayers as much as $56,073,402 yearly if each of the 283,199 people 65 years of age and over received the full $15 monthly allotment provided for in the recent Constitutional Amendment," State Auditor Orville S. Carpenter said yesterday.

At the request of Governor Allred, Carpenter and R. B. Anderson, State Tax Commissioner prepared the report "Cost and General Plan for Old Age Pensions." Upon the Governor's suggestion it was mailed to members of the Legislature September 10.

"Experience of other states has shown that they have attempted at first to take care of only those actually in need of assistance. Requirements made of applicants have been with a view of eliminating those who, although of eligible age, did not actually need assistance. In this way other states have greatly reduced the costs, from the amount necessary to pay if all persons of the required age had been included," Carpenter said.

"As there are 41,787 persons 65 years of age and over on the Texas Relief Rolls, this apparently is the minimum number able to qualify for old-age pensions. At $15 a month and with 10 per cent administrative cost added, this would be $8,273,826 yearly," Carpenter explained.

Carpenter believed the figure 62,933 most nearly represented the actual number who probably would receive old-age pensions in Texas. He determined this figure by considering the experiences of other states. If 62,933 people in Texas 65 years of age and over were to receive the full $15 a month, the yearly cost to the taxpayers would be $12,460,734. Carpenter calculated. In this he included 10 per cent administrative expenses.

"The Federal Government, if funds are available, will provide an amount equal to that spent by the State plus 5 per cent for expenses. This depends upon approval of the Texas plan by the Social Security Board in Washington. The Texas Legislature will formulate a plan for distribution, and it will decide whether or not the full $15 maximum will be used," Carpenter concluded.

Manaos, 1,000 miles up the Amazon, was the boom city of Brazil.

Miss Moncrief, new English teacher is a McGregor resident, and also holds a degree from Baylor University.

Supt Jones stated the bus running from White Hall, would carry all children living over 2½ miles from the White Hall school to that school, and will accommodate any and all children possible regardless of what morning, Sept. 23, the bus will run on a schedule which will get the children to Turnersville by 9 a. m. Subsequent schedule will be announced later. school they attend. Monday

CCC CAMP ENROLLMENT TO START IN OCTOBER; DISCHARGES SCARCE

Austin, Sept. 11.—Completing the expansion Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment by enlisting 14,819 Texas youths, district administrators are now looking toward the October enrollment when every additional eligible candidate in the state is expected to be given a chance to join the CCC, State Enrollment Supervisor Neal E. Guy has announced.

Not only will more new enrollees be accepted, but present enrollees may remain in camps indefinitely, as mandatory discharges have been discontinued, Guy explained. "As long as a person's work and conduct are satisfactory he will be allowed to remain in camp, but an honorable discharge will be granted him promptly if a position is secured which will better his condition."

District administrators and case supervisors have been instructed to check their rolls, listing the number of unmarried youths between 18 and 28 whose families are on relief.

Guy again explained all eligible youths interested in joining the CCC to get in touch with their district administrator or their county case worker. In some cases, he said, applicants who were rejected because of minor physical defects are now acceptable if the defects have been corrected.

CCC CAMP ENROLLMENT TO START IN OCTOBER; DISCHARGES SCARCE

Austin, Sept. 11.—Completing the expansion Civilian Conservation Corps enrollment by enlisting 14,819 Texas youths, district administrators are now looking toward the October enrollment when every additional eligible candidate in the state is expected to be given a chance to join the CCC, State Enrollment Supervisor Neal E. Guy has announced.

Not only will more new enrollees be accepted, but present enrollees may remain in camps indefinitely, as mandatory discharges have been discontinued, Guy explained. "As long as a person's work and conduct are satisfactory he will be allowed to remain in camp, but an honorable discharge will be granted him promptly if a position is secured which will better his condition."

District administrators and case supervisors have been instructed to check their rolls, listing the number of unmarried youths between 18 and 28 whose families are on relief.

Guy again explained all eligible youths interested in joining the CCC to get in touch with their district administrator or their county case worker. In some cases, he said, applicants who were rejected because of minor physical defects are now acceptable if the defects have been corrected.

Oodles of Attractions On Midway at Brazos Valley Free Fair Show

Arrangements have been practically completed for the Brazos Valley Free Fair which is to be held on the Cotton Palace Grounds, Waco, commencing September 23 and lasting thru the 29th.

Numerous entries have already been made for F. F. A. booths, 4-H and Community displays, as well as Home Demonstration and Home Economics Clubs exhibits.

The world's largest carnival company, Beckman & Gerety, will be on the midway with 19 rides and 22 shows. In addition there will be several independent attractions including the musical extravaganza staged in the Coliseum.

On Friday, Saturday and Sunday the horse show will be presented with more than $100,000 worth of horses participating. The renowned Senator Crawford will be among the entrants, and Black Patch, grandson of the famous Dan Patch.

On Monday and Wednesday nights there will be amateur boxing bouts, staged under the supervision of the Waco Recreation Department, and bringing together the best amateurs in this section of the state.

On Monday and Wednesday evening, commencing at 10:30 the Huacotonions, popular string band will play for dancing in the Coliseum. On Saturday from 5 to 8 p. m. the same band will play for an old time dance in the Coliseum. On Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday, commencing at 10:30 p. m. Buster Starnes and his N. B. C. band will be heard in their interpretation of the popular dance tunes of the day.

A. E. Quinn, secretary of the fair, states that the entertainment and attractions provided this year surpass anything offered in Central Texas in more than a decade. Entertainment for every member of the family, and for every age will be provided on the fair grounds.

There will be no admission charge to the grounds, and all indications point to a record breaking attendance.

Also 178 dresses and 28 other garments have been made which have been provided by the 110 foundation patterns the Calhoun county home demonstration club women. Fifty-two of these club women have "new deal" clothes closets. That is they have closets with rods allowing dresses to hang clear of the floor, shelf space, hat racks and shoe racks.

CHAPTER 4

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

Javert, inspector of police in a small town in Alsace, suspects M. Madeleine, magistrate and mayor of the town, and Jean Valjean, ex-galley slave, of being one and the same man. He reports the findings of his exhaustive research work to the authorities, but is laughed down as crazy. Convinced that he is right, however, Javert dogs M. Madeleine's every step certain that sometime, in some way he will make a mis-step—and then he'll get his man.

Fight and Flight

Jean has to make up his mind whether he will save Champmathieu or not. As he stares, he instinctively feels the iron collar round his neck—it galls him. He feels the chain is on his foot. The cunning, crafty look comes back into his face. Why should he give it all up? In a moment of hysterical rage he cries out:

"Toussaint! Cancel the carriage; I'm not going."

As he comes to this decision his eyes light upon the bishop's candlesticks. The sight of them brings him up short. He stares at them fascinated. The cunning look fades.

"No. I go to Arras at once."

The court is filled to capacity, but Jean is ushered to a place behind the magistrate's chair. The old convict, Champmathieu, is standing between two gendarmes. The only similarity between him and Jean is in the build, and with his rough beard and hair he has the same expression Jean bore while in the galleys. There is no resemblance in features.

The unfortunate, half-stupid defendant is saddled with all the evi-himself to the authorities again as quickly as possible. He goes to the hospital to leave money with Fantine to take care of herself and Cosette. Javert arrives on his heels. He is no longer the humble, deferential person. This man, M. Madeleine, humiliated him before.

Fantine falls back in a fit of coughing in her excitement.

"Jean Valjean, I arrest you by order of the court. We want the saintly M. Madeleine, the forgiving Christian. Yes, you could afford to be lenient, couldn't you? You could afford to let me crawl to you and to forgive me. How beautifully you did it! Didn't you laugh to yourself afterwards—laugh heartily at that fool, Javert, cringing to you—because all the time you knew I was right—M. Madeleine—Jean Valjean—convict!"

The shock is too much for the fast-tiring Fantine. With a faint cry, "Cosette! Cosette!" she falls back on the pillow—dead.

Jean moves slowly to Javert, his anger mounting.

"You did it! Your very presence killed her. So? Cosette shall go to an institution, eh? It's the law, is it? But there's an old law—older than ours—"

Then the whole of his restraint gives way and with something of the strength and fury of the man of the galleys he seizes Javert by the throat and hurls him across the room with terrific force against the wall. Javert drops to the floor, insensible.

Jean and Cosette are standing at the doorway of the Convent Petit St. Jean, outside of Paris. The mother superior is reading a note Jean himself has penned:

"This will introduce my good friend, M. Duval, and his daughter Cosette—" It is signed M. Madeleine.

"M. Madeleine has always been most generous to us," says the nun.

"There is no M. Madeleine, there is only Jean Valjean."

dence piled up against Jean Valjean. Brevet, Chenildieu, Cocheville, Jean's companions of the galley, all too readily identify him.

"You all know me? You recognize me? Good—I say—good—splendid—ha, ha! All right, send me back to prison— You might as well—for all the chance they ever give you. If that's justice, send me back, I say! Send me back!"

The helpless agony of the man is too much for Jean. He comes to a conclusion, and as Champmathieu concludes his hysterical outburst he leaps to his feet.

"Brevet! Chenildieu! Cocheville! Look this way!"

All eyes in the court turn to Jean, standing among the privileged spectators. Jean walks across the court to the witnesses, turns and speaks to the court as a whole.

"I Am Jean Valjean"

"Sir—I apologize—I beg your attention—a great injustice—the witnesses are mistaken—this is not the man—I am Jean Valjean!"

The announcement makes a sensation. The counsel looks up at the judges.

"But it's M. Madeleine, isn't it?"

"Everybody knows him—he must be ill."

"You think I'm mad, gentlemen? My mind is clear, very clear. Look, I'll show you—"

"Brevet! You had number 13 place. You paid the warden ten francs to change it to number 12."

Brevet looks at him in amazement. "Chenildieu, your left shoulder is burned. You tried to efface the marks of the branding iron."

"Cocheville, your right arm, a date in blue letters put on with burnt powder. Lift up your sleeve!"

Cocheville does so and shows the mark.

"But, M. Madeleine," interrupts the judge.

"There is no M. Madeleine. There is only Jean Valjean. The law has a case against me. I shall be ready. You know where I am to be found."

But Jean never expects them to find him. His one thought is to lose

"His last bequest came as a godsend. He asks us to look after your little girl and give you a position as gardener here."

"Is that possible?" queries Jean anxiously.

"We'll do anything for M. Madeleine; and in helping you we shall feel that in some way we are repaying him for his goodness to us."

Five Cloistered Years

For five peaceful years the cloister walls of the convent served as a kindly shield and haven from the law. Jean's surprise for Cosette upon graduation is a dignified but modest house near the Bois, in Paris. She is seen quite constantly in the company of young Marius, leader of the Students' Society for Law Reform, which is literally snowing under the French capital with literature decrying the present penal laws and unjust, inhuman punishment—a cause that strikes home with Jean. Cosette and Marius are rapidly falling in love.

Javert again appears on the scene. This time he is shadowing several of the young revolutionists, Marius among them, in an attempt to get to a possible "higher-up" who is supplying funds to the reform society. His trail leads him unknowingly to Jean's house. But Jean had caught a glimpse of him through the garden fence, and, realizing Javert has recognized him, and sensing trouble, slips out the back way with Cosette as Javert hammers frantically at the front door.

It is Javert who comes to the door when Marius arrives to speak to Jean of his love for Cosette.

"Nobody's here!" is Javert's curt greeting.

"But didn't they leave any word for me?"

"They left no message—for anybody."

"Have you an address?"

"Not yet" (grimly).

"But I must find them—my name is—"

"I know your name and I know your address, and if you know what's good for you, you'll get along."

Marius, after a look, turns and goes. Javert puts a gendarme on his trail.

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY CORN-HOG ADVISORY COMMITTEE

The Texas Corn-Hog Advisory Committee, being the duly elected representatives of about 38,000 Texas Corn-Hog producers in 225 counties, while in session at the Farmers' Short Course at Texas A. and M. College, issued the following statements:

We wish to go on record commending the National Administration for its untiring effort to give the farmer an opportunity to receive parity prices for the commodities he produces and markets, and to give the producers of agricultural commodities a protection similar to that which has been given manufacturers and other commercial interests. Texas farmers are keenly aware of the fact that this is an unprecedented consideration given them.

We insist upon the continuation of Agricultural Adjustment programs and processing taxes, without which Texas farmers and Texas business would suffer.

We express the determination of Texas farmers to hold our adjustment programs regardless of attacks made on them, and serve notice that we shall insist upon some kind of farm program no matter what legal difficulties may arise in connection with the present one.

We heartily endorse, and are ready to assist the Texas Agricultural Association in its effort to expose the unconstitutionality of high protective industrial tariffs which have been of great damage to the majority interests of farmers, and we call on all the people of Texas to assist us in our struggle for a fair deal which is of great importance to the people in all occupations just as well as to those engaged in farming.

We wish to commend and endorse the Corn and Hogs Section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration in Washington for the splendid way they have carried out the program in Texas and the manner in which they have helped the Corn-Hog contract signers of Texas to meet each problem that has come up in carrying out the program.

We want to express the appreciation of the farmers we represent, to the Extension Service of the Texas A. and M. College for the capable way the program has been handled and the fair, impartial decisions that have come from the officials in charge.

We endorse the actions of the members of the present Corn-Hog Review Board and the way they have handled the job of allotment that has been their duty. The board has been fair and just in all its decisions and rulings, and contract signers appreciate its impartial allotments.

This committee feels that the Corn-Hog program has been efficiently and fairly carried on in Texas. The County Agents, all Corn-Hog Committeemen and others connected with the program have worked hard in putting it over. The contract signers have been harmonious and have co-operated with the officials, and this committee wants to express its appreciation to all connected with the program for the manner it has been handled.

The Mason and Dixon line dividing Pennsylvania and Maryland was so accurately marked out in the eighteenth century that a resurvey with modern instruments showed a deviation of only 180 feet for the northeast corner of Maryland.

CITY HOSPITAL

In all this rush to get our projects thru before the dead line on the WPA and PWA works, we've overlooked one very important, and probably the most essential project—namely, a city hospital. Of course, it would not have to be an appalling as Medical Center in New York City, or Dr. Mayo's famous clinic, but a hospital which would take care of emergency operations, maternity patients, and others that have been being interred in Waco, Temple, Hamilton, Stephenville and other hospitals, at a higher cost, and much more danger.

Gatesville, we believe has a corps of doctors, who have the training required for work in a project of this type, and other specialists would be drawn by a hospital of this sort. Gatesville has an unusually large territory for an institution of this character and, since there are hospitals in a number of the small towns and cities in this vicinity, we see no reason why there should not be one here.

In thinking of a community for school purposes and living conditions, people always consider that a hospital goes right along with these other very necessary institutions. A hospital, like any institution we know of, must of necessity, be established for a considerable length of time an amass a reputation for fair dealing, and good work before it is well on the way to success.

In this line, however, a PWA or WPA grant for an institution of this character, promoted by the city, would more or less be in politics, and institutions that are in politics tread on the treacherous ground of graft, greed, petty jealousies and bureau-boardism. A hospital, of all institutions, should be devoid of political manipulation, and under the directions of professional men, and business managers—who are acquainted with hospital operation, and not buying votes.

MERCY, is the big word in a hospital, and to be exemplified, an institution of this character must be in hands that will handle its affairs as such. No other efficacy that could be created in Gatesville would do the county as much good, save the county as much money, and save as much pain as a hospital.

That's why, we say, a project for a city hospital SHOULD (that's a terrible word, it's always too slow) have been presented for approval. Well, those who submit these projects, can't be expected to think of everything.

THE DOLE AS A BOOMERANG

What will happen to the army of social case workers when direct relief is abandoned in the several states? The outlook is indeed blue for this group of emergency officials. It rather looks, indeed, as though they themselves will have to go on relief.

From FERA headquarters at Washington has come the suggestion that the states make provision for the social case workers. But where is the state that has sufficient funds?

Abandonment of the huge administrative structure used for dole-dispensing purposes naturally will entail hardships for its immediate beneficiaries.

But it would be unfair to the taxpayers for an unnecessary instrumentality to be maintained after the costly WPA has begun functioning at top speed.

And so it appears that the social case worker will be stark up against the very condition they have been alleviating and that they will have to seek other avenues of service or join the ranks of the leafsweepers, the boondogglers and the ditchdiggers, for better or worse.

It's all too bad, but that is the inevitable price of governmental bureaucracy temporarily established under pressure of emergency conditions.—Waco News Tribune.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

Nineteen thirty five may be a royal year—for the European royalists. For the first time since the throne-breaking days of 1918, royalists are filled with hope—and for one House, there is hope for the first time since 1871.

The thrones are being dusted off, agents are busy at work, propaganda machines are working of full force—and the future is bright.

Austria's Otto and Greece's George started it. Their rapid progress on the road back has encouraged the followers of other royal discards to keep trying, we learn.

Followers of the middle-aged Danish Prince George II, who ruled Greece for one year (1923-24) has given the continent's royalists the best lesson in perseverance. Reports indicate the Isles of Greece are about to give up the Republic established eleven years by old Elutherios Venizelos, illfated leader of a recent revolt and now in exile, and call back their king.

Even Venizelos, arch-republican, admits wearily that the return of the royal house to the Hellenic republic is "only a matter of months." Jubilant Greek royalists claim they started Europe back to "sane government under sane rulers."

In Austria all is going well with the monarchists. Otto's property, amounting to some $8,000,000, confiscated in 1918, has been returned to the family and his mother, the former Empress Zita, will soon return to Vienna. Otto will remain in his Belgian castle until the moment is considered propitious to a regal return. The government, headed by Chancellor Schusschigg and Prince von Starhenberg, is openly sympathetic to Otto's aspirations. The peasantry is eager for the Hapsburgs to return; chief opposition lies in the Socialist-minded dwellers.

Europe's royalists agree that the mere fact that Otto is welcome in what remains of the Germanic section of the Hapsburg empire is a good sign.

France hasn't had a king since 1870 but French royalists say business is picking up. They are at present a small, though exceedingly noisy minority, but they hope the nation will grow weary of the third republic and call the Duke of Guise or his son Jean from exile in Belgium. Spanish aristocrats, scattered thruout Europe, have not only gained courage from the Greek and Austrian royalists but have been watching the political affairs of their own country with great interest. They pin their hopes on continued party strife in the country, hoping that eventually the people will grow weary of republican failures and experiments and call back the king. When that time comes former king Alfonso's third son, 22-year-old Prince Juan, is the logical candidate for the throne.

In Holland the former German kaiser, whose defeat brought the fall of other monarchs wit him, walks about his rose gardens, saws wood and says little. But back in Germany his eldest son, the ex-crown prince, talks with Hitler, is a big-wig in Nazi circles, another son serves under the swastika flag as a nardent Nazi and his grandson Prince Louis Ferdinand, flies a plane for Germany—Perhaps—in time.

The United States heads the Big Powers with the greatest relief load. About 9,500,000 men are on the unemployed lists as of September 1. Japan has 10,000,000 farmers receiving part-time help from the government, due to floods, drouth and earthquakes that have destroyed crops from one end of the island empire to another. Russia is the only great nation with no unemployment problem, as the State has work for all. Italy has the smallest number of unemployed, both in numbers and in percentage to

BOTH COACHES IMPRESSED OVER PROSPECTS AS SIXTY REPORT

Both Coaches Earle Worley and Maurice Ewing were muchly pepped up over prospects for the Hornet club of this year as sixty candidates reported Saturday afternoon for skull practice.

After receiving reports to the effect that "Cotton" Davis would be out this year on account of an appendix, this meeting brought much encouragement to the coaches. In the meeting were such men from over the county as Jack Elam, Adams, Williams, Hall, McDonald and others. Worley stated yesterday he hated to hear that Pete Nabors of Pearl had decided not to enter school here this fall, but was glad to have several men from over the county out for practice.

More than that, the coaches found Gatesville talent that are interested in the game. Edwin McDonald and Rufus Colgin have started out and the entire crew is showing more interest. "Cotton" Davis made a trip to Waco Friday for examination and returned with a certificate to the effect that he could play for awhile to see how serious his condition was, which brought more gaiety to the coaches.

The days until the first game are but few, and coaches, players and fans are rounding into shape to give the Hornets a big shove-off as they encounter their first game here the 27th with the Buaceville-Eddy aggregation.

FOOTBALL CHATTER

By TEDDY

Recently a progressive business man of Gatesville and a Hornet fan stated to me local Hornets may be comparatively small, but if they have the lore for football in their hearts, the two local coaches will get the work out of them, and should have a fair ball club. I do not want to impress on local fans that the Hornets will win the district, but this fan has it down right, at least he is giving the coaches some encouragement.

One change has been made in the Hornet schedule. Previously announced Cranfill Gap would play the locals here Nov. 15. This has been changed, and the Hornets will play the Methodist Home of Waco on that date here. Locals will not forget the only time that we remember the two teams met before. It was in 1929, they played a spectacular game on Carroll Field in Waco. The Hornet team of that year was composed of such men as Joe Johnson, Jack Bone, Buster Gough, Horace Blanton, Cecil Dixon, Ray Jones, Bernard Laudermilk, and others. This writer played in the game, however, not with the locals, and still has much fun talking it over with local football fans who witnessed the game. Bernard (Leche) Laudermilk still contends the Hornets had a better club than the Home Badgers. Horace Blanton is of the opinion that "if" the locals had continued to pull power plays, instead of making an aerial game out of it, the Hornets would have defeated the Home. We do not know the answers to either of the above presumptions, but do know that the word "if" is about the smallest and yet the largest word in the English language. Despite the fact that the Home made four first down in that game and the Hornets made fourteen, the Home won 38 to 8. Beyond a reasonable doubt the late Charlie had a well coached club of Hornets that season.

We look for the tide to change a little for the betterment of the Hornets this year when the teams meet for the second time Nov. 15.

Local prospects are looking much better. Rufus Colgin and Edwin McDonald are now working out with the Hornets, and will give somebody a fight for positions. McDonald is large in size (I don't know about other capacities) and should make a good tackle. Colgin, like most of his mates, is small, but looks as if he will develop into a stellar halfback.

After school hours Saturday, Coaches Earle Worley and Maurice Ewing called a meeting of all men coming out for football, and sixty reported. An event of this kind makes coaches feel more like working to produce a good team.

Football fans will be surprised to learn that schools all around Gatesville have lighted football fields. Hamilton, Clifton, and McGregor, three teams the locals play this fall will play on lighted gridirons this year. We notice from Jinx Tucker's column, News-Tribune scribe, where he stated McGregor had the best lighted field in Central Texas. We must say Jinx covered a lot of territory in that statement.

We have but one regret, Gatesville does not have a lighted field to play in this year, however, Hornets for several have played on the same field, and it won't hurt them to play another year on it. In fact, it has a much better sod on it now than it had at any time last fall, but is somewhat rough.

Local authorities worked diligently to have a new field equipped with lights for the opening game this year, but have failed. If you will recall this writer, at a Hornet Club meeting, argued that lighted athletic field this fall would be impossible, and why not wait for another year, when one with a good sod, lights, and all modern equipment could be installed. It is possible that a few games might be played on the new field this year, however, there will be very little sod, and I do not think the new field could be completely equipped. We take our hats off to local officials who have made an honest effort to have the new field ready for the opening game.

the total population. Only 7 and one-half per cent of the total Italian population are registered as unemployed. Mussolini has largely wiped out his unemployment problem by his Ethiopian venture. The country is experiencing a minor boom due to the threatened war with Ethiopia. Munitions, clothing and metal factories are running full speed, providing an artificial economic stimulus.

French unemployment rolls have mounted alarmingly in the last few months. While other Nations hit the bottom of the depression in the winter of 1933, France has just this year started on the downward trail. About 750,000 are now on government relief rolls. Great Britain has seen improved economic conditions this year, reducing the number of unemployed by 1,000,000. This is due largely to better conditions the world over and to trade agreements concluded with the Dominions, although a better housing program was inaugurated early in the year that is employing thousands thruout the Isles. By cutting down hours and forcing business to hire more labor, Germany has reduced the number of unemployed from 6,000,000 when Hitler came into power to about 2,000,000 present day. Conditions in Germany are still bad and Hitler is attempting to overcome them by the usual recourse, heavy expenditures for armaments. Many millions each month are going into increased armaments; munitions factories are buzzing, turning out guns, airplanes and ammunition while

HOW WE SIZE UP THE TEAMS THE HORNETS PLAY THIS YEAR

We have often been asked to give our interpretation of the strength of the teams local Hornets are to play this season. This we will have to depend a great deal on the "other fellow's" word, together with a little reasoning power, but will give it to you as best we can.

The teams not in the district will not deal Gatesville much trouble, however, a few of them will probably defeat the locals. The teams in the district with Gatesville are West, Mart, McGregor, Valley Mills and Clifton. The club considered the strongest is Mart, who will probably enter a play-off with Marlin for the district. McGregor does not have the same club as the Bull Dogs were last year in strength, size or experience. In fact, we believe the Hornets and McGregor are near "par." Clifton is not as strong as it was last season, no

In the interest of beauty, simplicity and ease of cleaning 115 home demonstration club women in Calhoun county have removed all the old calendars, artificial flowers and plaster of paris animals from their bedrooms. Two hundred and sixty-one pieces of furniture have been refinished; 34 women have made or started hooked rugs and 20 mats have been made or started.

Hamburg and other coastal cities hum to the tune of busy shipyards reconstructing the German navy, once the pride of the Kaiser but reduced to a nonentity by the peace treaties.

American bankers have flatly refused credits to carry on the Ethiopian war but thousands of Italians and Italo-Americans have quietly mobilized their resources to help Mussolini. American securities owned by Italians are being liquidated and the dollar proceeds turned over to Italy in exchange for lire which may go high with Italian victories in Africa. This accounts for the fact that Welsh coal shippers are receiving cash for their shipments, American cotton exporters and oil producers are likewise being paid in gold.

Most of the transactions are too small to attract attention individually but collectively they amount to a substantial sum. Informed estimates run to several hundred million dollars transferred since the crisis first arose (December, 1934). In Italy, residents have been obliged to liquidate foreign assets by decree.

For Italians living here the motive is part patriotism and part the knowledge that they had better come across if they ever want to return home while Mussolini is in power. There is clear evidence that a great majority of the one and three-quarter million Italians in the U. S. (444,000 of them in New York City) are backing Il Duce 100 per cent.

team the locals play is as strong this year as against last season, in fact. West is considered the dark horse in the district. Valley Mills, the team that defeater the Hornets 7 to 0 last fall, is due to meet defeat at the hands of the Hornets this year.

Marlin, a team in this district, however, locals are not to play Marlin, is considered a strong contender for the district championship.

W. P. A. Projects to Be Started Immediately With Many Projects

San Antonio, Sept. 14.—Hoping to begin a systematic wrecking of relief rolls in Texas within a week, state Works Progress Administration officials today were perfecting final plans for the execution of projects.

With State Project Director E. A. Baugh's report that Texas had requested a federal expenditure of $176,570,000 in the state, Administrator H. P. Drought announced that the promotional phase of WPA work is completed.

Works division staff members were summoned to San Antonio to receive instruction on the actual executions of projects which have been proposed. District engineering staff members were called to state WPA headquarters by Baugh last Friday and Saturday. Coincidentally, women's work supervisors from the twenty Texas WPA districts were convened for instructions for Mrs. M. K. Taylor, state women's work consultant.

"We hope to have men at work on the first $1,500,000 in projects by next week," Baugh declared today. "This represents approved for Texas at this time by federal authorities and will include work projects in every Texas WPA district."

Although the vast bulk of last-minute projects rushed into the state office for approval last week made exact computations impossible at this time, Baugh explained, engineers reported the 176 millions as the approximate total approved by state examiners for Texas.

Included in the figure were 31 statewide and multi-district proposals asking approximately $95,940,000 in federal funds, Baugh reported. The remainder of the total was contained in local projects sponsored by agencies in the various districts.

Federal approval of a considerable proportion of these requests will leave state WPA officials a wide latitude for the selection of the more worthwhile of the projects submitted, Baugh pointed out.

"Although the 176 millions requested obviously will be more than necessary to provide work for the state's employables on relief rolls, we have attempted to secure allocation of federal funds to allow a proper leeway in the selection of projects when actual work is started in Texas," he said.

"Expenditure of such huge amount in Texas is not contemplated," Baugh continued, "but it is to the interest of sponsors that we secure as large an allotment as possible to insure the proper prosecution of deserving projects."

Round figure approximations or requests from the Waco district office is $4,199,000.

AMPLIFIERS INSTALLED IN COLISEUM FOR STANLEY'S SHOW

Waco, Sept. 16. (Spl.)—Those who come to the Cotton Palace coliseum Sept. 23-29 to see J. Jack Stanley's "Continental Nights and Smiles-Styles Revue" will have no difficulty hearing the gags and the songs, in spite of the huge proportions of the house. A system of amplifiers is now being installed, which will enable every word from the stage to be heard plainly all over the coliseum. The big auditorium, where in the old Cotton Palace days grand opera and social events cast a glamour over Central Texas, has been completely renovated for the twice-daily performances, at 2:30 and 8:15 p. m., which Stanley will present throughout the Brazos Valley Free Livestock and Agricultural show. The revue will have a cast of 100, including a picked chorus of pretty girls.
