TWO DIE FROM INJURIES IN CAR WRECK SAT.

Others in a Waco Hospital With Serious Injuries; Operated on Mon.

C. W. Logan, 5, and Christine Logan, about 15, died Saturday afternoon as a result of collision of two automobiles at the corner of North 19th and Main street. Mrs. J. W. Thompson, severely injured is in a Waco Hospital with an injured pelvis and other complications. Traveling west on East Main, Clifford Adams in a Plymouth Coach struck the car in which the seven were riding. They had just turned in from South 19th when their car was struck from the rear by the car driven by Adams. The light car was turned over and some of the occupants were thrown clear, others being caught in the car. Adams was badly shaken, but not seriously, although receiving minor cuts and bruises. The CCC boys with him were not hurt.

Other occupants of the light car besides those above, were Mr. and Mrs. Josh Logan, J. W. Thompson. Mrs. Logan received bruises and gashes on her head and arms, Mr. Logan sustained back and hip injuries. J. W. Thompson, brother of Christine, received shock and minor cuts and abrasions. Both Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thompson were taken to the hospital Sunday and Mr. Thompson was examined thoroughly and found not to have any injuries that were serious, while Mrs. Thompson underwent an operation Monday morning, and is thought to be in bad condition. The light car was practically demolished while the car driven by Adams had a crushed radiator, broken bumper and windshield.

SEC Oddities

Want to see your girl in a pint bottle? Harry Gilmore, enrollee at the CCC camp, will put her there for you for two-bits. He makes a hobby of that sort of thing and you might be surprised at the business he gets. First, he makes a picture frame, then fits the picture into it; and then tears the frame to pieces, dropping each piece into the bottle. The fun begins then; he starts putting the frame together inside the bottle with a piece of baling wire. When it's finished the frame fits the bottle snugly—and there's the sweet young thing smiling out at you just as if the bottle had been made for her instead of grape juice. J. S. Billups, Special Investigator for Robert Fechner, Director of the CCC camps of the United States, Major Wadden, District Commander of Fort Worth, and Capt. Modlin, Sub-District Commander visited the local CCC camp this week.

CCC officials are thankful for the new camp road which makes a "loop" thru the camp.

and was constructed by city officials. Recreation Hall furniture is being completed by local carpenters, and Mr. R. H. Williams, Educational Director for both Coryell county camps says they're making a swell job of it. Lieut. H. R. Lyons, camp Commandant expects the recreation hall-library to be fitted out and ready within the next ten days. Two officers have been added to the personnel within the past few days. They are Lt. J. L. Allen, second in command, from El Campo, Texas, and Lt. H. Margolis from New York City, medical officer.

Roy H. Gough of Dimmitt, Texas, assistant technician for the Soil Conservation force at the local CCC camp was operated on for appendicitis Thursday at the Baptist Hospital in Waco. J. B. Thaxton, Superintendent, has received word that Mr. Gough, who was seriously sick for a time, is now recovering rapidly.

Four official visitors spent Monday at the camp working with the SC staff. They were Paul Waltzer, public relations man, and Howard Matson, agricultural engineer, both of the SEC; and J. H. Cheek and Paul Cunyus, both Assistant State Administrators for the ECW. All four were from Lindale.

MAN'S FOOT CRUSHED BY TRUCK LOADED WITH GRAIN

Crossing the square with a load of grain Bill Hodges, Saturday about 5 o'clock ran over a man named Brazer, who stepped in front of the truck as it was making slow time in the crowded Saturday traffic. Brazer's foot was badly crushed and he was given medical attention here. The truck belonged to a local grain dealer.

CAR SIDESWIPE TRUCK AND CRASHES INTO PHONE POST

Saturday afternoon about 7 miles west of Gatesville, H. J. Baker driving a Terraplane sedan sideswiped one of the trucks of a local wholesale firm driven by John Carlyle and swerved out of the road into a telephone post breaking it in two, in order to miss another car which the truck was passing. Fortunately no one was injured with the exception of Mrs. C. F. Lefevre, whose ankle was sprained by a Thermos bottle falling on her foot. The Terraplane had its front end torn up considerably, and the sideswiped truck had a fender practically torn off and also a part of the running board crumpled. Also in the car with Mr. Baker were C. F. Lefevre of Waco and another man whose name was not learned. Occupants of the Ford car which was passing were not learned. Both the truck and the car driven by Mr. Baker were going west when the accident happened, and the other car was coming east from Arnett.

Can't tell when George Hodges has a new son, as he smokes cigars all time, but now he's a double reason, because "that old bird" presented him with a 10 lb. son Thursday a. m. They're calling him James Eugene. And who's that certain "dame" that's gettin' all that publicity by the editor of a certain paper in the western part of the county that has as a moniker The Evant Nooze. One of our friends, we apologize for not knowing his name said to us Saturday "You remember getting lost in my pasture last year?" We got lost in lots of them last year seeing about 80 to 90 a day, when Ayres Compton furnished the "shillings" for us to pay our bills with—if we were lucky enough to make them. By the way, we saw Ayres with his wife and young daughter out for dinner the other night, and what we mean, that daughter is going places and seeing things. Jack Horn passed us one of the best pieces of news we've heard, and it certainly made cents for both of us. S'what we like to hear. R. H. Willoms, Educational Director for the two CCC camps in this county, has certainly got his hands full, besides all that, he has to visit the district office in Fort Worth weekly, he says. Saw Ernest Burchett in a local Department store the other day getting all fixed-up with a new hat; of course we gave him a little encouragement about his looks.

Three High School Students Crash Into Car Near McGregor Sat. Night

CORYELL CARS TANGLE MONDAY 10:30—NO ONE INJURED

Following a week end of accidents, Monday morning at 10:30, cars driven by John Boehne and Paul Lindenberg of Coryell City sideswiped each other half a mile west of Coryell City, knocking the fender off Boehne's car and damaging the rear of Lindenberg's car. Fortunately no one was injured in the crash with the exception of being shaken a little.

BOB ABLES INJURED AS CAN FROM MILK TRUCK STRIKES HIM

Bob Ables, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Ables was knocked unconscious by a milk can which rolled off a passing milk truck early Saturday morning. The boy was playing in the front yard of the Ables home when the accident occurred.

THREE CLUBS ORGANIZED AT HS; DRAMATIC, PRESS, CHORAL

Getting ready for a busy year, students of the local high school have organized three working clubs for the coming year, and also the well known Pep Squad, under the direction of Miss Virginia Worthy. For the Pep Squad, the leaders are Miss Leah Dell Franks, Miss Frances McCoy, and Miss Ruth Hamilton. Choral club officers are Pete Martin, President, John R. Colgin Vice-President, and Nelle Goodall, Secretary. Erle Powell was elected president of the Dramatic Club, Patsey Olsen, Secretary and Jack Hestilow Reporter. Miss Martha Lawrence is sponsor.

WHO'S THE WHOSER OR WHAT'S TH' WHITCHER

T'night's the night! To night's the night! It's a black and white argument which will keep fans listening to static tonight—and there'll probably be plenty of static, when the "white hope" Max Baer meets the "black menace" Joe Louis, in a battle that will actually be heard around the world via radio. "The squared circle" will be in none other than the world famous Yankee Stadium. Associated Press writers predict a $1,000,000,000 gate, which will pull fistic encounters over on the "black inked" side of the ledger, and incidently, is a perfectly grand sign that the depression has also received a K. O.

DUSTY ROADS CAUSE OF HEAD-ON COLLISION NEAR MCGREGOR

Friday evening about 7:30, Harold Chamlee, Grady Dickie and Edwin McDonald were injured in a head-on collision near McGregor with a car driven by Dewalt Springfield of McGregor. The boys had started to Waco to a night football game. McDonald sustained a fractured knee, and his tongue was almost bitten in two. Chamlee had cuts on his face, the worst extending from his nose down to his neck, besides bruised shoulders and other minor cuts. Dickie was skinned and bruised but was not in as bad condition as the others. He returned home Sunday. Springfield in the other car was also painfully injured. An ambulance from McGregor took the boys to Waco to a hospital there. Cars had just passed the boys stirring up the dust and they could not see Springfield's car which was coming from the other direction. Harold Chamlee and Edwin McDonald returned from the hospital in Waco yesterday, and are doing nicely. Fire started, after the cars met, in Chamlee's car, but was quickly extinguished by E. W. Jones, Jr., Dan McClellan, Woodland Meador and others who were close behind.

RAINBOW CLASS OF M. E. CHURCH TO HAVE PICNIC

Announcement from Rev. M. M. Chunn is to the effect that there will be a supper this evening in Raby Park for members of the Rainbow club of the Methodist church. In case of rain, free taxi service will be available to everyone who calls 213, and the meeting will be held at the church.

COACH AND SUPT. GO TO WACO FOR MEET

Superintendent Frank L. Williams and Coach Earle Worley attended a district meeting of this District last night in Waco, which was called by Supt. J. J. Youngblood of Mart. The meeting was called for discussion of rules and eligibility and other matters pertaining to Class B High schools in this district.

Mrs. R. D. A. Tharp and son of Stephenville were Gatesville visitors Thursday.

Mrs. Hugh Speed and children Carlton, Jennie Evelyn and Betty Jean and Mrs. Will Denton of Plainview (West Texas) returned to their home Monday after spending a few days with their aunt and sister Mrs. H. E. Summers of Jonesboro.

SAILING THRU LIFE

With M. LEDNAR

It seems like nowadays everybody is writing their memoirs, or at least giving a detailed account of the hardships and experiences they encountered in attaining success.

Walter Hagen, the great golfer attributes his success to first, love of the game, second, concentration, and third, constant, everlasting practice. While perfecting his game he was always watching other great stars, studying their shots and then practicing them, not once in a while, but continually, until he had attained perfection. When I say perfection I do not mean that literally, for no human has attained absolute perfection in any avenue of endeavor.

Many men have made outstanding successes; and then there are those who have gone only half way—just missing the pinnacle of greatness in their trades or professions. Men who have attained real success are men who were fired with a love for the work they were doing, men who profited by the experience of others and then applied themselves diligently and undividedly to the pursuit of their ambitions.

There have been men, perhaps more brilliant than the others, who had probably as much love for the trade or profession which they were following, but who lacked the determination, who were led into the byways by attractive will-o-the-wisp's, who failed to take advantage of the experience of others, and who lacked the concentration and application that makes for success.

A lot of us wonder why the other fellow, perhaps not as well endowed by nature, not as brilliant or as strong physically, has gone further and attained much more. This, then, is the answer: they made the best of their opportunities; they made every effort count; they had one determination and ambition and let nothing divert them from their aims.

There is a mighty good lesson in that. In this old game of life there is bound to be a certain percentage of bad shots. It isn't written that we should go through life without having some discouragements or reverses. But like Walter Hagen, when we get one of these bad shots, let's not let it discourage us. Let us figure that one more of those inevitable bad shots is off the board. Forget it. Go ahead and play the next shot with anew determination. The past is gone, its mistakes must be forgotten, and by constant application and practice we will improve our game so that we are less likely to dub again the same kind of shot. Successful men do the best they can with conditions as they find them and seldom wait for a better turn. And while we're at it we had best take a look at ourselves. We might find something that needs correcting besides our stance or our swing.

COPPERAS COVE NEWS

Fifty-Fourth School Term Opens Monday

The Copperas Cove Public School will open its 1935-36 term Monday morning at 9:00

Due to the fact that the Auditorium is not completed the student body and parents will meet at the Baptist church for opening day exercises. A program appears on this page.

Supt. J. B. Culwell urges that all students enroll the opening day, although they may not attend school regularly.

The following is the names of the members of the faculty, along with the subject they will teach.

J. C. Culwell, graduate of Southwestern University, professor. Starting next term in local school.

John Rodgers of Lindale, Texas, Principal and coach. Outstanding athlete at Southwestern University. Received degree in June. First year in local school.

Miss Lucille Holt of Henderson, Texas, A. B. degree. Second year in local school. High school English.

Mr. Everett Williams of Gatesville. Graduate of North Texas State College. First term in local school. Spanish.

Miss Jimmie Jacobs, Third term in local school. Seventh grade.

Miss Cieta Swim, first year in local school. Fifth and sixth grades.

Miss Jewel Dickson, third year. Third and Fourth grades. Jewel Yarborough, 16th consecutive term in local school. First and Second grades.

At the school board meeting Saturday, Mr. Mayberry was elected as driver of the new bus purchased by the school. Mr. Mayberry has had considerable experience as a driver, and is well qualified to fill the position.

The bus will bring children to the local school from the Topsey, Harmon and Antelope school districts who have finished the grades taught in their respective schools.

The bus will leave Harmon at 7 o'clock each morning. It will arrive at Topsey at 7:30 o'clock, and at Antelope about 8:15 o'clock. Those expecting to ride the bus should watch for it carefully the first morning.

The school opening program of the Copperas Cove school was presented yesterday at the Baptist Church.

Song, "America The Beautiful"; Invocation, Rev. James F. Trammell; Welcome, J. C. Culwell; Message From School Board, Mr. Behrens; Message From P.T. A., Mrs. Culwell; Song, Lynn Marie Simpson; Introduction of Teachers, J. C. Culwell.

MRS. J. S. RILEY

Funeral services were held at two o'clock Sunday afternoon, September 22, at the City Cemetery for Mrs. J. S. Riley who died Saturday afternoon at one o'clock at her home here after a week of serious illness. Rev. Will Jackson conducted the services. Miss Ruthie Jane Mathias

P. T'S HERE

And we don't mean P. T. A. this time, it's a hold over from the world famous P. T. Barnum, originator of the slogan "There's one born every minute." Meaning people have to learn and cannot assimilate useful knowledge in any appreciable amount without experiencing.

Of course, we don't mean P. T's here, because he passed on to some other "greater show" some years ago. It's his spirit that is here, and an idea that he originated and has successfully sold to the world. Credit, also must be given to the other famous figure connected with the billing of this "Greatest Show on Earth—that of John Ringling, who has also been a showman of distinguished note.

We're still kid enough to want to see what they've got, and intend to stay that way. We'd even like to be in Waco about 4:30 the morning of the BIG DAY and watch the unloading. The real show begins at that instant, and continues until the Big Top and all the accessories are safely tucked away and off to the next one-night stand. It's an enormous example of organization. Everything must click. There can be no hitches. "The show must go on," here as well as on the stage.

So, if you don't get to see inside the big top, but do see the job set up, you've certainly seen something worthwhile. And, as for the kids, from six to 60, and below and over, it's all a thrill. You'll learn something at this circus, and we urge you to see it for your own good.

(NOTE: This is not an advertisement, either free, or paid. It is our recognition of one of the outstanding attractions of the world, and for this reason ONLY, these lines are written.)

It's in the blood—same as Fall weather, Fall Clothes, Falling leaves. It is in reality, THE national game.

For the uninitiated, football seems brutal, foolish and unnecessary. It is a game one must have physical training on fundamentals, think and act quickly depend. In the new rules and regulations, as much depends on pass throwing and receiving as on anything else. The brute strength of other years is passing, and now speed, headiness, alertness, and teamwork are the features of the 1935 game.

As to danger in football, it is very slight. Training tables are set, and if not, training regulations given, and if followed explicitly by the player, it is very unusual if one gets injured. Naturally, clumsiness or awkwardness are the cause of some injuries. but the spry and nimble footed rarely are injured.

Interest in the game depends on SEEING it with someone who knows sufficient to properly explain it. Since we have many students from the rural districts coming here to school, and whose parents and friends would like to see them in action, we are sure local football enthusiasts will be more than glad to explain the game to them.

So, we urge those who want to know something of the game not to fail to call on someone to explain the fundamentals, so that everyone in the county may be a FAN. And, once a FAN always a FAN. Call on us, and you will be welcomed.

Jim and T. Hix were Waco visitors Saturday.

Miss Louise Voss visited relatives and friends in Gonzales last week end.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Prewitt and Miss Pauline Garner spent Sunday in Austin.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Harper and daughter of Oglesby were Gatesville visitors last week.

Mrs. G. C. Atkins left Wednesday for her home in Houston where she will stay a few days before returning here to be with her mother Mrs. J. H. Gilmer who is ill.

World Comment

By JOE BURNS

"The Republican party lost one of its best friends when Huey Long died." This statement was made by a man who is recognized as one of the G. O. P.'s most important and ablest strategists in New York. His comment is given in detail because it represents the significant private viewpoint of the anti-New Deal G. H. Q.

"We had what amounted to a working agreement with Long for next year. Naturally there was nothing down in black and white—but he understood us and we understood him. We wanted to lick Roosevelt for obvious reasons. He wanted to lick him and let us win—because he figured our victory would enable him to build a much bigger following for 1940. He doped it that millions of the have-nots who are still backing Roosevelt would be bound to come over to him once FDR was beaten.

"He was all set to raise plenty of hell—and we were ready to see to it that he had enough money to make a big splash—indirectly, of course.

"Now the dream of a left-wing third party in 1936 is as dead as Long himself. There's absolutely no one in sight to lead it and no time to develop a leader. Coughlin? Don't make me laugh. La Follette?

Too smart—he'll wait until there's a real chance of winning. Ditto for Wheeler. Norris? Too old—and besides he likes Roosevelt. Borah? Not a chance. We were really counting on Long more than we realized until now.

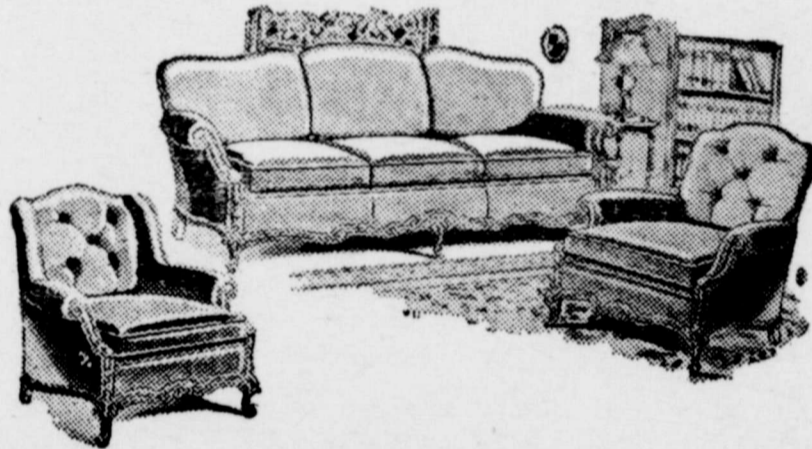

"Of course we can—and will—redouble our efforts to encourage a right-wing third party—Hearst's Jeffersonian or constitutional Democrats. But frankly I doubt that it will accomplish anything—even in the South. Don't forget that the machine in power controls patronage. Local leaders are the backbone of any successful political movement. But those two factors together and try to visualize how many Democratic lieutenants and sergeants and corporals hate Roosevelt enough to throw away their places at

For the little son or daughter who carries their lunch to school Perry's have the nicest big lunch baskets. They also have a good line of school bags.

And of course they always have a huge supply of school necessities including pencils, paste, crayolas, rulers, composition books, inks, scissors, pencil cases, rubber bands, drawing sets, etc.

AMATEUR BOXING BOUTS STAGED FOR THE FAIR

That there are thousands of Central Texans interested in Amateur Boxing Bouts has been evidenced by the large attendances at these events in Waco.

The elimination tournaments which are being held throughout the state have uncovered a considerable amount of promising talent.

The best of these contestants in the various divisions will be matched on two boxing cards, to be staged on the Horse Show grounds at the Brazos Valley Fair on Monday, September 25 and Wednesday, September 27. Mr. C. M. Chesher will arrange the matches and direct all details. The city recreation department is sponsoring the bouts.

The amateur possessing the necessary qualifications and desiring to enter these bouts, can make application at the City Recreational Department, City Hall. They are asked to write or call in person.

A ring is to be erected on the race track and ample seating arrangement has been provided.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this method of expressing our sincere thanks and appreciation to our friends who have been so kind and faithful during the recent illness and death of our dear mother and companion, Mrs. W. F. Edwards. Especially do we thank Dr. Hamilton and Mrs. Dora Wilson.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

POSTURE

Aside from disease, poor posture seems to cause parents more worry than any defect of children. For that reason I want to stress again one step in the treatment of poor posture which every mother can take. I refer to good nutrition.

If I let a stone fall from my hand, it drops to the ground. In this, you recognize the force of gravity. Precisely the same force is acting on the bones of the human body. If the bones were not held together by ligaments and tendons, they, too, would drop to the ground.

Now ligaments and tendons receive their strength from the food we eat. But if that food is lacking in elements that give strength, the tissues become flabby and weak. In that condition, they stretch under the weight of the body. Of course, as they stretch the bones are less firmly held in place. They are loose and sloppy. The force of gravity is stronger than the ligaments, and a slouchy posture results.

The correction is found in proper foods for strength and in sleep. The strength-giving foods are milk, fruit, vegetables, eggs, lean meat, fish, bread and butter. All vegetables are valuable, but for best results the green-leaf varieties must be included in liberal quantities.

FAITH

Paul, the Apostle says "Now faith is the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen." And in all literature there cannot be found a better definition.

The present unrest and disorder existing in the world today has put a strain on the faith of many especially those who are weak and have failed to feed the inner man on the "Bread of Life."

The revival tyrannies and dictators in supposed enlightened nations, war-clouds over hanging, intolerance in its ugliest form, distress among the masses and suicide and insanity on the increase have all cast a very dark shadow across the pathway of mankind. But we feel that out of all this present stress and turmoil will come a new era, a "golden age" which the human family has never before known, for we who have faith will discover great truth and principles that make for a larger fairer life for "There is something in the universe on the side of decency, honor and good-will, and one who is stronger than the strongest, greater than the greatest, a Power higher than all the Powers that be, which is never tired working for holiness and justice, and is never discouraged, never stayed, never ultimately defeated."

This is where to put our faith. Let's get on the right side, the bright side.

"I even I am he that comforeth thee, who art thou, that thou souldst be afraid of a man that shall die or the son of man which shall be made as grass, and forgettest the Lord thy Maker that hath stretched forth the heavens and laid the foundations of the earth?"

And one can still put his trust in these words in second Kings 6-16 "Fear not for they that be with us are more than they that be with them."

Right is never ultimately defeated!

NOTED RADIO STAR TO BE GUEST AT FAIR

The thousands of radio fans in this section will be delighted to know that one of the old time favorites of the air will visit the Brazos Valley Free Agricultural and Live Stock Show in person on Friday, September 27, 1935. This headliner is none other than the inimitable "Peg" Moreland, popular with radio fans and theater audiences for a number of years.

"Peg" Moreland's career as a guitarist started when "Peg" took up the guitar to entertain a friend confined in a hospital with a broken leg suffered during a football game. "Peg" made his radio debut in 1924 over WBAP, Fort Worth. In 1933 he began his famous "Ain't We Crazy" number, which has become his theme on the Gladiola Flour program, heard several times weekly over the Texas Network. "Peg" will entertain visitors to the Gladiola booth at the Fair and in addition will browse among the crowds on the midway.

The many friends and fans of "Peg" will want to see as well as hear him during his one day visit to the Fair.

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGR. TO SEND EXHIBIT

J. C. Patterson, Agricultural Agent of McLennan County, has received word from W. H. Darrow, Southwest Cotton Publicity Representative of the A. A. A., that an educational cotton exhibit is being sent from Washington D. C. to the Brazos Valley Free Agricultural and Live Stock Show to be held in Waco, September 23rd to 29th inclusive.

This exhibit has created wide spread attention throughout the cotton producing states and is designed to aid the cotton grower in producing more and better cotton. It is a mechanical contrivance with moving parts that is highly interesting as well as informative. A prominent location has been reserved for this display which is thirteen feet long, seven feet high, and five feet deep.

Stockholders of the Suez Canal company are complaining because they are being paid in depreciated Egyptian currency instead of gold.

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE

From galley-prisoner, Jean Valjean, inspired by the kindness and faith of the Bishop Bienvenu, becomes mayor and magistrate of a small French town. News is brought to him that one Champmathieu, half-erased paroled convict, has been identified as Jean Valjean and is about to be sent back to the galleys for Jean's failure to report to the police regularly. He presents himself in court, frees the luckless man by revealing his own identity and then promptly loses himself in the cloistered grounds of a convent. After five years he has taken a small house in Paris, the never-tiring Javert still on his trail.

Dead-End Street

The rebel students realize they are setting nowhere with their heated talks and pamphlets and decide upon immediate action. Rioting breaks out all over Paris. Under cover of the commotion, Jean decides to make a break for it from his new hiding-place in the Rue Drouot. He is just completing arrangements for a relay of coaches to carry Cosette and himself to the seacoast town of Calais when the old concierge comes in, exhausted. "Terrible night!" he pants. "Police everywhere—street fights and what-not!" "But the letter to Marius, did he get it?" asks Cosette anxiously. "The office was smashed up—the police had riddled it. He escaped. I found the letter to a strange girl, who said she would give it to him—said she was his sister, Eponine—that is, she knew her."

"Cosette's expression is that she feels Eponine will never give Marius the letter." "Are you ready to go?" Jean interrupts Cosette. "Yes, but—we can't go with all this fighting in the streets." "Yes, yes; that's good; don't you see? It's an ideal time. The police will have their hands full and guards will be withdrawn from the barriers—" "How—how far are we going?" "England." "England?" (alarmed.) "Yes, I was a fool to stay here. I might have known I'd be found out eventually. We shall be safe there." In his joy he embraces her. "Yes, but—I can't go. I can't leave him. He doesn't know where I am. He'll think—" "But who?" "Marius. I shall never find him." "Marius?" Jean is completely puzzled. He has no idea what he means to her. "But what is this man to you?" "I love him, that's all." Still Jean simply can't believe it. He half-smiles, almost as though he were treating a child. "But—you can't have seen him twice in your life!" "Yes, I met him often—I didn't tell you, but we were going to tell you. He was coming to see you the night we had to leave."

House of Cards

Jean looks at her a long time in bewilderment. The whole of his house of cards tumbles down and he breaks into a hysterical little laugh at the way Fate has played with him. "But me—me! Have you nothing for me?" "But you're my father—I mean I always think of you as my father. I know you're really not, but don't you see, with Marius, it's different. It isn't just that lovely sense of companionship that I have with you—it's—it's like every girl feels for the man who is going to be her husband." His whole expression begins to change. He wants to take Cosette away; he is searching for a line to take, searching cunningly, calculating as to how to play on her emotions. "Yes," (deliberately) "it's natural you should want to leave me."

The words have the desired effect. "I didn't—until this happened. I never thought of leaving you. No one could have been happier than I. I'll go to England—I'll forget him somehow, I will—I swear I will—" Jean clutches at this last straw. He tries to persuade himself and her that it is best to go. His one idea is to get her away—rush the journey before she can have time to think. "Of course, if I could do anything for him, I would—you know I would, but I can't. We don't even know where he is, and if we stay here they'll arrest me and heaven knows what will happen to you. No, it's best for us to go, isn't it? We can make all inquiries about him from England—that's best—isn't it?" Cosette nods half-heartedly. The door to the street is pushed back violently and Eponine staggers in, panting and exhausted. "I've run halfway across Paris with all the gendarmes and police in France on my trail—and if I'm not mistaken there's still a couple on the corner waiting—pew!" "Who are you?" asked Jean. "I've come to see a girl called Cosette. I've a note for her—from Marius." "Marius?" "Yes, the only man who ever meant anything to me and I—have to carry messages of undying affection to another woman—Funny, isn't it?" "Where is he now?" "Fighting for his life in the Faubourg St. Germain—troops all around him—he and his stupid students, getting themselves slaughtered—for what? I'd have kept him out of it, but when he didn't hear from his sweetheart he didn't care what happened. Now he's in it—trapped in a blind alley determined to die for his silly cause. Aren't men fools?" "Now (continuing), when will this Cosette be back?" "She's here—but I'm trying to get her to go to England tonight." "England? And he's never to see her again perhaps?" To her it is a flash of hope that she may be able to part these two. "If we tell her where he is she'll want to go to him." "She couldn't get there. You might, but she couldn't."

Plans to Rescue Marius
"Why should I go to him?" "Don't you want to save him—for your daughter?" "Why should I? She belongs to me—to me. I have a right—she's all I have—why, he may be beyond help already. Nothing to be gained, nothing, I tell you. What's this boy to me that I should risk my life—for him?" Eponine looks up at him and nods. Then adds in a quiet voice: "I know just how you feel, but it seems that they love each other. What are we going to do about that, you and I? That defeats us both, doesn't it?—Well, shall I tell her or will you?" He looks down at Eponine. The cunning, crafty look in his eyes goes away. This girl has the courage and is showing him the only way out for him to take. A knock at the door interrupts them. A coachman comes in and announces the horses in readiness for the flight to Calais. Jean is between Eponine and the coachman. He looks from one to the other. He decides. "Cosette! Cosette!" (then to Eponine) "Can you show me the way—can we get him out?" "I know the way in, but heaven knows if we'll ever get him out." Jean is now galvanized into action. "Cosette!" he repeats as the girl appears in the doorway of the room where she has completed packing. "We've found Marius! We're going to him now." "Let me go with you!" gasps Cosette eagerly. "It's impossible—you must stay here." He dismisses the coachman with a word as he and Eponine disappear through the door into the streets of terror.

flood damage repair jobs arejects to secure federal approval, already under way in several sections of Texas. All of the $300,000 federal allocation for that type of work has been allotted to Texas districts, State Project Director E. A. Baugh reported.

In addition to this lump grant, Texas has received federal allotment of $1,534,208 in local projects, many of which have already been started or will start soon throughout the state. As first authorizations to begin work were being mailed out to the districts whose projects were given early federal approval, state officials had completed final details on the handling of labor problems.

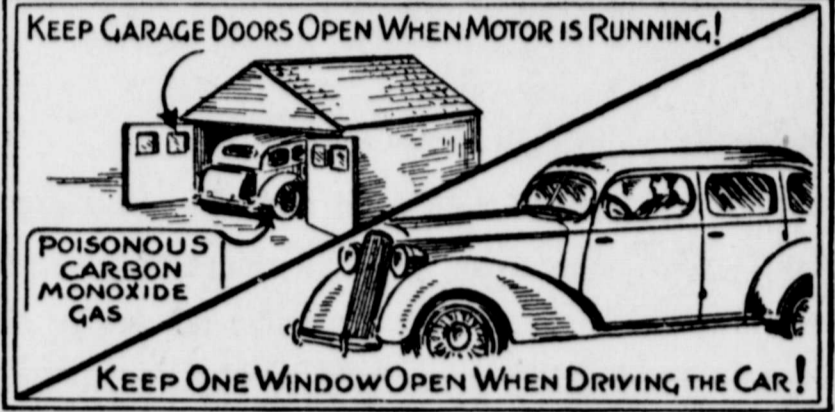

State officials adopted the 140-hour month as standard working time on projects, H. P. Drought, State Administrator, announced early last week.

Explaining that some deviations from this policy would be necessary due to such variable factors as location of the projects or the availability of equipment, Drought declared that the 140-hour month will be maintained as closely as possible. Due to the nature of canning plant and sewing room activities, women will generally work 138 hours per month, Mrs. M. K. Taylor, State Women's Work Consultant, declared. In order to realize the full benefits of these projects, it will be necessary in some instances to work two shifts per day, Mrs. Taylor said. Women employees on other types of projects are expected to work the regular 140-hour month.

ADVICE TO DRIVERS FROM CITY CHIEF OF POLICE

In view of the fact that there has been numerous complaints relative to driving and parking cars here which we know are not best for public safety, we ask to study and observe the following rules which are in accordance with City Ordinances: Speed limit for Gatesville is 20 miles per hour. Do not double park (that is one car behind the other) and when driving into park drive close

37,000 Motorists Saved From Death or Accident

Uninterrupted Supply of Fresh Air, in Car or Garage, Serves to Dispel Poisonous Carbon Monoxide Gas Fumes.

SUCCESS attending a nationwide safety campaign during August whereby more than 37,000 motorists learned to avoid death or accidents resulting from carbon monoxide gas poisoning has led to its extension through September with the approval of public health authorities and motor vehicle commissioners. Because approaching cold weather intensifies the danger, renewed effort will be made to teach all motorists the dual safety lesson: "Keep garage doors open when running the motor. Keep one window open when driving the car." Free power prover analyses of exhaust gases from the cars of more than 37,000 motorists, made during August by test engineers of Cities Service Oil Co., revealed that in a large percentage of cases the poisonous fumes were present in dangerous quantities. Proper motor adjustment eliminated the menace of gaseous sickness, cause of most of the "unexplained" highway accidents and of the fatal poisoning of so many drivers by fumes seeping into closed cars. The 10,000 safety crusaders who during August presented motorists with cards entitling them to free tests for carbon monoxide in motor exhaust gases, will be active again in September. They will also post on garage doors the warning: "Keep this door open when motor is running."

W.P.A. WORK PROJECTS ARE GETTING UNDERWAY

San Antonio, Sept. 23—With several thousand men engaged in swinging picks and shovels on dozens of projects in Texas, state Works Progress Administration officials today had plunged well into the second phase of the program intended to eradicate relief rolls in Texas. Workers on the Lake Trammell flood damage repair project near Sweetwater Friday became first former relief clients to receive pay checks from Works Progress Administration. On that day also, 600 laborers began to earn their pay on four projects in the Houston WPA district. First on the list of WPA pro-

Mrs. Happy Lee Entertains Young Daughter.

On Saturday afternoon, Sept. 21, Mrs. Happy Lee with the assistance of Misses Irene Turner, Lena Lee and Johnnie Belle Coskrey entertained with a party for the little folks honoring little Miss Rae Juan Lee on her fourth birthday.

After playing games on the lawn, the children were called into the beautifully decorated dining room, where a large birthday cake decorated with candles was cut and served with punch. After which all-day suckers were passed to the following; Pauline Byrom, Nita Gene Rogers, Lonelle Turner, Rita Fay Lee, Linnie Fae Turner, Ronald Earl Chatham, Albert Edwards Jr., Robert Earl and Dewey Meeks, Robert Earl Nolte and the honoree.

Rae Juan received many nice presents. After enjoying her first birthday party, and looking over all the presents, Rae Juan decided "birthdays are like Santa Clauses."

World Comment—

the feed box deliberately in order to elect a Republican. That's what it boils down to. "There will be plenty of general's and colonels—Hearst himself and Bainbridge Colby (Secretary of State under Wilson) and Pattangall and Senator Tydings (of Maryland) and Henry Breckenridge—and maybe Al Smith, John W. Davis (former Democratic presidential candidate), Albert Ritchie, Newton Baker and the like. But do you think the public is going to swarm cheering to their banners? Don't be silly.

"A good live radical movement promoted by such a colorful mountebank as the Kingfish might have substracted 10,000,000 votes and a dozen states from the Roosevelt column and given us a walk-in. If the Jeffersonian democrats poll a million they'll be lucky—and it would be the eighth wonder of the world if they are strong enough to represent the balance of power in a single state."

Your correspondent is of the belief that the Republicans would do well to nominate this gentleman for president. He knows what the Republican party must do in 1936 as does no other elephant in the country—and should at least be put in charge of the G. O. P. campaign.

Continuing in the realm of politics, Jim Farley, National Democratic Chairman and the boss of the forthcoming presidential race, has reported to President Roosevelt after his trans-continental tour that the western states are safe. When new Los Angeles voters registered for a bond issue election last month, with neither political organization making a special drive, 52,000 out of the 83,000 signed up as Democrats. Newspaper polls show the Administration rolling up a majority in the South and Middle West.

Jim scorns the idea that there will be a third party of any proportions. Even anti-New Deal senators, such as Glass, Byrd, Tydings, are making commitments that they won't bolt. But what pleases Democratic politics most is the cool response to the suggestion that Al Smith head an independent ticket. Al could make trouble in certain populous states which have large electoral votes.

Federal Judge Edward Meek of Dallas wishes to retire at some early date. Gov. James V. Allred has been suggested as a possible successor of Meek. It is considered out of the question that Allred would resign as governor to accept an appointment, especially as he looks to future special sessions to achieve most of his platform covenant with the voters. Senator Morris Sheppard has recommended former lieutenant governor T. W. Davidson for the $10,000-a-year lifetime judgeship, but Senator Connally has endorsed no one.

The appointment is not to a new place, requiring immediate acceptance and it is entirely possible that the appointment might be tendered and its acceptance left pending the governor's retirement at the end of his first term as governor, January 1, 1937.

Should the Governor retire at the close of his first term it would change political alignments the state over. It would permit Senator Sheppard to be re-elected with little trouble, as the Allred forces form the bulwark of Sheppard opposition, expecting their leader to contest the election with the veteran senator. The next Governor of Texas would be Attorney-General William McCraw, Speaker of the House Coke R. Stevenson, Railroad Commission Chairman E. O. Thompson or Lieutenant Governor Walter F. Woodul.

The machine of the late Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana is rapidly disintegrating. Revolt flared up last week when Gov. O. K. Allen, who has assumed the leadership of the faction, attempted to choose a slate of candidates the Longites would support in the forthcoming January primary, in which a U. S. Senator, Governor, members of the State Legislature and Congressmen will be chosen.

Before the slate could be chosen, Lieutenant Governor James A. Noe and Public Service Commission Chairman Wade O. Martin executed a coup, announcing for Governor and United States Senator respectively.

Governor Allen, bosom friend of Senator Long, was expected to announce for the vacant Senate post and the administration was ready to choose either Noe or Allen Ellender, another Long man and Speaker of the House, for Governor. Noe feared his defeat by Ellender in the special caucus of Long followers and announced his candidacy.

The Longites, headed by Allen, must do one of two things. They can support Noe and Martin for Governor and Senator and stand a good chance of defeating the anti-Long slate of candidates, providing Ellender does not announce. Or they may support Allen and Ellender for Senator and Governor and, thus divided, stand a good chance of losing.

The Noe followers want Ellender to run for Lieutenant Governor on their slate, promising him the Governorship 4 years hence. But the Speaker does not take kindly to the suggestion. The Longites must unite for victory; divided, they will go down to defeat before the organized opposition of enemies of the late Senator.

THE MAYTAG
America's Favorite
FARM WASHER!

Electric models for homes with electricity

• F. L. Maytag, who was himself a farm boy, developed the Maytag gasoline Multi-Motor washer purposely for the farm housewife. More Maytags are in use on the farms of North America today than any other washer. Such exclusive advantages as the roomy, heat-retaining, cast-aluminum tub, the fast, thorough-washing Gyrotator water action, and the Roller Water Remover make quick work of a big farm washing. There are a score of other reasons why every farm should have its Maytag.

FOOTBALL CHATTER

By TEDDY

Through Bill Thomson, local Humble Agent, we get the Humble Football News every week during the football season. This small paper is very "newsy" especially pertaining to football in the Southwestern Conference. Such writers as Kern Tips, Jinx Tucker, Johnny Lyons and Blondy Cross contribute their efforts in presenting facts to the paper.

We quote in part an article by Kern Tips pertaining to the outcome of the Southwestern Conference this year:

"To my way of thinking, tradition is just a witty nickname for such teams as the University of Texas, Southern Methodist University and Texas Christian University. Because if Rice fails to repeat this year the Owls will never be called upon to play Tradition University's team, but they will have to meet the Longhorns, the Mustangs and the Horned Frogs. Those are the ball clubs that spell tradition insofar as the Champion Owls are concerned."

Two teams the local Hornets play this year won by overwhelming scores the past week end. The M. E. Home of Waco defeated the Lampasas High School in Lampasas Friday night 39 to 0. Worley and Ewing scouted this game, and stated yesterday the Home had two fast demons in Carl and McClain.

The Training School lost to Hamilton Friday afternoon 34 to 6. Coach W. T. Hix of the State Training School stated Monday that he would like to get in touch with someone wanting a game this coming Friday.

We are in receipt of a letter from Coach Harold Jenkins of McGregor of which we quote in part:

"We stated some time ago we would have two lettermen. That is a fact that we are sorry to have to acknowledge. This ought to be Gatesville's year. But will it? Bring us over a big crowd for the Thanksgiving tussle, because it is going to be just that and worth the price to everyone."

The five Southwestern Conference teams playing games the past Saturday won by scores that in the opinion of the writer, will place the Southwestern Conference in a scramble within a few weeks as they start playing other teams in the Conference loop.

Gatesville Hornets have entered their final week of practice before making their 1935 debut here Friday with Bruceville-Eddy. The week will probably be spent in stressing fundamentals of the game thoroughly.

Local followers of the football sport could not wait another week to see their first game of the year, but had to go to Waco Friday night. Gatesville was well represented, in fact, this writer was on hand, and in my opinion, the local delegation witnessed a great game, considering the fact that it was the first game of the season for Waco High as well as Central High of Fort Worth. Waco won 18 to 0, however, they were not three touchdowns better than Central. One could tell from the side line Central was making more first downs than Waco.

A like delegation from here attended the game in Waco Saturday night between Southwestern University of Georgetown and Baylor University. The Minglewood tribe defeated the Georgetown Pirates 39 to 0.

JONESBORO NEWS

BRAZOS VALLEY FREE FAIR TO ATTRACT MANY

Waco, Sept. 23. (Spl.)—Echoes of the gaiety which rang throughout the Cotton Palace Coliseum, in the days when the exposition brought all of Central Texas to Waco for its annual showing are being again this week, when, as a feature of the Brazos Valley Free Livestock and Agricultural show, thru Sept. 29, a twice-daily revue will be presented on the coliseum stage.

The floor where Texas danced in the old Cotton Palace times will again feel the slither of young feet, as the coliseum is thrown open three times during the week, following the night performance, for dances.

Bringing back with him the spirit of the original Cotton Palace J. Jack Stanley, who was connected with the presentations in 1916 and later, produces "Continental Nights and Smiles-Styles Revue," to be shown at 2:30 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. daily during the exposition. Stanley recalls when, for the coronation of king and queen of the Cotton Palace, he helped install an $8,000 set on the coliseum stage. The settings in which he will present the shows this year will be equally elaborate, if not as costly.

Stanley has a personnel of 100 for the revue. The cast will include singers, dancers, a picked chorus, comedians, and a first-rate orchestra.

The producer has a long record of active showmanship behind him. He has produced Shrine shows all over the United States, grossing 14,200 for the Corsicana shrine some years ago, $1,000 of which that organization donated to a home for crippled children. He produced two international bathing revues in California, at the last of which Renoe Adoree, who appeared on the screen later in "Million Dollar Legs," was crowned queen. He traveled around the world with one show, and, in his long career, remembers when he used to hold present "The Last Days of Pompeii," famed pyrotechnic entertainment. This show, he reports, is still playing the state fairs of the north and east.

Among the featured players of the revue to be presented at the Coliseum will be Miss Cynthia White, who was with the original Zieffeld Follies and in Rose Marie. Roy Wright, imitator of Maurice Chevalier; Miss Doris Harrell, toe and tap dancer; Robert and Carol Calo, called "prince and princess of the American dance;" Evon Estes, Egyptian dancer, and Austin Merideth, called "America's greatest originators of dance."

JACK STANLEY OF FREE FAIR BRINGS PLENTY BEAUTIES TO WACO

Waco, Sept. 23. (Spl.)—It is a far cry from achy derms to pulchritude, but J. Jack Stanley has handled elephants as well as bathing beauties. And has his "Continental Nights and Smiles-Styles Revue" to the Cotton Palace coliseum this week, he has with him no elephants, but plenty of beauties. Stanley, in his long career as a showman, has put on two international bathing beauty revues at Hollywood, and for awhile was manager of the California Zoological Gardens, where he booked elephants, tigers, and the like. The revue which is presented as a feature of the Brazos Valley Free Livestock and Agricultural show will open at 2:30 p. m. and 8:15 p. m. daily.

Wheat Adjustment Safeguards Wheat Income

HIGHLIGHTS OF WHEAT ADJUSTMENT

- 1 Adjusts Production to Demand
- 2 Increases Farm Purchasing Power
- 3 Provides Adequate Supplies
- 4 Encourages Sound Farm Practices
- 5 Is Based on Voluntary Cooperation

U.S. CASH WHEAT INCOME

$196 MILLIONS 1932
$391 MILLIONS 1934

* Includes Benefit Payments

THIS chart shows how the Agricultural Adjustment Administration wheat program has safeguarded wheat farmers' income. For 1932 when there was no program, cash income to farmers from wheat was $196,000,000. For 1934 higher prices and adjustment payments brought a cash income of $391,000,000. The wheat program seeks: (1) to produce wheat for available markets; (2) to increase farm purchasing power; (3) to produce adequate supplies at all times for domestic use; (4) to encourage sound farming through diversion of land to soil-improving and erosion-preventing crops; and (5) to make voluntary cooperation more profitable to farmers than non-cooperation.

STATE RESERVE BANKHEAD EXEMPTION CERTIFICATES

College Station, Sept. 23.—"All of the Bankhead tax exemption certificates in the regular 90 per cent tax exemption quota of the State have been distributed to producers and certificates in the 10 per cent State reserve are being distributed to eligible producers at present," A. L. Smith, chairman of the Texas Cotton Review Board, said.

Claims on this 10 per cent State reserve total 305,413,653 pounds and as there are only 119,086,967 pounds to be distributed, producers will receive only a small per cent of their claims, he said.

Producers eligible to receive tax exemption certificates from the 10 per cent State reserve are: those producers who had less than one-third of their cultivated acreage in cotton during the years 1930, 1931, and 1932; producers whose yield for any year during the base period 1930-1932 was less than the average yield on their acreage for the whole period; and producers whose average acreage in cotton for the three year period 1930-1932 was less than 60 per cent as much as their acreage planted to cotton in 1929.

Only those producers who submit Bankhead applications giving statistical data proving that they are entitled to a share of the 10 per cent allotment will be given certificates, Smith said.

Producers who planted land to cotton in any of the three years, 1933, 1934, or 1935, for the first time since 1927 also receive their tax exemption certificates from the 10 per cent State reserve, but these certificates have already been issued to producers. They totaled 57,064,050 pounds.

SOLONS HOPE FOR PROGRESS BEFORE WEEK HAS PASSED

Austin, Sept. 22.—Legislative leaders hoped for material progress this week on important bills.

A sub-group of the house state affairs committee placed finishing touches on a compromise old age pension bill and planned to report Tuesday with floor consideration anticipated before the end of the week.

A senate committee scheduled its first hearing for tomorrow on a pension bill.

Restrictions tentatively placed in the house bill would limit total pension payments to between $8,000,000 and $10,000,000, a committeeman estimated.
