FORMER GATESVILLE BOY SAVES CHILD'S LIFE BY AERIAL FLIGHT

Tyler, Oct. 12.—Buck Taylor, Tyler pilot flew to Amarillo and picked up serum which saved the life of 4-year-old Barbara Ann Bryant from succumbing to a blood stream infection.

The child's father, Dr. W. Howard Bryant, who several months ago revived a man who had been pronounced dead, said human serum rushed here from Chicago by train and plane and a blood transfusion had greatly improved his daughter's con-dition.

On the flight, Buck battled strong headwinds in a return flight bringing in the serum just in the nick of time.

Buck Taylor is a grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Post Sr., and also has many other relatives in Gatesville.

"Emblematic of all the soil and soul of Texas" was Govern-or James V. Allred's descrip-tion of the stirring ground-breaking ceremony at Dallas October 12, which began con-struction on the $1,200,000 State of Texas building at the Texas Centennial central exposition. The top photo shows a comely Senorita greeting the Governor with an armful of Texas Cen-tennial roses; following his in-spiring appeal for Statewide unity in the Centennial move-ment, while the lower catches the dynamite blast which broke ground for the magnificent State building. See story on front page of other section.

This con-test is to give the members a greater inducement to carry out a better farm program; to bring about a closer connec-tion between teaching, super-vised practice, and the F. F. A. Brawny He-Lions Eat While Cissies Fall for Coup D'Etat Wed Noon

Brawny Lions of the Gates-ville Lion's Club took "French leave" from their co-patriots, the "cissies" Wednesday noon, after the regular luncheon at the Methodist church had been called off by those of the "398". Gathering at a downtown cafe the "brawny ones" munched heartily on steak, voting unan-imosly to send the bill to the Lion Secretary treasurer, and call the account square.

A multitude of resolutions concerning what the "rough element" would and would not do, was presented, motioned seconded and passed without as much as a dissenting murmur. No one called "out of order," and the meeting was one of decorum and speed.

A note of regret was read from Brawny Alvis, reading as follows: to wit: "Rough Ele-ment, Gatesville Lion's Club: Dear Lions: Sincerest regrets at not being present with you at your fine meeting. I have business in Waco, and have per-suaded Lion Pres. (W. C.) Zeig-ler to go with me so that your meeting will not be disturbed by his "blah, blah." Ever with the Element. (Signed) C. E. Alvis, Lion."

Besides voting to go to Fri-day's game of Hornets vs. West, en masse, they also voted to back up the traffic laws and the official Secretary should take up the matter of a Safety Campaign with the Texas High-way Commission or other pro- per authorities.

Lions present were Ford, chairman, Morgan, Ray, E. W. Jones, McClendon, Lee, Gart-man, Bauman, Hedgpeth, Bam-burg, Powell, Mounce, Sydow, Kendrick, Holmes, Brown, Wor-ley, Ament, Lasseter, K. Jones, and M. Jones, secretary for the "RE'S."

FORMER CORYELL RESIDENT PASSES AWAY IN HOUSE, NEW MEXICO

John M. Henry, a former re-sident of Coryell county, passed away at his home in House, New Mexico, Wednesday after-noon, October 9, at one o'clock.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon, October 13, at the Ruth Cemetery near Ewing at three o'clock. Rev. Clyde Childers of Moody con-ducted the services.

John Henry was born in Coryell county in 1874. He moved from here twenty-two years ago to Jones county. Later he moved to House, New Mexico, to make his home. He was married to Miss Cordia Evans while he was a resident of this county.

He is survived by his widow, five daughters and two sons; and two sster of this county, Mrs. S. J. Jones of near Ewing and Mrs. Guy Hoard.

A Maryland landlord profited little from selling the goods of Mrs. Thomas Hargrave to satisfy a rent judgement. She bid in all the stuff herself, paying from 2 to 5 cents for each article, the sale bringing a total of only $1.12, although an automobile was in the list. She was able to do this because her neighbors refrained from bidding against her.

25 County Boys Lose $150 Each by Not Asking Aid Thru NYA

Austin, Oct. 14.—In Coryell County, there are 25 high school students losing $150 per month through failure to make application for NYA aid allocations, Lyndon B. Johnson, State Director, announced to-day.

"On September 12, socially desirable part-time jobs paying $6 per month were offered 8,547 high school students, who are members of families on re-lief rolls or members of rural resettlement families at a to-tal monthly expenditure of $51,282. Response to this offer has been retarded, and the Na-tional Youth Administration is desirous of filling the quota immediately in order to give those eligible for student aid the full sum of cash due them," he said.

Students between the ages of 16 and 25, who for lack of financial assistance are unable to attend school, should make application directly to the prin-cipal of their school, Johnson said. The principal then sub-mits to the county superinten-dent a project application in affidavit form asking for his quota of jobs, together with students' applications properly executed. Applications should then be forwarded to the Na-tional Youth Administration, Littlefield Building, Austin, Texas.

In conversation with Super-intendent Frank L. Williams, he stated six boys in the local high school were receiving this benefit, or would, as applica-tions had been filed with the NYA.

High School Annual
 Very little has been done since last week about an annual for '36, but one hears it talked plenty over the campus. An overwhelming majority of the student body seem to favor an annual. However, conditions looked practically the same last year, yet the annual movement was what is known technically as a "flop." This year students seem more sincere but one never can tell. They should be for business conditions on the up grade. This is all the more reason for an annual as the student body managed one in '32, one of the darkest of depression years.

Gatesville High deserves an annual. Last week the football team played Clifton a close game and would have won had it not been for the breaks. There is every chance of beating West today. The scrubs trampled Oglesby Tuesday. This is the best football year since '32. Is not such a team worthy of a little publicity? Last year's basketball and track teams won the county championships but one would never know by looking at the '35 annual for, sad to say, there was no such animal.

In order to obtain an annual, the faculty and school board must vote on it. Talk is up to your teachers until they vote in order to shut you up, and maybe there'll be an annual for Gatesville in 1936.

Debate Club News

The debate club, sponsored by Supt. Williams, held its third meeting of the year, Monday, October 14. A few new members increased the total membership to five and twenty lads and lassies.

A majority of the members are freshmen with no experience in this field, but from these "greenhorns" Mr. Williams hopes to build up an excellent debate team of both boys and girls in years to come.

The subject for the current school year concerns the much disputed question of cotton control by the government. Last year's subject concerned government control of public utilities.

Senior Class Rings

Some of the seniors have already placed their orders for class rings. The orders may be placed with Mr. Prewitt who has the agency for the rings. The rings will arrive about thirty days after the order is completed.

The ring is made of yellow gold being the same style of last year's rings.

Gatesville Scrubs Defeat Oglesby, 27-0

Led by the peppery of Joe Baker and "Tooter" Hall, the Gatesville High scrubs coasted to an easy 27-0 victory over the Oglesby High School team. Both Baker and Hall reeled of several nice gains throughout the game, Hall scoring twice.

In the first quarter nothing happened and most of the playing was done in midfield. But at the start of the second quarter Gatesville had the ball around the Oglesby 40-yard line. Baker and Hall reeled off long runs, placing the ball on the 3-yard stripe, from which Douglas White carried it over. The try for extra point failed.

Right after that Oglesby had the ball on their own 30. An Oglesby back drifted back to pass. He could not find a man in the open and as he threw the ball two Gatesville linemen hit him. The ball went into the hands of Ivy, Gatesville guard, who loped to the visitors goal line untouched. Hall cut back on and end run for the extra point.

Later in the quarter Joe Baker caught a pass near the 50-yard line and made a beautiful run to pay dirt. The play was called back and Gatesville was penalized five yards for offside. At the end of the half the score was 13-0, Gatesville.

Nothing happened in the first part of the third quarter. Along near the end Gatesville started another drive which ended three yards from the Oglesby goal.

At the first of the fourth quarter Hall and Baker started another drive for Gatesville which finally ended with Fore passing to Hall for a touchdown. Hall plunged the extra point, making the score 20-0, Gatesville. Later in the fourth period Turner recovered a fumble on the Oglesby 20-yard line. Hall made 9 yards and Baker picked up 8, putting the ball on the three yard marker. Hall carried it over and then plunged for the extra point, putting the score up to 27-0.

Up to this time Oglesby had not made a serious threat toward scoring. Along the last of the game they got the ball on Gatesville's 40-yard line, and completed a 30-yard pass to the 10-yard marker. Gatesville stopped them on the six-inch line as the game closed.

Capt. Burl Davis played a good game at guard, being it almost every play. The Oglesby team fought hard but were thoroughly outclassed in all departments of play by the Gatesville boys.

Hornets Pitted Against West This Afternoon

LOCALS IN FRAY THIS AFTERNOON AT 3:30 WITH TEAM THAT DEFEATED THEM LAST YEAR; SECOND CONFERENCE FOR THE HORNETS; BIG CROWD EXPECTED TO WITNESS GAME.

Inspired over the showing local Hornets made in Clifton last Friday night, a large crowd of football followers are expected to witness the game this afternoon at 3:30 between the Gatesville Hornets and the West High Trojans.

Hornets of last year still remember the licking suffered at the hands of the Trojans last year in West. This year the situation looks somewhat different, Gatesville, with continuous improvement, has the upper edge on the West Trojans in the fray this afternoon.

The West eleven, comparatively small but fast, with two defeats to mar their record, and the locals with one defeat and two victories, should display a great game, as this is a conference tilt.

This afternoon at 3:30 Gatesville Hornets will again encounter a team that defeated them by a big margin last year. The West High Trojans will invade Gatesville, endeavoring to lick the Hornets again this fall. With a fast, but comparatively small club the West aggregation should display a great brand of football this afternoon. West has lost to Granger and Itasca, but this cuts no ice, and does not indicate their weakness. Gatesville with two victories and one defeat, should be in top form for the fray, and the largest crowd of the year is expected to be on hand.

Saw the game between the local scrub team and the Oglesby club last Tuesday afternoon. Oglesby is to be congratulated on introducing football in their curriculum for the first time in a number of years. Joe Baker and "Totor" Hall played a great game for the locals, as well as the lad by the name of Wicker. The three boys coming on, it seems Worley and Ewing will be undecided as to who to start in the games la-

Four Southwest Conference Teams Meet in Big Battles Saturday P.M.

Saturday finds the teams in the Southwestern conference with some mighty hard and important tussles confronting them, playing two conference games and three inter-sectional contests.

The stand out of course is the Rice, S. M. U. championship struggle to be waged in Dallas. This game without doubt, will be one of the best games in the nation for the day, not only because of its importance in the conference race, but because it brings together two of the country's best teams at this particular time. Both are undefeated and both will be striving to start the "flag chase" with a victory, and the winner will be mighty hard to keep out of the throne room. For no apparent reason outside of them being defending champions, we predict a Rice victory by the scantest of margins. However, with two such offensive teams in action the difference in the scoring could be two touchdowns or more with either team on the big end of the score.

Another interesting game will be staged at Fort Worth featuring the up and coming sophomore cadets of A. & M. and the powerful T. C. U. Horned Frogs. The chances of the Farmers to emerge victorious in this annual battle are the best they have been in several years but their inexperience will be of such a handicap that the veterans they will have to face should take them under by at least a touchdown. But if the Frogs with all their power do not click a goodly portion of the game, and this has happened this season, then the cadets may go back to College Station the victors for the ter this season. Joe Baker with a little more experience, will make a great quarterback. Wicker is already a fair end, and shows he will improve. Hall, if he continues to improve, will be among the first string before the season has passed.

Tonight Coach Harold Jenkins' McGregor Bulldogs meet the Moody team for the first time since Moody withdrew from class B to enter the C division. The Bulldogs with several defeats this season, will probably find little opposition in the Moody team tonight. It will be well for fans, coaches and players to watch the outcome of this game tonight, for, on Turkey Day, one of the best games of the season is promised between Gatesville and McGregor.

We note again from the Waco News-Tribune where the Methodist Home defeated the Mt. Calm club 27-to-7. The Home seems to have a habit of defeating teams this fall, and from the looks of their schedule, they will probably continue in the winning streak.

first time in nearly a decade.

These two conference battles should please anyone but in case they do not, then there is the buglely interesting inter-sectional battle to take place between the formidable Texas University Longhorns and the ever dangerous Gentlemen from Centenary College. The Longhorns roundly outplayed and defeated the Oklahoma Sooners last Saturday at Dallas while Centenary was putting on a belated rally to eke out a one point victory over A. & M. The Texans should balance the ledger for the conference by a two touchdown victory.

The hard luck Razorbacks of Arkansas with all their previous hard luck reversed and their attack at its best, stand little chance of upsetting L. S. U., who last Saturday gave Eastern fans an eyeful when they defeated Manhattan 32-0. We see L. S. U. by a couple of touchdowns.

Baylor's undefeated Bears, battered and bruised after their defeat of Arkansas last Saturday, play the Oklahoma City University Gold Bugs this evening under the lights at Oklahoma City. If the Bears really wish to win by playing their badly used regular, they should by at least a touchdown, but if they use their reserves, then we see naught but an Oklahoma victory.

NEW 1936 FORD V-8 NOW BEING SHOWN

Ford V-8 cars for 1936 were shown for the first time Tuesday to Ford dealers at group meetings in the 34 Ford branches in the nation and seven in Canada. The new cars will be publicly shown by dealers next Saturday.

Body lines which strike a new note in conservative streamlining, a new treatment of the interiors and three important refinements in chassis engineering summarize the principal improvements. There are no radical changes.

Of the three principal chassis improvements, one — improved steering — is aimed at greater ease and safety of operation. Two others tend to a greater comfort of the car. One is the use of new steel wheels which lessen the unsprung weight and thus provide greater riding comfort. The other is an improved transmission used only in second and high speeds.

A new front-end treatment gives added distinction to the body lines. The hood is longer, extending gracefully over the attractive new radiator grills.

Fenders are streamlined, a wide inward flare giving them an imposing appearance. Louvers are of new design. Horns are now recessed in the fender aprons.

Thirteen body types are available, in five colors. Interiors reveal a distinctively modern treatment. The color motif is a rich gray. All instruments are of new design to conform to the modern effect of the new gray metallic pyrrylin instrument panel. All body types have clear-vision ventilation. Safety glass is standard in windshield and all doors and windows.

Steering gear ratio has been increased to 17-to-1 instead of 15-to-1. New roller bearings have been added to the steering arm sector shaft. Gear shifting is made easier by reducing the length of travel of the gear shifting lever.

The new steel wheels are almost five pounds lighter each than the old style.

The cooling system has been improved and its capacity increased to provide adequate cooling under exceptionally severe conditions.

He saw service under General's Hood, Jackson and Johnson in 23 E. Alabama, Regiment. From 1867 to 1877 he taught school near Troy, Alabama, where he married Miss Margaret Stinson, December 23, 1875.

Responding to the call of the frontier he moved with his family to Texas in December 1877. For the following fourteen years he taught school in Hamilton and Coryell counties. In 1893 Mr. Dixon retired from the teaching profession to take cattle raising and farming.

Gov. Ailred Breaks Ground for First New Building of Texas Centennial

Dallas, Oct. 18.—Ground was broken for the $1,200,000 State of Texas building for the Texas Centennial Central exposition Saturday morning, October 12, when Governor James V. Allred set off a charge of dynamite on the building site.

A colorful crowd attended the ceremony which also was carried to thousands of listeners over a state-wide radio hook-up.

Claude Teer, chairman of the state board of control, acted as Master of ceremonies and the governor was greeted by President Fred F. Florence of the Texas Centennial exposition. The 100 piece Longhorn band of the University of Texas played.

The huge structure, in which will be portrayed the history and the achievements of Texas, will be in the center of the grounds of the $15,000,000 exposition which will be opened here in June, climaxing the Centennial year celebrations of the state. The building, of permanent construction, is being erected by a legislative appropriation of $1,000,000 for construction and $200,000 for furniture and equipment. It will be one of the most impressive buildings of its kind in the world.

The governor and many other state officials who were at the ceremony remained in Dallas to attend the annual football classic between Texas and Oklahoma universities Saturday afternoon.

GOVERNMENT BUYS LAND THAT IS UNPRODUCTIVE AND MOVES FARMERS

Stillwater, Oct. 18. (Spl).—Approximately $135,000 will be paid land owners through the purchase of 17,000 acres in northern Fannin county, Texas, by the Division of Land Utilization, according to C. P. Blackwell, Regional Director of Texas and Oklahoma. Payments will be made as soon as titles to land under option can be checked and final transfers completed.

In explaining the purpose of this project, Director Blackwell said, "If American agriculture is to live we must stop waste. We must stop the waste of human resources through cultivating a hundred acres to get a ten-acre harvest. We must stop the washing away of an estimated five dollars per acre in good top soil every year. We must stop wasting tax money in an effort to keep roads and schools within reach of isolated families."

"But even more important than this is the human purpose of enabling farmers now living on unproductive land in this area to move to more fertile farms," says Director Blackwell. On better land we hope they will have an opportunity to make a decent living; and adequate recreational, educational, and inspirational facilities will be within reasonable reach of every family.

On much of this area the sloping lands have such a thin cover of top soil that cultivation of any crop could not prove profitable in times of normal economic conditions. With some terracing and years of following most of this acreage can be reclaimed as pasture land and will probably be rentable at a figure sufficient to defray a large part of the operating expense.

This process will necessitate several years' work and the recuperating of the acres will be slow. Farmers entirely dependent on crops for a livelihood cannot be expected to allow land to lie idle long enough to successfully rebuild the soil, pointed out Blackwell.

That this program is coming just in time is shown by the fact that the county tax officer reports approximately 40 per cent of the farms in the northern half of this county as delinquent in state and county taxes for a period of at least five years. Half of them are mortgaged for more than the appraised value.

"These farmers are good farmers," believes Director Blackwell, "and it is not their fault they cannot keep up with the tax payments. It is simply this; the land can't be made to produce a living but farmers have hung on by the skin of their teeth, determined to make a go of it. With this same quality of determination transplanted to productive soil, these families will be happy, well-fed, comfortably housed, and prompt tax-payers."

This acreage also offers one of the good sites for a regional recreational park and game preserve. Many springs and small streams dotted over the area make it ideal for building numerous small dams for the impounding of waters to serve as feeding, watering, and resting grounds for wild life. Migratory fowls will find it a particular haven in their semi-annual flights between winter and summer quarters.

Director Blackwell estimated that 38 per cent of the land is in crops, 25 per cent in grazing, and 37 per cent in forest and wooded pasture. Much of the "crops" area is so deeply eroded it has been voluntarily abandoned by the husbandmen. It is anticipated that a good part of this land will be used as a demonstration in proper pasture building and other farm practices which will be of aid to farmers in the surrounding territory. This project is also in line with plans of the Administration to adjust production so every farmer can make a profit.

Simultaneously with the announcement of this project in Texas comes an announcement of the approval of a project in the Cookson Hills country in Eastern Oklahoma.

Dr. F. E. Townsend, author of the much discussed old age pension plan, was one of three persons in an airplane crash at Pittsburg, Calif., but none of the three was hurt.

BRYAN ARNOLD DROPS CARD TO "STAFF" FROM W. P. M. A.

Bryan Arnold, Coryell county's lone representative in Uncle Sam's schools of Arms, drops a card to the "Staff" of the News of which he was a member this past summer.

Bryan has this to say: "The routine of classes and drills weighs rather heavily on us after a 10 weeks' orgy of freedom, but we are looking forward to the football games this fall."

Next summer, Bryan will go to Georgia where the Cadet corps gets a summer of actual field practice and gets to see and use the modern implements of war used by the U. S. Army.

LEGION ELECTS OFFICERS AT CALLED MEETING

In a special meeting of the Knox Curtis Post, No. 42, American Legion, officers were elected for the ensuing year, as follows: Leonard Lamb, Post Commander; L. R. Ables, Adjutant; Dee Swift, Vice-Commander; V. F. Lemons, Chaplain; George Hodges, Sergeant-at-Arms; Wesley Ford Finance Officer and Bill Weigand, Service Officer.

These newly elected officers will assume their responsibilities after November 11 which closes the Legion year, and will be installed at an early date.

OUR 32 PAGES IS REGULAR WEEK'S BUSINESS

We are merely reminding News readers what our 32 pages for this week means.

Neither the number of pages nor the size of the pages is what really counts in making a newspaper. The thing that reflects the size and content of the paper is the column inches.

One newspaper or magazine may contain twice the number of pages as another and yet really be a smaller paper in reading column inches. Likewise the large-size sheet does not indicate that it is a bigger paper. Some people prefer the tabloid style small page newspaper while others prefer the old time bed-sheet size pages, and both may have perfectly plausible reasons for their choice.

During this week the News is printing 32 pages, which contains 2624 column inches. This equals nearly 19 pages of the regular 7-column size. Every page of our 32 is set, made up and printed in the News' shop, what is known among newspaper men as all home print.

Of the 2624 column inches about 1200 inches is advertisements, practically every inch (except Chesterfield ad) by Gatesville merchants.

This week's News does not represent a "special edition" or extras of any kind; it is the regular run of the week to take care of merchants' fall needs of advertising space. We are printing our usual "3,800" copies this week which goes out to regular paid readers.

Sen. Bob Poage Tells News Readers Of Transactions in the Legislature

Austin, Oct. 15.—This is written just a few hours before the final adjournment of the First Called Session of the 44th Legislature. While the session has not resulted in the passage of much important legislation, and it does not at this time seem as if we were going to do much more today, we are still working—as indeed we have been all session—and I have little opportunity to review this last week's work.

The Senate has been in session almost continuously for the past few days. We did not adjourn until 1 a. m. this morning. Last week we experienced very much the same thing. There is a substantial minority in the Senate who do not want to allow any major legislation to pass. They desire to see the session end without achievements to its credit. They are particularly interested in defeating all tax measures (except the sales tax) and they are very adept at bringing one bill up in front of another so as neither can pass. This group of senators belongs, on the whole, to the school of thought that holds that government exists for the protection of big business. They oppose all regulations and taxation of corporate business and industry. They favor the shifting of the tax burden from the large corporations to a sales tax to be paid by the masses of the people. On last Thursday night the Senate passed a Chain Store Tax Bill by a vote of 18 to 8, and then by a vote of 17 to 9 failed to suspend the rules so the bill could be finally passed (it required a two-thirds vote to suspend the rules, but an adjournment may be taken by a majority vote thus securing another legislative day). The Senate adjourned at 7:52 o'clock until 8:00 p. m. o'clock.

When the Senate reconvened a number of senators were absent. The Senate put on a call and brought in a number of the absent members. The unexcused absentees were Holbrook, Hopkins, Neal, Rawlings, Redditt, Regan, Small and Stone. It took two hours to finally get a quorum, during which time some of the senators broke out through the back door after overpowering the boy who was keeping the door, but the bill was finally passed in spite of all of these maneuvers. The particular item to which most of these senators were so strenuously objecting was an amendment which I had sent up and had adopted which included utility merchandising stores on the same basis as other stores. I have never known why the utilities should not receive the same treatment that everyone else receives, but there are a number of senators who want to show them some kind of special favors.

The Senate worked all day Friday, Saturday and Monday on the liquor bill and made very substantial progress. Last night we succeeded in passing the bill to second reading, but again could not suspend the constitutional rules. We stayed in session for many hours, but could not muster the two-thirds majority required, and most of today has been spent in trying to accomplish the same thing. Those who have voted to refuse to suspend the rules have probably made impossible the passage of any liquor legislation this session. As I see it, this action is going to cost the people of Texas a great deal more money in loss revenue which we should be collecting, than the entire cost of a session of the Legislature. We should pass a liquor bill, providing regulations for the sale of liquor, levy the tax thereon and if it is not exactly the kind of a bill that we should have, then amend it, but until we pass something, this State is going to continue to be a paradise for bootlegging, and the government will derive no revenue.

It now seems likely that the next session, which will probably convene tomorrow noon, although it has not been officially called, will have the same measures before it that this session had, and the possibility of running into a legislative jam still exists. We in the Brazos Valley, however, can console ourselves with the thought that this session has been well worthwhile to our section of the State if to no other part. Without this session, it would have been impossible for us to have passed the last Brazos River Bill, and without that bill it would have been impossible to have secured the presidential approval of the thirty million dollars grant of the Brazos River Project.

I hope that the next session may result in the passage of some of the major bills, and it is generally reported that the Governor will submit the matter of a driver's license bill. I have written, introduced and passed bills on this subject through the Senate each of the last two sessions, but the House has never finally concurred. I have a driver's license bill ready for introduction tomorrow if the matter is submitted.

W. R. POAGE,
District No. 13.

WHITE MULE 'N LIGHTNIN'

The color of the mule really was not ascertained. However, during the last big flurry of rain and "fireworks," one good Coryell county mule entered mule Paradise, after a deadly conflict with a bolt of lightning near White Hall.

This mule was the property of J. D. Morgan of the White Hall community, and was struck by a bolt of lightning about a hundred yards from Mr. Morgan's house, during the heavy rain of last week.

No one else was injured, but we imagine if the fireworks hit that close to us we would still be "skittish."

"GET GOIN' "

"Wotta 'yu' mean, 'Get Goin'?" Listen! Not for any railroad, bus line, automobile or airplane company, do we say this. We believe it'll do you good to "Get Goin," if you're not.

Take the instance of Tennessee or Kentucky Mountaineers. They've never left "those parts since me and Wilkes Boothe Lincoln's been born." Neither did their fathers. Neither did their grandfathers. Neither did their great-grandfathers. And so on.

Also, while you're "taking," take the example that is showing up most brazenly in northern Africa today, the Ethiopians. They have been living there in Ethiopia since—well, since, we don't know, but their Emperor claims to be a decendent of Solomon and the Queen of Sheba. The tragedy is they've been living there all these years, and their nation has not kept the pace. They still fight with spears, skin shields and other ancient implements. They are fighting a modern nation, Italy, which has the last word in fighting equipment. Hence, the slaughter is terrific.

Bringing this home. "The old order changeth." You either progress or slide backward, and are run over by the more progressive and aggressive people around you. You simply must keep up with the times, whether in business, private life, or wherever you are. It costs, of course, but it pays in return. Watch the other fellow, and see how he does it. If his ideas are good, adopt them, or adapt them, don't be left out, because you have not kept up. You cannot hibernate these days, or you'll wake up and see a new life all around you, and in every phase.

One of the ideal ways to progress is by travel. You don't have to go to Europe, or "bring 'em back alive from Africa." You can go to circuses, nearby towns, Texas cities, a summer trip to the coast, visit the East, West or North, fairs, expositions, read travel literature, newspapers, and be interested in what the other fellow is doing. "Get Hep" and keep up. Just advice—with no price.

World Comment
By JOE BURNS

ITALIANS and Ethiopians are massing around the city of Harar in the Ogaden Desert for what will be the first major battle of the African conflict. Gen. Rudolfo Graziani is advancing from Italian Somaliland with a strong force, supported by 200 airplanes and 250 "scooter" tanks. Harar is the gateway to one of Ethiopia's most fertile provinces and, if captured by the Italians, would leave the Addis Ababa-Djibouti railway open to attack by the invaders.

General Graziani is Italy's ablest colonial fighter, having subdued the savage tribesmen of Italian Libya. The terrain he will have to cross to reach Harar is a shade easier than that facing the other two armies, but the distance to his base is almost twice as long, the difficulties of water, food and supplies almost twice as great. It is against him that Ethiopians have their best chance of a counter-attack into Italian territory and a consequent disruption of his source of supplies.

In the north, the holy city of Aksum, where the Ark is the Covenant is supposedly hidden, has fallen. Priests of Ethiopia's "Holy City," as Aksum is called, voluntarily surrendered the city to the Italians and renounced Emperor Haile Salassie to swear allegiance to Italy. The coptic clergy is the real ruler of Ethiopia, with more power among the common people than Haile Salassie.

Several more Ethiopian chieftains have surrendered to the Italians with their troops, following the example of Ras (Prince) Gugsa, who brought 12,000 warriors to fight for Italy. Mussolini's commanders claim more than 25,000 Ethiopians have joined their cause in recent weeks, leaving open a vast and fertile valley where they may advance hundreds of miles without resistance. In fact, desertions of Ethiopian leaders and the coptic submissions practically placed in Italy's lap the northeastern part of Ethiopia. Italian casualties are insignificant, totaling 50 killed and wounded among the two northern armies.

For the first time in seventeen years, Germany is out of the spotlight as the bad boy of European nations. In fact, observers believe Nazi Germany to be in the most favorable tactical position of any European power. While Britain and France, her traditional rivals, are occupied in the Mediterranean, Germany can continue strengthening her military and economic situation for any eventualities that may follow the current crisis, they say.

And, with France committed to fight side by side with Britain in a war against Italy, should Italy threaten John Bull's interests in Egypt, Malta and the Sudan, Hitler can join with Poland against Russia and divide the Ukraine. Polish and German nationalists have for many years insisted that expansion for their countries can be only toward the East—which means Soviet Russia. Italy balked Germany's push in Austria in 1934 by sending 50,000 troops to the Austria border but now Italy is absolved with only one thing—the conquest of Ethiopia. Italy is looking to the south—not to the north. At the end of the war, even though victory might be hers, Italy will be exhausted, physically and economically. Hitler might achieve his lifelong ambition to unite Austria with Germany. This is what European statesmen seem to fear—that the Ethiopian situation will barely be settled before Germany will start shooting the fire works.

Old Man Depression was struck another severe blow this week with the publication of automobile production figures for the current year. By December 31 3,750,000 cars and trucks will have been sold, compared with a low of 1,200,000 in 1932 and a high of 4,300,000 in 1929. Last December Henry Ford promised to build and sell 1,000,000 cars this year. Production at the Ford plants has already passed 900,000 and should be close to 1,200,000 by Dec. 31.

Chevrolet should build more than 900,000 cars this year and Plymouth 500,000. Production for the two has already reached 750,000 and 350,000 respectively.

K. T. Keller, president of the Chrysler Corporation, puts the probable jump in production next year at 35 per cent or roughly 5,000,000 units.

If Herbert Hoover does not win the Republican presidential nomination in 1936 his support will likely be thrown to Frank Knox, Chicago newspaper publisher. Former Hoover cabinet member—such as Walter F. Brown of Ohio, Arthur M. Hyde of Missouri, Pat Hurley of Oklahoma and Washington—already are in the Knox camp, it is said. This seems to discount the generally advanced opinion that Mr. Hoover will try to win the nomination.

The Knox people are out to stop Senator William E. Borah. Colonel Knox represents the conservative element, supposedly in the majority in the Republican party. Senator Borah is a progressive. If Hoover does not try for the nomination, you will probably see a fight between Knox and Borah for the nomination.

A Republican recently asked Herbert Hoover whether he aspired to the nomination. The titular leader of the G. O. P. gave the lowdown on his strategy.

"Nobody wants me," he replied sadly. "But I believe I have enough influence to prevent the radicals (Borah and associates, in particular) from 300,000 in 1929. Last Decem-stealing the party. I would like to see Charley McNary of Oregon lead the race, but he seems out of it. I don't like Dickinson (Senator from Iowa) but Frank Knox appears to be all right."

Many Democrats and Republicans alike, would like to see Charley McNary head the Republican ticket. McNary, called by his colleagues of both parties the smartest man in the Senate, has voted for numerous administration measures and the old guard has turned thumbs down on him.

The old guard, those Republicans of the East who have long rominated the G. O. P., will likely line up with Knox—at least he's in favor at the moment, while the progressives and young Republicans are willing to go down the line with Bill Borah. But the old guard always wins.

TOMATOES give

that TOUCH

THE soul of a salad was said by a French chef to be a touch of garlic, but the true salad lover knows that tomatoes contribute a touch to them, either as the main part or as an ingredient of the dressing, which can be obtained in no other way. Take, for instance, hearts of lettuce with this Thousand Island Dressing: Mix together one cup mayonnaise, three tablespoons canned tomato paste, one tablespoon chopped green pepper and ten chopped stuffed olives.

It is the tomato in this combination that gives it its individual taste.

In the following pear and tomato salad, too, the tomatoes give the dish a distinct and delicious flavor which it would not have without them.

Pear and Tomato Salad: Slice ripe, chilled tomatoes, and lay one slice in each of eight individual nests of lettuce. Place half a pear from a No. 2 can on top of each, cut side up. Mix one cream cheese with three tablespoons chill sauce, and pile in the pear cavities. Garnish with strips of canned pimiento, and serve with either mayonnaise or French dressing. Serves eight.

Makes Mold Delicious

Meat and Cucumber Mold: Soften one tablespoon gelatin in two tablespoons water and dissolve in one cup of boiling canned tomato juice. Add one teaspoon lemon juice and salt and pepper to taste. When cool and beginning to thicken, add one-half cup mayonnaise, two cups finely cut meat, one cup diced cucumbers and two tablespoons chopped pickle relish. The meat may be one cup ham plus one cup chicken (or contents of a 6-ounce can chicken) or equal quantities of chicken and veal, ham and veal or any such combination. Pour into wet oblong mold and chill. Turn out onto platter and garnish as desired. Serve in slices. Serves eight.

"Blue Eagle" News

Quick Action

The time was 8:00 o'clock, the location was 9 miles south of McGregor, Texas at good old Company 817, on the banks of the lazy old Leon River. Classes were in progress some of the boys were in the recreation hall enjoying an old fashion sing-song. Others had crawled into their bunks for some shut-eye, when suddenly there broke out on the stillness of the night, the Bang! Bang! of the big red fire bell. They came dressed in clothes of all description, hurrying to find the fire, which had been intentionally set just back of the mess hall. And we're kinda proud to boast of the fact that it was only thirty seconds after the alarm sounded until the first bucket of water hit the fire. Amateur performance of all time; any equal will be considered as professional. Now remember thirty seconds no more, no less. Another record held by company 817.

Thinking his truck was on fire, Harry Britton did a "Red Grange" out through the mess hall, past the fire barrel and on to the fire in a little less

Ford V-8 Streamlining Steps Ahead

THE IMPROVED streamlining of the front end of the Ford V-8 is well illustrated by this camera shot. Note the horn set into the fender apron behind a chromium grille and the way the graceful curve of the fender is carried to the edge of the new radiator grille. The slant of the new hood louvers is caught behind the hoodlamp. The insignia on the prow of the car is of new design.

Conservation Work

Work started this week on the picturesque base and outer wall of the water tower. Foreman John Lawson was requisitioned off the road job to build it and the crew there is counting on making this job one of the most oramental in the park if their backs just hold out placing the six and eight-man rocks of which it is to be built.

The P. U. T. (Poosh-em Up Tony) railroad started operation this week hauling rock (six-man size) through the cadar brakes from the truck road to the site of the water tower. It saves a lot of strong-back "toting."

Bring 'Em Back Alive

A lot of the "old-timers" in this company well remember Mr. Tom Carney who was on the dam job (no profanity intended it just sounds that way) at Stephenville. He is still in the Chisos Mountains where he was transferred and still spending his spare time catching rattlesnakes. Now however, he expects to get rich from them extracting their venom and selling it to laboratories for making ant-venom.

Battle With Spider

Doctor "Tiny" Blalock, the diminutive two hundred and eighty pound guardian of the infirmiry reports having had a battle to the death with the largest black widow spider yet seen in this area. He claims it was as big as hs thumb, but having seen his thumb, which is roughly speaking, about the size of a boxing glove, the Blue Eagle Newshounds are inclined to think Tiny had on his magnifying glasses that morning.

'Our American, the Land of

Auto Accidents

Our America, the land of auto accidents!

Her death toll from wrecks sets precedent to all other nations.

Our America, she seems steadfastly bent on wiping out her Citizens with satanic extent.

To break all traffic regulations. Our America, the land of tolling bells,

That daily from the churches ring to those who dare to cross The city street!

Our America, land of auto dearly bought, and cheaply sold of eager, foolish drivers, of crashes, screams, the story is told. Of those who ever hour death must greet!

Our America, the land of Ambition and speed,

Progress is her watchword, with her greatest need

Is sanity, old fashioned though it be!

Our America, "Safety First"

should be her creed,

Then might the old watch-

word obituary read:

"Progress did not help those plunged into eternity!"

SYNOPSIS

Captain Michael Andrews, of a British armored car division on the Eastern Front, is captured by Kurdish irregulars, but rescued when the supposed leader of the Kurds turns out to be a British secret service agent who calls himself "Smith." When they are steering the Balkan, an Armenian is the agent against which the Kurds are advancing, to a place of safety across the mountains, Andrews battles with Smith when he sees him kill Cullen, an enemy spy, in cold blood. Andrews' leg is broken and he is sent to a Clearing Hospital. Smith disappears.

CHAPTER IV

After weeks of suffering in the mountains and at the Medical Clearing Station Andrews eventually reached the British hospital in Cairo. He was there for months, for his broken leg necessitated an operation. When he was well enough to be up and about again his injury caused him to limp badly. During his stay at the hospital, Andrews had fallen in love with his nurse, pretty blonde Rosemary Hayden. On the day he was to be discharged he cornered the girl who had been trying to evade him, and followed her along the hospital corridor as she delivered medical supplies to the various wards.

"Didn't you get my message?" he demanded.

"Yes. Noon...same place, garden...urgent," she teased.

"Why didn't you come?"

"Was it really so urgent?" She picked up a tray and entered a room as she spoke. Andrews poked around the medical supplies until he caught the eye of a nurse. Then he limped away to come back as the girl returned.

"Yes, it was urgent," he persisted.

"I'm well. They're kicking me out of here today. I suppose I should be glad," he added after a pause. "It's your fault that I'm not."

"You really ought to go now," said the girl.

"Not unless you promise to dine with me tonight."

"But I can't. Nurses are not allowed..."

"At the Terrace Hotel," he continued implacably. "Please. Couldn't you try?"

"Possibly," she smiled, as she picked up another tray.

That evening found them seated face to face across a table in the dining room of the Hotel Terrace. They had just finished dinner and Rosemary was looking about her, enjoying the forbidden surroundings and the pleasant music.

"Nurses aren't allowed to do this sort of thing, you know, even with heroes," she smiled. "They're not allowed to wear evening clothes or dine in public with officers. Or dance..."

Taking the hint, he rose and they swept out on the dance floor. But a few moments later, while the orchestra was in the midst of playing "If You Were the Only Girl in the World," Andrews stopped.

"Let's go outside for a while," he suggested. "Leg's hurting."

But on the balcony, in the brilliant moonlight, he confessed that his leg was all right after all.

"I was lying," he admitted. "I wanted to be alone with you."

back against his arms. But on for a moment...then she ceased to resist. Very slowly, her arms came up until one hand rested on his shoulder while the other pressed the back of his head.

"It's my fault! My own fault!" She cried at last. Tears were in her voice as well as her eyes. "Will you please take me back now?" She put one white hand to her forehead as he released her.

"No! I want to know what on earth's upset you?"

"I'll tell you, but I've got to humiliate myself to do it. I was miserable because I've let myself fall in love with you." She turned and started quickly away, but he caught her arm.

"What do you want from me?" she cried desperately.

"You," he answered. "Miss Hayden...may I present Mr. Andrews? He wants to marry you."

"Didn't you get my message?" he demanded

"Oh...I see." The girl seemed suddenly frightened. "I think we'd better go back."

"No."

"Please, Michael."

"Why are you so...so tragic suddenly?" he asked, barring her way.

"Michael, I hope you..."

"I hope you haven't misunderstood," he finished for her.

"Michael, I'm afraid you've..."

"I'm afraid you've taken too much for granted," he teased. Then, catching her almost roughly by the shoulder, he added, "No, that's not true, and you know it."

His arms tightened their hold. He bent his head and kissed her, holding her powerless against him. A small, stifled sound came from her and she resisted him, straining

He was trying to lighten the situation.

"My dear," she murmured as if to herself as she stared at him, intensely moved. She put out a hand as if to touch him, then let it drop to her side. "My dear. You can't have me...I'm...I'm not my own. If I were..." She broke off abruptly.

"What do you mean?" he demanded harshly.

"I'm...I'm rather a fraud," she stammered. "You see, I'm married."

"Oh...I see!" His face became wooden and expressionless and he spoke with an elaborately casual tone. "Well, that, so to speak, is that! Did you say you had to be getting back?"
