IMPORTANT HIWAY MEETING CALLED

Co. Meet Heads Give Info on Choral, Rhythm And Music Memory

With the County Meet nearing, we are pleased to announce rules as presented by directors of the different divisions of the county contests.

Choral Singing

For Choral Singing, Director Lossie Humes gives these rules: Classes in contest: one for rural schools and one for ward or grammar schools. These are in two divisions. Schools with less than 60 enter a choir of 10 to 15 pupils. Schools having over 60, the choir must be 15 to 25. Each school may enter one choir. Unison singing required. Provision is made for high school chorus of mixed or unmixed voices with 20 minimum and 30 maximum. Use of piano is optional. Directors may be used in line with Article VIII. Selected song must come from a list of 19 songs, every verse being sung. These are: The Soldier's Farewell, Sailing, The Loreley, Santa Lucia, In the Gloaming, Cradle Song, Largo Drink to me Only With Thine Eyes, All Thru the Night, Sweet and Low, Massa's in the Cold Ground, Juanita, Old Black Joe, Stars of The Summer Night, Old Folks at Home, My Old Kentucky Home, The Texas Flag, Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring, and Blue Bonnet Time.

Rythm Band

Judgment of rythm bands are: Time, 50 per cent; Interpretation, 25 per cent; and Appearance 25 per cent. One selection played. No vocals, refrains, drills, or dance routines. 15 pupils and not more than 35 may be in the band, and from only the first four grades.

Two divisions: Class B and rural school bands. Rules for each are the same except rural schools may select their pupils from the 1st five grades. Selections are: Beautiful Texas, The Eyes of Texas, When The Bloom is on the Sage, Texas Pride of the South, Neapolitan Nights, The Bells of St. Mary, Glow Worm, A Beautiful Lady in Blue, Only a Rose, Washington & Lee Swing, Anchors Aweigh, 24 Hours a Day, Animal Crackers in My Soup, If I had Rythm in My Nursery Rhymes, and The Wedding of Jack and Jill. Mrs.

Grove School Burned Completely Yesterday In A 25 Minute Fire

Catching from a defective flue, the school at The Grove burned completely in 25 minutes yesterday at 1:10 p. m. Fortunately, no one was injured in the fire which left five teachers without a place to teach, and a large number of children schoolless.

According to the meager reports available, the school was partially covered by insurance.

Teachers in this school are Weldon B. Teague, Audrey Cornillison, Zoma Doyle, Aleene Lazenby, and Maria Goad.

Trustees are A. A. Holcomb, Otto Winkler and P. L. Urbantke.

REV. T. B. CLARK NOW PASTOR OF WACO CHURCH; KIN HERE

Rev. T. B. Clark, recently of Santa Barbara, California, and more recently of Pearl has just been selected as pastor of the Central Christian Church of Waco. Rev. Clark's wife was formerly Miss Bess Edmondson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Edmondson of Pearl.

Since returning to Texas, Rev. and Mrs. Clark have been making their home on the Edmondson ranch at Pearl, until Rev. Clark accepted the new pastorate.

Rev. Clark has been a prominent man in his ministry, having been pastor in Arkansas, Tennessee, California and other states.

An article in the News-Tribune Sunday carried a complete story about these well known people and also a picture.

CORYELL CITY MAN FOUND DEAD IN BARN SAT.

Funeral services were held near Coryell City Monday afternoon for Henry Koehler, who was found dead in his barn late Saturday afternoon, according to reports received here.

Mr. Koehler had gone to the barn to feed and shuck corn, and when he did not return, Mrs. Koehler investigated and found him dead.

Mr. Koehler was 30 years of age, and leaves his wife. The two children of the family were lost some time ago.

J. E. Huddleston of Oglesby is director.

Picture Memory

The director, Mrs. A. E. Whisenhunt, lists U. of T. Bulletin No. 3322, prints from C. A. Bryant and Practical Drawing Co., Dallas, and Perry Pictures Co., Malden, Mass., as houses from which to buy supplies and fet information.

In the bulletin, pages 56 and 57 give rules, and also give information about another bulletin by Florence Low, entitled "Art Experience," No. 3536. This bulletin tells about the 50 pictures to be used this year. Practice test sheets may be had from the Interscholastic League at Austin at a cheap rate.

Wheels of Justice Turn More Slowly Over Week End With One Case Up

Since Friday afternoon, about four, District Court has not proceeded very far with the proceedings, only one case being reported by District Clerk Pleas M. Post, at a late hour yesterday afternoon.

The case concerning the will of Mrs. Mollie Jones which was contested by P. I. Jones.

What is come next was not given out by Mr. Post.

T. S. & W. MAKES 1ST APPEARANCE IN GATESVILLE

Thru arrangement with the I. C. C., or somethin' Gatesville had a visit from the T. S. & W. last week (two steers and a wagon).

First we've seen in "nigh on 40 years," but here they were, with the yoke, the "Gee," the "Haw" and the two steer drivers, Mr. I. H. Foster and J. C. Durham, who were driving thru from Waco, representing a medicine company, with their "prairie schooner," which was a sight seldom seen here.

Mr. Foster informed us he was from Colorado, Texas, and had a number of relatives in this county. In the wagon, were two bunks, a cooking stove, "larder" or eating place in the rear. Of interest too, was a cannon ball which came from Sabine Pass, and had Mr. Foster's fathers name carved on it. It was about a foot thick, and was probably used in the battle of Sabine Pass during the Civil War.

Although the train was here only a short time, many of the youngsters had never "seen the likes," and we hope they didn't miss it.

RIPLEY RECOUNTS B. I. O. NOT IN CORYELL

January 11, in the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, Ripley originator or something of the "Believe It Or Not" feature, gave Coryell County a "blow."

Here's how! The Wm. Isaac Survey in Coryell County, Texas, has all four corners south of the Leon River.

A diagram of the survey, and a chart of the Leon is shown with a direction indicator.

Mr. Leake Ayres some 2 years ago sent in to the Waco News-Tribune an article similar to this one, but he isn't sure the "Believe It Or Not" we refer to is the one he sent or not.

Picture of this interesting item may be seen in our window.

Funeral Service Friday Afternoon For Mrs. A. F. Burleson

Mrs. A. F. Burleson, 71 years of age, died at her home, 1111 N. 1st street in Waco, Monday afternoon, January 19, 1936, after an illness of several months. The body was brought to Gatesville where services were held Friday afternoon at the home of her son, Rev. M. J. Burleson, pastor of the Methodist church of this city, commencing at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the city cemetery.

Mrs. Burleson was the daughter of the late B. Downs, who was a resident of this city.

McLennan County, Texas, moved to Coryell County very early ago. She was a faithful member of the church which she has since early childhood.

Surviving are her husband and Rufus of Waco, and Floyd of Waco, representing a medicine company, with their "prairie schooner," which was a sight seldom seen here.

Mr. Foster informed us he was from Colorado, Texas, and had a number of relatives in this county. In the wagon, were two bunks, a cooking stove, "larder" or eating place in the rear. Of interest too, was a cannon ball which came from Sabine Pass, and had Mr. Foster's fathers name carved on it. It was about a foot thick, and was probably used in the battle of Sabine Pass during the Civil War.

NATIONAL THRIFT WEEK JANUARY 17 TO 23

LETTER FROM SENATOR POAGE

The Governor again indicates his indecision in regard to a session of the Legislature. As I see it, it is unfortunate for the State that he cannot decide what should be done. I think that it is clear that we should pay the pensions and pay them as quickly as possible. This can only be done by providing revenue and that can only be provided through a session of the Legislature. As I see it, the political play of those who are opposed to a session of the Legislature at this time is that they will tell the business interests they are not going to impose any tax on them, and that they will have about enough money from the liquor tax to pay the pensions one month. This payment they will make in July, which is the last month allowed under the law, and which will be just before the primary. Then they will tell the old people that they have begun to pay the pensions, but immediately after the election they are going to be forced to repudiate one of these groups. Either they will have to levy the taxes, or they will have to break faith with the pensioners. I think everyone in Texas knows this, or, at least, they would realize it if they stopped to think.

It is my understanding that the liquor tax has brought in less than a million dollars to date, and yet it has covered a major portion on the collections, including all of the stock on hand as well as license fees in all the wet counties. There can be little hope for any substantial increase in this tax for the rest of the year, and it is the only source of present revenue for the payment of pensions. It is true that it provides enough money to get the machinery set up, and should enable this State to start the payments as quickly as the Federal money is made available, but clearly it is not enough on which to establish any substantial system of continued payments. It will probably not be more than enough for one full month's payment. No amount of revising of figures by the State Auditor is going to enable the State to escape from the present unhappy dilemma of raising taxes or failing to pay the pension.

This is a situation in which many of our people recently seem to have fallen into the same error of thinking that now seems to beset our State officials. They promise all kind of benefits and payments without any consideration and the means of paying the bill. There is no method whereby government, state or national, can ever pay money or other benefits to any group, except by taking it away from some other group. Governments have no money, except as they take it from the people in the form of taxation. I am going to conclude my series of discussions on the tax problem over Station W. A. C. O. next Friday night, January 17th, at 8:00 o'clock. In this program, I hope to summarize the previous discussions, and I invite everyone to listen in.

While the past week has not been productive of any legislative action or definite promise thereof, it has seen several phases of recent legislation become operative. The Liquor Board has about completed its organization, and is now beginning to turn its attention toward the enforcement of the law with a number of inspectors in various parts of the State.

Most of the Commissioners' Courts throughout the State have taken action on the matter of salaries for county officers as provided under the new county officers' salary bill, and while there will not be much direct saving this year as a result of the passage of this bill, the old fee system with its temptations and abuses will be largely replaced.

And, lastly, the State has undertaken the enforcement of the chain store tax, although the collection of the tax was temporarily enjoined last week by a Dallas Court in a suit brought by a number of the large out-of-state chain store operators. I do not know whether they will be successful in this effort or not, but if they are, the State is going to have to find other means of equalizing the burden placed on them as compared with locally owned and operated merchantile establishments.

That's the old boy's epitaph. He was one of the originators of "The Fourth Estate," the "high hat" name for newspaper publishers and workers. "He is considered by many as our most eminent American." One of his adages was "a plowman on his legs is higher than a nobleman on his knees." His newspaper was the Pennsylvania Gazette, with a circulation from Maine to Georgia. Poor Richard's Almanac, was one of his most important things he did, and contained jokes, proverbs which entered deeply into the thought of the people and contributed not a little to the shrewd, hard-headed way of looking a life for which the early colonists were noted.

As an inventor, Franklin included in his, the identity of electricity and lightning, the lightning rod, the Franklin stove, improved printing press, better rigging for ships, and improvements in carriage wheels and windmills.

So, though Friday being his birthday, we of the craft, pay homage to his memory, as a printer. His dates were 1706 to 1790.
