SANDERFORD SPEAKS IN CAMPAIGN FOR GOV.

2nd Week of District Court Opens With No Grand Jury Report Yet

No indictments yet! No grand jury report yet! That's the story by District Clerk Pleas M. Post, at a late hour yesterday afternoon. Lawyers, judges, officials, all await the action of the grand jury, and, we suppose, the culprits and spectators.

Anyway, there is nothing to report at the time of going to petit juries for the third and press, with the exception of the fourth week, which were left out of last issue. They are as follows:

County Agent Powell And Co. Demonstrator And Others Go to A.M.

Due to the opening of the 27th Annual Farmers' Short Course at A. & M. this week, Guy V. Powell and Miss Sidney Gibson have gone to Bryan for the week, accompanied by a number of others of the Home Demonstration Clubs, 4-H boys work, and other interested parties.

"Early Lamb Production" is the subject Mr. Powell will discuss, Tuesday at 3:00 p. m. As far as we could learn, Miss Gibson is not on the program. There are seven divisions of events to this short course, including women's work, horticulture, dairying, live stock, farm crops and soil, poultry, wild life, and boys and girls work.

Perry Davidson of Mound is going and taking several other men with him. Miss Gibson's department includes five women, and Mr. Powell will have with him, R. Q. Roe of Levita, Clovis King, Plainview, J. D. Brazzill, Flat, Dale Chilton, Evant, Taylor Younge, Jonesboro, and Vance Sellers, Jonesboro.

IT'S A GEORGIA PEACH! NO, SUH! IT'S TEXAS' OWN PRODUCT

Georgia peaches are known the world over, but they got the publicity, and Texas has the peaches. Thinning it down, Coryell county has THE peach.

Viz., e. g., and i. e., Dr. Ralph Bailey, brought in one dubbed the Robert E. Lee, that big Southern General, who was so big the Northern troops, especially the officials in Washington wanted him.

This said peach under discussion, had a girth (circumference, to us) of 9 inches, and tipped the scales at 7 and 1/2 ounces, which is no mean achievement for a peach.

The Doctor had heard some one raving about a much "inferior" (taken from radio ads...) peach that weighed, well, it was a runt compared to this, so he brought it in to the News office.

Since then, the force has missed three meals each.

During the Olympic Winter Games 5,300,000 letters were handled by the Garmish, Germany, postoffice.

Senator Roy Sanderford, of Temple, candidate for Governor, will be the featured speaker here Friday of this week, according to advices received by Dr. Ralph Bailey of this city. The hour of Senator Sanderford's address will be at 8:15 p. m.

Arrangements are yet to be completed, but according to Dr. Bailey, Mr. Sanderford will be introduced by a local man. Sound equipment, and chairs will also probably be provided.

Mr. Sanderford will base his speech on a discussion mainly of the Old Age Pension, taxation, income tax, sales tax, law enforcement and home ownership.

In a recent letter to Dr. Bailey, Mr. Sanderford stated he had written to Judge R. B. Cross, Dr. H. M. Haynes, W. D. Lewis of Copperas Cove, Sam C. Homan of Oglesby, Lester Edmondson of Pearl, Dr. D. Odum of Ireland, and R. L. Hardin of The Grove.

As far as is known as present, Senator Sanderford will be the last of the candidates for Governor to speak in Coryell County.

NEW MARQUEE! NEW FRONT NEW AWNINGS ADORN GATESVILLE BUSINESS

Gatesville has suddenly gone modern! Modern in that, first L. B. Brown, manager of one of the local movie houses, has a new "markie" in front of his show, all fixed up with neon signs. Although not yet completed, it's going to be quite "up-town" when it is.

Being catching, like most improvements are, new awnings have been installed in front of Chamlee's Garage, D. D. McCoy's, and a new front is being added to Davis' Variety Store. Gatesville is on the "up and up," and should be.

Coryell County Gets Hearing from State Hiway Commission July 31

George Hodges Makes Statement to Voters As Primary Is Near

To the Voters of Precinct One:

I want to thank the many friends that supported me two years ago, when I was only defeated by two votes. I was appointed Constable by the Commissioner's Court to fill out the unexpired term of Mr. Fred Mayberry, May 11, 1936.

I am striving to fill the office as it should be filled and I am at your service at any time.

Again I want to thank my friends for the support you will give me, Saturday, July 25.

Sincerely yours,
GEO. R. HODGES,
Constable, Precinct One,

BROWN & GILMORE RODEO AT JONESBORO ENJOYED BY HUNDREDS

Coryell County is rodeo-minded! Brown and Gilmore, who put on their rodeo in Jonesboro last week, drew hundreds of people and many candidates to their splendid show.

Although we did not get to see all the show, and haven't gotten the results, the events were run off in quick succession, and there was nothing amateurish about the whole show.

Just over the county line in Hamilton County, the arena was located in the Leon River bottom, where there was plenty of shade, cold drinks, barbecue for the customers.

GATESVILLE POSTOFFICE BID DUE AUG. 12

Washington, July 19. — The Treasury department will open bids August 12 for construction of the $72,000 Gatesville postoffice.

The structure is to be built of buff-faced brick and trimmed with limestone.

The building will cover 4,389 square feet. A site has been purchased by condemnation proceedings for $7,000.

American railways represent an investment of 26 billion dollars—nearly equal the present national debt, according to Harry G. Taylor, chairman of the Western Association of Railway Executives.

Our chance for more highways in this county comes again July 31, when this county is booked for a hearing that day on both Highways 7 and 36, according to information received by County Judge Floyd Zeigler.

No. 7, west of Gatesville will be one of the main objects of the hearing, since the section east of Gatesville is now under construction. Also, a discussion of problems concerning 36, which is scheduled to run from Freeport, on the Gulf, to Abilene, connecting with other highways at that point.

Hamilton and Mills counties will send delegates, in addition to Coryell, with a view of getting action on these two projects if at all possible.

Highway 7 will eventually connect up Gatesville with an east-west highway.

LIONS' VOTE TO BACK "CAVALCADE" TO DALLAS AT WED. MEETING

Voting unanimously, Gatesville Lions voted Wednesday to back the Coryell County-Gatesville Centennial Cavalcade which moves to Dallas Friday, August 14. Rev. M. M. Chunn was made chief of the Lions end of the deal.

Featured on the program were Miss Ethel Routh, of Gatesville and Miss Alice Dutton of Shreveport. Miss Dutton read "Carlotta's Indictment," and "Between Two Loves," in Italian dialect. Miss Routh's contribution, was an original monologue by herself, entitled "The Hunting Collection."

AUSTIN DOOLITTLE'S BRONCS GET SET FOR A HEAVE OF HUMANS TODAY

"The Shokus is on," a la Austin Doolittle, in his Grand Prize Rodeo at the Grove in the Rodeotorium.

The sky is the limit down there and the stands are high out of the dust, shaded, and there's plenty of hucksters who are passing around with cooling drinks, so if it is 101' hot today as yesterday and the day before, go down to The Grove and see the Fort Worth Stock Show Out-Rodeoed by Austin Doolittle.

Boosting Coryell County Cavalcade Day Mayor Proclaims Holiday Here Aug. 14

Being a booster for the Coryell County Cavalcade, which moves en masse from this county to the Texas Centennial Central Exposition at Dallas, Friday, August 14, His Honor, Mayor C. E. Gandy, issues the following proclamation to the citizens of Gatesville:

"If you don't want to be as lonesome as a church mouse, hear ye, and let it accordingly so be done, because I, C. E. Gandy, Mayor of Gatesville, do hereby Proclaim Friday, August 14, 1936, as Coryell County-Gatesville Day, at the Texas Centennial Central Exposition at Dallas, and urge all labors to cease in said city, and that the entire city move to Dallas on that day for the festivities made possible by this great exposition.

"It is my hope, that every community of the county will join with Gatesville, or let Gatesville join with them, in making this day, Friday, August 14, the greatest day in the history of Coryell County and Gatesville."

Signed: C. E. GANDY,
(Seal) Mayor, City of Gatesville.

STUMPIN' THE STATE

With the Spectator

Limited space available before Saturday primary necessitates only a brief word about the candidates for Railroad Commissioner.

South Texas has two candidates in H. O. Johnson and Goodson H. Rieger, both of Houston; north Texas two candidates, Ernest O. Thompson of Amarillo, the present incumbent, and Frank S. Morris of Dallas; and west Texas one candidate, former State Senator Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville.

H. O. Johnson is making his third race for the Railroad Commission. In 1910 he ran third in the contest which saw Pat M. Neff emerge as the victor; in 1934 he was fourth in a field of five in the first primary. If elected he promises to enforce the law against discrimination as to pipe line service to producers. He also declares there is gas wastage and promises to check it. He stands for appraisal of gas properties to lower rates, reorganization of the truck and bus division and coordination of the forms of transportation.

Ernest O. Thompson, former mayor of Amarillo, was appointed to the Railroad Commission by Governor Sterling in 1932, succeeding Pat M. Neff, who resigned to become president of Baylor University. Thompson, as chairman of the commission has settled gas utility rate in disputes in 45 cities in his four years' incumbency and has fought aggressively for Texas' right to exclusively control her own oil production. He has increased the market demand for Texas oil 400,000 barrel per day. By vigilant search for outlets for Texas crude oil, Thompson has brought over a hundred million extra dollars annually to Texas producers and land owners. It is upon this record that he seeks reelection to the Railroad Commission.

Frank S. Morris, Dallas attorney and former District Attorney of the 19th Judicial District, believes the ad valorem taxes upon all property could be materially reduced if the proper burden of taxation were placed on the natural resources of the state. If elected, he promises to "advise and instill in the minds of our representatives to enact laws to lead the oil industry out of the hands of the major companies pipe lines, and to place a tax on oil and sulphur to pay the old-age pensions." Further, Mr. Morris promises to see that every pipe line coming into Texas be metered at the rate line, and to have every major company's pipe lines checked by the commission's agents.

Carl C. Hardin of Stephenville, veteran of twelve years in the State Senate, urges that the major oil companies be gauged by the same yardstick that heaves the small independent operator. He favors a vigorous and uninterrupted program of development in every county of Texas where oil possibilities exist, rather than curtailing such development. Hardin, in his opening address before 5,000 people in his home town, emphasized the point that he would at all times aid in administering the duties of the railroad commission in a fair and constructive manner.

Goodson H. Rieger of Houston has spent eighteen years of

Look Toward Your Future

There is an Ideal of a home in the mind of everybody and the sooner the efforts are directed in this direction the earlier this Ideal is made reality, and satisfaction is the reward.

Some want a large, spacious home, some want a small systematically well arranged home, some want a convenient home, and some want a pretty home. Sometimes most of these features can be very well combined and the cost is no more. House planning is the big end of our business and the service is free for the asking.

Prices on building materials have been at the bottom for several years and you can't find a better time than now to build.

his life in the oil business. Nine of these he has spent with the state oil and gas division in Houston. He recently resigned his position with that department to enter the race for railroad commissioner. He favors appointing only qualified men; equalization of freight rates to offset the advantage held by New Orleans over Texas ports; reallocation of oil production, measuring all wells by the same yardstick; writing the well-spacing order for all Texas and living up to it, and fair treatment of all truck lines.

If Senator Morris Sheppard is reelected in one of the primaries, the term beginning next January will carry him to 41 years of continuous service in Congress. He came to the House in 1902, succeeding his father as a member of Congress from the First Congressional District. He was elected to the Senate in 1912 and has been reelected three times.

Sheppard is now dean of both houses of Congress in point of continuous service. There is not a man in either branch of Congress who was in Washington when Sheppard came as a first-term congressman. Moreover, there is not a member of the Supreme Court or any important executive anywhere in the government who was in the National Capital when Sheppard came.

Jimmie Allred has received the endorsement of Texas' most prominent citizen, Vice President John N. Garner, in his campaign for reelection as the State's chief executive. Garner, before leaving his home in Uvalde for a two weeks' fishing trip, stated: "I don't mind the world knowing that I think James V. Allred has made a fine Governor, and I hope he is reelected in the first primary."

The accusation of one gubernatorial candidate that Allred is out of sympathy with the Roosevelt Administration is thus proved false. In spite of the fact that Garner spoke "off the record" and not as Vice President, it is not likely he would have endorsed Allred had the Governor been at outs with "the boss."

NO MORE HOT TRAINS FOR THE WEST

Chicago.—The long, hot reaches of the Western desert country no longer bring perspiration to the traveler's brow. The railroads have solved the problem of summer travel in the desert country—airconditioning.

This year air-conditioning will be one of the primary factors in an increase in Western vacation travel. These statements were made here today by Harry G. Taylor, Chairman of the Western Association of Railway executives.

In making his statement, Mr. Taylor pointed out that the Western Railroads have $27,000,000 invested in air-conditioning equipment of all classes. He said "We have a tremendous investment in air-conditioned cars, but we feel that our investment will justify itself in increased travel."

An increase of nearly 50 per cent in the number of air-conditioned cars now in service. For 1935 the railroads and the Pullman Company operated 2,500 cars, representing an investment of $19,000,000 on the Western Railroads. At the present time there are 3,669 cars of all classes being operated as air-conditioned units in the western territory. The increase means, according to Mr. Taylor, that the "hot train" has virtually been eliminated from first class travel. He said: "Travelers no longer need fear the excessive heat of a cross-country train ride. The air-conditioned cars make the trip with less than a two per cent variation in cool temperature. And more, hay fever and asthma sufferers can be assured a safe haven on the sealed, air-conditioned cars, for the pollens of the golden-rod, the rag weed and the rose are all taken out of the air that is filtered and purified before being released in the cars."

Mr. Taylor also pointed out that the Western Railroads were proving the workability of air-conditioning on a large scale. He added: "The progress made by the railroads in air-conditioning has founded a new industry, and the work proved by the tremendous sales of air-conditioned equipment has given the industry the necessary life blood of business to keep it going."

CENTENNIAL REUNION AT CAMP McCULLOCH

Kyle, July 20.—Camp Ben McCulloch, near Driftwood in Hays County, will be the scene of a reunion and Centennial observance July 28 to 31 when United Confederate veterans convene in their fortieth annual reunion to recount past experiences and to relive the trying times of days gone by.

Prominent state and federal dignitaries will appear on the four day program. A Centennial pageant will feature the opening day program.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

IT'S ALL A MATTER OF HOW MUCH LIGHT

For nearby subjects when the light is not very bright as in the picture above, use a wide lens opening.

But for distant scenes, like this to the left, use a small lens opening.

BECAUSE modern cameras and modern film make it possible for us to achieve happy results with very little knowledge of how our cameras function, many of us do not bother to find out, but we will more often get better pictures if we know enough about our cameras to understand what they're up to.

Any camera is simply a light-tight box or chamber, with a film at one end and a bit of optical glass, called a lens, at the other. Add to that a contrivance for admitting light under control into the box, through the lens to the film, and you have the essentials of a camera.

The size of the lens and the extent to which it is opened are important. When the lens opening is large, a lot of light is let into the camera to record the picture on the film. That's all very well, but lenses do not do their best "wide open" in giving sharp images of all objects both near and far. When you want sharp, clean-cut detail from foreground to distance, as in a good landscape picture, you have to use a small lens opening; when you are interested only in picturing an individual or a compact group, as in the dog picture above, you can safely use a relatively larger opening if you focus carefully. Indistinct detail beyond doesn't matter so much, in fact often helps to accentuate the principal subject.

In virtually all cameras there is some means of changing the size of the lens opening. In most box cameras you pull out a little slide at the top of the camera. In most folding cameras there is another type of adjustment called a diaphragm, with which a greater variety of openings can be obtained.

In most diaphragm types, the major settings are shown by numerals which have a meaning in terms of the ratio between the diameter of the lens opening and the distance from the lens to the film. In designating these settings, the letter f. is used. When you see that a picture was made with the lens at f.11, it means that the opening of the lens was 1/11th of the lens-to-film distance. It happens that f.11 is a good, average opening, neither too large nor too small. In fact some inexpensive cameras have a fixed opening, or aperture, of about that ratio. Smaller openings, f.16 or f.22, for example, cut down the amount of light entering the lens. Consequently, given the same light conditions, longer exposures are required.

That brings us to another gadget which, in terms of time, also controls the amount of light that enters the lens—the shutter. For most ordinary snapshots, a shutter that opens and closes in about 1/25th second is entirely adequate. In fact, this shutter speed, coupled with an opening of f.11, is so nearly right for average outdoor conditions that it is a kind of magic formula. Shutter speeds faster than 1/50th second are seldom needed except for pictures of rapidly moving objects, and then with a larger lens opening; otherwise, not enough light would be admitted.

Lenses, by the way, are rated according to the largest opening at which they work. You hear camera fans talking about f.6.3 lenses, f.4.5 lenses, and even f.2.0 lenses. These "fast" lenses are wonderful things; they'll get pictures under the poorest kind of light and they do have that extra speed when you need it. But even so, they all work better if the subject has adequate light with the resulting opportunity to stop down (use a smaller opening) for the sake of sharper detail.

YOUR CHILD AND THE SCHOOL

By Dr. ALLEN G. IRELAND
Director, Physical and Health Education
New Jersey State Department of Public Instruction

VACATION WORK ON THE SCHOOLHOUSE

That a schoolhouse should be clean, attractive, pleasant, and healthful is believed by everyone. To no little extent the ideals and attitudes of children are permanently fixed by the school environment. Let's see then, now that summer is here, what improvements can be made at school.

Make blackboards black. Take down extra window drapes and leave them down.

Inspect and repair drinking fountains so that a good stream of water is assured.

Clean inside of globes and light fixtures.

Remove or repair sulsintered seats.

Inspect electric wiring and gas lines.

Repair soap and towel containers.

Varnish all toilet seats.

Paint ceilings white and walls cream, light tan, or light green tint.

Test handrails for safety.

Refill and test fire extinguishers.

Test the fire alarm system.

But don't polish the furniture. When resurfacing is done, leave it dull. Do the same with all wood work.

Girl Employees of the Owen-Illinois glass plant are said to have embroidered doilies and knitted sweaters in attractive patterns from glass thread.

Dr. A. G. Livingston Candidate for State Rep. Has Statement to Voters

To the Voters of this District:
The present incumbent as Representative of the 94th District has been making speeches here and there, quoting from his "Autobiography" to show that he earned his money while in Austin. Naturally, having served for four long years, in regular and numerous called sessions, one would vote for some good measure—accidentally, if not by intent.

But here is one he did not explain—why he voted against the "Hot Oil" investigation along in the same column with a bunch of the Big Boys. The "Hot Oil" situation in East Texas looked ugly from the surface, therefore it seems that anyone would have been in favor of an investigation, to clear up the situation, if nothing else. The revenue from the oil industries aids in keeping our children in school, and I, for one, am not in favor of sacrificing a child's education for the benefit of some over-rich oil company.

It is impossible for me to tell the voters everything that I will stand for, as many, many things will come before the Legislature from time to time, but I feel equal to the occasion to meet every question in a manner that will be satisfactory to the majority of the people of my district. If I am elected, I expect to represent the 94th District and to look after the interests which are vital to our people.

I am not making this race on the demerits of anyone, but stand on my own merits and will appreciate your vote and influence.

—a fearless prosecution of all offenses—a lawyer of ability and character—a square deal to all. He will not be dominated by any lawyer, group or faction.

We submit that there is no candidate for reelection and that during the past 15 years Hamilton County has held the District Attorney's office about nine years and the District Judge's office about nine years, and should as a matter of fairness be willing for one of her counties to furnish a District Attorney.

SOCIETY

Mrs. O. G. Gilder Entertains Daughters

One of the most delightful of the mid-season social affairs was the courtesy extended by Mrs. O. G. Gilder at her home, 801 Waco Street, Saturday afternoon from four o'clock to seven, to her charming daughters, Mrs. Horace Jackson, who has recently taken residence here, and Miss Margaret Gilder, lately home from Baylor University.

The welcoming reception "idea" was used to cleverly conceal what was later disclosed to be an announcement of the approaching marriage of Miss Margaret Gilder, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. O. G. Gilder and Billie Nesbitt, son of Supt. and Mrs. Earl Nesbitt of the State Training School.

Just within the reception rooms, made more inviting by vivid summer flowers artistically placed, the receiving line was formed, which included Mrs. O. G. Gilder, Miss Margaret Gilder, Mrs. Earl Nesbitt, Mrs. Horace Jackson, Mrs. Carl Nesbitt of Austin, Mrs. O. N. Hix, Mrs. Winn Nichols of Waco, Mrs. Roger Gravers of Mart, Mrs. Willie Young of Moody, Mrs. L. E. Thomson, and Mrs. Dean of Waco, who graciously welcomed the large number of guests bidden to enjoy the occasion.

Miss Jacquelyn West, violinist, played "Fantasia Appassionata" by Viextamps and "Romance" by Ambrosia and Mrs. C. A. Morton sang "Absence," "Indian Love Call" and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms". Miss Mamie Sue Halbrook, who accompanied them, gave several piano selections as the guests passed into the dining room, there to be greeted and placed by Mrs. J. M. Prewitt.

All appointments featured a exquisite lace covered table, pink and white theme; the ex-tapers in crystal candelabra, crystal compotes holding pink and white mints, a mirrored reflector on which stood a miniature bride and groom before a flower-decked altar. The table was further graced by a beautiful hand painted punch bowl presided over by Mrs. J. J. McDaniel of Brownwood, nee Miss Alice Earl Anderson, Misses Beverly Chamlee and Rosalee Boyd of Waco, while angel food squares and fruit punch cups were passed by Misses Elaine Cross, Edwina Punchard and Mary Lee Rogers of Mart and Miss Raye Virginia Rayford, making the dining room seem an enchanting "rose-bud garden of girls."

On each plate rested a tiny hand painted picture of a house with open portals; beneath the door the words "Home Sweet Home" and within the names "Margaret and Billie—August 1." The Bride's Book was presided over by Mrs. Eugene Alvis, where more than a hundred guests registered and wished for the lovely and popular young honoree much joy and happiness.

Former Gatesville Girl Weds Wacoan

The marriage of Miss Wyvon Mason, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Mason, and Dave Hicks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hicks of Waco, was solemnized by Rev. J. W. Hendrix, pastor of the First Methodist Church of Greenville, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones, Sunday morning.

The beautiful ring ceremony was performed at 8:30 o'clock in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Jones and Miss Loneta Denson.

The bride was charmingly attired in a pink crepe ensemble suit with blue accessories, and wore a corsage of sweet peas and baby wreath. The groom wore a light grey business suit. Mrs. Hicks was a graduate of the Gatesville High School and her charming personality won for her many friends.

Mr. Hicks is a graduate of the Waco High School and attended the Technological College and the New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell. He is the manager of the Hick's Tire Store at Littlefield and is a progressive young business man; highly regarded in the business and social circles of Littlefield.

Immediately after the ceremony, the happy couple left for Santa Fe, Albuquerque and other points in New Mexico. On their return, they will make their home in Littlefield.

Recent Bride Extended Courtesy

Complimenting Mrs. J. M. Pancake, recent bride, Misses Ruth Edmondson, Bill Johnson and Mrs. Pete Patterson, entertained with a surprise miscellaneous shower, Thursday afternoon, at the home of Miss Edmondson, 1001 Waco Street.

A color scheme of pink and white was carried out in the lovely bouquet of pink verbenas and shasta daisies.

Coming as a complete surprise to the honoree was the ringing of an alarm clock in an adjacent room, which became very annoying when no effort was made, by the guests, to stop it. Naturally and fortunately Mrs. Pancake was sitting directly in front of the door leading to the room where the alarm clock shrillingly coaxed her to stop its continual ringing. In doing so she was awarded with several baskets of beautiful and useful gifts, centered around the clock.

Refreshments of punch and cookies were served to the following guests: Mesdames John Carrol, Ray Brookshire, Johnnie Washburn, Glen Gray, Durwood Shepherd, Vern Waddill, Jess Wiggins, Walter Summers, Dale Waldrop, Roy Benson, Pete Patterson, Joe Sasse, Ivy Edmondson and Misses Rozelle Gough, Beulah Gamblin, Bill Johnson, Ruth Edmondson and the honoree.

Thompson-Thetford Wedding

The marriage of Miss Mary Elizabeth Thetford, niece of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Thetford of Pirmela, and J. D. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Thompson of Florence, was solemnized at 6 o'clock Saturday evening, July 18, at the home of the groom's parents with Rev. Bronk, pastor of the Florence Baptist Church, officiating. The vows were read before and improvised altar of ferns and pink gladiolias.

The bride wore a dress of navy sheer with white accessories and her arm bouquet was of pink sweetheart roses and lillies. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Herman Baker, of Stephenville.

The groom wore a business suit of grey and his brother, W. E. Thompson, of Lampasas, was best man.

Mrs. Thompson is a graduate of the Pirmela High School and since 1930, has been associated with the Gulf States Telephone Co. at Pert Arthur. For the past year she has made her home here.

Mr. Thompson graduated from Florence High School in 1927 and is a member of the technical force of the CCC Camp stationed here.

Only member of the immediate families and close friends were present after which the couple left for a short wedding trip to South Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson will make their home here.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

A LAWYER always tells his client not to give up hope, and generally promises to save him, no matter how desperate the poor guy's case is.

Somehow, the lawyer is hardly ever there when his prisoner sets down in the electric chair. That makes it awful embarrassing for the prisoner, because he don't know where to turn for encouragement.

Anyhow there was a nice gangster that had a good lawyer. The lawyer stood in with the judge pretty well, and he told His Honor a hard luck story about the poor client who was about to be electrocuted. This here judge was the one that done the sentencing.

"Judge, I'll tell you," says the lawyer, "this poor guy is a great athletic fan. He used to play baseball and run the high hurdles and he wasn't so bad at swimming and tennis. It's all right to bump him off, but the poor guy wants to see one more athletic event or some game before he dies. Won't you give orders to let him see a game, and I'll see that you get a lot of publicity in the papers for it?"

So the judge wrote to the warden, "Let this guy John Callahan out in custody of his lawyer to see one athletic event before execution. Signed, Dickerson Judge." Then he added, "The prisoner may choose what event he wants to see."

So the lawyer got John to pick the next Olympic Games.

CENTENNIAL SHOWS GIVE VARIETY ENTERTAINMENT

Austin, July 20.—Three continuous Texas Centennial celebrations, major attractions of Texas' 100th anniversary year observance now are in progress. In the order of their openings they are the University Centennial exposition, Austin, June 1 to December 1; Texas Centennial Exposition, Dallas, June 6 to November 29, and Fort Worth Frontier Centennial, July 18 to November 29.

The University Centennial exposition at Austin is a series of exhibits and displays emphasizing the natural and civil history of Texas, all preliminary to the erection of the Texas Memorial museum. On the campus of the University of Texas, site of the exposition, valuable displays of scientific material are housed—open to the public each day and evening.

The Centennial Exposition at Dallas, $25,000,000 composite exhibit and entertainment plant, has already been judged by two million visitors as being unequalled. The beauty of its architecture, splendor of its lighting, artistry of arrangement, and variety of entertainment hold the attention of all.

Fort Worth's Frontier Centennial fulfilled all promises to present a show almost entirely of entertainment when doors were thrown open Saturday. From a wild West show, replica of early frontier days, to the most modern extravaganza, the Fort Worth Frontier provides the pleasure seeker with varied entertainment "Out where the West Begins."

California's tarantulas invariably fight to the death.

Second Half of Softball Begins Here This Week

Last night the first games of the second half softball schedule were played. Thursday night two more games will be played.

The four teams entered in the second half are rather evenly matched, and there is not much telling who will emerge with the second half title. The Firemen and Doc's will add very little, if any, to the strength of their clubs, while the Camp team should be vastly improved as should the Merchants. In this case it should be a battle down to the wire with fans assured of good games every Monday and Thursday.

Following is the second half schedule and as there may be no other printed, you had better clip this one out and keep it for future reference.

Monday, July 20:
CCC Camp vs. Doc's.

LOCAL GOLFERS IN MATCHES AT HAMILTON SUNDAY

Judge R. B. Cross, Walter Stewart, Horace Jackson, Ben Sellers, and Troy Jones journeyed to Hamilton Sunday afternoon where they met opponents from neighboring cities in some friendly matches.

Jones and Sellers won their matches from two Brownwood divot diggers, despite a fine score made by one of the losers on the back nine.

The other three members of our party played a group of friends from Hamilton in a game that this writer likes to indulge in, and that is, no scores were kept, or at least none were made public.

GOLFERS MEET WASHOUT

Last Thursday night a meeting of the local golfers was called to determine what to do about the local lack of interest in the game. One man was present. This condition is pitiful as a town the size of Gatesville should have as fine a golf course as any town the same size in the state. Visitors to the city, should they be golfers and a large number of them are, are just out of luck so far as a good place to indulge in the sport is concerned. Twenty-five or thirty dollars will put the course in fine shape for the rest of the summer, and by next spring things may be worked out concerning operation for another year or two. So every golfer in town, and even those not interested directly in golf but from a standpoint of civic pride, should gladly give toward improvement of the local links.

second half will be nothing short of a dog fight each time as the hashslingers are still smarting under the two defeats handed them by the smoke eaters the past week. The defeats were had enough but there was a side issue that was just too much, as it was understood the sandwich crew had big things planned if they had won. We have it from a reliable source that if Doc's does not win another game the second half they mean to annihilate the Firemen all four of the games with them.

LOCAL SOFTBALL TEAM TO ENTER STATE TOURNEY

A softball team made up of all-stars will probably enter the state tournament sponsored by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. The tournament is held in districts, with the district winners eligible to go to Fort Worth. This district will hold its games in Taylor.

Details will be worked out and a report made later.

SOFTBALL LOSERS RETURN

Three members of Doc's softball team with Doc himself, returned from their self imposed exile as a result of their loss to the Firement last Saturday morning. The disgrace of losing to the hook and ladder men was so great that Jack Wiggins, J. L. Wiggins and Truman Blanton, along with Doc Rutherford, crowned their shame and sorrow with a fishing trip on the Lampasas.

Advance room reservations for the fall session at Texas State College for Women show an increase of approximately 23 per cent over the number made last year.

"It's A Small World"

THE REPUBLICANS have moved their campaign headquarters from Washington to New York, and report that their Vice-Presidential candidate will get in some good hard Knox at the Roosevelt Administration, so they'll be Landon their man in the White House.

ALL these political speeches should be sent to Calcutta. There's an Indian millionaire there who hasn't been able to sleep for 2½ years. He's offering $100,000 for sleep. If he could just get a load of this election stuff, that would certainly do the trick.

NEW YORK CITY has a new phone book and it gives you 19 columns of Cohens—a new record. Most of the Cohens have big families, too. They're all talking most of the time. Soon New York will have to have a special phone book just for the Cohens.

NEW YORKERS had to get a State Supreme Court Justice last week to tell them what Roquefort cheese is. Most people could spot it anywhere without even trying.

JERSEY likes soup. The State has finally collected $16,768,477 from the estate of John T. Dorrance, deceased soup magnate, and this tidy sum just balances the Jersey budget. Pennsylvania had already got its ladle in and took $17,000,000 from the Dorrance soup-bowl. The soup maker had homes in both States—too many cooks.

THE CASPIAN SEA, where cavalier comes from, is slowly drying up according to Russian scientists. It was recently at the lowest level in a century, leaving thousands of fish stranded on the shore and Caspian for water.

CARL OLSEN tried to grab a free ride from Kingston, Jamaica, to New York on the S. S. Columbia. The only trouble was he happened to stow himself away with 22 green turtles. You see, the turtles weighed 400 to 600 lbs. each, and they got restless. Olsen began to think the whole ship was going to turn turtle, so he gave himself up.

IN the Denver County Jail they have a prisoner who sleeps all the time. All day long he stands against the wall asleep, without moving a muscle. This fellow belongs in the W.P.A. Anybody who can sleep like that shouldn't be kept in jail.

FINAL DATE FOR ABENTEE VOTES WEDNESDAY TWENTY-SECOND

The last day, or date, before the first primary, according to our political schedule, is Wednesday, 22nd, at which time absentee polls close, and there will be no more absentee voting.

Therefore, if you plan to be absent election day, Saturday, July 25, then go see Chas. P. Mounce, County Clerk, and file an absentee vote, and by 5:00 p. m. Wednesday, because that's the last day.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

SOME women don't mind making their husbands feel like thirty cents. And some even have a kind of a talent for making 'em feel that way.

At the Dour's house they had company, and Jim Dour went out to mix up a little lemonade or something for the guests.

When he heard his wife say, "Oh, Darling!" Jim come scooting out.

"What is it?" he says.

"O, Jim," she says, "be yourself! I was talking to the dog, of course! He was about to knock over the fern on his poor little back."

CROSSROADS NEWSPAPER CORRESPONDENCE GOES TO FARM WOMAN

New York, July 20. — Mrs. Susan Frawley Eisele of Blue Earth, Minn., has been judged the best country newspaper correspondent of 1936, it was announced today by Wheeler McMillen, editor of the Country Home Magazine, which sponsors the annual award to crossroads reporters.

Mrs. Eisele, who writes a weekly column for the Fairmount, Minnesota, Sentinel, lives on a farm nine miles from Blue Earth, with her husband and three children, the youngest of whom arrived almost simultaneously with word that she had been recognized as the best writer in her field.

In recognition of her work, Mrs. Eisele will receive the $200 first prize, together with a trip to New York and Washington, as soon as she is able to travel. The award is the equivalent, in rural journalism, of the Pulitzer Award in the metropolitan press. The winner last year was Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Mahoney of Oasis, Missouri.

Mrs. Eisele's work was chosen from 3,600 clippings from country newspapers, submitted by the rural editors as the writing of their best correspondents. The judges, in addition to Mr. McMillen, included Miss Gertrude B. Lane, editor of the Woman's Home Companion; William L. Chenery, editor of Collier's; and Sumner Blossom, editor of The American Magazine.

The annual award was inaugurated by the Country Home Magazine, a national farm publication, in an effort to give recognition to what the editors believe is a most important phase of American journalism. The quality of writing submitted, according to Mr. McMillen, has been extremely high; simple and straightforward.

"America's open country raises, year after year, talents that should not go unrecognized," he said. "In thousands of rural communities throughout the country, men and women are doing better reporting and writing than many city writers do. The quality of the material offered was really remarkable."

The second largest award goes to Carl D. Summers, farmer of Hart's Crossroads, Ill., who writes for the Winchester, Ill., Times. Of the twenty other prizes given, fifteen went to women. Special mention also was given to four newspapers

CEREMONY WILL BE STAGED AT TEXAS' OLDEST TOWN

Ysleta, July 16.—Ysleta, said to be the oldest town in Texas, will be the scene of impressive Centennial year ceremonies to be held at the old Mission Sonora del Carmen on Thursday, July 16. The town was founded in 1682.

The picturesque mission is located in the center of the village which is 12 miles from El Paso. The Indian descendants of those who lived in the shadow of Mission Sonora del Carmen 250 years ago hold their ritualistic ceremonies each year, commemorating the bravery of the mission's founders.

Visitors here will see Spaniards, Mexicans, Indians and Anglo-Saxons unite in worship at the foot of the mission shrine.

for the general excellence of their country correspondence. They were the Schuyler, Nebr. Sun; the Stillwater, Okla., Gazette; the Bellville, Kans., Telescope; and the Cedar Springs, Mich., Clipper.

In describing the first prize winner, Arthur M. Nelson, publisher of the Fairmount Sentinel, the man who recognized her ability and submitted her work, says:

"Mrs. Eisele does all of the home work in the house, maintains a good garden, an abundant poultry yard. Everything about the place proclaims her a model housekeeper and home maker. Unassisted, Mr. Eisele does the field work on the 80 acre farm, cares for the dairy herd, the pigs in the feeding lot. The Eiseles' is a typical Northwest farm home of the better class."

Excerpts from Mrs. Eisele's column, which is titled "With a Penny Pencil," follow:

"How quiet it seems after the threshing machine vanishes behind the bend in the road, the place seems empty, like after a funeral. You wish they would come back, the threshing crew, with their swearing and laughter and quarreling. How sober the children, even, and what long faces. Behing the barn looms up a gleaming yellow stack of straw—unfamiliar and alarming in appearance—but it is a monument to a husband's toil and sweat, and suddenly it grips you most profoundly. Life becomes intensely precious. . . ."

"Maybe the well-dressed man in fashion forecasts will be wearing light coats and spats and such, but in this part of the country there will be several

POAGETORIAL

YOU VOTE LIKE YOU WANT TO! That's the first and main part of this voting business. Far be it from us to TELL you how to vote. That's your business.

However, may we suggest a man who we think would be ideal for the people of this section for Congressman from the Eleventh district. We refer to W. R. (BOB) POAGE!

You have probably heard him speak, since he has appeared in nearly every part of the county, and has spoken twice in Gatesville.

Here is a man, properly qualified, properly experienced, of proven merit, and with proven work to his credit, conscientious, earnest, hard-working, a "stayer", who is like you and I, since he must work to make his bread and butter. A man who can well appreciate the "ups and downs" of the non-landowning, or small landowning people.

He is handling his campaign entirely thru his friends and with the little financial assistance at his personal command. He has served a 12 year apprenticeship in the two state Legislative Halls, and is now asking that he be promoted by the people of his district to the position of Congressman from the Eleventh District of Texas.

Therefore, Readers, if you want a man of Poage's caliber, Poage's experience, Poage's education, Poage's qualifications, Poage's merit—then vote Poage, Saturday, July 25!

Who Has Spread False Accusations? Did Bob Poage Vote For or Against the Old People?

In a sheet signed by Hon. Frank B. Tirey, candidate for Congress, he says:
"I shall appreciate the vote of every person, but shall not make or countenance the making of false accusations against or about my opponent to get votes."

Yet, in almost every speech Mr. Tirey or his cohorts have made in the past ten days he and they have charged that Senator W. R. Poage was the author of an amendment to the pension law to deny pensions to old people with children able to support them. On last Sunday the Waco News Tribune published the following account of Mr. Tirey's Valley Mills speech:

"Tirey cited the legislative record by book and page as proof that Poage introduced an amendment to the old age pension bill which would require that the support children might be able to give old age pension applicants be investigated before a pension should be granted. This amendment, Tirey said, was finally defeated.

"The amendment would have meant, said Tirey, 'That if an old man applying for pension had a married son who had an extra room at his house, the state could tell the old man to go and live with his son, and could bar him from relief; no matter what the old man's daughter-in-law might think about it.'"

WHAT DOES THE RECORD SHOW?

Mr. Tirey, who says he would not countenance any false accusations against his opponents to get votes must have had some other motive in mind because the very page which he quotes is found in the Senate Journal, Second Called Session of the 44th Legislature pages 27 and 28, and this record reads as follows:

"Amend Shivers Amendment by striking out the last sentence in Sub-division (2) of Section 3, the language to be struck out being as follows:

"It shall also be the duty of the Director to investigate the ability and willingness of the component members of said applicant's immediate family to assist in the support and maintenance of said applicant and to modify and adjust the assistance for such applicant in accordance with evidence found." ONEAL and POAGE?" (submitted to strike out.)

On page 28 of the same Journal, we find that the record shows that the amendment (to strike out) was adopted by a vote of 13 yeas to 11 nays, with Poage voting yea. Thus we find that Mr. Tirey not only falsely accused Bob Poage of doing the very thing that Poage prevented, but also misrepresented the final action on the amendment in the Legislature. Did he do this "To Get Votes?"

WHO FOUGHT FOR THE OLD PEOPLE?

Bob Poage was one of the two men who actually struck out the language Mr. Tirey complains of. If Mr. Tirey does not like what Poage did, he has a right to criticize, but let him tell the truth about what Poage did. The Shiver's Amendment (page 25) later became the Senate Bill, and if it had not been for Senator Poage the Bill would have contained the very language Mr. Tirey complains of. Bob Poage has been fair with the old people, and has not tried to misquote the record. Bob Poage voted for the old age pension and offered a Natural Tax with which to Pay the Bill.

What has Tirey ever done for the old people?

Was Mr. Tirey actuated by Ignorance or Malice when he told the people that Bob Poage tried to the very thing that Poage prevented from being done?

If Mr. Tirey was so ignorant of the effect of legislative amendments that he could not understand an amendment that said "the language to be struck out being as follows . . ." then he is too ignorant to properly represent this District.

If Mr. Tirey deliberately sought to deceive the people about the facts in this matter can you rely on any other representations that he may make?

If he will make misleading statement in this particular how can the people believe any of the mud, muck, and slime that he and his henchmen have been throwing at Bob Poage?

(Political Adv.)

WORLD COMMENT

By JOE BURNS

Two political events of unquestionable importance in the presidential election occurred last week with the solidifying of Father Coughlin, Doctor Townsend, and General Smith behind the Union party movement headed by William Lemke, and the official walkout of several old line Democrats from the Roosevelt Democratic party.

Meeting at Cleveland in its second national convention, the Townsend advocates refused to endorse any political party or candidate but Dr. Francis E. Townsend, founder of the $200 per month pension scheme and head of the movement, made an agreement with Father Charles E. Coughlin, head of the National Union for Social Justice, and Reverend Gerald L. K. Smith, self-styled head of the late Huey P. Long's Share-the-Wealth clubs, whereby the three would tour the nation in behalf of the candidacy of Lemke, the North Dakota Representative who organized the Union party with Charles P. O'Brien of Boston as his running-mate.

That the entire Townsend vote will go for Lemke in November is debatable. In the first place, Dr. Townsend is acting on his own initiative in endorsing the Union party candidate and the national organization is not bound to follow their leader. Many Townsend leaders believe that the wise policy for the organization to pursue is the election of Senators and Representatives who adhere to the plan. Control of Congress by the Townsends, they reason, would bring the plan closer to realization than the election of a chief executives who would be faced with a hostile legislature.

A serious rift in the ranks of the Townsend organization is further likely to weaken the support the good doctor might be able to throw to Lemke. A former regional Townsend leader has filed a suit asking that Doctor Townsend and the board of directors of Old Age Revolving Pensions, Inc., (official name of the Townsend movement) be removed and that the court order an accounting of $1,000,000 in Townsend Clubs' money which it is charged has been dissipated.

Gomer Smith, vice president of the movement and defeated candidate in the Oklahoma Democratic senatorial primary, has threatened to secede from the national Townsend organization and carry with him the clubs of most of the Southern States. Dr. Townsend has asked the board of directors to expel Mr. Smith as vice president because of his support of the Roosevelt Administration, to which Townsend is opposed.

Heralding the long expected bolt from the regular Democratic organization, former Gov. Joseph Ely of Massachusetts, Col. Henry Breckenridge of New York, assistant secretary of war under the first Wilson administration, and former Senator William Cabell Bruce of Maryland announced their support of Governor Landon in the November election.

On the other side of the political fence, Nicholas Murray Butler, prominent in Republican circles and perennial president of Columbian University, vigorously assailed the G. O. P. platform and refused to say whether he would support Landon.

The list of Democrats of national prominence who has refused to enter the New Deal since the inauguration of Mr. Roosevelt in 1933 now includes in addition to the above, former Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, Judge Daniel F. Cohalan, former member of the Supreme Court of New York State, Lewis W. Douglas, of Arizona, former director of the Federal budget, and Alfred E. Smith, the 1928 Democratic standard bearer.

At least two of these—Smith and Ely, and probably Reed—will take the stump in their respective sections for Landon. Smith is being drafted by the Republican high command for a series of addresses in New York and Massachusetts. Ely is wanted to speak in other New England states and Reed may be used in Missouri, which is still regarded as Democratic in spite of its proximity to Landon's home state of Kansas.

But defections on the Republican side are as numerous and politically important as are those from the ranks of the New Deal. Three progressive Republican Senators, Hiram Johnson of California, Gerald P. Nye of North Dakota, and George W. Norris of Nebraska are either openly for Roosevelt or pursuing a neutral attitude in the campaign. The attitude of others is doubtful, including Senator Borah and Old Guard leaders in the Eastern States.

riculture, to be used in the purchase, distribution and maintenance of purebred jacks and stallions, for the use of any breeder in the state.

When the first funds for this purpose became available in January, 1934, there were thousands of farms in Texas devoid of both mares and horses. There was a severe shortage of high-grade stallions and jacks in the state and so few were the colts being raised that the average age for the state was ten years plus.

January of 1936 found Commissioner of Agriculture J. E. McDonald the largest purchaser of jacks and stallions in the United States. A total of 262 head, at an average cost of $380 each, had been distributed over 185 counties of the state. Caretakers of these sires had reported approximately 12,000 breedings during the period ending December 31, 1935. A fee is charged, payable at the time of service, with the usual of a live colt.

Purchases have been made in Kentucky, Tennessee, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Illinois, and Nebraska. They include 127 jacks and fifty-eight registered and high grade Percheron and Belgian stallions.

Applications have been made for 2000 more sires to the State department of agriculture. While it is not likely that the final program will include that many it is the aim of the department to supply every county with high grade sires to replenish the ranks of work stock in Texas, which is 20 per cent lower than in 1920.

Lets Talk about Clothes

TEXAS STATE COLLEGE WOMEN

Denton, July 20. Midsummer finds both new and unusual fashions displayed in the stores, and you wouldn't believe it, but bed-ticking and sheeting take high honors this week as the unusual in dress materials. The fabrics, long heralded as a domestic standby, are blossoming into the latest suits and blouses for the season.

Blue and white striped ticking (called roamer cloth this season) makes a smart sport suit with a youthful belted jacket and a slim skirt with a kick pleat. With it you wear a shirt of marine blue or lemon yellow ticking with a matching casual hat and gloves.

Another headliner of the season is the tropical cotton print in a two-piece culotte for bicycling, beach-combing or other summer sports. This one has a bold leaf pattern in blue and white on a wine background, is guaranteed immune to sun and tubbing, and is austere tailored. It's made with a manish waist, and slightly flared culotte skirt.

Hats are another fashion item that is demanding attention this season. Lace hats for summer evenings are back in style, and huge wide-brimmed hats with aluringly large brims are proving even more popular than last year. Girls at Texas State College for Women suggest a neat model of cartwheel mushroom style made of fuggage tan piccolino straw piped and trimmed with matching patent leather. There is a bow of the patent leather under the brim in the back.

Some of the famous designers are showing a collection of wide brimmed hats with ostrich feather trimmings.

TO THE VOTERS OF PRECINCT NO. 1

Quite a few voters have come to me and asked me why my name didn't appear in the announcement column of our County papers.

My answer is I didn't have the means to do so, as I have been out of work most of the time for the past three and half years.

My name is on the ballot. I certainly need what the office pays. When I was your Justice of the Peace I was denied a second term and am asking you to give it to me NOW.

I am running strictly on my own qualifications and have nothing but the best feelings for my opponent but he will have had the office two full terms.

I earnestly solicit your vote on July 25 and assure you that if you elect me I will conduct the affairs of the office with credit to myself and the people and will turn the office back to you unguilted. Thanks to all.

Sincerely,
W. T. CARUTH.

—Poage's Qualified!

To the Citizenship of Coryell County:

I take this method of saying a last word to the voters of Coryell County in my race for District Attorney.

I have been unable to see all of you and personally solicit your votes, due to my duties keeping me busy practically all of the time in one of the counties. When not engaged in court I have felt it my duty to spend much of my time in going to the scene of offenses and help make investigation of the facts as soon after the offense as possible as I find this the best policy. I am now, as you know, engaged in my duties in a term of court, and my time will be very limited for any other purpose until the election. I hope the voters will consider my situation and believe me when I say that I wish I could meet every man and woman in the county. I believe you will give my claim a fair consideration though I may not have formed your personal acquaintance, for I have ample evidence since coming among you that you are a liberal broad-minded people, and I cherish the friendship of those with whom I have been fortunate enough to be associated.

I hope you will pardon a reference to my record for the few months I have been in office, as it is done in no spirit of egotism, but feel that it is fair and proper to refer to the same since I am asking to election for a regular term, and you should know what your servant has done before entering into a new contract.

During my first 8 months in office I tried 53 felony cases in the district, had 47 convictions on pleas of guilty and not guilty, 4 acquittals and 2 hung juries. There have been no acquittals in Coryell and Hamilton Counties. I have spent much time when not engaged in court in assisting the peace officers in the early stages after an offense, as I believe swift and certain punishment is the greatest discouragement to crime. The most common offenses now are theft, burglary, and drunken driving, all a great menace to society, and swift punishment should be meted out to discourage it.

I have done my best to serve you well; how well is a matter for you to pass upon, but I know that I have been faithful. I believe, with the experience behind me and the knowledge of the people and affairs of the district I have gained in the short term of service, will enable me to serve you better during the coming two years, and I know it shall be my effort to give you the best service that is in me.

I would not desire to obstruct the laudable ambition of any man; neither do I feel like yielding to being condemned that another might succeed at the price of my downfall. From the expressions of the people over the district concerning my work during the few months I have been in office, I do not believe the people are willing to mark me as a failure by defeating me in this election for a regular term. I am content to leave the verdict with the people on the doctrine as announced by Governor Hogg, "Give the people the facts and they will render a righteous verdict."

I leave the matter with you, to turn to my duties of office I am paid to perform, with the utmost confidence that you will mark a conscientious ballot.

Sincerely,
H. W. (Bill) ALLEN,
(Political Adv.) Your District Attorney.

Their capital goods consisting of a sewing machine and a wash-tub, a family of Jews in Poland is shown in their daily attempt to earn a living. Unable to sell their wares or look for employment, they cannot even eke out a miserable existence without outside aid.

This aid comes chiefly from the Joint Distribution Committee, the major American organization devoted to rehabilitative work among Jews overseas. This committee has made available to Polish and East European Jews more than $416,000,000 in free and cooperative loans. In addition it has expended $27,000,000 in support of medical, educational and artisan training institutions. From voluntary contributions forthcoming from its national campaign, the Joint Distribution Committee is allocating a large sum for rehabilitation work in Eastern Europe.
