The Largest Paid Circulation in Coryell County

VOLUME IV

GATESVILLE, TEXAS, TUESDAY, AUG. 11, 1936

NUMBER 67

Come On!! Bring Yourself and $1. --- Dallas Fri.

2nd Annual Ram and Billy Sale Will Be held Here on August 13

Coryell County's second Annual Ram and Billy Sale will be held Thursday, August 13, this week, at the Brown Gin shed.

Rams and billys from every section of the county will be on exhibition, both for show and sale, in addition to many from other parts of the state.

Show animals must be pure bred, that is, registered or subject to registration, but those for sale may be range animals. The show and sales are divided into two divisions; the sheep and goat, each of which are divided into the young and older classes, that is, lambs and aged animals. Classes will be had for all breeds and classes shown, in awarding the prizes or entering the animals. Ewes and does may be bought for sale, but will not be entered in the prize contests.

Those in charge of the contest are Harmon White, chairman; L. C. Shepherd and Andrew Kendrick. A general arrangements committee has been named including High Davis, Fred Robinson, and Rufe Brown.

Out of County breeders who have stated they will be here if possible are Kenner Graham Rambouillet breeder and Zack Jones of San Angelo; George Johanson of Brady Delano breeder; Arthur Davis, member of Davis Brothers of Con Can, Texas, secretary of the Angora Goat Breeders' Association of Texas, and J. P. Heath, ram-bouillet breeder of Argyle, Texas, near Denton.

The sale division of the show will be a private sale and there will no auction.

THREE LOCAL BOYS WIN HONORS AT CAMP BULLIS

Neal Hinsley, Jim Welch, Milton Chatham, James Hair, Frank Andrews, Royce Davis and Dave Culberson Jr., who have been in training at Camp Bullis for the past month, have returned home.

Out of 1,095 boys registered in the 8th Corps area Gatesville should be proud of the honors bestowed upon these fine, sturdy boys.

Jim Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Welch, who was in the signal corps won an award for expert pistol shooting. Royce Davis, son of Mrs. Ruth Davis, won a medal for marksmanship.

James (Sonny) Hair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bird Hair, won the medal for excellence out of a group of 180 boys.

Dave Culberson Jr. made his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Culberson Sr., very proud of him when won first honors in the fancy diving contest.

ONE CASE COMPLETED ON MONDAY; COURT STILL IN SESSION

So far this week, only one case has been handled by the July term of District Court, that being the case of C. E. Green vs. F. C. Green and others, suit for partition.

Cause was withdrawn from jury; judgment was rendered in favor of defendant, and notice given of appeal.

Judge Giles P. Lester, Judge of the 74th District Court in McLennan County, presided in this case, since Judge Cross was disqualified.

KILLEEN HERALD SPECIAL EDITION FOR FIVE-DAY CELEBRATION

Five days of amusement and entertainment to begin August 12 and running through the 16 is the schedule announced in Friday's Pioneer and Historical Edition of the Killeen Herald, another of the Special Editions received at the News office.

The editor, W. T. Carter, is to be congratulated on this very nice edition, which besides interesting history events of Bell county in and around Killeen, also includes a number of articles relative to the southeast end of this county, and Copperas Cove territory.

Editions like this are especially nice for a town which has a celebration of this nature, which the edition helps promote.

PRODUCTION REPORT OF DEPT. OF AGRI. SAYS 12,000,000 BALES

A cotton crop of 12,481,000 bales of cotton, 500 lbs to the bale, was the forecast yesterday by the department of agriculture in its first production report of the season.

The crop in Texas, largest producing state, was estimated at 3,850,000 bales, well above the 1935 crop of 2,956,000.

HEAVY BUT SOFT

Dallas, August 10. The champion sot drinker of the world was recently unearthed at the Texas Centennial Exposition—but his name remains a mystery. Guest of an oil corporation for a day of special events, waiters announced that in eight hours he consumed two cases of nationally famous beverage.

Two men who raided a jeweler's shop at Southampton, England, sang "We're in the Money" as they made away with the plunder.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MRS. D. H. BURT HELD SUNDAY, AUGUST 9

Mrs. D. H. Burt, who for several months has been ill, succumbed to death at 10:10 o'clock Saturday night at her home on Main street. Funeral services were held at the residence at 4:30 p. m. with Rev. Clarence A. Morton officiating. She was laid to rest in the City cemetery.

Mrs. Burt was born in Monroe, La., April 1, 1865 and moved to Texas with Mr. Burt when she was twenty-two years of age. She has been a citizen of this city for the past forty-nine years and a member of the First Baptist Church for forty-eight years.

She is survived by her two children, Mrs. Theo Copeland of Dallas, Lorraine Burt of Waco; one grandson, Otis Burt of Los Angeles, California, and one brother, Dr. E. B. Baker of Edcouch, all of whom were present when the last rites were said.

Paul bearers were John Reising, J. A. Hallman, L. K. Thomson, Sr., L. S. Holmes, Fred G. Prewitt, Feno Straw, Herchel Sadler, Rufus Brown. Honorary pall bearers were Perry Allen, Russel Cox, Dr. Leslie Sadler, R. B. Cross, Chess Sadler, P. D. Holt, and John O. Potts.

You can get a round-trip bus to the Centennial Friday for only $1.00. Better go!

10 to 15 Buses Will Make Trip On County's Big Day in Dallas

AIR-CONDITIONED? NO! BUT CRAZY WITH THE HEAT! ENTIRE COUNTY!

"That heat wave!" That topical tropical heat wave! is certainly here! Run all the merchants back to Gatesville after their trying trips looking at hot winter clothing in mid-summer. Made the old mercury pound the top of the thermometers, like—well, hasn't been seen here this summer. The heat wave just moved in from Kansas, Nebraska, and North and South Dakotas, where they've really been suffering.

A local thermometer registered 106 degrees hot, and we're expecting more of it. They say cotton's going to be popping, and now we're looking for the first bale to arrive any date, as they're coming in almost daily in other neighboring counties and cities.

SISTIE AND BUZZIE VISIT BIG FAIR

Dallas, August 10. Sistie and Buzzie Dall, the President's grandchildren, recently visited the Texas Centennial Exposition. They saw the educational sights, but had an eye only for the ferris wheel on the Midway, where they spent most of their time.

Plans have been completed! Buses are ready!

All that Coryell County needs now is "signers" or "riders" for the buses, which will compose Coryell County Centennial Cavalcade that is scheduled to leave the Court House Square shortly after 5 a. m. Friday morning. Decorations will be provided each tripper, each bus, and publicity folders will be available for distribution. Phone or call 244, the City Hall, and tell them how many places to reserve for you, and phone quick, because they'll be signing faster than they did the Declaration of Independence.

Merchants of Gatesville, the not 100%, will in the majority close up and go along with the Cavalcade—the greatest opportunity Coryell County has had to sell itself to the world in the history of the county. It will be Coryell County-Gatesville Day at the Texas Centennial in Dallas.

Buses from Evant, Oglesby, Jonesboro, Flat, besides the five buses from Gatesville will make the trip, the schedule being at present, that those from towns west of Gatesville, and those having partially filled buses will proceed to the square in Waco, where they will wait for the remainder of the Cavalcade. This is being done in order to avoid as much dust as possible between Gatesville and Waco. The Oglesby buses will probably go straight on to Waco, as there will be no necessity of back-tracking to Gatesville.

Those interested in buying Centennial Ticket Books which entitles the bearer to five admissions into the grounds, and admissions to five shows, may secure the books from D. W. Diserens, band director.

Committees will continue to work, registering private cars wishing to go with the idea of taking care of any surplus passengers which may appear after buses are filled.

It is now thought that the caravan will leave Dallas enroute home, about 9:30 or ten p. m. Friday night, in order to give visitors a chance to see the exposition at night, at which time it is more beautiful, and also that they may arrive home at an earlier hour.

Participants on the program include Murray Kendrick, Lytle Powell, Miss Jacquelyn West, Jack Reising, and others including the local High School band under the direction of D. W. Diserens.

Promotion of the Cavalcade has been under the auspices of the Gatesville Lions Club and has as its idea being a Coryell county affair, including every section of the county.

FREE SHOWS PLETFUL

Dallas, August 10. Survey shows there are more free shows of the first rank on the grounds of the Texas Centennial Exposition than were ever before presented. Many orchestras and players present programs keeping the visitor busy through a full day.

She's Richest Girl in Texas

Mildred Yount, 15, is reputedly the richest girl in Texas, through a $15,000,000 fortune willed her by her father, Miles Yount, Beaumont oil magnate. An accomplished horsewoman, Miss Yount will exhibit several of her finest mounts at the Texas Centennial Exposition. $25,000,000 World's Fair

Mrs. Jim McClellan Wins Centennial Trip

Mrs. Jim McClellan of Gatesville scored with her seven "last lines" on the seven limericks run in the Coryell County News Centennial Limerick Contest, winning the grand prize, which is a trip to the Texas Centennial Exposition Friday, August 14.

The Issue Winners, or those who had the best limericks in each several issues of the News during the length of the contest, and who each win a Souvenir Texas Centennial Pen and Pencil set, are Lorin Rivers, of Gatesville, No. 1; Mrs. J. P. Kendrick, Gatesville, No. 2; Mrs. D. C. Homan, Oglesby No. 3; Mrs. R. R. Anderson, Gatesville, No. 4; Lawrence G. Beckett, Pearl Star Route, No. 5; Miss Millie Summers, Rt. 2 Box 3, Jonesboro, No. 6; Ira Swindall, Gatesville, No. 7.

Mrs. McClellan, or whoever she may select to go in her place, will receive free transportation to Dallas, and a book of admission tickets that will take her in the gates of the Centennial, and also into five of the main shows of the Exposition, including the Black Forest, Hollywood Animal Stars, Midget City, Shakespeare's Globe Theatre, and Cavalcade of Texas.

STUMPIN' THE STATE

With the Spectator

The shortest run-off ballot in a decade will be placed before Texas voters on Aug. 22, according to the Democratic State Executive Committee after releasing the final compilation of votes for the July 25 primary election.

Two run-offs for state offices, three for Congressional seats, six for State Senator, 61 for State Representatives, and numerous district, county and precinct contests make up the list.

The State run-offs are for Railroad Commissioner, between E. O. Thompson, chairman of the Commission, of Amarillo, and Frank S. Morris of Dallas; and for Commissioner of Agriculture, between J. E. McDonald, of Waxahachie and George B. Terrell of Alto. First primary results show Thompson lacked only 8,000 votes of having a majority over four opponents.

George B. Terrell, former Commissioner and Congressman ran ahead of J. E. McDonald, Agriculture Commissioner, seeking re-election. Official returns give Terrell 355,426, McDonald 319,447, Cliff Day 131,623, Kal Segrist 119,148.

United States Senator Morris heppard won with a majority of 277,958 over five opponents. Totals were: Sheppard 616,293, Joe H. Eagle 135,718, Guy B. Fisher 89,215, Joseph H. Price 45,919, Richard C. Bush 37,842, J. Edward Glenn 28,641. Eagle, Houston Congressman, failed by over 200,000 votes of equaling the total amassed by Representative J. W. Bailey Jr. against Senator Tom Connally in 1934. An interesting sidelight on this race is the fact that 89,215 Texas Democrats voted for an anti-New Dealer, Guy B. Fisher, who polled twice as many votes as he did in the 1934 senatorial campaign when he ran as an anti-Roosevelt candidate against Senator Connally. Sheppard and Eagle were both ardent Roosevelt supporters. The three candidates who endorsed the Townsend $200-a-month old age pension plan, Price, Glenn and Bush, received a combined total of 106,000 votes, a negligible amount in a total of 954,000 cast in this race.

Governor Allred won renomination over four opponents with a majority of 26,660. He received 553,219 to Tom Hunter's 239,640, F. W. Fischer's 145,877, Roy Sanderford's 81,170, and Pierce Brooks' 33,391.

The five candidates for State office running without opposition, Lieutenant Governor Wlter Woodall, Attorney General William McCraw, Chief Justice C. M. Cureton and Associate Justice Richard Critz of the Supreme Court, and O. S. Latimore of the Court of Criminal Appeals, all received over 1,000,000 votes—a splendid endorsement from the electorate of the State.

George H. Sheppard was renominated for a fourth term as State Comptroller. The Executive Committee's tabulation gave him 604,113, Sam Houston Terrell 199,820, Walter Walton Covington 105,524.

William H. McDonald, former Tax Assessor of Eastland County, defeated John W. Hawkins, chief clerk of the land office, for Commissioner of the General Land Office. McDonald received 530,625 and Hawkins 402,970.

Treasurer Charley Lockhart defeated two opponents for a fourth term as keeper of the State funds. Totals were: Lockhart 608,975; Harry Hopkins 210,927; Garland Adair 129,974.

One of the hottest battles of the campaign was that for State Superintendent of Public Instruction between L. A. Woodsh of Waco, seeking a third term, and A. A. Pat Bullock of San Antonio. Woods fon handily by 577,944 to 383,269.

The three run-offs for Congressional places are between Oscar Holcombe and Albert Thomas, both of Houston, for the Eighth District post vacated by Joe H. Eagle; W. D. McFarlane of Graham and Ed Gossert of Verona, in the Thirteenth District; and Clyde L. Garrett of Eastland and Thomas L. Blanton of Abilene, of the nineteenth District. In three other districts candidates were eligible for places on the run-off ticket but withdrew. They were Julian C. Hyer of Fort Worth against Fritz G. Lanham; Emerson Stone of Jacksonville, candidate against Nat Patton; and Lamar Seeligson of San Antonio, candidate against Maury Maverick. Lanham, Patton and Maverick were all running for reelection.

In the race for Congress from this, the Eleventh Congressional District, Bob Poage received 26,850, Frank B. Tiley 17,932, and C. A. Sharman 3,531, according to the State Committee. Final returns from the 21st enatorial District narrowed Representative Manley Head's majority over Representative W. A. Shofner to 1,300. Head's total was 11,692; Shofner's 10,330; Tweedy's 5,717.

BIRD FAMILY REUNION

The descendants of Uncle Ike Bird met Friday, August 7, on the Nickel Branch near Flat to hold their sixth annual reunion with between 145 and 150 of their friends and relatives present.

The day was spent talking over the past, enjoying the present, and planning the future. A bountiful dinner was spread and served, picnic style with plenty of coffee and iced tea at the noon hour.

Those furnishing entertainment with musical instrument were Bob Taylor, Doyle Taylor, Luther Shelton, Harve Bird, Dee Bird, and the "Hamilton Girls".

A watermelon feast was enjoyed in the afternoon. Everyone reported a most enjoyable time and left hoping to meet again the first Friday in August, 1937.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Bird and family, Harve Bird, Mrs. Annie Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. U. I. Hair and family, Mr. and Mrs. Aud Browning and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamilton and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dotson, Mrs. Allen Smith, Andy and Charley Smith, all of Flat; Mr. and Mrs. Edd Bird and family and Mr. and Mrs. Luther helton and son of Hubbard; Mr. and Mrs. Ern-

Will Sing and Play for Nation

Young "Swing" Maestro Substitutes for Fred Waring

Tommy Dorsey, the trombone playing "swing" maestro, will bring his group of musical artists to Texas during August to broadcast a series of coast-to-coast CBS programs for the Ford Motor Company. Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians will be on vacation all during August. Each Tuesday night at the Texas Centennial Exposition Dorsey's orchestra will broadcast from the Gulf Radio studios.

The programs, which are sponsored by Ford dealers, will be presented twice each Tuesday night. The first time will be from 7 p. m. to 7:30 central standard time for the eastern and central states. The same broadcast will be repeated from 10 to 10:30 p. m. central standard time for Pacific coast and mountain states.

Two members of the orchestra will be featured. Edythe Wright, auburn haired vocalist, has a clever style, often changing the lyrics of her songs, substituting words and in some cases even whole lines that strike her fancy or better express her interpretation of the song's mood or meaning. Incidentally, she has three hobbies, golf, tennis and writing poetry.

Jack Leonard, also a vocalist, is a most personable and charming young man with a great deal of talent. He contributes considerable to the appeal of the orchestra.

The upper photograph is of Edythe Wright, auburn-haired vocalist who will sing during August with Tommy Dorsey's orchestra when, pinch-hitting for Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians during their vacation, the Dorsey group will be heard in a series of coast-to-coast programs to be broadcast from the Texas Centennial grounds at Dallas. Tommy, the youthful "swing" maestro, and his orchestra are sponsored by the Ford Motor Company. He is shown in the lower photograph.

One of the main reasons for the success of Dorsey's orchestra can be traced to the young music master's ability as a trombone player. Often Tommy substitutes a horn for his baton to do solo passages or lead the brasses in the many rhythmic arrangements popularized by the band.

LET'S MAKE IT 100 PER CENT, MERCHANTS, EVERYBODY, JUST ONCE!

Coryell County goes to the Centennial Friday of this week, to help the Centennial authorities celebrate Coryell County-Gatesville Day there. Petitions have been partially circulated asking the merchants to close. A little has been encountered. Some have said, "If our competitor closes we will."

Let's ALL go 100 per cent for ONE thing ONE time! Let's just try to CO-OPERATE, to the full extent of the word, JUST THIS ONCE. If it is entirely impossible for you to close your own doors unless your competitor does, don't do it. Those that can, let's close up whether or not you can go on the trip Friday. This is one of the greatest things that has ever happened to Coryell County as a whole, and should be given complete support, both moral and material.

People of the county who perhaps have never seen Waco or Dallas, not to mention an exposition like the Centennial, will be able to go at the $1.00 rate and it should be a red letter day in all of our lives.

For these reasons, let's lock up, and lend our support to CORYELL COUNTY-GATEVILLE DAY, at the Texas Centennial Exposition at Dallas Friday, August 14!

Thursday night the Merchants and the CCC Camp drubbed Doc's and the Firemen, respectively.

The Merchants dented the platter for eight runs while they held Doc's to a single tally, the most they been able to muster against the Merchants this half. The losers only connected for two hits, one a triple by Busby that scored Baker who had walked, for the hushslingers only marker, while the Merchants were mixing some timely hits with costly errors on the part of the losers to enable them to coast in.

In the second game the CCC boys went into the lead by two games as they made a race track of their game with the Firemen. The exact score was never officially decided upon, but ended with the Camp leading with something like 25 runs to the Firemen's 6 or 8.

The loss of Doc's and the Camp's win just about cinched the second half title for the latter team as they have a two-game margin over Doc's with only six games left in this half. If any team in the League is strong enough at this time to take up the two game advantage of the ax slingers, we have not seen them.

Thursday Schedule

Fireboys vs. Merchants.
CCC Camp vs. Doc's.

TEAM STANDINGS

Doc's	3	3	.500

LOCAL ALL-STARS TO PLAY MCGREGOR AGAIN TONITE

The team of all-stars from the local league that has beaten McGregor twice in previous games play them again tonite.

The McGregorites believe that the third time is the charm and that they are due to win this game. The locals are just as determined to make it three straight, so the game should be rather interesting.

MOUND VS. ALEMAN IN BASE BALL GAME AT STATE DIAMOND WED.

Wednesday afternoon at 3:30 Mound of the Coryell County baseball League will play Aleman of Hamilton County in a base ball game to be played on the diamond of the State Juvenile Training School.

Mound has a pretty fair club and as Aleman usually produces a good team of their own the game should be hard fought and close. There is no admission fees and fans desiring baseball entertainment should be in attendance.

FORMER MCGREGOR COACH ELECTED TO IMPORTANT POSITION

L. C. Wood, coach at Cameron, was elected vice president of the Texas High School Coaches Association at the close of that body's annual session the past week. Mr. Wood was coach at McGregor high for a number of seasons and while there had his teams in the thick of the championship fights for district honors each year, winning the district on several occasions and one regional championship. Wood is one of the best coaches in class B circles and is deserving of his honors, and we wish to extend our congratulations.

LOCAL SOFTBALL CREW WON OVER WACO TEAM

Friday night on the McGregor diamond a group of stars from the local league beat the Calvary Baptist Church team of Waco 21-7.

Although the score was top-heavy in favor of the local athletes, the game was closer matched than the figures would have one to believe.

Going into the seventh inning the Churchmen were in the van 4-2, but in this frame the locals found their batting eyes which coupled with numerous errors on the part of the opposition allowed them to more than bat around running up a score that allowed them to coast in with the victory.

Lindsay, of the Waco team hit a long home run over the right center field fence with a mate on base while J. L. Wiggins lofted one over the left field fence, for the locals, with the sacks empty.

LUKER FAMILY ASSEMBLED IN REUNION

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Luker and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weiser and family were hosts to 49 members of the family at the Luker home in Copperas Cove Sunday.

Guests attended Sunday School at the local Lutheran Church and returned to a barbecue prepared for Sunday afternoon, with horseshoes the most popular amusement.

Will Rogers' Humorous Story

By WILL ROGERS

THERE is a Scotchman that lives in Chicago, and he has a radio. There was a lot of conversation at the club one day about radio stuff, but Sandy didn't join in. One of the fellows says, "Sandy, you got a radio, ain't you?"

"Aye, I got one."
"Well, don't you listen in on the programs every night?"
"No, I dinna want to burn out ma bulbs."
"But how do you get your money's worth out of the radio?"
"On the Sabbath, I used to go to church. But now I turn on the radio. There's nine morning services, and two at evening. I turn from one to the other when they're taking the collections, and I imagine I'm givin' a dollar in each basket. 'Tis a great feeling, and up-liftin' too."

WORLD COMMENT

By JOE BURNS

Spain, isolated from the European Continent by the towering ranges of the Pyrenees Mountains, has the nations of that Continent playing a game of hide and seek as a result of a bloody Leftist versus Rightist revolt now raging on the peninsula. Another powder-barrel has been added to that already crowded European arsenal by the lineup of Fascist against Communists in Spain and the conflagration which will someday be set off by another arajevo spark will sweep that Continent with ever greater fury as a result of the rivalries and jealousies being endangered by the Iberian conflict.

Russia and France are lending material or sympathetic support to the Leftist Government forces while Germany and Italy ship munitions of war to the Rightist revolters. Following the capture by French Moroccan authorities of several Italian Army pilots, forced down while flying eighteen Savoia-Marchetti bombers to the aid of the Spanish Fascists, the Leftist Government has sought to bring the chief continental powers into an agreement whereby no munitions would be shipped to either side in Spain. Italy and Germany have agreed "in principle" while no answer has been forthcoming from Russia.

Few revolts since 1920 have been without backing by the Communist Third Internationale, which seeks to foster a labor revolution and establishment of Communist Republics the world over. This marks the first time, however, that Europe's Fascist dictators have gone outside their own borders to interfere in the domestic affairs of a neighbor far removed from their borders.

France is between the proverbial two fires, as a victory by either faction in Spain will place that Government in a precarious position. Despite the mutual defense pact with the U. S. S. R., the Paris Government does not want a Communist neighbor to the South, where an infiltration of Communist propagandists, agents, and spies into France could not be prevented. With a noisy Fascist on the north, France does not want the noisier Communists on the south. From the other side, a victory by Spain's Fascists would place Fascist nations on the north, east and south of France and give a huge impetus to the French Fascists movement of Colonel De La Rocque.

Britain, as stated before, chooses the "Fascisti" in preference to the Communist in a pinch—and the Spanish revolt is a pinch. London seems powerless to prevent the growth of Fascism and Communism on the nearby continent, and the Iberian trouble may draw France and Britain closes as the only two remaining nations in Europe classified as democracies.

Political developments of the week includes an announcement of neutrality during the campaign by the American Liberty League, formation of the National Jeffersonian Democrats, and Al Smith's willingness to make at least one address enjoining the aims and policies of the Roosevelt Administration.

The Liberty League, claiming 150,000 dues-paying members, promise to maintain a hands-off attitude and endorse neither Landon nor Roosevelt. Speakers will be employed, however, to make the stump against the "usurpation of power by Franklin D. Roosevelt." Charter members of the League include Al Smith, Joseph P. Ely, Bainbridge Colby, and Henry Brackbridge, all identified with the forces seeking to defeat Roosevelt this year.

Ely, Colby and Breckenridge attended the Detroit meeting of Constitutional of Jeffersonian Democrats, called by Sterling E. Edmunds, St. Louis barrister. With former Senator James E. Reed of Missouri at the head of the organization, the Jeffersonians made plans to send speakers into every State against Roosevelt, Governor Landon was not endorsed by the gathering as a whole, although Governor Ely and several of the members of the new organization will take the stump for the Republican nominee.

Massachusetts, carried by Al Smith in 1928 and one of the few States to vote for the former New York governor at the 1932 Democratic Convention, will be the first State in which the 1928 standard bearer will emphasize his "walk" from the Democratic Party by criticizing the present Democratic Administration. Under the auspices of former Governor Ely, Smith will deliver an attack similar to that made at the Liberty League dinner, centering his charges upon broken promises and the extravagance of the Roosevelt four years.

One of the toughest itineraries ever mapped for a candidate for political office will carry G. O. P. Vice Presidential candidate Frank Knox on a 70-speech tour into 35 states. With Governor Landon scheduled for brief appearances in the New England area and on the Pacific Coast, Knox will bear the brunt of the speaking for the Republican duo, as indicated above.

The stirring denunciation of the New Deal by the Chicago publisher as his acceptance ceremonies brands him as one of the greatest orators the Republican party has nominate for office since the First Roosevelt and, combined with the Coolidge-like simplicity and appeal of Governor Landon, will make a better match for the speech-making abilities of Roosevelt and Garner than did the 1932 Republican nominees.

GIBSON FAMILY HOLDS A REUNION

A three-day re-union of the Gibson family was held last Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at the Bend on the Colorado River. The families of Ben Gibson of Brownwood, W. P. Gibson of Copperas Cove, A. J. Gibson of Bend, B. G. Gibson of Marble Falls, and A. G. Gibson of Eddy, sons of the late Rev. J. N. and Martha Gibson, assembled for swimming, hunting, fishing, singing and feasting of cantaloupes and watermelons. The Gibsons have been residents of Williamson, Burnet and Lampasas counties for the past fifty years, Rev. J. N. Gibson being one of the pioneer preachers of this section.

Besides the brothers and their families mentioned above some forty other guests attended the gathering. Among them were Charlie Rhodes and Emmett Rhodes and two sons of Copperas Cove.—Copperas Cove CRY.

EXPO BOOMS BUSINESS

Dallas, August 10. The Centennial Exposition has brought a wave of prosperity to the Southwest. Recent statistics reveal retail business exceed even that of some of the boom days of the "normalcy" period immediately following the World War.

Weatherford College Is Well Planned For Modern Student

In Weatherford College you will find a very ideal situation, a student body that is keen, alert and at all times interested in the welfare of others. The atmosphere is Christian and there is a democratic spirit prevailing. The efficiency of the school cannot be questioned.

The college has planned a well rounded program and is interested in helping educate the boys and girls. This is a day of junior college education. Weatherford is sympathetic and appreciates the high school graduates. It offers guidance, assistance, and helps break the gap between the senior high school and the larger institutions of higher learning.

The courses of study at Weatherford College lead to the Bachelor of Arts and the Bachelor of Science degrees. Its graduates are eagerly sought and freely accepted in all universities and higher institutions of learning, because of the high standard of work done in the classrooms and laboratories, as well as the fine records of made wherever they have gone. All work is fully accredited by the State Department of Education and other institutions accept Weatherford College's credits, hour for hour. Among the Weatherford College are leaders in the fields of Ministry, Law, Medicine, Dentistry, Economics, Business and Education in the public schools, colleges and universities.

THIS WEEK IN TEXAS HISTORY

(week of Aug. 9)

1821—Stephen F. Austin reached San Antonio August 10 to carry out his father's plans of colonization.

1821—On August 14, Governor Martinez authorized Austin to explore the lands of the Colorado.

1824—The first congress of the State of Coahuila and Texas was duly instilled on August 15 at Saltillo, and interred upon the discharge of its legislative duties.

1835—On August 15 at assembly in Columbia, a committee of safety consisting of 15 individuals was appointed for the jurisdiction of the city.

1840—The Texans under Col. Burleson met the Comanche Indians at Plum Creek on August 12 and completely routed them. In this battle the Indians had sought revenge from the whites for the deaths of many of their chiefs.

THIRTEEN EVENTS ON THE CALENDAR FOR AUG. IN TEXAS

GOV. ALLRED RECEIVES GOLD CENTENNIAL MEDAL

Austin, July 27—A gold medal designed and executed by McClelland Barclay of New York, world famous artist and sculptor, has been presented to Gov. James V. Allred. The medal symbolizes the spirit of the Centennial.

The medal, five inches in diameter, presents in base relief a cowboy mounted on a bucking bronco. It bears the words, "Ride 'Im Cowboy" and "Texas Centennial 1836-1936" as well as a Lone Star and the artist's signature.

Barclay asked Gov. Allred to accept the medal as a representation of how non-Texans feel toward Texas and toward him. He is well known in Texas, having visited here several times. He is also a brother of Shephard Barclay, bridge expert and former resident of Texas where he was engaged in newspaper work.

HARMON SCENE OF FIRE SATURDAY MORNING

Fire broke out Saturday morning about 4:00 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Woodley Basham of Harmon. The house, which was two-story, was completely destroyed, but the barns and other buildings were saved by Mr. Basham and his family.

Mr. Basham said the fire, which broke out in the top of the house, must have been started by rats carrying matches through the double walls.

Only a few pieces of furniture were saved but the members of the family escaped with no injuries whatever. Harris Howell was the owner of the building which was partially covered by insurance.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR MISS HESSIE WARD AT OSAGE

Funeral services were held at 4:00 o'clock Saturday, Aug. 1 at the Osage Baptist Church for Miss Hessie Ward, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ward of this city. She was laid to rest in the Osage cemetery.

Miss Ward, who for the past six years has made her home in Dallas, had come for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Ward and other relatives and friends when she became ill and was conveyed to a Waco hospital where she passed away Friday at 4:47 o'clock.

She is survived by her parents, three brothers, John, James, and G. F. Ward all of this city; six sisters, Mrs. N. C. Walt, of Valley Mills, Mrs. L. C. Patricks of Axtell, Mrs. T. L. Laer of Turnersville, Mrs. S. P. Merritt, Mrs. Troy Simmons and Mrs. C. D. Wilkins of La Porte.

AWAY

I cannot say and will not say She is dead. She is just away. With a cheerful smile and A wave of the hand She has wandered into an unknown land And left us dreaming. I think of her still as the same I say she is not dead She is just away.

China has limited the maximum price of flour, which has been soaring, threatening to cause hunger among the poor.

HAWAII DAY WILL BE OBSERVED AT TEXAS CENTENNIAL

Dallas, Texas Aug. 10—Hawaiians will substitute the claim of their slogan, "the worlds most beautiful islands," by bringing natural color and sound moving picture travelogues from Hawaii to the Texas Centennial Exposition August 14.

The showing of the hour-long, color-sound pictures will be a feature of Hawaii Day at the $2,500,000 world's fair, and will be shown in several air-cooled theaters on the grounds with no admission charge to Centennial visitors.

"A special radio broadcast direct from Honolulu to the Exposition will be arranged on Hawaii Day", announced H. F. Cullen appointed Hawaiian commissioner to the Centennial by the Governor of Hawaii. Honolulu wishes to personally say "aloha" and congratulate the Texas world's fair on its historic achievement.

The radio program will go direct to the Gulf Broadcasting Studios on the grounds, and be heard from the loud speakers located throughout the Exposition.

"We are bringing Hawaii leis to place around the necks of Centennial officials in token of our esteem and friendship," said Mr. Cullen of Honolulu, who is assistant secretary of the Hawaiian Tourist Bureau.

Hawaiian music will be featured on all orchestra and band programs during the day, in honor of the American-owned islands.

Winners of Centennial Farm Demonstration Raise Livestock

Winners of the first, second and third State prizes in Centennial farm and home demonstration contest all raise livestock extensively, two cultivate cotton, and one is a rice farmer.

Joe P. Silvery, first prize winner, whose farm is six miles east of Clarksville, in Red River county, raises cotton and also raises livestock.

F. W. Alexander of Albany, second prize winner, has a 1,300 acre farm. He too raises cotton and livestock. His specialty is hereford breeders.

Carl Jensen of Devers is a native of Sweden, and never had seen rice under cultivation until he went to work as a laborer in a South Texas rice field. He could not speak English, but he began the study of rice farming, and now own a 900 acre farm, clear of debt. He also raises livestock and specializes in Brahmas.

There were several contestants in this county, mostly around Evant.

Dallas, August, 6. A portrait of Mrs. Amanda Burks, "Queen of the Trail Drivers," those leathery faced fellows who sent millions of longhorns across the unbroken Texas sod, today hung in the hall of Cattle Kings at No. 1 livestock building of the Texas Centennial Exposition.

Of forty-seven portraits of famous cattle barons of Texas to find a place of honor in the lounge, Mrs. Burks will be the only woman, according to Gus L. Ford who arranged this collection and also the collection of cattle branding signs and designs for the livestock sections of the $25,000,000 World's Fair.

Mrs. Burks gained the title of "Queen of the Trail Drivers" when she made the long trek with her husband, William Franklin Burks, when he was in the cattle industry at Banquette, Nueces County. Following his death in 1877 on his LaMotta Ranch, thirty miles southeast of Cotulla, Mrs. Burks took over his affairs and continued in the cattle and ranching business almost to her death at the age of 90.

DEY IS ONLY TWO KINDS OF MEN, HUSBANDS AND FOOLS AND MOST HUSBANDS ARE FOOLS.

Dimah SAYS

AND SUDDEN DEATH

RANDOLPH SCOTT FRANCES DRAKE
Novelized by Wallace West from the Paramount Picture of the same name.

SYNOPSIS

Arrested for the fourth time for speeding, Betty Winslow, madcap society girl, meets Lieut. Knox, handsome head of the Traffic Department. Knox is campaigning for more traffic safety. Despite Betty's penchant for speeding, he falls in love with her. Betty's young brother, Jackie, crashes into a school bus while driving drunk. Betty, who was with him, takes the blame saying that she was behind the wheel. When one of the school children dies on the operating table, Betty is indicted for manslaughter. Knox's testimony sends her to prison.

CHAPTER IX

BETTY was stoically completing the first week of her long sentence to the state penitentiary when a matron entered the kitchen where she was at work and told her that her brother had come to visit her.

"Sure gives you a shaky feeling," Jackie said, "when you jam that brake pedal clear down to the floor and nothing happens."

"Well, Jackie?" the girl asked bitterly when they met in the visitor's room for a five-minute talk.

"I know how you feel about me," the youth began in a low, strained voice. "And I don't blame you, Sis. Guess I've got a yellow streak a mile wide. But anyway, you don't have to worry." He clenched his teeth desperately. "I'm going to do what I should have done in the first place. It won't be long now before I'm sitting where you are."

"I wonder..." She stared at him through the meshes of the iron grill which separated them, then added impulsively: "I'm sorry I said that."

"It's all right." His eyes refused to meet hers as he surveyed the bleakness of the prison. "I had it coming to me. It makes me sick to think I let you in for this—even for a few days." He hesitated, then managed to face her at last. "There's something else I wanted to tell you," he gulped. "You know all that stuff I told you about Lieutenant Knox—how he was going to fix everything? Well, that was a lie—all of it."

"Jackie!" The girl half rose to her feet.

"I never went near him," her brother continued, shame-facedly. "Tried to, but didn't have the nerve. I figured he'd probably do something anyhow because he was in love with you. But after he gave all that evidence on the witness stand, I was sunk. Even then I kept hoping the jury would bring in an acquittal—so I wouldn't have to tell anybody—I did it. . . . Now you know!"

"I—I'm glad you told me," she whispered at last.

"Now I'm going to get all this off my chest to Knox." Her visitor stood up and squared his shoulders. "Try to forget the way I've..."

"Of course I will!" As she watched him march out of the room full realization of what he had told her struck home—a wave of hope surged over her. Knox, at least, had not betrayed her. She was actually smiling as she returned to the kitchen.

Jackie's courage began to ooze from him as soon as he faced Knox in the latter's office.

"I'd like to have a talk with you, he paused, shaken by a terrific internal struggle. Knowing that he dare not delay his confession, he finally set his jaw and swung around suddenly.

"I might as well get it over with now," he gasped, staring at Knox. "Nobody knows what happened that night..."

"What do you mean?" The lieutenant's eyes narrowed.

"Just this! I... I..." Jackie's nerve failed him completely. His eyes wavered and he licked his dry lips.

"Yes..." Knox prompted.

"I don't know," muttered the youngster miserably. "The whole thing is like a nightmare! I've just been to see her—it's terrible to see her up there like that... You've no idea..."

"Haven't I?" said Knox through tight lips. "Well?"

"That's what I wanted to talk to you about," Jackie was still evading the real truth. "Suppose I said it was my fault?" He took a deep breath. "Maybe they'd let her off..."

"Was it your fault?"

"Well—I can say it was," Jackie backed water. "If—if it would help Betty any."

"Listen, young fellow," Bartlett butted in as Knox shook his head. "That's all very noble, but let me give you a word of warning... You were drunk. A lot of kids were crippled, and one of them was killed... If the public ever gets the idea you were behind the wheel of that car, they won't bother to put you in jail—they'll be more apt to lynch you..."

"Yes," the boy said after a long pause. "That's what Betty said."

"What do you mean?" Knox half rose from his chair.

"Nothing... Nothing at all." Jackie started backing toward the door.

"Wait a minute!" barked the lieutenant. "What made your sister say a thing like that?"

"I... I don't know," Winslow was frankly terrified now but he still tried to smile as he jerked open the door. "See you later."

"Wonder what he really came up here to talk about?" mused Knox when he and Steve were alone. He passed a hand over his tired eyes.

"Search me," Steve shook his head, then added, half to himself. "You know—that was a funny remark he made."

"You mean what his sister said?"

"Yeah... But I was thinking more of what he said about those brakes."

"What was that?" Knox was suddenly tense.

"Oh—about pushing the brake pedal clear down to the floorboard and nothing happening," Steve laughed shortly. "He said it like a guy who was remembering just how it felt."

For a second or two Knox stared at him with slowly dawning suspicion. Then suddenly the suspicion crystallized.

"Steve!" he shouted. "Suppose that's what he was trying to tell us! Suppose he was at the wheel of that car." As the reporter whistled in amazement, Knox jumped to his feet, grabbed his cap and dashed for the door.

"Come on!" he cried. "We've got to have a talk with that boy!"

Knox... about Betty," he began gruffly to hide his inner terror.

"All right—sit down," said the officer curtly. At that moment Steve Bartlett, a newspaper reporter, barged into the office, then stopped short as he caught sight of Jackie, and started to back out the door.

"Don't go!" cried Winslow eagerly as he saw a chance for escape. "I just dropped in for a little talk... nothing important."

"Okay," shrugged Steve. Then, as he lit a cigarette he grinned at the boy and added slyly. "I almost got put in your shoes this afternoon, Winslow. Tried to miss a truck at Seventh and Broadway and my brakes didn't hold—I went right up over the sidewalk."

"I know just how you feel," Jackie laughed shakily. "Sure gives you a sinking feeling when you jam that brake pedal clear down to the floor... and nothing happens." He stopped abruptly and gave both men a quick, fearful glance as if realizing he had said too much. Knox did not notice the significance of his statement, but Steve frowned slightly as though sensing something wrong with the remark.

"Well," Winslow said lamely as he reached for his hat. "Guess I better shove along. Knox, I'll talk about that matter to you later."

"All right—whenever you want," answered the lieutenant.

Jackie rose and started out, but as his hand touched the doorknob nothing of the design in relation to their respective figures.

A tall, slender person is blessed with a willowy appearance. He can get away with long trains, sweeping shoulder drapes, and can look perfectly stunning in huge fur coats or slim suits that boast large fur collars. The short person should never try to wear these items.

they make her look dumpy and will cut what little height she has. Her evening dresses should give a swaying motion when walking, and should be short enough so that a tiny part of the slipper will show—otherwise she will give the appearance of being stuck to the floor.

Breaking the line of dresses is the best way designers have

Lets Talk about Clothes
TEXAS STATE COLLEGE
WOMEN (CL)

Denton, Aug. 6. Are you wearing the right type of clothes? So many women give little consideration to the styles they wear, except whether or not they are fashionable. They think to give your figure just the style it needs. Some use pep-lums if the line is to be broken at the waist, others use capes of varying lengths to suit your individual preference; and girls at Texas State College for Women suggest tunics.

Skirt lengths should be adjusted to the individual figure and legs. Even if everyone is wearing her dresses 11 inches from the floor this season, you certainly should not do so if that length exposes the fattest part of the calf. It will mar the entire effect of your costume.

Arms and neck should also be taken into consideration when discussing types of clothes suited to individuals. If you have a short neck, wear only the simplest, flattest necklines. Sleeves should be governed by the proportions of the arm.

JOHN MEDLIN, CANDIDATE FOR REPRESENTATIVE THANKS VOTERS

To the voters of Coryell Co.:
Appreciating the encouraging words given me by my many friends, in addition to the nice vote given me in my race for State Representative from this district, I take this method of sincerely thanking you, because it is impossible to see each of you in person.

I have thoroughly enjoyed seeing and meeting the people of the county and district, renewing old friendships, and making many new ones.

Whoever is elected to be your representative, I am sure the district will be behind them in any measure or program they endeavor to put over.

Again thanking each and every voter in the district, I am

Sincerely yours,
John Medlin
