Looks like they've started a County Fair!

The Bird Show musta been good-they keep the results to themselves as far as we're concerned. They did accept a prize from us, but no pre-show or post-show information. Okeh by us.

And there's nothing only 'roomer' from GISD on their big blow out Monday. Heard there was something like 2,000 saw thee new edifice, here, again, we say, hear-say. We're kind of busy too.

And as for the Riding Club's matched roping contest, we guess they're not interested in publicizing that, with us, at least.

Gosh, we've not turned ANY of these or ANY others down on publicity, when humanly possible. We're busy, too, and don't have time to go around and pick up all this 'free publicity' just to give 'free publicity. It's still our candid opinion that them as want 'free publicity' should do the bringing in, without the newspaper, radio or other having to go out and get it. My Gawd, it don't cost you nothin'.

Remember this when you have something to 'put in the paper'. 'It is with words as with sunbeams--the more they are condensed the deeper they burn.'

"There's a difference."

"A canny Maine farmer who made it a rule to think before speaking, was approached by a stranger one day and asked, 'How much is that prize Jersey heifer of yours worth?'"

"The farmer thought a moment then asked, 'Are you the tax assessor, or has she been killed by a train?'"

Alaskan congressman Ralph Rivers (D) tells the story of a Texan who sent an eight pound cucumber to the editor of an Alaskan newspaper with the note that it was a Texas gherkin (a small size pickle). The editor responded a few days later, sending the Texan a 40-pound Alaskan cabbage (The Alaskan gave that estimate) along with a note that the Texan might like to see an Alaskan Brussels sprout.

Do's and Don'ts On Farm Accident Prevention Program

AUSTIN. — Inoculation of farm animals is considered a sound practice among modern farmers and ranchers, because it has been proven time and again that it is easier to prevent disease than to cure it.

Another sound, modern and proven phase of farming and ranching, but not quite so widely accepted, is inoculation against accidents by eliminating hazards.

J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, says "The average medical costs for farm and ranch injuries will run $105 per accident. This excludes the costs of hiring extra labor for replacement and lost production.

Musick listed the following do's and don'ts that every farmer or rancher should observe in setting up his own accident prevention program:

1. Keep ladders and steps in good repair. Provide hand and guard rails where they are needed.
2. Avoid storing loose materials overhead.
3. Keep loose wires, boards and scrap metal picked up.
4. Don't allow nails or hangers to protrude unnecessarily.
5. Keep hand tools in safe racks. Urge your employees to always use the right tool for the job at hand—improvising can be expensive.
6. Keep guards in place on power shafts, belts and chains.
7. Keep pens and corrals in good repair.
8. Do not step over or under moving belts.
9. Do not use foot to push a running belt from a pulley.
10. Turn off power equipment before unclogging or adjusting it.
11. Cut off electrical current when working with a conductor.
12. Remain alert to the possibilities of falls -- they are one of the greatest hazards around a farm or ranch.
13. Allow gasoline motors to cool off before refilling them.
14. Do not wear loose fitting or

Power

THE movement of nations is caused not by power, nor by intellectual activity nor even by a combination of the two as historians have supposed, but by the activity of all the people who participate in the events, and who always combine in such a way that those taking the largest direct share in the event, take upon themselves the least responsibility and vice versa.

Morally, the wielder of power appears to cause the event; physically, it is those who submit to the power. But as the moral activity is inconceivable without the physical, the cause of the event is neither in the one nor in the other but in the union of the two. —Count Leo Tolstoy (1828-1910), in "War and Peace."

If anyone gives too great a power to anything, too large a sail to a vessel, too much food to the body, too much authority to the mind, and does not observe the mean, everything is overthrown. I mean to say that there is no soul of man, young and irresponsible, who will be able to sustain the temptation of arbitrary power—no one who will not under such circumstances become filled with folly, that worst of diseases, and be hated by his nearest and dearest friends. When this happens, his kingdom is undermined, and all his power vanishes from him. Great legislators should take heed of the danger. —Plato (428-347 B.C.).

torn clothing around machinery. 15. Don't forget the home when planning an accident prevention program. During 1953, 1,202 lives were accidentally lost in Texas home accidents and more than 72,000 persons injured.

What For Your Soul?

"For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?" — St. Matthew 16:26

THROUGH the centuries these words have caused men to stop, think, and sometimes, change the entire course of their lives. Others disregarded them. But those who have heeded this lesson from the Bible—even in our modern world—are never the same again.

Yes, this lesson from the Bible is being applied in our modern world of atomic bombs, missiles, jet aircraft, television and space flight.

Recently a man gave up a fabulous salary, fine home, and social position to become a minister for a paltry $3,500 a year. Why? There must be more to life than business success, more to ambition than making money, he concluded. He wanted to fill an emptiness.

He filled the void by becoming a minister, a follower of Christ. This is a graphic example of a Bible lesson being applied in modern living.

Ohio - Liberty ...

It was after the recent big rain that near Tragedy struck at the L. C. Perryman home. Mr. Perryman was starting an outdoor fire. He found the water-soaked wood just would not burn and got a small can of gasoline. While applying a small portion of it to the fire, the portion in the can caught, and in a few seconds he was enveloped in flames.

Although an octogenarian, he showed greater presence of mind and quicker action than most young people, he threw himself on the wet earth and rolled over and over until the flames were out. He received many minor burns and one severe one on his right hand.

Last week end Mrs. Ted Martin and daughter, Cristi, of Fort Worth visited the Alvin Kautzschs, and Clifford Onstotts.

Mrs. Milton Brown was the high scorer in an old folk's canasta game at the Elam Ranch Thursday. Mrs. W. C. Homan of Gatesville was a close second.

Others present, were W. C. Homan, E. O. Elam, Beth Brown, Grace Elam and Bess Brown.

Miss Donna Burch and Miss Jimmie Smith of Ft. Worth visited Miss Dona Kautzsch Saturday and Sunday and were joined by other friends and looked over the flood damage on the Cowhouse from the Elam Ranch to Parsley Crossing. Miss Burch formerly lived at Ohio.

Mrs. Bill Underhill of Ft. Worth has a new daughter named Terr. Mrs. Underhill was the former Miss Maudine Onstott.

The Tom White family of Ft. Worth visited the Loy Gene Browns Sunday.

Our Commissioner, Mr. Harris and his gravel-hauling crew worked all day Monday to get the Billingsley crossing on the Cowhouse fordable. Tuesday morning, Gayle Calhoun's school bus crossed, then another rain Tues-

Ohio Liberty
It was pouring down rain at 9 o'clock Tuesday, but it did not keep the Liberty Ladies from attending the all day club meeting with Mrs. Milton Brown, coming all the way from New Purlmela to the Geo. Parrish place on the Blue Ridge border, a 12 or 15 mile trip along the Cowhouse Creek.

Two quilts that Gertrude Brown selected for her quilting party represented the then and now, time element. One was a Colonial log cabin in a beautiful scheme, and the other was a very modern Trip Around the World pattern done on the bias.

Nothing was missing from the noon lunch table, with every imaginable food, with especial emphasis on Gertrude Brown's baked ham and Leona Billingsley's salad-beans, fresh from the garden.

At the meeting were Mesdames H. J. Billingsley, Albert Lendenham, George Parrish, L. C. Perryman, J. O. Winslar, Lucian Sanders, J. W. Laxson, Bess Brown, Herbert McCarver, Clifford Onstott, Milton Brown, Ellen Thompson, Bishop Sanders, Clovis Belvin, Gayle Calhoun, Ralph Perryman, L. A. HORNETS DROP TO DAWGS

During one time in the Brady Bulldog-Gatesville Hornet Game Friday night, the Hornets managed to get to the 6, but, that was the closest.

The Dawgs racked up 28 points by half time, and coasted for another 14, one of them coming with mostly 2nd stringers in the final period, when they outclassed and outscrapped the Hornet eleven.

Starting the scoring, HB Donald Sessom circled right end for 8 and the first TD, and the run for the extra point failed. Three minutes later, Kenneth Bode, tackle, recovered a fumble, in the end zone and tallied the 2nd TD, Billy Cavin, end, made the 2 conversion. In the same period, Cavin dashed for 12 yards for another BD TD, and the PAT try failed.

In the 3rd, Calvin broke loose and drove 52 yards off right tackle for a TD and the PAT failed. Later in the same, with substitute Dawg team in, FB Bob Barsch plunged over from the 1 and Sessom at end added the extras to end the scoring.

The Dawgs featured outside kicking, spotting the Hornets the ball in mid-field or better, but they could never go, outmanned as they were once, they got the short kick on the BD 36, but trouble developed and they lost the ball.

The statistics showed: 1st downs 8 and 23; net yards rushing 110-454, net yards passing 32-57, passes attempted 18-8, passes completed 3-1; interceptions 0-1, penalties 3 for 5, 10 for 80; punts 3 for 87, 2 for 37; fumbles lost 3-0.

As for the Hornets, we'll not call the stars, but Bob Edwards, Joe Carothers, Jim Gooch, Roger Hucabee, were in there continually.

'LITTLE G's GET CLOSE BUT DROP TO BELTON Jrs, 12-8

Playing Tuesday evening, a rugged and heftier Belton Junior High football barely nosed out Gatesville 'little gs' 12-5.

It was in the 4th, the early part, Larry Helm heaved a pass to Van Necessary, the play covering about 25 yards, and Larry went for the extra, giving the 'little gs' their 8.

Previously the Tiger Cubs had scored twice but failed to add the extras.

There were 29 stars on the 'little gs' not including 3 managers, and when they scored, needless to say, the stands went wild.
