$70,000 AIRPORT HELD UP

ON ACCOUNT OF NO CABLE; ASPHALT DOWN

Well, we've got a paved 3,400 foot long runway at the new City-county airport, which was completed Friday. A 50 ft. wide coat of hot-mix asphalt was applied. But that's useless yet, since 16,000 feet of underground cable needed for the lighting system hasn't arrived yet and won't be here for maybe a month. So, we won't be airborne yet. $70,000 doin' nothin'!

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Businessmen were formerly urged to mail early for Christmas delivery, but now according to National Federation of Independent Business members, it's advisable to mail early merely to send mail a short distance—even in the same city!

Business Week Magazine recently conducted a report on the situation. They found that the Chicago office because of its central location is swamped with mail all year around, and has been forced to divert truckloads of mail to far distant cities like St. Louis, New York, and Buffalo for sorting and shipment to sectional centers.

The San Francisco post office which also handles all military mail going to the Pacific, has had an annual volume percentage rise of 11%. Volume in Manhattan has risen 8.5%.

In Boston, officials report a deluge of mail, and reveal that at the present rate of increase, everyone in the U.S. will have to work for the Post Office by the year 2000 in order to deliver mail on time.

National Cash Register, Dayton, Ohio, reports they mailed tickets to their Business Equipment Show in early September, but were not received till late October by angry recipients who missed the event.

Similar complaints are made by firms announcing sales by mail, claiming customers do not get the notices until after the sales are completed.

Post Office officials, in turn, blame business for their own gripes. Second and Third class mail, they say, is a major hindrance, does not cover its own mailing costs, and is blamed for the record 1966 deficit.

Direct mail, is a $2.4-billion a year industry, and growing. Denver Postmaster George Cavender reveals that in a typical week, "We got in 200,000 pieces of sample toothpaste, while trying to get out 200,000 mouth-wash samples. This stuff is heavy, and a carrier just can't carry all of it in one day."

Why can't the P.O. handle mail efficiently, whatever the volume? Lack of personnel appears to be a major factor. Pat Niland, legislative director of the United Federation of Postal Clerks blames the P.O.'s failure to add to its present staff of 700,000, and for limiting overtime work.

Other reasons given are increasing numbers of uneducated foreign-speaking clerks.

In an effort to remedy this crisis, a supplemental appropriation of $400-million, has been asked.

Over 180,000 employees have been added since July, 1965.

A $100-million automation program is started to have 75 major post offices mechanized in two years.

Since time and expense is needed to train workers on the new equipment, a full-scale investigation of the national Post Office is urged, posthaste.

Pineapple Glamor For Ham Loaf

Canned pineapple inside and out makes a flavorful and fancy ham loaf for spring parties. Crushed pineapple combines with three ground meats — ham, pork and sausage — to make an attractive round loaf. From another can of pineapple, use syrup for glazing and handsome slices for garnishing. Should there be any left over, this moist pineapple meat loaf is wonderful cold for sandwiches.

PARTY PINEAPPLE 'N' HAM LOAF

- 1 pound ground raw ham
- 2 tablespoons grated onion
- 1/2 pound ground pork steak
- 1 1/2 teaspoons dill weed
- 1/2 pound bulk pork sausage
- 1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 2 eggs
- 1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
- 1/2 cup milk
- Pineapple Glaze
- 1 (8 1/2-ounce) can crushed pineapple

Have butcher grind meat. Mix meats with beaten eggs, milk, undrained pineapple, onion, seasonings and crumbs. Blend thoroughly. Shape into 8-inch round loaf on lightly greased shallow baking pan. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 1 hour. Brush with Pineapple Glaze. Continue basting another 15 minutes brushing on glaze every 5 minutes. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

PINEAPPLE GLAZE: Drain syrup from 1 (8 1/2-ounce) can pineapple slices. Combine with 1/2 cup brown sugar (packed), 2 teaspoons vinegar, 1 teaspoon catsup and 1/2 teaspoon dry mustard. Use for glazing ham loaf. Arrange pineapple slices on loaf 5 minutes before taking from oven, securing with picks. Garnish with maraschino cherries.

Farm Profits Threatened By Spring Fertilizer Shortage

Farmers who are looking at 1967 as the most profitable year in more than a decade may be tripped by a little rut on the road to prosperity.

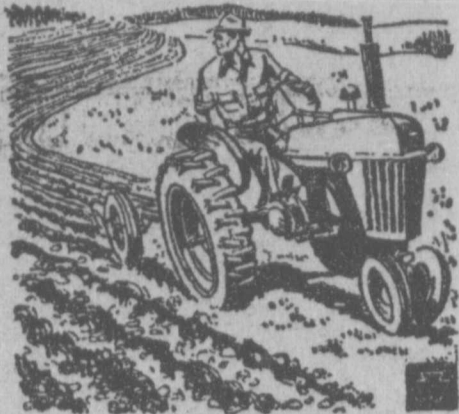

The obstacle, which can easily be avoided if it's seen in time, is the shortage of fertilizer generally forecast for next spring.

Heavier applications of fertilizer on the higher priced feed grains and the return to cultivation of more than 30 million acres of farmland will overburden the fertilizer industry distribution system in the spring, says Larry Long, editor of CropLife Magazine.

"Top farmers will be wise to purchase fertilizer for next year's crops and store it on the farm," the Mississippi Extension Service recently advised farmers in a newsletter.

Fertilizer consumption next year will increase 15 to 25 per cent, Long says. This growth, on top of a 15 per cent increase this year, will be more than the system can handle.

"Fall fertilization should be pushed this year like it never was before, in order to alleviate the inevitable scramble for product and application equipment during the few short weeks of the spring rush," Long says.

With crop prices up, and expected to go higher next year, Long says farmers can expect a $4 to $5 return for every $1 invested in fertilizer. This is 30 to 60 per cent higher than last year.

"But there is a danger that farmers may fail to recognize this vast potential in time for them to cash in on the opportunity," Long says. "They may wait too long to decide on using extra amounts of plant food, only to find the supply short."

"The amount of this fall's fertilization may well hold the key as to what degree the farmer may realize what looks like an unprecedented year for profits in 1967."

Our community was shocked at the sudden passing of Ollie Braziel who died last Thursday night. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon at Evant Funeral Chapel with burial in Pearl Cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Toral Oney went to Llano last Sunday to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert White. While there they also visited Mr. and Mrs. Lo Brown.

Recent visitors in the Essie Bynum home were Mrs. Cecil Ballard, Mrs. Glenn Herman, Mrs. Ronald Medart and Kyle, Mr. and Mrs. William Bynum, Norma and Harvey, the Amos Comers and Robert Manning and Craig.

Mr. and Mrs. Arlie Gartman had the pleasure of having all four of their grandchildren to spend a week with them. They were Darlene, Tammy, Lesa and Jimmy Cummings of Kempner.

Mr. and Mrs. Doone Wilkinson visited John Braziel in a care home in Hamilton last Sunday.

Sunday dinner guests in the Essie Bynum home were Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Self and Mildred Manning. Calling in the afternoon were Mrs. Alza Franklin and Eugene.

Mrs. Jim Cummings and Jimmy and Mrs. Fay Gertman and Mrs. Leota Wilkinson went to Temple Tuesday and visited relatives.

Those who visited in the Harry King home Sunday were Mrs. Harriett Ann Prinz and Stephann of Temple, Mrs. Babe Jackson and son of Greenville and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Buster of Liberty.

The Edwin Graham family of Gatesville visited their mother and grandmother, Leota Graham Sunday.

Senator J. P. Word has introduced a bill authorizing creation of a hospital district in Copperas Cove in the State Legislature which calls for the hospital district's boundaries to coincide with those of the Copperas Cove school district. The Bill, SB 574 was introduced at the request of Copperas Cove citizens. A hospital authority was created in the city of Copperas Cove last year, but this district will include a wider area, and it would have authority to levy and collect taxes for hospital purposes.

Question arises: Could residents of the hospital district then be exempt from any county tax for hospital purpose? The answer is being sought by Coryell County officials, since now members of the district are paying taxes on Coryell Memorial Hospital. A request has been sent the attorney general's office for an opinion, and the reply was that no opinion could be given on pending legislation. It is estimated that 20 to 25 percent of the county's total tax valuation lies in the district in question. Coryell County Commissioners' Court in a letter reported dated Feb. 26, filed with the Senator and Rep. Bob Salter, stated the commissioners court had no objection to a hospital district limited to the city of Copperas Cove, but "feels that the Copperas Cove school district or other parts of the county should not be included in establishing such a district." Copperas Cove leaders have

"MUSIC WEEK", MAY 7-14 IS DESIGNATED BY GOVERNOR: 3RD GRADE UKELELE CLASS

Celebrating Music Week and Music Education Week, May 7-14 by Governor John Connally, it will honor the 4,500 plus public school music teachers who bring music into the lives of over 500,000 Texas school children.

An interesting local feature will be a program at the Elementary School featuring the Elementary School Choir and the 3rd grade ukelele class, May 11, at 1:30, to which the public is invited.

The governor urges all citizens to observe these days with community programs encouraging and enhancing the place of music education in our state.

asked the Court to rescind the letter and raise no objection to creation of a hospital district. So far no definite action has been taken on the Copperas Cove request.

A Word from Austin

by
State Senator
J.P. WORD

VICE - PRESIDENT SPEAKS
— Members of the Texas Legislature were honored by a visit from Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey last Monday night. The vice-president spoke to a joint session of the Senate and House on the problems and promises of the Vietnam situation and on America's leadership in the free world. He was very warmly received by everyone who was packed into the House Chamber. I was greatly honored to have been chosen as a member of the five-man committee which escorted the vice-president into the House and up to the Speaker's platform.

HOUSE BILL 470, which authorizes Texas A&M University, located at College Station, to give credit for courses taken at the adjunct of Texas A&M, located in Kimbel County, was passed in the House last week. Rep. James Nugent of Kerr is the author of the bill and I passed it through the Senate on April 27.

ORAL CONFESSION — Members of the Senate voted to accept an amendment to the Code of Criminal Procedure which will allow oral confessions as evidence in State Courts. Texas stands almost among all the states in the Union in still requiring a written confession to stand up in the courts. A written confession serves only to frustrate police and to limit their potential effectiveness. The revised Criminal Code, with the amendments added, should finally pass in the next week.

LOOKING AHEAD — Monday begins the final month of the regular 140-day session— there is still much work to be done. Some of the most important issues that will be voted upon are: congressional and judicial redistricting, the Governor's traffic safety bills, and the county reorganization bills. But perhaps the bill highest on the 'action list' is the new one year appropriation which must be agreed upon by both the House and the Senate before the session ends.

SINGING IN THE SENATE — The Brownwood Acapella Choir were my guests in the Senate on April 25 when they sang two selections for the enjoyment of all the Senators. The student group, accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Dorothy McIntosh were on an educational tour of the Capitol Building to learn workings of their State Government.

THE VIEW OF A GRADE

by Patsy Graham

Hi! I suppose I should introduce myself. I am a grade. You don't know much about us grades, do you? Well, really we are a lot like you humans. As a matter of fact, we are probably a lot more emotional than most of you.

We are very emotional because our lives are completely wrapped up in one thing — our student. Everything our student suffers, we suffer twice as much. The most painful time of my life comes when on a report card I have to face my student. I never know if I am going to be good or bad.

I am afraid that my student is rather peeved at me right now. You see, report cards come out this week and I gave him a pretty big disappointment. I was much lower than I was the last time he saw me. He actually got so mad that he flung me face down on the floor, so he wouldn't have to look at me. It made me feel just awful. When he first looked at me, I was horrified. You can't imagine the feeling it gives you to have your student staring down at you as if he could tear you into a thousand pieces.

Whenever I start to cry over my misfortune, I try to remember the last time when he got me. Then I was very high and could carry myself with dignity and grace. Oh, you should have seen the look on my student's face when he saw me then! It was filled with joy and pride and satisfaction, and most important, with love. I will never forget that look.

I remember the first time I had to face him; I was very scared of what his reaction would be. You can't imagine how shocked I was when he had none at all. Maybe it was because I was just an ordinary average grade. Not so good, not so bad. I did notice that he wasn't happy, but then again he wasn't sad either.

Lately, I have become quite sad because in a few weeks I shall lose my precious student. Losing him is like losing a part of myself. This could be caused by the fact that he has been my entire life for the past nine months.

I must admit that my student this year was a pretty good ole guy. I hope that next year I pick one as good as the one I picked this year. That reminds me, I need to be looking for some prospects for the next year. Well, I'll get busy and not take up any more valuable time . . . Good-BBbye!

TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

THE ACCIDENT THAT ACCOUNTS FOR BRAZILIANS SPEAKING PORTUGUESE

Portuguese is the national language of Brazil, the only part of Latin America where Spanish is not the official language. Yet they speak it only because of an accident that happened almost 500 years ago.

The last decade of the 15th century and the first of the 16th, were years of discovery. Spain and Portugal were engaged in a race for possession of the vast treasures of the Orient. Spanish navigators, led by Columbus, sailed westward, discovering a new land. Portuguese explorers, led by Diaz and da Gama, sailed eastward around Africa — and discovered all-water routes to India.

Because the leaders of the period did not fully realize that Columbus' discovery proved that the world was round, an imaginary line was drawn, which separated the spheres of activity of the two nations.

Vasco da Gama, planning a mighty armada of ships which would take Portuguese colonists, traders and fighting men to India along the path he had discovered just two years earlier, drew up sailing directions which would keep the Portuguese fleet to the East of this imaginary Line of Demarcation. The task of following the instructions was assigned to Pedro Alvares Cabral.

And Cabral made a mistake. He allowed his ships, caught in the Canary Drift, to sail too far west — and discovered what is now Brazil.

The new land was mild in temperature, luxuriant in growth, rich in promise. He stayed two months to explore, then left two men to continue the explorations. He sent one boat from his fleet to Portugal to report the discovery while the rest of the armada turned east to continue their original voyage.

On the basis of this accidental discovery, Portugal claimed a vast territory in the new world and began colonization. In later years, when the Kingdom of Portugal went into the doldrums, the real power of Portugal was transferred to the Kingdom of Brazil.

Today, Brazil, a republic, still speaks the language of its mother country, Portugal, because Cabral sailed too far West before turning in the direction it was planned that he should sail.

HOLIDAY FRUIT CAKE

- |   |                                       |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| 1 one-pound container (2 cups) S&W Glaze Cake Mix     | 1/2 cup butter, melted                |
| 1 jar brandied mincemeat (one pound, 12 oz.)          | 1 cup sugar                           |
| 1/2 cup each S&W chopped walnuts and slivered almonds | 2 beaten egg yolks                    |
|   | 1 tsp. baking soda dissolved in water |
|   | 2 cups flour                          |
|   | 2 beaten egg whites                   |

Blend ingredients in order given, in large mixing bowl. Spoon into 9 inch tube pan or 2 loaf pans (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/4). Bake tube cake at 350 degrees for 1 1/2-2 hours. Bake loaves at 325 degrees, 1-1 1/2 hours, or until fingertip touch leaves no imprint. (A pan of water set on bottom shelf of oven helps keep cakes moist.) Frost with eggnog frosting made by gradually stirring 1 pound of powdered sugar into 1/2 cup soft butter, adding 5 Tbsp. eggnog a little at a time, until right consistency to spread. Decorate with red and green glaze cherries or tri-color pineapple slices.
