Early Monday, it was reported that someone had stolen one pair of refrigerator "dollies"; one Lindy oxygen bottle; one acetylene bottle, size B, gauges, hose, tool box and fittings, in Coppars Cove. Coppars Cove Police Department and Deputy Sheriff, Charlie Walsh, are investigating the theft.

Local High Patrolmen reported no traffic mishaps in the area.

IRS Estimates 5 Million Last Minute Returns

The Internal Revenue Service estimated that more than five million Americans waited until the last day - Monday, April 15 - to file their income tax returns for 1967.

Yesterday, at midnight, was the deadline, but persons affected by last week's racial violence, including policemen, firemen and National Guardsmen, who worked long hours to restore order, can take more time if they need it.

To meet the legal deadline, returns must have been postmarked by midnight yesterday, April 15. The service is stretching its rules in cases where persons lost records or saw them destroyed in the recent racial violence or were prevented from obtaining tax help because of curfews or conditions relating to the disturbances.

These returns must be filed as quickly as possible and accompanied by a letter detailing circumstances and reasons for the delay.

IRS said it won't assess, in these cases, the usual penalty for late filing (5% per month of the taxes still owed, up to a maximum of 25%). The interest charge, fixed by law at one-half of one percent of monthly taxes due must still be paid, however.

About 18 million taxpayers waited until the final three days to file their returns, IRS said. Three out of four returns were filed earlier.

Failure to file any return when it is required, could result in criminal prosecution, which, upon conviction, carries a maximum penalty of up to one year in jail and a $10,000 fine.

Sadler Begins Tour of Duty in Vietnam

U.S. ARMY, VIETNAM - Army Warrant Officer Robert P. Sadler, 26, son of Mr. and Mrs. C.K. Sadler, 212 Fennimore St., Gatesville, has been assigned to the 1st Cavalry Division in Vietnam.

His wife, Carolyn, lives on Route 1, Fort Stockton.

Sadler reported for duty with the 1st Cavalry in early March. Units of the 1st played a major role in the army's link-up with the Marines, holding the Khe Sanh area.

Sadler received his helicopter Silver Wings at Fort Rucker, Alabama.

PRETTY BARBARA SPECHT, an honor student at Texas Tech, aims her camera near the Tower of the Americas and the Texas State Pavilion at HemisFair'68 in San Antonio, expected to be the biggest picture-taking event in Texas history. Authorities predict an attendance of 11 million people, most of them shutterbugs like Barbara, daughter of Brig. Gen. (Ret.) and Mrs. M. H. Specht of nearby New Braunfels. Photographic experts advise fairgoers to use simple equipment, like Barbara's Kodak Instamatic camera, and plenty of color film, such as Kodacolor, Kodachrome or Ektachrome.

Summer Baseball Program Will Begin May 17-18

Little League practice has started in the local area with teams practicing anywhere they can put up a back stop and put down a plate. The 1968 Jackson Insurance squad began working Friday with most of the team present. Pictured above, during batting practice, is Tommy Herring, in the background; Charles Knapp, pitching; Steve Davis, laying down a bunt; and Randy Smith, ye brave catcher.

The Lions Club summer baseball program is beginning to take to the practice field as warm days are longer days arrive.

The program chairman, Jim Miller, expects to have a game schedule completed in the near future. The schedule will begin on May 17th and continue through July 25.

Miller estimated that 250 boys would compete in four leagues this season.

Miller pointed out that more than 100 games would be played in minor, freshman, junior and senior leagues. Six days a week, the Lion Baseball Park will be in operation, carrying double-headers at all times.

The Jaycee Park will be used on many occasions to stage a third contest during the day. If it rains much there will be all kinds of rescheduling.

Senior division competition is in a turmoil with the activation of the coach, Allen Jones, in the local 113th National Guard.

Tomorrow's stars will play ball in the little league games this year. Maybe you can pick out the local prospects and watch them develop. Anyway, you can see some fine competitive sport played each afternoon and early evening at the Lion Park and Jaycee Park.

Cancer Society House To House Campaign Scheduled

During the month of April, there will come a knock at the door or a ring of the doorbell. The caller may be a stranger or often a neighbor already known.

In either case, he or she will be a volunteer of the American Cancer Society, prepared to leave life-saving information, and asking our support for the Society's work.

The volunteer will also be one of some 2,000,000 who each April go out on the "Cancer Crusade" -- and who in a very real way are symbols of America's miracle.

The name of this miracle is "voluntarism" and it has been part of our nation since the days of the first settlers.

High among our domestic hazards today are diseases and not just the "good old-fashioned" germ-caused diseases of yesteryear. Many of those have been largely conquered.

The so-called "degenerative" diseases are another matter, however. And perhaps the most mysterious and tragic of them is cancer. Its fundamental cause still remains to be unraveled by research.

Even so, much has been done to save lives and more can be.

The Cancer Society informs us that some 200,000 Americans will be saved this year. An additional 100,000 might be, but won't -- because diagnosis and/or treatment may come too late.

That is why the information on the ACS volunteer will bring can be a matter of life. Ours. But to carry on its work of education, service and research, the support must be ours as well.

Gatesville volunteers will begin a house-to-house campaign on April 23rd. Write that check to help fight cancer and get that check up to fight cancer.

"Life's Contrary Winds" Mark 6:45-56

It seems that our own beloved homeland has never seen a time when the people from the lowliest, unto the head of our government, have been as divided, and confused and in as much unrest as there is now.

We have often heard it said that "It can never happen to us", and many people are not concerned when it seems we are following a pattern. Everywhere you go people are talking about it, but not many of us are doing anything about it.

America has been called a Christian nation, where people recognize the sovereignty of God, and I would like to refresh the minds of the people that the "fear of the Lord is the beginning of knowledge", and that "Blessed is the nation whose God is the Lord," and that "Sin is a reproach to any people".

To comment on the verses of scripture, noted in the heading of this article, I would like to impress on the minds of the people that when the Lord was up in the mountain, he looked down and saw his disciples in the ship out on the sea. Let us consider this as if this were our little ship of life, out on life's sea. Sometimes the sea is calm and peaceful, sometimes it is turbulent and the waves are high -

"And He saw them toiling in rowing, for the wind was contrary unto them"

The God of the Universe sees, we people, individually, and as a nation.

He sees our toiling and rowing; He sees the winds contrary to us.

As we follow the line of thought: "He cometh unto them".

Have we forgotten that He still has control of all things? Have we forgotten that He wants to come unto us, and help us with our problems? Have we forgotten that He is a Living God, and is not bound to any set of rules where he cannot meet our needs?

"He went walking to them on the sea" and when they saw Him, they were troubled and cired out and immediately He talked with them, and said, "Be of good cheer; it is I; Be not afraid".

He was walking over the very thing that was causing them so much fear.

But, you will note that when they invited Him, and He went up unto them, in the ship, the wind ceased.

He stands at the door of our hearts and knocks, but will not come in without an invitation.

History tells us that when our forefathers set up our constitution, and formed our government, it was not without much prayer and asking of wisdom from God.

Such great men as Washington and Lincoln, spent much time in prayer, and Mr. Lincoln quoted much scripture in his public address.

We still believe that the same tactics will guide our "nation through" the contrary winds of our time and if the Prince of Peace were invited up into our little ships, it would still bring a great calm!

BETTER—CLOSER TO HOME

LET'S WORK TOGETHER

Regional problems, such as air and water pollution, which cross state lines are best handled by "interstate compacts," the National Association of Manufacturers said in a statement to the subcommittee of the Senate Public Works Committee.

This device sets up a governmental agency which can function in an area without jurisdictional limitations.

"This should insure that its actions will be effective and responsive to the wishes of the people of the area," NAM said. "Therefore, we believe every presumption should operate in favor of the interstate compact approach."

The Ohio River Valley Water Sanitation Commission, created in 1948 to control problems of the river basin in Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, New York, Ohio, Virginia, Pennsylvania and West Virginia is a good example and has been an outstanding success.

"At the time the compact was signed less than one per cent of the 3 1/2 million people living along the banks of the Ohio River were served by sewage treatment plants," the NAM said. "Today treatment facilities serve 99 per cent of the 3.7 million sewer population along the Ohio and 94 per cent of the 11.4 million sewer population in the entire drainage basin."

This case history demonstrates that the interstate compact approach can provide an effective area-wide pollution control program, and that Congress should look with the greatest favor upon interstate air pollution control compacts.

Why should you let an old fashioned flue dictate to you where you put your water heater? Choose a flameless electric water heater that needs no flue or ventilation and the choice is yours. Put it where you want it, not where it has to go. In a linen closet, kitchen cabinet . . . wherever it is most convenient for you. You can place it closest to points of greatest hot water use and eliminate long heat-wasting pipe runs. An electric water heater gives you abundant hot water because the immersed heating elements heat the water, not the tank. And, because it's flameless, it is noiseless, clean and safe. Gov. John Connally has accepted invitations of supporters to actively seek designation as Texas' favorite son Democratic presidential candidate.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough also has been urged by anti-Connally and pro-Robert Kennedy and pro-Eugene McCarthy forces to make a fight against the governor in precinct conventions for the favorite son role. Although critical of Connally, Yarborough has not responded to the call.

Labor leaders were among those pushing Yarborough as favorite son, but AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education failed to place its stamp of approval on this recommendation. COPE administrative committee opposed Connally as favorite son and recommended Yarborough for vice president.

Issue may set off a major fight in precinct conventions May 4, only place where the average Texas voter will have anything to say about the choice of a presidential nominee.

COURTS SPEAK

Law enforcement officers are sweating out the potential far-reaching effect of a new federal court decision here declaring Texas' disturbing - the - peace law unconstitutional.

Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin will file a motion for rehearing and take his appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

He called the decision by a three-judge federal panel in the case which originated with Vietnam war protesters displaying signs during a speech by President Johnson in Killean "a tremendous blow to law enforcement."

Federal judges stayed their mandate pending an opportunity of the state legislature to re-define "disturbance" offense within their guidelines.

They concluded that the existing law, providing fines up to $200, is "impermissibly and unconstitutionally broad."

Martin said if the decision stands, police will find it "exceedingly difficult to maintain law and order in various communities of our state."

Actually, charges against the anti-Vietnam group had been dropped before the hearing because the alleged offense occurred on federal property. Therefore, the state maintains that the court had no authority to test the statute's constitution-ality. Martin says dismissal of the original charges rendered the federal court case moot.

Further, Attorney General argues, Texas law prohibits specific action which are breaches of peace and do not fall within prior decisions of the U.S. Supreme Court, which invalidated some disturbance statutes.

In another federal court case, a San Antonio mother of six sued to collect aid - to - dependent - children, though she did not meet the state's one-year residency requirement. She maintained that, since 76 per cent of the welfare money for that purpose came from the federal government, she was entitled to benefits.

Again, a three-judge panel agreed with the plaintiff in a decision that could extend to all welfare, since federal money is everywhere, Attorney General Martin indicated he will appeal this decision to the U.S. Supreme Court.

A woman who lost her hair after using a home permanent liquid cannot collect damages from Proctor and Gamble Company because she failed to follow directions, State Supreme Court has held.

A Houston lawyer disbarred for failing to file lawsuits after accepting legal fees lost his appeal to the high court.

TEACHER PAY

Governor's Committee on Public School Education will recommend "large and substantial" teacher pay raises with built-in cost-of-living escalation plans, Chairman Leon Jaworski says.

Jaworski indicated the Committee also will recommend (by August 31 deadline) free public kindergartens, summer schooling, expanded vocational training, course programming, tax equalization among districts and school district reorganization. Committee will hold a public hearing here April 26 to preview some of its findings in areas of enrollment projections for the next decade, school dropout study, analysis of school courses and service offerings, evaluation of Texas Text for Educational Development and results of an adult and teacher opinion poll.

Jaworski also announced that the Committee contracted with a Dallas company to produce a filmed version of its report and recommendations to the Legislature in January, 1969.

Legislative Budget Board recommended a $2,200,000 special session appropriation to help build and equip new vocational and technical training facilities at Odessa College. Board also approved $98,900 and $46,245 requests of Angelo State College and Midwestern University for associate science degree offerings in nursing.

Members went along with request for $150,000 supplemental appropriation to help build new facilities at Washington-on-the-Brazos State Park and $10,000 for Higher Education Coordinating Board participation in a study on college education opportunities for Negroes.

Passed over for the time being was a request of the Liquor Control Board for an additional $2,300,000.

BUDGET BOARD VOTES

State Health Department's three-year solid-waste survey has been completed in 71 Texas counties that hold some 40 per cent of the State's population.

Department will draw up a state plan based on information from the study (about a year away from completion) for solid-waste collection and disposal, with specific emphasis on regional planning commissions and councils of government.

VETS LAND

New veterans land policies have been ordered to limit veterans' purchases to no more than 10 percent of any one subdivision.

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler said interest in the revived program - through which qualified veterans can buy land on long-term, low-interest rate arrangement - has been "overwhelming," but too many applications have been coming in on subdivisions.

"We cannot spend all our money in few isolated areas," said Sadler in announcing new restrictions. "We have large subdivisions that have put prices on their land far above market value in the area. . . . All veterans (should have) a chance to buy throughout the state and not spend our money in a few large subdivisions."

POLICY CHANGED

Most college students have not rejected the American business system but "they do have some very serious questions about its ability to cope with today's problems," a conference on campus-industry relations was told in Dallas, Texas.

Dr. Richard L. Cutler, vice president of Student Affairs for the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, pointed out that "while our generation (35- to 50-year age group) has seen the system help solve the two great problems of our era - the Great Depression and World War II - today's youngsters are still waiting for answers to questions like the atomic threat, urban upheaval, air pollution, Vietnam and the population explosion."

Cutler was the keynote speaker at the day-long na-

The Michigan educator-psychologist discussed how the American family is raising its children these days and how, in turn, this influences the attitudes of younger people toward such issues as thrift, productivity, and the sport of the orderly process.

Dr. Cutler said the current crop of college students are "the brightest, most interested and highly motivated in history and they are looking for answers, not platitudes."

Cutler declared that careers in the Peace Corps, teaching and social service work to tell, and you can back it up. That's all they want to hear from you. I have every confidence that if you do this, you will find a receptive audience," he concluded.

"What they want is an assurance that they will be appreciated; they will be given opportunities to accomplish and that they can become involved in helping to solve some of the great unanswered questions with which they are faced," he declared.

Cutler added that industry's record in these areas is really "quite good - your problem rests more on an inability to communicate your own involvement to these young people."

"You have a good story to tell, and you can back it up. That's all they want to hear from you. I have every confidence that if you do this, you will find a receptive audience," he concluded.

LET'S GO ABROAD! . . . Yes, let's all go abroad this summer without even leaving our great state! Everyone has been talking about HemisFair for many months --- even before the international exposition construction began! But NOW IS THE TIME to take advantage of a World's Fair in our midst. With ribbon cutting ceremony held on April 6, which officially opened the Haven of Nations, we find that we can travel around the world in the time it takes to tour the fair grounds. It would be a shame for any family to miss such a wonderful treat this year or ANY year. Who knows when we'll have a chance to attend another World's Fair again!

SUMMER SIGNS . . . the sights and sounds of summer have certainly engulfed Gatesville in the past few weeks - with Spring and Summer flowers in bloom and the bluebonnets are simply gorgeous - a patch of bluebonnets in bloom can change an ordinary field into a sea of azure and medium blues. Nature certainly has painted the countryside with color! If you haven't been out for a weekend outing, you've missed some beautiful displays of Mother Nature at her best! Get the family together some time soon and enjoy a picnic and drive through the area -- you'll be surprised at how beautiful Coryell County is -- in fact, Coryell County has the most beautiful blend of landscape I've ever seen! In the East the green hues just make the whole world a little brighter and the rugged western part is the setting of the most beautiful sunsets I've ever seen. Get the family out, THIS weekend. Wait no longer!

STUDENT INFLUX . . . With the beginning of the Easter holidays, the streets of Gatesville were a little crowded with students traveling to their homes for a few days of rest and relaxation and a welcomed visit with parents and friends. Gatesville was no exception! The barrage of homecomers began last week with the release of Texas Tech students, who received an extended Easter vacation, for approximately 10 days.

HOME FROM TECH . . . Among the students who visited in Gatesville Easter from Texas Technological College in Lubbock, were Jay Giddens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Giddens of Gatesville, Sammy Petty, son of Mrs. Milton Coward of Gatesville, Easter guest in the Coward home was Roger Banner, a graduate student attending New Mexico State University. Women are now shopping for wigs the same way they do for any fashion item, and as they are more apt to purchase a hair piece if it is presented in a pre-styled manner, wig stylists are keeping up with hair trends, even though the wig or hair-piece can be re-styled by the woman after she purchases it. Medium length wigs with surface interest - waves and curls - are also coming into the picture. One curious thing has been noted: women are beginning to wear their own hair with an eye to how they will look in a wig, so we can expect to see a move towards the time when wigs are going to exert an influence on hair styles!

Elegance is coming back to wall decoration. You can update your rooms now by adding cornice molding around the room where walls and ceiling meet, and by adding this detail also to flat surfaces, such as baseboard molding, both at floor level, and at the top of chair level. Not only does this add attractiveness, but, as grandma knew, it protects the wall from scuffs and bumps. Strips of molding are even being used on plain furniture, such as chests and bookcases.

It appears that pedigreed dogs are replacing roommates these days in the big cities across the country. While a Yorkshire, Poodle, Russian Wolfhound, or just plain all-American dog won't contribute much in the way of rent and expenses for the young career woman, it will give protection and security in her apartment, lend her an aura of chic and sophistication on the street, and perhaps even be the source of interesting introductions. What more could you ask?

Leaf Aphids Doing Damage

Corn leaf aphids, normally not a problem on young corn and grain sorghum, are now doing extensive damage from Central Texas eastward and southward.

John Thomas, Extension entomologist at Texas A & M University, says weather conditions have been favorable for great buildups in aphid populations and unfavorable for increases in predator insects which normally keep them in check.

He says a break in the weather, two weeks of warm, open weather, should force a rapid decline in aphid populations, but fields already suffering damage should be treated at once. A heavy population can ruin a stand in only two to three days, he adds. Infestations will likely spread north and west as corn and grain sorghum plants emerge, advises Thomas.

The aphids or plant lice suck juice from the plants, causing the plant leaves to turn yellowish, mottled or reddish. Small plants may be killed when aphid populations are heavy.

If ground equipment is used for applying the needed insecticide, Thomas says malathion at the rate of .75 (three-quarters) of a pound of active ingredient per acre is recommended for treating infested corn. There is no label clearance for the use of malathion on grain sorghum. There is a 5 day waiting period between application and grazing, he explains.

On grain sorghum, using ground equipment for spraying, the entomologist recommends endrin at the rate of .2 (two-tenths) pound per acre. There is a 45-day waiting period between application and harvest and no grazing or ensilage of corn or sorghum is permitted where endrin is used.

Only one application per season is permitted on grain sorghum or sweet corn and two on field corn.

If aerial application is used, Thomas suggests that methyl parathion at the rate of .25

(one-quarter) of a pound per acre be used on both crops. The waiting period in days when methyl parathion is used is 12 days on corn and 21 days on grain sorghum. Parathion and phosdrin are also effective as aerial sprays.

Local county agents can supply detailed information on the control program, Thomas said. He recommends that all safety measures be followed when using any agricultural chemicals.

County Agent Report

Green bugs and Aphids are doing considerable damage to the grain sorghum crops in Coryell County.

Most farmers think that the sorghum was first bitten. That appears yellow to white on the two major leaves. If they will examine it closely, they will find greenbugs are causing the damage.

The greenbugs are coming out of the small grain and beginning to damage the grain sorghum said Don Callahan, County Agricultural Agent.

With a heavy infestation of greenbugs, it can kill the young grain sorghum.

Insecticides that can be used to spray for control are: Malathion, 1-1/2 to 2 pints per acre; Parathion, 1-1/2 to 2-1/2 pints per acre.

Greenbug control is more effective when temperature is above 50 degrees, fahrenheit. Malathion is less effective than parathion and Methyl parathion, but may be used where a less toxic material is preferred. Parathion and Methyl Parathion gives best control, but extensive caution should be taken in using either of the materials.

The lower rates per acre can be used because the grain being in a small stage of growth.

Finishing Touch

For improved feedlot finishing, heifer is receiving Synovex H, the dual-hormone implant. Recent experiment station studies show how heifers respond to the treatment. Improvement in daily gain and feed conversion averaged 12.2 percent and 9.3 percent, respectively, in five of the trials. The product, widely used for finishing feedlot cattle during the past 10 years, is now available under the label of its originator, Syntex Laboratories, Inc. Data on field trials and use of Synovex is available from the animal health division of the Palo Alto, California firm.

Airport Used As Duster's Base

Crop dusters from Hillsboro were in the area last week, spraying fields where tractors could not be used. The one plane covered approximately 800 acres in half a day.

The new airport facility made the operation easier and safer.

Cole And Reeve Near Top Condition

Bobby Cole and Mark Reeve continue to improve in their preparation for Friday and Saturday at the Regional Track Meet.

Both boys competed in the Jesuit High School qualifiers meet in Dallas, this past weekend.

Bobby Cole competed in three running events in an effort to tone up and prepare for the regional 440 yard run. Cole ran a very fast 9.7 in the 100 yard dash; his best time this year. In the 200 yard dash, Bobby really turned on with one of the fastest times run in the state this year with a 21.4 second.

Cole's event in regional, the 440 dash was a relatively slow 50.7. Coach Jack Gunlock pointed out that the slow time was due to the finals of the 220 and 440 being so close together.

At regional, Cole will be required to run only one time, giving him time to put all the effort into a 48 second time span.

Mark Reeve was at top form Saturday and threw the discus to his best mark of the year, 154 feet.

Reeve expects to need a toss similar to the Dallas though to make the State Meet.

Both boys have improved with the warmer weather and from all indications, it looks like the Hornette track season will end in the State Meet.

Coach Bishop has put together a fine track squad and has developed two possible State champions.

Coach Gunlock pointed out that "Bobby Cole slowly reaches his top performance and is probably reaching his peak at the right time."

Of Reeve, only my observations, non-committal, confident, serious, level-headed and a good smile.

Baylor Holds Longest Drought

Six coaches have tried and still no pennant hangs on the flagpole for Baylor's football Bears.

Which is to say that in 43 years there has not been a champion at Baylor, one of the longest, if not the longest droughts in collegiate football history.

So, it will be up to a confident sports publicity man to put Baylor into the Southwest Conference throne room next fall.

He says he can do it and he points to precedents in his career as a sports publicity man.

David Cawood had arrived in Waco to take the place vacated by the death of George Wright.

"I'm not coming over here for a loser," he told Baylor officials. "We'll win it -- we're going to win at Baylor my first year."

Cawood graduated from Baylor in 1965 after being a student assistant to the sports publicity director for 3-1/2 years.

He went to Morehead State University of Morehead, Ky., and in his first year, the team won the Ohio Valley Conference championship for the first time in its history.

Next, he was enticed to Eastern Kentucky at Richmond, Ky. His first year saw Eastern Kentucky win the Ohio Valley Conference championship. The team also won the NCAA small college regional title. That's as far as they go in this division of the NCAA.

It wasn't a new thing to Eastern Kentucky, but it had been 13 years since it had won the title and they had begun to feel a little desperate.

280 David Cawood has received a call from his alma mater to repeat what he had done at Morehead and Eastern Kentucky.

If his presence does put over the Bears, it can be called a miracle. And he should get a boost in salary and unstinted thanks from Baylor coach John Bridges, who now has at least one more year as headman of Baylor's gridiron destinies.

Baylor won the conference championship in the very first year of the circuit -- 1915. But it forfeited the title because of an ineligible player -- the quarterback had previously played at another college.

In 1922, Frank Bridges led the Bears to a conference title and in 1924, they won the championship because Southern Methodist had four ties on its record and Baylor had only one.

Since then, Baylor has finished second nine times, third eight times. Baylor was out of football in the war years, 1943-44. It might have finished second both of those times had it stayed in. Eleven times in second place sounds better than nine times, but it still seems like a long way off from a cherished dream.

FEMINE FISHING FUN

When my wife, Barbara, advised me she wanted to learn how to fish I greeted the news with a certain lack of enthusiasm. If teaching her the art of angling was to be anything like teaching her to drive -- forget it. But two factors convinced me that I had to try. First was the national trend toward increased participation by women in man's favorite outdoor sport. Today, nearly 30 percent of the 90 million fishing folks in the U.S. are ladies. Second, Barbara declared that if she couldn't share the thrill of a catch, her kitchen would be closed to any delicious string of fish I might bring home.

I learned a few things about exposing a neophyte to fishing while taking my sons on their early outings. The initial trip must be comfortable and successful.

On a warm, sunny Saturday morning in May, Barbara and I made the short drive from our home to nearby Sprout Lake in Peeskill, New York. This quiet, sheltered pond, surrounded by lush shade trees, held an abundant supply of panfish -- yellow perch, blue gill, crappie.

For Barbara, I selected an Abu-Matic 120 spinning reel filled with 8-lb. test Bonnyl, and a Conolon 2524 light action rod. Such light, easy-to-use and easy-to-maintain tackle is largely responsible for the tremendous influx of women to fishing.

For myself, I chose a Mitchell 408 fast retrieve spinning reel with 6-lb. test Bonnyl and a Conolon 2503 rod. This ultra-light rig would turn those panfish into respectable gamefish for me.

Barbara and I discussed the operation of her tackle the night before, and after a few apprehensive casts she relaxed and felt quite secure with her pushbutton reel. So far, so good. Next, I introduced her to our bait -- worms.

Being the mother of two boys who have brought home for "adoption" every species of animal and insect that crossed their paths, Barbara was not disturbed by a face-to-face meeting with a garden variety worm. After one lesson she could bait a hook with the most seasoned angler. All that remained now was to catch a fish.

Barbara began casting from shore, retrieving very slowly. Panfish are not rapid swimmers, and quick movements scare them. King Neptune, or Zaak Walton, or both, must have been smiling down at us that day. Within five minutes a small, but ambitious yellow perch took the bait. But he was no match for my determined student.

Once she stopped jumping up and down, Barbara held the perch in her hands and stared at it. "Fishing fever" had struck again. She landed three more panfish before we called it a morning. For the rest of the day, Barbara was on the phone recounting to her friends every cast she made.

I had been so busy watching Barbara, I never picked up my rod and reel. Still, it was one of the most rewarding outings in memory. After all, how often do you develop a lifelong fishing companion?

Dick Wolff's useful and unique handbook, "Fishing Tackle and Techniques," is now available to readers of this column. The 190-page book is a complete guide to the purchase, use and maintenance of every kind of rod, reel and line for both salt and freshwater fishing.
