'Comin' Round the Mountain' Is Title Of Carlton Junior Play

There will be a lot of "feudin', fussin', and a-fightin'" in town when the class put on their junior play in the Carlton High School auditorium on the evening of April 29. However, the excitement will all be on the stage, and it's all in fun, and what fun the audiences will have when they see this howlingly hilarious three-act comedy of hillbilly life, which is called "Comin' Round the Mountain." Written by the popular playwright and motion picture scenarist, Robert St. Clair, the play is guaranteed to be one of the best and most novel three-act comedies to be presented at Carlton in years.

There is something of the "L'il Abner" about it, although "Comin' Round the Mountain" is, of course, entirely different from the famous comic strip. There is also the novelty of a full-fledged hillbilly band in the play.

The play begins promptly at 8 p. m. So be there early. You won't want to miss a single one of the uproarious lines and situations in the laugh-fest of the year, "Comin' Round the Mountain."

Music provided by the Gustine String Band.

Cancer Crusade Drive Slated for Friday Night

Carlton Man Is Son Of Madison County's First Sheriff

Madisonville hasn't located the oldest sheriff in Texas yet, nor the youngest, but the Sidewalk Cattlemen have discovered the oldest son of Madison County's first sheriff.

He is J. C. McKenzie of Carlton, Texas, who suggests that the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen may want to give a pair of boots to the oldest son of the first sheriff of Madison County when they hold their annual celebration June 2.

McKenzie read in the Hico News Review about the search the Sidewalk Cattlemen are making for the youngest and oldest sheriffs in Texas, offering each a pair of handmade boots; and promptly wrote the Madisonville Meteor that at 73, he is the oldest son of the first sheriff—and one of the organizers of Madison County.

The writer said that he had never been a lawman, that he had never been a minister.

The older McKenzie left Madison County in 1881 and settled in Hamilton County (called West Texas then) where J. C. McKenzie was born January 1, 1882. He recalls having worn with pride a pair of red-top boots when he was six.

The cattleman want the preacher to come on down June 2. There will be a big enough celebration for the sheriffs of Texas and the preachers too.

The sheriffs can keep the preachers in line or vice versa.

Porchlight Campaign Will Be Used In This Year's Drive

The annual crusade for the American Cancer Society will be conducted in the residential area of Hico Friday night (tonight), April 29 between the hours of 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock, and an attempt will again be made to attain the goal within this one hour, as has been done during previous years, said Miss Louise Blair, who serves this year as chairman of the drive in Hico.

The drive will be a porchlight campaign this year; however, due to the early starting hour all homes will be called upon regardless of whether or not a porchlight is on. If for some reason you are not contacted you may leave your contribution at The First National Bank.

Names of assistant chairmen to supervise the calls made on different homes throughout town are as follows:

- Mrs. J. B. Woodard
- Mrs. W. H. Greenslit
- Mrs. P. W. Hamilton
- Mrs. W. C. Howard
- Mrs. Alvin Casey
- Mrs. S. W. Everett
- Mrs. Grady Hooper
- Mrs. Norman Johnson
- Mrs. R. L. Weaver
- Mrs. Mont Young

The quota assigned to Hico this year is $160.00. If the quota is attained in the porchlight campaign, the business houses in town will not be solicited, Miss Blair continued.

There's hope—strike back at man's cruellest enemy. You are the hope. You can help spread the life-saving facts about cancer to the people of Texas. You can help save at least 3,000 more Texans from cancer each year, by helping them to learn how to guard themselves against the disease.

You can help make sure there will be sufficient funds to carry on the American Cancer Society's vigorous research program.

You can help ease the pain and suffering of the sick, lonely and less fortunate.

Won't you "Give a Texan's Share" Friday night, April 29th, from 6:30 until 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Congressmen Burleson And Poage Introduce Bill to Increase Acreage

Congressman Omar Burleson of Anson and Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, have introduced bills that would provide additional acreage for the six basic crops in areas of general crop failure, to be effective for 1955 and subsequent years.

The bill provides for temporary additional acreage in areas where the Secretary of Agriculture finds that a natural disaster has reduced the average yield for the immediately preceding two years to less than 50 per cent of the highest average yield for such areas for any three consecutive years of the preceding ten years.

In the case of cotton, wheat and corn the Secretary shall allot to each eligible farm such additional acreage as may be requested.

In the case of peanuts, rice and tobacco, he shall allot to each eligible farm an allotment equal to the greater 150 per cent of the established allotment for the farm for the current crop year or 100 per cent of the highest acreage planted to such crop in the preceding five crop years.

It is provided that no acreage shall be allotted which would result in a total acreage allotment of all crops on any farm in excess of 75 per cent of the cropland on such farm.

The Congressmen feel that legislation of this type is necessary due to the extreme drought that has existed throughout the nation for the past several years, and to alleviate the hardship that has been suffered by the farmers. They feel that with declining farm prices, some measures must be taken to permit farmers to plant increased cash crops from which they can obtain some greatly needed relief. They feel that this bill would go a long way toward solving one of the problems facing the farmer.

SENIORS ON TRIP

Hico Seniors will leave Wednesday, May 4, on their annual trip to Austin, Houston, and Galveston and will return the following Saturday.

They will be accompanied by Supt. O. C. Cook and the class sponsor, Mrs. Louise Angell.

Division for Small Fry In Annual Garden Club Flower Show in May

Everyone can get into the act at the Hico Garden Club's annual flower show May 7. The small fry have divisions they can also enter and win ribbons.

The schedule is: Junior Class, for First, Second and Third Grades:

- Class I. Arrangement in my favorite container.
- Class II. Miniature Gardens.
- For Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Grades:
- Class I. Miniature Arrangement not over 6 inches high.
- Class II. Arrangements in my favorite container.

Many children may need encouragement from their parents and teachers to enter the show, but the average child loves pretty flowers and can be quite surprising when they use a little imagination, a flower container and flowers.

There were many entries in the Junior Class in last year's show and even more are expected this year.

New Officers Will Be Installed at P-TA Meeting Monday

A program on "Our American Heritage" will be presented by the Eleventh and Twelfth grade classes of Hico High School at the final meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association at 7:30 p. m. next Monday at the high school auditorium.

Six seniors will conduct a symposium on "Living Under Three Types of Government." Also on the program will be a declamation, "I Am an American," by Deborah Pruett, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, and a poem, Bryant's "Antiquity of Freedom."

New officers will be installed by Mrs. D. R. McCauley, and refreshments will be served after the meeting.

It Happened Here or Near

By E. E. DAWSON
This is about a woman who encountered almost unbelievable handicap around middle life, but—well, here's the story.

She was born in Bell County, near Temple, in 1911. When she was four years old the family moved to Duffau, and it was in that community that she grew up and finished high school. At Christmas time in 1928, she married. She became the mother of a boy, now 23. And of a girl who is now 17. This may be called Chapter I of her life. This era of life ran as smooth as one could expect life to move.

Now a new era began. First the husband was ill for three years and her courage to face hardship was put to the test. In 1952, she and her husband and children moved to Fort Worth where the husband had work.

On a Sunday in June of that year the family drove to Hico and Olin and Carlton to visit kindred. It was a happily spent day, and as night settled down they were hastening so as not to be late for evening worship at their church. Soon after they entered the limits of Fort Worth their car collided with another at a street intersection. The subject of this story was hurled a great distance by the impact and frightful injuries were sustained. Two vertebrae were crushed, spinal injuries sustained, three ribs were broken, there were chest injuries, five lacerations on a leg, three lacerations on the head, and head injuries, blood clots on both legs, and her whole body was black with bruises.

What a chapter! The doctors said she could not survive so many broken and bruises.

Now a third chapter begins that reads like a passage from Holy Writ.

As the ambulance bore her from the wreck to the hospital she cried, "O Lord, save my life." In a dazed state a passage of Scripture came to her mind. "Wait thou upon the Lord." Now her thought became, "I will wait on the Lord, and I know saving my life will require time. So, O Lord, I pray give me patience to wait and faith to believe." And all this time she was improving. Friends and churches were praying continually for her recovery.

At this juncture, a new crisis arose. The surgeons said those crushed vertebrae would have to be replaced and the only possible way to accomplish that would be transplant bone from her leg. To her it just seemed beyond the limits of endurance to go through with such a venture. It was delayed a bit and when a new x-ray was made, to the surgeon's surprise there was no need to repair the crushed vertebrae: They were already repaired. Another surgeon observing the case said the Great Physician had taken a hand in the case.

And this is the chapter of the present: She is a vigorous, active, middle-aged woman, smiling, happy, helpful. She went through the deep waters of adversity and found in it all that God was walking with her.

Who is she? The daughter of a dear old Methodist preacher who is near the crossing of the river in Hico Hospital. She is Mrs. Edwina Bell Kinser, daughter of Rev. I. A. Bell, wife of Leslie Kinser, mother of Billie and Naomi Kinser.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ABOUT CANCER

- Q. How are we receiving benefits now from the American Cancer Society's national research program?
- A. Indeed we are. Many people are being cured of cancer today because science has vastly improved the methods of diagnosis and treatment in the past few years.
- Q. How much has the Cancer Society spent on research?
- A. In the past ten years, more than $35,000,000. Because of this research more has been learned about cancer in those ten years than in all previous history.
- Q. What is the 1955 Texas Cancer Crusade Goal?
- A. $1,000,000. Last year Texans gave $703,000 to the Cancer Crusade, which was insufficient to meet the demands on the program.
- Q. Why should I contribute?
- A. Cancer can strike anyone. Your gift, by helping to finance the telling of the cancer story and the nationwide research program, will save lives—perhaps your own or the life of one of your loved ones. Give as much as you can.

"IN HICO SINCE 1890"

FAIRY

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

After several days of blowing sand, this finds us with a system full of the stuff and a nice job of house cleaning ahead. Although it has been quite disagreeable, we feel fortunate that we were not located further west.

Mrs. Fred Warenkin, who is ill of a heart ailment returned home last Friday after several days visit in the home of her brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Simons and family of Cleburne. We hope she will soon be much improved.

We have been requested to announce that there will be a cemetery working and business meeting at the Fairy Cemetery next Friday, May 6. There will be a business meeting at 10:30 and a basket lunch will be served at the noon hour. We especially urge all who can conveniently do so, to work your family plots prior to this meeting. In this way we will have more time to spend looking after the plots of those who cannot attend, or do not have relatives to look after these plots. Please keep this announcement in mind and come and be with us. Your presence and interest in this worthy cause is badly needed. Thanks to Mrs. Frank Tyler, wife of one of our cemetery committees for leaving this information for us. We learn that Mrs. Tyler has been on the job soliciting funds for the benefit of the cemetery. So our thanks to her and those who have contributed.

Thanks Stormy and Essie May Wright of Big Lake for your friendly hello, and thanks for the birthday card we received from you recently. But had failed to turn the card over and find that note until recently when we were showing our collection of cards to a friend and we noticed them reading it.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers accompanied their brother-in-law, Raymond Jones to Fort Worth Monday afternoon. Mr. Jones carried a load of cattle for the writer and others to Fort Worth market.

The senior play was well attended last Thursday night. The cast of characters rendered their parts well and all enjoyed it very much.

The Junior play will be held tonight, Tuesday. Sorry we didn't learn about it in time to make announcement in last week's news letter, but they've been on the job and have it well advertised.

The writer was a business visitor in Carlton Monday afternoon. While there we visited a while with our friend and former neighbor, Mrs. Marie Turner, who accompanied us for a short visit in the J. B. Jaggars home, and we also visited a short while with Mrs. Vick and Mrs. Mary Mitchell. Mrs. Mitchell, who has been residing on her farm near Carlton, has purchased a dwelling next door to Mrs. Vick and is staying with Mrs. Vick while her new home is undergoing a complete redecorating job inside and out. We went out and looked through her new home and all will be quite nice when all is completed.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Parks were in Walnut Springs Monday to assist in holding the auction sale of livestock there.

The writer attended singing at Hazel Dell near Lamkin last Sunday afternoon, accompanying Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford from Hamilton. On our return to Hamilton the writer visited a while with Mrs. Minnie McCarty at the Hurley rest home. She hadn't rested so well Sunday, due to the extreme warm temperature. The ailment or rash from which she has been suffering for several weeks was more painful.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman of Dublin spent the week end in the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers, Carolyn and Jimmie Don. While here they enjoyed an outing on the Leon River.

We are glad to report that Mr. Robert Streater and Mr. Marvin Noland have returned home after spending several weeks at Glen Rose hospital.

Crops are looking fairly well in these parts. We notice oats are beginning to ripen in some fields.

Maize is up and cotton has been planted.

Sheep shearing is getting well under way this week. But with the present price of wool at 45 cents a pound, all is very discouraging to sheep raisers who have carried their sheep through the winter.

Little Miss Cathey Stringer of Hico spent a few days last week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman of Dublin and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers and family visited a while Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Pittman's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison.

Minister Bob Scott of Abilene has resigned as pastor of the Church of Christ. He has accepted the pastorate of an Abilene Church of Christ. The congregation were very sorry to lose him. He was honored with a farewell shower Sunday afternoon and received a number of nice and useful gifts.

Marvin Porterfield will succeed Minister Bob Scott as pastor of the Church of Christ. Marvin is one of our own home raised young men and is just a beginner in the work. But all who have heard him report his services as being very satisfactory.

Recent donations for the Fairy Cemetery fund are as follows: Carl King, $5.00; Frank Tyler, $5.00; Bill Abel, $2.50; and Walter Abel, $2.00. Also Mrs. A. R. Hoover of Dublin, $5.00. Thanks to all for your donations. We want you to know we appreciate your thoughtfulness very much.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Riehboung attended the funeral services for H. Smith in Hico Sunday afternoon. Grady Wolfe is seriously ill in the Hico Hospital. He suffered a stroke Saturday morning and was carried to the hospital. His daughter, Mrs. Mona Phillips, was called to be at his bed side. Also his brothers, Herman of Dallas, Homer of Fort Worth and his sisters, Mrs. Paris Mayfield and Mrs. Emma Johnson of Stephenville.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Cook of Bryan came Saturday to visit her brother-in-law, Mr. Grady Wolfe, and her father, John Salmon. She remained to be with her sister, Mrs. Wolfe, during Mr. Wolfe's illness, and also to visit her father.

Mrs. Wayne Garner and girls of Selden spent Sunday afternoon in the Herman Roberson home. Hands have been busy working at the cemetery. Those that are interested keep in mind the annual cemetery working on May 7, and come. The committee has bought a double steel gate and a number of steel post that were needed. So we urge you to send or bring your contributions to the committee. Those on the committee are John Salmon, Mrs. Zenith Johnson, Mrs. Myrtle Thompson, and Mrs. Lucile Mayfield.

Red Finds a "Sweet Solution"

Red Jackson found a slick way to get his cows to eat what's good for them. Seems they were passing up the tall green grass—full of minerals and vitamins—and eating the short grass, which is naturally sweeter.

Red solved the problem by spraying a solution of corn syrup over the grass that was going begging. The cows sure went at it. Red says it's lucky for him—and the cows—that every one of them has a "sweet tooth."

Next week, according to Red, he's going to have his cows clean up all the weedy grass along his fences—after he sprays them with more corn syrup, of course.

From where I sit, some folks, like Red, are always trying out new tricks—and others stick with the old tried and true methods. Just a question of preference, I guess. Like the way you may enjoy coffee with meals, while I prefer a cold glass of beer. So let's not allow any had feelings to "crop up" by thinking ours is the only choice.

SUDANGRASS BEST BET FOR SUMMER GRAZING

Sudangrass is an old standby but still the livestockman's best bet for temporary summer grazing.

Seeded now, Sudan will provide green grazing in six to eight weeks, says Ben R. Spears, extension agronomist. And by staggering your plantings at three to four week intervals the season of temporary grazing can be greatly extended. Different plantings should be fenced separately and grazed in rotation.

Moisture conditions are generally favorable for planting in the eastern part of the state. Spears points out. In addition to providing lush summer grazing for livestock, temporary pastures give permanent type pastures a much needed rest.

Spears suggests planting one acre of Sudan for each animal unit on the farm.

Research shows that row planting of Sudan—36 to 42 inch rows—produce the best grazing. Use seven to 10 pounds to an acre. The same studies show that broadcast or close drilled Sudan, seeded at rates of 20 to 25 pounds per acre yields the most hay if harvested only once. No advantage was gained by planting cowpeas with Sudan.

Common and Sweet are the popular varieties of Sudan for Texas. In tests at the Beeville Experiment Station, steers gained an average of 1.54 pounds each day on Common and 1.56 pounds daily when fed Sweet. Steers fed Tift another variety sometimes used, registered 1.45 of daily gain.

The sorghums, mainly hegar, also are used for temporary pasture. The quality of sorghum grazing, however, often is inferior to Sudan, and there is danger of prussic acid poisoning under certain conditions.

Dehydrated sewage sludge is not a satisfactory source of protein in steer fattening rations, tests indicate.

Steers fed finely ground dehydrated sewage sludge made average daily gains of only 1.89 pounds each compared with 2.3 pounds of gain for steers on a concentrate mixture commonly used to fatten cattle during a recent 92-day test at Texas A. & M. College.

Animals on the basic ration consumed 18 per cent more concentrates daily and gained 26 per cent more weight. They also required 15 per cent less dry feed per 100 pounds of gain than a similar group fed sewage sludge.

Dehydrated sewage has been reported to contain 30 per cent crude protein or its equivalent in nitrogenous compounds.

The sludge was substituted in the ration for cottonseed meal on an equal protein basis. Cottonseed meal, ground sorghum grain and whole oats comprised the basic ration during the experiment.

Texas Viewpoint

In Washington

By PRICE DANIEL U. S. Senator

Last week saw another host of Texans in Washington. As heretofore indicated in this column, there are always dozens of Texans here on visits or business, and the numbers were even greater during the recent annual meetings of the Daughters of the American Revolution and the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

The Washington meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors was attended by many outstanding Texas publishers and editors. Most Texas dailies were represented, and they were entertained with a reception by Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, Oveta Culp Hobby and a boat trip on the Potomac by Deputy Secretary of Defense Bob Anderson.

A highlight of the newspaper meeting was the annual banquet of the Women's National Press Club which was presided over by Texas Elizabeth Carpenter. Texas women newspaper correspondents were in the capital in addition to Liz Carpenter are Sarah McClelland, who writes for several Texas dailies, Ruth Schuman of the Dallas News, and Martha Cole of the Associated Press.

The Senate last Thursday took notice of San Jacinto Day. In speeches on the floor of the Senate, great honors were paid to General Sam Houston and his gallant band of Texans who won Texas' independence as one of the most decisive battles in history. Of particular interest was the statement by Senator Martin of Pennsylvania concerning Sam Houston. He said: "The account of his life is one of the great stories in American history, and I think that this body and other legislative bodies of America should frequently call the attention of our people to the great exploits of which he was a part. They show how America was made. In order to retain the liberties which men like Sam Houston attained for us, each generation must recapture and fight for them."

entire nation may be reminded of the importance of patriotism and loyalty to our own country and our own form of government. Disabled Texas Servicemen. Senator's wives are inviting disabled servicemen in Washington hospitals to see the Capitol and the Congress. Mrs. Daniel and Mrs. Johnson had ten hospitalized servicemen from Texas to lunch in the Senate dining room on San Jacinto Day. We realize that disabled servicemen so far away from home are lonesome for their own people, particularly on a Texas holiday. It is a privilege to be able to play some small part in making life for these boys a little more enjoyable while they cannot be with their own families. We hope and pray that the day may come soon when these young men and other servicemen can be with their parents and loved ones.

Natural gas, trading stamps, cigars, cigarette, snuff, gasoline, uranium, and beer license fees would be taxable under the bill to provide $100 million additional state revenue for the next two years.

Revealing sharp difference of opinion over the bill was the fact that it passed House engrossment by a close vote of 74 to 69. Without surprise, the Legislature found it easier to spend money than to raise it. A few examples:

Liberalizing of the teachers retirement system by constitutional amendment was voted by the House. Governor Allan Shivers asked for emergency consideration by the Legislature of a bill to pay indemnity to owners of sheep and goats destroyed in an effort to halt a scabies epidemic. Extension of the veterans land program was approved by a Senate committee. (Theoretically, this program is self-financing. The state issues bonds to buy the land, and the bonds are retired as the veterans make payments on their property.)

Requested by the governor was an appropriation to give underprivileged children the Salk polio vaccine. Proposals were made by the Travis County delegation, that the state sponsor a supplement to state employee retirement benefits in the amount of $600,000 per year.

Car Dealers Licenses. Seventeen amendments were added in the House before the car dealers licensing bill gained initial approval. Principal provisions of the bill would:

Make new car dealers pay $50 for a sellers license, and used car dealers $25; prohibit offering for sale as a new car any vehicle that has been driven or towed more than 30 miles, and require dealers to post $10,000 bond. Original purpose of the bill, before the amendments were added, was to prevent used car dealers from offering latest model cars for sale as "new" cars.

Trinity Bill Fades. A big segment of the Texas population lives in the Trinity River valley. Hopes of those people for an organization to administer flood control, water conservation, and irrigation were dimmed when the Senate Water Committee rejected a Trinity River Authority Bill and sent it to a subcommittee.

Rep. Barefoot Sanders of Dallas, who pushed the bill through the House, blamed the railroad lobby for its failure in Senate committee. Said Sanders in final analysis, responsible for this setback because of the propaganda they put out on the effects of this bill.

Veterans Land Probe. Far from abating, the veterans land investigation was expanding and reaching as far afield as Minnesota.

Cecil E. Burney, special assistant attorney general, told the Senate Investigation Committee that two years ago, when Attorney General John Ben Shepperd was vacationing in Minnesota, he happened to see former land commissioner Bascom Giles. Giles invited Shepperd to visit his Minnesota farm of 8,600 acres. When the veterans land investigations began, Shepperd sent an investigator to Minnesota.

As a result of that investigation, Burney predicted, the people will hear that money from the veterans land program went to Minnesota to buy land for Texas. "It is amazing," said Burney, "that some of the same people who were anxious to buy cheap Minnesota land at high prices were the same persons who were anxious to sell cheap land in Texas to veterans at equally high prices."

Another witness before the Senate Investigating Committee was Alvie Vandegriff, a former officer of the veterans land board. Vandegriff testified that during a four-year period after he left the board, he received more than $30,000 to expedite block land deals.

SHORT SNORTS: On foot is a drive for strict enforcement of narcotic laws and passage of new state legislation to help control the dope traffic. Three narcotic bills have passed the House and are in the Senate. Passed by the Senate is a bill establishing a Texas commission on higher education to govern the state's nine senior colleges and universities. Sen. A. M. Aiken told the Senate the commission is necessary to take care of expanded enrollment and corollary problems of the institutions. Gas companies would be permitted to sue the state for taxes paid under the unconstitutional gas gathering tax, according to a resolution passed by the House and by the Senate with amendments. Texas oil production for May will be reduced, according to an order of the Texas Railroad Commission. Allowables will be 3,072,150 barrels daily, lowest of the year. Texas has enjoyed a near-record oil flow for the past four months.

When you purchase a new sewing machine, you're making a lifetime investment. Its selection should not be a spur-of-the-moment thing. If you've been thinking of replacing your older machine, you will want to give careful consideration to buying one of the many new types. For plain sewing, patching or mending, a straight sewing machine is satisfactory. This type is also preferred for dress-making and tailoring, if no fancy effects are required. Newer, "zig-zag" type machines are designed to handle specialty jobs like decorative stitching and embroidery. These machines cost more and also require a lot of practice to manipulate successfully. Whether you choose a cabinet or portable machine might depend on the amount of space in your home, and the use to which you put your machine. If you choose a cabinet and convenience, if space is limited or if you need to move the machine often, a portable may be the answer.

Spotty damage to lawns, or a general unthriftness for which there is no obvious cause, may be the result of work done by beetle grubs. Remaining in the soil throughout their larval stages these grubs feed upon the roots of grasses and other plants. If a sufficient number are present in the lawn, whole root systems are destroyed and the grasses die. Though lawns may suffer from the ravages of a great many insects, beetle grubs do most damage, and their activity is harder to detect. An easy method of checking for the presence of grubs in the lawn is to cut down on three sides of a square foot of sod, two to three inches deep, with a sharp spade. Then forcing the spade underneath, lay back the food of the sod, using the uncut side as a hinge, and examine for grubs. If six or more grubs are found in this area of soil, the lawn is subject to damage, and some treatment is needed. Tests so far have shown chlordane to be the most promising insecticide for lawn treatment, but others include aldrin, DDT, and dieldrin and heptachlor. All these materials are poisonous and should be handled and applied according to manufacturer's directions. They are available in the form of wettable powder or emulsifiable concentrate that can be mixed with water and used in a sprayer. The dust forms may be applied directly to the lawn. When treating for grubs it is a good practice to sprinkle the lawn after the insecticide is applied. This will wash the poison down into the soil where it can reach the insect.

As we read the forecast for fashions this Spring it is evident that the fabrics are designed to meet the needs of today. Lightweight, but strong, wrinkle resistant, and easy-to-care-for fabrics have been achieved through the use of one hundred per cent man-made fibers or the careful blending of both the man-made and the natural fibers. "Dacron" polyester fiber appears in blends with Egyptian cotton in batistes, striped sheers, oxford type weaves, poplins, and chambrays. Worsted and tropical worsted in plain textures and hairline stripes are achieved through a blend of "Dacron" and wool and "Dacron" and rayon. An interesting club suiting combines "Dacron", wool and silk. Beautiful sheers are a blend of both nylon and "Dacron". In the majority of these blends "Dacron" appears in percentages of 50 per cent or more. There are a number of fabrics entirely of "Dacron" polyester fiber including crepes, laces, sheers, both printed and plain. Dacron contributes crispness besides wrinkle resistance, shape retention, added strength and good recovery from wrinkling and washability. Next week more will be written on man-made fibers in this column.

AT ABOUT the same time the President sent his $7 billion dollar school program to the Congress, he sent up a supplementary appropriation measure asking for almost a billion dollars for government agencies which ran short of money before the end of their fiscal year, due to cuts made by the last Congress, or to faulty estimates of their needs.

This $8 billion dollar bite follows closely the President's request for a $25 billion dollar 10-year road program. But the road program, and the school program money would be raised largely through the issuance of revenue bonds guaranteed by the government, and clear outside the Federal budget.

The Eisenhower school program calls for Federal participation in setting up state school building agencies, which would in turn issue bonds and build $6 billion worth of schools for lease-purchase to local public school units. It also provides for $200 million in Federal grants to be matched by states whose school districts are too poor to qualify for loans; also up to $750,000,000 in Federal funds to buy bonds from school districts unable to market their revenue bonds at 3 1/2 per cent, or at a reasonable interest rate. In all, the Federal participation would be about $1,120,000,000. There are several flies in this ointment. The first is that a good many more school units than could be taken care of with $200,000,000 are too poor to qualify for loans. Another is that many southern states, and possibly a few northern states, would not qualify for federal as-

POULTRY DISEASE EXPERIMENT

A cancer-like poultry disease, Lymphomatosis, is costing U. S. poultrymen an estimated $50 million a year in chicken and egg losses. This amount represents about the annual worth of Texas chicken and egg production. Recent experiments by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, however, indicate that the tide may be turned in the fight to control and reduce this huge annual waste. Dr. B. R. Burmester is heading a project at East Lansing, Mich.,

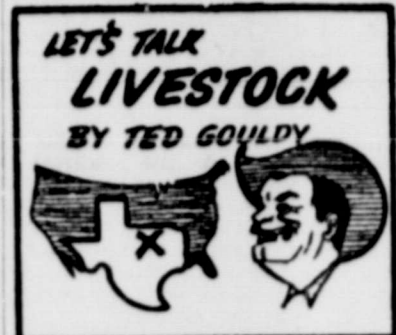

which promises to provide high resistance or immunity in chicks hatched from eggs of vaccinated hens.

Lymphomatosis is the most destructive of all poultry diseases. It is infectious, contagious and malignant. The disease affects chickens much as cancer affects man. It is caused by a virus and attacks the internal organs of chickens, causing tumorous enlargement of the liver.

Experiments have shown that immunity to the "big liver disease" can be passed from vaccinated hens to their chicks. Researchers believe that vaccination causes a buildup in the mother hen's blood of protection antibodies which are transmitted through the eggs to the chicks.

For the East Lansing experiments, 14 White Leghorn hens of a strain known to be highly susceptible to the disease were vaccinated. Most of their 300 chicks proved immune or highly resistant to the disease. Their immunity was shown by giving them potent injections of the active virus. Only 3 to 13 per cent of these chicks died from lymphomatosis, depending on the dosage of virus received. Even then, the few susceptible birds survived much longer than most chicks given the injections without benefit of prior vaccination of the mother hen.

Young chicks, themselves, cannot survive the immunization. Since all chickens gain resistance to the disease as they grow older, only mature birds are injected with the vaccine. Before these research findings can be put into general use however, the techniques of vaccination must be simplified and the production of the vaccine must be put on a practical, commercial basis.

Is The Cattle Run Starting Early?

More than 7,000 cattle and calves, a big part of them grass cows and calves, arrived at Fort Worth Monday. This was more than 2,100 above the figure the same date last year, and gave additional strength to the theory that the cattle run is starting about a month early this year.

Suspicion that this would be the case developed some weeks ago and has been growing steadily. A number of factors are involved. In many sections of the Eastern third of Texas the winter and spring season has provided ample pasture. This is especially true in the clover growing areas.

Many cattle producers in these areas bought low cost cows last summer and fall, and at this writing have a very good profit made in them. Many cases of "doubled money" are heard, and these stockmen are inclined to sell before the hot weather brings excessive runs and breaks prices sharply. They are inclined to cash in now, despite that fact that in many sections they still have some weeks of good grazing on these clover fields.

In the drouthy areas the discouraging lack of needed rain, plus the disheartening dust storms, is expected to cause earlier-than-usual shipping. Many of these areas face critical water shortages, as well as pasture deficiency.

Early movement of cattle has its good points, as well as bad ones. It will give pastures a rest. Cows will hold up better and require less feeding where calves are taken off early. Lightweight calves and yearlings are more popular right now with stocker buyers in the North—good example are the around 280-pound calves last week that sold at Fort Worth at $24, and on Monday Hayden Hargess, Coleman County, put a load of 28 steer calves weighing 401 pounds in the bank at $23.50, and their heifer mates sold for slaughter at $21 and $20.

The earlier than normal runs of lambs this year lend strength to the feeling that this will be an early one for cattle—unless the month of May comes up very, very wet over a lot of country.

Grassy Cattle and Calves Weaken. Trade in cattle and calves was rather slow in the opening session at Fort Worth Monday. Cows held about steady, and bulls were steady. High grade slaughter and stocker calves of choice grades were also steady, but grades below choice were weak to 50 cents lower. Fed steers and yearlings were weak to 50 cents lower. Good and choice fed steers and yearlings $19.00-$23.00; fat cows $11.00-$14.00; canners and cutters $7.00-$11.00. Bulls $10.00-$14.50. Good and choice fat calves $18.00-$21.50; few fancy heavyweights $22.00. Stocker steer calves $23.50 down, and heifers mostly $18.50 down. Stocker cows $8.00-$12.00.

18,000 Sheep on Yards Here Monday

The sheep and lambs offering Monday was 6,000 larger than last week, and 2,000 ahead of the same date last year. The 18,000 head were about 40 per cent Spring lambs and 60 per cent old crop shorn lambs. Trade was 50 cents lower on the opening rounds, and after shippers and order buyers had filled their needs average prices closed 50 cents to $1 off. Fat Spring lambs drew $18.00-$21.50; and fat shorn old crop lambs drew $16.00-$18.50. Old ewes $5.00 to $5.50, and old bucks around $4. Aged wethers $7.00-$10.00. Stocker Spring lambs $15.00 down, and shorn feeder lambs $12.50 to $13.50.

The hog run at the Nation's 12 major markets Monday was 38,000 below the same day last week. Enough to set off a food rally and hogs were 25 to 50 cents higher at Fort Worth Monday. Top hogs sold at $17.50 to $17.75. Sows cashed at $12.00 to $15.00.

Some 48 McCulloch County 4-F and FFA boys were at Fort Worth Monday as the final phase of their commercial feeding project for the year, and they saw all phases of the market and packing industry at this major center.

and for the past few years he has been raising turkeys. Milburn has been quite successful in this and this year he plans to raise about four or five thousand birds. He starts his poults in battery brooders and likes this method better than starting them on the floor. He seems to get them off to a better and faster start. Right now he has some week old poults in his batteries that look the size of ten or twelve day old ones. There are a number of advantages of starting poults in batteries: sanitation is an easier problem to control; losses from pile-ups are not as likely; feeding and watering is made easier; less brooder house space is needed; and electricity can be used to a better advantage. About fifteen or sixteen years ago Milburn was a 4-H Club boy of mine but at that time he was interested in sheep and lambs. He fed out a lot of good lambs and was very successful in this. I never would have thought a good sheep man would have gone over to the raising of turkeys. However, there is pretty good money in turkey raising and we have several in the county who have been in it for a long time. They ride it through the bad years as well as the good ones and seem to always come out with some money made. This year seems to be one in which growers are not putting down poults when they have all the equipment needed to raise turkeys. From the experience of the successful growers, I still believe it will make money this year to raise what turkeys your equipment will care for.

Ray Ridenhower, at Olin, has one of the fine water supplies of the county. Near his windmill he has a concrete tank about eight or ten feet high and about twenty feet across. I have no idea as to how many barrels of water it will hold but it is large enough that he can water his stock for several days in case of a break-down. What a wonderful country we would have if we had plenty of water—that is, rain water.

Winfred Streger's corn demonstration down at Aleman, was damaged some by the freeze and some of the varieties he planted did not come up to a good stand. This is likely to make quite a difference in the performance of the varieties planted. Anyhow, we will try to check them the best we can this fall.

Eric Seider, at Aleman, got good stands of his forage sorghums in his demonstration with the exception of the Hi-Hegari he planted. This variety did not come up to a stand in the several rows that were planted. It is hoped that the sorghums he has planted will give us some idea as to the difference in production of sorghums for silage.

George Thetford, who lives a mile or so the other side of Carlton, has just finished up planting his Atlas Sargo for silage. George has been filling a trench silo for several years and says he wouldn't be without the feed if he can help it. One or two years he has filled his silo with corn that was burning up. George has a start of coastal bermuda grass on his place and plans to seed more of it from year to year. This grass looks as though it will do pretty good over the county.

lor, on the river at the old Stephenville road at the railroad crossing, put out about an acre of coastal bermuda sprigs and it is beginning to come up but not to as good a stand as he would like. This summer should give us a better idea as to what the grass will do over the county.
