ROTATION GRAZING

Rotation grazing is essential to good pasture management.

"Cattle feeding continuously on a pasture can trample a lot of good grazing into the ground," E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist, says. "Grazing efficiency studies show that often only 50 per cent of the grazing produced is eaten by livestock."

Pasture rotation "rationed out" the grazing and forces livestock to remove all the growth from a small area in a short time. Under rotation, plants may be grazed when most palatable and are given opportunity for regrowth and rest between grazings.

Since rotation grazing calls for cross-fencing, the use of inexpensive, portable electric fences is recommended.

Many stockmen who practice rotation will have more grass from now until about July 1 than they can use, Trew says. If the supply outstrips demand, bale or ensile the excess for feed insurance.

Mowing is important to proper pasture management for two reasons: to control weeds and to revert plants into new growth. Mowing during the growing season keeps plants in a vegetative, nutritious condition.

Other investments of time and labor which go into improved pastures are wasted, however, unless there is ample fertility in the soil. A soil test tells the right kind and amounts of fertilizer you need.

Animals grazing lush, fast growing pasture will need some dry hay, Trew adds. Many stockmen meet this requirement by mowing several strips across their pastures. This way, cattle pick up the dry grass as needed.

PAINT NOW FOR FIRST-RATE JOB

If you want this year's paint job to turn out first-class, do it now.

The weather is relatively dry and temperatures moderate—optimum conditions for painting, says W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer.

The best paint in the world

FAIRY

By Mrs. Eunice Massengale

We have extremely high winds today, Monday, and the weatherman promises us showers on Tuesday or Wednesday. Grain is ripening fast and a good rain just now would be very beneficial to the grain, other growing crops and grasslands.

Don't forget our cemetery meeting and working this Friday (today). Those who have wheel barrows please bring them also. A basket lunch will be served at the noon hour and a business meeting held at 10.30 a. m. We sincerely urge you to attend this all-important meeting.

Mrs. Emma Ogle spent Sunday night and Monday a week ago in the home of her brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fort of the Boggy community between Cranfills Gap and Clifton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Trantham of Fort Worth spent the week end a few weeks ago in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lackey.

We were very sorry to learn today that Reubin Anderson of Grand Prairie is seriously ill in Baylor Hospital at Dallas. We understand he suffered a heart attack. We learned today that he is improved and surely hope he continues to do so and is soon able to return home.

Mrs. Raymond Jones is a patient at this writing in the Meridian Hospital, due to a blocked kidney. We are very sorry to learn wouldn't stand up if applied in wet or damp weather, Allen said. In addition, sudden changes of temperature may cause new paint to wrinkle.

Don't paint when dust is in the air or flying insects numerous. Do as much or your job in the shade as possible. It's easier on the worker and the direct sun rays do not fall upon the newly applied coat.

The selection of paint probably is the main consideration. In humid warm areas, hard type paints stand up better. Softer base paints do better in dry climates. Your dealer can recommend the best type.

The next rules are simple, but important, Allen continues. Get the surface clean, dry and free of old-loose materials. Three or four light applications are much better than a single thick coat.

Finally, allow each new coat to dry thoroughly before the next is applied.

of her illness and hope she will soon be fully recovered.

Mrs. Marie Turner of Carlton and a friend, Miss Ruby Lee Wilson of Bruceville visited a while Monday in the home of the writer and Mrs. Brittle Little. Miss Wilson retired early this year after more than thirty years as a government employee residing in Washington, D. C. during this time. She was born and reared near Bruceville where she grew up as a girlfriend of Mrs. Turner. We enjoyed their visit very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lackey and family visited Sunday afternoon with his sister, Mrs. Maude Whitson of Hico.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Price, Ronald and Cheryl of Austin visited during the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Cox. Mr. Price went to Fort Worth Sunday and remained to attend a business meeting of the company of which he is employed on Monday. The Price family have recently recovered from an attack of the mumps.

On our return home Sunday from Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford, we stopped at the Hurley rest home for a short visit with Mrs. Minnie McCarty and glad to report her resting much better.

Work is progressing nicely on the J. E. Blakley home south of Fairy. They have had their house remodeled inside and out, which will add much to the appearance of their home site.

The writer, accompanied by our daughter, Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers visited last Friday in the home of our daughter and sister, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Allison and Darrel. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Pittman, also of Dublin. We are glad to report Mrs. Allison greatly improved of a back ailment from which she has been suffering for several months.

Birthdays for this month which we have in mind are our mother, Mrs. Annie Newman, May 8; and the late Mrs. John L. Wilson Sr. of Hico, May 1.

The writer attended singing at Pearl near Gatesville last Sunday. We drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Sumerford of the Ohio community south of Hamilton and accompanied them. A large number were present including Mr. Frank Stamps and Jerry Jones of Dallas. Also singers from Abilene, Odessa, Big Spring, Gustine, Waco and other points. A bountiful lunch of tasteful and delicious food was served at the noon hour. As we were about to depart for home we happened to notice a lady we thought was our cousin, but since we had not seen her in 17 years, wasn't positive. Our good friends, the Sumerfords, gave us time to go and talk to her for a few minutes. By the time we reached where she was she had stopped near her parents, our dear auntie and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Powell of Levita. We had a grand reunion of a few minutes. Our last meeting had been on June 23, 1938 when we attended the funeral of our grandmother, Mrs. Manda Newman, mother of Mrs. Powell. Well we have in mind now to visit in their home one of these days before too long and hope to be able to do so. Seems in these days of rushing through life, we so many times neglect those so near and dear to us.

We received another beautiful birthday card recently from Mrs. O. P. Vincent of Cave, Ark., who was ill at the time of our birthdate, April 12. Mrs. Vincent is the former Tilda Pierson of Duffau and was a school mate of the writer. Thanks Tilda for your thoughtfulness.

Raymond Jones and Carl Ray Sellers were in Fort Worth Monday. Mr. Jones carried a load of livestock to the Fort Worth market.

Our granddaughter, Mrs. Wayne Pittman of Dublin had a birthday on April 28. We believe we failed to give her birthday when we had our list for April.

Again another Mother's Day is almost here. Next Sunday, May 8, will find many sons and daughters and their families visiting mother on this day. Again, may we urge all who can conveniently do so, to visit that dear mother of yours and make her heart glad in some way.

We are sorry to report Mr. Kay, who lives on the former Brunson place very ill. He suffered a paralytic stroke recently. We hope he will soon be much improved.

Mr. Wesley Jones and Mrs. Carl Ray Sellers were in Meridian Tuesday to bring Mrs. Raymond Jones home. She has been a patient in the Holt Hospital since early Monday. Glad to report her able to return home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Claywell of Mineral Wells visited one day last week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison. They are former residents of Fairy.

Mr. and Mrs. Texie Dell Allison of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edd Allison and Mr. and Mrs. Garlon Streater and family.

Rev. and Mrs. Martin Duvall and baby daughter, Malissa of Fort Worth spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hanes, Martha and Mike. Rev. Duvall became ill following the evening church service Sunday and was unable to drive home as is his usual custom. They returned home Monday.

inches in diameter. The saw chain is of the "planner" type.

Starting on the down wind side of the timber Jordan cuts a tree off at about knee high. This will depend to some extent on how tall the saw operator is as one wants to try to work standing erect and not stooped over.

Jordan has done a fine job clearing some timber off his pasture, at a cheap cost and at the same time fed his goats.

To cope with this Indian menace Texas had its Minute Men or Ranger organization. These mounted protectors consisted of captain, first and second lieutenants, sergeants, corporals, and privates.

Up until the years between 1865 and 1870 little farming was done, as the people lived principally off their stock which wintered on the range.

Being on the main road leading to West Texas, Old Hico was a stopping place for many travelers. About 1870 the town consisted of two small stores, owned by Uncle Ike Malone and a Mr. Day.

This increase in population called for a larger trade center, and by 1879 there were eight businesses in Old Hico.

CONGRESS is alarmed at the economic plight of the farmer. And now even some business publications are taking note of the tremendous drop in farm income.

This column has given considerable space during the past months trying to point up the danger signals to the nation's economy, as reflected in rapid decline of farm income.

This business publication, however did not look at the other end of the telescope. In that farm mortgage debt last year increased over a billion dollars.

The Wall Street Journal reported recently that 6% of dairy farmers have gone out of business in the Chicago area during the past year.

Here are some figures which indicate the force with which the farm depression may hit the rest of the nation's economy. With net farm income only $12 billion dollars last year, and going lower in 1935, as compared to more than $16 billions two or three years ago.

Their (farmers) plight recalls the 1920s, when agriculture slumped long before the big depression.

The farm problem is worsening now more trouble lies ahead. Thinking back to the 1920s, some economists are wondering if this long-continued trouble may not prove to be a serious weakness for the nation as a whole.

With net farm income only $12 billion dollars last year, and going lower in 1935, as compared to more than $16 billions two or three years ago.

consider these facts—farmers customarily use 16.6% of all petroleum products, more than any other industry; they use 9% of steel production, more than the automobile industry; they use 12% of chemicals; they use more rubber than any industry except autos, and according to a reliable source the amount of rubber they use would equal 20% more than required to put five tires on every new car manufactured; they are among the heaviest buyers of textiles and, with REA, are now one of the largest markets for household appliances in the electric field.

Politicians in congress would like to let the farm legislation rest until 1936, an election year. But the real friends of the farmers are determined to put up a battle, first in the house, then the senate over a new 90% of parity bill, before farm price supports can slip down to 75% of parity as provided in the flexible price support law.

Obviously, then, the only way a driver can be sure his vehicle is in safe operating condition is to check and double check.

Its a very simple matter to check for surface danger points. The driver himself can do this. Excessive tire wear, loss of brake efficiency, lights that are not working properly, and other obvious danger spots can be easily detected.

But no driver should be satisfied with these surface checks. He should have his car checked regularly by a qualified mechanic. On these checks, the following points should be carefully checked: Headlights, rear and stop lights, brakes, tires, steering mechanism, windshield wipers, muffler and exhaust system, window glass, horn and rear-view mirror.

"Check your car, check accidents!" is a pretty short sentence, but it contains the only solution to one important segment of the traffic accident problem.

Very often such conditions can be present in an apparently normal car. Last year, in a voluntary, nation wide vehicle safety check program in which more than one million vehicles were inspected, one out of four vehicles checked was in need of maintenance attention to one or more parts affecting safe operation.

In many cases, the automobile owners did not suspect this need.

Traffic Accidents Grow Out of Inadequate Vehicle Maintenance

Traffic accidents are a disgrace to this country. Last year they claimed 36,300 lives.

And the great scandal is that in most cases they are unnecessary. More care, more alertness, more respect for the rights of others, would eliminate the greatest number of accidents.

Just how many accidents fall into this category can never be statistically established because in many fatal accidents the car, or cars, involved are so badly smashed that pre-existing repair needs cannot be determined.
